College Of Agricultural Sciences To Conduct Annual Farm-Home Week Program With Dr. Samuel M. Gwinn, Director Of Delaware Cooperative Extension Service

The University of Delaware college of agricultural sciences will host its annual Farm and Home Week Jan. 28-30, according to Dr. Samuel M. Gwinn, director of the Delaware Cooperative Extension Service.

Farm and Home Week is designed to inform farmers of latest agricultural research findings and to familiarize them with newly developed techniques and practices to help them remain competitive, Gwinn explains.

Sessions of interest to urban and suburban dwellers also are scheduled.

Varied Program

Among the sessions slated for the Farm and Home Week program are beef, dairy and horse meetings; a day-long water program; sessions on bee-keeping, aquaculture, gardening and home economics; and a special program for bird enthusiasts.

Topics of special interest to dairy-men include a review of Delaware dairy laws and discussions of milk substitutes and the dairyman's place in the market.

The Dairy Day program also will include presentation of National Dairy Awards, DHIA awards, and introduction of Delaware's 1969 Dairy Princess.

All-Day With Horses

The all-day horse program will include discussions of equine nutrition requirements; digestive problems; prevention and control of equine diseases; brood mare management and care; and lameness in the lower leg.

Horse enthusiasts also will be invited to attend a question and answer session and the annual horsemen's get-together, an evening session dealing with the breaking, schooling and training of light horses.

Economics of irrigation in corn, soybeans and vegetables, a discussion of automatic irrigation systems and a panel discussion of irrigation experience in Delaware will highlight a day-long session on water.

Other sessions will include home economics, landscape, lawn care, patio construction and house plant care.

Home Fashion Forum

Special sessions include a "Home Fashion Forum" and a program on creative cooking, spices and herbs sponsored by the Home Economics Extension Service, and Birdwatchers Holiday, an illustrated lecture on birds by Cleveland Grant, bird-life photographer for Walt Disney Productions.

A variety of displays will be featured throughout the Farm and Home Week program.

Newark Artist

18 Oil Paintings By Mrs. Weinberg In C. of C. Exhibit

Eighteen oil paintings by Freida H. Weinberg are on exhibit at the Greater Newark Chamber of Commerce Information Center, 250 East Main Street.

MacK Emmert, executive vice-president of the chamber, reports that the exhibit is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and at other hours by appointment.

Many of the 18 oil paintings have won prizes. They include scenes from the local area, and other impressions of things familiar to the Newark artist.

When commenting on the display at the Greater Newark Chamber of Commerce Information Center, Mrs. Weinberg said:

"Literary representation in painting has not been my goal," Mrs. Weinberg said. "Rather, I have attempted to react or conduct my activities in a personal way. Even though my inspiration comes from nature, I select, emphasize, or modify what is in nature to reveal its significant aspects as I see them."

"To me, art is excitement — the involvement of the unknown. My inspiration is merely a point of departure."

"The moment of the first stroke suggests a series of changes, with each subsequent effort being influenced by the last and influencing the next. There is no preconceived notion of a 'finished product' — the painting is the master."

Mrs. Weinberg also has an oil painting hanging in the city hall of Newark's sister city, La Garde-Freinet, France. The title of this oil is "Off Delaware Avenue," a Newark scene.

The 18 Weinberg oils will be in the exhibit hall of the Greater Newark Chamber of Commerce Information Center through Feb. 28.

High Bond Interest Delays City Program For Recreation Stiff Tells LWV Forum

At the Newark League of Women Voters forum last Thursday night, Newark City Manager Edward R. Stiff said the city's parks and recreation program is being delayed by high interest rates.

Stiff said the city was unable to sell bonds for the program in December because of high rates. And the new prime interest rate seems to have wiped out hopes of getting a more favorable rate by March.

Stiff said the city has a $110,000 sinking fund earmarked for parks and "we hope to have at least a token beginning by June 1."

The forum, attended by about 40 persons, also was concerned with what the parks should contain — when they are built.

Frank DiSanti, a Newark High School student, said what teenagers would like is a place where they can talk, listen to records, eat.

Stiff said plans are to renovate the old New London Avenue School for a community recreation center.

For skating rink, are needed according to Girl Scout Susan Lewis.

"There's nothing around here except ditches," she said.

Representatives of civic groups said they would look into the possibility of doing development work because of bond sale difficulty.

Philosophy Dept. Growth At U.D. Cited By F. B. Dilly

The philosophy department at the University of Delaware is growing, according to Dr. Frank B. Dilly, department chairman. The past several years have seen increasing numbers enrolled, changes in the directions of department offerings, and new demands for "relevance" from undergraduates.

Dilly said students are expressing greater interest in religion and recalled that in 1963, the only course in religion at the university was one on the Bible offered by the English department.

He said the introduction of a course in philosophy, entitled "Religion of Man," was a direct result of student interest.

Dilly said he has watched the philosophy department grow from an enrollment of 240 in 1964-65 to over 600 this year.

Philosophy majors have also increased in the four-year period from 100 to 200.

Two new teachers have joined the department.

Dr. Jerome T. Pinsky, primarily interested in the philosophy of literature, came to the university from a post-doctoral fellowship at Brown.

Donald Howard, an assistant professor at Delaware, is working for his PhD at Maryland. He is an analytic philosopher.

According to Dilly, today's students are more serious about basic questions in religion and philosophy. He said many are more often concerned with religious questions than with religious answers.

Dilly defines philosophy as a subject which helps people to better organize their ideas and grasp essential issues.

Meeting Of School Board Scheduled Next Tuesday

The Newark Board of Education will meet next Tuesday evening, at 7:30 in the Administration Building, at 83 East Main Street.

President Albert H. Jones, explained that at the conclusion of the monthly school board meeting, the Newark Building Commission would discuss school construction projects underway and about to begin in the Newark area.

Bachelor Of Divinity Local Folk Singer David W. Kennedy Named Clergyman

Former professional folk singer and maintenance department staff member at the University of Delaware, the Rev. David W. Kennedy of Newark received his bachelor of divinity degree last Christmas Eve from Felix Adler Memorial University, Monroe, N.C.

The Rev. Kennedy is Delaware's first representative of the Gospel Publicity League of Australia. He is continuing his studies to obtain a bachelor of Bible degree next fall.

A veteran performer as guitarist and folk singer before live, radio, and TV audiences, he served five churches as a clergyman in Maryland while preparing for the ministry.

The Rev. David Kennedy plans to head a chapel near Newark — a non-sectarian fellowship under the Christian Congregation, Inc. founded in 1887 — in the fall of 1969.

John Kraft Named Groot's Successor As Geology Chief

Former Chairman To Head UN Project For Bolivia; Jordan, State Geologist

Dr. John C. Kraft, associate professor or geology, has been named chairman of the geology department at the University of Delaware effective Feb. 1.

Dr. Arnold L. Lippert, dean of the college of arts and sciences, said that Kraft's demonstrated leadership and scholarship made him the obvious choice for the department chairmanship.

Kraft succeeds Dr. Johan J. Groot, chairman of the department since 1956, who is going to direct a four-year United Nations study of geology and ground water in Bolivia's most populous area.

Dr. Robert H. Jordan, associate professor of geology and assistant state geologist since 1964, was named to succeed Dr. Groot with the Delaware State Geological Survey.

A graduate of Penn State, Kraft received his master's and PhD degrees from the University of Minnesota.

He served as a petroleum geologist for 10 years with Shell. Coming to the University of Delaware as an assistant professor of geology in 1961, he served as acting chairman during 1965-66 and was named associate professor in 1966.

Groot, the university's first geology department chairman, came here in 1950.

He feels that his greatest contribution to the department was bringing it from a one to a seven-man department capable of granting advanced degrees.

As state geologist, his work in mineral deposits and ground water resources will serve as the basis for all future geological study in the state.

Jordan holds a bachelor's degree from Hunter College and master's and PhD degrees from Bryn Mawr.

Assistant professor and assistant state geologist since June, 1961, he was named associate professor last June.

Recipient of two University of Delaware Research Foundation grants, he has published articles in geological journals.

According to Dr. Mary K. Card, dean of the college of nursing, the plan provides opportunity for registered nurses who are graduates of National League for Nursing accredited diploma and associate degree programs in nursing to work toward this professional degree.

Ex-City Manager J. F. Neide Retires After 19-Years Service

Council Adopts Resolution Expressing Appreciation For Neide's Years Of Service; Police Salary Grades Revised, Plumbing Fees Levied With New Ordinances

The retirement of J. Francis Neide, special consultant and former Newark city manager, was announced effective at the end of the past calendar year; two ordinances were unanimously approved to increase police salary grades and establish plumbing fees; and a resolution and agreement for the new 76-lot Section IV of the Fairfield housing development were adopted at the regular meeting of Newark City Council last Monday night.

Neide, who retired Dec. 31, under the mandatory age requirement, was cited in a resolution by council "for his long years of dedicated service..." with "best wishes for long life and the best of health during the coming years."

Employed by the city in 1950, he served as city engineer and succeeded J. J. Salavara as Newark's third city manager in 1960. Resigning as city manager in 1962, he was retained as a special consultant.

Police Salary Revised

Monthly salaries for six police grades were revised, including a range from $531 to $616 for the minimum and $808 to $1,053 for chief, with unanimous amendment of an ordinance with a final reading.

An ordinance establishing plumbing fees averaging $37.50 for a newly constructed house was enacted with City Manager Edward R. Stiff pointing out that other cities required such fees, and recommending that municipal inspections of plumbing "should be self-inspecting." Proposed fees conform with the county schedule, Stiff said.

Francis M. Sullivan in the audience objected to passage of the ordinance "just because every city has it."

A resolution approving the new Fairfield section of 76 lots was adopted by a 6-1 vote in Councilman John H. Freeman's absence, with Councilman Olan R. Thomas opposing the measure because of rule-does-as-to be created with street plans.

Council rejected a police department pension plan proposal, including 20-year retirement at half pay.

The local police department has requested an improved pension program more in keeping with Wilmington and state police plans.

Zoning Changes

Scheduled for a final reading last Monday night, action on a proposed ordinance for a new zoning code and map changes was deferred after a 45-minute discussion of zoning proposals, and a recess in the discussion was declared until next Monday night.

Of the 88-page proposal Councilman Arthur P. Mayer suggested tacking "parts of the ordinance that are bothering each councilman" and added "don't believe this ordinance will be approved without major amendments."

Councilman William M. Coverdale agreed with Mayer and cited the ordinance as a "new selection of headaches."

City Solicitor Clyde M. England, Jr., said the proposed ordinance "should be passed in some form before long because you have a lot of people hanging — they don't know what to do next."

Hugh F. Gallagher, Jr., in the audience suggested appointment of a mayor's committee to present recommendations to council on the ordinance, and a motion made by Councilman Frank J. Osborne, Jr., for such a committee to include engineers, architects and realtors, was approved in a 5-1 vote over opposition by Mayor Norma B. Handloff.

69 Questions

The mayor and the Greater Newark Chamber of Commerce had presented 69 questions on the ordinance.

After prior review of the preceding 41 pages, council turned to page 42 of the 88-page report last Monday night — and after the 45-minute discussion was recessed, the page had not been turned.

"At the rate we're going, it will be until June before we get this thing going," Mayer said of the proposed ordinance.

A contract for city purchase of four traffic counters at $508.15 each was awarded to Streeter Arnt, the low bidder.

Jane Lee Honored As English Student In National Tests

Jane Lee, a Newark High School student, has been cited as one of the outstanding high school students of English in the entire country. The National Council of Teachers of English has named her 1968 runner-up in its annual achievement awards competition.

Last spring, a committee of English teachers from Newark High School nominated Miss Lee to represent the school in competition with 1,500 students for the National Council of Teachers of English citation. Of that number only 500 were chosen.

Jane, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Lee, 809 Daltam Road, she plans to major in mathematics and become a secondary school teacher.

This is the fourth consecutive year that a student at Newark High School has been named winner of runner-up in the NCTE achievement program.

The ship is equipped with the latest in medical facilities including a frozen blood bank, and an artificial heart and kidney machine.

The hospital is staffed with 20 nurses and 24 specialist doctors and can handle 750 patients.

MAKE AMERICA A BETTER PLACE.

LEAVE THE COUNTRY.

Of all the ways America can grow, one way is by learning from others.

There are things you can learn in the Peace Corps you can't learn anywhere else.

You could start an irrigation program. And find that crabgrass and front lawns look a little ridiculous. When there isn't enough wheat to go around in Nepal.

You could be the outsider who helps bring a Jamaican fishing village to life, for the first time in three hundred years. And you could wonder if your country has outsiders enough. In Watts. In Detroit. In Appalachia. On its Indian reservations.

Last year, for the first time, Peace Corps alumni outnumbered Volunteers who are now out at work overseas.

By 1980, 200,000 Peace Corps alumni will be living their lives in every part of America.

There are those who think you can't change the world in the Peace Corps.

On the other hand, maybe it's not just what you do in the Peace Corps that counts.

But what you do when you get back.

4-Year Research Program At U.D. Favors Irrigation

A four-year research program at the University of Delaware has demonstrated the feasibility of subsurface irrigation on corn and soybeans today, says Mitchell. And this means that irrigation is becoming necessary on coastal plain soils to insure a return on increasing production investments.

Rising land rentals and machinery costs have raised the breakeven level of corn production from 60-65 bushels in the 1950's to 75-80 bushels today, says Mitchell. And this means that irrigation is becoming necessary on coastal plain soils to insure a return on increasing production investments.

"And our research indicates that subsurface irrigation with perforated plastic tubing fulfills many of the requirements for a practical, efficient system," Mitchell added.

PREVENT THOSE WINTER DRIVING WOES

The Safe Winter Driving League presents the following tip for safer winter driving from the National Safety Council: "Don't be a peep-hole pilot. Brush snow completely off front, back and side windows. Replace dead wiper blades with live, new ones to prevent streaking. All your lights should be working, with headlights aimed properly. You must see danger to avoid it."

Increase In Rural Fires Due To Dirt In Motors

Firemen have recently reported a number of rural fires caused by water pumps and heat lamps used to prevent pump freezing, according to Thomas H. Williams, extension agricultural engineer at the University of Delaware.

Many rural fires are caused by dirt, grease dust and lint collecting in electric motors to operate the water supply, he explains.

To prevent accumulation of hazardous materials, inspect and clean electric motors regularly, Williams advises.

Frank Boys Cites Control Of Beetle In Stored Food

Many Delawareans are beginning to complain of beetles in stored food products, reports Frank E. Boys, extension entomologist at the University of Delaware.

To control these pests, dispose of infested products immediately, says Boys. Vacuum all cabinets thoroughly and wash with soap and water.

Finally, spray cabinet interiors with one percent DDVP or pyrethrin at the rate of one pint to 62-125 sq. ft.

Remember to spray cracks, crevices and joints thoroughly.

It's Time For... EYE CARE

Dr. Norman K. Wesley

UNBURY EYES
Some people are eyesighted in one eye and nearsighted in the other. This condition is called anisometropia. People thus afflicted have an adverse effect when they are older because they will see "near" with one eye and at distance with the other. Therefore, they will believe they do not need glasses, but this is not true. The ideal condition would be to have the eyes corrected.

The image size in the two eyes are quite different. The far sighted eye is smaller than the near sighted eye and the brain has a problem in fusing. This may bring about crossed eyes. Hence the importance of having children's eyes examined early.

Imagine if a person was slightly nearsighted, he would see blurred objects at a distance—then when he became older, he would still be able to read at "near" without a correction. This is the reason so many of these people feel they never need glasses for reading. But actually all through life their vision blurs at objects in the distance.

In beginning cataract cases, a slight nearsighted (myopia) condition might develop due to the swelling of the lens. This sometimes causes people to think their vision has improved. This calls for a complete eye examination.

The National Eye Research Foundation suggests such an examination every six months.

Rh Vaccine Prevents Birth Defects, Infant Deaths, Says March of Dimes

Turning points have a way of slipping by unnoticed. Their significance is often apparent only after years have passed.

But in 1963, a major turning point in modern medicine was immediately recognized when a vaccine to prevent "Rh disease" was approved by the Federal Government.

For the first time in history, doctors have the means to prevent a major cause of birth defects. The remarkably effective Rh vaccine, called "RhoGAM," promises to eradicate a condition which each year threatens an estimated 40,000 babies with death or damage before or soon after birth.

"The Rh vaccine is so important to potential parents and to the health of so many future children, no one can afford to overlook its availability," says Dr. Virginia Applegate, vice president and medical affairs for The National Foundation-March of Dimes.

The voluntary health organization, which initiated a national campaign against birth defects ten years ago after the conquest of polio was assured, has an aggressive education program to inform the public about the new preventive for Rh disease. Through radio, TV, magazines, newspapers and leaflets distributed at marriage license bureaus and other outlets, young people are urged to have a doctor or clinic check their blood for Rh factor identification.

The Rh factor is a part of the blood which is found in about 85 per cent of the population. Those who have it are called Rh positive; those who do not are Rh negative. Whether an individual has the Rh factor or not makes no difference to his or her own health. But it can cause serious Rh disease in children if a mother is Rh negative and the father Rh positive.

In such a case, if the unborn child inherits the father's blood type, the mother's system may react against the child, she is carrying. This rarely occurs in a first pregnancy.

PREVENTIVE VACCINES for certain birth defects bring a turning-point in modern medicine. Vaccine against Rh disease is now available. A forthcoming German measles vaccine will protect future children from multiple defects like those affecting this little boy.

of the vaccine far more desirable. For the same reason, March of Dimes volunteers are already preparing for another turning point in medicine, hopefully within the next few months, when Federal approval is given to a vaccine to prevent German measles.

This deceptively mild infection, also known as rubella, can cause serious birth defects of the heart, eyes, ears and other organs when an expectant mother contracts it during the early months of pregnancy. More than 20,000 damaged babies were born to mothers who had the virus infection during the epidemic which swept the United States in 1964-65.

German measles vaccines are now being tested. As soon as a safe and effective one is licensed, March of Dimes volunteers will spearhead efforts to make sure that every potential mother is protected against the disease, thus checking up another advance in their unrelenting campaign to prevent birth defects.

Stop hunger — Start progress

The underdeveloped nation are in a race with time. While they struggle to catch up with modern progress, mankind's oldest enemies do their damage now.

Hunger and malnutrition kill 10,000 persons a day, maim children for life — stunt their bodies, deaden their minds. Needless diseases cripple and weaken many more. Lack of education and training doom young people and adults to a hopeless cycle of poverty.

America would not be America if we closed our hearts to human agony at home or abroad. CARE is a way to reach the needy in countries whose resources are far less than our own. Your contribution does more than keep people alive. CARE's Food, Self-Help and Mexico programs help the hungry grow self-sufficient. Health, education, food production, job training, construction of community facilities from schools to roads and water systems — these are the supplies and services CARE provides in the name of the American people.

Your dollars are multiplied by those who help: local governments share operating costs, and community groups give what they can in materials and volunteer labor. Our Government gives farm abundance for many of the feeding plans.

Every dollar can serve lunch to 90 children... $10 treats 14 patients at a clinic... $300 per classroom can buy materials for parents to build a school.

HEALTH & SAFETY

Mainly for Mothers by Carol Hart

Read and Heed for Family Health

Suppose you and your friends tested about 5,000 recipe ingredients? And suppose one recipe resulted from your efforts? You'd be pretty careful to write down the exact measurements, the timing and all the other elements of your perfect recipe to help others to use it, wouldn't you?

The label on your medicine container is just like that recipe, says the Council on Family Health, a non-profit organization sponsored as a public service by leading members of the drug industry to promote home safety and family health.

The development of a medicine requires lots of "recipe testing" by a closely-knit research and production team. It may include botanists, physicists, bacteriologists, microbiologists, physicians, pathologists, pharmacologists, mathematicians, engineers and many others.

As many as 100,000 substances may be tested in a year to produce 20 new medicines. When a compound is ready to reach you, it has been tested and re-tested. The manufacturer makes up the medicine in accurately measured tablets, capsules or other forms. The directions tell you how many tablets, capsules, spoonfuls or drops to use.

Take time to carefully read the label, and any additional information which may be found either on the medicine carton or as a package insert. If you read carefully, you will learn how often and how much medicine is to be used, whether it is for external or internal use, whether to shake well before using, whether to dilute medicine, and any other directions.

You will also learn about any special precautions you should take, and a description of what the medicine is intended to do.

Prescription medicines have the date they were written by the doctor and the name of the patient for whom the medicine was ordered. Such information helps you determine when a medicine should be discarded because of age, and reminds you that it should not be used for any other member of the family.

MYTHS AND FACTS ABOUT GUNS

In an article in The American Rifleman on gun registration, principal claims of registration proponents are presented and commented upon.

The first claim is that registration would reduce crime by making it more difficult for undesirable to obtain weapons. In answer to that The Rifleman comments, "It is pretty obvious that criminals would not through police stations to register their firearms."

A second claim is that registration would assist in solving crimes by making it possible to trace the firearms used. On this, The Rifleman notes, "Since the firearms were stolen in the first place, tracing records of a gun used in a crime could only lead to the location of the theft, not to the user of the gun."

A third claim, that registration would aid in apprehension of criminals by making it possible to arrest persons found in possession of unregistered guns, raises a basic question of police power. Only under exceptional circumstances do police have the authority to stop persons on the street and "frisk" them, or to search homes without a warrant.

A fourth claim is that registration would keep guns out of the hands of minors, mental incompetents, drug addicts and habitual drunkards. The fallacy of this claim is again that no law can in itself prevent an irresponsible person obtaining a gun through theft.

A final claim is that registration would reduce the number of firearms possessed by individuals. As The Rifleman points out, "This, unfortunately, is only too true. A national registration law would discourage firearms ownership — by the law-abiding citizens, not by the criminal."

President-elect Nixon has pointed to the surest way of discouraging criminal use of firearms. In addition to the federal government, he believes the 50 states should consider action to impose a heavy mandatory prison sentence on anyone who uses a firearm in the commission of a crime.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Jan. 2, 1969

For all those who have worked so diligently or donated so generously to SOS-Vietnam, you have not only my heartfelt thanks, but also my sincere gratitude that you have the servicemen's gratitude goes without saying. Their beautiful letters express far more eloquently than I ever could, how much this organization means to them.

But upon closing out the year 1968, and our first anniversary which was Dec. 15, 1968, I must tell you all what SOS-Vietnam meant to me personally.

I have been deeply affected by the acquaintance of many wonderful people... people who I might never have had the pleasure of meeting. I will treasure their friendship all my life. The SOS-Vietnam packing nights alone have been so inspirational that no matter how hard I worked nor how tired I was, it didn't matter. The satisfaction and happiness of actually seeing those boxes filled, packed, and mailed was absolutely wonderful.

Also, how could one possibly describe the joy of receiving the wonderful letters from the donors who not only willingly gave their money, but thanked us for making it possible for them to give?

Let each member make a New Year's resolution to continue to keep the men in Vietnam uppermost in our minds. SOS-Vietnam is an outstanding organization... I am proud of it, and I know that you will make 1969 an even more outstanding year.

You all have proven to me something that I for a time did not believe before SOS-Vietnam existed... that is, "People Do Care in Delaware." God bless you all.

Sincerely yours,

Mrs. Blanche McFall

C. Vernon Steele was reappointed chairman of the Memorial Day parade program scheduled for May 19, to avoid conflict with university examinations for participants.

"It is certainly Newark's great good fortune that Mr. Steele is willing to continue in this capacity," Mayor Handloff said of the Memorial Day program, "as I certainly don't know of anyone else, who, beginning in January of each year, would give this affair the intimate devotion to detail that it requires."

Demolitions

Demolition of properties at 728 Academy Street and 741 Wollaston Avenue was authorized after failure of the owners to make necessary repairs.

Information to be provided by mail from the city concerning council elections in the first, second and fourth districts, next April, was authorized at Silt's recommendation that such cost will be "less than $500 this year." Last April, with a city-wide vote for mayor, the cost was $750.

Proposed ordinances prohibiting parking at all times on the north side of Lovett Avenue, and amending the law concerning littering and congregating, were approved at the first of two required readings.

Harold M. Grant, chairman of the Newark Election Board, announced that 416 names had been removed from registration rolls for failure to vote in the last two elections and that registration data had been scheduled for Jan. 23, Feb. 6 and March 15.

Reappointments

Charles M. Eisner was reappointed for a three-year term as a member of the election board; and Joseph E. Plotts, Charles E. Grubb and William K. Baggott were reappointed for another year to the board of occupancy appeals.

At Mayor Handloff's proposal, the name of the Bi-Racial Committee was changed to Intergroup Cooperation Committee with its charge "To take positive action to improve cooperation and communication among groups in the community."

Two University of Delaware students who broadcast around the clock soliciting contributions, raised more than $400 to help make Christmas brighter for the needy of Newark.

Susan Greator, and Jon Ratal, both juniors — broadcast over the WHEN campus radio station from 3 p.m. Monday, Dec. 16, to 3 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 17.

The radiothon was planned by the WHEN public relations staff when they found out that Newark had no formal holiday fund drive for its needy families.

During the 24-hour broadcast, pledges were received by telephone and WHEN staff members canvassed the campus.

It's Time For... EYE CARE

Dr. Newton K. Wesley

THE LENS IN YOUR EYE

Let us talk a little about the crystalline lens, which is a very important part of the eye. It bends the rays of light and changes shapes.

In a camera, we think of refocusing by mechanical means. The shape of the lens in the eye is changed by a muscular ring around the crystalline lens. The exact functioning of the crystalline lens is not completely understood, but it is thought that the muscles surrounding the lens actually apply or decrease pressure on certain ligaments to center the shape of the lens.

If you look at a close point, the rays of light are more divergent and they must be bent to focus; therefore, the crystalline lens changes shape to become sharper in curvature. This changes the focus and improves your vision.

The resiliency of this lens is very important, and after the age of about 25, it begins to harden. By the time we reach 40 or 45, the lens has hardened just as other parts of the body may harden. Bones are a good example of such action.

At this point, the lens no longer changes to accommodate vision for nearby objects. Then we complain about lighting when we read, or headaches, or we repeat the old joke that our arms are too short for reading when we hold a newspaper.

This "old age sight" is a normal change and nothing can be done about it. We see our eye doctor and he fits us with glasses or contact lenses.

Schools To Close Early

On Tuesday, Jan. 28th

All public schools in the Newark district will close early on Tuesday, Jan. 28, to permit elementary school teachers to take part in parent-teacher conferences, and for secondary teachers to attend a special in-service training workshop.

Each school year, the Newark district provides elementary school parents with opportunity to discuss their children's progress with their teachers.

Secondary teachers use this time for in-service training.

Treatment at March of Dimes Center Enables Girl to Throw Away Crutches

Patty Bruce, 7, of Pontiac, Mich., crippled since birth by a severe spinal birth defect, learned by happy accident when she was little more than three years old that she could walk without braces or crutches.

It was a hot summer day and her mother had set aside Patty's crutches, removed the braces from her legs and stood the pretty little blonde in a neighbor's backyard wading pool. "It was like a miracle," Mrs. Bruce recalls. "She began to walk right through the water."

After that day, Patty, who was born with leg-paralyzing open spine and deformities of both feet, practiced and exercised until she needed neither braces nor crutches on dry land. If there is a miracle in her story, however, it has nothing to do with the water.

Dr. Donita B. Sullivan, director of the March of Dimes-financed Birth Defects Center at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, explained, "With proper physical therapy and other treatment over a period of time, children like Patty often develop enough muscle power to walk without the support of braces."

Today, for a girl who had such a slow start, Patty can do a swinging job with a hoola hoop. But life has been a long, uphill struggle.

Patty's fight to live like children born free of handicaps began in Pontiac when she came into the world prematurely, weighing only 3½ pounds. She was the first of fraternal twins, and her brother, Mike, was also born with a birth defect.

Doctors detected a heart murmur in the lad, indicating possible congenital heart defects, and have been seeing him once a year since birth.

Patty's condition required immediate attention. When she was three months old, she was taken to the Birth Defects Center in Ann Arbor where neurosurgeons performed corrective surgery on her back.

After that, her deformed feet were treated, first with casts, then with braces and now with exercise only. The little girl has returned to the March of Dimes Center four or five times a year since her operation for continuing treatment and checkups.

According to Dr. Sullivan, Patty may need urologic surgery sometime in the future. As a result of the open spine, the little girl cannot control her bladder or bowels.

Through the years much of Patty's therapy has been received at home. One of her favorite means of exercise is a rocking horse. Mrs. Bruce points out, also, that brother Mike has a lot to do with Patty's success in learning to walk. "She always watched him and tried to copy him."

Patty has learned to walk well, but she is not yet able to walk normally. She still tends to toe in.

"One day she came home from school and said one of her classmates called her pigeon-toed," Mrs. Bruce says. "Well, I just smiled and told her not to mind. I am just so happy that she can walk at all."

Since that hot summer day several years ago when Patty took her first unaided step, the Bruce family have installed a new fixture in their backyard. Right in the middle is a very large children's wading pool.

Chamber Music To Feature Course By String Quartet

The University of Delaware Resident String Quartet will present a continuing education course on appreciation of chamber music in the Romantic Period beginning Thursday, Feb. 13, at Wilmington High School.

The course will be held on six alternate Thursday evenings from 7:30 to 10 p.m. and is a sequel to the recently concluded Classical Period lecture-recital series.

No special musical orientation will be required for enjoyment of this series.

The course will consist of lecture and performance of quartets from Schubert to Barber.

Members of the ensemble will combine discussion of social, cultural and historical background with analysis of the composers' works.

For registration, contact the division of university extension.

Reduced Corn Crop Due To Lack Of Water, Lime

Water and lime shortages during critical summer months have seriously limited Delaware corn yields, according to Dr. William H. Mitchell, extension agronomist at the University of Delaware.

Water shortages were largely responsible for dropping Delaware corn yields an estimated 20 bushels below the national average, he explains. Less obvious, but also serious, were lost yields due to acid soils.

Lime deficiency is more easily dealt with than problems of drought, says Mitchell.

NCC Golfers 7th In Bermuda Play With Field Of 60

Led by Joe the Pro Aneda, the Newark Country Club golf team of Art Mathews, Bill Turnbull and Paul Williams finished seventh in a field of 60 at the Jan. 4-12 Bermuda Goodwill Golf Tournament with a total score of 258.

The Newark foursome carded a three-under-par 68 with the first round at the Mid-Ocean course; 63's with second and third rounds at the Belmont and Castle Harbor courses, and a final round 64 at Mid-Ocean.

The Charles River team from Massachusetts won the Bermuda tournament with a 250.

Dave Douglas, golf professional at the St. Louis Country Club, and former pro at Newark, won the individual professional's tourney with a par-71, the second time that Douglas has won this event.

Mrs. Dorothy Stiegler of Newark took second in the Ladies Tournament at the Princess Course with a net 80 at the Elbow Beach Club.

Mrs. Stiegler was accompanied by Mrs. Mathews, Mrs. Turnbull, Mrs. Williams and J. Harvey Dickey along with the Newark delegation, while Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Barrows of Newark were guests of their two sons — Wes, Jr., as pro for Shawnee, and Ron, golf professional for the Rehoboth Beach Country Club.

The Rehoboth team carded a three-round total 202, while Shawnee shot a 197 in elimination from the final.

Twenty-six Delaware golfers were represented in the Bermuda Goodwill Golf Tournament.

The Newark party flew by Eastern Airlines from Friendship Airport near Baltimore.

Kenneth L. Snow, Jr.
Soph. Class President

Kenneth L. Snow, Jr. of 103 Mason Drive has been elected vice-president of the sophomore class at Bryant College in Providence, R.I.

A 1967 graduate of Newark High School and a former Yellowjacket wrestler, he served on the student council and was president of the freshman class.

Paul Matthews, the former suburban Philadelphia football star, phoned this week in quest of a couple of non-resident tickets for the annual WSHA banquet featuring Red Grooms, the Gallowing Ghost of Bob Zupke's film in the halcyon Golden Age of Sports.

"I'm on my way to Florida — to Islamorada," Paul said, and asked if he was taking his boat down the Inland Waterway, replied "she's already down there — a new 42-ft. Halibut."

The last time we saw Paul Matthews, he was wading over a shoal in the Indian River Inlet off the South Shore Marina, gloomily regarding his Chris Craft cabin cruiser Cecilia around with the ebb tide.

"I got rid of her," Paul said — of the boat and his pretty Irish wife for whom the cruiser was named. "She" — and this time he was referring to Mrs. Matthews — "wanted something more comfortable."

Well, Paul may have sold Cecilia on the switch — we hope he did for his peace of mind in fishing until April around those fabulous Florida keys with their tarpon, barracuda, amberjack, dolphin and kingfish — but the new Halibut appears made to order for a sportsman eager to bang out over the ocean with a hull full of extra power.

More power to you, Paul Matthews! Islamorada and a 42-ft. Halibut is a wonderful far cry from a doldrums day on Delaware Bay when you beseeched the skipper to wind up a 3 1/2-hp. outboard "for a little breeze" in the flat calm where the toadfish and sharks were coming aboard with exhausting frequency.

The Billy from home — a little boy then — and Elaine Matthews, only slightly older — were with us that day, and while father and son caught a boatload of trout and croakers, the Matthews pair spent most of their time probing for hooks in the terribly toothed mouths of sharks and oyster crackers. OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day Those Were The Days

In this day when Thoroughbred stallions are being syndicated for millions of dollars and a filly, last year a yearling filly by Sea Bird sold for a world record price of $400,000, it is interesting to review the stud fees advertised in The Blood-Horse of January 1954.

Of 113 stallions advertised, four commanded a fee of $2,000, ($350 if the result was a filly) those being Black Toney (1953 Leading Sire), Gallant Fox (a Triple Crown winner), Sir Galahad III and Victorian. Blue and this create a demand for their services. Others were on a complimentary basis only to $1,000 and Bubbling Over, the 1926 Derby winner, fetched only $500.

Reisinger, Boyle Win For Vikings Against Colonials

Harold Reisinger and Bob Boyle won decisions from the Colonial champions at Wm. Penn last Saturday, and Harley Hall provided two points by wrestling Wlenkowitz to a 4-4 draw at 100 lbs., as coach Ken Klinek's Christiana Vikings suffered their third straight setback in a 32-8 loss to Coach Otis Chapman's champs.

Reisinger defeated Warner 4-1 at 165-lbs., and Boyle beat Haggis 6-0 in the 150-lb. event.

Carl Sharp, 95, was pinned by Steinman in 1:12; Don Hopper lost 4-0 to Woodward at 112, and Kurt Lovejoy was defeated 2-0 by Mack at 120.

Bob George was turned back 5-1 by Fernald at 127; Steve George lost a 12-0 decision to Wagner at 133, and Tom Kee was defeated 4-0 by Petchell at 138.

John Hurney, 145, lost a 6-4 nod to Cecil, and after winning decisions by Reisinger and Boyle, Burke was defeated 4-1 by Homic in the heavyweight windup.

Klinek's clinicians were defeated 4-5 to McKean on Wednesday last week, with Hopper turning in the lone win with a 6-0 decision over Ennis at 112, and Reisinger wrestling Well to a 4-4 draw at 165-lbs.

Sharp was pinned in 3:10 of the 95-lb. opener; Hall lost a 7-4 decision to Zolnick at 103; and Lovejoy was defeated 7-3 by Brittingham at 120.

Bob George lost 7-0 to Griffith at 127; Owen Mullen was pinned by Foraker in 2:40 of the 123-lb. test; and Kee was flattened in 3:20 of the 138-lb. match by McKean's unbeaten Bob Sutter.

Horney lost a 4-0 decision to Schnee at 145; Carl Wiloughby 134, lost to Mason by 11-2; and Boyle was pinned by Gerrish in 3:19 of the 160-pounder.

Christiana forfeited the heavyweight closer.

The Vikings host Brandywine this Saturday with Jayvee matches to begin at 1 p.m.

Five Hen Starters Play Entire Game In Defeating PMC

With four of his five starters scoring in double figures — all five played the entire game — Coach Dan Peterson was provided with his fifth win of the season last Saturday night as his Fighting Blue Hens defeated PMC 74-62 at Chester-Pa.

Jim Couch and Steve Jackson led the Delaware scoring with 16 points apiece. Ed Roth contributed 17; Larsen Pratt, 12; and John McMillen, nine.

The Hens return to basketball action after the semester examination scholastic sessions, hosting Drexel on Saturday, Feb. 1.

"PMC is a taller team," Peterson said, "and against taller teams we've had foul trouble. So this time, we switched positions to get better match-ups."

What Peterson did was move both from forward to center; McMillen from center to forward; Pratt from forward to guard and Jackson from guard to forward.

Every move worked out as planned. The 6-7 Roth took on 6-8 Jack Wynn and held him to seven points. He also out-rebounded Wynn, picking off 12 to lead both teams in that department.

The 6-5 McMillen held 6-7 Mike Studinski to nine points while Jackson moved inside and collected 10 rebounds and Pratt played very well outside.

"We played a tight man-for-man," said Peterson. "In my three years as coach at Delaware I've never had a team give a better hustling performance."

We've shot better and rebounded better but never have we hustled more."

Bob Hubbard, Ed Vernon Pace Al Mann's Viking Cagers For First Win Of Season

Bob Hubbard and Eddie Vernon with 13 and 10 points paved the way for Coach Al Mann's Vikings in winning their first game of the season, defeating Wm. Penn 37-50 last Tuesday night at the Christiana High School gym.

Hubbard and Fred Neal led the defensive effort that held the Colonials to 11 points in the first half as Christiana moved out to a nine-point lead.

The Vikings outscored their visitors in each of the first three periods, and were but one point off the 20-19 scoring edge in the final frame with Mann calling on his bench for seasoning.

Freeman Williams, a 6-2 sophomore, started as the Vikings' top scorer with five field goals for a 10-point total, while Neal and Jack Snyder contributed seven apiece.

Christiana plays away this Friday with win-less Dickinson, and the Vikings take the road to McKean, also win-less, next Tuesday, with 6:30 Jayvee contests preceding the varsity games.
