Santa Claus Due To Arrive In Newark On Saturday, Dec. 8th

Choice Of Children Will Make His Headquarters In Trailer Located At City Hall For Two-Week Visit

Jolly Old Saint Nick will make his annual appearance in the City of Newark on Saturday afternoon, December 8, at approximately 1:30 p.m.

Due to the long range weather prediction of no snow, Santa has given up the idea of the sleigh and reindeer and will arrive in town atop a big red fire engine which he has borrowed from the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company.

This year Santa will make his local North Pole headquarters in a modern, house type trailer which will be located in front of City Hall at the corner of Main and Academy Streets. He will occupy his new quarters at approximately 2 p.m. on Saturday, but for half an hour prior to this time will tour the streets of Newark to wave his greetings to the children. No definite route has been decided on and Santa will attempt to see all of his young friends before settling down in his headquarters.

Santa will remain in Newark through Saturday, December 22, and will welcome visitors to his headquarters between the hours of 3 and 5 p.m. in the afternoon and 6 and 9 p.m. in the evenings during the week and between 1 and 5 p.m. in the afternoon and 6 to 9 p.m. on Saturdays.

Gifts of candy and small toys will be distributed to the children of Newark by their favorite Santa and Santa will have his own mailbox at his headquarters to collect any letters that may be addressed to him.

On Saturday, Dec. 15, Eugene Stitt will make arrangements to entertain the children of Our Lady of Grace Home, on Ogletown Road, at a Christmas party sponsored by the Newark Chamber of Commerce. Santa's visit to the city is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and the committee making the arrangements consist of William J. Warwick, Alfred McClary, and William Rodgers.

Stinking Decision On Garbage Problem Forced On Council

In Near Future Garbage Cans Will Have To Be Put On Curbs

City Council was forced to make what most of them consider to be a stinking decision at Tuesday night's meeting.

In the near future it will be necessary for the residents of Newark to place their garbage cans on the curbs in front of the house if it is to be picked up by the garbage collector.

All of this was brought about when the firm, J. S. Rowles and Sons, who had been awarded the garbage collection contract for the year, appeared before Council and announced that unless this was done the firm would be forced to terminate its collection.

It seems as though the collectors have been on the receiving end of too much abuse from the housewives of the city during the past few weeks regarding such matters as dirtying clothes, messing up lawns, and infrequent collection.

In the absence of any other party willing to undertake the garbage collection, City Council is in the position that if garbage is to be collected at all it will have to be done by the present collector, Mr. Rowles assured Council that collections would be regular, and in accordance with any regulations imposed by the city. A performance bond would be put into effect to assure proper handling of the matter. He also announced that he would be able to reduce the cost to the city for such collection from the present $400 to $300 per month.

Just when it will become necessary for the residents to start placing the garbage cans on the curbs has not been definitely decided by Council and until such notice is given the collection will be made in the same way as in the past.

Wesley Foundation Will Present Play

Program Will Be Presented December 18

The annual Christmas drama to be presented by the Wesley Foundation is scheduled for Tuesday evening, December 18, at 7:30 p.m. in the social hall of the Newark Methodist Church.

This year the group will present Stephen Vincent Benet's "A Child Is Born," written for the radio program, "Cavalcade of America," and twice broadcast over the NBC network.

Unlike many dramas dealing with the story of the Nativity, this one deals with the story of the Nativity from the point of view of the innkeeper, and that of a thief rather than the usual Wise Men and Shepherds.

Those appearing in the cast include: Dick Timmins, Betty Lindell, Allen Emmerick, Ulrich Koerner, Betty Whyte, Dorothy Ferguson, Rae Priestly, Teel Dunn, George Simpson, Alex Zabenko, Heinz Breyer, and others.

A program of special music is being planned for the occasion.

Welsh Tract Primitive Baptist Church Marks 250th Anniversary This Sunday

The 250th anniversary of the founding of the Welsh Tract Primitive Baptist Church will be held next Sunday at 10:45 a.m. in the ancient Meeting House at the foot of Iron Hill, in Pennsylvania. Services will be in charge of the pastor, Elder David V. Spangler.

The congregation, oldest of the Old School Baptist Faith in America, was organized in Wales in 1701, and sailed that year from Milford Haven with the first pastor, Thomas Griffith, in a ship named James and Mary, landing in Philadelphia. After remaining somewhat scattered for a year and a half, the congregation established itself in the Welsh Tract. The first Meeting House was made of logs. Nearby a school house was built.

The present Meeting House, erected in 1746, was made of bricks brought from England. The Meeting House played a part in the Battle of Cooch's Bridge, September 3, 1777. The last stand of the Americans in that engagement was in the shelter of its walls. Tradition states that an English cannon ball passed through the building.

The records disclose that the Welsh who settled in Delaware were in education, intelligence and lineage of a very high order. Among their outstanding pastors were Rev. Abel Morgan who compiled the first concordance of the Bible in the Welsh language; Rev. Morgan Edwards who wrote the first history of the Baptists in Delaware and who was a founder of Brown University in Rhode Island; and Rev. David Jones a chaplain in General Wayne's army in the Revolution. Rev. Jones' famous sermon "Defensive War in a Just Cause Sinless" was published and extensively circulated throughout the Colonies, and did much to promote the cause of independence.

In the cemetery, which is shaded by three immense white oaks, are buried ancestors of President James A. Garfield of the Union, President Jefferson Davis of the Confederacy and of Commodore Jacob Jones of the War of 1812.

Regular services are held on the second Sunday of each month.

City Council Takes Action On Zoning New Areas In City

New Ordinance Would Make Areas Recently Added RS Zones

City Council heard at Tuesday night's meeting the first reading of an ordinance classifying those areas brought into the city limits under the recent extension of the city limits as RS zones.

This action was taken as a result of such recommendation of the newly created Planning Commission. In a letter from Harry C. Boden, chairman of the Commission, Mr. Boden expressed the commission's opinion that "unless action is taken immediately to zone the areas recently annexed to the city, the commission will be greatly handicapped in planning for the future development of the city."

"The Commission believes," said Mr. Boden, "that considerations of fairness require that all of these new areas be given the same zoning classification."

"We recognize that such action will be temporary until such time as the commission and the Council have an opportunity to carefully study the entire matter in the light of long range interests of the city."

"We are fully aware of the problems that will be involved in the future in rezoning some parts of these areas to other classifications which later study indicates that they should have. We feel, however, that the hazards involved are far less than those inherent in either zoning the areas now on a basis of expediency or waiting to take action until the areas may be zoned on a permanent and carefully studied basis."

This action of classifying the newly added areas to RS would limit any building to residential units of single family type.

Second and final reading of the ordinance is scheduled for the next meeting of City Council.

Newark Plans For Those In Service At Christmas Time

Men Of Newark Battery C At Fort Meade Will Be Visited Personally

Dr. J. R. Downes, chairman of the Mayor's Committee which sees to it that Newark's members of the Armed Forces are not forgotten at Christmas, has announced that plans are under way to contact all of Newark's service men and women with Christmas greetings.

It is planned that members of the Mayor's Committee will personally visit those Newark residents who are serving with Battery C, 736 AAA Gun Battalion, former Newark National Guard unit, which is at the present time stationed at Fort Meade, Md.

Last year Dr. Downes made the trip to Camp Stewart, Ga., in order to attend the Battery C Christmas party and delivered Christmas stockings to each member of the outfit. He reported the men were deeply appreciative of this gesture on the part of the people of Newark. Cards were sent to all of the others whose addresses could be obtained.

At a meeting of the committee held recently, plans were formulated as to the nature and extent of this year's greetings. Attending members were: (Continued on Page 12)

Post Office Staff Looking For Usual Big Christmas Rush

Public Urged Again To Mail Christmas Parcels And Cards Early

Postmaster F. Allyn Cooch, Jr., said today, "Postal employees will be enjoying their last peaceful weekend before wading into the annual deluge of Christmas mail."

"In another week we'll be swamped. I only hope that the people here in town realize how much they can help us, and themselves, by mailing their Christmas cards and other gifts during the next few days."

"There's always a last minute flood of parcel post from out-of-town. Most of it is the Christmas mail from friends and loved ones, but we've also received some large commercial shipments and more will come. When the incoming and outgoing operations overlap, a jam may result, and some things may not be delivered until after Christmas."

Christmas greeting cards, packages for out-of-state delivery should be posted by December 11th. Those for local delivery at least a week before Christmas Day.

Post office windows are most crowded at lunch time, so Postmaster Cooch advises that packages be mailed before 10 a.m. or between 1:30 and 3:30 p.m. "The lines will be shorter then, and it's easier on the feet," he added.

Prizes, including a door prize and jackpot prize, will be awarded and are now on display in the window of Sheaffer's, 75 E. Main Street.

Newark's parking problems came in for lengthy discussion and some positive action at Tuesday night's meeting of City Council in City Hall. Two new ordinances were read before Council for the first time, one regulating parking on W. Main Street, and the other affecting those streets adjacent to the University of Delaware.

Mayor Wallace Johnson opened the meeting by announcing that he had recently conferred with several groups from the university, including one with representatives of the Student Committee on Parking, and had been assured by these students that if City Council would refrain from any hasty action regarding the parking problem on streets adjacent to university property for a period of two weeks, the students would see that conditions would improve.

The students admitted that a number of those parking in these areas were not cooperating with university officials, city officials, or residents of the area in solving the parking problem, but promised that meetings were scheduled to be held to discuss the matter with all students.

If the student representatives had in mind delaying Council's action on putting into effect an ordinance regulating parking on streets adjacent to the university, they failed.

Spurred on by many letters from residents on these streets stressing the urgent disregard by the offending students of property rights of those residents, Council proceeded to read for the first time an ordinance regulating parking on these streets.

Specifically, the ordinance limits parking to one hour, between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., on W. Delaware Avenue, from S. College Avenue to Elkton Road; Amstel Avenue, Kent Way, and Winslow Road, from S. College Avenue to Orchard Road.

Complaints from residents of this area ranged from the blocking of driveways to scattering of trash, bottles, and refuse on lawns by the parkers.

Councilman Carl Rankin expressed the belief that little good would come of Council delaying action for two weeks so the student committee could study the situation and present for the reading of the ordinance, which was done.

Mayor Johnson also made known the fact that Council had recently made a survey in connection with the use by students at the university of parking facilities provided by the university and stated that this survey revealed that some of these lots are not being used to any great extent by the students. The survey found that only five or six cars were usually parked at any one time in the lot situated behind the Knoll, located at S. College and W. Delaware Avenue.

Council heard the first reading of another ordinance prohibiting parking on the south side of W. Main Street between the B. and O. Railroad tracks and the city water tower across from the Newark Country Club.

Final reading and enactment of these two ordinances regulating parking in the city are scheduled for the next meeting of City Council.

5-Year Term Policy Available To Vets Of Recent Service

Policy May Be Renewed At 5-Year Intervals But Not Convertible

Two new types of low cost government life insurance are available to eligible veterans of the U. S. Armed Forces who served anywhere in the world since the Korean Campaign started on June 27, 1950.

The first of these two types is a non-convertible five-year level premium term policy that may be renewed every five years at the premium rate for the then attained age.

The second type is a special form of National Service Life Insurance, on either term or permanent plans, that may be issued to disabled veterans whose disabilities have been found to be service-connected.

In this article, we will discuss only the five-year level premium term plan. The special NSLI provided for disabled veterans will be discussed later.

To qualify for the five-year level premium term policy (under Section 621 of the NSLI Act), veterans must have been ordered to active duty for 31 days or more; they must have served since June 27, 1950 and they must have been released from active service.

These veterans are eligible, without physical examination, for a five-year level premium term policy in amounts ranging from $1,000 to $10,000, less any other Government life insurance in force at the time of application.

They must apply in writing to Veterans Administration, Washington 25, D.C., within 120 days after their release or separation from active service, and pay the required first premium.

The premium rates for most ages under this policy are the lowest of any Government life insurance yet authorized by the Congress.

While this policy may be renewed every five years at the premium rate for the then attained age, it is not convertible to any other plan of Government life insurance, nor will it earn dividends.

Because it is the term policy running for only five years, it does not have any loan value, cash surrender value or extended insurance value. It merely provides life insurance coverage while premiums are being paid for the five-year period.

A veteran taking out this type of policy may name any person or persons, firm or corporation, or his estate as the beneficiary or beneficiaries to whom payments shall be made in event of his death while the policy is in force under premium-saving conditions.

Death payments made to the beneficiary or beneficiaries are exempt from taxation, but the exemption does not extend to any property bought with this money. These payments also are fully exempt from claims of creditors against the insured veteran or his beneficiaries, but this exemption does not apply against the United States.

Veterans who plan to apply for this insurance may do so immediately following separation or release from active service, but they must meet requirements within 120 days after separation or release.

For further information, veterans should contact their nearest VA office immediately after separation or release.

Harry S. Truman is the seventh vice president to be elevated to the presidential chair by the death of a president. The others were John Tyler, Millard Fillmore, Andrew Johnson, Chester A. Arthur, Theodore Roosevelt and Calvin Coolidge.

FILLIN' IN

Next time you lose your self control and tell someone he is as silly as a goose and he proceeds to hit you over the head with the nearest portable object, you can console yourself with the knowledge that he is either not a lover of geese or he doesn't know the true merits of this breed of fowl.

If you were to make this statement to Mr. Lewis Wilkins, R.F.D. No. 1, Newark, he would not feel bad about it at all. According to word we received from him recently, he has done some research on the matter and has come to resent such reference to the mental capacities of the goose.

Mr. Wilkins says according to a book in his possession we often hear the word goose used to designate a person as silly, or to characterize some foolish action. This use of the word, as indicating a popular opinion regarding the stupidity of the bird, is resented by those familiar with their habits, and even some authors declare the opinion erroneous.

According to Mr. Wilkins' book, geese are ever on the alert, and one breeder asserts that geese are better than any watch-dog for giving notice of the approach of strangers during either day or night. One goose breeder, who claimed membership in one or two societies, and occasionally came home quite late, asserted that he could always get into the house without disturbing his watch-dog, but never in his life succeeded without arousing the vander, which gave due notice of his approach.

According to the book, geese also have a long tenure of life, far exceeding any other domestic fowl in this respect. In former times it was not uncommon for the farmer's daughter, on her wedding day, to receive, among other gifts, a goose from the old homestead, to become her property and accompany her to her new home. In some instances such geese were kept for many years, perhaps far beyond the life of the young lady to whom it was presented. Such a goose was exhibited at the New Jersey State Fair in 1859 and her history, on a placard posted on the coop, read as follows: "Madame goose is now owned by Robert Schomp, of Reading County, N.J. She has been in his possession twenty-five years, and this goose was given to him by his grandfather, Major H. G. Schomp. Robert's father is now in his eighty-fifth year, and this goose was a gift to his mother as a part of her marriage outfit."

In conclusion, Mr. Wilkins quotes the book as saying "William Rankin, Box-ford, Mass., had a goose in the family 101 years and she was kicked and killed by a horse while defending a nest of 15 of her own eggs."

How long do you suppose that goose would have lived if she hadn't been silly enough to defend her nest in the face of that rear attack instead of saving her energy for the frontal assaults?

New Motor Vehicle Responsibility Law Analyzed By Chief

Failure Of Motorist To Meet Requirements Means Loss Of License

Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Harold H. Keller reminded Delaware motorists recently that their licenses to own or operate an automobile will be suspended if they are involved in a traffic accident and fail to meet damage claims up to $11,000 when the state's new Motor Vehicle Safety Responsibility Law becomes effective on January 1.

Declaring it "will greatly affect the personal safety and economic security of every man, woman and child in the State," Commissioner Keller gave the public its first complete official analysis of the new law since its adoption by the last session of the Legislature. He spoke over radio Delaware stations and announced that during the month of December he will fully acquaint the people with the purposes and requirements of the new law through the press and radio and by means of an official leaflet that has been mailed to every registered owner of a motor vehicle in Delaware.

Commissioner Keller pointed to the rapidly increasing number of traffic accidents and public indignation over the failure of motor vehicle owners and operators to pay for the damage they cause as the reasons that prompted the Legislature to enact the law, which closely follows security-type safety responsibility statutes in 34 other states. He declared the law's primary objectives were to deny all motoring privileges to owners and operators who do not meet just damage claims resulting from accidents and to put chronic accident causers off of the highways permanently.

In a carefully summarized explanation of the law's principal features, Commissioner Keller explained its operation as follows:

The operator of every motor vehicle that is involved in an accident resulting in death or injury to a person, or property damage to any one person exceeding $100, must file a new accident report with the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles within five days after the accident. This report is mandatory regardless of who caused the accident. The new law, however, does not in any way change the existing statutory requirement that an accident must be reported to the State Police immediately and that those involved must remain on the scene until a State Police officer arrives.

The law does not apply, except with respect to filing the new report form, to insured owners or operators, provided their insurance covers possible damage claims resulting from a traffic accident, up to $11,000, and was in force at the time of the accident. Uninsured motorists will receive notice from the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles that they must deposit sufficient security to cover the damage they caused, as determined by the Commissioner. This may range from a minimum of $101 to a maximum of $11,000. The deposit must be made with the Commissioner within a maximum of 60 days after the accident report was filed, in order to avoid suspension of all motoring privileges.

Farmers Trust In New Home
The new home of the Farmers Trust Company of Newark will open its doors to the public on Saturday, December 15, according to officials of that institution.

Opening day will be marked by a reception to which everybody is invited. The beautiful new building will then have been completed and equipped and will be thrown open for inspection.

Officers, directors, and members of the Trust Company's staff will be on hand to welcome visitors and show them about the new banking house.

The reception will continue through the day and evening. Refreshments will be served and an orchestra will provide music for the occasion. No formal program has been prepared.

Between 2000 and 3000 people are expected to be in Newark to inspect the new bank on the 15th.

Dr. Sypherd Granted Leave

At the last meeting of the Board of Trustees of the University, Dr. W. Owen Sypherd, head of the English Department, was granted leave of absence for the college year 1927 and 1928, to continue his studies in the literary relations of the Bible story of Joseph and his daughter. Dr. Sypherd will spend about two-thirds of his time in the libraries of several universities in Germany and the rest of it in England and Italy.

This work is in connection with the general subject of the Bible as English literature, which he has been carrying on since 1921. During this period Dr. Sypherd has published a number of papers on the subject, and two editions of "The English Bible," published by the University Press.

Dr. Sypherd, who was graduated from Delaware College in 1896, and subsequently took degrees at the University of Pennsylvania and Harvard University, came to Delaware, as Professor of English in 1905, when the enrollment was 120 students.

E. P. Ellison Nominated

At a meeting last night of the Aetna Hose Hook and Ladder Company nominations were made for officers for the coming year. The election will take place the first Friday in January.

E. J. Ellison was nominated unanimously for chief; Walter Powell and Charles Tacker were unanimously nominated for the two assistant chiefs. F. M. Luten and C. M. Eisner are the candidates for fire recorder; Alfred Ewing and B. F. Devonshire were named for the post of chief pipemen. For assistant pipemen Alfred Ewing, William Clancy, C. M. Eisner, Harlan Tweed, Frank Smith and William Bolton were nominated. Five will be elected.

Among those nominated for director were: J. R. Fulton, H. Warner McNeal, Dr. George W. Rhodes, Thomas Springle, T. R. Jacobs, William Cunningham, Warren Singles, A. E. Hancock, R. J. Crow, C. E. Ewing, L. Hill, A. L. Beals, John Steel, G. I. Durhall, H. C. Herdman, Daniel Stoll, R. S. Gallaher, N. N. Wright, B. F. Proud, E. Ramsey and Welling Palmer.

Pugnacious Drunk

This morning shortly after nine o'clock, a passing car unloaded a drunk at the B. and O. railroad station. Apparently seeking solitude, he attempted to disperse everyone in sight, beginning with the watchman at the crossing. His efforts were futile, if enthusiastic, and no one suffered damage. Officer Keeley took him in charge and he is now a guest of the town in cell number 4, where he was accommodating when last heard.

Russian Education Outlined

A most comprehensive outline of the present system of education in Soviet Russia was given before the Newark New Century Club at the meeting on Monday afternoon in a very interesting "paper" by Mrs. Albert Pohn of Wilmington. Mrs. Taraumianz added to the enjoyment of the day by the beautiful rendition of Russian music. The program was followed by an informal discussion. Tea was served.

E-52 Will Present 'Marco Millions' At University Dec. 12

Satire On Modern Man Will Feature Novel Production Techniques

When "Marco Millions" opens at the University of Delaware on December 12, many production techniques will be presented for the first time on the Mitchell Hall stage. This play is an example of the show being just too big for the stage. Mitchell Hall audiences will recall that part of "Finians Rainbow" was played in front of the stage on the area above the orchestra pit—a similar construction will be used for "Marco." But this time instead of one platform over one side of the pit, two platforms will be used, one on each side, with a two-foot-wide runway connecting the two extensions. Herman Middleton, designer of the scenery and technical director of the E-52 Players, has said that the entire area will be included in the scenery plan and the audience, on entering the theatre will see on either side of the two platforms, huge Chinese pagodas. These two pagodas measure twelve feet in height and will be used for the entrances in several scenes. Clarke Pardee and his staff have had a field day in building the scenery for this show as it is radically different from the conventional flats used in so many plays.

The action of one scene takes place on the deck of a ship. During this sequence, the players will be entering from beneath the stage (from the hold of the ship). This is the first time the actors have used the stage trap doors, while a scene was in progress.

Another very effective staging technique will be the continuous flow of action from one scene into another. There are six scene changes in the first act but there are no "scene waits," which means quick work in shifting scenery for the stage crew. These scenes take us across Asia from the first one in Venice through Syria, Persia, India, and Mongolia to the final scene of that act which takes place in the winter palace of Kublai Khan.

A remarkable effect has been achieved in this play in the tying together of the thirteenth century with the present. Although this production takes place in a time setting seven hundred years ago, it is primarily a satire on the modern man. It was therefore necessary to introduce a feeling of modern times and yet not lose the effect of the ancient setting. Kay Alston and Eleanor Pearce, co-chairmen of the costume committee, feel that the costumes, while ancient Chinese in design, utilize colors which are primarily thought of as modern, such as fuchsia and chartreuse. Also the stage will be asymmetrically balanced contrary to the older ideas of a symmetrical balance around center stage. Throughout the entire production, the observing audience will find these and other hints of "anciently inspired modernism."

Jim Berry has created the lighting effects utilizing the opportunities that the new Zenour switchboard offers. "Marco Millions" will be repeated on December 13 and 15.

It is believed that tea was first used as a medicine rather than as a beverage.

Rare Chinese Tree Is Now Planted On University Campus

Forefather Of Our Redwoods, Sequoias Was Grown At Yale

A rare tree, of a species dating back to prehistoric times, is now planted on the University of Delaware Experiment Station farm, at Newark. The tree is a metasequoia (Metasequoia sryptoboides), a puzzler in the botanical family tree.

Professor E. P. Brasher, chairman of the horticulture department, received the tree from Mr. J. S. Bennett, of Wilmington. The Bennetts had received the tree, one of a group, grown at Yale University, Yale, in turn had gotten the seeds from China, where the tree was "rediscovered" in 1946 by a Chinese university explorer.

Professor L. R. Detjen, of the horticulture department, says the tree is a forefather of our redwoods and sequoias of the west coast. Up until 1946, botanists knew it existed in fossil form, but didn't know it was still to be found in living form. Even though closely related to the redwoods and sequoias, the tree resembles our own eastern bald cypress in the manner in which it sheds its leaves and twigs.

The trees grown from the seeds given to Yale are being grown at various places along the Eastern seaboard, in order to find out if the tree will thrive in this climate. It will say Detjen there are hopes of preventing the species from becoming extinct.

"The tree at our farm will be carefully watched and we will report on it from time to time, to Yale. If it does grow well in the East, it could eventually be used in ornamental plantings," Detjen commented.

Work-Conference On Children And Youth Here This Saturday

Affair Sponsored By State Commission On Youth And Children

Delaware is taking seriously the oft-repeated phrase that its children and youth constitute its greatest natural resource. One concrete evidence of this is the forthcoming Conference on Children and Youth at the University of Delaware on Saturday, December 8th.

This conference under the auspices of the Delaware Commission on Children and Youth has been called for the benefit of the youngsters of our state. The conference will not be like the common garden variety conference with which we are all familiar. For such affairs, the delegates drone on with their ideas as to what is best for the youth of our state. Rather, this conference is planned as a work-conference in which the best thinking of all the delegates is brought to bear on these two large questions:

1. What immediate problems confront the youth of the State of Delaware in the matter of family living, education, guidance, health, religion, human relations and the like?

2. What can the State Commission on Children and Youth specifically do to resolve one or two of these identified problems?

In order to ensure that the thinking of the delegates will be fully utilized the conference is being divided after the opening brief plenary session into twelve workgroups. Each work group under a competent discussion leader, will explore the particular area with which it will be concerned whether it be, for example, physical health service, schools, correctional agencies, or social welfare services. The Delaware Commission on Children and Youth frankly intends to "pick the brains" of the workers in the field of parents, community leaders and representatives of PTA organizations during the December 8th conference. The commission will be seeking their recommendations on the problems of young people in Delaware that they believe should have high priority at this time and their ideas on how to deal with those problems for the benefit of youth. These ideas will be collected into a report to the conference which will guide the thinking and policy of the Youth Commission in its future work.

The committee is aware of the fine work done throughout the state by many agencies on behalf of young people. It sees its function as a recognized state body to work closely with those agencies to help coordinate, facilitate, and, if possible, further improve their work. Hence, the commission has projected the Delaware Conference on Children and Youth for Saturday, December 8th for the purpose of obtaining the guidance and counsel of workers with and parents of Delaware youth to the end that the needs of our young people will be ultimately better served.

It is the belief of the folks who have planned this conference that not only will the Delaware Commission on Children and Youth derive benefits from it, but all who participate will benefit from the sharing of ideas and the meeting of minds which always occur at such a work conference. Not to be overlooked, of course, is the more tenuous but equally important sense which accrues to everyone who participates in such a conference on youth of contribution to a great cause.

Hi-Lo Egg Club To Sponsor Contests

The Hi-Lo Egg Club of Delaware is a new program working towards higher egg production and lower mortality in poultry flocks. Present goals are 150 eggs per hen per year, and 15 percent less mortality. The club is sponsored by the Delaware Poultry Improvement Association and the Agricultural Extension service of the University of Delaware.

It is open to any Delaware resident owning 50 or more laying hens. There will be a division for meat strain breeds used for hatching egg production; and one for other breeds used primarily for table egg production. The contest will be handled through the county Agricultural Extension Offices. They will distribute record sheets for monthly reports, and keep the records after they are sent in.

At the end of each year, certificates will be given to all those whose flocks average 150 eggs per hen per year, and where the mortality does not exceed 15 percent. "Top Flock" in each county will be named on the same basis, and a "Top Flock" for the state will be picked.

People who would like to enroll, or find out more about the Hi-Lo Egg Club, should contact their county agricultural agent in Newark.

Football OK In Its Place Says Nelson

Coach Says Should Be Part Of Educational Process

Speaking at the annual father-and-son communion of the Catholic Diocese Alumni Association at the Hotel DuPont this week, Dave Nelson director of athletics at the University of Delaware, said football is all right so long as it remains in its proper place as "part of the general educational process and program of a school."

Striving to win at football, just as in any other endeavor, is part of the American tradition, said Nelson, and only when football victories are made ends in themselves does trouble arise. Coach Nelson pointed out that playing football to win is not wrong unless "victory is sought at any cost."

Coach Nelson was accompanied by John DeGasperis, captain of the 1951 Blue Hen football team and president of the university Newman Club, and Bill Butler, defensive linebacker on the Delaware club, who assisted in showing motion pictures of the game this year between Delaware and Temple University.

Jim Kruzinski Sets Pace As Blue Hens Down Washington College

Delaware Center Scores 21 Points As Blue And Gold Take Season Opener; Nick Scallion Tops Losers

Big Jim Kruzinski, 6'5" center, connected for eight field goals and five fouls to ring up 21 points and lead the University of Delaware basketball team to an 81-62 victory over Washington College at Carpenter Fieldhouse Saturday night in the first game of the season for both clubs.

Delaware Defeats F. and M., 81-60, In Last Practice Game

Capt. Billy Utt Scores 20 Points In Win Over Diplomats

In the last pre-season practice game prior to the opening victory over Washington College, the University of Delaware traveled to York, Pa., last Thursday night to trounce Franklin and Marshall, 81-60, in the second game of a doubleheader played as a benefit for the York County Heart Fund.

Although it was a practice game and will not be included in the records of either school, the teams played a regulation game and put forth their best efforts.

Every member of the Delaware starting five broke into double figures in the scoring with Frank White notching 15 to take the runner-up spot in the Hen Scoring.

Hoffstein Selected Basketball Coach At Goldey Beacom

Former University Athlete Won Ten Letters In Three Sports

Ace Hoffstein, former star athlete at the University of Delaware, has been named coach of the Goldey Beacom College basketball team.

Hoffstein, who won ten letters at the university while competing in basketball, baseball, and soccer, is a graduate of Upper Darby High School. He served in the Army for 42 months and during that time played with the Philippine Olympic Championship team which included such well known stars as Angelo Musi and George Senesky of the Philadelphia Warriors, and was chosen on two all-service teams.

During his last season at Delaware, Hoffstein had a hard time cracking the varsity lineup due to his lack of height but once in action he could always be counted upon to get his share of points and was especially effective when the chips were down.

In addition to his coaching work at Goldey Beacom, Ace is playing in the Industrial League with the Delaware Steels, in the CYO Major League with Sacred Heart, and holds down one of the guard spots on the Crawford All-Star team.

Delaware Swimmers Will Meet Teachers In Season Opener

Several Promising Freshmen Will Take Part In Opener On Saturday

Delaware's swimming team will open the season on Saturday when the Blue Hens meet West Chester State Teachers in the local pool.

In addition to such returning veterans as Lorin Krusberg, George Ester, Don Bardo, Dick Goodley, Dan Robertson, Art Meyer, and Charlie Lloyd, Coach Harry Rawstrom will have a fine bunch of freshmen from which to mold this year's team.

Among the newcomers to the team are Marty Apostolico, former Wilmington High School sprint swimmer, Jerry Keogh, from Rochester, N.J., also a sprinter, and a pair of former P. S. duPont swimmers, Jack McDaniel and Tom Bratton. In Bob Agnor, freshman from Seaford, Coach Rawstrom has what he believes to be one of the strongest men on the team.

In the diving division, Charlie Prossnell, capable junior, has been the team's top diver and this year Charlie is aiming at setting a few scoring records of his own.

Charlie Lloyd, one of the team's most versatile swimmers, may be called on to do double duty this year. In addition to taking part in his usual freestyle events, Charlie is likely to be called upon to compete in the breast-stroke events with Tony DiMarco.

Bunny Blaney, Alvon Sparks Selected On All-State Team

Donald Sharpe And Ronald Bramble Selected On Second Team; Captain Dave George Makes Third To Give Newark Lead

Bernard (Bunny) Blaney, state and county scoring champ, and Alvon Sparks, rock-like guard, represented the Newark Yellowjackets on the 1951 all-state scholastic football team picked recently by the Wilmington Sports-writers and Broadcasters Association.

It was the third consecutive season that Blaney has been placed on the first or second all-state team. Last year he was picked as a first team halfback position while in 1949, while only a sophomore, he was placed in the second team backfield. To the Newark speedster goes the distinction of being the only man from last year's team to be picked again this season.

The only other player ever to be picked on the squad three times was the sensational Ronnie Waller of Laurel who is now serving his apprenticeship under Jim Tatum at Maryland. Tatum recently announced that he was expecting great things of the Laurel flash next season.

To Al Sparks goes the distinction of being one of only three juniors to make the first all-state team, and marks the second year in a row that Newark has placed a guard in the WSB A selection. Last season Joseph Gregg was named as a guard spot. Oddly enough one of the other two juniors on the team was at the other guard position. He was James Brown of Dover.

Newark's other guard, Donald Sharpe, and tackle, Ronald Bramble were named on the second team. Dave George, Yellowjacket captain and quarterback, was named in the third team. These five players gave Newark the distinction of placing more players on the three teams selected than any other school in the state. Both Wilmington and Salesianum were tied for second honors with four men apiece.

This marked the second season that Bramble had been picked on the all-state squad. He was picked as a guard position on the third team last season.

Final honors will be bestowed on the members of the all-state first team in Monday, January 21, when the WSB A will honor the select group with invitations to its third annual banquet at the DuPont Country Club.

In addition, each will receive an engraved wrist watch on graduation day symbolic of his all-state selection.

The Roseville Park Civic Association is busy planning a Christmas party for all the children of the community, to be held in the Sunday school room of White Clay Creek Church on Friday, December 28th at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Charles Raymond is chairman of the Program Committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Butterworth and children, Audrey, Carl and Rodney, moved last week into their new home on Capitol Trail near Delaplane Manor.

We are sorry to learn that Mrs. Anna Cattel, Polly Drummond Road, is suffering this week with the virus infection which has been invading so many homes recently.

Mrs. Thomas Johnson of Dover was a guest last Sunday of Rev. and Mrs. James H. Bishop, Capitol Trail.

Mrs. Lloyd R. Powell, Capitol Trail, was matron of honor and Mr. Powell was best man at the recent wedding of Mrs. Elizabeth C. Freas of Newark and Mr. Miles A. Shinery of Newark.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. E. Hallman of Newark, at the Powell home. Following a reception Mr. and Mrs. Shinery left on a wedding trip to New York State.

White Clay Creek Presbyterian Church The Flower Committee for the month of December is headed by Miss Elizabeth Brown and Mrs. Paul Peach, representing the Young Adult Fellowship.

Mrs. David Eastburn represented the church at a luncheon at the Newark Methodist Church last Friday. Members of the Newark Council of Church Women were special guests at the luncheon held in connection with the annual bazaar.

Visitors for the Every Member Canvass met at the church on Monday to plan the necessary visitation.

The Young Adult Fellowship held their annual Christmas party on Tuesday of this week, preceded by a covered dish turkey supper, which was enjoyed by all.

The group regrets to learn that one of its members, Ralph Larson, near Bear Station, recently suffered two broken ribs in an accident on his farm.

The Improvement Committee of the church is being congratulated on providing new wall cabinets for the church kitchen. A committee consisting of Mr. Elmer Gallaher, Mr. Talber Chalmers and Mr. William Victor volunteered their services for carrying out the project.

Mr. Nathaniel Richards, Clerk of the Session, presented an urgent appeal to the congregation last Sunday, received from Rev. Willard Purdy, Moderator of the Synod of Baltimore, for contributions for West Nottingham Academy. Envelopes for this purpose will be provided next Sunday.

Both choirs are preparing special music for the Christmas season, with services to be held at 11:00 a.m. and a dramatic candlelight service at 8:00 p.m. Rehearsals are being held each Monday at 6:30 p.m. and Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. Universal Bible Sunday will be observed next Sunday. At the 11:00 a.m. service the pastoral message will be "One Book For One World."

By the Journalism Class
Editor, Arthur Boulden

Last Wednesday, Mr. H. Lewis Miller's homeroom 11-B presented the weekly assembly program in the auditorium.

The first part of the program consisted of a shadow-picture version of a play "The Fate of Slim Lou." Slim Lou was played by Allan Huebner.

Other characters were the Greek, Rudolph Johnson; the doctor, David Hurry; policeman, Paul Fair; nurse, Erma Foster; Margaret Frye was the reader for the play and Marilyn Hildreth acted as master of ceremonies. Joan La Fontaine was the student director for the play.

Mr. Miller sang a few songs accompanying himself on the guitar. This portion of the program was followed by special selections by the "Ink Spots" and the "Mills Brothers." The interpreters were Erma Foster, Ellen Gallaher, Jean Hoffman, and Lillian Greenplate.

The final part of the assembly consisted of a movie showing the parts and workings of an electric tube in the operation of a television set.

"Midget Press" Rival For "Buzz" The Buzz staff now has competition from a newly published paper entitled "Midget Press." This paper is published by Mrs. Hilda Marshall's sixth grade class. The class is trying to put out one of these mimeographed papers monthly.

The ideas for this paper are from activities in the room. All the writing and ideas are by the children.

When looking over this paper, I found a variety of information such as interviews, jokes, stories, and sports.

One article which I noticed that was especially interesting was the sports article written about the football game between Wilmington High School and Newark. This article was written by Joe Hitchens. Joe's article in the "Midget Press" proves him very capable of the job as sports editor. There are other children concerned with this paper to which credit is to be given. Their paper "Midget Press" will be a success.

Moving Day For Grade Four Will the old bell ring after such a long time of silence? On Friday, November 16, 185 students of the six fourth grades moved into the newly renovated building on Main Street.

Before moving day arrived much had to be done in preparation for the big event. The building was completely renovated, all rooms were painted, sanitary facilities were installed, and hardwood floors were laid in the entire building. In addition new electric clocks were placed in each room and fresh fire-proof venetian blinds were hung. In addition to the thermostatically controlled oil heat, each room was equipped with fire bells and a fire escape was set up on the rear wall of the building.

Miss Margaret Morrison has been named acting principal in the new building. Other teachers in the building are Mrs. Laura Nichols, Miss Gertrude Baynard, Mrs. Priscilla Vanech, Miss Hazel Johnston, and Mr. Maurice Davis.

Mr. Shue in an interview remarked, "I won't be satisfied until I hear the old bell ring again from the 1884 belfry of our Main Street Building."

James Clancy.

A PHONE CALL MAY SAVE YOUR Right to Drive

Under Delaware's New Safety-Responsibility Law

HERE ARE THE FACTS:

- If you drive, the new Safety-Responsibility Law applies to you and every car or truck owner and operator in the state of Delaware.
- If your car or truck kills or injures anyone, or damages property in excess of $100—REGARDLESS OF FAULT—you may have to prove financial responsibility up to $10,000 or face loss of your right to drive.
- Farm Bureau's liability and property damage insurance in force BEFORE the accident will automatically protect you against financial loss and against loss of driving rights under the new Safety-Responsibility Law.
- Every insurance requirement of the new Safety-Responsibility Law is met by Farm Bureau's liability and property damage protection. This coverage meets requirements of similar laws in all 48 states.

WHY FARM BUREAU IS YOUR BEST INVESTMENT

- Farm Bureau is a select risk company—only careful drivers are insured. This means fewer claims to pay, and lower rates.
- Farm Bureau policies are automatically kept in force simply by payment of each half-year's premium. This means operating economy, low rates, flexibility in rate adjustments—plus the advantage of smaller outlay at one time.
- Farm Bureau is a mutual company, owned and operated for the benefit of its policyholders. It is the largest insurer of autos in Delaware. All policies are nonassessable.
