

UD Combines May Day, Alumni Reunion

Queen, Court to Reign Over May Day Program

May Day festivities will begin at 6 a. m. tomorrow when the freshmen women serenade May Queen Pat Lyons.

At 2:30 p. m. Pat, dressed in a full length white organdy gown will lead the May Court procession at the grounds of the women's gym. The court is composed of: Joan Henderson, Senior Duchess with attendants Bea Clark and Barbara Jo Wakefield, Carolyn Kohlepp is Junior Duchess. Attending her are Mary Jo Anslem and Nancy Alvarado. Millie Graham, as Sophomore Duchess, will be attended by Louise Lattomus and Elinor Welch. Barbara Wilson and Ginger Sheffer will be attendants for Brenda Baumgartner, Freshmen Duchess.

The court's waltz length, off the shoulder gowns are made of organdy and taffeta. Although organdy and taffeta. Senior women will wear rose, juniors blue, sophomores aqua, and freshmen pink.

Following the court's procession, Pat will be crowned by Maid of Honor Joan Henderson. The traditional May Pole Dance by the senior women will then be given.

Pops Concert

At 4:30 p. m. the "Pops" concert by the university's symphonic band, women's chorus and the concert choir will be presented on the north steps of the Memorial Library. They will do selections from the "Wizard of Oz Fantasy" and the "Melodic Caravan" as arranged by Paul Youder, "Porgy and Bess" by George Gershwin and "Damn Yankees" by Richard Alder and Jerry Ross, will be presented by the band.

Review Ranks In First Class Of ACP Rating

For the fourth consecutive time, the Review was accorded a First Class Honor Rating by the Associated Collegiate Press last semester. The rating was received in the Review office last week.

First Class is the second highest award obtainable in the ACP service. It marks the seventh time the paper has received the honor since it first entered competition in 1950.

The Review is one of 15 papers out of 43 in its class to be rated First Class. Five others were named All-American. According to the ACP, First Class is equivalent to an "excellent" rating. The Review scored particularly high in the sports and make-up departments.

Dave Tompkins, editor during the past year, upon hearing of the award, stated: "The First Class rating is certainly a great achievement for the staff. I feel that it is a very difficult task for any school without a journalism program to consistently maintain high standards of this sort. We are all self-taught journalists on the Review."

"The ACP has pointed out many errors in our technique that could have been eliminated with properly trained personnel. I am confident that the new staff will take note of these points and improve on them next year."

Culminating the day's festivities is a dance at the women's tennis courts.

Catts Award

During the dance the A. B. Catts Award for the women's dormitory displaying the most outstanding spirit, cooperation, scholarship and participation in student activities will be presented by the Women's Coordinate Board.

Charles Laskin and his orchestra will provide the music. Students, faculty and alumni will be admitted free.

PAT LYONS

Review Staff Attends Banquet; Bill Frank Principal Speaker

Review editors and members of the staff took time off from work to attend a banquet last Wednesday evening at the Kent Manor Inn.

After dinner Frank Garosi, new editor-in-chief, introduced the guests and made a few introductory remarks. Guests included professor George Henry, associate professor of education; Elbert Chance, director of alumni and public relations; Carl Rees, Provost and Dean of the School of Graduate Studies; Bessie Collins, Dean of Women; Robert Cunningham, university news and sports editor.

Frank Speaks

Former editor, Dave Tompkins, then gave a short talk and introduced the speaker, William Frank. Frank is a reporter and columnist for the Wilmington Morning News.

Keys Awarded

Awards were then presented. Frank Garosi gave Tompkins and Betsy Levy, managing editor this year, gold keys for their four years of service. Dave then presented silver keys to all staff members who have served for two years. These were Jerry Goosenberg, Stan Tabasso, Ciro Poppitt, Scott Wilson, Dottie Pannell, Kathie Perope, John Walsh, Cynthia McCue, Rosalie Schlatter, Eleanor Burke, Natalie Rand, Bill Burroughs, Dorothy Levy, Doris Wild, Jeanne Mollitor, Buddy Lane, Jane Doran, Frank Helms, Alice Matuszski, Pete Green and Carol Ann Kyle.

Formal Dance Opens '57 Senior Weekend

Three days of fun seems to be the social keynote for this year's Senior Class as members will gather for Senior Weekend starting May 30.

A formal dance will open the weekend for the seniors. To be held in the Gold Ballroom of the Hotel DuPont, Wilmington, from 9 p. m. until 1 a. m., the ball will feature the music of Bob Harry and his orchestra.

Charles Thompson, president of the Senior Class, has called Friday night's party "considerably informal." Paul Wilkinson's Combo will play for the party at the Italian-American Club, Kennett Square, from 9 p. m. until 1 a. m.

White Crystal

On Saturday at noon, the class will travel to White Crystal Beach Manor for a picnic. Food and refreshments will be supplied by funds from the class treasury.

Baccalaureate exercises will be held Sunday on the campus in front of Hurlbush Hall. Candidates for bachelor degrees will be required to attend in academic costume unless permission for absence is granted by Dr. John A. Perkins, university president.

Following this will be a luncheon in Kent Hall. Tickets will be available only between May 20 and 28. They may be obtained at the university bookstore. Senior President Thompson said that the luncheon has been arranged "due to the limited restaurant facilities in Newark."

For Convenience

The luncheon, he said, is for the seniors' convenience, and "we suggest that you take advantage of the luncheon."

Commencement exercises will follow the luncheon at 2:45 p. m. also in front of Hurlbush Hall. Degrees in absentia will be granted only in unusual circumstances. Requests for this must be made in the President's office before May 27.

Meetings, Ceremonies Top Alumni Agenda

A full-day schedule of events has been planned for the 1957 Alumni Spring Reunion at the university on May 11, under the direction of reunion co-chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson.

Heading the reunion agenda, from 9:30 to 11 a. m., will be a morning coffee hour in the College Inn, where returning alumnae will gather informally. At the same time a program primarily of interest to the men will be held in the lounge of Old College where Delaware Line Coach Mike Lude will show football films and discuss prospects for the university's 1957 football season.

Weldin Announces

1957 Alumni Drive

To Close June 3

Herbert Weldin and Mrs. Park Huntington, Jr., co-chairmen of the 1957 Alumni Development Fund Drive for the university have announced that receipts now total $18,014.65. The drive officially closes on June 30.

Leading the alumni classes in total contributions is the Class of 1916 with $820 closely followed by the Classes of 1921 and 1922 with $727.50 and $684.50, respectively.

Among the women's classes, the Class of 1935 shows the way with $440, followed by the Class of 1925 with $377 and the Class of 1932, $284.

At 11 a. m. alumnae and alumni will attend the cornerstone laying ceremonies of the P. S. duPont Engineering Building. Named in honor of the late Pierre S. duPont, the $1,319,236 structure will house the university's civil and electrical engineering facilities.

The stone will be laid by H. Clifford Bauer, most worshipful grand master, Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of Delaware, assisted by other members of the grand lodge of Delaware.

Class Meetings

Alumni reunion class meetings will be held from 11 a. m. until noon, and the Alumni-ae Luncheon will be offered in Kent Dining Hall at 12:15 p. m. During the luncheon a prize will be presented to the alumna who has traveled the greatest distance to attend the reunion.

A general membership meeting of the Alumni Association will be held in the Memorial Library at 1:30 p. m. The major items of business will be a report of the voting on the new Alumni Association constitution and announcement of the results in the election of association officers, board of directors and nominating committee.

At 3:30 p. m. there will be a reception at Warner Hall sponsored by the Women's Executive Council of the Student Government Association, and a tea for graduates of the School of Home Economics will be given at the (Continued on Page 10)

Kepple Resumes

Polio Shot Series

Week of Finals

"Polio shots will be given on May 21, 22, 23 and 24 to those students who have already received two," announced Gordon Keppel, university physician.

As there is currently a shortage of vaccine, although it has been promised, no new vaccinations will be started. Second shots will be given when they fall due.

Times for the May 20-24 shots are as follows: May 20, 22 and 24 from 10 a. m. — 12 noon. May 21 and 23 from 3:30-5:30 p. m.

Roberts Schedules Calendar Meeting

Milt Roberts, co-ordinator of student affairs, has announced that the scheduling meeting for next year's social calendar will be held on May 24, at 7 p. m. in Brown Lab Auditorium.

All organizations that would like to reserve dates and facilities for campus-wide functions should present written requests at that meeting.

Alumni-ae Council Picks Wagner Sec'y

Loretta A. Wagner, chairman of W. E. C., has been appointed executive secretary of the University Alumni Association. Dr. Carl Rees, provost, announced today.

A member of the 1957 graduating class, Miss Wagner was the recipient of the Emma P. Warner Award to the senior woman outstanding in scholarship, leadership, and citizenship presented at the recent Honor's Day exercises on the university campus.

Although she will not assume her duties until September 2, Miss Wagner will be a guest at the alumnae luncheon on Spring Reunion Day, May 11, at which time she will be presented to returning alumni and alumnae. The selection of the new secretary resulted from a recommendation by the joint alumni-alumnae council later confirmed by university officials.

Miss Wagner has been chairman of the W. E. C.; a member of the women's honorary society Tassel; a member of Kappa Delta Phi, honorary education society; and a member of the honorary leadership and scholastic society, Phi Kappa Phi. She has been head of house at New Castle Hall, a student member of the Student Personal Problems Committee, treasurer of WAA, a junior counselor, a member of the S. G. A. and a member of the band. She has held the Alice P. Smyth Scholarship during the past year. A student in the School of Arts and Science, Miss Wagner majored in English.

Mrs. Mabel W. Henry to Judge At E-52 Lab Theater Program

Mrs. Mabel Wright Henry, director of dramatics at Wilmington High School and a member of the board of directors of the American National Theatre and Academy, will be the critic judge at the laboratory theatre program May 16, at 8:15 p. m., Mitchell Hall.

At the end of the three-play program, Mrs. Henry will criticize and lead a discussion on the plays. Two of the plays are original scripts by Jack Scott, junior English - drama major, and all the plays are being directed by students.

Labour Directs

Elaine Labour, a senior drama major, is directing Scott's "The Catalyst," a dream play in which obsession with ugliness and quest for love meet with a fantastic solution. In the cast are Edward Dunning, Dean Carus, John G. Stone, III, Devereux McCarthy and Maryann Smeida.

"Call Forth the Dragon," written and directed by Scott, has in its cast Edward Dunning, Ginger Bruce and George Spelvin. The show concerns a young man who deserts his wife and becomes an assistant lighthouse keeper. The plot entangles with the arrival of his wife and a strange "true" story told by his boss.

Women Commuters Elect Pat Seni As New President

Pat Seni, a sophomore living in Newark, has been elected president of the Women Commuters for next year.

Pat, a physical education major, is the present secretary of the Delapem club for physical education majors. She has been active in Women Commuters for two years, has appeared in their playbill and is a member of the Newman Club.

Other officers for next year are: Grace Miller, vice-president; Joanne Denny, corresponding secretary; Joan Owens, recording secretary and Maria Zisl, treasurer.

Marie Woerner is the senior representative to women's executive council. Gail Kauffman, junior representative and Jean Hodgson, sophomore representative.

Dramatic Arts Dept. Offers Summer Theater Course

The Brandywine Music Box in conjunction with the university's Department of Dramatic Arts and Speech is offering a unique opportunity for undergraduate and graduate students interested in pursuing the professional theatre this summer—a 10 week course carrying six college credits.

The course is an actual training program in preparation for the student looking toward employment in the theatre.

Rotational Training

It consists of two hour seminars per week with professional department heads as well as featured performing artists. On-the-job rotation training program in eight professional theatre departments under the supervision of Dr. C. Robert Kase is part of the course, providing students with a complete picture of professional theatre operations. Thirty hours of assignments weekly divided among eight different departments; acting, scenery, properties, stage management, maintenance, publicity, box office and costume, are included. Dr. Kase himself feels that "one must acquire a realistic and integrated approach to the problems in each department in order for the professional to survive in today's theatre."

Admission

Admission for the course will be based upon the students' education and experience, the minimum requirement being a basic course in play production or its equivalent. Since the enrollment in the course has been vertised, students from all over the United States and one from Canada have already submitted applications for the course. Further information concerning the course may be found in the Department of Dramatic Arts and Speech.

Two UD Coeds Place With State Beauties

By Dave Tompkins

Two university coeds placed high in the Miss Delaware competition held last Saturday night at the Playhouse in Wilmington.

Nancy Cartwright was the second runner-up, and Carollee Cumpston was one of the five finalists. Elaine Labour was also in the pageant.

Miss Delaware 1956, Janice Olson, a university student, crowned her successor, Kathy D'Attilio, a native of Downingtown Pa., enrolled at the Goldy-Beacom School of Business, Wilmington.

The 15 contestants were judged on personality, talent, beauty and poise in evening gown and swimsuit and ability to answer extemporaneously three questions.

Foreign Language Tests to Be Given

Reading knowledge tests will be given on May 17 for students of French, German and Spanish.

The tests will be administered in the following rooms: French, 220 Hüllihen Hall; German, 210 Hüllihen Hall; and Spanish, Hüllihen Auditorium.

In order to take this test, a student must be currently enrolled in an intermediate language course. The standardized test must be passed by all students in the School of Arts and Science in order to fulfill the foreign language requirements of the university.

The tests are also administered to students in September and January. Students who have previously failed or who have enrolled in the university after completing four years of high school language are eligible for these tests.

Miss D'Attilio played a piano selection, Chopin's "Polonaise," in the talent portion of the program. Miss Cathcart recited Gordon Jenkins' "Manhattan Towers." Miss Cumpston recited a selection from "Our Town," and Miss Labour sang an aria from the opera, "Louise."

The first runner-up was Elizabeth Huber, a senior at Conrad High School. She recited her original poem, "Eternal Love." She stated that she hoped to attend the university next year to study literature.

While the judges were deliberating, Miss Olson told the capacity audience of her many experiences during the past year as Miss Delaware.

Miss America, Marian McKnight, was among the judges at the pageant. She made a brief appearance on the stage. Queens from Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland and Ohio also appeared.

Miss Cathcart was sponsored in the pageant by Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity. This marked the second year she had participated in the competition. The Delaware Homecoming Queen was the first runner-up to Miss Olson last year. Miss Cumpston was sponsored by Phi Kappa Tau.

Dean Carl J. Rees To Address DCA

Dean Carl Rees, acting university president, will address the Delaware Christian Association next Monday at 7:15 p. m., at the Wesley Foundation, 192 South College Avenue. Subject of the talk will be "The Administration's Stand on Religious Emphasis Week." The public is invited.

Preparation for Participation In Civil Defense Begins Here

"FALLOUT" PROTECTION — Members of General Electric research staff experiment in methods for detecting radiation in connection with the national program for Civil Defense. Harry T. Brockenbrough, instructor of mathematics, is chairman for the university CD program.

These men protect you. Carrying out research in atomic energy, they work under the auspices of Civil Defense. Their job is to devise means for protection against contact with radioactivity in any exposed area. "Civil Defense," Thomas W. Brockenbrough, associate professor of Civil Engineering says "is the name given to the preparations being made to protect our country." Mr. Brockenbrough is in charge of the CD unit at the university.

Committee

His committee consists of: Dr. Gordon Keppel, university physician; Dr. Russel Remage, Jr., associate professor of mathematics; Harold Condra, director of food and service and John Grundy, assistant superintendent of grounds and buildings.

Colonel C. Preston Lee, chairman of the state department of Civil Defense, confers with Brockenbrough on every fourth Tuesday of the month. These monthly meetings, held in Dover, help schools of the state to correlate their programs.

The university CD director said his committee has devised a special plan for survival for the students here.

Critical Area

Since Wilmington is considered by the U. S. Government as a "critical target area," the university will as a result be enclosed in the danger area. If a bomb were dropped on Washington or New York City, radioactive "fallout" would occur here because of winds that carry the deadly material.

"We must make people Civil Defense conscious," Brockenbrough emphasized. "I think that if it is discussed now, before an emergency arises, then when an emergency does occur, we will act safely without panic."

Dee Dee's New Deal Includes Dandy Trip

Very few students are able to claim a subscription to the Wall Street Journal plus plans for a two-week study in the Netherlands this summer; but Audrey Elise Delano, is just such a person.

Elise, a senior economics major, is planning upon graduation a trip to Europe; she is currently enrolled in the summer session course at the University of Nijmegen in the Netherlands which is entitled Trends in Modern Civilization. During this session some basic facts and problems of man's unity and diversity will be discussed by eminent faculty members and visiting lecturers of nearby universities. These talks will be supplemented by tours throughout the locale. While in Europe, Elise says that among other things, the various music festivals will definitely be included on her agenda.

This year Elise was initiated into Phi Kappa Phi, an honorary scholarship fraternity. Phi Beta Kappa, an honorary scholarship society which elects outstanding senior liberal arts student. She was also elected president of Tassel.

Previous to this year Elise was a member of the Modern Dance Club and Venture and was chosen to be a Junior Counselor. During her junior year she directed Sussex Hall's playbill presentation and this year was chairman of dance for Warner Hall's production. She has participated in May Day for four years, has held several dormitory offices and is an active member of WAA.

In view of this outstanding extra-curricular record the most natural question would be—When does she find time for scholarship? Need one say more than that Dee Dee has proven herself scholastically by maintaining an overall index of 3.53? She was recently awarded The

Elise Delano

Wall Street Journal Award for which she received a one-year subscription to the journal and an inscribed silver medal. This award is presented to outstanding seniors in the Departments of Economics, Business Administration and in the School of Agriculture.

During this past summer she was employed by the Equitable Security Trust Company in the trust and investment department of which Dee Dee said "It was a highly beneficial and enjoyable opportunity." During her junior year this company awarded her recognition for her outstanding record.

Student Art Show To Open Tomorrow In Library Gallery

Students in art, home economics and education will exhibit their works in the annual Student Art Show starting tomorrow until May 23, in the gallery of Memorial Library.

These works, which are representative of all the art classes at the university, will include drawings in charcoal, pastel, pen and ink, oil and water paintings, prints, woodcuts, three dimensional design, textiles, jewelry and sculpture.

A reception will be held for the public on Sunday from 7:30 until 9 p. m., with students whose works are being exhibited as hosts. Refreshments will be served.

Gallery viewing hours for the exhibition are Monday to Friday from 8 a. m. to 10 p. m.; Saturday from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.; and Sunday, 1 to 5 p. m., and 7 to 10 p. m.

Burke President Of Weekend Club

At a meeting of the Weekend Activities Club on April 30, Eleanor Burke was elected president for the coming year.

Other officers will be: Frank Helms, vice president; Florence Helm, recording secretary; Doris Peaco, corresponding secretary; and Richard Brooks, treasurer.

Plans are presently underway for a Co-Rec night shortly after the opening of school.

The Weekend Activities Club is an organization created this year to promote more social activities during weekends.

Women's Dormitory Elect Heads of House

Heads of house and social chairmen for the women's dormitories next year were elected at the recent dormitory meetings.

Jane Wollenweber, junior in the School of Arts and Science, will be Warner head of house. Jane was assistant head of house in Kent Dormitory this year. Sally Schmidt, junior home economics major, will be social chairman.

Smyth dormitory will have three unit heads of house and social chairmen and also one coordinating head of house and social chairman for the entire dorm. Kay Hammond, sophomore home economics major, and Jane Lotter, sophomore education major, will be coordinating head of house and social chairman. Unit heads of house are Adele Naylor, freshman education major, A; Betty Volk, sophomore education major, B; Martha Skeen, freshman in arts and science, C. Unit social chairmen are Judy Storm, freshman in arts and science, A; Ruth Scherer, sophomore education major, B; Carol Jones, freshman in arts and science, C.

Other heads of house will be Janet Culver, junior education major, Cannon; Mally Davis, sophomore in arts and science; New Castle; Mary Hayes, sophomore in arts and sciences, Kent; Carol "Kelly" Turner, freshman education major, Sussex; Beverly Storck, junior home economics major, Johnson House.

Social chairmen in the other dormitories are: JoAnn Krum-beck, freshman education major, New Castle; Joan Healy, junior education major, Cannon; Carol Hoffecker, freshman in arts and science, Sussex; Charlotte Conner, sophomore in arts and science, Kent; Mary Wadsworth, freshman education major, Johnson House.

Commuter representatives to the Women's Executive Council will be Marie Woerner, junior home economics major; Gail Kauffman, sophomore home economics major; Jeanne Hodgson, freshman education major.

Richard Mumma Is AIC Medal Choice

The Student Medal of the American Institute of Chemists, given for scholastic achievement in chemistry, has been awarded to Richard Mumma, a senior from Wilmington.

The award was made by the Pennsylvania Chapter of the professional society during its annual dinner at the Engineers Club in Philadelphia.

Mumma was employed as a chemist at the Hercules Research Center last summer and will hold a similar position with the Sun Oil Company for the coming summer. In September he will begin his studies for a doctor's degree in chemistry at the University of Minnesota, where he has been awarded a graduate teaching assistantship.

The Atomic Age

A New Problem

It is not often that we have the opportunity to listen to a speaker who has something to say and can captivate his audience in the process. Norman Cousins, who spoke at last week's honors day exercises, was such a speaker.

Mr. Cousins, fortunately or unfortunately, spoke without notes. Fortunately because the talk he had intended to deliver, although just as interesting, was not so forceful as the talk he gave. Unfortunately, because his address, following from a train of thought, appeared to digress from his announced topic and to give the impression of poor organization.

Mr. Cousins' central theme was the problem of the sacredness of man in the atomic age. For the first time in history it is within man's power, through radiation, to change his own physical and chemical structure and that of life around him. In his opinion this question has become most important because of the nuclear tests which Great Britain, Russia and the United States have undertaken. Mr. Cousins concluded with the expressed conviction that the American people will endeavor to make the United Nations strong enough to prevent nuclear tests in the future.

Mr. Cousins, as was obvious, did not examine both sides of the question; he was not even "practical," that modern pre-requisite for public acceptance. His lack of a carefully defined, well-thought-out, logically correct argument may have caused some people to scoff at the essence of his thought.

In our opinion Mr. Cousins is to be commended for daring to touch upon a subject of such crucial importance in so forceful a manner. The question of the effects of radiation will never be answered by pretending the problem does not exist. At this moment, rightly or wrongly, the Japanese are very concerned about it. Perhaps it is about time for John Q. Public to become concerned also.

Civil Defense and

Tommy Atkins

"For it's Tommy this, an' Tommy that, an' 'Chuck him out, the brute!"
But it's 'Savior of his country' when the guns begin to shoot."

Rudyard Kipling

Poor "Tommy Atkins", the British GI, had a hard life in the reign of Victoria if we are to believe Kipling. Army pay was poor and conditions were worse. Tommy laid his life on the line in times of war and was despised in times of peace. As Kipling indicates, Tommy's treatment varied according to Britannia's current state of bellicosity.

This is just about the way the American public looks upon Civil Defense. If a war should come a CD organization would be an absolute necessity. At this moment, far from being an absolute necessity, most of the public just ignores Civil Defense.

It isn't that they don't care, they just don't do anything about it. School spirit, attendance at minor sports, Junior Musicals, Civil Defense, the weather, the electoral college — all excite much comment, little action.

We are not going to get aroused about this subject. In the best traditions of sophisticated realism we shall smile placidly and say c'est la vie. However, for the sake of those who are working to organize our country's civilian defense, we do feel that intelligent, thinking citizens ought to do the minimum which they are requested.

The needs of Civil Defense are enormous. On national and local levels CD needs ground observers, fire wardens, transportation crews, medical crews, radiation detection teams, communications groups, etc. Individually, CD is pushing for home bomb shelters, rotating stocks of food and water, first-aid supplies and knowledge, and so on.

We are reasonably certain that if a war should become imminent there would be a gratifying and unwieldy rush to get CD set up. In the meantime it would be to our benefit to maintain the barest CD skeleton and support it with such minimum efforts as they require of us.

Much more could be asked for, even more done, but let this suffice.

Letter to Editor

To The Editor:

At the beginning of this semester, a group of freshman Home Ec. students paid $4 for a Lab Syllabus for their supplies in an Art Course. We were told at that time that this amount would probably not be sufficient to cover the costs, and eventually we would have to pay an additional sum.

This turned out to be very true, and now we are informed that we shall have to buy another Lab Syllabus for the same price, $4. However, there are other facts that make us feel the situation is unfair, and to use a bit stronger language — outrageous.

We purchase these Lab Syllabuses from the University Bookstore, and for merely receiving our money and handing us the tickets to return to our instructors, the Bookstore keeps 25 per cent or 1 out of every 4 dollars we pay. The Bookstore neither orders nor delivers the materials to the art department. The art department does this for itself.

It is no wonder that the art department is short of money to pay for supplies used by the students, since the Bookstore is keeping the exorbitant amount of 25 per cent of our cash and especially since the Bookstore renders no actual service to the department. This has not occurred with any of our other Lab courses this year. Won't the administration or someone concerned with university finances please look further into the matter, or at least give it fairer consideration?

Tally the votes!! And we get the campus's choice for the best actors and production of the 1956-57 university theatre season. The voting was not as heavy as last year perhaps because there were limited choices in some categories. But enough ballots flowed into the REVIEW office to indicate the campus' choice for the best actress and actor, supporting actress and actor, and production of this year's University's theatre season.

A sweeping majority of the voters put the dual production, "The Homecoming—Agamemnon", in the top position for the best production.

"The Homecoming—Agamemnon" was a peak in the celebration of the E. 52-University Theatre's twenty-fifth anniversary theatre season. This occasion marks the first time in the American theatre that "Agamemnon" and "The Homecoming" had been presented together on the American stage.

Capturing the Spelvin Award for the best supporting actor is Jack Scott for his role of the gentleman caller in "The Glass Menagerie." Mr. Scott has been extremely active in the University Theatre, an activity which he seemed to shun in his freshman year at Delaware. Apparently it took the University of South Carolina to arouse his theatrical interest which he now displays in both acting and writing. Two of his one-act plays will be presented next Thursday at the laboratory theatre program.

Gretchen Berguido wins the Spelvin Award for the best supporting actress for her role of Cassandra in "Agamemnon." We feel that this part was Miss Berguido's first opportunity to really use her dramatic talent and we hope that she will have some good parts in future productions.

The award winner for best actor is a two-time Spelvin (Continued on Page 7)

'Neath The Arches

By Nancy Stewart

Last weekend saw the last of parties and carefree fun probably until next year as the last fraternity weekend came to an end. Everyone heaves a deep sigh of regret as it seems to be the consensus of opinion that this year's weekends were the best ever. Many new ideas for favors were thought up by the boys: Theta Chi gave an authentic fraternity paddle, Sigma Nu, Phi Kappa Tau and Pi Kappa Alpha gave "monogrammed" towels, Kappa Alpha gave their dates a drunken pup in a brandy snifter with a charm around its neck, Delta Tau Delta gave a bracelet, Sigma Phi Epsilon gave a cat on a rug with a Sig Ep charm, Alpha Epsilon Pi gave jewelry cases and Alpha Tau Omega gave shorty pajamas. Cupid had a field day over the weekend! Those pinned are Don Wood and Judy Beers, Gene Wollason and Carolyn Lee, Hugh Moon-ey and Barbara Lafferty, Russ Trimmer and Mary Mann, Bill Trissell and Joanne Brennan, James Harrington and Diane McCrea, Don Stoudt and Nancy Jo Bringham, Sheila Fetter and Morris Turner and Isabel Moore and Dick Shaffer. A much belated congratulations to Ginny Renwick and Irv Kunzman of Lafayette on their pinning. Also congratulations to Pat Flood and Bob Manolak on their engagement.

This past Wednesday, the members of the Review staff "took off" for their annual banquet where keys were awarded members of the staff for their service during the past year.

Sad, but true, it looks as if it's Study Time on campus. With the end of weekends, goes the end of any real "goofing off" as the entire student body faces the cheerful prospect of finals.

There's a joke going around campus which the over-worked seniors feel applies to them: A man kept coming to an insane asylum to watch an inmate practice winding up and pitching (without a ball). Every day he came, sat in his car and watched until finally, a guard at the asylum walked over and asked him why he kept coming to watch the man pitch an imaginary ball as he looked completely sane. The man said, "Well, I'm a senior at the University of Delaware and just wanted to study his technique, cause I figure in about two more weeks, I'll be catching for him!" "Huff said! See you next week."

It's All Greek...

The official social season of Phi Kappa Tau ended last Saturday with a barn party at Bob Wood's farm. The rafters rang and echoed from the sound of all sorts of guitars and a good time was had by all. Friday night's formal dance was climaxed by the outstanding pledge award which went to Jim Mumford, the outstanding freshman award which went to Lee Dalinski and the honor of Phi Tau Sweetheart which went to Cathy Lange. Although Saturday night was the official end of the weekend, a few of the brothers and their dates got together over at Salem Cove in New Jersey and frolicked around the beach.

All sorts of things happened to Kim over the weekend. She chased a cat, chased a little dog, got chased by a big dog, stalemated it out with a lamb and came out on top of a survival contest with a pigeon.

Congratulations to Gene Thomas and Bob Bunting who were initiated into Alpha Zeta a week ago. Alpha Zeta is the honorary agriculture fraternity.

Best of luck to Gene Wollaston and Carolyn Lee who became pinned last week.

The brothers of Alpha Tau Omega are proud to welcome into our brotherhood the following men who were initiated this past weekend: John Bell, Russell Boyce, Ernest Eissele, Berch Grigos, Fred Jackson, Gene Littleton, Dick Mainwaring, Jim McAllister, Bill Payne, Dick Price, Tom Price, Don Reed, Jay Waller, David Warner, Neal Warrine-ton. Special congratulations go to Brother Jim McAllister who was chosen as the outstanding pledge, and to Brother Don Reed who was awarded the trophy for the best pledge plaque of the year.

The initiation was followed by the traditional dinner for new initiates, and a casual house party at which the annual girls' entertainment provided the riotous highlight of the evening.

ATO was pleased to choose as its Sweetheart of 1957, Laurie Bliss, and as its Dream Girl, Doretta Mueller. Congratulations and best wishes to both of them.

Congratulations this week also go to Brother Bob Gore on his initiation into Alpha Chi Sigma and to Brother Ken Hastings on his acceptance into Alpha Zeta.

Last Friday night the brothers of Pi Kappa Alpha and their dates went to the Northeast River Yacht Club for dinner and dancing. The management of the club went out of their way to make the evening a memorable one. Everyone thought the dinner was excellent. Our president, Art Oratorio, made a very good after-dinner speech. He should have been a comedian because he certainly has a way of making people laugh.

Musie started pouring out of Al Santorg's sax and his Stardusters about 9. Man, can they play. They get better every time you hear them.

The highlight of the evening was the announcement of the Dream Girl. The brothers chose, Betty Jo Smith who is engaged to Brother Mel Slawick, as the girl who best represents the Pike's idea of a Dream Girl.

Brother Don Wood pinned his girl, Judy Beers, at the dance and she was serenaded the same night. Congratulations, Don.

Things were pretty quiet after the weekend. All the brothers were really dragging anchor. Bob Cossaboon was up bright and early, bragging that he was going to make his 8 Monday class. It broke his heart when he learned it was Tuesday.

Last weekend, Theta Chi Weekend, completed our agenda of social events for this season. Theta's ran gamut of social activities. Beginning with a house party Friday night which centered around the frantic music of the Queen-Belle and her Knights, the Brothers of Theta Chi soon were in high gear. Saturday, the pace was slowed only for the dinner party at Schaefer's. Speed was regained after the presentation of Awards. Robert Jaichner was elected outstanding senior of Theta Chi. Tommy Thomas was elected Theta Chi's nominee for the Collie Award, John Ruellio the Outstanding Pledge in his class and last, but far from least, Nancy Stewart was crowned Sweetheart of Theta Chi. The weekend was completed Sunday afternoon by a picnic.

Sunday morning found the Theta Estate minus three more pins. On Friday night, Hugh Mooney pinned Barbara Lafferty and Russ Trimmer pinned Mary Mann. On Saturday, Bill Trissell and Joanne Brenegan were pinned.

Tonight the Theta Chi house will be the scene of an alumni banquet with Devereaux McCarthy as Master of Ceremonies.

Phi Epsilon was enhanced this past Sunday by the initiation of 17 new brothers. The new "Junior actives" are John Bowman, Buddy Campbell, Leon Dombroski, Otto Fad, Mark Hurm, Bob Johnson, Harold Kenton, Stan Macce, Danny Palmer, Sonny Reihm, Bill Stradwitz, Don Stoudt, Tony Suravitch, George Thompson, Charles Woodward, Bill Miller and Gene Seaman. Another highlight of Sunday's ceremonies was the initiation of Jack Miller who was made an honorary brother in Sig Ep in recognition of his great generosity and aid to the fraternity.

Saturday night saw the re-introduction of the annual Sig Ep Fathers and Sons Banquet, which was a great success. During the evening, recognition was given to Harold Kenton and Paul Nickel as the outstanding pledges of the past year.

Recently pinned are James "Whale" Harrington to Diane McCre and Don Stoudt to Nancy Jo Bringham. Congratulations to both couples.

The Sig Ep "A" softball team culminated an undefeated season this past Monday to win the intrafraternity softball trophy. Led by team captain, Lefty Bacher, team members include brothers Andrusko, Baillie, Bornmann, Callaway, Dick, Laman, Matthews, Thornton, Taylor and Strandwitz.

The Alpha Epsilon Pi spring weekend has come and gone. Congratulations go to Dorothy Levy, who was chosen sweetheart by the brothers at the dinner dance. Awards were given to several brothers at the proceedings. Fred Weinstein was chosen outstanding brother of the year. Also John Straussburger and Jerry Solvack were awarded as being the outstanding athlete and scholar respectively. The brothers who helped the pledges the most were Sid Klugar and Gene Aronowitz, while the best pledge was judged to be Barry Helfand.

Thirteen of those at the dinner were attending their first function as new brothers. These men were Morris Binder, Steve Concors, Steve Potter, Mel Fine, Paul Fine, Leonard Cutler, Danny Harwitz, Sheldon Soss, Stan Shames, Bob Price, Jay Brademan, and Sheldon Weinstein.

Congratulations to Ronnie Strauss, who as a sophomore, was accepted to the Temple College of Chiropractic; to Hilly Handloff, who was the recipient of two of the poetry prizes awarded at Honors Day; to Jerry Spivack on being placed on the panel of distinguished seniors and on receiving an award from Beta Beta Beta as the top Biology major in the senior class and to Jerry Goosenberg as the outstanding junior man major in chemistry.

The Kappa Alpha Weekend is over but its effects are still visible; mainly due to the fact that two brothers became pinned. Brother Morris Turner pinned Sheila Fetter and Brother Dick Schaffer pinned Isabel Moore. Best of luck to all of you.

Brother Pat Boone was on television in Wilmington last Thursday and a number of brothers visited with him. Brother Boone called the house Sunday and informed us he would visit the Kastle in the near future.

Congratulations to the winners of awards last Friday at the "Old South Ball." Brother Steve Voorhees received the Guber Forman Lyin' Trophy; Brother Thomas Adams re-

The new Kappa Alpha Rose is Marlene Griffith. She is pinned to Brother Bill Donnalley.

The next social event on the KA calendar is finals time. Twenty-four hour study rules are now in effect and attention has been turned toward the books.

It was a pleasure to have Brother Dick Schaffer, province commander and Brother William Forester, executive secretary of the Kappa Alpha Order at the weekend.

Thanks from all the brothers to brother Dr. E. Vernon Lewis for the fine picnic held at his summer home on the Sasaffras River. Much credit goes to Brother Lewis for all the help he has given our chapter throughout the year. Brother Lewis is our faculty advisor.

Last Saturday Delta Tau Delta presented its first campus tour for high school seniors. After a tour of the university in the afternoon, the students had a chance to meet faculty representatives from the various schools and departments. Thanks go to the Mothers' Club for providing a fine buffet dinner at the function.

Pledges John Koch and Ed Schmauder along with Brother Lovell journeyed to Penn State over the weekend and pledges Feeley and Trutt visited our chapter at Maryland. They brought back several choice souvenirs for the brothers.

Our annual Senior Send-off was held last Sunday at the farm of Brother Bill Moore. A great time was had by all. This Sunday we will climax our social season with the annual Parents' Tea.

Congratulations to Jim Leathrum on being awarded the Scott Foundation Scholarship. Also congratulations to our softball team which at present is holding third place in the intramural league.

The Sigma Nu weekend work project this year turned out to be very successful. We are sure that the children at the Governor Bacon Health Center will certainly enjoy their new baseball diamond. The annual Father and Son banquet took place last Wednesday night. It was highlighted by a talk given by guest speaker Tubby Raymond.

With the intramural program coming to a close the house looks back on a successful year. All the teams have done a good job with the volleyball and badminton teams taking first places in the spring activities.

We would like to congratulate brother Warren Green and Nancy Alvarado. Congratulations are also in order for Bill Walston on breaking the University broad jump record and for brothers Jim Smith and Tony DeLucas on their outstanding performances on the university baseball team. Congratulations also to the following brothers upon receiving honors day awards: Walston, Jost, Monymaker, Bryant and Crompton.

Meet Bill Hancock

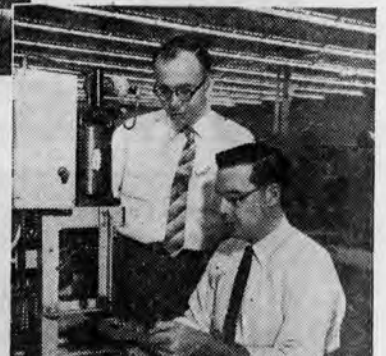

Western Electric development engineer

Bill Hancock is a graduate of Pennsylvania State University where he majored in industrial engineering. Bill joined Western Electric as a planning engineer in November, 1951, at the Kearny Works in New Jersey. Later, he was assigned to the new Merrimack Valley Works in North Andover, Massachusetts, as a development engineer. Here Bill is shown leaving his attractive New England home for his office while his wife, Barbara, and their daughter, Blair, watch.

Bill's present assignment at Western Electric: the development of methods and machinery for assembling one of today's most promising electronic developments—electronic "packages" involving printed wiring. At a product review conference Bill (standing) discusses his ideas on printed wiring assemblies with fellow engineers.

Bill and his supervisor, John Souter, test a machine they developed to insert components of different shapes and sizes into printed wiring boards. The small electronic packages prepared by this machine are being used in a new transistorized carrier system for rural telephone lines.

Sailing off the north shore of Massachusetts is one of Bill's favorite sports. He also enjoys the golf courses and ski runs within an easy drive from where he lives and works.

Engineers: Western Electric offers you a wide variety of interesting, creative opportunities. It makes no difference what your field of specialization is. You can fit—now—into our operation as the manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System... or into our defense job. A free booklet—"Your Opportunity at Western Electric"—outlines company operations and specific job opportunities in detail. Send for it. Jordan Independence

There has been a lot of talk recently about the tiny insignificant kingdom of Jordan. The talk has stemmed from numerous cabinet changes creating the possibility that the country will be taken over by one or more of its neighbors. This crisis has been important enough to take the United States Sixth Fleet from ports in southern France and send it steaming toward the eastern Mediterranean in a show of American strength.

Jordan Important

We have apparently warned all nations in the area to stay clear of Jordan and that the United States thereby considers the independence of Jordan vital. Some have said that this affair in Jordan will be the first test of President Eisenhower's doctrine for the Middle East. Indeed we have gone pretty far out on a limb for a country which seems at first to have little concern or interest in the United States.

Undemocratic

First of all, we can ask whether Jordan is democratic? Here the answer will have to be no, for the king was recently able to close down all political parties, and his sovereignty is controlled basically by the policies of his neighbors: Egypt and Syria. Secondly, Jordan is far from pro-Western. Not long ago, the king expelled the British commander of the famed Arab Legion and gave the British troops on Jordanian soil notice that they must leave very soon. This is another indication of the particular closeness of Jordan with its neighbor, Egypt; for it is certainly well-known that President Nasser has been continuously trying to remove all Western influence from his country. Thirdly, we must be realistic and practical in inquiring whether Jordan has natural resources such as oil that are of value to us. Here again, the answer is in the negative, for Jordan is mostly desert and in the past has existed solely on the annual subsidy given by England for the right to have her troops remain in Jordan. With the end of British bases, Jordan has been promised the money by her Arab neighbors, who have for the most part not paid this money yet. This lack of funds, and the desire of many people in Jordan to get closer to Syria and Egypt is the cause of the present crisis.

America's Interest

In view of the above, how can we justify the American interest in Jordan? Our view can be justified by indicating that the Middle East is now an American concern. This is true because we helped stop the Anglo-French invasion, and thereby showed that we, the United States, rather than England, would now take the predominant Western interest in the Middle East. Our interest is plainly to keep the present boundaries of 11 nations pretty much the same—and thereby prevent any further outbreak in the Israeli-Arab war. In short, I believe that it is realized in Washington, that any attempt by Syria or Egypt to take over Jordan would in its execution start all over again the war between Israel and all Arab states. And of course, we have done a lot in the past to prevent such a war and maintain the status quo in the area of Israel and her neighbors.

Peace Vital

It is therefore in the interest of peace in the Middle East, and perhaps in the entire world that we must help maintain the independence of Jordan.

Award winner. Last year he was voted the best supporting actor and this year he proceeded to the top actor on campus. That person is, of course, Thomas J. Waters for his role of Tom Wingfield in "The Glass Menagerie." One of the best workers in the University Theatre, Mr. Waters has been seen in every production of this season and held the office of President of the E 52-University Theatre. Last week at Honor's Day, Mr. Waters was awarded the University Drama Group Prize for the one person contributing most to the theatre program at the University.

The closest race occurred in the category of Best Actress. The tabulation was so close that the ballots were counted THREE times to make certain no mistakes were made. The two close running nominees struggling for star billing in the George Spelvin Award were Suzanne Kozak and Mary Minkewich, but the final choice of the campus goes to Miss Kozak for her role of Livinia in "The Homecoming." This marks Miss Kozak's second straight Spelvin Award for best actress of the campus. Last year Miss Kozak also won the Tony Mitchell Acting Award.

This year's Tony Mitchell Award was won by Mary Minkewich. With this Senior class goes most of the University students who had the privilege of knowing Tony Mitchell, a fine actor and contributor to the University dramatic program. Three years ago Tony took his last bow in Mitchell Hall in "The Importance of Being Earnest," several months later he was killed in an automobile accident. The Tony Mitchell Acting Award was initiated in his memory.

Congratulations to all the winners . . .

Questions students ask Du Pont

—and some of the answers in summary form

"Do you hire men who have definite military commitments?" asks Oran A. Ritter, Jr., of Louisiana State University.

Yes, because Du Pont has always been interested in men on a long-term basis. Du Pont has employed many graduates with military commitments even though they were due to report for duty a few weeks after joining the Company.

"Would a graduate degree help my chances for advancement at Du Pont?" asks John C. Nettleton, of Villanova University.

Many factors are involved, and an advanced degree would undoubtedly have a favorable effect in all technical work, but it would probably be of more direct benefit in research or development at Du Pont than in production, marketing or sales.

"Where would I work for Du Pont?" asks Gaylord E. Moss, of Tufts College.

Du Pont has more than 140 plants and research and development laboratories scattered through 26 states. If you have a definite preference, and Du Pont has an opening there for which you're qualified, your chances of getting it are good.

"How are chances for advancement in a large company like Du Pont?" asks Herschel H. Loomis, Jr., of Cornell University.

Good! Du Pont is large, but it's made up of 11 independent departments—like smaller companies—under one management. And it's a basic policy to promote from within and on merit as Company growth creates openings.

Sports SLANTS

by Dave Heeren

Sports Editor

Ken Steers has been at Delaware since 1943 in the capacity of head track coach. His fourteen year tenure makes him the oldest coach, from the standpoint of service, at the university.

Coach Steers himself was an excellent runner in his school days but it is a difficult task to get any information from him concerning fist feats. A modest and quiet man, Ken has been criticized for indifference and for apparent lack of interest in his boys but, take it from one who knows, he is anything but indifferent. On the contrary, Ken's quiet leadership is an inspiration to the cindermen and they really work hard for him.

Look at the record! During his fourteen years here, ten of the fifteen varsity records have been shattered and one has been equaled. In the recent Johns Hopkins match, Bill Walston broke the broad jump mark with a leap of 22' 3 1/2".

VARSITY TRACK AND FIELD RECORDS

100—M. Davison, 1947, 99.3
220—E. P. Pittman, 1929, 22
400—M. Davison, 1947
800—T. Baylis, 1952, 48.7
1600—W. Heybold, 1954, 1:53.9
3 Mile—W. Heybold, 1954, 4:18.8
5 Mile—V. Booth, 1951, 24:5.4
10 Mile—H. C. Douglas, 1940, 55.7
20 Mile—H. C. Douglas, 1940, 1:15.8
30 Mile—J. Flynn, 1953, 2:25.4
50 Mile—J. Holcomb
100 Mile—W. Heybold
200 Mile—T. Baylis
Shot Put—Steve Butcher, 1954, 46' 7"
Discus—D. Benson, 1956, 134' 4 1/2"
Javelin—M. Stalloni, 1947, 202' 5 1/2"
High J.—J. Simpson, 1955, 8' 5 1/2"
Broad J.—F. Lambert, 1953, 22' 3 1/2"
Pole V.—C. Browning, 1956, 15' 3 1/2"

Another note worthy of significance concerning the Steersmen is that the mile relay team, composed of Cliff Browning, Jerry Quigg, Bill Jones and Gil Mahla won the MASCAC Division II race at the Penn Relays on April 27.

Prior to this week Jones was the top point scorer on the team with 40 points in four meets. Browning had 39 and Walston 32 1/2. However, Quigg's record was tops. Likeable Jerry had taken five firsts for Delaware in the capacity of half miler and miler. One guess as to the number of races Jerry had entered. That's right, five!

The undefeated Freshmen squad was paced by Lou Collison's outstanding total of 33 points in two meets. Two varsity men had achieved higher point totals than Collison but the varsity has had two more dual meets. Incidentally, points are given on the basis of 5 for first, 3 for second and 1 for third.

One of the most interesting subjects of controversy about track these days is the subject of record breakers. That is, why are so many track records being broken? Coach Steers advances the following explanation: "More boys are participating in track; there are more and better tracks; training and practice methods have improved; and equipment is better in certain events such as the pole vault." He might have added . . . better coaches.

Tennis Squad Wins Two, Defeats LaSalle and Ursinus

The University of Delaware tennis team won its fourth match of the season against three losses by defeating Ursinus University on May 4, 6-3.

Captain Alan Woodruff accounted for Delaware's first victory, defeating Stan Waggaman 6-3, 6-4. Combined with his brother, Bob Woodruff, he gained another victory in a doubles match.

Summaries: Singles, Matella, (U) def. Walker, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2; Morris (U) def. C. Kauffman, 6-3, 6-3; A. Woodruff (D) def. Waggaman, 6-3, 6-4; Jenkins (D) def. Schorsch, 6-2, 6-1; Daniello (D) def. Women Organize Annual Festivities To Honor May Day

By Barbara Jenkinson

'Tis the merry month of May and tomorrow will be May Day. That's right, May Day. It pops up every year about this time. I sincerely hope that everyone on campus will come to see the beautiful May Day pageant, "Goin' My Way." From all the preparations and rehearsals going on, I'm sure it will be splendid.

WAA Elections are over by now, but I will not be able to announce the winners until next week.

The Swimming Meet was never held. There just weren't enough girls interested to sign up for the events. Things are going from bad to worse. I hope next year everyone goes all out for WAA. This year certainly hasn't been the best one for sports or recreation by the Delaware Chicks. No one seems to know the answer to this lazy attitude. There must be a solution somewhere.

Well, gals, it's time to close until next week. Please, please, come down to the Women's Gym tomorrow and see the outdoor spectacular and the lovely Queen and her Court!

Drexel Lacrosse Team Slaughters Hens, 16-4

The Varsity lacrosse team dropped their fifth contest in six starts on May 4, at Frazier Field as Drexel shellacked them, 16-4.

Midfielder Bob Seaman and goalie Ed Bennett again stood out in a losing cause for the Blue Hens. Seaman kept up his pace of scoring one half of the Hens' goals by tallying two of the four and Bennett made 16 saves.

Drexel's scoring was distributed evenly. The Dragons scored four times in each of the first two periods to take an 8-0 lead at halftime. In the second half they tallied eight more times to bring their final total to sixteen.

Delaware scored twice in the third quarter and twice in the fourth when there was no longer any doubt of the outcome of the game. Bob Cossaboon and Keith MacKinnon scored the other two goals for the Hens.

The lineups:

Position	Drexel	Delaware

Blue Hen Of The Week

By Jay Braderman

Ray Walker, the number one singles player on Coach Roy Rylander's tennis team, is this week's Blue Hen of the Week.

Ray is not the captain of the team nor does he have the best record on the team. However, in his position as top singles player on a winning team and for his leadership on the court, he has become the most respected member of the team. Ray is a junior engineering major at the university. He resides in Wilmington.

Thinclads Come From Behind To Top Franklin and Marshall

Delaware's varsity track team came from behind to defeat Franklin and Marshall in the last two events of the track meet held on May 3, at Lancaster, Pa.

F&M was leading 60-48 before the last 2 events, the javelin and the broad jump.

Needing only a second in the two events to assure themselves of a tie in the meet, F&M was unable to get that valuable 3 pointer. Instead Delaware took all three places in the javelin and first and second in the broad jump to win the meet, 65-61.

Aquatic Club Elects Gail Pierson Prexy

Elections held recently in the Aquatic Club have resulted in the selection of Gail Pierson as president, Mary Beth Carney, vice-president; Connie Alexander, secretary and Brenda Baumgartner, treasurer.

Gail Pierson belonged to a swimming group in high school which took part in shows at the University of Pennsylvania. She has a rank of swimming instructor in Red-Cross ratings. During the summer she teaches and is a life guard at a city pool. She is a sophomore physical education major.

Membership in the Aquatic Club is honorary, and tryouts are held every fall, in early October. The group meets on Monday nights at the gym. The club was organized to give interested women students an opportunity to take part in synchronized swimming.

Mrs. Rothacher, the clubs sponsor, observed that this year's performances were very well attended. "There was a full house all three nights, with about 50 people peeking in the windows."

Cheerleaders Plan Calendar Change For Coming Year

Plans for the activities of the cheerleaders for next year include a larger squad, better sendoffs and planned activities for the orientation of freshmen, Nancy Jones, captain, said yesterday.

By increasing the squad, she said, it is hoped that better spirit will be shown when everyone can see or hear a cheerleader. With a larger squad, plans are also being made to attend away games at schools where it is not too expensive for traveling expenses.

To arouse the spirit of the incoming freshmen, a pep fest and parties are planned for the first week to let the new freshmen get together, meet one another and learn the school cheers.

Placards announcing the date and time of athletic events will be posted in the Scourge or the post office hallway. These signs will be made and maintained by the cheerleaders themselves. According to Barbara Bianconi, treasurer of the cheerleaders, it is hoped that these signs will improve attendance to all the various games.

Batters Meet Marines In Quest of 12th Win

Delaware's baseball team will oppose the Quantico Marines tomorrow afternoon, at 2:30 p. m. on Frazer Field. Tuesday, Temple University's Owls will invade Newark; and Thursday, a trip to Franklin & Marshall will close the regular scheduled season for Delaware.

With five runs in the seventh inning, the Hens downed the Cadets from Pennsylvania Military College, 7-2, before the home crowd on May 4. Bill Patterson received credit for the victory, his second, against one defeat.

This win gave the Hens an 11-4 record for the season.

Patterson was tagged for five hits, including a home run by Dick Hintze, before being lifted in the eighth inning. Lefty Dick McKelvey struck out three Cadets in finishing the contest for Delaware. Art Coccodrilli went all the way for P.M.C. and was credited with the loss.

With the score knotted at 2-2, the Hens pushed across five runs in the bottom half of the seventh to provide the winning margin. An error by Hintze putting Larry Catuzzi on first started the rally. Joe Thorp and Carmen Cella bunted safely to load the bases. A punch single by Gene Watson scored all three base runners and safeties by Jim Breyer and Fred Walters accounted for the final two runs.

Chicks Triumph

The Blue Chick nine won its second game of the season against one defeat when it outlasted the Drexel squad, 11-5, at Frazer Field on Monday.

Hurley Al Neiger survived a four run outburst in the fifth inning and pitched scoreless baseball the rest of the way in winning his second game of the season.

Sonny Reihm led the attack with three hits and Jack Turner, Karl Franz and Bob Reeder had two safeties each for the Chicks.

Wesley Dinner Tuesday Night

The Wesley Foundation will hold its annual spring banquet next Tuesday at 6:15 p.m., at the Wesley House, 192 South College Avenue.

Dr. Ralph John, dean of students, American University, Washington, D. C., will deliver the principle speech. Dr. John is president of the Inter-Conference Commission which is a policy-making body for the Methodist Student Movement of this area.

Following the address officers for next year will be installed. They are Harriet Hermann, president; Jim Leathrum, vice president; Barbara Phillips, secretary; George Carlisle, treasurer; Jack Sirman, house chairman; Eugene Thomas, Katie Collins, Nancy Walton, Dot Lomicky, Bill Foster, team chairmen.

The foundation's board of directors will meet after the installation during which they will nominate members for next year's board and will appropriate funds for the new budget.

Methodist faculty, students and alumni are invited to the banquet. Tickets are $1.

Charity Members See Collection Way Best

Personal solicitation is a better way than the "gimmick" method for collecting Campus Chest funds, three university representatives to a collegiate conference learned last Saturday.

University Women To Sell Sandwiches For Female Grants

"Buy a sandwich and send a girl to college."

This is the suggestion of Camilla Day, member of the Newark Chapter of the American Association of University Women. She is referring to a snack sale the organization is sponsoring.

This sale will be held next Wednesday from 9:30 until 11 p.m., in all dormitories and fraternity houses on campus. Proceeds will be used for a scholarship to the university.

Sandwiches, cup cakes, and fruit punch will comprise the articles available.

The three students who attended are Peter Generaux, Jane Doran and Joan Thompson. The conference was held at the University of Pennsylvania and was sponsored by the World University Service and the United States National Student Association.

Generaux voiced a surprise over the conference agreement that individual contributions are a better way to run the Campus Chest. The group spurned the idea of a carnival or a dance. Generaux added that he favors the decision.

Students will be faced with the task of contributing to charities after college, the representative contends, and that to get them used to the idea is better than having them buy a dance ticket. This personal contribution, the group decided, will give students an adult awareness of their responsibility as future citizens to charitable organizations.

Participants at the conference decided that the funds collected at a single university have little relative value. However, when the total of all institutions is made, the amount is worth considering.

After several panel discussions, the conference closed by planning a complete drive for "Campus X."

Alumni Reunion

Home Management House on South College Avenue.

The evening banquet, scheduled for Kent Hall at 6:15 p.m., will be highlighted by the presentation of awards to the outstanding alumnus, the alumnus traveling the longest distance to attend the reunion, the class with the largest percentage of members present and the class with the largest number of members attending. Also at this time, a portrait of the late Dr. Francis H. Squire, Dean of the University, will be unveiled and presented to the university by David A. Eastburn, representing the group of alumni and friends whose contributions made the painting possible.

Tri Beta Initiates

William Amos of St. Andrews School and the Marine Biology Laboratory of the university spoke on "The Ecology of the Dunes" at the annual banquet of Beta Beta Beta, honorary biological society, or May 1 at the Mallow Inn.

Dr. Robert S. Howard presented Doris Wild and Jerome Spivak with Beta Beta Beta awards. Miss Wild was honored for having the highest grade in general biology in the 1955-56 school term. Mr. Spivak acquired his honor by having the highest index of the senior research students in biology and for his interest in the biological field.

Previous to the Banquet a formal initiation ceremony was held in Brown Hall Lounge. The following were initiated to full membership in Beta Beta Beta: Eugene Aronowitz, Carolyn Bonk, Donald Brodie, Lillian Campbell, Harvey Caney, Phyllis Teige, Ann Harwood, Jennie Hayes, Frank Helms, Arthur Henery, Emmeline Knoll, Helene Lasch, Carol Lowicki, Alice Matuszeski, Don Miller, Asa Mosher, Howard Priestly, Raymond Saatman and Barbara Thomas.

Welcomed to provisional membership were: Katherine Bastian, Wallace Bryant, Bruce Chapelle, Joyce Connell, Laurence Cordrey, Paula Diasyhn, Norman Dill, Emily Donovan, Melvin Fine, Jeanette Frazier, David Green, Jr., Mary Haldeman, Winifred Hall, Daniel Harwitz, Carol Moore, Nina Morris, Dorothy Pannell, Susan Reis, Martha Scafe, Sheldon Soss, John Stewart, Jr., Judith Storm, Ronald Strauss, Joan Thompson, Carol Turner and Nancy Williams.

Members elected to provisional membership will be eligible for full membership if they continue to further superior scholarship in biology.

The initiation ceremony was conducted by Matt Shilling, president of Beta Beta Beta. At the business meeting following the ceremony the following officers were elected for 1957-58: Joan B. Dible, president; Jane H. Wollenweber, vice-president; James P. Marvel, secretary; Asa H. Mosher, asst. treasurer; and Arthur W. Henry, historian.

Engineering Council Elects Tom Lord As New President

Tom Lord, junior chemical engineering student, representing the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, will be president of the Engineering Council next year.

Lord is a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, of which he was athletic chairman last semester and is alumni chairman this semester. He was also a junior counselor this year and participated in Inter-Fraternity Playbill.

Vice-president will be Ralph Tillie. He is a sophomore in civil engineering and is a representative of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

Mike Klapinsky, junior in electrical engineering, was elected secretary. He represents the American Institute of Electrical Engineers on the Council.

Treasurer will be Ross Lanus, junior civil engineering student. A second representative of the American Society of Civil Engineers, Lanus is a member of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity.

Canterbury Elects Swarthout Prexy For 1957-58 Year

Dick Swarthout has been re-elected president of the Canterbury Association, the Episcopal organization on campus.

Dick, who is planning to go into the ministry, was executive commissioner of National Canterbury and president of the Third Providence Canterbury Association this year. A member of E-52, he also played on the lacrosse team and in the university band.

Vice-president will again be Robin Biddison, sophomore Home Economics major. Robin is a member of the Home Economics Club and the Young Democrats Club and was assistant quiet hour chairman of her dormitory this year.

Other officers next year will be Suzanne Adams, sophomore art major, secretary; Sara Lu Kline, freshman education major, treasurer; Carol Jones, freshman psychology major, chairman of the Social Action committee, a service committee.

This year the Social Action Committee has done service for Happy House, a home for orphans and for Governor Bacon Health Center. The Delaware State Hospital has also been looked into as a possibility to be part of a service program next year.

Dr. Claude Takes Michigan Position

Dr. Inis L. Claude, associate professor of political science, is leaving Delaware to accept a position at the University of Michigan.

In his new position as associate professor, Dr. Claude will teach courses in American Foreign Policy and International Organizations. Because of the larger political science department at Michigan, Dr. Claude's work will be more specific than it is at Delaware. He is leaving Delaware after the close of summer school.

Honoraries Cancel Leadership Confab

"There will be no Leadership Conference held this year," stated Al Walters, former president of the Senate. The conference, which was sponsored last year by Omicron Delta Kappa and Tassel, campus honorary societies, has been the topic of recent Senate discussions.

"It was hoped," Walters continued, "that all the honorary groups on campus would help sponsor the conference, which proved to be a great success last year. With these plans in mind we are hoping to have a successful leadership conference next year."

Walters continued that he felt the conference has been very successful in the past and should definitely be continued "because it does a lot of good."

The purpose of the conference would have been to bring all the campus leaders to a meeting where common problems of organization leadership can be discussed. Last year's conference was the first after it was discontinued several years ago.

Crandall Addresses Annual HE Banquet

Dr. Elizabeth Crandall, Associate Professor of Home Economics at the University of Rhode Island, spoke on May 1 at the Annual Ellen H. Richards Banquet, sponsored by the Home Economics Club.

"We must Let Out The Seams of Our Thinking" was the title of Dr. Crandall's talk. It dealt with the subject of new and future trends in home management.

The other activities for the evening included installation of the officers and presentation of awards. Barbara Cumberley, this year's president, acted as master of ceremonies.

A group of seniors became members of the American Home Economics Association. They were initiated by Mary F. Shoffner, president of the Delaware Home Economics Association.

Shirley Deats was presented by Nancy Marsteller as the recipient of the Grange Scholarship, which is awarded to an outstanding junior home economics major. She was chosen by the home economics faculty.

Two girls, Nancy Marsteller, a junior and Sue Dunlap, a freshman, received the Danforth Award which is a trip to Camp Minniwanca in Stoney Lake, Michigan. In addition, Sue received $20 from the Home Economics Club for use on the trip. Sue and Nancy also received the class awards from the freshman and junior classes respectively. Audrey Hardenvergh received it for the senior class and Kathy Schulz for the sophomore. The award, An American Home Economics Association charm on a neck chain, was given for attendance at meetings, service in the club, and scholastic index.

Dottie Lidell was the chairman of the Banquet. Other chairmen were Kay Hammond, favors; Sue Dunlap, publicity; Sylvia and Sheila Fetter, decorations; Roberta Hannold, tickets and invitations; and Nancy Marsteller, program and speaker.

How to make the most of your engineering career
ONE OF A SERIES

go where engineering is interesting

It's basic that you'll get more fun out of working on interesting projects than on stodgy ones. So it makes sense to choose a company and an industry in which you'll draw engineering assignments that give you excitement—and professional satisfaction. That way, you'll get more fun out of life, and advance faster, too.

It just so happens that Boeing offers you assignments on some of the most interesting projects in the country. For instance—an advanced supersonic guided missile weapon system; the 707, America's first jet transport; the revolutionary B-52 eight-jet nuclear weapons carrier; the KC-135 jet transport-tanker, and top-secret research projects.

There's a whole world of opportunity for you at Boeing, in research, design, manufacturing or service. Boeing's growth (400% more engineers today than 10 years ago) creates an expanding need—and long-range opportunities—for engineers of all kinds: electrical, mechanical, civil, aeronautical, industrial, or related fields, and for mathematicians and physicists.

At Boeing you'll enjoy high starting salaries, career stability, retirement and pension plans, company-paid opportunities for graduate study, and a host of additional benefits!

NOW is the time to start planning ahead. Consult your Placement Office, or write:

Boyle Receives Summer Post

Kay Boyle, novelist and short story writer, will instruct undergraduate and graduate literature courses in the short story at the university's summer school for the 1957 session.

Miss Boyle was born in St. Paul, Minn., and spent much of her childhood abroad. She was educated at Miss Shipley's School in Bryn Mawr, Friends School in Atlantic City, the Ohio Mechanics Institute in Cincinnati and the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music.

She married a French engineer in 1922. After her marriage, she traveled in France, England, Austria, Germany and Italy. Since 1930, twelve novels, six collections of short stories, two books of poetry and a children's book of hers have been published.

She won the O. Henry Memorial Prize twice for the best short story of the year. In 1934, she won a Guggenheim Fellowship. From 1946 to 1953 she was a correspondent for the New Yorker.

Jason School Wins Mathematics Tests

William Jason Comprehensive High School, Georgetown, and the Mount Pleasant High School, Wilmington, won the 1957 mathematics contest for Delaware High Schools.

The elementary division for students in junior and senior high schools who have taken no more than one year of algebra was won by the William Jason Comprehensive High School.

Twenty-three schools competed in this division.

The advanced division for upper year high school students was won by Mount Pleasant High School. Twenty-one schools competed in this division.

The examinations were given in the schools, in most instances to complete classes. The top three papers in each school were used as the basis for the competition. Plaques will be presented to the winning schools and a pin to the top individual in each school.

The competition was sponsored by the Mathematical Association of America, the Delaware Council of Teachers of Mathematics and the University of Delaware.

Senior Dues Due Next Week

Charles Thompson, president of the Senior Class, has announced that class dues will be collected next Monday and Tuesday in the basement of Memorial Library.

In order to attend the Senior Weekend, Thompson remarked, class members must have their dues paid. They are $2.

"Seniors are getting a fine social weekend for only $2," the president stated, "and I think it would be very poor for anyone not to pay up."

Money being received, the class president added, is being set aside for a class gift to the university. Seniors who have suggestions for the gift may submit them to Thompson through the Campus Mail.

A class bulletin of information concerning social events during Senior Weekend has been prepared. Thompson said that members of the graduating class "should read carefully and note the remarks in the bulletin."

Commencement announcements will be on sale Tuesday in the basement of the library. They may be bought without waiting, since 250 extra ones have been ordered.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR YOUR TOMORROW

An ethylene plant in Texas; a steam power station in Brazil; a hydroelectric plant in the Pacific Northwest; an oil refinery in Canada; in Maine, the world's first commercial Chemi-Groundwood pulp mill; a phenol plant in California; oil refineries in Italy and Australia—these are some of the recent projects designed and constructed by Stone & Webster Engineering Corporation.

The Corporation also has pioneered in engineering and construction for nuclear projects.

During 67 years of growth and achievement, the primary function of Stone & Webster Engineering Corporation has always been to render highly technical, professional engineering service to its clients.

The Corporation has opportunities for a limited number of new engineering graduates who wish to participate in the engineering and construction of projects in every branch of the steam power, nuclear power, industrial, petroleum, petrochemical and chemical fields.

If you have the personal and technical qualifications required—if you look forward to advancement limited only by your own ability—if you're interested in the idea of becoming a pacemaker in your engineering generation—we invite you to get in touch with us at 49 Federal Street, Boston, Mass.
