Newark, Del.

A weekend for the little ones!

Despite heavy rain, United Way of Delaware volunteers met over the weekend at Iron Hill Park to begin constructing the state's second Born Learning Trail, in support of early childhood education. This event, spearheaded by United Way of Delaware's Young Impact Professionals Society (YIPS), was part of United Way of Delaware's Day of Action – a statewide day of volunteering.

Participants included YIPS members, United Way staff and their families, and local union members. A Born Learning Trail is composed of 10 signs that show parents and caregivers fun outdoor learning activities that they can enjoy with their pre-school age children.

YIPS built the state's first Born Learning Trail one year ago in Glasgow Park on Route 40. Rain delayed part of the project, including the painting, which will be concluded on Saturday, July 11 at 9 a.m. Families are invited to join United Way of Delaware on that day. The trail will be available for use immediately upon completion. YIPS is composed of professionals, ages 20 to 40, who give, advocate, and volunteer in the community.

Robert Altmiller (of UAW Local 435) and Doug Drummond (of IBEW Local 313) prepared the ground for one of 10 signs that make up the Born Learning Trail.

United Way of Delaware volunteers were determined to participate in its statewide Day of Action, even though it meant getting wet.

Claymont Steak Shop coming to Amstel site

By MARK CORRIGAN

MCORRIGAN@CHESPUB.COM

At Monday night's meeting, the Newark City Council voted to grant The Claymont Steak Shop a Special Use Permit for the sale of beer and wine in their new location at the Amstel Square building on the corner of Amstel Avenue and Elkton Road. The 3,891 square-foot restaurant will seat 66 customers with an additional 16 seats on an outside patio for seasonal dining.

The décor will be based on the style of the original store, located on Philadelphia Pike in Claymont, but with a modern flair, owners said. Also like the original location, the new kitchen will be the base of Demi's Flavors, a high-end catering business named after the owner, Demi Kollias. Opening is scheduled for September 1.

The Claymont Steak Shop will feature eat-in, take-out, delivery, and catering services. Proposed hours are the same for both locations: Monday to Thursday, 11 a.m.-11 p.m.; Friday to Saturday, 11 a.m.-12 a.m.; Sunday, 11 a.m.-9 p.m. To make sure operations run smoothly, owner Demi Kollias will initially manage the Newark location.

The addition of alcohol is new to Claymont's menu and is based upon

Newark Film Festival enters its fifth year

Entering its fifth year, the Newark Film Festival will run from Thursday, September 10 thru the following Thursday, September 17 at the Cinema Center 3. Highlights of the festival will be featured at the Delaware Art Museum in Wilmington the weekend of Sept. 25-27.

"The theme of our festival again is 'Movies that Matter,' in the words of some of our regular attendees," says producer Barry Schlecker.

"That's what drives our film selection, to presents films that leave a lasting impression."

Last year, over 30 films were featured, including works by Delaware-based filmmakers. The Visitor, starring Richard Jenkins in his Academy Award-nominated role, was among those featured.

This year, in addition to more locally produced films; the Festival will feature a Holocaust Education Series. Delaware Liberators is a documentary that focuses on Delaware-born liberators who witnessed the horrors of concentration camps.

Schlecker adds that the Festival is open to local and regional filmmakers' works until July 15. "We like about one-third of the films to have a local touch, that's what makes this festival unique."

Wilmington Trust is this year's corporate sponsor. Up to 30 additional sponsors will be highlighted through 30-second commercials produced by local filmmakers.

The full roster of movies will be announced later this summer.

Over 5,000 people attended at least one film at last year's Newark Film Festival, some traveling from as far as New York and spending two and three nights in local hotels.

High-rise hotel on August city planning agenda

It will be August before The Newark Planning Commission will get a look at plans for a six-story extended-stay hotel near the site of the Howard Johnson motel at 1119 S. College Avenue. The project was taken off the July agenda, at the request of the developer.

Developers are seeking a major subdivision and special permit for the 101-room Candlewood Suites Hotel at the site that would actually be located on Welch Tract Road.

Word of the hotel's plans has been circulating for a couple of months and neighbors have expressed concerns about a high rise close to homes, as well as complaints about the Howard Johnson's. Newark Planning Director Roy Lopata says the site is zoned for a six-story building and noted that newer hotels built in the area, such as the Embassy Suites, have been multi-story structures.

The company describes Candlewood as high-quality accommodation that caters to mid-market business and leisure travelers looking for a multiple night hotel stay. It is a fast-growing part of Intercontinental, with 213 hotels and 228 in the development pipeline.

In July, the Planning Commission will also take a look at a rezoning of a 1.16 acre property at 136 Elkton Road. The proposed project includes mixed use commercial and residential space, with 14 apartments on the upper floors.

A third project before the commission is a mixed use project at the current location of the Formal Affairs store at 129 E. Main St. Plans call for a three-story commercial/residential building with six upper floor apartments.

The commission will meet in City Hall Council Chambers on Elkton Road at 7 p.m. on the 7th.

Newark man shot on Wilmington street corner

Editor's note: Police Blotter is assembled from reports from the Newark Police Department and other law enforcement agencies. For the latest updates, log on to newarkpostonline.com.

A Newark man was listed in critical but stable condition, after being shot here. Wilmington Police were called to the area of 30th & Madison Streets in regards to shots being fired.

As officers arrived in the area and searching for a possible scene, they were notified of a gunshot victim who had arrived at the Wilmington Hospital via private vehicle. They learned that a 20-year-old Newark, resident was suffering from a gunshot wound to the back of his head.

The victim was then transported to the Christiana Hospital where he was listed in critical, but stable condition. The bullet did not penetrate the skull, police reported. All parties involved in the incident have been less than cooperative in the investigation and the identity of the man has not been released.

Elkton man arrested in exposure case

An arrest has been made in an incident of indecent exposure in the Nottingham Green neighborhood in Newark. On Wednesday, around 7:40 p.m., a Newark Police Officer was on patrol in the Suburban Plaza Shopping Center.

He noticed a silver Volvo occupied by a white male who matched the description of the suspect in the Indecent Exposure incident that occurred in the neighborhood. The driver was contacted by the officer, who noted the driver was a white male with short brown hair, average frame, in his early 30s, with tattoos on his left arm. His physical appearance was an exact match to the description provided by the 10 and 11 year old girls in Nottingham Green.

The driver was identified as Joshua W. Goldstein, 34, of Appleton Road, Elkton, Md. During an interview with a detective, Goldstein acknowledged his involvement in the incident. He was charged with four counts of Indecent Exposure 1st Degree, and was committed to the Howard Young Correctional Facility in default of $2,000 secured bond. Goldstein was also ordered to have no contact with the victims, and if released, must be in his home between the hours of 8 p.m. and 6 a.m.

Skateboarders cause damage

Police were dispatched to investigate a criminal mischief complaint at the Amstel Square Apartments at 57 Elkton Road. Owner Timothy Thompson showed officers scratch marks and a visible wax residue, that were apparently caused by the bottom of a skateboard, on some cement barriers and a black railing on the north side of Amstel Avenue. Thompson told police that he believes the marks were made between June 9 and June 16 and that he has not seen any skateboarders on the property. The approximate repair cost is $500.

Former employee suspected in theft

On Tuesday, June 16, Newark Police responded to a theft report at Porter Ford, 600 Ogletown Road, Newark. Service manager Jim Murphy stated that a Lenovo 3000 N500 laptop computer worth $539.40 had been taken from an unsecured tech room. Murphy told police that the computer was placed in the tech room at 5:30 p.m. the night before, but found that it was missing at 9:30 a.m., the next day.

Though all service bay employees end their shifts at 5 p.m., a former employee, Christopher Corbitt, was observed in the service area. Corbitt had no scheduled meetings or business that day, according to Murphy. Corbitt had been fired on June 10 for stockpiling new parts from the dealership by lying that he had installed the part and hiding it in his toolbox. Murphy said that he feels Corbitt is the only person capable of committing the theft and does not suspect any of the employees. A record search of Corbitt revealed that he was arrested in 2002 for attempting to steal an Acura car engine from the dealership where he was employed. A warrant application for Corbitt has been filed with the Justice of the Peace.

Husband, wife arrested for pot-growing

New Castle County Police have arrested a husband and wife for felony drug violations after detectives executed a search warrant at their home and found a large scale marijuana operation inside. Police found the operation was complete with grow lamps, egg crates, plastic plant pots, 26 pounds of marijuana and a large amount of marijuana seeds. New Castle County undercover

Incoming freshman get early orientation

DelaWorld 101, which runs from June 23-July 22, is a series of one-day orientations designed to welcome new students and parents to the University of Delaware. Offered weekdays -- excluding Friday, July 3, when the campus will be closed for the Independence Day holiday weekend -- a student's DelaWorld 101 day begins at 8 a.m. in the Trabant University Center and wraps up at approximately 5 p.m.

A record number of freshmen in the Class of 2013 will join a large number of transfer students participating in DelaWorld 101 this summer, Faye Duffy, senior associate director of undergraduate admissions and director of DelaWorld, said.

"More than 3,900 freshmen and more than 300 transfer students have been assigned a date to attend DelaWorld," Duffy said. "This is the largest freshman class ever."

After a general welcome at 8:15 a.m., students and parents will be separated, with specific programs for each audience.

DelaWorld student leaders will be on hand to help make sure that incoming freshmen and transfer students feel welcome in their new home at the First State's flagship university.

"We have 15 DelaWorld leaders, and the Honors Program also has a cadre of Honors orientation leaders, not to mention a host of students assisting the Registrar's Office," Duffy said. "Overall, there are about 150 UD staff, faculty and students who are involved in some capacity during each DelaWorld Day."

Among the freshmen for fall 2009 will be 123 international students, a 300 percent increase over last year, said Amy Foley, senior associate director of admissions.

"Many students who are completing the Conditional Admissions Program through the English Language Institute have been invited to DelaWorld for the first time," Foley said.

"Close to 40 students have been scheduled for the first week of DelaWorld, allowing them to attend orientation, meet other members of the freshman class and receive academic advising before flying home for the summer."

New students will be able to discuss their fall course selections with an academic adviser and explore specific information sessions on campus diversity, services for students with learning disabilities and student life.

Another traditionally popular part of the program is DelaWorld Fair, where new students can meet with representatives from athletics, music, religious organizations and student media, a session topped off with free ice cream.

Students also will be introduced to the city of Newark and opportunities at UD for travel, service learning, career development, academic enrichment and wellness programs.

For parents, DelaWorld 101 affords the opportunity to meet other parents and to attend sessions on academic and student life and campus safety.

The new student orientation also is a chance for parents to obtain answers on billing, financial aid, housing, student health, computing, banking and dining.

For freshmen enrolled in the UD Associate in Arts Program, new student orientations will take place at UD academic centers on the campuses of Delaware Technical and Community College in Wilmington, Dover and Georgetown.

City revenues coming in below estimates

demand from older clients, stated Basil Kollias, husband of the owner and legal representative of The Claymont Steak Shop. He said that beer and wine will be the only alcoholic drinks available and that the business will not feature a bar.

Council members discussed the possibility of allowing Claymont Steak Shop to sell alcohol till 1 a.m., in an effort to achieve some consistency for permitting along Elkton Road. Though they will not have a bar, Councilman Paul Pomeroy suggested that the same rules that were enacted to businesses like Buffalo Wild Wings and Pat's Sports Bar should apply to Claymont Steaks. Roy Lopata, Director of Planning & Development, concurred with Pomeroy and stated his department had compiled a list of inconsistencies in permitting dating back to 1972. Pomeroy told members that even though Claymont Steaks will close before 1 a.m., they should be allowed the option to extend hours and serve alcohol till 1 a.m. without reapplying for another permit.

In other council business,

Dennis McFarland, Newark Finance Director, presented the May 2009 financial statements, which showed that results were $2 million below estimates for the first four months of the year. Most of this shortfall, $1.535 million, is because of utility net revenues being down. Electric consumption is 2.5% below budget estimates and water revenues are down $576 thousand because of lower volumes and the late changes to the budgeted rate increases. Though sewer margins differ by $858 thousand, due to timing differences, these same margins could help matters in the coming months. The report states, "The decline in sales volumes across all three utilities indicates that the economic recession is significantly affecting consumer behavior."

On the plus side, operating expenses are $243 thousand below budget estimates, with the Water, Sewer, Police and Public Works Departments all coming in below budget. Offsetting these areas are Finance, Electric and Parking, which are over budget due to annual contracts made earlier in the year.

Though cash on hand is $12 million, the cash balance has declined $2.4 million since the year began and is an important concern for the Council. Council Member David Athey suggests having a game plan put in place to prevent drastic changes having to be made later in the year. Councilman Pomeroy strongly suggested that the Council must re-evaluate all possible options.

Wilmington and Newark residents accused of stealing 100K from elderly

New Castle County Police arrested two men for stealing more than $100,000 from at least eight elderly victims. One of the suspects is also wanted as a fugitive in Pennsylvania for similar crimes.

On April 1, County Police responded to a home in the 200 block of Laurel Avenue, northeast of Newark, for a report of a fraud investigation involving an 85-year-old male victim. When officers arrived, they contacted the children of the victim who reported one of the two suspects approached the victim and convinced him to allow them to complete a painting project at the home.

Originally, the victim agreed to pay the two suspects $500 for the work they did. After completing the work (and some unapproved "work" on the roof), the suspects charged the victim $4,000. One of the suspects returned to the home 10 days later and issued another contract for additional work and charged the victim another $6,400 for the same work completed 10 days prior.

Officers investigated this incident and contacted a special investigator from the Senior Protection Section, of the Delaware Department of Justice. Based on the joint investigation, police and investigators learned that three male suspects had been working together and cashing multiple checks at a local check cashing business. This investigation led the officers to an additional seven victims who live in the following communities: Gwinhurst, Greenmount, McDaniel Crest, and Swanwyck.

In each case, the suspects approached the victims and indicated they were professionals who noticed their roofs or chimneys were in need of repair. In some cases, they would tell the unsuspecting victim they would face fines if the work was not completed in a timely manner. The suspects would verbally provide a price in the range of $100-$300 and after completing the work, billing the victims thousands of dollars.

Patterson

During the course of the investigation, officers uncovered a number of other victims who reside in the following locations: Newark, Norwood, PA, and Haverford, PA.

The suspects, who listed a Newark address for the business, fled the state before the officers could arrest them. Investigator later received a tip that indicated the suspects were in Fairfax County, Va. This information was passed on to the authorities in Virginia in the beginning of June.

On June 10, 2009, two of the three suspects were arrested as fugitives in Virginia and later returned to Delaware after they waived extradition. Fairfax County authorities are now looking at the suspects for home improvement fraud cases that occurred in their jurisdiction as well.

The following men have been charged with eight counts of home improvement fraud, eight counts of conspiracy and one count of theft:

- Alexander Patterson, 42, who resides in the 1100 block of S. College Avenue in Newark

- Alexander Williamson, 22, who resides in the 2000 block of Jackson Avenue in Wilmington.

Both men have been arraigned and committed to the Howard Young Prison after failing to post $35,000 secured bail. William Patterson is also being held as a fugitive from Pennsylvania for similar crimes.

The third suspect, Robert Gregg, 48, remains at large and may possibly be in Missouri. To offer information regarding Gregg's whereabouts (or to report an additional crime), contact the New Castle County Police Department at (302) 395-8171 or visit our website at www.nccpd.com to leave a crime tip. Citizens may also text "NCCPD" followed by your tip to 847411 (TIP 411).

Blue tops Gold in clash of gridiron stars

By JON BUZBY

JONBUZBY@HOTMAIL.COM

For the past 54 years at the end of every football season in stadiums all over the Diamond State, thousands of Delaware senior football players have walked off the field after their final regular season games hoping to have the opportunity to strap on their helmets and play in front of family and friends one last time at the annual Blue-Gold All-Star Football game.

But for Blue defensive lineman Josh Watson, playing in the annual game meant much more than that. The 6-foot-5 255-pound Watson's Dickinson team did not win a game this past fall, so when the final horn sounded and Blue had defeated Gold, 12-0, the win was extra special.

"This game is definitely the highlight of my career," said Watson, who after recording four-and-a-half sacks was named the game's Most Valuable Player. "And not just because we won. This game is all about the kids. I realized that the first day of training camp when we were running around out here and every kid was smiling. That's what this game is all about."

The 54th edition of the Blue-Gold All-Star game showcased the state's most talented senior football players on both sides of the ball. But on this night it was the players on the Blue defense that shined the brightest, giving up just 46 yards on the ground and even less in the air (29 yards) to hold the Gold offense scoreless.

It was a defensive battle from the start, but after several possessions by both teams, Blue scored the only points of the first half when, following one of Gold's three fumbles, Pencader Charter quarterback Malik White found Tatnall's Justin Perillo in the back corner of the end zone for a 15-yard touchdown. St. Mark's Kyle Sullivan tacked on the extra point to give the Blue a 7-0 lead with 3:44 remaining in the first quarter, a lead they would take into the locker room at halftime.

Blue started its second possession of the third quarter on the Gold 30-yard line, and four plays later Sullivan converted a 33-yard field goal to put Blue up 10-0 with 8:06 remaining.

On Gold's next possession, a fumbled snap deep in its own end forced quarterback Kenny Anderson (Middletown) to kick the ball out of the end zone for a safety, putting Blue up 12-0 with just over seven minutes remaining in the third quarter.

Gold tried to put together one last scoring drive with 7:52 remaining in the fourth quarter, but Blue's other defensive lineman from Dickinson, Eddie Stewart, sacked Glasgow's Chris Cruz to force a fourth and long at the Gold 34-yard line. Cruz dropped back to pass but was

All the Stars come out at local Little Leagues

With Williamsport the destiny, all three local all-star teams — Canal, Newark American and Newark National — open play this weekend in the District 2 Little League Major Baseball All Star Tournament.

Canal faces Midway in opener: The Canal all-stars open play on June 27 against Midway at 3:30 p.m. at the Newark National complex.

The team's manager is Eric Frost, who will be assisted by Tom Freeland, Matt Brancato, Doug Evans and Todd Lamberton.

"These boys are excited to be representing Canal and the energy level is great," Frost said. "We expect them to be able to gel quickly. We like what we have in this group of kids."

The boys were selected by the managers of the league's Major Division, and not just based on talent alone.

"We looked at ability, attitude, availability, and ultimately who we think will make the best team possible to compete in this event," Frost said. "The boys are all pulling for each other and seem open to learning new positions and accepting whatever challenges the coaches present."

While it is every parent's and player's dream to advance to Williamsport for the Little League World Series, the reality is only one Delaware team — Naamans in 2003 — has advanced that far.

"As a father who has been through the process with my two older sons, I know that it creates a memory that lasts a lifetime," said Lamberton, whose oldest son was a catcher on the 2005 Canal team which advanced to the Mid-Atlantic Regional Finals in Bristol, Conn. "It is my hope for Pierce as well as his all-star teammates that they get the most out of the experience both from a personal enjoyment standpoint and a baseball learning perspective."

If Canal wins on Saturday they will advance to take on Naamans at 5:30 p.m. on June 30, while a loss would send them to the loser's bracket and a game on July 3 against an opponent yet to be determined.

"The goal of the coaches is to prepare the kids to play at their highest level and have a great chance to win baseball games," Frost said. "We want them to have a memorable summer and winning games is definitely a part of that, but not everything. If each boy walks away an improved player and feels that they had a positive experience then we have done our job."

Newark National hosts Brandywine: Newark National also opens play on Saturday at 12 p.m. when it hosts Brandywine.

Members of the team include: Andrew deLaveaga, Brandon Dooley, Conner Eastep, Justin Engelmann, Mark Ferelli, Logan Gilbert, Brett Marien, Adam Reamer, Dennis Robinson, Billy Stranahan and Bradley Ulmer.

Marvin Dooley will manage the team and be assisted by John Talley, Billy Gilbert, Dan Marien, Jeff Eastep and Dennis Robinson.

"It's the friendships you build and the memories you make that will make this Little League tournament a success whether we win or lose," Dooley said.

Newark American hosts opener: Newark American opens tournament play when it hosts Wilmington on June 30 at 8 p.m.

Members of the team include: Sam Benjamin, Colin Brackin, Nouri Cherouri, Trevor Clemmons, Brandon Dewberry, Matt Hill, Connor Knight, David Paulson, Nick Peterson, Kevin O'Rourke, Francis Teel, Blake Tucker and Zach Warren.

"I hope the boys have fun and make lasting memories from their experience," said manager Tom Brackin, who will be assisted by Bob Tucker and Brian Leshar. "They have worked very hard to be part of this team and represent Newark American Little League well."

Whatever you do, don't cry

By MARVIN HUMMEL

NEWARK POST COLUMNIST

When I was a chaplain at the University of Delaware, I was invited to give a brief talk during the pre-school orientation program.

I was introduced as a clergyman, and I saw the eyes of the 25 students glaze over — they thought they knew the content of my talk before I said a word: "Students, welcome to the University. Come to our church and have a fun time! Study diligently and remain celibate until you complete your doctorate."

Wrong!

The problems of late teenagers have been very important to me ever since I was one. You are a kid and a young adult all at the same time. Many of us did stupid things, taking chances that were potentially dangerous both physically and academically. Cutting classes was, finally, an option. Semester after semester, I helped roommates pack up and return to their disappointed and/or angry parents. (Nine times, two in one semester.) I also attended funeral services for five friends who had gone home in a hearse.

I didn't mention this in my orientation talk, but it was all there in my head and heart. I read to them a newspaper article about what had happened to some incoming U of D freshmen the year before.

They had either been invited-or invited themselves- to an off-campus party, replete with kegs, booze, booming music, and raucous shouting. It was cool, it was great, it was amazing! Two days on campus and they were already in! Then someone called the police.

The article concluded with a description of some freshmen "kids" in a corner of the apartment — crying and sobbing! A 240-pound would-be football player was shaking with grief. "I'm going to be kicked out! I'll never play football again!" One girl/woman was chanting. "How will I tell my parents? I'm not even done unpacking!" Some just stared at the wall, wailing. Underage drunks!

I looked up at my late-teenage audience and said. "They were disgusting! They knew what they were doing — and did it! The risk was the thrill — the possibility of getting caught was a delicious part of the whole adventure of Party Roulette! They broke the Eleventh Commandment of 'Thou shalt not get caught!' Well, they were! Boo hoo!"

"So if you do play the game and get caught for God's sake, don't cry! That's disgusting!"

I sat down to a response of total silence.

Good!

A shaken faculty member came up and presented me with an Orientation Week tee shirt with a goofy-looking Blue Hen on it.

I had tried.

OUT OF THE ATTIC

This week's Out of the Attic features a postcard view of the Newark Travelodge at 268 East Main Street saved by a guest of four from their stay on June 3, 1963. Their room receipt for $16.00 was also saved. The back of the card lists as amenities: "In-Room" coffee — Air Conditioned — Continental Breakfast — Heated Pool — TV — FM Radio — Valet and Message Service — Baby Cribs. Only modern hotel located in the Newark area on Main St. (Rt. 2 and 273) adjacent to Newark Shopping Center. The property has been branded with several names and currently trades as a Super 8 motel.

The picture is on loan to the Newark Post from the Newark Historical Society collection (courtesy of Kris Hartman Dierks). Visit the Newark History Museum at 148 East Main Street (between Choate and Haines Streets). Hours are Thursday 5 to 8 p.m., Friday 12 to 3 p.m., and Saturday and Sunday 2 to 5 p.m. Admission is free. The Museum will be closed after this month for relocation.

Letter-writer says Bauscher deserves praise

To: Editor

From: Mark Morehead, Newark

I believe every tax-paying citizen of Newark owes John Bauscher a debt of gratitude for his attempt to raise the public's awareness of the request by Council to "tax...any activity... within the limits of the City." The City's printed response to his commentary was to tie John Bauscher's good name to the "unique demands of rental properties on municipal services", essentially fear-mongering to the tax-paying residents that the tenant population is the cause of the problems in our fair City.

The City fails to identify in their response the fact that single-family rental properties pay not only their full complement of real estate taxes and fees for all municipal services, but also "rental permit fees" of the same magnitude again, effectively subsidizing the tax rate for everybody else. The City further fails to identify in their response that John Bauscher's rental permit fees, as a single-family landlord, are more than four times higher per unit than the City charges the more than 30 large rental corporations who actually account for the overwhelming quantity of the permitted tenant population.

Although the rental permit fees are included in Section 17 of the Municipal Code, "for the purpose of protection of public health, safety and welfare", the City does not justify in their response that a tenant places more of a burden on municipal services than a permanent resident, and further that John Bauscher's tenants, in particular, place more than four times more burden on municipal services than tenants in an apartment complex.

The City will most likely promise that they will not abuse this new taxing authority. However, in their printed response, the City has chosen to target John Bauscher by name, and promote dissent and resentment against a large portion of the population, while offering no factual justification for their assertions. This seems to be a particularly inauspicious response for an entity who is requesting infinite taxation authority.

There are already laws in place to ensure the public health, safety and welfare. I would propose that "many residents realize" the City needs to raise money, but they haven't taken a personal interest in the ongoing governance of the City. I, for one, would like to thank John for his courageous efforts to raise public awareness and to improve the quality of governance in Newark.

It is time for a real health care plan

To: Editor
From: Jason Schwartz-Glassner, Newark

100,000. 50%. 8%. These numbers show how serious health care has become in Delaware. 100,000 is the number of uninsured in Delaware, 50% is the percentage of uninsured who are working adults, and 8% is the percentage of children in the state that are still uninsured. These numbers are, as Senator Carper says, "disturbing." Even for people with health care, costs are still staggering; of those who spend more than a quarter of their pre-tax income on health care, 80% have insurance! There have been some efforts to deal with health care issues. Senator Carper has just helped pass legislation to combat obesity by requiring all restaurants to have nutrition information on their menus. In addition, Delaware is passing legislation to help small businesses reduce health care costs by making the law less complicated and easier to understand. Yet even with these efforts, the numbers do not lie and what they tell us is something else must be done. Fortunately, President Obama has a health care plan that can help us face health care issues head-on. Obama's plan has three parts; it calls for reduced cost for families, businesses and government, protection of people's choice of doctors, hospitals and health plans, and assuring affordable, quality health care for all Americans.

Transportation planners seek feedback via web

Residents with concerns about driving, walking, riding a bike, or using transit in New Castle County, Delaware or Cecil County, Maryland now have a new tool to express their views to transportation planners with the addition of a feedback forum to the Wilmington Area Planning Council's (WILMAPCO's) website.

The feedback forum allows residents to post comments and ideas about transportation online. It also allows users to vote on comments previously posted and allows planners to respond to comments received. "We are seeking feedback on the priorities of residents as we begin to plan for the next 20 years," said Tigist Zegeye, WILMAPCO Executive Director. "The feedback forum allows residents to tell us their priorities, in an easy manner," she said.

WILMAPCO is the federally required transportation planning organization charged with ensuring that transportation investments satisfy the needs of our region's residents and employers. Our role is to educate and involve the public in the transportation decision-making and funding process. To ensure that the transportation system is designed to serve the needs of our region's residents, we encourage you to provide feedback and get involved in transportation planning.

The feedback forum can be found by scrolling down to the "provide feedback" section of WILMAPCO's homepage, www.wilmapco.org. "We don't want to create the perception that we can fix everything but, certainly, we want to know people's thoughts and concerns so that they can be reflected in the Regional Transportation Plan," added Zegeye.

Prettyman named Volunteer of Year

At the annual meeting of the YMCA of Delaware, Strong Kids Campaign volunteers were recognized for their contributions. The annual Strong Kids Campaign raises funds for YMCA scholarships for local individuals and families in need of financial assistance. In 2008, the YMCA of Delaware awarded more than $2,520,000 in financial assistance.

By the end of May 2009, the seven branches of the YMCA of Delaware, YMCA Camp Tockwogh and the YMCA of Delaware Association had raised $593,000 for financial assistance.

The Western Family YMCA recognized Ruthann Prettyman as "Volunteer of the Year." Prettyman has been serving on the Western Family YMCA Board of Governors since 2006. During that time, she has immersed herself in the Strong Kids Campaign, serving this year as campaign chair. She single handedly raised more than $8,000 for Western's campaign.

Seven sure-fire ways to save precious money

By MARIA PIPPIDIS

NEWARK POST CONTRIBUTING WRITER

Editor's note: Pippidis is with the New Castle County Extension office

During a recent money management class individuals shared their ideas about saving money. I was so pleased when one participant lauded UD Cooperative Extension's Two Cent Tips for Delaware email money management newsletter. Given all we discussed and the need for all of us to cut back a bit, I thought sharing their ideas would be a great Newark Post article.

Tip 1. Subscribe to Two Cent Tips for Delaware. UD

Cooperative Extension recently launched this email newsletter that provides idea that help save money as well as consumer information to help you make informed financial decisions. If you'd like to start receiving this emailed letter, send a message to TwoCentTips@udel.edu and we'll put you on the mailing list. July issue will be coming out shortly.

Tip 2: Don't go "shopping". If you don't go shopping you won't spend money. The less often you go to the store the more money you will save. If you shop with a plan and a list of items needed you can get in and out of a store quickly with just those items purchased. Everyone in the class agreed the more times they went to the store they were more likely to buy things they did not need.

Tip 3: Shop for the Right Reason - If shopping is filling a need other than acquiring needed goods and services, look at why you shop. Some people shop to socialize, for a reward, as an antidote to depression, to booster self-esteem or self-assertion and status.

Tip 4: Take care of what you have. There is one thing we all have that we want to last a long time — our bodies. Simple attention to the proven preventative health practices will save money. Good diet, exercise, adequate rest, needed immunizations and proper dental care will go a long way to helping to keep our bodies healthy. Apply that same principle to the upkeep of all your possessions. Remember that everything we own, owns us. In time and energy expended we are giving away the time we have on earth to care for what we own. Decide today if it is worth your time to possess the items you own.

Tip 5. Do it yourself. Learn to do as many items that you need done as possible. Take classes to learn new skills that would help you be more self-reliant. What you can't do, hire competent people to do. One woman shared that she learned how to run an electric chain saw so she could better take care of her yard without the expense. She reported it was fun and fulfilling.

Tip 6. Anticipate your needs. With enough planning you will not need to buy many items until they go on sale—20 to 50 percent off the regular price. Anticipating needs also eliminates one of the biggest threats to your frugality: impulse buying.

Tip 7. Get it for less. There are numerous ways to hunt for bargains. Comparison shop by phone or check on the internet. The more educated you are about the product and the more specific you can be about the exact make or model you want, the more successful your bargain-hunting will be. Get at least three prices from different stores for large-ticket items. Check mail order and e-mail discounters. Bargain! You can ask for discounts for paying cash, for less-than-perfect items, and for items already marked down. You can ask for discounts anywhere, anytime—nothing ventured, nothing gained. Buy it used. You may be surprised at the high quality of much "pre-owned" merchandise. As a matter of fact, donating brand-new items to thrift stores is one way that shopaholics justify excess purchases.

Last but not least tip 8. Research value, quality, durability and multiple use. Don't just be a bargain shopper and automatically buy the cheapest item available. Durability is critical for something you plan to use the next 20 years.

All these ideas will help you save money both now and in the future. For more ideas subscribe to our Two Cent Tips Email newsletter. @ chased and tackled by Watson and Jamil Merrell (Hodgson) to end any hopes Gold had of ending Blue's three-game winning streak.

"It was a special experience for me to coach this team," Blue coach Jody Russell (Tatnall) said after the game. "The guys were great all week. They embraced the Hand-In-Hand program and understood from day one what this game is all about."

The common theme heard and seen around the stadium the entire night was about the Blue-Gold All-Star Game being about family, not just tonight but in years to come when "Buddies" -- persons ages 4 - 18 with an intellectual disability -- and participants reunite.

For Watson, whose brother Nigel, 7, was his Buddy in the Hand-In-Hand program, that theme resonated even louder.

"I never understood what this game was all about," he said with pride when asked about having his brother as his Buddy. "Now I know, and it was an honor to be part of it."

Game notes: Blue's Jamil Merrell (Hodgson) was named the game's outstanding lineman ... Sullivan converted a 33-yard field goal and had two touchbacks ... Newark's Brandon Norwood carried the ball six times for 13 yards for Gold ... Caravel's Travis Perez carried the ball 22 times for 79 yards for Blue ... Officials from the Northern Delaware Football Officials Association volunteered their services for the game ... Official attendance was 5,200 ... The 55th game is scheduled for June 19, 2010.

Local players who participated in the game

Gold: Newark: Brandon

Norwood; Glasgow: Malachi Freeman, Chris Cruz; Christiana: Josh Tatnall.

Blue-Gold Awards Banquet: A banquet was held on Friday evening to honor all buddies, ambassadors, band members, cheerleaders, and players participating in the game. Several local participants received awards.

The Outstanding Blue-Gold Cheerleaders Awards were presented to Brittney Gilewski of Milford High School (Gold) and Erin Dodd of Saint Mark's High School (Blue) for showing outstanding commitment to the cheerleading squad and selfless dedication to the Hand-in-Hand Program.

The Outstanding Band Member Award was presented to Emily Reed of Glasgow High School for outstanding spirit and dedication to the Hand-In-Hand program.

The Delaware Interscholastic Football Coaches Association honored Jason Kollock from Milford High School (Gold) and Jamil Merrell from Hodgson Vo-Tech (Blue) with the Jim Williams Memorial Award for contributing the most to squad spirit and morale during the training period, as voted on by teammates and coaches.

UD Ginn suspended for DWI incident

The University of Delaware has placed Assistant Football Coach Brian Ginn on an immediate two-week suspension without pay for driving a UD vehicle while intoxicated. Ginn, 32, was stopped by University of Delaware police for driving the vehicle the wrong way down a one-way street in Newark early Friday morning, June 19 and later released.

He will be arraigned at Court 40 in Newark on driving under the influence and the traffic charge at a later date. In addition to his suspension, Ginn will immediately enroll in the University of Delaware's Substance Abuse Program for Faculty and Staff and follow its requirements fully. He will be required to sign a waiver so that his attendance at these mandatory counseling sessions can be reported to the UD Director of Athletics and Recreation Services.

He will also be subject to all restrictions outlined by University policies related to the driving of UD vehicles. A former standout quarterback and the 1999 team captain for the Blue Hen football team, Ginn currently has the second longest tenure of any member of the UD football staff and will begin his 10th season with the Blue Hens this fall.

He currently serves as the Blue Hen wide receivers coach and passing game coordinator and has previously held the roles of offensive coordinator, quarterbacks coach, and running backs coach. "Brian is a terrific young coach, an exemplary employee, and a great mentor for our players," stated University of Delaware Head Football Coach K. C. Keeler. "This was his first offense, but he made a very poor decision and will pay the consequences. We take this type of situation very seriously for our coaches and players." Delaware will begin pre-season camp in August and will begin the 2009 season Sept. 4 at home vs. West Chester.

Irvin H. Carter, Jr.

Irvin H. "Irv" Carty, Jr., who became the first black student-athlete to earn a varsity letter for the University of Delaware athletics program in 1951, passed away last week at his home in Wilmington. Carty, who was also the first black student to live on UD campus, died at the age of 77 on June 12 and services were held on June 17. His family requested that donations be made in his name to St. Joseph's Catholic Church, 1012 French Street, Wilmington, DE 19801. A native of Wilmington, Carty attended Howard High School before enrolling at the University of Delaware in 1951. He was a two-year member of head coach Ken Steers' Blue Hen men's cross country teams and led the team to a 5-1 dual record and sixth place finish at the Middle Atlantic Conference championships in 1951 and a 4-1 mark and fourth place finish at the MAC meet in 1952. He earned two letters, becoming the first black student-athlete to earn that distinction at UD in 1951. He entered the U.S. Army 82nd Airborne Division and left the service as lieutenant and later rose to the rank of Major with the National Guard. He worked for the Delaware Department of Welfare as a case worker and later served 30 years with the United State Postal Service, retiring in 1989 as director of employee labor relations for the state of Delaware and the eastern shore of Maryland.

Bonnie Berger

Bonnie R. Berger, 87, of Newark, DE, died at her residence on Wednesday, June 17.

Born in Iowa, Ms. Berger was the daughter of the late Nick and Laura Licklider. She collected antiques and owned her own antique shop. She was an accomplished artist and loved to paint. Her husband, Julius S. Berger, predeceased her in 1970.

Ms. Berger is survived by her daughters and sons-in-law, Mary Ann and James Ryan of Newark and Janet and Francis Salacki III of Newark; and her grandchildren, Frank L. and Steven J. Salacki.

A Memorial Service was held on Tuesday, June 23 at 11 am at Mealey Funeral Home, Limestone and Milltown Roads, Wilmington. Interment was private.

In lieu of flowers, the family suggests contributions to Toys for Tots of Delaware, 3920 Kirkwood Hwy., Wilmington, DE 19808.

Royal Pest Management Entomologist Jess King on protecting your home and family from Black Widow Spiders

Jess King
B.S. Entomology

BLACK WIDOW SPIDERS are being seen in record numbers this year as a result of several mild winters plus a cold spell.

Royal Pest Management wants you to know the facts, understand the problems they may present, and what you can do to reduce the risk of an encounter with them.

HABITAT: Black Widow Spiders prefer rocks, flagstone, pavers, woodpiles and other installations that create small voids in which they can hide. Nesting areas include under eaves, in boxes, and other areas where they are undisturbed.

THREATS: Black Widow Spiders do not bite humans instinctively. Their venom is a neurotoxin and is used as a defense. Children and the elderly are especially susceptible.

TREATMENT: Royal Pest Management will send out an Entomologist or Certified Technician to inspect your home. Once your situation is assessed, Royal can treat your home or yard immediately. After the procedure, we will monitor the situation to determine if any further action is required.

If you have seen Black Widow Spiders, or would like your home inspected AT NO CHARGE please call Royal Pest at officers, with the assistance of the DEA, executed a search warrant at a home in the unit block of Katherine Court in the community of Kirkwood Knoll. The DEA Clan Lab Team entered the home first as a precaution as investigators know that large-scale growth operations can be dangerous due to mold and oxygen depletion in the confined spaces of a home. After deeming the home safe, detectives moved in and found the two occupants had been manufacturing marijuana and had recently harvested their crop. Officers seized 26 pounds of marijuana and drug paraphernalia. The following two residents have been charged with trafficking marijuana, possession with the intent to deliver marijuana, maintaining a dwelling for keeping a controlled substance, conspiracy, and possession of drug paraphernalia: - Susan Richards, 51. - John Schneider, 53. Arraignments are pending.

Unknown suspect takes exhaust system

Newark Chrysler, located at 244 E. Cleveland Ave., reported the theft of the front Y portion of an exhaust system, along with a dual catalytic converter, from one of their service bays, last Monday. David Leithren, service manager for the dealership, told police that the system was last seen at noon on June 8, near an overhead door in one of the service bays. Leithren contacted the service department at Nucar Pontiac Buick GMC to see if anyone there had seen any suspects. Employees at Nucar stated that they had witnessed a scrap metal truck pass through their lot at about 2 p.m. on June 8. A check of Chrysler's video tapes showed a truck pass through their lot at about 2:11 p.m. and parking out of the range of the video surveillance. Newark Police are questioning local scrap yards and the employees at Nucar.

Teen accused of stealing condoms

A Newark area teen has been arrested for breaking into a home and stealing condoms. On Thursday, New Castle County Police responded to an address in the 200 block of Ellsworth Drive for a report of a burglary in progress. The location is east of Newark, near Harmony Road and Ruthar Drive.

When the officers arrived, they were instructed by at least two witnesses who observed a male lurking around a neighboring home. The officers searched the home and found several bedroom dresser drawers and closets open. As assisting officers responded to the scene and established a perimeter around the crime scene. During a search of the area, a male teenager was found walking nearby who fit the description provided by the witnesses.

The teen was detained and arrested after police found he was in possession of gloves and condoms. A further examination revealed serial numbers that matched an empty box (belonging to the victim) left behind at the crime scene.

Further investigation revealed the teen was responsible for the Harmony Hills burglary and another unrelated burglary that occurred in the nearby Breezewood community. The teen has been charged with one count of burglary, theft, and possession of burglary tools. He has been committed to the Camelot Home after failing to post $8,500 secured bail. Additional charges are pending.

Man wanted for trespassing

Last Friday, Patrick Hitchens, a security guard for Rohm and Haas, at 575 Bellevue Rd., filed a complaint against Frank Trombley, 25, of Newark, for trespassing on their property. Hitchens stated that Trombley was working on his green Dodge Stealth within a gated area marked as Private Property and that he told Trombley to leave the area. Trombley told police that he was working on his car while he was waiting for his friend, Kalin Gregg, who works at the business next door. Trombley told Hitchens that he was almost done, but was still working on the vehicle when Hitchens returned a few minutes later.

Hitchens told Trombley to move the car a second time and that when was going to call the police. Trombley waved a hammer he was holding at Hitchens and said "You ain't arresting anyone." Words were exchanged, but Trombley left when Gregg exited the building. Hitchens showed officers the clearly marked signs and filed a report against Hitchens. A warrant has been issued through Alderman's Court.

Health Sciences. She and her family subsequently lived in Wooster, OH, Lewiston, ME, Corea, ME and Washington, DC where Ann served the communities in various capacities.

Ann is survived by her spouse of 49 years, Donald W. Harward; her children, Sharon Harward Dorr and her spouse, Darryl; Brian McIlhenny Harward and his spouse, Ashley; her grandchildren, Shelby Dorr, Ellis Dorr, and Wynn Harward; her brothers Robert B. McIlhenny of Gettysburg, PA; and Dr. James A. McIlhenny of Chateaugay, NY; and by her sister-in-law Loretta Mink McIlhenny of East Lyme, CT, wife of Ann's late brother Dr. Hugh M. McIlhenny. A website (www.annharward.com) has been established with a full obituary, more information about a memorial concert being planned for mid October, and where contributions, in lieu of flowers, may be sent in Ann's honor. Notes of condolence may be sent to the Harward family through the website.

Anna Krieger

Anna Mary Krieger, 90, of Newark died on Thursday, June 18, surrounded by her family. She was the wife of the late Leonard L. Krieger, who passed away in 1994.

Born in Claymont, she was the daughter of the late Harvey and Maude Krauss McCreary. Anna is survived by her daughter, Maude B. "Marty" Vied and her husband, Roger; grandchildren: Rhonda Lucas and husband Jack, Kimberly Rivera, Matthew Vied; great grandchildren: Joshua, Tammy, Jackie and Zachary.

Relatives and friends attended the funeral service at 11 am on Tuesday, June 23, at Gebhart Funeral Home, 531 Delaware St., Olde New Castle. The viewing was from 10-11 am in the funeral home prior to the service. Interment was at Gracelawn Memorial Park.

Eileen C. Markey

Eileen C. Markey, born August 29, 1921, in Gravesend, England to Richard and Margaret Cripps. Eileen, formerly of Newark DE, died June 15, in Brooksville, FL, following an eighteen month battle with cancer.

Eileen served in the Women's Royal English Navy during WWII, during which time she met and married her husband, John. Her working career was spent as a librarian, first with Pleasantville Elementary School, then with Prince Georges County Libraries and finally with Job Corps at their Bainbridge Center. In her retirement she gave many hours of volunteer service to the Newark Senior Center in their library and helping in their dining room. She was recognized with a Jefferson Award for her volunteer service at Newark Senior Center.

She is survived by her sons, Jon and wife Karen of Weeki Wachee, FL and Richard and wife Barbara, of Newark, DE, four grandchildren, Jon C. and wife Tammy, Nicole, Jon A. and Angela. She is also survived by two great grandchildren, Arianna and Olivia, and 1 sister, Joan and husband Brindley in Kent, England. She was predeceased by husband, John, grandson, Christopher, brothers, Sydney, Leslie and Jack, and her sister, Dorothy.

Services were private at the convenience of the family.

NOTICE

The Appoquinimink School District is again applying for funding, under IDEA B P/T (6-21) and IDEA-B 619 P/T Preschool, to provide special education services to those students identified as disabled. For the period of July 2009 through December 2010, the District proposes to use this funding to assist in their students programming.

- 1) The IDEA B P/T (6-21) funding will facilitate screening, evaluation and service delivery to eligible students ages 6 through 21.
- 2) IDEA B 619 P/T Preschool funding is requested to facilitate the delivery of services to children with disabilities birth through kindergarten.

You are invited to review and comment on these applications at the District's Special Education Services Department. Please contact the Department Supervisor at 302-376-4130

Choosing a medical professional

When you need to choose a primary care physician or a specialist in a particular area, start by asking for recommendations from coworkers, neighbors, and friends. Once you have narrowed your choices, you might want to call the practice and ask these questions:

1. Where is the practice located? Is there ample parking?
2. Which hospital does the doctor use?
3. Where are routine x-rays and lab tests performed? Can these be done in-office, or will you have to go to an outside laboratory?
4. How long must you wait for an appointment after you call? Can you be seen on the same day if you have an urgent need?
5. Who covers for the physician when he/she is away? Whom should you call if you have a problem after-hours? If the doctor works in a group, are you comfortable with being seen by one of the practice partners?
6. Does the physician frequently refer patients to specialists or does he/she prefer to manage the majority of your care themselves?
7. Does the office process insurance claims, or must you pay up-front for services and file the claims yourself?

clinical honors from the Pennsylvania College of Optometry. He is a member of the Delaware Optometric Association. He is also a consultant to the Delaware Division for the Visually Impaired and enjoys working with their team to improve the lives of Delaware's visually impaired citizens.

William Jeppe, O.D., earned a doctorate of Optometry from Ohio State University College of Optometry and a B.S. in Physiological Optics from Ohio State University College of Math & Physical Sciences. Because of excellent training at Ohio State, and as a consequence of his internship with a well respected contact lens specialist, Dr. Jeppe has developed considerable skill in working with difficult-to-fit rigid gas permeable lens cases, e.g. keratoconus, corneal scarring, post-keratoplasty and post-refractive surgery patients.

Kevin J. Brown, O.D., earned a doctorate of Optometry from West Virginia University and a B.S. in Biology from Nova Southeastern University in Fort Lauderdale, Florida. He belongs to the Delaware Optometric Association and the American Optometric Association.

Maria Paula Fernandez, O.D., earned a doctorate of Optometry and a B.S. in Vision Science from Nova Southeastern University in Fort Lauderdale, Florida. She belongs to the Delaware Optometric Association and the American Optometric Association.

Brian Gardner, O.D., earned a doctorate of Optometry and a B.S. in Vision Science at Nova Southeastern University in Fort Lauderdale, Florida. His residency included extensive training in contact lenses and detection and management of ocular diseases of the eye secondary to such entities as diabetes, hypertension and glaucoma. Dr. Gardner has been published in domestic and internationally known journals, such as Optometry Today and Review of Optometry, multiple times on subjects ranging from diagnostic technology for eye care to ocular disease. He belongs to the Delaware Optometric Association and the American Optometric Association.

Angela Clapper, O.D., earned her Doctor of Optometry degree from the Pennsylvania College of Optometry. She completed her B.S. in Biology from St. John Fisher College in Rochester, New York. Dr. Clapper's externship education focused on ocular diseases including glaucoma, macular degeneration and retinal diseases resulting from hypertension and diabetes. Among her several training sites were the Wilmington Veterans Administration Hospital in Delaware and Moore Eye Institute in Springfield, PA, where she received honors. In addition, Dr. Clapper presented at the American Academy of Optometry Meeting in San Diego in 2005. Dr. Clapper is dedicated to providing quality and compassionate eye care and developing long-term relationships with her patients.

Bradley W. Gardner, O.D., is a native of Wheeling, WV and performed his undergraduate studies in biology at West Virginia University. He later received his doctor of optometry degree from the University of Puerto Rico. During Dr. Gardner's education, he completed internships with a range of doctors specializing in such areas as contact lens, disease management, pediatrics, and neuro-ophthalmology. Upon graduation, Dr. Gardner was honored with the Clinical Excellence Award for best overall clinical performance in his graduating class. His high exposure to ocular pathology such as diabetes, hypertension, and glaucoma, in addition to performing bilingual exams, allows him to practice full scope optometry, serving all patients of the community.

Thuc Nguyen, O.D., Doctor of Optometry degree from the Pennsylvania College of Optometry in May 2007 after he completed his didactic studies in the Physician Assistant Master's Program at DeSales University in Center Valley, PA. Day Muscelli, O.D. Education: Originally from Ashland City, Tennessee, Dr. Muscelli moved to Delaware 10 years ago. As an undergraduate, she majored in both biology and chemistry and earned her degrees from Austin Peay State University. After working a year as a chemist, she decided to go back and get her optometry degree from the Southern College of Optometry in Memphis, Tennessee graduating in 1999. As an optometry student, Dr Muscelli did internships at Katzen Eye Group in Baltimore, Maryland and Ducklo Eye Care in Nashville, Tennessee. After graduation, Dr Muscelli did a residency with emphasis in ocular disease at the Wilmington VA Medical Center.

Tessa Payne, O.D., received her Doctor of Optometry degree and BS in Vision Sciences from the Pennsylvania College of Optometry. She was originally from Ft. Myers, FL and received her undergraduate degree from Stetson University in her home state. Dr. Payne's externship experiences focused on ocular disease as well pediatric and infant vision. She completed her ocular disease training with honors, at Seidenberg Protzko Eye Associates in Havre de Grace, MD and Optometric Care Inc in Aliquippa, PA where she worked in conjunction with cataract, glaucoma, and retinal specialists in both primary and tertiary care settings. She trained at The Eye Institute in Philadelphia in the Pediatric and Infant Vision services where she received clinical honors. Dr. Payne's pediatric experience extended to include the diagnosis, treatment, and management of binocular, amblyopic, and strabismic visual disorders. Dr. Payne currently resides in Newark, DE with her husband Dr. Matthew Miller, who is also an optometrist at Simon Eye Associates. She enjoys cooking, reading, hiking, and water-sports.

Matthew Miller, O.D., received his Doctor of Optometry degree from the Pennsylvania College of Optometry. He is originally from the Kennett Square, PA area and completed his undergraduate work at the Pennsylvania State University in 2005 with a B.S. in Biochemistry and Molecular biology. Dr. Miller's experience while at the Pennsylvania College of Optometry included completing an externship with honors at the Feinbloom Low Vision and Rehabilitation Center which focused on the treatment and rehabilitation of the visually blind and impaired patients from such diseases as age-related macular degeneration, diabetic retinopathy as well as inherited diseases. Dr. Miller also completed his ocular disease training with honors, at Seidenberg Protzko Eye Associates in Havre de Grace, MD and Optometric Care Inc in Aliquippa, PA where he worked in conjunction with cataract, glaucoma, and retinal specialists in both primary and tertiary care settings. Dr. Miller currently resides in Newark, DE with his wife Dr. Tessa Payne, who is also an optometrist at Simon Eye Associates. He enjoys hiking and other outdoor activities, music, electronics, and trivia. Dr. Miller is also active in boy scouts and received his Eagle Scout Award in 1999.

"The human body is an organic system. Changes in one part of the system affect other parts, and no part of the system functions in isolation. Consequently, the first task in treating an illness is to discover the underlying primary cause of the ailment. When the cause is found, you may then be referred to a medical specialist who deals with the specific area of the body most affected by that problem."
