Special Summer Study Offers Marginal Student U. D. Chance

Delaware High School Graduates With Doubtful Records
For College Admission Offered 4th Year Of Qualifying
Program; 131 of 201 Last Summer Gain Freshman Class

For the last four years, high school graduates with marginal records have had a chance to gain admission to college through a special summer qualifier program at the University of Delaware.

Otis P. Jefferson, Jr., director of the university summer school, has announced enlarged opportunities for Delaware students whose grades, test results, or aptitudes give reason for doubt about their ability to perform collegiate work.

"Summer school may be the academic moment of truth for some prospective college students," Jefferson said. "Summer courses may be what they need to assure a successful freshman year."

Jefferson noted that the program has been beneficial from the viewpoint of university personnel and that of many students who have participated, but its purpose occasionally has been misunderstood by students and even by some parents and teachers.

Special Opportunity
"We consider this program a special opportunity to help those whose records indicate they need it. If they are to be admitted to college and succeed, some people have seemed to regard summer attendance as a burden or penalty," Jefferson said.

The summer qualifier program began in 1963. Only Delaware residents are eligible, since non-marginal non-resident students are accepted by the university.

Those asked to attend the summer qualifier program are identified by the admissions office staff. They are students who records give "mixed indications." They may have satisfactory grades, but low college board scores, or the opposite. Sometimes there is concern for their success in the major areas of study.

"We believe that it is better for a student to find out during an inexpensive six-week summer session whether he or she can handle college work or not," Jefferson said.

"There are several advantages to the program. Students are admitted to the freshman class and receive both credit hours and quality points for courses completed. It's hard to find a fairer deal than that."

Summer Courses
Almost all summer qualifiers take a basic course in English composition. Their second course is usually integrated algebra and trigonometry, basic college mathematics or European history. Students seeking admission to scientific programs usually take one of the math courses.

The student enrolls for either of the two six-week summer sessions. Last year, 327 students were advised by the admissions office to sign up for the summer program.

Of the 201 who registered, 131 qualified and were admitted to the freshman class.

Jefferson said that some students are reluctant to enroll because of the loss of income from summer employment and because some of the applicants already have been accepted by other institutions.

Better—Cheaper, Too
"We believe that it's far better for the student and his parents to lose six weeks income from a low-paying summer job than to pay the full cost of a semester or an entire freshman year only to fail. And often, the unspoken objection is that the student won't be able to spend the summer with his best friend or date his best girl back home," Jefferson said.

"The number of students seeking admission to the University of Delaware continues to rise each year. It is economically wasteful to the state to admit unconditionally students whose records indicate little promise of success."

"The summer qualifier program makes the odds a little better, both for the student and the university," he concluded.

La Garde-Freinet To Send 8 Girls, 3 Boys To Newark

The Newark Twin Towns Association has announced that it is expecting an unusually large number of young people from Newark's French twin city of La Garde-Freinet next summer.

The French visitors will include eight girls and three boys, ranging in age from 17 to 24, but mostly in the younger category.

As in the past, they probably will arrive in Newark during the last week in July.

There will be a public reception soon after their arrival.

In the meantime, the association and its various committees are making plans for activities to occupy the La Garde-Freinet visitors during their stay.

One of the association's most pressing jobs is arranging for host families who can invite a young French person into their homes for periods from two to five weeks.

Anyone interested may contact Mrs. Jerome C. Weinberg for advice and information about entertaining these young visitors.

Gary Vagle Heads Local Summer School For 4th Year; Sessions To Start June 19

Named principal of the 1967 Newark special school district summer school by Supt. Wilmer E. Shue for the fourth year, Gary M. Vagle announced that 1967 summer sessions—largest ever planned in the Newark district—will be housed in three buildings—at Central Junior High and Central Elementary schools on Academy Street, and at Newark High School.

"The student who completes such summer work," Vagle continued, "is then able to take an additional course during the regular academic year beginning next September."

The Newark school district will offer three advance credit courses this year: Biology 10, United States history 11, and English 12.

The Newark district summer school also will have a special program planned in cooperation with the State Department of Public Instruction and subsidized by the U.S. Office of Education for eighth and ninth graders of low achievement and motivation.

The program would acquaint participants with occupational opportunities and job requirements, as well as providing opportunity to improve skills in communications, e.g., reading, writing, speaking, and listening.

Special programs also will be maintained in cooperation with the University of Delaware during 1967 summer school.

These will include student teacher programs, individual tutoring; closed circuit television instruction, and a class in special education.

Vagle explained that elementary school classes will be held at Central Elementary; that secondary

468 Registrations Reported By Grant Since Last April

Failure To Vote In Two
Straight Elections Drops
Total Eight Under 1966

There have been 468 new voting registrations since last April's municipal election, President Harold M. Grant of the Newark Election Board reports, along with 46 registrations by persons who have moved from one district to another.

And for the same period, 476 names have been removed from the voting eligibility lists for failure to vote in two consecutive elections, so that there are eight less registered voters in the City of Newark than there were a year ago.

Voting registration has been heaviest in the 1st district, with a total of 153 new registrations, and lightest in the 2nd district with 33 registrants.

Registration by districts for the three official registration days conducted last Saturday, and on single Saturdays in January and February, includes 153 in the 1st district; 38 in the 2nd; 89 in the 3rd; 116 in the 4th; 73 in the 5th, and 45 in the 6th district.

A total of 3,601 persons are registered to vote in Newark's general elections next April 11.

A survey conducted by the University of Delaware reveals that 7,600 Newark residents are eligible for voting registration.

Girl From Mexico Guest Of Raphaels For School Term

Christiana Junior High School is enjoying a year-long visit from Nanette Leiser of Chihuahua, Mexico, as the result of a trip to Mexico by the Benjamin Raphaels.

Last summer when the Raphaels of 727 Art Lane, Newark, were visiting Mexico, they met the Leiser family. Mr. and Mrs. Leiser are teachers of English in Mexican schools.

The Raphaels invited Nanette to visit them in Newark for a year, and Nanette enrolled in the seventh grade of Christiana Junior High School, the same school in which the Raphaels' daughter Linda is a seventh grader.

"It's been a very interesting and exciting year," said Nanette. "I have enjoyed Christiana Junior High School very much and like the activities I can take part in there."

One of Nanette's favorite activities is basketball.

With the Raphaels, Nanette has visited the nation's capital, and during spring vacation will travel to New York City to visit the United Nations, Lincoln Center, and other points of interest.

"Nanette has been a real asset to Christiana," commented Principal Albert L. Brayman.

World War I Vets Sought With Roll Call By Newark Group On 50th Anniversary

With April the 50th anniversary of the year America entered World War I, the Delaware Department of the Veterans of World War I of the U.S.A. is participating in the nationwide roll call to alert veterans and widows of veterans of the first World War concerning possible government benefits.

Franklin Springer, past-commander of Barracks 3245, Newark Veterans of World War I of the U.S.A., requests that all World War I vets notify the local barracks of their name, age, address, branch of service, marital status, and membership in veterans' organizations.

Effort is being made to maintain a complete file of all World War I veterans and widows in the Newark area, along with the national roll call.

"Many veterans are unaware of the many benefits for which they are eligible, due to the vast number of changes in legislation," Springer said.

Benefits include pensions, hospitalization and burial allowances.

The Delaware veterans group is attempting to locate the grave of each World War I veteran in the state to honor and identify it with an American flag and triangular marker.

Bankers To Hear Dr. W. E. McDaniel As Forum Speaker

Dr. William E. McDaniel, dean of the college of agricultural sciences at the University of Delaware, will be the featured speaker at the Delaware Bankers' Agricultural Forum.

Dr. McDaniel will discuss "Food and Agriculture at the Crossroads," and Richard Champey, deputy administrator of agriculture for New Jersey, will discuss "The Master Key to Agricultural Financing."

More than 200 Delaware bankers and leading farmers are expected to attend the session which will begin at noon with a luncheon in the Rodney Room of the Student Center.

The Bankers' Agricultural Forum is sponsored annually by the Delaware Bankers' Association in cooperation with the University of Delaware college of agricultural sciences.

The announcement that Newark will get a building with more than double the space of the one at Main and Center streets, was received by Delaware's junior Republican senator, J. Caleb Boggs.

Boggs, a member of the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee, said the site and other details will be announced. The building will be constructed by a private builder through bidding procedures, and leased to the department.

Boggs said the Newark Post Office includes 9,457-sq. ft. of floor space. The new one will have 23,855-sq. ft., with larger loading platforms and parking area.

Williams urged Monday that the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee scrap a bill extending Post Office Department authority to lease major post office buildings from private buildings.

Williams said the government can save millions of dollars building its own post offices through competitive bidding. Population changes may reduce the use of a federally-owned post office, he said, but this is equally true of leased facilities.

Williams explained that a post office is designed for only one purpose and is expensive to remodel for any other.

He said a builder must therefore try to recover his one-time cost within the 25 or 30-year period of the lease, not knowing whether it will be renewed.

New Post Office For Newark Wins Washington Okay

Sen. John J. Williams Opposes Cost Of Lease For Big City Buildings

Shortly after Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., voiced opposition to leased post offices in large cities, a new leased facility was approved for Newark.

The senator said the government could save money by building and owning its own post offices. However, Newark is not in the class criticized by Williams, who referred to cities the size of Detroit.

The announcement that Newark will get a building with more than double the space of the one at Main and Center streets, was received by Delaware's junior Republican senator, J. Caleb Boggs.

Rittenhouse Park Easter Egg Hunt Planned By GNRA

Park, children, and eggs! This makes for a happy combination to hold an Easter egg hunt at Rittenhouse Park.

The annual hunt will be held this Saturday, beginning at 10 a.m., and the format will be changed this year to assure all children the same opportunity to hunt for eggs.

A special treat will be given to each child instead of awarding a limited number of prizes to a few.

In four age group categories, preschool children will start at 10 a.m. and should be accompanied by one parent at the designated area: 1st and 2nd grades at 10:30; 3rd and 4th grades at 11 a.m.; 5th and 6th grades at 11:30 a.m.

All children should have their own containers for the cellophane-covered candy eggs used for this event.

Parking will be available on Art Lane on the east side of the Rittenhouse-Creek, which can be crossed at the footbridge; and along Chestnut Hill Road where a limited number of cars can be accommodated in the lot.

In case of rain, the eggs and treat will be distributed from the Greater Newark Recreation Association Activities Room, 315 Delaware Circle, from 10 o'clock to noon.

Your dollar will fill her plate for 90 meals

Janet Reed Cites Caution In Buying Spring Outfit

A new outfit for spring is almost an American tradition. It's a happy tradition, but don't go overboard, suggests Janet Reed, extension clothing and textile specialist at the University of Delaware.

To be practical as well as well-dressed this spring, buy your outfit with future wear in mind. Very few homemakers can afford to do otherwise, says Miss Reed.

And since Easter is early this year, you have a chance to get more use from new Easter suits and coats.

AMERICAN GREATNESS

"America is great because individual men have freedom and equality, because individual men have been given the incentive to create, to produce, and to save, because individual men have been rewarded for their labor with a generous share of the goods they helped to produce. America has taken its place among the great civilizations of history because the cornerstone upon which the Republic rests is the social, economic, and spiritual betterment of individual men."

U. of D. Custodian Taylor Neal Dies After Work Shift

Taylor Neal, 54, of Porter Road, Bear, a University of Delaware custodian, was pronounced dead on arrival last Friday morning at Wilmington General Division.

According to a university spokesman, Neal and two other custodial workers, Walter Logan, and Alfred Chapman, had finished work at about 7 a.m. in Sharp Laboratory. He was taken to the hospital in the Aetna ambulance and was pronounced dead on arrival at 7:40 a.m. New Castle County Coroner William J. Warwick, and Dr. Ali Z. Hamel, state medical examiner, are investigating to determine the cause of death.

Neal had been employed as a custodian at the university since last October.

Mr. Neal is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lillian M. Neal; a son Eugene J. of Bear; and a daughter, Mrs. Patricia Ann Cole of Knoxville, Tenn.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Elementary Pupils At All 10 Schools Get Safety Banner

March 15, 1967
I would like to thank you all for having given me the privilege to serve you as your second district councilman these past two years. It has indeed been a pleasure! I have strived to serve you with integrity and devotion; no matter was too small to be given my full attention, and rightly so.

During these two years, you of the Press have been very fair in your treatment of me. Now, we come upon another election when you, the voter, can express your desire as to the type of government you want; therefore, I do hope you, in your turn of duty and service to our city, will go to the polls in Newark on April 11, and cast your vote freely and wisely for the candidate of your choice.

I am running once again, offering my services to you on my past record. I am ready to offer you my time, integrity and devotion to service in all matters, large or small, concerning the economy, safety and advancement of this fine city of ours.

If I am the one you want in the second district, "Thank you" for your vote; but please, do vote.

Sincerely yours,
Charles F. V. Wakefield
Councilman, Second District

The Green Pennant for Safety has been hoisted on all 10 of the Newark district's elementary schools by safety officials, local police officers, school authorities, and the children. The Green Pennant program is designed to make youngsters more safety-conscious and to reduce injury accidents involving motor vehicles and bicycles.

Its purpose is to supplement and strengthen school programs by placing safety in the forefront of school activities.

School officials hope that the pennant will be a powerful symbol, a constant reminder to students, that safety everywhere, every day, is serious business.

Each school enrolled in the program earns the privilege of flying the Green Pennant by completing 30 consecutive calendar days without a pupil-caused accident to any of its students.

The pennant flies daily from the flagstaff under the American flag only so long as the school has an accident-free record.

Christiana Jr. High Student Day Event Aids School Staff

Christiana Junior High School's third annual Student Day was observed today with pupils selected by classroom instructors, serving as teachers.

Student Council officers served with the administrators. President Lee Brelick assisted Principal Albert L. Brayman. Vice-President Libby Hogan worked with Vice-Principal D. Hugh Ferguson; Treasurer Ginger Eisenbrey worked with guidance counselors; and Secretary Joan Miller helped in the school office.

Pupils selected by homeroom teachers assisted the school nurse, cafeteria workers, and custodians. Administrators and faculty believe this experience shows pupils the planning involved in a school's functions. At the same time, pupils perform a service.

Faculty members in charge of Student Day are Mrs. Linda Huxtable and Lawrence Q. Hutchins, Student Council advisors.

Ogletown Band, Chorus Present School Concert

Easter Lilies Bloom Again Dunham Advises On Care

Stately Easter lilies are a symbol of Easter for millions of people. They can be a reminder of the holiday for several weeks if you choose good plants and take good care of them, according to Dr. Charles Dunham, associate professor of horticulture at the University of Delaware.

First of all, choose lilies that are compact with bright green leaves all the way to the base of the plant. A lily will flower longer if it has buds of several different sizes, Dunham points out.

Dunham recommends keeping lilies in a moderately cool, draft-free place to prolong the life of the flowers.

You can make Easter lilies bloom again in late summer. When all blooms have wilted, place the potted plant in a sunny window until early May when you can plant it outside, 6-8 in. deep.

It will die down completely, but with normal growing conditions, it should come up and bloom again late in the season.

DAR Urged To Aid In "Star Spangled Banner" October

A campaign by the Daughters of the American Revolution to designate next October as "Star Spangled Banner Month" was urged by Mrs. Mary G. Roebeling, chairman of the board of directors of the Trenton Trust Co., at the recent state DAR convention with the Cooch's Bridge chapter, hostesses.

"Come October," the convention was told, "there is no doubt that the Communist masters will summon their puppet rulers from behind the Iron Curtain to Moscow to celebrate the Golden Anniversary of the Communist Revolution—a gigantic military show to awe the world."

"The story of our Revolution is much better . . . Should we not on Oct. 17 tell the story of the American Revolution?"

"Under the sponsorship of the DAR, Oct. 17, 1967 could be a day to remember—a Star Spangled Banner Day recalling America's rich religious and historical heritage."

Newark's Al Whiteman, Starting Pitcher For Hannah Blue Hens In Friday Opener

Coach Bob Hannah has picked Al Whiteman of Newark to be the starting pitcher in the Blue Hens' opening game with Southern Connecticut at Delaware Field this Friday.

Whiteman, a senior right-hander, was used primarily as an outfielder last year but has been pressed into service as a pitcher.

"We are going to give Al the starting opportunity in the first game because we know we are going to need consistent work from him this year," Hannah said.

Hannah said that Whiteman would probably pitch only the first three or four innings against Southern Connecticut, and then come back to start against Syracuse on Monday.

Junior right-handers Len Fischer of Wilmington and Tom Palmer of Newark will follow Whiteman to the mound against Southern Connecticut.

Fischer and Sophomore Right-hander Steve Tisot of Cherry Hill, N.J., are scheduled to pitch against Syracuse.

Palmer will start next Tuesday's game with Glassboro (N.J.) State. "Tom pitched well against Glassboro last year in a 2-1 loss and I think deserves another shot at them this season," Hannah said.

Hannah, who has a two-year record of 22-22-1 at Delaware, admitted that the opener with Southern Connecticut has him worried.

"We know that they have practically everybody back from last year's team that was one of the best teams in the East," the Hen coach said. "They may be one of the best teams we will play all year."

Southern Connecticut was 20-2 last year, and Coach Gene Casey's Owls won the NCAA Atlantic Coast Small College Tournament at Yankee Stadium in June.

"We just don't know what kind of a team we are going to have," Hannah said. "The weather has kept us indoors at Delaware Fieldhouse, and our workouts there have been hampered by preparations for the state basketball tournament."

Hannah said that he will have to wait until he sees his team practice.

Parnell, Wagaman Named To All-Star MAC 1st, 2d Teams

Delaware's Charley Parnell and four players from Philadelphia schools have been named on the Middle Atlantic Conference University Division All-Star basketball team.

Joining Parnell, 6-1 junior from Cleveland, at one of the guard spots, is 6-4 Clarence Brooks, junior at Temple.

The forwards are Cliff Anderson, 6-5 senior from St. Joseph's and Larry Cannon, 6-5 sophomore from La Salle.

John Baum, Temple's 6-5 sophomore, is the center.

The Blue Hens' Mark Wagaman, 6-6 junior from Litz, Pa., was picked for one of the forward posts on the second team, while 6-8 Delaware Center Kern Barnett rated honorable mention.

Parnell is the only non-Philadelphia player named to the first team. In addition to attending Philadelphia schools, the other four are natives of that city.

Anderson, the 6-5 Hawk standout, ran the leading vote-getter with 20 points based on two points for a first team vote and one for a second team selection.

Brooks, who played both guard and forward for Temple, was second with 19 points; Baum received 17; Cannon, 14, and Parnell, 10.

Wagaman was one of three top selections for the second team with nine points apiece.

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day Unwanted Record

There is one record that a race track is not particularly interested in achieving, and that is a record "minus pool."

A minus pool occurs when a horse of outstanding ability, such as Buckpasser, is in a race where it appears he is a sure thing or at least a certainty to finish "in the money." Such was the case at Santa Anita earlier this year when Buckpasser won the San Fernando.

In that case the "sure thing" bettors wagered so much on Buckpasser in the "Show" pool that, after the deduction of the state tax and track commission, not enough remained to pay off at the required 10c to $1.00 and the Los Angeles Turf Club had to ante up $58,618.62.

The track that has the unhappy distinction of being the recordholder in this department is Hollywood Park. Last June 30 in the Haggis Stakes there were four betting interests, and one of these was the entry of Tumble Wind and Restless Song which "looked like something good to eat."

Fortunately for Hollywood Park the pari-mutuel machines can issue only so many tickets in a given time. Betting was limited to "win" and "place" and it was noted that no "win" tickets were sold at the $100 window, but $5 did dispense 3,225 "place" tickets. The entry ran first and third resulting in a record $95,958.50 minus pool. At New York's "Big A" last year minus pools totaled almost $600,000.

2nd Baseman Mike McGlinchey Loses Bid For Starting Assignment In Friday Test

There will be six juniors and three seniors in Delaware's starting lineup when the Blue Hens open their 1967 baseball season against Southern Connecticut on Delaware Field off South College Avenue tomorrow at 4 p.m.

Coach Bob Hannah announced today that Junior Frank Monticello of Springfield, N.J., had won the third base job for the opener, and Junior Eddie Pankowski of Wilmington would start at second.

Monticello had been battling Billy Cattell of Oaklyn, N.J., for the starting spot at third base. Pankowski and Senior Mike McGlinchey of Newark have been running neck and neck for the second base spot.

"Monticello and Pankowski both deserve the chance to start in the first game," Hannah said, "but this doesn't mean that Cattell and McGlinchey won't play. Both will get an opportunity to show what they can do."

Pankowski and Monticello join Seniors Mike Dill and Bill Steacker in the Hen infield.

Dill, a switch-hitting first baseman from Wilmington, hit .257 last year and was third on the team in runs batted in with 11.

Steacker, team captain and a native of Morristown, N.J., will be the shortstop.

The all-junior outfield has Wayne Evans of Olphrant, Pa., in left; and Wilmington's Dave Cathcart and Vic Orth in center and right.

Orth, a regular guard on the Delaware basketball team, is the only letterman in that group.

Patricia du Pont Foxhunter Trials Scheduled April 1

The 8th annual foxhunter trials will be held Saturday, April 1, starting at 11 a.m. at Patricia du Pont's farm near Fairview, Md.

The event will be held rain or shine, and again is jointly sponsored by the Delaware and Fair Hill pony clubs.

The public is invited at a nominal admission fee.

Six events will be run during the day for junior hunters, green horses and qualified hunters.

The feature event is the E. Ross Taylor Challenge Bowl for horses suitable to carry a master of fox hounds.

A piece of silver and ribbons will be awarded in each class, and exhibitors are invited to make entries the day of the show.

The du Pont farm is located between Lewisville and Oxford, just over the Maryland-Pennsylvania line.

Lunch will be available on the grounds by the Mr. & Mrs. Club of Lewisville Methodist Church.

Nick Donofrio To Attend University of Delaware

Nick Donofrio, a stand-out athlete at Mt. Pleasant High School, has decided to attend the University of Delaware.

The 185-pounder was a halfback on Coach Frank Agnello's Mt. Pleasant football team last fall; competed in wrestling for three years, and played baseball.

"We are naturally very pleased that Nick has decided to come to the university," Coach Tubby Raymond said. "He has demonstrated his abilities as a fine student, leader and athlete."

Junior Chuck Pesce of Kennett Square, Pa., will handle the catching duties, and Senior Al Whiteman of Newark, the starting pitching assignment.

Junior Tom Palmer of Newark and Len Fischer of Wilmington will follow Whiteman to the mound.

"I think that this is our best lineup right now," Hannah noted, "but we have some other players who have been hitting the ball pretty well in the few times we have been outdoors."

Hannah has been particularly impressed with the stickwork of Sophomore Rick Hale of Collingswood, N.J.

"Hale has been stinging the ball for the past week and he is going to get a chance to see what he can do in a game situation," the Hen coach said. "He can play in the infield and in the outfield."

Newark Notes by GIBBY YOUNG —PLAY BALL!

Delaware opens the baseball season here tomorrow against Southern Connecticut, and Coach "Buz" Pennington, George Bowers, and Bob Brewster. They caught beautiful big rock until this observer got pretty well bored with the whole exciting thing as an observer who managed to catch one slim strip in what was a clam chumline bonanza for his shipmates.

One of the good things about catching fish in early spring is the lip-smackin' flavor of fresh-fried fillets—they never taste better.

But, a few tips can help you preserve fish flavor during our warmer months, and here they are from Ron Gentzen of Zebo.

Winter-chilled waters are ideal for flavor preservation from catch to skillet. But in many cases, the surface strata are where most fish are kept on strings. Obviously, these higher temperatures will deteriorate fish flavor.

What to do? Well, some fishermen use a long, weighted stringer to keep the fish down where there are cooler waters, but this long stringer can get tangled in your motor prop.

A safer way, and quite handy procedure, is to take an insulated chest with chunks of ice covering the bottom. As fish are caught, lay them right on the ice.

Not only is this faster than stringing fish, but it also drops their body temperatures to a good preservation range until they can be cleaned.

And speaking of fish cleaning, a lightweight pair of rubber gloves speeds up the job and saves nicked fingers. The final two ingredients are a sharp knife—and appetite to match!

One of the greatest times of year to be outdoors is when spring is bustin' out all over. And one of the greatest ways to soak up a maximum of these sights, sounds, and smells is to camp out.

Learn to recognize sassafras shoots and gather a batch. The bark makes a delightful tea that has been a spring tonic for generations. As a matter of fact, you'll find the whole experience a tonic that tops anything.

A farmer's wife had become mentally deranged. As they carried her out of the house in a straitjacket he said: "I sure don't know what got into her—she ain't been out of the kitchen in 25 years."
