Industries In No Immediate Danger of Shut-Down

Coal Supply Will Last Until New Year

Big Mills Prepared to Meet Acute Fuel Situation

A persistent rumor has been going the rounds for several days to the effect that the industries of the town would be forced to suspend operations this week on account of the coal shortage.

Inquiry at the office of the Continental Fibre Company yesterday elicited the information that while the coal supply is limited, there is no immediate danger of shutting down. The company will, however, suspend operations from tonight until Monday morning in order to conserve the supply on hand. This means an actual loss of only a day and a half of working time. The company secures its supply from Philadelphia agents and has the promise of more coal in a few days.

The possibility of installing a system for using oil instead of coal has been considered by the company but has not been definitely decided upon, according to a statement made yesterday by a member of the firm.

The American Vulcanized Fibre Company has on hand coal sufficient to run until the first of the new year. 3500 tons had been secured before the situation became acute. The average weekly consumption is 350 tons. The available supply therefore will run the plant for more than two months.

This company gets its coal directly from the mines and recent consignments have been confiscated by government orders. The company has every assurance that plenty of coal will be available before the present supply is exhausted.

Curtis Brothers stated this morning that their supply is sufficient to last until the first of the year and that there is no danger of a shut-down at their mills.

Prompt Action Averts Fire

What might have resulted in a disastrous fire at the farm of Samuel Murray on Saturday evening was averted by the prompt action of W. S. Armstrong. He saw a man acting suspiciously near Murray's barn and later saw a blaze which seemed to indicate an attempt to set fire to the building. He investigated immediately and found that the man was a demented Italian who built the fire to warm himself. He was turned over to the town authorities and later sent to Farnhurst.

Mr. Dayett's fine herd of Holsteins is attracting considerable attention in this and neighboring States. The classes in animal husbandry at Delaware College, with Thomas A. Baker, instructor, made an inspection of the herd recently.

Machine Runs Down College Students

Misses Elsie Wooleyhan and Louise Nelson, two Women's College Students were run down by an automobile last night on Depot Road near Red Men's Home, and badly shaken up.

They were returning from the station and had stepped out of the way of a southbound car when a northbound machine driven by Francis Hall ran them down. Miss Wooleyhan sustained sprained wrists and bruises; Miss Nelson, minor injuries. Mr. Hall gave immediate aid and conveyed the young women to the office of Dr. W. L. Steel who gave the necessary medical assistance. The young ladies were able to be out this morning and to go home for the holidays.

Thieves Enter Garage and Steal Tires

A daring robbery was perpetrated at the garage of the Fader Motor Co. some time early Sunday morning. Automobile tires aggregating $800 in value were taken from the store room by the thieves who drove a machine to the rear of the building and evidently secured entrance by way of a back window which is said to have been left unlocked. They entered the store room which is in the front of the building and passed the tires through the rear window to the waiting machine.

The garage was not closed it is said, until after 12 when the last car came in. Between 2 and 2:30 a. m. the watchman at the B. & O. station saw a machine drive away from the garage and proceed along the Elton Road. When the theft was discovered officer Apsley was notified and he together with other interested persons, traced the automobile as far as the Lincoln Highway. The tire was one of narrow tread and was probably a Ford, the investigators think. No further clue to the identity of the thieves has been formed.

This is the third loss sustained by the company recently. A machine parked in Philadelphia was stolen in the spring and the garage was entered once before when a sum of money was taken.

WHO WILL FIND THE TREASURE, BOYS?

Big Hunt and Other Doings Scheduled For Next Saturday

Every normal red-blooded boy between the ages of 10 and 15 is instinctively a hunter. He delights in stalking imaginary big game and engaging in mortal combat with the imaginary foes of his historic ancestors. He pesters his timid mother to use her influence with a secretly sympathetic dad to purchase a gun—and sometimes gets it—to the dismay of the dogs and cats and the fearful maiden aunts.

And a hunt for hidden treasure! That's something to dream about and look forward to with wide-eyed expectancy. Small wonder then that all Boydom is interested in the Y. M. C. A. announcement. "Who will find the Treasure? Go down Depot road from Delaware Ave., to the first road running off to the right which has a hedge fence on the left side. On the right about 100 feet from the road is a tree with all its branches cut off, go up this road to the first Osage tree and directly north of this tree in a large bush you will find further instruction." Directions of a like nature will be given the boys when they leave the Y. M. C. A. on Saturday morning on the Treasure Hunt. They will start at 10:30 A. M. and the contest is open to all boys from 10 to 15 years of age who are not members of the Y. M. C. A. The first boy age 10 to 12 reaching the last place before the other boys will find a year's membership card waiting there for him. Likewise the first boy age 12 to 15 will find a card there for him. Much interest is being manifested by the boys and an exciting time is assured. After the contest is over there will be other doings at the Y. M. C. A. for the boys.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. Church will hold a bazaar and bake in the front room at the new home of Clifford Willis on Main Street opposite the Opera House Building on Saturday afternoon, December 13 from 2 to 6. State Teachers Now an Organized Body

Hold Notable Two-Day Session at Dover

Exhibit of Work by Newark Children Excites Much Favorable Comment

Earnestness, enthusiasm, zeal for better things in education and utter lack of self-seeking marked the organization meeting of the Delaware State Teachers' Association held at Dover on Friday and Saturday of last week. Every teacher, every official present and every person interested in education was immensely gratified with the spirit of cooperation manifested, with the results accomplished and with the hopeful outlook for education in Delaware evidenced by the presence there of a large proportion of the teachers of the State.

A banquet at the Hotel Richardson on Friday evening which 166 teachers and friends of education enjoyed; a general meeting at the Presbyterian Church, addressed by George D. Strayer of Columbia University when plans for the organization were discussed informally and a tentative constitution read by W. A. Wilkinson, Chairman; sectional meetings replete with discussions of vital topics of interest to the teachers; and a second general meeting at which officers for the year were elected, made a full and particularly rich program. The last general meeting was addressed by Miss Persis K. Miller of Baltimore who told of work accomplished in a neighborhood made up largely of foreigners. She drew a vivid word picture of the school of the future, illustrating her talk by reference to a school which she has instituted

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH TO HAVE SUMMER BIBLE SCHOOL

Will Continue For 4 Or 5 Weeks Under Trained, Salaried Teachers

Dr. William J. Rowan and Dr. Charles W. Dunlevy, by invitation, attended a meeting held at the Third Presbyterian Church, Chester, where Dr. A. L. Latham, the well-known evangelist, unfolded his plan for a chain of summer Bible schools.

There were present 75 men representing churches and Sunday Schools in Pennsylvania and Delaware. Of the churches represented, 13 resolved to adopt the plan for the coming season, Newark among the number.

The proposed schools, Dr. Latham hopes, will eventually form a chain of study centres extending all over the United States. They will be conducted on the same plan as the public schools. The session will begin shortly after the schools and colleges close and continue for four or five weeks. The sessions will be held daily from 9 to 12 a. m. for 5 days of the week and will be led by trained teachers on salary. Children and adults will be devote their time to earnest Bible study.

Dr. Latham's congregation at Chester has raised $2000 which will be given to churches unable to finance the undertaking. The Newark church is not among this number however. It will raise in the near future the $200 or $300 necessary for this enterprise.

Distinguished Theatrical Star Visits Newark

Miss Geraldine Farrar, the distinguished theatrical star spent Sunday night in Newark at the home of Mrs. Conrad Robinson, Chapel Street. Miss Farrar, known in private life as Mrs. Lou Tellegen was on her way East from California with a party of friends among whom was Mrs. Elizabeth Beswick of Somers Point N. J., a relative of Mrs. Robinson, and Mrs. Andrews of Philadelphia. A number of Newark residents had the pleasure of meeting and conversing with the charming actress.

and which really meets the needs of the community in which it is located. She told how the work had developed and showed the ground plan of the new school, significant and helpful because of the building problem now to be met in Delaware.

The Banquet

At the banquet held in the Hotel Richardson, Mrs. Floris Fewverda, a teacher in the Dover schools welcomed the visiting teachers and introduced the toastmaster, Everett C. Johnson Secretary of State. Governor Townsend, the first speaker, congratulated the teachers upon the evident recognition of their responsibilities and opportunities evidenced by their presence at the meeting. He disavowed any intention of advising or suggesting in matters of policy or organization and declared that the teachers have a right and duty to speak and to have a voice in the advance of educational affairs.

"Those of us officially entrusted with authority can well listen to your advice," he said. He pledged his support to the cause of the teachers and expressed gratification that organization was to be effected.

George B. Miller president of the Board of education besought the loyalty of the teachers and pledged the sympathetic support of the State Board.

New Castle County Farm Bureau Reports Notable Achievements

Sets 800 as Membership Goal for 1920

Will Probably Join Federation to Have Farmers' Interests Represented in Congress

The second year's work of the New Castle County Farm Bureau will terminate with the annual meeting to be held in the Hotel Norbis, 802 Market Street, Wilmington, beginning at 10:00 o'clock Tuesday, December 2, at which time the leaders confidently expect to report that the organization has attained a membership of 800.

The farm bureau serves as a clearing house of all agricultural organizations of the county. It is the farmers' own organization and it works along lines directed by the committees of the various communities. The general policies are directed by the Executive Committee.

The Executive Committee for 1919 follows: President, Frank Yearsley, Marshallton; Vice-President, C. P. Dickey, Stanton; Sec-

Boys' and Girls' Clubs

Over 700 boys and girls in the county are enrolled in the club work. Applications for many additional clubs are on file which will be organized as soon as more help can be secured on the farm bureau staff. There are now 40 members in the Boys' and Girls' retary, Mrs. M. E. Dickey, Stanton; Treasurer, George Medill, Newark; Chairman, Labor and Farm Record Books, W. T. Boyce, Stanton; Chairman, Boys' and Girls' Clubs, H. L. Dilworth, Centerville; Chairman, Soils and Crops, William Naudain, Marshallton; Chairman, Dairy and Live Stock, J. S. Moore, Middletown; Chairman, Horticulture, W. C. Money, Townsend.

ACHIEVEMENTS

The Diamond State and Middletown Cow Testing Associations have been organized through which records are kept on over 900 cows. The U. S. Dairy Department, in co-operation with the cow testing associations, is conducting a project covering the cost of producing milk. The records include every item however minute which enters Pure Bred Cattle Club. The calves have developed into heifers coming into milk. At the annual shows held last August the judge stated that an improvement of 100% had been made in them over that of a year ago. One girl was recently offered $500 for her heifer for which she paid $110 when 7 months old. Pig, corn, garden, cooking, and sewing clubs are being asked for faster than the farm bureau with its present staff can organize them.

Farm Record Books and Farm Loan Association

During the year over 200 farm records have been put out to farmers free of cost. This year the State Bankers' Association is co-operating with the farm bureau on this project. Orders for 1500 record books have been received at

into the industry. The data obtained through the project will be potent and reliable material in disillusioning the urban people that the farmers are receiving excessive profits from their herds. Through a special drive, 250 farmers have affiliated themselves with the Interstate Milk Producers' Association. Ten local branches have been established. The purpose of this Association is to enable our farmers to produce milk at a reasonable profit. A pure bred bull calf sale held at Middletown where 22 pure bred bull calves were sold to replace grade and scrub bulls, is the first achievement of the project, the slogan of which is "A pure bred bull on every farm." This will be a major project for 1919. In co-operation with local banks the farm bureau has imported into the country and distributed at cost 125 head of pure bred female dairy cattle. So far as possible, cows have been placed one on a farm and have been demonstrations of what may be expected of a pure bred animal. Pursuant to this project, many farmers have bought pure bred cattle on their own initiative. To stimulate the eradication of tuberculosis among dairy the farm bureau office from local banks. The bankers will distribute them and assist farmers in starting inventories and opening accounts. The New Castle Farm Loan Association is now intact, having at its inception 14 members whose loans aggregate $60,000. Any farmers who wish to buy or improve a farm may secure a government loan which, if he wishes, will extend over a period of 34½ years.

The Corn Show

The County Corn Show was held last year in Smyrna. This year it will be held in Wilmington December 11, 12 and 13. These shows are a potent means of stimulating interest in better varieties of corn. Special Events.

In January a dairy tour was conducted in cooperation with the two lower farm bureaus when 108 farmers inspected six modern and practical dairies of New Castle County. The State Fair exhibit, the boys' and girls' heifer shows, the Cow Testing Association picnic, the nitrate of soda secured through the government, the seed wheat survey, farmers institutes and various demonstrations are features which space will permit only mentioning.

THE FARM BUREAU OFFICE

The farm bureau office is the headquarters of the farm bureau work. The stenographer is always in the office to receive callers, telephone calls, and keep files and records up to date.

The following may give some idea of the work transacted by the County Agent during the year ending December 1, 1919. Days in field 164; days in office 127; letters written 570; circular letters sent out 2300; news articles written 75; farm visits made 394; demonstrations held—8 with total attendance of 216; meetings—71 with total attendance of 2194; miles traveled by rail 3782; and miles traveled by car 6326. The Farm Bureau News is mailed monthly to all members.

EIGHT HUNDRED MEMBERS FOR 1920

The farm bureau has set a membership goal for 1920. The membership campaign is now in full swing, which has as its slogan 800 members for 1920. The campaign will conclude with the annual farm bureau meeting.

AMERICAN FEDERATION OF FARM BUREAUS

The work accomplished by the farm bureau will be measured largely by its membership. There is a general feeling among farmers over the entire country that the farmer's interests and their demands are being over-ridden by those of the highly organized industries. Through organization it is within the farmers' power to right this situation. The farm bureau's job now is to secure its full quota of 800 members and through a Delaware State Federation of Farm Bureaus which was launched last week in Chicago. This Federation will represent six to eight million farmers who will have their interest represented in Congress.

For The Homemaker's Eye

The old saying, "a stitch in time saves nine," is just as true now as it was in our grandmother's day. Any kind of a garment, whether for outside or inside wear, will wear much longer if the thin places and small holes are darned or strengthened as soon as discovered. Nothing gives one more self-respect than to be neat and clean. Even if the garments are not of the latest cut or the most expensive fabrics their neatness alone will command respect.

Here are some suggestions for making over garments:

A woman's coat and skirt suit can be made into a very serviceable one-piece dress. A separate skirt combined with a remnant makes a pretty one-piece dress.

Long coats can be made over for one's self, or a top coat for young girl or boy.

A short coat can be remodeled for a dress for a girl, using remnant for combination.

Waists can be tinted and recut for a guimpe for girl, or a camisole, or a baby's cap, or a covering for a woman's summer hat.

From worn night gowns, infant dresses, children's petticoats, or corset covers can be made.

If the gowns are heavier, the worn yokes may be cut off. Sew up the end, run a tape through the hem, and you have a slip cover for fine dress or coat, when hung in the closet.

From men's shirts, children's dresses, combined with remnants, can be made blouse waists for a boy, bibs for the baby, or aprons for the girls.

Old neckties make beautiful patch work, comfort tops or couch covers.

Old sweaters may be washed, dyed, unraveled, reknit for women's or children's sweaters, scarfs, caps or wristlets.

Keep all scraps of silk or velvet, for patch work quilts, couch covers, shopping work bags.

Stocking tops or old underwear may be used for bloomers, or petticoats for babies or little girls, dust rags or wash rags or for miscellaneous mending.

If possible, mend knit underwear with knit underwear patches, basting the patch over the hole. Stitch with machine, hemming down the raw edge by hand.

To Keep Sausage.

After having seasoned the sausage and prepared it ready for use, pack it firm and hard into small sacks about the size of table-salt sacks and tie the top of the sacks firm. Then melt paraffin and entirely cover the sacks with it, being very careful to get it well covered around the top where it is tied. Sausages fixed in this way will keep six months or longer, and will be as fresh as when it was packed.

Pot Roast With Dumplings.

Three pounds of beef rump, one-quarter pound salt pork, one-quarter cupful turnips, one-quarter cupful celery, one-quarter cupful onion, one tablespoonful parsley, one bit bay leaf, four cloves, one-quarter teaspoonful pepper, salt, three cupfuls sugar. Wipe the meat, dredge with flour, and brown entire surface in pork fat. Place on a rack in a kettle; surround with vegetables, spices and water. Season, cover closely and simmer slowly four hours, keeping liquid below the boiling point. Remove meat and vegetables to hot platter. Thicken stock and serve with vegetables as a sauce around the meat. The sauce may be strained if desired.

Deviled Steak With Fried Onions

Melt two tablespoonfuls butter or fat in frying pan; slice an onion into it, and saute gently until a golden brown color; remove from the butter. Cut one flank steak into pieces three inches long and two inches wide; dredge firmly in butter until well browned. Remove from frying pan; add one teaspoonful salt, one-half teaspoonful pepper, one-eighth teaspoonful paprika, one teaspoonful mustard, three teaspoonfuls vinegar, and the remaining flour after dredging the pieces of meat. Mix all together and add two cupfuls of boiling water. Replace steak in pan, cover closely, and simmer gently one hour or until tender. Serve steak on a hot platter with gravy.

Sprinkle bottom of baking pan with a little onion; place steak on top, brush it with an egg slightly beaten with a tablespoonful of warm water, and spread with remaining portion of onion and parsley; add one-half cupful stock to which salt and pepper have been added. Place in hot oven; cook thirty minutes. Lift steak and thicken stock; season with kitchen bouquet and pour over stock.

Stuffed Potatoes.

Break four hot baked potatoes in halves, scoop out and mash finely. Add one tablespoonful of melted bacon fat, a quarter of cupful each of grated American cheese and chopped nuts, one lightly beaten egg, half a teaspoonful of salt, a quarter of a teaspoonful of paprika and enough cold milk to make a soft, fluffy mixture. Beat until very light, refill the shells and brush over with melted bacon fat. Dust with paprika and brown.

This homely basic principle of true Americanism may just as well be kept in mind: that this is a government of all the people, by all the people and for all the people, and not of any class for the benefit of any class.

STATE TO HAVE THREE RURAL Y. M. C. A. DISTRICTS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

Each County To Appoint Secretary To Work For Maximum Cop of Young Americans

Immediate steps are to be taken to establish three Y. M. C. A. districts for rural industrial and Americanization work covering the entire state of Delaware, according to a statement issued by George L. Goodwin, Interstate Y. M. C. A. secretary. These districts when in operation will give every township and farming section in the state to educational, athletic, social, religious and community benefits now enjoyed by more than 150 similar counties and some 1500 industrial centers, which already have established such "Y" rural and industrial program.

The plan as it developed, calls for the establishment of full time state and district "Y" secretaries specializing on rural, industrial and Americanization work, activities for boys of country and small towns and community organization. The plans also permit each county to appoint a County "Y" secretary who will work for a maximum of four real American boys and young men much as the County Agricultural Agent works for increased farm yields.

To Appoint Local Committee.

Mr. Goodwin and William F. Montigani, Assistant Secretary, are already at work seeing a representative state committee to head the campaign early in February. Mr. Montigani, who will do the active field campaign, also is busy organizing local "Y" committees in every county to handle the campaign and also to inaugurate local campaigns to secure a County "Y" secretary.

A similar campaign already is under way in Maryland and several other states. Nineties comprising the Eastern District of that state already have a over the top, have appointed a district secretary and, in two counties have arranged for county "Y" secretaries to help keep the young people contented in small city or on farms and yet give them many of the social and educational advantages open only to city boys and girls.

To perfect plans for advancing rural and industrial needs of Delaware, West Virginia and Maryland, Messrs. Goodwin and Montigani have been attending the rural Y. M. C. A. convention in Detroit.

Thanksgiving Day's only out of all time for saying grace at the table of eternal goodness.

Thankfulness Often

Purely Selfish

Tomorrow is Thanksgiving Day. Its observance ought to bring in the best sense religious. And it might be well in this end to review the feelings and emotions with which we approach it. Much of our thankfulness may be purely selfish. There are some with whom things have gone well this year. The family circle has remained unbroken. No wasting sickness has come into the home. Prosperity has left its blessings. The table is laden with plenty.

There is meat in the larder and grain in the storehouse. Because of these things they imagine they are grateful; but such gratitude is of the essence of selfishness. It is dependent upon exterior circumstances. It draws its inspiration from clear skies and smooth sailing, and hence it is fitful and evanescent as the alternations of sunlight and shadow. If these conditions of personal comfort and prosperity are in themselves the ground of thankfulness, where in the hour of adversity shall we find occasion for rejoicing? The record of the past has its graver side. There have been pain and losses and disappointments and bereavements and heartaches. Where in these things is there reason and ground for gratitude.

Has the empty larder, the bare table, the desolate home, the vacant chair, the fresh mound in the cemetery, no place for thanks giving? Ah, many an earnest soul, we find in the bitter chill of adversity the true test of our gratitude. And that is true gratitude which, triumphing over conditions merely physical and external, finds its ground of thankfulness in God Himself. It goes beneath the surface of life, whether sad or joyous, and finds itself upon God.

This world O' God's is brighter than we ever dream or know. Its burdens growin' lighter—an' it's Love that makes 'em so!

An' I'm thankful that I'm livin' where Love's blessedness I see, Neath a heaven that's forgivin', where the bells ring 'Home' to me!"

—Frank L. Stanton.

"I'm Thankful"—

I'm thankful to live in a land that is free,
With chances for all men whoever they be,
To labor in fields of their own for the spoil
That comes to the hand that is willing to toil;
To stand without fear, without favor or grace,
From masters enthroned in inherited place.

I'm thankful for hearts with deep sympathy thrilled,
Who care for the weary the weak and the chilled;
For boys and for girls to inherit the land
With spirits alert and the will to command—
Past present or future, what e'er may befall,
I've thanks in my heart for the blessings of all!

John Kendrick Bangs.

"For the fruit of the time of our toil;
For what e'er we have fought for;
Whether born of the brain or the soil
Be the meed we have sought for;
For the gifts we have had from His hand
Who is Lord of the living,
Let there ring through the length of the land
A Thanksgiving! Thanksgiving!"
—Clinton Scollard.

WILL ISSUE TAX FORMS NEXT MONTH

Income and Excess Profit Tax Returns May Be Made Early in Year

Plans for the issuance early in December of forms for filing income and excess profits tax returns are being made by the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Taxpayers will thus be given the opportunity of making out their returns immediately upon the closing of their books for the year 1919, when accurate knowledge of their accounts is fresh in their minds.

As a convenience to themselves and as a means of expediting the work of the Government, taxpayers are urged by the Bureau, in a statement issued today to avail themselves of this opportunity. The period for filing is from January 1 to March 15, 1920.

If the tax is paid in quarterly installments, one-fourth of the amount must accompany the filing of the return.

Form 1040 A will be used for filing individual income tax returns of $5000 and less and Form 1040 for filing returns of income in excess of that amount.

The normal rate of tax for 1919, provided for in the Revenue Act of 1918, is 4 per cent on the first $4,000, above the exemptions, and 5 per cent on the remaining net income. The tax for 1918 was 6 and 12 per cent respectively. The surtax rates, which range from 1 per cent on the amount of net income between $5000 and $6000 to 65 per cent of the amount by which the net income exceeds $1,000,000, are

BOYS AND GIRLS TO HAVE FINE CLUB WEEK PROGRAM CLUB

Movies, Project Instruction and Recreational Activities Planned

The program for the Boys and Girls' Club Week at Delaware College will consist of moving picture reels on live agricultural subjects, regular short course instruction in the various farm and home projects, and recreational activities that healthy boys and girls will thoroughly enjoy.

The following named moving picture reels have been secured for the Club Week: (1) Boys' and Girls' Club Camp at the Eastern States Exposition, (2) Uncle Sam's Pig Clubs, (3) Making the Farmers of Tomorrow, (4) Dairy Cattle Judging Demonstration, (5) Hearts and the Jersey, (6) Home and Community Canning.

Mr. O. H. Benson, National Club Leader from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, will be present for one day. He will be the speaker for the boys and girls and all the farmers and their wives who are attending the Short Course on Wednesday evening, December 31, 1919. Dr. Keene, Field Agent for the Delaware Tuberculosis Commission, will help arrange recreational and health activities. A women leader will be secured to aid in conducting an up-to-date and practical program for the girls. County agents, club leaders and demonstration agents, college professors and successful men and women from the homes and farms will help put over the Club Week program. Instruction in the farm and home projects will close with state contests for achievement awards.

The plant of Delaware College will be open for the use and convenience of the boys and girls while they are the guests of the state. A regular daily schedule will include the systematic use of the Gymnasium and Swimming Pool under supervision. The youngsters will live in the College Dormitories and will board at the Commons. The first meal will be served at noon on Monday, and the last meal will be served at breakfast on Saturday. The expenses of travel and subsistence will be paid for all club champions who win free scholarships. Other boys and girls from a distance will be permitted to attend, provided that they pay $1.00 for the use of the room in the Dormitory and $4.00 per meal at the Commons. All boys and girls who live in or near Newark should plan to be present at these sessions. The only cost would be the price of dinner at the Commons.

Sunday School Students Hear of Western Experiences

Warren A. Singler and Dean Harry Hayward who have recently returned from the West addressed the Presbyterian Sunday School last Sunday, telling of their experiences and observations there.

State Teachers Now An Organized Body

ed appreciation of the fact that Delaware College had been asked to take part in the formation of a state association and congratulated the teachers in this vital step.

Miss Anna Becket of Smyrna made a plea for unity of spirit and purpose among the teachers.

State Commissioner Spaid spoke briefly of the cooperation of the teachers in the past and predicted greater results as a result of organized effort.

Secretary of State Johnson commended the loyal support accorded the Council of Defense by the teachers and expressed his belief that they would prove just as loyal in promoting better things in education.

General Meeting

The first general meeting was presided over by W. B. Thornburgh, superintendent of the Dover schools, who appointed Miss Agnes Snyder temporary secretary.

The principal address was made by George D. Strayer of Columbia who urged the formation of an association in which all teachers could have a part, not one controlled by a few. He stated that in the opinion of educators the new school code is the best school law in the Union and predicted that its operation would put Delaware first in matters of education.

A tentative constitution was read by W. A. Wilkinson, chairman. Free discussion followed and many suggestions were made.

A committee to nominate officers was appointed by Mr. Thornburgh and included two representatives into the adjacent halls. About 400 teachers attended these meetings.

In the primary section presided over by Miss Lida Kay of Seaford was a remarkable exhibit of art work done by the children of the Newark schools Misses Harriet Wilson, Madge Rickards and from each county with H. E. Stahl of Seaford as chairman.

Rich Program at Sectional Meetings

The sectional meetings held Saturday morning in the High School building taxed the capacity of the rooms in which they were held and in the case of the primary and high school sections overflowed Alva Lockhart gave demonstrations before this section.

Excellent papers and enthusiastic discussions marked all three of the sectional meetings. Misses Mary Hoey, and Mary Houston; Messrs. F. M. K. Foster, K. R. Greenfield and Phineas Morris were among the speakers.

At the closing session, Harry Mayer of the Dover Board of Education extend a cordial welcome on behalf of the Dover people and invited the new association to meet next year in Dover.

Enthusiasm for the formation of local organizations based on community of interests or on geographic lines was evident when various groups withdrew to adjacent rooms while the votes were counted to from such organizations.

A significant fact observed by visitors was the fact that no mention of salary increase, pension fund or other selfish interest was mentioned by the assembled teachers.

The constitution adopted is distinguished for the opportunity it gives for local initiative and the safeguards against the rule of the few.

The election resulted as follows: President, M. L. Thornburgh; Dover; Vice-President, Anna Becket, Smyrna; Board of Directors (to serve one, two and three years respectively), Mark E. Stine, Laurel; M. L. Hydon, Frederica; Agnes Snyder, Newark.

On motion of Dr. Mitchell a vote of thanks was tendered all of the Dover people who had contributed in any way to the large-hearted hospitality extended to the teachers during the conference. An invitation to meet at the State capital next year was extended by Harry Mayer of the Dover Board of Education. This was greeted with applause by the assembled teachers and by the newly elected members of the Board of Directors, upon whom the constitution devolves the duty of choosing the place and date of the annual conference.

A timely speech by Dr. S. C. Mitchell congratulating the teachers upon what he designated as a historic event in the history of education in Delaware and pledging the support of Delaware College brought the notable meeting to a close.

STUDENTS PAY TRIBUTE TO "BIG SISTER"

Entertain At Thanksgiving Dinner In Honor of Miss Stuart

The best of good fellowship and the best of good food marked the first annual Thanksgiving dinner given by the students at Old College last night, and evoked from the speakers' table many wishes that the custom thus auspiciously started might be a feature of each college year.

The spacious dining hall at the Commons was decorated simply and effectively with the flags of the nation, the state and the college, and with the banners of the fraternities. Potted plants on the balcony rail partly concealed the orchestra which under the direction of Dr. Miller enlivened the occasion with music. Violin solos by Samuel Maroney created much favorable comment.

The dinner was more than a Thanksgiving affair. It was really a Farewell Dinner given in honor of Miss Carrie Stuart, the "Big Sister" of Old College, who has resigned her position as Dietitian. Miss Stuart expects to be married in the near future. She had planned to keep it a secret but Mr. Wilkinson realizing how vitally interested "The Boys" were, informed certain members of the Student Body who immediately took orders from the "Little General" as to just what sort of a Farewell should be tendered Miss Stuart. As a result came the dinner.

To F. Bayard Carter, president of the Student Council, credit should be given for managing the Student end of the affair. Through the guests of the evening included the faculty of the college and every one connected in any way with the institution, the trustees, representatives of the press, and the resident alumni.

The evening was opened by a speech by F. Bayard Carter, welcoming the guests and introducing Mr. H. Rodney Sharp. Mr. Sharp in a wonderfully clear speech, set forth the purposes for which Old his efforts interest was created in the Student Body and detailed arrangements carried to completion. College had been remodeled and stated his pleasure at the interest and regard with which the building was held by the students. A rousing cheer was given Mr. Sharp at the completion of his speech.

After the tables had been cleared, the real surprises of the evening came in rapid succession. "Bess" introduced Mr. Wilkinson as the first speaker. Mr. Wilkinson then proceeded to enlighten the Student Body as to the real cause of the dinner. Miss Stuart's leaving to be married. Such a yell went up that it was fully three minutes before Mr. Wilkinson could continue. Then came another surprise. Four Freshmen entered carrying a mysterious package which was placed before "Bess" on the table. This package proved to be a wonderful silver chocolate service given Miss Stuart on behalf of the Student Body. Engraved on the service was the following:

To Our Beloved "Big Sister" from The Student Body of Delaware College Nov. 25, 1919. The joy of the occasion was marred somewhat by the absence of Miss Stuart whose marriage is scheduled to take place today in New York but who is now under treatment in a Philadelphia hospital.

pital. She made a determined effort to be present but her physical condition would not permit. In her behalf her successor, Miss Hall, accepted the gift which will be conveyed to her today by Mr. A. G. Wilkinson.

The tributes paid Miss Stuart by the students who christened her "Big Sister" and by the faculty were fitting recognition of her untiring efforts in behalf of the college.

Mr. Wilkinson then proceeded to introduce Miss Hall, the new Dietitian. "Bess" then presented, on behalf of the Students, a gold friendship circle showing their friendship and desire to cooperate.

Dr. Mitchell summed up the whole spirit of the meeting. He was followed by Dean Smith who spoke most favorably of conditions on the campus this year.

Then came the "Follies." Dr. Moore entertained the gathering with the conferring of an honorary degree on Miss Stuart. Lattomus and Challenger gave an impersonation of Mannie and Walton. Challenger was the lady and the stunt was clever. The orchestra then gave a few selections. Dr. Miller led the Student Body in singing the popular songs. Then came the two Brown Brothers, "Saxophone Joe" Wise and Blow "Em" White-man. These boys entertained the happy audience for five minutes. The Varsity Quartet composed of Magee, Wise, Keith, and Gela sang the college songs. Freshman Hughes as "Shuffle Joe" gave some fine buck and wing dancing. Sweezy, Dorsey, Tebo, Rowan, Robinson, and other Freshmen entertained with ukes and banjos.

The violin solos by Wilmer Jones and Samuel Maroney closed a most delightful affair.

You men in business, especially those in middle life, should ask yourselves some pointed questions.

What have you as a patron of the school done toward securing a new building?

The Primary building is filled to overflowing, necessitating the placing of the first and second grades on part time. Every desk in the Grammar school is occupied. In the first year high school there are fifty four pupils with seating capacity for fifty two.

There is nothing conducive to community spirit in any of the building used for school purposes. If any school exercise is to be held, some place other than the present school buildings must be sought. The college has been very kind in this respect in granting the school the use of Wolf Hall.

In the school budget made out last July, provision for a hundred twenty thousand dollar building was made. This amount the state board of education did not think sufficiently large, and other provisions must be made. Will every home-loving citizen lend his aid in boosting for the speedy preparations for an up-to-date school building for Newark?

Phineas Morris, Supt. of Schools.

a material sense play only a very small part in the sum of human happiness. The task of every mortal in whatever condition he may be is to weave a song and breathe a benediction out of his own little niche; to forget self for a while, to forget his troubles and to reflect for a part of one day in a busy year on the many blessings that should make his heart at peace with the universe.

Expect to Complete Census In Two To Four Weeks

It requires 18 months to complete the enumeration work for the first decennial census in 1920. In 1920 the Census Bureau plans to complete the enumeration work for the entire country in from two to four weeks and announce the population figures in less than three months from the date the enumeration work is completed.

A heavy concentration on ages ending in five and zero are always reported at a census. The Census Bureau has made many efforts to overcome this inaccurate tendency on the part of the people when stating ages.

The statistics gathered by the Census Bureau in regard to farms are used quite extensively by the Department of Agriculture in its work of aiding farmers.

Peoples' Column

Asks Citizens to Boast School Building Project

The total enrollment of the Newark Public Schools is 530, distributed among three buildings whose rating by the state survey committee may be of some interest.

Out of a possible 1000 points, the primary building received a credit of 249; the Grammar School building 378; the Academy 249. The credits assigned establish the fact that the buildings are not highly adapted to school purposes.

We believe it is often the poor mechanic that complains of his tools, and we also believe that no mechanic ought to be willing to work with poor tools when better ones are available. Certainly no argument is necessary to any intelligent mind that Newark is in need of a new school building.

LOCAL MEN TO SPEAK AT HORTICULTURAL SHOW

Big Event to be Held at Chestertown January 6, 7 and 8

The great horticultural event of the year for the people of the Delaware-Chesapeake Peninsula is the meeting of the Peninsula Horticultural Society and this annual event which will occur at Chestertown, Maryland, January 6, 7, and 8, 1920, promises to be as interesting and as profitable as any meeting in the past. A very instructive program has been prepared and while it is not quite completed, assurance is given of the attendance of some of the best speakers and practical men in this part of the country. Dr. Thomas J. Headles, Entomologist, of New Jersey, will be present and give the up-to-date methods of controlling insects that infest farm crops, especially the orchard.

B. W. Leach, of the U. S. Bureau of Entomology, will give in detail the results of work in Delaware during 1919 in preventing the injury of the so-called Sideworm.

A half dozen or more of the best men of the Maryland Agricultural College have already agreed to be present. Dr. Bomberger will deliver a very interesting popular lecture on "The Balance Wheel of the Social Order." Professor Cory will report on insects, Professor Shaw will give a discussion of orchard demonstration work in Maryland, Professor E. C. Auchter will talk on "Apple Pruning Experiments" and "Orchard Pollination Studies," and Professor E. Wellington will discuss tomato growing. Dr. Woods, President of the College, has promised to be present, if possible.

Delaware College will be represented by Professor C. A. McCue, Dr. Thomas F. Manns, Professor LeCato and others.

We will have also Mr. B. W. Anson, Granogue, Delaware, who will speak on "Better Home Grounds." Mr. G. Hale Harrison, Berlin, Maryland, has agreed to give a talk covering his experience in 1919 on fertilizing, pruning, spraying, pickling, selling and consigning peaches.

It goes without saying that the best practical men of the Peninsula will be on hand with papers and will enter into the discussion and so give the results of their work during the year.

Exhibits of fruit and vegetables promise to be as fine this year as in previous years.

Weeks' Events At

Women's College

About thirty-five women of the state of Delaware met at Women's College on Thursday, November 20, to discuss the Women's College its present and future. Brief talks were given by the guests and members of the faculty as to the needs of the Women's College.

Miss Quaesita Drake of the Department of Chemistry of the Women's College; Miss M. Smith, instructor in Home Economics at the Newark High School; and Miss Mabel Krall, State Secretary of Y. M. C. A. work in Delaware were guests for dinner at the Home Economics Practice House Tuesday evening, November 18, 1919.

"Everyman" and "Abraham" and Isaac," the two plays given by the Sophomore English class of the Women's College, under the supervision of Dr. John R. Moore were a great success. Every member in the class should be given credit for her part in helping to give a creditable performance. Dorothy Ford, as Everyman, Helen Graves, as Abraham; and Mayme Statnekoo, as Isaac, showed unusual dramatic ability.

Professor C. A. Short gave a very inspiring and uplifting talk on "Our Attitude toward the Returned Soldiers" at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday evening at the Women's College on November 16, 1919.

The Home Nursing class at the Women's College, which meets every Monday evening at the Women's College, has become so popular that it was necessary for Miss Hartlove R. G. to assist Miss Mary Morgan from Wilmington with the work. The attitude of the girls expresses their appreciation of this opportunity and also the additional kindness or the part of the public-spirited women connected with the Wilmington Red Cross Auxiliary.

A Poster Club has been formed at the Women's College to study the art of poster-making. The members will get practical experience through making posters for various organizations and classes in the college.

Dean Robinson, Miss Mary Rich, Miss Dora Wilcox, and Miss Florence Hubbard of Women's College attended the conference for a state Teacher's Association in Dover on Saturday, November 22, 1919.

Dr. F. M. Foster, of the Department of English, led the Thanksgiving Y. W. C. A. service at the Women's College on Sunday evening, November 23, 1919.

At four o'clock in the afternoon of Wednesday, November 26, the Women's College of Delaware closed for the Thanksgiving Recess. College work will be resumed at one o'clock Monday afternoon, December 1, 1919.

Delaware Organized For Census Taking

Delaware is the only State in the Union that is fully organized for the work of taking the census, according to assistant Director Stuart recently. "I am gratified at the way Delaware has prepared for the work of enumeration," said Mr. Stuart. "I wish every State would make as good a showing. It seems that the enumerators in Delaware have responded to patriotic appeals and are serving because they believe it to be their duty to their country to do so. I wish citizens of other States would see it in this light."

State Now In Registration Area

The gratifying announcement has just been made that Delaware has been admitted to the Death Registration Area.

The significance of this fact lies in the related fact that hitherto this State has been one of the 19 States whose records of mortality were not deemed sufficiently reliable to warrant their being used in making up the statistics of the United States Census Bureau for the entire country.

Thanks to the efficient work of the State Board of Health, beginning in May of this year, hereafter statistics relating to deaths in Delaware will be published in government bulletins together with the statistics of other States that have reliable records. No longer will the rest of the country look in vain for statistics regarding the healthfulness of our State.

Human life is sacred and no civilized community should sanction procedures that permit a human being to die without a proper official record being made of the event. The facts on such a record may be of the greatest legal importance for use in court and elsewhere to prove (1) rights to inheritance, (2) rights to pensions or life insurance, (3) rights of widowed mothers to secure State aid, (4) rights to remarriage and (5) rights to close up certain business affairs.

Without the registration of every death it is impossible for us to know anything about the infant death rate except by conjecture. In one-fifth of the United States there is no record as to how many babies die. Delaware now knows these facts, but it does not know how many babies die out of every thousand that are born because the registration of births is incomplete. It is fully as important that births as well as deaths should be registered.

Newport Welcomes Returned Soldiers

Newport gave a royal welcome to the returned soldiers of that vicinity in the form of a supper, dance and platform services last night. This celebration had been put off until now for the reason that the people of Newport wanted to wait until every soldier had come home to enjoy it. There are thirty men from Newport who served during the war.

Maryland Road Now Open

After being closed for six months the main road between Elkton and North East is now open for travel, much to the delight of automobile travelers between Philadelphia and Baltimore, as the detour had been a "heart-breaker."

May Have Hospital At Dover

The establishment of a hospital at Dover may be one of the lasting results of the activities of the Woman's Committee for Child Welfare in Kent county.

The physicians have been of great help in the baby-saving work. The need for a hospital has become so impressed upon the leading citizens of the down State county, that it is highly probable that some definite step will be taken towards such a project before long.

The customer rapped on the counter, coughed loudly, and did all the things that customers usually do to signify their impatience.

"I want a mouse trap," she said. "And please be quick, because I want to catch a car."

"I regret, madam," said the shopkeeper, "that my mouse traps are not guaranteed to catch cars."—American Legion Weekly.

"No, suh, I can't do dat," replied the negro. "I'se gittin' mo' dan dat now."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Thanksgiving Proclamation

Of all the Days of Honor celebrated and Anniversaries of Events observed none so much attracts as that of Thanksgiving. It is a day that appeals to all. All phases of political thought, all forms of creed, all rank of station, at this season of the year, bow in humble recognition of Divine Guidance and render thanksgiving for the blessings bestowed.

Through the years just past, our people have been blessed with the privileges to serve and sacrifice for those causes of right and justice as we, in our honor, conceived. Those principles, so courageously defended, stand today triumphant. In the glory of that achievement, we have lived and revelled during the past year. The God of Nations has been good to America. But with this Glory of Victory, there comes an obligation of citizenship that with our thanksgiving for blessings received, there needs to come a reconstruction for the duties that attend. In the unrest of mind and confusion of action, incident to the war, we should sense seriously that our ideals of government conceived nobly by our fathers, and defended successfully by our sons, should, by our thought and energy, be ennobled gloriously for those who follow us. The year before us, if we live true to the thoughts and events of the past, will demand our best thought and consecrated energy. Democracy is no longer an American theory, but a world-acknowledged fact. And democracy in its truest conception means advance in all those activities tending to the increased welfare of society. Holding this view, our tasks are well and practically defined.

For these blessings received, for these opportunities accorded, and in keeping with custom and official proclamation, I, John G. Townsend, Jr., Governor of the State of Delaware, do designate and seriously urge that our citizens relieve the tenseness of thought and complexity of routine, and render devoted thanks to Almighty God. May we perfect our sincerity for these blessings by a strong determination that the problems of the coming year shall receive all the honor and power that is our to give.

THURSDAY
NOVEMBER THE 27TH
THANKSGIVING DAY,

In testimony whereof, I, John G. Townsends, Jr., Governor of the State of Delaware, have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal to be affixed at Dover, this eighteenth day of November, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Nineteen, and in the year of the Independence of the United States, the One Hundred and Forty-fourth.

John G. Townsend, Jr.
By the Governor:
Everett C. Johnson, Secretary of State.

after. One of the very interesting features of the next Fair will be a display of children's work. This display is now in the possession of Columbia University and shows work done by children from five to sixteen years of age.

Naval Observations Given To Library

Hon. Albert F. Polk of Georgetown, Delaware, a graduate of Delaware College in the class of 1889, has presented to the Library a set of the Observations of the United States Naval Observatory. The set is bound in dark green half morocco. It contains the data from observations made through a long period of years upon the sun, the moon, and various planets. Among these data are some very interesting observations made with a nine-inch solar transit. The material is of immense value for research work along scientific lines. The gift of these books by Mr. Polk is another indication of the increasing cooperation which the alumni are showing on behalf of the College.

H. T. Bradley Gives Books To Library

Mr. Henry T. Bradley, of the "Sons of Delaware," who has already presented to the College Library 500 books on History, Fiction, Essays, and Natural Science, has agreed to give 100 more books which are needed at once. A list of the books desired is now in Mr. Bradley's hands, and it is expected that they will soon be received.

Mr. Bradley hopes that two of his friends, both of whom are "Sons of Delaware," will each present to the Library 100 books. These books, like those which Mr. Bradley has given, will be of great value to the departments of the College. Additional lists of the books most needed at the present time have been sent to Mr. Bradley. The number of books thus added to the Library by Mr. Bradley and his friends will make a valuable addition to the present equipment.
