Local Y. M. C. A. Campaign On

Collectors at Work in Town and College

A local drive for contributions in the nation-wide Y. M. C. A. Campaign, began last Monday at chapel exercises in Delaware College, when Mr. Erdman, Y. M. C. A. secretary of Camp Dix, visited here, and told of the wonderful constructive work of the Y. M. C. A. in time. Mr. Erdman gave brief word pictures of the homesick men in camps, and with humorous touches made the paths and fun blend into real life, illustrating all the while the wonderful service, both physical and spiritual which the Association renders the men. Dr. Mitchell also spoke at the meeting, emphasizing the value of Y. M. C. A. work, which he declared, "is divided into three distinct departments: work in the training camps, work in the trenches, and work in the prison camps of Europe."

Thirty-five million dollars is the goal set by the American people for collection during Y. M. C. A. week. Of this sum an effort is being made by college men and women to collect $1,000,000 from students in the colleges. $2,000 was pledged on Monday by faculty and students of the men's college at Delaware; the report has not yet been given out by the Women's College.

A committee in charge of the work in Newark was named at a meeting in Dr. Mitchell's office last Monday, with H. Hayward, as chairman, and G. N. Brown, as secretary. The town has been subdivided into districts and collectors named as follows: From B. O. to western limits of town, Mrs. Penny; From Main Street to Depot Road, Mrs. C. B. Evans; Delaware Avenue, Elktion and Depot Roads, Miss Alice Beck; Main, between Depot and Academy Streets, Miss Lydia Fader; Main from Academy to Chapel and Chapel Street, Mrs. Wilmer Hill; From Chapel to eastern end of town, Miss Agnes Medill; Cleveland Avenue, Mrs. Frank Jester; South Newark, Mrs. G. N. Brown; Coach's Bridge, Mrs. Irwin Dayett. All returns are requested to be in by Friday of this week.

DOCTOR MITCHELL MOVES TO NEW HOME

Interesting Bits of Local History Related By Old Resident

The removal during the last week of Dr. S. C. Mitchell and family to their new home at "The Knoll," recently purchased by the trustees of Delaware College, for the residence of the president, has called forth from older residents of Newark, interesting bits of information relative to the property. The land on which the residence was built was originally a part of the Albert Lewis estate, the lot on which the dwelling now stands being known locally as the "sand pit." Much of the sand for building purposes in the locality, we are told, was hauled from here. The north east corner of the lot was a pond, where many a village boy, which had become unwelcome to the neighborhood, gave up its precious ninth life.

Upon the purchase and development of the site by Dr. N. H. Clark, land after load of dirt was piled to fill up this depression, and the "sand pit" became the beautiful lawn familiar to this generation. Of especial note in connection with the property is the variety of rare and beautiful trees, which were carefully selected and planted on the new lawn by Dr. Clark and Mrs. Clark. The present residence was erected about 1865, and named "Lowen" by the occupants.

Mrs. Helen Cooch Porter, of Baltimore, in response to a recent request from the "Post" to write the history of the property, gave us the following story, filled with romance and interesting local history.

The property was the home," Dr. Porter writes, "formerly occupied by Dr. N. H. Clark and my father." (Continued on Page 4)

CONDITION OF NEWARK SCHOOL BUILDINGS

Committee From Parent-Teacher Association Reports Recent Survey

At the first meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association for the year, held in the Grammar School Building in September, 1917, a committee of three members of the Association was appointed to cooperate with the Principal of Schools on making a survey of the physical conditions of the Newark Schools. The survey was subsequently made by the committee, and a detailed report was presented by the Chairman at the October meeting of the Association. A copy of this report has been placed on file with the Secretary of the Association, Mrs. Howard P. Williams, another copy sent to the Secretary of the Board of Education, and a third copy placed on file in the office of the Principal, in the Academy Building. At the request of the Association the Committee submits for publication this digest of their report together with recommendations.

The Committee wishes it clearly understood that this survey was not attempted for the purpose of criticism. The aim of the Association, and the reason for its existence, is the improvement of the public schools, both through personal interest and through material help. In making the survey, the purpose was simply to inquire into and set forth facts as to the physical condition of the school grounds, buildings, and equipment. They found too some conditions, particularly concerning the buildings, which they believe ought to be called to the attention of the people of Newark, and which should be remedied as early as possible.

The first building visited by the Committee was the Primary Building, on East Main Street. The outstanding condition which attracted attention here was the darkness of the rooms. Upon measurement, it was found that the glass area was equal to about 1-10 instead of 1-5 of the floor space, or approximately one-half what architects and construction engineers of school buildings set down as the minimum for the protection of the eye-sight of school children.

The other physical conditions which might be termed unsatisfactory may be much more easily remedied than the first one mentioned. The walls, which are now dark green in color and in need of painting, should be made buff. The worn out green window shades (Continued on Page 2)

GOV. TOWNSEND COMMENDS REGISTRATION BOARDS

Urges Full Discussion of Points In Question

At the call of Governor Townsend the representatives of the District Board, Local Boards and attorneys met in Dover on Wednesday last to discuss the several disputed questions before them. Special attention was given the cases of dependant relatives and the Agricultural situation. Horace Delworth, Master of the State Grange, was invited to be present to take part in the discussion pertaining to Agriculture.

Governor Townsend sent the following communication outlining the questions at issue and recommending that all cases in dispute be reviewed, and further that all occupational cases be gone over in order that no errors be made.

The letter was received and his recommendations were acted upon favorably in every instance. Taking into consideration the Agricultural situations in this State, the advantage possible to the farmer, the District Board agreed to give every in conformity with the rules and regulations.

OPPORTUNITY FOR DRAFTED MEN

School To Be Opened In Newark On November Fifteenth

Dean Cullimore of the Engineering department of Delaware College, is this week forwarding the following letter to men who come under the next or subsequent drafts for selective service in the national army.

November 13, 1917.

My dear Sir: A class in radio-operation will be started in Newark on Thursday night, November 15th, at seven o'clock in Mechanical Hall.

Another class will be organized in Wilmington at Public School No. 1, 6th and French Streets, on Wednesday night, November 21st, at the same hour.

You may report at either place. The class will extend for a period of about 25 weeks, four nights a week, from seven to nine o'clock.

You will understand that the class is to be made up of men who are to be drafted at some future date, if you are sure that you will not be called we would not advise your registering.

You will bear in mind however that in case you go that this training will insure you a good position in the signal corps when you reach camp. Bear in mind that joining this class will not make you liable to be drafted any sooner, but in case you do go, it will be very much to your advantage.

Frankly, in our opinion, it is a splendid opportunity for the drafted men to fit himself for a high character of service in the army. The instruction is absolutely free; no fee of any kind is charged.

The number in each class is limited to 25. If you wish to join therefore you should let us know at once.

Very truly yours,
Allan R. Cullimore.

W. C. T. U. Meeting

W. C. T. U. will meet this Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Butler, without further notice to the members.

RUMORS CONCERNING RED CROSS DENIED

Public Urged To Investigate All Reports

Red Cross workers, both local and national have been alarmed during the last week, at reports of stories absolutely without foundation, regarding the disposition of knitted articles turned in to headquarters. According to the rumors, which authorities believe are circulated by pro-Germans, knitted articles are being sold instead of furnished free to the soldiers, and others put to use by civilians, instead of being forwarded to the camps. The following signed statement issued by the chairman of the Delaware Red Cross, on Saturday, November 10th, speaks for itself:

Accusation has been made that members of the Delaware Chapter of the Red Cross are using yarn belonging to the Military Relief Committee for knitting sweaters, scarfs, etc., and selling them. Such an accusation is absolutely untrue. The chairman of the Military Relief Committee and its subordinate committees have given orders that no material whatever, pertaining to the Red Cross shall be used in any other way than that for the purpose for which it is purchased, which orders are being strictly carried out.

The Delaware Chapter of the American Red Cross is the only Chapter that furnishes material for knitting free of cost and no compensation whatever is received from the Soldiers or Sailors who receive the garments.

The women of our Delaware Chapter and its branches are too loyal and patriotic to traffic in material that is consecrated to the use of our Soldiers and Sailors.

It is feared that such a report has been circulated with malicious intent.

CHAS. BIRD, Chairman,
Delaware Chapter.

GIFTS FOR THE BELGIAN CHILDREN

Committee Asks For Contributions

A committee of the Newark Branch of the Red Cross, composed of Mrs. Firman Thompson, Mrs. C. O. Houghton, and Miss Grime, has been formed for the purpose of collecting toys and clothing to make Christmas a little brighter for the Belgian children. In order that these gifts reach their destination before Christmas, it is necessary that they be ready for shipment not later than November 18th. Contributions of toys and clothing in good repair, are earnestly solicited. Children will collect all smaller contributions on Friday morning. A call by phone to 95, Newark, will bring an automobile for larger packages.

W. M. FRANCIS TALKS ON GOOD ROADS

Addresses Engineering Students At Delaware

W. M. Francis, a Delaware College alumnus, addressed the civil engineering students of the college last night on "Good roads and the education of Highway Engineers." Mr. Francis is connected with P. S. duPont, president of the duPont Powder Company, and has had charge of the construction of a number of roads and on and adjoining the estate of Mr. duPont, near Kennet Square.

During his address he stated that figures gathered by the government show that the total mileage of public roads in the United States is 2,222,248 and that the total mileage of improved roads is but 224,485 or about 10 per cent. This he said gives an idea of the immense field open for the Highway Engineer.

LICENSE MAY BE OBTAINED NOW

Automobile Owners Urged To Apply Early

In order to accommodate the public in securing automobile licenses on time, the office of the Secretary of State at Dover has ruled that from now on until December first, owners of cars upon proper application can secure their next year's tags using the number they now hold. After December first, however, there will be no reservations made, each applicant taking whatever number may be left. In Delaware, under the law, there is no extension of time after January the first, and it is imperative that owners of cars secure their license early as it will be practically impossible to issue the number now used in the state during the last week of the year. Under the law passed by the last General Assembly the car is licensed this year, according to the weight, the fee being $2.00 for every 500 pounds and fraction thereof. The weight is computed as the weight of the car with 125 pounds added for every passenger.

ATHLETE COUNCIL ANNOUNCES RULING OF WAR TAX

Basketball Schedule Announced—Newark Boys To Play In College "Gym"

At the meeting of the Delaware College Athletic Council last night the matter of assessing the war tax on the admission to the college sports was discussed. This tax will be 10 per cent of the admission and consequently the tickets to the Swarthmore game on Saturday will be 55 cents and to the Thanksgiving Day game $1.10. Dean Smith, president of the Council, Professor George E. Dutton, Dr. Walter H. Steel and Norris N. Wright, were named a committee to decide the best method of collecting the tax from the holders of season tickets.

It was decided to allow the Newark High School basketball players to practice in the college gymnasium and play their games there.

NEWARK HIGH GETS TROPHY CUP

Wallace Cook Captures Honors For Local School

The New Castle County Spelling Contest, held at the Alexis I. duPont school, near Wilmington, on Monday morning, was won by H. Wallace Cook, of the Newark High School, to whom the William Winder Laird Trophy Cup was presented. Miss Clara Unruh, of Townsend, won second honors and the Evening Journal Trophy Cup. Two additional contests in the high, and one in the grammar school were necessary to break the tie of the first test.

Thelma Hines, of the Alexis I. duPont school, and H. Wallace Cook of Newark, completed the first test without error. The contestants therefore competed in two elimination tests in the afternoon, in the first of which each missed seven out of the twenty-five words. The last test, which was made extremely difficult in Mr. Cook winning over Miss Hines by only one point. She missed three out of the second twenty-five words, while Mr. Cook failed on only two words. The grammar school test was less exciting. Clara Unruh, of Townsend, who was tied with William Glass, of Marshallton, missing but six out of fifty, while her competitor missed ten words.

The Laird cup comes to the Newark school for the second time, since it was offered in 1915. Should the school be the first to win it a third time, the cup will become the permanent property of the local school.

GIFTS PRESENTED TO WELCH TRACT SCHOOL

Interesting Meeting of Parent-Teacher Association

Feature of the meeting of the Welch Tract Parent-Teacher Association, held in the school house last Wednesday afternoon, was the roll call, to which each member present responded with a short reading. Miss Margaret Whiteman gave a recitation, which was appreciated by everyone.

During the business session that followed, the association pledged itself to assist the School Commissioners in the payment of a janitor to look after the fire during the winter. An atlas and an unabridged dictionary, it was reported, have recently been presented to the school by Miss Frances Hurd, of Newark.

Rural Carrier Examination

The United States Civil Commission has announced an examination for the County of New Castle, Delaware, to be held at Wilmington and Newark, on December 8, 1917, to fill the position of rural carrier at Wilmington, Del., and vacancies that may later occur on rural routes from other post offices in the above-mentioned county. The examination will be open only to male citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory of a post office in the county and who meet the other requirements set forth in Form No. 1977. This form and application blanks may be obtained above or from the United States Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C. Applications should be forwarded to the Commission at Washington at the earliest practicable date.

Ladies Hold Rummage Sale

Ladies of the Newark Presbyterian Church will hold a rummage sale in the lecture room on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, November 26, 27, and 28.

LT. BOUNDS ON TEN DAYS' LEAVE

Visits Friends In Newark Lt. H. C. Bounds, of Sixth U. S. Infantry, stationed at Chickamauga Park, Ga., is spending a ten day's leave of absence with his wife and parents at Richardson Park. On Monday he visited Delaware College and many friends in Newark. At the camp with Lt. Bounds are Lt. G. H. Ferguson and Lt. J. W. O'Daniel, both of Newark and Delaware College men.

Drafted Men Leave On Monday

Twenty-nine Negroes In Contingent of Thirty-two

The first contingent of negroes to be sent by the Rural New Castle County Exemption Board to the National Army will leave Newark next Monday morning for Camp Dix, Wrightstown, N. J. The call is for 15 percent of the district's quota and the great majority of the men to leave will be negroes. There will be a total of 32 prospective soldiers sent from Newark on Monday and of that number 29 will be negroes.

Of the three white men to go in this contingent William L. Beck of Delaware City, will be captain, and Daniel Slack of Newark, and Harry B. Guest will be his assistants. Back is a graduate of Delaware College and played second base on the college baseball team several years ago. Beck, Slack and Guest have been ordered to report to the Local Board in Newark at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon and the other selective men will report at 8 o'clock Monday morning. The contingent will leave Newark on the 9:28 o'clock train Monday morning over the P. B. and W. Railroad. Fifteen alternates have also been notified to report here Monday morning to take the places of principals who for any reason fail to appear.

This will make 60 percent of the rural New Castle County quota a total of 129 men who have been sent to Camp Dix. The Local (Continued on Page 4)

C. H. Lafferty On District Board

Charles H. Lafferty, owner of Maplehurst Farm in Pencader where he and his family spends their summers, has been appointed a member of District Board No. 2 of Philadelphia, by Mayor Smith to succeed Ellis A. Gimble of Gimble Brothers, resigned. He will take up his duties next week. In speaking of the appointment the Philadelphia Record has this to say of Mr. Lafferty:

Mr. Lafferty is a former president of the old Arch Street Passenger Railway, which was merged with the present transit system about 1895. He is a member of St. Agatha's Catholic Church and is a liberal supporter of various charitable and educational institutions. He is an old line Democrat and was a lifelong friend of the late Supreme Court Justice Samuel Gustine Thompson and the late William F. Harrity.

OBITUARY

John Atkinson

John Atkinson, aged 78 years, a prominent figure in the Newark of a generation ago, died at Bernardsville, New Jersey, on November 11th. The body was brought to Wilmington, and interred in River-view Cemetery.

Mr. Atkinson was a resident of Newark for many years. He first started in the livery business in the property recently owned by Captain L. B. Jacobs, known then as the James Corner, and owned by Armstrong, which was afterwards purchased by the father of Samuel J. Wright. In connection with the livery business Mr. Atkinson ran a hack to the old P. B. & W. depot for thirty years. He later moved to the building now occupied by the college library, on the corner of Main and South College Avenue, conducting the livery business here for many years. Byard Widdoes drove the hacks for him for twenty years. At one time the deceased was associated in business with Frank Griffith. He married a daughter of the above mentioned James Armstrong, who was sheriff of New Castle County, and Mr. Atkinson was appointed deputy sheriff. He married the second time to a Mrs. Kemble of Summerville, N. J.

The deceased is survived by two daughters, Mrs. William H. Barton, of Newark, and Mrs. Sarah Downey of Philadelphia, also one son, John Edwin Atkinson, of Philadelphia. He was an honorable man, quiet in his demeanor, and highly respected by the citizens of Newark.

should be replaced with buff ones. The floors are badly in need of proper oiling. The desks should be changed in two rooms so that the pupils' bodies do not shut off the light from their desks. Several radiators are leaking and in need of repair. A stationary wash stand of some sort should replace the open tap which pupils and teachers now use. Many wet feet and numerous colds result from washing at this faucet from which water falls to the floor. The building should have a thorough cleaning, and the accumulation of rubbish and ashes in the basement should be taken away. If possible the class room doors should be rehung to open outward in order to make quick exit possible in case of fire. The blackboards in all of the rooms should be lowered to within reach of primary children.

The second building visited by the Survey Committee was the Grammar School on Delaware Avenue. This is the latest of the school buildings, and is, in general, in good repair. The lighting is particularly good. Each room has more than the required light area. All of the rooms, too, meet the minimum requirement of 200 cu. ft. of air space for each pupil. Most of the rooms have numerous attractive pictures on the walls, and growing plants on the window ledges. The grounds are bordered by a number of attractive shade trees.

In regard to this building, the committee desires to make two major recommendations. If possible, the approaches to the two entrances should be concreted, or else cinder paths should be made. There are no walks leading to either entrance, and the present paths have become so hollowed out that water stands in places several inches deep on wet days. A great deal of mud is, of course, tracked into the school from this source. The second recommendation concerns the basement. This part of the building was apparently left unfinished, probably due to the fact that it was not used at first. Since the basement has had to be used for toilet rooms and the pupils have to pass clear across it, the floor should be covered in some way, possibly with cement, to prevent the carrying of mud up into the building.

As to minor repairs; here also, floors should be oiled; the sinks and drinking fountains should be cleaned and repaired, and the toilets should be given a thorough cleaning and disinfecting. Like the seats in the two rooms in the Primary Building, the seats in rooms 4, 5, and 6 should be changed to face in a different direction. Wherever possible, doors should be made to open outward. Thermometers ought to be provided for the rooms that do not have them. Some of the shades should be replaced and others repaired. The plastering should be repaired in the 4th Grade room.

There are several general suggestions that the Committee desires to make, some of which they hope may be acted upon this year and the others held in mind by the Board of Education for action as soon as funds will permit. All of the eight grades are badly in need of supplementary reading. Many schools are provided with from four to twelve sets of readers for each grade. In only two grades in the Newark Schools do the pupils have more than one set of readers. A number of sets for each grade ought gradually to be accumulated, and the Committee hopes that a start may be made this year. The Committee strongly recommends that toilet fixtures—paper, liquid soap, and paper towels—be made available in the toilet rooms. Scrapers on the steps and cocoa mats placed at the entrances would assist in teaching children habits of cleanliness and in keeping floors and halls free of mud. The Committee also found that a single set of The Book of Knowledge was the only reference material available in the schools. Two good encyclopedias—one for the High School and one for the Grammar School—are so much a necessity that funds should be raised in some way for their purchase.

The Committee wishes to recommend further that, as early as it is possible to do so, the old double seats, many of which are in such bad condition that they can hardly be used, be replaced with single seats which can be adjusted to children of different heights.

The most difficult part of the committee's report to present briefly and adequately is that of the Academy building, now used, by courtesy of the Board of Trustees, for the High School. This building is so rich in historic associations and has served the cause of education so well for past generations, that it seems almost a sacrilege to call attention to the fact that it is no longer able to meet the growing need of our schools.

United recently, the members in classes were so small that they were well cared for in small rooms. Later, when the growth of the school made it necessary to knock out partitions in order to provide larger rooms, there was no way of securing either sufficient light or ventilation. It is impossible to conduct a satisfactory fire drill in this building. Halls and stairways are too dark and narrow, and doors swing inward. Were fire to break out in the west end of the building there would be no chance of saving the children on the third floor. The committee was appalled by the unsanitary condition of the building, although the faculty had cleared out rubbish of past years from hidden corners. The toilets lack privacy. There is no suitable place for hanging wraps. There is no room in the building where the school can now be properly seated at one time for general exercises. As the building is taxed now to care for the present school of 100, it is a grave question what can be done next year. No class will be graduated in June and about 50 new pupils will be ready to enter next September. While all the rooms lack light, the committee was alarmed to find upon measuring that one room which must be used by a large class actually has only 1-4 of the minimum amount of light, which is considered safe for children's eyes. There are many people in Newark today wearing glasses because of eye strain in this and the primary building. There are many others who gave up school because of constant headaches which they supposed were caused by study, when, as a matter of fact, their brains were all right, but their eyes could not endure the continued strain of study in a dark room.

Every loyal Newarker, whether a native or an adopted citizen, loves the old Academy Building for its past, and points to it with pride when showing friends our interesting landmarks, but it is just as impossible for it to care for the rapidly growing school population as it would be for the old stage coaches to handle the present traveling public.

The committee appreciates to the full what the town fathers have done for the public schools in all the years past. Just now, however, the town has been growing so rapidly, that it has outgrown its school clothes. It has remained for the mothers to point out the fact that they are pretty well beyond the stage of patching.

The Committee feels that the Board merits the appreciation and the commendation of the citizens of Newark for their efforts to keep Newark Schools abreast of educational progress in other districts of the state, when such efforts have often meant stretching one dollar to make it do the work of two. The Committee believes, however, that the schools should be the last place where a penny wise, pound foolish policy should be enforced. The future citizenship of Newark depends upon the health and the training of the boys and girls who are now in our public schools. The investment of dollars in these future men and women will pay returns just as truly as will funds invested in a savings bank. The most vital recommendation, therefore, of this Committee is that larger funds be placed at the disposal of the School Board.

Note: The committee wishes to speak with special appreciation of the efforts which the trustees have made to improve the condition of the building. Since the preparation of the above report, many of the minor improvements herein suggested are, at the direction of the Board of Education, being made by Mr. Edward Whittaker, who recently has taken charge of the school buildings. All rubbish and last year's accumulation of ashes has been removed from basements. Furnaces and radiators are being overhauled and repaired. New blackboards are being installed at proper height in two of the primary rooms. All buildings are being given a thorough cleaning from top to bottom; and all floors will be properly oiled before the opening of schools on November 19th.

DELAWARE BOYS AT CAMP DIX

Their Doings Related By Clarence Hopkins

A stranger visiting the Delaware boys at Camp Dix last Saturday morning was heard to remark about the unusually happy expression upon the faces of most of the boys. "That's easy enough," replied Sergeant Jolls, "today is payday." And that was the reason a visitor in Camp Sunday found it practically deserted so far as Delaware's representation was concerned. Nearly all were given passes from Saturday noon until Monday morning. On Saturday afternoon the 307th Machine Gun Battalion's football team, composed entirely of Delaware men, played the 303rd Engineers and held them to a 14 to 7 score which was a remarkable record in view of the fact that they have one of the strongest teams in camp, including men who have been stars in some of the leading colleges of the East and who are well known throughout the sporting world. Manager Russell of the M. G. boys, is trying to schedule a game with LaFayette College for Thanksgiving Day to be played in Wilmington and if successful the Delaware football enthusiasts may expect a classy article of football.

The Y. M. C. A. is doing a wonderful work promoting every enterprise possible that will be a benefit to the boys and help relieve the dull monotony of Camp life. We are given several hours each week which must be devoted to music under the instruction of an able teacher who is found in the person of Mr. Hawkins, General Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Camp Dix. Mr. Hawkins has arranged a singing contest between the many battalions and regiments stationed here, the winner to be decided by elimination, according to the originality of the songs. Geo. Madden, a former Delaware College student, has come to the front with one that is voted a winner by all the boys here. The song will be published after the contest.

A quantity of Machine Guns have been distributed to each Company which means just one more step on the journey "Over There." The boys are all anxious to start machine gun drill, they look upon the infantry drill as tame and there is not a man in the Battalion who wouldn't be sorry should he be transferred from the suicide squad. That is the spirit that represents Delaware's quota in the National Army which is certainly one which any state might be proud.

Board is sending out the pink cards to the men who are to go on Monday notifying them to report in Newark. The board requests the co-operation of postmasters throughout the country in seeing that the pink cards are delivered to the men promptly. When these cards have been sent out in the past much trouble has been caused by the cards being delivered late to the men. The 82 men who will leave Newark on Monday for Camp Dix follows:

George A. Weeks, Charlie Reason, John A. Stewart, Edward Johnson, Raymond R. Hall, Benjamin Tyler, William Archie, John S. Powell, David H. Holland, Jr., William P. Jefferson, Chas. Gibbs, William Loper, Nathaniel E. Johnson, Isaac Bordley, Edward Daublin, Atwood Anderson, Richard R. Allen, William H. Wanamaker, Hillie Thomas, Oby Turner, Matthew A. Johnson, Andrew James Martin, Robert W. Brinckley, Thomas Gould, Louis Harris, John R. Corbin, Alfred Lewis Handy, John S. Rumsey, and Wesley Nickles, all negroes; William L. Beck, Daniel Slack and Harry B. Guest, whites.

The fifteen alternates are all negroes, as follows: Henry S. Garrall, Clifton G. Comegys, Edward T. Barrett, Jonathan J. Hinson, Jacob Handy Anderson, Isaac Wilbert Roy, William H. Waters, Leon Jackson, Edward J. Hudson, Albert Starkey, Clifford Daniels, Wayman Cammille, Robert A. Black, Samuel O. Scott and Anthony Young.

The following men have been certified by both the Local and the District Boards for military service and are subject to call at any time:

Henry Wilson, Wilmington.
Ralph L. Cravatt, New Castle.
William Paul Wier, Stanton.
Joseph T. Moore, Hill Crest.
Elwood Simon, New Castle.
George W. Hurd, Jr., Newark.
George A. Weeks, Wilmington.
Antonio Ciovitillo, Newark.
Joseph Cunningham, Jr., Middletown.

Albert E. Fry, Kutztown, Pa.
I. B. Steele, Hockessin.
Michael Calxande, Philadelphia.

The following men have been exempted by the Local Board: John W. Jackson, of St. Georges and Charles E. Taylor of Farnhurst.

cousin, Mrs. Caroline Cooch Clark. The place was named 'Lowen,' in honor of an English ancestor, Francis Lowen of Bishops Hatfield, near London. Francis Lowen, the testator, willed his real estate at Bishops Hatfield to Thomas Cooch, the son of his sister, Sarah Lowen Cooch, wife of Thomas Cooch, the 1st, who were my great, great grandfather and grand mother. He also willed 5,000 pounds to the said Thomas Cooch, making him also residuary legatee. To the mother of said Thomas Cooch the 2nd, my great, great grandmother, Frances Lowen also willed five thousand pounds. The will was made in 1770 and reached this country in due time. It, however, fell into the hands of a jealous party, who concealed the fact of its arrival from Thomas Cooch, the 1st, who was then on his death bed. The Revolutionary war broke out soon after and my grandfather, William Cooch, who was in the American navy, was taken prisoner by the British and carried to London. While there he attempted to gain information in regard to the property of Francis Lowen, but was unable to present facts as the will had not then been discovered. "It was nearly one hundred years after its arrival in America that the will was found by Robert Black of Glasgow, Delaware, in a barrel of old family papers. Prompted by the fact that the William and Mary College had just recovered a legacy willed to the college in 1738 by a Mrs. Margaret Whaley, I consulted the family and wrote to Colonel Endi who was then president of the William and Mary College, Va., and learned from him the name and address of the English lawyer who was employed by the college. The original legacy was a little over $300 placed by the executors in the Bank of England where it had accumulated to several thousand dollars with the added interest. The lawyer discovered the real estate, but was unable to get possession of Lord Salisbury's papers in whose possession the property was held. There is no record of deeds in England as in this country. Thomas Cooch, the 1st, was a solicitor and business manager for the marquis of Salisbury at Bishops Hatfield. The old maiquis, who was a man of bad character, fell violently in love with Thomas Cooch's beautiful daughter. A continuation of his attentions would therefore have been most undesirable. To avoid this contingency Thomas Cooch, the 1st, left England, coming to America and purchasing the Cooch's Bridge property in 1745, bringing with him his son, Thomas the 2nd, and his wife and daughter.

"It was while we were looking into the matter with the aid of the English lawyer that my cousin named her new home 'Lowen,' after the English testator."

Upon the purchase of the property by Walter C. Curtis, following Dr. Clark's death, the name was changed by the Curtis family to "The Knoll," and by this name it is at present known.

ware has had very marked distinction. The appointments represent the best of our citizenship, chosen as practical business men. In Registration, our Boards made it possible for the State to be the first to report to Federal authorities. In preparation for the Selective Draft, our Local Boards still held our position. Further, the work of the Local Boards in this instance were highly commended by the Provost Marshal General—there not being a single error in all their work. So remarkable was this that General Crowder wired his generous comment on this record. I state this merely to explain my position just now and my reason for this conference. Naturally I am anxious to maintain this record and am thus confident of your co-operation.

In a task of the proportions upon which you are working and the complications necessary arising from the changes in the Ruling, there are bound to be different interpretations. Thereby, in spite of the best intent we may render a hardship on some of our citizens and subject the State to an unmerited criticism. You, I am sure, agree that it is imperative that we prevent this. Thus this conference. I am beseeched with letters and petitions asking for aid and advice in the various claims for exemption. This as you know is entirely without my jurisdiction. While I am responsible in that I recommended you, you are by appointment acting solely for the Nation. The responsibility is yours. That you are fully aware of its gravity is shown by your interest, sacrifice, and work accomplished. I feel this, however, that I can urge strongly a co-operation between the Local Boards, Attorneys for the Government and the District Board. You can certainly appreciate my interest in this.

I wish to call your attention to the following for your discussion:

- 1st.—Dependent Relatives.
- 2nd.—Physical Exemptions.
- 3rd.—Occupation.

1st.—Dependent Relatives. There are several cases, decided by the Locals which at request of District Board have been turned over to Attorneys for investigation. In many instances the Attorneys have passed upon these, stating that they do not wish to appeal the cases. The District Board in turn feel that such should be done and have placed same in my hands for advice. This, in view of instructions that cases are to be re-opened only when appealed, is a matter for your consideration and decision. To my mind here, upon Attorney for the Government rests the responsibility. May I suggest, however, that you discuss this and reach some definite agreement as to procedure. The Locals have the responsibility of the Department Relations, with the Attorneys as a double check, the same as the District have the full authority in occupational exemption. My suggestion would be an agreement between all the Boards and Attorneys recognizing of course the peculiar responsibility of the Attorneys in this particular instance.

2nd.—Physical Exemption. This is merely a matter of deciding a definite policy for all the State. The confusion here is only caused by the later rulings. To simply unify the practices of the Boards is all that is required here, but such action is absolutely essential.

3rd.—Occupational Exemptions. This phase of the work is especially serious and perhaps most difficult of solution. Of these occupations, that of agriculture demands your attention. The Government is asking for increased crops and acreage and at the same time drafting men. To interpret the regulations and define your duties here will require very careful attention and is worthy of your most serious thought. You will recall last spring in our drive for increased acreage, we found the problem of labor. The question now is even more serious. Reports to this office show that the wheat acreage in Delaware will be less rather than more, which to my mind, demands your consideration of the regulations as found on page 67, where it says "It shall be the duty of each District Board to ascertain by its own methods the existing conditions in industries that may be claimed to be necessary." Further "to ascertain as near as may be the labor supply available for such necessary industries." You will note that you have power "to mobilize and to make such labor more efficient." This can be done by "conditional or temporary discharge as the case may require."

Relative to these questions, there has been some honest criticism. Whether it is merited is for your decision. At least, the question should be discussed and public explanation be given so that we may gain all the support and co-operation possible. Representatives of agriculture have felt so keenly their problems, they have appeared before the President. He naturally in view of your powers of investigation, upholds your actions. There is no disposition of farmers slacking. They are doing their bit, a vital work too, with the same spirit of loyalty as those in other trades and occupations.

I have asked a representative of that interest to appear here today with you and bespeak for him your attention. Also while these questions are entirely within the jurisdiction of the District Board, I shall like to ask the aid and advice of the Locals and Attorneys. They are oftentimes in close touch with the cases at hand and can render helpful advice. In view of the Regulations, I am going to ask that the District Board review all occupational cases that have come before the Board. I am asking this that you may be doubly sure that no errors be made and that Delaware men serve best where they can serve most.

Any question in the minds of any of the Boards should be brought out for full discussion. You are, I take it, all one organization with different duties, which by liberal discussion will aid greatly, the work of all. My point gentlemen, is simply this. We are at war and Delaware is by her very blood bound to do her share.

I thank you for your interest, for your unflinching loyalty in serving well your State and Nation. I ask for a hearty relationship between all the Boards and pledge my best service in anything I can do.

We're all Delawareans and working as such, we will do well, our part.

Respectfully,
John G. Townsend, Jr.

Professor Conover Addresses New Century Club

At the meeting of the New Century Club this week, Professor Conover gave a most interesting lecture on "Socrates as a Hero." That Socrates had been brought up as a sculptor and had fought valiantly in his country's wars before devoting himself to philosophy was not generally known. He spoke most entertainingly of the trials of the much reviled Xantippe, who led the unhappy life of the wife of a genius who was superior to the small things of life and deprived her of the comforts and luxuries dear to the heart of women even in early Greek times.

A musical program followed. Miss Eleanora Duffy sang two songs, and the club united in singing "The Star Spangled Banner" and "America."

The Club voted to send $5.00 to the Engineer's Christmas Fund in France, and $5.00 to the War Children's Relief Association in New York.

You will be delighted with one of these stylish suits for your Thanksgiving outfit, you will be money in pocket if you take advantage of these special new prices in effect today for the first.

$37.50, $27.50, $24.50, $22.50, $18.50 and everyone was higher

(Take elevator 2nd floor.)

Handsome Dress Goods of the regular high quality that you like and priced very reasonably, because they were bought from the best mills months ago. You will find that it is true economy to buy "quality" and not "price," for the very cheap is not cheap at all in point of service, style, or looks. Here you will find "real dress goods" of dependable worth and quality, shown and sold in plenty of pure daylight so that you can see exactly how they will look when you wear them.

Ottoman Cloth, 48 in., in grey, green, burgundy, taupe, navy, black, wisteria and plum, $2.

Storm serge, 45 in., sponged and shrunk, ready to cut, in burgundy, copen, black, navy, green, brown, tan, plum and grey, $1.50 yd.

Chiffon Broadcloth, of superb quality and finish; in the fashionable shades at $3.50 and $4 a yard.

Gun Club Suitings, a wide range of patterns from $1.75 to $3 a yd.

Priestley's Scotch Tweeds, those very good ones, 54 inches wide, in brown, grey and green mixtures, are only $3 a yd.

Velours, are stylish and popular for fashionable cloaks and coats. Of elegant quality, these 54-inch Velours are from $3 to $5 a yd.

SPECIAL—Priestley's English SERGE, 54 inches wide, and all wool, one piece of black and one piece of navy, for only $1.25 a yd. (Dress Goods, First Floor.)

Remnants of Table Linens at Lowered Prices

You may find just what you want for the Thanksgiving table among these. 1-1-2, 2, and 2 1-2 yards long, at less than regular.

Regular goods off the piece, are of snowy whiteness and beautiful quality at fair prices, based on early season preparations. For good linens come to our store. (Basement.)

For freshening up your windows these

Plain Scrims and bordered ones are the nicest thing for curtains. It's easy to make up neat curtains and it is surprising how they add to coziness of your rooms. 12 1-2c to 40c a yard.

Cretonnes in the bright colors for draperies and couch covers, are here in wide variety at from 18c to 60c a yard. Notice particularly the worth and beauty of these at 30c and 33c a yard. It pays to buy good ones. (Third floor, take elevator.)

Rich Furs of Quality and Style

Carefully-selected skins, made up in the correct fashions for this season and in sets or separate pieces as you prefer.

Red Fox Sets, several special numbers, at $42.50; large size, new shapes.

Silver Fox Sets, of handsome skins, nicely made up, are $45.

Bridal Fox Scarfs, in taupe and battleship, are $25 to $35 each.

Black and Taupe Lynx Sets, at $65 to $100 each.

A very pretty selection of good furs in the popular kinds, are from $6 to $40 each. (2nd floor, take elevator.)

These New House Dresses

are washable, comfortable and real stylish, only $2.25

They come in plain dark blue, or grey, in dark blue or grey stripe and in black and white check.

There are several other pretty styles at $1.50, $1.75 and $2 each, all with the fullness in the back. (Second floor.)

Thoroughly Good Raincoats

that keep out the rain—and when that is done a raincoat has accomplished its purpose. You'll pronounce ours good after a thorough test and besides these raincoats have just that cut about them that makes them a "little different"—just a little more desirable. Priced reasonably, too. (2nd floor, take elevator.)

This Muslim Underwear is better than you could make yourself for the same money, because it was ordered long ago when prices for raw materials were much lower. MARCELLA COMBINATIONS, some lace and some embroidery trimmed are here in sizes 38 to 44, beginning at $1.25 and to $3.00. MARCELLA DRAWERS at 69c, 75c, and $1 in the regular sizes and at 85c in the extra sizes are very reasonable, and remember, there are of old high quality.

Very attractive are these hand-embroidered Combinations at $3.00 with Night Gowns to match at $3.50 and $4.00. For Christmas gifts these are very dainty. (2nd floor, take elevator.)

that shed rain like a duck's back are here in all the new fall styles. It's well to be prepared for the rainy day; get your umbrella now. Of strong Union Taffeta with ebony finished handles. These two numbers at $3 and $3.50 are particularly desirable. Silver trimmed ebony handles add much to the styles of these good silk umbrellas at $5, $6.50 and $7 apiece. Silk Umbrellas, in blue, green, red, are $4 to $5.50. Men's Umbrellas covered with long wearing Gloria or Union Taffeta and with those comfortable Prince of Wales handles are only $2 to $3.50 each. (Right inside the Market St. door.)

MAKING SOLDIERS FOR UNCLE SAM

Lt. M. R. Mitchell Writes of Life At Camp Lee, Virginia

315th M. G. Br. Camp Lee, Va. November 7th, 1917

My dear Mr. Johnson: There is nothing so good for the Newark brand of homesickness as the Newark Post. I received my second copy of it today and want you to know that I read it from one end to the other—ads and all, just like one reads a letter.

I get especially lonesome down here because all of the Delaware College men have been transferred. Don't know whether they were too good for this place or what, but Coach McAvoy, Alex Crothers and several others have been moved on to other camps. Only Samowisky, Carl Plumbley, and myself are here now. Samowisky is in the A. M. Training School and expects to be transferred to Jacksonville, Florida. Earl is a "big cheese" in the 320th Infantry. They gave him some thirty thousand dollars worth of stock, a large two-story building, and the title of Regimental Exchange Officer. He must have learned store keeping from his brother; for he has the best canteen in the entire Division.

I was in the 230th myself for a while, and had to pay several prices for everything, but on Oct. 19, was transferred to the 315th Machine Gun Battalion. M. G. Battalions are a branch of the service just being organized and one about which no one knows very much. As yet we have no horses, no machine guns, no pistols and will never receive rifles. But a school has been started for the officers and we are beginning to feel our way into the subject. The lectures are given in part by British and French officers who have just been in service. This morning we learned the nomenclature of the Lewis Machine Gun. They are a wonderfully thought-out piece of machinery. While we learn about the new work we instruct the men in close and extended order drill.

They're a splendid group of men, and it is a pleasure to work with them. They are loyal and true to America as we see by a hundred little acts every day and as was proved in general by this almost unanimous subscription for Liberty Bonds. Even the Negro troops have a fine spirit in the whole matter. They swing happily along at "rout step" singing as only a colored company can. Yesterday as I marched the company on a hike we passed a company of Negroes. They stood to one side of the road, and as we passed gave a cheer that couldn't have been beat by the Delaware Students when the ball went over the line to win over Haverford. And when we turned the next corner we halted to rest. And as the other company passed us in turn, men cheered with equal spirit. That's the spirit that only war could make possible.

Most of our men were foreigners, and a great many do not speak English. But they are all Americans now. Five or six from this company have, or have had, brothers in the Austrian Army. But they are fighting with all their spirit for America and for what they think is right.

There is no problem of discipline. I find the foreigners willing enough to yield a few of our "American Personal Rights" in return for the assurance of a warm place to sleep, good food and clothes. They are not familiar enough with the ideal of "liberty" to mind having every minute of the day definitely prescribed for them. Yesterday when I had finished a half hour lecture on the matter of "desertion in time of war," I asked if there were any questions. One private volunteered, "Ain't none o' us thinking 'bout leaving here, Sir, First man says we go anywhere but France, starts a new war." And the company all gave signs of being of the same mind. Well, one little Italian did fall out of ranks the other day while at "double time" with the remark, "Me go' quit,—no lik' dis job,—want my pay." Like a good many others he was suffering from too long a name. A company's roll call is made up of queer combinations of letters X, y, k, P, n, z, j, and v. Yesterday at Retreat, (we always speak of Retreat as "holding Retreat with the Foreign Legion"), the Captain happened to sneeze. And nine men answered "here."

The men are comfortable. The barracks are large, their clothes new and warm, the food wholesome. The main thing they need is cover. As one private told me today, "Sir, I can't think of a better ventilated piece of furniture than a spring bed without a mattress. When I get up off of those springs in the morning I look like an overdone waffle, and the men play checkers on my back." But mattresses are expected to arrive any day now. We manage to keep them warm in the daytime.

We also find a plenty to do to keep ourselves warm. This is a "trick army" as the men say, and one never knows just how much work is ahead. But I must get to work now. You may trust that where ever Delaware men are in the army they are doing their best to uphold the splendid military record of their state. That is their aim and it is a true and high mark. Very truly yours,

MORRIS MITCHELL
1st Lieut. 315th,
M. G. Battalion.

Man Holds Bridge Falling In Abyss

Should William Duncan, hero of Greater Vitagraph's big serial, "The Fighting Trail," ever elect to quit the screens he could get a job anywhere as a straight out-and-out strong man. His feats of daring and muscle are marvelled at throughout the moving picture world, outside of Vitagraph, and none exceeds in sheer grit and brawn that in which he holds in his two hands and prevents from plunging into a mountain chasm, a suspension bridge, constructed of rope and limbs and on which are Miss Carol Holloway, his co-star, and four men, outlaws.

The nerve-racking scene in the ninth episode is only one of a score in which the outlaws nearly murder the young mining engineer and his bride in an effort to close a

It Came from Snellenburg's

Dad buys all my clothes there 'cause he says they have the most stylish and best wearing boys' clothes in town, and they don't ask to much for 'em, either.

Geel you ought to see the overcoats they have in stock. I hardly knew which one to take 'cause there are so many different styles—just like grown up men wear—military styles with wide collars an' lapels, belts all 'round, slash pockets an' all. Some class to 'em, I'll say.

An' mother says she don't have to worry 'bout whether I look neat 'cause Snellenburg clothes are made so nifty that you simply gotta look dressy. This coat cost twelve bucks an' a half but they have 'em at all prices from $7.50 up

First door--south centre.

Boys' Appreciate Good Clothes

For some reason some parents think it useless to dress a boy stylish--say he doesn't know how to take care of his clothes. Every boy, however, has a touch of pride and give him something he likes and he will surely take care of it. This applies to clothes as well as anything else. For instance, buy him a

Right-Posture

(Snellenburg make and patent) and when he sees the snappy appearance of it and puts on the coat and feels that little patent arrangement hidden away in its back, gently pulling up his stooping shoulders, why say--he can't help being otherwise than proud of that suit and he'll take care of it; too. Prices range from

$8.50 to $15

Sizes 8 to 18 years.

At Snellenburg's--Where Good-Clothes Fellows Get Together

Lots of things are here in overcoats that you'll not see anywhere else; our clothes are made by us. The models, the fabrics, the styles are unique and different. Come and see our overcoats; the one you want is here for you.

Maybe you, like many a young fellow, have a liking for snappy styles--something with plenty of "pep" and "punch", if so we feel that something in one of the popular military models would appeal to you. These models have a free and easy appearance, being made with a full skirt, wide collar and lapel; belted all 'round, the belt being fastened with button or buckle. Oh, there's no doubt about it--you'll like 'em.

On the other hand you may desire something more conservative--something in a style that is to a certain extent staple. Well--we can supply any number of these models and, as in the extreme styles, we have a range of fabrics and colorings to choose from. Prices of course to suit all purses.

BLUE AND GOLD EASY FOR STEVENS

Engineers Trim Delaware At Hoboken 35 to 0 on Saturday

In one of the fastest, cleanest games of football ever played on Castle Point Field, Hoboken, the Stevens Engineers trampled over the Delaware eleven on Saturday afternoon, 35 to 0. From start to finish the Red and Gray had things its own way. Only once, and that at the start of the game, did the Delaware team get inside the Stevens 20 yard line.

Saturday's victory was the sixth consecutive victory for Stevens. In addition to scoring three touchdowns, the Engineers executed nine forward passes faultlessly and missed a tenth. Goodale thrilled the spectators by booting the pigskin over the bars on placement kicks three times.

DELAWARE TO MEET LITTLE QUAKERS

Squad Will Be Trained Hard For Swarthmore Game On Saturday

In view of the poor showing made in the game against Stevens at Hoboken on Saturday the Delaware College football squad is in for an unusually hard week of practice to get in shape for the Swarthmore game to be played here next Saturday. With one or two exceptions the entire Blue and Gold team went to pieces on Saturday and Coach Baumgartner is unable to explain the reversed form showing by most of the men. "The entire team seemed to collapse as a baseball team does occasionally," Coach Baumgartner said on Monday in discussing the game.

"Bill" Stewart and "Mike" Plam were at least two men who played fine ball against Stevens. Early in the first quarter Delaware made several consecutive first downs and carried the ball to Stevens 10 yard line. Stewart and Plam had been making five to eight yards every time they were given the ball. When within striking distance of their opponents goal an attempt was made at a forward pass in stead of continuing the line plunging which had been successful and in this way Delaware lost the ball. This play seemed to take the heart out of the Blue and Gold. The players showed little "pep" after that and Stevens scored almost at will.

Meyers had his foot injured in Saturday's game and will not be in the game next Saturday. McCaughan is showing improvement at end and Coach Baumgartner thinks he will make a star with more experience. In the opinion of the Coach, lack of experience is largely the trouble with the team.

The last time Delaware and Swarthmore met was in 1911, when they played a 0 to 0 game at Swarthmore. While the Little Quakers defeated LaFayette by a one-sided score last Saturday the Delaware boys think they can hold them to a closer score than they did Stevens, although Swarthmore is a much stronger team than Stevens. The entire squad will be coached in defensive work every afternoon this week.

Basketball Schedule

Dean Smith for Manager Ernie Wilson, of the basketball team, reported that the following basketball games have been scheduled: December 14, Stevens at Hoboken; December 15, Pratt Institute at Brooklyn; January 11, Lebanon Valley at Newark; February 1, Moravian at Newark and February 27, Swarthmore at Newark. Games are also pending with LaFayette, St. John's of Annapolis, and Ursinus.

The next meeting of the Council will be held the first Tuesday in December when the football letters will be awarded.
