Present Portrait Of Dean Robinson On Founders' Day

Judge Curtis Accepts Alumnae Gift Of Arthur's Painting; Dr. Lillian Gilbreth Makes Address

FOUNDERS' DAY DANCE

Founders' Day observance at Women's College brought alumnae, friends, and parents from all parts of the State, in larger numbers than on any previous Founders' Day.

The exercises began at 2 o'clock, when the Sophomore class planted a tree near the southwest corner of the campus. Miss Gillespie led the students in singing "Trees," and Miss Dorothy Inderlied accompanied on the violin. The singing of the Sophomore class song was led by Miss Lois Simmons. The presentation of the statue to the Freshman class was made by Miss Ann Barclay, president of the Sophomore class; the acceptance was made by Miss Catherine V. Lewis, captain of the Freshman class. The presentation of the class color to the Freshman class was made by Miss Helen C. Stayton, president of the Junior class; the color was accepted by Miss M. Louise Angerstein, sub-captain of the Freshman class.

Miss Hartshorn, director of physical education, and Miss Agnes Thoms, her assistant, acted as marshals for the procession of the students to Wolf Hall. Dean Robinson presided at the exercises there. With her on the platform were: President Hullihen, Mrs. A. D. Warner, Dr. Lillian Gilbreth, Judge Charles M. Curtis, and Thomas Davis. The college singing was led by Miss Gillespie. Miss Eleanor Edge played the piano and Ann Barclay, the violin.

An address: "Student Self-Government," was given by Miss Geneva A. Lobach, president of the Student Self-Government Association of Women's College.

Daring Hold-Up

Last Thursday morning, H. W. Vail, one of the proprietors of the Newark Flower Shop, was the victim of an unusually daring hold-up by two gypsy women. A small amount of money was taken from the cash register.

The two woman, one unusually large and powerful, the other young and slight, entered the shop and asked to look at flowers for a wedding. As Mr. Vail bent over to pick up some flowers the large woman threw both arms about him from behind, imprisoning his arms; while the girl rifled the cash register. Mr. Vail shouted for help and the two women ran from the store, and getting into a high powered car drove rapidly out of town in the direction of Elkton. Constable William Wideman, hearing the call for help, arrived just after the robbery, but the gypsies had too long a start and he was unable to overtake them when he gave chase.

AUTOS COLLIDE

Last evening, about 9 o'clock, David Hubbert, of Elk Mills, driving east on Main street in a Pontiac coach, collided with a Ford roadster, driven by Milton Jarmon, of Wintertown, who was going west on Main street.

As the machines locked together they ran to curb, damaging a car that was parked. Chief of Police Keeley took both men before Magistrate Thompson, where neither wanted to make charges of reckless driving against the other, though both claimed the other to have been at fault. Witnesses said that Hubbert was driving too far to the left of the street and was responsible for the accident. The men agreed to each pay half the damage to the parked car and have their own cars fixed.

Dr. Conrey's Life

Well-Known Physician Found Dead In Bed By His Brother

Dr. Thomas Jackson Conrey, one of the wealthiest men in Chesapeake City and a physician of recognized ability, Sunday afternoon, was found dead in his home there with a revolver bullet wound in his right temple. Coroner Green was summoned from Elkton, and after making an investigation, satisfied himself that it was a case of suicide and issued a death certificate to that effect. The funeral was held from his home Tuesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, with Masonic rites. Interment was made in Bethel Cemetery.

Dr. Conrey, after eating his breakfast Sunday morning, told his housekeeper, an aged colored woman, that he would be unable to see his patients and gave orders that he was not to be disturbed until dinner time. He retired to his room and nothing more was heard from him until about 3:13 o'clock, when his brother, Frank C. Conrey, went to his room to call him.

He found the physician lying in bed. A revolver was clutched in his hand. He had divested himself of his coat and vest, and also his shoes and trousers and donned a bath robe. He then covered himself with the bed clothing and this is thought to have deadened the report of the shot which ended his life as no one had heard the report. The aged Negroess was the only occupant during the day as his brother was out. Dr. Conrey had no family, his wife having died about three years ago. Dr. C. C. Laws was summoned and he estimated Dr. Conrey had been dead about three hours.

Dr. Conrey was 58 years, four months of age. He suffered from enlargement of the heart and his friends say he labored under the constant fear that this was going to suddenly end his life. This and the death of his wife are known to have preyed upon his mind and it is thought despondency resulted and prompted his decision to kill himself.

He was the possessor of considerable wealth in land holdings, securities and mortgages. He had lived in Chesapeake City all his life. He graduated from Jefferson Medical College and was prominent in the Masonic order and in the Independent Order of Odd Fellows in his native town. He was a former president of the Cecil County Medical Society and was known in all parts of the county. He was especially well known in Elkton where he had attended a number of patients in Union Hospital. His practice was one of the largest in the state of Maryland and he was generally liked. He is survived by his brother, Frank T. Conrey, and one sister, Miss Bessie Conrey.

LOUIS THOMAS' CASE POSTPONED

Louis Thomas, 26 years old, colored, who has been held in Baltimore city jail since last March and who was removed to Elkton jail in September to be tried for committing a criminal assault on Mrs. Elizabeth Radcliff, wife of Roy Radcliff, a farmer of Kent Island, was brought into the Cecil County Court Monday morning for trial. Former State's Attorney J. H. C. Legg, of Queen Anne County, his counsel, asked the court for a continuance until the December term of court, stating that one of his most important witnesses, Eugene Fisher, colored, has disappeared and that he expects to have him in court at the next session.

The members of the court, comprising Chief Judge William H. Adkins and Judges Thomas J. Keating and Lewin Wickes held a conference, following which they announced that they would permit the case to be held over until the December term of court, but that they would not allow it to be postponed after that term.

Mrs. Radcliff was assaulted last March. She was lured to the Thomas home on the pretense that his wife was ill and needed help.

HISTORIC ESSAY WINS

At the thirtieth annual session of the Maryland division of the Daughters of the Confederacy, held at the Southern Hotel, Baltimore, on Wednesday evening, Miss Minn Margaret Smithers, daughter of Dr. Delmar Smithers, of Chesapeake City, was awarded the Carey prize of $15 for the best essay on Maryland history from 1861 to 1865.

This was a state wide contest open to all girls and boys of Maryland under 18 years of age. Miss Smithers is a member of the freshman class, Women's College, University of Delaware.

Elkton and Vicinity

David Riley, who conducts a roadhouse at Octoraro Junction, adjacent to the Conowingo dam project, reported to the county officers that his place was held up by three masked men who robbed him of his money and watch, and even carted off his bedding. He could give no description of the robbers and the police are completely in the dark in seeking a clue.

As a means of fire protection a water main is to be laid along the entire length of the Perryville-Havre de Grace bridge. A fire alarm system will also be installed on the bridge.

At the quarterly conference held in the Church House on Thursday evening, Rev. William G. Harris was invited to return as pastor of the Elkton Methodist Episcopal Church for the sixth consecutive year.

Melvin, the 18-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lay, of Perryville, was burned to death at his home on Aiken avenue, Perryville. The child was playing with a box of safety matches, when they ignited, setting fire to his clothing. Before assistance could be rendered he was so horribly burned that death ended his suffering a few hours later.

W. T. Bevan, supervisor, and E. M. Arndt, assistant supervisor on the main line of the Southern Grand Division, Pennsylvania Railroad, with headquarters at Perryville, won the cash prize of $800 for the best line and surface on the division during the past year.

Price Graves, colored, who was shot on the night of October 23 while returning to his home, by Thomas Holland, of Elkton, died at Union Hospital, Saturday, from his injury. Holland was apprehended in Philadelphia and brought to Elkton jail Saturday where he is held without bail for the action of the coroner.

The annual convention of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Wilmington Methodist Episcopal Conference is being held in the Methodist Episcopal Church at Cambridge, Md.,

Wednesday and Thursday. Mrs. Harry W. Pippin, Mrs. Lydia Greenfield, Mrs. Thomas R. Freeman, Miss Jennie Realey, Mrs. John F. Sparklin, Miss Lillian V. Alexander, Mrs. Clarence C. Perkins, Mrs. Justus C. Dunbar and Miss Lillie Alexander are representing the Elkton Methodist Episcopal Church as delegates.

The Teacher Training School, which has been in session for the past two weeks in the Elkton Church House, came to a close Tuesday night, after a supper was served by the Willing Workers. This concluded one of the most profitable classes in the history of the Cecil County School.

The Women's Missionary Society of Zion Presbyterian Church celebrated its fiftieth anniversary Sunday with a pageant, "Christ In America."

The towns have been changed in their atmosphere and a general religious awakening has come to the community. We are hoping that Elkton will not be an exception to this. You are invited to come out and enjoy these services and assist wherever possible.

ACCUSED OF TAKING LIQUOR INTO JAIL

A man and woman Monday were released in bail for a further hearing by J. Frank Supplee, United States commissioner, on charges of attempting to smuggle liquor to prisoners in the Cecil county jail at Elkton.

They were arrested Sunday by George C. Logan, sheriff of Cecil county, who turned them over to the Federal authorities. The woman is Mrs. Emma Mallory, Baltimore. In her visit to see her husband, Gardner Mallory, sentenced for Volstead act violations, she was caught, according to Sheriff Logue, passing a bottle of whiskey through the bars.

Anthony Cowallis, also of Baltimore, who called at the jail, also was found to possess a bottle of liquor, the sheriff said, which he is alleged to have admitted he had brought for a friend in the lockup.

Elkton Personals

A delightful Hallowe'en party was given by Miss Orville Adele Gilpin to a large number of friends at one of the Gilpin Colonial mansions on East Main street. Ladies and gentlemen in costumes of Colonial times greeted each other amid a perfect setting of a Colonial home, a bright fire burning on hearth, and a huge iron pot swung over the fire. Dainty refreshments, appropriate for the occasion, were served.

Dr. George C. Keidel, of the Library of Congress, Washington, and his sister, Miss Louise Keidel, of Catonsville, were guests of Elkton friends on Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. Walter Gillespie Boyd, of Baltimore, were guests in Elkton on Sunday.

Miss Blanche C. Ford has returned to her duties as musical instructor in the Carroll County High School.

The Rev. J. Frederick Virgin spent Monday in Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dorris and children were the week-end guests of Mr. Dorris' brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Dorris, New Castle.

Christiana

The chicken and oyster supper, prepared by the ladies of the Presbyterian Church on Wednesday evening, October 26, was wonderfully well patronized, people being present from Wilmington and nearly all the surrounding towns, to say nothing of the generous patronage of Christiana folks. After all expenses were paid, there was an even two hundred and thirty dollars to go into the treasury of the Ladies' Aid Society.

On Friday afternoon the pupils of the first four grades of the Christiana school were given a Hallowe'en party by their teacher, Mrs. E. E. Kennard of Newark. The room was darkened, and then lighted only by candles and jack-o-lanterns; games were played, fortunes told by a witch who was constantly stirring a big black cauldron, and refreshments were served. The children were all masked. Margaret Tackage won the prize for the prettiest costume, and Eleanor Howell for the funniest. The older children, fifth to eighth grades, were guests of the little folks for the afternoon.

The Christiana Improvement Association held their annual Hallowe'en party in the School Hall Saturday evening, October 29. Many of the guests were masked, and there was a great variety of costumes and make-ups, ranging from the beautiful to the grotesque. Some of the prizes were won by people from outside, but members of the Association who wore winning costumes were Mrs. George Butler, Mrs. William David, and Mr. Harry Cleaves. After all had unmasked, a comedy-playlet, "Neighborhoodly Neighbors," was given by the following cast: Mrs. Alfred H. Vincent, Mrs. Charles Barrett, Mrs. John Levey, Mrs. John Hanna, Mrs. Henry Eastburn, Mrs. Harry Cleaves, Mrs. Dewey Clayville, Mrs. Louis Thorp, Jr., Mrs. H. A. Phelps, Sarah Moore, Rachel and Sylvia Phelps. Following the play, games were played and refreshments served. Later on there was music for those who cared to dance.

The whole community was sorry to learn last week of the critical illness of Rev. Thomas Pardee, former pastor of the M. E. Church here. He suffered a stroke of paralysis at his (Continued on Page 2.)

The Visiting Nurse

Those words have come to mean comfort in a great many Newark homes. The report of the visiting nurse, which is printed in the news columns of this paper, tells of a busy year's work. We wish we were in a position to tell the number of things which would be even more interesting; of the relief which she has brought into homes; of the sad cases which she has discovered, which but for her work, would have been neglected; of her helpfulness in advising untaught mothers and children of food values; of corrections in physical conditions, which have prevented worse conditions. In short, we wish we had the human interest story of her year. Little stories of those contacts have come our way, but details are lacking. Soon we hope to print some "Little Journeys With the Visiting Nurse," which will impress our readers even more than the figures of the report have done.

The life of the visiting nurse is not easy, especially when she works in her home town, where she knows the people and her sympathies as well as her strength are constantly taxed. But there are many compensations, for she gets at the very heart of her people when they are weak and in need of help.

WELFARE COMMITTEE ORGANIZES

The first meeting of the Welfare or Social Service Committee of the New Century Club was held at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Townend, Friday morning, October 28.

The members of the committee are as follows: Mrs. Townend, Mrs. Price, Mrs. Bonham, Mrs. J. P. Wright, Mrs. Hulihan, Mrs. Tarr, Mrs. Townsend, Mrs. Rankin, Mrs. Eastman, Mrs. Houghton, Mrs. McVey, and Mrs. Wheelless.

Mrs. Wheelless was named secretary and treasurer. It was decided to meet the second Wednesday in every month, at which time the members will report on the families entrusted to their care.

The committee is already actively at work caring for various families and it is expected that the duties will become greater as winter comes on. Plans are being considered for bringing happiness and cheer to unfortunate families at the Christmas season and in order to carry on this splendid work, the committee is hoping for the very generous support of the townspeople.—Grace D. Wheelless, Secretary.

VISITING NURSE HAS BUSY YEAR

The report of the Visiting Nurse of Newark, Miss Alice Leak, shows an interesting list of figures and the great need for such a person in the community. During the year from October 1, 1926, to November 1, 1927, Miss Leak made 1956 visits, cared for 1005 nursing cases, and gave instructions in 951 cases.

The kinds of cases cared for run as follows: Pleurisy, 4; pneumonia, 21; la grippe, 27; asthma, 1; septic poisoning, 1; cancer, 4; nervous diseases, 17; diabetes, 2; malnutrition, 11; typhoid, 1; rheumatism, 3; maternity, 27; prenatal, 21; heart and kidney, 19; miscellaneous, 51.

Three hundred ninety-nine treatments have been given; 137 birth certificates have been issued. Cases have been taken to the hospital for examination and operation as follows: tonsils and adenoids, 15; eyes, 8; medical, 2; orthopedic, 3. Health clinics have been held every Wednesday from 1 to 5 o'clock, with an average attendance of 35. Tubercular clinics have been held the first Monday of every month, from 10 to 12 o'clock.

JUNIOR MECHANICS HOLDING SPECIAL MEETING

On next Monday evening American Flag Council, No. 28, Junior Order United American Mechanics of Newark, will hold a meeting of especial interest to all local members of the order. This meeting is the first of the special meetings, marking their usual fall program of special activities. Monday evening is the date set for the visitation of the New Castle County Boosting Committee. As special speaker for this occasion the local council will have Deputy National Councilor Charles H. Senken, from Brooklyn, N. Y. It is planned to hold an open meeting, and members are invited to bring along any friends they think might be interested in becoming members of the order. Special music and refreshments have been arranged and all members are urged to be present.

On Wednesday evening the local council will journey to St. George's, and on Friday evening, to Townsend, to there join the County Boosting Committee. Any brothers wishing to make these trips are urged to be at the lodge room at 7 p. m. on these respective nights.—A. Neal Smythe, Publicity Committee.

VETERINARY BODY TO MEET IN MIDDLETOWN

The annual meeting of the Delaware Veterinary Medical Association will be held Thursday, November 10, in the Middletown Hotel in Middletown.

Palmer, head of the department of animal husbandry, University of Delaware; Dr. Frank Hare, state poultry pathologist; Dr. William G. Middletown, Federal veterinarian in charge of tuberculosis eradication in New Jersey and Delaware, and Harris Samonisky, city editor of Every Evening.

The association is interested at this time in the elimination of tuberculosis, anthrax and glanders in live in connection with the purchase of spread to human beings.

SHEAFFER CELEBRATES SIXTH ANNIVERSARY

I. Newton Sheaffer, wellknown local painter and decorator, is celebrating the sixth anniversary of his starting business in Newark by holding a sale in which ridiculously low prices have been placed on some very high grade merchandise.

In looking back over his stay in Newark, Mr. Sheaffer feels particularly gratified at the manner in which he and his ideas have been received in this town and at the way in which his business has grown and prospered. Mr. Sheaffer has made friends and has also shown good merchandising sense by his policy of instructing amateurs in the mysteries and technique of home decorating.

TOKYO TRAFFIC RULES

In the talk which Miss Miriam Null gave recently at the Presbyterian Church of this town, she read some rules for auto drivers which are posted in a Tokyo (Japan) police station. Translated into English the rules read thus:

1. At the rise of the hand policeman, stop rapidly.
2. Do not pass policeman or otherwise disrespect him.
3. When a passenger on foot heave in sight, tootle horn; trumpet at him melodiously at first, but if he still obstruct your passage, tootle him with vigor, and express by word of mouth the warning, "Hi, Hi."
4. Beware the wandering horse, that he shall not take fright as you pass him by; do not explode an exhaust blow at him. Go soothingly by.
5. Give big space to the festive dog that shall sport in the roadway.

6. Go soothingly on the grease mud, as there lurks the skid demon.
7. Press the brakes of the foot as you roll around the corner to save collapse and tie-up.

his estate, and hundreds of fine specimens of oaks, maples, dogwood and other trees in his woods. He is offering to give, free, trees and shrubs to any purchaser of one of these lots. While he has enough trees to more than go round, the shrubbery is limited and will be available to those who make the first purchases.

A number of these lots are on Nottingham road and face the Newark Country Club. The others are on Bent lane, Tanglewood lane and Briar lane; roads leading off the Nottingham road. A Different
Christmas Gift

Everyone has some friend to whom he would like to send a remembrance, —something more than a card, but not so expensive as gifts are now-a-days. Then one doesn't always know a friend's tastes in gifts, even in books.

But any friend, young or old, will be delighted with a copy of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States, beautifully printed on good paper, and attractively bound. It is an unusual gift, one that bespeaks the thoughtful giver. It will be a time-saver to put several of these books on your list and send us your order. Price, one dollar, plus postage. De Luxe copies, ten dollars.—Adv.

New Century Club

The bi-weekly meeting of the Newark New Century Club met in the town library and the program was in charge of the Library Committee, with Mrs. George Dutton chairman.

Professor James A. Barkley, of the University, talked on "Current Historical Events," explaining very definitely the political situation of the present time.

It was reported that $110 had been realized from the card party at the Century Club for the benefit of the library and the club; also that the Ways and Means Committee reported $91 from the rummage sale.

The Library Committee, with the assistance of the club members, are working out a definite plan to have the town library open in the evenings as a reading room during the winter, beginning December 5th. Further information will be given by the committee later.

The informal meeting next Monday, November 7th, will be in charge of Mrs. Robert Price.

—Secretary.

Newark Beats Dover In Final Quarter

Burly Team Wins Sluggish 12 To 0 Victory Over Lighter
Opponents

A heavy and confident football team met with a stunning surprise last Friday, when Newark went to Dover to play Dover High School. Newark, with a heavy and powerful team, was checked and held scoreless until the last minutes of the final period by the light, but fighting Dover eleven. A touchdown by Holloway and another by Smith in the final period gave Newark the game, 12 to 0.

Newark started as if they would trample Dover underfoot, but a stubborn opposition seemed to wilt their football ardor and it was not until the third period that Newark came to life and started to play football. In the second period Newark did not gain a single first down. In all Newark made 7 first downs, Dover, 6.

Holloway made Newark's first score on a deceptive play around left end. Smith made the second when he went over on a slant off tackle. Both tries for extra point failed. Line-up:

Delaware Humbled By Johns Hopkins, 36-0

Delaware Makes Great Stand In First Half, But Is Badly
Mauled In Second

After fighting on nearly even terms for the first half, on Saturday afternoon, Johns Hopkins ran roughshod over Delaware in the second, piling up 29 points with 4 touchdowns and a safety. The Blue Jays had made one score in the first period, so that the final score was 36 to 0. The game was played in Baltimore.

Johns Hopkins outweighed Delaware both in the line and backfield, but the Delaware line held admirably during the first half of the game. Creamer received the kick-off and ran it back 25 yards. He kicked on the first down and after several exchanges of punts, Hopkins made three first downs, carrying the ball deep into Delaware territory. Lawrence, Hopkins halfback, carried the ball over for the first score and Caplan made the extra point.

The second period went to Delaware by a good margin. The Blue and Gold opened up with a passing attack that Hopkins seemed unable to stop until their goal was threatened and twice Delaware came within an ace of scoring. Loveland did recover a fumbled punt and carry it over for a touchdown, but under the new ruling it was not allowed.

In the third period Johns Hopkins crossed the Delaware line twice, once on a play through tackle, and once on a pass.

In the last quarter Mallonee, Blue Jay end, intercepted a pass and ran it back 15 yards for Hopkins' fourth touchdown. Hopkins then slowly forced Delaware down the field and a short pass over the line gave them their fifth and last touchdown. Just before the game ended, a bad pass went over Creamer's head as he stood back of his own goal line. He was tackled for a safety as he recovered it.

Hopkins' heavy scoring in the second half was a surprise to the spectators after the determined stand Delaware had made in the early half of the game. Glasser, as usual, was outstanding on the defense for Delaware, while Taylor, Loveland and Creamer starred in the backfield. The Lineup:

Clerk Charges Taxi Company With Bribery

"Taxi crowd" and not to go near them.

5. This Respondent answering Paragraph 5 of the Bill of Complaint says that he has no information that anything has been done in the Office of the Clerk of the Court for Cecil County which has caused any injury whatsoever to the Plaintiffs.

6. This Respondent further answering said Bill of Complaint says that two of the Plaintiffs, on separate occasions, came to him after he had qualified as Clerk of the Circuit Court for Cecil County, and assumed the duties of said Office, and offered him a sum of money for each wedding couple with whom he would use his influence to see that the said wedding couple were delivered over to the Plaintiffs for transportation to a Minister of the Gospel.

7. This Respondent further answering the said Bill of Complaint says that after he qualified as Clerk of the Circuit Court of Cecil County, and assumed the duties of said office, he tendered the position of Deputy Clerk to a certain Albert N. Vannort and while the said Vannort was considering the acceptance of the Position the Plaintiffs went to the said Vannort and urged him to accept the tender of this Respondent and informed him that if he would accept the said office of Deputy Clerk of the Circuit Court for Cecil County that the Elktion Taxi Company would offer substantial inducements to the said Vannort for his influence in securing the business of conducting wedding couples from the Clerk's Office to a Minister of the Gospel.

8. This Respondent further answering the said Bill of Complaint says that after he qualified as Clerk of the Circuit Court of Cecil County, and assumed the duties of said office, he appointed to the position of Deputy Clerk the said C. Ellis Deibert, who was approached shortly after his appointment, by one of the said Plaintiffs who offered him the sum of Fifteen Dollars ($15.00) per week to direct couples receiving marriage licenses to one of the representatives of the said Elktion Taxi Company who would be stationed outside the Clerk's Office door at all times to direct those securing the marriage license to the Minister to whom the said Elktion Taxi Company desired them to be taken.

9. This Respondent further answering the said Bill of Complaint says that after applicants have been rejected by him or one of his Deputies the same parties have been conveyed to Chestertown, Kent County, Maryland, where license was issued to said applicant and the certificate appended to said license required by law to be returned to the Clerk of the Court of the County from which it reputed to be employed by the Plaintiffs in Elkton, and in each instance the applicant in making application for license at Elkton, Maryland, to was issued has been returned to the Respondent, signed by the Minister your Respondent, or one of his deputies, had given his age under Twenty-one Years, and for this reason was rejected.

10. This Respondent further answering the said Bill of Complaint says that the wide publicity given the recent trial and conviction by the Circuit Court for Cecil County of Richard T. Westren, a former Minister reputed to be employed by the said Elktion Taxi Company, and the doubts as to the legality of marriages performed by said Westren, prompted many of the applicants for marriage licenses to ask to be directed to a reliable and regular Minister of the Gospel, and such inquiries were answered by your Respondent or one of his Deputies by directing them to a Minister of the Religious denomination requested by the applicant.

11. This Respondent further answering the said Bill of Complaint says that many of the applicants for marriage licenses came to Elkton, Maryland, in their own automobile or conveyances and the suggestion made and information given them did not in any way interfere with the legitimate business of said Plaintiffs.

Presto!

And, where a few minutes before there stood an ugly, garish, dusty and dirt spreading radiator, there is a fine cabinet in mahogany or walnut.

But the home owner hasn't obtained the services of some famous magician for this transformation—they simply bought and put in place, the Mullins Radiator Enclosure.

These enclosures are made of furniture steel and finished in mahogany or walnut—exactly reproducing the beautiful graining of these woods.

Under the lid is a removable water pan that prevents that irritating dry heat and colds and sore throats.

And what a difference they make in the clean appearance of your walls and hangings. The heat is thrown outward into the room where it's needed—and your walls and fine draperies are not coated with grimy dirt and dust. This one feature alone makes these Enclosures a very good investment.

Expensive? Not at all. Heretofore every radiator enclosure had to be made to order and that took time and was very costly.

BUT MULLINS ENCLOSURES ARE STANDARDIZED AND ARE MADE IN WIDTHS AND HEIGHTS TO FIT ALMOST ALL RADIATORS AT HALF THE PRICE OF OTHER COVERS.

The Enclosures are priced from $20.00 up, in a hundred sizes. The shields, where dust protection is wanted but not necessarily an enclosure—in the kitchen, bathroom, hall or playroom—are $7.50 and up.

In a little while, in the up-to-date home, an ugly, dirt-catching radiator will be almost as obsolete—and as unsightly—as a tin bath tub.

Will we have our representative call NOW and measure and estimate, so you'll know how inexpensive you can add to the beauty of YOUR home?

New

New Jersey, president of Gilbreth, Inc., Consulting Engineers in Management, gave an address on the subject, "Home-Making As An Engineering Project."

She rated the value of a home with respect to the interest it holds for the family group, whether or not the family like to gather there. "Measure each room and each household activity as to its value. Make housework interesting; simplify methods as an engineer would do."

"Do not bemoan your interruptions. They are life-savers from monotony. They bring contacts that help. Think of a whole day or a whole week without interruptions. Most of us thrive on interruptions; we swing back into the job with a new zest."

At Residence Hall, at 4 o'clock, a portrait of Dean Robinson was formally presented to Women's College by the Alumnae Association. The presentation was made by Miss Mabel E. Smith, of Freehold, New Jersey, president of the organization. The portrait was accepted by Judge Charles M. Curtis, chairman of the Trustees' Committee of Women's College.

The portrait, which was painted by Stanley M. Arthurs, of Wilmington, represents Dean Robinson standing by the sundial on the Women's College campus, with the present buildings as a background. In her face, as it is uplifted, is seen a look of hope of greater achievement, a vision of a greater Women's College. Her dress is a soft green-blue and a gold-colored scarf is across her shoulders.

In accepting the gift Judge Curtis said: "It is with peculiar pleasure that I promptly and heartily accepted the honor of receiving on behalf of the University of Delaware this portrait of Dean Robinson, presented by the Alumnae Association of the Women's College of Delaware."

"As an alumnus who was graduated from Delaware College in 1877 and who during all of the life of the Women's College has been Chairman of the Committee of the Trustees of the University having especial oversight of this feminine branch of the University, I think I am qualified."

"But I have other reasons which make this a very happy duty—viz., my high esteem and regard for the subject of this portrait, for an association with her for 13 years in helping a bit to promote the welfare of this college has given me reasons for this esteem and regard."

"When this venture to provide a higher education for the young women of Delaware began its career of usefulness the prospect for patrons seemed small and we wondered where they would come from. Soon the venture was more than experiment, it was a success. It met a real need and has gone steadily forward to the very creditable thing it now is, in management, equipment, morale, intellectual growth, and expanding usefulness. A steadily growing procession of seekers for learning has passed through these halls; they have gone away with grateful appreciation of all they each got here, and made good use of it. It would be interesting to hear in detail of their successes. But this is not the proper occasion."

"Notwithstanding several expansions of our facilities for housing, feeding and instructing the ever increasing throng of applicants, we have a waiting list—a thing to be proud of from one point of view, and sad about in a better point of view."

"It is as true here as it is with other colleges for women as set forth so vigorously by the heads of seven of the larger colleges for women in a recent article in the Atlantic Monthly, that gifts to women's colleges are not proportionately as large as to colleges for men. But on the whole, the State of Delaware has given fine support to this institution and recognized generously its achievements."

"The public opinion in Delaware admits the right of her women to the same quality of educational opportunity as her men. It follows that financial support must be given in proportion to the task undertaken."

"The subject of this portrait has been the head of the Women's College from its beginning until now. She planned its form, developed its opportunities, and guided with steady, clear purpose its expansion into the fine thing it now is. To her more than to any one else is due the credit of making this college what it is. With unfaltering courage she led the way towards the attainment of her ideals for the educational development of the young women of Delaware. The path has not always been a smooth one and the resources have never been adequate and sometimes so meager as to almost halt progress. But she never faltered. The triumph of this institution is hers. She has made it and it is a thing to be proud of."

"Many there are whose hearts swell with gratitude to Dean Robinson. They have felt the uplifting influence of her calm, dignified, earnest and kindly personality, and have been helped and inspired by her to achieve and conquer."

"Therefore, knowing all that she has been to this institution, we rejoice that her portrait will be hung here and so in a measure be to future generations an incentive to high endeavor."

"The artist shows her standing in the campus out under the sky and in the background are suggestions of the new structures which she hopes to see rise here. See seems to show in her face that she is looking forward to higher standards, broader usefulness and even nobler ideals for this thing which she has shaped so wisely. May her visions come to reality and may she live to see their fulfillment here."

Following the presentation of the portrait, the Sophomore class entertained the alumnae, faculty, students and friends of the college at tea in the Hilarium. Miss Ann Barclay, president of the class, and Lois Simmons, treasurer, poured. In the receiving line, which stood in the Warner Room, were Margaret Middleton, vice-president; Dean Robinson, President Hulihan, Mrs. A. D. Warner, Dr. Gilbreth, Miss Mabel Smith, Miss Serene Templeman, faculty advisor of the Sophomore class, and Miss Carrie Atkinson, treasurer.

Founders' Day Dance, a Halloween party, was given Saturday evening in Old College. The room was decorated by lights shaded with yellow crepe paper, fodder, autumn leaves, pumpkins and other Halloween suggestions. Those in the receiving line were: Miss Jane Warner, chairman of social committee; Miss Allen, Miss Clarihew and Miss Gillespie.

"Let us have faith that right makes might, and in that faith, let us to the end, dare to do our duty, as we understand it."—Lincoln.

THE NEW ERA IN TELEPHONE COMMUNICATION

TODAY, you can talk Across the Atlantic Ocean from your Bell Telephone in your home or office.

Your voice travels over wires to the coast, and then leaps out over the sea.

The voice from Europe jumps back over the Atlantic and comes to your telephone.

This development is indicative of the tremendous things which have been happening to your telephone service in recent years.

Other things, while not so spectacular, are of perhaps greater benefit to you in your every-day use of the telephone.

You are connected to nearby cities today while you wait on the line—just as on local calls.

Your calls to more distant points are handled with a speed which a few years ago would have been considered visionary.

We're living in a new era in telephone communication.

Rambling and Random Remarks", will be delivered at the annual banquet on Thursday evening. This banquet and meeting will be held jointly by the Delaware State Education Association and the Delaware Vocational Association, as a year ago, and promises to be equally as interesting and entertaining.

The Farmer Of Tomorrow

In concluding his letter, Professor Heim gave a quotation from Dean F. B. Mumford, of the University of Missouri, who paints an optimistic picture for the budding farmer.

"It is the function of the teacher of vocational agriculture to train young men how to succeed in a rural environment. To be successful in a rural environment involves something more than technical efficiency. Integrity of character, nobility of purpose, and service to success."

"The young man who begins his agricultural career at the present time is certain to find a more favorable economic and social condition than farmers who were caught in the aftermath of the great war. It is always a good business maxim that the time to invest in a permanent, established business is when every one wants to sell out. The time to stay out is when every one wants to buy."

"Agriculture has always, since the beginning of history, had its business cycles. At the present time we are at or near the bottom of the curve, and from now on agriculture will constantly improve. This is a favorable condition for all farmers, but particularly those who are not burdened with debts incurred under an inflated economic situation."

"Agriculture is a permanent industry. 'Princes and lords may flourish or may fade, a breath can make them, a breath has made, but agriculture goes on forever. No change in government, no social upheaval, no revolution, can destroy the land or the industry upon which human life depends for food and clothing. The establishment of an independent home is a dream that is in the soul of every man. In some men it is a passion. The successful farmer of the future will be the man who has equipped himself with knowledge. Knowledge is power. The ignorant farmer is today at a greater disadvantage in the struggle for existence than ever before. In the future as in the past, the farmer who is most efficient will be the farmer who is most prosperous."

"BEAU GESTE"

One of the most unforgettable of all screen dramas, the mighty picturization of Percy Wren's novel "Beau Geste" will be shown at popular prices at the Arcadia Theatre in Wilmington during the week of November 7th.

"Beau Geste" is primarily the story of three brothers and their great loyalty to one another. When a famous blue diamond is missing from the home of their aunt, all three brothers leave and join up with the French Foreign Legion in Africa, so as to keep suspicion for the theft from falling on any one of the three of them.

The adventures in Africa are actually hair-raising in melodramatic intensity and "Beau Geste" has more thrills to a moment than most pictures have for their entirety.
