NUMBER 12

H. R. Cole Appointed As New Manager Of United Canneries Co.

Recent Graduate of University Here Selected to Manage Local Plant This Season

TO RUSH PREPARATIONS FOR A BUSY SEASON

Harry R. Cole, of Dover, Del., was appointed manager of the United Canneries plant here at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the concern, held in Town Hall yesterday afternoon.

Active work in preparation for the handling of this season's pack of tomatoes and corn starts this week, when an inventory will be taken at the plant, and preliminary negotiations for labor for the season started.

Mr. Cole, a comparatively young man, appeared before the Executive Committee several times during the past week. He has had wide experience in the canning business throughout the State, having managed a factory near Dover for several seasons. He presented references from several big packers in Kent and Sussex County. The new manager is a Dover boy, and a graduate of the University of Delaware in the class of 1923.

It is the intention of Mr. Cole to spend every effort to make the local canning plant a success in every way during the coming season. The present staff at the plant is now busy making an inventory of material and stock which can be used. Following the completion of this work, Mr. Cole intends making a trip down State in search of labor. He is a firm believer in Negro labor instead of foreign workmen, used here last year. No decision in this matter, however, has been reached.

Members of the Executive Committee present yesterday afternoon at the meeting were President Thomas B. Miller, of Elkton, J. Earl Dougherty, Mayor E. B. Frazer, Herman Cook and H. C. Milliken. They were enthusiastic over the prospects of the coming year, and predicted a record pack, providing bad weather does not hamper the farmers.

The activity in behalf of the farmers bonding themselves for the deficit of last year has ended, according to the directors, with more than enough names to guarantee the debt. As reported in The Post, the first passed among the farmers at a meeting in Wolf Hall a few weeks ago. The deficit amounts to about $10,000.

The price per ton for tomato contracts will be reached within a few days, so that the farmers may be all ready to plant their land.

The appointment of a manager and pack plans for the rehabilitating of the plant here indicates, in the opinion of many residents, a renewed interest in the canning business in Newark and vicinity, and repudiates all rumors that the plant would be sold at the high dollar.

SCHOOLS CLOSE TWO DAYS

Good Friday and Easter Monday will be holidays for Newark schools and girls, according to an announcement made yesterday by Superintendent Owens.

The University closes on Friday for a period of six days as their Easter vacation.

NINETEEN LAWYERS IN BIG DAMAGE SUIT

The $50,000 damage suit brought against the Victory Sparkler and Specialty Co. of Elkton by Miss Catharine Franks, of the same town, is being heard this week at the court house in Denton, Md., to which town the suit was moved from Cecil County on petition of the defense attorneys.

A total of nineteen lawyers are now engaged in the suit, and a rare legal battle is being waged each day. The suit is causing great comment in Elkton, as all the principals are well known residents of the town. The plaintiff claims the amount due her for alleged injury to her health while in the employ of the Sparkler Company. Over fifty witnesses from Elkton are attending court in Denton.

DRY SLEUTHS AND BOOTLEGGERS STAGE WILD WEST SHOW HERE

"Shoot Up" Main Street Friday Night in True Wild and Woolly Style; Finally Corral One Prisoner, But Find Some of the Liquor Missing

The "cowboys" were in town Friday night.

The only difference between their visit and that of the Bar-X boys' raid on "Big Mouth Bob's" palace of iniquity out in Medicine Hat, Wyo., in the early eighties, was the fact that the 1924 edition failed to display red bandanas, and proved to be perfectly rotten marksmen, as every light bulb on Main Street will testify. All in all it was a very poor show and hardly worth the price of admission. However, it afforded a bit of excitement. And that's worth something. The following account of the incident came from the only man on Main Street at the time. The rest of the populace were down behind the counters.

Three Baltimore men in a Packard touring car, loaded with quantities of alleged grain alcohol were finally brought to a halt opposite the residence of Magistrate Daniel Thompson by the spattering revolvers of two Prohibition Enforcement agents, attached to the office of Robert Elliott in Wilmington. The end came after a stirring chase of fourteen miles, in which scores of shots were exchanged between the occupants of the two cars. The alleged bootleggers were apprehended along Faulk Road, near Wilmington, by Agents Ira Melvin and Lee Washburn, about 10 o'clock Friday night. The two cars then raced down the Lincoln Highway with all sails set and a fresh breeze blowing.

And so when they reached East Newark, something just had to be done to insert a little excitement into the matter. So the dry agents opened fire. The fugitives, not to be outdone, returned the shots with interest. In that manner, the "wild and woolly West" was formally introduced once more to a Newark audience. Pedestrians scattered hither and yon as bullets flew, and it is said that among the first to pick himself a blind alley was our own Councilman, Ott Widoes. For a few moments the center of town was delirious with excitement.

When opposite the College, the bootleggers gave up the ship, and let her cruise unguided, while they scattered in the general direction of White Clay Creek. The car swerved over to the side of the road and crashed into a pole. The sound of the collision could be heard for many blocks, and a crowd was soon on hand.

Meantime, one of the fleeing men was caught red-handed by Cornelius Tilghman, a college student, near Old College Hall. He and his companion, Mervyn Akin, disarmed the man and turned him over to Melvin and Lee, the officers. The prisoner gave his name as Joseph Goldstein, of Baltimore. As far as could be learned today, the remaining two bootleggers were somewhere in the vicinity of Harrisburg and still going strong. (Continued on Page 8.)

NO OPPOSITION FOR SCHOOL BOARD SEAT

Harrison Grey Persuaded to Run for Another Term No Opposition Expected

At the present time, indications point to a very quiet election of one member to the Board of Education for the Newark special school district. Talk of many candidates has gradually simmered down, and to date Harrison Grey, the present incumbent, is the only candidate to have announced himself.

Mr. Grey has the support of the other two members of the Board, Dr. Walt H. Steel and Robert S. Gallaher, but it was with great difficulty that he was persuaded to entertain a movement for his re-election.

In several quarters, it was rumored that John S. Shaw, active Parent-Teacher worker, would be a candidate for the vacant post of the School Board. It was learned, yesterday, however, that Mr. Shaw would not be a candidate.

Mr. Grey, who was a member of the Board during the long fight for a new school, was warmly praised by Dr. Steel, when the latter was approached on the matter this week. The doctor stated that Mr. Grey would be of inestimable value as a member, particularly because he was thoroughly familiar with the situation surrounding the building of the new school. Mr. Gallaher was of the same opinion.

Thus it appears that unless a "dark horse" is trotted out in a few days, Mr. Grey will have clear sailing for re-election.

HIGH SCHOOL WINS, 15-9

Couch Elder's Newark High School baseball team rung up its second victory of the season yesterday afternoon here when they trounced Dupont High to the tune of 15-9. The game was rather loosely played due to the lack of practice of both teams.

SAVES PLAYMATE'S LIFE

While Donald Payne, four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Payne, of near Rock Church, Md., and little "Billie" Mackey, about the same age, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Osborne Mackey, were playing in the spring-house on the Mackey farm, Friday last, the former lost his footing and plunged head first into the cooling trough. He was unable, on account of heavy clothing and inability to swim, to get out. The little girl, however, kept her presence of mind and pulled her playmate out by the heels. Both then ran to Mrs. Paine badly frightened.

The little tots were playing with homemade boats near the spring-house, but had been warned not to go near the deep trough.

MAY BRING ACTION AGAINST DRY AGENTS

Protests, both by letter and personal visit, have been coming in to Mayor Frazer and Councilmen against the "shoot-up" of Main Street last Friday evening by Dry Agents. One of the protests appears in letter form in another column of The Post.

It is believed that some action will be taken against the Prohibition Enforcement agents, such action being based on a claim that the wholesale shooting endangered many lives, and was in itself a violation of a Town Ordinance.

Mrs. R. E. Lewis Named Head of State P.-T.A.

Elections Followed by Address by Dr. Cadman at Dover Session

Delegates from the Parent-Teacher Associations from all parts of the State gathered at Dover, Saturday to attend the annual convention of the State Parent Teacher Association which was convened in the Opera House at 11 o'clock.

The most important business of the session was the election of officers which resulted as follows: president, Mrs. R. E. Lewis, Dover; recording secretary, Mrs. Theodore Ferguson, Blackbird; treasurer, Mrs. John B. Cleaver, Middletown; auditor, George S. Williams, Millsboro.

The convention adopted by unanimous vote an amendment to the constitution providing for the election of four vice-presidents. These officials elected are: for Sussex county, east side, Mrs. Mabel Draper, Milton; New Castle county, John Shaw, Newark; Kent county, Frank C. Bancroft, Wyoming. The only contest in the entire election of officers occurred when it came to select a vice-president for the western side of Sussex county. The candidates are Mrs. Elva Warrington, of Greenwood, and Mrs. Samuel J. Stein, of Seaford. The convention recessed at noon for lunch and reconvened at 2 o'clock when greetings were given by Mrs. A. H. Seeze, national president, and by Bishop Philip Cook. The main address was given by Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, of Brooklyn.

FIRE IN CHURCH SUNDAY

Sunday School Goes on Uninterrupted As Firemen Quell Blaze

A slight fire under the roof of the Sunday school room in the Methodist Episcopal Church here last Sunday required the attention of the Aetna Hose Company for a few minutes. While the blaze was not a large one, it was thought best to get trained men on the job so that all danger would be destroyed.

The Sunday School was in session at the time, according to reports, and the children were kept singing by their leaders to avert undue excitement. The incident passed off very quietly and only a few people in town knew of the blaze. The damage was covered by insurance.

DECLAMATION CONTEST

County High School to Compete in Wolf Hall Tonight

Two students of Newark High School will enter the lists with the support of their school behind them tonight when the annual County Declamation Contest opens in Wolf Hall. The local aspirants to the State contest are Helen Gregg and Margaret Vinsinger. These girls won first and second place respectively in the preliminaries held here on April 4th. Young orators from all parts of the county, accompanied by their candidates will be chosen to compete with those of Kent and Sussex for the State title in Dover on the 25th.

RED MEN CHIEFS RAISED

Bear Station Tribe Visits Local Wigwam

About 150 guests, including ladies, were present at Centre Hall last evening, to witness the raising of Chiefs, recently elected by Minnehaha Tribe of Newark. Great Deputy Sachem John McDowell and assisting chiefs had charge of the impressive ceremonies.

During the evening, selections were played by the Newark Red Men's Band, and interesting talks given by well-known Red Men, from many parts of the State. It was one of the most successful installations held here for some time.

FIREMEN TO PLAY BALL

Continental Team Opens Season Saturday on Own Grounds

The baseball team representing the Continental Fibre Co. of this place will formally open their new Athletic Field on Continental Ave. next Saturday afternoon, when the local Fibre-makers taken on the Delaware Hard Fibre team of Wilmington.

Many fans unable to witness the County League opening, will no doubt avail themselves of the chance to see the home game.

OPEN $100,000 CANAL BID

Another Big Contract to be Let Saturday in Improving Waterway

Bids amounting to $100,000 for dredging the Chesapeake City mouth of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal, will be received and opened at 11 o'clock next Saturday morning at the U. S. Engineer Office, Sixth and King Streets.

Twelve millions of dollars are being spent by the government on the development of the waterway. More than $8,000,000 of this sum has already been spent.

MISS SARAH CORNOG BURIED HERE TUESDAY

Resided in House on Chapel Street All Her Life; Had Been Ailing Some Time

The funeral of Miss Sarah Cornog took place yesterday afternoon from her late residence on North Chapel Street yesterday afternoon, and was attended by many friends of the well known old lady. She was 73 years of age. Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. H. Everett Hallman, and interment was made in the Methodist Episcopal cemetery here.

An unusually interesting fact was brought to light by the death of Miss Cornog. She lived continuously from girlhood in the Cornog homestead on Chapel street, and was one of the oldest native residents of the town. Quiet and unassuming yet with abundant energy and ability, she was a warm friend of hundreds of people in the neighborhood.

Miss Cornog fell a victim to a severe case of gripe a few weeks ago, and the end came on Saturday last.

She is survived by two sisters and two brothers, Mrs. Anna Street, Miss Margaret Cornog, Harry Cornog, and Stephen Cornog, the latter owner of a grocery store bearing his name on East Main Street.

MASONS AT CHURCH

Local Lodge Attend Presbyterian Church in Body Sunday

Practically the entire membership of Hiram Lodge, A. F. and A. M., who live in and near Newark attended the evening service at the Presbyterian Church here last Sunday. The Masons went to the church in a body and sat in reserved pews.

The pastor, Rev. H. Everett Hallman delivered a special sermon, which was highly commended by those who heard him.

Easter Season Will Be Important Event Among Local Churches

Special Anthems and Sermons to Mark Services in Local Places of Worship

MANY VISITORS EXPECTED HERE OVER THE WEEKEND

The Easter Season, marking as it does the advent of Spring and Summer, and carrying with it the age old customs of religious worship for the arisen Saviour, will not find Newark lacking in enthusiasm and interest, according to a brief survey of plans made by churches and townspeople. Last minute shoppers are busier than ever this week preparing their raiment for the annual fashion show. Local merchants report a heavy Easter business in all lines of wearing apparel, and the church parade Sunday morning bids fair to reveal Newark to be as well-dressed a town as any in the State.

The primary interest lies in the Church. Easter music of a special nature will be sung by augmented choirs in each of the four churches here. As far as could be learned, each pastor will have charge of the services on Sunday, and each will take for his theme the "story which never grows old"—the Resurrection.

Presbyterian Church

Pre-Easter services at the Presbyterian church will be continued tonight when the Rev. W. R. McElroy, pastor of the White Clay Creek Presbyterian Church, will deliver a sermon from the pulpit here. Again on Friday evening, a special service is arranged with the Rev. Robert C. Pitzer, of Delaware City, as the speaker.

At 7:00 o'clock Easter morning the Christian Endeavorers will hold a prayer service in the church. The regular hours of worship will be observed for the balance of the day. Rev. Hallman will occupy the pulpit both morning and evening.

Under the leadership of A. D. Cobb, the Presbyterian Choir will sing several Easter anthems at both services. The choir made a decided impression in its first anthem work last Sunday. The members of the group are:

Soprano—Anne Ritz, Mrs. Ruth Baker, Miss Stella Yearsley, Mrs. Reese Griffin, Mrs. J. E. Dougherty, Miss Katherine Steele, Miss Erica Grothens, Miss Florence Colbert. Alto—Mrs. George S. Wood, Mrs. Jennie Frazier.

Bass—J. B. Barnes, Robert Seasholtz, Albert Strahorn, A. D. Cobb. Tenor—Fred Strickland, Eugene Kennedy, G. E. Michel, Joseph McVey, Henry Townsend, G. V. C. Houghland.

Methodist Church

Rev. Frank Horson announces that a special service will be held Friday afternoon of this week, and that the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered tomorrow evening in the church. This will constitute the pre-Easter activities at "The Central Church."

The Methodist choir, under the direction of H. J. Gaertner, has prepared an elaborate musical program for the Easter Sunday services. The list of members of the choir will be (Continued on Page 8.)

CONTRACT IS LET FOR NEW LONDON ROAD

The Lincoln Highway Construction Co., a Pennsylvania concern, has been awarded the contract for the three mile stretch of road through London Britain Township, Chester County, to the Maryland Line above McClellandville. In all probability the road will be completed this summer. This paving will open a new highway of trade for Newark, as it will provide a macadam surface from here to Kemblesville. The awarding of the contract ends a long struggle among the taxpayers of London Britain over the issue.

Leon Garrett, Leonard Lewis, Hugh B. Davies, Joseph Mote, George Holton and James Patterson, all of London Britain, were recent visitors in West Chester in connection with the letting of the contract.

List of County Candidates for Delegates and Committee Seats

The following is the official list of candidates from rural New Castle County who filed their names for delegates to the Republican State Convention, and for places on the County Committee.

Over 1500 names, including Wilmington aspirants, were filed up to noon Saturday at the office of the Republican Executive Committee in Wilmington. No contests are noted in Pencader Hundred.

OBITUARY

Susan Ellis

Susan Ellis, widow of Rev. George L. Ellis, formerly pastor of the Millsboro, Del., M. E. Church, died in Newark on Friday last, three days after moving here from her former home in Millsboro. Death came as a result of heart trouble. The body was sent to Millsboro Saturday and the funeral held from the home of a sister there Monday afternoon. Interment was made at Dover.

Mrs. Ellis lost her husband last December, and a son in October, 1922. She moved to Newark to be near a son, now attending college here. A daughter also survives, she being in attendance in the local High School. Mrs. Ellis was well known in and around Millsboro.

Mrs. G. S. Harrison

Mrs. Georgianna Bower Harrison, aged 83 years, died at the Bower home on Elkton Road near Newark, Monday morning. She had been ill with heart trouble for about two weeks. The funeral and interment will be private.

Mrs. Harrison had lived on the farm where she died for many years. A sister, Miss Elizabeth Bower, had lived there with her until her death some months ago.

The deceased was well known to all the older residents of Newark and was a member of St. Thomas' Episcopal Church. Her late husband, the Rev. Mr. Harrison, at one time was rector of that church. She was a daughter of William and Fannie Bower who moved to Newark from Philadelphia probably three-quarters of a century ago. The Bowers were connected by marriage with the Rosengarten's, noted chemists of Philadelphia. William Bower and Mr. Rosengarten who started the chemical concern in Philadelphia, married sisters.

Mrs. Harrison is survived by one sister, Mrs. Anne Chas. of near Philadelphia. There were originally six sisters and two brothers in the family. They were Henry and Mitchell Bower, Miss Elizabeth Bower, Mrs. Julia Godwin, Mrs. Emma Allen, Mrs. Charlotte Reynolds, Mrs. George

NEW CENTURY CLUB

The regular meeting of the Newark New Century Club was held in the Club House on Tuesday afternoon, April 15, at 2:30.

After a business meeting, Mr. Alex. Cobb, State Superintendent of the "Boys and Girls Club Week" gave a short talk about the work of the club, and then introduced Miss Anne Moore, Club Agent from Sussex county, who further spoke of the work, and of the opportunity of the club. She brought with her from Seaside, Del., two young girls, Katherine Wright and Elizabeth Conway, who gave a demonstration of dancing.

Miss Eleanor Duffy sang two songs: "Meditation," Tosti, and "The Rose Enslaves the Nightingale," N. Benitsky-Koesakow.

Newark vs. Five Points
Saturday

Manager Ewing's "Aces" will open the County League season on Saturday afternoon when they tackle the Five Points aggregation at Marshfield. A number of fans are expected to make the trip and see the curtain rung up on what is expected to be the best season in the history of the League. Manager Ewing has not yet decided upon his lineup for the game.

WARNING TO TAXABLES

In another column of The Post this week is inserted a final warning to taxables of the county by Tax Commissioner Jester. All taxes not paid on or before May 15th next will be doubled and interest charged at the rate of one per cent per month from the time the tax was originally due until the time of final payment.

Mr. J. Ward went to the Delaware Hospital one day last week for treatment.

Mr. Norman Holloway, of Berlin, Md., who spent a couple of days with Mr. C. A. Leasure, returned home Friday, accompanied by Mr. C. A. Leasure and daughter, Beulah.

Miss Anna Barr was an over-night guest of Mrs. Flora Brooks.

Ralph Leasure who spent one week with his sister, Mrs. N. C. Holloway, of Berlin, Md., returned home Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brown were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Leasure one day last week.

Mrs. C. P. Titter and daughter, Marion, and little son, Roger, and Mr. George Rothrock spent Sunday evening with the former's sister, Mrs. Flora Brooks.

Several of the young people of this place attended the special service held at the Head of Christiana Church Sunday evening.

A Word to the Wise Is Sufficient

- While we enjoy and appreciate very much the business given us by our old friends in Newark and vicinity, yet the good word to all the new comers in our Community, many of whom have already been to see us.
- We would remind you all, that April is, for many reasons, the best month in the year for stocking up coal for winter use. You will find here a full supply of good quality in all sizes.
- Plenty of material for repairs to buildings, fences, etc. Also to build the new poultry house or garage.
- For the Farmer we have everything in the way of Fertilizer, Seed Oats, Clover and Timothy Seed, Soy Beans, White-wash Lime and "Worth the Money" Dairy and Poultry Feeds.
- Of Course, we are ready for the home builders, too. Come to us with your problems and needs. We believe we can help you.

The State Convention

The Republican Convention to be held in Dover, Tuesday next, is of usual and unusual importance. To our mind the issue is clean cut. Mere exercise of reason and common sense is all that is needed for the assurance of Republican success. Free exchange of opinion, void of prejudice, personal ambition and greedy desire for power, will give the party a State Committee with a desire for public service instead of personal gain. With such directing party affairs, we can present a party history to the electorate that will appeal to the confidence of the rank and file voter.

As for the National Committee from Delaware to be selected, the issue is equally clean cut. Ability, experience, acquaintance with men and affairs, locally and nationally, there is certainly no one mentioned publicly or secretly that surpasses T. C. du Pont. Any opposition is certainly not based on ordinary business judgment.

It is not a question of payment for his generosity to the State in civic affairs. That might be an expression of gratitude but would be crude at that. No word, no office nor honor can pay for the service he has rendered in a civic interest by the expenditure of vast wealth for a world-known highway. Nor do we advocate him for that reason. Paying for civic service by office is not our conception of citizenship. His selection as member of the National Committee is no mere "thank you" or returned compliment but purely and solely because of his ability and influence in National affairs. So because of that ability, that experience and that power to serve, his party, State and Nation we have confidence in the deliberate judgment of party leaders and delegates to the Convention.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

The Council of Newark,
Newark, Del.

Gentlemen:

We wish to protest against the shooting up of the Town a few days ago by alleged Federal Prohibition Agents. It was only by luck that no one was killed or seriously wounded and not due to any caution on the part of the brave men who called themselves Federal Agents. The fact they arrived in Town about the same time as the car they were pursuing is proof they could have made their arrests between here and Wilmington, or if that was impossible for any reason, they should have put off their shooting until they were out of Town.

In any event, the conduct of these so-called Federal Agents was inexcusable and showed neither judgment or sense on their part, and it is hoped the Council will take proper action to secure the arrest and conviction of these men for their law breaking conduct in this Town, and that you will notify the proper authorities you will not put up with any more such exhibitions in the future.

We believe the people of the Town generally look to you for the protection of the lives and property of the citizens of the Town.

Yours respectfully,
—The Continental Fibre Company.

To the Editor of The Post.
Sir:

In the interests of the protection of game and useful birds in our vicinity, I would like to ask the sportsmen and farmers of our neighborhood to take some action in trying to lessen the number of crows. These predatory robbers should be shot whenever the opportunity arises at this season of the year. The nesting season for game and useful birds is now coming on and it is at this time that the crows beats through the field and woods seeking out their nests and destroying their eggs and young. Game commissioners of thirty-eight states in the Union have found that the crow is the worst enemy of game and useful birds which flies. In some places crows have picked out the eyes of lambs and young calves and also destroyed vast quantities of poultry, eggs and young chicks.

The crow is increasing in numbers in many parts of the country. He hunts all the time, like other killers, but he is especially destructive when the birds are nesting. Some species of crows have been known to wipe out whole colonies of game birds in certain localities.

It would be one of the best things possible for the game of this neighborhood, if sportsmen and farmers would devote some of their time at this season of the year to shooting crows and thus lessening their numbers.

Yours very truly,

H. B. WRIGHT,
Newark, Del.

POINTS IN KEYNOTE SPEECH MADE BY HUGHES AT NEW YORK REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

"The country has no misgiving as it places its trust in the firm and skillful guidance of President Coolidge."
"Neither political party has a monopoly of virtue nor of rascality."

"While the American people detest crookedness and corruption, they are not fond of scandal mongers."

"Every business man, every wage earner has a stake in the continuance of this sort of administration."

"The Republican Administration has established an effective budget control."

"It was this rigid economy in government expenditures and this wise fiscal management which made it possible for the Secretary of the Treasury to propose a thorough-going scientific plan of tax reduction which has met country-wide approval."

"Perhaps there has never been a more important contribution to the cause of peace than that which was made under the auspices of this government through the Washington conference."

"The determinative principles of our foreign policy are those of independence and co-operation."

"Whoever says that America stands aloof and withholds her support from a stricken world is guilty of reckless slander. We do stand aloof from political entanglements, but not otherwise."

"The best assurance of the future is the character of Calvin Coolidge."

W. H. M. S. CONFERENCE

The meeting of the Wilmington District of the Woman's Home Missionary Society was held in the Newark Methodist Episcopal Church, on Thursday, April 10th.

The meeting opened at 10.30 a. m. with an address of welcome by Rev. Frank Herson, pastor of the Newark

M. E. Church. Greetings were extended to the visitors by the Presidents of each of the Missionary Societies in town. Mrs. J. W. Colona, of Wilmington, responded to the expressions of welcome. Mrs. Perry and Mrs. Muchette sang a duet.

The feature of the afternoon session was the address by Mrs. A. W. Karnell, of Philadelphia, on "Ellis Island and Immigration."

Fascinating Styles in Our Lovely New Silks

Just the Ones You Want For Easter

Just a word or two somewhat descriptive of the most highly favored silks of this season:

Will you come in and let us show you these lovely silks here ready for your choosing? See for yourself the shimmering beauty of the plain colors—the richness of the new printed patterns and the daintiness of the floral fancies. Gorgeous Oriental effects; handsome in design; rich in coloring; fashionable and in good taste.

See here the new Printed Crepe de Chines, the new printed Foulards.

Roshanara, both plain and printed—Flat Crepes, Plain Taffetas, Changeable Taffetas, Crepe de Chines.

Plain and Brocatelle Canton Crepes and many other beautiful novelties.

40-inch Flat Crepe—the popular crepe of the season for blouses, dresses, linings—the desirable colors, including the new shades, $3.00 to $4.50 a yard.

Broadcloth Shirting Silks, 32-inch; plain colors, stripes, checks for mannish blouses, smart dresses and for men's shirts and pajamas, $2.00 and $2.50 a yard.

Changeable Taffetas, light colors in perfect shades; for dance frocks and graduation dresses. Elegant quality; $2.25 and $2.50 a yard.

Crepe de Chine, that heavy satisfying quality in the new colors; the kind you like for dresses, blouses, linings and underwear, $1.75 to $3.00.

Canton Crepe Brocade, self-color, all-over designs, for beautiful gowns these are charming both for afternoon and evening wear; $3.75 to $4.75 a yard.

Spring Coatings

soft and light and rich looking

Just the right thing for spring coats; warm enough, yet not heavy. Plain colors, plaids, checks. Wide, too; and big bargains at these prices.

Beginning at $2.00 a yard these tweeds in grey or brown make especially desirable auto driving coats and children's capes. The thicker cloths in the light checks start as low as $2.50 a yard and up to $3.50. Plain colors for $3.00 a yard.

Sport Scarfs $1.50 to $5.00

The new stripes in Glos, Georgette in two-color combinations, figured silks, some with borders, $1.50 to $5.00.

DELAWARE TRACKMEN GETTING FIT FOR GRUELING SEASON

Hopes Rise as Keyes' Charges Show Much Improvement

After a week of strenuous training at the University of Delaware track candidates are beginning to round into shape for the gruelling season ahead of them. Every afternoon Frazer Field presents an active appearance with track men and baseball aspirants all mixed up on its green stretches.

While the student opinion of Captain Elliott's runners and jumpers is frankly pessimistic, the morale has taken several healthy jumps upward in the past week, and it begins to look like Delaware will be giving their rivals some pretty battles in the dual meets this Spring.

Coach Keyes and Manager Wilbur S. Shockley have announced the list of candidates for the various events listed under Intercollegiate rules.

Captain "Ike" Elliott, who looks fit for a mighty good season, will compete in five events during the year, a feat rarely attempted at Delaware. He will run the "100" and "220," put the shot, throw the discus and broad jump.

Other candidates are as follows:

One hundred yard dash, Gregg; 440 yard dash, Gregg, Miller and Beatty; half-mile, Miller, Christfield and McKelvey. Christfield is a letter man from two years back and is finishing his course at Delaware this term. One and two mile runs—Christfield, Evans, Jeff Lank and D. Tremaine, the latter a freshman. Shot put—McKelvey and Humphries. Javelin—Humphries and McKelvey. Pole vault—Lohman and Pretzman. High jump—Baxter, Ralph France and Lohman. Broad jump—Ralph France and Lohman. 220 yard low hurdles—Baxter, Beatty and R. France. 120 yard high hurdles—Ralph France, Johnny France and Baxter.

Coach Keyes would not intimate who he had thought of for the one-mile and medley relay teams, which will compete in the Penn relays on April 25 and 26.

All in all, the material is not up to the standard of Blue and Gold track teams in recent years, but neither the coach nor the candidates are dismayed and the prospects are getting more hopeful each day. Weakness in the short distances and field events is very evident, but it is figured that Delaware can compile enough second and third place points to make them dangerous contenders of a team having several stars.

Delaware's first meet is with Drexel in Philadelphia on April 15. Following that meet the squad returns to Newark and will remain here during the Easter vacation under the eyes of Coach Keyes. Workouts will be held every morning and afternoon during the vacation period. They will thus gain some much-needed practice to iron out the weak spots which might show up in the Drexel meet.

Delaware's trackmen take a five-day northern trip during the season, one of the longest trips attempted during recent years.

ELKTON NEWS

William McDowell Buried from Home Today; Sick Improving

William McDowell, elderly resident of Elkton, who suffered a stroke last Friday, died the following day while enroute to a hospital. His funeral was held yesterday afternoon from his late residence and was largely attended. He was a well-known figure in upper Cecil County.

Ralph Pearce, who has been very ill for some days, is improving slowly, according to reports today. He is able to sit up part of each day and his early recovery is looked for.

Mr. William Eder, wife of a prominent Elkton merchant, is reported to be slowly recovering from a recent serious illness.

NOTICE

1923 TAXABLES FOR
 STATE INCOME TAX

Final notice is hereby given to all delinquent taxables in the state that unless your taxes are paid on or before May 15, 1924, you are notified that after said date your 1924 taxes will be doubled and interest charged at the rate of one percentum per month or a fraction of a month from the time the tax was originally due to the date of payment. Offices, Wilmington, Dover and Georgetown.

SCHOOL

The little crossroads schoolhouse held only a score of pupils. In case of fire, exit was easy for all.

Today our schools literally turn away pupils, often working many classes in morning and afternoon shifts. Despite constant fire drills we frequently have appalling disasters from such crowded buildings. Suppose one of the victims was your child.

A school building of concrete being fireproof is not only safe for children, but also safe for the taxpayer's money—for it is permanent. And in first cost it is but 6% more than one of impermanent materials. Ask your building material dealer to demonstrate to you what is true building economy. He knows.

GET BACK OF THE BALL TEAM

From a casual observance of the practice held here last Saturday afternoon by Manager "Pete" Ewing and his Newark ball tossers, things look pretty bright for a successful season in the County League. "Pete" had plenty of material on hand, something which is a little unusual. Time was when it was hard to get enough players out to make up two teams. Saturday there were almost three teams prancing around the Rehab diamond.

Newark is entered in the League and the team is determined to make a good showing. It's the least we can do to encourage the boys; it's not hard to drop a word of praise here and there or to give one of them a healthy slap on the back and say "Go to it."

In every community under the sun there are pessimists. And Newark is well provided with them. They mean well, but they just can't help being dyspeptic and critical. They take pleasure in it, arguing that criticism makes for improvement. Very true. Constructive criticism makes for improvement. Not many practice it, we are sorry to say.

So let's get back of Pete Ewing and his athletes and give them a hand. They can't win all the games. No one is predicting a pennant. But we are sure they will provide a lot of sport on Saturday afternoons. They can't provide you with big league ball games, but if you'll leave your hammer and anvil at home and come out to the games, you won't be wasting your time.

CANTON BULLDOGS PLEASE NOTICE

We note with real enthusiasm that the Newark Football team has taken the bulls by the horns and is going to put out a first class team next Fall or break a trace in the attempt.

At a meeting the other night, they nominated officers. They elected them this week. They are townspeople, interested citizens anxious to help out with clean sport. It's to the credit of the Football team that they have chosen wisely.

And be it known also, that they have placed the team on a permanent basis. No more will the manager begin rounding up eleven men on Friday evening for a game the next day; no more will they go on the field without signals, practice, or in some cases, with only a faint knowledge of the game. We beg to predict that the Fall of 1924 will see one of the strongest football teams in the State camped right here in the shadow of the old Academy.

More power to them.

Close to the Bottom

The Senate's character as a legislative body has been grievously damaged by its wild excursions into scandal spreading and personal defamation, and its raids on orderly government. Its good faith with the public is now about to be subjected to another acid test. It has maneuvered itself into a position on the tax reduction and bonus bills in which ordinary or even super-ordinary political hypocrisy cannot save it.

The Finance Committee has reported a war tax relief measure which wipes out the Treasury surplus for 1924-'25. Chairman Smoot says that the committee's rates will produce a deficit of $50,000,000. Democrats and Republican radicals are planning to make amendments increasing that deficit. Concurrently with the tax reduction bill a bonus bill will be reported, which would entail an added expenditure next year of $135,000,000 and will cost the country eventually between $2,000,000,000 and $4,000,000,000. The Senate is expected to pass this bill, just as it passed the Fordney-McCumber bonus bill of 1922.

Here is a flagrant spectacle of self-stultification. The Senate wants to do the impossible of riding two horses plunging in opposite directions. It thinks it can serve two masters, fooling each of them while it is doing so. It will pose as easing the burdens of war taxation and at the same time vote an enormous bloc gratuity to be paid by the public.

What is the use of marching up one side of the street and then down the other? If the Senate has any honest desire to give the taxpayer long-deferred relief, it will pass the tax reduction bill and drop the bonus. If it wants to play politics with the bonus, it ought to defeat the tax relief measure, since what will be needed after a bonus bill passes will be not less taxation but more taxation.

It is seldom that a legislative body impales itself before the world in so cruel a dilemma. It cannot keep its promises to both the taxpayers and the bonusites. It must be false to one camp or the other. If it approves both bills it will sell its honor and self-respect and destroy whatever confidence is left in its intellectual capacity and political integrity. Degeneration in Congress has gone far when neither the House nor the Senate can show a majority of members courageous enough to hew to the line of straightforward dealing and common consistency. No Congressman who wants tax reduction can excuse himself for voting for the bonus. None who wants a bonus can excuse himself for voting for tax reduction. The two purposes are mutually destructive.

A Congress in which such indifference to even the appearance of serious-mindedness prevails is one which has fallen to the depths in morale and representative value. It is no wonder that the country is up in arms against Congressional aberration and futility.—From the New York Herald-Tribune.

Young Wife Expected to Recover from Poisoning

Mrs. Helen Malin Takes Bichloride Tablets Following Domestic Quarrel Here

Late reports from the Homeopathic Hospital in Wilmington indicate that the condition of Mrs. Helen Malin, of West Prospect Avenue, Newark, is very much improved and that her early recovery is expected.

Mrs. Malin swallowed bichloride of mercury tablets at her home here Friday afternoon last in an attempt to commit suicide.

She and her husband, Harry Malin, were married a few months ago. Mrs. Malin is a native of North East, Md., and is said to be 17 years of age. Her husband is employed at present at the Continental Fibre Co. here.

Mr. Malin's first wife died early last Fall, leaving him three small children, the oldest being about eight years old. A few weeks later, Mr. Malin held a sale at his home here, and two months afterward married his present wife.

It is believed that Mrs. Malin took the poison as a result of a quarrel with her husband last week. Neighbors, believing something was wrong at the Malin home, entered and found the young wife critically ill. They immediately telephoned for Dr. Walt H. Steel, and the latter sent the sick woman to the hospital. Doctors there said that had the poison been allowed to run through her system much longer, there would be no chance of saving her life. Heroic measures were used to restore her to health.

DRY SLEUTHS AND BOOTLEGGERS BATTLE

To sum up the situation, then, it appears that the total receipts netted by the dry agents were one badly scared prisoner, a battered up automobile and about 200 gallons of alleged alcohol, less 15 gallons, reported to have "evaporated" during the excitement. The spoils were taken to Wilmington that evening.

"In its entirety, the expedition against John Barleycorn, Friday night, savored too much of vaudeville, and too little of business-like efficiency," said one citizen, discussing the affair last evening. He was one of several who offered comments, some of which were not at all flattering to the dry agents.

As was pointed out by our informant, there was little necessity for a wholesale gunfight in the center of the congested business district, with the open country but a few hundred yards ahead. Furthermore, the attitude of the agents throughout the entire affair was one of noticeable braggadocio, accompanied by a continual show of badges. It was also stated that when William Webber, of Pleasant Hill, Md., remonstrated with the agents following the ramming of his car while parked on Main Street, the agents replied gruffly that "the insurance people will settle for it." It is not unlikely that Mayor Frazer and Councilmen will take some action in the matter, for it is understood that the Mayor is frankly angry over the amateurishness of supposedly efficient dry law enforcement officers.

In every impromptu occasion, however, there is always a strain of humor. This is no exception. The fact that two of the bootleggers made a clean getaway, and that from 10 to 15 gallons of the alleged alcohol mysteriously disappeared within a few minutes, with the two agents within a few yards of the wrecked car affords an interesting problem in conjecture.

Two ladies were riding with the dry agents during the entire chase and resultant shooting. When asked about this peculiar situation, one of the agents is said to have replied that the ladies were carried as a "blind" to throw bootleggers off their guard. His questioner then opined that it was not the safest predicament in which to place a lady, whether blind or not.

Howsoever, the cowboys "got their man," as they say in the movies. But in getting him, they appeared to have rubbed the peaceful fur of Newark the wrong way. No incident in recent months has caused the furore and comment as is attached to the latest "cowboy and Indian" game played in Newark.

RE-SURFACING STREETS

Contractor F. W. Lovett has a force of workmen busy this week in re-surfacing Academy Street south of Delaware Avenue, and East Delaware Avenue. Part of Cleveland Avenue was finished up the early part of the week. The Lovett forces have also completed the macadamizing of the John K. Johnston lane on Depot Road.

ARREST SPEEDERS

Belgian Ambassador's Car Halted for Speeding Through Town

Two quick arrests for speeding were made near Newark Monday morning by County Highway Officer Jones.

Otto Ehrlich, who said he was a chauffeur for the Belgian ambassador to the United States was arrested for speeding through Main Street by Officer Jones and hailed before Magistrate Thompson. Chauffeur proffered a check but was refused. He left a spare wheel as surety for the $25 fine until his return from New York.

Mrs. C. Frank Williamson, of Media, Pa., was also fined for speeding Monday morning. The levy made was $25 and costs. The Williamson car occupied by five Pennsylvania delegates to the D. A. R. Convention in Washington was driven by a colored chauffeur.

Officer Jones remarked, after the two arrests were made, that business was picking up, and he expected a busy week after the races start at Havre de Grace.

Errors Friday

Although outtill 12 to 3, Newark High School nosed out the Goldey College team here on Friday afternoon, score 5-4. The game was a thriller from start to finish and went into extra innings with both teams fighting for the lead.

In the eleventh, the break came, when Davis, the Newark catcher, watched first on Conoway's error. He immediately broke for second on an attempted steal. Jones threw to catch him, but the toss rolled far out into center field. Davis came all the way home on the error, and the game was won.

Coach Elder made several switches in his lineup during the game, in order to get a line on his players. The Newark boys were weak with the stick against Loller, Jones and Young, while Goldey seemed to have no trouble with Johnson and Harkness. Rose twiddled somewhat better than his teammates. The ability of Newark to score when runs were needed badly won the verdict. Goldey errors played a big part in the local victory.

The game was originally carded with duPont High, but they were unable to make the trip. The lineup:

ODESSA HOME AND SCHOOL

The monthly meeting of the Odessa Home and School Association was held in the school house last Thursday afternoon. In the absence of the president and vice-president the program chairman, Mrs. Dukes presided. The following program was: Song by audience; prayer; dramatization, "Thrift," Edna Atwell, Howard Phillips, William Smith; piano solo, Anna Cleaver; finger play, primary children; chorus, "Spring Song," Norman Reynolds, Vincent Broadwater, Harry Puckard, Charles Stapleford.

SCOUT NEWS

Our last meeting was scheduled for outdoor games. Because the weather conditions were not favorable, we played the games indoors. After the roll and dues were taken, two different forms of compass (a game which is derived from the compass) were played. Then several games of "tilling" followed. "Tilling" is played by two persons, who are blindfolded and crouched on the floor. A thick roll of paper is taken in one hand, and the other hand is placed on a book. The moving of this book is disqualification. The game has a time limit, and the fellow who "swats" the other one most with the roll of paper is winner. Teams for competition next Thursday were selected. Some of the events will be fire-by-friction, signalling (both Morse and Semaphore), and advanced first aid. We were adjourned with Scout Oath.

NOISE AT RECESS

When the children of the first floor in our building get out, they do not remember that the students of the second floor are still having class, because they do not have recess. The pupils run through the halls, call to each other, and sometimes stamp their feet. They even slam the doors, and jump down the steps.

If the children would remain outside at recess there would be no noise, or if they did pass through the hall, go on tiptoes, and not jump or slam the doors.

When the pupils of the first floor make a lot of noise it interferes with the other students' lessons and they cannot study for the noise.

THE USE OF A SCHOOL PAPER

A school paper is a very useful thing. It helps the parents to know more of what their children are doing. It also shows the community the inside of school life. The pupils can explain more thoroughly and correctly the incidents of school than a reporter of a town paper, who does not take part in school life.

This paper not only helps the people who read it, but also the children who write it. It helps them to make compositions better because of the practice they receive. The idea of the community reading the paper makes the scholars take more interest in writing it. They are always striving to make the best better.

The pupils of the Sixth A Grade are real proud of their paper, as it is the only school paper in Newark.

PLANNING FOR MAY DAY

Women's College Students Choosing Attendants; Miss Roe will be Queen

May day festivities at the Women's College will be held on Saturday, May 17th. The elections for the queen and her attendants have been going on this week. Emily Roe, the president of the Senior Class, has been chosen for May Queen, and Eleanor Vinyard, '24, as Maid of Honor. The final elections for the class duchesses have not yet taken place, but the results of the third nomination are: Junior Duchess: Helen Lucas, Charlotte Dayett, Mary Bradley; Sophomore Duchess: Georgia Wiggins, Carmella Corleto, Betty Fletcher; Freshman Duchess: Kitty Ady, Jean Middleton, Linda Bassett. The class attendants will be chosen in class meeting next week.

POEMS and STORIES

The Lucky Boy

A boy was walking along a street one day, when he looked down and saw a five dollar gold piece. He picked it up and went on down the street to buy his mother some groceries. He came home and showed it to his mother.

His mother said, "If some one does not advertise in the paper for it, you may keep it."

The boy answered, "Alright, Mother."

Next week an advertisement was in the paper, which read: Lost, a five dollar gold piece, on Main Street. Reward if returned to Mrs. J. Bell, Newark, Delaware.

The next day the boy said to his mother, "Mother I have found this gold piece, I hate to part with it, but I know Johnnie, Mrs. Bell's son, and I must return it to her. The paper said, 'Reward if returned to Mrs. J. Bell.' The mother answered, 'Yes, you must return it to her.'"

The boy took the five dollar gold piece to Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Bell gave a reward, which was a little Collie dog. The boy took the Collie dog and went home feeling very happy.

A Game of Basketball

Captain Ned said, "Boys, we must win this game."

The "boys" were playing a very interesting game of basketball. The opposing team was ahead, with a score of seven to four. The ending of the first half had just closed.

The whistle blew and the boys scrambled to their feet. In a minute the boys were racing up and down the floor. Jim, one of the boys on Captain Ned's side, put the ball in the basket in spite of the opposing team's boys. What a shout went up from the grandstand! After a few close moments, the whistle blew. Someone had disobeyed the rules and Captain Ned's side had a chance to shoot a foul. In it went! Shortly afterward the whistle blew again. The first quarter of the second half had come to an end. The score was seven to seven.

The last quarter started a few minutes afterward. Our side was determined to win, but the other side was just as determined. After a few minutes of fierce playing, Bill, on Captain Ned's side, put the ball in the basket and before the other side had a chance to score, the whistle blew and Captain Ned's side came off victorious, with a score of nine to seven.

The Lost Child

I was taking a walk one afternoon when I saw a little child who was lost; I asked the child his name. He said something that sounded like Bob. I asked him where he lived. He did not know. The best thing for me to do, I thought, was to take him to the police station. I caught hold of his hand and we started off, when we arrived at the police station the chief asked me what I wanted. I told him I had found little Bob. Then he told me that some gypsies had stolen a little boy that morning. He told me to wait until he called up a woman which might be Bob's mother. I started out to go home, when he called me back. He said, "There is a reward for you if this is the child." I was very happy when I heard this and was in hope little Bob was the child. After a few minutes waiting a woman came in. As soon as she saw the child, her face brightened up as she went towards the child. She asked if I was the boy who found little Bob. The chief told her I was. She then opened her pocketbook and handed me twenty-five dollars. As soon as she gave it to me, I thanked her and went home, feeling very happy with my reward.

Springtime

Springtime in the country is
Is very beautiful to see,

She colors the trees so carefully,
It looks like a mystery to me.

School Days

When I used to go to school
I never studied and was a fool,
But now I regret it so
I'd give a hundred dollars to gain what I didn't know.

But now it is too late
And I don't know what to do
If I could reach the golden gate
I'd be very happy, too.

I'd give all the world
For all that knowledge now
I could do all things
If God would show me how.

"THE COVERED WAGON"
COMING TO NEWARK

Famous Players-Lasky is the newest comer into the field of producing pictures which have their initial runs in the regular theatres devoted to touring dramatic attractions.

The accomplishment which prompted this great concern to make the departure is "The Covered Wagon," taken from the story of the winning of the West by Emerson Hough, which had a sensational success as a serial in the Saturday Evening Post, and is now in its sixteenth edition in book form.

The author lived to see his greatest dream realized when this story was transferred from type to the screen and became a moving reality. The success of this transformation is credited to Jesse L. Lasky, who took the

SPORTS

On April 5, 1924, Delaware College played William College. It was a practice game, and the score was a tie.

Newark High School defeated Delaware City in a game of baseball, Friday, April 7, 1924. The score was 11 to 9. This was the first game of the season.

Dover High School defeated Newark High School in a very interesting game of basketball, Monday, March 27th. The score was 24 to 22. It is claimed that if Newark had not been out of practice it would have had a better chance to win.

The Delaware College and Newark High School are both practicing for field day.

Perryville Team Goes To Pieces in Sixth Inning in Opening Game

Elkton High walloped their ancient rivals, Perryville, in the first game of the season at Elkton last Friday afternoon, score 12-2.

The fans were treated to a real struggle for the first six innings with Richards for Elkton and Fisher for Perryville twirling very creditable ball. Elkton managed to push over two runs in the second but could not increase the total.

In the sixth frame, however, Coach Hill's boys broke through the Perryville defense and scored four markers. In the next two innings they amassed eight more runs, and the game became a rout. Smith was high gun for the winners, while Hortenstein was strong with the bat for Perryville. The score:

Bed-Time Story Man Introduces Wilkes Land,
Little Known U. S. Possession, to Eager Listeners

Jack had brought his geography home from school, and had been studying it while his mother prepared dinner. He was especially interested in the maps in different colors that appeared all through the book, and had been looking intently at South America, Australia, and New Zealand. Below the pink and yellow areas that showed the land on those maps there was a wide stretch of blue ocean, and right at the bottom of the maps Jack saw an irregular line that looked as though it might be the shore of some more land to the south. But it was not colored like the other lands on his maps, and Jack was at a loss to know what it meant.

After dinner was over the children called their Uncle Ted and gathered about him for their usual evening story. Jack brought out his geography and asked his uncle if he could tell what the queer lines at the bottom of some of his maps meant.

"I was just reading today, Jack, about that very thing," said Uncle Ted, "and I think I can give you some information that nobody else in your school knows about. Perhaps even the teacher has never heard of it before."

"Most of the world as we know it today had been discovered and mapped within a hundred years after Columbus landed on the western hemisphere. The lands had all been claimed by various nations, and there seemed to be no new territory to find. It was not until a hundred and fifty years ago that adventurous explorers set out in their ships to the north and the south to find out what was at the two ends of the earth. Capt. Cook made the first voyage of importance to the South Seas in 1772 and, discovered some islands that lie south of South America. Following him other sea captains visited the far south and found land. It is one of these whom I want to tell you about tonight."

"In 1838 Commander Charles Wilkes, of the United States Navy, was placed in command of an exploring expedition. He had four ships, the Vincennes, Peacock, Porpoise, and Flying Fish. With them he sailed down the east coast of South America, visited most of the islands in the South Pacific Ocean, and the Pacific Coast, of what later became a part of the United States. He was gone four years, and when he got home he printed the story of his discoveries in nineteen volumes."

"In January, 1840, Commander Wilkes was on the east coast of Australia, and in that month he set sail to the south to search for new lands. On January 12th he found himself about 1,600 miles directly south of New Zealand, and there discovered land. What he saw were high rocky bluffs, mostly covered with snow and with a barrier of ice extending quite a distance into the ocean. As he could go no further south he turned his ships west and for almost six weeks followed the shore line of the new continent that he had found for 1,500 miles. On February 21st he had reached the beginning of Capt. Cook's discoveries many years before, so he turned north again and sailed back to Australia."

"Photography was unknown in those early days, but Commander Wilkes made sketches of the shore line as he sailed along, so one today has a good idea of what he saw. The course that he followed is shown on Chart Number 70, published by the Navy Department, and on that chart is also printed some of his sketches. They reveal huge mountains rising into the sky, with a great tableland between."

"Now, when your geography was printed neither Wilkes Land nor any of the other lands near the South Pole discovered by other explorers had been actually claimed by nations to the north as part of their possessions. That is the reason they are shown in white on the maps. But things are looking up in that part of the world now. In 1917 Great Britain said she owned a big section of land south of South America, which she would call the Falkland Islands Dependency, and only last July King George ordered that another big piece, called the Ross Sea Sector, should be owned by the British and governed from New Zealand. This Ross Sea Sector is next to Wilkes Land on the east."

"Of course it is too cold down there to do much on the land, although some time a way will doubtless be found to contain. But, even now, New Zealand and the Falkland Islands are getting millions of dollars from licenses sold to people who want to hunt whales in those waters. Great Britain has taken the first step toward firmly annexing those southern countries to her dominions, but the United States will not be far behind. Already plans are being urged at Washington for appointing a governor of Wilkes Land and providing rules for its control. When that has been done the size of our country will be increased almost one-half."

"In days gone by our government officials have not been so alert to follow up the discoveries by Americans. In 1813 Captain David Porter, of the Navy, discovered and claimed the Marquesas Islands; in 1821 Capt. Palmer discovered Palmer Land; and in 1881 an American named Hooper discovered Wrangell Island. But the United States allowed all of those new lands to fall into the hands of other nations, and now it is impossible to get them back. But no other country has ever disputed the American ownership of Wilkes Land, so there will be no trouble in providing a government for it just as we have for the Philippines, Hawaii, Porto Rico, and Alaska. When Alaska was bought from Russia it was thought to be only a waste of money. Everybody knows now what a valuable possession it is. In years to come the same may be said of Wilkes Land, which is more than twice the size of Alaska."

"Now, I have given you enough to think about tonight. Talk it over with your teacher tomorrow, and see if she will not tell the story to the rest of the class. All the children, and their parents, too, ought to know what a tremendous territory the United States has in the South Seas. Good-night."

HIGHWAYS VITAL TO BETTER CIVILIZATION

European Experience Proves Need of Roads in America

The part that highways play in the progress of civilization is well shown by the experience of Europe during the past 2,000 years. From the golden milestone in Rome great highways were built to the remotest bounds of the Roman Empire. Over them went the Roman soldier, and with him law and order. Over them went the Greek schoolmaster, and with him schools and colleges. Over them went the missionary of the Cross, and with him the church, hospital, medical science, and improved agriculture.

Present day halls of justice, schools, colleges and universities, great churches and cathedrals, and the maximum of population, wealth and culture, are found along the highways thrown out from Rome.

On that fateful July day, when the German thrust the point of his wedge between the English and the French at Chateau Thierry, and there was not a man or a gun to oppose their march to the English Channel, it was the highways which saved Europe. Fifty miles away were forty thousand U. S. Marines and other troops and a thousand American-made motor trucks. Due to the splendid roads of France, they arrived on time, and the "shock-troops" of the German Army were hurled back. The motor truck and the roads of France saved civilization.

If for twenty centuries the system of highways has been the mold into which sixty generations of Europeans have been run and have taken shape, who can measure the influence on American life of a national highway system, gridironing this land between ocean and ocean and connecting all the county seats of all the States? When the rate of speed on Europe's road was but three to six miles per hour for passengers and two miles per hour for freight, the highway determined twenty centuries of history. What will be the effect on American life with highways which speed up the movement of passengers to twenty-five or even forty miles an hour and of freight to twelve or even thirty miles per hour, at the same time reducing the cost?

"The Pickled Policeman," or "A Tale of Two Mackerel Tubs"

Being a Review of A New Play by The Dramatic Editor of the Newark Post

It is with a sense of profound regret that we have heretofore been unable to talk about this important event in local theatrical circles. By way of explanation to the rabid readers of this department, we beg leave to state that the rubber columns, ordered months ago, have not yet arrived. So we must needs worry along with the old steel frames and continue to throw out all the really good stuff each week. So be it.

But to our subject—
In order to preface our remarks, we urge the passage of a national law against two of the most distressing types of theatre-goers; one, the gentleman who just must climb over the throbbing feet of his neighbors to "catch a smoke" whenever the going gets rough on the stage, and second, the dear wife and mother who insists that the handsome hero "isn't the fellow who stole the money; it's that one over there at the table. I saw this show last month, and in the next scene he—" You know this type, we're sure.

Thus we had a perfectly glorious time keeping our feet in and our temper down—and really caught a few fleeting glimpses of the characters. That's all a reviewer needs anyhow—just a glimpse.

"The Pickled Policeman" is a piece from the pen of R. Gilpin Buckingham, a local playwright, and was staged by the Community Players. We note a really pronounced improvement in the work of Mr. Buckingham; he should go far in his work. The flash and fire, so lacking in his recent effort, "And the Cupboard Was Bare," seems to have blazed forth again in this latter play. No need to dwell upon the Community Players. They're always worth the price we pay for a perfectly rotten seat. A nice, able, entertaining group, we rise to remark. Mr. Lewis, in the role of the Policeman, calls forth paeans of praise from this department. We have always thought we liked his work; now we're sure of it.

Master of emotion, adept, and with a keen perception of the warmth of his audience, it seems to us that Mr. Lewis has at last "arrivé," as the French would so delightfully exclaim. He's a whale of an actor, and we don't mean maybe!

Even the rubber columns (if they were here) could hardly hold the nice things we have to say of Mr. Lewis' interpretation of his difficult role. One scene, however, just must have a word. The "Porch Scene."

As he stands there in the shadow of the rough-hewn doorway, saturated with mackerel pickle, and apparently beaten in his noble quest,—by the urging red blood of a loyal heart, and by a brand of eloquence which moved strong men to weep—he tells his simple story. It was indeed a powerful bit of acting. His work is not only a credit to American stagecraft, but adorns the massive brow of our local Thespian with a wreath of unstinted and unsought praise.

Let there be more pieces like "The Pickled Policeman." Let them flow unhampered from the bubbling pen of Mr. Buckingham, and all the other writers of the town, and let us poor mortals again be stilled into peace of soul by the stirring language of Mr. Lewis, as exemplified in the Front Porch Scene. It is language, which, like grandmother's parlor wall-paper, is very colorful—very colorful, indeed.

HE GETS GOOD YIELDS EVERY YEAR

Although Daniel Dean, of Nichols, New York, has used fertilizer on his potatoes for 20 years, he failed up to 1911, to get consistently satisfactory results. In good seasons he got good yields. But so did everyone else. He wanted good yields in the poor seasons when the drought extended right through July and August, and he wasn't always getting them.

In 1911 Mr. Dean began placing his fertilizer deeper in the ground, and since then has failed only once to average at least 230 bushels per acre. He plows under a clover sod in the fall, and perhaps a dressing of straw. In the spring, he broadcasts a ton of high-analysis fertilizer and discs it in. Then he plows and prepares the seed bed. The fertilizer is now well down in the soil, below what would be termed the top layer. When the plants begin to grow, their root systems develop below the soil that is so quickly dried out by the hot summer sun, and furnish water and plant-food to the plant even during a drought.

Spring Crop of Pigs Influenced by Care of Sow

What the spring crop of pigs will be depends largely upon the management of the herd between now and farrowing time. This is the belief of many of the best hog men.

The care of the brood sow is rated as a primary consideration in the production of large, strong, thrifty litters. A strong, active, moderately used sow is the second factor. Experience has shown that the cause of small litters can be more often traced to the sow than to the sire.

A method followed very successfully by several pork producers of the county in the care of their brood sows is as follows: After the sows are safely bred, they are turned together in a pasture lot. This system has proved more satisfactory than keeping them in small lots or pens. The sleeping quarters are arranged so that the future mothers will have to travel some distance each night and morning for their feed. This forces plenty of exercise. By placing a low feeding rack full of leguminous hay at a third location, more exercise is secured, and the alfalfa, clover or soybean hay aids greatly in balancing up the ration.

The rations used by the most successful pork producers in the county vary with their individual conditions. However, all feed a balanced ration, containing a variety of feeds carrying ample bone and muscle building material. As a rule, some animal protein, such as tankage, fish meal or a milk byproduct, is used. Several farmers get along with a small amount of these higher-priced feeds by supplying plenty of legume hay and forcing the sows to take exercise. Plenty of water is supplied in every instance.

Different housing conditions are used in the county, but wherever success is attained the quarters are found to be dry, well ventilated and clean. Some prefer the ground or plank floors to concrete floor, where plenty of bedding is used. A few farmers are getting along nicely with open sheds, with the open side to the south. These are made of posts, rails and corn stover.

On This Light-Six Touring Car

By our matchless facilities—our enormous production

HERE is a car priced at $1,045. Built by ordinary methods it would cost you from $200 to $400 more.

It is in scores of ways the leader of its class. No rival car compares in the value that it offers.

Let us tell you how we give that value, then urge you to see this car.

A sensation

Studebaker is today the world's largest builder of quality cars. Studebaker success is the sensation of Motordom.

Sales have almost trebled in three years. Last year, 145,167 people paid $201,000,000 for Studebaker cars.

There are tremendous reasons for this rush to Studebaker cars. And every man who buys a car should know them.

72-year traditions

The Studebaker name has for 72 years stood for quality and class. To build an ordinary car under that name is unthinkable.

Our assets are $90,000,000—all at stake on serving you better than all others.

We have $50,000,000 in model plants, equipped with 12,500 up-to-date machines. We have 23,000 workers, under profit-sharing plans which lead them to stay and develop.

We spend on engineering $500,000 yearly. We employ 1,200 men to give 32,000 inspections to each Studebaker car in the making.

We are lavish

We are lavish in things that count.

We pay 15% bonus on some steels to get them exactly right. We use genuine leather in our cushions. We use curled hair.

We use more Timken bearings in this Light-Six than any competitive car within $1,500 of its price.

Our bodies are beautiful creations. The finish and coach work show the final touch. But we build them in $10,000,000 body plants of our own, and pay for these extras in savings.

Where we save

We save by enormous production—150,000 cars per year. Our major costs are all divided by that enormous output. It is utterly impossible for smaller makers to compete.

We save by modern plants, mostly built in the past five years. We save by up-to-date machines. By building our own parts and bodies.

See what this car offers

Come see what this Light-Six offers. How it excels in scores of ways any rival car.

Built with the same steels, the same care and skill, as the costliest of our cars. We have only one grade of chassis.

See its beauty, its comfort, its luxury. See how we have studied your every desire.

Do that and you will choose this car, if you have in mind a price anywhere near this.

Send for the book

Mail us the coupon below. We will send you free our new book that will inform you on five simple things which reveal the value of a car. For instance—

It will enable you to look at any car and tell whether it's been cheapened to meet a price or offers true quality.

It will tell you why some cars rattle at 20,000 miles and others don't. It shows one single point in a closed car which measures whether you're getting top or medium quality. The book is free. Clip the coupon below.

Touring Car—$1,045

Same steels as we use in the costliest cars we build. More Timken bearings than in any competitive car within $1,500 of this price.

Genuine leather cushions, ten inches deep. Curled hair filling. All-steel body.

One-piece, rain-proof windshield. Attractive cowl lights. Standard non-skid cord tires.

Transmission and ignition locks. Perfect motor balance. Curtains that open with the doors. By far the greatest value in this class.

Mail coupon for book about it

We machine all surfaces of our crankshafts and connecting rods, as was done in the Liberty Airplane motors. No other maker of cars at our prices does this. The result is that perfect motor balance, lack of vibration and long life.

The History of a Home

1919—We wondered if we would ever have money enough to build.

1920—We opened a savings account with this object in mind.

1921—Our account having grown but slightly, we decided to deposit a certain amount each month.

1923—Having the cash, we bought a building lot at a bargain.

THIS SPRING—Our home will be built.

Are you saving for a home—or only wishing for it.

PHI KAPPA PHI HOLDS INITIATION THURSDAY

Women's College People Enrolled In Honorary Society Here

Members of the University of Delaware chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, the honorary scholarship fraternity, held a banquet and initiation in Old College Hall last Thursday evening.

Those who were initiated at that time were Dean Winifred J. Robinson, Miss Quaesita Drake, Frances Worthington, Louise Jackson, Louise Beck, Hazel Collins, Miss Lucile Petry, at present a student at Johns Hopkins, will be initiated in the future.

The initiation ceremonies preceded the dinner. Prof. H. K. Preston acted as toastmaster for the occasion. Short talks were delivered by Dr. E. B. Crooks, Dean Robinson, Miss Worthington and John Schaeffer.

STATE JEWELERS TO MEET ON MAY 1

Exceeding in many details the plans of the committee, the arrangements for the tenth annual convention of the Maryland-Delaware Retail Jewelers' Association, to be held at the Hotel duPont, Wilmington, on May 1st, are progressing splendidly. Because of the pep put into the arrangements by Chairman Montgomery's committee, prominent men connected with the jewelry trade in the East have promised to come to Wilmington to address the members on various trade matters and the program is already filled with attractive numbers.

The display of silverware, will likely be the most spectacular feature of the convention. To start with, there will be the silver service from the battleship Delaware and added to this will be numerous fancy, artistic and unique pieces of silver from retailers and wholesale houses, the whole, combining to make the convention interesting to the general public.

Mrs. Joseph Kern and her ladies committee, have planned a splendid entertainment for the wives, daughters and sweethearts of the visiting members. On the morning of May 1st, the time from 11 to 12 will be spent inspecting Old Swedes Church, one of the oldest in this country and viewing the stone along the banks of the Christiana where the first Swedes landed here several centuries ago. At noon the ladies will be the guests of the jewelers organization at luncheon at the Hotel duPont, when special speakers and entertainers will comprise an interesting program. At 2 o'clock the ladies will start on a historic trip in automobiles, covering lower Pennsylvania and northern Delaware. The first stop will be at the Brinton Lake club house. From there the party will go to Chadds Ford, Pa., and will be taken over the battle field there and the position of the American and British troops outlined. From there the party will travel to Lafayette's headquarters and the interesting and history spots pointed out to them. The old Quaker Birmingham Meeting House, a hallowed place for all Americans, because of its historic interest, will be visited. The next stop will be at Longwood the estate of Mr. and Mrs. Pierre S. duPont, where the wonderful sunken gardens and flower conservatory, one of the most magnificent show places in America will be viewed.

COOLIDGE ON THE JOB

The recent speeding up by Congress is a victory for the people and for President Coolidge. It will be recalled that in his Lincoln Day speech in New York Coolidge stated that it was necessary for the people to make their wishes known to Congress. The President has adopted the rather unusual way of securing cooperation from Congress. He has had numerous senators and representatives at the breakfast table, an early breakfast, for the President rises early, a habit acquired in the early days of his life on his father's farm—a habit which permits him to be at his desk long before many business men have had their morning meal, and there he has impressed upon the lawmakers the necessity of tax reduction, economy in the expenditure of the people's money and the passing of such legislation as will relieve distress in agricultural districts.

It is conceded by most everyone that Coolidge will be nominated at Cleveland. The recent action of the voters of North Dakota, Michigan, Nebraska and Illinois has demonstrated beyond any question the fact that the people believe in Calvin Coolidge. They regard with deep appreciation his quiet, firm manner of dealing with public questions. They appreciate the staying at his desk, or as one senator the other day put it, "being always on the job." The people of the country have strongly emphasized the fact that they want Coolidge to be retained as President of the United States. They want a calm thinking, hard working American citizen as President.
