11TH CAVALRY TAKES FIRST DELAWARE OBJECTIVE BY STORM

Makes Newark First Stop in the State

VICTORY LOAN COMMITTEE SECURES UNUSUAL ATTRACTION

No radio message could have traveled faster than the news that the squadron of the Eleventh Cavalry which had camped in Murray's meadow on Monday night had arrived in town an hour before scheduled time. No attraction since that of the Piper of Hamelin has drawn could have drawn so many people of all ages from so many directions as did this group of silent horsemen 300 strong who halted here yesterday for an hour and a half and gave on Frazer Field an exhibition of superb horsemanship such as had been seen or can be seen by few in a lifetime.

A brilliant stroke on the part of the Victory Liberty Loan Committee through their spokesmen Mayor Eben B. Frazer and E. C. Wilson, secured the privilege of this rare treat for this district.

Mayor Frazer on Sunday evening entertained Lieutenant Doron who represented the adjutant general's office in making advance arrangements for the squadron. This young officer who has seen about eight months' active service at the front entertained Mayor Frazer and a few guests with accounts of the accomplishments and exploits of the 11th Cavalry, particularly of this squadron and gave some lively observations of the overseas conflict and of his personal experiences. Mayor Frazer and Mr. Wilson made an appointment with Colonel Mayo who is in command of the squadron and after much persuasion prevailed upon this taciturn officer to allow Newark to be host to his command on Tuesday morning.

The squadron had encamped for the night on the Murray farm just west of town. The news of this fact spread quickly and hundreds of people in machines, on bicycles, in teams, and on foot visited the encampment during the late afternoon and evening. They were especially pleased with the gentlemanly bearing and splendid morale of the men, many of whom had just returned from overseas service and were detailed to aid in putting over the Victory Loan. This particular squadron is enroute from Fort Meyer to New York to participate in a huge demonstration there the last of April. Several of the officers and privates wore decorations won for gallantry in action. Like their colonel, however, they were indisposed to say anything of their personal achievements.

The Squadron Arrives at 8 a. m. On Tuesday morning they arrived in Newark via the South Road promptly at 8 o'clock and were met by the Victory Loan Committee in automobiles decorated with flags and with legends telling that "The Boys Have Done Their Bit, Let Us Do Ours" and similar Victory Loan slogans, relative to "finishing the job." In the foremost machine

Will Assist at Peace Conference

A cablegram was recently received by S. S. Conover of N. J., notifying him of the appointment of his son, Lieut. Milton Conover of the A. E. F. as an assistant at the Peace Conference at Paris. He was appointed to this position on account of his knowledge of international law. Lieut. Conover is a nephew of Prof. E. Conover of Delaware College and will be remembered by a number of people in Newark where he has frequently visited. Lieutenant Conover visited his uncle last June, just previous to his departure for France.

Passed Smokes To Soldiers

Mrs. Charles Steele assisted by a few of her friends passed cigars and cigarettes to the cavalrymen camp just west of town on Monday.

W. C. T. U. To Meet Friday

The W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. Sallie Cornog at 2 o'clock Friday, April 25.

were Mayor Eben B. Frazer, E. C. Wilson, Daniel Thompson and Dr. S. C. Mitchell.

They came up Depot Road turned westward on Delaware Avenue and doubled back to Main Street as far as the North College Avenue entrance to the grounds at Delaware.

The news of their early arrival spread quickly so that by the time they had entered Frazer Field, the hundreds of spectators had almost encircled the track.

Exhibition drills were given and superb horsemanship displayed by members of Troops C and A. Marvelous feats of charging and track riding were performed by these young men, the thrilling climax being a hair-raising gallop around the cinder track, 20 riders standing erect, each guiding three horses.

Troops B and D dismounted and preformed the regulation military drills, giving a realistic exhibition of going "over the top" when, to the consternation of a portion of the spectators, they charged the west terrace of the field and routed the enemy.

An amazingly persistent Lieutenant on a magnificent mount gave an exhibition of hurdle jumping and caused much amusement and many exclamations of admiration for his persistent attempts to make his mount take the high jump.

Many Attractions at One Time The mounted band grouped near the south entrance to the field played lively selections at intervals during the drill. Frequently a number of attractions were taking place at one time, so that the delighted spectator had all the joys of bewilderment that attend an effort to see everything that takes place in a seven ring circus. An amusing side show to the whole performance was the joyous abandon of the ubiquitous small boy who swarmed on the terrace, an occasional stab of conscience regarding school attendance, being speedily forgotten when some amazing feat of horsemanship met his vision. The ever present camera man was made dizzy by the number of things he wanted to get all happening at the same time.

The occasion was one never-to-be-forgotten by Newark residents who were privileged to be present and certainly few missed the spectacle for the schools and the industries were most generous in permitting all to stop work while the cavalrymen were here.

After the exhibition sandwiches and coffee were served to the squadron by the college, the officers and members of the Loan Committee being served in the dining room of The Commons.

At 9.30 the march was taken up again and the squadron went down Main Street and on to Wilmington.

Japanese Lady Charms Audience

The talk given in the lecture room of the Presbyterian Church last Friday night by the dainty little Japanese lady Madame Sugimoto was thoroughly enjoyed by a fair-sized audience. She held her hearers spellbound for an hour and 23 minutes and told of charming customs in her country. She displayed various garments peculiar to her nationality and signified her willingness to answer questions from her audience. Replying to a question concerning courtship in her land, she said such things were arranged by parents and told very frankly her opinion of American love making.

Will Have New Auto Hearse

The Fader Motor Company has sold a Velle special duty chassis to Mr. E. C. Wilson for an automobile hearse.

Mr. Wilson will have a body built to order which will be ready for service in about 60 days.

RETURNED SOLDIERS SPEAK FOR VICTORY LOAN

Ask Movie Audience to "Finish the Job"

A realistic touch was given to the appeal made by the war film "The Price of Peace" by the appearance of two Newark heroes who have learned from observation and experience what really is the price of peace.

The two showings of this war picture were well attended, considering the inopportune time at which they were shown and the number of people who were unable to be reached with information concerning its showing here.

Upon invitation of chairman Eben B. Frazer, Corporal Orville Little who has recently returned from overseas service with the 147th Infantry, and Fred Strickland who served with the Ambulance Corps in several of the big offensives and who received the French War Cross for gallantry in action, consented to tell something of their experiences over there.

Strickland said that he had never been over the top and modestly avoided all reference to the service which won for him the coveted decoration but told the everyday experiences of an ambulance driver—the gruesomeness of the task which saved the life of thousands of wounded. He told of the gradual hardening process which resulted from the daily contact with the dead and the wounded, so that a driver could eventually eat a square meal even when surrounded by the dead and dying.

He closed with a word of appreciation from the boys over there to the folks back home whose support and cooperation mean so much in times of stress and danger. In behalf of his comrades still in arms and of those who made the supreme sacrifice, he urged the home folks to "finish the job" by subscribing to the Victory Loan.

Corporal Orville Little who went "over the top" several times and who took part in the engagements at Verdun and St. Mihiel facetiously remarked that the charge of the Zero hour was not nearly so difficult as that of facing the battery of glances from an audience. He had never been hit while in active service, he said, and was not so sure that his experience as a speaker would be as fortunate. He sketched briefly the life of a soldier in the trenches, told of the method of attack and of some thrilling experiences in the big offensives, carefully avoiding any reference to personal achievements.

He made an appeal for the Victory Loan and asked friends and neighbors here to back up the boys over there with generous subscriptions to the final loan.

NO CONTEST DEVELOPS IN SCHOOL ELECTION

Dr. W. J. Rowan and Prof. C. A. McCue Withdraw Names

Two members of the Newark Board of Education will be elected on Saturday, April 26, to succeed Charles A. McCue and Harvey Hofferker whose terms expire.

The present law requires that names of candidates be filed 10 days previous to the election. Messrs. Hofferker and McCue were prevailed upon to file their names for re-election. Dr. W. J. Rowan's name and that of Harrison Gray were also filed. Dr. Rowan and Professor McCue have withdrawn their names thus eliminating any possibility of a contest. The election will be held in the High School building from about 1 to 5 p. m.

Fire At Head Of Christiana Church

What might have been a serious fire occurred at Head of Christiana Church on Friday evening last. The sexton was lighting the lamps for the evening service, when the large chandelier or six lamps which were all lighted fell. The oil catching fire, burned the side of the partition. The sexton bravely fought the fire before calling for help. A call was sent to the Newark Fire Company, which responded at once but the neighbors and the sexton had beaten it out with wet rugs.

Those interested in the church want to thank the Fire Company for their quick response, but are glad that it was not necessary for them to go all the way. One pew was badly burned and carpet in four pews soaked with oil. The sexton was cut by the glass, and his trouser legs burned to his knees.

Services Well Attended Easter Sunday

The Easter services in the Newark churches were especially well attended.

At the Presbyterian Church an Easter sermon and special music including a solo by Mrs. J. Pearce Cann were features.

At the M. E. Church a special service, "Endless Life," was presented by the Sunday School. A special sermon was preached by Rev. Frank Herson. The congregation filled the church to overflowing.

The flowers at the Catholic and Episcopal churches were beautiful and the services well attended.

Auto Accident On Depot Road

Robert Carston of Wilmington, and five other passengers had a narrow escape from death on Sunday night when his car ran into the ditch in front of Dr. Watson's house throwing the occupants into the adjoining lot. All escaped with only a few bruises and scratches. The car was likewise little damaged.

Considerable difficulty was experienced in righting the car which was pulled out with the aid of another machine. The accident was due it is said to the recklessness of a driver who was approaching Mr. Carston's machine from the opposite direction and who refused to yield a fair part of the road. No assistance was rendered by the offending driver who sped on his way.

Last Of Series Of Bakes Saturday

The last of the series of bakes to be given by the ladies of the M. E. Church will be held on Saturday afternoon in the vacant store next to the Opera House.

Sunday School Class Entertains

The young ladies of Mrs. Ed. Steele's Sunday School class entertained the young men of Mrs. Mary Donnell's class at supper in the lecture room of the Presbyterian Church on Thursday night of last week.

A delicious supper was served and a most enjoyable time spent by the young people and their guests.

WILL GIVE ADDRESS ON LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Dr. S. C. Mitchell to Lecture in Old College Hall Thursday Night

Dr. Samuel C. Mitchell will address the League of Nations Club in the chapel room at Old College Hall on Thursday evening, April 24. The club extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend as indicated elsewhere in this issue.

The subject of his address will be "The Growth of the Idea." It will be of an historical nature, relating to the world problem of a League of Nations.

An effort will be made to have this occasion one of the "big cards" in the college calendar, as Dr. Mitchell has not been heard much in a prepared address in Delaware. Most of his speeches have been made in various parts of the country where the home folks can not hear him.

Plunges To Death In Open Elevator Shaft

Joseph B. Pusey, aged 48 years met with a fatal accident on Tuesday morning at the mill of the American Vulcanized Fibre Company. With a truckload of fibre he plunged headlong down an open elevator shaft, a distance of one and a half stories, crushing his skull and almost instant death.

Mr. Pusey, it is understood had ascended in the elevator with an empty truck and contrary to the custom of the mill had failed to put up the safety chain. While he loaded the truck someone had descended in the elevator and on Mr. Pusey's return he wheeled the truck into space and descended head first to the concrete floor below.

Medical aid was immediately summoned and Dr. Kollock responded instantly. The man died in a few minutes and was removed to his home by undertaker E. C. Wilson. Deputy Coroner Nichols was notified and an inquest will be held tomorrow morning by Coroner Bullock.

Mr. Pusey will be buried on Friday afternoon at Newark Cemetery. Services will be held at his late home on Choate Street at 2 o'clock. He leaves a wife.

Movie Benefit For Ball Club

A movie benefit for the Continental baseball club will be given at the Opera House on Monday evening April 28. It will consist of a six-reel Paramount picture "The Guilty Man" and a Mutt and Jeff cartoon.

Minute Men Rally for Inspiration

Adjacent Churches send Representatives

Plans Laid for Missionary Centenary Campaign in May

Methodist clergymen and laymen to the number of 50 representing the churches at Salem, Newport, Christiana, Ebenezer, and Stanton met in the Sunday School room of the church last night to effect organization of the minute men for the Centenary movement.

The meeting was highly inspirational and infused a spirit that will send Methodism and its constituency "over the top" in the call of the world to aid humanity in war construction project, if last night's enthusiasm is any index.

Prof. A. E. Grantham presided and introduced T. B. Ely, district chairman of the Wilmington District who explained briefly the purpose and meaning of the Centenary Movement stating that it is not alone a campaign for $100,000,000 but has for its ultimate objective the mobilization of church forces to meet the responsibility laid upon them by the present world crisis. Dr. Robert Watt, district superintendent, emphasized the necessity of Methodists and all denominations going beyond their church limits in response to the world appeal for help and stated that no more fitting time for such a movement could be chosen than the hundredth anniversary of Methodist missions.

Mr. Harry Price of Baltimore area chairman of the minute men in a particularly fine address predicted that the campaign will inevitably lead to a gigantic inter-church movement that will make Christianity a greater world force. He announced that the slogan of the campaign is "Coats Off!"

Dr. C. S. Moore of Baltimore area stewardship secretary, described the sad plight of the people of the war-torn countries and stated that the way is open for the church to do a piece of constructive work beyond all imagination. Dr. Moore comes from the Rock River Conference and has been delegated for Centenary work.

Carl E. Bash, a returned chaplain, field secretary of the minute men for the Washington area spoke briefly of the scope of the movement stating that there are 60,000 in the United States, that these men have been accepted by Secretary Glass to aid in the Victory Loan and in the campaign to bring together employer and unemployed which culminates on May 4.

Rev. Frank Herson who is group chairman for those churches represented last night and for Elk Mills and Wesley which are included in the group but whose delegates did not appear last night, made a strong appeal for cooperation and for enthusiastic support of the movement.

The ministers from each of the churches represented made brief addresses and some of the laymen present also spoke briefly.

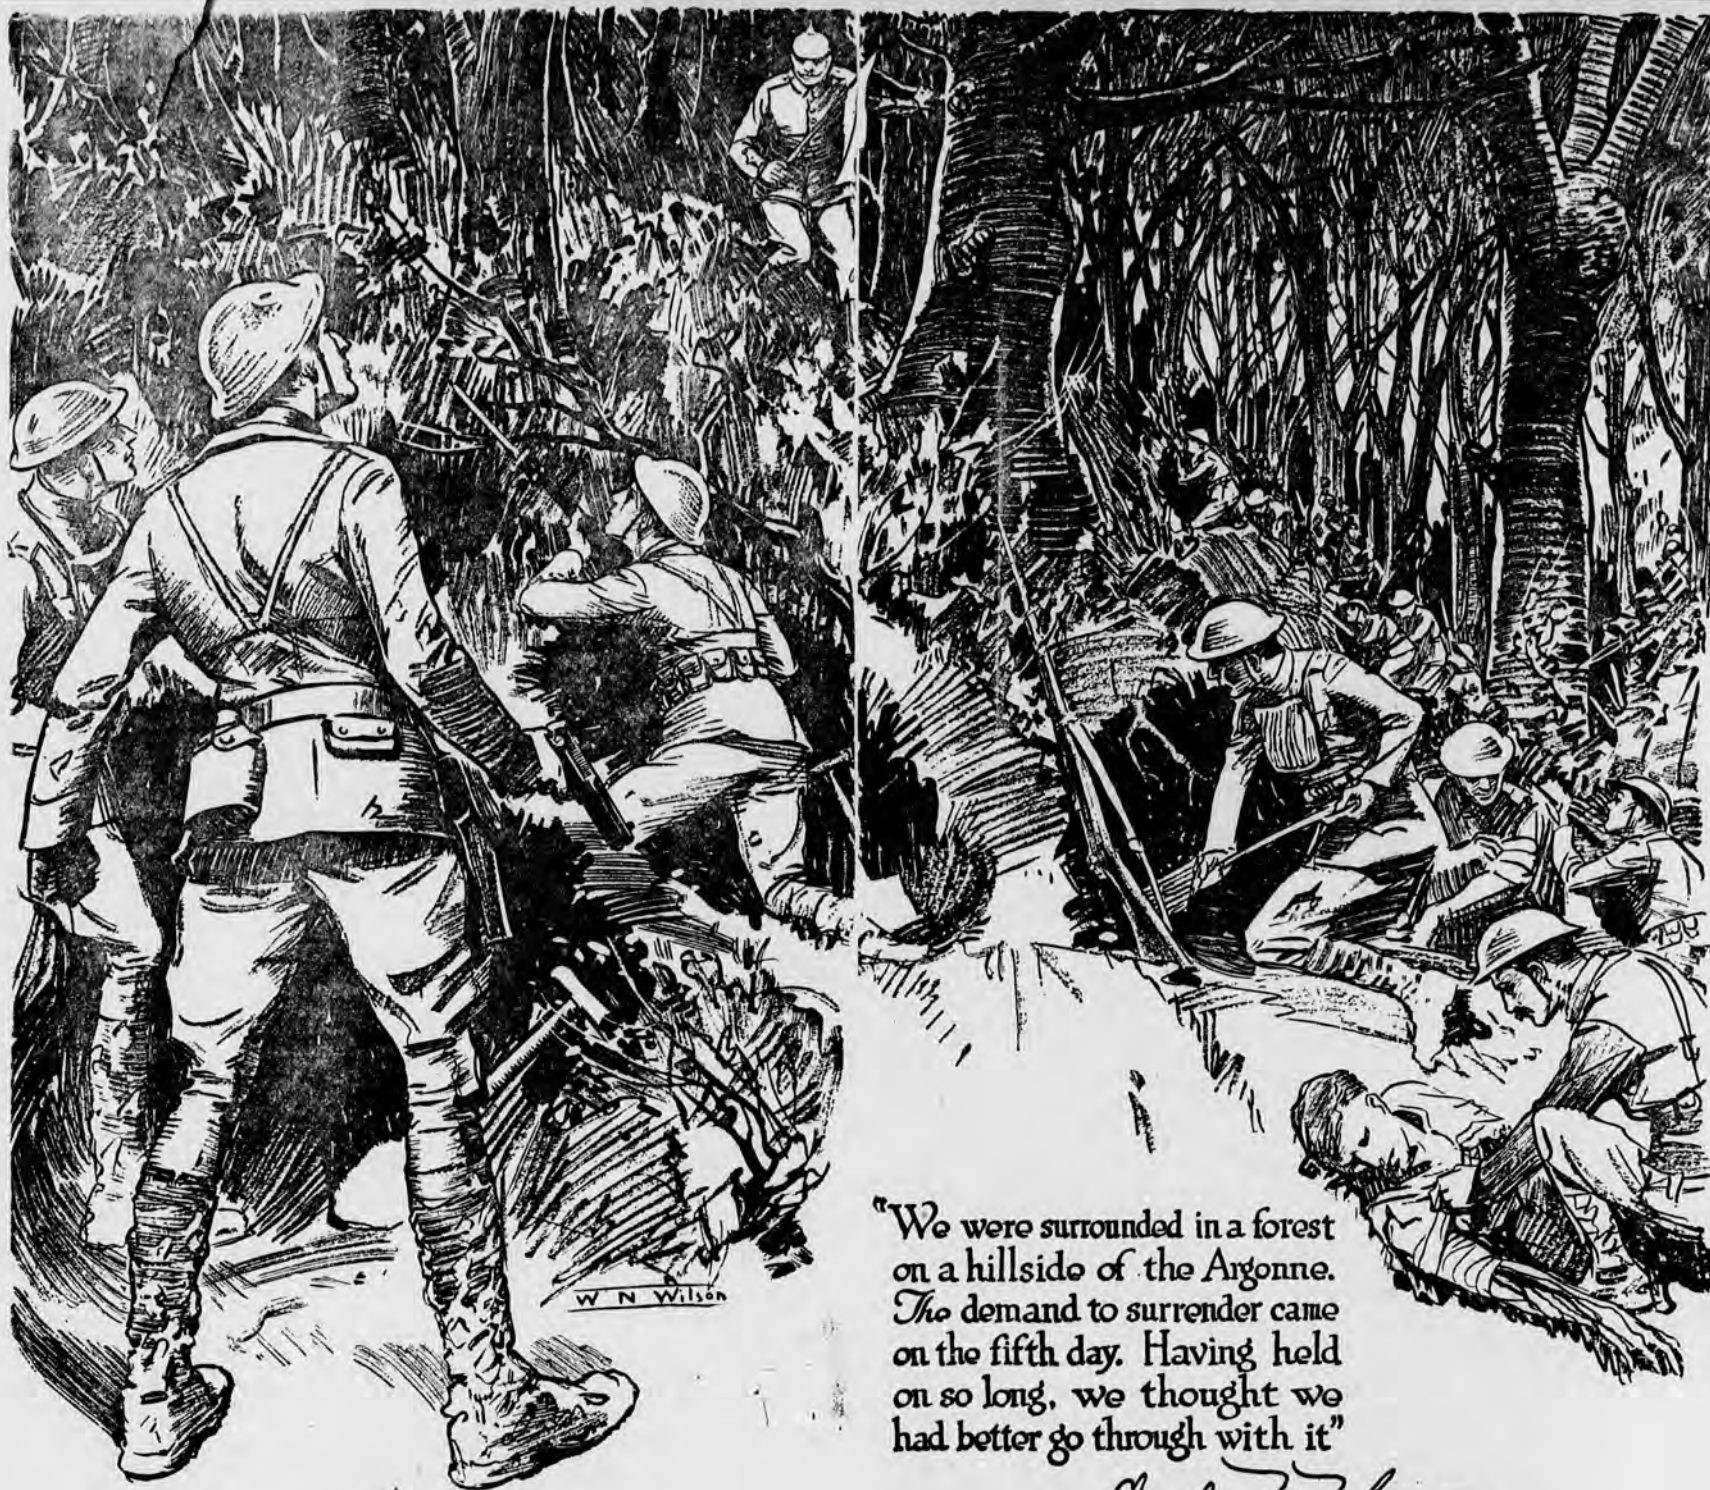

The visitors and minute men were entertained at an excellent supper provided by the Ladies Aid Society of the church. Three tables laden with good things had been laid in the form of an open rectangle in the main Sunday School room and here the business of the evening was transacted. Social and visiting minute men were especially well pleased with the results achieved and look forward to a successful campaign during the week of May 18 to 25 when with Methodists throughout the nation they will raise 100 million dollars to be applied to the high purpose of making humanity better.

Y. M. C. A. Committees To Report Thursday

A meeting of those interested in the establishment of a Y. M. C. A. chapter here, is called for Thursday evening, April 24th, at 8 o'clock, in the High School building.

The committees on membership will make a report and are very optimistic over the outlook. They expect to have a membership of 150 to report.

The committee on securing quarters will also report. A full meeting is expected.

"We were surrounded in a forest on a hillside of the Argonne. The demand to surrender came on the fifth day. Having held on so long, we thought we had better go through with it"

Charles W. Whittlesey

"Tell Them to Go to Hell!"

No food, no shelter. Swept by machine gun and shell fire. An inferno, day and night. And little hope of escaping.

Five days of this! But not a daunted soul among the four hundred and seventy Americans in the Lost Battalion.

Commanding the little group was Major Charles W. Whittlesey. To the offer of safety if they surrendered, Whittlesey replied without a moment's hesitation: "Tell them to go to Hell."

And they were saved because, as Whittlesey says: "Having held on so long, we thought we had better go through with it."

We, safe at home, have "held on" too—with our support through Four Loans. And we are "going through with it"—through with this Fifth call to duty—just as those boys in the Argonne. Make good.

Preserving Eggs in Water Glass

When the housewife finds an overabundance of eggs from a prolific poultry yard in the summer months, and the cold-storage speculator is capitalizing the opportunity, she too can make provision for the proverbial rainy day. The abundance of eggs in June, July and August, and the consequent cheapening of price, suggest the use of the water-glass method to preserve the eggs.

Select fresh eggs that are clean, but not washed. Use infertile eggs if possible. Take nine quarts of water that has been boiled and cooled, and add one quart of water-glass (sodium silicate). Place the mixture in a five gallon crock or jar. This amount of liquid will preserve fifteen dozen eggs. For larger amounts, mix the solution in the same proportion. Clean the crock thoroughly before using.

Place the eggs in the solution. If the poultry yard has not supplied an adequate quantity of eggs for immediate use, they may be added from time to time. See that at least two inches of the solution covers the eggs at all times. Place the crock or jar in a cool dry place, well covered to prevent evaporation. Wax paper placed on and tied around the top of the jar will serve the desired end.

As a substitute for water-glass, this method has proved good: Dissolve two or three pounds of unstaked lime in five gallons of water that has previously been boiled and allowed to cool. Let the mixture stand until the lime settles and the liquid is clear. Place clean, fresh eggs in an earthenware crock or jar and pour the clear lime-water into the vessel until the eggs are covered.

Earthenware crocks are good containers. They must be clean and sound. Scald them and let them cool completely before use. A crock holding six gallons will accommodate 18 dozens of eggs and about 22 pints of solution. Crops that are too large are not desirable since they increase the liability of breaking some of the eggs and spoiling the entire lot.

It must be remembered that the eggs on the bottom crack first and that those in the bottom of the crocks are the last to be removed for use. Eggs can be put up in smaller crocks, and the eggs put in the crock first should be used first. Inspect the crock from time to time and replace with cool boiled water any water that has evaporated.

How to Use the Preserved Eggs.

When the eggs are to be used, remove them, as desired, rinse in clean, cold water and use immediately.

Eggs preserved in water-glass can be used for soft boiling or poaching up to November. Before boiling such eggs take a needle and prick a tiny hole in the large end of the shell to keep them from cracking. The eggs are satisfactory for frying until about December. From that time until the end of the usual storage period—that is, until March—they can be used for omelettes, scrambled eggs, custards, cakes and general cookery.

As the eggs age, the white becomes thinner and is harder to beat. The yolk membrane becomes more delicate and it is correspondingly difficult to separate the whites from the yolks. Sometimes the white of the egg is tinged with pink after very long keeping in water-glass. This is due, probably, to a little iron which is in the water-glass, but which does not injure the egg for food purposes.

"Give The Boy A Fair Chance"

Do you ever say, "John, when we plow that west meadow this spring do you think we had better put in corn, or shall we try potatoes?" Get John to thinking. You will quicken his powers of observation if you ask him, when the weather is threatening, whether he thinks it will rain before night. Alas for the boy who has no encouragement to think! It is easier to fill a lank purse than it is an impoverished mind.

Get every bushel of wheat and corn out of that old farm that thought and perspiration and cultivation, and fertilizers will produce, but remember that the biggest crop that old farm can ever raise is a crop of ambitious, independent, hard-working, God-fearing boys; boys who have been taught to think with their brains as well as to work with their hands. Give that crop a fair chance!

Cultivate the boy. Let the dew of encouragement and appreciation fall upon him and then watch him grow. Never give the hired man a new, shining, sharp hoe, and then give the boy some old stub of a dog-eared hoe and expect him to keep up with the hired man. You can not cultivate dollar ambition in a boy with ten-cent tools. Give him a fair chance and perhaps he will set the pace for the hired man.

When the boy is small give him a chance to make his own decisions when possible. Why command when suggestions will bring about the right result? A boy's sense of fairness, and of right and wrong develops rapidly when he has a chance to decide some things for himself. When, "John, isn't it time the cows were fed?" will do the work, never be guilty of saying sternly, "Young man, it is high time those cows were fed; get busy, now!"

Let a few other things besides his soul belong exclusively to the boy. Let him own his own tools; let him work a small piece of ground and have the crop or a portion of it. Oh, the things a father can do to encourage or to discourage a boy! Are you a boy-encourager? Do you give your boy a fair chance? —C. W. Smith, Indiana, in Fram Journal.

CITY OF TREVES HAS INTERESTING HISTORY

Goes Back to Time of Ancient Treveri in Prehistoric Times

Treves—or Trier, in German, where many American soldiers with the army of occupation have been stationed, is described quite breezily in Cent Soixante Six, a miniature newspaper published by members of the 166th Aero Squadron, American Expeditionary Force.

The very name of the place, says the article, takes us back to prehistoric times, to the day when tradition declares that the tribe of the Treveri was founded by a certain Trebeta, a stepson of the Assyrian Semiramis, who liked his stepmother's society so little that he relieved himself of it by leaving the land of his birth and traveling northward to that of Wotan or Thor. In the valley of the Moselle he settled down, and here history finds his descendants waiting to be conquered by the Romans and put on the map in true Roman style.

That the Romans were once here, there is plenty of weighty evidence. There is the great Circus Maximus, second city only in size to the Colosseum itself. There are also two sets of baths, one of which goes by the name of Kaiser Palast, probably because it looks more like a palace than a plunge; the Porta Nigra, or gate of entrance to what were once massive defensive works at the eastern side of the city; and portions of great structures in present use, such as the imposing cathedral and the stately basilica, repaired in recent times and dedicated to Protestant worship. Treves was the favorite residence of the Emperor Constantine, who made Christianity the religion of the Roman Empire.

We imagine that in the days when the country was finally overrun by the Franks and the Roman rulers at Treves were sent packing, real estate must have been inactive and building operations at a standstill. At any rate, there does not seem to be much to record about Treves until after Charlemagne's day. It was embraced in his wide dominions, and, later, by the famous treaty of Verdun, it became part of Lorraine.

Under the Emperor Henry I it passed to Germany, and the Germans maintain that it has remained theirs ever since, except between 1794 and 1815, when it was included within the boundaries of France. It has been counts, ecclesiastics, electors, aldermen alternately or in concert by men and burgomasters, but mostly by ecclesiastics, especially after the ninth century.

It was an archbishop who built the walls in the thirteenth century, and others like him who carried on the reconstruction of the great cathedral already mentioned. To a bishop is said to belong the credit of holding up the aldermen, when, as late as 1871, they were bent on allowing stones to be taken from the amphitheatre for road repairs. That was not the first time the Circus Maximus had been mistaken for a rock quarry; the monks of Himmerod built their house adjacent to it out of materials that the Roman works supplied.

Germans, Austrians and French have all "clanked the sabre" in Treves. Even the Spaniards were there in 1635, only ten years before it was invested by the troops of the Grand Monarch under the illustrious Turanne. Napoleon annexed the whole district to his empire a century and a half later, but the Congress of Vienna ceded it to Prussia, and Prussian it has remained ever since.

The streets, usually narrow and winding, in witness of their antiquity, are clean, well paved, and flanked by excellent shops, restaurants and hotels, while the market place and squares divert the eye. In the cathedral you may see—at stated occasions—the famous "Holy Coat" of Treves, which Catholic tradition asserts to be the seamless robe of the Saviour, discovered and presented to Treves by the Empress Helena, mother of Constantine the Great.

Ship's Names May

Cost Trouble

When Mrs. Wilson got the brilliant idea of giving a number of the Shipping Board's vessels Indian names she did not think, of course, of the trouble she was laying up for shippers. This is well expressed, according to the Exporters' Review, in the monthly letter of the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank, of Los Angeles, which says:—"Quisteonk, Wahiakum, Wakualla, West Gotumaska, Chiquimula, Zumbrota, Sagadahoc, Ozaukee, Lochlea, Hapuppauge, Absarokt, Battahatchee. Why make trouble for bankers, shipping clerks and telegraph op-ers, land nouns in three the inter or late to be hope enacted to prevent those acquiring them from ing them more appropriate names.

We sincerely hope that none of these vessels engage in Latin American commerce under their given names, as the slightest misspelling of a vessel's name in the consular invoices required by some South and Central American countries results in heavy fines.

WOMEN'S LIBERTY LOAN COMMITTEES ENTHUSIASTIC

Trophy Train and Victory Meetings Boost Sales

The Women's Committee of the Victory Liberty Loan of New Castle County started the campaign on Monday morning with the sort of enthusiasm that Delaware women always show in any patriotic cause.

The trophy train came to Newark early in the morning then went on to Delaware City where a great demonstration was made, the Coast Artillery band had been secured and hundreds of people viewed the trophies. Speeches were made by local workers and by those traveling with the train. Middletown and Townsend were also visited by this train.

This war train gave a very realistic send-off to the campaign. The trophies were interesting and the speeches inspiring. At every stop it was met by great cheering crowds at well decorated stations. Great numbers of bonds were sold.

"The Price of Peace," the war film has been viewed by large audiences wherever shown.

Victory Loan meetings are being held all over the county and workers meet with encouraging results, everywhere.

METHODISTS GIVE RECEPTION TO PASTOR

Big Crowd at New Century Club Despite the Weather

Last Wednesday night 100 or more members and friends of the Methodist Church braved a driving rain storm to do honor to the pastor, Rev. Frank Herson who has just returned for the second conference year. The affair was held at the New Century Club and H. Warner McNeal acted as master of ceremonies.

After a violin solo by Johnson Rowan, Prof. A. E. Grantham in behalf of the congregation extended a cordial welcome to the returning pastor, reviewing the progress made by the church under Mr. Herson's pastorate. He dwelt particularly upon the fact that the men of the congregation have become more vitally interested than ever before in church affairs, due to Mr. Herson's influence. He expressed the gratification the congregation feels that they are privileged to have as pastor a man so admirably fitted for leadership in spiritual matters.

In replying to this address, Mr. Herson expressed his appreciation of the splendid cooperation given him by the congregation, outlining some of the difficulties of a minister's job. He said that with the earnest support of the members, there is no reason why the Methodist Church could not be made a most powerful factor for good in this community, which has so many residents who are of that denomination. He made clear what is his idea of the true church spirit and commended that manifested by the church in Newark.

Dr. T. F. Manns on behalf of the Sunday School extended a cordial welcome to the pastor, his wife and daughter, remarking facetiously that he did not want to fall into the common error of forgetting the "better half" on such occasions as this. He pledged the support and cooperation of the Sunday School and commended highly Mr. Herson's influence among the young people.

H. Warner McNeal added a word of welcome and stated that no better proof of appreciation could be offered a man than the presence there on such a night of such a number. Miss Madeline Raby read "Mrs. Puffer's Silver Wedding" and responded to an encore with "The Schoolmaster's Courtin'."

A violin solo by Johnson Rowan to accompaniment by Elizabeth McNeal, concluded the evening's entertainment.

The guests were then invited to the banquet room where sandwiches, ice cream, cake and coffee with real cream, were served.

A social hour followed and the young people played and sang for an hour or so. The spirit of good fellowship prevailed and all who braved the storm felt well repaid.

PEOPLES' COLUMN

Taxation Just And Unjust

To the Editor of the Post:

Had Newark a just system of local taxation J. P. Wright would not have written his public letter of some days since. Why should Mr. Wright be taxed for maintaining an important industry at Newark? He is doing not only himself but the whole community good as a just employer producing a useful commodity. Why should Alfred Curtis or my fellow Presbyterian the Mayor be taxed for maintaining handsome homes? Why should anybody be taxed for improving his property? As taxes go in Newark now the man who puts himself and his capital to useful purposes, the man who builds an attractive home, the man who saves hard earned money to provide his family with a comfortable house are all over-taxed, while the man who keeps his land vacant and holds it for a rise caused by the improvements of his neighbors, escapes with little or no tax. Taxation should be laid so as not to discourage industry or improvements. There is but one form of tax that does not do those things, the taking for public purposes that value which the community, the public as a whole, creates by its presence and activities. That value is what we call economic rent, not the rent of houses or of other improvements, but the mere site value of land.

E. N. Vallandigham.

Taxpayer Suggests Street Improvements

To the Editor of the Post:

The town of Newark is growing very rapidly (it is becoming more like New York every day) and needs more streets. The condition of some of the present ones is such that they need improving. The same is true of some of the roads near the town. Academy Street, south of Delaware Avenue is one case in point; the road between Red Men's Home and the Elkton Road is usually in a deplorable condition, especially in wet weather. If these two were macadamized it would certainly relieve some of the present heavy traffic on Depot Road which is so congested sometimes that pedestrians are in grave danger.

The deep gutters near the corner of South College Avenue and Delaware Avenue have been the scene of numerous accidents. In foggy weather or on dark nights it is almost impossible to see these sources of danger. This condition should be remedied at an early date.

Continental Avenue or some street near there should be expected through to Academy Street.

An Interested Taxpayer.

"ACHIEVEMENTS OF TANK CORPS" AT NEW CENTURY CLUB

Captain R. R. Whittingham Tells of Experiences in the Service

Captain R. R. Whittingham entertained the members of the New Century Club yesterday afternoon with an intensely interesting account of the achievements of the Tank Corps in the world war, and amusing accounts of experiences at Camp Colt, where Captain Whittingham was stationed for several months. A piano solo, "Whispering Wind," was given by Myrtle Steele and tickets distributed for the library benefit to be given May 8, under the auspices of the Choral Club. While no definite announcement can yet be made as to who will be secured as soloist, the local contribution to the program promises to be interesting. One feature of the entertainment will be a Japanese sketch given under the direction of Miss Mabel Tebo.

The program next week will be in charge of the teachers in the public schools and will probably consist of a sketch.

Easter Dance Well Attended

The Easter dance given under the management of J. Ralph Riley, Dewey Patterson, Joseph Walker and Wilson Price, was a great success. About 50 or 60 couples from Newark and surrounding towns attended and enjoyed the dancing. Draine's orchestra furnished the music.

Locally Known Young Man Cited For Gallantry

Sergeant Jas. J. Clancy of West Chester, Pa., a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Clancy of this town, and a frequent visitor here has been cited for gallantry in action.

Sergeant Clancy is a member of Company M, 328th Infantry, 82nd Division and was in the thick of the fighting for several months. The citation reads in part:

"In the attack on Vanaieres, France, September 15, 1918, Sergeant Clancy was acting as platoon sergeant and received a severe wound in the back from a shell fragment, but continued the advance with his platoon until the objective was reached and even then would not quit his post to secure aid, but continued on duty until he fell from loss of blood.

His fine example of fortitude and devotion to duty was an inspiration to all his comrades."

Many Enjoy Special Sunday Dinner

The fame of the Sunday dinners offered at Newark Inn and restaurant is spreading rapidly and the number of patrons is increasing as warm weather advances. Numerous townspeople are availing themselves of this offering and the number increases weekly.

Sigma Phi To Hold Reunion

An all day reunion of the Delaware chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon will be held at Delaware College next Saturday.

In the morning they will select a site on the college campus for the new fraternity house. It will be built by the chapter, but the college authorities provide the site for it. Eventually all the fraternities of Delaware College will have their houses on the campus.

There will be a business meeting of the chapter at 12 o'clock followed by luncheon at 12:45 o'clock. In the afternoon there will be a program of athletic events on Frazer Field.

Dinner will be served at 7 o'clock, and from 8 to 11 o'clock there will be a concert by the Dixieland Jazz Band, of Wilmington. Altogether it will be a gala day for the members of the Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity.

An Appeal To Farmers

For the fifth time the Government is appealing to the people for financial aid. On the four previous occasions money was needed to win the war and people of all classes liberally responded. Now the call comes for a Victory Liberty Loan, a loan which, now that the fight is won, is necessary to aid in finishing the great task of assuring to all peoples liberty and democracy, that our struggles and sacrifices of the past few years may not have been made in vain.

I desire to appeal to our entire Grange membership and farmers generally to maintain the proud record we have made in the previous loans. Not only subscribe what you can but give the matter prominence at your Grange meetings and encourage neighbors and friends to do their part toward fulfilling this our great National responsibility.

(Signed) Oliver Wilson,
Master National Grange.

Dorothy Dalton In "Love Me"

The Newark Opera House announces for Wednesday, April 30th the re-appearance of charming Dorothy Dalton, this time in "Love Me," a photoplay from the pen of C. Gardner Sullivan, directed by R. William Neill under the supervision of Thomas H. Ince. In this picture Miss Dalton takes the part of a breezy Western girl, married to a wealthy society man whose family refuse to accept her as one of them, making her life among them all that is hard to bear. How she finally wins their hearts completely at a tremendous cost to herself, is thrillingly told in the picture. An excellent cast, including Wm. Conklin, Jack Holt, and Robert McKim, has been supplied, which with the personal supervision of Thomas H. Ince, makes its success assured beforehand.

Educational Rally A Success

For the past five years, the teachers of Newark Colored School have set aside a day for the purpose of raising funds to extend the term beyond the 140 days required by law.

Quite an interesting program was enjoyed by all present. Superintendent W. H. Jump spoke on "The Colored Man's Response to Environment." By request, he explained some of the features of the New School Code. His address was very instructive.

Mrs. A. E. Waddleton of Washington, D. C., spoke on "The Rights of the Child." Her address was inspiring as well as helpful. The amount collected was as follows: Miss C. L. Lynam Reed, who has been a member of the Newark Garden Club for four years, raised enough vegetables in his garden last year to buy a pure bred pig. Lynam has won first prize for three years in succession. He is now enrolled in the Sow and Litter project.

Wallace Cook of Newark, "Corn Club King of Delaware," sold his corn for seed in 1918 and invested the proceeds in a pure bred Holstein calf. He won two pure bred pigs and several other prizes last year, and is now financially interested in the hog, dairy cattle and corn business of the home farm. The club earnings will be used to defray his expenses at Delaware College next year.

Successful Club Members Become Community Leaders

Miss Mary Grunwell, of Felton, is the local leader of the Black Swamp Sewing Club. She was a member of the State Demonstration Team at the Eastern States Exposition, Springfield, Mass., in 1917, and was one of the two Canning Club champions of Kent county in 1918.

Miss Naomi Pepper of Georgetown is taking the Sewing Club course with the high school girls and is also assisting in the direction of the grade girls in their Sewing Club work. She also won a free trip to Springfield, Mass., in 1917, and was one of the Sussex County Canning Club champions in 1919.

The editor of the new Delaware Magazine has asked the privilege of publishing Miss Margaret Elizabeth Moore's pig club story of her "Topsy" in the next issue of his magazine. He also wants to publish the picture of Miss Margaret and her pig. She is now president of the Sewing and Baking Clubs at Bridgeville.

In answer to this question, Prof. A. E. Grantham, Head of the Agronomy Department of Delaware College, advised the raising of Sussex White and 100 Day Bristol on the lighter sandy soils of southern Delaware; and Johnson County White on the heavier soils of the state. Reed's Yellow Dent was also recommended for Delaware.

Nothing Succeeds Like Success

"I would like to have that corn what went to the show for to plant my acre of corn with. Indeed I am going in the corn club this year. I have my corn acre all manured and disked. Be sure and enter me as a member. I sold all my seed corn for $2.50 per bushel."—G. Lester Laver, Hartley, Delaware. Lester who is only 11 years old, was the county Corn Club champion of Kent county last year. He won a pure bred pig worth $25.00 as an achievement prize.

County Agent A. D. Cobb Helps Do Club Work

County Agent A. D. Cobb of Dover, Kent County, is cooperating with the State Club Department in the management of Corn Clubs, Calf Clubs and Pig Clubs. Mr. Cobb had very successful club experience in Indiana before coming to Delaware.

New County Club Leader for Sussex

Miss Bertina Thompson, Field Agent for the Washington Club Office, North and West, has been transferred to another state, after having organized over 350 boys and girls of Sussex county into club groups. Miss Thompson will always be remembered in Delaware for her sincere and efficient work in the interest of boys and girls.

Miss Anne B. Moore of Aldie, Va., will continue the work which has been so well started. Not only is Miss Moore a woman of practical and successful experience in household arts, but she also has successfully managed a large grain and live stock farm for several years. She trained for overseas work with the Red Cross, but because of the signing of the armistice, remained in the U. S. A.

Club Leaders Attend National Demonstration School

Miss Agnes P. Medill, Assistant State Club Leader, and Miss Anne B. Moore, the new County Club Leader for Sussex county, attended a demonstration school held at Washington by the U. S. Department of Agriculture from April 1-5.

Y. M. C. A. Takes Club Work to Russia

The Y. M. C. A. has selected Club Work as the best means for improving the lives of the boys and girls of Russia. As soon as law and order is established, a train of cars bearing Red Cross School, and Boys' and Girls' Club exhibits will tour Russia. Clubs will then be organized.

Practical Women Become Successful Club Leaders

"We have a team of three to demonstrate while the others line up as observers. In all the work our girls are interested. We have four new members added to our number, making in all 15."—Mrs. Della Coverdale, Local Leader.

Miss Emma Mai, local club leader of the Baking and Sewing clubs of Greenwood, is having much success with her club work. The club members are giving weekly demonstrations in baking and sewing. The clubs are now planning for an entertainment to raise funds to buy equipment.

Where There's a Will There's a Way

"We have organized a garden club. A man has also give us a piece of ground. You wrote about not having money to pay a local leader. Several of the older boys who have raised vegetables before have promised to show the younger boys how to plant and care for their gardens. Please send us printed instructions and other things necessary to instruct us."—Harry Heal, Secretary of Delaware City Club.

The local Century Club has since appointed Miss Martha G. Price chairman of a Garden Club committee, and has offered two prizes of $1.00 each to the two champion gardeners for the year. "Please send me five or six enrollment cards for us boys. I have found some boys who wish to join and don't know much about it, so I am going to show them how. I sent my card."—Fred L. Willey, Jr., Bridgeville, Delaware.

FROM BUCK PRIVATE TO MAJOR IN ONE YEAR

Mrs. Maude Radford Warren has Record for Rapid Promotion

From buck private, in May, 1918, to major in November of the same year is a record for rapid promotion in the American expeditionary forces, a record that is held by a woman—Mrs. Maude Radford Warren, the popular writer of magazine articles and stories.

The boys of the 117th Field Signal Corps of the Forty-second Division know that the foregoing statement is true. There was no sign of mutiny among them that day at Ahrweiler when the armistice was signed when the battalion was "presented" to Mrs. Warren by Colonel Ruby D. Garrett, following a speech which she said embarrassed her greatly and left her in a state of confusion not at all military as she ended.

"Men, your new major! Obey her in all her commands."

"I am sure," said Mrs. Warren, on her return to America, "that those boys loved and honored me prior to that day on the River Ahr. The colonel, not I, put 'obey' in the ceremony."

It was in Alsace that Mrs. Warren received her first promotion and became a humble corporal. She had been sent to Belfort by the Y. M. C. A. to join the lone "Y" women worker in that so-called quiet sector. Being in a quiet sector was not Mrs. Warren's idea of the errand for which she had gone overseas and when she learned that three camionettes or "chuck wagons" were going into the front lines she inquired which was going nearest to the German lines. When the camionettes left Belfort Mrs. Warren was on the one that had the longest trip ahead.

"When we reached a point two and a half miles from the front line," Mrs. Warren continued, "we met a lieutenant who wanted to buy all our supplies for his company. We knew, however, that there were two companies in the trenches which had had no "Y" supplies for more than two weeks and had been reduced to smoking coffee as a substitute for the desired weed. The 'Y' truck driver, a clergyman, and I stated the case to the lieutenant, and right there he showed that he was a regular American. He assigned five of his men to help us get our supplies to those fellows in the trenches.

"We started with as much stuff as we could carry, and how they did protest when I lifted a bundle weighing forty pounds to my shoulder and prepared to go. They insisted that I was undertaking too much, but I just told them that I knew my capacity, having made as a feature of my training for Y. M. C. A. service the carrying of my godsons up and down stairs and around the grounds of their American home. One of them weighs forty-eight pounds and the other fifty-two. I convinced the Y men and the soldiers that forty pounds was not too great a burden.

At St. Mihiel Mrs. Warren was made first lieutenant for faithful service in the first aid stations. At Argonne she was made a major, and was at the Meuse when the armistice was signed. From there she went into Germany with other "Y" workers who marched with the vanguard of the Army of Occupation.

Nature's Law Of Retrenchment

The newspapers carried a statement the other day to the effect that thousands of fish were dying in Lake Erie. One report was to the effect that they were floating in such numbers as to make the air foul for miles around the lake; but we have seen nothing further upon the subject, and the dispatches did not say what kind of fish were dying or whether there were more than one variety.

But there isn't anything unusual about it. Epidemics break out among the fish, and even among the wild birds and animals of the fields and forests. It seems, in fact, that all created things are subject to epidemics; certainly it has been the case since man began making records.

A few years ago the rabbits in Pennsylvania died to such an extent that the state had to import thousands of the bunnies and turn them loose to prevent the species becoming extinct in the state. Persons living in the region of lakes will tell you that different species of fishes have been known to succumb in numbers from various diseases. The trappers and hunters in the big woods are familiar with epidemics that have carried off thousands of deer or other wild animals.

Perhaps it is nature's way of preventing overcrowding in this old world. That is the theory of some students at least, and they go so far as to claim that the real origin of war is to be found in nature's way of keeping down the human species to where the race can live. Certainly it is true that the wars of the world have held down the increase of the human species, for wars have been going on since man learned to grab a club and strike a blow.—Columbus Dispatch.

FARM DEEDED TO STATE

At a meeting of the Delaware Commission for the Feeble-minded held recently, the final act in purchasing the farm in Sussex county, belonging to Governor Townsend as a location for an institution for the feeble-minded in this State, was consummated. The price was $39,000, four thousand of which was donated by Governor Townsend the owner. The balance $35,000, was met by individual subscriptions, the entire deal being made without one dollar's cost to the State.

The deed to the property was made to the State of Delaware.

VICTORY LOAN TO BE FOR $4,500,000

Secretary Glass Makes Announcement First of Week

The American people will be asked to subscribe to $4,500,000,000 in convertible gold notes in the Victory Liberty Loan campaign, which begins on April 21. The notes will be offered in two series, both maturing in four years, with the Treasury reserving the right to redeem them at the end of three years.

Secretary Glass, in announcing the issue, says:

"The Victory Liberty Loan, which will be offered for popular subscription on April 21, will take the form of 43-4 per cent three and four year convertible gold notes of the United States, exempt from state and local taxes, except estate and inheritance taxes, and from normal federal income taxes. The notes will be convertible, at the option of the holder, through their life into 43-4 per cent three and four-year convertible gold notes of the United States, exempt from all federal, state and local taxes, except estate and inheritance taxes. In like manner the 33-4 per cent notes will be convertible into the 43-4 per cent notes.

Amount of Issue.

The issue will be limited to $4,500,000,000, except as it may be necessary to increase or decrease the amount to facilitate allotment. Over-subscriptions will be rejected and allotments made on a graduated scale similar in its general plan to that adopted in connection with the first Liberty Loan. Allotment will be made in full on subscriptions up to and including $10,000.

"The notes of both series will be dated and bear interest from May 20, 1919, and will mature on May 20, 1923. Interest will be payable on December 15, 1919, and thereafter semi-annually on June 15 and December 15, and at maturity. All or any of the notes may be redeemed before maturity at the option of the United States on June 15 and December 15, 1922, at par and accrued interest.

"In fixing the terms of issue, the Treasury has been guided largely by the desire to devise a security which will not only prove attractive to the people of the country in the first instance, but the terms of which should insure a good market for the notes after the campaign is over and identical prices for the two series, and should not affect injuriously the market for the existing bonds of the Liberty Loans."

Secretary Glass announces that this is the last Liberty Loan and states that future government requirements will be financed by issuance of treasury certificates without the aid of a popular campaign. He adds the following plea:

"I am sure that the people of America will subscribe to this Victory loan in the same spirit of patriotism which they have shown in the past, to the end that the notes may be as widely distributed as possible, and that our banking institutions may be left free to supply the credit necessary for the purpose of industry and commerce and the full employment of labor. Let the world see that the patriots of America, out of their boundless resources, and with the same enthusiasm and devotion to country with which they prosecuted the war to a victorious conclusion, are determined to finish the job."

No Dead Line In The Matter Of Beauty

There are current many groundless superstitions regarding the care of the skin. There is no such thing as "skin food." Occasionally, especially after a vigorous cleansing, the skin may be temporarily hard and dry and may be benefited by rubbing with a little olive oil or glycerine and water. But the copious rubbing in of fatty substances tends to overload the fat glands. It does not nourish the skin itself. Such fat as may be absorbed is taken up in the general circulation and distributed throughout the body and does not nourish the skin locally. When after weight reduction the skin becomes flabby, especially under the chin, massage is important as an aid to restore muscular firmness, but the creams used in the massage are merely incidental. The massage itself is the important feature of such treatment.

About once a week it may be well to rub cold cream on the face very lightly and then carefully rub it off with a soft towel, subsequently washing the face with hot water and soap and finally washing with cold water. All such directions are subject to personal peculiarities and diseased conditions.

Finally, if you have a skin eruption, and simple hygiene and cleanliness do not cure it, see a physician. Also bear in mind that blackheads and pimples are often due to bad teeth or mouth infection.

Do not experiment with cures that do more harm than good. There is no magic remedy, internal or external,

There should be no dead line in beauty any more than there should be a dead line in a man's ability to work or fight. To state an age at which a woman must cease to be attractive is to ignore the many examples of women who have retained their beauty throughout long lives.

A woman who is erect and slender, whose skin has the quality and color which indicate good health and whose expression is cheerful and serene may not be a Venus de Milo, but she will nevertheless be a very pleasant person to encounter. A wrinkle or two, provided it is the right sort of a wrinkle, won't be fatal to her attractiveness. It must be the sort of a line which means that she has gone thru life feeling, sympathizing and working, but nevertheless always wrapped in her mantle of serenity. On the other hand, the woman of venomous and catlike disposition will in time have the map of her character written on her face; she may deceive observers in the early years of youth, but finally the corners of her mouth turn down and her forehead is lined with a distressing scowl. It is not possible for any person of intelligence to pass through life unscarred by human passions, by soul struggles and mind struggles. The lines which come to mark these struggles need not be ugly nor repellent. Fine character may be written in these changing facial lines. But much of the facial changes of later life is needless and is the result of a lack of serenity and of bad facial habits.

Price Of Building Materials
On The Decline

One statistician has estimated that there are in this country today constructive expenditures totaling five billion dollars, which are hesitating to begin on account of the high prices of materials and labor. It is evident that an individual or corporation is reluctant to erect a building which today will cost him $100,000 if he feels that six months or a year hence he can duplicate the same identical structure for $60,000 or $70,000. However, there is a certain patriotic element in all this, and if everybody waits for the bottom price, we will all suffer from the inevitable stagnation, and complete resumption will be indefinitely postponed.

Some building materials have already fallen in price; a substantial reduction in many others will doubtless produce greater profits at the end of twelve months, by reason of increased sales, or sales which would otherwise not be made at all, than by trying arbitrarily to maintain war prices, which is ultimately impossible. The Sales Department of the War Department, which has the disposal of hundreds of millions of dollars of raw and manufactured products, bought for war purposes and no longer needed, has already arranged for the release of certain commodities. The lumber associations have been authorized to commence the sale of the vast quantities of lumber on the Government's account and expect to clean up the entire surplus in six months. The copper interests, representing 90 per cent of the American producers, expect to dispose of the Government's holding of copper in fifteen months, or less. Sodium nitrate and hardwood lumber are also now ready for release. Other lines will follow as rapidly as arrangements can be made, and all without "breaking" the market, the prices will naturally be less than wartime prices. A fair start has been made toward settlement with the thousands of contractors and subcontractors, although the process is less rapid than could be desired. On the whole, we are recovering from conditions of the "day after" quite as rapidly as should be expected.—H. H. Windsor, in Popular Mechanics.

ELKTON COMPLETELY OUTCLASSED BY NEWARK HIGH

Ramsay's Pitching a Feature; Strikes Out 14 Men

Elkton, April 21, 1919.—Newark High completely outclassed Elkton on Monday in a very interesting game of baseball, the final score being 14-3.

The visitors put the game on ice in the first inning scoring six runs. After this they took things easy.

The feature of the game was the pitching of Ramsay who turned 14 men away by the knockout route and allowed but four hits. A large body of rooters accompanied the team. The official score is as follows:

NEWARK JOINS DEL-MAR LEAGUE

Personnel of Baseball Team

Insures First Class Sport

Newark, represented by the Continental Baseball Club, has joined Wilder, New Castle, Pennsy and Elkton in a new Del-Mar League which will open the season May 10.

This is the first league formed since 1915 when New Castle won the championship after one of the snappiest seasons that the fans had seen in years.

This year's league gives promise of being equally good, according to facts brought out at an informal meeting held at The Evening Journal office, Wilmington, last Tuesday night. Five of the six required teams sent delegates and it is likely that Harlan will join later. The five teams represented assured the temporary organization that they would play.

The league will play a 24 game schedule. Teams will be limited to 15 players and a playing guarantee will be agreed on. There will be no salary limit, and unlike the original Del-Mar League, the teams of this year's organization will not be confined to territorial limits from which to pick its players.

The local team will be very much stronger than in former years and it will necessarily have to be much stronger in order to compete with the other Clubs in the League. Ewing, a Newark boy has been working out and is in good shape and he will no doubt be assigned to the pitching box. "Gray" Carter of Delaware College will no doubt do the catching and these two will make up one of the best batteries in the League. Ramsay, the local high school pitcher is in excellent shape and will be ready to take his turn in the box.

The outfield with Morris, Hall and Roberts is equal to any in the League. "Nim" Gray will be seen at short with Middleton at 3rd and Lovett will probably cover 1st with Tasker or McLaughlin at 2nd.

Newark will be represented by the strongest club since the old Del-Mar League and in order to keep a winning team on the field it will be necessary for the fans to be loyal throughout the season. In the past few seasons the support has not been adequate. The personnel of the team and the quality of ball they will undoubtedly put up should insure cooperation this season.

UNCLE SAM UNDER TAKES BIG EDUCATIONAL MOVEMENT

Dean Hayward Designates Overseas Work As "Mansize Job"

Dean Harry Hayward, who went to France early in February to do educational work under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. wrote to friends here recently a resume of his work at Beaune and the preparatory period in Paris. A recent letter says in part:

"Quite a large number of our group were educators, many of them high school men who have been sent to some of the larger camps to organize high schools; others were from colleges and universities. Most of these have been sent to the American E. F. University at Beaune, which is about 150 miles southeast of Paris, and not very far from the Swiss border. The university has been founded and is under the administration of the military authorities. It comprises the colleges of agriculture, science, letters, medicine, law, engineering, journalism, West Point cadets, correspondence, business, music, citizenship, fine arts and education. The students, as well as practically all of the instructors, come from the army. We hold to the requirements for four year high school or its equivalent for the entrance, and the work is of such a grade that credit will be given in the home colleges and universities.

The Educational Commission consists of Dr. John Erkin of Columbia; Dr. Kenyon L. Butterfield of the Massachusetts Agricultural College, and Dr. Frank Spaulding of Cleveland, who have, with the approval of Colonel Reeves, military superintendent of the university, assigned to me the directorship of the college of agriculture, and I find my duties a real man's job.

We have already registered over 5,000 men for the university and expect to open on March 17 with 500 in our own college. We shall have in this college 14 buildings at our disposal, and hope to supplement our class room work by a number of tours through the most interesting agricultural regions in France and England. These trips will be arranged by departments, and will be made at the close of the semester in June.

An important part of the work in this college is the secondary school of agriculture at Allerey, about 12 miles from here. This school will open April first, and the call has gone out for 3,000 men to attend. There are no entrance requirements, and the work will be adapted to those who have not finished high school and who want to get some systematic instruction in agriculture, both in the class room and on the farm. A farm of 350 acres is a part of the material equipment at the school, and every student will work two hours a day at some phase of farm work. The courses will be for three months, two months and one month and by August first we hope to have had 10,000 men in attendance. We are planning quite an elaborate program on the school farm, and will probably have an expert French agriculturist detailed to guide us in our practical operations to protect us from making mistakes due to climatic conditions.

The whole plan for the university was decided upon a little over a month ago, and today practically all the buildings are up and many of them occupied by departments ready for work. I feel a pardonable pride when I think of the vision of our army and educational authorities in projecting this Napoleonic plan for the benefit of our soldiers, and of the ability that has been shown by the army in putting the plan into operation with so little time.

Any account of this great enterprise, which is also the greatest educational experiment ever undertaken, would be incomplete without a tribute to Colonel Ira L. Reeves, the army superintendent of the university, upon whom has devolved the execution of the plans submitted by the educational commission. It is rare to find the man who has been an educator himself and who, in consequence, is in hearty sympathy with educational ideals, and who, at the same time, knows the army routine, and by his breadth of view, his unusual tact, good judgment and force of character, is able to take a short cut through the usual army red tape and get things done. We feel that when the history of the American E. F. University is written that the name of Colonel Reeves will occupy a very high place.

It is planned to do a large amount of extension work from the university as a center. The Y. M. C. A. has drafted a number of the best teachers we have, that will be used for this purpose. We have organizers whose duty it is to visit army posts and make arrangements for meetings, which the extension men will address or lead in the discussion of live, important topics on all questions. In this way we will be able to reach many more men than it would be possible to reach through the university, although it will be of inspirational character.

Dr. Butterfield is the leading advocate of better social and economic conditions in the open country. In consequence this phase of agriculture will be emphasized more here than it is in any college or university at home.

Time and space prevent me from writing you in detail about this part of the country, my living conditions, etc. Suffice it to say that I like my work and I appreciate more than I can express the opportunity that I have for service-serving the armies that have done so much for our country.
