City Condemnation Authorized For Necessary Rights-of-Way

Highway Department Plans To Begin Construction For Delaware Ave. Extension July 1 With City Provision Of Rights Of Way; Relief Seen For Short Term Loans

Condemnation of property at the discretion of the city manager and city solicitor to obtain necessary rights of way for the Wilson Tract sewer line to serve the new senior high school and to permit State Highway Department construction of the Delaware Avenue extension, was authorized by City Council at the regular meeting in the Academy Building last Tuesday night. City Manager Orville Over stated that the sewer department would advance the city for construction of the sewer line to be received June 15 with bonds to be received June 15 with a probable starting time of July 1.

Council approved acceptance of the offer by Mrs. Mary Richards and John Williams, of $4,500 and $4,500, respectively, for the purchase of the rights of way for the Delaware Avenue extension, and rejected an offer from the city for $500 with the understanding that no future assessments would be levied against the property owner.

The amount of $1,200 to serve the more pressing obligation of the city was approved by Council.

Kershaw Elected President Of NHS Student Council

Thomas Kershaw was elected president of the Newark High School student council for next year in balloting conducted last week. He will succeed Patricia Sen.

Others elected are: John Miller, vice president; Dorothy Gray, secretary; and Terry Sparks, treasurer. They succeed Burt Chase, Gail Kaufman, and John Slack, respectively.

Leader

Recording Secretary of the National Federation of Business & Professional Women's Clubs, Miss Steinberg, of York, Neb., will attend the Delaware State Convention in the DuPont Hotel, May 20-22, and will be the principal speaker at the banquet in the DuBarry Room on Saturday evening.

Miss Steinberg attended the International Conference of BPW in Stockholm in 1953 and plans to attend the BPW Silver Jubilee in Bernie this August.

Annual May Mart To Offer Amateur Gardeners Display

Women Of St. Thomas To Sponsor Saturday Event At Parish House

Amateur gardeners will be offered special opportunities at the annual May Mart to be held by the Women of St. Thomas on the new parish house grounds this Saturday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Selected flowers and plants will be offered for sale, along with free advice by a committee headed by Mrs. I. M. Flynn, and garden tools, fertilizers, insecticides and garden furniture will be displayed by Joseph Formisano, Newark Farm and Home proprietor. Miss Mary Hayes is chairman of the garden tool committee.

Artists Mrs. C. Parker Thomas and Mrs. Louis Detjen have contributed posters for display around town reminding you of the May Mart on Saturday.

A planning committee headed by Mrs. Bernard Weimer and Mrs. Carl Linden is arranging for an art show and tables of baked goods, homemade candies, and children's toys and clothing, will be available. Along with a white elephant gift table in the council according to enrollment at the prospective schools.

Special arrangements are being made to entertain the children with Mack, professional marionette master, to present his show at 11 o'clock.

A snack bar will be set up during the Mart, with special luncheons to be served from 11:30 to 1:30.

Amateur and professional artists are invited to display their work for exhibition, or for sale on consignment.

Gold? No, Brown Eggs To White By Hens' Diet, Experts Discover

When hens that normally lay brown eggs come up with one, poultrymen wonder what's happening! Such cases have occurred within the past two or three months.

What happens is that the hens have been fed a broiler ration containing a new drug which protects growing chickens from coccidiosis. The drug is not found in feeds for laying and breeding flocks, but has been used in some broiler feeds.

The effects are surprising to poultrymen but nothing to be alarmed about, according to limited studies of this color change by William J. Mellen and C. W. Mumford of the Agricultural Experiment Station at the University of Delaware.

There are apparently no effects on shell quality or interior egg quality, and no harmful effects on the hens.

Recreation Ass'n, YMCA To Sponsor Swim Instruction

Classes Scheduled For Beginners, Experienced Swimmers For 5-Weeks

The Newark Recreation Association and the YMCA will sponsor swimming instruction at the University of Delaware women's pool during this summer, in five weeks of instruction beginning June 27.

All beginners will have three periods per week, and for those who are swimming instruction weekly.

Boys and girls will need to have a medical examination on before being allowed to take the course. Physical examinations should be made after June 1 and before the first class period.

Red Cross and YMCA certificates will be issued to those who complete the requirements in the beginner, intermediate and advanced classes and instructors will be Stanley Francis, Newark Recreation Association director, and DeWitt Smith, YMCA secretary.

The tentative schedule is as follows:

Monday, Wednesday and Friday: boy beginners, 6-8, 9-9:45 a.m.; age 9 and over 10-10:45 a.m.; girl beginners, 6-8, 11-11:45 a.m.; age 9 and over 12-12:45 a.m.

Tuesday and Thursday: boys swim instruction, 9-10 a.m.; girls swim instruction, 10-11 a.m.; Jr. and Sr. life saving 12-1:30 p.m.

Registration forms may be secured at the Newark Recreation Association office in Linden Hall, South College Avenue, or at the YMCA office, 66 E. Main Street. Cost of the five-week period is $2 and a $1 registration fee is required, with the balance due before the start of the first class.

Registrations may be made by phone at the Newark Recreation office, 8-8008, or at the YMCA office, 8-6761.

Each class will be limited in number so it is important that registration be made early. All registrations must be in by June 16.

Officers Elected At Annual Council Meeting of PTA's

Group Opposes State Education Commission Bill SB-413 At Dover

At last week's annual meeting of the Newark Council of PTA's, the group elected officers and opposed the bill of Senator Walter J. Hoey (D-Milford) to abolish the State Board of Education and vest all its current powers in a state commissioner of education.

A resolution was sent by telegram to Senator Calvin R. McCullough (D-Holloway Terrace) who represents Newark's senatorial district and who is chairman of the education committee considering the Hoey bill (SB-413) stating:

"Resolved, that the Newark Council of PTA's reaffirms its confidence in the State Board of Education as presently constituted and condemns as unsound Senate Bill 413 and urges its defeat."

The Newark council's action was prompted by the fact that Hoey's bill was on the agenda for action by the Senate on Monday, but Hoey was absent that day and the bill cannot be acted upon until he returns.

Michael Kubicko, past president of the Central Newark PTA, was elected council president, succeeding Holger Schaumann. Also elected were Mrs. Harry R. McKenry of the Brookside PTA as vice president, and Kurt Massfelder of the Medill PTA, secretary-treasurer.

Other PTA's represented on the Newark Council are those at the New London Avenue and West Park Place Schools.

A report made to the council indicated net proceeds of $1,670 from the annual Fun Fair on April 29, nearly $500 more than last year. This will be apportioned to the five PTA units in the council according to enrollment at the prospective schools.

WOMAN MARINE

Sgt. Julia Benke, of the Women Marines, will address the Newark High School senior girls tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 in the school auditorium. The Marine sergeant will outline the Marine Corps program for women recruits.

Long Ago But Not Far Away

In connection with its 500,000th prescription celebration, Rhodes Drug Store has been delving into old records and files for information regarding the 99-year history of the store and the town of Newark. Included in the material was the photograph above which Emerson Johnson believes was taken about 1910.

With the exception of the late Dr. George Rhodes at the extreme left, none of the persons in the picture have been identified. Mr. Johnson would like very much to know who they are and asks the assistance of Post readers who may recognize them—particularly, the fair-haired young lady—or gentleman—on the soda fountain stool.

Community Room To Be Offered At Newark Shopping Center Site

The Newark Room, a community clubroom for use by the people of Newark and surrounding area, will be a feature of the new Newark Department Store in the Newark Shopping Center.

Designed for the use of local social and service organizations through the courtesy of the management of the Newark Department Store, the 40x35-ft. "Newark Room" will be located on the lower level of the new store, and will be available during regular business hours.

The Newark Room will also serve as a general social and business meeting place for tenants of the Shopping Center.

Groups desiring to make reservations for the Newark Room should address inquiries to C. N. Clark, Newark Department Store manager. The total floor space of the new store will be 28,000 sq. ft., providing more than double the area now available for customer facilities in the present store.

The new store will be equipped with modern lighting and summer, winter air conditioning, as well as a planned, up-to-date decor. The ceilings will be of fiberglass paneling, and the flooring will be vinyl tile. The ready-to-wear, men's clothing and shoe departments will be carpeted, and wall covering will be a combination paper design and mural.

The store will be situated on two levels, connected by a broad central stairway.

Preschool Classes Planned This Fall For 3-Age Groups

Brookside Preschool Ass'n Accepts Applications For Three To Five-Year-Olds

Applications are now being accepted for the fall semester in three age groups, Brookside Preschool Association officials have announced.

The age groups will be: nursery for three-year-olds; pre-kindergarten, for four-year-olds, and kindergarten, for five-year-olds.

Mrs. Belle Goldyn, teacher of this year's kindergarten in the Brookside Community Building, and Mrs. James Jamison, assistant teacher, have both accepted contracts to return next year.

Brookside, who indicated in a recent survey that they plan to enroll children next fall have been mailed application forms. Others who wish to apply may obtain forms from Mrs. Robert E. Innis, 6 Keller Road. Each form must be accompanied by $5 registration fee and $1 dues in the association for 1955-56.

Enrollments will be accepted on a first-come-first-served basis until the limits on class size in each age group are reached.

If openings are still available in any age group on June 30, the enrollment will be thrown open to residents of other communities nearby.

Bd. Of Education Approves Vacation Use of Facilities

11 Faculty Resignations, Accepted, 9 Appointments Approved By School Board

Three requests for permission to use school facilities during the summer vacation were approved Friday night at the monthly meeting of the Board of Education of Newark Special School District; 11 faculty resignations were accepted and nine appointments to teach in the 1955-56 school year were approved.

The board agreed to let the Newark Recreation Association use the grounds of three schools in its leisure-time program from June 1 through Sept. 5. It will use the high school athletic field for sports events and the grounds of the New London Avenue and West Park Place Schools for playground activities. The first two were used last year and the Park Place site is a new one.

The NRA will also use the downstairs room of the old Main Street school, now the district administration building. Informal dancing will be held there summer evenings, and dance activities will also be arranged.

The board agreed to let the American Legion Junior baseball teams use the high school field, and to let Kingswood-of-Brookside Methodist Church hold two weeks of daily vacation Bible school in the Brookside Elementary School. It will use all eight rooms of the temporary school from June 20 to July 1.

The teachers whose resignations were accepted are Mrs. Joan McCreary, Miss Mary Borodin, Mrs. Louise Kreiser, Miss Jane Thomas, Mrs. Virginia Clayton, Mrs. Genevieve Rasmussen, Mrs. Priscilla Vanech, Mrs. Islay Hedger, and Mrs. Helen Schoenly, all of whom are now teaching in the district, and Miss Loretta McWilliams and Miss Evelyn Weaver, not teaching but previously appointed for next year.

Wilmer E. Shue, superintendent, reported that the county board of assessment has informed him that the total assessed value of properties in the school district this year is $56,511,100.

DOUBLE CHECK

In compiling the Newark telephone directory, complimentary copies of which were mailed to all persons listed, some errors in the listings occurred.

The Post regrets these mistakes as much as the persons who have been inconvenienced by such transpositions or omissions, and it is suggested that all questionable numbers be checked with the Wilmington directory and recorded for future reference.

NHS Alumni Ass'n To Conduct Annual Banquet On June 4

The Newark High School Alumni Association will hold its annual banquet and class reunions in the high school cafeteria on Saturday, June 4, at 6:30 p.m. with all members of the graduating class as guests of the alumni.

The Hon. J. Caleb Boggs, Governor of Delaware, will be guest speaker.

The following committees have been appointed: Scholarship — Delena L. Ginter; Decorations — Anne Beyerly; Nomination for 1956 officers — Ann Gallagher and Albert C. Clark; Business — Doris E. Dean; and Reunion classes — Henry F. Mote.

Invitations have been mailed to all graduates of the Newark school whose addresses are known. Any one not receiving an invitation may contact any of the committee members for reservations or information, William H. Murray stated.

Curtis Paper Co. Holds
Open House Last Sunday

The Curtis Paper Company held open house for employees and their families, together with a large number of other local citizens on Sunday afternoon, from 3 to 5 p.m.

On display were a large number of printings on Curtis papers collected from all parts of the country including large prints for framing, and annual reports from many major firms.

Some beautiful specimens of menus—new sample books which have just been distributed by Curtis, and samples of the new "Shalimar" paper were displayed.

Joe Walker Retires At U. of D. With TV Gift From Many Friends

A man who handled many miscellaneous duties at the University of Delaware for 35 years now spends much of his time watching a television set—a token of esteem from the people he served.

Joseph P. Walker, messenger and delivery man, who has been on hand for every board of trustees meeting and registration day since September, 1919, was recently hospitalized and forced to retire. When the news circulated, a fund-raising campaign began almost spontaneously to purchase a gift for the much-loved employee.

The idea for the "present for Joe" originated in the university's business office, where money was collected from faculty and staff members throughout the campus by Nancy Lysle, Marie Gregg and Ernest Overby. The drive netted $230, enough for a 21-inch table model set.

Walker's routine, varying surprisingly little in his one-third century with the university, began in the early morning hours when he collected the mail at the Newark Post Office, brought it to the university in his truck, sorted the articles and delivered letters to the business and president's offices by 8 a.m. Mail addressed to all other campus departments also came under Walker's jurisdiction.

A meeting of the board of trustees meant a trip several days before the event to all corners of the state with materials for each individual board member. On the day of the meeting, Joe was on hand to transport food, dishes and silverware from the dining hall to the meeting room.

Registration day found Joe, escorted by members of the Newark police, depositing the day's receipts at the bank.

Continental Sold To Budd Co. By 9-1 Vote Of Stockholders

Newark, Bridgeport, Valparaiso, Spartanburg Plants, Subsidiaries Acquired By The Budd Co. For 405,000 Shares Of Stock, $642,500 Cash, Settlement Expenses

Stockholders of the Continental-Diamond Fibre Company approved the sale of the Newark plant and other company assets to the Budd Company by a vote of 9 to 1 at the annual meeting held in the company offices at Newark on Tuesday. The agreement is expected to assume control July 1.

The agreement includes the sale of Continental's plants at Bridgeport, Pa., Valparaiso, Ind., Spartanburg, S.C., along with Continental's Canadian and South American subsidiaries in return for 405,000 shares of Budd common stock, $5 par value, $642,500 cash, plus an undisclosed amount due from the first of the year, together with counsel expense not to exceed $30,000.

Employee Security

Budd has indicated that substantially all of Continental's present employees will be retained.

The four U.S. plants involved in the sale to the Budd Company employ a total of 2,300 workers, with some 320 employed in Newark.

All nominees for the board of directors were elected, with Stephen F. Briggs named as chairman.

Other directors elected included Timothy F. Murphy, president of Continental Diamond; Henry H. Sullivan, Laird & Company; Joseph Nye, investment analysis; financial advisors Helmut N. Friedlaender, and Clifton N. Bradley, and Attorney Peter L. B. Lavan.

Inventor Patents Steering Indicator For Automobiles

Robt. H. Brink Issued U.S. Patent For Novel Auto Wheel Indicator

Robert H. Brink of Newark was the recipient on May 3, 1955 of U.S. patent 2,707,451, entitled "Automobile 'Wheel position indicator'."

This invention pertains to a novel automobile accessory that affords constant information as to the direction in which the steerable wheels of the vehicle are pointed. This information is provided by an indicator mounted on the cash and of the car; and it overcomes the confusion that is often encountered in training new drivers because they do not have positive knowledge of the exact position or angle of the wheels.

Experienced drivers will also benefit from it because, in cases where the wheels of the car are up against an object such as a curb, he or she, knowing the precise position of the front wheels, will be able to drive away from the obstruction with comparative ease.

"In its essentials, Mr. Brink's arrangement comprises a frame that is mounted on the usual gear box of the steering assembly and includes a rod which is attached to, and moves with, the conventional pitman arm that moves in accordance with the turn of the steering wheel. The movement of this rod is transmitted by means of gears and a flexible shaft to an indicator containing movable and visible representations of the tires of the vehicle; and in this manner that the position of the steerable wheels is shown.

According to Mr. Brink, the apparatus of his invention has relatively few moving parts; and it may be incorporated in new and old automobiles at a small cost and without impeding to any great extent the free action of the steering mechanisms.

The application for this patent was filed on Feb. 1, 1954.

Memorial Poppy Sales Scheduled Friday, Saturday

American Legion, VFW Auxiliaries To Offer Poppies For War Heroes

Tomorrow and Saturday have been proclaimed Poppy Days in Newark when members of the J. Allison O'Daniel American Legion Auxiliary Unit 10 and the VFW Auxiliary will offer memorial poppies for sale with the proceeds to be used for the aid of disabled veterans and their families.

Mrs. Lee L. Lewis is in charge of poppy sales for the Legion Auxiliary, and Dorothy Naylor heads the VFW committee.

The custom of wearing poppies in honor of our war dead began at the close of World War I, when the picture of the little wild poppies growing in the bare earth around the battle graves was fresh in the minds of the returning veterans.

At its first national convention in 1921, the American Legion Auxiliary adopted the poppy as its memorial flower and ever since has conducted an annual distribution of poppies. This year more than 25,000,000 of the little red flowers have been made by disabled veterans.

The poppies are of crepe paper in replica of the wild poppies of France and Flanders which bloomed "between the crosses, row on row," of the World War I battle cemeteries.

The Auxiliary volunteers will offer them for sale on the streets from early morning until late afternoon.

Alumni Aid Urged In Spring Reunion At Budget Crisis

Perkins Requests Backing Of U.D. Finance Budget; Draper Elected President

At the annual spring reunion banquet for university graduates last Saturday night, President John A. Perkins called on all alumni to back their alma mater in the face of a pending financial crisis brought about by the proposed slash in the university's budget request for the coming biennium included in the state House of Representatives last week.

William R. Draper of Milford, a member of the class of 1930, was elected president of the university's alumni association and John E. Healy II, '39, of Wilmington, was elected vice president.

Dr. Perkins told the alumni that "the future of our country is dependent upon an adequate supply of well-trained young adults. To get that number we must have a sufficient number of good colleges and universities."

The point was made by Dr. Perkins that in order to continue to progress, the University of Delaware must have an adequate budget. "The University of Delaware will double in size by 1970, and we must prepare for that increase now by enlarging our facilities so that future students may be given the same opportunities that you of the alumni body were offered."

At the banquet, Dr. Samuel M. D. Marshall, class of 1905, Milford, was presented with the award for being the outstanding alumnus by James C. Stewart, '38, president of the University of Delaware alumni association. Mr. Stewart was also the recipient of a gift and honored for his services during the past year.

W. Francis Lindell, '20, chief of elections, gave the list of other incoming officers, effective July 1: Alex J. Taylor, Jr., '20, treasurer; Robert L. Zuck, '49, Walter R. Kelk, '33, and John J. Pearce, '39, members of the Alumni Council; James B. Clements, '49, William T. Drennen, Jr., '43, James A. Kelley, '38, George L. Townsend, '28, and Leroy B. Steele, '17, members of the nominating committee.

Class representatives, elected for five-year terms are: Dr. Marshall, '05; John W. Alden, '10; Harry T. Montgomery, '15; Harry W. Looze, '20; Roger W. Cann, '25; John F. LeClaw, '30; John N. Russo, '35; William Duffy, Jr., '40; John W. Carrow III, '45; Joseph J. Alexander, '50; W. Glenn Dill, '54.

Richard D. Groo, executive secretary of the alumni association, was made an honorary member of the Class of 1930. This class, attired in blue tie and canes, celebrated their 25th reunion. The members were presented with a plaque by Mr. Stewart for the largest number present of any returning class; with 90 out of 80 living members returning.

Farm Irrigation Problems Outlined By Wm. E. Larsen

U. of D. Ag Engineer Warns Irrigation Not Cure-All For Farmers

Irrigation may be a way to "beat the drought" but before installing a sprinkler system it would be wise to talk it over first with some impartial adviser, says William E. Larsen, agricultural engineer at the University of Delaware.

"Irrigation is no cure-all for poor crops," he warns. "Installation of numerous irrigation systems in recent years indicates that many farmers may be turning to water as a kind of crop insurance against drier-than-normal weather. This may lead to disappointments and poor returns on money invested."

"In normally humid areas," Larsen adds, "irrigation is most likely to be profitable when it is adopted as a final step in a complete soil and water management program on a farm."

Irrigation can bring about spectacular increases in yields, he explains, but only where other conditions are favorable and water is the chief factor in limiting the size of crops.

Irrigation will do nothing to solve problems of erosion—it may actually increase the runoff. It may aggravate problems on poorly drained soils or create drainage problems on formerly well drained soils. Likewise, irrigation alone will do nothing to improve fertility or poor soil conditions. All these things, as well as lack of water, normally limit crop production.

At the banquet, Dr. Samuel M. D. Marshall, class of 1905, Milford, was presented with the award for being the outstanding alumnus by James C. Stewart, '38, president of the University of Delaware alumni association. Mr. Stewart was also the recipient of a gift and honored for his services during the past year.

W. Francis Lindell, '20, chief of elections, gave the list of other incoming officers, effective July 1: Alex J. Taylor, Jr., '20, treasurer; Robert L. Zuck, '49, Walter R. Kelk, '33, and John J. Pearce, '39, members of the Alumni Council; James B. Clements, '49, William T. Drennen, Jr., '43, James A. Kelley, '38, George L. Townsend, '28, and Leroy B. ## 4-H Short Course Scheduled In June For State Youths

State Leader Sam Gwinn Cites Short Course Topics In 4-H Youth Training

The 1955 State 4-H Short Course will be held at the University of Delaware June 26-29. Club members who will be 14 years of age or older by June 26th are eligible to attend.

"No other experience in 4-H club work can surpass the Short Course for teaching boys and girls to live and work together as a group," says Sam Gwinn, state 4-H Club Leader.

Morning classes will give club members valuable training on how to do their club projects. Training will be offered in foods, clothing, home beautification, home management, gardens, crops and soils, poultry, swine, dairy, entomology, and tractor maintenance.

Group classes in the afternoon will include such subjects as 4-H demonstrations, radio broadcasting, 4-H leadership, entertaining in the home, group recreation, song leadership, dancing and swimming. The program is planned so that every 4-H member can find several classes in which she or he will be interested.

Special assembly programs will be conducted by Miss Twyla Pifer, youth editor for the Farm Journal, and Samuel Horst, farm safety director for the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction.

Four-H members interested in attending Short Course should contact their local county club agent.

YELLOWJACKET HIGHLIGHTS

By the Journalism Class

Kathy Lanning
Katherine Lanning, senior in Newark High School taking the general course, was born in Buffalo, N.Y. She came to Newark at the end of the sixth grade.

"Kathy," as she is called by her classmates, has blue eyes, dark brown hair and a cute brother who can really play the piano. She is 5'9", and that isn't all when she is standing beside her beau. Her weight happens to be a top secret.

Kathy is a very active person. She played forward on the basketball team last year; acted as parliamentarian of Tri-Hi-Y, president of Marlboro, treasurer of Thespians; past feature editor of "Buzz," member of Leader's Club, president of Girl Scout Planning Board for 1954. She also was a delegate to the national scout encampment in Wyoming. She is a member of the Senior Honor Society.

Kathy's pet peeve is people who laugh at her Bermuda shorts. Her favorites are as follows: Actress Grace Kelly; Actor John Wayne; "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea," the DeJohna Sisters song, "No More," roast beef, journalism.

When asked about going steady, she stated, "I think it's all right to go steady but not steady."

In her spare time, Kathy watches the "Late, Late Show." Ten years from now she plans to be married, and teaching her kids to behave. Kathy's preference in boys is tall, dark, nice and considerate. Kathy will remember mostly, all the good times in "Buzz."

Kathy plans to teach in elementary school. After graduation from Bucknell University, where she plans to go next year.

Mary Waller
Mary Helen Waller, a brown-haired, grey-eyed junior, was born April 15, 1938, in Ames, Ia. She stands 5'3" and weighs 110 pounds.

Mary went to grade school in Burlington, Vt., and also in Durham, N.H. She then came to Newark in 1950. Taking the academic course, she claims chemistry as her favorite subject. After graduating she plans to attend the University of Delaware.

Mary's favorites are Actress Debbie Reynolds; Actor Bob Wagner; "Gone With The Wind"; song "Cherry, Cherry, Lobster and potato chips. Her pet peeve is people who think school is a waste of time.

Mary's secret ambition is to have a nickname.

In her spare time you can find her reading or talking on the telephone. Miss Waller's hobbies are reading and sewing. (And can she sew!) Her preference in boys is as follows: nice, neat, and ambitious.

Mary was a delegate to the Herald Tribune Forum, in New York City this year, was a candidate for vice-president of Student Council and was chairman of the publicity committee for the Junior Prom.

Patsy
"I will always remember the friends I made in Newark," said Patsy Wuestenhagen in an interview held late in March on the day that she left Newark for Dover High School.

Patsy, a junior, attended schools in Massachusetts, Maine, and Pennsylvania before coming to Newark last September.

She has brown eyes and light brown hair, is 5'5" tall, and weighs 75. ("That's a secret.")

While at NHS, Patsy was a member of Buzz, and Dramatics. In her free time, she reads, jittersbugs, and teaches her parakeet to talk.

Esther Williams, Bing Crosby, all jazz singers, "Sincerely," and food of all kind rate tops in her book, while she doesn't care for people who try to act too old.

Going steady is "all right, if you don't move too much," is Patsy's comment on that topic.

Patsy plans to go on to school for training in medical technology.

To All To Whom These Presents May Come, Greeting.

WHEREAS, It appears to my satisfaction by a duly authenticated certificate certifying that the dissolution of a Delaware corporation whose principal office is located at

The Corporation Trust Company
100 West Tenth Street
in the City of Wilmington has been authorized in accordance with the provisions of Section 275 of the General Corporation Law of Delaware, (Chapter 1, Title 8, Delaware Code), as amended, which certificate has been executed, sealed and acknowledged in accordance with the provisions of said Section 275.

Now, therefore, I, JOHN N. McDOWELL, Secretary of State of the State of Delaware, do hereby certify that the said corporation did on the twelfth day of May, 1955, file in this office a Certificate of Dissolution, duly executed, sealed and acknowledged, which certificate is now on file in my office as provided by law.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and official seal, at Dover this thirteenth day of May, 1955.

Farm No Simple Solution For Family Food Problem
"Occasionally persons with limited knowledge of farming buy a small farm with the idea that it is a simple matter to produce most of the family food supply," relates Asst County Agent Ralph Barwick. He cites the experience of a couple who were particularly fond of steak. They decided to produce their own. After purchasing five acres of land they sought information about beef production. They found that feeding calves was expensive. A fence would have to be built around their place, with some type of shelter for the cattle. They also learned that to produce good beef required more than just quack grass pasture. Grain would have to be purchased. Even after the steers were fattened they would have to hire the slaughtering done.

It was also news to them that a 1000 pound steer would yield only about 500 pounds of meat, and that less than half of that would make good steaks.

They concluded that perhaps buying steaks at the local market was a cheaper way of getting their needs than attempting to produce their own.

The ability to distinguish between that which is true and which is false is one of the attainments of the human mind. —Washington Post

Senior, Junior Tri-Hi-Y Girls Plan Beach Weekend

Senior girls in Alpha and Beta Tri-Hi-Y chapters have been invited to spend two days, May 21 and 22 at Mrs. Mary Armstrong's cottage at Rehoboth Beach, while the junior girls have been invited for the weekend of June 4, 5.

The girls will be accompanied by Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. Alice Lanier, sponsors of the two chapters. They plan to leave Newark early Saturday morning and spend the weekend enjoying the sun and salt water. Each of the girls is asked to contribute food for the meals.

Ginger Lanier and Norma Gray are presidents of Alpha and Beta Chapters, respectively.

St. Paul's Plans Daily Bible Class To Begin June 20

Registration will begin next Sunday for the daily vacation Bible school of St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

The school will begin Monday, June 20, and end Friday, July 21 with an evening program to which parents will be invited. All sessions will be held in the Masonic Temple on Delaware Avenue near Haynes Street.

Mrs. Augusta Ware will direct the school with classes for all age groups from three-year-olds to high school freshmen. Mrs. Lois Kaiser, registrar-secretary of the school will receive registrations.

City Council

Concerning an unpaid sewer service bill presented to the University of Delaware, the city manager was requested to discuss the matter with university authorities and to obtain payment with the provision that the university be reimbursed for all metered water serving the steam boilers. Payment of the water bill has been withheld on the university's contention that a substantial portion of the metered city water was not discharged into the sanitary sewer.

City Solicitor John Sinclair advised that the Levy Court handled similar complaints by requesting the plaintiff to make that water not discharged into the sewer system, with appropriate credit extended.

No Gas Tax Refund

Mr. Over, reporting on attendance at the Delaware Mayors Association meeting in Dover, stated that Newark support had been requested for HB-341, the "Newport Plan" by which municipalities throughout the state would receive state gasoline tax refunds for municipal road maintenance, based on assessed property values. An increase of one cent per gallon tax on the price of gasoline is included in the proposed bill. Passage of the measure would provide the City of Newark with additional revenue of $60,000 annually. The motion to sponsor this bill was defeated by 3 to 2 vote.

A special meeting of council will be held next Tuesday night at 7:30 to decide on a uniform policy for the provision of city streets and utilities.

Westinghouse Electric Supply Co. submitted the low bid for street lighting equipment, and 20 photo-electric cells, 20 cross-arm brackets, and 40 relays will be purchased accordingly.

Water-Savers

An ordinance will be prepared as the result of Councilman Samuel Diehl's recommendation, requiring installation of water saving equipment on all new commercial air conditioning units, and a protective fence will be constructed around the Nottingham Manor septic tank outlet as a safety measure presented by Councilman Frank Scott.

Mr. Sinclair discussed HB-209 governing the vacating of streets by the city, and council approved the amendment which permits the maintenance of public utility installations on city-vacated streets closed by the abutting property owners.

Church of God

Permission was granted to members of the Church of God to erect a tent at 32 Bay Street where services are to be held three evenings each week and on Sundays for the next four months, following safety recommendations by the fire and police departments.

A five year lease, beginning Jan. 1, 1955, for city offices in the Academy Building was approved with rental to be charged for the current year; $25 a month during 1956-57, and $50 a month thereafter.

Mr. Over announced that the Newark Trust Company had purchased an assignment of $32,379.80 from the Binns Home Developers for $20,000—an agreement signed in June, 1953 between the City of Newark and Binns for payment of $32,379.80 by the city to the development firm for construction of waste-mains by the developer. Mr. Over and Mr. Sinclair were requested to negotiate with the bank in an effort to purchase this assignment at substantial savings for the city.

An easement offered by the Greater Newark Development Company in return for maintenance and re-locating a ditch was rejected. Re-locating the ditch would increase the depth and value of the property owner's lots.

A total of $155,000 in capital expenditures last year, not covered in the present bond issue, is to be included in the proposed bond issue to relieve the city deficit.

Mayor Wallace M. Johnson reported that the lane through the sewage disposal plant property, from Cleveland Avenue to Capitol Trail is being used by motorists seeking to avoid the traffic lights, and measures will be taken to close this road.

The next regular meeting of City Council will be held Tuesday, June 7, at 8 o'clock.

Full Restoration Of Budget Request Planned At Dover

House To Amend Bill Restoring $356,500 Slash In UD Budget

The General Assembly will restore to the general appropriation bill the full amount requested by the University of Delaware.

An amendment is being prepared by House of Representatives attorney putting back for the 1955-57 biennium the $356,500 which had been slashed from the recommendations of the permanent-budget commission.

To bring the university's budget for each of the next two fiscal years to $2,116,130, the annual budgets had been pared to $1,637,835.

The bill, introduced early last week, is still in committee, and will be amended before voting.

Elbert N. Carvel, Democratic state chairman and a trustee of the university, said it is the party's philosophy that the university, as a "positive force" in the state, should not be cut in its operations, noting that the university's programs can influence the progress of the state, whereas many of the state's institutions are "merely corrective" or "punitive."

After the budget cuts were announced last week, Dr. John A. Perkins, university president, issued a statement to the effect that the cut would seriously hamper the university's program. Later, Dr. John E. Hoot, dean of students, said the cutback would force a curtailing of the university scholarship program.

Mr. Carvel, confirming that the amendment is being prepared said: "The university is a positive force in the state, and the future leadership of the state depends on the kind of education given at the university."

"Many institutions we have are merely corrective, or punitive institutions for retaining criminals. But the public schools and the University of Delaware are a positive force to help the state move forward. Therefore, it is most important that we join together, irrespective of politics, to see that Delaware's educational institutions are given the fullest support by this state, which has the highest income per capita in the nation. We realize that what is done at the university today may well have important effects 20 years hence on the progress of the state."

On June 2 the club will attend the TV show "Cinderella Weekend," in Philadelphia, and with other home demonstration clubs will participate in the cookie drive for Memorial Day to serve some 900 marchers in the parade.

Cookies may be left at the home of the vice-president, Mrs. R. Elliott no later than Saturday, May 29.

NHS Graduates To Receive Gifts From City Merchants

Several of Newark's local stores are presenting each Newark High School senior a gift congratulating them on their coming graduation.

Each senior girl is invited by Bridgewater's, Dale's and Gregg's jewelry stores to select a sterling silver spoon in the pattern of her choice.

Eagle Furniture is presenting a miniature Lane Cedar Chest to every senior girl.

Dale's and Gregg's stores have given the senior boys a choice of tie clasp or cuff links.

Rosedel Meeting Features Health, Safety Campaigns

The Rosedel Home Demonstration Club met last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Frank Buckingham Jr., Red Mill Road, and witnessed a film on cancer, "A Traitor Within." Mrs. Frank Butterworth distributed literature on mental health.

Mrs. C. Kneise gave a report on the Four Point safety campaign in progress, and members were asked to sign safety pledge cards for return at the next meeting.

Mrs. Emory Rohrbaugh read a report on family life. Mrs. Raymond Benson reported on civil defense, and Mrs. Butterworth gave a report on State Day.

Ace Combat Flyer To Attempt To Crack Sound Barrier Saturday At Dover Show

Major Ed Izor, veteran of over 150 combat missions in World War II and in Korea, will attempt to break the sound barrier at Dover Air Force Base on Saturday afternoon as part of the Armed Forces Day "Open House" scheduled for the installation.

Weather permitting, Major Izor, attached to the 1737th Ferrying Squadron, will attempt his sonic barrier effort at approximately 1:30 p.m. as part of an elaborate aerial show which will also feature pilots and aircraft of the 1607th Air Transport Group (H) and the 46th Fighter Interceptor Squadron.

Flying an F-84F "Thunderstreak", Major Izor will climb to approximately 50,000 feet in preparing to exceed the speed of sound. As an added feature, his radio will be hooked up to the loudspeaker system so that the public will hear for themselves an actual report of breaking the sound barrier from the pilot himself.

Although the sound barrier has been broken on numerous occasions, Saturday will mark the first time that the citizens of Delaware will witness such an event.

Major Izor, a native of Farmersville, O., served two combat tours in England during World War II and one hitch in Korea.

Hottest news in Hardtops is the 4-Door Riviera

Why take anything less than the sensation of the year?

WHEN you learn what's been done in the automobile pictured here, you can easily see why this beauty is winning rave notices coast to coast.

Buick engineers took the hardtop body design that has been growing tremendously in popularity over the past six years—and gave it four doors instead of two.

Simple? Sure—to all outward appearances.

But it took a brand-new kind of body with wholly new structural principles to do it—to bring this long-awaited new kind of automobile to the public in volume numbers and at popular prices.

For this is a true hardtop—with the sleek and racy look of a Convertible, because there are no center posts in the window areas on either side.

And now it has front doors for the front-seat passengers—and rear doors for the rear-seat passengers—plus room increased to the size of a full Sedan.

(It took some special kind of engineering magic, you can be sure, to hinge all four doors at their forward edges for greater safety, and more ease of entering and exiting.)

So it looks like Buick has scooped the industry again—and come up with the hottest news in hardtops since Buick originated the first two-door hardtop six years ago.

HOTTEST NEWS IN AUTOMATIC DRIVES IS VARIABLE PITCH DYNAFLOW

It's the world's first transmission with the switch-pitch principle of the modern airplane's variable pitch propeller. You get better gas mileage in cruising. You switch the pitch just by pressing the gas pedal—and get lightning-like response for getaway, or for a sudden safety-surge of accelerating power. It's the performance thrill of the year. Standard on ROADMASTER, optional on other Series at no more extra cost than earlier versions of this wonder drive.

And you can have it now—in the low-price SPECIAL or the supremely-powered CENTURY—and either one at the modest extra cost of a 4-door model over a 2-door.

Drop in on us today—this week, for sure—and see how easily and how quickly one can be yours.

OFF THE DEEP END!

DANGER AHEAD!

Who can guarantee the annual sales and income of any manufacturing company? Or of any retail store? Or of any business or professional man?

Sales, profits, income—generally, the fate of our whole economy—rest in the hands of consumers and customers.

Until someone discovers how to guarantee annual sales volume, any talk of a "guaranteed annual wage" is nebulous and meaningless. It is fraught with danger.

Union leaders who are attempting to force industrial workers off the deep end and into GAW should understand and realize the uncertainties and perils that they face.

HISTORICAL REVIEWS OF THE NEWARK AREA

By ETHEL M. HILL

I remember J. Rankin Armstrong who kept the large dry goods store in Caskey Hall—now the Newark Academy Apartments—and his handsome family. Edna who walked with a cane, William, Emma and Addie, Mrs. Floyd Wingett.

Mr. Mahoney called one day last week to ask me if I knew what position Mr. Rankin Armstrong held in the army. Two young men were here putting a new globe in my television, and I introduced them to Mr. Mahoney. He found that when a boy going to Sunday School at Leed's Church, Md., he knew the father of one of the young men—William Deaver.

The church is planning a historical celebration this month. Mr. Mahoney is chairman of the committee and the Deaver family is working with much interest.

Mr. Mahoney has been studying the Mason-Dixon markers and has visited and photographed every stone as far west as Cumberland, Md. This is as far as the Indian guides accompanying Mason and Dixon would go as it would take them into the land of unfriendly tribes. Also, the territory was so hilly, it was impossible to get the marking stones up the steep hills. The original surveyors got as far as Sideling Hill and gave up for the winter.

Mr. Mahoney said he finds it tough climbing those hills but has not lost interest in the boundary westward between Pennsylvania and Maryland.

"Of course he faked his age to join the army. His mother went after him and brought him home but he ran away again. This time his parents let him stay. When the war closed, he was much interested in the GAR and at one time was state commander of the GAR.

"He is buried in Sharp's Cemetery. His older brother Theodore Armstrong was called "General" because he was appointed on the staff of Gov. Biggs."

The father of these two, Rankin and Theodore, was called "Rankin" Jimmie Armstrong. He lived on the Quality Hill and owned the land from where he lived, to the railroad.

J. Rankin Armstrong built his home where Angle Perkins now lives while Theodore had his home where R. T. Jones now lives.

For information about Mr. Armstrong I called Mrs. Laura Hossinger who wrote to Addie, who replies: "Yes, Papa was in the Civil War. He was born Aug. 1, 1849. He was a young boy when he ran away from home and became a drummer boy."

Veteran Retires

Through the years the white-haired, ruddy-complexioned figure carrying mail to his truck beside the university post office has become familiar to students and university employees, past and present. His several trucks carry a particular significance to the university messenger, contributing to his mythical "doctor of flivology" degree. On one occasion several years ago, Mr. Walker was forced to use his truck as an ambulance when Mr. A. G. Wilkinson, former business administrator, suffered a fatal attack as he was about to enter the vehicle for a trip to Wilmington.

If newcomers to the campus were not sure of their bearings, Joe was usually one of the first to sense it and to help. His mail deliveries earned him a degree of popularity attained by few during World War II when the student body was largely feminine. Even today, the retired university employee receives numerous Christmas cards and wedding invitations from many of the multitude of students he encountered in his long period of service.

A member of St. John's Catholic Church, the 67-year-old Walker is devoted to church affairs. With his wife, Esther, he resides at 721 Academy Street, Newark.

His plans now? To continue his life-time specialty of delivery work, now as the employee of a local business firm.

Proclamation Of Poppy Days

Friday and Saturday, May 20, 21 have been proclaimed as Poppy Days in Newark by Mayor Wallace M. Johnson.

In observance of the days, all citizens are urged to wear memorial poppies to honor those who gave their lives for America.

WHEREAS three times in the past 36 years the young men of our city have been called upon to help turn back a threat to America on foreign battlefields; and

WHEREAS our young men answered this call with high courage and patriotism, some of the finest of them laying down their lives in the nation's defense; and

WHEREAS the memory of these men and their sacrifices should live forever in our hearts; and

WHEREAS our memory for our war dead and the honor in which we hold them is individually expressed by the annual wearing of the memorial poppy, now therefore I, Wallace M. Johnson, Mayor of the City of Newark, do hereby proclaim Friday, May 20 and Saturday, May 21, to be Poppy Days in the City of Newark, and do urge all citizens to observe the days by wearing the memorial poppy.

Memorial Parade Line of March Division Commanders Named

The route of march and division commanders for Newark's Memorial Day parade, Sunday, May 29, were announced today by C. Vernon Steele, chairman of arrangements.

On the basis of invitations so far accepted, fourteen bands and about 1800 persons, including units from all service branches, will be in the line of march, he said.

The navy will be sending the largest contingent, he disclosed. This will include a band, a 60-man marching unit, a detachment of 50 WAVES, all from the Bainbridge Naval Training Center, plus a 30-man Marine platoon from the Philadelphia Naval Base; a platoon of Marine Reserves and a 100-man Naval Reserve unit from Wilmington.

The parade will step off sharply at 2 p.m. at Delaware Avenue and Academy Streets, moving east on Delaware to Haines, north to Main, then east again to Chapel and north to New, where a halt will be made at the Methodist Cemetery for taps and the firing of a salute.

Next, the columns will move south on Center Street to Main, west to the war memorial before city hall, where the parade will pause for wreath laying ceremonies, then continue west to Elkton Road and south to the Episcopal Cemetery where soldier graves will be recognized with a rifle salute and taps. From there, the units will move east on Delaware Avenue to the University of Delaware for the day's principal ceremonies centering in the rotunda of the Memorial Library.

J. Thoroughgood Named Senior High Guidance Advisor

Miss Jeanette Thoroughgood, who has been sponsor of the Yellow Jacket Buzz since 1948, will serve as guidance counselor next year in the new senior high school located near George Read Village, Principal Frederick B. Kutz has announced.

Miss Thoroughgood graduated from the University of Delaware and then attended Columbia University where she received her bachelor of science degree in library science. At the end of the war, after experience in libraries in New York and Baltimore, Miss Thoroughgood began teaching English and journalism at Newark's degree in English and education at the University of Delaware.

Miss Thoroughgood has sponsored delegates attending the annual Temple Press Tournament in Philadelphia and the Herald Tribune Forum in New York for several years.

Born in Easton, Pa., she attended Newark High School before entering the University of Delaware.

Journalism Class To See Cinerama In Philadelphia

Newark High School's journalism class, under the guidance of Miss Jeanette Thoroughgood, plans to attend next Monday's matinee of "Cinerama Holiday" at the Boyd Theatre in Philadelphia, leaving Newark via B & O at 11:45 a.m. and returning about 7 p.m.

The units will start forming at 1:45 p.m., Mr. Steele said, at the following points: Military Division on Academy Street beginning at Delaware Avenue; Second Division on Lovett Avenue beginning at Academy and extending east; Third Division on Haines Street beginning at Lovett Avenue and extending north.

Dorothy Markert To Teach Jr. High Algebra Classes

Miss Dorothy Markert, retiring guidance counselor will teach algebra next year in the junior high school.

Since 1948 she has been guidance counselor for the junior and senior high schools and has administered the annual testing program advising pupils in subject selection and with personal problems, and provided material concerning colleges, scholarships, and vocational opportunities.

Miss Markert graduated from Harrington High School and attended the University of Delaware. She came to Newark to teach until 1943 when she joined the WAC. In 1947 and 1948 she again taught in Newark—left to take graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania—returned to Newark as guidance counselor in 1948.

Girl Scout Camp To Be Conducted For Third Season

Camp Minquill To Open Two 5-Day Sessions At Rittenhouse Pk. July 11

Girl Scout Day Camp Minquill in Rittenhouse Park will open its third season of two five-day sessions on July 11. Located on the east bank of Christina Creek directly below Silverbrook, the camp was named for the Minqua Indians who used the creek (kil) to travel from Lancaster, Pa., to Christina and Wilmington.

For each five-day period 40 girls will work and play, learning basic camping skills and enjoying other outdoor experiences.

Mrs. Allan Duff will again be the camp director. An experienced scout leader, she served as assistant director of day camp in Aiken, S. C., before serving as Minquill director in 1954.

Mrs. John Mosby, camp nurse, was associate professor of nursing at the University of Virginia, has been a leader of a scout troop in Newark this year and will be neighborhood chairman of Area C next year.

Unit leaders for camp will be Mrs. Alverda Barrow, a scout leader and member of the 1954 staff; Mrs. Jeanne Haight, also a scout leader and experienced camper; Mrs. Polly Seybert, camp director from Northeast, Md.; Mrs. Nancy Kelsey, scout leader, and Mrs. Dorothy Magner.

They will be assisted by a staff of high school girls who are experienced campers themselves, interested in sharing their skills with the younger girls.

Forty girls can be accommodated each week—July 11 and July 18—and registrations can be made with Mrs. Russell Hyre, 22 Minquill Drive, Newark. After June 1, registrations from girls who are not scouts will be accepted.

GLASGOW CLUB MET

WITH MRS. PLOGER

At a recent meeting of the Glasgow Home Demonstration Club, Mrs. W. L. McElwee and Mrs. Alfred Ploger hosted a tea serving various kinds of "Party Breads" all favorably accepted by members present. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Ploger, Tanglewood Lane, with 25 members and 2 guests. Mrs. Adele J. Mathews was welcomed as a new member.

Plans were completed for the Bake Sale. Several members made plans to join the Bake Club on a trip to Philadelphia to see "Cinemas Holiday" on Wednesday, May 18.

The afternoon of May 24 was set aside for a visit to Winterthur Museum. Many members plan to attend, arriving at Winterthur in private cars at 1 p.m.

New programs for 1955 are being planned at present and the club expressed desire for more handicraft and home management programs. Delaware State Federation of Women's Clubs is sponsoring a safety "Co-Eds of the Road" program and most of the Glasgow members are participating.

Mrs. C. E. Ewing and Mrs. William Carter expressed the need for more volunteers on the monthly mending trip to Gov. Bacon. Transportation can be provided—anyone is welcome to join.

Next month's meeting is scheduled for June 14 at the home of Mrs. Frank Colby.

WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION MEETS TUESDAY EVE

The Women's Association of the Head of Christiana Presbyterian Church meets Tuesday evening, May 24, at the home of Mrs. Clossie Mench, Chestnut at 8 o'clock.

Women of the church are cordially invited to attend.

Miss Naomi Veit, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul O. Veit of Newark, will leave New York's Idlewild Airport on Tuesday (May 24) for ten weeks in Europe, accompanying Dr. and Mrs. Donald Grey Barnhouse of Barchdale, Doylestown, Pennsylvania.

For the past five years Miss Veit has been secretary to Dr. Barnhouse, minister of the Tenth Presbyterian Church of Philadelphia, editor and lecturer.

Countries included in the trip are Portugal, Spain, Italy, Switzerland, Germany, Denmark, Holland, France, England and Scotland.

EXCHANGE STUDENTS GUEST OF DEM. CLUB

The May meeting of the Newark Home Demonstration Club will be held at the home of Mrs. R. A. Gregg at 258 East Main Street. Mrs. Mervin Diefenderfer and Mrs. Charles Dunham will give a demonstration on "Do You Know Your Herbs?"

To celebrate Home Demonstration Week the club gave a tea at the home of Mrs. Rithner Hall on Chestnut Hill Road. Two foreign students were their guests to speak on home making in their countries. The guests were Miss Bettina Franky from Columbia and Miss Maia Ozolina from Latvia. Each girl wore her native costume and Miss Franky did two folk dances. Mrs. Wilmer Aist was in charge of arrangements.

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL BY LADIES BIBLE CLASS

Delaware Interscholastics Draws State's Top Runners

Coach Bob Farny's Newark Yellowjackets Conceded
Chance In Field Events With Bill Hiddleston Pacing
Shotput; Senior, Junior High School Tests Scheduled

BY NORVIN "RIP" COLLINS

The state's top school boy track and field stars will shine here Saturday with the 40th annual renewal of the Delaware Interscholastics scheduled to get under way at Frazier Field, starting at 1 p.m.

Events for both junior and senior high athletes are scheduled according to D. Kenneth Steers, meet

Newark High's track team, although figured to be outclassed in the sprints and distance events, is conceding to have a good chance in the field events, particularly the shot put. Top man on the squad is Bill Hiddleston, although closely shadowed by John Miller and Howard Priestley. Hiddleston has been tossing the shot well over 40 feet in practice tries and should prove tough competition for others in the schoolboy field.

Those representing the Yellowjackets are as follows: 100-yard dash—Fred Galner and Bob Gore; 220-yard dash—Jake Shew and Andy Kraft; 440-yard dash—Joe Lehman and Wilson Cooper; 880-yard dash—Burt Chase and Mark Hurm; mile—Frank Fuller and Ed Chase; relay—Gore, Shew, Fuller and Lehman; hurdle—Kinloch and Tom Hoghead; high jump—Lehman and Ed Chase; broad jump—Cooper and Hoghead; discus—Bill Hiddleston and Howard Priestley; shot put—John Miller, Hiddleston and Priestley; javelin—Hiddleston, Hurm and Shew.

The Openers

The opening events, scheduled for 1 p.m., are the 50-yard dash trials, high jump and eight-pound shot events for junior high contestants, and shot, pole vault and javelin contests in the high school division.

Following these are the high school 100-yard dash trials, junior high 50-yard dash trials and broad jump and high school 110-yard hurdle trials and high jump. The semi-finals for high school 100-yard dash is scheduled for 1:55 p.m.

Junior High entrants take the track at 2:05 p.m. for the finals in the 50-yard dash and the finals in the high school 110-yard hurdle trials, followed by the junior high 100-yard dash trials and the high school discus event.

Sprinters

Dash artists of the top four grades get their final opportunity in the 100 and 220-yard dash trials. The high school mile and broad jump contestants enter final events. Remaining contests include the 100 and 220-yard dashes and 880-yard relay for junior high runners, as well as 220, 440 and 880-yard runs plus the mile relay for the high school members.

Coach Milt Roberts Sees All-American Lacrosse Future For Sophomore Bob Tait

Instances are rare when a college coach will candidly describe a sophomore, however promising, as an All-American candidate. However, that is exactly how University of Delaware lacrosse coach Milt Roberts portrays Bob Tait, youthful scoring artist from Bala-Cynwid, Pa.

To substantiate his claim, the Delaware athletic tutor presents an imposing array of statistics. Tait, a product of Lower Merion High, last week led the Blue Hen squad to a 14-11 extra-period victory over Lafayette. In the fracas he contributed nine goals, the most tallied by a Delaware lacrosse player since the great Don Swan tied a national record of 14 in 1951.

After each performance the rival coaches, have been unflinching in their praise, been unflinching in their praise, been unflinching in their praise. Earlier this season Tait accounted for eight of Delaware's 10 tallies in a losing battle with Washington College. The 5-11, 180-pound power forward was credited with three goals and one assist against Swarthmore, guiding the Hens to their first lacrosse victory ever scored over the Garnet.

25 Goal Total

Four more scores in the Drexel game, one against Penn, and an assist in the lone tally in the Hofstra tilt brings Tait's season total to 25 goals and five assists in six games.

Last season the Delaware freshman lacrosse squad played only a two-game schedule; Tait scored seven times.

The versatile Tait, reportedly one of the finest high school lacrosse players while at Lower Merion, found little difficulty in adjusting to the college brand of play. In Pennsylvania field lacrosse teams, the Bulldogs were forced to schedule college freshmen.

Major Sport

"One of my great thrills was traveling to West Point and playing against the plebes," admits Bob. In addition, Lower Merion also battled the freshman teams of Princeton, Pennsylvania, Swarthmore, Drexel and St. Paul's. Even with the scheduled season, Tait won 31 of 33 games in the seasons that Tait led, with the Penn and Princeton frosh each claiming single victories in the three-year span.

Tait, playing midfield before switching to the back, captained the Lower Merion team in 1953. The soft-spoken, blonde-haired youngster was first-string material from the beginning at his high school.

Blue Hen Lacrossemen Close With Dickinson

The Delaware lacrosse team will wind up the season Saturday in a clash with Dickinson on Frazier Field at 2 p.m.

Blue Hens, behind the inspired playing of sophomore Bob Tait, have scored victories over Lafayette and Swarthmore while losing to Hofstra, Washington College, Pennsylvania and Drexel. Four Hens will make their final appearance in the battle this weekend. Bill Gurney, 6-2, 185-pound Olean, N.Y., athlete is the lone loss from the defense, while Captain Dick Knoll, Jim Holden and Frank Goeckler will leave the midfield ranks.

The king mackerel had moved on, but the dolphin stayed with Alexis duP. Bayard, James duP. Bayard, and Leonard duP. Yeger throughout the day, and Isadore duP. Keil was the "shook up" member who made port at Key West last Friday night. Mr. Keil had taken an additional decision over a Gulf Stream sailfish.

Tigers of the Sea
On Saturday morning, Cap'n Regan and his party headed for the Marquise Islands and in the adjacent waters they found barracuda. The Tigers of the Sea gave all hands a day of constant action and after viewing countless razor-edged teeth, the sportsmen have reason to be chary of barracuda, shaving, and smiles.

The 'cudas ranged from 12 to 40-lbs., and Len Yeger finally escaped from an estimated 60-pounder when the light tackle failed. Trolling with scraps of mackerel did the business, and since the barracuda is not considered one of the more solid citizens of the Gulf, the fish well was loaded with these man-eating, sea-going pike—enough to provide the Marquise Island aquarists with chopped, fresh fish for a long time.

Anchored just off a scattering Anchorode just off a scattering of mangrove keys that night, the Wilmington adventurers decided to defer sleep for fish. With light tackle and cut mullet, the cork-floated lines drifting with the tide from the stern of the anchored cruiser, they found tarpon—feeding tarpon.

Thirty miles west of Key West, down where the trade winds blow, this midnight rendezvous must have been a noisy one. Reels screamed, the waters roared as the tarpon burst through the surface and up, up, up into the night to return with a louder crash of shattered liquid—and the fishermen's cheering section added to the pleasant din.

Hooking and boating tarpon are seldom synonymous, and last Saturday night no tarpon were banded. But a lot were hooked for a lot of excitement.

Trolling back to Key West on Sunday, the cruiser rumbled through a sea that was clear, calm and green as a good glass of strained limeade—and with just as many fish in evidence.

At 10:30 Sunday night, the fishermen were back in Wilmington.

where lacrosse is considered a major sport.

Bob was first attracted to the game as an eighth grader when Coach Henry Ford, chief referee of the Pennsylvania District lacrosse officials and former member of the All-America selection committee, initiated a club that practiced weekly during activity period and scrimmaged on Saturdays. Thus, he was able to gain five years of valuable experience before making his first campus appearance.

Although Tait made his varsity debut this season, he is a familiar figure to a number of prominent collegiate lacrosse stars. Some of his old high school teammates include Princeton's John Watson, Yale's Terry Malloy, Drexel's Dick Schweffler, Penn's Al Quinn and Lehigh's Harry Grau.

No Football Time

Tait, a member of Sigma Nu social fraternity, expresses regret that his business administration studies do not allow him enough time for football, for which he won honorable mention all-state as a high school halfback. "Lacrosse is the nearest thing to football, though," Bob relates. "There's plenty of action—you're never standing still."

One of his most lasting lacrosse memories is the broken jaw received from a raging Penn player, George Trautman, after Lower Merion scored an upset victory. The crack Ivy League football center picked the Delaware sophomore as a target for his stick after Tait and his teammates had successfully started Trautman's usually successful efforts.

Bob is pleased with his progress under Roberts' tutelage. "I would certainly like to see lacrosse gain in prominence at the University of Delaware," Tait says. "It's really a first class game and is worthy of a rank among the leading sports."

Dr. Musselman Cards First Golf Ace At Newark

Perserverance pays off. If you don't think so ask Dr. Paul K. Musselman, a veteran local golfer. Dr. Musselman stole the show Sunday from the flight of eight golf players with a 208-yard hole in one at the Newark Country Club. His shot, the first such ace in 30 years of links play, came on the par 3 12th hole.

S. K. (Whitey) Wester defeated R. F. (Sank) Richards 1 up, in the first flight. Wester had a par 71, while Richards took a neat 73.

In other matches Henry Wolf downed Harry Williamson, 5 and 4, in the third flight and Hugh Gallagher won the sixth flight from Art Robson, 1 up.

The Newark team missed a chance to move into the Suburban League A Division by bowing to the C winners, Rolling Green, 3 1/2 to 1 1/2.

Dixie Handicap Tops Week's Pimlico Card

Pimlico racing this week is highlighted by the renewal of the Dixie Handicap, one of the track's traditional stakes which dates back to 1870. However, tradition has been pushed aside to some extent this season, in that the Dixie will be run over the turf course instead of on the main oval. And the distance will be 1 3/8 miles on Saturday rather than the customary 1 3/16 miles of other years.

Horses which have proven themselves on the grass and who are expected to be in the Dixie lineup include St. Vincent, Black, Kaster, Brush Burn, Parnassus, News Again, Royal Governor and Fisherman, the latter the hero of last fall's Washington, D.C. International.

SPORTS FLASHES

The Sports
News
by J. G. Taylor Spink

Shortstop Harvey Kuenn of the Detroit Tigers has a batting style all his own. It's strictly unorthodox. Yet he's out there getting those base hits as regular as clockwork.

As Tiger Coach Bill Hitchcock put it the other day, Kuenn violates the basic principles of hitting. "But," said Hitchcock, "who would be so foolish as to tamper with a style that has been so successful, no matter how unorthodox it might be?"

200 Hits For Season

Kuenn, however, worked hard and made himself impressive. In his first two years he achieved a rarity by getting at least 200 hits in each season. He got 209 in 1953 and 201 in 1954. Not many others have done it.

Johnny Pesky got 205 as a freshman with the Red Sox in 1942, and came back after military service to bag 208 in 1947 and 207 in 1948. Lloyd Waner of the Pirates did it his first three years—223 in 1927, 228 in 1928 and 234 in 1929. He might have done it five straight years if he had not undergone an appendicitis operation in 1930. Limited to 63 games that year, he got 94 hits, but the next year came back with 214.

Phillies' Slugger

Chuck Klein racked up 200 or more hits in his first five full seasons with the Phillies. But in the light of all-time performances, he started that Kuenn has made is a sparkling one.

Of the 79 members of the Hall of Fame, only two crashed the 200-hit circle their first two complete seasons. Willie Keeler rang up eight seasons between 1894 and 1901 and Joe DiMaggio put two such years back to back with the Yankees in 1936 and 1937. Ty Cobb in his first full year got only 112 hits. Rogers Hornsby didn't hit the 200 mark until his fifth year with the Cardinals.

With two 200-hit years behind him, Kuenn seems well on his way to a third. He hit safely in his first 12 games, and after 26 games had 42 safeties.

While Kuenn's style at the plate didn't need tampering, his defensive touch needed improvement. So this spring at training camp he was put into the hands of Hitchcock and Joe

Twenty Jumpers Enter Rose Tree Race Feature

Twenty of the nation's finest timber toppers are expected to face the starter Saturday in the Charles A. Dohna Challenge Cup, top race of the day at Rose Tree. The event is a mile and a half over the wood.

Also on the agenda is the Gloucester Fox Hunters Plate, a three-mile affair over 22 fences. Eleven horses are expected to start, including Charles M. Cann's Gallant Ship, fresh from a victory last Saturday.

Four other races, two flat and two over fences, round out the card. First race is at 2 p.m.

Gordon, former Yankee and Indian second baseman who now scouts for the Tigers. He showed immediate improvement. He's deceptively fast in getting around, and observers say he ranges as far and wide as Chico Carrasquel of the White Sox. Kuenn doesn't hit homers. In a little more than two years he has hit only seven. He says he's not built for them, but Bucky Harris says he could if he wanted to. How often, Harris adds, "If he went for the fences, he wouldn't collect 200 hits a season. He's smart enough to know when he's well off."

Cadillac Riders

Ralph Kiner is supposed to have said once that "singles hitters ride in jalopies, home run hitters ride in Cadillacs." Kuenn was Cadillac when he got $55,000 for signing with the Tigers in 1952. He hadn't even hit a major league single then.

When Mickey Vernon of the Senators hit a two-bagger against the Orioles on May 6, it was his 400th double. Only one other player still active in the majors has reached or passed the 400 mark. Stan Musial of the Cardinals has 512. Tris Speaker leads in doubles, with 793.

Up until a few days ago, pinch hitting seemed a lost art among the Boston Red Sox. But Norm Zaichin came through in a game against the Yankees, May 8. He singled for the pitcher, although the hit was wasted in a lost game. But it was at least something new this season. The Red Sox had called up 26 pinch-hitters earlier, without one of them coming through.

Red Schoendienst of the St. Louis Cardinals hit the 1,300 mark in singles when he got four of them in one game on May 7. He became the fifth major leaguer, still active, to reach that mark. The leader in singles is Red's roommate, Stan Musial, who on May 7 had 1,477. Others in the 1,300 or better class were Enos Slaughter, Mickey Vernon and Pee Wee Reese.

Babe Ruth League Opens Saturday With Doubleheader

Curtis Paper Co. To Oppose Equitable Security
Nine In First Game At 1:30; Newark Lumber
To Meet W. H. Porter, Inc. Boys In Second

The Newark Optimist Babe Ruth League, the first of its kind to be organized in Delaware, will open its Saturday afternoon with all four teams in action.

Brief opening day ceremonies have been planned to precede the first game when Curtis Paper meets Equitable Security Trust at 1:30 p.m. The second game matches Lumber and William H. Porter, Inc.

Delaware Park, WDEL-TV Plan Video Schedule

A TV schedule unequalled by any other racetrack will be presented this season by Delaware Park in collaboration with WDEL-TV, consisting of 37 live telecasts.

The programs will begin Monday, June 23, and continue daily except Sundays through July 4.

The arranging and staging of the programs, from 4:30 to 5 p.m. (EDT) each day, is being handled by Les Bernd, head of the track's film June 23—Equitable vs. Security Trust; June 24—Equitable vs. Security Trust; June 25—Equitable vs. Security Trust; June 26—Equitable vs. Security Trust; June 27—Equitable vs. Security Trust; June 28—Equitable vs. Security Trust; June 29—Equitable vs. Security Trust; June 30—Equitable vs. Security Trust; July 1—Equitable vs. Security Trust; July 2—Equitable vs. Security Trust; July 3—Equitable vs. Security Trust; July 4—Equitable vs. Security Trust.

The half-hour programs will include the day's sixth race feature. These will be the popular distance events, with the exception of opening day, when the six furlong Wilmington Handicap will be the major offering.

Mr. Field, Vice-President and General Manager of the Stanton track and long known for his broadcasts and telecasts of major sports events around the country, will donate his services in describing the race of the day in addition to announcing and conducting paddock four games played with a home club's last race in the home club's last race.

LUCKIES LUCKY

Luckies defeated Ebenezer in a hit a three-run home playoff for the Friday Night Bowl- Toledo, 7 to 6. Bobby Ebenezzer won the first half, while with a homer. At Manassas, Luckies took the second section title Harris' second home race came against Louisville, and Paul, Norm Larkins hit in a game, August 1, 1951—yet won Indianapolis. And each in the final inning.

Memorial Events At Delaware Park Planned May 28th

Legion, VFW, Shriners, K of C, Track Officials Plan Opening Day Fete

Four organizations and the Delaware Park officials are arranging one of the most colorful Memorial Day weekends in the history of the Stanton track, where a 32-day thoroughbred racing meet is scheduled to begin Saturday, May 28.

The organizations are the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Nur Shrine Temple, and Delaware Council, Knights of Columbus. The inaugural program has been designated as Veterans Fraternal Day and more than 400 members of the four organizations will take part.

Because of the heavy and varied schedule of events, the track gates will be open to the public at 10 a.m. Entertainment events will start at 11 o'clock and continue until 1:30 p.m.—a half-hour before the racing program starts.

In honor of the four organizations, a race has been named for each and a trophy of a sterling silver cigarette box, each bearing the respective group's official insignia, will be presented to the winning jockey by the heads of the four organizations.

In addition, the winning owner in the day's stakes feature, the $10,000 added Wilmington Handicap, will receive a piece of plate.

Making the trophy presentations will be Harry S. Zerby, department commander, American Legion; Commander Miles L. Frederick, VFW; Potentate W. Harrison Phillips, Shriners; and Dr. N. L. Gladnick, state deputy, K. of C.

THE FORWARD LOOK

Gail Nichols was crowned queen at the annual May Day festival at Sunny Hills-Sanford Schools on Lancaster Pike last Sunday afternoon. The daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Naudain Nichols of Mill Creek Road, she was chosen by the senior girls at Sanford.

This is the second time Miss Nichols has been honored as May Queen having been selected six years ago when a sixth grade student at the school.

She is a member of the Honor Society, a student government officer, and captain of the lacrosse team. On graduation from Sanford next month, she will enter the school of education at the University of Delaware in September.

Red Clay Creek Presbyterian Church
A program on antiques featured the May meeting of the chapter last Sunday. Mrs. Lawrence T. Ellis was hostess for the luncheon which preceded the session and Mrs. Donald Woodward presided.

Mrs. Paul W. Mitchell read three verses relating to the worth of antiques and Mrs. Bliss and Mrs. Emma Walker Pennington, displayed family heirlooms in brooches, silver spoons, and a glass whiskey taster from the old Marmalade Tavern, Mrs. Pennington's home.

Also exhibited by Mrs. Pennington was a photostatic copy of the first liquor license granted by George II of England to James Walker on Sept. 20, 1746 through George Thomas, Lieut.-Governor of Pennsylvania, and New Castle, Kent, and Sussex counties on the Delaware home. The original was given to the Delaware Historical Society by Miss Mary E. Walker, Mrs. Pennington's aunt.

Mrs. Woodward, regent, told of the Continental Congress last month at Washington, D.C.

For Memorial Day, American flags will be placed on the graves of the ten Revolutionary soldiers buried in Red Clay Creek Presbyterian Church cemetery. Mrs. George Houchin, Americanism chairman, will have charge of this project.

The winners in the annual history essay contest were announced as Bonnie Alexander who will receive a silver medal at the closing exercises of Yorklyn School, and Virginia Smith who will be presented with a certificate of merit for honorable mention. Both are sixth graders at Yorklyn.

Charles Jackson, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Jackson, is the junior boy who will go to Germany this summer under the exchange plan of the American Field Service. Sophia Pyle of Stanton, will be the junior girl to go to Europe. She will visit Greece. Both students come from this hundred and our best wishes go with them.

Harmony Grange Hall will again be donated through the community service committee to the Conrad High School students for their after Junior Prom entertainment on May 27. A breakfast will be served under the direction of Mrs. Marvin Klair of Limestone Road at 4:30 a.m.

The Y's Owl 4-H Club members attended services last Sunday morning at Lower Brandywine Presbyterian Church. Union club members visited Old Swedes Church in Wilmington, attending morning worship. Rural Life Sunday observance was the reason for club participation. The Corner Ketch club came to Ebenezer Methodist Church.

Horace P. Dennison of Limestone Road, fell recently and has been confined to his home having suffered a concussion.

His brother, Frank G. Dennison is still a patient in St. Francis Hospital. His condition is slightly improved.

Ebenezer Methodist Church
Two improvements are in progress at the church. Volunteer labor was contributed for the laying of the new hardwood floor in the sanctuary. Men of the church did the work last week. This project cost about $500. Boyer Brothers of Wilmington, were awarded the contract for painting the interior of the sanctuary and choir room.

Union Grange will attend the morning worship at 11 a.m. next Sunday.

The annual pie social will be held tonight by the Mite Circle.

The Women's Society of Christian Service will meet May 26 at 8 p.m. at the church.

The Rev. Edwin J. Horney was returned to Ebenezer for another year at the annual Peninsula Conference which concluded on Monday. This will be Mr. Horney's sixth year at this charge.

Miss Doris Major and Nelson Payne will be hosts for the MYAF meeting next Sunday at 8 p.m. at the church social hall.

Wallace Neave lacerated his fingers severely last week on a power lawn mower. He had to have nine stitches taken.

Linda Kolaskinski of Fairview is ill in the Delaware Hospital. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kolaskinski.

Mrs. Elsie W. Stradley was among the guests at a garden party and farewell tea given Sunday afternoon for Miss Marguerite Burnett who is retiring after 35 years of service. In the adult education department. The party was held in the garden of Mrs. Clarence Faim's home on Pennsylvania Avenue, Wilmington.

Play Day will be held at the school on May 27 from 2 to 3:30 p.m. for parents, pre-school children and friends.

The farewell dinner for Mrs. Phyllis Heck, county supervisor, will be held May 23 at 6:30 p.m. at Stanton School. Mrs. Stradley will attend.

Circle 1 held a covered dish luncheon and meeting this afternoon at the church. Mrs. Richard L. Oswald, Mrs. Archie Fleming, and Mrs. Harold E. Wivel were hostesses, and devotions were led by Mrs. Thomas M. Nichols, Jr. Mrs. Oswald presented the program.

The church school teachers and officers will meet tonight when plans for Children's Day and daily vacation Bible School will be given.

The Senior-Hi Westminster Fellowship conducted services last Sunday at the Nemours Foundation.

The church choir held a square dance last evening at Harmony Grange Hall.

Twenty-one girl scouts of Troop 218 held a picnic at Washington, D.C., last Saturday. They visited the White House, the Capitol, Washington's Monument, Lincoln Memorial, Arlington National Cemetery, and Smithsonian Institute. Mrs. Frances Woodward, leader; Mrs. Walter Crossland, assistant, and the following mothers accompanied the group: Mrs. Jesse Mitchell, Mrs. M. A. Shakespeare, Mrs. Gifford Nowland, and Mrs. Fred Gibson.

Harmony Juvenile Grange will hold a square dance tomorrow from 8 to 10:30 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis and son Charles of Milltown, Pa., were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Shakespeare on Loveville Road.

Enica Klair of Limestone Road, celebrated her ninth birthday anniversary last Sunday by entertaining a few friends.

Dangers in Home-Made Electric Fences Cited
Home-made electric fence devices may be death traps, warns County Agent Ed Schabinger. Unsafe fences should be removed from every community and farm.

The National Safety Council suggests that no fence be energized except through a controller that meets the requirements of a recognized testing agency such as Underwriters Laboratories. Approved controllers provide for a current that is limited to a few hundredths of an ampere and is only permitted on the line for a fraction of a second. The "off-period" must be sufficient to permit a person to release himself from the fence, Mr. Schabinger explains.

Small children are involved in over half the electric fence tragedies. Few people realize that even a very small current can cause death. The current used by a small seven or 10 watt bulb is enough to electrocute a person. Victims "freeze" to the conductor and cannot release themselves unless the current is shut off.

Changes In Your Social Security

By Myron Milbouer, Manager
Wilmington Social Security Office

Several times in this series I have mentioned the increased benefits for those retiring in the future. There are three reasons why future social security payments will be larger. A little simple arithmetic, that we'll get into later, will show this easily.

The first change in the law increases the total amount of earnings that you report for social security tax and benefit purposes. Before the 1954 amendment the top that could be counted for social security was $3,600. Beginning Jan. 1, 1955, yearly wages or self-employment net income for the total of both up to $4,200 will be counted. Right there is the groundwork for larger benefits.

New Formula

The formula for arriving at the benefit amount has been revised also. And that is the second reason for increase in future benefit amounts. Here is the way the new benefit formula works:

First add the wages, covered by social security, that you have received in all of the months beginning Jan. 1, 1955. Now under the new law you may be able to exclude up to four or five of your low or no earning years.

Now that you have added your wages and dropped up to four or five of the low or no earning years, count the number of remaining months that have elapsed since

Jan. 1, 1951 until the time you are 65. (The number of these months must be at least 18. If it isn't, use 18.) Then divide the total of your wages, with the low or no income years dropped, by the number of months. The result of this division will be your average monthly wage.

Application

You are ready to apply the formula. Take 55% of the first $110 of your average monthly wage and add it to 20% of the next $240. The result of this addition is your monthly benefit amount or the retirement insurance amount. That's what you get every month when you retire at age 65 or later. In most cases, this amount will be higher than it would have been under the old law. As under the old law, however, the maximum benefits for your family in case of your death will be 80% of your primary insurance amount.

There is another way that the average monthly wage upon which the amount of your future benefits is based may be protected. This may be done by means of a provision in the new law that is known as the disability "freeze". The "freeze" was written into the law to protect the average monthly wage and the insured status of individuals who suffer a serious and prolonged physical or mental disability which keeps them from any gainful work.

The "freeze" may be used to the advantage of those disabled persons who will retire in the future as well as those who are already retired. My next article will be devoted to telling you about the disability "freeze".

Veterans' Corner

Provided by The Veterans' Administration
Information Service
Questions and Answers

Q—I am planning to attend a tax-supported State college under the Korean GI Bill. The school charges no tuition to residents of the State. As a Korean GI student, will I be required to pay anything?

A—The law gives the school the right to charge you an amount not in excess of the cost of teaching personnel and instructional supplies, up to a maximum of $10 a month for a full-time course.

Q—I entered the armed forces after Feb. 1, 1955, so, following my discharge, I will be considered a "peacetime veteran." If I am disabled in service, would it be possible for me, as a "peacetime veteran," to get disability compensation at a wartime rate?

A—Normally, peacetime veterans receive disability compensation at peacetime rates, which are 80 percent of the wartime scale. However, if your disability were to result from extra-hazardous service, such as simulated warfare, you might be entitled to wartime rates.

Q—A friend of mine reported for active military duty as a result of a draft call. Within 20 days he was released from service because of personal hardship. Would he have 120-day free insurance coverage, even though he didn't serve 31 days or more? And would he be eligible to take out GI term insurance within the 120-day period?

A—So long as he was ordered to active duty for a period of 31 days or more, he would be entitled to the 120-day free coverage and to the GI term insurance. In his case, it would not be necessary for him actually to have served 31 days or more.

Q—I have a GI endowment policy, on which my dividends have been left on deposit, at interest. When the policy matures, I will want regular monthly payments rather than the money in a lump sum. May I receive my dividends in regular monthly payments, too?

A—No. Your accrued dividends may be paid in a lump sum only.

GOC Posts To Buy Prefab Buildings For Air Spotters

All-Weather Aluminum
Glass Kit Structures
Ordered For Observers

With contributions from business firms, civic clubs and individuals, the Newark and Middletown ground observer posts have purchased new-type prefabricated buildings especially designed for plane spotters. H. Kirk Schminkey, Delaware Ground Observer Corps chief, has announced.

The all-weather units, which will be delivered in kit form, are composed of aluminum and glass with wide-view windows and cost approximately $300. Delivery is expected early in June.

At Newark, the new post will replace a former construction shack now used by the plane spotters at their Kells Avenue site, according to W. W. Brackin, post supervisor. Civil Defense volunteers on Mr. Brackin's staff solicited funds for the new building. They met with near unanimous response from business firms and clubs, he said.

Besides being larger and better designed for plane spotting, the buildings will provide greater comfort for the volunteers in extreme hot or cold weather. The aluminum walls, officials said, will retain heat in the winter and reflect it in the summer. In cold weather, the buildings can be comfortably heated with an ordinary electric floor heater. In hot weather, the metal walls will reflect sunlight sufficiently to keep the interior 10 degrees cooler than the temperature outdoors, they said.

Mr. Brackin said the Newark post now has about 120 active volunteers but needs between 167 and 170 for a full-time skywatch. At Middletown, the spotter staff totals 165 but more are needed to serve as substitutes and fill in gaps in the schedule, Mrs. Burton said.

Ft. Miles Posts Offered By Civil Service Board

Car Safety Check Urged By State Safety Council

"Now's the time to have your car safety checked!" Mrs. William N. Cann, vice president for home safety of the Delaware Safety Council, gave this advice to Delaware women today as she urged them to support the current vehicle safety check program.

All homemakers endorse this program for two reasons, she said. The first is that a safety check of the family car will reduce the chances of any member of the family being involved in a traffic accident. The second reason is that it is more economical to repair a car when trouble is just starting than it is after the damage has become more extensive.

Liquid Fertilizer Offers Gardeners New Lawn Service

Amateur gardeners who rebel at the idea of spending long hours fertilizing their lawns will welcome a new lawn service now being offered by fuel oil dealers throughout the country. Thousands of families will have greener and healthier lawns this summer thanks to this new service, and at a cost less than that of doing it themselves.

Key fuel oil dealers in this area are making professional applications of Super Lawn Liquid Fertilizer, a revolutionary new product consisting of 12% nitrogen, 8% phosphorus and 4% potash. This formula has been recognized and registered with state agricultural bureaus.

The swing to liquid fertilizer from the old fashioned dry, powdered type took hold with amazing results for farm crops, golf courses and professional turf experts. Now, for the first time, it is being offered to lawn owners who are quick to recognize the advantages of liquid plant nourishment.

A series of four to six treatments is recommended during the season. Tests made at leading agricultural colleges have proved that this new method of fertilizing through leaf feeding is considerably more efficient because it is absorbed down to the root within 15 minutes. Actual results have been reported to appear from within 48 hours after treatment.

Improved Study Offered To Reduce Academic Failures

U. of D. To Introduce
Special Summer School
Course As Student Aid

Fewer academic failures among college students in the future may be the result of a new project of the University of Delaware's school of education, Dr. Russell G. Stauffer has disclosed.

This summer a "Reading-Study Improvement Program" designed for high school students who plan to enter college will be held for the first time on the Newark campus.

A 15-day course, beginning July 5, will assist high school sophomores, juniors, and seniors in mastering basic reading, writing and study skills—necessary accomplishments for a successful college career.

The students, who may obtain meals and rooms on the Delaware campus, will be divided into small groups for the program. In addition, each high school student will receive individual instruction to further develop his particular capabilities.

Classes will be held daily during the week from 8:30 a.m. until 2:30 p.m., with one Saturday meeting included in the schedule. The use of reading rate accelerators, sound films, film strips, tape recorders, and other audio-visual devices will provide interest and variety to the reading study program, Dr. Stauffer said.

Facilities are available for a limited number of participants and early applicants will be given priority. Inquiries concerning the program should be sent to Dr. Russell G. Stauffer, Reading Clinic Director, University of Delaware, Newark.

Armory Assembly Site For Weekend Witness Program

The National Guard Armory in Newark will be the scene of added activity tomorrow morning as Jehovah's Witnesses from the Delaware Peninsula begin moving in chairs, cafeteria equipment, food, stage equipment and other supplies needed for the semi-annual assembly sponsored by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society to provide Bible instruction.

The assembly officially begins tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock and ends at 6 p.m. Sunday.

There will be Bible discourses, readings, quizzes, pantomimes and dramatic portrayals and the cafeteria will be equipped to feed three meals each day to hundreds of the visiting ministers and their families at reasonable prices.

All the work will be done by volunteers who contribute their time and skill to make this assembly a success.

James W. Pilon, district supervisor for this area, will deliver the main address "Why a New World is Possible" on Sunday, at 3 p.m.

Local Musicians Take Part In Student Organ Recital

Merle Knotts and Arne A. Thureson, Newark, were among nine student musicians who presented a student organ recital last night in Mitchell Hall.

Both of the Delaware undergraduates are juniors in the school of arts and science.

The concert was a part of the applied music curriculum.

Sgt. Earl Lynch Selected For Special Police Class

Sgt. Earl Lynch, of the Newark Police Department, attended the recent special police training program conducted at Dover by the Delaware State Police, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and the Wilmington Police.

The veteran Newark police officer was selected to attend the week's training program, with the Sergeant commuting daily from his home in Newark. Better late than never, Sarge!

Careers In Marine Corps Offered To Young Women

The United States Marine Corps is offering a host of interesting jobs in the U.S. Marines—plus an opportunity to travel, see new places, meet new friends.

If you are between the ages of 18 and 30, single and a high school graduate, call or visit your Marine recruiter at the Newark Fire House or the U.S. Custom House, 6th & King Streets, Wilmington.

Improved Study, Reading Topic Of School Assembly

"How to Improve Reading and Study Skills" was the subject of a special assembly on Monday for Newark High School students in grades 9 through 12 who plan to go to college.

The speaker was Dr. Harry Hahn, assistant professor of education at Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Pa.

Parents of the college-bound students attended the session in the high school auditorium.

Christiana Wins Second In County Fireman Contests

The Christiana Volunteer Fire Co. won second place during the first annual New Castle County Fire Fighters' Field Day last Sunday at Delaware Park, competing in a field of 14 other fire companies.

Edward Nauman, of the Wilmington Fire Bureau, trained 30 Christiana Company members in fire-fighting techniques during the past winter and spring. These classes were conducted in two separate groups in 12 sessions—24 hours in each group—for a total of 48 hours.

The Christiana Fire Company resumed this type of training after a lapse of eight years. Herbert Cleaves is fire chief.

BASIC TRAINING

Pvt. Robert V. Lane, 20, son of William T. Lane, Newark, has been assigned to "C" Battery, the 53th Airborne Field Artillery Battalion at Fort Jackson, S.C. for eight weeks of basic training.

Newark Soloists Featured In Operetta Over Weekend

Robert J. Murphy and Robert T. McAlpine, both of Newark, appeared as soloists in the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "Princess Ida", presented on the University of Delaware campus last weekend.

Murphy, a sophomore engineering major, lives at 11 Caldwell Place, while McAlpine, a freshman education major, resides on Barksdale Road.

The program, a concert version rather than a stage production, was included in the alumni reunion program.

Little Oscar Plans Visit To Doc Maclary's Market

Little Oscar Mayer, complete with mobilized hot dog, will appear at Maclary's Market on Saturday, May 28.

With his giant hotdog wagon parked beside Doc Maclary's market on East Cleveland Avenue, Little Oscar will dispense free hot dogs, novelties and sodas to Newark youngsters accompanied by their parents.
