

SCHUTZMAN BETRAYS NON-FRATERNITY CAUSE, REFERENDUM TO BE POSTPONED

...Dirty Politics...

Throwing all sense of fairness and legality to the winds, Noah Schutzman and his fraternity controlled Student Council plainly illustrated at a meeting yesterday the necessity for a reform of student government. They have illegally postponed the referendum to have been held next week during College Hour.

It is clearly evident that this move will backfire and will do more than anything to aid the cause of the reform group in their attempt to change the present outrageous plan of representation.

This latest political move on the part of the "fraternity" Council, conceived in the fertile brain of its president, is the most stupid and disgusting piece of illegal legislation we have yet seen. Motivated by the idea that the reform movement might win if given a chance in the immediate future to vote on the issue, Schutzman declares that he "does not want anyone to be forced to vote."

To us, this argument is flimsy and unconvincing, insofar as the students going to College Hour are under no compulsion to vote any certain way and do not even have to vote at all. The fraternities had no such objection three years ago when they desired to have a social program that benefited them voted upon during a required College Hour when everyone had to be present.

The date was set for this Tuesday at College Hour. There has been no legal action by the Council to set aside this date since there was not a quorum present at Thursday's meeting. However, we can easily see that the referendum will not be held at that time; we know that Mr. Schutzman will not and cannot be bothered by such a trifle as legality.—T.W.M.

Ship Featured In Decorations For Theta Chi Formal

Members and guests of Theta Chi fraternity will go nautical in a big way at their annual formal dance to be held in Old College Commons tonight from 9:00 to 1:00.

Decorations for the dance will be predominately red and white, the fraternity colors. The floor will be roped off to form the deck of a ship with the orchestra playing in the bow. Sea scenes will decorate the panels on the walls of the Commons, while flags, life preservers, anchors, and a ship's wheel will give the room a sea-like atmosphere.

A suggestion was made to have a false floor mounted on a swivel in the middle of the room to give the effect of a steamer's roll. This, however, was rejected because it was thought dangerous.

Bill Dunbar and his orchestra will provide the music for the dance. He features a girl vocalist and a wood-wind section. His ten piece orchestra includes four saxophones, four brass, traps, and an electrical guitar.

At the dance the annual presentation of the president's key will take place. This tradition was started in 1923 when Theta Chi was established at Delaware College. "Doc" Clendaniel retiring president will present the Key to Leon Heck during the course of the dance.

The receiving line will include, Dr. and Mrs. Hullihen, Dr. and Mrs. Kado, Dean Golder, Mrs. Bonham, Mr. Frank Clendaniel and Miss Jean Chambers.

Council Cancels Vote At Meeting Thursday, No Quorum Present

With only seven members of the Student Council present at a special meeting held yesterday at one o'clock, that "governing body" decided to postpone the referendum which was scheduled for Tuesday.

Although there was not a quorum present, and although the Council could not act legally without a quorum, President Noah Schutzman accepted a motion (largely suggested by himself previously as a retaliatory measure) and called for a vote to cancel Tuesday's referendum. The motion was passed by the five fraternity men present over the protests of the two non-frat representatives, and despite the absence of a quorum, was stated to be effective legislation by Schutzman. The meeting then adjourned until this Monday night when the Council will decide on the time and place of the referendum.

Frank J. Moore

It is with sincere regret we announce the death of Frank J. Moore, custodian in University Hall. Long in failing health, Mr. Moore died at his home on South College Avenue on Tuesday evening. Mr. Moore was in his twenty-seventh year of employment at the University, having previously served in Recitation Hall. He was employed on October 1, 1941, and was long a good friend of the student body.

The reasons given for postponing the referendum was that a required College Hour scheduled at the same time would "interfere." The fraternity representatives ignored suggestions of non-fraternity members to vote on the proposed amendments to the constitution at this College Hour on ballots distributed to students as they entered Mitchell Hall and which would be collected as they left.

Three years ago initiative proceedings to change the social set-up on the campus were conducted in a similar manner. Non-frat leaders charge that although the plan was a success at that time, it is not being again adopted because frat leaders are afraid the present reform movement will go through, and are therefore waiting for the issue to die out through lack of interest.

E. Lynch, D. Welsh Win Zeisberg Gift For Engineering

Edward H. Lynch and Daniel G. Welsh, students of the University of Delaware were awarded first and second prizes respectively in the F. C. Zeisberg Award of the Philadelphia-Wilmington Section of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, by David T. Shaw, Chairman of the Section on April 8, 1941.

The prizes took the form of books, chosen by the recipients, to the value of $20.00 for the first prize, and $10.00 for the second.

This award is given in memory of F. C. Zeisberg for excellence in the preparation of the reports to be contested for each year by senior students in chemical engineering at Bucknell University, University of Delaware, Drexel Institute of Technology and University of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Zeisberg was a prominent member of this Section and was beginning his second term as president at the time of his death in November, 1938.

During his lifetime, Mr. Zeisberg was noted for his facility with the English language and for his clear and concise presentation of technical subject matter. He took a very keen interest in the training of chemical engineering students in this direction and the idea of the award is to perpetuate his efforts.

Class Elections Carried By Independents; Eight Of Twelve Offices Taken By Non-Fraternity Group

Non-Frats Make Clean Sweep Of Senior Class Offices; Houser Wins

Leading a completely victorious non-fraternity ticket, James Houser was elected president of next year's Senior Class.

Houser, an active Junior in the Arts and Science school, led his ticket which swept into office Gil Thornton, vice-president; Ivan Herr, secretary; and Norman Lord, treasurer.

The new president is a former star of the football team, a charter member of the Newman Club, and an organizer of the Government Club.

Gil Thornton is a present candidate for the presidency of the Ag Club and is newly elected treasurer of the Newman Club.

Herr, an engineer, has been active in the A.S.M.E. and is very popular in the Engineering School.

The new treasurer, Norman Lord, is a well known campus character having played football on Frazer Field and broken dishes in the Commons for the last three years.

The elections were characterized by a plurality of split ballots as were the Junior and Sophomore elections. Houser displayed his wide popularity by about a 25% majority.

Tom Skripps Is Elected President Of Juniors Mowbray Is Vice-Pres.

Junior Class elections were held Tuesday during college hour in the west wing of Old College. Tommy Skripps was elected President, Al Mowbray, Vice-President; Dave Snellenburg, Secretary and Bill Miller, Treasurer.

Because of the Junior Prom, the Junior Class President is the most important class officer. He has to make the arrangements for the Prom, and has to supervise the work done by his various committees. Tommy Skripps is a man well suited for the job. He has been very active in school affairs and is well liked by both Fraternity and Non-Fraternity groups.

Al Mowbray, the only Fraternity man elected to a Junior Class office, is also a popular man around the campus. He is a member of the Sigma Nu Fraternity. Al is an engineer and is interested in the A. S. M. E.

Dave Snellenburg has been an active member of the REVIEW staff and is at present a co-editor of the "Cauldron." He has also contributed to Mitchell Hall productions.

Bill Miller is a student of mechanical engineering and is well-liked by the members of the class.

Fraternities Take Three Out Of Four Offices In S. Class. Kelley Pres.

This year's Freshman Class fairly jammed the polls in Wolf Hall Auditorium on Tuesday, April 15 to elect their class officers for the coming term.

The polls were open for forty minutes but everyone had ample time to cast his vote. The results of this election were: Jim Kelly, Sigma Nu, president; John Annand, Independent, vice-president; George Grier, Sigma Nu, Secretary; and Steve Stewart, Theta Chi, treasurer.

All of the new officers are very popular on the campus. They all participate in such activities as swimming, manager of the varsity football team, and reporting on the REVIEW.

The election was outstanding in that the majority of ballots cast were split. Non-Fraternity and fraternity candidates received very few votes for their entire ticket, in some instances the ballots showing a complete lack of care over any such issue. The election was similar to that held by last year's Freshman Class in which all offices in the class went to fraternity men with the exception of that of vice-president. Jack Phillips, Independent candidate last year, won the office by a large majority.

Non-fraternity leaders decried yesterday's action as further evidence of the despotic and tyrannical student government administered by the fraternity controlled Student Council. Only five non-fraternity men are permitted on the Council.

Al Mock, leader of the reform group said, "This is merely another instance of the bad faith displayed by the fraternity machine. Even though they attempted to confuse the voters at last Tuesday's class elections by deliberately misarranging the ballots, the non-frats still won two-thirds of the offices. We know now that they are really afraid that a change for the better will occur."

The reformists said that they believed "Mr. Schutzman and his cohorts" would now try to hold the referendum at a time when commuters could not be adequately informed of it and that they expected further limitations on the time allowed for voting. They further stated that the only reason non-frats won most of the class elections was due to the fact that everyone was well informed before hand. They further charged that the only election won by the frats was probably an outcome of no assigned non-frat representative being at the polls in Wolf Hall.

Our Analysis . . .

We beg to differ with our co-editor on his analysis of the class elections held last Tuesday. Since he was not present at the actual counting of the ballots, his assumption is more than a little erroneous (they are stated in the editorial on martyrs).

These elections as contrasted to those of last year reveal a plurality of split tickets in every class. They further reveal the complete absence of any organized non-fraternity machine or pressure. This last statement will probably be taken as non-fraternity propaganda by many people, but anyone who was present at the counting will confirm the point.

The elections held by next year's Sophomore and Junior classes were surprising in that the vice president in each class was of a different political faith than the rest of the ticket elected. This adequately proves that when a popular man is put up, he will be elected regardless of his ticket.

The only straight ticket to prevail was the non-fraternity one in the Senior class. We will mention no figures since we have been requested not to do so, but those who have seen the results will bear up the statement that the victorious candidates were elected by wide margins. However, this is not meant to construe the idea that each candidate received even near same number of votes that each of the same ticket members did. As in the two other classes the ballots were split in such a manner that one wonders if such a thing as partisan politics have any great hold on the student body.

We feel that the best men won because of the situation we have described. We, however, do sincerely deplore the manner in which the ballots were printed; they show a deliberate attempt to confuse the voters by their illogical arrangement. We can only brand such a move as a contemptible, treacherous trick. T. W. M.

The Cause Of The Martyr . . .

The cause of the martyr, history reveals, is always an immutable one. Persecution appeals to the emotions of the people, enhances the sympathies, and creates a moral issue which cannot be compromised. Persecution of the Christian in the days of the Roman Empire consolidated and, in the end, strengthened the Roman Church; persecution of the Jew today brings sympathy from all classes of free peoples.

Today on this campus, the cause of democracy is being martyred; those advocating a representative Student Council are squelched in numerous ways, their referendum has been postponed to an undetermined date.

So far, they have maintained this interest by appearing to be martyrs of tyranny. They have rallied the unorganized factions on the campus under their banner and have shouted "despotism". Before the Spring Recess the fever of the movement reached its height. With the detachment from the University during the holidays, interest in the cause waned. Spring Fever rather than Referendum Fever permeated the blood of the mass of students. They lost interest.

Today, the organized groups on the campus announce a new move. Referendum proceedings have been postponed. This aggressive act throws new fuel on a fire whose destructive potentialities have disappeared, but whose embers still glow brightly. Such a move offers a new and unexploited field for those in favor of a reorganization of the Student Council.

We feel that the consequences of this development were not fully comprehended by those in power when the postponement was decided upon. The recent elections show conclusively that the organized groups on the campus can muster more than enough votes to defeat the petitions. The minimum number of fraternity votes cast was one hundred and forty-five, while the maximum number of votes cast by the independents in each class total only two hundred and fifty-seven. The minimum fraternity vote was 36% of the maximum independent. The fraternities need only 34% of the ballots to defeat the measure. Thus, under the conditions existing before the latest issue developed, the organized groups were fighting a winning battle.

We feel that the postponement of the referendum time is, perhaps, the most outstanding blunder on which the independents have yet had the opportunity to capitalize. A new and fresh issue has been introduced into a cause which was fast losing followers, whose interest was waning. An issue has been introduced by which the cause again becomes that of the martyr—the principles of democracy persecuted by a tyrannical minority. An issue has been introduced which, if skillfully, may easily spell the defeat of the fraternity domination of the campus.

The independents' is a cause of the martyr. The fraternities have just trumped their own partner's ace and have left their opponents with the good king. Play your cards carefully. Someone has to lose.

—T. V. W. A.

The Horn Of Plenty . . .

One of the most regrettable conditions on this campus is the lack of student attendance at Student Council meetings. We know you would have been very much amused at the following little scene that took place at the meeting on Monday evening.

Discussing plans for the annual Student Council banquet, President Noah Schutzman offered the following two plans. He said that he was sure he could get at least forty dollars (source unmentioned) for the affair. If the banquet was to include dates there would just be enough money for food; if the banquet was to be a stag affair, there would be about twenty dollars left over for liquid refreshment. The Council voted to make it stag.

ODDS & ENDS

By EDDIE GOLIN

"Get something new—something spectacular!" they all scream. I grab my ears with moist hands and dash about in small circles.

"What would they consider out of the ordinary?" I ask myself. New! Spectacular! What do they want—Hitler's mustache pasted on each issue? Is it fair that Minkus and Ashton slap me on the head and bellow, "Idiot! We want something new—something—"

"Yeh, I know. Something spectacular."

And so in sheer desolation, I decide to give my readers (mother and dad) a little column that will leave them breathless. I call it the "Review Crossworder" or "Life has its Ups and Downs but You Can Come Across with the Crossworder."

Please do not commence on the teaser until you strip the desk of all unnecessary tools and hearken to directions.

1. EQMF isn't a word. If you find the letters collecting in this manner, don't try self-annihilation. Grit your teeth and start over again.

2. Muskel isn't an eight letter word for one of the three boys who played around with foils. (You hold me, foils not galls).

3. Don't fill any space to make a word fit. That's cheating and how would you ever expect to become a crossword maker if you did such a thing—you lucky one.

4. Why are they tearing down "Deer Park"?

5. Bacardi isn't a seven letter word for the little plot of ground behind your home.

Don't pick up that pencil! We're not through with you yet.

6. Fashion notes. We read in the papers that this summer's bathing suits for women will be skimpier than last season's. Sorta like trying to subtract 4 from 2.

7. A drunk was leaning against a ninety story building when a cop walked by.

"Beat it bud. That building can support itself."

"But offisher—"

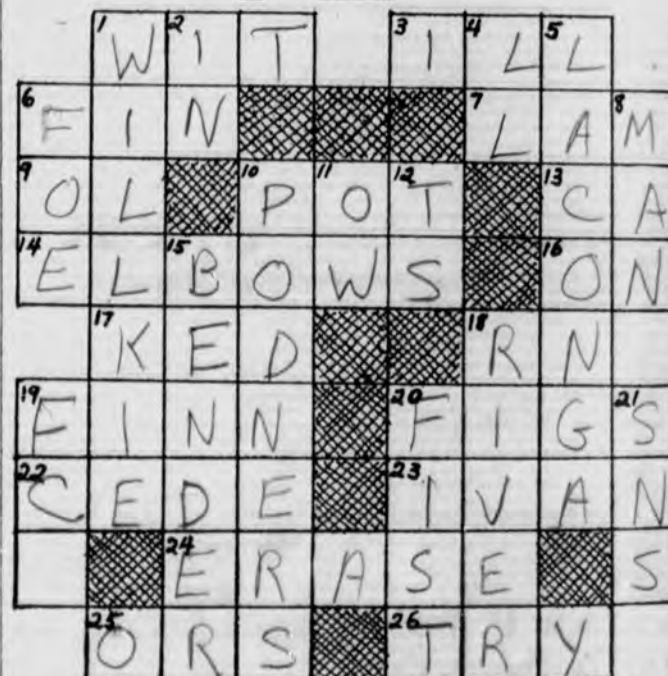

"G'wan, beat it!"

So the drunk walked away and the building fell down.

Three hundred people died of laughter when Jefferson told that one.

8. Do you feel a little dazed? Good! Now—take the hunk of lead and start on the crossworder. Anyone completing the puzzle to the satisfaction of the editors will receive a grand prize. Some chance! Those guys are never satisfied.

Last Smoke Talk Gives Students Chance To Ensnare English Faculty

Do you suffer from quizzes? Are you tired of answering catchy questions imposed upon you by stern professors? Do you want to turn the tables and make the profs answer questions? The time has come. Students of Delaware College, unite! Attend Tuesday's smoke talk and "talk back" to your profs.

"Is literature worth while?" "Why should it be taught and studied?" are questions to be discussed at the next smoke talk which will be held in the lounge of Old College on Tuesday, April 22, at 7 P. M.

Many students who question the worthiness of English Lit. should attend and ask the faculty participants. Dr. W. O. Sypherd, Dr. C. L. Day, Dr. N. B. Allen, and Dr. A. H. Able, any questions that may rise in their minds about Literature. Among the students that will assist in the discussion are Bernard Ableman and Lloyd Jones. Tom Minkus is in charge of arrangements.

This Smoke Talk, which is the last in a series of five discussions sponsored by the English Department and the Humanist Society, will reproduce in part a program that was broadcast over W.I.L.M. by the same members of the faculty. The broadcast aroused such interest that it should stimulate student discussion on the worthwhileness of Literature.

The smoke talk will be conducted by Dr. Able, who will lead off with questions to the faculty. The faculty participants will then endeavor to answer and discuss the questions. The audience will be given the opportunity to ask questions informally.

"We are looking forward to a well attended and successful smoke talk," commented Dr. Able. "If there are as many students, both of Delaware College and Womens College, and members of the Faculty as before then it will be successful."

Second Delaware Play Festival To Be Held This Week

The drama muse will receive glowing tribute from more than 150 amateur thespians this week, when thirteen educational and community theatres of this state, Pennsylvania, and Maryland will participate in the Second Delaware Play Festival, to be conducted on the University of Delaware campus today and Saturday. The plays that are being polished up for final competition have been selected from five elimination tournaments taking place during the past few weeks.

The Festival is being sponsored jointly by the University Dramatic Center, of which Dr. C. R. Kase is director, and by the Delaware Dramatic Association. It has been announced that the critic judge for the finals will be Mr. Albert McCleary, director of dramatics at Fordham University, member of the National Theatre Conference, and co-editor of the stage magazine, "Curtain's Going Up."

The footlights of the Mitchell Hall stage will be turned up on Friday evening when four community theatres will present their productions as follows: Kennett Little Theatre, "Helena's Husband"; Smyrna Little Theatre, "George"; "Y" Players of Wilmington, "The Sisters' Tragedy"; Wilmington Drama League, "A Grotesque for November."

Beginning at 8:15 on Saturday evening, three more community theatres will stage one act plays.

Three high schools, winners in three separate county divisions, will compete for honors on Saturday afternoon beginning at 2:30 o'clock.

HONOR ROLL

The index numbers used in the report of the Seniors and Juniors have the following values: A equals three points per credit hour; B, two points; C, one point; D, no points; E, minus one point; F, minus two points. 3.00 is equivalent to an average of A (the highest possible average); 2.00, to an average of B; 1.00, to an average of C. No student who is taking fewer hours than those required in his curriculum is eligible for the Dean's List (except students who have accumulated extra credits).

The following named students were on the Dean's List:

Cicala Elected Ag Club Dinner Newman Club Head To Be Held In Commons, April 26

Francis Cicala, popular Delaware College junior, was elected president of the Newman Club at a meeting held in the Lounge of Old College on Wednesday afternoon. Presiding over the meeting was Dan Welsh, retiring president of the group.

The Newman Club, which was founded last year, is organized to promote Catholic ideals among college students and is not restricted to Catholic students since anyone may join.

Other officers elected at the meeting were Inez Lynch, Vice-President; Gilbert Thornton, Treasurer; and Jeanne Harkins, Secretary.

The retiring president will hand over his office at a special meeting of the club on April 23 at 4:15 in the Lounge of Old College. At that time appropriate installation ceremonies will be held as well as a social gathering of the members.

In commenting upon the new officers, Welsh said, "I feel that the choice of Cicala is a wise one. He was instrumental in the founding of the club, and has been one of its most active members ever since. I am certain that I am leaving the club in very good hands. The other officers, who also are all charter members, I am sure will do an equally fine job."

Declining to make formal speech Cicala said, "I thank you very much for the honor you have given me. I will sincerely attempt to justify the trust you have placed in me."

All officers were elected by acclamation by the fifty-three members present.

The Agricultural Club of the University of Delaware will hold its annual banquet Saturday, April 26 at 6:30 P. M. in the large dining hall of Old College. This is one of the annual activities of the Ag Club and has previously proven to be highly successful.

The dinner will be in the form of a father and son banquet, each of the club member's fathers being invited. In addition to these, many other guests have been invited, including many professors on campus, Agricultural teachers in Delaware high schools, college officials, and alumni of the school of Agriculture.

Dr. Hullihen, President of the University of Delaware, will deliver the main address of the evening. LeRoy Parker who has acted in the capacity of program chairman of the Ag Club during the past year will be the toastmaster.

English Reading

Dr. Arthur R. Dunlap, of the English Department at the University of Delaware, will give the next English Reading on April 21, at seven o'clock in the Womens College Hilarium. He will read from the poetry of William Butler Yeats. The public is cordially invited to attend.

College Hour To Present Lecture By Prof. S. S. Smith

Eminent Authority and Speaker On Literary History To Discourse

The students of the University of Delaware and the general public will have an opportunity, next week, to attend a series of lectures to be given by Professor S. Stephenson Smith, educational counselor for the American Society of Composers, Authors, and Publishers, and well-known speaker on literary and theatrical history. The talks will be given at the University of Delaware on Monday and Tuesday, April 21 and 22.

Now on leave after fourteen years as professor of English at the University of Oregon, Professor Smith is the author of "The Craft of the Critic", "The Command of Words", "The Style Rule", and many articles and reviews in the field of dramatic criticism.

While an Oregon Rhodes Scholar at Oxford from 1920 to 1923, Prof. Smith wrote on the history of modern comedy and comic opera. He edited "The New Oxford", and was correspondent for the Associated Press at that university. Prof. Smith has been active in the American Association of University Professors; he served two years as Chapter President at the University of Oregon, and from 1937 was on the National Council of the Association.

Principal lectures will be delivered on Monday evening at 8:15 in Room 220, University Hall, entitled "Broadway and Hollywood Attack Politics", and Tuesday morning at 11:40 at a regular College Hour program in Mitchell Hall, entitled "The American Language—Words and Music". The evening lecture, which the general public is invited to attend, will be an informative and entertaining account of recent musical comedies and revues: "Of Thee I sing", "I'd Rather Be Right", "Pins and Needles", "Meet the People", "Louisiana Purchase", and of movies dealing with social and political themes.

Other lectures are to be as follows: "Vaudeville in Shakespeare's Plays", Monday at 9:50 a.m., Room 220, University Hall; Monday, 4:15 p.m. Music Building, Women's College, "The Musical Play."

Mitchell Elected

Frederick Mitchell, guard on the Delaware basketball team, has been elected captain of the Hens' 1941-42 quintet. He was chosen by a vote of the seven lettermen of the past season.

Mitchell, a junior, returned to school last September after being out for a year with an eye injury. He currently is shortstop on the baseball team, and came to Delaware from Wilmington High School.

University Radio Guild To Present Novel Broadcast

Words and music — Shakespeare and Beethoven — Hemingway and Irving Berlin — these are the sort of combinations which may occur on "Just Quote Me," the utterly new and different type of musical program which "University on the Air" will present this Tuesday evening at 8 p. m.

The idea behind this latest brain-child of the Radio Guild is to read quotations from famous literature and then play some selection which expresses the same thought or story in melody. Some of the combinations are intended to paint a beautiful picture; others will have a humorous connection between the words and the music. The pieces will range from the lighter classics to that illegitimate offspring of music, swing. There will be a greater number of student announcers used on this program than have been used previously.

On this past week's program the students proved that the faculty is not the only body on the campus that can hold a panel discussion and get an overwhelmingly favorable response from the radio audience.

Lloyd Jones, Bernard Ableman, and Bob Bair discussed "Should the English-speaking peoples unite?" Ableman was chairman of the panel. This program witnessed the return of Guild director Joe First to the announcer's post.

The fast-moving radio drama, "Air Raid," which was previously announced as scheduled for this term's final edition of "University on the Air" will be presented on a different date. It is now tentatively set for the first week in May. Try-outs will be held shortly. Next week's REVIEW will carry more definite news on this play.

At a meeting of the Radio Guild to be held in the near future announcement will be made of the officers and committee chairmen who will guide the destinies of the Guild during the second scholastic year of its existence. At this time Joe First, the present director will retire.

All listeners are reminded that WILM, the station on which "University on the Air" is heard every Tuesday night at eight, is now broadcasting with a frequency of 1450 kilocycles instead of 1420. This change, added to the fact that WILM is now more powerful than ever, makes it possible for listeners in Newark to hear the program clearly. In fact, the Guild received a letter from Dover stating that the program was picked up there.

Every operator

must speak
four languages!

Each operator in San Francisco's Chinatown telephone exchange must speak English plus at least three of the five Chinese dialects—Som Yup, Soy Yup, Heong Sow, Gow Gong and Aw Duck—in order to handle calls. For the average Chinese understands no dialect but his own!

Since there is no Chinese alphabet, the 36 page directory, listing 2200 subscribers, can't be printed in the usual way. It is handwritten—then reproduced by engraving and printing processes. Subscribers are listed by streets, instead of alphabetically. And operators must almost know the book by heart, for the Chinese seldom call by number—but by name and address.

Here is a Bell System exchange that in many ways is unique. But it is just like thousands of others in giving good service to telephone users.

Hen Nine Plays Host To Drexel

Dragons Invade Newark For Tilt Tomorrow; W. Chester Monday

Defeated by Dickinson the last time out the Delaware baseball team will attempt to get back on an even keel by entertaining two foes from the Philadelphia area tomorrow and Monday. The first opponent will be Drexel and the second West Chester Teachers.

Drexel, although without a victory thus far in their campaign, have nonetheless shown much hitting power & of late have improved their performances, as may be evidenced by the fact that last Saturday they were nosed out by Penn A. C. by a single tally, the final count being 5-4. Since the Pennacs are notoriously strong year in and year out the performance of the Dragons is even more commendable. On their annual jaunt through the south the Halasmen dropped six games, one of them a 7-6 verdict to Johns Hopkins, like Penn A. C. a foe of the Blue and Gold later in the season. Walter Halas, Jr., son of the Philadelphia's coach, is a hard-hitting second baseman, and in the Johns Hopkins game broke off a trio of hits, including two doubles. On the mound both Hal Evans and Bob McTamney have put on good performances on occasion, and one of these two will probably work tomorrow.

Very little is known of West Chester except what was seen of them a couple of weeks ago on the cold and blustery day they engaged the Delaware nine in a practice game. Although no official box score was kept of the game the Hens won by a comfortable margin so there is no reason to believe they can't repeat—until proven otherwise.

Captain Wilmer Apsley, out of action since the fourth game of the Southern trip because of an injured shoulder, is expected to be back at his third base post tomorrow. Beyond this Coach Doc Doherty will probably keep intact his revised lineup. The hurler for the Blue Hens will probably be Hugh Bogovitch tomorrow with Bill Tibbitt toeing the mound against West Chester Monday, although Coach Doherty may reverse this procedure.

Of course, the main thing still lacking in this year's Blue and Gold aggregation (as in many another) is hitting, and although one might say you can't have everything, Old Mike Gonzalez's observation of "Good Field, no hit" is still applicable to the Delaware team.

Line-up for tomorrow's game:
DREXEL: Halas, 2b; Deardorff, 1b; Quinn, cf; Michaels, lf; Clyde, c; Kolb, 3b; Mamisniak, rf; Landis, ss; McTamney or Evans, p.

DELAWARE: Mitchell, ss; Crowley, 2b; Sadowski, c; Tibbitt, cf; Skripps, 1b; Apsley, 3b; Hogan, lf; G. Doherty, rf; Bogovitch, p.

Tomorrow game will get underway at 2:30 P.M. and Monday's at 4 P.M.

Red Devils Push Across Winning Tally in Tenth To Give Hens 4th Loss

Visitors Outhit, 14 To 8 As Jack Daly Goes Entire Route

Although outhit, 14 to 8, the University of Delaware baseball team took the Dickinson Red Devils into 10 innings here last Wednesday before they finally surrendered by a 5 to 4 score. It was Delaware's fourth loss in seven games.

Dickinson came from behind in the eighth inning to tie the score at 4-all on Bernie Keating's round-tripper to right field with two mates on, and the Red Devils won out in the tenth by pushing over one tally.

Delaware, behind the three-hit pitching of Southpaw Jack Daly in the first seven innings, held a commanding 4-1 lead going into the last half of the eighth when Johnny Campbell started the fireworks for Dickinson with an infield hit. John Neiman followed with a double to center that scored Campbell, and then Dickinson's ace hurler, Keating, lambasted Daly's pitch into deep right to clean the sacks and tie the count.

Neiman, getting his third hit, singled sharply to center to start off the tenth, moved to second on Keating's single to deep short, and after both runners advanced on Bill Kerfoot's sacrifice, Neiman beat Amos Crowley's throw to the plate on Marshall's grounder for the winning marker.

Delaware was first to score, getting a run in the fourth on Conrad Sadowski's triple and Bill Tibbitt's long fly to right field, but Dickinson evened things in the sixth on Neiman's double and singles by Keating and Kerfoot.

Campbell's error of Bill Hogan's grounder, Lunk Apsley's single, Daly's walk, and Freddie Mitchell's double to center netted Delaware two tallies in the seventh. Tibbitt's triple to left and a passed ball by Sheppard brought the Blue Hens their fourth run in the eighth.

BILL GEROW AGAIN OUTSTANDING TRACK STAR AS SEASON OPENS

Graduating senior Bill Gerow, captain of this year's Blue and Gold track team and leader of the basketball squad earlier in the school year, has in six years of high school and college track competition compiled a record enviable to make even the greatest authorities on track sit up and take notice.

Gerow, active member of the Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity, entered Delaware in 1936. Three years under the expert tutelage of track coach Ed Bardo have seen Gerow break two Mason-Dixon Conference records, in the 440- and 880-yard runs. Although he does not hold any University records, Gerow's best college times in the quarter and half mile races (51.2 and 2:02.2, respectively) are each only two-tenths of a second above the school record in each event. Both times were made in the Mason-Dixon Meet of 1938 in Baltimore. It was in this year that Gerow had his outstanding season, losing only two races while winning fourteen.

Gerow's track accomplishments are not confined solely to college competition, his most renowned achievement being his holding of the Delaware State High School 880 record. While at P. S. duPont High Gerow stepped this distance in 2:03.5 and was never beaten in his pre-college days at the distance.

While in high school Gerow ran in the Atlantic City Relay Carnival, University of Delaware Relays, Villanova Interscholastics, and the Penn Relays. He won letters at both P. S. duPont and Wilmington High, and upon graduation was offered scholarships to Princeton, Bucknell, Syracuse, Penn. Penn State, and Stanford.

Since coming to Delaware Bill has met some of the best quarter and half milers in the East and it may be said without exaggeration that all respect his running ability and a high percentage of them have tasted dust thrown up by his flying feet.

Although he was laid up through illness for the first few weeks of the present season, Captain Gerow is now back on the squad and working out daily in an effort to have his best season since he first donned the regalia of the Blue and Gold.

Tennis And Golf Teams Begin Seasons Next Week

Tennis and golf teams will both inaugurate their seasons next week, the linksmen playing Dickinson on Wednesday away from home and the court squad meeting Villanova at home on Thursday.

The Newark Country Club course has been put in shape and the golfers have been getting in some practice licks all week. There are a number of spots to be filled and the aspirants haven't long to get in condition, so that many will have to put in some sessions in order to select the three new men to fill the posts left vacant by graduation and ineligibility.

Tennis Coach Ralph Jones is in better circumstances for besides Captain Al Mock he has Tommy Jordan, Trux Boyce, Bob Walls, and Will Habicht, all lettermen, returning.

Besides this quintet Dick Reed, who saw some action last year, and Don Long, Bud Haines, Bob Smith, and Dick McHugh all show promise. All were out on Tuesday and have been practicing since that time and by next Thursday Coach Jones expected to have them ready for the Wildcats, providing the weather doesn't change.

Air Corps

The U. S. Army Flight Examining Board will visit the University of Delaware Monday and Tuesday, April 21 and 22 to examine applicants for the Flying Cadet Corps. Location of the examination place has not yet been settled—it will either be in Old College or Old Recitation Hall. Men who have already applied will be notified by mail. Any who have not but desire to apply should appear at the place of examination.

Colonel Ashbridge or Professor M. M. Daugherty can help you if you need more data. Lt. William A. Gies will be in Professor Daugherty's office Wednesday, April 16 to give you any further information. The visit of the board is important to those men who wish to join the Air Corps.

What the Engineers are Doing...

By DICK McNETT

Ed Lewis, Nelse Middleton, George Derrickson, and Lew Parker are going on a little jaunt up to the big city of New York Monday, not to gawk at the tall buildings, but to attend a student convention of the A.S.M.E. The Brooklyn Poly engineers will be host to slip-stick scholars from schools in Delaware, New Jersey, Eastern Pennsylvania, and the metropolitan area of New York. The confab will last through Monday and Tuesday. Lew is going to preside over the Tuesday morning session; we trust that he will be at his presidential best.

Lewis, who has working for some time on a preheater for a super-heater (plenty of heat), will present his thesis to the group, explaining the theory and method of performance of his tests and summarizing the practicability of the outfit. He will be competing with about sixteen others who also will present theses. We believe Ed's work will be well received, if for no other reason, for its originality and efficient organization.

Some day, we hope, this column will present a simple explanation of Ed's findings. These days, any research that is made in the realm of heat and heat transfer is well received. A great amount of money can be saved by the producers of power when the efficiency of their equipment is increased the slightest bit. With the ever-increasing consumption of power this saving means more and more each year. Delaware engineers are outstanding in this field; their training is of the best in the country. BAR-B-Q...

There were a lot of people at the Engineer's Ball weren't there? If you didn't go, you missed a good time. Good music, good dancing, and all that sort of thing.

The girls seemed to like the Beautimeter, too, though some of them were a little reluctant to take the test that doesn't tell. Well, maybe it doesn't, but it didn't do a bad job of picking the Sweetheart of Evans Hall.

Now the engineers are planning their other party, the Barbecue. That's something different! Harvey Bounds is running it this year. He says it's going to be on Friday, May 16, starting around five in the afternoon and ending later on in the day, or evening. Where, he doesn't know; he's looking around. There are several nice places available.

The policy of the picnic will be, as it has been in the past, "all you can eat and drink for a dollar per couple, and nothing but couples". When asked for a statement, Boudier simply said, quote, "If you don't go, you'll wish you had!"... unquote... yes... that's all he said.

DINING IN PHILLY...

Tonight Professor W. F. Lindell and seven of his senior students are the guests of the Philadelphia Power Transmission Council at their regular dinner-meeting in town. The boys will listen in on the meeting and meet the members of the Council.

WEDDING BELLS...

Two days before graduation the Senior engineering class will lose its standing as a bunch of bashful bachelors. On June 9, Sleepy Eckman will be married. The new Senior theme song is the one about the "Old Gang" that the wedding bells are breaking up. Oh, well, you can't expect everybody to be bashful. In fact the only permanently bashful guy in Evans Hall is "Doc" Blumberg.

Bill Tibbitt after losing a two hit ball game to Randolph-Macon "Every-time we play here I pitch my best game and still lose. We just can't beat these guys." * * * * * Greek Hillman seeing a couple of girls, "Oh, girls, let's have a party." * * * * * Amos Crowley talking to all in turn, "Do you know so and so? Well he's got a whistle and wants you to blow it." * * * * * Fred Mitchell talking to a six foot nine catcher, one of the 10,000 sailors, "Yes, sir, you are right. You're a nice guy and I like you." * * * * * Lunk Apsley making the rounds, "Let me take a buck until my N.Y.A. check comes in." * * * * * Walt Smith returning from a date with a very homely girl, "We did all right." Walt was seeing double anyway.

Unusual Happenings:

Quack, Quack, Irwin sleeping with a dead mouse and a cigar stub. Hugh Bogivitch almost slept on two chairs which were under his mattress. Even Doc Doherty, Sr. did not escape the hand of the practical jokers. He was short sheeted twice in one evening. Almost all of the late comers in their bed cloths or were short sheeted.

Runs, Hits, and Errors:

Prize Boner: Walt Smith giving credit to the Blue and Gold for 29 put outs of a possible 27 in a nine inning game. * * * * * Favorite Song:

Boogy, Boogy. * * * * * Most Popular fellow: Doc Doherty because he handed out the eating money. * * * * * Shortest Hair cut: Dead heat between Greek Hillman and Curly Burkett. * * * * * Biggest Eater: Wild Jim Buchanan, who ate cake, pie, ice cream, candy, pops, and gum, between meals. * * * * * Best Dressed: Jack McDowell because he wore his OWN clothes. * * * * * Best Dance Hall Scene: The Shamrock where a slightly "hot under the collar" waitress threw a pop bottle at a tipsy sailor. * * * * * Longest ball hitter: Fred Mitchell who backed the short-stop up ten paces to pull down his smash that brought him rain. * * * * * The boys were initiated to Navy life by having to eat out of tin trays with grooves cut in them for place to put the food. We were also taken on a very interesting tour of the grounds. Some of the boys were asked to join, but admitted that the army already had first choice on them.

Casualty List:

Although the trip was very successful it was also very costly. Apsley hurt his shoulder sliding home in the Sandoif-Macon game and was out for some time. Now that the injury has been almost overcome, Lunk is again playing ball although hampered somewhat by the ailing shoulder. Greek Hillman dislocated his ankle sliding into third base in the Norfolk Naval Base game and will be out for the remainder of the season. His absence from the lineup will be felt very much in the hit column as he was a timely hitter.

Father-Son Dinner A Great Success

On Friday, April 4, the members of the Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity entertained their fathers at a Father and Son Dinner. The dinner was held at the new Howard Johnson Restaurant on the State Highway near Hare's Corner.

After dinner, Bud Weatherby, who was toastmaster, introduced the guests and speakers. The principle speaker was Mr. John G. Leach, Vice President of Beacom College; the guests were Dr. C. C. Palmer, head of the Bacteriology Department of the University; Head Coach Bill Murray; and Mr. Robert Lewis, an alumnus and director of the fraternity. Mr. Leach gave a very interesting talk on the many problems facing the coming generation.

Later in the evening the Sig Eps and their fathers returned to the fraternity house to listen to the fight between Max Baer and Lou Nova. Several of the fathers who had come to Newark from out of town spent the night at the house and returned home with their sons on Saturday. In addition to Bud Weatherby, Social Chairman, the committee in charge of the dinner consisted of Charlie Miller, Bill Price, and Bob Berry.

The list of the nominees is as follows: President, William Hopkins and Gilbert Thornton; First Vice-President, Robert Bausman and Richard Elsaesser; Second Vice-President, Pennewill Issacs and Frank Thomas; Secretary, William Whitby and Marvin Zeitz; Treasurer, Richard Jones and Gehard Plaut; and Editor of the Aggie News, Cleveland Hastings and Walter Sanford.

The Junior Poultry Management class, accompanied by Professor Skoglund, is planning a poultry inspection tour Friday and Saturday, April 18-19. On Friday the class will visit the Philadelphia Poultry Market and also the A and P Egg Packing Plant where almost all the packing operations are done by machines. After leaving Philadelphia it is planned to visit six important poultry farms in the vicinity of Allentown. During these visits general production practices as well as specific incubation machines and processes will be observed in detail. The tour will cover about 400 miles of travel, and it will end with a visit to the famous Coatsville Egg Auction, Saturday afternoon.
