We Extend to You a Very, Very Merry Christmas

LIONS ENTERTAIN SIXTY-TWO BOYS AT CHRISTMAS PARTY

To Be Guests of Louis Handloff at State Theatre

Members of the Newark Lions Club have completed arrangements to give a Christmas party to sixty-two worthy Newark boys tonight at the Deer Park Hotel. This has become a yearly custom with the club and is a very worthwhile project for building future citizenship.

Mr. Louis Handloff, owner and manager of the State Theatre, will entertain the boys immediately after the program, when they will see "This Day and Age."

National Guard Holds Christmas Party

Battery "E," National Guard of Delaware held its Christmas banquet last night.

Among the guests were General Weller E. Stover, Colonel George E. Scholt, commander of the regiment; Major J. M. Barsky, Colonel S. B. I. Dawson, Major John W. Davis, Captain Herman W. Cook and Master Sergeant Frederick L. Manion. Captain Cook acted as toastmaster.

FORD MOTOR EMPLOYEES ENJOY HOLIDAY

The employees of the Fader Motor Co., accompanied by Mr. A. Frank Fader, attended the Ford exhibit in New York last Tuesday; they report having had a royal time. They left by special train in the morning and were met at the station by taxis and taken immediately to the exhibit.

DISTRICT MANAGER DIAMOND STATE TELEPHONE COMPANY

Who has been appointed district manager for the Diamond State Telephone Company, to succeed the late George K. Erb, Mr. Murphy, who is a native of Milford and a graduate of the University of Delaware, has been associated with the telephone business since 1926. He has been manager at Wilmington since 1931. W. Harold Rags, formerly sales manager for the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania in the Main Line District, with headquarters at Ardmore, has been appointed to succeed Mr. Murphy as manager at Wilmington.

MANY INQUIRIES REGARDING WORK ON PUBLIC HIGHWAYS

Because of the many inquiries regarding the securing of work on the public highways, W. W. Mack, chief engineer of the State Highway Department, points out that no workmen are selected by the Department but that all Civil Works Administration projects, the employees must be taken from the State Relief list and are paid directly by the C. W. A. officials who are the same as the Temporary Relief Commission. The Highway Department provides projects by survey and supervises them but makes no selection of laborers and no payments to them. On contract jobs for construction of state roads, the workmen are taken from the Re-Employment list and only those men are used who have first signed up at the local Federal Re-Employment offices located at Wilmington, Dover and Georgetown.

These men are used by contractors who have been awarded the bids by the Highway Department and again the Department itself only uses its regular inspectors. Last week and this week between 1800 and 1900 men are being employed in the State on these different projects despite the fact that usually most of the road building is over until the weather breaks in the Spring.

AUTUMN CROCUS CAST MAKES BIG HIT

One of the largest audiences ever to witness a play in Mitchell Hall saw a very fine performance on Thursday night when the E 52 players presented "Autumn Crocus" under the personal direction of Prof. C. R. Kase. If one were to judge the ability of any of the actors of the play it would be hard to decide which would be awarded the laurels, as it was acted perfectly and Director Kase deserves great credit for this wonderful production.

Is There a Santa Claus?

Thirty-six years ago, or to be exact, on September 21, 1897, there appeared in the New York Sun an editorial from the pen of Francis P. Church, which was a reply to a letter received from a little eight year old girl, Virginia O'Hanlon. "Is There A Santa Claus" is a Newspaper classic, and not only has it been reprinted in the New York Sun every year for thirty-five years, but it has been reprinted repeatedly in thousands of other newspapers throughout the United States in that time. It is doubtful if there is any other single Christmas piece with the possible exception of "The Night Before Christmas," which is so widely known.

We take pleasure in answering at once and thus prominently the communication below, expressing at the same time our great gratification that its faithful author is numbered among the friends of the Sun:

"Dear Editor:

"I am eight years old. Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Papa says, 'If you see it in the Sun it's so.' Please tell me the truth, is there a Santa Claus?"

VIRGINIA O'HANLON.

115 West Ninety-fifth street."

Virginia, your little friends were wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they are men's or children's, are little. In this great universe of ours man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole truth and knowledge.

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy—Alas, how dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginia. There would be no childish faith then, no poetry, no romance, to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment except in sense and light. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

Not believe in Santa Claus? You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas eve to catch Santa Claus, but if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen in the world.

You tear apart a baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love and romance can pass aside that curtain and view and picture the supernatural beauty and glory beyond. Is it real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding.

No Santa Claus! Thank God he lives and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood.

OVER FIVE THOUSAND BOYS ATTENDED NEWARK ACADEMY

More than five thousand boys, many of whom won national and State reputations, attended the Newark (Del.) Academy, which had a noteworthy career as a private school from 1741 until it was absorbed by the public school system in 1898. Almost every old and distinguished family on the Peninsula patronized the Newark institution at some time or another in its 147 years of usefulness, and, in several instances, as many as three generations were represented on its class rolls. Girls were not admitted until the last twenty-five years of its existence.

The names of Bayard, Clayton, Rodney, McKean, Harrington, McLane, Read, Higgins, Gray, Spruance, Black, Causey, Pearce, Groome, Constable, Purnell, Wooten, and Whiteley are among the families inscribed.

The story of the venerable Academy, which still exists as a corporation and owns the old structure now used as the Town Library, has been given new attention through the work of the Centenary Executive Committee of the University of Delaware, which is preparing to observe the one-hundredth anniversary of the University on May 11, 12, and 13, 1934. Newark College, which was succeeded by Delaware College and then by the University, and the direct descendant of Newark Academy. The latter served as the academic department of the college after the merger of 1834, and its history was interwoven with it until the college closed temporarily in 1859.

Thomas Clayton, first Chief Justice of Delaware and a U. S. Senator, was a student at the Academy, as were among other celebrated citizens, the following: Captain, Brevet Major Robert Kirkwood, Delaware's great Revolutionary War hero, who was killed in battle with the Indians in 1791, his thirty-third engagement; Dr. David Ramsey, historian; Dr. Allen McLane, brother of Hon. Louis McLane, of President Jackson's Cabinet; David Davis, Acting Vice-President of the United States during the Arthur administration; Dr. D. Hayes Agnew, the famous surgeon; George Alfred Townsend, "Gath," who wrote "The Entailed Hat" and other novels of the Eastern Shore; Andrew C. Gray, able lawyer and father of the late George Gray, U. S. Senator and Judge; and John W. Houston, Congressman and Delaware State Judge.

The Academy, which was established by Francis Allison, has the unique distinction of having been located in three States. Founded at New London, Chester County, Pa., not far from the Delaware line, it was removed in 1752 to Cecil County, Md., at a point also near the State line. In 1767, the Academy was removed to Newark, where it was chartered by Thomas and Richard Penn in 1769, and became a permanency.

BOY SCOUTS ACTIVE IN "CITIZENSHIP" WORK

Hold Dog Show, Stunt Night and Help With Welfare Work

Troup No. 55, Newark Boy Scouts, held a dog show on Monday evening in their Scout room in the Academy Building. The dogs were judged by the tricks they could perform. First prize was given to "Andy," a Scottie, entered by George Anderson, second prize was awarded "Tags," a poodle, entered by Arthur Eastman, Jr., and third prize was awarded "Linne," a German Shepherd dog, entered by Bill Richardson. The same evening was stunt night and first prize was won by the Blue Hen Patrol and second prize by Flaming Arrow. The judges for both contests were Dr. Downes and Mr. E. L. Richards.

The Boy Scouts will be very busy this coming week-end, as usual they are cooperating with the Welfare Committee in the distribution of toys and baskets. On Saturday morning the baskets will be distributed and on Christmas Eve the toys. The toys were contributed by the Manual Training Department of the High School and the Boy Scouts and dolls were made by the Home Economics Department of the Women's College.

LYNCHING STAINS NATIONAL HONOR, JUDGE NIELDS DECLARES

Lynching was condemned Monday night by Judge Nields in the U. S. District Court as a stain on the honor of the United States.

Judge Nields was addressing a class of 26 aliens about to be admitted to American citizenship.

"If in the years to come," the judge said, "any of you participate in lynching I have no hesitation in declaring that you will violate the oath of allegiance you are about to take. You will betray the flag to which you are about to swear allegiance and you deserve to forfeit the citizenship conferred this night."

"Lynching is a criminal practice peculiar to the United States," Judge Nields continued. "Capturing criminals, taking them from officers of the law or from jails and murdering them without process of law and with perfect impunity is found in no other civilized country. The honor of the United States is stained and her claim to moral leadership is discredited."

"It will be your duty as American citizens to voice your opposition to lynching and thus make your contribution to a sound public opinion."

Reviewing the lynchings in Delaware and Coatesville, Pa., in the years 1903 and 1911 respectively, and referring to the recent lynching in Missouri, Judge Nields gave a list of reasons against it:

"The principal objections to lynching are: (1) lynching is cold-blooded murder; (2) lynching is overthrowing the government particularly that part having to do with the administration of criminal justice; (3) lynching is the reversion of man to beast and a return to the savage practices of mutilating, quartering and disemboweling criminals in the public market place; (4) lynching does not prevent the repetition of the crimes it is intended to punish but causes their repetition by arousing bloodthirsty hate in the hearts of thousands of people. Nothing is more contagious and infectious than the frenzy of a mob."

William J. Holton Receives Service Medal from P. R. R.

William J. Holton, of Newark, a block operator on the Maryland Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, Tuesday was presented with a fifty year gold service button by G. S. West, superintendent, at his office in Wilmington.

Mr. Holton, a native of Fairhill, Cecil County, Maryland, entered the service of the railroad company as a telegraph operator December 15, 1883, at Iron Hill, Md., and was promoted to agent at that point December 1, 1885. On February 24, 1908, he was appointed extra agent and became block operator at Davis Interlocking tower, Newark, June 15, 1913, in which position he has continued for over 20 years and is still in active service at that point. He has served under nine superintendents.

In presenting the medal Mr. West congratulated Mr. Holton on his long and faithful service.

University Officials Ban "Pants" Fight

Because university authorities warned that it must not be held, the annual pants fight between the Sophomore and Freshmen classes of Delaware College, University of Delaware, which for some years marked the calling off of freshmen rules just before the Christmas holidays, was not held Monday night as planned. As the university closed Tuesday afternoon until January 2, the traditional class fight will not be held this college year.

The action calling the fight off was taken by Dean George E. Dutton, acting president of the university in the absence of Dr. Walter Hüllihen and A. G. Wilkinson, business administrator. It is said they called Edwin Thompson, and Thomas Pennock, president of the two classes before them and told them the fight was forbidden. The university authorities have been working on a plan for several years to eliminate all the physical combats between classes and have now practically accomplished that purpose.

The freshmen however, went ahead with their usual bonfire not far from the Women's College to celebrate the calling off of freshmen rules. While the fire was burning the Freshies tossed in their caps, green ties, etc., that they have had to wear up until this time. They snake danced around the blaze.

The sophomores, after being warned by the university authorities, kept out of sight and thereby avoided any fight.

Girl Reserves Present Christmas Basket

Members of the Girls Reserves of Newark, this week, presented a Christmas basket to Miss Alice Leak for their Christmas contribution to the needy.

The members of the Senior Girls Reserves entertained at an "Open House" party recently. This affair was in celebration of the completion of the interior decorating of their room. This has been very effectively decorated by the Junior and Senior members. The Junior members, under the direction of Miss May Kedney, Art Director of the Newark Schools, have painted a jungle scene on the walls and the Senior Girls, with Miss Virginia Shumar directing, refinished the furniture.

To Be Named Director

DR. CHARLES M. WHARTON

Formal announcement of the appointment of Dr. Charles M. Wharton, of the University of Delaware, as director of the Delaware State Recovery Council, is delayed by the Commerce Department until it is ready to make public all State directors, it was said yesterday. It was admitted that Dr. Wharton is slated for the post. He was recommended by Congressman Adams and Democratic State Chairman Biggs.

Special Session of the Legislature

The recent special session of the Legislature, called by Governor Buck to consider and adopt a public works program to give employment in this State, was adjourned by the Governor when it failed to adopt the plan which he and the dominant Republican leaders had agreed upon as their plan, and had also failed to adopt that plan as modified by such concessions as this Republican group was willing to make.

There has been a great deal of criticism of legislators for the failure to create employment. We believe this criticism is misdirected. The obstructing Republican legislators but lent themselves to the behests of their directors. That was their part in the shameful and tragic farce at Dover. The major evil rests squarely upon the dominant Republican group, who—judged by their acts, and their opinions, as expressed by themselves and reported in the press—prepared for, directed, and influenced the special session of the Legislature in the interest FIRST of State Republican party politics and policies as conceived by them, and in the interest of the actual and crucial need of thousands of citizens, SECOND, a weak and random second at best.

What the Democrats might have done had party conditions been reversed and Democrats had seen Republicans cut into their long-guarded preserves at recent elections, we do not know; we are making no case for Democrats as such.

What we do say is, that conditions being what they are, the occasion called plainly and desperately for Statesmanship—not Politics—and we have been able to detect not one element of statesmanship in the handling of the job program on the part of the dominant Republican leaders, nor any indication that they understand the significance of the difference between the operation of a private business and the conduct of a State. Private business is conducted for financial profit. Efficiency is tested by whether it shows a reasonable financial profit on the investment. The government of a State is conducted for the welfare of the people, and the efficiency of its operation is tested by the degree to which it serves the vital welfare of its people, especially in the throes of a crisis like the present. We submit that State ledgers balanced by the misery and deprivation of thousands of men, women, and children, will bring a kind of deficit in the life of this State and of its people that decades of subsequent prosperity cannot overcome. And by all comparative accounts the State of Delaware ranks at the top in chances of financial solvency after adequate and human conditions of employment have been created.

It is with shame for the State and in honesty to the unemployed that we place the blame exactly where it belongs—upon the active State Republican leaders.

And the best Christmas wish we can make these persons, who are kind parents and good friends, and who are providing as they should, happy and festive holidays for those associated with them in the security and comfort of their attractive homes, is the wish that their consciences are not dead, and that they will suffer as they deserve to suffer in their minds and hearts, for their definite part in the hopeless disappointment of thousands of Delaware's unemployed, who, in destitution through no fault of their own, face another Christmas without prospect of a job.

Lynching

Delaware and Delawareans can point with pride to the address of Federal Judge John P. Nields upon admitting twenty-six aliens to American citizenship last Monday night. Judge Nields has unequivocally and fearlessly, in a manner never to be forgotten by these new citizens, condemned lynching. It is contrary to the principles upon which our government is based, against the teachings of our forefathers and might easily become the foundation and spark for rebellion and the breakdown of government.

Coming shortly after the remarkable radio talk by President Roosevelt it would be well for all Delawareans to read and digest both articles and establish in this State a sound public opinion that will forever after condemn and bar lynching. May we suggest that our neighbors on the Eastern Shore, as well as the citizens of other States, would be benefited by adopting the sound principles enunciated by Judge Nields.

MRS. BEACOM FLAYS DELAWARE ASSEMBLY

LADIES, LADIES—If public policies in Delaware were left to women, $50,000 wasted on special session of Legislature would not have happened, assembled clubwomen heard slender, keen-voiced Mrs. William H. Beacom, State Federation president declare this week. Attacking crestfallen solons as "dillydalliers," active club worker fixed no blame, branded fiasco as in defiance of people's will, urged defeat at polls for members of balked session. Quoth she:

"When the Governor adjourned the session the men who had wasted our money, shattered our hopes and defied our wishes went back to their homes with their pay checks and their 10 cent mileage assured to enjoy their Christmas with their families!" "Do you feel that you were represented in this special session of the Legislature? Are you going to continue those men on the public payroll, after the next election?" she asked of the women.

Memorial Services Held at Washington College in Memory of Dr. Titsworth

Impressive memorial services were held Tuesday morning in William Smith Hall, Washington College, for Dr. Paul E. Titsworth, former president of the institution, who died suddenly at his home in Alfred, N. Y., on Sunday morning, December 10. Brief addresses were made before a large audience of students and friends of the deceased by President Gilbert Wilcox Mead, successor of Dr. Titsworth, members of the faculty, student representatives, townspeople, and representatives of the various civic bodies with which Dr. Titsworth was associated during his ten years residence in Chestertown. They spoke of the varied valuable contributions which Dr. Titsworth made to the religious, educational, and civic life of the community, county, and State, as well as expressions of the high esteem in which Dr. Titsworth was held in Chestertown. Musical organizations of the college rendered a program of music.

Supt. Reynolds Gives Pointers on Safe Driving on By-Roads

The unusual slippery condition of the roads last week resulted in a number of accidents to automobiles and causes C. C. Reynolds, Superintendent of State Police, to set out a practical set of rules to prevent skidding which every automobile driver should remember.

Motorists will prevent fatalities, injuries, and car damage if they will stop more lightly on the gas when there is snow or ice on the highways.

Keep in gear. Rear wheels are less likely to skid if they are kept turning by the motor.

Apply brakes gently. Don't apply the brakes to the rear wheels harder than they can take them, or they will slip. A little slip is a young skid.

Don't shift gears unless you must. Trouble may follow if you have to shift gears on a hill and the road is icy.

Put on chains, all around, if it is icy. A pair of chains cost less than a damaged vehicle.

Pay full attention to the business of driving. Handle everything in an easy manner—gas throttle, steering, brakes—no sudden moves if skids are to be avoided.

Last week there were a number of skidding accidents which could have been prevented by more careful driving.

MANY HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES CONTINUE THEIR EDUCATION

Through the principals and superintendents of twenty-five high schools in Delaware, Dr. John Shilling, assistant superintendent in charge of these schools, has determined the whereabouts of the 614 boys and girls who graduated from these schools in June, 1933. It was found that 44 per cent. of the graduates are now continuing their education in colleges or other schools requiring high school graduation. Of this number, 58 are enrolled in the University of Delaware. This number is 9.5 per cent. of the entire number graduated, and 36 per cent. of those who entered colleges this fall. As might be expected, a large number, 38 per cent. were reported as being at home, and perhaps may be classified as unemployed. In this group there were twice as many girls as there were boys.

Similar studies have been made since 1926. At that time the number of students who continued in the higher schools was 59 per cent. of the number graduated. This number increased in 1927 to 65 per cent. and reached the highest point in 1928 when two-thirds of all who graduated went on to other schools. Since 1928 the percentage has been decreasing. In 1929, it was 60 per cent., 1930, 56 per cent.; 1931, 51 per cent., and in 1932, 52 per cent.

During the past eight years 3763 students have been graduated from the high schools of Delaware, exclusive of the City of Wilmington. Of this number, 2104, or 56 per cent., have continued their education by entering colleges, preparatory schools, business colleges, or hospitals for training to become nurses. The fact that so many of our graduates continue their education indicates an interest on their part in obtaining an education higher than that which is now offered in our secondary schools.

"A Mystery for Christmas" Presented at Ebenezer Church

The Ebenezer M. E. Church was filled Sunday evening for the presentation of the play "A Mystery for Christmas" given by the Milford Cross Road members of the local school. The play is based on the style of the Fifteenth Century and the story part was portrayed in pantomime. Miss Helen Martin, county music supervisor directed the production.

The cast comprised "Mary," Mrs. T. O. NEW FORD V-8 FOR 1934
PUT ON DISPLAY

Fader Motor Company Now Demonstrating New Models

The new Ford V-8 for 1934 was put on display last Saturday in more than 7,000 Ford dealerships throughout the United States.

As revealed, at Detroit, by Henry Ford and his son to several score newspaper correspondents, special writers and photographers, the new Ford has greater power, more speed, quicker acceleration, smoother performance, more miles per gallon, especially at higher speeds, and quicker starting in cold weather, plus refined body lines and a new built-in system of clear-vision body ventilation.

The improvements in engine performance are the result of the use of a new dual down-draft carburetor and dual intake manifold which increase the engine's power approximately 12 per cent and provide a remarkable improvement in pickup.

"The new car is the best car the Ford Motor Company ever built," the Ford president said. "Basically, it is the same car as the hundreds of thousands of other Ford V-8s now on the road. It simply incorporates numerous improvements in engine and chassis design, the new body ventilation system and refinement in body styling and appointments which have been brought to a proper stage of development during the past year in our engineering research."

The new Ford ventilation system, which is built into the body, permits clear vision, prevents drafts and provides the desired amount of fresh air in any weather. Individual control is provided for both front and rear side windows.

When ventilation is desired the window glass is raised to the top. Then the handle is given an additional half turn. This slides the glass back horizontally to form a narrow slot between the glass and the frame. Through this slot air is drawn out by the forward motion of the car.

This simple ventilation system maintains a draft-free circulation of air and prevents fogging windshield and windows in cold or stormy weather. Both windshield and cowl ventilator can be opened to supply additional air for warm weather driving.

The distinctive lines of the Ford V-8 have been refined in the 1934 car by a newly-designed radiator shell, grille and other features. Interiors reveal new tufted upholstery and garish moldings, a cove-type head lining, new instrument panel, arm rests, door pulls and hardware. Sun visors are provided in all closed cars, those in the de luxe cars being of swivel type to prevent glare both from the front and sides.

Fenders on de luxe cars now are in color to harmonize with the body colors. Wheel colors are optional. A new enamel finish is used in all bodies. This has greater wearing qualities, a more enduring lustre and requires only washing to restore its brilliance. Bodies are of steel, electrically welded one-piece construction.

Eleven body types are available. Included are both standard and de luxe types of the Tudor, Fordor, 5-window coupe; the de luxe roadster, phaeton and 3-window coupe, as well as the cabriolet and victoria. The victoria body has been newly designed, to afford additional passenger room. A large luggage compartment is provided in the rear.

All body types are equipped with safety glass windshields, while the de luxe body types are fitted with safety glass throughout.

Because of the increase in engine power over the whole speed range, an appreciable increase in top speed is attained. The flexibility of the car—its ability to pick up speed quickly in traffic or to cruise in crowded streets without shifting out of high gear—also has been materially improved. The increase in top speed, without sacrifice of safety, permits driving at relatively high speeds with increased safety and without engine strain.

The engine is fitted with aluminum cylinder heads, heat resisting high chrome high tungsten steel exhaust valve inserts and an entirely new cast alloy steel crankshaft which engineers rate as a marked improvement over the forged steel member formerly used. The aluminum cylinder heads permit the use of high compression, giving greater power, without requiring the use of premium fuels of high anti-knock quality. The valve inserts, together with the special heat resisting chrome nickel alloy valves, maintain the engine's original high efficiency over long periods.

The new carburetion system and other engine refinements not only give better gasoline mileage and oil economy but also insure smoother operation at all speeds and particularly at normal driving speeds. With the new carburetor is used a dual intake manifold which distributes the vaporized gasoline equally to each cylinder, very materially improving engine performance and providing quicker starting in cold weather. Gasoline economy is increased two or three miles per gallon. Test runs show that the new engine will give 20 miles per gallon at 45 miles an hour.

Another important engine improvement is the use of water line thermostats. These are automatic mechanical valves which prevent the warm water in the engine from passing out into the cooling radiator until the proper temperature is reached for maximum operating efficiency. In cold weather, the thermostats enable the engine to warm up quickly and maintain an efficient running temperature.

Ford spring design takes advantage of the principle of the transverse spring. It provides the utmost stability and safety, the practical minimum of unsprung weight with the least possible frame distortion. The Ford spring design tends to prevent the body from tilting on uneven roads. Corners can be taken safely at relatively high speeds.

Both front and rear springs are placed crosswise. This transverse design permits free and easy action of all four wheels because the springs are attached to the axles at their outer flexible tips. This type of construction retains the important advantages of the solid axle and yet minimizes road shocks transmitted to the frame and body because the shocks are absorbed first by the most sensitive part of the spring.

The rear spring on the 1934 car has been redesigned to provide smoother riding. Improved double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers which act independently of weather or road surface conditions are used. Seat cushions have deeper, softer springs. New type individual bucket seats are used in the Tudor.

Driving ease also has been increased by the use of a new 15-to-1 steering gear ratio. The frame is of the double X-type, with the X member running to the rear of the frame to give greater strength. Brakes are of the mechanical type with 186 square inches of braking surface. Other features of the chassis are a silent synchronizing transmission, torque tube drive, three-quarter floating rear axle, one-piece welded steel spoke wheels and 17 x 5.50 tires.

The Fader Motor Company has a complete line of the new Fords and are now displaying them.

State Egg Show
In Milford, January

A statement has been issued recently by the Delaware State Poultry Association that the invitation has been accepted from the Delaware Crop Improvement Association to hold a combined farm crop and egg show in the Orange Hall in Milford on January 10, 11 and 12, and plans are being made for an interesting and educational exhibit of these farm commodities.

In addition to H. S. Palmer, extension poultryman of the University of Delaware, who is the secretary-treasurer of the egg show, various committees have been appointed throughout the state to assist in this work, and it is expected that a large exhibit of eggs will be on display at this show.

According to the rules and regulations governing exhibits, an entry in this egg show will consist of one dozen eggs, and each person will be limited to two entries. As no entry fees will be charged exhibitors, poultrymen should make every possible effort to cooperate with the Delaware State Poultry Association by entering their best eggs and thereby help to make this show a success.

A SUGGESTION

Start the New Year right with a telephone on the farm. All year it will serve you faithfully and well. It will help you buy . . . help you sell . . . bring news . . . save trips . . . keep you in touch. . . Regardless of cost, no other Christmas present can bring you more satisfaction than a telephone. It is useful every day; priceless in emergencies!

The farm home especially needs a telephone. Its cost is so low it does not pay to be without one.

1933 Xmas Greetings

A CHRISTMAS FEAST

YOU should always mark Christmas day with a big X—in fact some people actually spell the word Xmas—and make the dinner which you serve to your family and friends a memorable one.

Christmas is the time of the jollity of red, the gaiety of green and the sparkle of silver and gold and glass. So set your table with all these colors, and have the napery spotless and the silverware and glasses polished within an inch of their lives. If you are a believer in moderate drinking, that means that there will probably be several glasses at each place this Christmas and the table will truly look like "old times."

A Suggestion

You know best your own resources—what you have that would look best as a centerpiece and the wonders that you can accomplish with Christmas greens. If you haven't an attractive centerpiece, the usual solution is to trim and set up a small Christmas tree. And it will add to the joy of the meal if you hang on this improvised centerpiece some small additional and unexpected gifts for each one of your guests who thought they got "all that was coming to them" earlier in the day off their Christmas trees. But the decorations are only a small part of a real Christmas dinner. It is the "interior decoration" of food that counts most. So we're going to suggest a bang-up menu with everything in it except the punch and wines which you may not want to use. Here it is:

Whole Pickled Peaches
Assorted Olives
Christmas Fruit Cocktail
Roast Turkey with Bread Stuffing
Giblet Gravy
Whipped Potatoes
Southern Stringless Beans
Baked Squash
Juicy Cranberry Sauce
Dinner Rolls
Christmas Candle Salad
Lemon Sandwiches
Delicious Mince Pie
Stuffed Dates
Salted Nuts
Coffee in Living Room

This menu serves six. The pickled peaches are, of course, canned, and lemon sandwiches consist of white bread spread with lemon butter. Here are the other recipes which you will need:

Fruit and Vegetable

Christmas Fruit Cocktail: Cut the grapefruit from a No. 2 can in pieces, add two-thirds cup diced avocado, two tablespoons chopped Maraschino cherries, or tiny red bottled grapes, and two tablespoons cherry or grape syrup, and chill thoroughly. Serve very cold with a sprig of holly or mistletoe on the plate beside the glass.

Southern Stringless Beans: Drain one No. 2 can of stringless beans and cut each bean in their strips lengthwise, return to bean liquor and cook slowly until liquor has cooked away. Dice two slices of bacon small, and fry, drain and add to beans. Add about one teaspoon bacon fat and season with salt and pepper.

Salad and Dessert

Christmas Candle Salad: Cut tops from six very small tomatoes, or six canned love apples, remove centers, drain well and dust inside with salt. You will need from one-third to one-half a cup of mayonnaise. Mix one-half cup finely chopped celery with half the mayonnaise and one-half cup canned peas with the rest. Choose firm sturdy asparagus tips from a 10½-ounce can, and stand one upright in each tomato candlestick, packing around first with celery, then with peas, to make it steady. Have the green peas on top to show. Put a small piece of pimento on tip of stalk to represent the flame. Place in center of watercourse wreath on salad plates, and serve with dry lemon sandwiches.

Delicious Mince Pie: Line pie pan with pastry, and pour in half the heated contents of a 1-pound can of mince meat. Slice two bananas and spread over next, sprinkle with one-fourth cup sugar, and then add the rest of the mince meat. Pour over one-fourth cup canned fruit syrup (from pears, pineapple or apricots), and cover with top crust. Bake thirty minutes in a hot—425 degree—oven. This makes one pie.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson for December 24 A VISION OF WORLD PEACE

LESSON TEXT—Isaiah 11:1-9. GOLDEN TEXT—The earth shall not be destroyed. The earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea. Isaiah 11:9. PRIMARY TOPIC—Peace on Earth. JUNIOR TOPIC—The Prince of Peace. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—What Does Christmas Mean? YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—A Christmas Christmas.

Isiah does not set forth merely an ideal for a world at strife. The fact is revealed that Jesus Christ shall come back to the earth and establish a kingdom, and remove from men's hearts the cause of strife. Instead of a vision of "World Peace," a better statement of the subject would be "The Universal Reign of Jesus Christ."

I. Who is This King? (v. 1). 1. He is the Son of Man. "A child is born" (Isa. 9:6). The one who shall reign over all the world as king is a real human being. The eternal Son of God, incorporated with the human race in order to be its Saviour and Lord, shall come of David's line. 2. He is the Son of God. "A son is given" (Isa. 9:6). As the eternal Son of God he was not "born" but "given." This Son "given" is the "mighty God," the "Everlasting Father." Being such he will take the "government upon his shoulders," that he will assume all authority. He is "wonderful." The world will marvel at him. He is the all-wise "Counselor." Therefore there will be no mistake made in his conduct of the affairs of the kingdom. He is the "Prince of Peace."

II. The King's Qualification (v. 2). The king which the world needs and for which it longs must have super-human wisdom and power. There shall rest upon him: 1. "The spirit of the Lord." 2. "The spirit of wisdom," giving insight into all things, human and divine. 3. "The spirit of understanding," giving him the ability to use that which is highest and best. 4. "The spirit of counsel," enabling him intelligently to plan and administer the affairs of the kingdom. 5. "The spirit of might"—ability to execute his plans. 6. "The spirit of knowledge," enabling him to perceive the will of God in all things. 7. "The fear of the Lord," causing him to be reverential and obedient. 8. The Character of the King's Reign (v. 3-5). 1. "He shall not judge at the sight of his eyes." His knowledge is perfect. None can deceive him. 2. "Not to remove after the hearing of the ear." The word "reproof" means rebuke. His decisions, therefore will be on the basis of fact, not of hearsay. 3. "With righteousness shall he judge the poor." When Christ reigns as king the poor shall get justice. 4. "He shall smite the earth with the rod of his might." By the "earth" is meant the wicked inhabitants. 5. "He shall be girded with righteousness and faithfulness." He is absolutely righteous and will faithfully carry out all his words. 6. The Issue of the King's Reign (v. 6-10). Here is a picture of the glorious golden age of which poets have sung and for which the great and wise men of all ages have longed and looked. There will then be peace both between men and animals. 1. "The wolf shall dwell with the lamb" (v. 6). The word "dwell" suggests intimacy as if the lamb should invite the wolf into its home. 2. "The leopard shall lie down with the kid" (v. 6). 3. "The calf and the young lion and the fatling together" (v. 6). They are as gentle and kind that a little child shall lead them. 4. "The cow and the bear shall feed" (v. 7). 5. "The lion shall eat straw" (v. 7). The lion shall no longer prey upon other animals for food. 6. "The sucking child shall play in the hole of the asp" (v. 8). 7. "The earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord" (v. 9). The issue of this glorious reign shall be the attraction of the Gentile nations (v. 10-12). This is the real purpose of the coming kingdom.

Pieties Comes First No student can afford to say, as one unfortunately did, "I will secure my education first and my religion afterward." Religion is a value so important that it cannot safely be postponed or side-tracked in favor of any other concern.

How Sweet Is Rest! Rest! How sweet the sound! It is melody to my ears! It lies as a reviving cordial at my heart, and from heaven sends forth lively spirits which beat through all the pulses of my soul!—Butler.

"As a Man Thinketh" Out of the heart proceedeth every thought. The mind is the mill by which the dust of the soul is ground. Love thinketh no evil; righteousness doth not meditate upon iniquity.

Delaware Safety Council When cold weather comes and forces people to spend most of their time indoors, accidents follows them right into the home, according to the Delaware Safety Council. Excluding occupational injuries, persons are hurt in summer chiefly on the highways, in sports, and under other outdoor circumstances. As December draws to a close the accidents follow them indoors. The change is a natural one depending largely on the greater number of hours which people spend in their homes as winter closes in. There are, however, many hazards peculiar to cold weather which help to send the home death toll soaring. Chief among these in the hazard of icy steps and stairs. While this is not an indoor danger, it is classified strictly as a home hazard and accounts for large number of home injuries and many fatalities each year. Elderly persons are the most frequent victims and many a broken hip sustained on a slippery step results fatally. While handrails on the front steps may have their disadvantages from an artistic standpoint, they are quite necessary for safety. Sand or ashes sprinkled on the snow and ice would also prevent many falls. Suffocation and asphyxiation increase in the winter months and it is well to remember that homes should be kept well ventilated. Among the chief hazards of the home which exist in summer and winter alike are falls, burns, cuts and scratches, poisons and firearms. The Council recommends a searching examination of the home for accidents hazards at this time of the year. Large numbers of accidents, it is said, would be eliminated by the same kind of safety engineering now common in well managed factories.
