PRICE FIVE CENTS

PUBLIC IS WARNED ON RACKET OPERATORS

Police Here Halt Two Attempts To Work Phony Deals During Past Week

Police here warned residents this week to be on the lookout for phony operators working rackets in town.

Prompt action by police uncovered two such attempts the past week.

The first was worked by a pair who solicited sizeable sums for advertisements for a phony publication called "The Railroad Man's Timebook."

The two, who gave their names as William G. Phillips and Robert Allen, of Lancaster, Pa., entered town last Monday and paid for the use of a phone of an Main Street resident for their ad campaign. Previously, they obtained a list of local merchants through the phone company.

The resident, whom police did not identify, later became suspicious and notified authorities. Sgt. Leroy Hill checked with Pennsylvania Railroad officials, who said the company used a similar book but that it contained no advertisements. The two men, they said, were not authorized to represent the railroad.

Later, Sgt. Hill and Officer Norval Robinson went to the home where the men were phoning and listened from the kitchen while one made several calls soliciting about $60 in advertising.

Although the pair could not be held on any technical charge, since the book could have been printed, they were ordered out of town by officials.

Another slick dodge was also uncovered here last week, the victims of which were chiefly veterans. A man with headquarters at the Ritz Hotel, in Elktion, and posing as a representative of the Homeless Company, Chicago, solicited orders here for pre-fabricated homes and electrical appliances. His method of lulling veterans was to demand a $15 deposit for checking credit references after taking an order. He also collected on sales for appliances without delivery. In all, he nicked veterans here for about $475.

The police were not able to hold him, however, since most of the victims, still hoping to get some return on their money, refused to sign a warrant.

Police advised residents to report any suspicious operators immediately to town authorities, who will check their record. Even if all appearances indicate the strangers are legitimate, it is best to take no chances, authorities said.

The circus is coming with all the fixin's—death-defying aerialists, fearless bareback riders, lumbering elephants, strutting clowns and all the pomp and glitter of the big-top.

The famous Hunt Brothers Circus will make a one-day stop here on Wednesday, August 27, on South Chapel Street.

According to their advance agent who stopped here Tuesday to fling superlatives, the circus this year will be bigger and better than previous bigger and better.

Staged under a mammoth flame-proof, water-proof tent, the Hunt Brothers will offer a host of new features never seen here before. Three separate acts will be carried on simultaneously.

Lions, monkeys, llamas, bears, ponderous performing elephants, dancing horses, cunning ponies, lovely ladies in spangles and tights, acrobats, and red-nosed clowns—all will be back.

Among the arena stars will be such popular favorites as the Arovalde Troupe of daredevil equilibristas; Hazel and Marvin Case, King and Queen of the tightwire; Charlotte and Harry LeVine, sensational high-perch artists; the Small Sisters, exponents of grace and rhythm in mid-air; and Marion Drew, the famous ambidextrous juggler, to mention only a few. Hunt's military elephants under the direction of Capt. Roy Bush will be seen in brand new routines featuring Queenie on the tightrope, and in the horse-show department Welby Cooke will offer exhibitions that represent the very epitome of equestrian excellence.

Early arrivals will be treated to a special concert of popular and standard music on the giant circus organ with Russell MacPherson at the console. The enlarged wild-animal displays will be open before and after the big performances.

A special added attraction will be Dave Nimmo, presenting cowboys and cowgirls in songs and dances of the Golden West, rope-spinning, sharp-shooting, whip-cracking and all sorts of Western sports and pastime.

ONLY ONE POST NOW VACANT ON NHS STAFF

Music Teacher Resigned This Week; Six New Appointments

Only one vacancy remains on the faculty of the Newark Public Schools for the coming term, Principal Frederick B. Kutz announced yesterday.

The opening developed this week when Miss Margaret Fitzsimmons, elementary school music director here the past few years, sent word that she has accepted a post with the Mountain View School, near Berkeley, Calif. Several applications for the opening here have been received, but no appointments have been made as yet, Kutz said.

Among the new appointees this term is Mrs. Francis Cox McKenry, graduate of the University of Delaware, with one year's teaching experience at Dublin Schools, Dublin, Md., who has been named to the elementary faculty.

New French and Spanish instructor for the high school will be Miss Philomena Capazoli, graduate of Rosemont College, Rosemont, Penna.

Miss Elizabeth Wootton, graduate of Wesley Junior College, American University and University of Delaware, has been named instructor in seventh grade English. Miss Wootton, who also has been taking courses at the university this summer, formerly did her practice teaching at Newark High.

William Morrison, graduate of the University of Michigan and Palmer Business School, will teach business mathematics and introduction to business. Mr. Morrison, who served four years with the Army, will also act as vocational guidance counselor in the high school.

Gilmore Ott, graduate of Shippensburg State Teachers College in Pennsylvania, with a master degree from the University of Pennsylvania, has been appointed general science instructor and assistant football coach. He has had one year's teaching experience at Mechanicsville High, Mechanicsville, Pa.

Miss Doris E. Dean, graduate in home economics from the University of Delaware, with three and a half years experience at Greenwood High, Greenwood, Del., will be head of the high school home economics department.

G. E. SALES HEAD TALKS AT ROTARY

The average family can save $200 annually on its food bill through use of a home freezer, P. M. Burtis, sales manager for the General Electric Company in Delaware, said in a talk at the weekly meeting of the Newark Rotary Club on Monday night. President William S. Hamilton presided.

Mr. Burtis discussed types and uses of freezers now on the market and illustrated his remarks with a movie. Freezing will not improve the taste of food, he warned, but will maintain the natural flavor and quality it possesses when placed in the freezer. For this reason, it is important that food be at its prime and properly processed before freezing. Mr. Burtis outlined methods for achieving the best results in preparing, cooking, packing and freezing foods.

Program chairman was Jack Handloff, who introduced Benjamin C. Ambrock, electrical appliance manager of the Newark Department Store. Mr. Ambrock introduced the speaker.

Guest at the session was W. H. Ligan, of Lynchburg, Va.

Eric Newton, special projects chairman, reported that he had viewed the trial runs for the Pushmobile Derby in Wilmington in which Ralph Foster, the club's entry, took part.

Next week's meeting will be adjourned following dinner in order to stage an inter-club softball game with the Middletown Rotary Club. The game will mark the resumption of a rivalry begun several years ago.

Capt. William Wise To Report For Reserve Duty

Capt. William A. Wise, of Newark, was among the nine Army Reserve Corps members of this area recently called to tours of short duty.

Capt. Wise, who is in the Field Artillery Reserve, will report to Colonel Preston Steele's office in Wilmington for 15 days duty.

The total of Delaware reservists who have undergone such tours is now 100.

Stores To Change Closing Hours After September 3

Retail stores in Newark will change their policy regarding closing time effective September 3, it was announced yesterday.

By general agreement, local merchants will remain open on Thursday afternoons and close Wednesday evenings after that date.

Closing hours for all stores will be 5:30 p. m., Monday through Thursday and 9 p. m. on Friday and Saturday.

For several years, stores here have been closing on Thursday afternoons. The change, proposed under the auspices of the Newark Chamber of Commerce, was made as an added service to shoppers, it being felt that the majority of residents would prefer the afternoon hours rather than those on Wednesday night.

TOP STATE AMATEURS ENTER GOLF TOURNAMENT

Stellar Field Is Assured For Champion Play Here, Aug. 23-24

Ellis Taylor, Steve Brodie and other topflight amateurs representing most country clubs in the state have been received for the first Delaware Amateur Championship Golf Tournament, for Delaware residents only, to be held over the Newark Country Club course on Saturday and Sunday, August 23 and 24, thus assuring the presence of leading golfers in the state who will vie for the championship trophy.

Others who have signified their intentions of entering the tourney indicate that well over a 100 prominent golfers will participate in the event. All entries, which should be addressed to Harry Hirst, in care of the Newark Country Club, should be accompanied by the $3.00 entry fee and postmarked not later than midnight, Wednesday, August 20.

Play in the 54-hole state-wide event will begin at 8 o'clock Saturday morning with eighteen holes scheduled. The Sunday round will be confined to the first fifty and ties, with 36 holes of play to decide the winner. Starting times and complete list of entrants will be posted at the club and published in the Friday afternoon and Saturday morning papers if possible.

A handsome loving cup symbolic of the State Championship will be awarded the winner with other appropriate prizes for the next 18 low scorers, all prizes to remain in the permanent possession of the winners.

Amateur luminaries of the sponsoring club who will take part in the event are: George F. Anderson, 1947 Club Champion, B. F. (Sank) Richards and Bob Stewart, Jr., both former club champions and Alvin Dollins, par-shooting local amateur who has seen varied tournament play throughout the country.

Howard Everett, now a Delaware resident employed by the Hollywood-Perkins Motor Co., is the 1946 Philadelphia Amateur Champion and also played in the 1946 National Amateur Tournament.

Howard A. (Ike) Turner, Jr., a resident of Wilmington, is a 3 time former champion of the Newark Club and 1947 champion of the Concord Country Club, while Willard McConnell, another Wilmington resident, is 1947 champion of the Kennett Square Golf and Country Club.

Ellis Taylor is 1947 Public Links Champion of Wilmington and Steve Brodie is a former champion of the duPont Country Club course.

REPAIRS AT NHS BEGUN

Work on the $12,500 maintenance program at the Newark Schools moved into high this week, with most of the larger contracts receiving state approval.

Wide-scale repairs to the heating and electrical systems are now underway, the exterior painting, scheduled to begin last week but again delayed, is expected to start before the end of this week.

The plastering work has been completed in all school buildings as have most of the minor repairs.

Officials announced that if funds permit much needed repairs to the sidewalks around the main school building will also be carried out.

EXPANSION OF SEWAGE PLANT NOW COMPLETED

Capacity Of Unit Doubled Thru $37,800 Work Project

One of the most important civic improvement projects to be carried out here since before the war is the $37,800 expansion to the sewage treatment plant on the outskirts of town.

The expansion, which was begun a year ago and still is not quite finished, virtually doubles the capacity of the disposal system. The plant is now capable of providing efficient and sanitary sewage treatment for a population of approximately 10,000.

Before the work began, the treatment unit was badly overloaded, but the new installation, including the latest equipment for handling sewage, is expected to meet demands here for several decades.

The work, which ran into constant obstacles and delays due to shortages, took much longer than expected. Major items in the contract were the installation of an Imhoff tank and the housing of two sludge drying beds under glass roofs. Formerly the sludge beds were open and drying, especially in the winter, was difficult. Other machinery of the latest type was also installed.

Still to be completed is the erection of a wire mesh fence and gates to enclose the entire plant. A $3,113 contract for this has been awarded to the Cyclone Division of Philadelphia. The work begins immediately. The fence was regarded as necessary to prevent the curious from venturing in among the open tanks and sludge beds.

The expansion of the treatment plant was carried out by J. A. Bader Company, Inc., with the preliminary plans being drawn up by Whitman Reardon and Associates Engineers, Baltimore.

The plan, long proposed by the Town Council, was supervised by the Council's sewer commission including J. S. Hopkins, chairman, Herman Wollaston and Norman Battersby. Town Engineer Cleaver Price was the commission's technical adviser on the job.

SCHOOLS TO BEGIN TERM SEPTEMBER 3

Four Days Of Registrations Start Monday

The Newark Public Schools will open the 1947-48 term on Wednesday, September 3, with half-day classes probably being held for the remainder of the first week, school authorities said this week.

The cafeteria will be closed for the three-day period, and no luncheons will be served. School will close at 12:35 o'clock.

A four-day registration period beginning Monday and continuing to Thursday, August 21, will be held in the office of the main building. It was further announced.

The hours will be from nine to twelve and from one to four. All pupils, except, of course, those new first graders who enrolled at the pre-school clinic early in June, are required to register.

No physical examinations will be offered, but each registrant is expected to show a doctor's certificate stating he is physically fit to enter school.

No registrations will be held on the opening day of school, officials stressed. This is done to expedite the work of organizing the new sections and handling the influx of pupils.

A general faculty meeting to consider routine problems on the opening of the school will be held September 2.

Dr. W. Purdy To Conduct Sun. Morning Services Here

Dr. Willard G. Purdy, pastor of the First and Central Presbyterian Church, Wilmington, will conduct the morning services at the First Presbyterian Church here this Sunday.

The subject of Dr. Purdy's sermon will be "What the Non-Christian Misses." Special music will be furnished by the Men's Bible Class.

Dr. Purdy will also speak at a joint meeting of the Men's Bible Class and the Ladies' Bible Class during the Sabbath School.

FARMERS' DAY WILL BE HELD AUG. 21

Welcomed news to Grange members all over the State is the announcement that Central Grange No. 61 of Port Penn, Delaware, is once again starting Farmer's Day. The event will be held in Farmer's Week, on Thursday, August 21, at St. Augustine Beach, near Port Penn.

A committee from Central Grange has met with Governor Walter Bacon who has heartily endorsed the plan and will honor it with his presence. Also present will be Lt.-Gov. Elbert Carvel and Judge Earl Wiley. The latter two will give short addresses following greetings from the Governor.

This will be only one of the events of a gala week. On Tuesday, August 19, New Castle County Pomona Grange No. 1 will hold its annual picnic in conjunction with Delaware State Grange's Field Day. Pomona Grange is under the able leadership of William Naudain, master. Paul Mitchell is master of State Grange.

Farmer's Week starts August 18 and runs through August 24. There will be swimming, games, rides, and fun for all the family. It is hoped that the people will get behind the revival of this old time event.

HOLSTEIN BREEDERS TO MEET

Tull Brothers To Be Hosts At Field Day

The Holstein breeders of Delaware will hold a field day at the farm of Earle and Robert Tull, one mile west of Seaford, tomorrow, announces Dr. T. A. Baker, secretary-treasurer of the Delaware Holstein-Friesian Association.

The Tull brothers have been breeders of Holstein cattle for more than 20 years and during recent years have not only been accorded national recognition, but have also sold animals from their herd to breeders in South America. For the past two years they have received the Progressive Breeders Award from the Holstein-Friesian Association of America. This award is based on high average herd production and individual excellence of animals. The grand champion bull and grand champion cow for 1947 at the Kent-Sussex Fair were from the Tull herd.

Visitors to the Tull farm will inspect the herd and take part in a judging contest beginning at 10:30 a. m. Following a luncheon on the lawn, H. Wallace Cook, Elkton, vice-president of the Delaware Association, will report as delegate to the annual meeting of the National Association at Springfield, Massachusetts.

W. Levis Phipps, president of the association will preside and the principal address during the afternoon will be made by Glenn Householder, director of extension for the National Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

The United States adopted the budget system in the year 1921.

BETTER SERVICE ON THE PARTY-LINE

When you keep calls on the party-line telephone reasonably brief—when you space them out so that others may use the line as well—you set the pattern for better telephone service. You'll find your party-line neighbors following suit. All this adds up to better telephone service for all who share the line.

Bank Cites Danger Of New Inflationary Spurt

Dangers of "another inflationary spurt" with more serious reactions were cited recently by the National City Bank of New York in its monthly letter on business conditions but the bank said "widespread expectations of recession in the second half of the year" were overdone.

"People have underestimated the strength of supporting influences in the economy—among them the large deferred demands for goods, our huge exports financed to a great extent by American gifts and loans, and the degree to which business has cleaned house following the warning of the stock market break last fall," the letter said.

MISS NANCY ANNE KELLY WEDS MR. G. E. BARROW

Miss Nancy Anne Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Kelly, of Glade Spring, Va., became the bride of Mr. George Edward Barrow, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Barrow, of Blackstone, Va., at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the Old Glade Spring Presbyterian Church with the Rev. H. G. Allen performing the double ring ceremony.

The historic old church was simply decorated with gladioli and laurel, white candles in candelabra, and magnolia leaves. Mrs. R. T. Craig, Jr., organist, and Mrs. I. H. Huff, violinist, both of Glade Spring, gave a program of nuptial music preceding the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. John B. Kelly, of Glade Spring, uncle and aunt of the bride, sang "O Promise Me" and "Sweetest Story Ever Told."

Miss Virginia Kirkpatrick, of Newark, was maid of honor. Mrs. William Boone, of Radford, Va.; Miss Gertrude Holloway, of Newark, and Miss Kathleen Harrison, Meadowview, Pa., were bridesmaids. Miss Patricia Barrow, little sister of the bridegroom, was junior bridesmaid.

Mr. Barrow was attended by his brother, Mr. James Barrow, of Richmond, Va., and ushers were Mr. James S. Kelly, Jr., brother of the bride; Mr. Howard Stokes, of Blackstone, and the bride's cousins, Mr. William C. Kelly, Mr. Robert L. May, Mr. R. T. Craig, of Glade Spring, and Mr. Legard, of Abingdon, Va.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin with sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice, and full gathered skirt ending in a long train. Her finger tip veil of illusion was attached to a Juliet cap of the same material circled with orange blossoms. She carried a showered orchid and rose bouquet.

The maid of honor wore a pink organza floor length dress with gathered skirt and long full sleeves. Her bonnet hat was made of pink lace and net. The bridesmaids' dresses were of the same style. Mrs. Boone wearing pink organza and Misses Harrison and Holloway, pale blue. Their matching hats were picture type of horsehair and net. Little Miss Barrow wore a long dress of white mousseline de soie with puffed sleeves and ruffled skirt. The maid of honor and the bridesmaids carried colonial bouquets of summer flowers in pastel shades.

Immediately after the ceremony the wedding guests were entertained at a reception given by the bride's parents on the lawn and in the social hall of the church. Receiving with them were Mr. and Mrs. Barrow, the groom's parents; the wedding party, and Mrs. R. T. Craig, Sr., great aunt of the bride. Assistant hostesses were Mrs. H. G. Allen, Mrs. Aker Williams, Mrs. W. G. Buchanan, Mrs. Mahlon Robinson, Mrs. Martin Rosenbaum, and Mrs. Gwyn Phipps. A number of other friends of the bride and her mother assisted in serving.

Following the reception the couple left for a wedding trip to New York and New Jersey. For traveling the bride wore a purple garbardin suit with black accessories and a lavender orchid corsage.

Mrs. Barrow is a graduate of Virginia Polytechnic Institute and for several years has been a home demonstration agent in Virginia and Delaware. Mr. Barrow was graduated from The Medical College of Virginia, School of Pharmacy, and is at present employed at Blackstone, where the couple will make their home.

LOVETT-DAVIS WEDDING SOLEMNIZED

Miss Jane Ann Lovett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul DeWitt Lovett, 124 Old Oak Road, Newark, became the bride of Pfc. Robert Jaquette Davis, Jr., P. S. Marine Corps Reserve, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jaquette Davis, of 27 Center Street, at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon in First Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Dr. Willard G. Purdy, of First and Central Presbyterian Church, Wilmington, performed the ceremony.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown with illusion yoke, fitted bodice, and long sleeves.

Miss Jane Elizabeth Fouracre was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Jacqueline Davis, sister of the bridegroom and Miss Ernestine Gillespie. Miss Amy Jaquette Lovett, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

The maid of honor's dress was gold taffeta with matching headpiece. The bridesmaids wore green taffeta and the junior bridesmaid, wine. They carried old-fashioned bouquets matching their gowns.

Mr. John Wells, of Newark, was best man and ushers were: Mr. Paul DeWitt Lovett, Jr., brother of the bride; Mr. Herbert I. Brown, cousin of the bridegroom; Mr. Herbert Murphy, and Mr. Charles Wollaston, both of Newark.

The bride's mother chose a wine crepe gown with gold accessories and corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Davis' dress was a purple gown with silver accessories and corsage of pink roses.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. Arthur Johnson who accompanied Miss Janice Sachs, of Gettysburg, as vocalist. A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed, after which the couple left on a honeymoon in New England.

EWING REUNION AUG. 23 ST. JOHN'S—LEWISVILLE

The First Post-War reunion of the descendants of John and Henry Ewing will be held on Saturday, August 23, at St. John's Methodist Church, Lewisville, Pa.

Members will prepare for a basket lunch which will be served at 12:30 on the church lawn after which a business meeting and program will follow. The program will include musical selections, readings, recitations and special talks by the older members.

It is most fitting that this family group should meet on the grounds of St. John's as their ancestors were among those who founded this church.

Among the oldest living members of the family are Mrs. Margaret Ewing Irwin, of Wilmington and her brother, Mr. Amos Ewing, of 373 South College Avenue, Newark.

Officers of the association are: Mr. Murray J. Ewing, of Rehoboth, president; and Mrs. Lillian B. Watkins, of Newark, secretary and treasurer. Mr. Ewing is the son of the late Dr. and Mrs. Harvey Ewing, formerly of 15 Kentway, Newark, and Mrs. Watkins is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Ellis Brown, of near Newark.

A pertinent incident happened in a small town, similar to Newark, when the editor of the local paper sat in a pleasant home discussing the goals towards which the citizens of every small town should work—better schools, greater civic participation, more pride in community.

The hostess was one of those conscientious civic leaders who sees clearly the problems and failures of her town and does more than her share to eliminate them. The editor, whom we'll call simply "Ed" for short, was on the receiving end.

"Our newspaper could help," she commented "but we can't seem to get the editor interested." For specific example, "Just a few months ago," she explained, "a lot of us were bothered by a smoke nuisance—we have a lot of small factories in our town."

"I saw Ed at a dinner party and asked him about it. 'Ed, I said, why don't you have a write-up about the smoke nuisance?' He said it was a good idea but nothing ever came of it. Apparently he's afraid of the factory owners."

There seemed no point in trying to explain what was obvious to a newspaper man but difficult for a layman to understand. Editor Ed probably did think a write-up was a good idea, but then he asked himself some questions.

First, just what is a write-up—an editorial, a discussion in his personal column, a news story, a feature story or perhaps some poetry? What about the subject matter—was it just to be pulled out of the thin (though smoky) air, without facts, figures and quotations to give it foundation? More important, of what value is a single diatribe? The only effective way of fighting against smoke or any other civic evil is a continuing campaign, and a small paper lacks the personnel to conduct one.

So Editor Ed, believing that a single complaint about smoke did not indicate enough interest to make the subject newsworthy, let the matter drop.

The incident naturally interests us because it illustrates the utter failure of civic leaders to understand the newspaper's role in a campaign of civic betterment. When the issue is abstract and undocumented the citizens themselves must band together and take the initiative by making it concrete, by documenting, and thereby creating news.

Editor Ed can then take it up in both his news and editorial columns with the full knowledge that he has substantial support, with confidence that he can count on a steady flow of ammunition until the battle is won.

All of which sums up to: "Newspapers don't make the news, they just print it." Which often is hard for some people to understand. Lots and lots of times the public is prone to wishing things unpleasant onto someone other than themselves and into this category distinctly falls the instances when someone vaguely says, "how about a write-up, etc."

Many's the time we have been tempted to do a friend or customer a favor and gone out on a limb by spouting off on an abstract subject without facts to back us up and, invariably, the result has been grief.

So, perhaps this little discussion will be mutually advantageous . . . and the next time you wish the editor to pull your chestnuts out of the fire, think it through and give him something concrete to work with before putting the heat on.

Queer things happen in a newspaper office where you certainly do get a cross-section of everyday life. We were somewhat perplexed this morning to receive the following letter from a subscriber whose name we shall withhold.

"I am enclosing check to cover indebtedness for lost article. From the result obtained, I can say that your advertising reaches the desired people. If it could just be improved in one respect, it would be perfect; that is, if it could just bring some slight twinge of honesty to the people which it is desired to reach."

The ad referred to was placed in your paper in hopes of regaining an article which was lost . . . It brought a telephone call from the 'finder' who gave an obviously fictitious name and a demand for a $10 reward which, although exorbitant, was agreed to. To admit that the article was worth more than the $10 was evidently the wrong thing for a second telephone call purportedly from the same source requested further information and intimated that the lost article was too valuable to return. To reach individuals like that, we need the perfect ad."

To which we thoroughly agree but admit that we, too, are at loss to know just how any advertisement can or will instill honesty into a person who apparently has no conception of the word. Incidentally the annual epidemic of "lost" articles is rampant at other public gathering places such as the swimming classes being held at the Women's College pool. It's such a shame that petty minded people haven't enough principle and regard for others to abstain from the temptation of taking valuables that don't belong to them.

We, too, have a name for such doings but it's an ugly name . . . as is the despicable practice. And in most cases the victim is far more inconvenienced by the loss of papers and other worthless articles than he is by the monetary value of the "lost" item.

NEWARK NIPS KENMORE 5-6 IN EXTRA INNINGS HERE ON SUNDAY IN SUSKY LOOP TILT

Kenmore Knots Count In Ninth; Ewing Poles Single Scoring Al Thorpe With Winning Run In 10th; Newark To Face Rising Sun Next

A full assortment of baseball thrills was offered local fans here Sunday afternoon, when Newark slipped across a game-busting run in the tenth inning to down Kenmore, 5-6, in a Susquehanna League contest.

Newark met with little trouble in the first six innings and moved into the seventh with a substantial 5-1 lead, then the fireworks started.

Whiteman, who held the visitors to three hits the previous six innings, suddenly weakened, and Kenmore's batsmen let loose with a five hit barrage which punched across three runs and shaved Newark's lead to 5-4.

ALL-STAR RING SHOW ON MONDAY

Featherweights, Roache And Petro, In Feature Bout

"Whistling" Willie Roache, Wilmington's leading featherweight contender, will battle Danny Petro, sensational Washington, D. C. kyo artist, in the 10-round windup of promoter Ralph Tribiani's all-star fight show next Monday night at the Wilmington Baseball Park. First bout will start at 8:30 p. m.

The Roache-Petro scrap is expected to be one of the greatest ever seen in the Delmarva area, especially since the announcement by Tribiani that the winner would get a non-title shot at featherweight champion Willie Pep, in the same ring in September.

Both have met the best in the business. Roache's record shows worthy performances against such high class foes as Sol Bartolo, Ike Williams and Willie Pep, whom he met twice before.

Petro, however, packs plenty of dynamite in his left hand. He sports a string of quick knockout victories. In his last outing he took less than two minutes to finish off the veteran Danny Russell. Petro also holds a one-round kyo over Lou Transparenti, former bantam king.

Three six-rounders and a four-rounder will round out the card. The semi-windup will bring together "Chick" Thomas and George Newbeck, a pair of Baltimore belters; Jimmy Wright, Wilmington, will be pitted against Gene Hardison, Washington, in another of the main prelims, while Ray Klingmeyer, clever Baltimore lightweight, also is slated to see action. Klingmeyer went undefeated in six bouts in Wilmington rings last year. His opponent will be announced. A snappy four-rounder is being arranged to open the show.

Despite the high caliber of the card, popular prices will prevail with tickets being scaled at $1.25 and $2.50, tax included.

60 War Plants Kept Ready For Emergency

The War Department plans to keep 60 complete government-owned industrial plants ready for immediate specialized production in event of another war.

Secretary of War Royall made public a report yesterday covering the department's plans to "have in stock, or to provide by prompt production in our arsenals and standby plants, sufficient material to resist an aggressor during the first stage."

The 60 plants, worth $2,301,348,000, would cost $25,122,000 to maintain but Royall pointed out this amount may be reduced substantially if the plants are leased out for civilian use.

RISING SUN TIES ELKTON

Teams Lead Susky Loop

The entire complexion for the lead of the Susquehanna League took a turn on Sunday when Rising Sun defeated Elkton to throw them into a tie with Aberdeen for the lead. It looks as if these two teams will finish in a tie and there will have to be a playoff to determine who will be the winner and go to Harrisburg to represent the league in the Amateur Tournament.

Rising Sun after losing three games in a row bounced back to defeat Elkton in 10 innings by an 8 to 7 score. Foster, Rising Sun's young pitcher, held Elkton to 1 run in 7 innings, but had to retire from the game due to the intense heat.

Newark defeated Kenmore 5 to 6 in another 10 inning game, to take over fourth place by a half game. Thorpe was the winning pitcher and Leahman was the loser.

Old Dick Whiteford scattered six Perryville hits to defeat them 11 to 4. Aberdeen collected 16 hits off the pitching of Charlie Trust and Eddie Bailey. The hitting of Barnhardt and Volhart with 3 hits and a home run and single by Staples featured for Aberdeen. Jim Bentzers triple and single and Larry Preston's triple, which was nearly a home run, featured for the losers.

The league is rapidly coming to a close with both Aberdeen and Newark having completed all their home games of the schedule and with Rising Sun and Perryville winding up their home games this Sunday. Next Sunday, Aug. 23rd, will find all these playing their final game.

Slump Seen As Only Curb on Meat Prices

The Agriculture Department says it will take a business recession to bring meat prices down sharply.

Barring a sudden drop in employment, only a moderate seasonal price decline can be expected this fall, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics reported.

The bureau offered only one explanation for the high price of meat—"unusually" high demand.

RED MEN MOVE CLOSER TO SOFTBALL TITLE; WIN FIRST CONTEST IN FINAL PLAY-OFF

Indians Eke Out 1-0 Triumph Over Newark A. A. In Opening Of Last Round, After Downing Blue Jays In Semi-Finals Last Week

The Red Men, who eliminated the once potent Blue Jays in the semi-final round last week, inched closer to the title in the community softball league Monday night when they snatched a 1-0 win from the Newark A. A. in one of the stiffest tussles of the season.

The Indians now need only one more victory over the Athletics to clinch the crown, while the latter must take two in a row to come out on top.

Fortune smiled on the Red Men in their shut-out victory

when a single hit plus two miscues by the Athletics amounted to a ceremonial pass to home. The hit came in the fifth. Widows taking through a hit moving to second on a wild throw by Gregg, gaining time when Donovan dropped a fly and stepping home under a long fly by Donovan. The run began and ended the scoring for the game.

Earlier, the Indians showed the Blue Jays from the title race by downing them in the final match of a three game series on last Wednesday by a 7-4 score. The Indians rang the cash register in the first and second frames and again in the sixth and seventh. The Jays, who tied the count in the third on a three run burst and took the lead in the third by a single run, were silenced thereafter.

Newark A. A. although forcing their first semi-final game to Continental, roared back to take two in a row from the Fibersmen to move into the finals with the Indians. They now duplicate that feat to take the championship. They took their second game from Continental last Thursday by a lopsided 16-2 count, pouring in 10 runs in the last two innings.

There's been dancing bears, talking birds, fighting kangaroos, and other animal oddities. But it remained for Jimmy Houghton, matchmaker of the LaSalle Athletic Club, to put the finishing touches to that sort of thing by booking Gil Woodworth, St. Augustine, Fla., who will wrestle a 12-foot alligator in the feature bout on this Thursday's wrestling card at the State Armory.

It will mark the first time that an alligator has ever topped a team bout and that is just what has happened for a rematch bout between Marvin Mercer, Reading, and Billy Darnell, Camden, and Frank Hewitt, Canada, and Jesse James of Washington has been relegated to semi-windup spot.

A wire-mesh cage is put inside the regular ring, thus ensuring that the alligator will be restricted to maiming Woodworth—and not some poor innocent fan.

Houghton didn't say just what the time limit on the bout would be, but evidently the alligator will be bound by the curfew law—although Houghton didn't say how he was going to explain that to the alligator.

Two regular wrestling bouts, both half-hour contests, complete the zany card.

The Coal Mine Inspector positions pay $4,148 and $4,902 a year and are located throughout the coal mining sections of the United States. Applicants must have had 6 or 7 years of coal mining experience, part of which must have been specialized experience in coal mining operations. For the $4,902 positions this specialized experience must have included the direction and enforcement of modern coal mine safety and health programs and must show that the applicant has administrative ability and the resourcefulness and initiative to perform and direct large scale mine inspection work. College study in engineering may be substituted for part of the general experience. No written test is required, but applicants must prepare and submit with their application a 250-word description of some phase of coal mining. The maximum age limit, 48 years, will be waived for persons entitled to military preference.

Full information and application forms may be obtained from the Commission's Local Secretary, Mr. Singles, located at Newark Post Office or from most first- and second-class post offices, civil service regional offices, or from the U. The Coal Mine Inspector examination will remain open until further notice but persons interested in being considered for positions to be filled immediately should file their applications with the Commission not later than September 9, 1947.

Library Of Congress Gets Johnson Relic

One of the treasures housed in the Library of Congress is a walking stick, once owned by Samuel Johnson, and donated by Mrs. Florence Bayard Hilles of Wilmington, daughter of Thomas F. Bayard, former U. S. Senator from Delaware, then U. S. Secretary of State and later the first American envoy to Great Britain with the rank of ambassador.

The stick, with the date 1760 and Johnson's name engraved on a snuff-box which forms the knob, was given to the late Senator Bayard by First Baron Thomas Chandler Haliburton when the former was quitting his diplomatic post in London. The cane became Baron Haliburton's property after it passed out of the possession of Johnson. It now has taken its place in a collection which includes a walking stick which formerly belonged to Charles Dickens.

The account of Mrs. Hilles' gift to the Library of Congress appeared in the Washington Post.

ADVICE ON FREEZING OF VEGETABLES

The season for freezing fruits and vegetables is reaching its peak in Delaware. Two precautions are issued by Miss Gertrude Holloway, Nutrition Specialist, Delaware Extension Service, if satisfactory results are to be had in home freezing.

First, vegetables must be blanched or precooked and second, they must be cooled until no heat remains in them.

The precooking time will vary for different vegetables, from 1 to 2 minutes for greens, to 5 to 7 minutes for corn. The blanching shrinks the vegetables thus making it possible to pack more in the carton, retains the natural color of the vegetables, and most important, stops the action of enzymes, which bring about changes in flavor. As vegetables are stored in the freezer, they lose their natural flavor and develop undesirable flavors unless they are properly blanched before packaging.

Vegetables are blanched in boiling water or steam. If boiling water is used the blanching time begins when the water comes back to a boil after the vegetable is immersed in it.

Corn is blanched on the cob. The ears are dropped into boiling water and cooked 5 to 7 minutes depending upon the size of cob. The ears are cooled thoroughly, the corn cut off and packed into the carton. The corn may be cut off the cob into the glass tray under the freezing unit in the refrigerator and chilled in the refrigerator for several minutes to insure thorough cooling.

A third precaution issued by the Extension Service is that packing foods in cellophane bags without putting the bags in waxed cartons, is a risky practice and may not be accepted by some locker plants. The bags, while vapor proof, need the waxed carton to protect them from being torn or punctured.

Directions for the preparation of fruits and vegetables for freezing and record cards for keeping an inventory of frozen foods may be obtained by writing the Home Demonstration Agent in Newark.
