

NEWARK POST.

VOLUME II

NEWARK, DELAWARE, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 8, 1911

NUMBER 7

DOES NEWARK WANT ANOTHER INDUSTRY

Cincinnati, Ohio.
Council of Newark, Newark, Del.
Please send us at once letter covering all concessions to be allowed us by your city. Also, number of acres or tomatoes you will guarantee and price. Wire us when letter is forwarded.
T. A. Snider Preserve Co.

The above is copy of telegram received by Council yesterday morning from the Snider Company. It now remains for the town to take action on the proposition. One farmer said last week, that although he had contracted for his usual amount of acreage of tomatoes this year, he would put in 15 acres for the Snider people and would be willing to contribute toward the fund to secure this industry for the community.

It is understood that individuals are working for this object. Many are expressing the opinion that the initiative should come from the Board of Trade and criticism is heard because the Board has failed to present this to the people.

The company has selected Newark as the place most favorable to their needs. The concessions are easily complied with—merely nominal expression of guarantee of good faith and promise to support the company in launching their project.

New State Board Of Education

Senator Wall's bill creating a new State Board of Education passed in the House on Tuesday.

The bill was recommended by the State School Commission appointed by the last General Assembly.

The Board shall compose seven members, to be appointed by the Governor, and to serve without compensation.

Henry Ringely, who was given the privilege of the floor, explained that the bill was an entering wedge for the scientific study of the school problem for the entire State. Every part of the State, he emphasized, is affected by a lack of education in one part of the State. He said every school district in the State stands as a unit, with no union between them, and the truth is that Delaware is behind other States in its school system. The bill, he said, was to give the State a State Board of Education that would be a real board with real powers. The present State Board, which is a sort of an executive body, is in favor of an executive body, Mr. Ringely said. The bill also provides that the State Board shall have complete control of the issuance of certificates to teachers, instead of making one iron-clad rule to apply to all persons regardless of conditions.

Piano Contest

The piano won by the pupils of the Newark Grammar School was placed in that building today. The five years' guarantee from the John Wanamaker Store (a copy of which is published in another column) and the good wishes of the "Post" accompany the instrument. We believe both parties have benefited by the transaction and extend thanks to the many who co-operated in the enterprise.

May the acquisition of this instrument herald the appointment of a regular music teacher and the assignment of a fixed place in the program of the day to music, with its powerful refining influences on the lives of our future citizens.

The individual cash prizes were won by the following:—First prize, $15, by Ramoth Anderson, sixth grade; second prize, $10, by Ira Steele, fifth grade; third prize by Edythe Whittingham, seventh grade.

Arc Lights On Main Street

The Newark Water and Electric Co. is busy installing arc lights in the business section of Main street. A number of these powerful lamps are already spreading their daylight rays throughout their vicinity. A light is to be extended from every other pole between the Baltimore and Ohio and the Newark Center Depots. This will give Newark the appearance of a hustling town which cannot fail to impress the business men ever coming and going in our midst.

Theatre Party

A number of Newarkers have planned an outing for this evening. They will make the trip to Wilmington in Strathmore's auto-bus, and witness the performance of the White Sister, now being presented at the Avenue Theatre. Ten members of the party are:—Misses Laura and Gertrude Fader, Anna Zebley, Helen Fader, Katie Steele, Alberta Heiser, Alice Pemberton, Violet Fader, Mrs. A. F. Fader, and Mrs. Griffin.

Dr. Dare Robbed

Dr. Dare, physician for the Pennsylvania Railroad, underwent an unpleasant experience last week.

While sleeping in a boarding house at Scranton, Pa., a thief entered his room, seized his clothing and carried it to a room on the first floor where all the pockets were ransacked and the owner unceremoniously relieved of $137 in cash.

The man made his escape and no clue to the stolen money has been found.

CHARLES BROWN LORE

Rev. Dr. A. W. Lightbourne, Of Dover, Pays Glowing Tribute

Another conspicuous character in the history of the political, social and religious life of our Commonwealth has passed over to the great majority. The death of Charles Brown Lore comes as a personal bereavement to all who personally knew him. He had been so long and so constantly identified with our public affairs that he had become indissolubly associated in the minds of the people with the best interests of the State.

As lawyer, Congressman, Attorney-General, Chief Justice, and publicist, he took high rank. For many years he was closely identified with the affairs of Delaware College, and was at all times an enthusiastic champion of the cause of education. In his private and public life he was a model christian gentleman. As speaker, publicist and patriot he was equal to the many special occasions that called for the exertion of his virile and versatile gifts. Sometimes wrong in his conclusions, he was always conscientious in his methods and opinions. With but few of the weaknesses that remind us all of the human limitations, he abounded in the attributes and elements of a strong and well disciplined mind.

His was an eventful career. It was also one most fruitful of beneficent service and invigorating influence. His happiest moments seem to be when he was devoting his energies to some work in which he conceived there was a great moral interest and value. When so engaged, whoever saw his courage, flag, his faith, his and his purpose altered? His was an unwearied and joyful industry. A true and tender heart throbbled within his breast. Occupied with multitudes of cares and duties, he always found time to think of the interests of others, and none was so humble as to be beneath his notice and regard.

May we all emulate his many virtues, and with a purpose as pure and an aim as exalted, round out a life as beautiful and fruitful in every form of private and public usefulness.

New Century Club

To correct a wrong impression relative to the stand taken by the Newark New Century Club on the question of "The Higher Education of Women" in Delaware, it is hereby announced that in a ballot taken in January, the club was unanimous in its vote for "The Higher Education of Women" in Delaware.

The fact that this club is composed of women living in the educational center of the State, makes it especially interested in the question. Members of the club have long realized the urgent need of an institution within our State for the higher education of young women.

Vice-president Mrs. C. O. Houghton, presided at Monday's meeting of the club.

Mrs. Houghton read a very interesting and instructive paper on Nature Study—emphasizing the method of observation and direct contact on the part of the student with his natural surroundings. The season of the year is at hand when all nature renews or reproduces itself, and a most fitting time for nature study in our schools.

Fire On Saturday Night

Fire early Saturday evening destroyed the frame barn of Lewis Eastburn in New Garden township, a mile and a half west of Kennett Square, and did $7,000 worth of damage, partly covered by insurance. Besides the barn, a chicken house, wagon shed and straw shed were destroyed and a calf and a pig burned. Two cows and two horses were saved.

The fire was discovered at 7:30 o'clock. How it started is not known, though Mr. Eastburn has no reason to believe it was of incendiary origin. There had been no light in the barn since the last evening. Mrs. Eastburn's brother had been to the barn earlier in the evening to get the horse out but there were no signs of fire at that time. The Kennett Fire Company went to the scene, and were able to save the home and other farm buildings, but could not cope with the burning barn.

THE MARKET BILL

Presented To The Legislature Is Of Interest To Farmers

A bill of interest to the farmers of this vicinity is that one known as the Market Bill. There has been much dissatisfaction for years among the farmers relative to the existing conditions of the curb-stone market in Wilmington. It is almost impossible for a man to get a space allotted him. Vacancies occur but in several instances the stands have been rented to farmers and truckers outside the State.

The object of the bill presented before Legislature is not to exclude farmers from other States, but to give the Delaware man the first option on the vacancies that may occur.

The provisions of the bill are as follows:—That when the Clerk of the Market in the City of Wilmington shall proceed to allot in each year the spaces in the Farmers and Truckers' Curbstone Market in said city, it shall be his duty to allot such spaces in accordance with the following provisions:

Such spaces shall be allotted, first to farmers and truckers who are residents of the State of Delaware, and who have filed with the Clerk of the Market application for spaces on or before April 15th in each year, and then to any other applicant.

Spaces now or hereafter allotted to any farmer or trucker, resident of the State of Delaware, shall annually be allotted to such farmer or trucker, provided he shall file application for the same on or before April 15th in each year.

Other provisions are relating to penalties for violations of this act.

There will probably be some objections raised, maintaining it will prove some hardship on some who have held stands for several years. No one can, however, deny the fairness of the bill which in no way debars competition from other States. It merely gives to residents of the State the preference in the selection of spaces.

State Constabulary

Senator Ewing's bill providing for a mounted police for Brandywine and Christina Hundreds was passed yesterday. It is the Senator's idea to use this as a nucleus of a State Constabulary similar to that in Pennsylvania. There have been during the past few years great annoyance in the rural districts around Wilmington. Many crimes and some of serious nature have been committed. This mounted police will be on duty and it is hoped it will prove effective in stopping the depredations now being committed.

The measure is non partisan, equal number to be appointed from each political party under the supervision of the Levy Court.

Dwelling Burned

The reflection seen to the southwest of town by a number of our citizens last Saturday evening was due to the burning of a frame dwelling, the home of James Lawrence, superintendent of the textile plant at Elk Mills, Md. The building was built only five years ago. The loss is $5,000.

Mrs. Lawrence had lately returned from Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, where she underwent an operation. She was still confined to bed and had to be carried to a place of safety. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Those who have been advocating the purchase of the Conference Academy, at Dover, to be used as a normal school, have been silenced by the action of the Board of Trustees of that institution when they decided to continue the school and not make the offer of it to the State for the mentioned normal school.

It is expected some action regarding the continuing of this institution will be taken at the coming session of Conference.

Hotel Changes Hands

George Johnson, the proprietor of the Washington House for the last four years, has sold that property to J. C. G. Willis for $46,000. Mr. Willis will direct the business himself. He will take possession April 3.

DEATH COMES TO FREDERICK W. CURTIS

Frederick William Curtis, a member of the Board of Trustees of Delaware College, died at his residence in Wilmington, Saturday, March 4. About three weeks ago he underwent an operation for an ulcer of the stomach, and for a time daily reports from his sick bed encouraged his friends to believe that his useful life would be spared to the community. On Saturday morning it was found that he would have to submit to another operation on and Saturday evening he breathed his last.

Mr. Curtis was the son of Frederick Curtis, who, with his brother Minot Curtis, came to Newark from New England before the middle of the last century and carried on the paper making business at the Nonantum Paper Mills. By uprightness and industry they prospered and in the early nineties, after the death of Frederick Curtis, which had occurred some years previously, and the retirement of Minot Curtis, the firm of Curtis & Brother was composed of the subject of this sketch and his brother, Alfred A. Curtis.

Training For Citizenship

The Milford Chronicle urges attention to the teaching of civic duties and responsibilities.

One of the most important duties of our public school system should be to teach civic duties and responsibilities of the individual to the State. This course should be practical and personal, and not covered by a national scope as the basis. Generally civic government is taught from the wrong end, and the children are brought to look at the subject as one far removed from their every-day lives, and as a remote possibility that some boy may arrive at the goal of being president. This is all wrong; teach the child that the government of the school district where it attends will rest upon its shoulders; that the town government will be good or bad, just as the boys and girls will that it shall be by their active work in its interest; that the county government will be honest, able and progressive only by the better thought and acts the children now in our public schools; that the State government and the civic pride in its affairs will rest upon them after embarking in the real business affairs of life. In an address before the City Club in Philadelphia, at which were assembled many of the leading educators of that and other cities, Arthur Dunn said:

That no plan of civic improvement can be practical unless there is civic education, and pointed out that this education is best inculcated among the school children, not so much by information derived from books but by real work and by object lessons, of the privileges and the duties of the citizen.

After all, the making of good citizens is the real object in establishing public schools. We do not do this as a philanthropy or for the especial benefit of the child, but rather for the benefit of the whole community of whom that child later on will become an integral part and factor.

The whole trouble with the present system of civic education is that it teaches the child all about civics, from a national viewpoint, while he knows nothing whatever of his responsibility to the local community. We have started from the wrong end. The local community with its close interest and connections for the boys and girls in school, is the part which excites their interest.

If we create an interest in the affairs of government among the children we then have the foundation for imparting the knowledge of the more complex problems of that government. Now we teach these problems, but we have not the interest of the children, and there is little result.

Instead of, as in our present system, being made to look forward to the time when he will be able to vote and have the chance of being President or holding other office, the child should have it impressed on him that right now, young as he is, he has certain privileges and responsibilities of citizenship which he cannot get away from.

Yet civics is not the only mistake being made in the teaching of the public schools, which are doing great good, but which should be made to be of great benefit to the greatest number. Because of the changes which might be made for the advancement of the school benefits for the children, the boys are dropping out of the schools, and it is getting to be a rare thing for boys to form part of the graduating classes. While we have good schools, let us have better for the sake of the children.

What Shall Be Recorded Of Newark

At a special election held in Easton, Md., on February 23, to bond the town for $20,000 for a sewer system there were 514 votes cast, out of which 458 were in favor of bonding and 42 against it.

Easton has already decided to spend $70,000 for street paving, which, added to the $20,000 just voted, makes a total of $90,000 the town will spend on permanent improvement. Work on the sewers and streets will begin early in the spring.

The Beginning Of The Sunshine Society

Following Christmas, of 1895 Mrs. Cynthia Westover Alden, at that time editor of the New York Record, passed on to some "shut-ins" cards which she had received, and which had given her pleasure. The thanks received for this small deed were so interesting and sincere, that they brought about the formation of a club to carry on the exchange of just such friendly greetings. On January 15th, 1906, the organization took the name of Sunshine Society.

The idea at once became a popular one, and in 1906 became incorporated as "The International Sunshine Society," with the main office in New York City.

The work of the society is done in the true spirit of charity, and by kind words and loving deeds. It has accomplished much. It owns and maintains homes for blind babies, homes for crippled children, fresh air homes, and an International Sunshine Hospital, Sanatorium and Rest Home at Bensonhurst, the sea, we own a large number of window tents, wheel chairs and crutches, which are loaned to those who need them. Flowers, postcards and cheering letters are sent to brighten lives of those unable to get out into the sunlight.

The International Sunshine colors are yellow and white; yellow typical of sunshine, white emblematic of purity of purpose that characterizes the sunshine work.

A Delaware Division of this Society was organized in 1909, which since its beginning has continuously added to its record of kind and thoughtful deeds.

Teachers' Institute

The first local institute of New Castle County Teachers' Association since Superintendent Spaid's re-appointment was held in the Y. M. C. A. Hall, Wil-

Professor Green of West Chester, talked with his usual enthusiasm and urged everyone to have "Bookshelves" of their very own—if they had not already started such a movement to do so at once and fill the shelves with those books which better the brain, help the heart and lift the life.

UNDERWOOD STANDARD TYPEWRITER

A LEADER

The principle of construction in the Underwood was found first in the Underwood, and every typewriter seeking business in the same field with the Underwood which has been put on the market since the advent of the Underwood, has been an imitation of, and in general appearance like, the Underwood.

The last "Blind" advocates of importance have now fallen into line, and there is not today a single "blindwriting" typewriter actively on this market. Recall all the arguments you have heard in past years by Underwood opposition, and you will realize what an advance agent to progress the Underwood has been; then bear in mind that the Underwood was the first fully "visible", has had time to develop and improve, and is to-day the most perfect typewriter made.

THE SEWER BILL OF THE TOWN OF NEWARK

AN ACT authorizing the building of sewers and conduits in the Streets of the Town of Newark, Creating a Commission to effect said building and making provision for the raising of funds to pay the cost of said building by assessments against property affected, by giving notes and by issuance of sale of bonds.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Delaware in General Assembly met: That two-thirds of the members elected to each branch thereof concurring here-

Section 1. That the Council of the Town of Newark by and through the agency of the Sewer Commission of the Town of Newark hereby created, be and it is hereby authorized and empowered to build sewers and conduits in any of the Streets of the Town of Newark and Public Highways leading into said Town of Newark and also to build any outlet of any said sewers and any disposal plant, and to provide funds for the payment of the cost of such building, as hereinafter set forth.

Section 2. The Sewer Commission shall be composed of three citizens of the Town of Newark, two of whom shall be the following named citizens of the Town of Newark, namely: Samuel J. Wright and Jacob Thomas and the third member of said Commission shall be chosen by the commissioners above named at the time of the organization of said Commission, as hereinafter provided. The members of said Commission shall hold office until the work authorized by Section 1 of this Act shall have been fully completed. Any vacancy on the said Commission caused by death or otherwise shall be filled by the remaining members of the said Commission within one month from the occurring of such vacancy. Each member of said Commission shall before entering upon the duties of his office, make an affidavit before the Alderman of the said Town of Newark and file the same with the Secretary of the Council of the Town of Newark, that he will faithfully perform his duties as a member of the Sewer Commission of the Town of Newark, and that he will not be concerned or interested pecuniarily either directly or indirectly in any contract entered into under the provisions of this Act for work done or materials furnished. The members of said Commission shall organize within two weeks after the passage of this Act by the election from their number of a President; and a Secretary and Treasurer, who may or may not be a member of said Commission, as the members of the said Commission may deem proper. No matter shall be determined upon by said Commission unless it be sanctioned by the vote of at least two members. No member shall receive any salary or other compensation for his work, but he shall be allowed all reasonable bills for expenses actually incurred by him in connection with the work of and authorized by said Commission, provided however that the Secretary and Treasurer of said Commission, whether he be a member of the Commission or not, shall receive a reasonable compensation for his work. All such bills for expenses and compensations as aforesaid shall be deemed to constitute a part of the general cost and expense of the work contemplated by this Act.

Section 3. The Sewer Commission of the Town of Newark is hereby vested with every power necessary or proper for the execution of the work authorized by Section 1 of this Act and the Town of Newark shall be bound by any contract entered into by said Commission for labor and material required in said work. All work done under the provisions of this Act shall be done under the supervision of the said Commission, aforesaid, which is hereby vested with the sole and exclusive power to determine whether any such work or improvement has been completed in accordance with the terms of the contract entered into hereunder, and to accept or reject such work on the part of a party whose properties may be affected thereby.

Section 4. The Commission aforesaid shall, as soon as practicable after the organization thereof, consider plans for the execution of the work authorized by Section 1 of this Act. The said Commission shall select plans, drawings, specifications and estimates of the cost of carrying out the provisions of Section 1 of this Act and shall exhibit same in the Council Chamber of the Council of the Town of Newark or some other convenient room in said Town of Newark and notice of the exhibition of said plans, drawings, specifications and estimates of the cost as aforesaid and of the place where the same is open for inspection shall be given to all parties in interest by advertisements in one or more newspapers published in the Town of Newark in at least two successive issues of said paper or papers. The said Commission is further directed and hereby authorized and empowered to call a special election within ten days after the date of the last issue of said paper or papers, mentioning above, at which special election the question of accepting or rejecting said plans, drawings, specifications and estimates of cost as aforesaid, shall be submitted to the voters of the said Town of Newark and the acceptance shall be approved by a majority of the votes cast as such special election, provided however, if said plans, drawings, specifications and estimates of the cost as aforesaid, shall be rejected by a majority of the votes cast, as aforesaid, then it shall be the duty of said Commission to have other plans, drawings, specifications and estimates of the cost as aforesaid, made and exhibited as hereinbefore provided for, and submitted to the Voters as aforesaid, as hereinbefore provided for in this Section, until said plans, drawings, specifications and estimates of the cost as aforesaid shall be accepted by a majority of the Voters as aforesaid, provided however, that said special elections shall not be called oftener than twice in any one calendar year. The qualifications of said Voters the value of said votes and the manner of holding said elections, shall be the same as hereinafter provided for in Section twenty-six of this Act.

Section 5. When any Street or any section thereof is sewered by direction of said Commission, the said Commission shall have the power and authority and is hereby directed to assess against the property abutting on the Street, or the section thereof, which is sewered under the provisions of this Act, two-thirds of the whole cost of such sewer and said assessments shall be made as hereinafter provided for. When any sewer, made under the provisions of this Act, is completed, the Commission shall cause to be prepared a list showing the names of the property owners, the linear feet of property of each abutting on the street or section thereof, sewer, the amount proposed to be assessed against each lot or parcel of land and the total cost of such improvement. Upon the completion of such list, a copy of the same shall be hung up for at least ten days in some public place in the Town of Newark, for inspection of the public, and notice of the completion of said list and of the place where the same is hung up for inspection, as aforesaid, shall be given to all parties in interest by advertisement in at least two newspapers published in the Town of Newark in at least two successive issues of said papers; said advertisement shall also state the time and place when and where the said Commission will hear any objections, which may be made against any assessment as aforesaid. The time of the meeting for the hearing of objections, as aforesaid, shall not be earlier than one week nor later than four weeks from the date of the last issue of the newspaper containing the advertisement aforesaid. The place of said meeting shall be in the Council Chamber of the Council of the Town of Newark or some other convenient room in said Town. The said Commission shall sit to hear any objections to the assessment aforesaid, at the place advertised, from one o'clock to four o'clock in the afternoon of the day designated and may adjourn from day to day if necessary. At said session the Commission shall make such alterations and corrections of the assessment of said Commission as it shall deem proper and in accord with the provisions of this Act. The determination of the Commission at any such session shall be final and conclusive. A copy of the assessment list as corrected, as aforesaid, shall be hung up for at least ten days in the same place in which the copy of the original list had been displayed. At the expiration of the ten days aforesaid, the assessment list, as corrected, as aforesaid, shall by the Commission be certified to the Treasurer of the Commission for collection, and from the date of such certification the several amounts shown upon such list as assessed against the properties shall be a lien upon the property upon which the assessment is made, and such lien shall have priority of any lien, encumbrance, or conveyance, except taxes or prior liens for public improvements. No error or mistake in regard to the name of an owner shall be held to invalidate any assessment, and it shall be sufficient if the name of the last owner, as shown by the record in the Office of the Recorder of Deeds in and for New Castle County, is shown upon such assessment list.

Section 6. All assessments in pursuance of this Act shall be based upon the linear feet of property actually abutting upon that section of the street sewered, and each linear foot of such property affected within the same block or square shall be assessed alike, regardless of the depth, width or other dimensions of such property, provided, however, that when any property is situated at the corner of two Streets or Highways, only the front of such property shall be liable for such assessment, and the whole assessment shall be made on the completion of any portion of a sewer, either in front or on the side of such property, so as to make the said property accessible to such sewer, and provided, further, however, that should the owner or owners of such corner property decide, after the above assessments are made or paid, to make the side of such property, as determined by said Commission, the front of said property, then in such case the owner or owners of such corner property, shall pay such additional sum of money as the said Commission may determine upon, in accordance with the provisions of this Act; provided, however, that said side frontage is one hundred and twenty-five feet or less; and provided also, that no property or portion shall be assessed for the construction of any sewer unless such property or some portion thereof shall abut and be bounded upon the Street on which said sewer shall have been constructed, or unless such property or a portion thereof has a right of access to said Street or Highway by a private alley or desires to use said sewer before a sewer is constructed upon the Street or Highway upon which said property abuts, in which case the said property shall be liable for the same assessments as though the sewer was constructed in the Streets or Highways upon which said property abuts, and the said property shall not be liable for any further assessments so made for sewer purposes. All assessments so made shall be due upon the date of the certification by the Commission to the Treasurer of said Commission, as aforesaid, but shall not be collectible until the expiration of thirty days from said date. The payment of the amount of any assessment within the said thirty days shall be accepted by the said Treasurer as a full satisfaction of such assessment. On all assessments remaining unpaid after the expiration of said thirty days from the date of the certifying as aforesaid, interest at the rate of six per centum per annum computed from the date of the certifying, as aforesaid, shall be added. Any property owner, may, at his election be expressed in writing to the commission, aforesaid, within thirty days after the date of certifying, as aforesaid, pay his assessments in four equal installments together with interest, as above stated; the first of said installments, with accrued interest, shall be due, payable and collectible at the expiration of three months from the date of certifying, aforesaid, and thereafter one Absence makes the heart grow fonder, but the memory of the absent one becomes vague and dim. You long to picture in your mind just how "HE" or "SHE" would look, but there's a mysterious something which makes this mental picture impossible.

But if you had a photograph before you, then you could recall the forgotten face, yes, even the kind acts, the gentle words.

our last ad has helped to convince you of the goodness and reliability of our brands of phosphate and that you will give us the opportunity of quoting you and talking the matter over with you before placing your order.

A farmer to whom I was recently talking said there was an agent around trying to sell (and I know where he has sold) 2-8 and 2 goods at $26.00 (real value not over $22.00). This farmer friend of mine thought such agents should be stopped. While there are still occasional farmers who can be taken in this way they are getting fewer every year. Beware of the agent who just talks with no analysis, valuation or reputation to back it up.

Several have been surprised at the low price at which we are selling Toledo Contract Prime Clover Seed. This brand is the recognized highest standard for quality and is thoroughly tested for both purity and germinating qualities. We have Alske too.

FEED PRICES ARE LOWER

Our stock is complete and it is moving lively. Cotton Seed Meal, Gluten feed or Malt Sprouts, by reason of their high protein makes it well worth while for feeders to mix them in with their corn. It takes a certain amount of feed to keep a cow, after that a reasonable amount added comes right back into the milk bucket. Just like phosphate—use enough to make it pay—don't stop half way.

THE SEWER BILL AND LEASE

WE are printing this week a duplicate copy of the Sewer Bill, that has been presented to the Legislature by Senator Ellison of this district. This copy was given to us by Mr. J. Wilkins Cooch. It will give our readers a chance to see the exact wording and provisions of the Act now under consideration by the members of the General Assembly.

THE LEASE

In response to some inquiries we wish to state that the Lease published in the Post was taken from the original copy furnished at our own urgent request by the contracting parties, their signatures appearing on the same.

ACT ON THE NEW INDUSTRY

THE communication of the Snider Preserving Company appearing in another column plainly shows the duty of every citizen of Newark. An view of the act that other questions have claimed the attention of the people, the merits of this proposition has not received proper consideration. Few have taken the time to investigate the possibilities of this concern. As we have noted before, the greatest attraction in an industry of this kind is the chance afforded the agricultural interests. The business men of Newark can ask for no better way to increase their trade than to provide for the sales of the farm products in Newark. We have heard of no serious objections to the proposition. It is merely one of apathy. There has been a rumor that if an industry of this size came to Newark it would necessitate buildings for labor which Newark capital could not at this time provide for. If such provision was not made, it would tempt outside capitalists to enter in competition with our local real estate business men which might result in a general decrease in rents. And for that reason the argument is advanced that Newark wants only to maintain a gradual healthy growth. It is true, the merchants of town should take the matter in hand. We do not believe this to be the case, however. It is in most part, mere apathy and neglect.

With some one to assume a leadership who will present the matter to the business men of the town and farmers of the community, there is not the least doubt of the outcome. All this is in repetition of what we have said time and time again, but no one has ever refuted our claims that the possibilities of Newark have never been realized. With some of the Western spirit of progress here, it is beyond our wildest dream what the Newark of the next ten years would be. This town is fortunate in having a citizenship composed of men of exceptional business ability and experience. We have, too, the advantage over many towns of this size, of a professional class. President Cross, of Dover Academy is a member of the local Board of Trade. At the meeting on Tuesday evening he spoke approvingly of the duPont offer showing a knowledge of conditions in the State outside the class room. What a strong and effective organization this town could have! All it needs is a strong, enthusiastic leader and a determination for concerted action. This in connection with the New Century Club and its civic committee—there would be a Greater Newark and the Town Beautiful.

CHARLES BROWN LORE

IN the death of Chief Justice Lore, Delaware loses one of her true nobles. Honored, respected and loved by all, loved by the people of the State, he entered years ago that circle that has always been a source of pride to Delaware—the Grand Old Men of Delaware. To become eligible to membership means a youth and manhood clean, virile, strong and devoted to the interests of these three counties of the Delaware. To be so honored means that one shall be conservative, but not narrow; progressive but not radical—a perfect gentleman, one with a love for both rich and poor.

How well he held true to these principles and succeeded is what we are thinking of today. He was of the old school, so called, because the rush of our day begins to discount the gracious manner that was his. His position in life gave him the chance to do a work that few of us can attain. Delaware will continue to feel the influence of his work for his life is something to which we of younger years can look with profit. Though it may not have been our good fortune to have been closely associated with him, we shall miss his personality from our public life. And if we, in a humble way, emulate his virtues, we shall be able to serve well our State and thereby continue, in some degree, the work he did so well.

DOVER BOARD OF TRADE

IT was our pleasure last evening to accept an invitation to attend the meeting of the Dover Board of Trade. The meeting was a special one called for the purpose of discussing the duPont Road offer. Although the night was stormy, there was a large attendance of members, and it was clearly seen what is the secret of the success of the Board in this town. Everyone seemed alert to anything that meant progress for Dover. It has a membership of over 150 of the representative men of the town. To these men is given credit for the improved streets and also the magnificent new depot just started by the railroad authorities. One could readily predict the result if Dover had the Snider proposition as Newark has. These men differ in their opinions just as you do, but not at the sacrifice of the town. How Newark fails to see her advantages is a mystery. The Dover Board holds regular monthly meetings and oftentimes special meetings, just as this one last evening, to place themselves on record regarding some problem of interest. As a general discussion the Board passed unanimously resolutions favoring the offer of General duPont, expressing their appreciation and promising their support toward proper legislation.

We understand that their regular meetings are largely attended. They invite some one acquainted with some phase of town development to make an address, and map out campaigns for furthering the town's interest. After planning, they execute. Until Newark reaches the point where she can have an organization founded on similar lines, will she do what she is capable of doing.

EDITORIAL WRITER—FUNCTIONS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

THE function and power of the editorial writer has again come up for discussion. Magazine writers and public men in general are debating the question. Whether the editorial column of the average newspaper is still the power that it was in the past is a matter that is time and again discussed by newspaper experts and the public at large. For some years past now the news column has been written with the idea of influencing the reader, according to the policy being pursued by the management of the paper. A scintilla of recently there is a reactionary movement and that the editorial column is to become a stronger power. With this possibility of increased power and influence, there comes the additional demand and increased responsibility of his position. If the public are to look to him for a certain amount of guidance that information by virtue of his position gives him, his position is one of no mean proportions. Nor is it one of little responsibility. It necessitates above all, close application and cool judgment. Without fear or favor must he treat all subjects before those who read and respect his views. Then according to his strength of character, his sympathy with the people, his ability as a writer and his personality as a man will his power be reckoned.

A Boston paper speaking of this question reviews some of the requisites necessary for such an office. "He must meet the demands of honesty, of responsibility, of quality and of enlightenment, which latter is not always shown by a championship of anything and everything that offers from what has been. "He must meet the demands of honesty. These are not satisfied when he refrains from taking his neighbor's umbrella; he must do a great deal more; he must faithfully and jealously guard the interests of that public which trusts him, which really looks to him for a great deal of information but much guidance, and admits him as a friend to his fireside, there to talk to women and children, opportunities to lead their pleasures and to record their views.

"He is confided in, he is revered to, he is constantly asked 'what do you think about this question?' and his answer must be the more responsible, because he has virtually claimed for himself the right to give it and claim it in touching all manner of subjects that come before men's attention.

"Modern society for centuries has had small opinion of the trustee that shirks his trust and pockets its emoluments, and the journalist is today the trustee of a public that needs, and needs keenly, a good trustee. The journalist stands at the head of the public's reservoir of information and advice, and as he keeps it pure and clear will he be rewarded. As he lets it be rolled or tainted will he be rewarded also, but in justice's sterner metal.

"The journalist is under no sort of duty to say what the public will like to hear; he must tell the public the facts, but he is under no duty to give them facts that can never be anything but worthless. He is best serving the public when he says honestly and plainly what his opinion is on a subject—otherwise he had best leave it alone and confine himself to Shakespeare and the musical glasses.

Each reader of his paper is an argument for care, for justice and for that honor that guards the welfare of one's brother man. Each reader tacitly asks him to tell the truth, to give good advice and to voice what to the best of the writer's opinion is the reasonable and wholesome opinion that he hopes his readers will adopt or have already. The editorial writer does not exercise his functions for the purpose of INFLAMING PREJUDICE, OF DISTORTING GENEROUS VIEWS, OF FOSTERING HATRED AND ENVY. His work is to do the opposite of all these things and to march with his readers into the light and not away from it. His cry must be that of a valiant thanksgiving, not that of a terrible despair, for he is the watchman of much of the people's hope.

If these represent the requirements demanded of the man in a desk, then indeed must he have a care.

COLLEGE NOTES

Delaware concluded her basketball season on Saturday night by defeating Albright College, 32 to 25. The game was decidedly fast and interesting, but our boys had little trouble in keeping a substantial lead throughout. Taylor's floor work and Houston's foul shooting were easily the features of the contest. During the last part of the second half, the Varsity, with the exception of one man, was replaced by the Second team; and but for this, Albright's score would have been considerably less than it was. A preliminary game was played between the Scrubs and St. Johns, of Wilmington, which ended in an easy victory for the former by the score of 20 to 7. During the season which has just closed, Delaware won seven out of thirteen games, scoring 351 points to her opponents' 330. This is doing remarkably well, considering the hard schedule played, and, but for the slump that overtook the team toward the end when they lost five games in succession, the showing would have been much better.

On Thursday afternoon, the Senior Class elected Frederick L. Maier, '12, to preside as chairman of the class-day exercises next June. Dutch is gifted with a large amount of spontaneous humor, and will undoubtedly make a huge success of the affair.

Coach McAvoy issued a call for candidates for the base ball team last Monday, and quite a large number reported in the gym. So soon as the weather permits, outdoor practice will commence, and every effort will be made to whip the team into shape for the game with Swarthmore on Wednesday, March 22nd.

Terrible Trespass Fatality

The shocking fatality that occurred in this city, Thursday evening, when a young woman was killed and a young man terribly injured by being struck by a train on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, should stand as a potent warning against the folly of trespassing on railroad lines.

These two young persons started out for a walk, and in order to shorten the way to their destination, made a highway of the railroad tracks. It is a general custom of persons residing in the neighborhood, we understand, to make use of the railroad as a convenience in this illegal and reprehensible manner, and these two felt that they could indulge in the practice without danger.

It is doubtful if they had the slightest comprehension; indeed, it is possible that they would have laughed to scorn any warning from the more prudent. Yet, they deliberately entered upon the pathway to death. They noted the approach of one train and in getting out of its way, stepped in front of a train approaching from the opposite direction and disaster fell swiftly upon them.

This lamentable happening may be duplicated any day, any hour of any day, as long as people persist in the extremely hazardous practice of employing railroad tracks as public highways. Years ago the danger was at a minimum, but now it is at the extreme at all times, by reason of the great number of trains continually moving in opposite directions upon all the railroad systems.

People should not trespass on railroad properties, and the railroad authorities should resolve to sternly enforce the law against such trespass. If not, the terrible slaughter will continue—Every Evening.

GOOD ROADS BEAT LIBRARIES

"Good roads are more useful than public libraries. I can do Delaware more service by constructing a modern highway the entire length of the State than I could by establishing a library." This explains the attitude of General duPont regarding his proposition to build a modern road a distance of one hundred and three miles, from Claymont, Del., on the Pennsylvania line, to Selbyville, Del., on the Maryland boundary.

The General Assembly accepted the proposition and by concurrent resolution invited General duPont to appear before the Legislature and explain more fully the proposition. It is expected that he will attend during the present week.

In Behalf Of The Child

Delaware will have, as a distinguished guest, at Dover, on March 22nd, Mrs. Frederick Schoff, National President of Mothers' Congress. The Federated Clubs, Mothers' Circles, and Parents-Teachers' Associations of the State, the county superintendents, principals of schools, teachers and all interested in child welfare are urged to attend this meeting, to be held in the Dover Century Club rooms on Wednesday afternoon, March 22nd.

The DuPont Road Offer. Delaware's Great Opportunity

The proposition of Gen. T. Coleman duPont to build a State Highway for Delaware was made public on Wednesday. The offer is practically to condemn or purchase a right of way not less than 100 nor more than 200 feet wide through the State. Through the center of this strip of land, he proposes to build a permanent State road 18 to 30 feet wide. He says he is in communication with engineers and will proceed immediately if the Legislature grants him the power of right of way. It is his intention to reserve the sides or public utilities such as electric railways, poles, wire lines and conduits. He suggests construction of walks and planting trees in some places and making boulevard.

The only obligation on the part of the State is to keep the road in repair. Governor Pennewill on Thursday morning sent the following message to the General Assembly:

"It is my pleasure to present for your consideration a communication which I have received from General T. Coleman duPont in relation to the building of a highway or State road running from the northern to the southern boundary of the State of Delaware.

"The communication containing a most unprecedented and magnanimous offer to the State is as follows: (The duPont proposition is here set out in full.)

"I strongly recommend the enactment of such legislation at the present session as may be necessary to effectuate the proposal contained in the communication from Gen. duPont.

The matter was referred to the Committee on Highways in each house.

There has been some opposition expressed claiming the granting of such a franchise would be more of a loss to the State than the cost of the road. Another question being asked is whether he will prevent the trolley line from going down the State. He contradicts this statement in an interview to the Sunday Star when he says:

"I do not want to profit by the franchises for public utilities in connection with my offer to build a boulevard the entire length of Delaware. My only reason for making the proposition to Governor Pennewill is to benefit the State and develop her resources.

"If the State accepts my proposition," he continued, "I will buy the right of way and give the franchise to any responsible company that will guarantee to complete a trolley line within five years. The guarantee, however, must be of a satisfactory nature. Generally speaking, this offer also applies to a disposition of the other public utilities on the proposed boulevard.

Gen. duPont is enthusiastic over the idea. It seems that he has caught the spirit of the times. At no more opportune time could the offer have been made than at the present. There is not only a sentiment for good roads in the State, but an actual demand from all sections of the State. Had this offer not been made the Legislature would have probably taken the responsibility of bonding the State for $750,000 for State highway as provided by the Drexler bill.

The duPont offer gives this road to the State and also promises a trolley road. "It is beyond the wildest imagination," said one Senator; what the results will be in Delaware development.

Gen. duPont has taken a novel way
