Vets Receive Action; Problems Reviewed

General Meeting Held Tuesday Evening

A general meeting of all the veterans enrolled in the University was called by Dr. W. O. Sypherd, acting president of the University, on Tuesday evening, October 23, in Brown Hall. Dr. Sypherd was concerned that there had been some dissatisfaction among the veterans and hoped that it could be soon remedied.

The men present decided that they did not wish to be segregated from the rest of the student body in a separate political organization or pressure group. However, Dr. Sypherd suggested that a committee of three veterans be appointed to summarize the problems which face the veterans and thus help prevent further difficulties. The committee appointed consists of Harry Huxford, chairman, Dick Shapiro, and Jim Mays.

Outstanding among the general gripes of the vets were: the fact that the University charges each one a tuition of $100, with problems of registration, unnecessary required credits for phys. ed. and military science, and the lack of proper counseling.

Not all of the veterans admitted having had any complaints or specific problems. Dr. Sypherd invited all veterans to consult him personally any time a problem arose. He also commended, as do the vets themselves, Dean Daugherty for the remarkable job he has done and the untiring efforts which he has.

More of this type of personal assistance is anticipated with the return, within the next year, of two men who have always been ready to help students whenever possible. These men are Dr. Francis Squire, dean of the school of Arts and Sciences, and Dr. Carl J. Rees, head of the department of mathematics, both of whom are now serving with the armed forces.

ALUMNAE CHAPTERS HOLD MEETINGS

At the meeting of the Newark Chapter of the Alumnae Association on Tuesday evening last week, Mr. Newman Rose, alumnus of the University and a former resident of Shanghai, was the guest speaker, telling of experiences in China. Dean Gwendolyn S. Crawford and Hun Sun Ling, Chinese student at the University, were also guests of honor. Anna E. Gallaher was the hostess for the occasion and Estelle Wheelless presided at the meeting.

The Wilmington Chapter plans a tea at the Y. W. C. A. for this coming Saturday. Special guests will include Olive Murray Jones, president of the Alumnae Association; Edith McDougle, executive secretary, and Estelle Wheelless, president of the Newark Chapter. Anna Gaventa, chief dietitian at the Delaware Hospital, is the president of the Chapter.

Quartet to Sing For Music Club

The Music Club will hold its second meeting of the year Tuesday, October 25, at 7:00 p. m., and featured on the evening's program will be a male quartet composed of Basil Macknik, Bill Ingram, Mike Harris, and Bob Maul. Also planned for the evening are solos by Norma Bradley, pianist, and Peggy Munoz, who plays the trumpet. Refreshments will be served. Betty Kerr, president, announces that further plans for the coming year will be discussed in detail.

At the first meeting of the club on Tuesday, October 11, the main room of the Music Building was almost overflowing with students who came full of enthusiasm and new ideas for the future of the Music Club. The program that night included a number by a girls' trio composed of Sally Heinel, Pat Weitzel, and Ruth Stazeski; a piano solo by Betty Kerr; and a violin solo by Barbara Webster.

"Getting things going" seemed to be the theme the new members brought with them. The desirability of a University of Delaware band and singable school songs, with the resulting increased school spirit, was discussed. The Music Club's objectives for the coming year were outlined and have since been put into the hands of committees. Jane Gordon heads a committee which will plan community sings for the college. The committee of which Dolores Tondat is chairman will investigate the possibilities of getting together groups to listen to recordings. Basil Macknik's committee will plan trips to out-of-town concerts and various other musical performances. Nancy Lindsay is chairman of a committee for the organization of an orchestra on campus. The enrollment thus far is thirty, including a rather large woodwind section but limited string and percussion section. Helena Clark's committee will have charge of the music which the club will offer, at the University's hoped-for Christmas Banquet.

Student Government Constitution to Be Prepared by Panel

Atomic Energy To Be Discussed By Head of Physics

Dr. Parker to Speak Next College Hour

At the next regularly scheduled college hour on Monday, October 29, Dr. Vincent E. Parker, Acting Head of the Department of Physics, will speak on "Atomic Energy—Slave or Master?" Since the development of the atomic bomb and its use in ending the war, this should be a very worthwhile and interesting topic. The talk will contain practically no detail of production; but possible uses in war and industry; the physical difficulties in successful control; social, industrial, political, economic, and moral aspects in control; and possible substitutes for U235 and other forms of uranium, which is now being used, will be discussed.

For students who may be interested especially in the atomic energy problem, a series of talks on the entire problem, not from the physical angle, but from other sides, chiefly political, is being given over the air by Raymond Graham Swing on Friday evenings at 7:15.

Hallowe'en Dance to Be Held Saturday, Oct. 27

This coming Saturday evening, October 27th, at 8:30 p. m., in the Women's Gymnasium, a Hallowe'en dance will be held. All students are invited to attend in old clothes only—dungarees, old shirts, etc. The music will be supplied by records.

This dance is another of the many social functions planned by the joint University social committee of which Frank Cox and Gordon Brewer are co-chairmen.

Women Welcome New Phys. Ed. Instructor

Since the beginning of this term, a new figure has appeared on the women's athletic field. She's a tiny 5 foot, 5 inch with dark, wavy hair; brown eyes; and bundles of energy in every action. She is Miss Helen Majcher, who has come to the University this fall as a teacher of Physical Education.

Having been graduated from Temple University this past June, she is equipped with the latest news in all fields of athletics. While at Temple, Miss Majcher was interested in and participated in all of the sports; her favorites are winter and water athletics, which include skiing, swimming, canoeing, and sailing.

As proof of her proficiency in athletics, that good-looking white blazer with red trim and the Temple seal was given her as an athletic award.

Monday afternoon, October 22, at a special meeting of the student body called to consider plans for a University student government, a motion was made and unanimously carried that the student committee consisting of Jane Platt, Russell Newcombe, Anne Stonemetz, Gordon Brewer, Jeanne LeFevre, and Robert Campbell, draw up a constitution for a student senate. The document is to be submitted to the student body for discussion at a special assembly called for that purpose.

The student senate, as outlined by the committee, would function in all student activities and under the advice given them by a student advisory council consisting of the dean of men, the dean of women, and four faculty members elected by the senate. The council would act solely in an advisory capacity. The ultimate source of authority in situations involving a policy of the University would come from the president of the institution. The senate would consist of men and women students, the officers being a president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer who are elected by the student body. In addition to these there shall be other representatives of the students. Representation according to population of men and women students, one representative per every two hundred students, was suggested by the committee. This idea met with consideration opposition on the floor, principally from students who advocated representation by classes. The senate would have supreme power over all activities involving students as long as a University policy was not violated. Committees would function under it for men's and women's dormitory regulations, student publications, clubs, and other activities. There was no mention made of the senate's having representation on the faculty committee on curricula, a suggestion that called forth much favorable comment on the part of the students after last week's assembly.

Any further and additional comments which anyone in the student body may want to present or have considered should be handed in writing to one of the members of the student panel on this topic for thought and action if necessary. All constructive criticism will be gratefully received if the donor can suggest something better or more feasible than that which is already under consideration.

Before the motion was passed, members of the committee reported on other plans for student government tried in various colleges throughout the country. Letters of inquiry had been written

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1945

The editorial printed in the last issue of the REVIEW about the failure of the Veteran's Advisory Council to take an active part in helping the men who fought the war for us to re-adjust themselves and get their program of studies straightened out has caused much comment, much of it unfavorable.

It is not the policy of the REVIEW to alienate the friends which it has among the faculty, but rather to offer criticism when the need arises.

As reported on page one, prompt action on the part of the administration has followed the printing of this article, and we wish it to be known that this action is appreciated by the entire student body.

Dear Editor:

WHY ISN'T DELAWARE A CO-ED SCHOOL? Women students have been recently told by the faculty not to refer to themselves as co-eds. Why?

The student body is under the impression that the old Women's College and Delaware College for men have been superseded by the completely co-educational institution known as the University of Delaware. As a matter of fact, there has been formal announcement made of this new policy, and many changes have taken place on the campus in accordance with it. Men and women are attending classes together, they are participating in extra-curricular activities together, but nevertheless, they are not co-eds.

Besides lectures on not using nicknames to refer to themselves, Freshmen have also been subjected "initial meetings." At one such meeting they were told that the topic would be D. O. M. E. After the faculty member in charge had discussed just about everything else, it was finally revealed that the letters stood for "Do our matters early." The meeting was then adjourned. Freshmen are still waiting to be enlightened on the meaning of this phrase.

Let us do away with such trivialities at the University of Delaware. Time wasted in arguing over the sense or nonsense of such things as nicknames could be much better utilized in study, or constructive extra-curricular activities, for after all the dignity and prestige of a university is, in reality, measured by the accomplishments of its students and graduates rather than by the names they call themselves.

Very truly yours,

Peg Munoz

Meet the Cast

Parker Thomas

Mr. Thomas, our other guest actor from the University Drama Group, playing the part of Dewey Crochet, can well qualify for any job around the theater. Not only can he act, but he has handled every other phase of production from Production Manager to Business Manager. He seems particularly interested in the technical side of a production, especially in scene designing and sets. Among the various plays in which he appeared as an actor, we find First Lady, The Bishop Misbehaves, Thunder Rock, and My Sister Eileen. All his experience has been with the University Drama Group, which he joined in 1939. Mr. Thomas laughingly told us that he has been so busy in the theater (amateur, that is) that he hasn't seen a professional production since 1928. Last year he was president of the University Drama Group.

Besides this time consuming pastime, Mr. Thomas is an engineer with the telephone company. He is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania.

Dorothy Catts

"George" plays the part of a fifteen year old girl, Evvie Crochet, with extremely romantic ideas. The family's plans for Evvie are that she enter a convent, but to make the whole affair more tragic in her romance-craving soul, Evvie wants a lover to renounce before taking the vows.

George was Assistant Director for last year's production, The Physician in Spite of Himself, and is well known for her dancing ability and her back flips while cheer-leading. She danced in USO camp shows in the northern New Jersey vicinity, and worked with the well-known Rockettes. She is enrolled in the School of Home Economics.

Jane Booker

Janie, a Freshman hailing from Centerville, Md., has been cast in the role of Topal Crochet. Throughout the play she carries a chip on her shoulder, and is discontented because of the poverty stricken status of her family and her broken engagement to Tayo.

She has had quite a bit of experience in public speaking before college, but never appeared in any plays. She is as yet undecided about her major.

Charles Rogers

Charlie has already been introduced to the readers of the REVIEW because of his part in the Physician in Spite of Himself. He has a character role in The Great Big Doorstep, that of Tayo, the insolent good looking barber who creates a good bit of action, hurling bricks around and stabbing a victim.

Charlie, a native of Sayville, Long Island, is a sophomore pre-med, and he has also had quite a bit of experience in high school dramatics. Music is his favorite relaxation; the piano his specialty.

William Merion

We wonder where Bill picked up that long, slow drawl which is so essential for his part as Tobin in The Great Big Doorstep. At any rate, he suits the part of the tall, lanky Texan to a "T." Bill graduated from Wilmington High School where he was in his senior play, Young April. He is majoring in English with an eye towards Journalism for a career.

As for other talents, Bill has had quite some experience in singing. You've probably heard his voice while walking past the Music Building, or "Dark Brown Hall."

Fashion Show Held By Home Ec Club

The Home Economics Club sponsored a fashion show last Thursday evening in the Hilarium of Warner Hall. The college and career clothes were furnished by Miss Olive Berry of the Simplicity Pattern Company. The committee for the show was headed by Iva Short, assisted by Jean Brosch, Henrietta Miller, Marjorie Mealey, and Mary Lou Richardson.

STUDENT GOV'T.

to numerous institutions but many of them had not been answered as yet. Jane Platt described briefly the student association at U. C. L. A., and Anne Stonemetz reported on the system used at the University of Texas. Since these are universities with a much larger enrollment than Delaware has or ever is likely to have, neither of these plans would be applicable or practical here. Dr. J. Fenton Daugherty, the mediator, outlined the plan for a University Student Senate. The systems employed at Dickinson, Bucknell, Swarthmore, and the University of Maryland were mentioned.

Student Council Notes

News which was welcomed by everyone was that of the changed smoking rules in the dorms. It is now possible to smoke at any time in the common rooms from 7 a. m. until the dorms are closed in the evening. However, it seemed a necessity that smoking captain be appointed to check up on emptying ashtrays and on fires. The following girls have this job in the dormitories:

Sussex—Nancy McQuaid and Sally Dodge.

New Castle—Irene Short and Pearl Futterman.

Warner—Judy Thomas and Anne Pray.

Boletus—Marion Verne.
Harter—Nancy McMullin and Louise Steinhart.

Since we have been granted this long sought-after change, it is hoped that particular care will be taken with regard to smoking so that we will not lose this privilege.

Those often-used pencil sharpeners are now to be found in the kitchenettes of all the dorms. Sorry that Boletus and Harter Halls will have to wait for theirs but it will only be for a short while.

Freshman Rat Rules

On Monday morning, October 15th, the campus was dotted with what seemed to be barbarians dressed for participation in some tribal festival. The faculty and student body, having recovered from its first shock, has settled back with patient resignation to endure another Freshman initiation.

The typical day of the suffering Freshman is a long one, for she must rise to meet her daily misfortune at 6:30 a. m. A hectic half hour is spent in donning the costume of the day, plaiting unruly locks, and, we suspect, in nasty-naming the Sophomores. Then comes the dreaded morning ritual, calisthenics, directed by snarling Sophomore sergeants. A sleepy upperclassman roll over to doze for five more minutes, shivering Freshmen "fall out" to force aching muscles and groaning joints through that painful "one-two-three-four" routine.

After her morning exercise the weary "rat" scuttles forth to brave the storms of another day. From a string about her neck dangle a Blue Book, a crayon, a box of matches, a candle, and a huge name card, inscribed with an original verse. She carries her books in a crackling, rattling, rustling paper bag. When confronted by Sophomores the victim beats her chest vigorously and announces her identity according to a certain unflattering formula. She lights Sophomore cigarettes from her candle, and runs errands for the less energetic of her tormentors. If her performance and costume meet with the approval of her superior she may proceed unmolested. However, if her dress is lacking in some detail, if she is impudent or steps on the grass, the "rat" receives a crayon spot on her card, and a rag is tied to one of her pigtails.

In her spare time, if she has such left after the performance of required ceremonies, the Freshman attends her classes and crams for tests.

Though the beauty of the Freshmen "rats" is slightly less radiant than before, still it shines undaunted through every disguise imposed upon it. We're sure this beauty will be received with relief and enthusiasm when it appears again, undisguised, on the campus.

Club News

Music Club

The Music Club is sponsoring a record hour to be given every Wednesday evening from 7:00 to 8:00, beginning October 24th. The meetings are open to all and will be held in the Music Building.

The first program will consist of classical selections chosen by the committee in charge. Subsequent programs will be made up of records requested by those attending.

Home Ec Club

The Home Economics Club will hold a Halloween Party in the Commuters' Room in Robinson Hall at 8:00 p. m. on Wednesday, October 31, 1945. Margaret Webb is the general chairman of the affairs. Mary Simpson is the chairman of the refreshments, and her committee members are Evelyn Barish, Katherine Stone, and Helen Moore. The entertainment is in charge of Dorothy Catts, chairman, Charlyne Bowers, Mary Verne, Margaret Reynolds, and Patricia Murphy.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club will meet this Thursday evening, October 25, at 7:15 in the commuters' room in Robinson Hall. There will be a program of songs and a talk about Mexico by a group of Mexican from Newark. All students taking Spanish are invited to attend.

Blue Hens Battle To 6-6 Tie With Rams

The Delaware Blue Hens opened their season on October 19th at West Chester State Teachers College and struggled to a 6-6 tie before some 2,000 fans at Wayne Field.

In the first quarter the Rams kept Delaware well in its own territory with a series of short runs and passes. Delaware finally dug in and took the ball on downs. Running and passing the ball the Blue Hens were able to push the pigskin into the Ram territory. A pass from Cataldi to Barnes deep in scoring ground brought the fans their first thrill of the game, but it fell short. Neff kicked on the next down and put the ball out on the Ram's six yard line. West Chester came back with a long kick to Delaware's forty. The period ended with West Chester in possession of the ball. At the start of the second period Metzler tried a pass to the flank, but Sam Julian intercepted and ran 45 yard for the score. The kick for extra point by Neff was blocked.

West Chester received the kickoff and ran it back to their own thirty. On a series of line bucks they carried it to the Delaware 45. On the next play a pass from Shields to Kirk on the 18 yard line was good for the Rams' score. The kick for the extra point was blocked by the entire Delaware line.

The second half proved to be a very hard fought battle. The Rams passed and carried the ball to Delaware's 6 yard line, but the next two plays found West Chester needing 25 yards for a first down. The Blue Hens took over the ball and began a march down the field that stopped on West Chester's 45. Neff punted deep into enemy ground and from there on it looked as though the Hens would score again. The Rams kicked out of trouble, but this did not hold Delaware long. A pass from Cataldi to Neff put the ball in scoring distance. With time running short, Delaware took to the air. Cataldi passed to Julian on the two yard line but it was intercepted by Mezler. West Chester took to the air in a desperate

Delaware Downed By West Chester Soccer Men, 3-1

The Delaware Soccer Team suffered its second defeat Oct. 20th, by the West Chester State Teachers College. Showing a revamped line-up Coach Kurman's eleven were not out played or out fought. Fight to the end was the bitter cry throughout the game, and that is just what Delaware showed.

With Tom Riffin shifted to the center-half position and Scott to fullback, the Hens proved to be a stone wall. The first score of the game came in the early minutes when Henshue kicked a free ball through the goal. The Hens fought hard and repeatedly dribbled the ball deep into the Rams' territory, but were unable to score.

In the last period Povey scored on a pass from Mackey to bring the score to 3-1. Brewer, Riffin, Scott and Monaghan played a fine defensive game.

The line-ups:

Delaware (1)	(3) West Chester
Miller	R. W. Hickman
Colona	I. W. Monturo
Cann	C. F. Miller
Hovey	I. R. Gilbert
Mackey	I. L. Drizin
O'Connor	R. H. Henshue
Feigenblatt	L. H. Care
Riffin	C. H. Harrison
Brewer	R. P. Wolfing
Scott	L. F. Vandegrift
Monaghan	G. Webb

Scoring: Henshue, 2; Drizin, Povey.

Substitutes: Delaware — Riley, Barnes, Edwards and English. West Chester—Turner, Preston and Reed.

Notes From Nolde

Freshman Hockey

Upperclassmen, beware!! Remember, next week is hockey week. Freshmen play Sophomores on the 31st, and the winner of this match will play the Seniors on the 1st. If you upperclassmen hope to win, you had better get out there and bat the ball around—every Tuesday and Thursday at 4:15.

The Freshmen have a team that looks quite promising. Jean Cameron, a Harter Hallette, was chosen their captain last week. Her quickness and excellent stick work proves the Freshmen's choice was a wise one. As yet, she has not made up a definite team. Nan Fouracre, Shirley Taylor, Jane Warren, Helen Tierney, Pat Murphy, Frances Sutherland, Pat Pardee, Lois Weber, Irene Short,

Martie Yerkes, Sally Wooleyhan, Jean Tatnall and Jean Cameron are the headliners of the girls who have come out for W. A. A. hockey. Incidentally, they really have put the upperclassmen to shame. Their average turn out is 22 to the upperclassmen's possible 14. How about having a little competition next week?

Plunge Hour

Want to be an aquabelle? Come out every Thursday night for Plunge Hour from 8:00 to 8:30. We are now going to have recorded music to swim to. This is your chance to learn to cut a wave.

Soccer

Both Johns-Hopkins games have been moved back one day. They will now be played on Thursday.

Birthplace of 50,000 RADARS

TWO years before Pearl Harbor the Government asked Bell Telephone Laboratories to help perfect radar as a military instrument. The Bell System, through the Western Electric Company, its manufacturing branch, became the nation's largest supplier of radar systems.

Bell scientists designed and developed many different types of radars—each for a specific job. One particular type was standard for B-29s in the Pacific for navigation, target location and high altitude bombing. Another directed all Navy guns over five inches.

This is not surprising, for radar development and production stem from the same roots that produced and continue to nourish this country's telephone system.

WARNER WHIRL

Evidently, sophomore gym is a very dangerous course. So be ye warned, all ye Freshmen. Last week's casualty was Swain and this week Armentrout; LeFevre and Blake made the sacrifice. Out of approximately fourteen seniors taking it, the net result is one very black eye (Blake), one fractured ankle (Swain), and one dislocated rib (Armentrout). The turnover is terrific!

Orchids to Ginny Smith . . . and I do mean it literally. Saturday night four of the most beautiful orchids arrived on the scene, white ones at that! She says they are from her aunt. What I wouldn't give to have an aunt like that!

Suddenly the college seems to have turned into a baby tending agency. Saturday night Jenny took care of two nineteen-month olds after a hurry call to the dean from the frantic mama.

New Cast's Newscast

Anyone who so desires may have a cool bath merely by serenading the men at Brown Hall. Ask Caroline Buell who was the unfortunate victim of a bucket of water aimed at the freshmen girls.

Muriel Bear did some outside work for Biology in Affairs of the heart with a certain young man named Pres. She claims that she "only writes to him," but we're inclined to be skeptical.

Burford completely disobeyed her own happy motto, "Keep Smiling," by wearing a lost sheep expression after the departure of Walt. Hereafter, Burf, remember the doctor's orders by sticking to that motto.

And speaking of doctors—the latest fugitives from a med school are Diedrick and Robie, who attempted several operations with a biology instrument set. Luckily, the patients survived!

In order to brighten Sunday night, Mary Palmer and her chorus line did a conga up one hall and down the other. Mary was attired in red woolen pajamas which were loud enough to announce her arrival ten minutes beforehand.

"Scuttlebut"

After a week in which we permitted the editor to recover from the many comments she received about our column, we now resume "Scuttlebut."

We were all sorry to hear about Bob Campbell ruining his ankle for the football season. However, this mishap will give the females on campus a better opportunity to know him. Remember, girls, he's available for all bridge games, but not dances at present—call Newark 2963 for dates.

Advertisement—"The Behringer-Riggin Date Bureau" is now in operation for the convenience of the students. Call Newark 2962 and they will give their personal attention to your particular case. Please note—Sussex Sophs.

It seems that Bobbie Kirk has temporarily stopped her flying lessons. Apparently, she feared a crack up when it came to her sixth lesson—upside down flying.

The faux pas of the week was made by Bill Moffet who mentioned that he didn't feel so out of place now that there were some freshmen of his age on campus. However, those men who were overseas fighting for three years let his remark slide by without loosening a few of his molars. Jim, you and Al have more self-control than we.

It appears as though the frustrated female sophomores are really taking their troubles out on the poor freshmen. Their nonsense back-fired the other evening, much to the freshmen's delight, when a certain sophomore received an unexpected bath right outside of Brown Hall—be careful, girls, Brown Hall now contains a couple of ex-bombardiers.

Note to freshmen! When it rains, be careful whose umbrella you crowd under. One of your class almost made the mistake of inviting himself under that of Dr. Crawford—fellows, she is not a co-ed but the Dean of Women.

Sussex Scandals

Well, what d'ya know—Sussex has done nothing spectacular or shocking, amazing or amusing this week! With that as more than ample warning, (if you're still reading, brave soul) we take the liberty of enumerating a few glorified tidbits from THE dorm; i.e., Sussex.

Friday and Saturday nights saw the dorm as empty as if someone had sounded the fire alarm and announced the presence of an unescorted male within sprinting distance of here. It was the football game which claimed our attention, and incidentally, Onita Tawes' voice. Epitaph: She gave her dearest possession for the Cause. Not to be outdone, Henri Miller donated her energy and a huge cow-bell to support the cheerleaders, while McKinstry's Taxi Service to the game proved quite satisfactory. (Phone 2913, daily except weekdays.)

Commuters' Communique

Marge Meeley received a surprise telephone call last Wednesday evening from Lee announcing his arrival at Camp Kilmer. She was busy with homework—homeplanning! After seeing him this week-end, Marge is all in a dither about this and that, and who would blame her?

When one of the cooking classes decided to cycle out to White Clay Creek for an outdoor picnic last week, Dorothy Jaworowski had a premonition of disaster. She had not been on a bicycle in years and was sure she would take lots of tumbles. Dorothy made out fine with the bike, but slipped on a rock and sprained her knee. Although the injury was not serious, it did keep her home from the West Chester game, much to her chagrin, huh Dot?

Over the week-end several of the Commuters had a very busy time. Friday night they wore out their tonsils at the game, then on Saturday night, wore out their feet at the dance.

HARTER HALL NEWS

Although Harter Hall had to be up at 6:00 A. M. every morning this week for calisthenics, it was well represented at the Fall Hop. Sights of the week: Maj. Fothergill's collection of rags and Sally Wooleyhan's flashy ensemble. Question of the week: Who is Jamie's Mr. X?

There will be a Harter Hall "at home" next Sunday afternoon between 3:00 and 5:30. The faculty and freshman women student residents of Harter Hall will be "at home" to members of the Faculty and their wives, to parents of Harter Hall students, and to invited guests among the Alumnae. The other women students of the University are especially invited to call in the evening between 5:30 and 7:30.
