NEWARK POST, NEWARK, DEL., JANUARY 5, 1921.

NUMBER 45

Bishop of Delaware Here Next Sunday

Has Planned a Busy Morning

Will Conduct Two Services and Hold Congregational Meeting Afterward

The Right Reverend Philip Cook, D. D., the new Bishop of Delaware, will make a visit to St. Thomas's parish next Sunday, January 9. A corporate communion for the parish will be celebrated at 8 a. m., the bishop being the celebrant.

At the later service, 11 a. m., Bishop Cook will preach. He will also preside at a congregational meeting to be held immediately following this service. All members of the parish are expected to be present.

Reverend Walter G. Haupt, whose resignation was announced last Wednesday evening, and D. Lee Rose, secretary of the Vestry, held a consultation with the Bishop recently with reference to securing a pastor to fill the existing vacancy.

The Bishop advised concerning a student body of men studying for the priesthood in New York. He announced his intention of notifying the vestry in a few days if there is in that body a priest suitable and available for St. Thomas's church. The candidate will then in all likelihood be invited to conduct service here preliminary to appointment.

LOCALLY KNOWN

YOUNG PEOPLE WED

Joseph Swift Tatnall, last year a student at Delaware College, and Miss Helen Cameron Shaw, a frequent visitor here, were married last Saturday evening at Trinity Church, Wilmington.

The ceremony, which was at 8 o'clock, was performed by Rev. Frederick M. Kirkus, D. D. The bride, who is a daughter of Mrs. Ralph Shaw, was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Ralph Shaw, and was attended by Miss Charlotte C. Mahaffy as maid of honor and by Miss Caroline Tatnall and Miss Mary Tatnall, sisters of the groom, and Miss Ella W. Hopkins, of Montclair, N. J., as bridesmaids. Mr. Tatnall's best man was Mr. William Ellison Barnard, of Camden, Del., and the ushers were Mr. Lee Sparks, Mr. H. Lee Tatnall, Mr. Markley Shaw and Mr. C. Donnelly Shaw.

The bride's gown was of white crepe meteor and her tulle veil was held in place by orange blossoms. She carried white roses and sweet peas. Miss Mahaffy wore orchid crepe georgette; Miss Caroline Tatnall, lavender, and Miss Hopkins, green, all of the same material. The attendants' bouquets were of lavender sweet peas and Ophelia roses.

Following the wedding an informal reception was held at the home of the bride. After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Tatnall will live at Princeton, N. J.

GIVES FAREWELL PARTY TO FRIENDS

Thomas J. Green gave a farewell stag party to a number of his friends last Thursday evening at his home on Main Street.

Mr. Green moved his family to Newark from Wilson Station a year ago after purchasing the mercantile stand and business of William H. Barton. Several months ago he sold out to Richard Buckingham, who took over the business last week.

Mr. Green will return to his farm in Pencader hundred, which district he represented in the State Legislature four years ago. Those present at the party were: Isaac Vancant, Clarence T. Major, Clarence T. Major, Jr., Walter T. Geist, W. Clarence Jester, Benjamin W. Eubanks, John Anderson, Jonathan Johnson, Clifford Wills, William Carpenter, John T. Thornton, William S. Armstrong and R. W. Armstrong.

FEDERALSBURG MAN BUYS RHODES' DRUG STORE

Dr. W. E. Brown New Owner to Take Immediate Possession

Dr. George W. Rhodes has sold the good will and fixtures of his drug store on Main Street adjoining the college property, to Dr. W. E. Brown, of Federalsburg, Maryland, who will take possession at once.

Dr. Brown is well known throughout this State and the neighboring state of Maryland as an experienced, well-trained druggist and an excellent business man. He spent a part of last summer in Newark assisting Dr. Rhodes and is therefore well acquainted with the business here. The latter has made no definite plans for the future.

Dr. Rhodes came here from Maryland 11 years ago and purchased Butler's drug store and later the drug business conducted by E. B. Frazer at the stand now occupied by The Victrola Shop. The business soon outgrew those quarters and Dr. Rhodes built the present attractive modern store and dwelling.

RECTOR OF ST. THOMAS'S CHURCH RESIGNS

Will Engage in Educational Work in Washington for the Present

Vestrymen of St. Thomas's Church and members of the parish were surprised and grieved last week to hear that the pastor, Rev. Walter G. Haupt, had announced his resignation at a special meeting of the vestry held on Wednesday evening. The resignation will take effect the last of January.

His health was assigned by Mr. Haupt for taking this step. He has been in poor health for several months. He will not therefore assume any other charge for some time but will engage in educational work for the present in Washington, D. C.

Mr. Haupt has held the rectorate at St. Thomas's for seven years, coming to Newark from Havre de Grace to succeed Rev. Hamilton B. Phelps. He has been particularly active in building up the church and in working for the interests of the young people of the congregation. During his pastorate the church has been cleared of debt and many notable improvements have been made. A new pipe organ was installed a few years ago and a new bell purchased last year. New books have been secured and other additions made to the church equipment.

The installation of a vested choir and their training, the building up of the Guild into a live organization are two of the numerous achievements accomplished by this energetic pastor.

In addition to his ability as an organizer, he is also an able pulpit orator and an authority on Biblical subjects.

The vestry recently recognized his ability and worth by an increase in salary.

An immediate effort will be made to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Haupt's resignation.

CHANGES OF RESIDENCE THE FIRST OF THE YEAR

Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Pence and family moved into their new residence on Park Place the first of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Martin moved into the residence vacated by Mr. Pence and recently purchased by Mr. Martin.

The new fraternity will occupy the property vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Martin.

F. L. Williams, assistant in Animal Husbandry at Delaware College, moved into the college property recently vacated by J. M. LeCato.

BARACA AUXILIARY TO MEET TOMORROW

The Baraca Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church will meet tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the residence of Mrs. William J. Rowan.

ORDINANCE RELATING TO WATER RENT PASSES

Town Council Reports Satisfactory Progress on Extension

At the regular monthly meeting of Town Council, held last Monday evening, the ordinance relating to increase in the water rent rates to cover cost of plant extension and maintenance; and raising the maximum monthly allowance, received its final reading and was passed. The new rate goes into effect this month.

The construction work on the extension is going forward rapidly. The new standpipe was connected with the main yesterday, the basin is practically completed and the pumps will be installed during the next month.

Routine business was transacted and bills ordered paid.

BISHOP COOK MAKES INFORMAL VISIT TO GUILD

Attends Meeting on Monday Night and Enjoys Social Hour

Bishop and Mrs. Philip Cook made a delightful informal visit to St. Thomas's Guild at the regular meeting on Monday evening and remained for the social hour that followed.

The reports of the various committees were given by the respective chairmen, showing the various departments of church work to be in a flourishing condition. Announcement was made of a renewal by George Dobson of the annual offer of a Bible to the person bringing the greatest number of students into the Sunday School during the year. The prize for the past year was won by George Getty. Mr. Dobson announced a further prize to be awarded for perfect attendance.

Mrs. George Carter, Mrs. D. Lee Rose and Mrs. Charscha were appointed refreshment committee for the month of February.

A meeting of the Daughters of the King was announced for the Wednesday evening.

Dues amounting to approximately six dollars were received and the result of the collection for Christmas greens was turned in.

At the close of the business session, Bishop Cook was present. He was glad, he said, to have the opportunity of seeing the family of the Guild together, the old and the young, all of different ages which go to make up this live organization whose interest and enthusiasm he commended. He would not make a speech since he expects to be with the congregation next Sunday for the services and for a meeting afterward. He did, however, praise highly the work done in the parish by the rector, Mr. Haupt, and expressed regret for the condition of health which made his resignation imperative. He spoke of his pride in pointing out St. Thomas's church to friends who accompanied him on his trips from Baltimore to Wilmington, of the favorable impression always made by this, the first church in the diocese; of his gratification in finding the church always open to visitors and always in excellent order. He praised this custom maintained by Mr. Haupt of having the church always open for worship. He praised unstintingly Mr. Haupt's work in building up the "fabric" of the church and predicted that the influence of his pastorate would be felt long after his departure.

The bishop assured the people of his interest in helping them to secure for this, the most strategic point in the diocese, a strong pastor. He urged upon them the necessity of steadfastness and held up to them the ideal of making St. Thomas's one of the strongest and most influential churches in the diocese.

JR. O. U. A. M. ELECTS OFFICERS FOR THE YEAR

Joins Quoit League and Plans for Big Baseball Season

At the regular meeting on last Monday night of the Jr. O. U. A. M., the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Councillor, Harlan Tweed. Vice Councillor, Ernest Sheldon. Recording Secretary, D. L. Gallagher.

Assistant Recording Secretary, John Hoffecker. Financial Secretary, Raymond McMullen.

Treasurer, Charles Colmery. Conductor, D. W. Sheppard. Warden, George Morrison.

Inside Sentinel, Leroy Campbell.

Outside Sentinel, Clifford Wooters.

Junior Past Councillor, Guy Lauer.

Trustee for 6 months, Frank Mote.

Trustee for 18 months, R. S. Gallaher.

Chaplain, Henry Mote.

Representative State Council, Wesley Keith.

Alternate, Raymond McMullen.

Rep. D. B. A., Wm. Merrick.

The new officers will be installed at an early date.

It was voted to accept the invitation extended by some of the other lodges of the town to form a quoit league. A captain was elected for the Junior's team and they are confident that they will be able to put a team in the floor which will do credit to the organization they represent.

The Junior O. U. A. M. expects also to organize a stronger baseball team than ever before. Plans are now under way to have some real baseball sport this coming season.

CHILD WELFARE DISCUSSED AT CENTURY CLUB MEETING

State President Entertained and Social Hour Enjoyed

Mrs. H. L. Boyer, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, was the guest of the New Century Club yesterday afternoon for the first meeting of the new year. She addressed the Club on the duties and responsibilities of citizenship, urging acceptance thereof in the same spirit which has always characterized woman's attitude toward duty. She urged every woman to "do well her part." She spoke also very earnestly and sincerely on the immigration and child welfare problems.

Mrs. Ima J. Perkins, director of Child Welfare for the State, spoke of health conditions here, giving comparative statistics to show that the legislators now in session at Dover and other citizens should give this vital matter more than passing thought. The death rate per thousand for the nation, she said, is 12.9 per cent; for Delaware, 15.6 per cent. This State has 50 per cent more cases of typhoid, 40 per cent more of diphtheria, and 40 per cent more of intestinal disorders than the average for the nation as a whole.

Miss Marie Lockwood, chairman of Child Welfare for the State Federation emphasized the points concerning health made by Mrs. Boyer and Mrs. Perkins and urged that the district nurse, Miss Stevens, be given authority to report certain classes of disease in the community and to work in conjunction with the local Board of Health. She urged the club to work toward the accomplishment of this.

Miss Eleanor Duffy sang two French songs to accompaniment by Miss Nellie B. Wilson.

Following the program a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments served by the club hostess, Mrs. C. A. Short, and her aides.

The program for next week will be in charge of the Arts and Crafts committee. Mrs. J. Pearce Carr, chairman, announces some features of unusual interest for next Tuesday's meeting.

NEWARK MAN VICTIM OF HOLD-UP

Suspects Apprehended but Released for Lack of Evidence

George Jarmon, a well-known farmer in this vicinity, was the victim of a sensational hold-up last Saturday night on the Lincoln Highway, east of Newark, the fifth that has occurred in that immediate locality recently.

Mr. Jarmon was returning from Philadelphia with a pair of mules which he had purchased there that day. When he reached a point on the Lincoln Highway about one-fourth mile from Harmony Station, he was accosted by three negroes who ordered him to throw up his hands. He felled the nearest one with a heavy blow of a stick which he had previously picked up to urge forward the mules.

With a profane exclamation relative to the victim's showing fight, a companion of the prostrate negro shot at Mr. Jarmon, the bullet penetrating his coat at the shoulder and grazing the flesh. Completely overpowered, he submitted to search. The thieves secured his gold watch valued as a gift from his father, but no money or other valuables since by a curious circumstance Mr. Jarmon was carrying no money at the time. The thieves then fled. In an effort to secure assistance and to apprehend the negroes, Mr. Jarmon tried to stop several automobiles which passed at the time. None would halt, owing perhaps, to the unsafe condition of the road at that point.

On Monday while on his way to the mill, Mr. Jarmon passed three negroes whom he recognized as the thieves. He telephoned Chief Thompson, who speedily placed the three under arrest. They were detained in the lockup over Monday night and tried yesterday morning, but released owing to insufficient evidence.

The hold up occurred about 10 p. m. About 10.30 the same evening a robbery was committed at Harmony, only about 1/4 mile distant.

LOCALLY KNOWN WILMINGTONIAN PASSES AWAY

The many friends of Mrs. Delia V. Woodrow will deeply regret her death which occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. Oscar Massey, in Wilmington, on Sunday.

Mrs. Woodrow was a frequent visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David C. Rose.

NEWARK YOUNG MAN WEDS IN DETROIT

Announcement was received by friends here early this week of the marriage of J. Ralph Riley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Riley of this town, and Anna Ash, daughter of Stephen Ash, of Iron Hill, Md. The wedding took place at Detroit, Michigan, where the groom is employed. The young couple will live in Detroit.

GENERAL ALDEN R. BENSON SECRETARY OF STATE

Governor-elect William D. Denney announced the appointment this afternoon of General Alden R. Benson, of Dover, as secretary of state for his administration. General Benson, who will succeed Everett C. Johnson, of Newark, is one of the best known Republicans in the State. He has taken an active part in political affairs during the last thirty years.

General Benson is the owner of a large modern farm near Dover. He has large business interests in Kent county and is president of the State Board of Agriculture. During his administration of this office he has been instrumental in enlarging the scope of its activities on behalf of modern agricultural methods.

General Benson was elected a member of the Kent County Levy Court in 1900, serving four years. In 1904 he was elected a member of the House of Representatives, serving two terms. In 1908 General Benson was named treasurer of the Republican State Committee. Later he served as chairman of the committee.

Legislature Effects Complete Organization

Local Man Named Bill Clerk for Senate

Governor-Elect Names General Alden R. Benson Secretary of State

The Delaware Legislature which convened on Tuesday in biennial session at Dover on Monday, January 3, completed organization late yesterday afternoon and shortly thereafter both houses adjourned until Thursday in order to give the presiding officers time to select their committees, and the committee on rules to present its report.

Robert L. Armstrong, of Newark, was chosen bill clerk for the Senate.

The complete organization follows:

Senate—President pro tem., Wallace S. Handy, Milford; chief clerk, Albert Archer, Milford; reading clerk, Henry Downward, Wilmington; bill clerk, Robert L. Armstrong, Newark; attorney, Julian C. Walker; sergeant at arms, James P. Aaron, Dover; document clerk, W. Galiga, Wilmington; telephone messenger, W. R. Clark, Millsboro; stenographer, Mrs. Oliver Roach Buell, Mrs. Paige Ketchins, and chaplain, the Rev. J. T. Prouse.

House—Speaker, Walter J. Paskey, Harrington; chief clerk, C. W. Kenney; reading clerk, Charles Johns, Townsend; sergeant at arms, Joseph J. Allen, Seaford; bill clerk, Thomas Cahill, Harrington; attorney, R. R. Kenney, Dover; chaplain, the Rev. E. C. Graham, Clayton. The selection of a page and stenographers was deferred until Thursday.

The contest over the chief clerk between Joseph N. Armstrong and C. W. Kenney, which held up the House organization for several hours, was finally settled by concessions resulting in the election of Mr. Kenney.

The joint committee which waited on Governor Townsend reported that the governor would deliver his message Thursday. This will be his farewell address.

The governor extended an invitation to both houses to attend a dinner he will tender Governor-elect Denney at the Hotel du Pont, in Wilmington, Tuesday evening of next week.

With the organization of the two houses of the Delaware Legislature on the first day, thus preventing a deadlock which has often delayed work in previous years, it is predicted that the session will resolve itself into a strictly business one and possibly end the work in the allotted sixty days provided for by the state constitution. It is expected that the Legislature will attend the inauguration of President-elect Harding.

Speaker Paskey, of the House, has appointed Timothy J. Mooney, of Wilmington, as his secretary, and President Pro-tem Handy, of the Senate, has named Harry B. Thaw, of Milford, as his secretary. Mr. Mooney is chairman of the Wilmington city Democratic committee, and a former member of the Legislature. Harry B. Thaw is a business man of Milford.

IVY CASTLE TO INSTALL OFFICERS

Ivy Castle is making preparations for a meeting of unusual interest next Saturday night. Officers for the year will be installed, degrees will be conferred and refreshments served. Every member is expected to be present.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Sadie E. Dempsey

Mrs. Sadie E. Dempsey, aged 57 years, died at her home near Corner Ketch on December 25th, of pneumonia.

Funeral services were held at the house on December 29th by Rev. D. A. Reed, and interment made in Ebenezer cemetery. She is survived by her husband, two sons and two daughters.

At School

Inside the building grey and red
The pupils in the classes sit:
Above their books a young bowed head,
What silent studying for a bit!
Outside the roaring city's tide,
The thunder of the common strife
And men still at their books beside
The ordinary school of life:
Still bent above the cryptic signs,
The problems, lessons, mysteries,
And all the hieroglyphic lines
That every puzzled pupils sees.

I think we never graduate
That never any of us quit
The little desks of common fate
Where bent above our books we sit.
For while the schools go humming on
Around them we go humming too,
Still dreaming at the gates of dawn
Of puzzles that are never through:
Still wrinkling worried brows in thought,
And digging, digging down to find
The truth the mighty years have wrought
In human heart and mind.

There is a recess for the child,
The doors swing wide and out
they skip:
Like sunbeams dancing free and wild,
A song of sunshine on the lip;
That need is ours who still at school
To circumstance and fortune grow
So limited by scope and rule
Within the favorite facts we knew—
A recess for the morning will
Of childhood, to burst through the gloom
And shouting on the enchanted hill
Find wisdom of the spirit still
In freedom of the bird and bloom.

For The Homemaker's Eye

Handy Sandwich Filling
Any bits of leftover meat, especially ham, may be ground through the meat chopper, seasoned with a dash of mustard and then packed into a small jar covered with melted fat and set away for sandwich filling, to use as a sauce or with rice and tomato. Even a half of a jelly glass will season a dish or rice or serve for a half-dozen sandwiches.
A nice luncheon dish may be made by using leftover ham (chopped); spread on buttered toast and serve on it a nicely poached egg.

Soups for Cold Winter Days
In small families where there are left-overs, steak bones, meat trimmings, and outer celery stalks there is not enough to make good stock, so meat must be purchased occasionally to keep the stock replenished. In large families it is seldom that soup need be bought.
Shin bones contain the most marrow, so should be utilized for this purpose, and the meat cut into small pieces.
If you want a real brown soup, sear some of the meat in a hissing frying pan. This does retain some of the juice, but it gives a better color, and if you utilize the meat, then you will not have wasted any of the meat juices.
Always cover fat, meat and bone with cold water, allowing one pint to each pound of meat and bone fat. Let stand an hour to draw out the juices. Rinse fry- ing pan out with water that is to be used for soup that you may lose none of the coloring or meat juice. Heat gradually to boiling point and simmer slowly for six or seven hours, if on top of the stove. If you have a fireless or a steam pressure cooker your soup making is simplified to a great de- gree and your fuel is saved.

Add your vegetables, and salt and spices should be added the last hour of cooking, if on stock, but if you are using a fireless or steam pressure cooker add when you put the ingredients in con- tainers.
If you strain and cool your stock quickly it is less liable to sour or ferment.
A cake of fat forms on stock, and I find that, as it excludes the air, it acts as a preservative, so I sometimes put my stock in small containers, let the fat form and harden and leave in cooler or re- frigerator until ready to use.

Run your knife around the edge of container to remove the fat, for, of course, you do not want it in your soup, but do not waste it. This fat should be clarified and used for drippings.
If in a hurry for the stock and you cannot wait for it to cool, take as much fat off as possible with a spoon and remove the re- mainder by passing tissue or ab- sorbent brown paper over the sur- face. Never serve a greasy soup.

Lorraine Soup
Cook one and a third cupfuls of sliced carrots and one sliced po- tato in water to cover until very tender. Heat two cupfuls and a half of milk in the upper part of the double boiler with a slice of onion, and a tablespoonful of chopped celery for five minutes, then strain and thicken with a scant tablespoonful of flour blend- ed with two tablespoonfuls of oil. Add the cooked carrots and potato that have been pressed through a coarse sieve and season to taste with salt and paprika.

Dried Pea Soup
Soak two cups of peas over- night. Drain, add three quarts of boiling water and simmer for at least four hours, or until ten- der. Then mash through a strain- er, and return to the fire. Into a frying pan put two tablespoonfuls of butter, add to it one chopped onion and cook until the onion is soft. Stir in two tablespoonfuls of flour and when the paste is smooth, add slowly the strained peas. Season with one tablespo- onful of salt, a pinch of white pep- per, and a dash of paprika. Let boil up once, before serving.

Bean Soup
Soak two cups of navy beans, lima, or kidney beans in cold water over night. In the morning drain, and put into a saucepan with one slice of fried bacon or salt pork, cut into pieces, one sliced onion, one tablespoon of salt and a pinch of white pepper. Cover with two quarts of boiling water, and let simmer very slowly for two hours, or until the beans are soft. Pour the whole thing through a wire strainer and push the beans through with a potato masher. Put back into the sauce- pan and thicken with three table- spoonfuls of flour dissolved in cold water. Boil up once, stirring until smooth.

A Soup Hint
Put a hock of beef into a gallon of cold water, simmer it gently for six hours, taking care that it is well skimmed. Put in some thyme and celery, all tied in a bunch, also a couple of onions cut fine. Skim off all fat and season with pepper and salt and a little catsup. By omitting the above seasoning this soup may be turned into all kinds of soups by add- ing vegetables to give the flavor required. Serve in cups.

Horseradish Sauce
Cook one cupful of milk, a quar- ter of a cupful of grated horse- radish root and two tablespoon- fuls of cracker crumbs for twenty minutes in a double boiler; add half a teaspoonful of salt and two tablespoonfuls of culinary fat. Serve hot or cold.

Irish Stew
Cut two pounds of lean mutton into small pieces and brown in a frying pan in which has been placed one tablespoon of butter and one of drippings or suet; add one medium-sized onion sliced very thin, and brown. Place this mixture, after it is browned, in a kettle and add six cups of boiling water, seasoning with one teaspoon of salt. Cover and simmer for half an hour; then add one-half cup of thinly sliced celery, one cup of sliced turnips, and one-half cup of sliced car- roots; cook 15 minutes longer; then add two cups of sliced pota- toes, one tablespoon of minced parsley and a sprinkling of thyme and cook until all the vegetables are tender. Skim out the meat and vegetables, thicken the liquid with four tablespoons of butter which has been melted and blend- ed with four tablespoons of flour, cook for five minutes, then add the meat and vegetables and serve.

Feared the Worst
Camera Man—The director tells me we're going to film the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers. What part do you suppose he'll give you?
Curly the Cowboy (gloomily)—I dunno. But judging from the fool parts I've had to play lately, I wouldn't be none surprised if I have to be the gangplank.—Film Fun.

AN INSTRUMENT WITH ONLY ONE STRING

Haven't You Heard It? Think a Minute

A blind musician in a Western city has acquired considerable local renown by his performances on a one-string instrument of his own invention. It is a matter of surprise that he is able to get the effects he does from one string, but probably his most ardent admirers will hardly go so far as to call the result music. The per- formance appeals to the curiosity rather than to the taste. One who did not know that a blind man was playing and that his instru- ment had only one string, would be likely to listen indifferently.

A great many people go through life playing only on one string. Pleasure is a string which in com- bination with others is capable of producing very beautiful effects and adds greatly to life's har- monies. But a long solo played on that one string is a very wearis- some affair. And as much as we admire application to business, we are invariably bored by the per- son who can never talk of any- thing but business, who is not in the least interested in music or literature, or public questions, or art, or anything but the occupa- tion which gives him his liveli- hood.

The largest number of per- formers who confine themselves to a single string are the people who talk only about themselves. Some- times we have an idea that they are going to get off on another subject, but almost as soon as that hope is born, we perceive that they are swinging back to their one absorbing theme. Such people talk about the world-war only in reference to what they did, and what they felt. As all roads lead to Rome, so all themes of conversation come back to themselves as a center. They are tiresome solos where egotists play on a solitary string.

The violin with its four strings is capable of expressing much more than any instrument with one string only. The harp and the piano have of course, far greater possibilities. It is not worth while to make your instrument a freak, with only one string.

"ALL AT IT, AND ALWAYS AT IT"

The one great fact that every American ought to think and talk about today is the essential eco- nomic soundness of our country. Panics are produced by panic talk. Prosperity cannot be cre- ated by conversation, but, on the other hand, it cannot be brought about under psychological condi- tions of doubt and timidity.

We are undergoing the neces- sary process of deflation following the abnormal conditions of war. The big factor in the situation is the essential economic social and political soundness of our country. The wealth is here, and cannot fly away. The resources are here and will stay here wait- ing development. Our democratic system of government is backed by a wonderful moral and mental peace among a majority of our citizens.

There are plenty of big men who are able to direct the affairs of the nation in a wise and just spirit. Just now we are tearing down a lot of temporary buildings and blowing holes in the ground for the new foundations. Soon we shall be ready for the new build- ing, and when that time comes we shall see a prosperity beyond any- thing in our history.

Meanwhile every one must take himself in hand and keep right on keeping on. The man who can hang on the longest is the man who wins his fight. Many of our troubles never happen. Many of our burdens are unnecessary and often imaginary. The United States is the best off of any na- tion in the world. If we will put the same, of even a fraction of the same, cooperation, courage and confidence into the task of re- adjustment that we put into the war, we shall be out of the woods in a short time and better off than ever.

Thousands of men are facing their heartbreaking burdens like heroes. Let us catch their spirit and emulate their example. Every- body buck up and fight. Fight mostly against the temptation to lose your nerve. Panics are nor- mal to beasts and bugs, but not to men.

Already we have probably turned the corner. Now is the time to stand together; to post- pone selfishness; to throttle greed. "All at it and always at it" will bring us to the best times we have ever had.—Leslie's.

MAKING MONEY

Some men make their money in business—some in stocks—some by toil—some saving of their daily wages. But we submit to you the unquestioned fact that more men have achieved a comfortable competence through the ownership of property—houses and land which bring in a fixed income—than in any other way.

A word to the wise is enough. Watch your neighbors gradually rise in the world and then ascertain how they are doing it.

In nine cases out of ten you will find they have purchased their home or farm—often on easy terms—while their less enterprising neighbor is still paying rent.

A word to the wise is sufficient. If you have not yet started on a place of your own do not delay. Get full particulars about some of the following properties.

158 Acre Farm, near Kirkwood Station, $10,000.
74 Acre Farm, near Stanton, $10,000.
68 Acre Farm, suitable for fruit and chickens, $4,000.
146 Acre Farm, near Townsend, unimproved, $4,500.
125 Acre Farm, near Bear Station, $14,500.

The Most Thrilling and Exciting Story Ever Filmed

"The Son of Tarzan"

The Most Unusual
Love Story Ever Told

Begins Tomorrow Night

From the Heart of Mysterious Africa

The Son of Tarzan

NEWARK OPERA HOUSE

Episode No. 1

In the heart of the African jungle a group of blacks were gathered around a camp fire. One of them was telling the story of Tarzan of the Apes, of how Lord and Lady Greystoke were washed ashore from a wreck and after the birth of a son were both killed by an ape who desired the baby for his mate, Kala, a she ape.

He told how the boy grew up in the jungle and because of his strength and skill became ruler of the tribe, of how he was found by his people and persuaded to assume his rightful position as Lord Greystoke, married Jane Porter and settled down in England.

"The Son of Tarzan" opens in the self-same African jungle. Ivan Paulvitch, an enemy of Tarzan's, is rescued by the crew of a sailing ship and returns to London taking with him Akut, the Ape who had been Tarzan's constant companion in the jungle. He trains Akut for the vaudeville stage. Tarzan has a son now about 16 years of age who having inherited his father's love for the jungle, reads and learns everything he can about it.

The boy steals out at night to the music hall to see the Ape and between them a strange attraction develops. In the attempt to separate them a riot develops which is quelled only by the appearance of the father who recognizes Akut and calms him. The boy visits the ape at the lodgings of Paulvitch. Lord Greystoke not recognizing his enemy, arranges with him to take the ape back to the jungle. Paulvitch desiring vengeance, plots to kill the son, letting the father believe that the Ape had done the deed.

On his second visit the lad is seized and thrown violently to the floor where after a long drawn out struggle he is choked into insensibility while the Ape chained to the wall struggles until he finally breaks his bonds and goes to the rescue of the boy who has befriended him.

SOY BEAN EXPERIMENT SHOWS SATISFACTORY RESULTS

Is Unequalled as Supplement to Silage and to Improve Soil

What will soy beans yield and under what conditions can they be grown, is a question which has been prominent in the minds of New Castle county farmers during recent years. Last spring the New Castle County Farm Bureau set out to at least partially answer these questions.

Several bushels of soy beans of the Wilson variety were secured from Delaware College. These beans were distributed among twelve farmers in various parts of the county who had expressed their willingness to conduct a demonstration. The following is the result of the demonstration on which data has been secured, showing name, community, type of soil, acreage, rate of seeding, and yield:

H. L. Dilworth, Centerville, rolling clay loam, one-half acre, 4 bu., 3 1/2 tons hay.

C. P. Dickey, Stanton, heavy clay, 1 acre, 1 bu., 3 tons hay.

W. C. Maclary, Newport, low clay loam, 1 acre, 1 bu., 4 qts. millet; 4 tons hay.

H. Deakne, Deakneville, heavy low clay, 1 acre, 1 bu., 1 1/2 tons hay.

J. D. Reynolds, Townsend, gravel clay, 1 acre, 1 bu., 3 tons hay.

Robt. Walker, Hockessin, clay loam, supplement silage corn with satisfactory results.

Eugene Deakne, Deakneville, clay loam, soil improving crop with satisfactory results.

In most cases the demonstration was conducted on practically the poorest soil on the farm, but in spite of that fact, some marked yields were obtained. If soy beans were cultivated as are other crops and fertilizer used, it is difficult to estimate the yield that might be grown.

Mr. Maclary reports that the growing of millet increases his tonnage and aids in curing the hay. Every demonstrator reports splendid results from feeding the hay to farm animals and it is especially commended as a roughage for dairy cattle.

It is regretted that it was not possible to harvest some of the plots for seed through the use of the new bean huller now on the market. Where it has been used in Sussex county it is reported to be about 75 per cent efficient and a great labor saver. With the perfecting of this machine the growing of soy beans both for hay and seed will become an established industry in Delaware.

As a crop to supplement silage and as a soil improving crop, Messrs. Walker and Deakne state that it exceeds any crop grown on their farms.

MANY ATTEND CORN SHOW IN THE ARMORY

Two Hundred Guests Enjoy Luncheon at Old College

Farmers from this vicinity in great numbers, also those interested in farm activities as well as many from the neighboring communities in Delaware and Maryland, visited and enjoyed the Corn Show last week at the Armory.

One hundred and sixty-two exhibits were placed on long tables running the full length of the building. Small grains and forage were arranged in the southeast end. All day interested onlookers passed up and down along the tables admiring and comparing the exhibits. None envied the judge, A. E. Grantham, formerly agronomist at the college, now connected with the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Co. at Richmond, the task of awarding the honors.

One of the noteworthy features of the affair was the interest displayed by the young club members who were exhibitors, and their scientific knowledge of what constitutes good corn. A comparison of their conversation concerning the relative merits of the exhibits with that of the fairly successful "hit or miss" farmer was an eloquent commentary on the value of club work and its probable effect on farm yields of the future.

J. T. Shallcross, of Middletown carried off most of the high honors, winning the sweepstakes for the best 20 ears, the best 10 ears, and the best single ear.

Another of the notable features of the week was the joint luncheon held on Thursday when the Corn Growers' Association, the Holstein-Friesian Association and the Boys' and Girls' Club members together with the officials managing the events of the week dined at the Commons. Many dairymen and veterinarians were also present not only from this State but from the neighboring states.

Two hundred or more farmers, especially those interested in dairy problems, representatives of the State Board of Agriculture and many prominent men of the State were present to hear D. D. Aitken of Flint, Michigan, president of the Holstein-Friesian Association. Judge Daniel O. Hastings, president of the Delaware Association, presided. In the absence of Dr. Walter Hullen, president of Delaware College, Dean C. A. McCue welcomed the visitors. General Alden R. Benson, president of the State Board of Agriculture who was also unable to be present, sent a letter which was read by Wesley Webb, secretary of the Board. It contained the following recommendations:

1. Abolish the Livestock Sanitary Board.
2. Abolish the State Board of Immigration.
3. State Board should be empowered to employ veterinarian whenever and wherever needed.
4. Equip board with all scientific information available that would be helpful to food producers in fighting fungus, insects and germ disease; also all information for growing, handling and marketing crops.
5. Refuse to allow any department of food production to be made the subject of State charity.
6. All State agricultural activities should be consolidated in the State Board of Agriculture other than the Delaware State Agricultural College, with powers to enforce its rulings.
7. Bureau of Markets to help the farmer sell his products and to buy his supplies and to protect the land buyers by giving him information that will be a safe guide to him in making his purchase.
8. Continuation of the present State Board with the addition of a practical farmer from each county.

Mr. Aitken followed Mr. Webb and said in part:

"I want first, to congratulate you people of little Delaware, less than one of our counties in size and one-quarter of one of our counties in population, but the opportunities you have here are not excelled anywhere under the sun, and it is really up to you people to make good. It is up to you to apologize in Delaware, if you do not make a success of the animal industry where you have the market at your door and where you have everything in your favor. I wish it would be possible to make you appreciate and realize and understand the importance of these advantages.

"I sometimes think if we could only state our case in this great effort of feeding the public it would be the greatest thing in the world for us. We have been sympathized with as tillers of the soil until it has gotten on our nerves. The tiller of the soil or those engaged in animal husbandry do not want sympathy. Our industry and occupation is just as honorable as any in the land and we are not objects of pity. What I would like on the part of the Federal and State Government is an opportunity to work out our salvation unhampered by any restrictions of any kind, because if our industry is not worth while then let it perish from the face of the earth. There is no reason why the producers of food should be subject to restriction any more than any other producer, but I want to say to you friends we have not demonstrated very much sense in our policy in the years that have passed. We have looked and expected and hoped for assistance in working out these problems and consequently we have not made any special effort ourselves."

Mr. Aitken referred to the large gifts made by one man to improve educational conditions in Delaware and especially the rural sections. It was up to the people, he said, to take advantage of the great opportunities which these gifts present.

Dairy Cow Future Hope of Delaware Soil

Continuing, he said:

"It is not so much what we do. It is what we do in proportion to the opportunities that are afforded, so you people of Delaware are going to have a good deal to answer for in this development of the soil. You have a great institution here. You have only a reasonable acreage to be improved, and I want to say to you friends, there is a great opportunity for improvement in Delaware. I have been going back and forth the length of this State for a good many years. I was in Washington in 1892, and went back and forth from Washington to New York, and I got the wrong impression of Delaware. The only thing that really appealed to me going through Delaware was what pride they took in whitewashing their buildings. I did not see very many silos in Delaware. Do you suppose that any of your factories in Wilmington where they make money would be conducted without some adjunct that was essential to low cost of production as a silo is to dairy production? Not at all. I am getting so I can look at these things from rather a broad viewpoint because I try to take into consideration really what we are. There is no contest between the people of the city and the people of the country. They are all trying to work out their own salvation. Everyone worth while is trying to improve his condition, and the fellow who does not work when he is able to work is no good on earth, no matter where he lives, because he is not pulling his own weight in this great problem.

"It is up to you to determine just what is the best part of agriculture and animal industry for the people of Delaware, and I want to say that the salvation and future hope of the soil of Delaware is the dairy cow."

During the afternoon the Holstein-Friesian Association elected these directors for the next year: H. F. du Pont, of Winterhur; Judge Daniel O. Hastings, of Wilmington; Harry Clark, of Kenton; J. D. Reynolds, of Middletown, and J. Irvin Dayett, of Cooch's.

The Corn Growers' Association elected the following officers for the next year: President, John Ponder, of Milton; vice-president, Roswell Schaffer, of New Castle, for New Castle county; R. W. Willey, of Dover, for Kent county, and Norvel Pepper, of Delmar, for Sussex county; secretary and treasurer, M. O. Pence, of Newark.

BROTHER AND SISTER CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARIES

On Thursday afternoon, December 30th, Malcolm and Dorothy Armstrong jointly celebrated their birthdays by entertaining sixteen boys and girls at a jolly party.

Malcolm attained his thirteenth anniversary and Dorothy her eleventh. Games were played, among them a peanut hunt in which Miss Jane Miller received the prize. After a happy social hour, the young folk chose partners for a march to the dining-room, which was gaily decorated with holiday colors, red and green.

SOCIAL NOTES

Mrs. J. Pearce Cann entertained the Tuesday Night Bridge Club last night.

Mrs. T. F. Manns entertained a number of friends at a "500" party on Thursday evening at her home on Park Place. Five tables participated and enjoyed a jolly social evening.

Mrs. C. O. Houghton entertained a few friends very delightfully at cards on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Stella Campbell entertained a number of her friends and neighbors last Thursday evening at her home on South College Avenue.

Mrs. George W. Rhodes entertained a number of friends at a sewing party on Friday afternoon. A delightful social hour was spent and refreshments served.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Brown celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary last evening by entertaining a number of their relatives and friends. The couple received congratulations and good wishes for many anniversaries. A number of beautiful presents was received.

A good line of SATIN HATS just received at M. Pennington's Millinery Store on Main Street. You are cordially invited to call and see them.

WILL VOTE ON BOND ISSUE IN JANUARY

County Board Adopts Resolutions Incorporating Building Program

The New Castle County Board of Education met last Friday in the County Building and adopted resolutions providing for a bond issue of $1,000,000. The question will be submitted to the taxpayers of the county outside of the city of Wilmington and the special districts some time early in January.

Under the State law each voter may cast a vote for every dollar of taxes he or she is assessed. The resolutions adopted are as follows:

Whereas, The current income of the County Board of Education is inadequate to provide ample, appropriate and suitable grounds, buildings and equipment for the public schools, located in New Castle county, and for this purpose the sum of one million dollars is necessary.

Whereas, The sum of one million dollars is not greater than five per cent of the assessed value of real estate in New Castle county, outside of the special districts, and there are not other similar bonds outstanding, and

Whereas, Wilbur H. Jump, the superintendent of schools, New Castle county, has filed with this board his recommendation that the board should issue bonds on the credit of New Castle county, exclusive of the special districts, in the sum of one million dollars, therefore be it Resolved, That the County Board of Education for New Castle county, Delaware, do issue bonds in conformity with the provisions of the Delaware school law of 1920, on the credit of New Castle county, exclusive of the special districts, provided for and designated in the Delaware school law, to the amount of one million dollars. The funds derived from the sale of such bonds to be used only to provide or purchase new grounds, new buildings, or new permanent equipment for the schools to be located at or in the vicinity of Rose Hill, Richardson Park, Middletown, Marshallton, Delaware City, Newport, Elsmere, Townsend, Mount Pleasant, No. 1, Odessa, Edge Moor, Hockessin, Yorklyn and to provide for the rebuildings and the supplying with permanent equipment of the following one and two-room schools, or the building of consolidated schools, as shall hereafter be determined in accordance with the law, insofar as the funds shall be adequate: Walker's, Deakynville, Taylor's Bridge, Oak Hill, Levels, Patterson, Port Penn, Hickory Grove, Jamison's Corner, Mount Pleasant, No. 63, Kirkwood, Howell's, Glasgow, Pleasant Valley, McClellandville, Milford X Roads, Hillside, Union, North Star, Fairview, Stanton, Christiana, Hare's Corner, State Road, Eden, Red Lion, Augustine Mills, Forwood, Hanby's Corner, Eight Square, Sharpley, Point Breeze, Clinton, Mount Airy, Centerville, Rockland and Montchamin.

People's Column

Newark, Del., January 5, 1921. To the Citizens of Newark:

Some two weeks ago Mayor Frazer was appointed by Mr. H. P. Scott, chairman of the Hoover Relief for Delaware, to conduct a movement looking to the raising of funds in Newark to aid in this great relief work. Mr. Frazer being sick at the time, asked me to act for him. I declined further than to ask the pastors of the several churches to present the matter to their congregations, which, I believe they did, but no effort was made in the community to collect, and no opportunity given our citizens to contribute to a Newark fund, to express in a civic sense, the sympathy of a whole community for these destitute children. Both Mr. Frazer and myself regret this situation now, and would remedy it as far as possible by stating that both of the banks, Mr. Frazer and myself will be glad to receive any offerings you may desire to make to this fund, and that it all reaches the Delaware agency to the credit of yourselves and of Newark. I know that some have already sent their check in to the treasurer at Wilmington, but in view of the fact that many towns of the State have made a splendid showing, I have hopes that Newark may respond in this matter as she always has in the past to the call for help. It is not my purpose here to go into the merits or demerits of the case. The press, the pulpit, and great magazines of the nation have all told the story of starvation among three and a half million little children. It is a matter of conscience with each one of us whether we live to ourselves alone, but I think the next meal will taste better, the next night's sleep be more restful, the next look into our hearts will show a clearer reflection of our real selves when we can say, "what I have done may save a life and alleviate some great sorrow," and carry with it the knowledge that in some measure we have performed a duty.

Resolved, That this resolution be spread in full upon the parish records and that copies be sent to Mr. Haupt, the daily newspapers in Wilmington, and the weekly newspapers in Newark.

RESOLUTIONS OF REGRET

Newark, Del., January 3, 1921.

Whereas, The Rector, Rev. Walter G. Haupt, has resigned as Rector of St. Thomas's parish in order that he may engage in educational work in Washington, D. C., and

Whereas, Mr. Haupt has made it clear that his decision to leave this parish is irrevocable, therefore be it

Resolved, by us, the Wardens and Vestrymen of St. Thomas P. E. Parish, that we express in behalf of ourselves and of the other parishioners, regret that the relations which have existed for seven years between him, his estimable wife and the people of this parish are to be severed, and be it further

Resolved, That we acknowledge with gratitude the faithful, untiring and unceasing efforts of Mr. Haupt to advance the interests of our parish and those of the Kingdom of God in our community; that we recognize with appreciation, the great constructive work the pastor and his wife have done since they have been here, and be it further

Resolved, That in accepting Mr. Haupt's resignation as Rector, to have effect at the close of the present month, Sexagesima Sunday, January 30, we wish him and his devoted wife all possible success in the new field of effort which is to receive them, and be it further

Resolved, That this resolution be spread in full upon the parish records and that copies be sent to Mr. Haupt, the daily newspapers in Wilmington, and the weekly newspapers in Newark.

TEMPER NOT A MISFORTUNE BUT AN ASSET

"I'm simply discouraged about myself. I think I've got rid of my temper and then all at once it flashes out again. I don't believe Margaret Fay ever knew what it was to get angry. You can't think how I envy her."

Ellen's lips quivered as she spoke, and her chest heaved. It was clear that she meant every word. And yet the fact that she had been born with a temper was not such a misfortune as she supposed. Temper means spirit. The colt that plunges and jumps and rolls its eyes and makes free with its heels is likely to be more valuable than the colt that is perfectly docile and even before its training begins, will stand without hitching. The one has spirit, the other lacks it. Excessive spirit can be controlled, but there is no way of making up for the lack of spirit.

Temper is not a misfortune but an asset. But of course temper must be controlled. Electricity is one of man's most valuable servants, but when it runs wild in the lightning bolt, it works disaster. The people to be pitied are the ones of whom we say that they do not seem to know how to get angry. They are slow, dull, unresponsive. The quick-tempered person is quick in other ways, in his thinking, in his response to his environment.

EVERY EVENING IN 1921

Long recognized as Delaware's leading newspaper, not only at home but throughout the country, Every Evening's plans for the New Year aim to make the paper more than ever an integral part of the daily life of all Delawareans.

A new mechanical equipment and larger and more commodious quarters, now being constructed, will give Every Evening one of the most complete and modern newspaper plants in the country. Every Evening's reputation for printing the news of the day without color and without bias is well-known and appreciated by its thousands of readers. Its slogan is "The News and the Truth About It." Flaming headlines and attempts at sensationalism find no place in its columns.

Here are some of the exclusive features which make Every Evening a real newspaper and which contribute to its prestige and enlarge its sphere of influence and usefulness among the intelligent class of people in the community which it serves:

- The Associated Press, by Special Wire.
- The Haskin Letter, by Fred. J. Haskin, of Washington, D. C.
- Dorothy Dix, the highest paid woman writer in the country.
- A Daily Short Story, by Marion Rubencame.
- The Girl on the Job, by Jessie Roberts.
- The Sandman Story, for the Young Folks.
- The Daily Economy Calendar, for the Housewife.
- Good Housekeeping, by Laura Kirkman.
- Little Benny's Note Book, by Lee Pape.
- The Letters of Tessie and Joe.
- Toots and Casper, a daily Comic.
- Walt Mason's Rhymes, Eddie Guest's Daily Poems, and others.

Every Evening will, as usual, have two staff correspondents at the coming session of the State Legislature, in Dover, and its daily reports will be complete and dependable.

THE SECRET OF "GETTING ALONG" WITH OTHERS

Wise Woman Advises Adherence to Five Simple Rules

What is the matter with those who never appear to be able to make friends and who do not seem able to "get on" with others. This type of person is not uncommon. There must be a reason for this. There is. It is not hard to discover. Usually it is a matter of disposition, of temperament. Often it is purely a matter of the control of the tongue. A mother once said to her daughter:

"Oh, Mary! You would have so many more friends that you now have if you would put a bridle on your tongue. It says so many things that are better unspoken."

Proper tongue control is a needed remedy when one does not "get on" easily with others. How shall the tongue be controlled? There is one girl who in her work is eager to "get on" with all kinds and conditions of people who decided to put wise control upon her tongue by rigidly adhering to these rules:

"I will not be provoking, if I know it."

"I will not be provoked, if I can help it; or if I am, I will not speak until I have thought it over, putting myself in the other person's place."

"I will pass over small offenses and small annoyances without fear or comment."

"I will not insist on my way because it is my way. If the other person's way is about as good, I will take it."

"I will say what I think, and then drop the subject, especially if it seems likely to cause discussion."

Only strong, self-controlled people can adopt this excellent way of "getting on" with others. It is a way that requires great generosity of spirit and a firm hold on one's tongue, but is nobly worth striving for. Those who do not "get on" with others are almost invariably easily provoked. The art of "getting on" with others is one of the finest arts in the world and those who acquire it help to preserve the balance of the world in a splendid way.

THE VASTNESS OF HUMAN IGNORANCE

One of the most impressive spiritual facts of the opening twentieth century is the vastness of human ignorance. For, just because mankind as a whole has learned so much, man as an individual has so much to learn; and we have so greatly widened the limits of our collective knowledge that each of us finds it difficult to get any common measure of the information of others. In this confusion and chaos of possible intellectual acquirement the chief masterful assertion of the intelligence is to recognize how limited and incompetent it is. Stupidity believes it knows, triumphantly proclaims it knows, acts with wild, blind fury on the boundless ignorance that it mistakes for knowledge. Intelligence is cautious, quiet, looks in front, behind and about, before it takes a step, admits that every day it is learning new views, seeing new lights, modifying old convictions, cannot and will not act until it gets some idea of the full bearing of its action.

Intelligence goes further and reaches its greatest achievement in transforming ignorance into mystery. The difference between the two is not a difference of fact but of attitude. Ignorance is hateful, painful, tormenting. Mystery is one of the most beautiful things in the world. Instead of rebelling against our universal ignorance, of crying out for final, instantaneous, clear-cut truth, we must learn to enjoy the perpetually renewed wonder of life. We must be on the watch for the sweet surprises that await us daily. New secrets are being unveiled about us. New, strange resources of the natural world, new hidden powers of the spirit, spring up constantly to refresh and rejoice us. Columbus and the great explorers of the sixteenth century discovered oceans and continents, but there are deeper oceans and wider continents to be traversed in the unsearched regions of the soul.

And as the aesthetic correlative of mystery is wonder, so the spiritual correlative is reverence. Once show us how ignorant we are, and we must be humble. Make us feel that with our greatest effort we can but touch the hem of Truth's garment, and our souls must be purified and simplified.

In the face of mystery we must drop our vain conceit and self-assertion and be ready to look, listen and learn, even as little children.—Youth's Companion.

A YEAR (By Frances C. Hamlet)

A year is like a loaf of bread,
All fresh and fair and new
With every day a little slice
From off that loaf for you;

And sprinkled sometimes through the loaf,
To make the flavor good,
Are raisins—holidays that come
Exactly as they should.

The year is like a loaf of bread,
So fresh and new and fair,
And when it's nibbled all away
Another waits you there!

SEE THAT CHIMNEYS ARE PROPERLY CONSTRUCTED

With the resumption of building which will undoubtedly take place in the spring, will come the responsibility to many of planning the house to secure the maximum of comfort and convenience at a minimum cost. The matter of safety for one's own property and that of the neighbors should not, however, be overlooked.

A summary of the various causes of fire shows that those attributable to chimneys annually amount to from 10 to 26 per cent of the total number, while in winter the percentage has reached as high as 50. This is significant when it is realized that most of these fires result from carelessness and could be avoided by proper attention.

In cities and towns with proper fire protection many fires are arrested without serious loss. It is evident that in rural districts where there are no organized fire-fighting agencies, and where a fire usually results in a total loss, builders should give more attention to making the construction of all new chimneys as nearly fire-proof as possible.

"THE PLEASURE OF YOUR COMPANY IS REQUESTED"

"The pleasure of your company is requested" is the way the invitation reads. But it does not always happen that your company is pleasing. Yet no one has a right to accept such an invitation who is not pretty sure of being able to give pleasure as well as to get it.

We think a great deal about our dress when we go into a company to which we have received a formal invitation. But important as it is that we should look our best, it matters a great deal more that the spirit should be in holiday attire. The young people who go into company in an unresponsive mood, who have nothing particular to say, who are self-conscious, casting shy glances this way and that to see how their apparel compares with that of others present, add little to the joyousness of the occasion.

If the pleasure of your company is to be real, go expecting to enjoy yourselves. The people who accept invitations because they cannot think of any satisfactory excuse for staying away, make dreary guests. Go anticipating pleasure and you are pretty sure to give it. Every hostess welcomes the guest with a radiant face.

If the pleasure of your company is to be more than an empty phrase, enter heartily into the entertainment provided. The hostess whose guests do not feel like doing anything she suggests, has a hard time. You may not care particularly for music, but that does not excuse you for looking bored, or still less for whispering when someone is singing. You may not enjoy charades but if that is the entertainment of the evening, enter into it as if there were nothing you liked better.

"The pleasure of your company!" Justify the trusting faith of the one who gives the invitation. Do not go to be a wet blanket, or a dead weight. Do not go to be a wall flower. Make up your mind that since the pleasure of your company is requested, it shall be a real pleasure.

WRAPPING APPLES IN OILED PAPER PREVENTS SCALD

Wrapping apples in oiled paper has been found to prevent apple scald, a cause of heavy loss during storage and transportation. As a result of investigations by the United States Department of Agriculture, a great many of the fancy packed apples are likely to go out next year in oiled instead of plain wrappers.

Scald, department specialists have discovered, is caused by gases given off by the apples themselves. The gases contribute to the flavor of the apple and recently were segregated and identified by department chemists, who even went so far as to build up a synthetic apple odor from chemicals obtained from outside sources. Pending practical use of this discovery, which is attracting scientific attention both here and abroad, the specialists of the Bureau of Plant Industry have applied the distilled chemicals to apples and checked up on their theory as to the cause of scald.

Scald, it has been found, can be entirely prevented by storing apples in oiled (not waxed) wrappers. A good quality of oiled wrapper can be prepared by hand, but the cost of labor is too great. The oiled paper on the market in 1920 had been prepared for other purposes and was too heavy for convenient use, but manufacturers are now preparing lighter weight oiled papers for the 1921 crop.

Ventilation has also been proven to be a remedy for apple scald, but it has been found extremely difficult to secure under commercial cold-storage conditions.

CHRISTMAS ENTERTAINMENT AT STANTON

The Stanton School held a Christmas entertainment Wednesday evening the Friends' meeting house. There were beautiful Christmas decorations, and the following program was furnished:

ARITHMETIC

He's teaching her arithmetic.
He said that was his mission,
He kissed her once, he kissed her twice,
And said, "Now, that's addition."

And as he added smack by smack
In silent satisfaction,
She sweetly gave him kisses back,
And said, "Now, that's subtraction."

Then he kissed her and she kissed him,
Without any exclamation,
Then both together smile and said
"Now, that is multiplication."

But dad appeared upon the scene
And made a quick decision:
He kicked the lad three blocks away,
And said, "That's long division."

ACCIDENTS

In the literal sense an accident is something that befalls anyone, and it may be an event of good fortune or of bad. We often speak of a "lucky accident." But unless the adjective lucky is applied, the word accident is accepted as denoting misfortune. A large part of human life and thought and energy is devoted to guarding against accidents and to reducing the possibility of their occurrence.

Yet accidents, if they are not serious or costly, are often good things for people. It is the minor accidents, the totally unexpected and unwelcome occurrences, that strengthen character and that enable those who encounter them to meet other and more severe emergencies with fortitude and resourcefulness. And although they are inconvenient enough at the time, they usually afford material for interesting or amusing reminiscence, and they occasionally reveal sympathetic aspects of human nature. To the automobilist, for example, a tire puncture is a minor accident of the vexatious sort; amid the group of interested spectators that gathers in the city sidewalk to observe his efforts to cope with the situation there is always some one who is helpful if he needs help. As the minor accident in which you require help is likely to increase—temporarily at least—your confidence in human nature, so does the minor accident in which you have to manage without help often result in an increased confidence in yourself.

The person who has come to look upon minor accidents philosophically and to accept them serenely and without grumbling has not only learned a good deal of wisdom but is a comfortable sort of person to live with.

Nearly 5000 Licenses

Issued in a Year

During the year 1920 the clerk of the court of Cecil county issued 4623 marriage licenses, the largest number ever issued there in one year. Although the license fee had been raised from one dollar to two dollars it made no difference in the number of applicants. Only nine licenses were granted the day before Christmas as against thirty-one on the corresponding day of 1919. Prior to December the number of applicants for marriage licenses had been greater than the corresponding months of the year before. The falling off during December was noticeable. About 85 percent of those securing licenses to marry last year came from the states of Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, although there were applicants from nearly every state in the Union.

The law governing the issuance of marriage licenses was amended by the Legislature last winter. Couples not personally known to the clerk of the court must now apply in person. The groom must be 21 years of age and the bride must be at least 18 years of age. They are required to take an oath in regard to their age. Many couples are refused marriage licenses because of their age not meeting the requirements of the law.

Pennsylvania Gives Passes on Graduated Scale

Employees of the Pennsylvania Railroad received passes for 1921 according to the number of years of service.

After three years in the employ of the company, a division pass is given, that is, for travel on the division on which he works.

When he has worked eight years for the company, he receives a division pass for his wife. After ten years' service, he is eligible for a general superintendent's pass for himself and wife. This is a grand division pass.

After fifteen years' service he is granted a regional pass for himself and wife. In the East, this pass is good east of Altoona. Twenty years' service entitles him to a pass for self and wife over all lines east of Buffalo and Pittsburgh.

Finally, after thirty years' service, he is given a system pass for himself and wife. This, as its name implies, is good all over the Pennsylvania system.

The conditions above apply to the average trainman, clerk or mechanic. Various classes are formed whereby other unskilled men receive passes after a required number of years.

Prohibition a Success in Delaware

The year 1920 was a success, so far as prohibition is concerned, according to opinions expressed by W. Truxton Boyce, Prohibition Commissioner for Delaware, and several enforcement agents. "We know the state is not bone dry," Mr. Boyce said, "but we also know that it is not flooded."

He referred to the number of prisoners in the workhouse, the population of the place having decreased one-third during the past year.

APPLETON GRANGE ELECTS OFFICERS

The annual election of officers Appleton Grange, held Wednesday night, was one of the most spirited elections in the history of the grange and resulted as follows:

Master, J. H. Knode; overseer, Bert Willis; lecturer, Edith Robinson; steward, Lawrence Hobson; assistant steward, Elwood Zebley, Jr.; chaplain, Hosea R. Smith; treasurer, W. T. Lofland; secretary, Evelyn Kimble; gatekeeper, Harry Peterson; cures, Lydia Foard; flora, Lillian Russell; pomona, Matilda Moore, and lady assistant steward, Edith Zebley.

Richard Croker said at a dinner in New York:

"The more money a man gets together the less his young relatives care for him. One day in Fifth Avenue I said to a young clubman:

"I hear your rich uncle, Gobsa Golde, is dead. What was the complaint?"

"The young clubman gave a loud, hard laugh.

"None," said he. "Everybody was satisfied."

PILGRIM POSTAGE STAMPS NOW ON SALE

Pilgrim postage stamps are now on sale in the post offices. They are of three denominations, 1, 2 and 5 cents and have been engraved by the government in commemoration of the 300th anniversary of the landing on Plymouth rock.

According to experts the Pilgrim stamps aren't even pretty. The 1-cent shows a picture of a vivid green Mayflower under full sail on a green sea. The 2-cent stamp depicts the landing of the Pilgrims on a carmine rock, and the 5-cent carries an engraving entitled "Signing the Compact." The 5-cent stamp is as blue as a blue law.

At the top of each of the stamps are the numerals "1620" and "1920," but aside from the figures "1," "2" and "5" there is nothing on the stamps to indicate that they are stamps at all.

From the first government stamp issue until the most recent, United States stamps have had the phrase "U. S. Postage," or "United States Postage" engraved on them. Just why such official designation has been omitted from the Pilgrim series nobody

Smyrna to Vote on Bond Issue

Residents of Smyrna will vote on January 8 to decide whether the town shall issue $65,000 in bonds for school improvements. If the affirmative carries, the town will receive $100,000 from the Delaware School Auxiliary Association. The total sum would be used for enlarging and otherwise bettering the public school buildings and their surroundings. The conditions are similar to those which have lately been accepted by Lewes, Laurel and Newark.

Anybody's Match

F. H. La Guardia, former congressman from New York, said at a banquet:

"The Italian immigrant as soon as he masters the language is a match for anybody.

"A group of husky young Italians were digging in a ditch the other day, when a chap in a flivver went by slowly. He had a young lady with him, and—to show off, you know—he yelled down the ditch:

"Hey, where's your monkey?"

"Quick as a flash the brawny Genovese yelled back:

"We give him a day off, mister, and he took his girl out joyridin' in a second-hand car."—Washington Star.

SHOWS ADVANCE IN EDUCATION UNDER NEW SCHOOL LAW

Commissioner's Report Tells of Improved Conditions in State

In a report transmitted by Commissioner of Education, A. R. Spaid to George B. Miller, President of the State Board of Education last week, is a record of the progress made by Delaware schools under the new law for the school year ending June 30, 1920. Attention is called to the fact that the State has been handicapped in her building program because of the high cost of materials and of labor.

Attendance Greatly Improved

"Supervision of rural schools" the report states, "has improved school attendance under the new attendance law which gives each county an attendance officer."

With the medical inspection of school children the report continues, "the organization of the teachers into a state-wide association, with commencement projects, declamation contests, plans for athletic meets and the organization of community centers, with well supervised vocational education in the high schools, with adequate State support for the State high schools and standard State diplomas, and a continued interest in the Junior Red Cross work, it may be said that Delaware has made a fair beginning."

The Act of 1919 increased the minimum school year of 140 days to 180 days and the minimum compulsory attendance period from 60 to 180 days. It also made it possible to force children between 14 to 16 years of age to attend school at least 100 days. The result based upon the average number of days attended, although disappointing, shows a marked increase over the two previous years.

Comments on Medical and Dental Work

Commenting on the fine headway made in medical inspection, the report says: "Under the School Laws, it is the duty of the State Board of Education to encourage medical inspection of school children and permission is granted under the law to boards of education to introduce medical inspection." Continuing, the report tells of the difficulties encountered in establishing a system of medical inspection because there is no State appropriation for the purpose. By cooperation of the Red Cross, and the Child Welfare department the problem was solved.

Dental work, under a plan prepared by Dr. Osineup, is being conducted as follows: "One dental operator and two hygienists are to be employed. Their duties will be to deliver lectures to the children and to any interested organization." They will go from school to school throughout the entire State, demonstrating the need and comfort derived from teeth in proper condition. Only in cases where the parents obviously cannot afford a private dentist the dental operator employed will do all the necessary work."

Teachers' Salaries and Teacher Training

Speaking of the difficulty of obtaining properly qualified school teachers, the report calls attention to the inadequate facilities of the State for training teachers and the low salaries paid them, mentioning the fact that "while 25 young women were taking the teacher-training course in the State of Delaware last year, at least 1800 young people, largely from Delaware, were drawn from almost every school district in the State, with the expectation that, after having spent from eight to ten months in completing their preparation for positions in business houses, they would secure positions immediately after graduation at salaries ranging from $900 to $1200 per annum, while the 25 young people in the teacher training class at Women's College may not expect at the completion of a two-year course to receive as much salary by two or three hundred dollars."

"Is it any wonder then that school districts are not turning out candidates for the teaching profession" is asked. "Is it not also true in spite of what the critics say that our public schools must be doing fairly good work or it would not be possible for 1500 or 2000 students annually to crowd into the business schools in the city of Wilmington for special training which in most instances can be completed in less than a year's time?"

"Why Delaware ranks low in education" is the title of an interesting section of the report. Delaware's rank is figured as thirty-eighth in 1918, but conditions have so improved under the code in 1920 it is believed Delaware will not now rank lower than thirtieth.

The question of properly financing the school system, the importation of dependent children, vocational education, etc., are exhaustively treated in the report. "Few states, if any, have made greater progress in vocational education than Delaware since the adoption of the Smith-Hughes act in 1917, largely through the financial support of the Service Citizens."

CLIPPINGS FROM FARM NEWS

Plant trees in farm gullies to gain the double advantage of stopping erosion and of providing valuable timber. In some parts of the country the locust tree, which furnishes one of the most durable woods for fence posts, is an excellent tree to plant for both purposes. In other regions the native short-leaf pine is recommended. Both grow rapidly, and in a few years either will form a complete protective cover for the gully, besides being valuable for its wood.

Out of 753 farmers owning motor trucks in 11 Eastern states who answered a recent query of the United States Department of Agriculture, 95 per cent said they believed the use of trucks would show a profit. Preference leaned toward a one-ton truck. Bad roads constituted the principal drawback mentioned.

The attitude of the American Farm Bureau Federation toward the commercial activities of the county and state organizations was set forth as follows at a recent Chicago executive meeting:

"The Farm Bureau, as an organization, shall not engage in commercial activities, nor shall it hold stocks or bonds in organizations undertaking such activities. It may encourage, however, the organization of such activities or industries as may seem necessary and advisable to the board of directors."

A good dairy ration based on the present prices of feeds, having in mind bulk, palatability and cheapness is as follows:

300 lbs. Hominy feed or corn meal; 200 lbs wheat bran; 300 lbs ground oats; 200 lbs cottonseed meal.

In the above mixture linseed oil meal might well be substituted for cottonseed meal when no silage is fed. The above ration, which is a home grown mixture, should be purchased at a cost of less than $50 per ton.

PROTHONOTARY-ELECT APPOINTS DEPUTY

Announcement was made last week by Harvey Hoeffcker, prothonotary-elect, of his appointment of Arthur C. Gamble of Newport, as his deputy. George R. McDougall, of Marshalltown, and H. Vincent Bell, of Wilmington, clerks in his office.

NEWARK HIGH PUTS UP PLUCKY FIGHT WITH SALESIANUM

After a plucky fight the Newark High School basketball team lost to Salesianum High School five of Wilmington last Thursday evening in Brownson hall by a score of 39 to 18.

Hopkins was the leading point scorer for the local aggregation, having 3 field goals to his credit. Evans played a consistently good game and made 2 field goals. Smith made a record by shooting 4 foul goals.

Lovell, captain of the Salesianum five, was the high point scorer for his team, dropping in 8 from the field. Quinn was a close second with 7 to his credit. The lineup and score:
