Farmers Advised To Rely More On Wives In Business Partnership To Aid Profit

The farmer's wife—a legal and financial partner—is too often overlooked when it comes to managing that farm business, says W. T. McAllister, farm management specialist at the University of Delaware. The wife's qualities of accuracy, patience and perseverance could well be used to increase efficiency and keep tabs on farm operations, McAllister says.

By devoting two or three hours a day to overseeing bookwork of the farm, many farm wives have proved to be invaluable assets. In addition to being bookkeepers, wives also serve as secretaries and information specialists by writing letters, ordering parts, and scanning magazines and bulletins for new ideas.

Modern farming is no longer a small business. Farms of today are growing to be $100,000 businesses with gross incomes of $40,000, and McAllister predicts that they will become even larger in the future.

Every farm should have an office which includes a desk, typewriter, adding machine, telephone, fire-proof file and good lighting, McAllister says. He notes that investment in a farm office is a business expense and is deductible from the farmer's taxable income.

"Your wife is more than housekeeper and baby sitter," the specialist states, "so give her the opportunity to become a working partner."

Catholic Students Plan Conference At Newman House

Some 200 Catholic college students are expected to attend the Newman Club provincial conference, at the University of Delaware, tomorrow through Sunday.

Delegates are expected from Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, and Washington, D.C., for the 43d annual conference of the Middle Atlantic Province.

It is the first time Delaware has been host. Vance A. Funk Jr., of Newark, a Delaware student, is province chairman. His successor and other officers will be elected at the meeting.

Keynote address will be given Saturday morning by Dr. Daniel P. Cogan of Brooklyn College.

The Rev. Michael W. Hyle, bishop of Wilmington, will attend the Saturday banquet.

The conference will end after an outdoor mass, weather permitting, at the Newman House, 57 West Park Place, and a communion breakfast.

Training In Management Scheduled On UD Campus

A one-day management training institute for purchasing agents, retail buyers and sales personnel will be held at the University of Delaware on Saturday, April 25.

Sponsored by the university's school of business and economics and the Wilmington Purchasing Agents Association, the institute will be devoted to "Negotiations in Purchasing and Selling."

Dr. Ruben V. Austin, dean of the school of business and economics, is coordinating program arrangements with C. R. Whitcomb, president of the Wilmington Purchasing Agents Association.

Dr. Blaine G. Schmidt will be program moderator.

Aerospace Research Grant Awarded Bircenall Study

The University of Delaware has received one of 112 research grants from the U. S. Air Force Office of Aerospace Research, for study in diffusion in crystals—research directed by Dr. C. E. Bircenall, professor of metallurgy.

Bircenall joined the Delaware faculty in 1960 from Princeton where he received his doctorate in 1946.

Working with the armed services is nothing new to Bircenall. In 1946, he was engaged by the Office of Naval Research, and later worked on crystal growth under direction of the Air Force Cambridge Research Laboratories.

Todd Estates Civic Group Plans For Spring Dance

A spring dance will be held by the Todd Estates Civic Association on Saturday, April 11, from 8 to 1 at the Armory in Newport, with a buffet dinner and door prizes.

Recent Association activities include a chartered bus trip to the circus at Philadelphia's Convention Hall, and an Easter egg hunt last Saturday at the Oglethorpe Junior High athletic field.

The Todd Estates Civic Association will meet this Monday at 8 p.m. in Brookside at the Colony Inn, with two films scheduled for last month's meeting, to be shown.

Singles Announces Jobs Offered In Civil Service

Woodrow W. Singles of the Newark Post Office has announced career opportunities in U. S. Government service, for contract specialists at annual salaries of $7,030 to $9,980, and for medical technologists, $4,690 to $8,410.

Applicants may obtain information and forms from Singles at the Center Annex Post Office.

ner in the business. Many times, education and office skills acquired before marriage are wasted on the potato peeler.

"Wives who understand cost of operations and upkeep and feel they are working as a member of the team, tend to have a better understanding of why 'we can't get the new rug this year,' but the business wife-partner might just get her new rug too," McAllister adds.

Making your farm an incorporated business is another step toward efficient management, he relates. When the farm family incorporates, husband and wife and other working members of the family can be put on the payroll; build up pension rights; and be entitled to accident and sickness benefits in the same way as any other corporation employee.

Furthermore, insurance carried on key members of the firm is deductible as a business expense, yet some of the benefits are not income taxable for the employee.

A publication, "Incorporating the Farm Business," is available from W. T. McAllister, Agricultural Hall, University of Delaware, Newark.

Coffee Flavors a Luxury Pie

Coffee-lovers will delight in this creamy-rich Coffee Velvet Pie, exquisitely flavored with instant quality coffee. The accompanying beverage is also instant quality coffee brewed in a carafe to bring out its full deep-bodied flavor.

Coffee Velvet Pie
3 tablespoons instant quality coffee
1 egg yolk
1 1/2 cups milk
1/2 cup cold water
1 envelope (1 tablespoon) unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup sugar

1 teaspoon vanilla
2 egg whites
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup heavy cream
1 baked 9-inch pie shell, cooled
Whipped cream

Combine instant coffee and egg yolks in saucepan. Gradually add milk and water, stirring constantly. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture coats spoon. (Do not boil.) Remove from heat. Pour over gelatin and 1/4 cup sugar and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Add vanilla. Chill until slightly thickened.

Beat egg whites with salt until foamy throughout. Add 1/4 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating after each addition until sugar is blended. Continue beating until mixture will form in peaks. Fold into gelatin mixture. Whip the cream; fold into egg white mixture. Pour into pie shell. Chill until firm. Garnish with whipped cream. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Extension Experts On Homemaking Address Students

Home economics extension work varies daily, home ec students at the University of Delaware were told last week by Mrs. Alice M. King, extension specialist.

Basically, the extension home economist teaches better methods of homemaking. She uses demonstrations, displays and discussions to present her message, and helps homemakers learn about research that helps them in their own homes.

Her teaching is usually done informally, and her ingenuity plays a large part in how well she succeeds.

One advantage that the extension home economist has is that her "students" are volunteers — women, and sometimes men — who come to meetings because they want to learn.

Her interesting, dynamic method of teaching is therefore as important as the information she teaches, Mrs. King said.

Although some weeks on the job may seem to require 10 days to accomplish everything, this is not always the case, said Janet Reed, extension clothing and textiles specialist.

She said that flexible working hours and freedom in scheduling and working methods are attractions found in few other jobs.

A four-year college program in home economics, with additional courses or experience in teaching, qualifies the graduate for county extension positions. Teaching helps you organize your time, said Coral K. Morris, extension specialist in home management. You learn to do things in your mind what has to be done, and teaching background helps you get it done.

The extension home economist is an employee of both a land grant college and the U.S. Department of Agriculture. While her job extends as far as the state or county, she also has the advantage of having the resources of other college faculty in keeping up with new developments.

Her responsibility to keep homemakers informed sometimes requires her to write pamphlets and bulletins, said Janet Colbentz, foods and nutrition specialist. Articles for newspapers and magazines are another way the extension home economist keeps homemakers informed and some have regular radio and television shows.

In Delaware, county home economics agents have offices in Newark, Dover and Georgetown, and their advice on homemaking problems is available to all who request it.

HOMETOWN AMERICA

OFFICE CANDIDATES IN THE SPOTLIGHT

"I never could make a public speech. I died ten thousand deaths when called on, hence I made it a point to miss all assemblages what might result in a call," the late Damon Runyon wrote, and this admission appears in his book "Short Takes," which the publisher explains, includes "readers' choice of the best columns of America's Favorite Newspaperman."

Few people have known more people than did Damon Runyon, and talking with others and writing about them and of his own observations was his business. And Damon Runyon was one of the best in the business.

His friends included those from all levels of society and achievement, from skid row to the White House, and Runyon was at ease in man-to-man conversation with race track tout, boxing champion, Broadway star, industrial czar, or leading statesman.

But he avoided public speaking. The League of Women Voters and the other organizations sponsoring next Tuesday night's public meeting with candidates for municipal office in the April 14 election in Newark, deserve credit for their efforts to acquaint the electorate with their potential representatives. It would be far easier to have no public meeting.

Many candidates for local office may welcome this opportunity to address the public, but there may be some—perhaps more able, too, with sound, common sense and judgment—for whom this public meeting will be an unnecessarily tortuous test.

Adolf Hitler was a past master at addressing thousands, and while all of Newark's office-seekers may take next Tuesday's public meeting in stride, there may be one or more who will not, and able aspirants may be discouraged from their civic-minded, honest quest for public office.

Astronomy Chair At U. D. To Honor Annie J. Cannon

A professorship in astronomy has been established at the University of Delaware by the Mt. Cuba Astronomical Observatory.

Harcourt C. Vernon, chairman of Observatory trustees, announced that gift funds for the salary of a professor are available for the next two years.

An endowment fund, which ultimately will support a chair named in honor of Annie Jump Cannon, Delaware woman astronomer of the early 1900's, is being raised.

Facilities of the recently completed observatory at Greenville also will be made available to university students and faculty.

In disclosing plans for the Cannon chair, Vernon expressed the hope that interested persons will contribute to the endowment fund.

"It takes a large endowment to support a chair properly," he said.

University of Delaware President John A. Perkins said that if the professorship can be filled, formal courses will be offered in 1964-65.

Miss Cannon, who died in 1941, was the first woman elected to honorary membership in the Royal Astronomical Society of Great Britain, and the first woman to receive an honorary degree from Oxford University.

In 1923, she was named to receive an honorary degree from Oxford University. In 1925, she was named one of the 12 greatest living women by the National League of Women Voters.

Born in Dover in 1863, Miss Cannon won international fame for her work at Harvard University, cataloging more than 400,000 stellar bodies.

Stevens Advises On Trees To Provide Owner Shade

How long you have to wait before your tree can legitimately be called a "shade" tree depends on soil conditions and how big it is when you plant it, says Robert F. Stevens, University of Delaware extension horticulturist. Most trees take 15 to 30 years, but some fast growing varieties give moderate shade in 10 years.

"Trees are like people," Stevens says. "There aren't any 'perfect' ones. Pick the one that suits your needs."

LONGWOOD GRANT

Wesley College, Dover, has received a grant of $500,000 from the Longwood Foundation toward construction of the proposed science hall on the campus.

What Ho ???

The photographer could hardly believe his eyes when, about to take a picture of the Lewes draw-bridge across the Rehoboth-Lewes Canal, he suddenly saw a one-story house perched on the bridge. The house was being removed from Lewes Beach, site of the ferry terminal—and was temporarily half in its trip to Rehoboth.

The tractor, rig and the house successfully crossed the bridge—much to relief of waiting motorists. Incidentally, this bridge will carry ferry traffic this summer.

Letters To The Editor

March 26, 1964

Dear Sir:

The recent furor in our city administration is very disturbing in several respects. Particularly disturbing is the impression that we are giving newcomers to our community.

As a disturbed citizen, I would like to make several observations:

(1) I have never heard one single complaint regarding our electrical department, sewer department, water department, building inspection, fire inspection, snow removal, police department or any service that is provided by the city and working under our city manager.

(2) I have never heard any citizen complain about Francis Neide in any personal way.

(3) To my knowledge, Newark is the only city in the United States with a population over 10,000 that has reduced the tax rate while not reducing any services. This is a direct result of Francis Neide's efforts.

We citizens of Newark are very fortunate in having, along with Francis Neide, a very dedicated and professional staff working for the city.

Sincerely,

William G. Murray, Jr.

Freeze Eggs For Economy Suzanne Tattall Advises

Freezing eggs when prices are low is wise economy, according to Mrs. Suzanne Tattall, New Castle County home economics extension agent. Whole, or separated into yolks and whites, they will remain in excellent condition for six to 12 months.

A pint container will hold about 10 eggs. Select fresh, clean eggs. Break each egg into a small dish before adding it to the freezing container.

Stir whole eggs with a fork to mix yolks with whites. If yolks and whites to be frozen together are not mixed, unfavorable changes occur in yolk texture, Mrs. Tattall states.

ALL ARE INVITED
Worship at 10 a.m. on Sundays at the Wesley Foundation, 192 S. College Ave. Baby sitting is provided.

Boating Tips...

Any boat operating between sunset and sunrise must show navigation lights. By color and arrangement these lights identify you to other boats and show the direction of your course. In most waters minimum equipment is as follows: one bright white light, visible two miles in all directions, mounted as high as possible at the stern; one combination light, visible one mile, mounted near the bow, showing red to port and green to starboard. Each color must be visible from dead ahead to two points abaft the beam (the correct angle is built into the light). In mounting lights be sure that their visibility is not obstructed by other equipment, advise the Mercury outboard experts. Always have a powerful flashlight aboard. In some areas additional lights may be required — check local regulations before buying.

Capt. Bob Roselle Heads Five Lettermen For Coach Grant Ewell's Baseball Team

Capt. Bob Roselle at first base, will lead Coach Grant Ewell's Newark High School Yellowjackets baseball team which includes five lettermen from last season's 8-4 squad that tied Brandywine for second place in the Blue Hen Conference. DeLaWarr won the conference championship.

Other lettermen returning to bolster Ewell's squad are Jack Hassman, third baseman and outfielder; Paul Schaefer, shortstop and third sacker; Reggie Watson, catcher, outfielder, and a possible third base starter; and Sam Yarrington, outfielder.

Roselle, Schaefer and Yarrington as seniors, will be playing their last baseball campaign for Newark, while Hassman and Watson are juniors.

Tom Skripps, up from the junior varsity of last year, is slated as an outfield starter for the Yellowjackets, and Vic Chalmers, another Jayvee from 1963, is a likely starter at second base.

Skripps is a senior — Chalmers a junior.

Dennis Adair, a transfer student from New York where he played varsity ball, is slated for catching duties with the Yellowjackets as a junior, and 11th grader Ricky Hicks, Newark's stellar end of last season for Coach Bob Hoffman's Blue Hen Conference football champions, and a transfer student from Tatnall School, is a candidate for first base.

Other varsity squad members are 11th graders Nick Blasotto, shortstop Bill Downes, third base, and Scott Dickinson, pitcher and third baseman.

Sophomore Perry Mitchell is a candidate for shortstop or third base.

Coach Ewell's pitching staff, riddled by graduation, features a ninth grader, and two sophomores.

Mark Brown, a righthander, is rated by Ewell as "the very best freshman pitcher I've ever seen, with a very good fast ball."

Sophomore Frank Basta and Dick Fulton are expected to see front line duty for Ewell's pitching corps.

Ewell, who will coach the junior varsity, has announced his Jayvee squad with Tom Mitchell as pitcher and shortstop; Don Walp, catcher; George Leedom, third base; Kenny Snow and Ron Suppe, second base; and Dennis Ottey, third base.

Outfielders include Billy Crossan, Dick Fillingame, Robert Jackson, Pat Walker, and Larry Wingard.

"Some schools don't have a Jayvee team," Coach Ewell said yesterday, "and arranging a junior varsity schedule presents a real problem. But we'll play Jayvee games when we can."

No local money is appropriated for junior varsity baseball in Newark, which adds to the problem.

During the inclement weather, Ewell has conducted pitching practice in the gym, and ball-handling drills on the blacktop parking lot beside the school with a rubber ball.

The Yellowjackets open the season on April 17, at home with William Penn in a non-conference clash with a conference opponent to be faced later in the campaign.

Little League Registration Continued Due to Weather

Melvin Brooks, president of the Newark American Little League, has announced that baseball registration and tryouts will be continued this Saturday and next from 1 to 3 p.m. at the American League field on Barksdale Road. Bad weather forced cancellation of earlier dates.

Boys 9-12 may still register and participate in these Saturday tryouts, Brooks said.

Bob Ruth To Lead Paul Billy Matmen For Next Season

Bob Ruth, junior from Timonium, Md., has been elected captain of Coach Paul Billy's 1964-65 University of Delaware wrestling team.

Ruth, majoring in animal and poultry science, wrestled at 167-pounds during the past season and compiled a 6-6 record.

"We had to ask Bob to wrestle in a class 10 pounds above his actual weight," Billy said, "and he may wrestle at 147 next season because of freshman prospects."

Ruth, who helped the Hens compile a 7-5 record in Billy's first season as Delaware coach, succeeds another Maryland native, Bob Young of Beltsville, as Blue Hen captain.

POSTED

And here's some good news, for a change, for those throw-backs to the pioneer days when wild waterfowl were legion — good news for those current, confirmed, hardy hearty marshmen whose pulses quicken to the song of the great gray goose driving by on migration, and to the whistling winnowing wings of ducks on the move.

The annual winter survey of waterfowl in the Atlantic Flyway recorded larger numbers of Canada geese and certain duck species than in 1963, according to John S. Gottschalk, director of the northeast region Bureau of Sports Fisheries and Wildlife.

Gottschalk pointed out that increases in numbers of birds observed during the winter survey did not necessarily indicate a corresponding change in bird populations. Visibility conditions, observers, and habitat vary from year to year, affecting the survey.

Breeding ground surveys have proven to be the most reliable means of determining the population of ducks.

The winter survey does have value in determining population for a relatively few species of waterfowl, such as swan, geese, redhead, canvasback, and black duck.

However, to determine annual status for the bulk of the species, reliance is placed upon spring and summer surveys over the principal waterfowl nesting grounds.

Most spectacular were increases of 40 and 25 per cent for the scaup and ringneck. Both these species are well above the average level of the past 10 years.

It is encouraging also to note improvement in the count of redhead and canvasback. The former showed a nine per cent increase over last year, and the species is well above the 10-year average.

The tally of cans shows a 16 per cent improvement over last year, and the population now stands at about the level of the long-term average.

Redhead and canvasback have been fully protected for several years because of a population low for both species.

A special survey made in mid-December showed a decided improvement in the redhead population which is now about 14 per cent above the long-term average.

Unfortunately, the puddle ducks do not present as encouraging a picture as the divers. The survey tallied about the same number overall as last year. The black duck showed a 15 per cent increase, but the species is still slightly below the long-term averages.

The important mallard, widgeon, and pintail were recorded at about the same population levels as last year, but are still below average.

Most noteworthy is the population performance of the Canada goose. Again this year, the honker increased 11 per cent, reaching one of the highest levels on record. Although the bulk of the Canadas are found in the Maryland-North Carolina area, significant new locations where population expansion has been occurring, are in Delaware and South Carolina.

Snow geese and brant showed little change from last year and both are slightly below the 10-year or long-term average.

Equine "Blowout Patch"

It has probably been a long time since the U.S. patent office registered a gimmick for horses, but California horse-shoer, William R. Bane, was recently granted patent No. 3,118,449 for an equine "blowout patch." Actually his patent covers his own process for treating a quarter crack, a split on the side of the hoof, which has frequently meant the end of a good horse's racing career.

Bane's patch came into the news when it was revealed that E. P. Taylor's Triple Crown threat, Northern Dancer, had been treated by the Californian. It again made headlines when Bane flew to New Orleans to examine Hurry to Market. Unfortunately, Hurry to Market's quarter crack proved too severe for treatment. The process which enabled Rex Ellsworth's Prove It to come back and win six stakes in a row, and also enabled the trotter, Su Mac Lad to become the 1962 harness horse of the year, involves a witches brew of some eight substances including a synthetic rubber which literally patches the hoof. Prior treatment required cutting away the hoof and a layoff of six or seven months, while a new hoof grew.

Bill Bane, a horse-shoer for 30 of his 52 years, lives in La Canada, California, and is weary of flying all over the country. Now that his patch is protected by patent, he plans to train others in the technique.

C. Mahanna, tournament chairman.

Mrs. Mahanna announced sponsored tournaments for the Newark Country Club women golfers for the new season.

Tourneys include the Newark Post, "C" Sweeney, Chrysler, and Wilwyn Handicap On Grass Slated Saturday At Laurel

The $25,000-added Wilwyn Handicap, first of a series of stakes races on Laurel's famed grass track, headlines Saturday's program at the Maryland course.

Nominations received for the mile and one-sixteenth Wilwyn total 47. Stakes winners Will I Rule, Hot Dust, Hellenic Hero, Cedar Key, Pollingford and Vimy Ridge head the roster.

ting swan were recorded as last year, but the population is still 29 per cent above the average level.

The winter waterfowl survey is conducted and coordinated by the Bureau of Sports Fisheries and Wildlife with the majority of the field work being done by state game and fish departments.

The U. S. Coast Guard and armed forces cooperate by supplying aircraft used for the survey.

The 17 Atlantic Flyway States, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands were surveyed in the same manner as in 1963.

Coach Billy's Stickmen Lose In Brown Opener

Brown University defeated Coach Paul Billy's Blue Hens 10-3 in lacrosse last Saturday at Frazier Field in the opener for both teams.

The visitors, leading 6-4 going into the final period, clinched the triumph with a four-goal assault.

Hayler Osborn scored two Delaware goals, and Tom Harrison and Glen Kille scored one apiece.

Billy's stickmen return to action on Saturday, April 11, hosting Swarthmore at 2 p.m.

Coach Harold Raymond's Hens Win Three, Lose 1st To East Carolina On Road Trip

With three straight wins in the north, Coach Harold "Tubby" Raymond's Fightin' Blue Hens headed south last weekend, and Delaware's undefeated skein was broken Tuesday by East Carolina with a shocking, seven-run rally in the eighth inning at Greenville, N.C., after the Hens were on the comfortable end of an 8-2 count. The Carolinians won 9-8.

In the first half of Tuesday's twin-bill, Delaware played a 7-7 deadlock with Williams of Massachusetts — a draw called after five innings.

The Hens walloped Glassboro State 15-0 in New Jersey with a March 25 opener, and last Friday and Saturday at home on Frazier Field, defeated Southern Connecticut 7-2 and American International 11-3.

Snow postponed Monday's test with East Carolina, and accounted for Tuesday's twin bill.

Raymond's Delawareans were scheduled to play North Carolina State yesterday, Hampden-Sydney today; Randolph-Macon tomorrow; and Georgetown on Saturday as the Hens head home.

Delaware is slated to play at Swarthmore next Wednesday, and at Bucknell on Saturday, April 11, returning home with Ursinus on April 16.

Against East Carolina right-handed Terry Arnold was sailing along with an 8-2 lead when the eighth inning debacle developed.

After Arnold hit a batter and gave up a walk, Coach Raymond called on Lefty Jim Umstead.

Umstead gave up a single which drove in a run, and walked another batter to load the bases. An error allowed another run to score and a single added one more run.

Johnny Shew followed Umstead and was tagged for a single and a sacrifice fly which scored the winning run.

Delaware took a 2-0 lead in the second inning on a single by Ed Chiocki, a walk to Dick Stein, and Ron Bianco's single.

The Hens moved to 5-0 with three runs in the fifth.

With one out, Johnny Wallace and Tom Van Grofski singled, and Arnold followed with a 350 ft. home run blast.

East Carolina scored single runs in the fifth and sixth off Arnold, but Delaware moved ahead 8-2 with two more tallies in the eighth.

Arnold allowed eight hits in seven innings, walked seven and fanned seven. Umstead allowed two hits and four runs in his stint.

Delaware also had a big lead when Williams rallied with five runs in the fifth, inning of the first game to gain a deadlock.

Williams scored his five runs with one out off Wes Frith.

Frith gave up two hits, walked two batters and was charged with all five runs in two-thirds of an inning.

Paul Chadick cooled off Williams after it was too late.

With 20% Of Family Income Buying Food Check Convenience Items, Expert Urges

Three hours in a grocery store? Not every homemaker would be willing to spend that much time at her shopping. But almost 20 per cent of your family income is spent for food, and it might pay to spend a little extra time once in a while, investigating where the money goes and whether there are better purchases you can make, says Janet Coblenz, foods and nutrition specialist at the University of Delaware.

Once every other month or so, she suggests, take some extra time to look at new products, read the labels and know what you are getting. With so many new convenience foods arriving on the markets each day, it pays to keep up with them.

It has been estimated that 14 cents of each dollar spent for food is spent on convenience foods. These are foods which have had some form of preparation before they reach the market. Some are fully prepared and ready to serve; others have to be cooked, or the homemaker has to do some carrying through to finish their preparation.

Convenience foods, says Miss Coblenz, have to be interpreted in terms of what is convenient for you. Busy homemakers use them to save time. Others have found actual money savings by using convenience foods.

Miss Coblenz reports that of 158 convenience foods examined in one survey, 42 were less expensive than if prepared in the home.

Instant coffee is an excellent example of a money-saving convenience food, states Miss Coblenz. Four cups made with regular roast coffee cost six cents, while four cups of instant (one level teaspoon each) cost two cents. The saving is four cents for every four cups of coffee. Multiply that by 365 days and the number of cups you drink each day, and you can see how savings mount.

The extra cost of convenience foods is often offset by the time you save in preparation. Home-made apple pie may cost only 22 cents for four servings, but it takes more than half an hour to prepare. A complete pie mix costs eight cents more, but cuts preparation time in half.

Another factor which boosts the cost of home cooking is that home-makers put more of the costlier ingredients in home products, such as meat in home-made stew, or eggs in cakes. However, the added cost is offset by a higher degree of nutrition.

The 22-day session will be held June 22 through July 25, with classes to meet in the mornings.

Ed Ralph, Sussex associate county agent, commented on lime test plots in the Millsboro area where ground limestone costs less, he said, growers should plan to use the less expensive, slower working product whenever time permits.

Ralph said there is a definite place for ground limestone. Since it goes to work faster, it can be applied right up to planting time and still give good results.

Navy Information Team To Appear on U.D. Campus

A Navy Information Team will visit the University of Delaware on Monday and Tuesday, April 13-14, to discuss the Navy Officer Candidate School program with interested students.

Navy OCS offers commissions to young men and women with college degrees after four months of schooling at Newport, R. I.

Applications for selection may be submitted at any time after completion of the junior year.

Further information can be obtained at the Navy Recruiting Office, 6th and King Streets, Wilmington, from Chief Calvin K. Brosch.

"Defensive" Driving Cited To Curb Spring Accidents

The advent of spring will increase highway accidents, Delaware drivers were warned yesterday.

Spring weather will boost the volume of driving — and that will boost the volume of accidents unless Delawareans are prepared to "drive defensively," said J. James Ashton, manager of the Delaware Safety Council.

Ashton said defensive drivers are familiar with the rules of right of way and are willing to yield to others to avoid accidents.

BUCKSON TO SPEAK

David P. Buckson, attorney-general of Delaware, will be the keynote speaker at the most Republican convention to be held April 7, at West Nottingham Academy, Co., Md.

Chrysler Offers Trouble-Shooting Scholarship Tests

During the next three months, thousands of public school students will bid for college scholarships and chances for careers in the automobile industry, competing for places on teams representing more than 1,100 schools in the 18th annual Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest.

Their goal will be one of the 12 scholarships to be won at the national finals in Detroit, June 22-24.

John W. Farley, manager of service for Chrysler-Plymouth division of Chrysler Corporation — sponsor of the event — estimates that 20,000 teen-age students will try out for their school teams, and if they "make the team," will try for the national finals through 38 regional and state eliminations in 22 states.

Winners of those eliminations will win all-expense trips to the finals at Detroit.

In addition to the $9,000 in scholarships, there will be cash, trophies, and other awards through the eliminations.

A team of two students competes against other teams and against the clock to locate, diagnose and repair a series of mechanical malfunctions deliberately concealed by expert mechanics beneath the hood of a new car. Malfunctions are identical in all the contest cars.

Farley conducted a survey among finalists in last year's National Trouble Shooting Contest, and learned that 72 per cent of them received job offers after winning their local or regional tests.

Richard L. Nuttler Named NRA Course Instructor

Richard L. Nuttler of Newark, has been appointed a home firearms safety instructor by the National Rifle Association, sponsor of a new course designed to help reduce shooting accidents in the home.

Nuttler was awarded an NRA instructor's certificate upon successful completion of a written examination, and is qualified to conduct the course which requires about four hours and requires no shooting range.

David P. Buckson, attorney-general of Delaware, will be the keynote speaker at the most Republican convention to be held April 7, at West Nottingham Academy, Co., Md.

Over the CLOVER

by Dean Belt
4-H Club Agent

The population of New Castle County increased by 1,650 in two days this week. That's the number of baby chicks that were delivered to club members on Monday and Tuesday.

New Castle County has 33 club members raising chicks in the annual junior broiler contest this year. This is quite an increase over last year.

Members will raise chickens for eight weeks and then enter seven of their best chickens in the finals at Harrington in May. At the finals the chickens will be judged on weight, conformation, color and quality.

We will keep you posted on this program as it develops through the next two months.

New Castle County is preparing for a state exchange with Connecticut. This program will involve two 4-H'ers from each state exchanging states for one month. While in the host state, 4-H'ers will see how the 4-H program operates there and swap ideas.

At the end of the month, they will return home and report to their fellows members on their experiences. New Castle is in the process of selecting its delegates for the June trip.

Pruning Of Rose Bushes Advised By Dave Tatnall

Although pruning is an important practice for most flowering shrubs, it is particularly so for rose bushes, says Dave Tatnall, assistant county agent in ornamental horticulture.

Bush roses, including hybrid teas, floribundas and grandifloras, should be pruned annually in the early spring just before new growth starts. Only in this way can the plants be kept attractive, healthy and profusely flowering.

When pruning, all dead wood should be removed first. Winter-killed wood is darkened and discolored.

Next, all injured and diseased wood, as well as thin, weak and interfering growth, should be taken out. Finally, the strong, vigorous canes that remain should be cut back to a uniform height.

Changing Symbols of a Desert Kingdom

THESE DROMEDARIES, or single-humped camels, rest complacently on the Saudi Arabian desert, unaware of the oil drilling rig in the background, symbol of a huge industry they helped build during the past three decades. For thousands of years this beast of burden was the chief means of transportation, as well as an important source of food, hair and hides to support a Bedouin tribal society. But today the plodding "ship of the desert" is rapidly giving way to the swifter motor vehicle, airplane and railroad, capital for which is provided by income from the 600-million-barrel-a-year oil industry. Oil revenues are also feeding the feverish development of agriculture, manufacture and mineral exploration that are transforming the country.
