Annual Christmas Program to Feature Miracle Play and Selections by Choir

The nation has been plunged into the horrors of war. But next Thursday evening in Mitchell Hall, the University will present its annual Christmas program in simple testimonial of the fact that the principles of peace and brotherly love have not been forgotten. The program will consist of a Miracle Play and Christmas music by the Women's College Glee Club, the Brass Quartet, and the University A-Capella Choir.

The Miracle Play is entitled THE SHEPHERDS AND THE MAGI, and will be presented by the Puppets Club of Women's College under the direction of Dr. Alvin Kronacher. The play is a translation by Alice Breme and Jean Mason of two Miracle Plays from the York Cycle, THE ANGELS AND THE SHEPHERDS and THE COMING OF THE THREE KINGS. The York Cycle is a group of forty-eight Miracle Plays which were produced annually on Corpus Christi Day from the Fourteenth to the Sixteenth centuries. The Cycle told the entire Bible story in a manner containing both humor and reverence.

Appearing in THE SHEPHERDS AND THE MAGI are Norman Bunn, Lynn Preston, Zadoc Pool, Layton Mabray, Harry Smith, Harry Hillyard, Lloyd Jones, Frank Annand, Malloy Vaughn, James Quinn, Anna Marie Max, Dorothy Thompson, Phyllis White. The production staff is as follows: Stage Manager, Jake Littleton; Scene Designer, George Samuels; Painting, Miriam Lewis; Makeup, Ada Johnson; Lighting, Walter Dworkis; Costumes, Betty Hyland, Ethel Way; Properties, Mary Shakespeare; Publicity, Lloyd Jones.

As in previous years, the program will begin with Christmas selections by the Brass Quartet, followed, immediately, by the processional of the University Choir. Background music for the play will be provided by the Women's College Glee Club. Carol singing by the audience is also planned for the evening.

The Women's College Glee Club under the direction of Miss Jean Bryan will sing the following selections during the play: "The Humble Shepherds," Davis; "The Three Kings," Traditional; "Hark! Bethlehem," Geer; "The Storke," Vulliamoz; "The Mystic Star," Hamblen.

The A-Capella Choir under the direction of Mr. Anthony Loudis will sing the following selections: "Carol of the Bells," Wilhorisky; "Hodie, Christus Natus Est," Willan; "Hark, Now, O Shepherds," Larvas; "The Carol of the Little King," Fogg; "Song of the Crib," Warrell; "Fum! Fum! Fum!" Schindler; "While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks," Warrell; "Masters in This Hall," Whitehead.

Newman Club

Reservations for the Newman Club's Christmas party on December 19 are still being taken. Tickets may be secured through Francis Cicala, president. The dinner will be held in Hanna's Tea Shoppe.

Over Two Hundred Delegates Attend Press Conference

Highlighted by a luncheon in Kent Hall, the University held its third annual conference of the Delaware Scholastic Press Association last Saturday, December 6. At the luncheon, Mrs. Marjorie Golder, Dean of the Women's College, welcomed the high school delegates. Mr. Newton H. Hartman, news photographer for the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, was the main speaker. He gave an illustrated talk on some of his experiences.

During the day various discussion groups met and discussed the many problems of publishing a high school newspaper. Competitions were held on various phases of newspaper work. Over 240 delegates attended.

The winner of the editorial writing contest was William Kirsch of Salesianum School in Wilmington. John Tierney, Newark High School, won second place, and Robert V. Sedwick of Wilmington French School was third.

Robert Kelly, Salesianum School, won the sports reporting contest. Harry Berl of Friends School was second, and George Stewart of H. C. Conrad was third.

First place in the news writing contest was taken by Julia Taylor, Conrad High School. Second place and third place were taken by James Reese, Salesianum School, and Lois Mae Tomhave, Newark High School, respectively.

Anita Hearn of P. S. duPont School won the proof-reading competition. Jeanne Leipold, also of P. S. duPont, was second.

The Current Events Quiz was won by Ata Thompson, P. S. duPont School. Victor Frankel, Wilmington High School, was second and Martha Sendrow, Salem High School, third.

Dr. Cyrus L. Day, member of the English Department, was director of the conference. Members of the staff of THE REVIEW assisted him by taking charge of and speaking at group meetings.

New Gymnasium Still in Initial Planning Stage

While actual work on the new gymnasium has not yet begun, final plans are nearly completed and work on the foundation should begin before Christmas. The contractor is ready to begin construction, but, because of last minute changes in the architect's plans, work could not begin right away.

However, the site behind the Sigma Nu House is not entirely without activity. A section of the Frazer Field wall has been torn down. Surveyors have been at work and most of the necessary points have been located and staked.

President Walter Hüllihen states that the gymnasium will contain three complete basketball courts. The center one will be used for games. A seating capacity for 2,000 spectators will be provided by stands which will fold against the wall.

College Hour

Professor Mikail Drizas of the Department of Geography and Industry of the Wharton School of Finance at the University of Pennsylvania will speak at the College Hour Meeting next Tuesday.

The subject of Professor Drizas' address will be "The Americas and Hemisphere Defense."

Newly Organized Wrestling Team Begins Practice

By BILL PIPER

Inaugurating a new sport in Delaware's system of intercollegiate athletics, Coach Bill "Shack" Martin put the candidates for the wrestling team through their first workout last Thursday. Seventeen men were on hand at the wrestling headquarters in the rear of the Training House. The men who have reported regularly include: Bill Laurelli, the Middle Atlantic A. A. U. 158 pound champ; John Nassivera, a man with extensive experience; Chich Butler, at 115 pounds; Ken LaRoch, in the 125 pound class; Phil Williams, weighing 135; a group of 145 pounders, Bruce Ayars, Joe Coleman, Stan Tawes, Dan Reutter; two boys at 155 pounds, Dallas Reutter, Horace Ginn; Milne Schmid at 165 pounds; Nassivera, who weighs 175; and the boys over 175 pounds, Ed Carullo, Donald Dunstall, Dick Merrill, Jim Buchanan, and Joe Coady. Other boys have attended a practice or two, and are urged to come out regularly to learn enough about wrestling to show Coach Martin what they can do.

Coach Martin was on the wrestling team at Duke University and also coached the sport at Kentucky Military Institute, before coming to Delaware.

The boys on the wrestling team are attempting to make a good showing this season, but only two boys have experience, and anyone who so desires may come out for the team. A collegiate wrestling team has eight men, and Coach Martin's goal is to have a team three deep in every weight class.

At a recent meeting of the Mason-Dixon Conference at Baltimore, attended by Coach Martin, the delegates decided to hold a wrestling tournament during the first week in March. The University of Delaware plans to enter a team in this tournament; in regard to other matches, several teams offered to meet Delaware in dual meets after the Christmas vacation. To date Coach Martin has scheduled a meet with Johns Hopkins, with a possible meet with the Wilmington Y.M.C.A. before the Christmas vacation.

Collegiate wrestling today consists of meets 9 minutes in length. These matches go to either a fall or a decision. To secure a fall, a man must pin his opponent's shoulders to the mat for 2 seconds. If a match goes to a decision, the referee is the judge, denoting from time to time to the scorers, the points for each man as he secures an advantage over his opponent. To the team total, a time decision counts 3 points, while a fall counts 5 points. In the past decade there have been considerable changes in the sport of wrestling, and these have speeded up the game and made it much more interesting to the spectators.

University Chapter Of Pi Mu Epsilon, National Mathematical Society, Organized At Delaware Dr. George A. Harter, Former Delaware College President, to be Charter Member

Initiation of Nineteen Members to Take Place in Old College Tomorrow Night

Installation of a chapter of Pi Mu Epsilon, national honorary mathematical fraternity, at the University of Delaware, and initiation of charter members will take place tomorrow in the Faculty Club rooms at the University at 6:00 P.M. and will be followed by a banquet in Old College at 6:30 P.M., it was announced on Tuesday by Dr. Carl J. Rees, head of the mathematics department.

Cauldron Deadline Extended to Friday

In an interview this week, Miss Anne O'Daniel, Editor-in-Chief of the Cauldron, biannual campus literary publication, warned would-be contributors of the imminent deadline, set on the final Friday preceding the Christmas Holidays. No material will be considered after this date.

Even without the usual last-minute deluge of tardy contributions, the Cauldron gives all indications of being prepared to go to press with material of a variety and quality comparable to and even surpassing previous issues.

Despite initial uncertainty as to whether or not a magazine would even be published this year due to a lack of student council funds, the staff of the magazine have made up for lost time and doubled their efforts to the end that an accredited publication might be put out.

Through the energy of individual staff members, ads have been solicited to defray in part the expenses of publication. In a year when the prices of both labor and material have soared skyward, the Editor-in-Chief, Miss O'Daniel and her staff have managed through adroit budgeting and discriminate purchasing to prepare a better product at a substantially lower cost.

The Cauldron will be whipped into its final form and run off the presses during the Christmas Holidays if work continues at the present pace. Final selections of material are yet to be made before the format can be determined.

Granting of a charter for the University of Delaware chapter of Pi Mu Epsilon is recognition of the high standard of the mathematics department at the University, since chapter membership has been authorized by the fraternity's national council only after a careful investigation of the academic standards, faculty, and instructional equipment at the University.

Outstanding among those who are to become charter members of the Delaware chapter is Dr. George A. Harter, former president of the University of Delaware, and long-time head of its mathematics department, who is now living in Pelham Manor, New York.

Others to be initiated are: Dr. Rees, Dr. Edward W. Cannon, Alexander G. Makarov, Miss Edith A. McDougle, and Dr. G. Outhbert Webber, all of the University's mathematics department; Dorothy I. Eagleson, Milton I. Gerstine, Grace N. Kwick, Walter J. Layton, Leonard L. Miller, Richard K. Miller, Kathryn F. Mitchell, Leaman B. Podolsky, Oscar J. Rinehart Jr., Edward Samuel, Jr., Arvid E. Roach, Grace B. Shockley, and Edward J. Lynch.

Pi Mu Epsilon was organized at Syracuse University in 1914 and in the intervening twenty-seven years chapter charters have been granted to only forty-one outstanding universities throughout the nation.

The installation and initiation will be conducted by Professor John S. Gold, professor of mathematics at Bucknell University, and secretary-treasurer general of Pi Mu Epsilon.

Dr. Rees will serve as toastmaster at the banquet and President Walter Hüllihen will extend greetings on behalf of the University. The principal speaker at the banquet will be Dr. J. R. Kline, head of the department of mathematics and chairman of the graduate division in mathematics at the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Kline, a distinguished mathematician, is secretary of the American Mathematical Society, and is also a former president of the Mathematics Section of the Association for the Advancement of Science.

The Students' Position

With the declaring of war on the United States by the Axis Powers, the position of college students as a group in this country becomes unimportant. The war recognizes no such thing as a privileged class of students. This war affects all of us equally; it is everyone's war, and as such, college students can demand no special consideration as a group except as to exemption on the basis of enrollment in scientific courses deemed vital to national defense.

College students expect to have their lives disrupted, yet it is with no feeling of deep regret that they view this situation. They are ready to leave school and to fight when their country needs them. Any hope or desire that the war will not affect them, which might have been present before, is completely lacking now.

There is no dissenting opinion here. Many of our boys have already joined the armed forces, and more expect to do so within the next few days. We all feel, and rightly so, that our country is waging a war which must be won if we are to exist as a free people. The very system of education which we are about to leave will no longer be present to return to if we do not win this war.

In this day of mechanized warfare, much depends upon the use of highly trained and intelligent personnel in the war machine. There will be many important jobs given to college students with the required training, but those of us who do not have this training will have to serve in all ranks of the armed forces. We are willing to do this; we realize that we occupy a position of importance only in that every man's effort is needed to help win the war.

Radio Guild

A situation has arisen on the campus which, while trivial in nature, is important if any normal college life is to continue. It cannot be ignored no matter how insignificant it may seem in the face of the present crisis, for such little things when combined have a permanent effect upon campus life. We are referring to the hectic and troublesome situation that exists in the organization of the Radio Guild.

For those who are not familiar with the situation, it is briefly this: the constitution of the Guild results in a more or less private dictatorship by Harold Arnoff, the supposed director of the group. He admits all members of the organization, appoints the minor officers, and directs policy in general. This situation has caused much adverse criticism and quarreling within the Guild which in our opinion has resulted in a lowering of the quality of programs below that which is expected from any college organization of its type.

At a meeting of the Guild on Wednesday, several members of the group attempted to remedy the situation by introducing a series of amendments which would make the Guild more democratic. In the resulting confusion, nothing was done, members were declared out of order, and the meeting ended in an uproar in which everyone walked out.

The organization of the Guild is a bad one. According to the constitution which its so called director works by, he can dismiss any member, and control programs according to his own personal ideas without consulting any of the members. From reports which we have received, this has been the case, and most of the efforts and ideas of members have been ignored.

As we see it, several changes must take place in the Radio Guild.

FIRST, we demand that the Faculty Board of the Radio Guild immediately declare the office of director in the Guild to be vacant. We demand this because the constitution of the group which was approved by the Student Council specifically states that the Director shall be elected. Mr. Arnoff, the present so-called director, is operating under the rough draft of the constitution under which the first director appointed his successor. This constitution was not adopted by the Student Council until the amendment for election was put into it by the Guild. Therefore, Arnoff holds his position illegally, and we demand his dismissal. Whether the members of the Guild wish to elect him to the office is their concern. If we are to have any semblance of student participation in student affairs, this situation must be immediately remedied. We cannot see how the Faculty Board could have over-looked such a situation especially when so much of the University's money is tied up in broadcasting equipment.

SECOND, the Guild constitution must be re-organized so that the members as a whole shall have some say as to the policies of the Guild. We suggest that the active members of the Guild be consulted by the Faculty Board at their scheduled meeting on Monday. A complete redrafting of the constitution is needed, and a sane discussion in committee will produce more than could be done with the continual wrangling that has been going on up to this point.

The Radio Guild has an important function in the present world situation. It can serve to produce enlightened discussions of current problems, and work to create greater war effort. The present state of affairs must be ended immediately. We ask the Faculty Board to remedy the situation; it is their job to do so since the Guild is more than a student organization. The University by the very fact of its investment has a major share in the organization, and it will only be through the energetic action of the board that the position of the Guild can again be strengthened by removing it from the low position into which it has fallen.

Hal Arnoff Appointed Director Of Radio Guild For Coming Year

At yesterday's meeting of the Radio Guild, Hal Arnoff was appointed director for the coming year. Joseph First, retiring director of the Guild, made the announcement of Arnoff's appointment and stated his own intention to retire immediately. At the same time he expressed his hopes for the future growth of the Guild.

Arnoff, who was co-founder of the Guild, has served for the past semester as its assistant director. He has done both script work and announcing for "University on the Air." Recently he aided in drawing up the constitution of the Guild. Arnoff's other extra-curricular activities are very much in the editorial line. He is Associate Editor and formerly was Feature Editor of THE REVIEW. He is also Associate Editor of the Blue Hen and Poetry Editor of the Cauldron. He is a member of the Spartan sophomore honor society and of the Sigma Tau Phi fraternity.

The appointment of the new director was made by retiring director First and was approved by the faculty radio committee and President Hullihen. The faculty radio committee consists of Dr. C. R. Kase, Dr. C. L. Day, and Mr. C. W. Bush.—THE REVIEW April 25, 1941

What The Engineers Are Doing . .

The following poem is reprinted through the courtesy of the Mack Manufacturing Company (trucks) of Allentown, Pennsylvania.

THE ENGINEER

Who is the man that designs our pumps with judgement, skill, and care?
Who is the man that builds them and keeps them in repair?
Who has to shut them down because the valve seats disappear?
The bearing, wearing gearing, tearing Mechanical Engineer!

Who makes his juice for half a cent and wants to charge a dime?
Who, when we've signed the contract, can't deliver half the time?
Who thinks a loss of twenty-six per cent is nothing queer?
The volt-inducing, load-reducing Electrical Engineer.

Who is it takes a transit out to find a sewer to tap?
Who then with care extreme locates the junction on the map?
Who is it goes to dig it up and finds it nowhere near?
The mud-bespattered, torn and tattered Civil Engineer!

Who thinks without his products we would all be in the lurch?
Who has a heathen idol which he designates research?
Who tints the creeks, perfumes the air, and makes landscape drear?
The stink-evolving, grass-dissolving Chemical Engineer!

Who is the man who'll draw a plan for everything you desire?
From a trans-Atlantic liner to a hairpin made of wire?
With "ifs" and "buts",
"howevers" and "buts", who makes his meaning clear?
The work-disdaining, fee-retaining Consulting Engineer!

Who builds a road for fifty years that disappears in two?
Then changes his identity so no one's left to sue?
Who covers all the traveled roads with filthy, oily smear?
The bump-providing, rough-on riding Highway Engineer!

Who takes the pleasure out of life, and makes existence hell?
Who'll fire a good looking one because she cannot spell?
Who substitutes a dictaphone for a coral tinted ear?
The penny-chasing, dollar-wasting Efficiency Engineer!

Aggie News

By EDWARD LEGATES

The annual joint meeting with the Home Economics Club of the Women's College was discussed at the monthly meeting of the Agricultural Club on Monday evening. Committees to take charge of the affair have not as yet been appointed, but the club has decided upon January 13, 1942 for the meeting.

Arthur Krause began a discussion about the forming of basketball teams from each class in the Ag School for interclass competition. The club also discussed the possibility of a faculty team, but the faculty members present were not interested and so only the student teams were voted for. President William Hopkins appointed the following fellows to take charge of the teams in their respective classes: Seniors, Noah Cain; Juniors, Richard Elsasser; Sophomores, James Walter; and Freshmen, Layton Ma-bray.

Basketball Team Opens With P.M.C. On Tuesday Night

Hercules and Carney's Point Defeated In Practice Sessions

By BOB SIEMEN

Blue Hen basketball followers will be given the opportunity to see this year's team in action next Wednesday night when they pry off the lid against the cadets from P.M.C. on the home boards.

The soldiers from up Chester way always whip together a talented array of courtmen, and offer the Hens plenty of tough opposition whenever the two teams meet. Last year former Coach Shields boys took the cadets into camp in the first game of a home and home series and dropped the second contest.

Veterans appearing in the P.M.C. line-up are Bucky Hartnett, Bill Miller, Willie Piff, and Vince Dignazio. All were members of this year's cadet football team which was defeated by the Hens this fall, and this quartet will be out to avenge the reverse dealt their alma mater on the gridiron.

The Delaware line-up will probably see the introduction of at least two new faces to Blue Hen followers, as freshmen Runcy and Thompson are likely starters. Barlow, Sadowski and Mitchell are veterans likely to round out the team which takes the floor at the opening whistle.

Hercules and Carney's Point Y. M. C. A. provided the opposition for the Hens in two practice games held on the Delaware floor this week. Although no official score was kept in either contest, the Hens were superior in both games. Coaches Adams and Prince were pleased with the work of the players in each of these games, but continue to impress upon the boys that their attack must be smoothed over quite a bit before meeting the high geared P.M.C. cadets.

Concern was expressed by Hopkins at the decreased attendance at the meetings, and he called for a discussion of what the club could do to promote greater interest in its meetings. Nothing definite was decided, and at this point, Dean Schuster was introduced. The Dean stressed the fact that the club needed better organization, especially with regards to handling the club's business. He felt that this single factor would do much to invite the members to regular attendance.

Noah Cain and William Hopkins gave a report of the Poultry Judging Team's trip to Rutgers where the team participated in the Twenty-second Intercollegiate Poultry Judging Contest. Delaware placed seventh in a group of eleven participating teams. Cain was high man for Delaware, and received a substantial part of the prize money for his judging.

Additional Class Periods Scheduled For ROTC Officers

Sudden developments in the present world situation have caused some important changes in the Military schedule at the University of Delaware.

Because of the urgent need for officers in the shortest possible time, Colonel Ashbridge has announced an extra class for Senior R.O.T.C. students. This class is held during the College Hour period on Tuesdays. Additional instruction in coastal and field artillery organization and gun battery procedure is given the Seniors.

The Juniors taking the R.O.T.C. course also have a class period on Tuesdays when there is no College Hour. They receive additional training in infantry and artillery drill.

The Freshmen and Sophomore classes remain unchanged. For the present, there will be no change in Military instructors or any shifting of military equipment on the campus. Aside from the above changes the department remains the same.

"The Male Animal" To Be Second E52 Production

THE MALE ANIMAL, popular comedy of college life by James Thurber and Elliott Nugent, has been selected by the E52 Players for their next production on March 5 and 6. The play was a smash hit in New York several years ago, was most popular in the Summer theatres, and is now the most talked of play in the University and Community theatres.

A cast of eight men and five women will be needed. Tryouts will be held early in January. Rehearsals will not begin until the beginning of the second semester.

Copies of the play have been placed on E52 reserve in the Library.

Rollin' Round The Turntables

DICK AYDELOTTE

TWO IN LOVE—Gene Krupa—The master of the drums is waxing some really sweet numbers on Okeh records these days. Meredith Wilson writer of YOU AND I comes out with another potential hit in this number. Johnny Desmond sings slow and easy for the first part of the disc and then Anita copying Helen O'Connell, somewhat, swings out with the chorus. . . . On the reverse J. Desmond sings well for himself with the tune THIS TIME THE DREAM'S ON ME. Watch out for this platter to hit the top in best sellers.

When you say good music, you of course mean Tommy Dorsey—his trombone and his orchestra. Well, Tommy is out again with two waxings for Victor that are really tops. . . . THE SKUNK SONG occupying two sides of a 10 inch platter is something different for Tommy to present—but like all of his new presentations this is a new hit. Chuck Peterson does the honors with the lyrics and backs up his woeeful song of "Nobody loves me—just because I am skunk" with some red hot trumpet playing on the B side.

On another Victor record Frank Sinatra with T. D. in the background presents his version of the tune which John McCormack made famous—THE SUNSHINE OF YOUR SMILE. On the turn Jo Stafford the girl member of the Pied Pipers with the three remaining boy humming in the background sings EMBRACEABLE YOU. A swell number, a swell record. . . . Buy it!

Of course everyone can not own a record player—and thus we mention the following source for some good record entertainment. . . . Every night during the week at 5:00 p.m. a record spins on the turntables—a drum beats—and a voice says, "This is Moe, saying Hello with Moe's show." After this brief salutation there comes a solid hour of tempos of today. Numbers sweet—numbers hot—pleasing chatter—an all around good record program over WILM.

Added emphasis on home economics training is expected to boost enrollment of women students at the University of California college of agriculture.

Dr. O. H. Pepper of the University of Pennsylvania for several years has devoted a clinic to geriatrics—the specialty of the diseases of the aged.

Have you a "College Special"

For Your Trip Home at Christmas

Even if you don't have a return portion of a College Special Reduced Fare ticket . . . you can go home by train on a definite schedule, safely and economically. Fares are low!

HERE'S HOW YOU, TOO, CAN TRAVEL ON "COLLEGE SPECIAL"

REDUCED ROUND TRIP FARES

Students and teachers travel from and to their homes at great savings on these College Special tickets. To make this saving, all you have to do is purchase one from your hometown railroad ticket agent before returning from the Christmas holidays. The cost is amazingly low—liberal return limits fit your school program—you can make stop-overs, too! There are reduced round trip Pullman rates, also. When Spring holidays come you can use the return coupon to travel home again or use it at close of school.

IMPORTANT—It is expected that on account of a heavy volume of Military furlough travel, as well as civilian holiday traffic, passenger travel during the forthcoming Christmas-New Year's Holiday period will be extremely heavy this year. If it can possibly be arranged for students to leave school December 17th or before and return to school January 7th or later, it is urged they do so. It will also be found easier to make reservations and more comfortable to travel on or before December 17, 1941, and on or after January 7, 1942.

YOU may never have heard of a K carrier circuit, but it has often heard you.

It's a Bell Telephone Laboratories development by which two pairs of wires in parallel cables can carry as many as twelve separate conversations at the same time!

K carrier circuits are being built into many miles of Long Distance cables. This is one of the ways we have of adding a lot of long circuits in a hurry to meet the needs of national defense.
