Jewish War Vets Post Named In Honor Of Herman Handloff

New Post Organized In Newark To Be Named In Honor Of Late Businessman, Attorney, U. S. Army Veteran With Service In European, Pacific Theatres In WW-II

A Jewish War Veterans Post has been organized in Newark, and according to Department Commander Albert Sklar, it will be named for the late Herman Handloff, prominent local resident businessman and attorney who died in 1962. Herman Handloff served in both the European and Pacific theatres with the U. S. Army in World War II.

Sklar, the first state commander of the Jewish War Veterans, said he chose the period before Memorial Day to make the announcement, since members will participate in the Newark parade this Sunday.

The Jewish War Veterans reached department status after organizing Arthur Blatman Post 767 in Wilmington. This gave them the required three units to attain department recognition from the national organization. They also expect to form a post in Dover.

Community Leader

In naming the Newark unit in memory of the late Herman Handloff, Sklar said the organization was paying tribute to him not only as a veteran but as a community leader.

A graduate of Newark High School and the University of Delaware, Handloff attended George Washington law school, D. C., where he received his law degree in 1935.

He was admitted to practice law in Washington federal court that same year.

He entered the U. S. Army as an enlisted man in 1944. Returning to civilian life, Herman Handloff became a director of the Farmers Bank of the State of Delaware, president of the Newark Lions Club and of the Newark Chamber of Commerce, and treasurer of the Newark Recreation Association.

His parents — Mr. and Mrs. Louis Handloff — and his widow, Mrs. Laura Lieberman Handloff, granted permission to the veterans' organization to honor Mr. Handloff posthumously. He also is survived by two sons—Robert and Stuart, and a daughter, Mrs. Marvin Raphaelson.

All deceased veterans of the faith will be specially honored on Sunday, May 31, when exercises will be held in Lombardy Cemetery at noon.

Rabbi Jacob Kraft, department chaplain, will officiate.

George Worrlow Wins Gold Medal For Ag Leadership

Education alone will not solve the problems of unemployment, poverty and social inequities, Dr. George M. Worrlow, vice-president and dean of agriculture at the University of Delaware said last Tuesday night at the annual award dinner meeting of the Philadelphia Society for Promoting Agriculture, the nation's oldest agricultural society, founded in 1785.

Worrlow received the Society's gold medal in recognition of his "outstanding contribution to agricultural education."

The medal was presented by the Society's president, Dr. Mark Allam, dean of the college of veterinary medicine, University of Pennsylvania.

The modern educator's responsibility is not mere schooling, but discovery of causes and areas of shrinking job opportunities, Worrlow said.

He suggested that the nation's colleges and even secondary schools, educate students "to find underlying reasons for chronic unemployment and prescribe necessary remedies."

Ex-Mayor Rankin Cautions Council On Electric Rates

City Faces Revenue Loss With University Purchase Direct From DP&L Source

Former Mayor Carl S. Rankin warned Newark City Council at a special meeting last Monday night, that the city faces loss of revenue from the University of Delaware purchase of electricity, amounting to $324,200 last year.

Rankin said he had been negotiating with the university for more than a year to keep it from going to the General Assembly for permission to buy electricity from Delaware Power & Light.

Council held the first in a series of special meetings Monday to consider the report on electric rates submitted by Day & Zimmerman, Philadelphia consulting engineers.

Rankin said the city has had the historic philosophy of raising a great deal of revenue from electric sales in order to keep the property tax rate low, thus spreading the burden of government over the people, not just property owners.

He urged council to listen to the university before rejecting a low rate, or face the possibility of losing it as a customer.

After questioning the two Day & Zimmerman men who worked on the report, council took up the controversial question of whether the university received a rate reduction without council authorization. The city charter gives sole power to council to set rates.

City Manager J. Francis Neide explained that the university was in the process of combining some meters to save on some bills ($36 per year per meter eliminated) but had not been given a rate cut.

The report recommends a rate decrease to save the university $85,600 a year plus $7,900 to be saved by charging three meters at a lower rate.

After the discussion, Shields said he saw nothing wrong with the university merging meters nor with Neide's action in strengthening lines and equipment, nor with Rankin's negotiations except that council wasn't kept informed of a situation that could cost the city a great deal of revenue.

Councilman William M. Coverdale said university rate reductions would cost the city $1 million over the next decade and the first he knew of it was when he read the Day & Zimmerman report.

Neide protested that council had been kept informed of the negotiations.

Francis F. Gey, rate consultant with Day & Zimmerman, said any talk about a special rate for the university is not true. He said the proposed rate has been in effect with 10 large users for 10 years and the university should get it as long over.

State War Dead To Be Honored With Sunday Parade Of 2,500

Mayor Joseph Shields To Present Certificates To Six Spanish American War Veterans With Memorial Parade, Ceremonies In Newark; C. Vernon Steele Heads Program

Delaware's war dead will be honored this Sunday with memorial ceremonies on the University of Delaware campus in Newark at 1:30, followed by a parade at 2 p.m. An estimated 2,500 marchers from Maryland, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Delaware, will include members of the armed forces, local and state veterans organizations and their auxiliaries, and 15 military and school bands.

Memorial Event Leader

C. Vernon Steele, chairman of the day's activities, has announced that Newark Mayor Joseph A. Shields, will present certificates to six Spanish American War veterans of Farrell Post, Wilmington, during a luncheon preceding formal memorial services.

Parade Marshal Daniel N. Sundt, (U.S. Army Col. ret.) will conduct campus ceremonies at Memorial Hall (formerly Memorial Library), which was built in 1924 by citizens of Delaware to honor World War I dead.

At 2 p.m. the parade will begin on Delaware Avenue at the campus, proceed west to Elkton Road, north to Main Street, east on Main to Chapel Street; south to Delaware Avenue, and then west to the end point at Academy Street.

Military and civilian dignitaries to be present include Capt. Cassius B. Rhymes, Jr., commander, U. S. Naval Training Center, Bainbridge, Md.; Col. Lloyd D. Humphreys, Dover Air Force Base commander; Col. Ross R. Condit, Jr., U. S. Army Ordnance Center and School, Aberdeen, Md.; and Mrs. Gertrude Rhind, past national president of the Ladies Auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Senators John J. Williams and J. Caleb Boggs, and Rep. Harris E. McDowell will participate in the procession to City Hall where they will review the remainder of the hour-long parade with Mayor Shields.

The three counties of Delaware will be represented by Edward M. Daniel, mayor of New Castle; Crawford Carroll, Dover mayor; and Mayor Layton Johnson of Georgetown.

Lt. Gov. Eugene Lamont and William McClellan, president of the Wilmington City Council, will proclaim this annual observance in Newark a statewide activity.

Newark police, assisted by fire and civil defense auxiliaries, will plan to handle a crowd of 20,000 persons expected to witness the ceremonies and parade in Newark.

J. Paul Jaquette Elected President Of Local TD Club

Officers for the Newark Touchdown Club were elected at the annual spring banquet meeting in the Newark Country Club, with David M. Nelson—head football coach and athletic director for the University of Delaware—as the speaker last Thursday. Gibby Young was toastmaster.

J. Paul Jaquette was elected president, succeeding William G. Murray, Jr.; Albert S. Priestley was elected vice-president; J. Earl Lynch, secretary; and John Wallis, treasurer.

In addressing the group, Nelson cited the difference between Delaware and "big league" football as "a step more speed—a step more skill."

Stressing the importance of defensive football, the Admiral said that on defense a mistake may mean a touchdown, while a mistake by the offensive team generally means loss of a down or the ball.

"We always have a good team," Dave Nelson replied to a query concerning Delaware's new grid edition, but made no predictions for a winner.

Nelson said that he felt Delaware's Little All-America Halfback Mike Brown had a good chance of making the grade as a flanker with the pro Chicago Bears, and comparing present day football with that of another generation, said he believed former stars like Steve Van Buren "better backs because they ran successfully against many."

Baby-Sitter Saves Children In Fire As Dog Perishes

A 16-year-old baby-sitter led two small children to safety, but the family dog died in a fire last week at 511 Tamara Circle, Harmony Hills.

Newark Fireman Raymond Streets, 23, suffered an eye injury while fighting the blaze with two other fire companies, and was taken to Wilmington General Hospital for treatment.

The fire discovered shortly after 1:30 p.m. on Tuesday, kept Aetna, Mill Creek, and Christiana volunteer firemen at the scene for nearly two hours. Damages were estimated at $3,500.

Baby-sitter Joyce Adams, an aunt of one of the children, smelled smoke and, upon investigating, found a room in the basement ablaze. She quickly grabbed her nephew and his playmate—rushed them out of the house, and notified police.

The dog Lassie about two years old, was found dead in the basement where she had been tied.

Two New Castle County 4-Hers were honored by the Delaware Poultry Improvement Association. Cecil Holland from Townsend, and Elaine Gibson from Newark were given certificates of merit as outstanding 4-Hers with poultry projects.

One of the top events of the year is the County Dress Revue. This year, 150 New Castle County 4-H clothing members participated in the Revue, and medals were presented to 15 outstanding girls.

The 1964 County Medal winners from Newark are Marilyn Balmer, Hill 'n Valley Club; Virginia Gibson, Forest Oak; Margaret King, Blue Hen; Ann McIntosh and Brenda Billingsley, Green Meadows Club; Gail Neave, Union Club; Cindy Wilson, Green Meadows; and Marie Proud, White Oak Club.

Bernard A. Weimer Retires At DuPont As Sales Manager

Bernard A. Weimer of 220 South College Avenue in Newark, retired April 30, as export sales manager for the Du Pont electrochemicals department, closing a career of 34 years with the company.

Weimer was succeeded by Edwards P. Galpin of the international department, who has been in Buenos Aires, Argentina, as chemicals and explosives sales manager for Du Pont in Latin America.

Joining DuPont in 1930 as a chemical engineer at the Belle (W. Va.) ammonia plant, Weimer was named export manager for the department in 1954.

R. F. King Joins Local Budd Plant As Marketing Aide

Robert F. King has joined the Budd Company's polychem division as market development representative, cast nylon products, with headquarters at the division offices in Newark.

Formerly with Johnson & Johnson as eastern district manager, King graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and took post graduate courses at Boston University in marketing. He served with the U. S. Navy on submarine duty for two years.

A native of Ohio, King is married and the father of two children. The family lives in Wilmington.

AVON AWARD
Directors of Avon Products, Inc., have declared a quarterly dividend of 50 cents per share on capital stock, payable June 1, 1964 to stockholders of record May 15.

Successful ever. Excellent music was provided by the Chapelles, and Erica Wilson, 113 West Park Place, Newark, was elected as 4-H Queen, and Leo Tammi, Ott's Chapel Road, was selected as King.

The Memorial Day parade will be held this Sunday provided there is no rain, and 4-Hers will be busy in many areas. They will provide cookies for all participants, and you might be interested to know that 1,300 dozen cookies will be needed, according to Beverly Wiebe, Jr., Council president. A float and marching unit also will represent 4-H, as well as last year's King and Queen.

Summer fun for children can also be loaded with dangers. More accidents occur during carefree summer months than at any other time of the year, and 4-Hers can help a great deal by watching out for children and helping them learn safe and healthy play habits. Safety is a big part of the 4-H program and a major concern to the nation.

Instruct children for safe fun on the playground and water areas, and especially when riding a bicycle. Thirteen million children have been injured and required medical attention because of bicycle accidents. Last year, the second largest number of outdoor injuries involved bicycles.

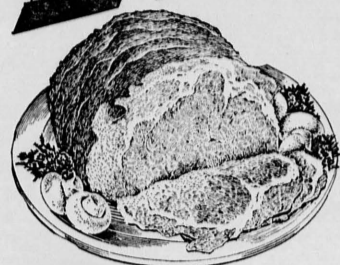

Make sure bicycles have all equipment in good working order. If riding at night, the front light should be visible at 500-ft., and reflectors at 300. Check wheels, tires and chains for soundness. Tighten loose parts and repair faulty ones.

Safe equipment is the first step to accident prevention, but don't neglect to emphasize road safety rules.

Ride on the right side of the road—never two abreast. Wear light-colored clothing after dark, and give proper signals when turning or stopping.

MEMORIAL DAY—1964

"THEY DIED FOR US"

These heroes are dead. They died for liberty—they died for us. They are at rest. They sleep in the land they made free, under the flag they rendered stainless, under the solemn pines, the sad hemlocks, the tearful willows, the embracing vines. They sleep beneath the shadows of the clouds, careless alike of sunshine or storm, each in the windowless papace of rest. Earth may run red with other wars—they are at peace. In the midst of battles, in the roar of conflict, they found the serenity of death.

Art Wright Wins In Three Events As Newark Loses

Arthur Wright was a triple winner for Coach Ray Ciesinski's Yellowjackets as they concluded their dual meet track and field season last Monday at Brandywine, but Newark dropped a 61-56 decision to the Bulldogs who share a 14-point first place tie with Mt. Pleasant and DeLaWarr in the Blue Hen Conference standings. Newark was second with 12 points.

Wright won the 100 in 10.3; the 440 in 53.0; and the 220 in 23.0. Newark Capt. Mike Walker won the 180-yd. low hurdles in 21.0; and Chris Ward won the pole vault at 10-ft.

Larry Tucker and Walker finished two-three over the 120-yd. hurdles as Brandywine's Haigh set a record in 16.2, and Charlie Hayman and Norris Saunders finished second to Wright in the 100 and 440.

Hayman tied Brandywine's Haigh for first in the high jump at 5-6. Steve Moore finished third with the shot; Wayne Hurd was second to Walker over the 180-yd. hurdles course; and Dick Mendenhall finished third in the 880.

Tom Davies was third over the two-mile route; Dave Eastburn finished second to Ward over the pole vault bar; and Hayman and Saunders were two-three behind Wright in the 220.

Saunders and Eastburn took second and third in the broad jump.

Despite many legends about the Wild West — both on and off television — the bare facts are that American cowboys were poor shots, slinging lots of lead but rarely hitting the mark.

The cowboy with the gun existed as a man; but when it came to his marksmanship prowess, he was truly a myth, according to the National Rifle Association.

The non-profit membership organization, founded in 1871, dug into old records, archives, and newspaper accounts to show the about cowboy gunmen and their accuracy with firearms. The results do not speak well for the cowboy as a sharpshooter.

You can count on your fingers and toes the number of real working cowboys who could hit a man at 50-ft. with a Colt .44 or .45; however, most of them were better than average shots with a rifle.

The best shots in the cow country were not the cowboys — they were the ones who usually got shot. The real marksmen were the professional gunslingers who spent their time learning to draw fast and shoot straight while the honest cowpoke was busy branding cattle, riding the range, repairing fence, or busting steers out of the brush.

Some outlaws and gunmen turned cowboys out of necessity when a sheriff breathing down their necks demanded a change of occupation. A few cowboys turned gunmen — after all, no one got rich on $30 a month! But few working cowboys ever became good shots with handguns.

What about Wes Hardin, Billy the Kid, Jesse James, the Youngers, Clay Allison, Frank Reno and others of similar reputation in the cow country during the 1870's and 1880's?

They weren't cowboys — they were gunmen who rode horseback and occasionally joined the range crews. Most were killers who thought a working cowpoke was a fool — too dumb to turn something less difficult and more profitable.

Billy the Kid — William H. Bonney, legally — used a Colt .41 double action revolver and, by constant practice, became a dead shot with the gun. Rumor has it that in 1882 he had killed 23 men; but he could hardly be classified as a cowboy, even though he did punch cows for a while in 1878.

In the late 1880's and early 1890's most cowboys had to carry guns. It was a period of chaos in the West. Indian raids, rustlers, crooks and land-jumpers even some of the farmers in Missouri and Kansas banded together to rob the trail herders. Then there were the snakes, coyotes and other predators that had to be disposed of — and frequently.

Carrying a gun was a matter of personal protection during a period when there was very little law enforcement — except what a man could enforce himself. Even then, few cowboys became good shots with a revolver. Most preferred to ride with rifles and shotguns.

One marshal and a brace of deputies usually could keep peace in a town that was one solid line of saloons and honky-tonks. Such law enforcement men included fast-draw artists like Wyatt Earp, Bat Masterson, Wild Bill Hickok, John Slaughter, Heck Thomas, Bud Lesletter, Pat Garrett, Chris Madsen and Bill Tilghman, to name a few of the better-known sheriffs and marshals. Boot Hill cemetery in Tombstone, Ariz., is a popular tourist attraction — the final resting place of many lead-poisoning victims — yet, there were far more actual shooting incidents than there are victims of gun fights buried at Boot Hill and similar places.

For example, a box score on cowboy shootings in such cowtown capitals as Dodge City and Abilene, Kans., Cheyenne, Wyo., Miles City, Mont., Trail City, Colo., Las Vegas, Nev., and Tucson, Ariz., showed 1,020 shooting incidents and 349 fatalities. Of the latter, 266 deaths resulted

Mary McDowell Wins NCC Classes Of Eight Tournay

Mary McDowell won first flight play in the women's classes of eight golf tournament at the Newark Country Club; Dixie Stephens won the second flight; Helen Kubicko, third; and Eleanor Fitzwilliam was fourth flight winner.

Jean Sweeney, Ruth Wagman, and Louise Woodhouse were last Tuesday winners in the Ladies Day most net three, four, and five event.

Doris Frye is chairman for next Tuesday's Nassau or best nine Ladies Day play, assisted by Jan Angstadt and Doris Westcott.

Mark Brown Hurls Yellowjacket Win; Watson Hits 3-4

After 9-5 and 6-2 setbacks last Friday at Williamsport, Pa., and in a Monday home stand against P. S. du Pont, Coach Grant Ewell's Yellowjackets unloaded the lumber on visiting Dickinson last Tuesday for a 12-2 Newark High School victory.

Reggie Watson, a sophomore, hit a double, a pair of singles, and drove in a run to lead the Newark hit parade, and Pitcher Mark Brown contributed a triple and a single in addition to firing seven strikeouts and limiting Dickinson to six hits as the winning twirler.

Ewell's Yellowjackets moved into a two-run lead in the first inning, and were never headed, scoring four in the fourth, and four more in the sixth.

At New Castle last Friday, Ron Mitchell and Tom Kardash led William Penn's 11-hit attack against Newark Pitchers Frank Basta and Mark Brown, with Mitchell unloading a three-run homer in the fourth inning.

Dick Fulton was the loser at home last Monday against P. S. du Pont, as the "Dynahe" Bob Doriaz tossed a six-hitter at the Yellowjackets, and P. S. Catcher Bill Buchanan had a field day with four hits in four trips to the plate.

The Yellowjackets are scheduled to wind up the season on the road with DeLaWarr this Friday, and Conrad on Tuesday at 4 p.m.

Coach Ray Ciesinski's Yellowjackets finished fifth with 14 points, and Coach Ron Miller's Vikings tied Mt. Pleasant for ninth place with seven points in the New Castle County High School Track Championships last Saturday at Baynard Stadium.

Tower Hill won the team title with 40 1/2 points. Newark point-winners were Capt. Mike Walker and Wayne Hurd, second and fifth over the 180-yd. low hurdles; Charlie Hayman, fifth in the 220; Arthur Wright, fourth and fifth in the 440; Walker, third in the 120 high hurdles; and Chris Ward, a third place tie in the pole vault.

Winning points for Christiansa were Bob Hackett, third with the javelin; Doug Hunt, fourth with the discus; and Tom Stiltz, a third place tie in the pole vault.

Ciesinski's Yellowjackets and Miller's Vikings are expected to compete in the Delaware Interscholastic Track Championships at Frazer Field in Newark this Saturday.

Dr. Charles Skinner Tops McSpadden Open Tournay

Dr. Charles K. Skinner took the first round lead in the 36-hole McSpadden Open Golf Tournament last Saturday at the Newark Country Club with a net 65. The final 18 holes will be played this Saturday.

Other top scorers are Robert Simone, Bill Cole, and Mike Kubicko, 69; Carty Straughn, Roy McCombs, and Frank Uhl, 70, and Paul McDermitt, 71.

Tony Paccello's 75-65 won the handicap match play against par test. Dick Bauer (74-69) tied for second.

BOHNING'S LINKSMEN

Coach Bill Bohning's Newark High School golf team is scheduled to play Christiansa away this Friday, to entertain Wilmington on Monday, and to conclude the Yellowjackets' campaign on June 1, at Conrad, at 4 o'clock.

Palmer, Coldiron Pitch One-Hitter; Eggleston Homers

Coach Bob Turnerberger's Vikings walloped William Penn 12-0 at the Christiansa High school diamond last Tuesday evening as Tom Palmer and Kerry Coldiron combined mound efforts in holding the visitors to one hit.

Second Baseman Ken Eggleston hit a home run and a single; Centerfielder Earl Mikolitch pounded out a double and a pair of singles, and Rightfielder Joe Malloy and Third Baseman Roger Barnes each batted in a pair of runs.

Turnerberger's Vikings exploded with a nine-run uprising in the second to thoroughly spoil the afternoon for the Colonials.

Palmer pitched Christiansa to a 2-0 win over the visiting Green Knights of Mt. Pleasant last Friday, and in the top of the seventh inning, Earl Mikolitch singled, stole second, and Eggleston drove him home with a single.

Malloy tripled in the fourth inning, and came in with the second run on First Baseman Aubrey Fisher's sacrifice.

The Vikings are slated to play at Dickinson this Friday, and close the season next Tuesday with visiting DeLaWarr at 4 p.m.

Yellowjackets Win 5th Straight Test In Tennis Match

The Yellowjackets won their fifth straight match as Coach John McNelis' Newark High School varsity tennis team defeated William Penn away last Friday 5-0 to conclude the 1964 season.

Newark's Buzz Graham, Craig Wilson, and Tom Mangold won Monday and Tuesday matches in the Delaware Interscholastic Tennis Meet being held this week at Mt. Pleasant.

In last Friday's play, Graham defeated the Colonials' Elrod 6-2, 6-1; Wilson walloped Ware 6-1, 6-0; and Mangold stopped Rosenberg 6-4, 6-3.

In doubles play, Tom Sherman and John Ludlow defeated Russell and Talley 6-1, 6-1; and Bill Bailey and Phil Reinhardt turned back Hanna and Quiciri 7-5, 6-0.

Hen Champs Face Lions' Twin-Bill For Season Finale

Seton Hall defeated Delaware 4-2 last Tuesday at South Orange, N.J., as Coach Tubby Raymond's New Jersey Atlantic Conference champions suffered their sixth setback.

The Hens have won 16 games and end their season with a double-header at Penn State this Saturday. It was a tough day for Southpaw Terry Arnold who struck out four and walked three, and didn't allow an earned run.

Three of the seven hits he gave up were singles through the infield and two were opposite field doubles. On defense, Arnold fielded six hard chances without a flaw. On one occasion, he dove for an infield roller, landed on his stomach and threw out the runner.

In addition, Terry's bat accounted for both Hen runs, with a triple and infield grounder.

Delaware tied in the sixth on Arnold's three-bagger, which scored Tom VanGroski, who had doubled. The Hens went ahead 2-1, in the eighth on back-to-back singles by Wallace and VanGroski and Arnold's run-scoring out.

Delaware's defense fell apart in the last of the eighth when Seton Hall scored three runs with two down.

Coach Scotty Duncan Hens Conclude 7-5 Golf Season

Delaware's golf team lost its final match of the season last Friday, by 10 1/2 to 8 1/2 at Bucknell.

The Blue Hens in their first year under Coach Scotty Duncan, wound up with a 7-5 record.

John DiEulerio, Gary Watson and Bob Stewart scored wins for the Hens in their finale.

Newark's Folk, Moore, Suppe, Walker Named To Play As Gold All-Star Gridders

Two 30-man squads, including four players from: Coach Bob Hoffman's Newark High School Blue Hen Conference Champion Yellowjackets of last fall, were announced today for play in the annual Delaware All-Star High School Football Game on Aug. 22 in Delaware Stadium for the benefit of the Delaware Foundation for Retarded Children.

Players include the complete All-State football team of 1963, with Newark's first team All-State Guard Dan Suppe to play for the Gold squad.

Yellowjacket Co-Captains Harvey Folk and Mike Walker — second team All-State selections at quarterback and tackle — will joint Suppe at halfback and tackle, and Newark's Eddie Moore — halfback for Eddie Moore's Yellowjacket champs of last season — has been named the Gold's one fullback.

Folk, converted of necessity by Coach Hoffman from half to quarterback last season as a senior, should enjoy a field day in his natural, hard-running, ball-carrying capacity without the trammels of a field general.

With Dan Suppe at 6-1 and 175-lbs., the Golds will have four first team All-State stars with State Scoring Champion Jim Layfield, 205-lb. halfback from Millsboro; Ed Cronin — 197-lb. fullback from Dickinson; and Charley Graham, 6-4 and 204-lbs. from Jason High; and Ed Roberts, 185-lb. guard from Seaford.

With Yellowjackets Folk at 5-8 and 160-lbs. and Walker at 6-3 and 195-lbs., the Golds will have three other second team All-State grid-ders — End Ken Bramer at 6-2 and 190-lbs. from Middletown; George Lowry's Kenny Rementer, 190-lb. guard; and Center Bruce Steen, 245-lb. and 6-7, from J. M. Clayton.

Third team All-Stars selected to play for the Gold All-Stars are: Center Ernie Anderson, 165-lb. halfback; and Middletown Center Lou Januick at 225.

The Blues from north of Wilmington's southern limits, will be coached by Johnny Walsh of Archmere Academy.

The Golds' coach is Jim Harf of Bridgeville. The Blues lead in the 5-2-1 series, Salesianum and Archmere dominate the Blue roster with six players apiece.

For the Golds, Newark High and Conrad each placed four players selected by the Delaware Interscholastic Football Coaches Association.

The Blues were picked from 13 schools — the Golds from 14. The Blue All-Stars include six first team All-State players: End Al Green of Tower Hill; Clayton's Green of Claymont; Tackles Wilmer Brown of Howard and Andy Bartholomew of Salesianum; Center Jack Holloway and Quarterback Charley Mikolajewski of Salesianum and Fullback Ralph Donofrio of Archmere.

The Blues also will have three second-team All-Stars with End Ed Cronin of Tower Hill; Tackle Charley Shue of Wilmington; and Guard Francis Coleman of Salesianum.

From the third All-State team come five Blue All-Stars — Ends Bob Carter of Brandywine and Bill Boland of Archmere; Tackle Paul Camp of Alexis I. du Pont; Guard Bob Hrycek of P. S. du Pont, and Fullback Dave Hedreen of A. I.

Stowell Selected With State Eight For Ag Research

Eight Delaware high school science teachers, including Edwin D. Stowell, of Newark, have been selected to participate in a summer research program at the University of Delaware school of agriculture and agricultural experiment station.

Teachers will work with university research scientists in entomology, plant pathology, animal and poultry science and horticulture, according to Dr. Morris S. Cover, experiment station director.

Assisting in entomology research will be Edward J. Kedda, teacher at Stanton Junior High, and Claude G. Tsinger, Jr., teacher at Caesar Rodney High School.

Edwin D. Stowell, Jr., a teacher at Christiana High School, and George D. Stewart, Laurel Central High School teacher, will work in the area of plant pathology.

Selected for study in animal and poultry science are William D. Mort, teacher at Bridgeville, and Edward Malin, Wilmington High School teacher.

Francis M. Gavas, a Claymont High School teacher, and William M. Howlett, a Bridgeville High School teacher, will participate in horticulture research.

The research participation program in its second year, is financed by a grant from S. Hallock du Pont.

Participating teachers will receive graduate credit for their work during the eight-week session.

Color Offers Zest At Family Tables

Economist Advises

Before we even taste new foods, we tend to form impressions of like and dislike by the way they look to us. Homemakers should recognize this when planning meals, says Mrs. Suzanne Tatnall, New Castle County home economics agent.

If you are adding food coloring to cakes, bread and puddings, use only enough to give a faint color. Give your family time to adjust to gradual changes, as big doses of unusual colors arouse suspicion, Mrs. Tatnall advises.

Just as unappealing as foods with too many colors, are mono-color meals of mashed potatoes, creamed onions, fried liver, celery, white bread and rice pudding.

Color is most effectively used in varying amounts, with light and colorless foods balanced with more colorful.

Because you see them so often, you may overlook colors in dishes and table linens, Mrs. Tatnall says. These can also be utilized to add color and interest to meals.

Seasonal flowers and centerpieces are other ways to put color into your meals.

Frequency Advised In House-Cleaning To Avoid Upheaval

House-cleaning need not be a semi-annual upheaval that wears out mother, disturbs father, and leaves children with frayed nerves.

Today's homemaker may wish to put her house-cleaning on a weekly basis, suggests Mrs. Suzanne Tatnall, extension home economist for New Castle County.

To do this, she should thoroughly clean one room each week, including such jobs as washing woodwork, cleaning windows, and laundering curtains. Other rooms get the usual once-over-lightly cleaning.

Either weekly or twice-a-year cleaning means a homemaker will have to reach high places. Although a stepstool is useful for some jobs, it will not offer the support a step-ladder will. Some step-ladders have a curved pipe at the top, Mrs. Tatnall explains. The pipe gives support to the body or serves as a handhold.

No matter how often a woman cleans house, she should avoid hurrying, becoming overtired, or using careless work habits, Mrs. Tatnall cautions. Any of these slips could cause an accident.

Marine Charles L. Sluder With Cherry Point Wing

Marine Private 1/c Charles L. Sluder, son of Mrs. John I. Tester of Route 2, Newark, is serving with the 2nd Marine Aircraft Wing at Cherry Point, N. C.

Squadrons based at Cherry Point provide air support for infantrymen of the Atlantic Fleet Marine Force based at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

Tatnall Advises Gardeners On Problem Of Dampness

Wet areas in the garden often pose planting problems for the home-owner. And frequent rains this spring point out this fact, says Dave Tatnall, assistant county agent in ornamental horticulture.

Drainage can be improved in several ways. In heavy soils, texture can be made more porous by addition of organic matter or coarse sand.

In low spots, raise the level of beds and borders by mounding up the soil or by constructing planters.

Tile or gravel drains may be necessary to remove excess water.

But frequently, the most practical solution is the selection of plants known to do well in poorly-drained locations, Tatnall concludes.

"Why buy a home on a hunch?"

John Buchanan

"Arrange for the right mortgage. Otherwise, you might end up in a mortgage-with-a-pinch. Like a shoe that doesn't fit, the wrong house or the wrong mortgage can pinch for a long time ... and the Savings Fund stands ready to help you avoid this kind of budget discomfort.

"Go to the Savings Fund to see what's possible when you fall in love with the house. Take full advantage of their mortgage counselors' experience. They've got the facts. For example, the Savings Fund may be able to grant a loan of up to 90% of appraised value ... or, terms up to 25 years ... or at an interest rate as low as 5 1/4%.
