"The Hoosier Schoolmaster" Is Choice Of
Class Of 1947

Edward Eagleston's entertaining tale takes its theme from a custom, common in certain parts of the United States, about the middle of the last century, of binding out orphaned children as servants until their majority. Hannah, a victim of this custom, is sold to the cruel Means family where she endures her lot gallantly and eventually meets Ralph, the schoolmaster. A romance develops but is quickly thwarted by the schoolmaster's "set" against her. The schoolmaster, who has a sister in Bud Means, the boy's brother. The schoolmaster, for the rise and conceals his affection for the bound girl, Mirandy, who is played by Joan Brown and Bud Means by Sherman White.

Just how Mirandy's deception is unraveled and Ralph and Hannah brought together provides one of the most thrilling scenes in the drama. The remainder of the cast includes: Patricia Reynolds; shrewd Henry Small, Joseph Saccone; the Martha Hawkins, Joyce Wolcott; theling Hank Banta, Horace H. Shockey, Thomas Phillips; Squire Atkins, Alton Haney; and giddy short scene are: Eleanor Brown, Richard Reed, Leslie Sweet, Helen Wollaston and Juliet Walsh.

TO SING PASSION AT ST. THOMAS

Service To Be Held Sun.
At 3:15 P. M.

The choir of St. Thomas Church, augmented by a number of University of Delaware students and faculty members, and under the direction of Mr. J. R. King of the university music department, will perform the seldom heard Passion of Our Lord According to the Gospel of St. John, by Johann Sebastian Bach. The performance will be given this Sunday at 3:30 p. m. in St. Thomas Church, Delaware Avenue and Elkton Road.

This great work begins with the arrest of Christ by the Roman soldiers and carries through to the crucifixion several days later. A great part of the story is told by a narrator, who will be the rector of St. Thomas, the Rev. William H. Hanckel. The chorus assumes the role of the angry mob in the streets. Throughout the entire Passion there are many beautiful chorales that retell the preceding action in poetic form.

Miss Grace Berry, of the music department of the university, will be at the organ. Mr. Gunnar Winckler, cellist, will play one of the arias as a cello solo.

Tickets which will assure the holder of a seat in the church until 3:15, may be secured after the morning service on Sunday, or by calling Miss Edna Samson, Newark 558.

CENTURY CLUBWOMEN MODEL NEW SPRING HATS

March 31
Meeting Is Postponed
To April 14

"Milady's Spring Bonnets" was the theme of a meeting Monday afternoon at the Newark New Century Club in a program which also included Marion's Marionette Show and a brief business session, with Mrs. R. O. Bousman, president, presiding.

Due to the Easter vacation, the group decided to cancel its March 31 meeting. The next regular session will be held April 14, when Dr. Arthur Jackson, pastor of the Newark Methodist Church, will talk on "Comparative Religions."

At the business session, the members heard a report on the club's contributions to birthday parties for veterans at the Walter Reed Hospital and also voted its Youth Program as the club's most successful project for the years 1944-47. The program included such work as: assistance to local girl scouts, awarding of four prizes annually to outstanding Newark school students, sponsoring of Saturday night dances at the club house, and granting use of the building for the summer youth canteen.

Marking St. Patrick's Day, a collection of old Irish linen, flint glass, hand-blown Irish glass, old silver and an antique doll, was displayed on the fine art table.

Highlight of the session was the spring bonnet show which featured a wide variety of original hats, including such novelties as a fascimile of a salad bowl complete with sliced tomatoes and lettuce and model of a hen seated on a nest. Others were designed from vegetables and flowers, and one was made completely of shoulder pads. The most elaborate was a miniature replica of a farm with house, garden, orchard and sunken gardens.

A hat box filled with spring bonnets formed the center-piece of the tea table at which Mrs. T. A. Manns and Mrs. R. W. Heim presided. Mrs. Frank Jamison was hostess, assisted by Mrs. Wesley Wollaston, Mrs. Herman Wollaston, Miss Nell Wilson, Mrs. Henry Wilson and Mrs. Charles Zittle.

Mrs. Charles Cooper was the club's delegate and Mrs. T. D. Mylrea alternate at the Women's Joint Legislative Committee luncheon meeting Tuesday in Dover, where Governor and Mrs. Walter Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. Storey and members of the State Legislature were guests. Others from the local unit who attended were: Mrs. William Adams, Sr., Mrs. Earl Armstrong, Miss Etta Wilson, Mrs. William Adams, Jr., and Mrs. R. O. Baukman.

RETURNS IN FUND DRIVE SHOW DROP

Contributions
Fall Short

A slump in contributions to the local Red Cross drive, with donations during the second week failing to reach the half-way mark toward the $7000 quota, was reported yesterday by Dr. John R. Downes, general chairman.

With only two weeks remaining for the house-to-house canvass, the response must be stepped-up, if the drive is to attain the goal. Solicitors are being urged to comb their zones carefully for persons who have not yet been approached.

Contributions for the first week were highly promising with $2500 turned in by zone captains, but solicitors reported a sharp decline during the second week of the campaign.

Zone captains were also urged to make a report on their total contributions to Dr. Downes this Sunday from 7 to 9 p. m. in the county health offices.

In stressing the need for funds, officials said that 80 per cent of all Red Cross disaster expenditures each year are for rehabilitation of stricken families who have no other resources. They need clothing, medical care, rebuilding or repair of homes, and often aid in regaining a self-supporting basis.

Contributions to the Special Gift drive now total $1535, according to an incomplete report by J. K. Johnston, chairman. The committee includes Leon Ryan, J. I. Dayett, H. L. Bonham and N. N. Wright.

Seeks Seventh Term

George E. Ramsey

TWO FILE THIS WEEK FOR VOTING ON APRIL 8

Three Now
In Running;
No Opposition
Looms As Yet

No contests have developed as yet in the municipal election set for April 8, although two more candidates filed this week for the remaining two openings on the ticket. All candidates are thus far running without opposition, with the deadline for filing set for 12 noon, March 29.

George Ramsey filed on Tuesday for reelection from the middle district, and on the same day, R. A. Whorick, newcomer to the local political scene, filed in the western district, where Norris N. Wright, the incumbent, announced he did not intend to run for reelection.

Last week's article, stating that John S. Hopkins' term and not Mr. Ramsey's was due to expire this month, was incorrect. Mr. Hopkins has another year in office.

Mr. Ramsey, a veteran council member, will be seeking his seventh term on the local governing body. Mr. Wheelless, a retired businessman and town zoning commission chairman, will be running for council office for the first time.

As announced last week, Norman Battersby, whose term will also expire this month, was the first to file for reelection, seeking his third term from the eastern district.

The polls will be open from 1 to 6 p. m. on April 8 in the offices of the Council of Newark, 26 Academy Street. Candidates seeking office must file a written notice with the secretary of Council, Vernon Steele, before 12 noon on March 29.

Freeholders and non-property owners whose property and capitation taxes are paid will be eligible to vote.

ENGINEERING IS TOPIC AT ROTARY CLUB

Technician's
Place In Modern World Described

Leroy E. Grettum, a representative of the Pusey and Jones Corporation discussed "Engineering in the Modern World" at the weekly session of the Newark Rotary Club on Monday night, with W. S. Hamilton presiding.

Pointing out that over a half million engineers in all fields are currently employed in the United States, Mr. Grettum lauded the work of engineers in providing technical advances which have helped provide this country with a standard of living second to none.

However, he said, the present social, political and economic ills afflicting the world cannot be solved by the technician. He emphasized that scientists are not qualified to provide solutions to normal problems, which, he claimed, are the concern of the statesman and religious leader.

Last week's session featured a demonstration of the new automobile telephone by an official of the Diamond State Telephone Company. A car equipped with a telephone was displayed to the members and details of the mechanism were explained.

LEGION AND LIONS VOTE TO POSTPONE NEW CHARTER

Resolutions Say
New Rule Needs
Further Study
Before Passage

Resolutions opposing the adoption of a new town charter at this time and claiming the current draft needs further study were passed by the Newark Lions Club and the J. A. O'Daniel Post, No. 10, American Legion, at separate sessions Tuesday night.

The Lions' measure read: "The club is opposed to adoption of a new town charter at this time and recommends further public discussion and study with a view to revision of the present charter or adoption of the new charter at the next session of the Legislature."

The Legion protest said: "The post is opposed to the passage of Senate Bill No. 303 relative to a new charter for the town of Newark. We feel that this bill is not in proper form for passage during the present session of the State Legislature. We will cooperate with the citizens, other organizations, and the council to try to formulate an acceptable bill for passage at the next session of the Legislature."

Both groups charged the current charter draft contains numerous technical imperfections, showed indications of having been drawn up over-hurriedly and was pushed through without proper recourse to public opinion on its new provisions.

Although neither group officially listed specific objections, open discussions at the Lions' meeting brought protests from members on the voting regulations, the provisions for securing town revenue and the right of council to appoint a city manager without a public vote.

The Legion members objected chiefly to the continuation of the capitation and property taxes.

Both resolutions grew out of discussions at previous meetings and a careful check of the current charter draft made at a special meeting Monday night by representatives of the two civic clubs along with town authorities.

NHS STAFF LAUDED BY P.T. A. HEAD

Teachers Here
Are Praised For Staying On Job

Earl Wyatt, president of the Newark Parent-Teacher Association, paid tribute last week to the teachers of the Newark Public School for remaining on the job during the recent teacher demonstration in Dover. His remarks were made at the March meeting of the P.T. A. last Thursday in the school auditorium, where he lauded local faculty members for standing by their professional responsibilities.

Speaker of the evening was Dr. George R. Miller, state superintendent of public instruction, whose topic was "Challenge of youth." Stressing that "youth is not a problem but youth has problems," Dr. Miller said that young people should be led to develop four principle attitudes—faith in men and themselves, ability to assume responsibilities, appreciation of spiritual values and appreciation of cultural standards.

A prize for the highest percentage of parent attendance at the session went to Miss Helen Douthy's class.

Details of an elaborate program to be presented by the school's physical education department at the April P.T. A. meeting were also disclosed. Open house for friends and parents will be held, and the program will offer student demonstrations, films and explanatory talks. The program is in line with the P.T. A. policy of giving parents an over-all picture of the student's school life. Mrs. Grace Gibb and Walter Matt will be in charge.

Services Today For Bobby Vannoy

Rev. Evan W. Renne was in charge of the funeral services conducted this afternoon for Robert G. Vannoy at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Vannoy, Nottingham Road.

Bobby, who was three and one-half years old, had been ill for sometime with a cold which later developed into pneumonia and caused his death on Monday evening, March 17.

Interment was in New London Cemetery, New London, Pa.

Claim Price Cut Needed To Avoid Business Drop

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics predicted recently business activity will fall off 5 to 10 per cent in the last half of 1947 unless there is a quick drop in the cost of living.

It said the setback would lead to a cut of 8 to 12 per cent in income payments to individuals in the second six months of the year, force wholesale food prices down 15 to 20 per cent and lop possibly 20 to 25 per cent off what the farmer expects to get for his crops this fall.

"An immediate drop in the cost of living and consumer durable goods would improve the outlook, the bureau added, 'by causing real income of wage and salary earners to rise to a level consistent with a continued high level of business activity.'"

But it said:

"Such a flexibility in the price structure has rarely been observed."

The trend was still the other way in a price report issued last night by another government agency, the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Tourists Spend Over 400 Million Abroad Last Year

United States tourists spent $430,000,000 last year in foreign countries, not counting boat and plane fares to get there, the Commerce Department estimated recently.

That was nearly double the $218,000,000 spent by foreigners to travel in this country. Canadians accounted for about half of that.

Spending by U. S. tourists in other countries ran $110,000,000 higher than in 1945 and only $53,000,000 below boom-time 1929, the peak year.

Nearly half their total expenditures, or $200,000,000, was in Canada. Mexico got about $120,000,000 and the Caribbean area $35,000,000.

National Survey Of Highway Needs Urged

The Association of Highway Officials of the North Atlantic States recently closed its 23rd annual convention with a request that the federal Public Roads Administration undertake a study of the highway needs of the 48 states.

Such a study, said a resolution passed by 1,000 delegates representing 11 states and the District of Columbia, would guide Congress when it will "again have before it the problem of highway aid to the states."

The convention called on Congress to approve a bill to extend for one year the availability of funds authorized by the Federal Highway Act of 1944.

When you read this it will be Spring. Several of us can't wait boys tried to rush the season Sunday by playing a round of golf, despite a chilling breeze. We didn't ask questions but just had fun . . . but it wasn't funny for a couple of them the next day—when they were bedded with colds. March, so far, has certainly lived up to its reputation.

Elmer Wheeler, writing in Nation's Business, says: "Tricks of the trade! You find them everywhere."

"There is the theatre usher who points to the balcony and says, 'This way to the best seats.' He avoids the word 'balcony.'

"The shoe clerk who removes your shoe quickly and places it ten paces away so you can't suddenly leave the store while he searches for your size."

"The cafeteria that puts desserts first in line, before you have loaded your tray with meat and potatoes."

"The grocery that grinds coffee where the aroma floats around the cash register so quick sales can be registered."

"The cashier or mutuels seller who shoves change at you in two motions—the first fast motion shoving out almost all the change while the second follow-up motion slowly hovers over the last dime or quarter . . . but often you are off on the first shove."

"You will find trickery and tricks side by side. Find trickery and you are through; but find the tricks of the trade and you are in for business success."

We have Mr. Handloff's word for it that Newark will definitely have a new theatre just as soon as it's erection can be contemplated with any degree of assurance for satisfactory completion. To be larger, more modern and luxurious than the State, the new cinema will be located on Main Street, across from the present theatre.

All persons who contributed, in 1946, to the Newark Recreation Association are members of that organization—and are urged to attend an election meeting at the office of Dr. John R. Downes on April 1, when nine directors will be elected—3 for 3 years, 3 for 2 years and 3 for 1 year . . . this it NOT April Fool propaganda.

Who is Apprentice Jockey Jimmie Baird (said to be from Newark) who appears to have clinched jockey honors on the Florida West Coast where he has ridden 39 winners in 45 days of racing at Sunshine Park?

While discussing with friends that Clara Bow was "Mrs. Hush," their 14-year-old son countered with, "Who is Clara Bow?" Do you remember when she was the "IT" girl? . . . or are you sensitive about your age?

For you who want to make a dollar (go) quick—Eastern horse racing opens at Bowie on April 1 . . . and that is April Fool propaganda.

We apologize to Councilmen John Hopkins and George Ramsey for an item in this paper last week which said that Mr. Hopkins term expires this year. Mr. Hopkins' term does not expire until next year. Mr. Ramsey, whose name was not mentioned in the article, is up for reelection on April 8 and has filed his intention of being a candidate to succeed himself, in the Middle District.

One of the oldest members of the Council, in point of service, Mr. Ramsey is completing his twelfth year on the town Board with an enviable record. In debt to the tune of about $200,000 when Mr. Ramsey first took office, the town is now free of indebtedness, has added many improvements and has approximately $120,000 cash on hand.

In the Eastern District, Norman Battersby, also has filed intentions of seeking reelection.

"Twould appear that we are to lose the valued, accomplished and appreciated services of Councilman Norris N. Wright, in the Western District, who does not choose to run due to the press of other interests . . . which is easily understandable. However, the Town may well count itself fortunate that a man of such calibre as Fred A. Wheelless has filed as a candidate from the Western District to succeed Mr. Wright."

As of Wednesday morning no other candidates had filed intentions of seeking election to the Town Council . . . although the grapevine has it that there may be other candidates emanating from G. I. ranks—this, however, we are inclined to view with skepticism.

Also, at this writing, it appears extremely unlikely that the proposed new town charter will be approved by the legislature before it adjourns . . . this despite the fact that many have been clamoring for a new charter for more years than we care to remember. And now it is meeting with considerable agitation and opposition from many of the very same sources that yelled most loudly for a new charter.

The Lieut.-Col. George E. Fletcher decorated recently in Prague by the Czechoslovakian government with the Order of Military Merit, First Class, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Fletcher and the brother of A. William (Flash) Fletcher, former sports editor of this rag.

Headline: "College Girls Make Skirts" . . . We thought that was strictly a man's job.

The Turf Club, popular rendezvous during the boom-boom days, leveled by fire last Wednesday—just a week after it was purchased by Isidore Sarapulski.

Daylight Saving Time scheduled to make its debut at 12:01 Sunday morning, April 27.

30-DAY DELAWARE PARK MEET TO OPEN MAY 29; PLAN DAILY JUMP RACE

New Steeplechase Stake To Be Established; Program Will Double Number Of Jump Races; Flat Race Program Not Settled

Delaware Park, where the 1947 race meeting will begin on May 29, will have a jumping race every day, a new departure for the track, and one which will establish the longest period of through the field races at any course in America. The announcement was made by J. Gilbert (Gil) Haus, new racing secretary, following a conference with President Don Ross and General Manager Bryan Field.

As is traditional, Delaware Park will run thirty days, and a new hurdles course has just been completed, Haus revealed. This gives Delaware the unique distinction in this country of having three jumping courses. There is the usual two mile steeplechase course, the large championship or cup course which goes out into the "country," and the new hurdles course which will be within the oval of the track proper.

To inaugurate the new plan, which more than doubles the number of jumping races at Delaware, there will be a new steeplechase stake established. At present Delaware Park renews the $10,000 Indian River Steeplechase Handicap, and the $10,000 Georgetown Steeplechase Handicap, as well as terminating the three-day Spring Maiden Steeplechase which begins at Pimlico, continues at Belmont Park, and reaches its climax at Delaware.

Haus said that the conditions of the new stake were very unusual, and marked a different concept in awarding the trophy. An announcement will be made giving the facts of the new stake next week following the report of a committee headed by Bayard Sharp who, in addition to being one of the best known owners of steeplechasers in the country, also is a director of the Delaware Steeplechase and Race Association.

It was made clear by the new Racing Secretary that his policy will be to dovetail with New York steeplechasing in every way, so as to avoid conflict with the Aqueduct meeting which runs at about the same time. The Georgetown and the Indian River will be run late in the meeting, at the time of the Empire City session which has no jumping events. The Spring Maiden will be run in its usual place, midway of the meeting, while the new stake probably will be run very early, at a time when the Belmont meeting is under way.

Haus said the details of the regular flat racing stake program had not yet been completed, but that horsemen could be sure the quality and value of the races would be maintained.

NEWARK TO MEET DEL. CITY TONITE IN SEMI-FINALS OF COUNTY BASKETBALL LOOP

Local Quintet, Downed In First Of 3-Game Series, Needs Victory To Stay In Race For Finals; Tilt Will Be Played At Marshallton

The Newark A. A. cagers, who copped fourth place in the New Castle County Basketball League, will meet Delaware City tonight on the Marshallton School court in the second match of a 3-game semi-final play-off series for loop honors.

The local courtmen, who lost to Delaware City, 37-29, in the first of the semi-final contests, must win tonight if they are to remain in the league race and earn a place in the finals. Worth Steel, who finished first in the league standings, will meet Pittsburgh Glass in the second game of the twin-bill, which will also be the second match in the semi-final playoffs.

All four teams finished in the top four places in the regular league standing and were paired in the semi-finals. The winners will meet in the finals play-off next week.

After clinching fourth place by downing Wilmington A. C., 53-44, Newark lost to Delaware City, 37-29, in the opening semi-final match on Monday night. Delaware City's Jordan virtually defeated the locals single-handedly when he poured in 11 action shots and three fouls for a 25 point total. Morrow with three field goals and five fouls was the top scorer for Newark.

State Legionnaires Oppose Vet Medal

Dr. J. A. Wilker, commander of the State Department, American Legion, has announced that the executive committee of the Legion in Delaware has gone on record as opposing the issuance of a medal for Delaware veterans of World War II.

The committee recommended that funds that might be used in development and distribution of the proposed medal be devoted instead to child welfare or other related programs. Opposition was also expressed to two bills now before the General Assembly which would put a $50 a month ceiling on State Board of Welfare aid to dependent children.

Bears and Marconi will be out to whip the rougher Kovacz and Finklestein, which means that the fans will see plenty of action before the task is accomplished.

In the semi-windup Marvin Mercer, the popular youngster from Reading, Pa., is slated to tangle with Eddie Parquette of France. Parquette hasn't displayed his wares here in quite some time, but he is rugged enough to give Mercer a good battle.

DELAWARE FARM FRONT THIS WEEK

New Extension Folder Explains 4-H Club Work

When bagworms start feeding on trees and shrubbery about farmsteads in late spring, they often do a lot of damage before they are discovered. These pests, called bagworms because they spin a silken sack or bag about themselves soon after hatching, can often be controlled during late winter or early spring by removing all of the bags or cocoons by hand.

Because bagworm females lay eggs in the bags, all cocoons picked off should be burned. Care must be taken that all bags are removed, because enough worms can hatch from one bag to infest an entire tree.

A well-managed dairy farm must have an abundance of high-quality pasture continuously available from early in the spring until late in the fall. Good pastures, however, are not produced by accident or wishful thinking. They are the result of careful planning, correct fertilization and intelligent management.

For best results, fertilizer should be applied to established pastures early this spring as soon as the frost is out of the ground. The moisture in the soil at this time insures that the fertilizer will be dissolved and become available to the plants.

If the pasture sod contains clovers of any kind an 8-14-7 or 8-12-12 fertilizer should be applied at the rate of 300 to 400 pounds to the acre. If the sod is mostly grasses, a fertilizer containing twelve per cent of nitrogen may be used at the same rate.

George Dewey Sapp of Kent County was the first Delaware boy to enroll in a 4-H Corn Club member in 1915 and first to enroll as a member of the Houghton 4-H Club which was the first officially organized 4-H Club in Delaware.

Mr. Sapp, was State corn club champion, later the first representative at the Inter-National 4-H training school at Camp Vail, Springfield, Massachusetts, and after passing 4-H age became a local leader. Throughout his life Mr. Sapp was a constant inspiration as a 4-H leader, a good farmer and a good citizen. His daughters have been active in the same club.

Records of girls' club work in Delaware indicate that in 1914 individual girls in New Castle County earned many quarts of tomatoes under the supervision of Mrs. Nellie F. Snyder, a leader living near Newport, Delaware. For several years thereafter girls' club work was confined to canning.

Two NHS Girls Compete For Rollins Scholarship

Eleanor Brown and Florence Thomas, members of the senior class at Newark High School, recently took the Rollins College Honor Scholarship Tests, supervised by Frederick B. Kots, principal, the winner to receive a $400 scholarship award. Rollins College is located in Winter Park, Florida.

The test included English, History, Social Studies, Mathematics, which the students were required to take; Art, Literature, and Language, from which the students were to choose one. The examinees were allowed seventy minutes to complete the English test, and two hours for the remaining tests. All tests were returned to Rollins College for marking.

Army Day Observance In State To Stress Recruiting

The Army's six men representing famous fighting divisions will arrive in Wilmington on the 24th of March for a one-day stay, it was announced by Captain Walter G. Runte, commanding officer of the Wilmington recruiting station.

The six men were flown home from the Pacific, theater to stimulate Army enlistments in their respective divisions.

Seeking suitable replacements, the men will tour the entire First Army Area, making public appearances and speeches before civic, fraternal and service organizations.

The GI's, 11 sergeants, represent the 1st Cavalry Division, the 6th and 7th Infantry Divisions, the 11th Airborne Division and the 24th and 25th Infantry Divisions. All are on occupation duty in the Pacific Theater.

In unison the GI's reiterated the War Department's plea for suitable replacements to fill the gaps left by the rapid demobilization of our Army. All companies are below strength, they say, and only by receiving replacements and building up our strength in the Pacific can we expect to remain an influential power in the family of nations we have committed ourselves to watch over.

YOU GET WHAT YOU WANT AT THE TIRE CENTER WHERE ONE-STOP-MINDED MOTORISTS ALWAYS GO

It's not necessary to drive around or make a half-dozen stops to get work done on an automobile, make sure it is filled up with gasoline, the oil checked and thoroughly lubricated. The Tire Center, Inc., takes care of all these things and adds a note of personalized endeavor, too, that is appreciated by scores of motorists. The location at 11th and French Streets, Wilmington, is a credit to its versatile management.

M. William Lower, president and general manager of The Tire Center, opened the business in 1923 and made a progressive move in 1933—right in the midst of the depression—when he took over the location at 11th and French Sts.

A year and a half ago Mr. Lower added a branch at 3700 Market Street and this has enhanced the standing and acceptance of the concern still more. New Castle County is well served by The Tire Center. Three trucks are available for road service anywhere in the surrounding area and many a motorist has expressed his thanks that he has been within easy range of the location.

Local distributor for U. S. tires and batteries, the firm specializes in recapping and vulcanizing, while a general line of accessories is offered.

Tyrol gasoline and Vedol motor oils are sold, with washing, greasing, wheel aligning and balancing and other services provided.

HYMAN REIVER AND CO. IS OLDEST SHADE FIRM IN AREA; YOUNG EXECUTIVES ARE WAR VETERANS

A firm that has done an impressive job for an extended period of time is Hyman Reiver and Company which owes its success of a policy of exacting thoroughness in the window shade business and related fields.

Reorganized and re-named January 1, the firm had its beginning 32 years ago. For a quarter-century it has been located at 608 King Street.

Window shades, Venetian blinds, floor coverings of the inlaid type, asphalt, tile and rubber tile and other products, including the new Goodrich product, are sold.

The business has the largest stock of curtain rods in Delaware.

Hyman Reiver operated the business as an individual down through the years until his sons, Julius, president, and Ernest, secretary and treasurer, returned from the armed forces and instituted a wider range of service than had been in force before. The senior Mr. Reiver is vice-president.

Julius spent four years in the ETO, attaining the rank of commander of Battery D, 110th AA Brigade. His outfit shot down the first German plane to be brought to earth by an American gun crew. Ernie Pyle visited the unit and Mr. Reiver came to know him well.

Ernest spent six years in the Navy. He was in the Pacific with PT Squadron No. 3, in action against the Japs.

THOUSANDS KNOW AMERICAN RESCUE WORKERS AS THEIR FRIEND IN NEED and the greatest of these is charity. Probably no truer words were ever spoken and American Rescue Workers has borne out this great thought to the letter.

The famous organization whose work among the needy dates back to the 1890's has Wilmington headquarters at 426 West Front Street from where the entire state is served.

Clothing, cast-off furniture, papers and other items are collected by the firm to be given to the needy—such as the wearables—or turned into cash so that purchases of food, coal and other necessities can be the basic part of the national organization's program.

Major Norman B. Smallwood is an ordained minister and, as the executive officer of the American Rescue Workers unit in Delaware has had ample opportunity to fall back on his ministerial teachings as well as help the needy with material things.

Volunteer contributions help the cause along, while many individual benefactors are invaluable supporters of the organization with headquarters in Philadelphia.

The door is always open to the needy at the ARW.

NATIONAL SAFETY ROAD MARKERS NEW TREND IN CUTTING HIGHWAY DEATHS

A nationally known expert on traffic safety said that the number of persons alive today who owe their existence to the white line that runs down the middle of most highways cannot be estimated.

The white line is a major safety measure, but a little on the primitive side compared with the product of National Safety Road Markers, Inc., 9th and Church Streets, Wilmington, which has been carrying on research under the direction of F. J. Farrell since 1937.

A year ago the present concern was opened and it has already developed its facilities to open distributors in the East, with the Middle West soon to benefit from its work. International distribution is looked for in the near future by National Safety Road Markers, Inc.

Wilmington will soon see the full value of the thermal plastic which is produced by the concern and imbedded in the highway. Markers will be installed from Tatnall Street to Van Buren Street assisting both pedestrians and motorists in getting a better definition of the crossing.

The backlash of passing tires keeps the markers clean.

Every Department Of Photography Is In Ambitious Roster At Kershaw Studio

Believing that in completeness it will be able to better serve its customers, Kershaw Studio, 10th and King Streets, Wilmington, has ascertained that nothing was omitted from the full complement of its service right at the start.

John B. Kershaw directs the business. He has been established in photography 15 years, 12 of which have been spent in Wilmington. Other Kershaw studios are well known to residents of Fredericksburg, Belvoir and Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and New Jersey, generally.

SCIENTISTS ORGANIZE TO CURB BLIGHT

Plan Forecast

To help prevent serious damage to the tomato crop during 1947 if the tomato late blight disease appears, plant pathologists from Florida to Maine and as far west as Minnesota have organized a forecasting service to make constant observations on the development and spread of the disease.

Delaware's "forecaster" is Dr. John W. Heuberger, extension service plant pathologist. Dr. Heuberger together with fellow-pathologists in other states will make weekly reports of their observations to Dr. Paul Miller of the Plant Disease Survey Service, Beltsville, Maryland. From these weekly reports will be prepared a nation-wide summary which will also be sent weekly to each forecaster to serve as a basis for control recommendations to farmers.

With this information Dr. Heuberger hopes to be able to keep Delaware tomato growers currently informed as to whether or not the blight disease is headed toward Delaware and to advise them on what steps to take to control it should an outbreak appear certain.

Dr. Heuberger says that the disease can appear in Delaware from any of all of the three following sources: infected sprouts on infected potatoes, infected southern-grown plants, and wind-borne spores from diseased areas in the states to the south of Delaware.

CHICKEN CONTEST PLANNED

State Bids For '48 Chicken-Of-Tomorrow Test

The members of the state committee of the Delaware Chicken-Of-Tomorrow Contest have extended an invitation to the National Committee to hold the final contest in Delaware in 1948, announces A. E. Tomhave, Committee Chairman and Head of the Department of Animal and Poultry Industry at the University of Delaware.

The rules of the National Chicken-Of-Tomorrow Contest in 1948 require that contestants ship hatching eggs from their flocks to a central hatchery where they will be hatched and reared under careful supervision and identical conditions.

"As the leading broiler producing state in the world and with ample facilities available in Delaware to stage such a contest, it is our hope that the National Committee will see fit to locate the 1948 contest in Delaware," says Mr. Tomhave.

Tomhave reveals, too, that under the 1947 contest rules, Delaware poultrymen who wish to participate in the contest can only enter chicks hatched between March 24 and 28. From 50 to 300 straight run chicks of known breeding which can be duplicated for the 1948 contest may constitute an entry.

For complete information on the 1947 contest poultrymen should write to W. C. Skoglund, Newark, Secretary of the Delaware Chicken-Of-Tomorrow Contest Committee.

ALLOT FOOD FOR SCHOOL LUNCH PLAN

National Act Supplements Del. Program

Delaware school children will receive plenty of Vitamin C in their mid-day meals in the form of tomato juice, orange juice and fruit jam, reports Ingwald B. Saboe, Assistant State Director of the Production and Marketing Administration.

Under the provisions of the National School Lunch Act, Delaware has been allocated 4,800 gallons of tomato juice, 11,250 pounds of fruit jam and 1,770 gallons of concentrated orange juice to supplement the foods now being used in the School Lunch Program.

Purchasers of these foods were made with funds available to the Secretary of Agriculture under the National School Lunch Act. The concentrated orange juice was purchased from the current Florida crop and the other products were purchased out of military inventory surpluses.

"The primary purpose of distributing these commodities," explains Saboe, "is to supplement our school lunches from a nutritional standpoint. It has been found that school lunches are sometimes deficient in vitamin C, especially during the winter months and early spring when fresh vegetables are not in season locally. These foods will be served as a vitamin C supplement to the regular noontime lunch and not as a substitute for milk or some of the other necessary foods. The jam is particularly desirable due to the shortage of sugar and the important place which bread occupies in a school lunch."

Saboe further revealed that at the present time 60 Delaware schools are participating in the School Lunch Program and are serving mid-day meals to approximately 12,000 children.

If you do, you'll get your number. If you don't, you may get the wrong number or no number at all.

It's much easier to listen for that hum-m-m-m than to dial all over again.
