Mrs. J. Leslie Ford, Correspondent

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Burge are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son in Delaware Hospital on Wednesday, March 23. Ronald George is the baby's name. Mrs. Burge will be remembered as Miss Betty Jane Ford. They have one other son, Paul Wayne.

John F. Thornton who returned from Florida last week, visited Mr. and Mrs. F. Lee Reynolds on Friday.

Miss Susan Powell of Kirkwood is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Ogden.

Miss Lillian Montgomery of Wilmington spent Thursday with Mrs. F. Lee Reynolds.

Raymond Davis of Newark spent Tuesday with his sister, Mrs. Annie Harrington.

Members of Center Grange No. 11 were guests at the regular semi-monthly meeting of Pencader Grange 60 on Monday night. Mrs. Hilda Seemans, lecturer of Center Grange, was in charge of a program of readings, musical numbers, games and a debate, "Which Are The Best Drivers, Women or Men?" The women won.

Walter Carpenter talked on ritualistic work, and Lewis Barber, master of Center Grange, spoke briefly on grange work.

Mrs. Charles Weldin, hospitality chairman, was in charge of the last card party and Delbert Gooden heads a committee in charge of a card party planned for April 2 for the community fund.

J. Leslie Ford, chairman of community service work, appointed Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weldin, and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Brooks to make arrangements for the monthly visit in April to the Governor Bacon Health Centre Girls Cottage No. 3.

At the next meeting, April 4, men's night will be observed with Melvin Brooks and Edward Williams in charge.

Eden School

Eden school will be closed for Easter vacation on April 8, opening again on Monday, April 18.

Skippy Mowil, sixth grade, and Doris Ellis, fifth grade, won the spelling quiz of the week.

Miss Katharine Jones, home demonstration agent, spoke at the Bear Home Demonstration Club meeting on Monday at the home of Mrs. Howard Ennis, with Mrs. Herbert King presiding. Miss Jones discussed "Finding Good Buys in Dresses."

Club members voted to send two CARE packages to Korea and to donate five dollars to the Pennies for Friendship campaign.

The next meeting will be held April 18 at the home of Mrs. Joseph Marousek and the subject for discussion will be "party breads."

Leaders will be Mrs. King, Mrs. Joseph Reynolds and Mrs. Marousek.

Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Hastings and family of Wilmington have moved to Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Aiken of Bear are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter at Delaware Hospital on March 25.

Mrs. Annie Harrington is spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. Howard Slaughter of Smyrna.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Bergen of New York City spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Moore.

Members of the Salem Home Demonstration Club are planning to charter a bus for a trip to the nation's capitol the week of May 2. Mrs. Eugene Coleman, Sr., and Mrs. Eric Bollman are making the arrangements.

Mrs. George Johnson was named chairman for the window display for Home Demonstration Week.

Four members will attend the project school on children's clothing on April 5, 12, 19, and 26.

Mrs. Burton Pyle will be the leader at a class in lamp shade making at Salem Church on April 21 and Mrs. Bollman will be hostess for a workshop on splint stools April 19 at 7 p.m.

Mrs. Coleman will be leader-demonstrator.

Mrs. Joseph Goff and Mrs. Johnson were hostesses for the social hour and a guest, Mrs. Robert Cameron, was welcome.

The speaker was Mrs. Edith Kendall, director of the Red Cross for the Newark area and a member of the State Board of Health. She spoke on home nursing and on the Emily P. Bissell Sanatorium.

The Willow Gun Club will sponsor a shoot at the range Sunday, April 17. Because of the wide appeal of "varmint shooting" at this time of the year, friendly competition will be combined with practical shooting. Small targets will require real accuracy, with the firing line and range to be varied. Any gun, weight limit up to 12 lbs. (center fire), any sights, a small entry fee, all promise a good shoot. Shooters will furnish own ammunition, with each course of fire to be one shot.

Members should contact the secretary about the "Rifleman" subscription rate increase. A proposal to make greater use of the club's shotgun equipment will be discussed at the April 6 meeting. The board wishes to canvass members for their opinions as to getting copies of the large amount of information available on the protection and encouragement of game birds and animals.

The recent meeting of the Newark Opti-Mrs. club was held at the home of Mrs. L. Hammond Cubbage on Chestnut Hill Road. Miss Jean Patterson of the University of Delaware nursery school showed a film "The Way We Grow," on the 2 to 5 year old child. The club plans to hold a dinner at the Kent Manor Inn April 28.

Tentative plans were made for a family picnic, including husbands and children of club members, in June.

Mrs. Cubbage, Mrs. John L. Gallagher and Mrs. Harry McKenry entertained Mrs. Robert Brenholtz of Coatesville, Pa., at dinner at the Glass Kitchen recently while Mr. Brenholtz, governor of the 2nd district of the Optimists International, kept a speaking engagement with the local club.

Newark Bird Club To Hold Thursday Evening Meeting

Members of the Newark Bird Club will hold a meeting at the home of Miss Sara Potts, East Main Street, next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

A round table discussion of thrushes will feature the evening's program and visitors will be welcome.

A special guest soloist will be featured in the Easter concert to be presented by the choir in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening, April 10. David Koch directs the choir with Linda Woodward as organist.

Volunteers will be welcomed to help in laying tile on the first floor of the Methodist Church this Saturday. Women of the church realized $55 on their soup sale last Tuesday.

The Helpers Club met on Sunday evening at the home of Miss Ada Johnson.

Plans for the annual banquet were discussed at the March meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary in the firehouse last Tuesday. With tonight's party in the firehouse, Mrs. Elizabeth Takach completes her month as chairman of the weekly card parties. An exceptionally large number of players turned out last week, accounting for a profit of $43.

Personals

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Ware were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lynch of Kirkwood and children, Charles, Anna, Nancy, and Marian.

John Canane, Jr., and Robert Long, Jr., visited their parents on Saturday on a 12-hour leave from their training at Bainbridge. Accompanying them was one of their buddies at the base, Milton E. Batzel of Freehold, N.J.

Mrs. Howard Greene and daughters, Abigail and Martha, returned Saturday from a week's vacation in Bermuda. The trip coincided with the girls' annual spring vacation from Friends School, Wilmington.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Burge of Bear are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son at the Delaware Hospital on March 23. The Burges have an older son, Wayne. Mr. and Mrs. John Burge are the proud grandparents.

Charles Burge, who returned home last week after 18 months' overseas duty with the Army, spent last weekend skiing in upper New York state.

Terry, Beverly, Louise, and Bobby Vincent, children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vincent, went to Newark last week to help little Kenny Vincent celebrate his second birthday. Among other out-of-town guests were Patty and Earl Emerson, David and Lenny Barlow, Robbie Knoll, and Johnny Mann, all of Chester, Pa.

Mrs. John Currinder and children, June and Glenn, and Mrs. Medford Sapp of Wilmington visited relatives in Clayton on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stoddard and family and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Burris were guests of Mrs. A. B. Church for Sunday dinner.

Christiana-Salem P.T.A.

Much was accomplished at a busy and worthwhile meeting of the Christiana-Salem P.T.A. in the school auditorium last Wednesday evening.

The program was opened with a film, "Freedom to Life," with explanatory comments by Mrs. Ruth Thatcher, psychiatric social worker at the State Hospital at Farnhurst.

At the business meeting, all officers of the organization were re-elected for another year in Mrs. James Elbert, president; Mrs. William Graden, vice-president; Mrs. William Kee, secretary; and Mrs. Ernest McClain, treasurer.

The following delegates were appointed to attend the Delaware Con-

Meat and Poultry

Pork and beef both are economical this weekend, and certain cuts offer exceptional opportunities to save money.

Spars of pork, at the lowest prices for months, are a favorite of men. Allow three-fourths of a pound per person, simmer ribs in water for an hour and a half, then add sauer kraut and simmer for thirty minutes more for a delicious combination dish.

Quicker, more versatile and just as economical is ground beef. There are many ways it can be used to stretch the food dollar. You might try: chili con carne; hamburgers in buns; meat loaf; spaghetti with meat sauce; ground beef, macaroni and tomato with mushrooms.

Pork sausage likewise is low priced and can be used in many ways for lunch, dinner and snacks as well as for breakfast.

Roasts of pork are thrifty and easy to prepare. Pork shoulder roasts and loin roasts both are inexpensive and need only to be placed in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) until thoroughly cooked.

Other good buys in meat this week include beef liver, chuck roast of beef, lamb shoulder, veal shoulder cut, stew meat, stewing chickens and turkey.

Fresh Fruits and Vegetables

Crisp, leafy green vegetables head this week's list of best buys in fresh produce. Most of these vitamin-packed spring foods are available in Delaware at bargain prices: dandelion greens, spinach, chlorey, collards and kale.

Other good values can be found on cabbage, carrots, Florida celery, mushrooms, radishes, onions and potatoes. Asparagus prices are weaker but remain quite high. Oranges and grapefruit are the most reasonably priced fruits. Apples from nearby states are inexpensive, but quality in most cases is only fair.

Groceries

Several low priced grocery items deserve special attention this week. Canned citrus and juice, now at attractive prices, are expected to increase seasonally very soon. Canned green beans, macaroni, dried prunes, raisins and rice all are excellent buys.

Newark, Delaware, Thursday, March 31, 1955

'THIS NATION, UNDER GOD...'

At the time when our then new-born nation was taking its place among the older, stronger countries of the world, George Washington, as our first President, prayed in his inaugural address: "Almighty God . . . keep the United States in Thy holy protection."

America grew strong beyond his dreams, became the world leader in the fight to keep men free. And in his inaugural, Dwight D. Eisenhower, our thirty-fourth President also prayed: "Almighty God . . . give us the power to discern clearly right from wrong, and allow all our words and actions to be governed thereby . . ."

Blessed the land when its leaders put their faith and trust firmly in God and beseech His protection and guidance.

NEWARK IN REVIEW

Twenty-five Years Ago

Municipal Election
Only 11 votes were cast in the annual municipal election since the four candidates for four council posts, were unopposed.

O. W. Widdows, Wm. J. Lovett, and Charles C. Hubert were re-elected for two year terms, and Henry Mott will fill out the one year term of Wm. P. Wollaston who resigned when he moved out of the district.

Sports
Newark High School defeated DuPont High 3 to 1, with Newark's Whitman opposing DuPont's Blood on the mound.

Newark scored in the sixth when Whitman and Jackson walked, advanced on Cole's fly-out, and Whitman scored on Vic Willis' bunt. Jackson scored on a wide throw first in the play by Willis.

Delaware opened the baseball season at Frazer Field by stopping Drexel, 8-6.

Not only must women rear the children, she said, but providing for older persons, creating and preserving our culture and values, maintaining the economy, and defending the nation are increasingly jobs for women.

Politically, women are more active than ever before, the speaker stated. There are now 16 women in Congress. Many more are in administrative posts, the diplomatic service, in courts, on local school boards, as well as engaged in law, teaching, medicine, engineering and business.

While the career of home making requires great competence, Mrs. Loose said, girls today are reluctant to give up their places as individuals in the outside world. And yet they do not attain the places of responsibility and the salaries of men because of home responsibilities.

There is inequality in the legal status of women in many states, and the equal rights amendment is again before the Congress, the speaker said.

In the field of learning there is less difference between the sexes than between members of the same sex. Mrs. Loose continued, and the motivation for learning makes the difference. Women train for home duties in most instances while men train for the professions.

"Women ask full partnership, both in opportunity and responsibility, because their homes and their children insure the survival of civilization. There are countless challenges in the broadening horizon for American women," the speaker concluded.

1st Presbyterian Church Initiates Easter Services

Special services for the Easter season at the First Presbyterian Church began last Sunday, and at the evening service the combined choirs of over 100 voices rendered the cantata, "The Crucifixion," under the direction of Charles Southworth, with Mrs. Dorothy Williams, organist. Guest soloists were Major N. Travers, Jr., Edward M. Hobbs, and T. Edward Southwell.

The choir will recognize Palm Sunday with special selections, followed by an appropriate Easter sermon by Pastor H. Everett Hallman, and there will be three evening services during Holy Week, all starting at 7:45.

Next Wednesday evening, a preparatory service will be held for new members, and a communion service will be held Thursday evening, including reception of new members.

On Friday evening, the choir will render a cantata, "The Triumph of the Cross," under the direction of Charles J. Southwell.

The teen-age group will participate with young people of other Newark churches in an Easter sunrise service to be held at 5:30 a.m. at the home of Richard Thayer at Corner Ketch. Cars will leave the church at 4:45.

Those who can take passengers from church to the service are asked to call Elmer MacKetter Jr., at 8-7957 and advise him the number that can be accommodated.

Industrial Management Club Officers

Letters To The Editor

March 28, 1955

To The Editor
To clarify statements credited to me in the Journal-Evening on Friday, March 25, I would like to issue the following statement:

I did NOT state that I was in favor of a mercantile tax, DID state that I favored a nominal mercantile license to be all inclusive, to take in all merchants, canvassers, peddlers, etc., that may come into or are in the city to solicit business.

I DID say in regard to real estate taxes that I would vote for a just and equitable tax. When I voted for a 50 cent tax rate last year, (reduced from 60 cents), some were under the impression that we reduced taxes, we did not. All county assessments were raised about 50%. Actually we all did pay more taxes to the city. In addition, water rates were increased and a sewer service charge was collected. These increases have to stop somewhere, as people on fixed incomes and large families have a tremendous burden under present day high prices.

I am NOT in favor of current operating budget as presented. I think many of the items can be scaled down or eliminated for this year, to help taxes to remain at as low a level as possible in our city. We are still trying to pay for capital improvements. This cannot be done. Expenditures of this nature should be put on a long term basis, via bond issues.

I DID state that the first item to be cared for when the money is available should be the Elliott Heights sewer and water lines for which designs are now drawn. This is a MUST, and will be done. Electric lines must be improved before the peak season starts again next fall and winter.

Finally, I DO favor putting our city on a pay-as-you-go basis, (including bond issues), with as low a tax rate as it is possible to set. I do NOT favor eliminating the five percent discount on electric and water bills.

Samuel L. Diehl, Jr., Middle District City Councilman.

League of Women Voters Plans Liberty Program

During April and May, the Newark League of Women Voters will conduct a series of unit meetings for the study of individual liberties in a "freedom agenda" program. Mrs. Jerry Nelson is chairman of the resource committee for these discussions, and Attorney Samuel Hadloff has briefed the committee on the legal aspects of the program. The monthly board meeting will be held next Wednesday instead of the following week because of Easter vacations.

Yellowjacket Baseball Squad Bolstered By Eight Lettermen

Newark To Open 14-Game Card Against Elkton At Home On April 13; Varsity Vets Hurm, Moore, Klapinsky, Martin, Downes, Hiddleston, Conway, Schaffer Return

Eight returning lettermen and a field of promising candidates have been working out under the supervision of Coach Charlie Griffith and Dick Rhodes in preparation for the Newark Yellowjackets' 14-game schedule. The Jackets open at home on Wednesday, April 13, with their rivals from Elkton.

The Newark High School lettermen include Mark Hurm and Charlie Moore, veteran catchers; alternate pitchers-outfielders Ray Klapinsky and Jim Martin; second baseman Bob Downes; first sacker Bill Hiddleston; shortstop Bob Conway; and third baseman Lee Schaffer.

The Candidates

John Field is a candidate for a backstopping assignment, while Griffith has been shadowed by the turnout of prospective pitchers Dick Schultz, Gene George, Joe Marvell, and Fred Borchardt.

At first, Hiddleston is the lone candidate, but at second, Larry Bisotto and Bill Shue are giving letterman Bobby Downes a run for the keystone sack assignment. Bob Conway appears to have the shortstop post cinched, while at third, veteran Lee Schaffer, who played short last year, is facing competition from Dick Simpers.

Outfield Hopes

In addition to outfield lettermen Ray Klapinsky and Jim Martin, a host of hopeful gardeners is bidding for fly-catching variety posts. Candidates include veteran John Miller, John Slack, Jimmy Jackson, Lou Scarborough, Dick Pyle, Jerry Knotts, Ivan Bryant, and Dave Sanders.

Coach Charlie said that many requests had been received from the younger athletes in school for organization of a junior varsity squad, but lack of facilities preclude any immediate plans for jayvee baseball.

The schedule:
April 13—Elkton, home
April 19—Conrad, home
April 26—Brown, away
April 26—Wilmington, home
April 29—Claymont, away
May 3—Mt. Pleasant, away
May 5—Conrad, away
May 10—P. S. duPont, home
May 13—Mt. Pleasant, home
May 17—A. I. duPont, away
May 20—Brown, home
May 24—Wm. Penn., home
May 26—Elkton, away
May 31—P. S. duPont, away.

Local Skaters Aid Annual Merryland Roller Rink Show

The seventh annual Merryland skating show, "Roller Revels of 1955," was staged at the Glasgow rink on Monday and Tuesday, with a group of adult and children skaters from the Newark area participating in the production of Manager John E. Paxton, Jr., featuring original music and lyrics by Gordon VanKeuren and Eddie Tepper.

Skating in the children's group from Newark were Joan Boulden, Barbara and Betty Ann Brooks; Bonnie and Kathryn Buchanan; John and Carol Butler; Dianne Donnell; Linda, Patricia, Ray and Sandy Edwards; Joan Greenwell, Robert Higgins, Cindy and Sally Jordan; Elwood Layton, Carol Logan, Joanne McCormick, Jan Mayberry, Carl and Diane Nelson; Connie, Denny, Mike and Tommy Ogden; Diane Silverman, Gail and Shirley Smith; Diane Stamatoff, Aloysius, Frances, John and Regina Woerner; and Carolyn Wortz.

Henry, Malisa, and Jeannie Brooks, and Patricia Taylor, represented the children's group skaters from Bear.

Newark adult skating enthusiasts participating in the Merryland show were Charles Amoroso, Ralph Buckingham, Patricia Edwards, Earl Emerson, Fred Falk, Joanne Jarrell, Robert Jackson, Donald, Dora, Robert, and Ruth McCormick; Phyllis and Willard McNeal; Charles Morrison, Dorothy Nelson, and Edwin Overstreet.

Skating artists from Bear included Henry Brooks, Jr., Bert Dorman, and Elvin Griffin.

Staging and properties were designed by professional Rolly Matson, who also arranged the choreography.

Delaware To Open Baseball Campaign Against Michigan

Hens To Face Wolverines Tomorrow With Depth In Starting Pitcher Staff

Delaware is well stocked with pitchers as the Hens prepare for the opening game with Michigan at Frazer Field tomorrow afternoon. Discussing his pitching prospects, Coach Bob Siemen said the Blue Hens have four hurlers in line for the No. 1 job in Ed Morrow, Dave Woodward, Buddy Kimmel and Bill Patterson.

Others rated highly by Siemen include Dick McKelvey, Gerry Bacher and Dallas Green. "Green is the hardest throwing pitcher on the squad," said Siemen, "but he's not ready yet. He just reported after a rugged basketball season."

Morrow was to have started against Michigan, largely because he blanked the Wolverines last year, 1-0, Siemen admitted.

But the big left-hander recently came up with a sore arm and now it isn't certain whether he'll be ready.

The Hens also are well fortified in the receiving department. Bob Trivits goes into the season still holding the regular job, but must fight off stern competition from Joe Thorp and Dave Colcombe.

Delaware's starting infield will have Andy Wagner at first base, Carmen Cella at second, Lou Romagnoli at short, and Ray Hoopes at third. Tom Redfield will be stationed in left field, Jimmy Zaiser in center, and either Gary Buckwalter or Green in right.

Adult Recreation Basketball Trophy Awarded To Vets

The Vets were awarded the Adult Recreation Basketball League trophy for compiling the best record of the league, although the final playoff game with the second place National Guard quintet has not been played because of scheduling difficulties.

The Vets won ten straight in an undefeated season and rolled to a 3-1 record in the playoffs, dropping the one game by forfeit.

And some time before Friday, Sept. 25, the Vets are to play off the 1-1 final deadlock with the runner-up Guardsmen, Director Ray Ciesinski states.

Ciesinski congratulated the champion Vets and the other teams in the league for their effort and spirit during the past season.

Weekly games were scheduled and played by the four teams each Monday night in the Newark Armory.

Black Eyed Susan Renewal Scheduled on Pimlico Card

Scheduled to be Pimlico's principal stakes race for the year old fillies in 1955, The Black Eyed Susan will be run at the Baltimore track on Saturday, May 14. The owner of the winner will receive a silver trophy, and the Maryland Jockey Club has added $20,000 to the purse for this annual spring feature.

The Black Eyed Susan always a top attraction at Pimlico race meetings, was inaugurated in 1919 when Earle Sande piloted Milkmaid to victory. A number of famous fillies including: Twilight Tear, Nell Morse, Viceroy and Gallotette, have won this race.

The coming renewal during the Pimlico meeting, which opens May 10, will be the 31st for the Black Eyed Susan.

Don Rumer, Tom Schultz Receive Army Promotions

J. H. Rumer, former Post editor, announced yesterday that two Newark youths have received recent promotions from second to first lieutenants in the U.S. Army.

Donald S. Rumer and Tom Schultz, former University of Delaware athletes and graduates in the Class of 1954, have been promoted to first lieutenants at their stations on the West Coast.

SPORTS FLASHES

from The Sporting News
by J. G. Taylor Spink

Things are different now, says Casey Stengel—much different than they were when he was a ball player.

The players are different, said the Yankee manager, the ways of training are different, and the times are different. "In the days when I was a player," he said, "you'd never see the Wall Street Journal around the clubhouse."

Business-Like
That means a business atmosphere, and the way Stengel looks at it, that's as it should be. The owners have big investments, the managers and players get big salaries, and the overhead in running a major league ball club reads like the national debt used to read back in 1910.

Casey started his ball playing in 1910, with Kankakee. It was late in 1912 that he went to the Dodgers, and he was at their training camp the following spring.

Good Old Days
Listen to what he has to say about training in those days. "First class hotels didn't like ball players, so we slept in second-rate quarters. The ball club would give you two dollars and a half a day, warning that it shouldn't be spent foolishly."

"In other words," Stengel said, "you lived on your meal money, and tried to put something away for a rainy day. If you got $4,000 a year, you were a star."

"The first couple of days," Casey went on, "they busted the squad up into parties to try out all the restaurants in town for rates and quality of food. When they reported back, we decided where was the best food of potatoes at the cheapest prices."

Simplified
Stengel said there wasn't anything complicated about training camps back in 1913. There were usually only 18 players in camp, and one coach besides the manager.

Nowadays, he pointed out, there are not only coaches, but specialists in coaching. The Yankees have Bill Dickey for the catchers, Jim Turner for the infielders, and Stengel himself working with the outfielders.

There were two workouts daily during those early training days, and Stengel says he likes the idea even now. "I'm like McGraw," he said. "He always believed it was a matter of getting the players tired so that at night they wanted to go to bed early. Also, if you work twice a day, you keep the players off the golf courses. And if they want to lie on beaches, they get sunburned and can't sleep."

Slide Casey, Slide
In 1913, Stengel went on, every camp had a sliding pit and they weren't used for ornaments. Every morning the manager would hold an hour's drill, teaching the head-first sliders how to hook and fall away.

"Now," the head-first slider said, "the head-first sliders are tired so that at night they wanted to go to bed early. Also, if you work twice a day, you keep the players off the golf courses. And if they want to lie on beaches, they get sunburned and can't sleep."

Nowadays, there isn't the emphasis on the sliding pit. Why, asked Stengel, risk a player busting a leg? Players cost too much and replacements are about as easy to find as uranium. Anyway, he said, players don't steal bases these days, they wait for the next guy to bust the ball out of the park.

Yes, things are different now, said Stengel. No fooling.

The Scooter
Phil Rizzuto, the Yankee shortstop, will be 37 years old next September, but he insists that he hasn't slowed down. People who say so, he says, are talking through their hats. Some who have seen him this spring say he's a step slower than he was in his prime. Phil says that's the bunk. "A whole step," he said, "is a lot of ground to an infielder. If I had lost that much, I'd certainly know it more than a lot of people who've said I have gone back that far."

It was bad news for a good reason, when Dave Cole was sold to the Phils. Cole pitched for the Cubs last season. He won only three games while losing eight, and two of his three wins were against the Phils. Told of his sale to Philadelphia, Cole's comment was: "That's too bad. They're the only club I can beat."

Blue Hen Varsity Cagers Select All-Opponent Team

In a recent balloting of the Delaware basketball team, two Lafayette players, forward Jim Radcliffe and guard Ernie Peters, became the only teammates to be selected on the Delaware All-Opponent team. Other first team berths were filled by Hal Lear, Temple; Bill Thibben, Hofstra; and Mark Davis, Marietta.

Drexel dominated the second team, with Bob Buckley and John Loomis each receiving a berth. In addition, Bob Gall of Muhlenberg, Harry Silcox of Temple, George Young of Lafayette and Jody Ambrosino of Pennsylvania Military College were awarded second team berths.

Hofstra's Thibben and Temple's Lear were the unanimous choice of the Delaware basketball players, with the two stars each receiving the maximum number of first place votes.

Gerald Bankert aided in the Ram's one-sided victory by lapping the entire field to win the two-mile event in a record 10:13.9. Bankert made good his boast to top the previous Carpenter Field House mark of 10:37.2, attained two weeks ago by his rival, Albright's Bill Shirk.

Coach of the Year
"This is the greatest thing that ever happened to me in coaching," the surprised Salles' leader exclaimed.

The huge trophy was symbolic of the coach who "did the most to promote good will, sportsmanship and honor to the field of football in the state of Delaware." And it was on those terms, with no mention of an outstanding 9-1 record as well, that Father O'Neill became the association's initial Coach of the Year.

Honorable mention went to Howard Wise of Wilmington, Bobby Dowd of Seaford and Duncan.

At the business meeting, Jack Greory of P. S. duPont and Ed Schwartz of Dover were elected vice president and secretary-treasurer, respectively, of the association.

In the meeting following the Friday night banquet, the coaches approved the name of the organization and the membership card that had been prepared. In addition, "We're going back in May," Len Yergers still a bit breathless after recent experience with the barbauda, amberjack, king mackerel, tarpon, and miscellaneous grouper and snapper of the Florida keys. "And live on the boat for three days. Fly down and back, and they say the fish will pull your arms out at that time of the year."

"I don't see how it can be any better than it was this winter," Len continued, "but believe me, I'm willing to find out."

Spectator
And Albert Priestley, too, made a recent tour of the Florida key country—with many regrets. Traveling over the keys as a sight-seeing tourist, Sportsman Priestley put in some bad moments as a spectator at a stirring, sporting, piscatorial panorama—with his fishing tackle stashed away some thousands miles to the north in Newark.

"It was horrible," Priestley said in retrospect. "Fish everywhere, and no time to fish—and no tackle. This skin-diving business is a popular thing in the keys," he continued. "Everybody is going crazy over face masks, fins, spear guns, snorkels and the diving and fishing that goes with them."

Another candidate for Rip Collins' merman's club—and you'd better latch onto him before the lustre of the fish and clear water over those Florida reefs wears off, Dad!

At Sunset Lake
But back home at Sunset Lake—with tackle—the Priestleys found fish. Profiting from his recent experience, the father advised son Howard to be sure and bring the rod and reel along for a cold Sunday trip to the lake for the specific purpose of checking up on the Priestley boat after a winter's submersion.

And from the boat landing, young Howard connected with a couple of big pickerel in a few minutes of trial casting.

Father and son engaged in some frenzied boat bailing and set out for some intensive casting in the Sun-pier lake. The father advised son effort produced little more than exercise and one slim pickerel.

Reports from Misspillion Light have it that some nice rock are being taken by the commercial netters, and something should be doing from the jetties at the Indian River Inlet. Not too many years ago, the inlet was the interesting scene of an annual spring run of striped bass—just about this time of the year.

Memories
On one occasion, we happened to be present when the run was at its height—and the memory lingers. A pair of surfmen came staggering off the south rockpile with a heavy Calcutta surf rod slung between their shoulders—a pole swaying beneath the gilled weight of yard-long striped bass whose great square tails were dragging. They came ashore with eight fish—and it took two trips to carry them out.

Some 100 striper were taken that day by the squidders with bucktails and leaden jigs during an hour of frantic activity. But that was five or six years ago.

Rams Break 2 Delaware Indoor Track Records In Shotput, Two Mile

Delaware's trackmen were dealt a 85-23 defeat in a practice meet with West Chester State Teachers College's thin-clads at home on Saturday as the visitors broke two Delaware indoor records in the one-sided triumph.

Football star Joe Chibbert edged out Delaware's star tackle Steve Butcher with a record throw in the shot event of 47 feet, 11 inches. Chibbert's best surpasses the previous record of 47 feet, 10 3/4 inches posted by Baltimore Olympic Club's Ed McComas earlier this year.

Gerald Bankert aided in the Ram's one-sided victory by lapping the entire field to win the two-mile event in a record 10:13.9. Bankert made good his boast to top the previous Carpenter Field House mark of 10:37.2, attained two weeks ago by his rival, Albright's Bill Shirk.

Duncan Elected As President Of State Grid Coaches Assn

Father James V. O'Neill Awarded "Coach Of The Year" Trophy At Organizational Meeting Of Delaware Scholastic Football Coaches Association At U.

Scotty Duncan, Newark High football coach, was first president of the newly organized Delaware Scholastic Football Coaches Association, and the Rev. James V. O'Neill, Salesianum grid pilot, received the "Coach of the Year" trophy at the two-day football coaching clinic at the University of Delaware last Friday and Saturday.

Duncan, who served as chairman of the state association's first formal authorization was holding a coaching clinic at the University of Delaware last Friday and Saturday.

Shortly after being elected president of the association, Duncan stated, "The purpose is to hold an annual clinic and banquet to promote good will and sportsmanship among the coaches of the state as well as to study and discuss the science of football."

"My chief aim now is to ensure that the organization grows to the point where 'boundary lines' in state between Sussex, Kent and Delaware Counties can be erased," Duncan added that he had DIFCA would help in coaching staffs in all parts of the state into a closely-knit unit.

At the dinner, greetings were extended by Francis Squire, Whitely was master of ceremonies and J. J. Minster, Director of the University of Delaware, spoke.

"Driving's a lot like being a coach," he said. "You have to be safe, you have to be fair, you have to be honest, you have to be a man of words."

Haystack Mountain Credit
Offered U.D. Art Students
The University of Delaware will institute a unique program in creative crafts during the 1965 summer session by offering credit for courses taken at the Haystack Mountain School of Crafts, Liberty, Maine.

Arrangements for the new art program have been instituted by William J. Brown, an instructor in the University of Delaware's art department, with the cooperation of the department and other university officials. Mr. Brown is a member of the Haystack Mountain School of Crafts.

The Haystack Mountain School of Crafts was organized five years ago as a non-profit basis to foster creative thinking in the arts and crafts and to develop the technical skills of the craftsman.

St. Paul's Church Announces $30,000 Goal For Building

A goal of $30,000 was announced for the St. Paul's Lutheran Church building fund campaign at a loyalty dinner last Friday night attended by more than 200.

On Saturday the advance visits committee, headed by Charles Haines, began work on a schedule designed to assure that—except for the first visit—no one would be asked for a pledge by someone who had not already made his own commitment to the campaign.

First the Rev. Howard S. Huges, pastor, called at the home of E. William Jahns, Jr., general chairman of the campaign. After Mr. Jahns had pledged, he and the pastor visited Mr. Haines at his home. Shortly after that Mr. Jahns and Mr. Haines visited the pastor at the parsonage.

The campaign will not be pressed during Holy Week. The actual visiting of members will start Sunday, April 17. There will be three report meetings that week and a service of thanks for victory is scheduled for Sunday, April 24.

Seven Clergymen To Join In 3-Hr. Good Friday Rites

Seven clergymen of Newark and vicinity representing five denominations will participate in the Three-Hour Service, from 12 to 3 on Good Friday at the Newark Methodist Church.

The services will be based upon the "Seven Last Words of Christ" and divided into seven sections. Worshipers may come and go at their convenience.

Assisting Dr. John J. Bunting, Jr., minister of the church, and each presenting a meditation of one of the Words, will be the Rev. Paul E. Cook, Calvary Baptist Church; the Rev. Arley B. Golden, Christian Methodist Church; the Rev. H. Everett Hallman, First Presbyterian Church; the Rev. Edwin J. Horney, Ebenezer Methodist Church; the Rev. Howard S. Huges, St. Paul's Lutheran Church; and the Rev. Theodore L. Ludlow, St. Thomas' Episcopal Church.

Music will be provided by members of the senior choir in Mrs. Ruth Brader, Mrs. Mildred Singles, Alden Burnham, and Bertram Gable, with Mrs. G. S. Starnstoff, organist.

Passover Assembly Planned For Local Jewish Children

Children of the Newark Jewish Community, under the sponsorship of the Sunday school committee, will offer a Passover assembly on Sunday at the Masonic Hall in Newark at 3 p.m.

The program, led by Mrs. Milton Fishman, will consist of a film on the story of Passover, along with music appropriate for the festival. Refreshments will be donated by the mothers.

For the adults, a model Seder affair is planned for the evening with Dr. Philip Birenbaum, of the Associated Hebrew School in Wilmington as the guest speaker.

Dr. Eugene Man is chairman of the evening program.
