SCOUT ABOLITION OF FRATERNITIES

History Of Delaware Fraternity Chapters

Theta Chi

Theta Chi Fraternity was founded at Norwich University on April 10, 1856. There are fifty Chapters to date, all having developed from local organizations and gained admittance through voluntary petitions. The local Chapter of Theta Chi at Delaware grew out of a local fraternity called Omega Alpha, which was founded in 1911, and formally became a member of Theta Chi on June 5, 1923.

Sigma Nu

Sigma Nu originated at Virginia Military Institute in the year 1866. In 1907, at the University of Delaware, there was founded an organization known as Phi Sigma. This fraternity was founded with the especial intention of eventually becoming a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity. In 1910, the petition presented by Phi Sigma was accepted by the governing board of Sigma Nu, and the Chapter at Delaware became known as the Delta Kappa Chapter.

Kappa Alpha

The Kappa Alpha (Southern) Fraternity was the first fraternity to make its appearance at the University of Delaware, the Beta Epsilon Chapter having been established here on April 29, 1904. The fraternity at this time was located in the building now known as Purcell Hall, but due to expansion, was obliged to seek larger quarters on the Hill, where it now occupies a home. Kappa Alpha now has a total of 68 chapters, all of which are confined geographically to the true South.

Phi Kappa Tau

The Local Chapter of Phi Kappa Tau was organized in 1920 as a local fraternity, and became a member of the National Fraternity in 1924, after displaying marked progress in various endeavors. The growth of the fraternity has compelled it to seek larger quarters several times, moving from South College Avenue in 1924, to a frame house on Delaware Avenue. In 1929 the Chapter moved to the present quarters on Page 5.)

FACULTY MEMBERS STATE VIEWS ON FRATERNITIES

When asked his opinion PRESIDENT HULLIHEN expressed himself as entirely opposed to the abolishment of fraternities at Delaware.

"The suggestion," he said, "is one which has often been made, but the opinion of educators throughout the country has always been in favor of retaining the system. That there are undesirable features about it is undeniable, but I believe, with many other college administrators, that the advantages and benefits outweigh the disadvantages. American students are by nature gregarious and sociable and have a positive passion for organization. If fraternities, with their well-organized and well-administered national supervising officers, were abolished, they would almost immediately be replaced by clubs of some sort made up of the various groups of men in a college. Such clubs would lack the traditions and high purposes which animate the best thought of the fraternity. They would also lack the guidance and supervision of the more mature men of the national organizations who are undoubtedly sincere and earnest in their efforts to make the Greek letter fraternities an influence of value in the lives of their members and an instrument and agency of usefulness to their colleges.

Let us, therefore, seek to correct any abuses that arise in the fraternity system rather than consider a policy which might result in greater evils even more difficult to combat."

Dean George E. Dutton said that fraternities seem to be here to stay. On the whole, they are a benefit. The fraternity houses, he said, help to solve the housing problem, which is not, of course, their chief function, but is a decided contribution. He thinks the fraternities are a necessary part of the University as it is now constituted.

Dr. Sypherd:
"It would seem to me entirely unnecessary to agitate the fraternity question at Delaware College. Several years ago, the Trustees investigated thoroughly the whole problem and concluded that fraternities constituted an advantageous feature of student life here. I am quite sure that most of us who have been at the college for any length of time will agree with that decision. Of course, there are disadvantages—there are of any organizations or groups of boys or men. I hear, for instance, now and then of bad fraternity politics in elections and of unfortunate fraternity rivalry on athletic teams. And so I hear of rotten politics in organizations outside the college walls. But we don't want, therefore, to uproot at once these organizations which show certain weaknesses. We try, rather, to improve conditions within the groups. So, with the fraternities—let us try to remedy the defects, not weaken or destroy what at the present time is assuredly, on the whole, a wholesome vital part of our college economy."

Footlights Club Play Prominent Sculptor Has Novel Features At University Hour

Background Different From Any Previous Local Vehicles Lorado Taft, Famed Critic, To Speak On Sculpture

Local theatre-goers will have the opportunity of seeing an entirely new type play for the Mitchell Hall stage presented there on Thursday evening, March 16, at 8.00 p. m. It has first to commend it, the novel background of a radio broadcasting station as its locale. Its leading character is a radio announcer extraordinary named Walter Brokenchild. Its murder occurs in a highly dramatic episode during the broadcasting period of a certain Dr. Workman, a spiritualist, who is later identified as a member of a notorious gang of robbers, and who is using the radio to broadcast information to the gang. Interspersed with the grimness of death is a broad vein of comedy, a certain charm of romance between Walter Brokenchild and his secretary, Helen Wright, and a picture of this intimate and tremendously interesting details of actual radio broadcasting. One sees or hears, for instance, the popular jazz band at the studio, also a tap dancer, then watches and listens to the announcer. A group of Junior League Girls are brought up to the studio, which, by the way, is located on the top floor of the Potter House in Chicago—and are in the midst of their harmonizing, when—zip!—most astounding drama sneaks in.

Lorado Taft, one of the leaders in American sculpture and its criticism, delivered his illustrated lecture, "Progress of Sculpture to Time of Michael Angelo," on the University Hour Program at the University of Delaware, on Thursday evening, March 9, at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Taft is best known for his ideal and allegorical works on a grand scale, his "Fountain of Time" and "Fountain of the Great Lakes," in Chicago. His colossal "Black Hawk" at Oregon, Illinois, is among the most noted products of his brain and chisel. The "Solitude of the Soul," a work housed by the Art Institute of Chicago, and the "Thatcher Memorial Fountain" at Denver are other master proofs of his ability.

Mr. Taft was born at Elmwood, Illinois, in 1860, the son of a professor of geology at the State University. An early interest in writing changed to one in sculpture when at the age of thirteen, he helped a visiting Belgian sculptor put together some plaster casts which had reached the University of Urbana badly damaged in transit.

Athletic Council Gives Annual Dinner

Stresses Loyalty To School; Deprecates Alumni Control

Loyalty to the university one represents was stressed by George Little, athletic director of Rutgers University, who was the principal speaker at the annual dinner given for the lettermen of the University of Delaware by the athletic council last Tuesday night in Old College.

The speaker stressed the importance of loyalty from several angles which included the student, alumni, and members of the faculty. Mr. Little also advocated a governing board of athletics which would be made up of members of these three groups, and would not allow any one group to dominate the athletic situation. He also emphasized the value of physical education and the part it plays in preparing the participants for competition in the outside world. Mr. Little warned about the danger resulting from granting alumni too much power in selecting the coaching personnel of an institution, and stated that in many instances coaches were removed unjustly due to graduate pressure. He concluded his speech by congratulating the

University Players To Broadcast Comedy

E 52 Group Chooses Wilde Play For First Radio Presentation

The E-52 Players will broadcast for the first time on next Monday evening, March 13, from 7.45 to 8.30 over radio station WDEL. The play selected for this broadcast is Oscar Wilde's famous comedy, "The Importance of Being Ernest." The play has been adapted for presentation on the air by Miss Dorothy Deiser, and the entire production is under the direction of Mr. C. R. Kase. The cast is as follows: Lady Bracknell, Miss Marjorie Brewer; Gwendolyn Fairfax, Miss Cecilia Gordon; Cecily Cardew, Miss Catherine Broad; Miss Prism, Miss Virginia Harrington; John Worthing, Mr. Gerald Kadel; Algernon Moncrieff, Mr. T. W. Kiethley; Rev. Canon Chasuble, Mr. Thomas Hanaway. Most of the members of the cast have already been seen on Mitchell Hall stage this year.

Radio dramatics is a new venture. Radio dramatics is a new venture or not the group continues to broadcast will depend on the reception given Monday's broadcast by the radio audience.

In addition to the E-52 Players' dramatization, Dr. Ryden, of the History Department of the University of Delaware, will give several vocal selections, including "Birth of Man," "Give a Man a Horse He Can Ride," "Rollin' Down to Rio," "Requiem," and "The Road to Mandalay." He will be accompanied by Mrs. W. E. Holton.

Speculation As To Fate Of "Greeks" Arises After Swarthmore Case

Any fears that University of Delaware fraternity members may have had for the future of their orders are now allayed. In a series of statements, the outstanding members of the faculty in contact with fraternities have demonstrated their firm belief in the value of the Greek letter societies. These statements are published elsewhere in The Review.

Any speculation that has arisen concerning this matter is due to an article published in the March 5 issue of the "Sunday Star." This article was inspired by recent action at Swarthmore College by the co-eds of that school in voting to abolish all sororities. The wording of the motion, using the terminology "women's fraternities" seems to have deceived the representatives of the metropolitan weekly into thinking that fraternities had been banned completely from the Swarthmore Campus. This move on the women's part has been going on for several years and is the outgrowth of various clashes in social affairs between the Hellenes and the non-fraternity students, and also between members of the various groups. It is interesting to note that the Swarthmore "Phoenix," weekly organ of the college, did not deem the matter important enough for editorial mention the week of the balloting on abolition. It is not only unbelievable but even ridiculous that any concerted effort will even be considered to secure abolition of University of Delaware fraternities according to the opinions of the outstanding students of the college.

Since the article in "The Star" seems to have caused all the discussion, it would be well to look into it. It is full of conspicuous errors that make it appear that the author is an erstwhile Delaware student who has been out of touch with "things collegian" for several years. The author says that pledging takes place immediately upon entrance to Delaware. According to the rules of the Interfraternity Council, pledging does not take place until after Rushing Week at the end of October. Attributes of various fraternities are given that may have been applicable four or five years ago but have ceased to be true.

All in all, the "bombshell" which "The Star" alleges has been cast into "collegiate camps" has missed fire at Delaware.

Student Council Notice

The use of the "Green" in front of Harter Hall for the driving of golf balls is deemed unsafe by the college authorities and the Student Council. In the future, students will please use Fraser Field for this purpose.

FRATERNITIES

Once more the fraternity system has come up for discussion. This is the first time in many years that this topic has been aired on the University of Delaware campus. Despite the great preponderance of opinion in favor of fraternities, and the fact that no other type of organization could possibly do all they have accomplished, there is still discontent. Since this is the case, it is necessary that friends of the fraternity system do all they can to investigate the faults that are allegedly present.

Dr. Manns feels that fraternity rushing has influence in causing Freshmen to fail at Mid-Year Examinations. On the contrary, we believe that many Freshmen are forced to do studying they would otherwise neglect in order to make a scholastic standing high enough to permit him to be inducted into a fraternity. The social whirl is not so great as to dazzle a neophyte, but just enough to render the organization attractive. In considering scholarship, it is also interesting to note that fraternity men have ranked higher than non-fraternity men for several semesters.

The one great sin that is laid against fraternities is that of indulging in "dirty politics." Personally, we feel that such positions as the Editorship of the Review should be completely out of the hands of politics. The new constitution will provide for that. On the other hand, such positions as the class officers will always be won by some sort of political manipulation, and no "House" will let a man take the office who is not fit for it—thus insuring competent office holders. We would recommend the establishment of open combinations with set platforms that will give the student a definite issue for which to vote. However, we feel that the present system is far better than the anarchy that prevails at high school elections, where the most popular athlete gets the boys' votes and the best dresser or handsomest, the girls'.

And even if the fraternities were all that their enemies claim them to be—what of it? There is no practical way in which the fraternities could be abolished. As they are established at present they solve the housing problem that is a paramount issue at almost every institution. To do away with the Chapter houses would necessitate the immediate construction of a new dormitory.

Thus we can see that the "Sunday Star's" "promise" of an organized movement for the abolition of fraternities is merely the result of a disordered digestion of a sleepless night. We wish the writer many happy dreams of a land where students at college are ideal and completely altruistic.

Negro waiters at the University of Georgia have started a fraternity. To be admitted one must have washed in a Greek-letter house, must attend every football game, and must wear clothes donated by fraternity men.

Military History - Of Delaware -

Work of a Friend of the College

(This is the third and last in a series of articles discussing the military phase of Delaware College's history.)

Four distinguished service crosses were awarded to graduates. This is only granted for bravery on the field of battle. There were two distinguished service medals also awarded.

The ranks they attained in the Army indicated the dependency placed upon them and if every school developed an equivalent proportion of its students, the country would not have lacked for trained officers.

There were:

- 2 Colonels
- 1 Lieutenant Colonel
- 11 Majors
- 24 Captains
- 50 First Lieutenants
- 54 Second Lieutenants.

What a heritage to carry on! Let us just look at the citation of one John W. O'Daniel:

"John W. O'Daniel, Second Lieutenant, 11th Infantry, 5th Division, American Expeditionary Force. For extraordinary heroism in action with the enemy near Bois St. Claude, in the St. Mihiel Salient, France, September 12, 1918. After being severely wounded in the head early in the action, Lieutenant O'Daniel continued in command of his platoon, leading his men for several hours until forced to give in to complete physical exhaustion, showing thus the most exceptional courage, determination and devotion to duty. Residence at appointment, Newark, Delaware."

Colonel E. P. Pendleton, Retired, was the commandant in 1918 and a student Army Training Corps was organized at the school. The regulation woolen Uniform being issued to all students.

Major Ward E. Duvall, C. A., was detailed in 1919. The government paid forty cents commutation of rations and issued regulation war stock uniforms to the students. The articles are listed in the catalogue but no mention is made of breeches, however, it is believed they too were issued.

Captain Carleton Coulter, Jr., Infantry, held the position of P. M. S. & T. in 1920. The Russian rifles were returned and the U. S. rifle, calibre 30, model 1903 was issued to the school.

Major L. B. Rowe, Infantry, reorganized the unit in 1921 under the National Defense Act of 1920. It was compulsory for all physically fit students to attend three hours per week. Juniors and Seniors could elect to take five hours per week and would be paid thirty cents commuted ration. They were required to attend one six week camp.

Captains Roy Sparks and Mackenzie and First Lieutenant Prouty were added to the staff in 1922 and First Sergeant Charles Green was detailed as an assistant. The Colonel E. J. Smith endowment was made in this year to promote efficiency.

In 1923 Captain William P. Morse replaced Lieutenant Prouty and Captain Mackenzie. Sergeant Edward A. Davis was detailed. The Regular Army detachment had now grown to three officers and three enlisted men. The Colonel E. J. Smith endowment was doubled.

Major Arthur Underwood, Infantry, replaced Major Rowe as P. M. S. & T. in 1925 and Captain K. S. Whittemore, Infantry, replaced Captain Sparks as an assistant in 1926.

Major Robert P. Glassburn, C. A., (promoted to Lieutenant Colonel in 1930) took over the duties of P. M. S. & T. in the school year 1927 and 1928 bringing Sergeant W. J. Watters with him as a replacement for First Sergeant Fraser who was relieved from active duty. The unit was changed from an infantry unit to a Coast

The uniform was changed in 1930 from the poorly fitting war stock uniform with wrapped leggings and blouse with the high collar to a roll collar olive drab uniform. It is made of melton cloth with the lapel of the coat faced with blue. The trousers were long and of the same material. The appearance of the unit was immensely improved. The cadet officers wore the regulation army officers uniform except for rank insignia. In 1932 a white uniform was adopted for evening wear while in camp.

Conclusion

By applying to National experience the same principles as applied by insurance companies in figuring out their tables of experiences we find that the probable date of the beginning of the next major conflict of this nation may be expected to be in April 1943. Going a step further in this purely theoretical analysis and constructing a curve based on the years of the century each war occurred in and the number of graduates Delaware has furnished per day the war lasted we find that it will probably supply 1.84 men per day of war as compared to .0038 for the Mexican, .0029 for the Civil, .069 for the Spanish-American and .88 for the World War. Should our preparedness drop to the low ebb existing prior to the last war thereby causing the conflict to be as long, the University will be called on for 1074 graduates. Will you be among them? How will you show the result of your benefits derived mainly at the expense of your government? Will your conduct show that the University of Delaware has carried out its plan as announced in the catalogue of 1870 the year it reopened:

"It will not aim to send forth into the community young men who have been so educated that they may astonish and dazzle by an exhibition of precocious and unnatural brilliancy, but who will miserably fail, or dwindle into insignificance when brought into contact with the duties and responsibilities of life. . . . The Faculty trust that the student having received such a course of instruction will go forth from Delaware College prepared to obey the scriptural injunction, 'show thyself a Man.' Be prepared to carry on according to this high standard."

It is a worthy aim for all American institutions. There are already too many of the precocious type receiving the publicity of the newspapers. We need graduates who can cope with the existing facts and not dreamers of ideals, to carry our nation through its trials and dangers. Delaware College graduates have set precedents and established traditions which those who follow will find requires their utmost endeavor to uphold.

smile on Washington . . . Eyebrows rise as Roosevelt, Currey, and Smith choose hotels far apart . . . Job hunters surge like political hunger-marchers flocking into the promised land after 12 years in exile . . . military units on parade . . . Smith collects hugs of women upon his arrival . . . blaring bands . . . banners floating over the flag-decked city spreading tidings that "Happy days are here again" . . . Mrs. Roosevelt in black satin, beige trimmed . . . Elaborate pageantry, democracy's own version of royalty's coronation.

The governors rode in limousines. Al Smith walked. He walked with the New York Tammany crowd, one Democrat among 20,000 marching. He might not have gone to the inauguration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt at all. He might have done anything but walk along as one person in a great procession, which, had his own dreams come true, would have been reviewed by himself. The effect of Al Smith on foot at the inauguration was dramatic. Next to the President shone Al, the plebian Democrat, walking in the same spirit in which Thomas Jefferson drove his gig to Washington, tied his horse to a post, and went in to be inaugurated. This was the spirit of democracy, this trek of Al Smith along with the 20,000.

The nation asked for action. President Roosevelt has acted with the speed promised in his Inaugural Address and has taken measures to protect bank depositors and to conserve the nation's gold supply. This was the significance of his proclamation of a bank holiday. The President had no choice. Runs and hoarding were pulling down even strong banks. The gold raid from abroad threatened to drain the national reserve. By his proposed issuance of Clearing House certificates or "scrip," he has provided a temporary currency with which to transact business. More power to him!

Report has it that Governor Pinchot had only 95 cents in actual cash when he telephoned from Washington to close Pennsylvania's banks. The Governor certainly had his nerve going to an inauguration with just a dollar in his pocket.

"The banking situation," says an exchange, "is etoin shrdlu." So it is; so it is.

It isn't in the dictionaries this way, but the definition is: "Scrip: Something you can use for money." Brother, can you spare scrip for a dime?

News of the death of Mayor Anton Cermak was received with real regret throughout the nation. He made a fight for life which won for him the admiration of all good citizens. But the odds were against him. When the stricken official whispered to the President-elect, "I'm glad it was not you," he proved that he had in him a staff of which real men are made. The nation has lost a man.

There are those who might profit by the Miami tragedy. Mr. Roosevelt's life was saved because he made a short speech and sat down.

Samuel Insull says he's too poor to return to the United States. His tragedy is that he is a pauper in other things besides money. Insull has lost the confidence of his fellows, their respect and esteem. Poor? We'll say he's poor.

Now the people can decide, after more than thirteen years of prohibition. The Lame Duck Congress, hitherto staunchly dry, changed its mind and decided that the people had a right to sit in judgment on prohibition's fate. It looks as if the Lame Duck has suddenly swum into rough waters and gotten itself "all wet."

A fresh wanted to gain a fraternity at North Carolina. When told that he had to get a bet, he replied that he could bid as high as the next fellow.

Last Game At Delaware

The Blue and Gold basketball team lost its last game of the season to Tom Conley's La Salle team last Wednesday on the home floor 38-27. Delaware seemed to have been played out from the hard game with George Washington the night before; and, as a result, the team just could not get started. The visitors had two speedy forwards in Meehan and MacAndrews, while Murphy, the diminutive guard, also split the cords for four sensational field goals.

Sid Kaufman, playing his last game for Delaware, showed up well in contributing four field goals and four fouls. Bud Haggerty, also playing his last game, played his usual close guarding game.

Tank Season At
Successful Close

With the victory over Manhattan, Delaware brings to a close another successful tank season. Contributing largely to the success of the season were the splendid performances turned in by Lattamus, L. C. Barker, Harry Wilson, Robt. Scott, Bill Croes, and Murray, Lindstrand, and Lawrence on the relay team. Most of these men splashed their way to new Delaware pool and Delaware meet records.

New Delaware records were set in the 50 yd. free-style by Lattamus, in the 200 yd. breast-stroke by L. C. Barker, and in diving by Wilson when he accumulated a total of 80.5 points in the University of Virginia meet. There is some doubt whether B. Croes set a new record in the 100 yd. back-stroke race in the William and Mary meet. According to the records on file here B. Brown, former captain of the Blue and Gold team, has a faster mark in the same pool. However, this will be checked up on and reported in a later issue.

At the annual letter-men banquet last night six men were given their letters in swimming for the current season. They are as follows: Lattamus, R. Scott, L. C. Barker, Lindstrand, Wilson, and manager Carson. The captain for the coming season has not as yet been elected.

Students at the Citadel, in South Carolina, recently returned from a vacation to find chicken-wire stretched across the gates. They passed in, one at a time, to have their baggage examined by Federal and local prohibition agents.

Move To Form
Golf League

Made By Lewis

A move to form a Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Golf League has been started by Lloyd "Lefty" Lewis, coach of the Blue Hen golfers.

Six teams have thus far stated their desire to join such a league besides Delaware, and an eighth is needed to complete the circuit. Lewis has received favorable comment from Haverford, Franklin and Marshall, Temple, Rutgers, and Swarthmore as to the formation of such a league. It is hoped that Lehigh will become the eighth member of the loop.

Representatives from the above-named colleges will meet in Old College Saturday afternoon to discuss the formation of the golf league.

At Saturday's meeting a regular schedule will be drawn up and plans formulated for a medal play event at the end of the regular season to crown an individual champion of the links loop. Delaware will be represented at this meeting by Coach Lloyd Lewis, Manager Walter Dawson, and J. S. Tipka.

Fencing Team Splits
Two On Trip NorthVictory Over Princeton Evens
Rutgers Defeat

University of Delaware swordsmen, although greatly handicapped by disability of two men, defeated the Princeton Frosh Friday in a hotly contested battle, the score being 9-8. The Blue and Gold were nosed out by one point in the second meet of their two-day trip north when the Rutgers team defeated them by the same score.

Every member of the Delaware team contributed at least one victory toward the Princeton downfall. Ridgely, besides winning one of the foil bouts, crashed through with 2 wins in the sabre, although fencing that weapon for the first time.

McRight and Murray also starred for Delaware, each winning two bouts, while MacSorley and Slovin each contributed one victory to the team for the winning score.

Delaware's strong foil team could only win 4 out of 9 bouts, but after breaking even in the epees, the sabre men crashed through with 3 victories out of 4 bouts to cinch the meet.

At Rutgers, Saturday, the team found the going much rougher. When 9 bouts had been fought, Delaware found themselves on the short end of a 7-2 score and, although finding their strength in the remaining bouts by taking 6 out of 8, the Hens were forced to accept the close defeat of 9-8.

Ridgely starred with the foils, winning all three of his bouts. McRight, fencing both sabres and epees, broke even by taking 1 out of 2 in each event.

Slovin was also strong in the foils, downing 2 of his 3 opponents. Murray won the other bout for Delaware.

Delaware proved strong in the foils by taking 6 out of 9. McRight took the only 2 sabre and epee bouts won from the Rutgers swordsmen.

BONG! --- First round --- Excuse me --- I will have to be careful in citing incidents of the Delaware-La Salle basketball game last Wednesday. At various times during the fracas it was difficult to tell whether a free-for-all or a basketball game was taking place. This game was the high-water mark for unsportsmanlike conduct shown by the Blue Hen athletes. Both Greer and O'Connell showed pugilistic tendencies of which the officials handling the game did not approve. For the 559th time we repeat that 50% of the unsportsmanlike conduct is due to the spectators! What are we going to do about this business? ? ?

The Inter-fraternity Council has decided to enlarge the athletic program by adding swimming and baseball to the already existing basketball and track competition. The inter-fraternity swimming meet will take place next week.

Track practice will get underway this week. Lindstrand, Pohl, Kelk, Cavalli, Coty, and Lambert are the letter men remaining from the track squad last year. Other member of the team who should go far to make Rogers' track season a success are: Reed, Lynch, Selby, Green, Jones, and Branner. It is doubtful if Charlie Knight and Joe Crowe will be out for the team this year. Carey, of the Freshman class, has a good high school record in the field events and should greatly aid the Blue Hen team.

In a few days "Doc" Doherty will issue a call for battery men for the baseball team. G. Thompson, O'Connell, Riley, and Pikus are the only letter men left from last year's squad who will be eligible for the team this year. "Jim" Prettyman, regular first baseman on last year's diamond squad, will be ineligible this season due to scholastic requirements. "Winnie" Mayer and Sam Nichols, who received their letters two years ago, will undoubtedly put up a big fight to regain their former regular jobs. The quality of Freshman baseball aspirants will not be known until regular practice has begun. "Big Ed" Thompson has stated his intention of trying out for the catching job. If he is successful, it will make the third varsity letter he has won during his Freshman year.

A. E. Benton has been elected to lead the golf team for 1933. The approval of this election was made by the Athletic Council during the early part of the week. Walter Dawson will manage the golf team this season and Bob Tanner will be his assistant.

Blue Hen Cage Team Wins And Loses

Eight Men Awarded Letters

Delaware's basketball squad hung up their tops last Wednesday with a record of 9 wins and 7 losses as their record for the season. Three of these defeats were suffered near the end of the season when "Doc" Doherty's cakkers were on a downward path. Eight men were voted letters by the Athletic Council for the past season: Captains Sid Kaufman and Bud Haggerty, Allen Kemske, Earl Leahy, Ed Thompson, John Greer, and Manager Bill Negendank.

Sid Kaufman led the scorers this year with a grand total of 140 points in 16 games. Irish O'Connell finished second with 120 points in 14 games.

Of the eight men who received their letters, Kemske, Leahy, O'Connell, Greer, and Thompson will be eligible for the basketball squad next year.

Rogers Plans To Hold
Handicap Track Meet

Coach Charley Rogers is making preparations for a handicap track meet in which every able-bodied man in the University is invited and urged to participate. This meet will take place sometime in the early part of April. The main reason for staging this meet is to obtain the best possible talent for the varsity track team. The calculations of the points will be arranged in such a way as to make the lowest number point getter the winner. First places will count 1 point, 2nd place 2 points, etc. Medals will be awarded to the winner of the different events.

Anyone desiring to enter this meet is urged to report to Mgr. Roger Stroud as soon as possible.

Seniors And Sophs Win
In Inter-Class Cage Loop

Meet For Title Friday

Monday afternoon the Seniors started the Inter-Class basketball league by defeating the Juniors, 36-31. The Sophomores downed the Freshmen Tuesday afternoon by a 38-26 count.

The Seniors were forced to overhaul a 17-16 margin which the Juniors had piled up before intermission. Jack Donoghue and Lynnam scored heavily for the Seniors while Steinle and John Branner were best for the losers in this conflict.

Fighting a great battle to overcome the great handicap of the elongated Mansberger, the Freshmen were forced to bow to the strong Sophomore squad, 38-26. "Little Eve" and Garbutt led the Sophs scoring with 13 and 12 points respectively. Wilson and Hudson were the best for the Frosh.

Tome School Also Defeats Delaware Freshmen

After leading until the final event, the University of Delaware swimming team was defeated last Thursday in a home meet by Lafayette, 32 to 27.

Two records were broken and one pool mark established by Blue and Gold swimmers. Lattamus, in winning the 50-yd. dash in 24.7, not only established a new Delaware record for the event, but also a new pool record, while L. C. Barker, in winning the 200-yd. breast-stroke, established a new Delaware mark, 2:54.

In the same meet Tome School topped the Delaware Freshmen, 31 to 27. Delaware took the majority of the first places, but as in the varsity meet their opponents ran up a score on the seconds and thirds to emerge the victor.

Summaries:

200-yard relay—Won by Delaware (Lattamus, Lawrence, Lindstrand, Murray); second, Lafayette (Bowman, Wise, Amelia, Briggs). Time, 1:43.

Diving—Won by Wilson, Delaware; second, Miller, Lafayette; third, Marcellus, Lafayette. Winning point score, 62.2.

50-yard free style—Won by Lattamus, Delaware; second, Murray, Delaware; third, Briggs, Lafayette. Time, 24.7. (New Delaware pool record.)

150-yard back stroke—Won by Bowman, Lafayette; second, Light, Lafayette; third, S. Barker, Delaware. Time, 2:14.

440-yard free style—Won by Ford, Lafayette; second, Quiney, Lafayette; third, Lattamus, Delaware. Time, 5:38.3.

200-yard breast stroke—Won by L. Barker, Delaware; second, Marcellus, Lafayette; third, Palmer, Delaware. Time, 2:54. (New Delaware record.) Light of Lafayette, disqualified after finishing second; use of illegal stroke.

100-yard free style—Won by Briggs, Lafayette; second, Bowman, Lafayette; third, Lattamus, Delaware. Time, 58.8.

Freshman Meet

200-yard relay—Won by Tome (Vorhees, Haywood, Knausse, Cull); second, Delaware (Brinkloe, Lupton, Kraph, McCullough). Time, 1:54.4.

Fancy diving—Won by McCullough, Delaware; second, Haggerty, Tome. Winning point score, 43.

50-yard free style—Won by Cullen, Tome; second, Carey, Delaware; third, A. Wilson, Delaware. Time, 26.4.

100-yard back stroke—Won by Croes, Delaware; second, Green, Tome; third, Miller, Tome. Time, 1:09.4.

200-yard free style—Won by Haywood, Tome; second, Carey, Delaware; third, Spraggins, Tome. Time, 2:18.4.

100-yard breast stroke—Won by Hartman, Delaware; second, Bennett, Tome; third, Groutzinger, Tome. Time, 1:28.3.

100-yard free style—Won by Croes, Delaware; second, Cullen, Delaware; third, Vorhees, Tome. Time, 58.6.

FRATERNITIES

Once more the fraternity system has come up for discussion. This is the first time in many years that this topic has been aired on the University of Delaware campus. Despite the great preponderance of opinion in favor of fraternities, and the fact that no other type of organization could possibly do all they have accomplished, there is still discontent. Since this is the case, it is necessary that friends of the fraternity system do all they can to investigate the faults that are allegedly present.

Dr. Manns feels that fraternity rushing has influence in causing Freshmen to fail at Mid-Year Examinations. On the contrary, we believe that many Freshmen are forced to do studying they would otherwise neglect in order to make a scholastic standing high enough to permit him to be inducted into a fraternity. The social whirl is not so great as to dazzle a neophyte, but just enough to render the organization attractive. In considering scholarship, it is also interesting to note that fraternity men have ranked higher than non-fraternity men for several semesters.

The one great sin that is laid against fraternities is that of indulging in "dirty politics." Personally, we feel that such positions as the Editorship of the Review should be completely out of the hands of politics. The new constitution will provide for that. On the other hand, such positions as the class officers will always be won by some sort of political manipulation, and no "House" will let a man take the office who is not fit for it—thus insuring competent office holders. We would recommend the establishment of open combinations with set platforms that will give the student a definite issue for which to vote. However, we feel that the present system is far better than the anarchy that prevails at high school elections, where the most popular athlete gets the boys' votes and the best dresser or handsomest, the girls'.

And even if the fraternities were all that their enemies claim them to be—what of it? There is no practical way in which the fraternities could be abolished. As they are established at present they solve the housing problem that is a paramount issue at almost every institution. To do away with the Chapter houses would necessitate the immediate construction of a new dormitory.

Thus we can see that the "Sunday Star's" "promise" of an organized movement for the abolition of fraternities is merely the result of a disordered digestion of a sleepless night. We wish the writer many happy dreams of a land where students at college are ideal and completely altruistic.

A "Rat Rule" at Utah says, "Thou shalt not keep thyself in the presence of one woman; for it is not good."

Judge—So they caught you with this bundle of silverware. Whom did you plunder?

Students at the University of Southern California at becoming tired of religious and classical music at chapel. It was announced that jazz would be played if there was enough demand for it.

The demand for funny papers is not so great at the U. of Kentucky that they are being kept on file.

According to a U. of Rochester professor "a good student is one who, even though he looks at his watch, does not hold it to his ear."

Negro waiters at the University of Georgia have started a fraternity. To be admitted one must have washed in a Greek-letter house, must attend every football game, and must wear clothes donated by fraternity men.

Military History - Of Delaware -

Work of a Friend of the College

(This is the third and last in a series of articles discussing the military phase of Delaware College's history.)

Four distinguished service crosses were awarded to graduates. This is only granted for bravery on the field of battle. There were two distinguished service medals also awarded.

The ranks they attained in the Army indicated the dependency placed upon them and if every school developed an equivalent proportion of its students, the country would not have lacked for trained officers.

There were:

2 Colonels

1 Lieutenant Colonel

11 Majors

24 Captains

50 First Lieutenants

54 Second Lieutenants.

What a heritage to carry on!

Let us just look at the citation of one John W. O'Daniel:

"John W. O'Daniel, Second Lieutenant, 11th Infantry, 5th Division, American Expeditionary Force. For extraordinary heroism in action with the enemy near Bois St. Claude, in the St. Mihiel Salient, France, September 12, 1918. After being severely wounded in the head early in the action, Lieutenant O'Daniel continued in command of his platoon, leading his men for several hours until forced to give in to complete physical exhaustion, showing thus the most exceptional courage, determination and devotion to duty. Residence at appointment, Newark, Delaware."

Colonel E. P. Pendleton, Retired, was the commandant in 1918 and a student Army Training Corps was organized at the school. The regulation woolen Uniform being issued to all students.

Major Ward E. Duvall, C. A., was detailed in 1919. The government paid forty cents commutation of rations and issued regulation war stock uniforms to the students. The articles are listed in the catalogue but no mention is made of breeches, however, it is believed they too were issued.

Captain Carleton Coulter, Jr., Infantry, held the position of P. M. S. & T. in 1920. The Russian rifles were returned and the U. S. rifle, calibre 30, model 1903 was issued to the school.

Major L. B. Rowe, Infantry, reorganized the unit in 1921 under the National Defense Act of 1920. It was compulsory for all physically fit students to attend three hours per week. Juniors and Seniors could elect to take five hours per week and would be paid thirty cents commuted ration. They were required to attend one six week camp.

Captains Roy Sparks and Mackenzie and First Lieutenant Prouty were added to the staff in 1922 and First Sergeant Charles Green was detailed as an assistant. The Colonel E. J. Smith endowment was made in this year to promote efficiency.

In 1923 Captain William P. Morse replaced Lieutenant Prouty and Captain Mackenzie. Sergeant Edward A. Davis was detailed. The Regular Army detachment had now grown to three officers and three enlisted men. The Colonel E. J. Smith endowment was doubled.

Major Arthur Underwood, Infantry, replaced Major Rowe as P. M. S. & T. in 1925 and Captain K. S. Whittemore, Infantry, replaced Captain Sparks as an assistant in 1926.

Major Robert P. Glasburn, C. A. C., (promoted to Lieutenant Colonel in 1930) took over the duties of P. M. S. & T. in the school year 1927 and 1928 bringing Sergeant W. J. Watters with him as a replacement for First Sergeant Fraser who was relieved from active duty. The unit was changed from an infantry unit to a Coast

Conclusion

By applying to National experience the same principles as applied by insurance companies in figuring out their tables of experiences we find that the probable date of the beginning of the next major conflict of this nation may be expected to be in April 1943. Going a step further in this purely theoretical analysis and constructing a curve based on the years of the century each war occurred in and the number of graduates Delaware has furnished per day the war lasted we find that it will probably supply 1.84 men per day of war as compared to .0038 for the Mexican, .0029 for the Civil, .069 for the Spanish-American and .88 for the World War. Should our preparedness drop to the low ebb existing prior to the last war thereby causing the conflict to be as long, the University will be called on for 1074 graduates. Will you be among them? How will you show the result of your benefits derived mainly at the expense of your government? Will your conduct show that the University of Delaware has carried out its plan as announced in the catalogue of 1870 the year it reopened:

"It will not aim to send forth into the community young men who have been so educated that they may astonish and dazzle by an exhibition of precocious and unnatural brilliancy, but who will miserably fail, or dwindle into insignificance when brought into contact with the duties and responsibilities of life. . . . The Faculty trust that the student having received such a course of instruction will go forth from Delaware College prepared to obey the scriptural injunction, 'show thyself a Man.' Be prepared to carry on according to this high standard."

It is a worthy aim for all American institutions. There are already too many of the precocious type receiving the publicity of the newspapers. We need graduates who can cope with the existing facts and not dreamers of ideals, to carry our nation through its trials and dangers. Delaware College graduates have set precedents and established traditions which those who follow will find requires their utmost endeavor to uphold.

Job hunters surge like political hunger-marchers flocking into the promised land after 12 years in exile . . . military units on parade . . . . . . The governors rode in limousines. Al Smith walked. He walked with the New York Tammany crowd, one Democrat among 20,000 marching. He might not have gone to the inauguration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt at all. He might have done anything but walk along as one person in a great procession, which, had his own dreams come true, would have been reviewed by himself. The effect of Al Smith on foot at the inauguration was dramatic. Next to the President shone Al, the plebeian Democrat, walking in the same spirit in which Thomas Jefferson drove his gig to Washington, tied his horse to a post, and went in to be inaugurated. This was the spirit of democracy, this trek of Al Smith along with the 20,000.

The nation asked for action. President Roosevelt has acted with the speed promised in his Inaugural Address and has taken measures to protect bank depositors and to conserve the nation's gold supply. This was the significance of his proclamation of a bank holiday. The President had no choice. Runs and hoarding were pulling down even strong banks. The gold raid from abroad threatened to drain the national reserve. By his proposed issuance of Clearing House certificates or "scrip," he has provided a temporary currency with which to transact business. More power to him!

Report has it that Governor Pinchot had only 95 cents in actual cash when he telephoned from Washington to close Pennsylvania's banks. The Governor certainly had his nerve going to an inauguration with just a dollar in his pocket.

"The banking situation," says an exchange, "is etoain shrdlu." So it is; so it is.

It isn't in the dictionaries this way, but the definition is: "Scrip: Something you can use for money." Brother, can you spare scrip for a dime?

News of the death of Mayor Anton Cermak was received with real regret throughout the nation. He made a fight for life which won for him the admiration of all good citizens. But the odds were against him. When the stricken official whispered to the President-elect, "I'm glad it was not you," he proved that he had in him stuff of which real men are made. The nation has lost a man.

There are those who might profit by the Miami tragedy. Mr. Roosevelt's life was saved because he made a short speech and sat down.

Samuel Insull says he's too poor to return to the United States. His tragedy is that he is a pauper in other things besides money. Insull has lost the confidence of his fellows, their respect and esteem. Poor? We'll say he's poor.

Now the people can decide, after more than thirteen years of prohibition. The Lame Duck Congress, hitherto staunchly dry, changed its mind and decided that the people had a right to sit in judgment on prohibition's fate. It looks as if the Lame Duck has suddenly swum into rough waters and gotten itself "all wet."

A frosh wanted to gain a fraternity at North Carolina. When told that he had to get a bid, he replied that he could bid as high as the next fellow.

LaSalle In FinalKaufman And Haggerty Play
Last Game At Delaware

The Blue and Gold basketball team lost its last game of the season to Tom Conley's LaSalle team last Wednesday on the home floor 38-27. Delaware seemed to have been played out from the hard game with George Washington the night before; and, as a result, the team just could not get started. The visitors had two speedy forwards in Meehan and MacAndrews, while Murphy, the diminutive guard, also split the cords for four sensational field goals.

Sid Kaufman, playing his last game for Delaware, showed up well in contributing four field goals and four fouls. Bud Haggerty, also playing his last game, played his usual close guarding game.

Tank Season At
Successful Close

With the victory over Manhattan, Delaware brings to a close another successful tank season. Contributing largely to the success of the season were the splendid performances turned in by Lattamus, L. C. Barker, Harry Wilson, Robt. Scott, Bill Croes, and Murray, Lindstrand, and Lawrence on the relay team. Most of these men splashed their way to new Delaware pool and Delaware meet records.

New Delaware records were set in the 50 yd. free-style by Lattamus, in the 200 yd. breast-stroke by L. C. Barker, and in diving by Wilson when he accumulated a total of 80.5 points in the University of Virginia meet. There is some doubt whether B. Croes set a new record in the 100 yd. back-stroke race in the William and Mary meet. According to the records on file here B. Brown, former captain of the Blue and Gold team, has a faster mark in the same pool. However, this will be checked up on and reported in a later issue.

At the annual letter-men banquet last night six men were given their letters in swimming for the current season. They are as follows: Lattamus, R. Scott, L. C. Barker, Lindstrand, Wilson, and manager Carson. The captain for the coming season has not as yet been elected.

Students at the Citadel, in South Carolina, recently returned from a vacation to find chicken-wire stretched across the gates. They passed in, one at a time, to have their baggage examined by Federal and local prohibition agents.

Move To Form
Golf League

Made By Lewis

A move to form a Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Golf League has been started by Lloyd "Lefty" Lewis, coach of the Blue Hen golfers.

Six teams have thus far stated their desire to join such a league besides Delaware, and an eighth is needed to complete the circuit. Lewis has received favorable comment from Haverford, Franklin and Marshall, Temple, Rutgers, and Swarthmore as to the formation of such a league. It is hoped that Lehigh will become the eighth member of the loop.

Representatives from the above-named colleges will meet in Old College Saturday afternoon to discuss the formation of the golf league.

At Saturday's meeting a regular schedule will be drawn up and plans formulated for a medal play event at the end of the regular season to crown an individual champion of the links loop. Delaware will be represented at this meeting by Coach Lloyd Lewis, Manager Walter Dawson, and J. S. Tipka.

Fencing Team Splits
Two On Trip NorthVictory Over Princeton Evens
Rutgers Defeat

University of Delaware swordsmen, although greatly handicapped by disability of two men, defeated the Princeton Frosh Friday in a hotly contested battle, the score being 9-8. The Blue and Gold were nosed out by one point in the second meet of their two-day trip north when the Rutgers team defeated them by the same score.

Every member of the Delaware team contributed at least one victory toward the Princeton downfall. Ridgely, besides winning one of the foil bouts, crashed through with 2 wins in the sabre, although fencing that weapon for the first time.

McRight and Murray also starred for Delaware, each winning two bouts, while MacSorley and Slovin each contributed one victory to the team for the winning score.

Delaware's strong foil team could only win 4 out of 9 bouts, but after breaking even in the epees, the sabre men crashed through with 3 victories out of 4 bouts to cinch the meet.

At Rutgers, Saturday, the team found the going much rougher. When 9 bouts had been fought, Delaware found themselves on the short end of a 7-2 score and, although finding their strength in the remaining bouts by taking 6 out of 8, the Hens were forced to accept the close defeat of 9-8.

Ridgely starred with the foils, winning all three of his bouts. McRight, fencing both sabres and epees, broke even by taking 1 out of 2 in each event.

Slovin was also strong in the foils, downing 2 of his 3 opponents. Murray won the other bout for Delaware.

Delaware proved strong in the foils by taking 6 out of 9. McRight took the only 2 sabre and epee bouts won from the Rutgers swordsmen.

BONG! - - - First round - - Excuse me - - I will have to be careful in citing incidents of the Delaware-LaSalle basketball game last Wednesday. At various times during the fracas it was difficult to tell whether a free-for-all or a basketball game was taking place. This game was the high-water mark for unsportsmanlike conduct shown by the Blue Hen athletes. Both Greer and O'Connell showed pugilistic tendencies of which the officials handling the game did not approve. The Inter-fraternity Council has decided to enlarge the athletic program by adding swimming and baseball to the already existing basketball and track competition. The inter-fraternity swimming meet will take place next week.

Track practice will get underway this week. Lindstrand, Pohl, Kelk, Cavalli, Coty, and Lambert are the letter men remaining from the track squad last year. Other member of the team who should go far to make Rogers' track season a success are: Reed, Lynch, Selby, Green, Jones, and Branner. It is doubtful if Charlie Knight and Joe Crowe will be out for the team this year. Carey, of the Freshman class, has a good high school record in the field events and should greatly aid the Blue Hen team.

In a few days "Doc" Doherty will issue a call for battery men for the baseball team. G. Thompson, O'Connell, Riley, and Pikus are the only letter men left from last year's squad who will be eligible for the team this year. "Jim" Prettyman, regular first baseman on last year's diamond squad, will be ineligible this season due to scholastic requirements. "Winnie" Mayer and Sam Nichols, who received their letters two years ago, will undoubtedly put up a big fight to regain their former regular jobs. The quality of Freshman baseball aspirants will not be known until regular practice has begun. "Big Ed" Thompson has stated his intention of trying out for the catching job. If he is successful, it will make the third varsity letter he has won during his Freshman year.

A. E. Benton has been elected to lead the golf team for 1933. The approval of this election was made by the Athletic Council during the early part of the week. Walter Dawson will manage the golf team this season and Bob Tanner will be his assistant.

Blue Hen Cage Team Wins And Loses

Eight Men Awarded Letters

Delaware's basketball squad hung up their tops last Wednesday with a record of 9 wins and 7 losses as their record for the season. Three of these defeats were suffered near the end of the season when "Doc" Doherty's cakkers were on a downward path. Eight men were voted letters by the Athletic Council for the past season: Co-captains Sid Kaufman and Bud Haggerty, Allen Kemske, Earl Leahy, Ed Thompson, John Greer, and Manager Bill Negendank.

Sid Kaufman led the scorers this year with a grand total of 140 points in 16 games. Irish O'Connell finished second with 120 points in 14 games.

Of the eight men who received their letters, Kemske, Leahy, O'Connell, Greer, and Thompson will be eligible for the basketball squad next year.

Rogers Plans To Hold
Handicap Track Meet

Coach Charley Rogers is making preparations for a handicap track meet in which every able-bodied man in the University is invited and urged to participate. This meet will take place sometime in the early part of April. The main reason for staging this meet is to obtain the best possible talent for the varsity track team. The calculations of the points will be arranged in such a way as to make the lowest number point getter the winner. First places will count 1 point, 2nd place 2 points, etc. Medals will be awarded to the winner of the different events.

Anyone desiring to enter this meet is urged to report to Mgr. Roger Stroud as soon as possible.

Seniors And Sophs Win
In Inter-Class Cage Loop

Meet For Title Friday

Monday afternoon the Seniors started the Inter-Class basketball league by defeating the Juniors, 36-31. The Sophomores downed the Freshmen Tuesday afternoon by a 38-26 count.

The Seniors were forced to overhaul a 17-16 margin which the Juniors had piled up before intermission. Jack Donoghue and Lynnam scored heavily for the Seniors while Steinle and John Branner were best for the losers in this conflict.

Fighting a great battle to overcome the great handicap of the elongated Mansberger, the Freshmen were forced to bow to the strong Sophomore squad, 38-26. "Little Eve" and Garbutt led the Sophs scoring with 13 and 12 points respectively. Wilson and Hudson were the best for the Frosh.

Tome School Also Defeats Delaware Freshmen

After leading until the final event, the University of Delaware swimming team was defeated last Thursday in a home meet by Lafayette, 32 to 27.

Two records were broken and one pool mark established by Blue and Gold swimmers. Lattamus, in winning the 50-yd. dash in 24.7, not only established a new Delaware record for the event, but also a new pool record, while L. C. Barker, in winning the 200-yd. breast-stroke, established a new Delaware mark, 2:54.

In the same meet Tome School topped the Delaware Freshmen, 31 to 27. Delaware took the majority of the first places, but as in the varsity meet their opponents ran up a score on the seconds and thirds to emerge the victor.

Summaries:

200-yard relay—Won by Delaware (Lattamus, Lawrence, Lindstrand, Murray); second, Lafayette (Bowman, Wise, Amelia, Briggs). Time, 1:43.

S. P. E. Loses To Theta Chi In Frat Basketball Loop

Sigma Nu Snares Two Games

Overcoming a 13 point lead, Theta Chi fraternity nosed out S. P. E. in a hectic battle, 37-30. In the other frat game last week Sigma Nu earned a tie with OX for leadership of the league by defeating P. K. T. by 55-28, and S. T. P., 53-17.

In the OX vs. S. P. E. game, the latter had a 28-15 lead at the end of the first half. During the second half the Sig Ep team scored only 2 points while the Theta Chi team scored 23.

P. K. T. and P. T. P. proved to be easy for Sigma Nu and both were defeated by large scores. Willis, Jefferies, Lynch and Adams led the scoring for Sigma Nu while Majewski tallied heavily for P. K. T. and Sloan led the S. T. P. scorers.

Delaware Hands Manhattan Swimmers 32-27 Setback

Team Ends Season With Five Wins And Five Losses

T. Hanaway

Delaware swimmers closed another successful season last Saturday night in Taylor pool when they defeated the highly touted Manhattan swimming team by the score of 32 to 27. The winning of this meet made a total of five wins and five losses for the Blue and Gold natators.

The Blue Hens took the lead by winning the 20-yard relay. Wilson then won the dive and Lattamus came through with the 50-yd. free-style, giving Delaware three first places in a row. As Delaware also won the breast stroke and the 440-yd. free-style it gave us a total of five wins out of seven.

Manhattan kept in the running by taking first and second places in the 100-yd. free-style and a first in the 150-yd. back-stroke. Delaware was leading up to the 100-yd. free-style by a comfortable margin, so S. Barker was substituted for Lattamus, and succeeded in taking a third in that event.

Summaries:

200-yard relay—Won by Delaware (Lattamus, Lawrence, Lindstrand, Murray); second, Manhattan (Dunke, Cuney, Hyland, Murray). Time, 1:43.3.

50-yard free-style—Won by Lattamus, Delaware; second, Murray, Manhattan; third, Murray, Delaware. Time, 25.2.

150-yard back stroke—Won by Quinlan, Manhattan; second, F. Barker, Delaware; third, Lindstrand, Delaware. Time, 1:58.4.

200-yard breast-stroke—Won by L. Barker, Delaware; second, Colani, Manhattan; third, Palmer, Delaware. Time, 2:54.4.

Coal . . . silk stockings . . . meat
—and the telephone

Keenly aware of the problems of business, large and small, Bell System commercial men are constantly devising special telephone plans to custom-fit service to the user's needs.

For example, a plan they worked out for a coal distributor helped him to contact 50% more dealers. A manufacturer, using a telephone selling plan, sold 700 dozen pairs of hosiery through one Long Distance call. A great meat packer handles complex sales and distribution problems efficiently with the aid of planned Long Distance and private wire services.

Systematic telephone plans are helping many users to build business—cut costs—handle collections—unify nationwide organizations—increase profits. And Bell System men are seeking still other ways to make the telephone more useful.

Greer went to Chester . . . Says he wants to keep her dumb . . . Now I wonder who the gal is that writes all the things that John does to that gal in Chester???? Says he's just that, well, John, way about Kitty!!!

History of Delaware Fraternity Chapters

lateral residence it now occupies on Park Avenue.

Although in existence only since 1906, Phi Kappa Tau now boasts 43 chapters, with the honor of having no inactive chapters whatsoever.

Sigma Tau Phi

In 1923 a small group of students organized a local fraternity, holding meetings in a wing of Old College. Since there was a limit to the number of fraternities which could be maintained on the Campus, this group petitioned to the Board of Trustees, and chiefly through the efforts of "Doc" Blumberg, this newly organized fraternity was admitted to the fraternal ring of the University. Within a short time this group was admitted to membership in the national fraternity of Sigma Tau Phi, and after some years of increasing growth and prominence, nationally and locally, finally located at Main and Chapel Streets, where it now resides.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

Sigma Phi Epsilon was established at Richmond College in November, 1901. At present there are 57 active chapters with a combined membership of 13,531. The local chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon was chartered at Delaware on April 18, 1907, with residence being maintained up on Quality Hill. In the year 1922 the fraternity built the first house ever located on the Campus proper, which it still occupies. At present the local membership comprises 36 members and 16 pledges, representing students from every walk of college life.

Advises Students To Return To Home Town Upon Graduation

Buell Believes It Is Only By Building Up Local Communities That The Country Can Be Strengthened Now

New York, N. Y. (NSFA)—

"There is probably nothing that students can or should do at the present time to help the nation form its foreign policy," said Raymond Leslie Buell in a recent address at a meeting of the Foreign Policy Association student group here. Mr. Buell, as Professor of History at Princeton and Cornell Universities, has had an opportunity to meet many students, and, as Research Director of the Foreign Policy Association, is an authority on the economic and political situation.

"Don't get the idea that students are going to save the world," he continued. "There are two ideas which we must overcome: the necessity for the acquisition of untold wealth, and the elevation of the country to power by force. These two attitudes are what have caused most of our present trouble. Activity is going to be the keynote of this generation."

Mr. Buell believes, however, that there are two ways in which a student can prepare himself to assume responsibility later. First, he should acquaint himself with the background of the present situation, so that he may have a foundation of languages and history around which to fit a study of economics and politics, he said.

Secondly, the college student of today should awake to the necessity of a change in our social structure and should prepare to adjust himself to it. The ambition of too many students in the past, according to Mr. Buell, has been to become high salaried experts and eventually noted lawyers or bankers in Wall Street. "The student graduating now should return to his home town, prepare to content himself with a smaller salary, and develop the intellectual interests created in college, so that the community may benefit from his broader outlook. The only hope for reviving our waning national strength lies in building up our local communities to the point where they are as well qualified as the large cities to take a leading part in directing the life of the country," the speaker concluded.

Prominent Sculptor

the Ecole des Beaux Arts, and independently, he studied his vocation. His groups, the "Sleep of the Flowers" and the "Awakening of the Flowers" first won for him the respectful attention of the artistic world, and since then he has increased and consolidated his reputation.

He is a member of the American Academy of Arts and Letters, the National Academy of Design and an honorary member of the American Institute of Architects.

The Times-Picayune (New Orleans) has written of him:

"Mr. Taft is an author, a delightful lecturer whether you know anything of sculpture or not, and an artist who keeps his ideal far above material gain—a great artist and a great man. It has been said of him 'he is the greatest educational personality in the Central West today. Modest of his work as teacher and lecturer, nevertheless it is true to say that he has done more to inspire a knowledge of art and love of the beautiful in sculpture and painting than any other man of his age in America.'"

Books

We recommend the following books for your entertainment. You will find all of them at the University Library.

Our Times—Mark Sullivan. A clear and authentic portrayal of what went on in the United States from 1914-1919.

Technocracy—Stuart Chase. The A, B, C of Technocracy.

Romany Stain—Christopher Morley. Another delightful tale in essay form by an acknowledged master.

Unsocial Socialist—Bernard Shaw. An iconoclast looks at himself.

Casuals of the Sea—William McFee. Realistic characterizations of the lesser-known types of sea-faring men. Do you remember his Sailors of Fortune? This is even better.

Faculty Members State Views

Dr. Eastman:

The fraternity system has persisted in American colleges for over one hundred years. Evidently the fraternities meet a need which is generally felt, or they would have disappeared long ago. With proper control by the University, and by their own national officers, the various chapters lead in the social life of the college community, and promote also the development of the scholastic and personal life of their members. It should be remembered that at Delaware the chapter houses serve as college dormitories, and several new buildings would have to be provided, before fraternities could be abolished.

Prof. Blumberg:

From the standpoint of promoting good fellowship; of furthering the scholastic and social activities of its members; as a means of polishing off of a student's rough edges; I feel that the existence of all fraternities here at the University is fully justified. The good resulting from properly supervised fraternities should, and I think does, far exceed the ill effects at Delaware.

Prof. Houghton:

"The polishing effects of the fraternities on the average college student are to be considered first in comparing the benefits of a frat. life with their disadvantages."

Dr. Manns:

The article in the Sunday Star is a very fair presentation of the pros and cons of the fraternity situation at Delaware. The fraternities here have greatly improved the past ten years and serve a high purpose under proper supervision.

I am strongly convinced that fraternity activity during rushing season has much to do with the failures of freshmen at midyears. The merry social whirlwind of rushing season carries many freshmen off their feet and it takes several months to bring them back to earth again. There is too great a jump from the paternal care of high school days to fraternity life.

Possibly this difficulty could be overcome by barring freshmen from fraternities and supplying them proper monitors (senior or younger faculty members) in dormitories or campus clubs.

I am not opposed to fraternities; they serve many valuable ends. It is sometimes embarrassing to the fraternity and likewise to the faculty adviser when occasional returning alumni, who, like our friend Garner, insist in suspending all house rules in order to serve their acquired personal liberty.

A woman was granted a Master's degree at the University of Chicago for writing a thesis on "Four Ways to Wash Dishes"—also Columbia gave a Doctor of Philosophy to the author of "The Duties of School Janitors."

Rutgers "Gym" Head Addresses Students

Discusses Intramural Sports In Development Of Campus Leaders

"Physical Education and Athletics in Relation to College Education," was the subject of Prof. George E. Little, Head of the Physical Education Department at Rutgers University, at the College Hour, held on Tuesday, March 7, at Mitchell Hall.

General Physical Education is mentally stimulating, physically wholesome and socially sound," according to Mr. Little. He then divided his talk into the two main branches of competition, Intercollegiate and Intramural. Prof. Little stresses the importance of intra-mural athletics, as they effect the student who is physically handicapped by weight from competing in Varsity sports. Basically, every American student wants, and needs, sports of bodily contact. With this in mind he cited the example of Rutgers, who started intra-mural athletics in football, having 128 candidates for the different teams.

The student has a right to expect two things from those in charge: The right kind of leadership and the right kind of instruction. The leader must make friends with the students, at the same time have them look up to him. At this point Prof. Little commented favorably upon the showing of Delaware's team in the Rutgers' game, as they exemplified the right kind of leadership.

There are two kinds of sports, one the carry under, such as football, where we just carry the effects and teaching of them, and the other the carry-over, such as golf, which we can play after leaving college. In the early part of a student's life he wants bodily-contact sports, and these are best for him, because of the lessons that are derived from them.

Prof. Little is a native of Washington, D. C., and spent the early years of his life in the Middle West. He is a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan, and attended the University of Miami and University of Cincinnati. He was a member of the Physical Education Department at the University of Michigan and the University of Wisconsin before he came east to Rutgers last year. He has been the coach of such famous athletes as Ripple and Benny Fieldmen.

Dr. Hulihan announced that when he suggested the International Relations Club at the College Hour last week, he was unaware that the Economics Club covered this subject. He said that the Economics Club did not cover the subject as thoroughly as it might be, and suggested an amalgamation of the proposed International Relations Club and the Economics Club.

"Things I Knew You Didn't"

That Nick Russo will play the part of a gangster in "Remote Control" and "June" Walker as a Physical Ed. director. This ought to be a shock to Dr. Wharton—his Phys Ed man turning out to be actors.

That "Buzz" Wilkinson is more worried when a student has to leave school than the student himself. . . . I know, too.

That "Mooch" MacSorley gave up the Lady Sackville-West program to attend a basketball game. . . . Now, "Moochy."

That Cavalli and Herkness spent the night of March 3rd in the Baltimore and Ohio Station in Washington. . . . Real Roosevelt rooters, I'll say!!!

That Gratis is pronounced with a long "a." (Catch on?)

That there only 12 letters in the Hawaiian alphabet. . . . Now, Freshmen!!!

That according to Webster a bus conductor is a cad.

That John Branner missed being handsome—by a nose.

That Gov. Buck and wife received the flourishes at 10.20 when they entered the Inaugural Ball at Washington.

That it takes Prof. Bixler 3 hours to travel the distance between School and Drexel Hill . . . by auto . . . He gets up at 4.00 a. m. to make the 8.00 o'clock class.

That a certain gal I know thinks the place is swell. . . . Of course, she has a good reason . . . Well, look who's here!!!

That The Toothless Wonder that roams around the campus worrying about Med School is the "Great" June Walker.

That "Boo" White, one of the best athletes that ever trod the Delaware Sward, is matriculating at the University of Cincinnati. . . . Is she sad!!

That Charley Knight escorted some beautiful gal back to Wilmington after one of our recent swimming meets. . . . Now, Charley!!!

That this Frank Mayer has been running around Wilmington's "Browntown" and is raving about a beautiful Blonde Polish Gal. . . . She may be beautiful, but oh my!!!

That "Bolsheviki" in Russian means "majority." That's one on you, Cavalli.

That Delaware was the last State in the country to declare the Bank Holiday.

New Group Will Seek Real Facts About Russian Plan

Boston, Mass. (NSFA)—A new and unprejudiced study of the government and economic system of Russia will be made this summer by a group of Americans under the leadership of a number of business men, educators and journalists. The group, which is now being organized and is to be known as the "Russian Seminar," will give a month's study to conditions in the Soviet republic without benefit or hindrance of propaganda.

Among the members of the advisory committee for the analysis are Henry I. Harriman, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce; Stuart Chase, Professor Bruce C. Hopper, Harvard University; Whiting Williams, Grove Patterson, editor of the Toledo Blade and vice-president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors; Professor Samuel N. Harper, Chicago University; Professor G. T. Robinson, Columbia University, and Professor D. C. Poole of Princeton. The group is to be recruited within a few weeks by the Bureau of University Travel, Newton, Mass., on a non-profit basis.

The seminar investigation will include both city and rural life, and will extend from Leningrad in the north to the Black Sea and the Russian Riviera in the south. The newly developed industrial cities along the Don and Volga rivers will be visited as well as the farm projects of the Ukraine.

Following the Russian study, the group will go to the Near East and the Balkans, observing conditions in Rumania, Albania, and later in Italy, as well as visiting Constantinople and Athens. The party expects to be gone from the United States during July and August.

Sig-Eps To Hold Initiation Banquet

The annual Formal Initiation and Banquet of the Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity will be held at the Elks Club in Wilmington this coming Saturday evening. The Alumni Committee in charge has arranged a most interesting program, including several entertainers who will display their wares after the dinner. Covers will be set for approximately one hundred persons, comprising alumni, actives, and pledges of the Fraternity.
