

TOWN OKAYS
FLUORINATED
WATER PLAN;
MEETING SETInitial Approval
Of Proposal Is Given; Session Is Planned Tonight

Final approval of the fluorine plan, which is a study of the practical aspects, was given by the Town Council on Monday night.

The plan proposed by Dr. J. H. Munroe in January, calls for fluorinating the town water supply with fluorine gas as a curb on tooth decay.

The town council's action virtually assures the eventual adoption of the process here.

The town council plan to meet with the fluorine committee tonight to discuss the question of cost and type of equipment required, as well as engineering plans for its installation.

The action was taken after Council heard a lengthy, well-documented report from the local committee which had been formed in January, recently to study the fluorine experiment there.

The report was highly favorable. The committee was composed of professional chemists and members of the local health department. Among them were Drs. J. H. Munroe and Louis Smith of the Chemical Foundation staff, both of whom later carried out much fact-checking on the process.

Council also heard a resolution from the Newark P. T. A., whose health committee has made an extensive study of fluorine experiments throughout the state. The P. T. A., representing some 150 local parents, also urged the town to adopt the plan.

The estimated cost of equipment necessary to launch the project, exclusive of maintenance, is $1,000.

In keeping with its plan to inform the public on facts it has gathered regarding mass fluorine treatments, the P. T. A. health committee this week issued the following statement:

"In previous communications we have stated that knowledge of the dental effects of fluorides was developed long ago, in fact, as early as 1842. It will be interesting to note

A total of $221 was contributed by the club to various agencies the past month, the largest item being $100 to the Newark Recreation Association. Other donations were: Newark High School Athletic Council, $25; Cancer Research Workshop, $25; Delaware State Fair, $25; Delmarva Chicken Festival, $25. The final $16 went for purchase of 86 booklets, "Good Health," the official Freedom Train booklet. One will be presented to each graduate at the Newark High School graduation.

Plans for purchase of an FM radio for the park area in front of the Main School building were also announced.

Arm House Undergoing
Modeling, To Open Soon

The Charn House, located on Route 1, about two miles west of Newark, is currently undergoing remodeling and is expected to be opened to the public in the near future. The house, owned by Mrs. Best who operated the establishment prior to its closing, was fire damaged forcing its closure. The house is being modeled by the firm of the Charn House. Its operators have since been doing catering from Elkton headquarters. An announcement on the remodeling will be made as soon as work progresses sufficiently to assure definite date.

NHS Alumni Names
Scholarship Winner

Elaine Toivonen

Miss Toivonen is the current winner of the scholarship awarded annually to a graduate of the Newark High School by the Alumni Association. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Toivonen, of near Newark, Miss Toivonen plans to enter the University of Delaware next fall. The scholarship, which this year amounted to $127.50, is awarded for general scholastic excellence as well as need for educational assistance.

The announcement was made at the annual Alumni banquet last Saturday evening at the school, when about 150 old grads heard some little known facts about the history of their home town from Dr. John Munroe, principal speaker, who sketched the development of Newark.

New Alumni officers were elected as follows: Samuel Talucci, president; John Hamilton, vice-president; Ernestine Gillespie, corresponding secretary; Mary Elizabeth Davis, recording secretary; and Russell Phillips, treasurer.

Town Drops Plan To
Repair Honor RollWill Give $500 To Memorial Committee If Latter Takes Over Upkeep Of Board

In response to a number of protests, the Town Council has abandoned its plan to repair the Honor Roll on Main Street and has voted a $500 contribution to the fund for a permanent monument here on the condition that the town Memorial Committee undertake to maintain the board until such time as it is ready to construct a stone monument.

The money will be held by Council until the committee is ready to begin its project. The $500 includes the $100 originally promised by Council.

The town decided to forego its plan to spend $350 repairing the wooden board on the Academy lawn after receiving letters of protest from the Memorial Committee, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Auxiliary, Mrs. Carrie Greer, and other individuals.

The decision was made at Council's meeting on Monday night. No representative of the Memorial Committee was present, and it is not known whether or not that group will be willing to accept the conditions of the $500 contribution.

Aetna Plans Annual
Carnival, July 1 - 9Warwick Again Heads Committee; Parade To Highlight Event

William J. Warwick has been named chairman for the Aetna Company's annual carnival to be held in the area behind the Academy Building from July 1 to 9.

Highlight of the event will be a colorful parade of volunteer firemen units from throughout this area. This is scheduled for July 5, with the rain date on July 7.

Transfer of the Continental-Diamond Band to fire company sponsorship was also announced this week. All members of the unit and their equipment have been turned over to the Aetna-men, and the group will hereafter be known as the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Band. The director is D. W. Chalmers.

A number of valuable prizes will be awarded at the carnival, the most coveted being a 1949 Pontiac. Also to be given away are an automatic washer, 9 cubic foot refrigerator, and a garden tractor.

The carnival committee is seeking donations of baked goods and fancy work from the ladies of the town. Proceeds of the carnival will go towards purchase of a new Tank Wagon for the fire company. Specifications and bids are now being sent to various manufacturers, Mr. Warwick said, adding that the company has needed this equipment for a long time.

REVIVE PLAN
METERS HERECouncil May Take Action
At July Meet

A plan to install parking meters here, dropped once by the Town Council nearly 3 years ago as too hot a potato, was revived at Monday night's meeting of the lawmakers.

The proposal was made by Councilman Samuel Diehl, who pointed out that the meters would not only prove effective in solving the acute parking problem on Main Street but would also be an important factor in increasing revenue, thus keeping the town tax rate down.

He pointed to the success Elktion has had with its meters, which paid for themselves within a year and have yielded over $19,000 in total receipts in two years, about $8,000 of this being clear revenue. He also said that meters are being used successfully in virtually every community of any size in this area.

Council's reaction was highly favorable and the matter was referred to the street committee for study and recommendation. It was indicated that Council may take definite action at its July meeting.

Two years ago Council went so far as to order 125 multi-coin meters and approved a contract for their installation, but overwhelming protests from the Chamber of Commerce eventually killed the plan. The business men presented a petition signed by 416 residents, including every businessman on Main Street, protesting the use of meters.

Councilman Diehl, however, insists the sentiment here has changed since then, and he said he has talked to numerous businessmen who now approve the meter plan.

According to Mr. Diehl who has discussed the matter with representatives of meter manufacturers, the town could install any number of meters on a six months trial basis with no initial outlay required by the town. A percentage of the receipts would go for payments, with the town still getting some revenue, perhaps 25 per cent, during the payment period. If the meters prove unsatisfactory, the company would remove them without cost to the town.

Appeal Day Set And Town Tax Rate Fixed

Dates for posting the assessment list and for holding the annual Appeal Day have been set by the Town Council, which has also fixed the tax rate for the coming year.

The assessment rolls will be displayed in Rhodes Drug Store beginning Saturday, June 11, and continuing to 12 noon June 27.

Appeal Day will be held Monday, June 27, between 1 and 6 p. m. at the Town Council offices. Complaints on assessments will be heard, and non-property owners will be given their final opportunity to register for next year's town election.

The new tax rate is 30 cent on every $100 of assessment, the same as last year's. The levy is expected to yield about $25,800 in revenue.

The town, previously limited by its charter to $20,000 in property tax revenue, is now permitted to raise up to $30,000 as a result of a special bill passed at the recent session of the General Assembly.

Admiral Blandy To Address
NHS Grads Tomorrow Nite10 Of His Old Classmates
And His Former Teacher
At Newark Academy To Be In Audience At Exercises

A flood of memories will be recalled for Admiral William H. P. Blandy when he returns to his hometown tomorrow to address 88 members of the graduating class at the Newark High School.

Below him in a special section of the audience will be ten of his former classmates at the old Newark Academy here and with them will be his grade teacher, Mrs. Laura Hamb Housinger, who now lives at 172 West Main Street.

Adm. Blandy left the Academy around 1897 to enter Delaware College, later going on to Annapolis in 1899. All those who attended grammar school with him here have been invited to the exercises, but school authorities have managed to discover only 10 of his classmates.

All have accepted the invitation. They are: Mrs. R. T. Jones, 122 West Main Street; Mrs. Joseph McVey, 224 South College Avenue; Walter Powell, 43 East Main Street; Irving Handy, Brandywine Sanatorium; Dr. Margaret Handy, 1100 Broom Street, Wilmington; Frank Clark, New Castle; Morris Ewing, 125 West Main Street; Samuel Slack, 158 Academy Street; Elmer Morrison, 53 West Delaware Avenue; Mrs. Maude R. Coverdale, 307 Delaware Circle; John T. Kennelly, Ogletown; and Mrs. P. F. Pie, 313 West Main Street.

The commencement exercises will begin at 8:30 p. m. in the auditorium. As announced last week, Joseph McVey will award the diplomas, Supt. Wilmer K. Shue will present the class, and Principal Frederick B. Kutz will announce the prize winners.

Adm. Blandy, who gained renown as a wartime fleet commander in the Pacific and later as commander of the Bikini atom bomb task force in 1946, spent much of his boyhood here. After graduating first in his class at Annapolis, he saw duty on the battleship USS Vera Cruz in 1914. He continued aboard that ship during World War I, operating against the Germans in the North Sea. Between wars he served as a gunnery officer and later commander of several ships and also saw shore duty on a naval mission to Brazil.

In 1941 he was promoted to vice-admiral and became chief of the bureau of ordinance. Later, he was appointed commander of Group 1, Amphibious Force in the Pacific, and participated in the capture of Kwajalein, Saipan, Palau Island, Ulithi, Iwo Jima and Okinawa.

In 1946 he served as commander of the joint Army-Navy Task Force which conducted Operations Crossroads, the atom bomb test at Bikini. In December of that year, he was promoted to the rank of admiral and assumed command of the Atlantic Fleet, succeeding Marc A. Mitscher.

Swim Classes To Start

The swimming class, sponsored by the Newark Recreation Association, will get underway June 20 and continue through August 20, Harry Rawstrom, director, announced this week.

The morning sessions will be devoted to instruction for beginner, intermediate and advanced classes. Recreational swimming for children will be held in the afternoon and for adults in the evening.

In a double ceremony next Thursday, James L. Getaz, Jr., who was graduated Tuesday from the Princeton Theological Seminary, will be ordained as a minister in the Presbyterian Church and installed as pastor of the Head of Christiana Church.

The joint service, which will start at 8 p. m. at the church, will give Head of Christiana its first full-time minister since the resignation of the Rev. Evan W. Renne over a year ago.

A number of prominent churchmen in the Presbytery of New Castle will take part in the service, and the sermon will be by the Rev. Professor Edward H. Roberts, D. D., of Princeton Seminary faculty.

The central portion of the service will be: The Constitutional Question and Prayer, the Charge to the Pastor and the Charge to the People. These will be conducted in the order given by the Rev. Valley School Merger
Vote Set For July 2Iron Hill Pupils Seek Entry To Newark District

The referendum on consolidating the Pleasant Valley School with the Newark Special School District will go before the voters of the district on Saturday, July 2.

All qualified residents of the district eligible to vote in national elections may cast a ballot. The polls will open in the main high school building from 2 to 5 p. m. Citizens need not be registered for national or state elections to vote, according to school authorities.

If the referendum is approved, the 1-room school at Pleasant Valley will be about 2 1/2 miles from the Newark Public Schools in the fall. There are about 23 pupils at Pleasant Valley at this time, and these are spread through six grades.

The merger proposal is in line with the plans of the State Board of Education for this district and has the approval of the Newark Board of Education.

Funds for handling the additional pupils have been appropriated for this district in the budget bill recently approved by the State Legislature.

The voters of Pleasant Valley voted some time ago to discontinue their 1-room school, and the merger plan now depends on the will of the residents of this district.

Town Financial Reserves
Rise To $21,357 In May

The town's financial reserve jumped about $9,000 in May, totaling $21,357.34 at the month's end as against $12,129.58 at the close of business in April.

Unusually heavy returns from electric light and power sales and water rents accounted for the increase. The largest single item of revenue was from electric light output, which brought in $16,044.82. The power receipts amounted to $11,448.38 and water rents were $10,509.17.

Total revenue for the month was $38,691.19, while disbursements came to $29,463.43. The balance carried over from April was $12,129.58.

Ramsey's Resignation
Accepted With Regret

Acting Town Secretary George E. Ramsey has resigned effective July 1 and Councilman F. A. Wheelless has been appointed to succeed him on a part-time basis.

Mr. Ramsey, who took over the post on a temporary basis following the resignation of Vernon Steele, wished to withdraw from town affairs completely. His resignation was accepted with regret by Council on Monday night.

Mr. Wheelless will work on a 4-hour day schedule, five days weekly. His appointment is regarded as an economy move, the town being in somewhat straightened financial condition. Mr. Wheelless, who recently completed his work as town assessor, will also assist in getting out the tax bills.

Cub Benefit Movie

Den 1 of Cub Pack 55 is leading in the sale of tickets for the cub benefit, "Green Promise," starring Marguerite Chapman and Walter Brennan, to be shown at the State Theatre, Monday and Tuesday, June 13-14.

Ricky Kutz, Johnny Miller and Billy Shue, of Den 8, are leading in that order in individual sales. The boys will continue to canvass the town the rest of this week.

DISPUTED
IS PASSED
BY COUNCILAdoption Monday
Climaxes 3 Years
Study And Debate
By Town Groups

The zoning ordinance first proposed here over three years ago and the subject of two public hearings and many stormy Council sessions, was finally passed by the Town Council at its June meeting on Monday night.

In its final form the new law incorporates changes proposed at the last public hearing, plus numerous important revisions made during the first and second readings.

No new changes were made Monday night, although two last-minute requests were turned down. The only dissenting vote was from Councilman Samuel Diehl, who protested the law's restrictions on business district growth. His position is fully stated in a letter elsewhere in this issue.

Up until the last, the old dispute between business and residential groups was in evidence. The two final requests for changes, which were turned down, were from Harold Sheaffer and representatives of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. The former asked that his property on the south side of East Main Street, extending 281 feet from the Pomeroy tracks, be switched from residential to commercial. He submitted a petition signed by 16 property owners of the area who are agreeable. Councilman John Hopkins was the principal objector to the change, saying that he had received numerous requests to keep the area as it was. The B. & O. officials asked that an 800 foot parcel along their right of way next to the town sewage disposal plant

Also to start here in the fall is Mrs. Dorothy Maclary, a University of Delaware graduate with 10 years teaching experience who last taught at the Newport schools. The final appointee is Mrs. Jean Grocup, a graduate of the University of Delaware in 1946, who has taught the past three years at the North Bank School, Chester County, Pa.

Miss Jacqueline Cahall, who graduates this Friday from the Newark High School, has been appointed an office clerk at the school.

Mrs. Florence Roberts, fifth grade teacher has resigned, and will reside in West Chester, Pa.

Other new teachers next fall, whose appointments were previously announced, are: Miss Helen Connelly, of Felton, a graduate this June at the University of Delaware; Fred Spasato, Newark, U. of D. graduate in 1948, who will teach social studies and serve as football coach; and Roman Cielinski, U. of D. graduate this year, who will assist with football coaching and also teach.

There will be kindergarten, primary, junior, and intermediate departments included in the school. The program will have Bible lessons and stories, songs, a recreation period, and expressional activities each day.

A feature of the school this year will be that the various departments will be set up in smaller class groups among the younger children especially in order that the most effective work possible may be accomplished. A Parents' Night will be held on Friday evening, June 24, at 7:30 o'clock.

The Summer Service of The Holy Communion will be observed on Sunday, June 26, at 11 o'clock.

49 ARRESTS BY POLICE PAST MONTH

21 Speeding Violations

Arrests for speeding took a spurt here the past month, 24 fast drivers being flagged down by local police, according to Chief William Cunningham's report. This was a considerable jump over the previous month when only nine speedsters were fined.

Eleven arrests for drunkenness and disorderly conduct came second to speeding on the list for May, which totaled 49 law violations. The remainder were as follows: passing on right, 4; threatening bodily harm, 2; no operator's license, 2; assault and battery, 1; failing to have operator's license signed, 1; unregistered motor vehicle, 1; driving on left, 1; passing stop sign, 1; passing red light, 1.

The force also made a number of investigations, including five accidents, one case of reported prowler, two reports of malicious mischief, both cleared, four larcenies, one breaking and entering, two missing persons, both of whom were found. One escapee was also returned to the State Hospital, and two bicycles were found and returned to their owners.

Two cases were held for the Court of Common Pleas; one culprit was sent to the Workhouse, and two cases were dismissed.

A total of 236 phone calls were handled. The police car covered 3872 miles and the motorcycle 593 miles. Overnight lodging was provided one transient.

Magistrate Clarence Foster reported collection of $430 in fines.

Final Assembly Held At Schools

Mrs. Marguerite Alves' fourth grade gave the final elementary assembly of the school year recently.

A play "The Prince Who Lost His Smile" was offered with Gene Lloyd as the unhappy prince and Dorothy Nelson as the Queen. The Lords were: Donald Brierly, George Gibson, Alfred Olkowski, Richard Simpers, Eugene Todd and Gerald Morgan. They were unsuccessful at making the prince smile even though they sang a humorous song called "The Cuckoo Berry."

The Village Children were: Edward Ronkiel, Herbert Sweetman, Jack Wright, Bob Watson, Loretta Le Pera and Anna Harrigan. They did a dance "Thread the Needle" and the girls performed as twirlers and acrobats. The prince tried to do the stunts and laughed at his own attempts.

The Jack in the Box was George Martin, and the Toy Soldiers were Richard Pyle, Thomas Olkowski and John Johnson. Howard Sweetman was stage manager. The program ended with everyone singing "Our Delaware."

U. Of D. Gets $16,000 From Evans Estate

The University of Delaware, receiving $16,000 outright for its engineering building and residual rights to most of the balance of the estate, is the principal beneficiary of the late Miss Lena Evans, of Newark. Miss Evans, who died Jan. 1, was a daughter of the late George G. Evans and a sister of the late Charles B. Evans, for whom the university's engineering building, Evans Hall, was named. Both men were officers of the Board of Trustees for a period totalling more than 60 years.

In two separate items of her will, Miss Evans bequeathed $1,000 and $15,000 to the university for use by the trustees in connection with Evans Hall or its equipment. The latter gift constitutes a memorial to the late Albert C. Reed, Miss Evans' nephew. Under the terms of the bequest a memorial plaque in his honor will be placed in Evans Hall. Mr. Reed was a Delaware alumnus, as was Miss Evans.

The will makes several bequests to churches and individuals, and the balance of the estate is to be held in trust by the Security Trust Company of Wilmington, as trustee during the lifetime of certain members of the family. After the death of these members of the family the fund passes to the university.

2 State Delegates To National 4-H Parley

Rhoda Draper, Middletown, Delaware, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Draper, and Anita Watson, of Seaford, Delaware, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Watson, have been selected as the two delegates to represent their State at the National Convention of New Homemakers of America, to be held at Jackson College, Jackson, Mississippi, July 2-14. Rhoda Draper is the president of the Delaware organization, and is now a student at the State College High School, while Anita Watson, a student of the Frederick Douglass School at Seaford, is the president-elect for 1949-50.

HOMEMAKER COURSE WILL OPEN ON WED.

Plan Annual Short Course At University

Three full days of college life are planned for the 150 Delaware homemakers who will attend the 11th annual Homemakers' Short Course at the University of Delaware, June 15-18.

According to Miss Gertrude Holloway, state home demonstration leader, the program will include daily classes, lectures, group singing, tours and entertainment. Women will live in dormitories, eat at the dining hall and attend meetings in campus buildings.

Among the special features will be an illustrated lecture on soil conservation, a play by the University Drama Group, a flower arrangement display, picture-framing demonstration, skills by the Philadelphia Dairy Council, an organ recital, a demonstration on salads and daily analysis of headline news.

Two trips have been scheduled—one to Longwood Gardens, on Thursday evening; the other to Governor Bacon Health Center, on Friday afternoon.

Thursday, June 16, has been designated as "Visitors' Day", announces Miss Holloway, who stresses that any woman, whether or not they are home demonstration club members are invited to take part in this day's program. Registration will be at 9:30 in Wolf Hall, at which time luncheon arrangements for visitors will be available.

Certificates will be awarded to women who have attended the Short Course for 10 years. Three homemakers are scholarship winners to this year's Short Course, as sweepstakes winners in the art and needlework department of the Kent-Sussex Fair last summer. They are Miss Gladys Jarrell, Felton; Mrs. Agnes Wooten, Seaford; and Mrs. Crerar Bennett, Milford.

Exhibit At Library Here Sketches U. Of D. History

An exhibit of documents which show a cross-section of the University of Delaware's history now is on display in the university's Memorial Library. It will remain in the southwest wing there for a few weeks, according to William D. Lewis, librarian, who arranged it.

About 40 papers, including receipts, reports, authorizations and other records from a project to enlarge Old College in the summer of 1885 are included.

The papers were just acquired by the Library from the estate of the late Miss Lena Evans of Newark. They were part of the records of her father, the late George G. Evans, who for many years was treasurer of Delaware College.

A small property, located near

Welsh Tract Church and containing 133 acres has been sold by the Newark Trust to Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Rittenhouse. The couple and their son, Ellis, expect to make their home there.

Workmen under William Little started digging the foundation for stone work for the new Community Bandstand on the Academy lawn this morning.

Ellis Davis and Joseph Sharpe went to Knoxentown, Del., for a spot of fishing this week but found there was already too much bait in the lake. There were plenty of large fish, but the schools of minnows were so plentiful that the big fellows spurned the bait.

While returning from the D. I. A. A. title game at Dover last Friday afternoon, three Newark drivers, Corbit Crompton, Ferdinand Finkernagle and Clyde Robinson were held up for speeding near Middletown and fined $25 each and costs. The three cars were filled with Newark rooters.

Miss Laura Colmery has been confined to her home for the past several days suffering from an attack of the grippe.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Winter Davis, Cooch's Bridge, entertained at dinner Friday in compliment to the Misses Dora and Gladys Wilcox who will leave Newark shortly for the summer. While the procession of Faculty and graduates of the university was forming on the campus Monday, an unidentified man appeared with a shot gun and fired at two stray dogs, killing one. The shots came perilously close to the crowd, but no one was injured.

Kase Aids Arrangements For Nat'l. Theatre Parley

Dr. C. Robert Kase, director of dramatics at the University of Delaware, has been appointed to a committee arranging a National Theatre Assembly, to be held at Washington, D. C., next January, it was announced today by Vinton Freedley, president of the American National Theatre and Academy.

Dr. Kase, a past president of the American Educational Theatre Association, is a member of the Board of Directors of ANTA. The organization, which operates under a charter from Congress, has called the national assembly.

According to ANTA, the assembly will seek an understanding and acceptance of the principles to be followed if ANTA is to serve the nation under the terms of its charter, and a legislative program will be drawn up.

Local Woman Winner In Home Planning Contest

Mrs. Jack H. Tweed, R. D. 2, Newark, was one of 143 winners in a nationwide contest on home planning, sponsored by Spiegel, Inc., Chicago, Ill., for its catalog customers. More than 20,000 entries were received, representing every state in the nation.

A total of $2,500 in Merchandise Certificates was awarded to the winners, who were asked to tell how they would furnish a "Dream Room" from the merchandise pictured in the Spiegel Catalog.

Judging was based on good taste in home furnishing color, style and design, and sound planning for family comfort.

While a majority of the "Dream Rooms" plans submitted were for living rooms, every type and kind of room was represented, including dining rooms, bedrooms, bathrooms, kitchens, basement recreation rooms, sewing rooms, nurseries, studios and hobby rooms.

The "Dream Rooms" were in all kinds of homes, from modern solar-heated bungalows and efficiency apartments to 100-year-old Colonial residences, trailers, log cabins and flats.

Letters To Editor

In explanation of my negative vote on the third reading of the zoning ordinance, I would like to state my position in regards to the matter. Newark needs a zoning ordinance, but I can not see it in its present form.

Inasmuch as the old Council passed the first two readings, and inasmuch as I do not agree with the ordinance in its entirety, I could not vote for it.

This zoning ordinance restricts business to a very small section of town, and has no provisions for business expansion. Newark business certainly needs room to expand. At the present time most of the land between South College Avenue and the Pomeroy railroad tracks has been bought up, and is very closely controlled. I want to see Newark be progressive, and with the restrictions placed on business expansion that have been, I don't think it is a step in the right direction.

Trash Collection Next Wednesday

Trash collections are now being conducted the first and third Wednesday of every month, according to Town Supervisor Arthur Hauber, who requests that residents have their waste in containers and piled to facilitate the work of municipal crews.

The next collection will be June 15, with the work continuing through Thursday and Friday if necessary.

Council has a letter from W. D. Stonecipher suggesting that the town be divided into zones for trash collection in order that waste pile will not be left on the sidewalks over several days when the trucks are unable to pick it up on the day appointed.

Mr. Hauber said this would cut down the efficiency of his work considerably. The crews, he said, endeavor to cover as much territory as possible in one day and would be hampered if they were confined to zones.

Adventure, Big Game Hunter To Talk Here

Capt. Dod Orsborne

Explorations on land and sea, adventures in two wars, and big-game hunting will be recounted by Capt. Dod Orsborne Thursday night, June 16, at Mitchell Hall, University of Delaware.

His talk, arranged as one of an entertainment series for U. of D. Summer Session students, will be open to the public without charge, according to J. Robert King, recreation director. The time will be 8:15 p. m.

At 14, Captain Orsborne ran away from his home in Scottish Highlands, and entered the navy. At 18, he was first mate of a whaling ship in the Arctic, and at 21 he was the youngest sea captain in the British merchant fleet. Exploring in South America, Africa and India, he had escapes from tigers, panthers and other big game. Upon returning to the British Isles, he helped Scotland Yard uncover a drug smuggling ring. During the wars in Ethiopia and Spain, his work as a naval intelligence officer while disguised as fishing boat skipper outwitted the Italian and Spanish fleets.

As a Comandante beachmaster, he was the first man ashore and the last to leave, leading raids on Dieppe and on beaches in Norway and Normandy. He also put in time as a paratrooper; after D-Day in Europe he rejoined Mountbatten in Burma, was captured by the Japs and escaped only two days before the war's end. Invalided by Jap bullets, he started on a trip of exploration in a small ship, was wrecked in a hurricane, and drifted 21 days before being saved.

FACULTY MEMBERS PLAN VACATION WITH STUDY

Nine University of Delaware faculty members will originate or continue research in their special fields this summer with the assistance of the university's committee on research. The work will take three of the researchers out of the continental United States.

The fields of physics, biology, geography, literature, history, political science and philosophy are covered by the fellowship grants, which are being made for the second year, according to Dr. Allan P. Colburn, chairman of the committee, who said that the grants, while small, would enable the researchers to carry on work which otherwise probably would be impossible.

Dr. Felix E. Oppenheim, of the Political Science Department, will study Belgian political parties of the present day. He started the study on a trip to Belgium, his native country, last summer. He will spend most of the summer in that country. "An accurate knowledge of public opinion in Western Europe is indispensable in order to prevent communism, and hence Soviet Russia, from expanding into this area," commented Dr. Oppenheim. "Belgium is for more than one reason the ideal vantage point for studying the most representative ideologies of post-war Europe."

Dr. Bernard Phillips, associate professor of philosophy, will attend the East-West Philosophy's Conference at the University of Hawaii in June and July, and also will make a study of oriental notions of health and disease in connection with his general research in the philosophy of medicine. Mrs. Phillips accompanied her husband to Hawaii while their two children, Charlotte and Bonnie, will spend the summer in Minnesota.

Miss Emma C. Ehlers, assistant professor in geography, will make a field study of the Matanuska Valley and the city of Fairbanks, both in Alaska. The geographical part of her study will deal primarily with land use in town and rural areas, but she also will consider climate and geology affecting the type of occupants, both present and potential.

In physics, aid will be given to the research project of Dr. Harold Feeny, concerning beta rays, and a project of Dr. J. Mayo Greenberg, who will study scattering losses in the synchrotron, and related topics. They will work in the university's physics laboratories. Dr. Arnold M. Clark of the Department of Biological Sciences will continue his work at the Marine Biological Laboratory, Woods Hole, Mass., on gene action in haploids and diploids of Habrobracon, a parasitic wasp.

In the field of literature, Dr. Ned B.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

"Meat of the Week" Provides Menu Variety

One way to be sure you know a variety of foods is to try at least one new food each week. This is especially true of meat cuts. One new meat cut a week will not only provide you with menu variety but will increase your repertoire of foods as well.

This week try a beef arm steak, cut from the arm side of the chuck, suggests Reba Staggs, home economist. Braise it with water flavored with vinegar for an unusual effect.

Next week you might like to try a smoked boneless shoulder of pork. Roast it for a dinner meal, and slice the remainder to pan-fry for breakfast.

On following weeks try such cuts as shoulder lamb chops, butterfly ham slices, veal round steak, lamb breast for stuffing, and others. All are comparatively unfamiliar but provide many good meals.

Newark High School

Final Issue of Buzz Arrives

Last Tuesday, May 31, the last issue of the Yellow Jacket Buzz came out. The Buzz has been prepared in an altogether different manner this year. It has been much larger and has several new columns written by students of the staff. The Buzz came out eight times this year. Our Journalism Class has contributed articles to assist the Buzz staff. Miss Thoroughgood and the students on the Buzz staff have spent a great deal of time preparing a paper that all the students want to read and enjoy.

Senior Song Chosen

The words and tune for the Senior Class song were chosen by the song committee. Members of the committee are as follows: Esther Fouracre, Dick Wollaston, Donald Rumer, Thomas Sheaffer, Arthur VandePoole, Jane Pickett, Aileen Ritchie.

The song will be sung by the class at the ninth grade promotion exercises and commencement on June 10.

The tune of the song is "I'll See You Again" and the words are as follows:

49 is here, we are leaving Newark
High this year
Games, teachers, classes we'll miss
Nothing we do will be like this was,
Senior days are done—the play, the trip.

The prom was fun,
They were over much too fast,
In our hearts they'll always last,
Seems a shame it all is past, Goodbye.

When we are far away, Old memories
Will come again
It matters not where we go—Cause
What has been is past forgetting.

Old friends that we had, and things
They did that made us glad.
As the years go swiftly by, we'll
Remember

Of Newark High.
In our hearts this song will lie, Goodbye.

Aileen Ritchie.

Journalism Students Go On Vacation

With this issue of the Post, the Journalism students of Newark High School who have been responsible for this column will go on vacation. They are looking forward to a lazy and happy vacation this summer. They have enjoyed the opportunity to relate news of their school and schoolmates through this column. Next year a new group in journalism hope to carry on with the continued helpful cooperation of the Editor of the Post. So—they say, "Happy Summer" and look for Yellowjacket Highlights in September.

Dave Douglas To Seek Coveted National Open Title Saturday

Dave here displays some of the form he hopes will carry him to the crown at Chicago.

The Lanky Linksman From West Park Place Promises To Go All-Out Against Sam Snead In Effort To Win His First Tourney Since Texas Open

By BILL ANDERSON

This week-end at the Medinah Country Club in Chicago, Dave Douglas, lanky golf pro from West Park Place, will attempt to win the coveted National Open golf crown.

The lean Douglas will be seeking his first tournament victory since he won the Texas Open in early March. Although he hasn't won any major tournaments since he won the Texas Open, he has finished in the money in a few others. He also shared a first-place tie in a pro-amateur event at the Seminole C. C. in Florida.

Douglas, now ranking 13th in the money winners for the year, is about due to win another tournament. He dropped out after the second round of the $15,000 Philadelphia Inquirer Charities Tourney early in May and was defeated in the third round of the P. G. A. championships a week later.

In the P. G. A. tournament, the walking golf stick was defeated by Sam Snead, who went on to win the title. Douglas had had Snead 2 down at the end of 28 holes, but finally succumbed on the 36th and final hole.

The thin man of the fairways promises that he will certainly be ahead of Snead when the Open is over this Saturday.

Douglas tied the qualifiers in this district with a score of 72-68-140. In doing so he set the course record for the back nine at the Springhaven Country Club with a brilliant 31. He also holds the course record at the Newark C. C. with an 8 under par 63.

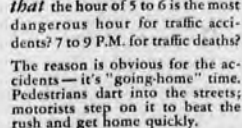

Burk To Edit 'Cauldron'

Robert Burk, of Beaver Valley Road, near Wilmington, has been named editor of "The Cauldron," the University of Delaware's student literary magazine. A varsity football player, he served as vice-president this year of the Augustan Society, which publishes "The Cauldron," and next year will be its president. He is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, and is an English major. Burk is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Burk.

The average American uses about six pounds of salt a year to season food. Salt is found in 19 states, and produced in commercial quantities in 13, according to the United States Bureau of Mines.

Few people realize that the raw materials for even such a compact item as an Eveready battery, go through rigid inspection processes and are subjected to as many as 63 tests.

DO YOU KNOW—that the hour of 5 to 6 is the most dangerous hour for traffic accidents? 7 to 9 P.M. for traffic deaths?

The reason is obvious for the accidents—it's "going-home" time. Pedestrians dart into the streets; motorists step on it to beat the rush and get home quickly.

From 7 to 9, fatigue plus early darkness is the answer with slower reactions and poorer vision.

Take it easy at all times—a few extra minutes may save a life—yours!

NHS Nine Closes Season With Shutout Win Over Mt. Pleasant; 5th In Row

Newark High's baseball team wound up its season with a record of eight victories against six defeats, when it downed Mount Pleasant here last Friday by a 3-0 score.

It was the fifth straight triumph for the Jackets. Coach Frank Mercer's charges hit their stride with the second A. I. DuPont game, going on to trounce Conrad, Salesianum, Brown and Mount Pleasant.

Against the latter, Newark pushed across its entire three runs in the first inning and coasted to victory on Porter's 3-hit pitching. The Jackets pounded out six hits, with Jim Knotts getting three.

Pythians And Jays Snatch Early Lead In Softball League

The community softball league got off to a flying start last week with the Knights of Pythias and the Blue Jays moving into an early lead in the standings, while the Newark AA held a close third.

In last Wednesday's doubleheader, the Knights downed the Indians, 9-7, while the Blue Jays swamped the Red Men, 15-1. On Thursday, Chrysler went down before the Spiders, 9-3, and the Newark AA routed the VFW, 14-4. The Knights gained their second victory this Monday by overwhelming the Waves Tribe, 27-5. The same evening the Blue Jays and Spiders came to grips in the hottest game of the week, the Jays winning out in extra innings, 13-10.

The Spiders are protesting this one, claiming that the game should have been called due to darkness. But Harry Rawstrom, league director, said such decisions are up to the umpire, and he indicated the protest will not be allowed.

The Spiders, after an uphill battle, knotted the count at 5-all at the end of the regulation seven innings. In a wild extra session, both teams pushed across five more runs. In the ninth, the Blue Jays came through with three and held the Spiders scoreless.

Next Week's Schedule

June 13—Blue Jays vs. VFW, High School Field, Chrysler vs. Indians, Legion Field.

June 15—VFW vs. Spiders, High School, Wawa Tribe vs. Newark A. A., Legion Field.

June 16—Indians vs. Blue Jays, High School, Knights vs. Chrysler, Legion Field.

The Newark AA trounced Toughkenamon, 13-7, on Sunday with Warren Ewing coasting to his third straight victory triumph, Newark's second this year over the Toughies, kept locals among the leaders in the Pen-Mar League.

This Sunday the club returns to the Continental Field to clash with Andrews Bridge, also a previous victim. The game will start at 2:30 p. m. with Fuzzy McCormick and Dick Flavin on the mound for Newark, while Pierce, formerly the property of the Boston Braves, will probably be on the mound for the Bridge.

Kent-Cecil Horse Show Set For June 26

Sunday, June 26, is the date set for the fifth annual Kent-Cecil Horse Show to be held one mile east of Cecilton, Maryland, and route 282 with nineteen classes for Hunters, Jumpers, Ponies, Breeding and Horsemanship running from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. on into the afternoon. Also included on the program are the Bohemia Hunt Challenge Trophy and three races.

The show is a member of the Association of Maryland Horse Shows and is fully accredited. It is the first show to be so recognized on the northern Eastern Shore of Maryland. Every effort is being made by Show Chairman Fred Berg, and his co-workers to incorporate as much spectator interest as is possible without sacrificing the regular show classes.

Mr. Henry E. Dentry, President of the Association of Maryland Horse Shows and Mr. W. J. Appel are to be judges of the show, which is being given for the benefit of the Cecilton Fire Company. Refreshments and soft drinks will be on hand at the grounds, and water and limited stabling will be provided for horses. General admission is 75 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. Ring-side parking is two dollars, but free parking is available elsewhere on the show grounds.

UNIVERSITY EXPECTS 900 TO REGISTER

About 900 persons are expected to register next Monday for the first session of the University of Delaware's summer session, which for the fourth consecutive year will be operated in the dormitories to facilitate speed-up of the semester.

The final check-up on the new Northside Sewer system has been completed by the Construction Corporation of Pennsylvania, Mr. Hauber said, and the contract is now 100 per cent complete.

Eleven street light poles have been erected in Read Village, and the lamps will be installed as soon as the required equipment arrives.

Preliminary surveys of Bassett Place in the Village have also been completed in the project to eliminate stagnant pools and faulty storm drainage there.

Complaints from property owners regarding an open sewer from College Avenue to East Cleveland Avenue back of Wilbur Street have also been checked. The sewer, Mr. Hauber reports, is an underground pipe for considerable distance then entering an open ditch before emptying into White Clay Creek.

He recommended extension of the pipe and clearing of the ditch and has arranged for E. S. Buddie, member of the local health board, to run an analysis of the water.

Reports of contamination of the small stream running along the east side of the Sewage Disposal Plant have also been checked and Mr. Buddie has requested to run an analysis of the free running water.

Mr. Hauber's report also listed extensive repairs and maintenance to streets, a part of which included patching of East and West Main Street, South College Avenue, Chapel Street, Kells Avenue and repairing of defective paving on East Main and New London Road.

Routine work was carried out in the light and power departments, covering such jobs as replacing transformer pots, crossarms, brackets throughout the town.

Temporary removal of lines to facilitate moving of Clifton Knott's house; renewing old circuits and replacing meters.

that during the First World War, (1914-18), the subject was again brought to light, however, there was no money available at that time for further study of the subject or for large scale use of the knowledge. During the conscription of 1938, it was again noted that the number of draftees rejected because of defective teeth was very large, in fact so large that the U. S. Government appropriated money to study the effects of fluorides upon the teeth. The money thus appropriated was used very largely in two ways: (1) a study of the relocated Japanese-Americans and (2) the very closely controlled test at Newburgh, New York.

"During the Second World War, the Japanese-Americans were moved from the coastal areas to the inland. During this relocation by the U. S. Government, it so happened that in some cases people were moved from a location where the drinking water did not contain fluorides to a location where natural fluorides were in the water. Very careful records were made of the condition of the teeth and it was found in each instance that there was a definite reduction in the number of cavities in the children's teeth. The most marked improvement was among those whose first and second teeth were just coming through the gums. The 8 to 10 year old children showed high improvement and the 10-14 year old children showed some improvement, but not as much as the other group. For the purpose of a test, one of the groups was again relocated to a location where fluorides were not present in the water and after a sufficient time had elapsed it was noticed that the number of dental cavities again increased.

"Since the war, a few of the more progressive communities have adopted the plan of fluorinating the drinking water as a public health measure. As mentioned in our letter of May 20, 1949, in the state of Wisconsin, it is considered that water not containing fluorides is not suitable for children to drink."

Fluorine Plan

that during the First World War, (1914-18), the subject was again brought to light, however, there was no money available at that time for further study of the subject or for large scale use of the knowledge. During the conscription of 1938, it was again noted that the number of draftees rejected because of defective teeth was very large, in fact so large that the U. S. Government appropriated money to study the effects of fluorides upon the teeth. The money thus appropriated was used very largely in two ways: (1) a study of the relocated Japanese-Americans and (2) the very closely controlled test at Newburgh, New York.

"During the Second World War, the Japanese-Americans were moved from the coastal areas to the inland. During this relocation by the U. S. Government, it so happened that in some cases people were moved from a location where the drinking water did not contain fluorides to a location where natural fluorides were in the water. Very careful records were made of the condition of the teeth and it was found in each instance that there was a definite reduction in the number of cavities in the children's teeth. The most marked improvement was among those whose first and second teeth were just coming through the gums. The 8 to 10 year old children showed high improvement and the 10-14 year old children showed some improvement, but not as much as the other group. For the purpose of a test, one of the groups was again relocated to a location where fluorides were not present in the water and after a sufficient time had elapsed it was noticed that the number of dental cavities again increased.

"Since the war, a few of the more progressive communities have adopted the plan of fluorinating the drinking water as a public health measure. As mentioned in our letter of May 20, 1949, in the state of Wisconsin, it is considered that water not containing fluorides is not suitable for children to drink."

Little Courtesies

give life a big "lift"

On party-line telephones, too, it pays to take the lead in courtesy. Your party-line neighbors appreciate it... and they'll return your favors in kind!

FOR EXAMPLE: it's courteous to hang up gently when you find the line in use, and give the other person a few minutes to finish his call before trying again. It's courteous, too, when you are talking on the line and realize your neighbor is waiting to make a call, to free the line reasonably soon.

These two little courtesies pay big dividends.

Announce Winner Of VFW Essay Contest

Miss Marilyn Murray, a junior at the Newark High School, has been declared the winner of the essay contest sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post, No. 475. The theme of the contest was "Americanism," and Miss Murray received $15 in cash.

The second place prize of $10 went to Miss Mary Italiano, also a Newark junior.

The winning essays are now in the hands of the State Department of the Auxiliary to be judged in competition with other state entries. The results will be declared at the state encampment later this month.

Mrs. Elsie Reed has been appointed delegate and Mrs. Doris Robinson alternate from the local unit to the encampment to be held June 10-12 at Rehoboth Beach. Other members who will attend are: Mrs. Beatrice Strickland and Mrs. Agnes Crossan.

She said: "I wish to thank the American Legion Auxiliary and the members of the Navy Mothers Club who participated in preparing and serving luncheon to the bands and units from out of town who participated in the Memorial Day parade."

VFW Encampment Opens At Rehoboth Tomorrow

The Department of Delaware, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold its nineteenth annual encampment in Rehoboth Beach, on Friday and Saturday, June 10 and 11, with approximately 300 official delegates expected to be present from both the men's and ladies' organizations, representing 32 posts and 27 auxiliaries.

Charter Bills Die In Dover Committee

Controversial Measures Never Introduced On Floor; Two Special Bills Passed

Both Newark's original charter bill and the substitute measure introduced later died in committee when the General Assembly adjourned for another two years last week-end.

Both bills still remained in the Senate Committee on Municipal Corporations to which they were submitted immediately after their introduction in the Senate by Senator George W. Rhodes.

Both bills were of a controversial nature, and each received a hearing before the committee, when opposing local factions went to Dover to place their arguments before the legislators.

The two bills are now automatically dead and may be either junked or reintroduced at the next session of the General Assembly in 1951. Newark's two special bills, one raising the tax limit from $20,000 to $50,000 and the other granting Council authority to raise up to $50,000 for current expenses, were passed and signed by Gov. Elbert N. Carvel.
