THE CALL TO DUTY

The first peace-time conscription in the history of these United States will begin next Wednesday, October 16, when the youth of the country trek to registration places to file their names in answer to the nation's call for preparedness in the face of ever increasing danger or participation in the foreign conflict now raging in most parts of Europe.

The dawning of each new day brings our peril closer as pacts are formed and ominous warnings rumble across the seas. The World War, fought to end all wars, the conflict to make the world safe for democracy, seems to have been in vain as men are mobilized, armaments rushed and now many of the sons of those who made the supreme sacrifice to prevent exactly what is happening, are being registered for possible conscription.

Time for petty bickering and political prejudice is past now that Congress has voted and the President has signed the bill making conscription a law. We were among those who opposed such a program at first; we still are against the principle. But, it is the law—the representatives of the majority of our people have decreed it and we shall support it to the utmost of our ability.

In connection with conscription registration in Delaware, Governor McMullen has issued an appeal for all registration officers and owners of registration places to voluntarily give their services as no funds are available for this purpose.

We are confident that those connected with the regular registration places in Newark will respond wholeheartedly.

We should also like to echo the request made by Governor McMullen, that every business house and residence in Newark display the Stars and Stripes on registration day.

REGISTER YOUR BIKE

Registration of the estimated 400 bicycles in Newark is expected to be completed within a few days. This work is being carried on by town police officers in cooperation with school authorities in a sincere effort to supply positive identification of every locally owned bicycle.

Originated and sponsored by the Newark Lions Club, the Newark Bicycle Club is flourishing and gaining new recruits daily. This extremely worthwhile project is one of the finest civic enterprises undertaken here recently and has won the plaudits of a grateful community.

Formed primarily to promote safety and to instill proper vehicular operation in our children, the purpose is two-fold as it also teaches pedestrian safety, regard for the safety of others and a spirit of good fellowship.

Every bicycle owner in Newark is urged to have his bicycle registered at the first opportunity. Every child of school age should deem it a privilege to belong to the Newark Bicycle Club. We hope the full realization of benefits to be derived from this organization will be impressed upon them by their parents.

FORECAST OF WINTER

Falling leaves are a forecast of winter—and they are also a forecast of danger to the wise motorist.

Wet, dead leaves will soon blanket most of our streets, and the Del-Safety Council warns that wet leaves are almost as slippery as ice.

Keep that in mind while driving this fall. You won't have to worry about skids if you avoid situations requiring sudden stops or turns.

Do not start bonfires near buildings, and never burn leaves on a windy day. Keep an eye on the fire until it is burned out, and make sure that children don't get close enough to ignite their clothing.

Follow these rules and you will help reduce the tremendous loss of life and property that results from fire.

The weather will be getting pretty chilly from now on, and you will be driving most of the times with your car windows closed. This will mean extra caution on your part, because it will be more difficult to hear train whistles and warning bells.

And another thing. A tightly closed car increases the danger from carbon monoxide, which sometimes seeps through the floorboards from a leaky exhaust system. Before winter weather starts, it is a good idea to see that the exhaust system on your car is in good condition.

Station WJZ of New York reports a request from one of its listeners, who wrote: "Please broadcast that I have for sale a tea set used by George Washington," confidentially adding: "I stole it from my wife and must sell it to pay alimony."

Ripley tells of the hard luck of Pitcher Snyder of a Verdi, Calif., baseball team. In one game he allowed only four hits, but his opponents made 41 runs. The reason for this incredible occurrence is that Snyder's team mates made 20 errors during the game.

It has been discovered that persons who are color-blind can distinguish camouflaged objects which deceive those with normal vision. At Fort Sill, Okla., a color-blind observer spotted all of 40 camouflaged guns on a field, after an aviator with perfect eyesight had failed to see more than 10.

We wonder if we'll ever see the day when the author of a novel lets all his characters get out of it alive.

Gathering Famous Machipongo Seed Oysters

In Machipongo, Virginia, some 250 miles from Newark on the ocean side of Virginia north of Cape Charles lies a small island known as Webb Island from which the superbly delicious sea-side salts are shipped to many communities. Newark has been one of the staunchest supporters of this briny oyster since a few of its local sportsmen became acquainted with the flavor of this particular oyster. A Gunning and Fishing Club was formed numbering among its members and visitors the following local men: Dr. G. W. Rhodes, R. T. Jones, Norris N. Wright, Weldon C. Waples, Walter R. Powell, the late H. Warner McNeal, John H. Dennison, C. Emerson Johnson, and others.

Originally these oysters grew in a wild, that is, uncultivated state until the consensus of opinion or some or all of the members of the Machipongo Club urged the late Captain Webb to cultivate those oysters for shipment to a select few who really appreciate such a fine oyster. The Captain's son, Nelson Webb, is now carrying on in his father's footsteps and has developed the cultivation on a small island known as Mare's Island 15 miles at sea from Webb Island at Machipongo. This Machipongo Oyster is at its best from October until April: it spawns later than some oysters and usually it takes a good cold spell to fatten the oyster after the spawning process.

According to the comments of a few self-styled connoisseurs who are regular patrons of Machipongo oysters, "none better are to be found." It is compared with the Chincoteague of 25-30 years ago before commercialization ruined those beds.

Machipongo Sea-Side Salts are not characterized particularly by a standard size shell. In fact, just the opposite is true. There is, however, a peculiar shape that the deep half of the shell takes: the deep shell has ridges in it not unlike the ridges or grooves found in sea-shells. This ridging is not generally found in other oysters along the eastern seaboard.

Taste being the prime consideration in foodstuffs and different in each individual, the only way to find out if one likes the flavor of Machipongo Oysters is to try them and compare them with other oysters.

Dennison Motor Co.'s New Building Is Completed

NEW GARAGE ENHANCES HAINES ST. APPEARANCE

Local Men Employed In Erection Of New Building

One of the most recent and completely transformed streets in Newark is Haines street between Main and Delaware Avenues as a result of the remodelling of the building formerly occupied by the Dennison Motor Company and which now serves as the handsome quarters of Newark's A. & P. Super Market.

Directly behind this market where once stood an array of used cars, a vacant lot and a none-too-imposing frame structure, there is now a new, handsome and modern building that houses the new quarters of The Dennison Motor Company, agents in this territory for Nash and Studebaker motor cars and General Electric appliances.

Recently completed, the imposing new quarters are modern and up-to-date in every detail. Facing on Haines Street, a huge plate-glass front invites passing inspection of the beautiful new, 1941 model Nash and Studebaker cars and an imposing display of G. E. products.

Genial Jack Dennison did himself proud when he erected this place which includes every facility for motoring service, safety and comfort. The spacious display room elicits words of praise as one steps into the doorway and gets a complete view of the ornate interior. Directly behind the show room is the large, well equipped repair department operated under the supervision of William Gray, one of Newark's most efficient and dependable motor car mechanics.

The washing and greasing department is located in a wing extending from the southern part of the main building, and forms an open court where cars may drive in for service dispensed by courteous attendants from Standard Oil Company automatic pumps.

Local men are responsible for the transformation of Haines Street as both the A. & P. and Dennison Motor Company buildings were erected by hometown workmen. Joe Reed, popular local builder, was general manager in charge of brick work and carpentry on the remodelling of the A. & P. store, while J. C. Willis, another prominent local contractor, was in charge of the new Dennison building.

Other local concerns contributing to the erection of this establishment were: Herman Wollaston, concrete block; Jackson's Hardware Store, hardware; E. J. Hollingsworth Co., brick; Newark Lumber Company, millwork; C. R. McCloskey and John M. Singles, plumbing; Henry F. Mote, amiesite and excavating; T. Ray Jacobs, wiring; George Cook and L. W. Walbridge, painting; Norman Slack, sand; John H. Lytle, Inc., paint; A. L. Geist, hardware and Lewis H. Fisher, tin work.

Flashes By Bill Fletcher

FOR THE FIRST TIME IN MANY moons, the University of Delaware football team will be favored to cop a verdict and if you don't think it's a novel experience, reflect a little and try to remember the last time the Hens didn't enter the game as underdogs.

But being the favorite sometimes has its disadvantages (how about F. & M. and Dartmouth?) and its sometimes more satisfactory not to be the top choice. The pre-game ratings shouldn't hurt the locals, however, and may just be what they need to boost their confidence. A lack of desire to win has often been a major defect in the Hens' organization.

DICKINSON WON'T BE A PUSH-over by a longshot, however, for the Red Devils have always been a hard-hitting combination that the Hens have too few times been able to decipher. According to reports of the Hampden-Sydney clash, Delaware didn't show enough offensive power to rate them very far above any team in their own class, so that a real battle should materialize as Carlisle on Saturday.

The law of averages should take care of Bill Murray's charges if the game is close, however, for after last year's first three tilts, ten points would have covered the margin of victory. Urinus by three, Dickinson by six and Lebanon Valley by one, and in every battle, the Hens outplayed their opponent more than half the game.

If the players are sticking at all close to the straight and narrow path, they should be favored by a smile from the powers that govern these one, two, and three-point decisions.

ABOUT THE ONLY MAN WHO wasn't surprised at Newark's victory over Vocational on Saturday was Bill Gillespie, the Jackets' mentor, who without hesitation predicted a win for his charges.

The game, exceptionally well-played by both teams, was excellent from the spectators' viewpoint and wasn't marred by the scholastic entanglements which usually pop up such as numerous fumbles, spectators' fights, players' fights, shouts from the bench, benches and waterbuckets from the sidelines, and beefs from the losing coach.

A controversial issue could easily have been raised when "Ace" Aiken, whose forward motion was apparently stopped, broke through a cluster of Vocational players and took off on a 65-yard touchdown jaunt.

Officials who were right on the play, however, stated that Aiken's feet never stopped moving, but this was not visible to spectators and Joe Bradshaw, Vocational coach, could have raised a lot of H. E. double L if he'd been in the mood.

All in all, even without a victory, the first grid game between the two schools was satisfactory from all angles, and Vocational stamped itself as a team of sportsmen.

Methinks we saw the start of a long, long rivalry.

BOWLING CARNIVAL TO START SATURDAY

$50,000 Tourney
May Be Entered
At Local Pin House

Morris Adams, manager of the American Legion Bowling Alleys, today announced that the bowlers in his establishment will be eligible to compete in the $50,000 Red Crown Open Play Ten Pin Carnival, which gets underway on Saturday.

The carnival is something entirely new in prize bowling competition. The event is open to men, women and youth bowlers and the provisions of play make it possible for beginners to share alike with stars in prize opportunity.

All one has to do to enter the carnival Adams explained, is to bowl three games outside of league play—that is, open play bowling. Entries must be composed of the total score of three consecutive games rolled in the same series, which fall within the following classifications:

"Beginners," those who post 3-game scores between 240 and 345; "Rookies," 350 to 405; "Juniors," 420 to 465; "Regulars," 480 to 525; "Experts," 540 to 585; and "Stars," 600 to 900.

There will be eight weekly contests for each of the six classes of competition in the $50,000 Red Crown Carnival. The first weekly contest will run from Oct. 12 to Oct. 19. Contests will be held in successive weeks through December 7.

After scores are submitted and approved here they will be forwarded to the carnival secretary in Chicago, who will classify the entries. Prizes will be awarded to the entries of the most outstanding performance in each class.

MOSCONI HERE THURSDAY

The pick of Newark's billiard players will gang up on Willie Mosconi, nationally-known cue wizard when he appears next Thursday night at the Newark Billiard Academy, Main and Chapel Streets.

Five of the town's best performers, including Ren George, Jack Daly, Don Pierce, Bill Trigolet, and Harvey Johnson, will alternate shots in the special attraction with Mosconi who will come here direct from Philadelphia after matches with Jimmy Caras, world champion, during the early part of the week. He will stage his exhibition here at 9:30 o'clock.

Jack Fossett, manager of the billiard parlor, will award a special prize to the best local performer.

JACKETS TO FACE WILMINGTON SATURDAY

Locals Confident
After Surprise
Victory Over
Brown Vocational

Confident of hanging up their second victory at the expense of Wilmington High School after last week's surprise conquest over H. Fletcher Brown Vocational gridders, Coach Bill Gillespie's Newark High School eleven will meet the Red Devils at the Alfred I. duPont Field, Concord Pike, at two o'clock, Saturday afternoon.

Coach Gillespie, while praising the definite uptrend in the squad's spirit, did not share the Jackets' anticipation of another triumph, however, and predicted a hard battle from the team that dropped a 6-0 decision to a tough Eddystone aggregation last week.

While the locals' tackling, spirit, and condition has improved immensely, the Newark mentor pointed out that there is still much work to be done on downfield blocking and pass defense, two phases of the game in which the team is especially weak.

Francis Hill's work at the tackle spot continues to stand out on the forward wall, while the first string backfield has improved both offensively and defensively.

An effort will be made to coordinate the running attack and increase the deception, however, in order to make the Jackets' offensive more potent.

"Ace" Aiken, whose passing and 65-yard jaunt for a touchdown provided the margin of victory last week, will again handle the quarterbacking duties in addition to the aerial projecting and kicking. Bill Balling and Jim Kelly are slated to occupy the wing-back spots, with Jim Duffy again in the fullback position.

Only one shift has been made in the forward wall with Ray Ewing, a guard moved over to Paul Cochran's tackle, and the latter assigned the guard berth.

Berry Wiggins will again handle the pivot duties on Saturday with "Buck" Gregg at the other guard post, and Hill at the other tackle. Ken Barnes and Dick Robinson have held on to their end assignments.

BLUE HENS CONCEDED GOOD CHANCE AGAINST RED DEVILS

Suprise Showing In Opening Tilt
Against Hampden-Sydney Boosts
Delaware's Stock; Dickinson Held
To 0-0 Deadlock Last Week By Bears

In view of their excellent showing against Hampden-Sydney last week and the increasing strength of the squad, Coach Bill Murray's University of Delaware's gridders are conceded an even chance of emerging with a victory on Saturday when they face Dickinson College at Carlisle, Pa. on Saturday.

Showing surprising defensive power against the Southerners, who only the week before had upset the University of Maryland by a 7-6 count, the Hens not only held their initial opponent to a single touchdown, but almost brought home a victory. The performance, all in all, was completely unexpected, not only by Blue and Gold followers but by the coaching staff as well and was especially convincing due to the fact that it was the opening game of the season.

On the other hand, Dickinson showed little offensive strength in battling with Urinus College to a scoreless deadlock, a result that hasn't hurt the Hens' chances in the least. Coach Murray, contented with some phases of the game, displeased with others, is expected to start the same team that opened fire against the Virginians, but what was most pleasant about the initial tilt was the fact that it brought to light another reserve club equally as strong as the varsity eleven.

Just how much Dickinson has improved since the Urinus stalemate is another question, for the Red Devils, rough, tough and always ready, are capable of putting up a spirited battle regardless of the odds against them. They aren't rated that much lower, anyway.

Hot Tilt Expected
All-in-all, the net result should be

PING PONG PARLEY

A blanket invitation to all residents who are interested in the re-organizing of the Newark Table Tennis League to attend a conference on the subject has been issued by Grover T. Surratt. The session will be held Monday night at 8:15 o'clock at Powell's Restaurant.

Organized last year, the loop consisted of eight teams and extended from late fall into early spring. Several changes in the operation of the circuit are planned, one of which is the abbreviation of the schedules.

BANQUET CLOSES LINKS SEASON

Prizes Awarded
For Performances
Throughout
1940 Season

The Newark Country Club officially closed its 1940 season Saturday night at its annual banquet, attended by more than 100 members and their guests. The dinner climaxed a day of social golfing events.

W. J. Bratton, Elkton Md. Attorney, acted as toastmaster at the affair at which prizes were awarded for winning performances throughout the year. The welcome address was given by Leon H. Ryan, president of the club, while short talks were made by Mrs. J. Franklin Anderson, Wayne C. Enever, and Dr. Paul K. Musselmann.

The championship trophy was presented by J. Franklin Anderson to A. E. Benton, who defeated Donald Tammany in the finals of the year's most important tournament. B. F. (Sank) Richards was presented a wrist watch by Mr. Ryan for his victory in the President's tournament, while Clarence H. Hopkins was presented the E. B. Wright Memorial Trophy by Mr. Enever, last year's winner, for his victory in that competition.

Spoons were presented by Milton L. Draper to A. E. Benton and George Anderson for performances throughout the season, while Anderson and Clarence Hopkins also received low gross and low net, respectively, in the Red and Blue tournament held Saturday afternoon.

In the special event, the Blue's led by Bob Thoroughgood, defeated the Red's by a 9 1/2-8 1/2 score.

Roland Wollaston, with a drive of 248 yards, captured first prize in the driving contest while B. F. (Sank) Richards, was second with a shot that carried 247 yards. R. Y. Taggart, whose ball carried 240 yards, was third.

Six linksmen tied for top honors in the nine-hole putting contest held on the practice green. Bob Thoroughgood, Dr. Louis A. Stearns, George F. Anderson, A. E. Benton, J. Franklin Anderson, and Roland Wollaston each took 18 strokes.

R. Y. Taggart, with a shot that rolled within 22 inches of the cup, won first prize in the hole-in-one contest.

In the women's 18-hole blind bogey contest, Mrs. J. F. Anderson was first; Miss Esther Jones, second, and Mrs. George T. Boli, third. Mrs. C. B. Roeliger won the putting contest with a score of 21, while Miss Jones captured the hole-in-one contest with a shot that was eight feet, three inches from the cup.

Miss Jeanette Thoroughgood hit a 180-yard drive to take top laurels in the women's driving contest, while Mrs. George T. Boli was second with a 155-yard shot, and Miss Jones third when she drove 150 yards.

First Group Of Winners Released
In Newark
Post Grid Test

Picking eight winners of the contests listed for Oct. 5, Bunny Walters, of Newark won the first prize of $5.00 in the Newark Post Football Forecasters' Contest. He was tied with Kenneth Barnes, second prize winner, as far as the number of victories was concerned, but came close to the Delaware-Hampden-Sydney score. Barnes will receive a letter of credit for $3.00.

Nine contestants, each with very correct selections, deadlocked for the honors, but the Rev. Eugene J. Kraemer who predicted a 6-0 victory for Hampden-Sydney emerged in the show position and will receive a $2.00 letter of credit.

James Duffy, a member of the Newark High School football team, was awarded the fourth prize while R. M. Thompson and R. Everett Mai deadlocked for fifth place. All three will receive $1.00 letter of credit.

Seventh and eighth prizes, which total $2.00 in letters of credit, will be divided between three contestants, Charles Eastman, Stephen Gilligan, and Daniel Nicastro. Each will receive 66 cents.

Honorable mention goes to William K. Gillespie, Thomas Jordan, and Edward Pple, all of whom had very correct choices; and the following won six winners:

George Robinson, Bob Phillips, Wallace Nichols, Jane Jernee, James Palmer, D. J. Richey, Charles Daly, Jay Daly, Adele Thomas, Hughes W. Thomas, Patricia An Stiggle, William Rich, Dr. E. Earle Weggenmann, Roger J. Wooleyhan, George M. Hancy, George J. Kureg, Mildred Reyner, Clyde L. Crow, Robert Ewing, and Walter Spence.

Two selections, Mary Rogers, H. E. Delaware Ave., and Johnnie Wilcox, College Inn, will receive special awards of a year's subscription to the Newark Post for picking the correct score of the Delaware-Hampden-Sydney contest.

STEWART MAKES GRID SELECTIONS

(Each week, a guest selector will make his choices in the Newark Post Football Forecasters' Contest. This week's guest selector to be played Oct. 12, is Fred Stewart, assistant coach of the University of Delaware grid team—Ed. Note.)

Following the example set by the Blue Hens' head coach, Flurie Stewart, assistant football coach at the University of Delaware, is keeping tabs about the Blue and Gold chances against Dickinson on Saturday.

He gives you the benefit of years of experience, however, in presenting the following selections:

Newark High School over Wilmington; Brown over Colgate; Washington State over the University of California; Catholic University to take St. Anselm; Cornell to submerge Army; Columbia to defeat Dartmouth; Fordham to take Tulane; Syracuse over New York University; and Notre Dame over Georgia Tech.
