Barbara Martin To Reign As Queen At May Day Festivities Tomorrow

By DOT KAEKS

May Day, the colorful and traditional pageant presented annually by the university women students, will be held on South Campus this Saturday at 2:30 p.m.

The theme of this year's program is centered around excerpts from operettas and musical comedies. Co-chairmen for the ceremonies are Ann Colona and Nancy Goynes; assistant chairman, Trudy Gilgenast; and theme coordinator, Lois Alava.

In season with the festivities from abroad is the annual coronation ceremony of our May Queen. The election of Bobbie Martin for this honor fittingly climaxes her many contributions to campus activities. She has held prominent positions in the S. G. A. In her Junior year she was corresponding secretary and as a senior, she was the Vice-President. She was a cheerleader for four years. In her sophomore year she participated in the sophomore musical and the sophomore store. As a freshman Bobbie was Social Chairman of Hanover Dormitory. This year's queen was also in the Rally Club and participated in W. A. A. activities. A biology major, Bobbie will be an experienced member of the May Court, having participated as an attendant for the past three years.

As in past years, three representatives from each class will join the queen and her maid of honor to form the May Court. Senior Duchess is Marjorie Brennan, our Cherry Blossom Princess this year. Marjorie was also a May Court duchess in her sophomore year. She has served on the Freshman Week Welcoming Committee and Commuters' Committee and was as-

Dr. Sypherd Gives Bible Readings

Many interested persons throughout the state have expressed a desire to receive advanced notices on the subject matter of the weekly readings from the King James Version of the English Bible by Dr. Wilbur Owen Sypherd which are presented over radio station WDEL at 10:15 p.m. on Monday evenings.

This newspaper is happy to make the following schedule available in response to inquiries received from the reading public:

Program No. 4, May 18—The Sacrifice Story of Abraham and Isaac, Moses and the Burning Bush, Moses and the Ten Commandments.

Program No. 5, May 25—Two Stories from the Life of Joshua and the Story of Joel and Sisera.

Program No. 6, June 1—Jephthah and His Daughter and the Adventures of Samson.

Program No. 7, June 8—The First Three Kings of Israel—Saul, David, and Solomon, Part I.

Program No. 8, June 15—The First Three Kings of Israel—Part II.

Program No. 9, June 22—Elijah and Elisha.

Bobby Martin and Lois Alava, May Queen and Maid of Honor respectively in the 1953 University of Delaware May Day.

Czerwinski, Morris, Pedersen Receive Alumni Scholarships

Stanley Czerwinski of 934 Lancaster Avenue, Wilmington, Patrick W. Morris of Seaford, and John G. Pedersen of Delmar have been awarded $300 Alumni Scholarships at the university. The three are juniors on the Newark campus.

The scholarships, named for Dr. Samuel Chiles Mitchell, Dr. W. Owen Sypherd, and Dr. Walter Hullahen, former presidents of the university, have been held by the 1953 winners since their freshman year. Awards are made on the basis of scholastic record, extracurricular activity, and financial need.

Czerwinski, circulation and local ads manager of the Review, has been on the Dean's List since his freshman year. He has been president of the Photography Club and is a member of the Newman Club, Biology Club and soccer team. A student in the School of Arts and Sciences, he plans to study dentistry after graduation.

Morris, an outstanding varsity lacrosse player who was selected for honorable mention on the All American team last year, has also taken part in intramural sports for the past three years. He is a member of the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship and assistant treasurer of Sigma Nu. He is an education major.

Pedersen, also a varsity lacrosse player, has maintained a high scholastic standing as a civil engineering student. He is treasurer of the campus chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers and has worked part-time for the City Engineer of Newark.

Banquet Held May 21 By Review Staff

Dr. Robert Hillyer, noted poet and visiting professor in English, and Bryan Field, vice-president and general manager of Delaware Park, will share the speakers' table at the annual banquet of the Review staff to be held at Schaefer's Restaurant, in Chesapeake City, on the evening of May 21.

Neal Robbins, former editor-in-chief of the Review, will be master of ceremonies of the program, which include the presentation of keys to the 25 staff with two years' service. Public Relations Director Frank Gallegher, Dean John E. Houghton, and faculty advisor George Henry will be among the guests.

Chairman for the banquet program is Sally Schwartz, former associate editor of the Review.

Four All-Time School Records Are Shattered By 1953 Squad

The 1953 Blue Hen track squad, undoubtedly one of the best, and probably the best track and field team to ever represent the Blue and Gold, overcame its final hurdle Tuesday, when it trounced Muhlenberg's Mules 96 1/6 to 26 5/6 to complete its season undefeated. West Chester, Temple, Albright, Lehigh, Johns Hopkins, Swarthmore, Franklin and Marshall, and Muhlenberg all tasted defeat at the hands of Ed Bernauer's and Ken Steers' well coached cindermen.

Led by record smashing performances by Tom Baylis and Bill Reybold, the high flying trackmen of '53 ran Muhlenberg's Mules literally into the ground. Baylis sizzled to a tremendous 49:7 quarter mile while Reybold clipped off the half mile in a sensational 1:56.3. The performances eclipse the records mentioned below. Bill Jones, sensational new sprinter, and Roger "Bo" Fouracre were both double winners in the meet which saw the Mules win but two first places. Jim Palumbo, Steve Butcher, Ron Watson and Joe Miller all turned in impressive wins in their specialties. Miller just missing the school record in the pole vault while Jones, the lanky farmer from Pottsville, Pa., missed the 220 record by a tenth of a second doing it in 22.1. The Hen Mile Relay team also beat their own record, but it was unofficial because of no competition. Jim Holcomb again pushed Baylis as he did in his first record breaking performance; Holcomb also broke Baylis's previous 50:3 record doing 50:2.

Coach Bernauer attributes the undefeated season to hard work, real heart, and the undeniable desire of the boys to make the possibility of going undefeated come true.

Individual performers, as well as all around team depth, gave color to the season. Four all-time school records, of which three had stood over fifteen years, were broken. The record shatterers were muscular Steve Butcher who putted the shot 44'5", versatile Bill Reybold who covered the half mile in a torrid 1:57, lanky Tom Baylis who set the 440 yd. mark with a 50:5, and the mile relay team of Jimmy Flynn, Jim Holcomb, Baylis, and Reybold which did a commendable 8:27:6 at the Penn Relays. It's curious to note that Jim Holcomb, hard-working Purple Heart winner, led Baylis all the way into the homestretch in Baylis' record-breaking quarter mile and also broke the old record while finishing second. Joe Miller, the ever-improving pole vaulter, may

Spring Reunions Of Alumni Association Are Held Tomorrow

Tomorrow the Alumni Associations will hold their annual Spring Reunion here on the Newark campus. The members of the first graduating class of the Women's College will be especially honored at this, their thirty-fifth reunion.

Activities will begin at 10 a.m. for both groups at Executive Council Meetings. Mrs. Roger Thomas, president of the Alumnae Association, will preside at the meeting. The program for the coming year will be planned. The recipients of the nine alumnae scholarships will be announced, as well as the newly elected vice-president, treasurer, and members at large on the Joint Executive Committee of the Alumnae and Alumni Associations.

Following the Executive Council Meetings, the alumnae and alumni will attend a joint reunion luncheon at 12 noon in Kent Hall. Invited guests for this affair are Dr. and Mrs. John A. Perkins, Dean Bessie Collins, Mrs. Clarence Fraim, Miss Alice P. Smyth, Miss Amy Rextrew, and Dean Irma Ayers, as well as special guests of the class of 1918 and the University. The newly elected representatives of the class of 1953 to the Alumnae Executive Council, Mary Jane Guenveur, Doris Simon, and Dorothy Kaeks, will also be guests at the luncheon. Dr. Perkins, Dean Collins, and Mrs. Thomas will welcome the group.

At 2:30 the annual May Day festivities will begin on the Lower Campus, followed by the Women's Affairs Committee Reception for faculty, students, parents, and alumnae. Former students of the School of Home Economics have also been invited to attend an open house at 4 p.m. in the Home Management House.

The alumni will see a varsity baseball game against Bucknell at 3 p.m. At 5 p.m. a general membership meeting will be held, and at 6 p.m. all alumni are invited to the Alumni Reunion Banquet, at which U. S. Representative Herbert Warburton, '38, will speak.

Climax of the activities for alumnae and alumni will be the May Frolic in Carpenter Field House or the University Drama Group production of Patty Cannon in Mitchell Hall.

Arrangements have been made for most of the buildings on campus to be open for the group during the afternoon.

Gilbert Highet Is Annual Honors Day Assembly Speaker

Subject Of Address Is "Pleasure Of Learning"

Gilbert Highet, Anthon Professor of Latin, Columbia University, will deliver the principal address at the Honors Day Assembly in Mitchell Hall at 11:00 a.m. on Thursday, May 21. His subject will be "The Pleasure of Learning."

Professor Highet is a native of Glasgow, Scotland, and graduated from Glasgow University in 1928. He later attended Oxford University from which he received a bachelor's degree in 1932 and his master's degree in 1936. Professor Highet took a double first in classics at Oxford, where he was also the recipient of a Honorary Scholarship at Balliol College.

Upon graduation he was appointed Fellow and Lecturer (later Tutor) in Classics at St. John's College, Oxford.

He joined the faculty of Columbia University as professor of Greek and Latin in 1938 and was appointed Anthon professor of Latin at that same University in 1950.

Professor Highet will be accompanied by his wife, novelist Helen MacInnes, who has written such

Publications Award Keys

Service Keys will be awarded to outstanding members of student publications at a banquet to be held on Old College, Monday evening, May 25. The Blue Hen, Cauldron, and Needle and Haystack staffs will present the keys to students chosen for their contributions to the publications this year.

Attending the banquet will be the faculty advisors of each publication, Mrs. Sarah Rogers for the Cauldron, Dr. Vernon E. Lewis for the Blue Hen, and Miss Florence Rieff for the Needle and Haystack.

Education and Civilization

Civilizations, as Toynbee, Spengler, and others have lately reminded us, lead a precarious existence. They have their ups and downs; they rise, flourish, and pass away. They are not bound to last forever, and they are certainly not automatically self-perpetuating. Rome and Babylon, Persia and Greece, Egypt and Assyria, these have all had their day and have since passed off the stage of history.

Is our own Western civilization too marked for extinction as some prophets of doom have recently proclaimed? Who can say? But of this at least we can be certain: civilizations retain their leases on life through the members who compose them, and no society can attain to greater heights than the quality of its membership allows. Persons are the bearers of civilization, and as the strength and quality of its citizenry change, so, too, will the ability of society to respond adequately to the challenges which confront it. The character of a nation is not a static entity; it can develop or it can degenerate. Whether it does the one or the other is determined in no small measure by the quality of the prevailing educational ideals and practices. Education is a prime contributor to the molding of national character, and it is this perception of its social significance which moved Plato to remark that the minister of education is the most important official in any state, and which caused him to make of his great political work The Republic largely a treatise on education.

Perils of Apathy

Any people which begins to take lightly the education of its members invites disaster. The learnings and arts, the skills and ideals which make for civilized living are easily lost, and the resulting deterioration in the quality of a civilization can be swift and terrible. Educators, as well as students, need to keep constantly in mind—what there is constant danger of forgetting in the routine of lectures, examinations, committee meetings and campus activities—that they are both engaged in the great enterprise of preserving, transmitting and creating civilization. If they were to relinquish their efforts but for a single generation, they would be succeeded by a race of men for whom the slow achievements of centuries would be as nought. As the educational experiments of totalitarian regimes have made abundantly plain, there is no more certain or effective way to pervert a people than to corrupt its educational system.

We Americans have particular need to remind ourselves of this truth because it is our national failing to take the good things of life for granted. In our over-preoccupation with the tangibles of life we are constantly tempted to asquiesce in the naive and dangerous assumption that it is sufficient to ready our young people for the task of making a living, and that there is no comparable need to equip them for the task of making a life. Life will take care of itself, we are inclined to hold, forgetting that life is an art, and that like all arts it requires discipline, and dedicated cultivation. The effects of a deficiency in the cultural diet are as real and as visible as the effects of biological undernourishment, and they bring in their wake an increasing personal and social disorganization and may in the end spell the death of a civilization.

Duties of a Democracy

Anyone, therefore, who understands the vital connection between education and the life of a civilization cannot but utter "Amen" to these words of a prominent American educator: "A democracy that is interested in its future will give each of its members as much liberal education as he can take, nor will it let him miss that much because he is in a hurry to become something less than a man. It is obvious that all cannot be philosopher-kings, but it is just as obvious that all must not be less than they are . . ."

Dr. Bernard Phillips

Letters To The Editor

May 12, 1953.

Mr. Glenn Dill, Editor,
 The Review,
 University of Delaware,
 Newark, Delaware.

Dear Sir:

We notice in your edition of May 8, 1953, the story headlined as follows, "Workers' Dispute with Healy Delays Completion of Dorms."

We were surprised, upon reading this article, to find that the Review was taking the position that the contractors have refused to negotiate with the union of the Building Trades Council. Had the Review been following the entire story of this affair as published by the Wilmington papers, it would have detected the fact that it was only getting one side of the story.

To begin with, all construction work at the University was shut down, including the women's dormitory and the Economics Building, which are being constructed by the Baton Company of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. The facts of the case are these:

Construction workers' contracts for the most part expire on a yearly basis, in this territory on April 30th. For the last eight years the construction trades have been accorded increases in almost every case in which such increases were demanded. This has reached the point where the public is not getting the value from the construction dollar which it should get. Also the contractors operating a union shop have been placed in the position of being forced out of business because of their inability to compete with firms not operating under union agreements.

The Allied Construction Industries of Delaware, Inc., took note of these facts last December, and began working on a program to stabilize construction work in this territory. Since the construction industry is now among the largest in the nation, the stabilization of prices in this industry will result in stabilization following in other industries. The Building and Construction Trades Council was approached with a very simple and sincere plan, namely to renew last year's contracts for another year without change. Since the cost of living has dropped under what it was a year ago, if these contracts were fair last year they are manifestly fair for the coming year, since we have every indication that the declines in cost of living will continue. You may have noticed the story in last night's Evening Journal relating that food costs are now at a three-year low.

Alumni Notes

By MARTHA SHILLITO

The opening of Cinderella in Mitchell Hall last week drew many graduate members of E-52. Pictured above is Mrs. Jane Hastings Sinclair, Udell of '42, and former President of the Players. She brought her two children, Michael, age nine, and Liz, six years old, to see "what Mommy used to do." Pictured with the Sinclaires are a few current members of E-52.

Don Kiddoo and Dick Goldberg joined the Thursday night beach party at Rehoboth. Don has developed a talent for opening watermelons with church keys. This is in the nature of a retraction of an item several months old. Dick will slip a gold band on the finger of last year's May Queen, Jean Thomas, come June. Sorry we got confused and announced the wedding a trifle too soon.

More Investigations:

Viva La Wechsler

Ask students around campus who their choice for public enemy number one is and you will get quite a variety of answers. Ask Mr. James Wechsler and Senator McCarthy that same question and it's odds-on that they will grant that distinction to each other.

Wechsler has fallen victim, a very belligerent victim, to some of the power which McCarthy has grasped. In retaliation of the efforts of Wechsler, editor of the New York Post, to expose his smear campaign, McCarthy has resorted to bringing Wechsler before his Senate Investigating Committee as a communist suspect.

In Days Past

The very lively editorials of the Post have vigorously denounced communistic activity as well as denouncing Senator McCarthy. However, Jim Wechsler was a member of the communist party about fifteen years ago, at the same time that a regular national slate of communist office-seekers appeared on the U.S. ballot, and at the same time when it was a choice activity of college students of America to actively engage in communist clubs.

The nation's press was not allowed to attend the hearing at which Wechsler appeared. Supposedly, the New York editor was being investigated because of the books he had written which have since turned up in libraries abroad. McCarthy stated that one book in particular, Labor Baron—a biography of John L. Lewis, was under criticism. "If that is so," retaliated Wechsler, "It may explain why I was not questioned in any detail on that point, for the book includes a lengthy chapter critically describing the destructive operations of the communists within the CIO."

What Is Innocence?

This is a striking example of the misused power of the government. Wechsler was a member of the communist party at a time when it was fully accepted by the people of the U.S. A public statement was recently made by the Central Committee of the Communist Party denouncing Wechsler for helping wreck the communist effort to get a big party vote in the 1952 elections. In McCarthy's eyes, that does not constitute "proof." Should this type of congressional incompetence continue, citizens will gradually become cagey about organizational bonds for fear of future persecution. A free country is certainly not one in which the citizens are criticized for freely expressing their beliefs at a time in the past when those beliefs were accepted by all.

New Quarters

On The Move

A recent S.G.A. proposal brings with it a note of interest to the student body at large. A request has been made by the governing body to obtain a certain amount of space in Old College in the next school year for the various offices now situated in the basement of the library.

As things stand now, the library must obtain stack space in addition to that now available upstairs. The possibilities exist of constructing a new wing or taking possession of the basement space. The former seems unlikely because of the financial outlay involved.

If the request of the S.G.A. is accepted, then the Review Cauldron, and the Blue Hen will vacate their present quarters for new offices in Old College Hall. Probably accompanying them in their move will be the mail room and the University Bookstore.

are both teaching at Seaford High School. Janet is teaching Phys. Ed. and Merle is guiding the First Grade.

Bill McGrory is also out of the Army. He spent his hitch in Alaska. Brrrrrr.

Frank "Pop" Hewlitt and Arlene McGee will be married this coming June. She is teaching in Milford and he is working for a lumber company in New Castle.

Moose Adams established a beachhead in the Scrounge last Tuesday. He's home on leave before heading for the Far East via Texas.

Tassel Society Will Tap New Members Honors Day, May 21

By RAE PRIESTLY

Tassel, the senior women's honor society at the University, will tap new members on Honor's Day, May 21. The initiates will be chosen from the outstanding women in the junior class who qualify on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and service to the University. The formal tapping ceremony will take place in front of the library at ten o'clock on May 21. All members of the student body are invited to attend this ceremony. The formal initiation will take place the following week.

During the past year, Tassel has endeavored to serve the University in various capacities. The members of Tassel have carried out many projects. In cooperation with the Review and the Alumni Association, the members of Tassel have been sending Reviews to Delaware graduates in the armed forces overseas. During the Parents' Conference, Tassel assisted in the registration of the conference. As a joint project Tassel and ODK sold chrysanthemums at the homecoming dance for the Campus Chest Drive. In December Tassel gave a tea in honor of the Mortar Board Alumnae in the Wilmington area. In March Tassel sponsored a benefit bridge. The Tassel members acted as guides during the Engineer's Conference on May 2, and on May 6 Tassel held a tea to honor the freshmen and sophomores on the Dean's List.

Since Tassel has been organized in 1950, the members have felt the need of acquiring academic robes. We are pleased to announce that the Board of Trustees of the First and Central Presbyterian Church of Wilmington have recently contributed sixteen robes to Tassel. Also, if you have noticed, the members of Tassel are proudly wearing their newly-acquired Tassel pins!

Junior Counselors Plan Fall Program

Next fall's freshmen women will have a more highly developed Junior Counselor program to help them become better adjusted to campus life.

With the help of Miss Margaret Black, assistant to the Dean of Women, the present Junior Advisors are trying to work out a plan to help the freshmen women with such things as study and social habits, activities, etiquette, and adjustments that must be made in order to get along with their roommates.

Approximately forty girls, chosen for their qualities of interest, training, academic ability, and activity in campus life, have been chosen to help with the program. Many of these girls will live in the new freshmen dormitory. All of the girls will meet in small groups with freshmen from their own school in the University for discussions. They will act as a link between the administration and the freshmen.

MAY FROLIC

Come and dance to the smooth music of Larry Fotine and his orchestra at the MAY FROLIC—this Saturday evening—8:00 'till 12:00. Fotine and his orchestra feature "Little Miss Personality," Cathy Cordovan—a vivacious 5' 2" blonde—and she can sing too.

Tickets are on sale now at $2.00 a couple. The dance is semi-formal with spring as its theme; it should be the peak of the spring social season.

Band Presents Second Outdoor Concert May 17

The second outdoor concert of the University of Delaware Band will be given on Sunday, May 17, at 4:30 p. m. on the north steps of the Memorial Library on the Newark Campus.

The public is cordially invited to attend this second spring concert. The program, under the direction of J. R. King, Director of Instrumental Music of the University, will feature music written expressly for the concert band. The program will include the National Defense March by Becker, Beethoven's Military March, First Suite in E flat for Military Band by Holst, Ten More Days 'Til School Is Out by Klein, the Washington Grays March by Grafulla, Erickson's Irish Folk Song Suite, His Honor March by Fillmore, Westchester Overture by Grundman, the Russian Sailor's Dance by Gliere, Parading the Brasses by Ostling and a Fantasy on American Sailing Songs by Grundman.

E-52 Presents Second Lab Theatre Program May 23

The E-52 University Theatre will present its second Laboratory Theatre program of the year on Friday, May 23, at 8:15 p. m. in Mitchell Hall. Two one-act plays have been cast and are now in rehearsal. The purpose of E-52 Lab Theatre shows is to provide an opportunity for inexperienced actors, directors, playwrights, set designers, etc., to practice in their field.

John Maybe will take the leading part in and will direct The Valiant, a one act psychological drama. He will be assisted by Jean De Vries. This is John's first appearance in Mitchell Hall as both actor and director, but he has participated extensively in high school dramatics. He won the award for best actor a few years ago in the Delaware Play Festival.

Judy Kase has written an original one-act comedy entitled Eastern Shore as a project for playwriting class and will direct the second play on the program. Sally Schwartz is her assistant director.

After the performance in Mitchell Hall, the E-52 University Theatre will take both plays to the Veterans Hospital in Elsmere as part of a recreational program for Veterans sponsored by the American Educational Theatre Association. This will be the first E-52 Production to go to the hospital, and the players hope to send more next year.

The casts for the plays are as follows:

The Valiant
Directed by John Maybe
Dyke	John Maybe
Girl	Gail Conway
Warden	Bob Swain
Priest	Jerry Berkowitz
Attendant	Lillian Brown
Eastern Shore
Directed by Judy Kase
Sarah	Ruth Habne
Caroline	Sarah Townsend
Alexander	Bill Harkins
Robin	Tommy Thomas
Miranne	Betty Snowberger
Frankie	George Cavy
Officer	John Pugh

Alpha Chi Initiates 11 New Members

Eight students and three faculty members will be initiated into the Alpha Chi Chemistry Club of the University of Delaware on Sunday, May 17. Students George Griggs, Joe Major, Joel Seres, Lou Weisfield, Oscar Pickett, Pete Baumgarten, Pete Frances, Sterling Strause, and faculty members Dr. Harold Beachu, Dr. Robert Pigford, and Dr. Glenn Skinner have been recently pledged.

A banquet is planned for the evening following the initiation. This will be attended by the national officers of Alpha Chi Sigma chemical fraternity. Representing the national organization will be Dr. Merle L. Griffin, Mr. Ronald M. Warren, and Dr. Howard W. Bond.

This organization is a service organization for the chemical and related fields. Through its activities, the promotion of scholarship, professional interests, and fellowship among students in the chemical fields is furthered.

MAY FROLIC — SATURDAY NIGHT

DU PONT SCIENCE AND ENGINEERING GRADUATES MEET THE PUBLIC IN

Technical Sales

More and more, industry is on the lookout for technically trained men and science majors who have an interest in and aptitude for selling. A number of departments at Du Pont prefer men with such training for sales positions. A technical understanding of the properties of a substance helps a man do a better selling job—and offers the customer better service.

Because of the diverse applications of Du Pont's many products, there is a need for sales representatives with widely varying technical backgrounds. There are problems involving chemistry and many types of engineering in such fields as plastics, ceramics, textiles and many others.

Technical men may work in direct sales, sales service, or sales development groups, depending on departmental organization. In some cases technical men handle all phases of selling. In others they deal mainly with customer problems. Some departments also maintain a sales development section that works on technical problems connected with the introduction of a new product or a new application for an established one.

Here are examples of the kind of problems attacked by technical men in Du Pont sales groups:

1. Find a more economical way to apply sodium silicate used in making corrugated paperboard. Du Pont men, as in many other instances, were able to make substantial savings for the customer.

2. Introduce fabrics of "Orlon" acrylic fiber for use in dust filtration. This involved evaluation and modification of filter fabrics in cooperation with makers of dust-control equipment, and with plant personnel having serious dust-recovery problems.

3. Reduce the time needed for processing motion-picture film used by race tracks. Technical service men carried the problem to a research group which developed an emulsion that could be processed in about one-third the former time.

Technical men interested in sales work at Du Pont usually acquire needed background in a laboratory or manufacturing plant. Depending on their interest and abilities, they may then move into technical sales service, sales development, or direct sales.

In any of these fields, the man with the right combination of sales ability and technical knowledge will find not only interesting work but exceptional opportunities for growth in the Company.

College graduates with many types of technical training find opportunities at Du Pont. Write for your copy of "The Du Pont Company and the College Graduate." Address: E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. (Inc.), 2521 Nemours Building, Wilmington, Delaware.

The Armchair Umpire

By CHARLIE WILLIS

Last Tuesday, with perhaps the greatest track squad ever to represent the university, the Blue and Gold cindersmen concluded the successful undefeated season by completely swamping the hapless Mules from Muhlenburg. The Hens swept every event except the 220 yd. low hurdles and the discus. Ron Watson and Bo Fouracre were double victors, with Bo taking firsts in the one and two mile events and Ron capturing the broad jump and 120 yd. high hurdles.

However, the big story of Tuesday was the establishment of two new official university records and one unofficial mark. Long-striding Tom Baylis set a new 440-yd. record with a mercury-like time of 49.7 seconds, erasing his former mark of 50.5 seconds. In posting a 1:56.3 min. for the 880 yd., Bill Reybold eclipsed his previous record time of 1:57.5. The mile relay team set a new unofficial record with a fine 3:25.8, but the mark is unofficial because the Mules didn't have an entry for the event.

One of the disappointments of the meet was Joe Miller's failure to crack the university pole vault record of 12' 3/4". It seemed as if it just wasn't his day. Cameras were clicking and flashing, and the crowd was urging him on; but Joe grazed the cross bar each time on his descent to the ground. Joe, however, will have another chance to break the record at the MASTFA championships which are being held today and tomorrow at F&M. Coaches Steers and Bernauer feel confident that the Hens will place within the top five schools. If the Delaware thinclads should be among the top five, it will be the first time a university track squad has ever placed as high.

The university's other big spring winner, the golf team, will conclude its home season against the Drexel Dragons this Wednesday at the Newark Club. As of this writing, the Delaware linksmen now have a 6-1 record. Bill Vallar and Bob Waples are undefeated thus far in competition. Once Defeated Captain Ron Watson has been hovering around par in recent matches, while Waples and Vallar are stroking in the high seventies. It seems a shame that there are so few spectators to witness the excellent brand of golf the Delaware golfers are displaying. Let's give the Blue and Gold support in the final home match this Wednesday at 2:00 p. m.

Coach Bob Siemen's baseball nine dropped two road decisions during the past week, 8-0 to Lafayette and 8-3 to Villanova. On the brighter side of the picture in these two contests was the fine batting of Johnny Allen. His four for four against Villanova hiked his average way above the .350 mark. The team record now stands at five wins in fifteen outings with five games remaining on the schedule. It seems apparent now that Coach Bob Siemen will devote his time to the younger members of the squad in order to mold a winning combination for next year. Next year's pitching staff will be very strong as the returning front line hurlers Morrow, Kelleher, and Woodward will form an effective big three, aided by several promising freshmen from this year's frosh squad. Frosh record to date is 2-1 with two remaining games to play.

Congratulations to the freshmen women for their wonderful showing in the swimming meet. The freshmen swam to victory early in the meet, but it was a close score as the sophomores, placing second, were only four points behind. Third and fourth places were taken by the senior and junior classes respectively.

The Swimming Marathon is over now also, and did those girls swim! The participation was tremendous and it was lots of fun. The sophomores won the marathon with a total of 3,314 lengths. Second place was won by the freshmen, third place by the seniors, and the juniors took fourth place.

In this issue we'd like to acquaint you with two more of the outstanding senior physical education majors. Both girls have taken an active part in all sports activities and physical education functions.

Joan Greenfield, as you all know, is president of Woman's Affairs, but this has not stopped Joan from taking part in all W. A. A. sports. Joan is twenty-two and hails from McDaniel Heights, Delaware. She attended P. S. duPont High School and while there was a member of the Girls' Leader Corps. Since entering college, Joan has played hockey with the Delaware Field Hockey Association every fall, but she says her favorite sports are tennis and basketball.

Upon graduation Joan has a job teaching at Oak Grove Junior High. Joan is not quite sure how long this job will last, however, since she acquired that very pretty ring for her left hand.

Full of fun and always ready to lend a helping hand is Ann Colona, another senior physical education major. Ann, who is twenty-one, comes from Wilmington, Delaware, and attended Wilmington High School. While there she was a member of the Girls' Leader Corps. This interest in sports has extended into her college life, where she has taken part in all sports activities.

Early this fall the physical education majors organized a Physical Educators' Club and Ann was elected president. She has done a tremendous job, and we are sure the club will be very grateful to Ann in the years to come for the hard work she has put into its organization. Ann's activities and qualities of leadership are not limited to the Physical Education department; she is also co-chairman of activities for the May Day program.

Golf Team Defeats Lafayette And Swarthmore; Now Has 6-1 Record

Co-captain Frank White is shown above being congratulated by Dick Jordan (right) of St. Joseph's after Frank had scored an easy 6-2, 6-1 triumph.

Bill Vallar, Bob Waples Are Undefeated Linkmen

Delaware's smooth-stroking golf team has now won six out of their seven matches to date. Two of their last victories were at the expense of Lafayette and Swarthmore. The Blue Hens defeated the men from Lafayette 5-4 at the Northampton Country Club, and last Monday they defeated Swarthmore 8-1 at the Newark Country Club. Captain Ron Watson was again leading man in both matches. In the Lafayette match, he defeated the host team ace, Roger Murray, 1-up in 19 holes.

With undefeated Bill Vallar and Bob Waples paving the way, the Blue Hens tackled the tough Red and Blue from Pennsylvania last Wednesday. Jim Cowan is now playing number two man, replacing Carl Wolf.

The linksmen now have two matches remaining. They encounter Drexel at home on May 20 and travel to City Line on May 25 to play St. Joseph's.

Summaries of the Lafayette match:

First Foursome: Ron Watson, Delaware, defeated Roger Murray, 1-up, 19 holes; Jim Ferguson, Lafayette, defeated Jim Cowan, 1-up. Best ball: Lafayette, 3-2. Second Foursome: Bill Vallar, Delaware, defeated George DeGrace 5 and 4;

Kinter Leads For Intramural Honors

Intramural activity this spring is rapidly coming to a conclusion. The race for individual intramural honors has developed into a two-way fight between Kinter and Lewis, both of Sigma Nu fraternity. Kinter has amassed a total of 125 points while Lewis and Carney of KA trail with 121 and 108 pts. respectively.

Theta Chi has dominated the softball standings thus far, racking up five straight wins. The "snakes" are close behind with a 6-1 ledger, and ATO and KA follow, posting 4-1 and 3-1 respectively.

This week ATO and Sigma Nu played off their first place tie in the badminton standings, but the results are not known as of this writing. Sig Ep and the "Thets" battled for the third and fourth positions. Moneymaker and Steele are rivals for the individual badminton titles.

Tennis is now in full swing, but quarter final results will not be complete until next week.

Netmen Succumb To Drexel Dragons

By BILL EISENBERG

The spring monsoon plus some rugged opposition has left the Delaware tennis team in the not entirely enviable position of being winless in seven starts. Last Thursday's match with F&M. was cancelled because of "inclement weather," and Saturday's tangle with the Drexel Dragons was interrupted by one of the patented "localized" Newark thundershowers. The delay evidently helped Drexel, for while many of the Blue Hens were leading their foes before the downpour, they later succumbed when play was resumed. Only co-captains Frank White and Larry Cooperman came out on top in their singles tests; Frank topped Marv Schectman, 6-2, 6-3, and Larry outlasted Harold Naldoff, 6-2, 2-6, 6-1.

The key match, was probably the three-set battle which ensued between Jim Hoye and the Dragons' Marty Cherry; the latter's 3-6, 6-3, 7-5 win gave his team a 4-2 lead, which the Hens were unable to overcome. The other Delaware scores came when Schuerman and Runkle defeated Tait and Berman in the No. 3 doubles, and White and Hoey gained a half-point for their first set victory, 6-3, in an unfinished match.

Box score:

Singles: White (D) def. Schectman (Dr) 6-2, 6-3; Cooperman (D) def. Naldoff (Dr) 6-2, 2-6, 6-1; Cherry (Dr) def. Hoey (D) 3-6, 6-3, 7-5; Moore (Dr) def. Schuerman (D) 6-4, 6-3; Berman (Dr) def. Schupp (D) 6-1, 6-1; Piercy (Dr) def. Runkle (D) 6-2, 8-6.

Doubles: White and Hoey (D) over Schectman and Cherry (Dr) 6-3 (1st set match unfinished); Moore and Naldoff (Dr) def. Cooperman and Schupp (D) 6-4, 6-3; Schuerman and Runkle (D) def. Tait and Berman (Dr) 6-1, 6-3.

Bob Waples, Delaware, defeated John McDermond, 4 and 3. Best ball: Delaware 4-3.

Third Foursome: Steve Zahurak, Lafayette, defeated Tom Martin 8 and 7; Dana Birch, Delaware, defeated Bob Muth 4 and 3. Best ball: Lafayette, 3-2.

MAY FROLIC - SATURDAY NIGHT

It's great when a college athlete excels in a sport; but it is really something when an athlete is tops in two sports during the same season, which is exactly what Ron Watson, our current Blue Hen of the Week pick, has been doing all this spring! As captain of Delaware's golf squad, Ron has been shooting superlative golf throughout the present campaign with par-threatening scores. Watson's latest feat on the fairways came this past Monday when he fixed a red-hot 72 against Swarthmore at the Newark Country Club to lead his teammates to victory number six for Fred Emmerson's Blue Hen squad (against only one loss.) Such scores aren't exactly a novelty for Watson, who was Delaware State Junior Champ back in 1948 and runner up last summer to Newark's own Al Dollins in the Delaware State Amateur Championships.

When Watson isn't out "bustin' par," he manages to find time to compete in the high jump, high hurdles, and broad jump on Delaware's undefeated track team for Messrs. Steers and Bernauer. He uses his time to good advantage too, for he has taken first for Delaware in every meet this season. Ron has also placed first several times in the high hurdles and high jump.

A chem engineer, Ron's a member of AICHE and Phi Kappa Tau and has represented his fraternity in a number of intermural sports. In addition to golf and track, he also has played J.V. basketball under Blue Hen colors. He plans to marry Miss Carol St. John of Wilmington on June 20 following graduation. When Ron Watson gets his diploma, Delaware will be losing one of its foremost athletic "double threats." Just ask his teammates and his coaches!

have also bettered or tied the school record in the pole vault, had his 12' plus vault at the Penn Relays been measured officially.

Reybold was the team's lone threat in the half-mile, but no one else was needed as he went undefeated as did high scorer Ron Watson in the broad jump. Watson ran up his total by also being the team's top hurdler. Dick Saunders backed Watson up in the hurdle, while basketball and football star "Skip" Crawford was number two man in the broad jump. Watson and Crawford's one-two finish in the final event against Lehigh provided the winning points in the only meet in which the thinclads were really pressed.

Veteran sprint star Jim Flynn was given added help in the 100 yard dash when Bill "Snap" Jones was drafted from Theta Chi's intramural champions. Matter of fact, Jones looms as being possibly the team's top sprinter after only two meets. Jim Holcomb has turned in the top time in the 220 yard dash followed by Jones and Flynn. The quarter mile, probably the team's strongest event, has Baylis, Holcomb with Reybold who doubles up here. Roger "Bo" Fouracre led the distance men all the year winning both the mile and two mile consistently. Captain Don Vane equalled Fouracre's top two mile performance, while the much-improved Ted Taylor added depth in the mile. Butcher led the squad in the field events as he not only broke the shot record but approached the discus mark as he showed rapid improvement in this event. "Varsity Tom" Oves also added depth here. Dick Harper shared the limelight in the pole vault with Miller, while Watson and Saunders did the high jumping.

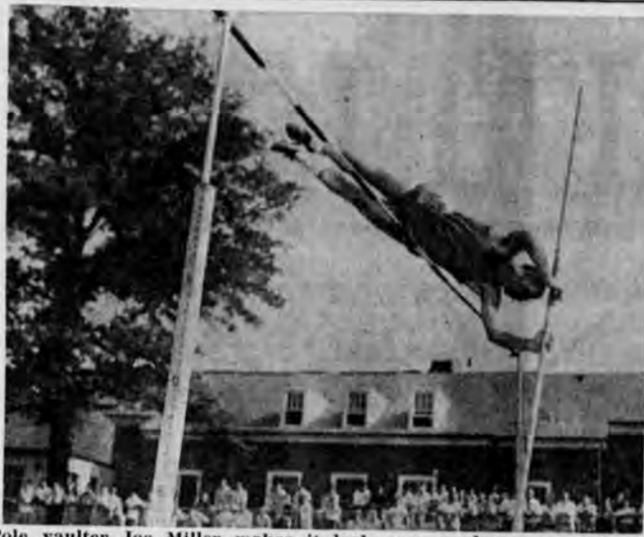

The squad will be hard hit by graduation as Watson, Baylis, Harper, Miller, Holcomb, Dick, Vane, and Bernauer will all be gone by the time next season rolls around. Bernauer is taking his talents to the Mid-West where he will work toward his Ph.D. at either Indiana or Illinois.

A strong nucleus is left though, and with the addition of frosh stars Dick Jarvis, Jim Zaiser, Jack Schonberger, and Les Miller in the sprints, John Mulcahy and Don Rau in the quarter; Bob "Baby Face" Graham (frosh shot put record holder) and Dave Sharp in numerous events the outlook is rosy for next year's cindermen.

The Middle Atlantic Championships conclude the season this weekend and Coach Bernauer expects the highest finish ever by Delaware against top flight schools like La Salle, St. Joseph's, Lafayette, etc. Seven or eight individual stars, more than all around depth, which Delaware has, are needed to win the championship. A finish in the top five would be a fine finish to a tremendous season.

Hen Stickmen Upset By Penn Quakers In 15-1 Rout

As a large crowd of homecoming alumni looked on, the University of Pennsylvania ran roughshod over the Delaware lacrosse team. With size and speed to spare, the Quakers powered their way to a 15-1 conquest of the visiting Blue Hens on Franklin Field.

The Delaware team was strongly fired by Coach Milt Roberts, but lacked the physical equipment to upset the Red and Blue. Delaware's lone tally came in the fourth quarter, when John Pederson fired a feed from Curt Banks into the nets.

The winners were paced by Bob Carey and Dave Houey, who each tallied three goals. Pennsylvania's all around aggressiveness and speed afoot proved to be the deciding factor as they repeatedly outdistanced the Hens' defensive efforts.

The seasonal log now stands at four up and seven down. Games with Washington College and Lafayette remain on the schedule. Both of these teams will give Delaware plenty of opposition.

The Brains of the Team

Teamwork can work miracles. In a football game the man who sparks these miracles is the quarterback. He's the man who calls the signals. There's a man who calls the signals for an Air Force flying team, too! They call him an Aircraft Observer.

Do YOU have what it takes to become an Aircraft Observer? It isn't easy. It's tough. You have to be a MAN to qualify as an Aircraft Observer. But when you are one, brother, you're SOMEBODY! The success or failure of a mission involving over a million dollars worth of flight equipment depends on you.

THE AIRCRAFT OBSERVER IS THE SOMEBODY WHO:
 As Bombardment Officer, is number one man on a bombing run, the man who controls the plane in the target area!
 As Navigation Officer, is the pilot's guiding hand on every flight!
 As Radar Officer, is master of a new science and operator of the device that sees beyond human sight!
 As Aircraft Performance Engineer Officer, is the one who "keeps the plane flying", the man who knows his plane inside and out, who keeps it fit for the skies and sees that it stays there!

If YOU can accept a challenge like this, you'll take your place beside the best—you'll find your future in the clouds!

TO BE QUALIFIED you must be single, a citizen, between 19 and 26½ years old, have had at least 2 years of college and be in tip top physical shape. If this describes you, then YOU, too, can qualify. Today!

HERE'S WHAT YOU'LL GET! The world's best training. Good food and plenty of it. Uniforms, flight clothes, equipment. Medical and dental care. Free insurance. Flight training in Uncle Sam's greatest aircraft.

AND THEN, AFTER GRADUATION, you'll win your silver wings, and earn more than $5000 a year as an Air Force Lieutenant. You'll enjoy an adventurous, exciting career with a hand-picked crew of real men. You'll be THE BRAINS OF THE TEAM, A TRIPLE THREAT MAN . . . as a Bombardment Officer, as a Navigation Officer, as a Radar Officer, as an Aircraft Performance Engineer.

Dramatics Service Center

By JAN SHAW

Do you know about the services of your Dramatics Department? Well, here is a brief preview.

For non-campus dramatics enthusiasts there are annual Dramatics Conferences which give practical demonstrations of staging techniques, renowned guest speakers from the realm of actors, and student panel discussions of pressing problems in the high school theatre. Then, there is the Delaware Play Festival, which has taken place every year for eleven years. For two days, Mitchell Hall is crammed with high school students who have come to act in or just to see the series of one-act plays. A dramatics critic offers constructive criticism to each performing group of students. There is also a Community Theatre Competition which enables adult groups to be reviewed by a critic judge who selects the best play and makes awards on the basis of staging, lighting, and acting.

Dramatic News

Four times a year our Dramatics Center publishes the Dramatics Center News, a magazine presenting Delaware's current theatrical developments. Its articles cover the high school, college, and professional aspects of drama.

In cooperation with the Delaware Dramatics Association, the center works on several large community projects. Good high school and community theatre group plays are taken, through D. D. A., to entertain the Veterans Hospital and the Governor Bacon Health Center.

A consultation service has been set up to answer questions and to help solve the problems involved in building stages, designing scenery, and choosing costumes. This aspect of the center is concerned with raising the standards of amateur play productions in schools and colleges.

To Lend . . .

And for you campus collegians, the University Dramatics Department offers the services of its tremendous play-lending library which is now operated by Judy Kase. Anyone may borrow scripts from the vast collection available. Why not go up to Mitchell Hall and browse around? If you wish, this service will make suggestions that will help you in your play selection.

But the greatest dramatics service of all has been the student-rate and free tickets it has made available to you students. These tickets were for the season's professional Playhouse production. This service has given you the opportunity to afford and to appreciate some of Broadway's latest and best productions.

Do you take advantage of your University's services?

Nancy Sterling Gives Organ Recital

The Department of Music will present Nancy R. Sterling in a senior organ recital in Mitchell Hall on Monday evening, May 18, at 8:15 p. m.

Nancy will play two compositions by J. S. Bach: Prelude and Fugue in D Major and Two Chorale Preludes from the Liturgical Year, a Chorale in A Minor by Cesar Franck, Sonata No. 3 by Hindemith, and Toccata e Canzona by Frescobaldi.

Nancy, whose home is in Dover, is a history major but has continued her early music study in the Music Department. Her extra-curricular activities have been on the Blue Hen staff, in the A Cappella Choir and the Music Club. She is also a member of Kappa Delta Pi.

Saunders Elected Pres.

The Canterbury Association elected officers at their dinner meeting on Tuesday, May 5. Dick Saunders replaces Paul Ellis as president. Mary Straughn was elected vice-president; Spen Hedger, treasurer; Nancy Herndon, secretary; and Ruth Hahne, representative to the University Religious Council.

Harter Scholarship Goes To Penn. Boy

Richard Coleman Haines, of Lansdowne, Pennsylvania, has been named winner of the Dr. George A. Harter Alumni Scholarship of the University of Delaware, John Evans Hocutt, Dean of Students, announced today. The award is worth $2,000 over a four-year period.

The award is made on the basis of scholastic rating, all-around extra-curricular activity, and a test administered at the University which measures the candidate's aptitude for college work.

Young Haines, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar C. Haines of 191 West Plumstead Avenue, Lansdowne, maintained a high scholastic average during his high school years. In addition, his extra-curricular activity has been of a high calibre.

He is a member of the Honor Society, had the lead in the Senior Play, a speaking part in the school operetta, was a member of the school band, student council representative for the glee club, manager of the wrestling team, and was a school representative on the World Affairs Council in Philadelphia. He has also been active in the Youth Fellowship of his church.

Exhibition Of New Prints And Drawings Is Open

The first public exhibition of the University's new collection of original prints and drawings has just opened in the Memorial Library Art Gallery. It will remain on view through Sunday, May 17.

These recent acquisitions to the University's Permanent Collection are varied in technique and subject matter. Most of them are the work of contemporary American artists. The abstract vein is demonstrated in the productions of Stuart Davis, Archipenko, and Ralston Crawford. A group of landscapes are representatives of our countryside as interpreted by Ernest Flene and Emil Gauso. "The Old Forge" by Wanda Gag presents one type of imaginative treatment, while "The Wooden Horse" by Roderick Mead gives an entirely different approach. Various interpretations of birds are seen in "The Tall Cock", a woodcut by Gertrude Quasiter, an engraving entitled "Ominous Judges" by Danny Pierce, and in a drawing in wash and conte crayon by Morris Graves.

Many prints are in color, and range from the rich tones in Milton Godstein's "The Elder" and "The Forest" by Glen Alps to the subtle quality in "My Hand I Lay Upon My Mouth" by Benton Spruance.

It took a lot of engineering to make a better "grasshopper"

Engineers at Western Electric's St. Paul Shops are well pleased with their new-style "grasshopper" fuse—a small fuse used in Bell telephone central office equipment. The former model—in production for years—had been gradually refined 'til it seemed almost beyond further improvement. It was simple, inexpensive, efficient, came off the line fast. But...

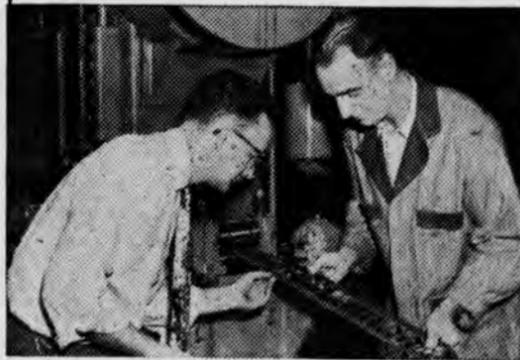

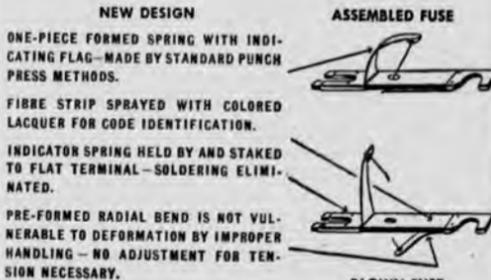

It's an old Western Electric engineering custom to keep trying to make Bell telephone equipment still better, at still lower cost. The "grasshopper" was studied by a young engineer out of the University of Minnesota, Class of '40, who joined the Company in 1946. His studies indicated the most effective way to improve efficiency and cut costs further was to change the design.

Pursuing this lead the engineer and his group saw their opportunity to make an important contribution. They investigated the latest tooling techniques, new metals, finishing materials and methods, all of which are constantly under study by engineers at Western Electric plants. A simplified design, which permitted the use of the most modern tooling methods, resulted in a better fuse at lower cost that is saving thousands of dollars a year for Bell telephone companies.

There's an endless stream of such challenging assignments at Western Electric. Engineers of varied skills—mechanical, electrical, civil, chemical, metallurgical—find real satisfaction in working together on the important job of providing equipment for the best telephone service on earth.

How the grasshopper fuse works

Small fuses like this are used by the millions to protect certain telephone central office circuits against current overloads. Odd in appearance, the fuse is called the "grasshopper" because of its spring which is released when the fuse blows, displaying an indicator "flag" in open view and tripping an alarm so the trouble can be spotted and corrected at once.

Engineer and punch press operator check production of parts for newly designed grasshopper fuse.

Letters To Editor

 struction Industries in this entire affair has been accepted by the public and by industrial leaders of the state. It is simply that, in the public interest, we must attempt to follow the direction of our President and of the State Legislature in attempting to bring economic stabilization to the nation. This strike is a very unpopular strike among the workmen themselves, and there seems to be little sympathy with the action of the Union leaders in insisting upon a strike to enforce their demands. A comparison of wage rates for construction workers with those for other jobs in the community will indicate that construction's rates are far ahead of those in any other industry.

Your article stated that in the event that negotiations between the Unions and the contractors proved unproductive, the matter will be referred to the Federal Mediation Service. For your information, the Federal Mediation Service is a voluntary service, and both sides must agree before it can be employed. I think you will agree that we are capable here in Delaware of settling our affairs without recourse to the National Government.

Your headline seems to imply that the dispute in this case lies between John E. Healy & Sons, Inc., a contractor, and the Building Trades Council. This is not true. The entire situation is an affair between the Allied Construction Industries, Inc., representing those contractors operating union shops, and the Building Trades Council, representing the affiliated trade unions.

We trust that this information will straighten out the situation in your mind. If not, we will be pleased to give you additional information.

Very truly yours,
 John E. Healy II
 President.

Editor's note:

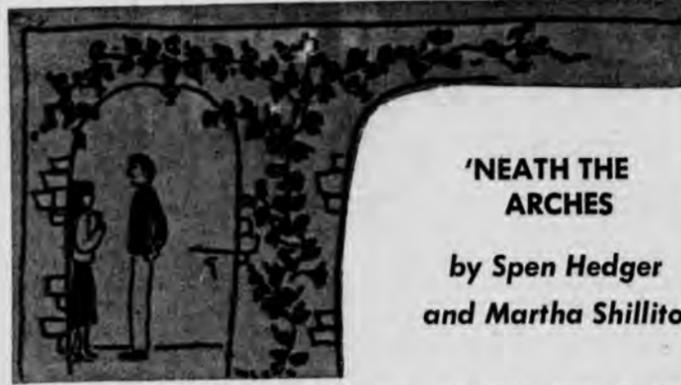

If the Review is in error, we apologize. However, we are still not in complete agreement with Mr. Healy. Mr. Healy states that the union is striking against Allied Construction Industries. The firm, John E. Healy, Inc., is a member of this organization. In essence, the Sharp Hall dispute is directed toward the specific contractor since his actions have been synonymous with those of the Allied Construction Industries.

Mr. Healy states that other construction at the campus is also shut down. In the article in the Review one particular situation was discussed, not the overall strike. When the picture was taken and the article written about Sharp Hall (May 1), the workers on the other projects on campus were not striking. They have since formed picket lines. Observation of the article in the Review will disclose that no reference was made to the state of affairs on other projects, whether they be working or not working.

The point stressed in the article portraying the reason for the strike as the failure of the contractors' group to meet for discussion of the contract rather than renewing the old one without any consideration will be forced to stand. This was indicated in the second paragraph as being erroneous, but was not further qualified. If the Review is wrong in this respect, we would like to be corrected.

Mr. Healy states that "we are capable here in Delaware of settling our affairs without recourse to the National Government." That point is not disputed. We ask if the matter would not be referred to the Federal Mediation Service if local attempts at agreement failed.

Thank you.

Hope Orloff and Bobbie Itzkowitz decided on a change of scene and trekked to Temple for the Tep Spring Formal. . . How did Lew manage to get past two suitcases and into a bucket of ice water and beer without realizing he was in the closet, not the shower?

Betty Andrews recovered from measles. Well, Ed, you're next. . . Asked D. Chappel what he did this week-end. Nothing. His grandmother was here from Boston. . . ### Greek Column Pi Kappa Alpha

Some week-ends it isn't even worth getting up, and last week-end was one of those. That fateful number three visited the Pikes, and from Friday to Sunday left a wide path of havoc and destruction.

On Friday afternoon Bill Keyser was side-swiped as he was pulling into the driveway at the house. Next came the robbers who wandered into the house Saturday morning and wandered out again with Jim Cowan's golf clubs, some fraternity beer mugs, and the fraternity banner. As if that wasn't enough, Reese Savage had Lady Luck working against him as he rolled his car over last Sunday morning with Walt Timm and Bob Cornwell sitting next to him. At this writing Reese was still in the hospital with a broken arm and a possible head injury, while Walt was home with a broken shoulder and Bob was wandering around with a heavy lip and a mess of bad bruises. Besides missing a lot of school, Reese missed last Tuesday night's initiation at which time he was to become a brother.

On the lighter side, we understand that Judy Evans has been giving shuffle board lessons to Tom Redfield. It takes practice, Tom. There is no more to report on Mad Man Thompson's baseball team, except that the boys are still in the running for honors, and it looks like they might stay there.

Delta Tau Delta

Our heartiest congratulations to the ten new brothers who were initiated last Friday afternoon. They are Bill Brown, Karl Buretz, Walt Jebens, John Long, Jack Richter, Dick Chilcutt, Jack Davidson, Joe McCafferty, Rob McDonald, and Lee Rice. After the initiation a father-son banquet was held at College Inn where Dr. Monroe was the speaker of the evening. Bill Brown was presented the Outstanding Pledge Award. Everyone had such a swell time that we hope to make the banquet an annual affair.

Jack France and Karl Buretz traveled to Lehigh University and Centenary Junior College on their pledge quest over the weekend. From the description of their trip they really had a terrific time.

This week the Delta shelter is blessed with the shining countenances of Bob Wilson and Jack France. So far they have survived their "Hell Week."

This weekend will be a big one for the ten brothers and pledges who will travel to many unknown points on their pledge quests. Have fun. It's a "once in a lifetime."

Sig Ep

That quiet air that is hanging about the house isn't due to excessive studying, but rather to an embarrassing situation into which all the brothers have fallen after the weekend—financially zilch.

A few of the plutocrats stirred this weekend and put in an appearance at Cedar Inn on Saturday night. They were: Frank Albera and Pidge Barlow, Tom (home on leave from the paratroopers) Walker and Ann Marie Dumas, and Jack Miller and Barbara Nespor. Paul Kern, who has just finished M.P. school, was spotted with Barbara Brown Sunday night.

The Spring weather has sent Bill Reybold, Roger Fourace, and Joan Frazer down to the Elk River in sailboats. The trio says that sailing is not too bad when the weather behaves, but Friday they were all wet. Dick Knoll is still looking for his shoes, so would some female fiend break down and tell him where they are hidden.

Theta Chi

Welcome back, Alumni! The active chapter will be glad to see the old grads returning to the campus.

We are happy to announce that Paul Mueller has signed a contract to play with the Philadelphia Eagles for the coming football season. Good luck, Paul.

Ed "Shark" Parker was seen at the Erie Social Club in Philadelphia shooting darts with the Mills Brothers. Good fishing, Ace!

Brothers Ed Cunningham, Joe Sherwood, and Dev McCarthy have been accepted in the local A.A. Club. They all qualified because of their extensive previous experience.

Brother Warren Allen and Pledge "Christine" Crisconi have leading roles in the current Broadway hit The Informer which is now showing at the Theta Chi house every Wednesday night.

Joe Miller, Rock Carzo, Jerry Colona and Bill McKinley and dates were seen picnicking on the beach at Rehoboth on Saturday afternoon. Go get 'em, gang.

Kappa Alpha

The past weekend featured a houseparty given by the pledges. It was a comic dress affair, which was made evident when Mr. and Mrs. Frankenstein appeared on the scene. Included in the entertainment were John "Curley" Farley, Ed "Mortician" Mortlock, Bill "Gentleman Jim" Collins, and Tom "Dimples" Metz. Everyone seemed to enjoy themselves.

Last Monday, the K.A. quartet, Jim Lawrence, Jim Hoey, Tom Martin, and Pete Runkle, sang on television during the University of Delaware Hour. The feature of the evening was singing by the Men's Chorus. An opinion of an arm-chair viewer has it that the boys sounded great.

Hats off this week to the girls from Topsy Hall for their fine hospitality shown last Thursday afternoon. The K.A.'s were very glad to help the girls make their flowers for the coming May Day dance. We are looking forward to the occasion again.

Sigma Nu

The weekend of May 9 was highlighted for brothers Dick Nye, Don Vane, and Ray Haley by their invasion of the green-stoned villa of West Chester, Pennsylvania; they were invited to attend the Senior Weekend of West Chester State Teachers' College. The weekend included a formal dance, which was held Saturday night at the Ritz Carlton in Philadelphia, and a picnic held at Valley Forge on Sunday. The trio had a great time.

As usual, our annual Father and Son Banquet was a success; many of Sigma Nu's high ranking dignitaries were present. The congratulations go to Jack Kinter, Joe Koffenberger, and Ken Edwards for the evening's success; this committee worked extremely hard in planning and making the necessary arrangements for the evening. Jack Kinter also did a fine job as toast-master.

Congratulations to brother Don Lewis and Debbie Hammond on the announcement of their engagement.

Alpha Epsilon Pi

A quiet week on Quality Hill came to life with a weinie roast at Dave Schulman's house last Saturday Night. On blankets under the stars were brothers Dick Paul with Golda Marks, Dave Paul with Rinsi Levy, Aaron Paul with Sandy Humber, Bill Wolson with Lee Tupp, Harvey Porter with Sara Bluestone, and Sandy Ackerman with Carol Isenberg.

Sunday was an open house for the parents of the AEPi men—the (Continued on Page 10)

Question of the Week—whose week is it?

Alpha Tau Omega

Last weekend most of the brothers and pledges went down to Camp Barnes to fix it up for the coming season. With paint brushes and shovels in hand, we gave the camp a complete facelift. It wasn't all work, though. During the course of the weekend, most of us found time to go to Bethany Beach for a quick swim. The water was cold but still felt good. Aside from a few blisters and a few cases of sunburn, it was a very worthwhile weekend.

The ATO softball team continued in its winning ways by picking up three wins last week at the expense of PIKA, DTD and SPE. This was mainly due to the great pitching of Dyke Pollitt and the hitting of Jim Myers.

Congratulations to Art Holveck and Jackie Vinyard, whom he pinned ATO Week-end.

Alpha Zeta Plans Picnic

Alpha Zeta plans to hold a picnic on Sunday, May 17, at 2 p. m., at a Marshallton, Pa. farm. The honorary agriculture fraternity is giving the picnic for the graduating seniors.
