PRICE FIVE CENTS

BATTERY 'C' TO JOIN IN RECRUITING DRIVE SOON

Campaign Will Be On National Scale; State To Strive For 700

Newark's Battery "C," Delaware National Guard, will join with guard units throughout the country in a big enlistment campaign opening September 16.

Some seven hundred new recruits are being sought for the state organization. Enlisted men will compete for attractive awards in the drive to enroll more members.

The state winner in the contest will be a guest of the War Department in Washington, D. C., including a trip to the Secretary of War Robert H. Patterson and members of Congress. He will also be taken to the Navy football game on November 23.

The Delaware organization, in addition to seeking inexperienced recruits, is seeking specialists, who also served World War II veterans in their special wartime grade.

The national goal for the drive, which ends November 16, will be over one thousand men.

A colorful parade, including over 200 vehicles and big guns, will mark the opening of the state campaign in Wilmington. Addresses by Governor Walter Bacon and other state dignitaries will feature the ceremonies at City Square. The march will start at 4 p. m., forming at Fourth and Main Streets.

Men between the ages of 18 and 35 may enlist in the guard now and participate in the contest.

FEDERAL TAX RECEIPTS IN DEL. DECLINE

Returns Of
$323,558,135
Are 33 Pct. Drop

For the second successive year Federal tax collections in Delaware have declined. The total receipts in the state for this fiscal year ending June 30 were $323,558,135. The decline in returns is 33 per cent since 1945.

The Bureau of Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C., which announced the figures, reported a 19.7 per cent drop in the Delaware collections compared with 1946 fiscal year and that collections in 1946 were 13.6 below those of the previous fiscal year.

At the same time, tax collections from corporations in the state increased 30.3 per cent this year over 1946 figures, with $131,313,368.55 received in corporation taxes to yield approximately $31,000,000 more than last year.

Individual tax collections increased 10 per cent over the 1946 figures to a total of $33,702,632.67. A marked decline of 23.2 per cent in income tax was noted in Delaware tax collections, however, which internal revenue bureau officials said indicated an almost complete disappearance of income tax during the war years.

There was a greater decline of 57.9 per cent in taxes reported for miscellaneous revenue collected from Delaware, which included excess profits taxes.

A drop from $174,562,928.34 at the end of 1946 to $73,517,549.09 at the end of the 1947 fiscal year in miscellaneous internal revenue collected from Delaware was largely brought about, officials said, by the ending of excess profits taxes last year.

Activities suggested include a tractor maintenance demonstration, clothing demonstration contest, style review, dairy show, soil conservation exhibit, better methods demonstration, a baby beef show, and an auction.

Exhibits of 4-H projects undertaken by boys and girls this year will be a high spot of the day. Prizes and ribbons will be awarded for the best entries in each class.

STATE AUTO INSPECTIONS ARE OPENED

Evening Hours
Scheduled Two Nights Weekly

Only 100 car owners turned up Tuesday night for the first evening inspection of the State Motor Vehicle Department in Wilmington.

Evening hours have been included in the new schedule as a convenience to motorists whose business hours conflict with the daytime inspections.

The offices at Eighth Street and Bancroft Parkway will be open Tuesday and Thursday evenings until 8:30 o'clock, throughout September, Frank L. Reed, motor vehicle commissioner, said.

Approximately 200 cars can be handled during these evening hours, he said, and expressed the belief that motorists in large numbers will take advantage of the new schedule once they become acquainted with it.

About seventy-five per cent of the cars examined Tuesday night passed the test, while 25 per cent were rejected for minor flaws.

He said that approximately 9,000 cars in New Castle County with tags expiring Sept. 30 remain to be inspected. This is two-thirds of the total number of uninspected cars in the state with tags expiring Sept. 30, he said.

Mr. Reed said his staff will be kept busy for the remainder of the month, and he estimated the force can inspect and re-register about 500 cars a day.

SANITARY MEASURES ENFORCED BY TOWN

Sewer Order
Issued; Drive
Aims To Curb
Old Offenses

Residents with property along a sanitary sewer line who have not connected with the system are required to do so within thirty days, according to an order issued this week by the Town Council.

The step was taken as a phase of the town's current health drive, which aims at cleaning up a number of unsanitary conditions of long standing in the community, all potential menaces to public health.

Residents failing to comply with the order will be issued warrants and fined, authorities said. No arrests were made this week, although eight warrants against violators were signed the previous week.

Daily inspections of properties about which complaints have been received are being made by local health officers, headed by Dr. John R. Downes. Members of the Town Council and the local police are aiding with the check-ups.

Officials are also pushing a general clean-up campaign against waste collections, rubbish piles, and other offensive and noxious conditions, which violate health statutes.

Dr. Downes, head of the board of health here, says the unsanitary conditions now under attack have prevailed here for some time and he has long urged that measures against them be taken.

Another phase of the campaign the past week was a survey of the prevalence of the common fly in this community. The inspection was conducted for several days by agents of the U. S. Public Health Service.

POSTOFFICE THEFT STILL PROBED HERE

Burglars Get Only $2 And Fountain Pen

Although state and federal authorities are working with local police in following every available clue, no new developments have been reported thus far in the ransacking of the Newark Postoffice last Thursday evening, according to Police Chief William Cunningham.

So far as is known the thieves' total haul was two dollars and a fountain pen. About one hundred opened letters were found littering the floor but the contents of these have been accounted for, Cunningham said.

The burglars apparently camped for some time in the postal building, rifling drawers and cabinets and leaving the place a scene of devastation. Most valuables, such as postal receipts, stamps and savings bonds, had been placed in a vault, which the intruders tampered with but failed to open.

Clifford L. Gregson, janitor, and Roland Gregson, a mail messenger, discovered the entry when they reported for work early Thursday morning.

Despite the tangled mass of opened mail, most of it was sorted and delivered by late afternoon, according to Postmaster C. E. Rittenhouse, who placed an extra staff of workers on the task of sorting out the confusion.

Investigators said the entry was probably made sometime after midnight, while the Newark police department's patrol car was patrolling another section of the town. Although a light is left burning throughout the night, the investigators said, the thieves would have been well hidden from the view of anyone looking through the windows of the postoffice by the outside counters and the sorting tables on the mailroom floor.

RED CROSS SEWERS TO START FALL WORK TUES.

Rooms In New Century Will Be Open Every
Tues. At 10 A. M.

The Red Cross volunteer sewing rooms will open a regular fall schedule next Tuesday, Mrs. John Pie, sewing chairman, announced this week.

The work rooms will be open every Tuesday thereafter in the Newark New Century Club Building. Hours will be from 10 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. Coffee and dessert will be served at noon by the cafeteria committee.

Veteran sewers as well as newcomers wishing to join the program are urged to be on hand for the opening session Tuesday.

The volunteers will work on a variety of garments, the majority of which will be shipped to needy areas overseas. The need for clothes for the coming winter is still great in war devastated areas, it was said, and no more direct and valuable contribution can be made by individuals to the post-war rehabilitation of Europe than through the Red Cross sewing program.

Red Cross sewers, who have been working on garments in their homes while the rooms were closed during the summer, are urged to get in touch with Mrs. Pie as soon as possible. The phone number is 8975.

H. PALMER RITES HELD ON MONDAY

Services for Hoke S. Palmer, 53, who died Saturday at his home in Glasgow, were held Monday at the Pencader Presbyterian Church with the Rev. G. Ashworth Burslem officiating.

Mr. Palmer, who was former poultry extension specialist at the University of Delaware, had been in poor health for the past two years.

Born in Virginia, the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Palmer, of Gate City, Mr. Palmer had spent most of his life in Delaware. He was graduated from Cornell University where he specialized in agriculture and in 1925 joined the teaching staff at Delaware as poultry extension specialist. During his 11 years at the University of Delaware he did much pioneer work in developing state-wide interest in the poultry industry.

Mr. Palmer had been selected by the Board of Trustees of the university to formulate a course of study in poultry husbandry when ill health forced him to resign. Since then he had devoted his time and training to the development of a large personal dairy business.

Surviving in addition to his parents are his wife, Mamie H. Palmer; a son, Danny, a brother, Charlie of Miami, Fla., and four sisters, Miss Elsie Palmer of New York City, Mrs. L. T. Tate of Gate City, Va., Mrs. Maxim DeCain of Freeport, L. I., and Mrs. Sterlton Shields of West Hemstead, L. I.

PUPILS HERE START HALF DAY CLASSES ON SCHEDULE

Renovated Buildings Are In Readiness
For New Term

Approximately 1350 Newark school pupils trooped back to their classrooms and books yesterday to be greeted by completely cleaned and renovated school buildings.

Classrooms had been thoroughly scrubbed, desks and floors varnished and corridors painted. All minor repairs and maintenance needs had been attended to, even to fixing faulty door-knobs and defective windows.

A full staff of teachers greeted Superintendent Wilmer E. Shue at the general faculty meeting on Tuesday morning to consider plans for the coming year. Separate sessions for elementary and high school instructors followed in order to review specific programs.

Final vacancy on the faculty was filled with the appointment of Esther M. Fenton as elementary music supervisor succeeding Margaret Fitzsimmons who resigned late in August in order to accept a position in Berkeley, California. Miss Fenton, a graduate of West Chester State Teachers College, has had 16 years teaching experience.

Although the wide-scale delayed repair program began this summer at the Newark Schools is now only fifty per cent complete, the work currently underway will not interfere with the operation of the schools, Supt. Shue said this week.

Painters are still working on the exterior of the main building, and the weatherproofing of the gymnasium is about to begin. Still unfinished in the $12,500 project is the amending of lanes and driveways and the installation of a new st. burner.

SWEET CORN FIELD DAY TO BE HELD

Growers Meet Tomorrow At Middletown

A Field Day for hybrid sweet corn growers will be held on the farm of Arthur Evans, near Middletown, tomorrow, beginning at 2 p. m. It has been announced by Edward H. Schaeffer, New Castle County Agricultural Agent.

All sweet corn growers in New Castle County are urged to attend this event, which will feature demonstration plots of the hybrids most suited to this area in relation to maturity and yield per acre and quality of crop.

The demonstration consists of nine plots, each covering 2-3 acres, grown by George Crossland, who is giving the Evans farm. Visitors may observe several varieties of hybrid corn, including three plantings of Golden Cross Bantam, and one planting of the following: Deepcut, Tendermost, Golden Grain, Tendermost, V. F. 45, and Victory Golden.

A special program will include an examination of the hybrid plots by E. J. Bahn, Assistant Professor of Horticulture, University of Delaware; a talk on sweet corn insects and their control, by Dr. L. A. Stearns, extension entomologist, University of Delaware; and a discussion of the general aspects of the sweet corn situation, by John Skinner, secretary of the Tri-State Growers Association, Easton, Md.

Growers will have an opportunity to watch a mechanical sweet corn harvester in action, harvesting the demonstration plots. There will also be a contest to estimate the yields of the plots with prizes to be awarded for the closest estimates.

New Castle County is proud of its work in the production of sweet corn, and it is the aim of the Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station, working through the county Agricultural Agent and cooperating growers and canners, to introduce better hybrid sweet corn in this county and to produce a grain of better quality in greater quantity, with stalks that will withstand heavy storm.

5:00 A. M., Tuesday, September 2—If we had a conscience, we'd be sorely tempted to place the blame thereon for our restlessness or inability to woe morpheus in our habitual manner this night . . . or morning as it is now.

But, with no conscience and no material worries to blame it on, we're at loss to understand why it is that we have just passed one of the most sleepless and inexcusably annoying nights within our recent memory. Perhaps it's just plain cussedness catching up with us but whatever it is, or was, it's a miserable experience which we won't welcome again soon although it did give us an excuse for prowling and peeping at the ungodly hour of four o'clock in the morning.

So as not to get the cart before the horse, we'll start at the beginning when we retired at about our usual bedtime, read a while and turned out the light all in readiness to catch up with much needed rest after 32 holes of Labor Day golf.

When we didn't immediately fall asleep we thought it was the pangs of hunger preying on us. However, when we heard the clock strike one, then half-past, the situation was passed being amusing. When the clock struck two and again half-past we knew something was going to have to be done.

But, by then thoroughly disgusted with ourselves, we determined to give it another try when we began to feel imaginary things crawling on us. The more we scratched, the worse it became and the more we rolled the more we tossed . . . and then came the brief but climatic thunder shower accompanied by lightning and the patter of rain which only served to further accentuate our wakefulness as it poured through the window.

As our firehouse mantel clock bonged, one, two, three, our usual Milwaukee disposition blew the top and we announced that we were going to get something to eat. Receiving no encouragement, nor assistance, from the occupant of our other Hollywood bed (we'll tell you about that some other time) we stumbled into the kitchen and made our own breakfast consisting of scrambled eggs, sausage, toast and hot chocolate . . . all of which were thoroughly enjoyed except the eggs and for some reason or other they didn't turn out so good . . . you know, greasy and black after being fried in the sausage grease.

With our stomach full, the furthest thought from our mind was going back to bed so we decided to take a ride in the rain and see what goes on in Newark when all honest people are supposed to be in bed . . . and we found them just that.

According to our log, we started on our journey at 3:51 A. M., drove up the main stem and saw a lone car with Pennsylvania license parked unattended across from the Academy Restaurant—a bicycle standing on the sidewalk in front of Rhodes Drug Store and a couple of sleepy looking youngsters walking in front of the Deer Park.

Continuing our uneventful tour we noticed: the lights switch on at the B. & O. Station for the four o'clock mail train; the Sunbeam Bread truck unloading in front of Cornog's; a sole car parked in the Continental parking lot; all quiet out East Main Street to Leak's Garage.

A turn through George Read Village brought nothing more interesting than interior lights burning in four houses with a number of outside lights illuminating the identifying numbers; Doc Johnson's place all dark which we hope meant the good man was getting his shut-eye; nary a customer in the town parking lot; the Flower Hospital, Quality Hill and Nottingham Manor sections safely tucked in.

Coming down Quality Hill we were suspiciously trailed by another car until we hesitated at the railroad track to let it pass and observed that it was only an innocent looking coupe bearing Maryland license; H. Rowland Gibson turned up at the B. & O. to pick up the mail then which was 4:43 and we decided that Newark, that early in the morning, was thoroughly respectable and came to our inner sanctum to write this before it turned cold (and sour) on us . . . so now you're stuck with it.

We wouldn't want to be in the shoes of those guilty of opening hundreds of pieces of mail at the local post-office if and when they are apprehended. Foolin' with Uncle Sam isn't often funny and never profitable.

A pair of glasses lost on the golf course Saturday were found on the seventh fairway Tuesday—still intact and undamaged.

Much as we approve of the swimming pool and fifteen sessions sponsored by the recreation association, we're glad this year to see them come to a close on account of the polo threat.

If you haven't paid your county taxes, deputy collectors will be at the Farmer's Trust Company today and at the Newark Trust Company on Monday.

The two aforementioned banks, which were closed on Saturdays during the summer months, liked it so well that they are continuing that policy indefinitely.

Dean George L. Schuster is a grand-pappy.

HENS OPEN GRID DRILLS; 51 CANDIDATES REPORT TO COACH MURRAY AND STAFF

Freshmen Ineligible For First Time At Delaware; Few Additions To Squad Are Likely; Made Up Of Holdovers From 1946 Combination

Fifty-three candidates reported to Coach William D. Murray of the University of Delaware on Monday for the first drills of the 1947 football campaign.

Included were eight ends, 11 tackles, nine guards, six centers, and 19 backs—mostly holdovers from 1946, when 10 victories increased the Blue Hens' undefeated string to 31 over a four-season span.

Few additions to this squad are likely, since for the first time at Delaware, freshmen will be ineligible for varsity competition.

A freshman team, coached by Martin T. Pierson, will be sponsored by the university this fall.

The 1947 schedule lists eight opponents, opening Saturday night, Sept. 27, at Wilmington Park against Pennsylvania Military College. New opponents will include University of Maryland, at College Park, Friday night, Oct. 3, and Washington and Lee, Nov. 22 at Wilmington Park. Hold-over opponents are: Oct. 11, Bucknell at Lewisburg; Oct. 25, Gettysburg at Wilmington; Nov. 1, Franklin & Marshall at Wilmington; Nov. 8, Western Maryland at Wilmington; Nov. 15, Muhlenberg at Bethlehem. The clash with the Mules was shifted from Allentown, site of Muhlenberg, to Bethlehem because of a larger seating accommodations. All home games will be played at Wilmington Park, and none at Frazer Field in Newark.

NEWARK IS NOW ONE UP ON HAGLEY

County League Title Series To Be Played Here

After handing Hagley a decisive 7-2 setback Tuesday night here in the opening game of the title play-offs in the New Castle County League, the locals will be gunning for their second win in the best three-out-of-five series in a game tonight on the Continental Field. The contest will get underway at 5:45 p. m.

All games in the fight for the circuit crown will be played here. The third is scheduled for Saturday.

In the opening of the series last week, the teams battled to a tie, last extending the series another game. Newark's victory Tuesday night was the first for either team.

Newark's second inning outburst which garnered three runs was enough, as it later proved, to win the game. But the locals went on to pile up two runs in the fourth and two more in the fifth. Hagley was held scoreless until the third.

Hen Cagers Schedule Game In Detroit With Lawrence

The University of Delaware will travel more than 700 miles to Detroit for a basketball game on Dec. 31 with Lawrence Tech.

Delaware will play Lawrence Tech in the big Coliseum of the Michigan State Fair Grounds. The team will be invited to a large New Year's Eve dance to be held by the Lawrence Tech Student Council following the game.

It will be Delaware's first basketball appearance in Detroit.

SEASON ON WATERFOWL IS REDUCED BY FEDERAL RULE; AVERAGE IS 30 TO 35 DAYS

Delaware Season On Coot And Waterfowl Is Divided; First Period Scheduled For October 21 To November 1; Second From December 2 To 13; Warden Announces

The federal government has set an average of 30 days in the East and 35 in central and western states on the open season for wild duck. This is a restriction over last year when the average season was 45 days. In 1945 it was 80.

The bag limit has also been reduced, due to the decline in waterfowl population and poor breeding conditions along migratory routes.

This year's bag limit on ducks was set at four, as compared with seven last year and 10 in 1945. The limit on the number of ducks a hunter may have in possession was set at eight, compared with 14 last year and 20 the year before.

Shooting hours generally fall within the period of sunrise to sunset with some specific exceptions for certain types of fowl.

Opening dates vary according to states. The Fish and Wildlife Service states that the states, which have the option of splitting their season, have already decided this matter individually.

However, the choice of a split season reduces the number of days of shooting, to offset the always heavy kills on the opening day of both segments of a split season. For instance a state with a 30-day straight season could have but two 12-day split seasons.

(Waterfowl and coot hunters will have to plan their Delaware season in two "shifts" this fall.

Frank A. Lawson, chief game warden of Delaware, announced recently that the state's season on waterfowl and coot has been split the first opening on Oct. 21 and closing Nov. 1 and the second running from Dec. 2 to 13. The season also is shorter than in the past, Warden Lawson said.

There will be no change in the woodcock or dove season here, he said.

The shorter season allowed in the east was explained on the grounds that breeding conditions were poorer in the areas from which its migratory wildfowl fly south.

The current regulations, issued by President Truman, are reminiscent of the big duck depression of the mid-30's. They also cover various other wildfowl.

The regulations are intended to prevent the disappearance of wild fowl, such as happened to the once prolific passenger pigeon.

A January estimate put the waterfowl population at 54,000,000, a decline of 26,000,000 from the 1946 estimate.

The 1943 estimate was 126,000,000. This has been reduced, its part because of hunters returning from the war and because of an easing of the wartime shortage of ammunition and other hunting equipment. Hunting license sales have boomed in recent years.

The open seasons on waterfowl and coot—except for wood ducks, snow geese, and brant in Delaware and adjoining states; and excluding Ross geese and swans—are as follows:

Virginia—Dec. 8 to Jan. 6, 1948.
New Jersey—Nov. 18 to Dec. 17.
Delaware and New York, including Long Island—Oct. 21 to Nov. 1 and Dec. 2 to Dec. 13.

Pennsylvania—Oct. 21 to Nov. 11.
Maryland—Nov. 4 to Nov. 1 and Dec. 23 to Jan. 3.

Rails and gallinules (except coot) may be taken from Sept. 1 to Nov. 30 inclusive, except as follows:

Maryland, Sept. 1 to 30.

New York, including Long Island, Oct. 21 to Nov. 1 and Dec. 2 to Dec. 11.

On woodcock, the open seasons are established as follows:

Delaware and Maryland, Nov. 18 to Nov. 29.

New Jersey, Oct. 20 to Nov. 3.

Pennsylvania, Oct. 10 to 24.

"YOU BET!
IT'S THE BEST BETHOLINE EVER"

and HERE'S WHY...

Chief chemist Gustav Bornscheuer, in an official motor fuel analysis of improved Betholine, says:

"This is the best Betholine we have ever made. During the war several new types of compounds were used in making 100 Octane aviation fuel. The exclusive Betho-line formula contains a large proportion of these compounds. Improved Betholine has exceptional starting and accelerating qualities, a low gravity and a higher octane value than any Betholine ever produced. It ranks first among motor fuels in this territory."

A great PREMIUM motor fuel—now better than ever. PROVE IT.
Check the extra mileage, the extra antiknock protection. Feel the extra power, extra pep, extra smoothness. It's economical to buy the best, and with motor fuels that means improved Betholine.

FARM-HOME SHOW FRIDAY

Miss Audrey Goodling, home economics director of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation, will be the featured demonstrator at the Electric Home Appliance and Farm Equipment Exhibit to be held in Townsend on Monday to Wednesday, inclusive, and at Delaware City on September 12.

The demonstration will start at 7:30 p. m. as a part of the daily shows opening at noon and including other informative exhibits. Movies and door prizes will also be offered.

Some of the new labor-saving farm-home appliances will be on display with the Newark Farm and Home Supply cooperating in the program.

A special feature will be the Better Methods contest staged for 4H Club members and sponsored by Westinghouse.

The Newark Farm and Home Supply invites those in this area who are interested to attend the exhibition.

FARM TOUR WEDNESDAY

Next Wednesday, at 9:30 a. m., at the District Soil Conservation Office in Newark, a tour of nearby farms will be held as a feature of the F. F. A. and 4-H Soil Conservation Contests being sponsored in this county by the Rural New Castle Bankers' Association and the County Soil Conservation District Supervisors, according to Mr. Sherman E. Webb, chairman.

All Soil Conservation Contest members, leaders and teachers, their parents and the general public are invited. Conservation practices established will be explained and shown to the group by contest members Philip Pierson and Raymond Lamborn of Hockessin, William Woodward, Centerville Road, Steven Barczewski, Glasgow, and Boyd Cook, near Summit Bridge. The tour members plan to return to Newark for lunch and have the tour completed by 4 p. m.

These contests have been made possible through the interest and support of the Rural New Castle Bankers' Group, and has received unusual participation from the county farm youth.

MOTORISTS ARE WARNED

"School's open—take it easy!" This warning is given to Delaware motorists this week by the American Automobile Association and the Delaware Safety Council.

Lloyd R. Lewis, manager of the local Automobile Club, said that traffic accidents involving school age children have shown an increase during vacation months. He said that American motorists have shown a tendency to relax their vigilance at the wheel with the result that the good safety records which have been established are beginning to show a narrower margin over our blacker years.

Frank J. Harty, president of the Delaware Safety Council, added that the excellent work of school safety patrols and classroom safety instruction cannot be entirely successful in protecting the children of our community unless the motorist gives wholehearted cooperation to our efforts to make Delaware's streets and highways safer for our youngsters. The need for caution while driving is even greater during the school term. Children are ending their vacations and will be using the crosswalks and streets going to and from their schools. So, let a small tot with a first-grade reader under his arm be a human caution sign. Lighten your foot on the accelerator and proceed with extreme care and caution.
