CARNIVAL COMMITTEE

At a meeting held last week in the Hose House, the following committee was named to plan and supervise the carnival of 1914: E. C. Wilson, Joseph H. Hossinger, Daniel Thompson, Elmer Ellison, F. M. Lutton, Harry Hill, Wilmer Hill, Guy Gray and Ernest Frazer. A meeting of the ladies of the town will be held at an early date, when committees will be appointed.

Retiring Superintendent Receives Gift Of Cane

The Cobweb Social, held last Friday evening in the Sunday School room of the Presbyterian church was a gala evening for the younger members of the school. Previous to the untangling of the cobweb, Dr. Rowan presented on behalf of the officers and teachers, a handsome gold-headed cane to N. M. Motherall, the retiring superintendent of the school, who accepted the gift with a few appropriate remarks. Mr. Motherall was for twenty-five years superintendent of the school. The metal on the cane is handsomely carved and engraved with the following inscription:

1889-1914
N. M. Motherall
Superintendent Sabbath School
First Presbyterian Church
Newark, Delaware

Two large cobwebs of wrapping cord had been skillfully woven into a perfect maze, extending the length of the room. Children were given ends of the string and had much sport in unwinding the tangle, in an effort to reach the favor at the other end of the line.

Musical selections by Misses Wilson and Campbell and light refreshments added to the pleasure of the evening.

MYSTERY OF BANK ROBBERY SOLVED

Prisoner At Atlanta Relates Experience

A prisoner serving a 14 months' sentence in the Federal prison at Atlanta, one day last week, in conversation with Postal Inspector Plummer, revealed the fact that he was responsible for the attempted bank robbery at the Farmers' Trust Co., Newark, about a year ago. The prisoner, whose name is Fulton, is known among his pals as "Lanky Lank," and Mr. Plummer says he is a highly educated man.

Fulton was arrested in Wilmington on suspicion of having been concerned in burglaries, and was carrying with him a considerable quantity of nitro-glycerine, which is contrary to law. No evidence was secured at the time, in relation to burglaries, but he was indicted for carrying the dynamite and sentenced to 14 months' imprisonment.

Gilbert, at Holy Trinity Church, West Chester, Pa., on April 26, 1914. Mr. Chillas has been for some time in the employ of the Bell Telephone Company. His headquarters are at West Grove, Pa.

Fire At Bear Station

Fire of unknown origin early on Wednesday morning destroyed the cannery of Joseph T. Gough at Bear Station. Neighbors formed a bucket brigade and managed to save adjoining buildings. The loss amounted to several thousand dollars with partial insurance.

The W. C. T. U. will meet this coming Thursday afternoon at two o'clock at the home of Mrs. William Telfer, College Farm.

URGE PAYMENT ON SEWER

New Century Club No Longer Responsible For Sprinkler

Town Council at its meeting Monday night decided to send copies of the following notice to all property owners who have not paid their sewer assessment or arranged for paying the same in five annual installments:

"Having failed to pay the sewer assessment against your property, or to notify the Sewer Commission of your intention to pay the same in five equal, annual installments, and to pay the first installment thereof within thirty days from the time said assessments were certified to the Council of the Council of Newark, I am directed, by resolution of said Council, to notify you that, unless you pay said assessment in full or pay the first installment thereof and give proper notice of your intention to avail yourself of the privilege of paying the balance in annual installments, promptly after receiving this notice, it will be compelled by the requirements of the Act of the Legislature, authorizing the construction of the sewer system in the Town of Newark, to proceed to collect the whole amount assessed, together with six per cent thereon from the date the same was certified to Council, as aforesaid, and all fees and costs of collection. Yours very truly,

Secretary of Council
To date over $36,000 of the Sewer assessment has been paid.

Under an ordinance that was given its third and final reading and passed by Town Council Monday night all persons keeping cows or horses within the town limits will be required to have the manure removed at least once every 10 days from May 1 to October 1. This action was suggested by the New Century Club some weeks ago as a means of getting rid of many flies. It also provides for a fine for violations of the provisions of the ordinance.

A communication was received from the New Century Club to the effect that owing to the trouble that had been experienced in past years in collecting money with which to operate the street sprinkler it had been decided by the organization to not run the sprinkler this summer. The communication, however, stated that the club would allow Council to use the sprinkler if it so desired. No action was taken on the matter.

The matter of awarding the contract for rebuilding Main street was postponed for two more weeks. This action was necessary because of the slow progress that is being made in recaulking the water mains.

Frank M. Lutton, was appointed by Council an Inspector for the town in connection with the recaulking of the mains, at $2 a day.

The agreement between Council, the Diamond State Telephone Co. and the Western Union Telegraph Co., whereby the three can use the same line of poles for their wires on Main street above the Baltimore and Ohio railroad tracks, was entered into by the different parties concerned. Under this agreement some of the poles now standing in that part of the town will probably be removed.

Building And Loan Doing Big Business

Big Business is still the slogan in Newark. The local Building and Loan Association held its regular monthly meeting last night. Loans were made to the amount of $19,000. At the last meeting $7,000 loans were made.

By the way, we must all remember that the record, for business of Loan Association, is held in Newark. Its report for safe financing can't be beat in the country.

This sounds like a boost. It is. But it's a fact, too.

Distinguished Guest In Wilmington

Cardinal Gibbons, Bishops Keiley and Monaghan and other Catholic dignitaries attended the dedication ceremonies at the new St. Paul's Church, at Fourth and Jackson streets, Wilmington, on Sunday. The Cardinal sailed on Monday from New York en route for Rome to pay a visit to and confer with the Pope.

PROPOSED CHANGES IN POST OFFICE

United States Post Office Inspector Plummer was in town last week making arrangements for re-leasing quarters for Post Office. The lease on the present quarters has expired.

Mr. Plummer desires to give Newark better accommodations and to that end has under consideration larger quarters in the Opera House Building, probably the old quarters of the Newark Trust and Safe Deposit Company. A government official was here on Saturday to estimate on the cost of new and larger equipment of boxes. The business of the office has so increased during the past few years, that larger quarters are necessary.

Mr. Plummer talked with several citizens, asking their advice on the proposed changes. If his recommendations are approved by the postal authorities, the office will be open during holidays for the accommodation of those holding boxes. On being asked if these innovations would in any way embarrass the proposed new Post Office Building, Mr. Plummer was positive in his statement. These improvements, he said, had nothing whatever to do with the new building. That it was only an attempt to better the service. Postmaster Brown and his assistants are very much handicapped for room.

A decision will probably be rendered in a few days. Nothing definite could be learned this morning.

RECAULKING MAIN PROVES TEDIOUS

The work of recaulking the water main is proving very tedious. Much time was lost last week in an attempt to use "leadite" in joining the pipes, instead of lead. "Leadite" is a preparation used in all government work, which gets stronger the longer it stands.

Contractor Jacobs has had much experience with the preparation as applied to new pipes, and had foreseen no difficulty in this instance. Although the company sent their experts to suggest means of overcoming the trouble, they found it impossible to discover the condition which caused their product to be so unsatisfactory when applied to old pipes and it has been deemed advisable to substitute lead for the work.

The work has progressed so slowly, owing to these experiments, that a surface pipe has been laid, to carry water to the houses between Depot Road and the B. & O. railroad.

The large digging machine is now in operation along the line, excavating to a depth of four feet. Water will not be turned off from the center of town for a number of days.

Transfer Of Property

The Newark Trust Company sold this week, the Ernest Kimball house on Main street, just west of Corbett to Mrs. Ruth N. Rhodes. Consideration withheld.

In going through a bundle of old papers Mr. Cooch found the following program which to many of our readers will stir a flood of memories and suggest many interesting reminiscences.

The entertainment was one of the regular literary programs of the school, which at that time was being ably conducted by Mr. J. W. Weston, one of the ablest teachers of his day. The Academy was closely identified with the college, the trustees having a few years previous, conveyed by a deed, the buildings and grounds, to the trustees of the college. The principal of the academy was admitted to be a member of the college faculty. The school was a large and excellent one.

An item on the program of special interest is the name of "George A. Townsend, Newark," the poet widely known as "Gath" who died about a month ago. At the time of the entertainment the father of the boy was pastor of the Newark M. E. Church, and young Alfred a pupil in the Newark Academy.

Mr. Cooch was able to review the careers of many of his old schoolmates. From his comments we quote the following: Joseph T. Griffith was an uncle of William Griffith and Mrs. Agnes Henry, and lived for years on the farm south of town now owned by A. G. Stroud. John S. Hoeffeker is known to this community as the father of Robert Hoeffeker, Delaware College alumnus, and present editor of the Smyrna Times. Jos. W. Cooch, is Mr. Wilkins Cooch himself; Jas. B. Kerr, a brother of George G. Kerr and George P. Miller the father of J. B. Miller. John L. Evans, now deceased, was a brother of Misses Emma, Sue and Agnes Evans. For many years Mr. Evans lived in Buffalo. Washington E. Reynolds, until the time of his death, served as a trustee of Delaware College. He was a resident of Middletown. George W. Chamberlain, who died a number of years ago, was a brother of Mrs. George Kerr, and spent many years of his life as a missionary in Brazil. Adam E. King of Delaware City, at the outbreak of the Civil War, was an earnest advocate of peace, and made stirring addresses arguing for conciliation. After the policy of his country had become sharply defined, however, he entered the Union army, finally becoming a brigadier-general. Following the war he was prominent in the public life of Maryland. The late James Hossinger, father of Mayor J. H. Hossinger, is well remembered in Newark. The last name, evidently a misprint, should be Graham Blandly. Mr. Blandly became a banker in Philadelphia. He owned a farm in New Castle County, which he sold to the Trustees of the Poor, the present site of the county almshouse, at Farnhurst Delaware.

MUSIC AND THE NEW COLLEGE

Subjects Of Discussion At Last Community Meeting

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend the Community Meeting to be held in the High School building on next Monday evening. The program arranged includes a short talk on the new Women's College, by Miss Winifred Robinson, Dean of the institution, and a musical hour by Mrs. George H. Robinson of Claymont, Delaware. Mrs. Robinson will play selections which illustrate the simple and beautiful melody to be found in good music, giving the story and local color that led to the composition. The musician's program is planned to appeal to both men and women. A treat is assured to the music-lovers of the community.

All members of the Association are urged to be present as the public meeting will be followed by a short business meeting.

Distinguished Speaker At Old Drawyers

Hon. John Bassett Moore of New York, a distinguished son of Delaware, will be the chief orator at the anniversary meeting of the Friends of Old Drawyers, at Old Drawyers' Church, near Odessa on Sunday, June 7. Rev. Charles L. Candee, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church, Wilmington, will preach in the afternoon. Mr. Moore will be entertained on that occasion, by Lieutenant-Governor Colon Ferguson of Blackbird, who is an uncle.

VESTRYMEN ELECTED AT ST. THOMAS'

Rector To Be Named At An Early Date

Harter, junior warden; David C. Rose, Harlow H. Curtis, D. Lee Rose, Dr. Arthur S. Houchin, Levi K. Bowen, W. M. Coverdale and W. W. Shelton. All of them were re-elected with the exception of Mr. Shelton, who succeeds Dr. A. Lee Porter, who has removed from Newark.

After the congregational meeting the vestry met and organized. Dr. Harter was elected treasurer and Harlow H. Curtis, secretary. Alfred A. Curtis and Dr. Harter were elected delegates and Mr. Rose and Harlow H. Curtis, alternates, to the Diocesan Convention which meets in Immanuel Church, New Castle, next Wednesday.

A resolution of thanks to Rev. F. S. DeVona, for the successful mission conducted at the church last week was adopted at the congregational meeting. Mr. DeVona, who left on Monday for Trenton, N. J., made a host of friends while in Newark and aroused interest among the parishioners of St. Thomas'. It was announced that 649 persons attended the mission during the week.

Rev. T. H. Harris of Littleton, New Hampshire, will officiate at the services in St. Thomas' Church next Sunday, Bishop Frederick Kinsman, having arranged for him to occupy the pulpit on that day. It is likely that the vestry will reach some decision relative to a rector to succeed Rev. Hamilton B. Phelps within the next few weeks.

Mr. Phelps, who is now rector of Trinity Episcopal Church at Tom-Church, Tomaston, Conn.; on "The Newark today. Mr. Phelps is much pleased with his new parish, which is considerably larger than St. Thomas. He was busy last evening and today calling on friends here.

TEMPTING OFFER FROM RUSSIA

Tyson Horse Shipped To St. Petersburg

Herman R. Tyson last week sold the bay stallion, Captain George, owned by Magistrate William J. Harris of West Philadelphia, to Fasig-Tipton & Co. for a big price. Captain George was shipped to New York on Monday, from which port he sailed for St. Petersburg. More than a score of the fastest stoniest and best stallions in the country have been purchased within the last few months and shipped to the land of the Czar. Wonder has been created in sporting circles by an order to Fasig-Tipton Co. of New York, for 22 more, one of which will be Captain George, lately in training at Newark. The horse is a bay stallion, eight years old, record 2.09 1-4 by Admiral Dewey, 2.04 3-4, dam Miss Jefferson, by Jefferson, formerly the property of Charles McDermott deceased.

Mr. Tyson in connection with the sale has received an offer of $5000 a year, to go to Russia to train trotters, he also to receive 10 per cent of the winnings of his stable. Although the inducements are extremely tempting, Mr. Tyson has a string of horses which he believes will mean money on American tracks this year. His stable includes such horses as Kidderminster, Bean Ashton, Bertha Fogg, Aero, Prince Helice, Charley K. Harry Thaw, Miller Boy, John W. and others.

COMMUNITY SPIRIT

The Community Meetings held at the High School during the past winter have been a success—surpassing all expectations. The announcement of the last of the series no doubt, will be received with the same enthusiasm as heretofore. In making the public school the social and civic center of the community the Alumni Association have acted only in the spirit of the times. The idea is just beginning to claim the merited attention of Social Center workers throughout the country. Now that Miss Wilson, daughter of President Wilson, has accepted the editorship of a national magazine to further the idea, the schoolhouse promises to play even a larger part in Community and State affairs.

Local experience during the past winter has just suggested the wonderful possibilities of such meetings. At the next meeting Dean Robinson of the Women's College will be present and talk on the new college work. While she already has many friends here, she has not as yet been presented to an eager and interested public. The same is true of Mrs. G. H. Robinson who will show, in a charming way, that good music and heavy music, to the untrained ear, need by no means be synonymous terms.

We believe we voice the general opinion in commending the work of the season. Our regret is that the meetings are not to continue during the summer months. Other organizations may complete the annual programs but a Social Center work is as necessary in summer as in winter. While the meetings need not be of serious nature, the trend of the whole idea suggests providing for entertainment and healthful recreation.

Just as a suggestion,—There are concerts, games, singing, speaking, band concerts,—all these sound interesting. Observance of Decoration Day, Flag Day, offer suggestions. Commencement Day for Alumni in open air.

The Community Spirit engendered here would touch every organization and institution in town. To insure its success it must be remembered it's American. Wealth, social position, or profession have naught to do for requirements for admission. Society is naturally divided in sets and cuts. Position in life and point of view make it so and it is well.

But the Community Spirit is good too. To separate ourselves from our set for the time being, and get the community view means—a better town. Co-operation is the big word today and nothing so engenders the spirit as the Community Meeting.

Rector Celebrates Fiftieth Anniversary Of Ordination

A number of Delaware clergymen attended the services at Trinity church, Elkton, yesterday in connection with the fiftieth anniversary of the ordination to the Diaconate of Rev. William Schouler, rector of the Church. The services began with the celebration of morning prayer and holy communion. The sermon was preached by Rev. Hamilton B. Phelps, formerly rector of St. Thomas' Church, Newark, and now rector of Trinity church, Tomaston, Conn., on "The Ideals of the Christian Ministry."

Holy Communion was celebrated by Rt. Rev. William F. Adams, D. D., Bishop of Easton. The services were followed by a reception and luncheon in the parish house to the clergy and visiting friends. After the luncheon Rev. Frederick M. Kirkus of Trinity Church, Wilmington, chairman of the Clerical Brotherhood of Delaware, presented Mr. Schouler with a gold cross as a token of their affection and esteem, he having been a member of the brotherhood since its organization 20 years ago.

Addresses of congratulation were also made by Bishop Adams, Rev. Giles B. Cook, of Virginia, formerly rector of the Episcopal Church at North East, and Archdeacon F. W. Neve of Virginia. Hon. Henry Constable, on behalf of the parishioners, presented Mr. Schouler with a purse of gold. In making the gift Mr. Constable spoke of the love the members of the parish have for their rector and of their appreciation of the work that he has done during his 34 years of rectorship at Trinity Church.

Among the clergymen present were: Bishop Adams, Archdeacon Neve, Rev. Hamilton B. Phelps of Tomaston, Conn., Rev. Frederick M. Kirkus, Rev. William H. Laird, Rev. Dr. Alban Riehey, Rev. A. E. Clattenburg, and Rev. R. T. Wolven of Wilmington; Rev. P. L. Donaghay of Middletown; Rev. Mr. Parkman of Lewes; Rev. J. E. Parks of Stanton; and Rev. Mr. Eaton of North East.

Site For Building For Historical Society

The Historical Society of Delaware, at a special meeting held on Monday evening, decided to purchase a lot on Delaware avenue, Wilmington, adjoining the New Century Club, as a site for a new building. A committee will be formed to decide upon architectural plans for the new structure. The Society has been considering such action for a long time. After hearing the report of the committee appointed as a building commission the members decided it was time for active measures to be taken.

TEAM STOLEN ON MAIN STREET

Samuel Costen, colored man living near Ogletown, had his horse stolen on Saturday evening, while he was making some purchases in a grocery store in Newark. The horse was hitched along the street, from which place it was taken by a party of colored folks.—Joseph A. Scott, Mary E. Scott and Mary Thomas. The "borrowers" drove the horse with might and main, to their home at Choate Post Office, when the animal was turned loose. Its owner found it on the home premises early Sunday morning.

The case was tried before Magistrate Lovett and the defendants in default of $300 bail were sent to the Workhouse, to await their trial at the County Court House today.

Co-operative Work Of Horticultural Department

The Horticultural Department of Delaware College for the past few years has been testing varieties of Irish potatoes, the work being carried on through co-operation with growers in some of the potato growing sections of Delaware. About eighty varieties of early and late potatoes are being tested and an account of the total and merchantable yields per acre is kept from year to year. As yield alone does not decide the value of a variety, such factors as size, quality, susceptibility to disease, adaptability to soil, uniformity of tubers, consistency of yield, and times of ripening will be taken into consideration. As seasons will affect the above factors, conclusions are not drawn from the results of any one year's work but from data covering a number of years. Drouths during the later part of the summer make the growing of late potatoes an uncertain undertaking in Delaware and most growers find that early potatoes prove a more certain and profitable crop. Specimens of both early and late varieties were displayed at the State Fair last fall and at the meeting of the Peninsula Horticultural Society last winter, where they attracted the attention of a great many growers. From this work it is hoped that some varieties will be found which will be better adapted to Delaware conditions than those now being grown.

Additional Extension Lectures

The duPont High School of Wilmington, has arranged with the Delaware College Extension Committee for the following series of lectures: Dr. E. V. Vaughn, "Curious Facts in Delaware History" (already given); Professor Elisha Conover, "Private Life of the Greeks and Romans"; Professor C. A. Short, "Gold Mining in California"; Professor E. L. Smith, "Napoleon Bonaparte"; Dr. W. O. Sypherd, "Literature and Life."

Several high schools, women's clubs, and other organizations in the counties of the State are making arrangements to have series of lectures next winter.

Dr. Harter At Meeting Of College Presidents

On May 8 and 9 President Harter of Delaware College will attend a meeting of the Association of College Presidents of Pennsylvania, of which association he is an honorary member,—to be held at Lincoln University, Chester county, Pa. The program of the meeting will include a round-table discussion of college fraternities. On Saturday afternoon the members of the association will, under the direction of competent guides, inspect the electrical plant at McCall's Ferry, one of the largest in the world.

Engineering Students On Inspection Trip

On May 4 the Delaware College students comprising the class in Water Supply Engineering, made a visit of inspection to the Harrison Hill Filtration Plant of the New Chester Water Company. This plant is a good illustration of the American method of water purification. In order to inspect a typical slow sand filter, the class next visited the Queen Lane Filtration Plant at Germantown. This trip was of especial interest to the class, because they had an opportunity to see the beds in process of cleaning. The class also visited the Sewage Disposal Plant at Wayne, Pa., a type of septic tank with sand filters, in order to examine the condition of beds after use through the winter months.

NEW YORK MUSICAL COMEDY BEAT

Bevy Of Beautiful Chorus Girls

Talk about a New York musical comedy with a bevy of beautiful chorus girls, "The Worst Man" to be played on Friday night at the Newark Opera House by the members of the Sophomore Class of Delaware College would make Zeigfield's production look like a bad nickel at "Doc" Rhodes'. Girls! Why it is a shame to think how "Soapy" Morrison, "Ted" Adams, "Bake" Taylor, "Red" Thomas, "Cotton" Mather, "Jimmy" Brayshaw, "Beef" Ramsay, the Dutch washerwoman, and a few more of that noble crew have usurped the women's charms.

The music to the show, furnished by the College Orchestra, is the best that ever has been produced by modern talent, being taken from Gilbert and Sullivan's masterpiece, "Patience." Mrs. M. Jane Murray of whose histrionic ability all lovers of the theatre here are well acquainted will take the leading role of "Impatience." The "Worst Man," the lone male character in the play, will be portrayed by the coming Mansfield, Tracy Campbell. From first to last there will be one continuous roar of laughter.

But "The Worst Man" is only a taste of the good things that we have in store for you. Miss Katherine Bowen and Mr. Harold Foster will enact for the benefit of all lovers of droll comedy, a most funny little piece entitled "The Blessed Baby." This in itself would be well worth the price; but we are out to do the thing up brown. And hence our lavish program is tendered on your approval. Don't forget the date.—Friday, May 8th. Place.—Newark Opera House. Throw off your cares and troubles, leave the baby with the next door neighbor, let the morrow take care of itself, and come and spend an evening full of smiles with us. Tickets on sale at Rhodes' Drug Store.

A Few Words From The New Century Club

In closing the club year of 1913-14, the New Century Club of Newark closes its twenty-first year of existence. Starting in 1893 with eight women as its founders, it now numbers seventy members, had all who have answered its roll-call been spared to it by Time and Change there would be the goodly number of one hundred and seven. The Club has become a recognized factor in the town life and is mentioned in the stranger in our midst along with other institutions of the place. The friendly interest shown in all that pertains to it, the hearty cooperation in its plans and work, the generous praise given its efforts in public work, and the absence of malice on the part of criticism has made the Club feel individually and as a body, it would like to share with its friends the memories of these years of growth in your midst.

At the recent twenty-first birthday anniversary, when the club celebrated the attainment of its majority, the lighting of the twenty-one candles dedicated to the years was accompanied by toasts to the sentiments, interests and activities of the Club. Some of these were in rhyme, some in story and some in statistics and in them was told sympathetically and wittily the Club's history. From them the following resume has been compiled which it is hoped will prove of interest to all who have looked at us through either end of the binoculars.

The eight founders of the club were: Mrs. Delaware Clark, Mrs. A. A. Curtis, Miss Susan Evans, Mrs. L. Irving Handy, Mrs. Geo. A. Harter, Miss Frances Hurd, Mrs. H. G. M. Kollock, Mrs. T. R. Wolf. Three of these have answered a higher roll call, one was unable to attend the anniversary exercises and four were present as the meeting.

The toast "In Memoriam" was a silent one, the members rising as Mrs. A. A. Curtis lighted the candle in memory of those who were with us in spirit only. A beautiful tribute to the first president, Mrs. Kollock, was given by Mrs. Richards. In Mrs. Hanly's "Reminiscences" and in several other speeches, the following facts were recalled to our minds:

When an organization had been effected the new club was called "The Tuesday Club" and was for the first year purely social, reads one afternoon, needlework and reading along the next week. With the second year the literary line only was continued and subjects for study assigned. In 1896 the day of meeting was changed to Monday and the name New Century Club was adopted. The motto "Non Solum Nobis" and the colors green and white were chosen. The programs of those early years show a wide range of reading and study, in history, art, biography, literature and excursions into civic and home economics. The membership was for a long while limited to twenty-five, but as the scope of the work broadened it appeared to a greater number of women and this limitation was removed. In January 1897 it joined the State Federation, withdrawing in a few years and joining again in 1911.

In the arrangement of programs the Club has always borne in mind its literary beginning, and has realized that the best thoughts of the past and present must be constantly used to keep alight the fire of high purpose. But its increased membership, and association with State and National Federations have naturally added more variety to the programs.

Eleven women have acted as president; Mrs. C. B. Evans, the present chief executive, in dealing with the national and local problem. "What shall we do with our ex-presidents?" incorporated in her toast "Our ex-presidents" the names of some who have preceded her. "We might send some of them to the wilds of Africa or rivers of South America to hunt the Wolf, but there is no Wolf Handy. They might be frightened home by the great owls Houghton in the trees at night. One might be sent to the State Department to Neale before Williamson and Bland (ly) plead that the petition for women's suffrage be Hurd; if not we will raise an Armstrong and mighty and demand the Clark of the Senate that the constitution be so amended or torn to shreds." To this the Club breathed "Evans (a)".

In the minutes of November eighth, 1897, is this record: "That a committee of five be appointed to wait upon the committee of the Newark Library in regard to procuring books of said Library for a Free Library to be started by the Club." The books were procured from the defunct Library Association, some rebound, the number increased by a Book Reception given in the College Auditorium, and with about 275 books the Library was started. It was found impossible with the funds available to make the library free, and a house to house canvass of the town was made to secure subscribers and arouse interest. Mr. Wilbur Wilson offered a room over his store and the members of the Club took turns serving as librarians, the Library being open on Saturday afternoons only. The endeavor to make it a free library was continued, until after repeated disappointments it was abandoned and all effort concentrated on providing a regular librarian, more hours for opening and furnishing as much good reading matter as funds would allow. The Library has, since its first home, also been in the Old Fellows' building, Mrs. Elliott's building and its present quarters in the Academy. For several years Mr. F. William Curtis paid the room rent of $75 a year. Mrs. Pulling donated shelving and other things helped by contributions of books and money. The Trustees of the Academy fitted the room with new flooring and plastering and except only a nominal rent of a dollar a year. Various entertainments were held in the town for the benefit of the Library until $1,000 was raised and put at interest. Another fund is now started for the same purpose. The sum of $2,500 has been raised for the expenses of the Library since 1898 in addition to what has come by gift and bequest.

Through the generous gifts of Dr. Kollock and Mr. Geo. G. Evans in 1902 there was established the Annie Kollock Memorial Fund. This amounts to $200 and the books purchased with the interest from this are of a price and character the Library Committee had not previously felt justified in getting.

The bookplate used in all the books was designed by one of our members, Mrs. L. H. Cooch. The Dramatic Club gave the casts which adorn the room. The Club voted a few years ago that the Library room be used as a Free Reading Room and hopes that all who love books will find time to tarry there awhile. The retiring chairman of the Library Committee, Miss Alice Kerr, answered her toast with original verses, in which, after recounting its history she expressed the sentiments of most of the members as follows:

"But now there's a question which greatly perplexes
Which worries and interests us and vexes
That is: Shall our Library be free,
That's for you to say as the question,
You see.
Just a few flowers less in the season's new hat,
Just a few less cigars, Oh, ye men, think of that!"

The gift of bank stock by Mr. Geo. G. Evans and the custody of the library books directed the attention of the Club to the necessity for incorporation. In April 1902 it was duly incorporated and took over the affairs of the Club with the proper legal formalities. Under Article 3, a and b, we read of the objects and purposes of the Club in part, "To acquire and maintain in the Town of Newark, a library of good books for circulation, upon such terms as may best promote the intelligence, happiness and morality of the sanitary condition of said town and generally to improve said town as a place of residence."

For many years the Men's Club of Newark, gave their room as a place of meeting for the New Century Club. After its disbandment Mr. S. J. Wright gave a room in the Opera House building. In 1911 the room in the Hose House on Academy street where we now meet was offered and accepted.

In addition to its financial responsibilities the club has gathered a variety of possessions including a piano. Mrs. Whittingham responded to "Our Possessions" with a witty arranged cumulation list after the style of "The House that Jack Built," this the last paragraph, combines an expectation with already accomplished facts.

"And then, here's to the roof of our own retreat, that will shelter the clock with rhythmic beat, to time the piano so true and sweet, while stands by the closet with shelves complete, from which comes the glasses that hold good cheer, when we fast from the dishes with members dear, as we meet on the rug, where stands the chairs, all grouped round the table on which raps the gavel the Club got." The gavel was presented to the Club by Paymaster John Ross Martin, made of wood from the office of the commandant of battleships at Cavite at the battle of Manila.

The reference to the clubs own roof relates to a fund that is started and well on the way, for a club house which it is hoped may be an ornament to the town, a home for the library and of use in many ways. The amount now raised is about a thousand dollars. As no birthday-party seems complete without gifts, so this one received handsome recognition by its friends. Mrs. L. Irving Handy's gift of $25 was announced, the same amount from Miss Harriet B. Evans and $20 from Mrs. S. M. Curtis, and from Mrs. A. A. Curtis, $30. These gifts were to the building fund. Mrs. Neale and Mrs. Lyons on behalf of the Club House and Building Fund, gave encouragement to the members by this report.

A list of the Club's activities besides those already mentioned, includes planting trees, providing trash cans, a donation to the Cooch's Bridge Monument, fifteen dollars to the sewer survey, a globe to the school, prizes to the pupils of the schools on several occasions, contributions to the Carnival, standing as one of the guarantors to the Chautauqua and providing for furnishing a room in the Affiliated College. And though named last, one of its earliest works was the buying of a town sprinkler. When it was suggested, the $300 necessary for its purchase appeared a large sum to the young club, but through the kindness of a friend who advanced a part of the money it was finally accomplished. In Mrs. Houghton's picturesque account of our "Quests and Deeds," she said that the originator of the idea "rose up and spake to the club women saying: 'Let us buy a sprinkler for the town and operate it, that it may go forth and lay the dust, and comfort the people.' Then came forward the Idoubtesses and the Dissent-ness saying, 'It cannot be done in Newark, it would not lay the dust.' These, however, with the "Hittites and Knapkites" were soon silenced. The collection of the money for its maintenance has been a task requiring much courage and perseverance. Though Jewellers and property owners in many cases contribute generously and even thankfully toward this necessary adjunct to town life, there are some to whom its benefits make no appeal; the ladies on the Sprinkling Committee sometimes feel much discouraged after their canvass of the town for support for this sanitary means.

Though we are seventy women of diverse ideals and occupations yet we unite in our club life for the purpose expressed in our charter, we may not all think alike as to methods of procedure, but we endeavor to work together harmoniously, feeling that in the various interests of the club is opportunity for each to do that which she can do best. This principle was emphasized by Mrs. Hayward who lighted the candle signifying Co-operation and Federation. "Co-operation is the core which binds all human beings to society."

"Some women, no doubt, become club members without thinking much about the duty and privilege of co-operation which make it possible for a club to exist." Referring to the State and National Federation is "Unity in Diversity" we are members of a vast body of women, over a million of every shade of religious belief yet all working together for humanity's uplift, no such co-operation has ever been possible before among women." In Fellowship and Service, Miss Hurd continued the same train of thought, stating that "The mere fact of our existence is a poor affair to celebrate. To live is not to follow a clock hand over the dial, but to serve and keep; because there is so much for us to do we cannot surrender, we must stand together and go on in faith that is beyond the seeing and knowing."

Completing our past and present with a peep into the future Mrs. Manne lighted the little candle for "Growth" which occupied the center of the birthday cake. Her rhymed prophecy thus closed:

"A toast to our club in all she may do,
To her highest ideals may she ever be true
Our motto so noble is now truly our own,
Our club, may, each member, live "Not for self alone."

Mrs. E. W. Dawson, acting as toast mistress, wrote two club songs which added to the conviviality of the occasion.

FOR FRIENDSHIP'S SAKE
All we who gather here today
To celebrate our years,
Shall pause to think of days gone by
With all their hopes and fears.
For auld lang syne we'll sing
For auld lang syne
Today we'll let our voices ring
For auld lang syne.

Oh, would that we could take the hand
And gaze upon the face
Of every one whose labors gave
Our club a name and place!
For auld lang syne we'll sing
For auld lang syne,
The bells of memory softly ring
For auld lang syne.
As through the years we've onward marched,

Dear comrades staunch and true
Have joined the ranks and held aloft
Our motto ever new.
And so to auld lang syne we'll sing
To auld lang syne
For still shall deeds of promise spring
From auld lang syne.

To our friends in the town we would say,
We have lived and grown in your midst
For twenty-one years, we are not a thing apart,
We belong to you and you to us
By many ties and associations, we live for the same ideals,
We make the same mistakes. As a human institution, we shall, like all such, some day pass away or merge into another of humanity's movements. But although each individual and each united association must work out its own salvation, we realize that it is but the stamp on one side of the coin, it has no value unless completed by the thought that no one lives for himself alone, therefore we ask for your sympathy and co-operation in the future accorded as fully as it has been in the past.

The New Century Club of Newark.

Alcohol From Potato Culls

The so-called "denatured alcohol" is prepared by the addition of such ingredients as will make the alcohol unfit for drinking purposes. It is used extensively in the manufacture of varnish, explosives, chemicals, and many other commercial articles. It may also be used in various household appliances, both for lighting and heating purposes with much more safety than either kerosene or gasoline.

Potatoes have been successfully used as a source of cheap alcohol in other countries and conditions in this country indicate that large quantities of potato culls with the necessary starch content are available for this purpose at a price which would permit of the profitable manufacture of alcohol therefrom. Experimental work of the agricultural department distillery has shown how potatoes can be economically handled and practical instructions in the method of manufacture can now be given. This work has been done in a small distillery such as would be suitable for large farms or communities of farmers working in co-operation. Farmers may, if they so desire, obtain from the government data which will enable them to convert frosted or inferior grades of potatoes into a source of revenue, as it has been shown by experiments that these may be made into alcohol at a fair profit.

Potatoes average from 14 to 20 per cent of starch and one pound of starch in practice yields about 0.071 gallon of absolute alcohol, or 0.079 gallon of denatured alcohol at 180 degrees proof. One hundred pounds of an average grade of potatoes containing 17 per cent of starch would yield approximately 1.3 gallons of denatured alcohol worth, approximately 63 cents per gallon. —Ex.

Clothes And Conduct

Every man and every woman feel the influence of clothes and appearance upon conduct. You have heard of the loopy man in the Australian bush who always put on evening dress for dinner so that he might remember he was a gentleman. Addison could not write his best unless he was well dressed. Put a naughty girl into her best Sunday clothes and she will behave quite nicely; put a blackguard into khaki and he will be a hero; put an omnibus conductor into uniform and he will live up to his clothes. Indeed, in a millennium of free clothes of the latest fashion we shall all be archangels. —London Chronicle.

The Ritter Pickling Company of Philadelphia, is seeking a site at Middletown for a ketchup factory. The building will be a two-story concrete structure with concrete floor which, if erected, would use the yield of 400 acres of tomatoes annually.

IMPORTANT PARTS

In Sanitary Plumbing, as in life, are often played by the Little Things. The lack of a mite of a Washer, a Single Broken or Wornout Thread on a Screw or Cap in an Escape Pipe, may bring you annoyance, possibly sickness. We have a care for "the little things"—the big ones look out for themselves.

and Mrs. Mary F. Hearn, being marshals; the children's section, Equal Suffrage Study Club, the Arden Colony and the Socialists.

While some of the paraders rode in automobiles, the majority of them walked in the middle of the street. The parade made an attractive spectacle.

Many of them were attired in white dresses with "Votes For Women" sashes hanging from their shoulders to their waists.

While some of the women marchers did not keep in line as well as soldiers do when marching, their appearance in line was very creditable, considering that they were not drilled.

The parade was led by Mrs. Florence Bayard Hilles, president of the Delaware Suffrage Association, representing New Castle county; Mrs. Mary Slaughter, representing Kent county, and Miss Miriam Gray, of Sussex county. Each of the three women carried yellow banners containing the name of the county they represented.

The music was furnished by the First Regiment Band and the Wilmington Fife and Drum Corps.

Big Fire At Farmington

Seven dwellings, a basket factory and Methodist Episcopal church at Farmington, Delaware, were destroyed by fire late Saturday afternoon. The blaze is supposed to have originated from sparks from a locomotive. The fire raged for nearly three hours, causing a total loss of $30,000 with only partial insurance.

All the structures were of frame. The town had no means of fighting the flames, other than with buckets of water. Several ladders were sent from Harrington, four miles above here, but to no avail. Had they arrived earlier they might have been the means of several dwellings being saved, inasmuch as water could have been carried to the roofs.

In Memoriam

(Daughter of Harry I. and Mary E. Johnson. Aged 3 years. Died May 10, 1913.)

Little Ruth was our darling,
Pride of all our hearts at home
Till the angels came and whispered,
"Darling, do come home;
Fold thy waxen hands together,
Close the soft and dreamy eyes,
See how like a broken lily
Pale and beautiful she lies."

From Files Of Fifty Years Ago

The double track on the P. W. & B. railroad is now in operation to Newark, and will probably be completed to Elkton during next week. The ordinance permitting the company to lay down a double track in certain streets of Baltimore, has passed the first branch of Council of that city.—Cecil Whig.

Population Has Increased

The United States is now a country of 109,000,000 people, according to the bulletin containing the estimates of population for the years subsequent to the 13th census, soon to be published by Director of the Census, Department of Commerce. It was prepared under the supervision of C. S. Sloance, geographer. The estimated population of Delaware for July 1st, 1914, is given at 209,817 while the census of April 15th, 1910, estimated the population at 202,322, which shows a gain of 7,495.

Bees Do Great Work

According to the current issue of Farm and Fireside those who think the bee a trespasser when he comes after honey should think again. Following is an extract from an account of what bees do for farms, especially fruit farms: "Albert Reep the great New Jersey orchardist, has said, 'I'd as soon think of managing this orchard without a single spray pump as without bees.' Bees are the chief agent for fertilizing the blossoms of fruit trees, and if the orchardist doesn't keep bees it is a fine thing for him that his neighbors do. E. R. Root of the Ohio State College speaks in a recent bulletin—No. 3; send and get it—the experience of Van Rensselaer & Southam, who leased an old barren orchard near Cleveland, and made it bear 16,000 bushels in 1913. They do not think it possible to grow fruit to advantage without bees. If we could have twice as many bumble bees in our clover fields we should undoubtedly harvest better crops of seed. Every bee in a sweet-clover or alfalfa field is money in the bank for the seed-grower.

Quarrying Glaciers For Ice

Quarrying glaciers is becoming an important industry in Switzerland, and wherever a glacier in the Alpine districts can be connected by chutes with some place having good transportation facilities companies have been or are being formed to carry on the business, concessions having been granted by many Swiss communes. The French city of Lyon is the most important consumer of this glacier ice, which owing to its purity and transparency commands a higher price than that cut from lakes or rivers.

The ice is blasted out of the glaciers by means of black powder, which it has been found does not discolor the ice as giant powder does. The blocks have to be stored for some time in icehouses such as are used in this country, made of two walls of lumber, with sawdust filling the space between them, in order that a coating of frosted or non-transparent ice which covers the blocks after they have been removed from the glacier may be removed.

Much ingenuity is shown in building the chutes which carry the blocks of ice down the mountain sides. In order to reduce the great velocity they would acquire were the chutes straight, curves are introduced here and there to impede it.

But ice quarrying is not unknown in this country. Crook county, Oregon, especially the southern portion, is pretty far removed from the traditional idea of Paradise, although irrigation is recent years has done something to render it more habitable. The region is of volcanic origin and a great lava bed bounds one portion of it, from beneath which comes the sound of rushing waters, but inaccessible water. In this almost desert region one can well imagine what a godsend a lump of ice would be. And there it is close at hand and not far from Bend, hidden away in a cave.

The entrance to this cave, which is at least 15 miles from any water, is about 4,000 feet above sea level. This entrance is small. From it you go down a declivity of some 50 feet, when you reach a chamber with a floor of ice. From there you pass through a narrow entrance into an inner chamber which contains an inexhaustible supply of ice. A block is quarried out and within three hours the cavity is filled with water which is soon turned into solid ice.

Geologists are puzzled over an explanation of this extraordinary phenomenon. The best offered so far seems to be that the water trickles through the volcanic rock from the Deschutes River, which takes a remarkably winding course at an elevation much higher than that of the cave.

But even more remarkable is it that ice should be quarried on the sides of the famous Sicilian volcano, Mount Aetna. Were the Sicilians a little more energetic no doubt Messina would have been supplied before the earthquake razed it with all the ice it needed by a "Mount Aetna Ice Quarrying Co." and beautiful Taormina would not have to rely on Sweden and Norway for its supply.

As it is the industry is carried on in a desultory manner. Aetna is 10,840 feet high and during the winter is snowcapped. Whenever an eruption occurs the fragments of rock and ashes thrown out of the crater spread over the snow, which is compressed by the weight and so forms ice. Just as sawdust used in icehouses protects the ice, so does the dust from the volcano form a non-conductor of heat for the compressed snow on Mount Aetna.

These deposits of ice have been forming for untold centuries and now and then they are exposed through an earthquake or the sliding down of a mass of volcanic matter. On these occasions if the labor is not too great the lazy Sicilian will pick out a few blocks of ice and sell them to Catania or Taormina.

OPTOMETRY—The science of prescribing and fitting glasses to correct defective vision without the use of drugs.

OPTOMETRIST—One skilled in optometry, an expert in measuring eye defects. A physical Eye Specialist.

Concerning Your Eyes

Good eyesight is essential to health and comfort. Eye strain uncorrected leads to nervous disorders and is a factor in causing many reflex disturbances.

Tired, aching eyes, frequent pain over the eyes or heads aches are some of the indications of eye strain. At other times the eyes give no indication themselves of strain, but endeavor to keep up the demand upon them, by using the reserve accommodative power until they give out.

GLASSES RELIEVE EYE STRAIN

Success in relieving eye strain depends entirely upon the skill of the practitioner who prescribes the glasses. Our Optometrists are experienced and capable.

SCHOOL PUPILS GUESTS AT FAIR

Special Day Named By Authorities

With the approach of spring comes the closing of the rural schools and the scattering of not only the pupils but the teachers. Early in the year the Delaware State Fair Association sent to all the schools in the State, letters asking for the number of pupils and teachers in each school. The Fair Association hopes to have as many of the children of the State as well as teachers for their guests on Tuesday, September 8, and in order to insure the timely delivery of these tickets it was necessary to commence the work of the distribution very early.

State Commissioner of Education Wagner gave his approval to the plan of the Fair Association and the responses have all been attended to as promptly as they were received. The secretary of the Fair Association, however, regrets that many of the teachers have ignored the letter entirely, failing to return the post card which was enclosed and thus cutting the pupils in their school off from the opportunity to receive the free ticket and also from the opportunity to compete either as individuals or as schools for some of the valuable prizes. Even now the literature and tickets may be sent out, it is however, too late to enter for the photographic contest.

If the teachers whose cards have been received will send their addresses up to August 10, to S. H. Wilson, Jr., secretary of the Delaware State Fair, Wilmington, he will see that their own personal admission ticket is sent to them direct and not to the address of the school. All of the teachers' tickets will be mailed on August 10.

The Continental Fibre Company demonstrated last Saturday that it has one of the fastest semi-professional teams in New Castle county, when they defeated the fast St. Peters Club of New Castle by the score of 7 to 5. Whiteman, who was in box for Continental, allowed but six hits and fanned 15. Sullivan of St. Peters was hit hard, Cleaver and Goodnow leading at the bat with 5 and 4 hits respectively. The game was played on the grounds adjoining Red Men's Home and attracted considerable people. The score follows:

The local high school team continues to play good ball and on Friday defeated the Dover High in a ten inning game by the score of 5 to 4. Captain Green featured the game by his great hitting. Out of five times at bat he got three doubles and a single. It was one of the most exciting games of the season and was won in the tenth on clean hitting by Green and Mote. Chillas and Pyott, pitched good ball but the former was the best in the pinches. For boys who do not have the advantage of a coach, the high school players deserve great credit for the showing they make in sports. The score by innings of Friday's game follows:

DELAWARE LOSES TO JOHNS HOPKINS

After outplaying the visitors for seven innings Geoghegan weakened in the eighth inning against Johns Hopkins, last Saturday, and the Baltimore students won out in the tenth, by the score of 6 to 4. It was the first home game for Delaware and the first game of baseball ever played on Joe Frazer Field. Many complimentary remarks about the new field both by visitors and the Johns Hopkins players, were heard. Johns Hopkins had the advantage of having been playing for several weeks this season while Delaware has had little practice and played but one game previous to Saturday. It is the uncertainty of baseball that makes it so popular and that was never more clearly demonstrated than in this game. Delaware looked a sure winner until the fatal eighth inning. All during the game the locals had outplayed the visitors and Geoghegan was pitching the article of ball that will win most any game if he keeps it up for nine innings. In this case, however, the lanky southpaw weakened in the eighth and Hopkins tied the score winning out in the tenth. Even with Geoghegan weakening Delaware should have won in nine innings. Elmer Hoch threw away an opportunity to score in the early innings when he failed to watch the ball and consequently got but third on a bad throw to first when he could have reached third just as easily. He could have scored from third on the next play and that extra run would have won the game. As it was he was left at second.

Delaware has a fine infield that should get better every game. Fidance, the former Wilmington High School player, is proving a great find for second base. It is in the outfield that Delaware is weak. Slansky, however, is a promising player and in a short time should be the best outfielder that the Gold and Blue has. The score by innings of Saturday's game follows:
J. Hopkins 0001000302-6 9 5
Delaware . 0100003000-4 7 2

Batteries, Johns Hopkins, Trisler, Sylvester and Rice; Delaware, Geoghegan and Huston.

DELAWARE COLLEGE NOTES

For the second time this season a game scheduled with Swarthmore had to be called off yesterday on account of rain. Swarthmore was scheduled to open the season here Saturday, April 25, but rain interfered. The game was then fixed for yesterday and again it rained.

Connie Mack, manager of the World's Champions, has been in correspondence with Geoghegan and will probably send a scout here to watch the lanky southpaw work.

By his great work in holding the Wilmington Tri-Shate team to three hits "Buck" Hoch has attracted the attention of a number of managers.

Slansky looks like a hitter the way he goes after the ball and a player who stands that way at the plate is bound to get some of them safe.

ALL-SCHOLASTIC MEET MAY SIXTEENTH

What will no doubt be the greatest sporting event ever held at Delaware College is scheduled for Saturday of next week. This is the All-Scholastic field and track meet in which many high schools of the State will participate. The Athletic Council and Coach William J. McAvoy, who is managing the meet have about completed the preliminary arrangements and the indications are that there will be a large entry list in both classes 1 and 2.

The entries will close tomorrow. Young athletes in all parts of Delaware have been training for weeks for this great meet. The Delaware College officials have arranged to look after all contestants while they are in Newark. In the morning there will be an exhibition drill by the cadets and at noon luncheon will be served to all contestants and teachers who accompany them, in the gymnasium. The meet will start at 1.30 o'clock. During the same afternoon there will be a dual meet between Delaware and Drexel.

The local high school boys have some try-outs to select a team for the meet.

Good Crops Predicted

The outlook for fine yields of alfalfa and scarlet clover in Kent and Sussex, it is stated, was never brighter than at present. Wheat is also said to be looking fine and promises a large crop.

Don't Let Yourself Go To Seed

What Water is to a Plant—so good clothes are to manhood
---the tonic and preservative of youth.

When old Doc Osler suggested that all men of forty should be chloroformed, he did not mean men who are forty in years.

He meant men who are forty in fogginess; forty in fossilization; forty in rusty viewpoint and slovenly appearance.

When a man no longer respects youth and no longer tries to maintain it in his looks and dress,—he ought to be painlessly snuffed out.

The Premature Grandpa who treats his body like a worn-out lawn-mower; who closes his eyes to bagging trousers and missing buttons; who wears the map of the Philippines on his coat front, drawn in soup spots or Piper Heidsieck extract,—that man is ready for the ether-cone, boys, he's ready for the ether-cone whatever his years.

The forty-year-old who doesn't care whether his clothes are in style or not is usually the man who just recently heard of General Lee's surrender. For there's no surer index in the world of a youthful mind and an up-to-date viewpoint than up-to-date clothes.

That's why 40 to 50-year-old Americans are the best dressers in the country,—the youthful-looking dressers. It is they who encouraged the English cut sack,—it is they who respect style and distinction in their clothes,—it is they who know how to wear them to the best advantage.
