Cannery To Continue, Opinion Of Official; Expect More Acreage

Final Decision Will Rest With Stockholders When They Meet in January

STOCK IS OVER SOLD

That the plant of the United Packing Company here will continue to operate next year along present business lines, was confidently asserted by an official of the concern yesterday morning.

The farmer-stockholders are said to be well satisfied with the results obtained under extremely unfavorable conditions the past season, and it is expected that considerably more acreage will be added for the growing of next year's corn and tomato crops.

The company last week paid the farmers the first installment of $15.00 per ton for their crop of vegetables.

It was learned yesterday that two more additions to this payment will be made when further collections are made and the business affairs of the season are wound up. The next two payments are calculated to be small, but will boost the tone price paid to within a few dollars of the season's own market price. It is thus evident that the stockholders of the United Packing Company will not have suffered to any great extent from the allegiance to their contracts with the company.

Entire Pack Is Sold

H. R. Cole, manager of the packing company, reported yesterday that the following amounts had been canned at the plant during the past season:

Corn—8000 cases.
Whole tomatoes—15,000 cases.
Tomato pulp—10,000 cases.
Of this amount, ever case has been sold. Much of the pack was sold for future delivery before the tomatoes or corn were in the local yard. As a result of the short crop, the estimate of the pack this year fell off from the actual number of cases, necessitating an arrangement of deliveries on a pro rata basis to the brokers.

Only a few hundred cases of pulp remain on the floor at present, and everything will be sold and delivered within the space of a few days.

Stockholders To Decide

The final definite decision with regard to the continuance of the plant here will no doubt be made at the regular meeting of the stockholders, the second week in January.

At that time, a new Board of Directors will be elected, the financial statement for the past year read and discussed, and a decision reached as to future operations. President Thomas B. Miller, of Elkton, will call the meeting and preside. Mr. Miller has devoted much of his time to the affairs of the plant here, together with J. E. Dougherty, treasurer.

Officials confidently look forward to a banner year for the business in 1925, providing the farmer-stockholders continue to grow, and further, grow on a larger scale than heretofore.

LICENSED TO WED

Newark Man and Elkton Girl Appear At Court House Saturday

Miss Ada Barr, of Elkton, and Earl J. Helmbreck, of this town, were granted a marriage license last Saturday by Clerk of Courts H. Winfield Lewis, in Elkton.

Miss Barr is well known throughout Elkton and community and has been engaged in teaching in the county schools. Mr. Helmbreck's home is in Saegertown, Pa. He came to Newark a few years ago and entered the Rehabilitation School of the University here. He specialized in Animal Husbandry during his school term. He was graduated last year.

SLIGHT FIRE YESTERDAY

While school children and workers were going to lunch yesterday noon, several blasts of the fire siren sent the Aetna ladder truck tearing up Main street in response to an alarm. The fire was discovered in an open field to the rear of H. E. Vinsinger's home on West Main street, and was caused by burning trash near the dry weeds. The fire was practically out by the time the firemen reached the scene. Neighbors fought the flames for several minutes before an alarm was turned in.

CHAMPIONS AGAIN!

NEWARK HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL SQUAD

ing—Coach Horace Nunn, Powell, utility; Davis, fullback; Manns, utility; Patchell, quarterback; Jaquette, halfback; Myers, utility; Rose, halfback; Paul McMurray, utility; Strahorn, manager.

High School Captures Fifth Straight Title

Gain Decisive Victory Over Laurel in Thanksgiving Day Game, 19-7

For the fifth consecutive season, Newark High School won the secondary football championship of Delaware, when the local football warriors rode roughshod over Laurel High School in the annual title game at Milford on Thanksgiving Day. The final score was 19-7.

With this game tucked away, Newark has created an enviable record in scholastic sports in this State, a record which should stand for some years to come. The remarkable string of championships started during Coach Harry MacDonald's term in the local school, and continued unbroken under the guidance of Joseph S. Wilson, and this year, Horace A. Nunn.

When the game started at Laurel Thanksgiving Day, about 850 people were gathered in the field. This number had increased to 1200 before the final whistle blew. Numbered among the fans were scores of Newark rooters, old and young, who postponed their turkey dinners to see the boys play.

Result Not In Doubt

Save for a few minutes early in the second half, when Laurel opened with a sustained off-tackle offensive, the result of the game was never in doubt. This drive resulted in a score, when Whaley tossed a pass to Elliott. A few minutes later, Chalmers intercepted a Laurel pass and ran 60 yards for a touchdown. This score placed Newark well out in front, and they were never threatened thereafter.

Patchell, Newark quarterback, received a bad bump on the head as the second half opened, and was in a daze practically the balance of the game. Coach Nunn believes that the Laurel pass would never have been completed.

FACE CRUSHED WHEN TREE LIMB STRIKES HIM

Mr. Reamer, manager of the sawmill belonging to Miss Lindsay, of near Newark, suffered a severe accident about 10.30 o'clock Monday morning.

While cutting down a tree near the sawmill, a limb sprang back and struck him a terrific blow full in the face. His nose was badly crushed and one eye gouged and torn.

The injured man was immediately rushed to Newark and was treated at the office of Dr. G. Burton Pearson.

It is believed that he will recover, but will be laid up for some days.

ORPHEUS CLUB MAY NOT APPEAR HERE

Neither College Paper or Music Society Willing To Sponsor Trip

It is with extreme regret that music lovers in Newark have learned that there is a serious possibility that the town may not hear the Orpheus Club in a winter concert.

For the past few years the affair has been a feature of the season's musical activities in Newark.

The University of Delaware Review has decided not to sponsor the concert this year. This organization has been at the head of local arrangements for two or three years.

Exchanges of correspondence between the management of the Club and officials of the Newark Music Society have likewise resulted in no decision to invite the club here later in the winter. The Society is not prepared for the handling of the function at this time, was the opinion of the president, Prof. George H. Ryden.

In the meantime, a group of admirers of the club are busy devising ways and means of continuing unbroken the Club's visits to Newark. Something definite in this connection is expected to be made public in a few days.

Four New Streets Are Open To The Public

North Side of Town Greatly Benefitted by Town's Improvements—Discussed at Council

The regrading and resurfacing of Choate, New and Wilbur streets, and Prospect avenue, all located in the north and east parts of town, have been completed and the streets opened for traffic.

Town Council, sitting in regular monthly session Monday night, discussed the new streets at length. The councilmen are very pleased with the new streets.

Amiesite was used in the construction, and a firm, unyielding surface is characteristic of all four thoroughfares.

The R. H. Johnson Company were the contractors and Price and Price of Wilmington, the engineers. An official inspection of the streets will be made in a few days.

Short Council Meeting

Little business of importance came up at the Council meeting Monday evening.

The Treasurer reported a balance on hand as of December 1st, of $2930.49. Alderman Thompson reported $247.00 income from fines and licenses.

A very incomplete milk report was submitted for the month.

Current bills were read to the councilmen and ordered paid.

As there was no other business, Council adjourned until the first of the new year.

Club Supper

The Newark New Century Club will hold a supper in the Club House on Thursday evening, December 4th, from 5.30 to 8.

SLIGHT FIRE MONDAY

The firemen were called to quell a slight blaze on South Chapel street on Monday of this week. The damage done was negligible.

Milk Producers Urge Tuberculin Tests For Dairy Cattle In Annual Meeting

One of the largest meetings in the history of the Interstate Milk Producers' Association, combining dairymen and milk men from three states, was held in headquarters in Philadelphia on Monday of this week.

The Newark Local was represented at the meeting by Samuel Murray and William Bland, both leaders in the local milk field.

Another blow aimed at untended herds was the resolution passed by the Association Monday urging that dairymen be compelled to submit their herds to tuberculin tests. It is reported that some farmers in this section are shipping or serving milk from non-tuberculin tested cattle. The practice is also being noticed in other nearby states.

Two important reports were read and approved at the meeting. They were: (1) A report on the activities of the Interstate Association for the year just passed and (2) a report on the recent inspection of dairy farms and equipment by the Association.

A RUMOR DENIED

Report That Elkton Firm Is Sold Is Untrue

The report that the Newton Mitchell Ice Company of Elkton had been purchased by the Diamond Ice and Coal Company, of Wilmington, said report being published in THE POST last week, is unfounded. The article resulted from a report given THE POST last week.

Mr. H. H. Mitchell, of the Newton-Mitchell firm, in discussing the matter, denied that the sale had been made or was contemplated.

The report that the Diamond Company had purchased the yards of the Scott Fertilizer Company in Elkton has been confirmed.

Farm Bureau Meets Here December 18th

Maryland Station Director to Address Members

The annual meeting of the New Castle County Farm Bureau will be held in Wolf Hall, Newark, beginning at 10.30 a. m. Thursday, December 18. Those attending the meeting will be treated to a lunch served by the Newark Girls' Sewing Club. Miss Florence Riley of Newark is leader of the club and promises a real practical demonstration in cooking.

President Frank Y. Yearsley, of Marshallton, has appointed a committee composed of C. P. Dickey of Stanton, H. C. Milliken of Cooch, and R. O. Bausman of Newark, in charge of the meeting. Director F. B. Bomberger, Assistant Director of Extension of the University of Maryland, will be the main speaker on the program. Dr. Bomberger has done extensive work in organizing farmers for the marketing of farm products. Dr. Bomberger will discuss some of the current problems in the marketing of farm products as they are experiencing them in Maryland. The address of welcome will be delivered by Director C. A. McCue of the University of Delaware.

Mr. R. O. Bausman, County Agricultural Agent, will give his annual report covering a modified crop rotation which harmonizes more nearly with present economic conditions. He will also present the results of some work which he has been conducting on the grades of grain. This work very emphatically shows the economic value of a more rational system in the marketing of Delaware grown grain. As Mr. M. O. Pence, County Agent Leader, is leaving the state the first of the year this will probably be his last opportunity to speak at the annual meeting of the Farm Bureau. Mr. A. A. Cobb, State Club Leader, will discuss some of the outstanding activities of the Boys' and Girls' Club work.

SEN. W. E. BORAH TO ADDRESS DELAWARE SONS AT BANQUET

Monday Evening, December 8th Is Date for Big Affair In Philadelphia

Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, will be the principal speaker at the thirty-third annual banquet of the Sons of Delaware, of Philadelphia, which will be given in the ballroom of the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel next Monday evening, December 8.

A new departure will be made this year when Ladies' Night will be observed on the occasion of the annual banquet. Up to this time Ladies' Night has been a special February event. The combined event is expected to be a red-letter event in the history of the society.

A record-breaking attendance is expected to be present to greet the distinguished westerner, looked upon as one of the most picturesque figures in American politics, and at present the most powerful figure in the United States Senate.

Other speakers will include Rev. Herbert S. Randolph, D. D., pastor of Calvary M. E. Church, Philadelphia, and members of the society and visitors from this State.

The annual election of officers is set for 6.30 p. m., following which the banquet will be served.

The present officers are: Daniel A. Townsend, president; William V. Smith, first vice-president; George B. Hynson, second vice-president; John L. Graham, secretary; Leonard C. Dill, secretary, and Charles Carswell, historian.

Two Newark Youths Arrested For Stealing; Tracing Other Thefts

John Scarborough and Paul Mercer Held Over For General Sessions Court Yesterday

Two young Newark men are being held under $1000 bail each for the January term of General Sessions Court, following their arrest yesterday morning, charged with the theft of a quantity of tobacco and cigars from the store and billiard room of Lawrence Heggemann, on East Main street, Monday night.

They are John Scarborough and Paul Mercer, both well known in and near Newark.

Efforts of the two youths to obtain bail proved futile at the hearing in Magistrate Thompson's office yesterday morning, and they were committed to the workhouse at Greenbank.

Lewis Makes Arrest

Mr. Heggemann reported the theft to Chief Lewis early yesterday morning.

The officer said he had seen two young men loitering near the store after midnight Monday, and on this suspicion had search warrants issued for the above named men.

The chief surprised them both before they were out of bed, and both confessed to the robbery. Most of the loot was recovered in their respective bed rooms.

Mercer and Scarborough plead guilty to the charge of breaking and entering before Magistrate Thompson.

Both prisoners were frequenters of the Heggemann billiard room, and were understood to be on friendly terms with the proprietor. Friends of the boys expressed themselves as shocked to hear of the escapade.

May Trace Other Thefts

Chief Lewis, in discussing the case yesterday, stated that an effort will be made to trace other recent robberies in Newark to the two young prisoners. He added that nothing in the way of a clue to the Hopkins theft of a week ago had been unearthed, however.

To date there have been four store robberies on Main street within two weeks. The business houses entered have been L. Handloff's Department store, Leslie Jones' cigar store, the haberdashery shop of Clarence Hopkins, and the Heggemann store.

It is a coincidence that the attempt to rob the Handloff store occurred the same night that Hopkins lost over $400 worth of goods.

Detective Chandler has been working on the Hopkins case for over a week, but no arrest has as yet been made.

The next scheduled term of the General Sessions Court, in which Scarborough and Mercer will be brought to trial, comes early in January.

POMONA GRANGE MEETS

An important meeting of the New Castle County Pomona Grange will be held at Hockessin tomorrow, Thursday. Sessions will be held both morning and afternoon.

The chief activities will be the election of officers for the year. Each county grange will send two delegates to the Pomona meeting, and they will decide upon the choice for the official board.

INJURED IN CRASH

Five persons were injured and two machines badly damaged as the result of a collision between an ice cream delivery truck of the Breyer Company, of Philadelphia, and the Newark bus, operated by Howard J. Maclary, this morning, a short distance this side of Newark.

The injured are: Misses Lois Pyle, Annie Little, Reba McConagery, Daniel Clancy and Maclary. None was seriously hurt, their injuries consisting mainly of bruises and cuts from flying glass. They were picked up by passing automobiles and brought to this city where they are attending school.

CHURCH NOTES

The Queen Esther Circle met at the home of Miss Margaret Fulton on South Chapel street on Tuesday evening, December 2, at 8 o'clock. This Young People's society is making an enviable record and is gaining in numbers.

The mid-week service on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. An hour of pleasant association and good fellowship.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society will be held in the Lecture Room on Thursday afternoon at 2:30. An earnest invitation is given to all women to unite with this branch of work.

The Junior Epworth League and the Instruction Class taught by the pastor will meet on Friday evening at 7 o'clock.

The Young Women's Home Missionary Society will hold an open meeting in the church on Monday evening, December 8, at 8 o'clock. An interesting Christmas program will be used and a pageant entitled "The Ten Virgins" will be presented. Refreshments will be served in the Lecture Room. An offering will be received.

A special Thanksgiving service was held Sunday morning. The pastor's subject was "Thanksgiving Meditations." A very liberal Thanksgiving offering was received, which is to go toward the benevolences for the year.

Mrs. Elwood Sheldon led the Epworth League. Margaret Emmons and Alice Sheldon sang a duet. The president of the League, Mr. Franklin Ferguson, called a meeting of the cabinet for next Monday evening, at the parsonage.

Mrs. Maude Perkins, East Syracuse, N. Y., was the principle speaker at the evening service. Mrs. Perkins is the national general secretary of the W. C. T. U. She gave a very masterful message concerning the work of the W. C. T. U. Mrs. Foster, of Wilmington, and Mrs. Donnell, of Newark, both made short addresses. There is a possibility of a Y. P. B. being organized here in the near future.

HARMONY GRANGE ELECTS OFFICERS

Most of Leaders Were Re-Elected Monday Night Last

Election of officers for the ensuing year constituted the chief item of business at the regular weekly meeting of Harmony Grange at the Mermaid last Monday night.

The following officers were chosen to lead the grange: Master, Harry Brackin; Overseer, Irving G. Klair; Chaplain, Mrs. Annie Dennison; Lecturer, Miss Blanche Derrickson; Secretary, Mrs. Ethel Brackin, Treasurer, W. P. Naudain; Steward, Charles Woodward; Assistant Steward, Steel Atwell; Gate-Keeper, William H. Naudain; Ceres, Mildred Brackin; Pomona, Frances Dennison; Flora, Helen Pennington; Lady Assistant Steward, Emilie Mitchell.

The first six officers named above were re-elected, and the balance are new members of the official family. The old executive committee was again placed in office for another year.

The Lecturer's hour was short, due to the lack of time. A reading was given by sister Carolyn Peach, and the Harmony Grange Journal was read by Miss Belle Chambers.

"LAUREL" IS BURIED

Obsequies Held Despite the Winter Winds Monday Night

Although the wind howled and belled through the dreary canyons of Main street Monday night, the High School celebration of the notable victory over Laurel was held as scheduled.

Headed by the Continental Band, a small body of students formed a parade near the Opera House corner, and traversed several blocks of the principal thoroughfares.

The principal "float" in the procession was an antiquated hearse bearing the lifeless body of "Laurel." It was quite a joyous funeral, the only deterrent being the unusually cold weather.

PARENT-TEACHER NEWS

Mt. Pleasant

At the November meeting of Mt. Pleasant Parent-Teacher Association, District No. 2, the following officers were elected to serve for the coming year: President, Mr. David Poffenberger; vice-president, Mrs. Clarence P. Lucas; secretary, Mrs. L. D. Sandstrom; and treasurer, Mrs. Ella Livermore. As chairman of the program committee, Mrs. H. K. Hyland was chosen; of athletics, Mr. W. T. Morely, of the school; and of publicity, Miss Elizabeth E. Lucas.

Newport

Newport P.-T. A. held the second meeting of the fall on November 25th with an unusually large attendance.

An "Accident Prevention" program was found to be very instructive and interesting, as presented by Walter Dent Smith, of the Delaware Safety Council. He made a point of the value of safety education as a preventative for accidents, and offered the co-operation of the Safety Council with the Newport School.

Welsh Tract

There were about 50 members and friends of Welsh Tract School who met on November 22 for the regular meeting of the P.-T. A. As part of the program there was an Art exhibit put on by the teacher and pupils. Candy was sold, and the money cleared was given to the girls of the Sewing Class.

Brandywine Springs

The Brandywine Springs Community Club met in the schoolhouse on Tuesday evening, November 25th, and enjoyed a very good program. The program committee, consisting of Miss Madeline Johnston, Miss Helen Ehart, and Miss Nellie Peoples, took charge of the evening's entertainment. There were readings, recitations, songs, and a Fire Prevention Play by the pupils. It was announced that there will be an admission charge of ten cents for the Christmas entertainment, on December 23rd.

Yorklyn

Yorklyn Community Association met on Tuesday evening, November 25th, in the Club House which has been offered to them by the owners of the snuff factory. Mr. William Schumaker, of the National Fibre and Insulation Company, gave a very impressive talk on "Accident Prevention," after which some music by musicians from Wilmington, selections by local talent and by the pupils were enjoyed. At the December meeting, an election of officers will be held, and it is hoped that there will be a 100 per cent membership obtained by that time.

MERMAID

Mr. and Mrs. William P. Peach, Miss Carolyn Peach and Bancroft Peach spent Sunday last with Mr. and Mrs. Shermer Garrison in Baltimore.

Mrs. Kate Richardson was a Sunday visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Pennington.

The Misses Helen and Sara Pennington spent Friday last visiting Miss Sara Lovett on North College avenue, Newark.

Miss Frances Dennison was a weekend visitor with friends in Philadelphia.

Miss Dorothy Poultney of near the Mermaid, and William Towner, of Wilmington, were quietly married at the home of the bride last Wednesday evening. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. W. Sonne, pastor of West Church in that city. The bride and groom will reside in Wilmington.

Appleton Woman's Club

The Appleton Woman's Home Demonstration Club held its regular monthly meeting on Wednesday evening, November 19, at the home of Mrs. Robert Mathias, with a splendid attendance.

As "Winter Salads" was the topic for the evening, Miss Grimm, the club leader, made quite a number of excellent salad combinations, also several delicious salad dressings. Her discourse also proved of great interest to the members as many went home with new ideas in the way of serving salads.

Announcement was made that a meeting of representative women from each club will be held in the Home Demonstrator's office, North street, Elkton, on the afternoon of December 6, at which time Miss Keller, State Home Demonstration Leader will be present and the conception of forming a County Council of Club Women will be discussed.

At the next meeting the Club will give a "Christmas Party," to be held in Lofland's Hall, Coventown, December 10. At this time the Club will entertain the husbands and families of each member. Mrs. Edith Ottey is chairman of arrangements for this affair with Mrs. H. R. Smith, Mrs. Wm. Castner, Mrs. W. T. Lofland and Miss L. R. Grimm assisting. The committee is making a special effort to make the event an unusually pleasing one. The committee requests each member to bring two articles worth at least 10 cents, one suitable for a lady, the other for a man, as they are planning a jolly time. It is hoped for a large crowd to be present as extensive preparations are being made. All members will act as hostesses.

NEW POST OFFICE COMING TO ELKTON

According to reports from Elkton, that town will have a new Federal building within the space of a few months.

The vacant lot on North street opposite the present Post Office has been purchased by John W. McCool, who in turn has entered into an agreement with Post Office authorities in Washington, whereby an up-to-date and modern home will be built. Parts of the building not used for the Post Office will likely be brick construction and will be either two or three stories high.

Additional Dividend To Be Paid To Depositors

Receiver of Defunct National in Elkton May Pay Another 30%

An Elkton dispatch to a Wilmington paper early this week says:

Thomas W. Perkins, receiver for the defunct Second National Bank of Elkton, has won another victory in his fight in the interest of the creditors of the institution. About a year ago, Mr. Perkins and J. W. McAllister, receivers for the Gilpins' Falls Electric Company, the assets of which were practically all owned by the defunct bank, agreed to sell the property, franchises, pole lines, etc., of the Gilpins' Falls Company to, the Elkton Electric Company, Inc., a subsidiary of the Northern Maryland Electric Company, for $75,000. Objections were filed and the court refused to confirm the sale. Other bids were asked for and received by the court, one of which was a $100,000 bid from the Elkton Electric Company, Inc. This the court ordered the receivers to accept. A little later, an appeal was taken from the action of the court in failing to confirm the original sale of the plant, etc., for $75,000. The case has been in the United States Court for nearly twelve months, and the United States District Court of Appeals, the highest court to which the case can be carried, has upheld, in an opinion it has handed down, the action of the Cecil County Court. The receivers will demand settlement. The money received from this source, after all expenses have been paid, will, it is understood, enable the receiver of the defunct bank, to pay an additional dividend to the creditors of at least 30 per cent. Since the bank closed its doors nearly three years ago, the creditors have been paid three dividends of 10 per cent each.

BIG BARN DESTROYED TWO HORSES KILLED

Farm Near State Road Burned Down Sunday Evening

The barn on the Richard T. Catlin farm, near State Road on the Dupont Boulevard, was burned to the ground early Sunday evening last. The farm is tenanted by Edward Short.

The building, valued at $9,000, was completely destroyed, two horses were burned to death, and 50 tons of hay were consumed. Due to an insufficient water supply the firemen were greatly handicapped.

Excellent work on the part of the local fire company saved a nearby granary filled with wheat, the frame house, cow shed and straw stack. The fire, of undetermined origin, was discovered by Mr. Short, while milking the cows. Fire companies from Holloway Terrace, Newport and Delaware City responded to the call.

Granted License

Della C. Jackson of Newark and Fred W. Card, of Wilmington, were granted a marriage license in Elkton last week.

C. A. Colp bought the abandoned town of Lindentree, O., and offered 45 houses free of rent to any who wanted to live in them.

DELAWARE CITY

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schaefer, of Philadelphia, are spending a few days here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schaefer, Sr., and family.

Mrs. William McMullin has taken charge of the Home Department in the Port Penn Presbyterian Sunday School.

Theodore Lawes, whose home near Summit Bridge was burned a short time ago, has rented apartments in the village from Robert Russell and will live there until a house can be built on the farm.

The degree of Pocahontas, Improved Order of Red Men, was instituted at Bear last night and the degree team of Leola Council, of Union, will do the degree work.

The Chesapeake and Delaware Canal will be closed to traffic from midnight December 5 until 6 a. m., December 8, to allow the Dredge Arundel of the Arundel Corporation, to pass out of the canal by going through a cofferdam at Chesapeake City. The Arundel has been dredging in the new ship canal for the past year, and finished their contract last week.

The City Council met Monday night in Town Hall with the Mayor, George N. Bright, presiding. Only routine business was transacted.

Walter Cole, Spencer Henry and Walter Hammond, all from near Townsend, were fined by Magistrate Vinton Monday for having skunk hides in their possession before the law was out. The men were arrested Saturday by Deputy Game Warden Arnold Stewart. The law for trapping skunk was out Tuesday.

Weather Outlook

Rains or snows late in week, followed by moderate temperatures, with rather marked alterations.

Crossing Accident Claims Another Victim; George Zunkens, Elkton Farmer, Killed

One more fatality was added to the list of victims claimed at the P. R. R. grade crossing below Elkton, when George Zunkens, farmer, connected with the Elkton Stock Farm, two miles west of the county seat, was fatally injured by a fast express, bound south, about five o'clock Friday afternoon.

Mr. Zunkens was driving a new Ford truck at the time and was returning to the farm from Elkton, with a load of supplies. According to a version of the accident, he did not see the approaching train, and frantic efforts of the crossing tender, Mrs. Effie Davis, only seemed to bewilder him. Instead of stopping his machine, he ran it directly in the path of the oncoming train.

Mr. Zunkens was carried several hundred feet on the fender of the engine before the train could be stopped. His car was completely demolished.

There was still life in the body when trainmen picked him up. A rush trip was made to the Union Hospital but he was pronounced dead by Dr.

Vernon McKnight, physician in charge.

"Blue Ball" crossing, as it is called, is located about 500 yards south of the Elkton passenger station and is designated thus because it is a part of the Blue Ball road.

The body was taken in charge by Coroner Howard W. Green.

Mr. Zunkens was a native of Germany and came to this vicinity fifteen years ago and purchased an interest in the Elkton Stock Farm, two miles west of the town. He had spent the afternoon on a tour of the farms nearby, inspecting them for seed wheat. Later he came to Elkton, where he made a number of purchases of supplies for the farm. He was driving a new Ford truck and the accident occurred a few minutes after he left Elkton.

The deceased is survived by a brother, Vernon, who lived with him on the farm, and a nephew, Bernard Zunkens, who with his wife, arrived here recently from Germany to reside with his father and uncle.

RED MEN ACTIVE AT BEAR STATION TEPEE

Big Conclave Scheduled There On December 9th

Little Bear Tribe, No. 46, of Bear Station, was visited last Thursday evening by chiefs, braves and warriors of Manitou Tribe, No. 18, of this city.

Addresses were made by several of the visiting delegation.

A Council of the Degree of Pocahontas will be instituted at Bear, Tuesday evening, December 9. Great Sachem Charles L. Dybeck and the great chiefs will officiate the degree work and raising of the chiefs will be done by Leola Council, No. 14, of Union, under the direction of Mrs. Ella Hill, deputy great Pocahontas.

MIDDLETOWN

The town has installed a new high power fire whistle, to replace the old whistle which has been used for the past twenty years. Until further notice the new alarm will be sounded each day at noon. It can be heard for miles around.

A penny social will be held in the Community Hall at Summit Bridge next Friday evening, under the auspices of Mrs. Eliza Bendler's Sunday school class.

The Mt. Pleasant-Summit W. C. T. U. will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Mollie Husfelt Thursday evening next.

The regular meeting of the Home and Foreign Missionary Societies of Bethesda M. E. Church was held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Martin B. Burris on North Broad street.

A shower was given Mr. and Mrs. John Bailey, a recent bride and groom, at the home of J. G. Wolleyhan on Thursday evening.

THE TEACHER RULES

"THE DRIVING force that makes either peace or war is engendered where the young are taught. The TEACHER—whether mother, priest, or schoolmaster—is the real maker of history; rulers, statesmen, and soldiers do but work out the possibilities of cooperation or conflict that the teacher creates. This is no rhetorical flourish; it is sober fact. The politicians and masses of our time dance on the wires of their early education."

OUR YOUNG PEOPLE

Sympathetic Point of View by a Methodist Bishop as Reported from Address of Bishop Hughes in Ohio State Journal passing and the coming generations seem never to be as strained as now. Many people are engaged in criticism of the hair, shirtwaists, shoes, stockings, complexion and language of the younger generation. I have traced this habit of regarding the young people on the verge of a precipice, clear back to an inscription on the tomb of a king, who died 2,000 years before Christ. The epitaph of this king said young people were on the road to destruction.

"Do you remember back in the '80's, when the skating rink craze hit young people and they went off to the skating rinks, afternoons and evenings every day? Some long-faced persons with their mouths turned down said all the young people were going to perdition. But they didn't. Many of you were those very young people.

"Do you remember back in the '90's, when the bicycle craze came and then the bicycle with the side saddle developed and young people went off on long rides instead of going to church? One minister actually preached a sermon in which he called the bicycle a threat against the church. Many of the young people of that day are here tonight. You didn't go to perdition. Over 100 years ago, in one of Washington Irving's works, is a description of young people such as is prevalent today.

"Whenever a lot of men at middle age sit back with folded hands and act as if they were saints when they were young, I am here to tell you it isn't so.

"A whole lot is said today about bobbed hair. What kind of hair were your wives wearing in the '80's? If you get out the family album you will see your wives with bangs on their foreheads and really they won't look very bright.

"And short skirts. Do you remember the skirts of the Lucy Webb period? Hoop skirts so wide that two girls couldn't pass on the sidewalk. At a party only three or four could get into an ordinary parlor. If it comes to a choice between hoop skirts and modern walking skirts I think I know which you would choose.

"You cannot hold throbbing, pulsating young life by adult vinegar. Never were young people hurried into complex life so fast as they are today. This is the telephone age, the auto age, the radio age, the moving picture age and the airplane age. Young people hurried into a period as complex as ours need our sympathy.

"As a man grows old in Christ he develops a parental sense toward all young people. If you

"To sin by silence when we should protest

Makes cowards out of men. The human race

Has climbed on protest. Had no voice been raised

Against injustice, ignorance and lust.

The inquisition yet would serve the law,

And guillotines decide our least disputes.

The few who dare must speak, and speak again,

To right the wrongs of many."

have lost sympathy you have back-slidden in sympathy of the heart.

"If we lose our tender guiding attitude toward the young people, and take a critical attitude, we are going to lose them. God did not get us until he revealed himself as a Father. The church of Jesus Christ needs to get the yearning, praying attitude toward young people amid their complex temptations."

Many Will Attend Orpheus Club Concert From Newark Section

Elizabeth Bonner Will Be Soloist at First Recital in Wilmington Tomorrow

Newark music lovers will be out in force tomorrow night to hear the first concert of the season by the Orpheus Club of Wilmington. The affair will be given in the Playhouse. The club has made several visits to Newark, and has won many friends in this community. The organization is composed of the finest group of amateur singers in the city, and their programs are always a well-balanced and of a high standard.

Miss Elizabeth Bonner, a former Wilmington girl, will be the assisting soloist at the piano. Miss Bonner ranks high in her profession and is nationally known.

WEDDINGS

Harmon-Sheaffer

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Friday, November 28th, at 2:30 o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Harmon, Millville, Delaware, when their daughter, Grace, became the bride of B. Richard Sheaffer, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. I. Newton Sheaffer, of Newark, and a popular young football player. The ring ceremony was used and was performed by the Rev. E. C. Hallman, assisted by the Rev. A. B. Frye, of Millville, Delaware. Only a few invited guests and the immediate families were present. Miss Helen Hudson, of Millville, was bridesmaid, and J. Penrose Wilson, Jr., of Newark, was best-man. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Crocher, of Millville. Mrs. Sheaffer is a popular young school teacher of Millville, Delaware, and was a student of the University of Delaware. Mr. and Mrs. Sheaffer will make their future home in Newark in the Spring.

AMONG THE SICK

Young Henry Vinsinger, Jr., is recovering from an attack of the gripe at his home on West Main street.

Olive, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Stiltz, is reported to be quite ill at her home on Main street.

Councilman E. Clifford Wilson is able to be about the house after a seige of the gripe, recently suffered.

William Lewis of this town is recovering from an illness of several days past.

A wave of heavy colds and slight attacks of gripe are sweeping the town this week. The severe drop in the temperature over the week-end is generally blamed for the epidemic.

OPEN CHURCH HOUSE

Elkton Methodist Plan Week's Program

The trustees of the Elkton Methodist Episcopal Church have made plans to open the Church House, formerly the residence of the late Dr. H. A. Mitchell, on East Main Street, next week. The program will be as follows: Monday evening, boys' night; Tuesday evening, men's night; Wednesday night, reception; Thursday, night, prayer meeting; Friday evening, Woman's Home Missionary Society; Saturday afternoon, The Needle Guild. On Sunday afternoon, December 14, the memorial rooms for Mrs. Harvey H. Mackey and Miss Elizabeth Wells, will be dedicated.

NEW CENTURY CLUB

Forty-five were present at the New Century Club meeting on Monday, December 1st. Important business was transacted. A report from the chairman of the Welfare Work showed that she and her committee have been looking after those who have been overtaken by misfortune.

The president announced that Mrs. George Rhodes has consented to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Blake as club hostess. She began her duties by serving tea, which was very acceptable on such a chilly afternoon.

Mrs. Fulton entertained with several piano selections. Dr. Patterson gave us a homeopathic dose of modern philosophy. As he expressed it, he cleared away the dust, created by the use of strange terminology and thrown in the eyes of the laymen. Next he presented the kernel of each philosopher's thought by the use of such everyday language and simple illustrations as could be understood by all.

Mr. Cobb delighted his listeners with some cowboy and Indian songs.

MANY NEWARKERS ARE PRESENT AT BIG GAME

Army-Navy Day Throng In Baltimore Includes Local People

Newark was well represented at the annual Army-Navy classic in Baltimore on Saturday last. Most of the local people traveled by train to escape the traffic jams and delays which would have met them in the Maryland metropolis.

For the most part, Newark guests at the game returned the same evening. Baltimore hotels and restaurants were jammed to the doors all day Saturday, and theatre seats were held at a premium, thus affording little chance for entertainment unless reservations had been made earlier in the week.

Among those who went to the game from Newark were Mr. and Mrs. Norris N. Wright, Mrs. Walt H. Steel, Captain and Mrs. Roy Sparks, Major A. R. Underwood, mother and sister; Mr. and Mrs. William Holton, Miss Emma Lovett, "Dick" Holton, Arthur G. Wilkinson, George W. Rhodes, Warren A. Singles, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Cobb, T. R. Dantz, Miss Edith Spencer, Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Downes, Dr. W. Owen Sypherd, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Baldwin, Elk Mills; Oliver Goffigon, Mr. and Mrs. Donald P. Horsey, Harold H. Horsey, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Whittingham, William H. Evans, Miss Marjorie Johnson, and Armand Durant.

SPORT NEWS OF LOCAL FLAVOR

Newark Gridiron Knights Down Elkton Ancient Feud Settled For Another Year

Before a fair crowd on Frazer Field Thanksgiving morning, the annual gridiron battle between the hosts of Elkton and Newark took place.

A mighty good football game was spread out before the guests, and everyone had a most enjoyable time, especially the Newark partisans. The home team won the game rather handily, score 19-0.

Elkton, be it said, was not the team of former years. Nevertheless their supporters were supremely confident of victory and made no attempt to hide their feelings in the matter.

As the tide of battle swirled up and down the field, it could be easily seen that Jim Keeley and his mates were off to a victory. The red jerseyed hosts of Newark found little trouble in knifing through the Elkton line and around the ends.

Sanborn, Keeley and Hopkins did most of the ball carrying for the locals, with Sparks helping out in the last part of the game. The plunging of these men was the best they have shown all season.

All three of the Newark touchdowns were scored on straight football, with the heavy line opening holes galore for the backs to speed through. Elkton's defense was sorely taxed in holding them in check. The Cecil County boys fought every inch of the way and were dangerous throughout the game. Loose teamwork, no doubt due to lack of strenuous practice, hampered the Maryland boys.

Included in their lineup were some High School players, who did valiant work.

Closes Season

As far as is known now, the Thanksgiving day game closed the season for the Newark team. They played more consistent football that day than for some weeks past.

Keeley and Sanborn bore the brunt of the attack in the first half of the game. Sanborn was a hard man to stop on off-tackle plays and gained consistently. Keeley was his old self again and ripped and tore around the field as of yore.

On the line, the two tackles and guards played hard, steady games, and Cornog at center and the ends were bulwarks on the defense.

Newark Footballers In Need of Money

Due to the heavy expenses entailed during the past season, and the noticeably lack of support by local fans at the games, the Newark Football Association faces a considerable deficit for the year.

The boys had a fairly good season, and played strong teams for the most part. Their scoring attack was undeveloped early in the season and it looked to some fans that they should have won more games. But that is neither here nor there in the discussion.

Some arrangements must be made for boosting the finances of the team, according to one of the officials. A game between the champion High School team and the Town team is one activity which has been mentioned on the street. No definite arrangements, however, have been made.

Elkton Forwards Fail

With the score 19-0 and the last quarter waning, Elkton did the only logical thing—threw forward passes.

Preston and Ford tried their hand at this game time and again, but the Newark defense smothered the attack.

The locals were given a scare, however, when young Bill Smith, star player on Elkton's High School team this fall, swept far out on one end and cut down the field uncovered. An Elkton back heaved a long pass in his direction, and it looked like a sure touchdown. Smith was standing off the goal line waiting for the ball, but in some manner it slipped through his arms and dropped to the ground. It was hard luck for Smith, but fortunate for Newark. As it stood, they kept their goal line intact save for this one threat. In a few minutes the game was over.

The local team, by its victory over Elkton again, seems to measure up to those aggregations of past years.

Newark Beats Laurel

(Continued from Page 1.) The Newark quarterback collapsed after the game, but came around all right in about half an hour. He played a splendid game the first half and showed great courage in sticking it out till the end.

The game itself was fast and furious from whistle to whistle. Newark started right off in the first quarter, when Davis plunged through for the first touchdown. In the second quarter, the same little battering ram went over for another score. The Newark teamwork was working smoothly and they had seemingly little trouble in getting through the Laurel defense.

On the other hand, the downstates pet play, a wide sweeping end run, was stopped time after time with little or no gain. The Newark ends were in on the play, turned it into the line, and Jaquette, Davis or the two tackles invariably threw the runner with no gain. Jaquette played a star game on the defense, making most of the tackles behind the line of scrimmage.

Newark was in danger for a while during Laurel's off-tackle driving, but their quarterback foolishly changed his tactics to the end runs and forward passes, which immediately changed the tide of battle.

Except for part of the third quarter, Newark completely out-generated and out-played the down-state champions.

The Newark line from tackle to tackle played a hard, consistent game, and were steady in the pinches. The ends played cleverly, and helped break up Laurel's pet plays. Captain Doordan led his team with every encouragement and kept them on the alert every minute.

Chief honors of the day might easily be shared between Davis and Jaquette. The former played his best game of the season. Patchell used his plays with rare judgment, and Rose and Jaquette were bulwarks on the defense. Davis ran back punts in the second half with remarkable precision after Patchell had been moved up to the line. Chalmers also played a splendid game. For Laurel, the work of Elliott stood out head and shoulders above that of his teammates. The lineup:

$6 to $23.50

a set

With Mother of Pearl backs these useful Christmas gifts run from $12.50 to $27.50 a set.

Men's Military Sets with nickel backs, $3.00 to $5.00 set; with shell backs, $5.00 to $6.50 a set.

Shaving Sets, in nickel, $2.50 to $3.50 a set.

Smoking Sets, four-piece, metal, $1.75 to $5.00 set.

Separate Ash Trays, 50c to $1.00.

—Jewelry Dept., First Floor.

It is much better from every point of view to "shop early"

One of the more important items to be considered Christmas time is

Toys for the Children

A basement full that has overflowed from old Santa Claus' pack and crowded into their Fourth Street Store offers you most interesting choosing in the medium price range from 25c to $1.50 for Books for youngsters; from 25c to $5.00 for Games, and from 25c to $15.00 for Toys for boys and girls from 4 years to 16 years of age.

Another item that takes time to choose properly and which can best be attended to early is

Christmas Handkerchiefs

You will be delighted with the "gift-y" air of the many novelties we show in Christmas handkerchiefs this year. They're just splendid for remembrances. And you can spend 12½c or 15c a piece for neat, well-made linen or cotton ladies' handkerchiefs or you spend four or five dollars for a dainty creation of lace and linen that's beautiful enough to be handed down as an heirloom used only on the most formal of occasions. In between your choice is practically unlimited, but it takes time to see them all, so start early. Tomorrow's a good time!

Christmas Neckties and Shirts

There's always a lot of fun made about Christmas Ties and Shirts—but there are very, very few returns and exchanges of these useful articles here. Probably this is due to the fact that the choosers are women of taste and discrimination and that they have a good variety of carefully selected shirts and ties from which to choose. You will be pleased with the Silk and Wool Ties at $1.00 because you know what good silk feels like and you can easily pick out the proper ties from our showing of genteel designs. Shirts that just set these ties off to the very best advantage are here by the hundreds, $1.25 to $8.95 a piece.

Underarm Bags

of real leather in black, brown, tan, grey

Fitted with inside purses and mirrors; very popular and useful and in all the wanted prices from $1.00 to $10.00 each.

Hand Bags, black or brown, with outside pockets, $2.95 to $8.00.

Vanity Bags for young girls; flat shapes and box styles, in black, grey or brown; splendid values at $1.95, $2.95, $3.50.

Men's Wallets in pinseal calf, pigskin or morocco leather; black or tan; $1.00 to $10.00. Most men need a new wallet. Here's a good place to buy them for Christmas gifts.

—Leather Goods, First Floor.

Ladies' Scarfs

lace — silk — wool

The newest designs and colorings; plain, striped and plaid; $1.95 to $5.00 each.

Boudoir Caps, satin with lace trimmings in band and cap effects; styles are good; 50c, $1.00, $1.50 each.

—First Floor.

Good Sweaters

make Christmas gifts that any man or woman, boy or girl warmly appreciates for the entire year. The popular shapes, the fashionable colors and the variety of grades and prices makes it easy to get just what you want at just about what you'd figured on spending.

New Fraternity Here After This Week

Gamma Delta Rho to be Initiated into Phi Kappa Tau — Many Members

Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week will be gala days for Gamma Delta Rho fraternity boys in Newark. These three days will be taken up by the formal ceremonies marking their initiation into the Phi Kappa Tau national "frat."

Members of the governing body of the national organization and several visitors from other colleges will be here on these days assisting in the work.

There are twenty-seven chapters of Phi Kappa Tau in the country. The ceremonies here will close with a large banquet in Old College on Saturday evening.

The degree team will consist of John V. Cotton, grand president; R. K. Bowers, grand secretary; M. J. Boyer, grand counselor; Henry Moehling, grand grand secretary of alumni; C. J. Spohn, XI Chapter, Franklin and Marshall, and R. E. Osborn, Omicron Chapter, Penn State College. The grand opening will take place on Thursday, December 3, at 9 o'clock in the morning. As soon as this is over, individual initiations will begin and will continue throughout the larger part of the three days. In all, forty-seven men will be received into Phi Kappa Tau at this time. They are:

du PONT CO. PLACES NEW DYES ON MARKET

What is regarded as one of the most important steps forward in the American dyestuffs manufacturing industry is the recent production made by the E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Company of Ponsol Golden Orange G and PRT, which marks the first time they have been placed on the market in the United States. They are similar to the highly important vat dyes known as Indanthrene Golden Orange G and RRT, which have heretofore been imported from Europe, because they were not available from American manufacturers. The two new vat dyes are being made in both paste and powder form.

The new products permit the dyeing and printing of a wide variety of shades, especially among the browns and tans of unsurpassed fastness, for the cotton industries. These shades could not heretofore be produced in such a high degree of fastness from American vat colors.

This important addition to the already wide range of native vat colors enables the dyer and printer of cotton goods to increase considerably the range of shades of unsurpassed fastness made with American dyes.

Harmony School Afire

Neighbors were hurriedly called to Harmony School yesterday when it was discovered that sparks from the chimney of the building had set the roof ablaze. Quick work by volunteer firemen saved the school. A hole burned in the roof was the only damage done.

TO HOLD AUCTION SELL ON RUPP PROPERTY

Sixty Building Lots and Residence To Go Under Hammer Saturday

Under the direction of S. E. Dameron, prominent realtor of Bel Air, Maryland, an auction sale of building lots adjacent to Newark will be held Saturday morning of this week, when the property of Mrs. Margaret Rupp, located on South Chapel street on the south side of town will be awarded to the highest bidders.

Included in the tract is a residence, which will also be sold.

Mr. Dameron also announces that a new Ford Touring Car will be given away free to a member of the crowd who happens to be present at the sale. Each lot will be sold and none held back, according to the policies of Mr. Dameron and his associates.

BACK BROKEN IN FALL FROM HAY LOFT

Negro Lad Not Expected to Live After Mishap

Harold Kemp died this morning in the hospital from injuries sustained on Monday.

Harold Kemp, an 18-year-old Negro, of Newark, is in the Delaware Hospital in a critical condition, suffering from a fractured vertebrae near the base of the neck and a probable fracture of the skull. The injuries were sustained in a fall shortly after ten o'clock Monday night, as Harold was climbing to his bed room in the hay loft of the barn on the Charles Downey farm.

Mr. Downey brought Harold to the hospital where an immediate operation was performed. Little hope for his recovery is entertained.

$28,000 PAID OUT BY CHRISTMAS CLUBS

Local Banks Expect Larger Number of Depositors Next Year

Checks totalling about $28,000 are being sent out to Christmas Savings Club depositors this week by the Farmers Trust Company and the Newark Trust and Safe Deposit Company.

According to officials of the banks, this amount represents an increase over last year's fund.

The checks are eagerly awaited by the depositors, and are coming at just the right time for Christmas shopping. With a small saving every week during the year, the totals mount up with amazing rapidity and the thrifty ones in the community are now reaping the benefits of a snug Christmas capital.

It is reported that the Elkton banks are away ahead of Newark in this respect. A total of $75,000 will be sent out to Cecil County depositors in their Christmas Fund checks.

Dance Here Saturday

The first of what is expected to be a series of weekly dances will be held Saturday evening in the Armory here.

Farmer And His Help Form Great Agricultural Problem

The problems of the farmer in need of labor, the problems of the farm laborer in need of a job, the great waste resulting from the lack of an organized effort to bring the laborer and the farmer together, and methods of overcoming these difficulties are the subject of a large part of the report on public employment offices which has just been issued by the Russell Sage Foundation. The report is the result of a five-year study of employment methods, needs and agencies.

The report declares that the orderly recruiting and distribution of farm labor is one of the biggest questions confronting public employment offices, and adds: "It must be admitted, however, that in spite of the importance of this need, public employment offices have thus far largely failed to function in this field."

One of the chief obstacles to the work of the public employment office, the report says, "is that the farmer is often unfamiliar with employment office methods. He may therefore find fault with the work of the office when his own lack of co-operation contributes directly to unsatisfactory service."

Among other findings in the report of special interest to the farmer are the following:

"In the central wheat belt, where the demand for farm labor is highly seasonal, there is an unparalleled opportunity for organized effort in recruiting and distributing workers, for here we find assembled each summer the largest army of transient laborers to be found anywhere in America."

"It must be admitted that not even with the extensive placement machinery of the Federal wartime service was more than a measure of success attained. Many workers still rely on their own efforts to secure employment, through direct correspondence with farmers; and word of mouth information passed on from one person to another, nicknamed 'The Hobo Gazette,' still remains a favored method."

It is estimated that there are approximately 3,000,000 transient farm laborers in the United States, who are subject to seasonal fluctuations in the demand for labor and the necessity of moving from one place to another.

With the drift of population away from rural communities, the recruiting of seasonal farm labor in urban districts must be undertaken in an increasing degree.

"Another measure which deserves full consideration," says the report "is the provision of reduced transportation rates for harvest hands directed to jobs through public employment offices."

"Finally, the necessity is evident for laying down a clearly defined policy between the Departments of Labor and Agriculture, both State and Federal, in the placement of farm labor."

"With the gradual extension in the larger industrial centers of public employment offices under the Department of Labor there should be no occasion for the setting up of specialized farm bureau offices in the same localities by other public authorities. It is now recognized that, with the farmer depending upon industrial centers as recruiting places at certain seasons of the year, it is bad policy to operate a special farm office apart from the general employment bureau in such centers. To quote one authority, agricultural interests by this arrangement will 'lose out every time.'"

OPPOSE OLD AGE PENSIONS

Policy of the Grange Is Not Favorable to Any Non-Contributory System

One of the outstanding principles of the Grange, for which it has fought throughout its lifetime and which it inculcates in all its teachings, is that every able-bodied person should endeavor to make themselves self-supporting and seek to provide through thrift and industry a sufficient competence to care for themselves in their old age. To this end the Grange declared in its fundamental platform of purposes:—"We discountenance the credit system, the mortgage system, the fashion system and every other system tending to prodigality and bankruptcy."

In consequence of this policy the legislative committee of the National Grange and legislative committees in various State Granges will exercise the full influence of the Grange organization in coming legislative sessions to oppose all old-age pension projects, or other like undertakings of paternalistic nature, which tend to destroy initiative and thrift.

That British editor who drowned in his bath tub should never have taken such a chance.

"SAINTED DEVIL" VALENTINO FILM

Adapted from Rex Beach's "Rope's End"—Directed by Joseph Henabery

"A Sainted Devil," Rudolph Valentino's second Paramount starring picture since his return to the screen, will be the feature at the Opera House next Monday and Tuesday.

With an excellent supporting cast, a story of dash and color, and rich settings which depict the Argentine and life in the Buenos Aires, "A Sainted Devil" is said to surpass even "Monsieur Beaucaire," which was received by critics and public alike with great acclaim. In this picture, which Forrest Halsey adapted from Rex Beach's story, "Rope's End," Valentino portrays the role of Don Alonzo Castro, a spirited young South American who travels up and down the scale of love and who fights at the drop of the hat for the woman he loves.

Helen D'Algy has the role of Julietta, a dark-eyed, raven-haired beauty who captures all the space in Don Alonzo's heart despite the efforts of Carlotta, played by Nita Naldi, Dona Florencia, Dagmar Godowsky; who try to win him away. George Siegman has the colorful role of El Tigre, the wild bandit of the pampas, and other members of the cast are Antonio D'Algy, Jean Del Val, Roger Lytton, Isabel West, Raphael Bongini, Frank Montgomery, William Betts, Edward Elkus, A. De Rosa, Ann Brody, Evelyn Axzell and Marie Diller.

BUCCANEER AND PIRATE DEFINED

Two words which are used extensively in Rafael Sabatini's popular novel, "Captain Blood," which will be shown at The Hanark Theatre on Thursday and Friday, are frequently used as synonyms, although there is quite a shade difference in meaning. The words are pirate and buccaneer.

The story deals with the adventures of Peter Blood as a pirate after he had been condemned by the cruel King James as a slave to the Barbadoes. A pirate has been regarded by all nations to be an enemy of the human race. Piracy is a crime against nations which may be brought before any court, no matter what the nationality of the plaintiff or the origin of the pirate may be.

A buccaneer is a freebooter, one of the pirate rovers of the 17th and 18th centuries that preyed upon the Spaniards along the Spanish coast of America. The first buccaneers were Frenchmen whom the Spanish authorities had driven from their occupation of hunting and buccaning or curing meat.

Although Captain Blood's escapades might better be termed buccaneering he roved the sea almost a century before the buccaneers originated and therefore must, strictly speaking, be termed a pirate.

UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT DECISION RATIFIES SALE OF GILPINS' FALLS COMPANY

The United States Supreme Court has handed down its decision in the matter of the Gilpins' Falls Electric Company, and has ordered "Accepted" the bid of $100,000 for the property, made by the Elkton Electric Company, a subsidiary of the Eastern Power Company.

Mr. Thomas W. Perkins and Mr. J. W. McAllister, receivers for the Gilpins' Falls Electric Company, will receive their check for the $100,000 this week.

It will be remembered that this offer made the Elkton Electric Company was accepted by the Circuit Court for Cecil County, Md., and the money has been on deposit at the Lancaster Trust Company for about one year, pending the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States as to the validity of the whole transaction; therefore, the Eastern Power Company practically paid for this company over a year ago. As the matter now stands, the title has been passed upon by the United States Supreme Court and its decision therefore protects the stockholders of the Eastern Power Company as purchasers, as well as ratifying the sale of the Gilpins' Falls Company by the Maryland Court.

NUMBER 45

To Preserve Original Roosevelt Cabin

W. T. D. in Vineland (N. J.) Republican

"Help us preserve the Roosevelt Shack"—the unique message flashed East from the North Dakota wheat ranches and cattle plains, where the boy Teddy received his first baptism of the survival of the fittest—of tragedy and gunfire—of men's primeval passions in the raw, wild without doubt touch a responsive chord. It is interesting to trace its history—a plain one and a half story ranch house built of hewn pine logs, containing three rooms; kitchen, living room and a small room partitioned off that was sacred to Roosevelt himself. Originally it was located in a broad, sage brush covered valley, rimmed in by giant scoria buttes and through which wound the tortuous course of the ever muddy Little Missouri and was the key and headquarters of the "Maltese Cross," or Roosevelt home ranch.

Odd that pine logs in a practically treeless (excepting the soft cottonwoods and scrub ash) were available. The Northern Pacific Railroad was then under construction and tie and bridge lumber was near priceless in the plains country. Two hundred miles up the river, (it flows north) at Long Pine Hills, grew a considerable area of pine timber and here a man named "Bye, a Bismark," railroad contractor, established a logging camp and took out thousands and thousands of railroad ties and bridge piling, depending on the spring river floods to float down to Little Missouri, where the railroad crossed the treacherous stream.

The "drive" the following spring was almost a complete failure. The sudden rise and falls of the treacherous stream left the greater part of the cut stranded along 200 miles of shore and wide sandbars. Cattle ranchers, just then bringing their herds to the Bad Lands, seized smooth logs as nanna from the heavens and from the salvage, built their ranch houses, stables and corrals. Previous to the erection of the existing Roosevelt house, the only building was a stockade affair, that was later turned into a stable. With his ranch manager and cowboys, the youthful "Teddy" got his share of the abandoned loot and from these logs, was fashioned the house of which is now being sought to perpetually preserve.

Here for five years lived Roosevelt and his cowboys, and for several years after his duties called him East, he was still connected. A series of perishing winters, added to the constantly crowding in of the nesters or homesteaders, gradually narrowed the operations of the cattle overlords and finally drove them to the wall, Roosevelt among them, although he sold out his interests to his managers, Ferris and Merrifield without undue loss. For a time, the house and ranch was abandoned when along came Jack Snyder, a sort of ranch rustabout, who had married a native ranch girl. He objected to the peaked shingle roof as too cold and unsanitary and tore it off, replacing with the one story "gumbo" roof of sun baked clay. Later, when the house was removed to the St. Louis Fair, the original roof was restored.

Bismark, the capital of the then territory of North Dakota, and located where the Northern Pacific crosses the big Missouri near the Far West or "slope" country, is rich in reminiscence and historical lore. Directly across the river, are the ruins of Fort Lincoln, from which the gallant Custer marched forth to his death. It is steeped with "Indian" and Indian tradition and one of the speakers at the later dedication of the capitol, was Sitting Bull, and who later was cruelly murdered at the so called "battle" of Wounded Knee.

THANKSGIVING DINNER MIGHT HAVE BEEN WET

Slight Fire in Elkton Boarding House On Holiday Morning

Elktonians were startled to hear the fire whistle blowing Thursday morning last. The fire was located under the roof at "Maryland Lodge," managed by Mrs. James Blanton Evans, at the corner of Main and Delaware streets.

The Slingerly firemen responded to the alarm and soon had the blaze extinguished, although for a few minutes it looked like the Thanksgiving turkey might be forced aside for a few days.

ELKTON FURNITURE DEALER WINS LAWSUIT; DEFENDANT CAUSES STIR IN COUNTY COURT

The sum of $21 was involved in the suit of Jacob Rubenstone, furniture dealer of Elkton, Md., against Thomas Harrington, of 1022 McDowell street, Wilmington, which was brought to trial in Superior Court Monday morning before Judge Rice and a jury.

Rubenstone was represented by Edmund S. Hellings. The defendant was represented by James R. Morford. The case was brought before the Superior Court on an appeal by Harrington from judgment entered against him in a magistrate's court recently.

The furniture dealer contends that Harrington, one of his former customers, was indebted to him in the sum of $21. Harrington admitted the indebtedness. His defense, however, was a technical one. It was contended he was not liable for the debt in that his account with Rubenstone was more than three years old and was therefore outlawed.

Rubenstone testified that when Harrington moved from Elkton in 1919 he owed him $22. In June of 1920, Harrington, he said, paid him another dollar on the account. Harrington denied that he made any payment on the account after 1919. While Rubenstone insisted the defendant owed him $21, Harrington contended he owed him $22.

The whole case hinged on the question of whether Harrington did or did not pay Rubenstone the $1 installment in 1920. If, the court stated, the jury found that Harrington did not pay the $1, the statute of limitations would apply, and a verdict for the defendant should be returned.

The jury gave the plaintiff a verdict for $21.

S. J. Wright Starts Series Of Weekly Parties at His Home

The first of a series of parties for the office staff of the Continental Fibre Company was given last evening by Samuel J. Wright, president of the firm, in the clubrooms to the rear of his home on East Main street.

Bowling, billiards, shuffleboard and cards were indulged in by the guests, and a right royal time was enjoyed. Mr. Wright plans to make these affairs regular features of the week, according to reports. Practically the entire personnel of the office was on hand last evening.

18 Shopping Days Until CHRISTMAS

Mr. Joe Spivus Sees The Navy Sunk

Being a Refreshing Series of Observations on the Greatest Country Fair Baltimore Ever Had

Baltimore Stadium, November 29:

It can now be said that the Army has won.

An hour ago, it was anybody's game, including the referee. The Navy watches her ship go down with heads bare, while the Kaydets howl bloody murder down on the field. The fellow up here in this chicken roost, which some one has called a press box, say that whatever team loses, their folks always stay in their seats until they is nobody else left in the stadium. If both sides were allowed down there, it's a sure thing there wouldn't be room for the goal posts.

They say that the folks back home are hearin' all the row on the radio easily. But there isn't a radio, past, present or future, what can carry this noise. It stops all competition. You can't even hear the corks popping.

It was a great game while it lasted (which wasn't long enough). Mr. Ed. Garbisch, according to the experts up here with their fingers and charts, played a wonderful game. Personally, I think he played the whole game.

He had 160,000 eyes glued on him for almost one hour, including a pair of steel gray eyes belonging to his Chief. The Army tried their durndest to carry the ball over. Garbisch begged, reared and charged up and down among his men like a wild man,—but they couldn't do it. Thereupon, Captain Ed took matters in his own hands. Six times he sent shivers up the backs of 80,000 people. On four occasions, those shivers leaped into distinct thrills. Everybody hollered. What they hollered didn't mean a thing in English. There just wasn't anything left to do.

Navy played like bulldozers; fierce, stubborn, reckless at time, but never bewildered. There was a typical Navy fight against a stronger team. They kept West Point off the doorstep, but Oh! what those soldiers did to the front lawn.

And here I want to take issue with none other than two very influential—I might even say well known institutions,—a lame-duck Congressman from New York, and the "Sunday Star" of Wilmington.

The "lame duck" declared, right out loud, that the Navy won a moral victory, and then he proceeded to bluster down the aisle before the game was over. In fact, he blustered most of the afternoon. This time, a burly policeman stood in his path and the Congressman decided he could stay a little while longer.

"The Star" in discussing the game pours out the following lines of wisdom:

It was deserved victory but it was a moral victory for the Navy. A team of midshipmen against which the Army was betting 4 to 1 kept its goal line uncrossed and it was out lucked and not outplayed by the Army.

And there you have it, from a typical Wilmington viewpoint. It calls for a rather sudden lift of the eyebrows to learn that a team could gain 9 first downs to their opponent's 6, render practically useless a much-vaunted forward pass attack; keep the ball inside the opposing 40-yard line two-thirds of the game; and consistently plunge through a 190-pound line all afternoon—only to be given a "lucky" victory. Perhaps the "Star" would be interested to know that the betting was at even money in Baltimore an hour before game time. It is very evident that the writer neither saw the game or went to very much trouble in finding out what it was all about. However, I shall excuse the "Star" this time upon condition that they use Mr. John S. Hamilton on the comic section, and bring Ring Lardner up from the "Magazine" swamp and give him a breath of air on the editorial page.

I have no doubt such a move would sell a few more papers. And after all, what is modern journalism but a delightful game of trying to get people to pay a few more cents for something they may or may not want?

When you see "80,000" on paper, you say "that's pretty good sized, ain't it Oscar?"—and go on with the Cross Word Puzzle. But when you see 80,000 people all in one place, it makes your head swim, and the breath come in spurts.

When I look across this stadium today, the other side is a blur—a hazy blue screen with tiny spots of color here and there, and in between the blocks, thin open lanes, dark brown in color, looking for all the world like gigantic stairways.

At four o'clock, the lights along the upper rim of the big bowl came on. The top rows across the field are almost indistinguishable now. The ferment of noise continues as the game wanes.—Navy stubbornly fighting back another Army onslaught. The timer's eyes are on his watch. Another play? Yes, and still another. The scoreboard says one minute to go. It was one minute to go ten plays back. The Army is stopped, only to regain the ball and resume that battering march against Time. It's a matter of seconds now. Garbisch claps his hands and leads them on. Crowds jam the aisle openings, loathe to see the finish. Darkness is settling; the city's lights in the distance come on. Still that deafening racket.

It's all over!

The field becomes a seething gray mass; the Army mule kicks higher than ever. Crowds hurry out, frostbitten, slapping their feet to the turf.

The cadets are left to salute the silent blue hosts of middies in the west stand. A bitter pill to swallow. Garbisch goes off on a veritable blanket of grey shoulders, tightly clasping the ball he sent over for 12 points.

The thrill comes back. Wish Sally Ann were here. Gosh I'm cold. Ain't it grand, though. Wouldn't missed it for a barrel of hard cider.

Where The National Grange Stands

Brief Summary of Decisions Reached at 58th Annual Convention, Held in Atlantic City Recently

From the many sessions of the national farmers' organization in Atlantic City, the following viewpoints were reached and placed on record:

The Grange favors:

1. A high export duty or an actual embargo, on logs and unfinished lumber not yet fabricated into industrial products.

2. Immediate completion and operation of Muscle Shoals by the government, or its lease on such terms as will insure the production of fertilizer for the farmers at cost, but strictly under the terms of the water power act.

3. Reorganization of the postal service and adjustment of salaries and administrative methods to increase the efficiency of the department.

4. Closer supervision of movie picture films and rigid clean-up of objectionable features.

5. Increased appropriations and efforts to stamp out bovine tuberculosis, in the interests of the public health.

6. Energetic efforts and liberal state and Federal appropriations to check the spread of the European corn-borer.

7. Full endorsement of the income tax principle, Federal and State.

8. A well-defined policy by the United States Department of Agriculture directed towards economic adjustments, rather than increased production, as the immediate need of the American farmer.

9. Continuation of the immigration restrictive laws enacted the past year and objection to any letting-down of the bars on the "ineligible alien" clause, or otherwise permitting the admission of the yellow races.

10. A non-partisan ballot in municipal elections.

11. Support of the Federal farm loan act and its defense against legislation that would have a tendency to interfere with the provisions of the act or to compel increased interest charges to farmers.

12. Rigid enforcement of all laws, Federal and state, and positive opposition to any weakening of the Volstead Act for enforcement of national prohibition.

13. Full publicity for income tax returns.

14. More thoroughly-trained teachers for rural schools; plain, practical and serviceable rural school buildings, with better sanitary equipment, but without extravagant expenditure of funds; ample playgrounds to be provided in all plans for new school buildings in the open country.

15. Endorsement of vocational training and especially increased instruction in agriculture; health inspection work in the public schools with proper teaching in physiology and hygiene; stress the necessity for making the spirit of rural school teaching point towards country life instead of away from it.

16. Urging the Department of Agriculture at Washington to use its utmost energies towards balancing production with consumption in future agricultural planning.

17. Such reorganization of the railroad labor board at Washington as shall give the public larger instead of reduced representation.

The Grange opposes:

1. Any shifting of bureaus or other activities from the Department of Agriculture to the Department of Commerce.

2. The creation of any new bureaus or departments in Federal or state administration.

3. Federal or state aid for reclamation, irrigation and colonization projects, until such time as it is clearly apparent that the available agricultural acreage of the country must be increased.

4. Daylight-saving, or any other time system that shall interfere with the universal operation of Standard Time in all states and parts of states.

5. All reductions in tariff rates on dairy products, which rates are reduced already so low that American dairymen are suffering seriously from foreign competition.

6. The use of milk or any milk products in combination with vegetable oils to manufacture "imitation butter."

7. Any universal school centralization or consolidation policy, on the ground that school questions are purely local in their nature.

8. Every form of adulteration of food and fibre products and misrepresentation in branding or labeling; with strong reaffirmation of former Grange demand for an effective truth-in-fabrics law.

WELL KNOWN LAWYER KILLED BY TRAIN

John C. Gray, Graduate of Delaware in 1884; Prominent in Democratic Circles

A Thanksgiving Day tragedy which shocked the entire State occurred last week, when on that holiday, John C. Gray, widely known attorney and political leader of Wilmington, was instantly killed when his car was struck by a south bound freight train near the P. R. R. crossing in Bridgeville.

The accident happened about 10 p. m. while Mr. Gray was enroute home from a Thanksgiving visit with Newell Ball and family near Bridgeville. The dead man evidently did not hear the approaching train, and drove directly in its path, according to the trainmen. The car was dragged about 50 feet along the roadbed. Mr. Gray was believed to have been instantly killed.

He was a graduate of Delaware College, class of 1885. He was at one time a member of the Street and Sewer Department of Wilmington, and for the past two Democratic state conventions has acted as chairman.

Not only was Mr. Gray active in Democratic politics, but he was well-known throughout the State as a forceful speaker. During the last campaign he made numerous speeches at political gatherings throughout the State.

In addition to his other political activities, Mr. Gray was the progenitor of the Democratic Legion, which since its inception, has been the mainstay of the Democratic party organization in carrying on its campaign.

Mr. Gray was a member of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Ascension, Claymont, and also of the Masonic fraternity.

The funeral took place at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon from Mr. Gray's old home in Bridgeville. The Rev. Charles A. Rantz, rector of the Church of Ascension, Claymont, assisted by Bishop Philip Cook was in charge. Interment was at Bridgeville.

$2,000,000 REQUESTED FOR NEW STATE ROADS

Legislature Will be Asked For Two Year Appropriation

The State Highway Commission has received notice that the General Assembly will be asked to appropriate $2,000,000 for new roads to be constructed in this State during the next two years.

Sussex county's requirements are estimated at approximately $1,000,000; Kent county citizens are said to have in mind certain stretches which would cost about $400,000, and New Castle county is agitating for roads that would cost about $500,000.

The report of the State Highway Commission to the Legislature will show a surplus of $150,000 to $180,000, which would be sufficient to build and arrange for the sinking fund and interest on the amount required for new roads without taxing the citizens of Delaware a penny. It is figured the license fees imposed on motor vehicles and the 2-cents-a-gallon gasoline tax would not only meet all payments for present bond issues, but would permit the State to borrow about $2,000,000 more for new roads.

Miss Agnes Gerathy has again broken the world's record for the 100-yard breast stroke swimming race for women, making the distance in one minute, twenty-three and two-fifths seconds.

FINE BAG OF DUCKS REWARDS HUNTERS

Dr. Hullihen and Prof. Koerber
Spent Three Days Along
Potomac

Dr. Walter Hullihen, president of the University, and Prof. George A. Koerber, of the Engineering Department, spent three days the latter part of last week along the flats of the Potomac about 60 miles below Washington, on a ducking expedition.

The Newark gunners brought home a fine bag of forty ducks Saturday evening. They were mostly canvas-backs and black ducks. Dr. Hullihen and Prof. Koerber had as their headquarters a sportsmen's club of which the former is a member. They shot from sink boxes. Both men report millions of ducks along the Potomac flats, and save for Saturday morning when the river became too rough to use the sink boxes, the shooting was fine.

New York has the world's champion police pistol shot team, which made 1,050 points in the recent competition, while Toledo's score was second with 1,043.

On the 80th birthday of Samuel W. Nichols, editor and philanthropist of Jacksonville, Ill., the entire city joined in a celebration in his honor.

Lipton Thirsts For Final Try At "Bloomin' Mug"

British Yachtsman Here at 74 to Challenge Fifth Time for the America's Cup

Determined to make a fifth and last try in person to win the America's Cup, Sir Thomas Lipton arrived recently on the Leviathan, planning preliminary negotiations for races in 1926.

To reporters, he admitted that this challenge would be his last. He is now in his seventy-fourth year. Should he fail, his four green flags might still be seen in later International contests, as Sir Thomas has provided in his will that should he not lift the cup before his death the Royal Ulster Yacht Club of Belfast, Ireland, shall keep on challenging in the hope of carrying the "bloomin' mug" back across the Atlantic.

Optimism Unshaken

The challenge must come from a yacht club and be sent ten months prior to the races. That is in the deed of gift. Under this ruling the club has until next fall to send the defy formally. Sir Thomas hopes, however, to discuss with the New York Yacht Club what type and size of boat would be acceptable, and it is believed that as soon as these preliminaries are over a challenge will be sent.

The persevering competitor for the most famous of yacht racing trophies said his optimism is still unshaken and that he believes the Shamrock V will take back to England the "one hundred guineas cup."

"What good is the cup to America," said Sir Thomas with a twinkle in his eye, "when you can't put anything in it? I understand the only thing you have left to put in it would burn the bottom out of it."

Sir Thomas said he will spare no expense in building a new Shamrock, whether she be a schooner or sloop. He wants to change to a schooner, he admitted, but is willing to accept any proposal that the New York Yacht Club may have to offer.

Sixty Times Here

The famous tea merchant and yachtman who completed his sixtieth trip to America this time, first arrived here in 1869, with $30 in his pocket. Never before has he received such a welcome as he got on his arrival.

The passengers and many of the crew stood at the side of the big vessel as he stepped to the deck of the Florida, yacht of Special Deputy Police Commissioner Barron Collier, with Police Commissioner Enright and other notables on board, to take him up the bay.

Going up to the Columbia Yacht Club, the Police Department band and Glee Club played and sang for him. Sir Thomas is an honorary captain of the department. Abroad the yacht beside Commissioner Enright were George MacDonald, an honorary Deputy Police Commissioner; Dr. Carlton Simon, Magistrate James T. O'Neil, Brig.-Gen. William P. Weigel, Dr. Alfred Nicholson, Col. Peter Traub, Benedict Greenhut, Rhinelander Waldo, Chevalier R. Prisco and Bishop E. W. Hunter, who gave a blessing to Sir Thomas as he boarded the Florida.

The baronet became reminiscent as the yacht passed the Battery. Fifty-five years ago Thomas Johnstone Lipton staggered ashore in New York, black with coal dust and gasping for breath, from the furnace room of a Charleston steamer. He had become a stowaway on board because he had no money to pay for his passage; had been dragged from his concealment after the boat was at sea, and with kicks and curses set to earn his passage by shoveling coal.—Communicated.

VICTORY HIGHWAY PUSHING UP OVER WESTERN LANDS

Tourist Travel Greatly Increased by Recent Improvements in Rockies

In the high country of the Rocky Mountains, where a few years ago the pack mule was the only competitor in the field of transportation of the steam railroad, highway development and improvement has injected a third factor into the situation.

The Victory Highway, which crosses the Continental Divide at Berthoud and Rabbit Ear Passes, roughly paralleling from Denver, Colo., to Craig, in the same state, but on the other side of the high passes, the course of the Moffat road, has been greatly improved in the past three years by the efforts of the state and federal highway engineers, throughout the distance between the two points mentioned. The improvement has been hastened by the establishment of the Victory Highway as a national memorial motor highway between New York City and San Francisco. With the publicity which has been given to the Victory Highway, tourist travel over it has been vastly increased, with resultant activity on the part of the highway officials in the State of Colorado.

It has been announced as the ambition of the state highway officials of Colorado, and of the federal engineers who are working with them, to make the crossing of the Berthoud and Rabbit Ear passes "the safest mountain road in the world," and the ambition is steadily approaching realization.

So effective has been the road improvement work already done that two automobile stage lines have been established to operate on regular schedules between Denver and Craig. These stage lines have recently been authorized by the Colorado Public Utilities commission, and held to be public necessities. The business, both express and passenger, which now takes the highways across the mountains in preference to the steam railroad, has become so heavy that the Moffat road and the American Railway Express Company appeared at a formal hearing before the state public utilities commission to plead against the authorization of their motor competitors, because of the business which they would attract away from the steam lines.

Less than five years ago this road was regarded as impassable for automobiles and open only to pack animals.

Not a great while ago the United States brought from England the remains of a man and erected a monument to his memory.

Let's make our home town a real home town and help ourselves by helping one another.—Domestic Engineering.

Here Is a Mystery

"Ball lightning" has thus far baffled all attempts at explanation. That it actually occurs cannot be doubted. Such lightning occurs during thunderstorms in the form of a small luminous ball or pear-shaped body, averaging a few inches in diameter, which either moves freely in the air or travels along objects as if attached to them. The ball may be visible only an instant or it may remain for several minutes. Its appearance is often but not always preceded by an ordinary flash of lightning. It is accompanied by a hissing or humming sound.

WHAT HAS BECOME OF THE OLD STONE FENCES?

Nearby Rural Districts One Time Were Famous For Rugged Boundaries

Stone fences, once popular in New Castle county, especially in Brandywine and Mill Creek Hundreds, are slowly but surely disappearing, like the post-and-rail fences, before the onslaught of the wire fence, both of the barbed and the patent varieties. It is not believed there has been a stone fence erected in Delaware for the last fifty years by a "regular" farmer, for, of course, stone fences have never existed in Kent and Sussex owing to the prevalence of sand.

From time to time, the old stone fences in Brandywine and Mill Creek Hundreds are pulled down, and wire or wooden fences put up in their place. The objection is made to stone fences that they take up too much valuable ground that could be in crops, and it is difficult to get as close to a stone fence with farm machinery as is the case with wire or rail fences. Likewise, they form admirable retreats for snakes and humble bees, and all kinds of weeds.

There is no doubt, however, that they are the most durable fences that can be put up, but at the same time, they are very costly. There are still some magnificent stone fences around Brandywine Hundred farms, but usually they inclose large private estates.

Most of the Delaware walls are uncemented, that is, built without cement or mortar. Some of them have in late years received a coat of cement for the top to prevent rain from working in, and to preserve the shape. In Pencader Hundred, near Iron and Chestnut Hills, iron-ore stones were used in fencing in the old days.

Drywalling, the art of building permanent stone walls without the aid of mortar or cement, is a skilled trade of prehistoric times, dating back to the days when the caveman used to erect a barricade of stones to prevent the wild animals entering his stronghold. Now with the progress of civilization this ancient art is being killed. To "drywall" land is a slow process, and labor costs are heavy. So up goes a fence instead. In some of the more remote moorland places of England the old art still exists, and the patient sheep farmer, with his miles of heather-covered land, repairs his boundary walls in the manner in which they were built.

The men who built those walls in years gone by intended them to withstand the ravages of time and weather. Any piece of rock embedded in the ground was not taken up but built round, and stones of all sizes and shapes carefully fitted into place. Little gaps were filled with stones of various forms making the whole wall as steady and firm as if it had been built with bricks and mortar. And yet not an ounce of adhesive material was used.

Today many stretches of modern railway track are enclosed by uncemented walls, but the stones are usually chosen and cut and a cemented layer of top stone is used to make the whole thing safe. The old-fashioned drywall, to whom time and trouble are not of great account, regards mortar for walls an abomination. One man, who for years had the task of repairing miles of dry walls on the Chorley moors, in England, was convinced that on the bleak, windy hills mortared walls were too rigid to last any great time. He swore that a length of well-made dry wall would have easily doubled the life of a cemented one, for where the latter would crack and fall the dry wall would only "belly" with the effects of time, and yet remain firm.—Sunday Star.

"There can be no defense for working conditions which rob the American child of its rights, just as there can be no defense of the industrial life of a nation which so draws away the strength of our women that it poisons and weakens motherhood."—President Harding.

Fruits of Protective Tariff

We lead all nations in agriculture, we lead all nations in mining, and we lead all nations in manufacturing. There are the trophies which we bring after twenty-nine years of a Protective Tariff? Can any other system furnish such evidences of prosperity? Yet in the presence of such a showing of progress there are men found who talk about the restraints we put upon trade and the burdens we put upon the enterprise and energy of our people.—William B. McKinley.

Stricken suddenly while unloading poles at the B. and O. freight station Monday of last week, Andrew Worth well known in Newark and Cecil county, died later at his home here from heart trouble.

The deceased was 60 years of age. He was for many years a well known farmer in Cecil County and had a host of friends in that section. The funeral was held Thursday last from the North East M. E. Church. He is survived by his wife, three sons, two daughters and two brothers, one of whom is William Worth, of Elkton.

Work Means Growth

All growth depends upon activity. Life is manifest only by action. There is no development physically or intellectually without effort, and effort means work. Work is not a curse, it is the prerogative of intelligence, the only means to manhood and the measure of civilization. Savages do not work. The growth of a sentiment that despises work is an appeal from civilization to barbarism.—Calvin Coolidge.

BIRDS WORK FOR YOU

Remember Nature Always
Strives to Keep a Balance
In the World

In a new country where the natural conditions of plant and animal life are changed, the balance of nature is likely to be upset. The value of bird life is perhaps greatest in checking a plague in its incipient stage.

In parts of the middle west there were serious outbreaks of the Rocky Mountain locust or grasshopper many years ago. Professor Aughey of the University of Nebraska carried on a series of observations showing that the birds of these localities were helping a great deal to check the insect numbers.

Thrushes, kinglets, chickadees, nut hatches, warblers, vireos, swallows, crows, bluejays, blackbirds, kingfishers, cuckoos, woodpeckers, hawks, owls, pigeons, grouse, quail, gulls, and even humming birds and water birds had all taken to eating locusts.

Fifty-one locusts were taken from the stomach of a single yellow-headed blackbird. A tiny ruby-throated humming bird had four small locusts in its stomach. Six robins had eaten two hundred and sixty-five locusts. Sixty-seven locusts were found in the stomachs of three bluebirds, and one little ruby-crowned kinglet had eaten twenty-nine. Many of these and other birds were feeding their young on locusts.

One barn owl had eaten thirty-nine locusts. Five screech-owls had eaten two hundred and nineteen locusts. Six of the nine burrowing owls examined had eaten an average of more than fifty locusts each. Hawks, as a class, were scarcely less active, for of the eleven species listed as having been examined by him, five were found to have eaten locusts.

A grasshopper pest in southern Oregon was something like the plague of grasshoppers that came upon the early Mormon settlers in Utah during the summer of 1848. The crops of the Mormons were partly saved by the great flock of gulls that came in and settled over the fields, gorging themselves on the insects.

THE COLORED SHIRT

This season shows no lessening in the popularity of the colored shirt. It's a style that well dressed men like; it lends itself to a great number of smart color combinations, and it's a welcome change from the monotony of plain white.

The other day we saw a man with a grey suit, a yellow shirt, with laundered collar to match and a deep red tie. Sounds pretty wild, doesn't it? But the effect was not at all garish; that's because the shades were so well chosen.

It's not a bad idea to have a smart suit or two to go with the shirts; you know how it is; a man with a good set of balloon tires really needs a good automobile to enjoy them fully.

Seriously, though, we do have the finest ready to wear clothing in America—Society Brand.

AIM TO ENROLL 10,000 SAFE DRIVERS

Safety Council's Club Starts Campaign

In an effort to help remedy a deplorable traffic accident situation in Delaware, which, in 1923 cost the lives of fourteen children and thirty-nine adults and resulted in serious personal injury to 1016 others, the directors of the Delaware Safety Council propose to organize 10,000 motor drivers into a Safe Drivers' Club. Those who enroll in the Club will sign a pledge of Safe Driving and will be furnished an emblem for their car, a bulletin devoted to street and highway safety and be entitled to scholarships in the various Auto Drivers' schools sponsored by the Council. The cost of membership in the Club is the nominal sum of one dollar which merely covers the cost of the program to reduce the automobile accident toll.

Delawareans prominent in the civic and business life of the State are sponsoring and managing this latest life saving work of the Council. Governor-elect Robert P. Robinson is honorary Chairman of the organization; the Honorary Vice Chairmen are: Frank C. Bancroft, fruit grower, Camden; Irene du Pont, president of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Co.; Hervey P. Hall, Smyrna, vice-president J. H. Hoffecker Canning Company; Henry Ridgely, Esq., Dover, attorney-at-law; Henry P. Scott, president, Wilmington Trust Company, and William E. Valliant, Georgetown, Valliant Fertilizer Company.

The committee actively handling the organization comprises George Huber, president Huber Baking Co., chairman; Vincent Saccardi, Manager of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., vice-chairman; C. H. Quackebush, Manager of the Wilmington Gas Co., vice chairman, and W. H.

Forbes, leather manufacturer, secretary.

Commenting on the vital need for the Safe Drivers' Club, George Huber, chairman of the club committee, said, "This Safe Drivers' organization has not been proposed without a great deal of thought and consideration on the part of the Delaware Safety Council Directors. Our 1923 accident record shows the need for some vigorous action. Figures showing a total of 53 killed and 1016 seriously injured by automobiles in Delaware and 22,000 killed and 678,000 seriously injured in continental United States, are sufficient justification for our program and appeal to Delawareans to support this program. Only six American cities in the 100,000 population class have worse automobile fatality records than Wilmington. The state auto fatality rate is twice that of Massachusetts and one and one-half times that of New Jersey, Pennsylvania or Maryland. We cannot be proud of these facts and shall fail indubitably as citizens unless we make an honest and strenuous effort to remedy this situation."

Dr. H. V. Holloway is in charge of the Campaign in the Dover district and Earl Grant is enrolling members in the Smyrna district.

CO-OPERATE WITH OTHERS

Grange Service to Rural Welfare Often Seen in Aid to Other Associations

Never has better illustration been furnished of the leadership which the Grange of the United States is giving to agriculture and to the rural interests than at the agricultural fairs of the present season, as held in more than a score of states, and where Grange influence has been strikingly present. In many instances the competitive exhibits put on by the Granges have constituted the outstanding feature of the show, while Grange floats, contests and other contributions have added largely to the success of the fairs. Many of the big state fairs have featured a Grange Day, notably in New York and Ohio, the former occasion being marked by the presence of National Master Louis J. Taber and a great parade of the Grange members of the state. Most fairs now offer liberal prizes for Grange exhibits and members of the Order are active workers in all departments of the fairs.

The Grange also lends its cordial co-operation in the exercises of Farmers' Week in many states; joins in field days and shows with the farm bureau and home bureau, and lends active aid to boys' and girls' club work and similar undertakings. Hundreds of local community fairs are sponsored by the home Grange and its hall is used in countless instances for making exhibits. In co-operation with the extension service, both state and national, and with the plans of county bureaus and agents, the Grange devotes its best energies to providing both leadership and support for other leadership, towards a better agriculture and a more satisfying life on the farm.

Motorists On New Road

With the completion of the Elkton-Glasgow link, a brand new boulevard between the upper eastern shore of Maryland and Wilmington has been thrown open to the public. Many Elktonians are now using this direct route to the city, in preference to the Newark road, in order to avoid the heavy traffic. The distance between Elkton and Wilmington is said to be about the same on either road.

First be sure you're wrong; then go into reverse.

Slow moving films may have been suggested by watching some fellow rise to give his street car seat to a homely woman.

WORD "OBEY" DROPPED FROM WEDDING RITES

Church of England Decides Mooted Phrase In Ceremony

The word "obey" will be removed from the marriage ceremony and the words "cherish and serve" will be substituted, if the recommendation made recently by the House of Clergy of the Church of England is approved by the Church Assembly and Parliament.

At the last triennial convention of the House of Bishops and the House of Deputies of the Protestant Episcopal Church here, at Portland, Ore., in September, 1922, it was recommended the word "obey" in the marriage service be substituted with the words: "Wilt thou love him, comfort him, honor and keep him in sickness and in health; and forsaking all others, keep thee only unto him, so long as ye both shall live?"

TELEPHONE PROGRESS—

The wire chief is a transmission expert. By day and night he tests the millions of miles of wire so that the service may be uninterrupted.

Transmitters are constantly being "talked to death" by phonographs in Bell Laboratories to develop the most perfect telephone instrument possible.

The enlargement of hundreds of switchboards in recent years has not retarded the development of a higher quality of service.

TODAY your telephone "talks" better than twenty or ten or even five years ago. Your voice travels with more force, greater clearness — what the telephone engineers call "better transmission."

It is apparent on local calls, and is even more noticeable on connections with distant cities. There are hundreds of the latter that couldn't be reached a decade ago, and calls to as many more were pretty much a gamble with limitations which have since been overcome.

How has this come about?

Invention and development.

During the past few years of unprecedented telephone plant expansion the solution of the great problems arising from the war-time exhaustion of telephone facilities has not left neglected the scientific development of the existing service.

There has been constant advance. Telephone transmission is an important and understandable example. And in such things there is no let-up. More and better service is the principal aim of this company.

ARRESTED FOR STEALING AUTO BLANKETS

Patrons of Elkton Dance Last Week Hard Hit

Two young Cecil County men, Harold Simpkins and Ellsworth Smith, were arrested near the Elkton Armory last Wednesday evening by men from Sheriff Pierson's office, charged with stealing robes, blankets and other articles from autos parked in the vicinity of the building.

William Foster, a member of Company E and an active aide in the dance is said to have detected the two prisoners looting the cars. He immediately called Sheriff Pierson and an officer was dispatched to the Armory. The arrests followed shortly.

At least five complaints had been made that evening charging that blankets had been stolen. Most of them were recovered in the possession of Simpkins and Smith, and later identified. Two or three are still at large, and are believed to have been taken by two more young men, as yet uncaptured.

This occurrence was the only blot upon an otherwise delightful evening spent by the young people in the Armory. George Madden's Orchestra furnished music for the affair, and about 125 couples were in attendance.

It was a Leap Year Dance. The patrons were Sterling E. Dunbar, A. Victor Davis, H. Frank Hurn, Roger Witworth, William C. Feeley, D. J. Ayerst, Ralph Davis, John H. Minster, Alfred Taylor, Henry Mitchell and Joshua Clayton.

Mrs. Alfred Taylor assisted the girls in charge of the affair by taking tickets at the door.

Refreshments consisting of home-made cake and lemonade were served during intermission. A grand march, preceding the dance was led by Miss Catherine Minster and Edward Hathaway. The committee of girls in charge of the party were Helen Buckworth, Natalie Ayerst, Catherine Minister, and Katherine Bolton.
