

Steps Taken Toward Formation Of Civil Defense Setup Here

Local Unit To Tie-In With State-Wide Preparedness
Organization

The first steps toward tying in Newark with a state-wide civil defense setup were taken this week.

Mayor Wallace Johnson said he had received a notification from Maj. D. Preston Lee, state director of civil defense, urging that initial plans be drafted for a local civil defense organization.

According to Mayor Johnson, volunteers, comprising persons not eligible for induction into the armed forces, will be sought here. Before they can be accepted, however, their names and qualifications must be forwarded to state defense authorities for final approval.

While more elaborate than the World War II organization, the new setup will include such familiar groups as the ground observer corps, medical and evacuation units.

Maj. Preston said that the ground work of the state organization has already been laid, with nine divisions being set up. These will be welded together as a close-working organization following the release of the federal government's master plan for civil defense on September 1. The nine divisions are: ground observer corps, radiological, health and medical service, state guard, security, highways, welfare and evacuation.

However, Maj. Preston stressed that plans must be made at every level and that municipalities will be responsible to a great degree for preparing for their own protection.

In a statement this week he said: "The kind of civil defense program which we are in the process of developing is, in many ways, unfamiliar to us because our country has never been attacked on the mainland in modern times. Rather than the tin cans and sand buckets of the last war, we are devising a program which will deal with wide-scale devastation by atomic bombs, mass sabotage, biological and chemical warfare, or any of the techniques of modern war."

Aetna Volunteers In Firemen's Course

Studying Latest Fire Fighting
Techniques

Five Newark fire fighters started back to school on Tuesday with the opening of the second annual short course for firemen at the University of Delaware.

They will join with about 75 other firemen from all sections of the state as well as industrial representatives in studying the latest fire fighting techniques.

The Newark contingent is headed by Chief Elmer Ellison, who despite 23 years at the head of the local fire company still believes there is something to learn about putting out fires.

Other Aetna men taking the training are: Walter Wassner, Olan Thomas, and Cunningham and Clifton Knotts.

The campus will be the scene of many fire alarms until the course ends tomorrow. Plenty of realistic demonstrations are planned. Various types of fires are the most successful methods of handling them are being studied.

In addition, disaster techniques, such as energy and radio activity are being discussed. Training is offered in the use of gas masks, operation of ladders and hose and ladder evolutions.

The director is J. W. Just, head of the fire extension department of the University of Maryland.

Kiwanis Officer In Talk At Local Unit

Gov. Discusses Proposed
Defense Act

Governor Herbert Weiden, of Delaware, made an official visit to Newark Kiwanis Club at a luncheon held in the Chimes Restaurant.

The topic for discussion was the significance of the Defense Production Act of 1950, currently before Congress.

He spoke briefly concerning the construction of the bill, the stand of Kiwanis International on it, and the effect it would have if passed as written upon the national economy. He further stated that talks were still continuing in Washington and that Kiwanis International was represented at some of the meetings.

Gov. Weiden also presented President Daniel A. Harvey a certificate of merit for his outstanding work in the Newark club for the year of 1949, awarded to Pres. Dan by Kiwanis International.

In the business meeting, George Wilson, William Burrell, Harry Dawson and Pres. Dan Harvey were elected delegates to the District Convention to be held in Washington, D.C., October 10, 11 and 12.

2nd Lt. Thomas R. Silk Is Casualty In Korean War; Phones Parents From Tokyo

Newark's first casualty in the Korean War is Lt. Thomas R. Silk, a June graduate of the University of Delaware who was commissioned by the army only a little over a month ago.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Russell Silk, Haines and Lovett Avenues, received word of his injury direct from Silk himself, who telephoned them from a Tokyo hospital on Tuesday night. Although they do not know the nature of his wound, his parents believe it is not serious. Their transoceanic phone connection was bad and not much information was learned. Lt. Silk did say, however, that he will be returned to the States soon, possibly by plane. He also spoke with his wife, the former Carol Pope, of Wilmington, whom he married the day before he was inducted into service.

Lt. Silk's military career has been short and somber to date. Married on July 17, he reported for duty July 18 at Ft. Lewis, Del. and left direct for Korea on July 21. At the time of his injury he was serving with an anti-aircraft automatic weapons battalion.

A former Newark High and university football star, he was cited as an outstanding military student on his graduation from college. During his senior year he was made battalion commander of the ROTC unit, and, after graduation, received a direct commission as a second lieutenant. A major in physical education, he was a baseball and football letterman.

Blood Donors Sought To Aid Howard Murphy

Blood donors are being sought for Howard Murphy, a town employee, now seriously ill with a kidney condition in the Wilmington General Hospital.

Mr. Murphy is preparing to undergo an operation and the blood is needed to build up his strength.

Anyone willing to donate a pint of blood is urged to notify Frank Glenn, manager of the State Restaurant, who is handling arrangements.

Reaction To Parking Meters Still Split After Month's Tryout

Varying Opinions Expressed
By Both Motorists And Businessmen

Reaction to the parking meters, installed here in early July on a six-month trial basis, is still divided, according to a spot check made this week by The Post.

Some motorists grumbled at the extra "tax," but many seemed pleased that parking space is more available. Complaints were heard in some quarters against the strictness with which local authorities are enforcing the meter time limit. These came chiefly from motorists who say they received a ticket for overstaying their time only a few moments. They claim authorities should permit a certain leeway, as is done elsewhere. On the other hand, some persons say they have seen cars parked at expired meters for some time without receiving a ticket.

The businessmen, concerned chiefly with the effect of the meters on retail trade, also seemed split in their opinions. Some were outspoken in their enthusiasm, saying the Main Street parking situation had definitely improved. They added that the reaction of their customers was also favorable. Others admitted that parking space is more readily available but claimed this tended to be counterbalanced by the fact that the meter time limit cut short shopping hours by customers who would otherwise linger in stores to buy extra articles. They contend the meters tend to remove the opportunity for

Child Injured Slightly By Automobile Saturday

Three-year old Ralph Lyons, Jr. escaped with minor head injuries when he was brushed by a car in front of his home here last Saturday afternoon.

The child, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lyons, 125½ East Cleveland Avenue, darted from between two parked cars and was swiped by a passing auto. Taken to Dr. Arthur Mencher, he was treated and released.

The accident car was driven by Charles Trader, of Wilmington.

Final Registration At Schools For September Term Set For Aug 21-25

Newark school officials issued a reminder this week that final registration for the September term will be held August 21 through August 25.

Incoming first graders, not yet enrolled, will be registered on August 22 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. in the elementary building.

Transfer pupils will be handled the remaining days of the period. Students in grades one to six should sign up in the elementary building and those in grades seven through 12 at the main office.

Prominent Cleric To Talk Sunday At First Presbyterian

Board Of Christian Education
Member To Speak At 11 A.M. Service

The Rev. John Charles Wynn will occupy the pulpit at the First Presbyterian Church next Sunday morning August 20. The title of his sermon will be, "Like a Mighty Army."

Rev. Wynn is Associate Director of the Adult Work Department of the Board of Christian Education of the Presbyterian Church U.S.A. and is located at the headquarters of the Board in Philadelphia. Previous to his association with the board, he was an outstanding pastor in El Dorado, Kansas.

In addition to preaching the morning sermon Mr. Wynn will teach the combined Men's Bible Class and Women's Bible Class in the Sunday School.

This will be the second in a series of services conducted by guest ministers during the absence of the pastor, Rev. H. E. Hallman, now on vacation. Last Sunday Dr. Willard G. Purdy, pastor of First and Central Presbyterian Church, Wilmington, delivered an inspiring message to a large congregation.

Subsequent speakers will be the Rev. John Oldman, Jr., pastor of Lower Brandywine Presbyterian Church on Aug. 27 and the Rev. George L. Hunt, of the Board of Christian Education on Sept. 3. It is expected that the large attendance of last Sunday will continue throughout the series.

5 Newarkers Alerted With Ordnance Unit

First ORC Outfit To Be Called
From Delaware

Five Newark men were affected when the 923rd Ordnance Heavy Automotive Maintenance Company was alerted for active duty this week.

The unit, commanded by Captain Thomas J. Creswell, Jr., Vilone Village is the first Organized Reserve Corps outfit in Delaware to be ordered to federal service.

Five Newark residents slated to go with the company are: 1st Lt. Frank C. Owen, RD 2; Sgt. Edwin W. Crookshank, 39 East Cleveland Avenue; Sgt. Francis M. French, 30 West Cleveland Avenue; Cpl. George M. Butler, 9 Bassett Place; and Pfc. John J. Harrington, Francis M. French, 30 West Cleveland Avenue, RD 2.

The unit will serve outside Delaware but the final destination and date of departure have not been announced. Under present policy, individuals in alerted units have 21 days to close out their personal affairs.

The unit has vacancies for skilled personnel, Capt. Creswell says.

2 Reservists Take Two-Weeks' Training

Join In Organized Reserves
Field Maneuvers

Two Newark residents have been ordered to active duty for a period of two weeks to attend Organized Reserve Corps Summer Training. It was announced recently by Colonel George W. Dunn, Chief of the Delaware Military District.

Major David R. Lincione, Kells Avenue, employed at the Stine laboratory, Dupont Company, will report August 14 at 726 King Street, Wilmington, for duty with the ORC Instructor Group, Delaware Military District. He is a member of the 2199th Organized Reserve Research and Development Unit with headquarters in Wilmington.

Second Lieutenant Weston H. Beale, 346 South Cooley Avenue, will report at Fort George G. Meade, Maryland, August 20, for duty with the 51st Signal Operations Battalion. He is a member of the 812th Signal Construction Company, an ORC unit which meets twice monthly at the New Castle Air Base.

James Robinson Is Appointed Acting Head Of Post Office

James C. Robinson, a long-time resident here, has been appointed acting postmaster of the Newark Post Office, succeeding C. E. Rittenhouse, who died last February.

Mr. Robinson, who for the past 18 months has been collector for the county tax department, will serve as acting postmaster until his permanent appointment, which seems assured, comes through official channels.

The new postal head took over his duties Tuesday night when he was installed with brief formalities by Post Office Inspector Charles A. McCracken, whose headquarters are at the Wilmington Post Office.

A native of Maryland, Mr. Robinson came to Newark in 1913. Prior to joining

New Recruits Join Battery 'C' As Unit Prepares To Leave

18 Enlistees Swell Ranks
Unit Ordered To Camp
Gordon, Georgia,

Eighteen more recruits joined Newark's Battery 'C', Delaware National Guard, the past week, as the outfit stepped up preparations for its induction into federal service on Aug. 29.

The new blood swells the unit's roster to 83 men toward the full complement of about 150.

The local armory was the scene of feverish activity almost nightly the past week, as the anti-aircraft men readied their equipment and worked out organizational kinks before their first full-time army assignment.

It was announced this week that the Newark outfit along with other batteries of the 736th AAA Gun Battalion and the 361st Signal Radar Maintenance Unit will report to Camp Gordon, near Augusta, Ga., around the first of September for an indefinite training period.

Efforts are still being made by the guards adjutant general, Brig. Gen. Joseph J. Scannell to have the Delaware units sent to Bethany Beach or Fort Miles for their first assignment.

As things now stand, Battery 'C' personnel will report Aug. 29 to the local army for their formal induction into federal service, thus giving the unit about eight days before they are due to arrive in camp.

Only five of the battery's 18 recruits are from Newark, the majority coming from nearby Pennsylvania towns. The Newark enlistees are: Dewey Miller, John McCleary, Francis French, Joseph Frassico, and Francis K. Moore.

The Pennsylvanians joined up in groups of three and four. In their early twenties, most said they were school chums who wanted to "stick together" in the war.

The Pennsylvania recruits are: Clyde and James Brown, Nottingham; John Briseack, Robert Reburn, George Swift and Earl Anderson, Oxford; Donald Haney, William and John Abernathy, West Grove.

Other recruits are: John Meyers, Route 40; David, James and Willard Dunfee, Wilmington.

All men of the alerted units of the 736th and 361st will be given physicals prior to their induction to federal duty. The examinations will take place at the State Armory, Wilmington. A team of reserve medical corps officers will give the physicals.

Copies Of Town Laws Will Be Ready Soon

Limited Parking Ordered
In Certain Areas

Mimeographed copies of all town ordinances adopted since the incorporation of Newark will be available soon to town authorities and the general public.

Work on the project has been underway for some time, but progress has been slow due to the fact that the office personnel has had to fit the work into spare moments in their regular routine.

To speed up the project, the Town Council last week ordered the hiring of a full-time typist to complete the voluminous amount of copying that is still necessary.

Limited parking in certain areas on North College Avenue and North Chapel Street were ordered by the Town Council at a special meeting last week.

The areas affected are between Cleveland Avenue and North Street on North College and on North Chapel a few hundred feet north from Main Street.

The action was taken as a result of complaints on "al-day" parkers received from residents in the areas.

The lawmakers are also considering limiting parking on certain sections of Choate Street.

State To Ask Funds For Major School Building Needs Here

Appropriations To Cover "Critical Needs" of Newark
District Will Be Sought At 1951 Session
Of General Assembly

Funds to cover the "critical building needs" of the Newark Special School District will be sought at the 1951 session of the General Assembly, officials of the State Board of Education told Supt. Wilmer E. Shue here this week.

The assurance came following a conference of state officials and members of the Newark school board, when expansion plans for the district were studied in detail.

Supt. Shue has proposed a long-range program to cost at least $400,000 and calling for a new elementary building in a rural area, a cafeteria for the New London Avenue School, a shop and agriculture annex to the high school, gymnasium improvements and a new athletic field. These recommendations were made on the basis of a census of the pre-school and pupil population carried out here last spring. The survey indicated that incoming first grade classes of 200 pupils or more are likely within two years and predicted a general increase in high school enrollment as well.

The $400,000 cost, a rough estimate, would be met partly by state appropriations and partly through a local bond issue. It is the State's share in the program which officials say will be sought at the next session of the legislature.

Just what will be included in the "critical needs" was not disclosed in the notification by state officials. However, Supt. Shue said that, in their conference here, the state educators looked with favor on most of the proposed program. He added that the New London Avenue cafeteria, which will be a combination gym, cafeteria, auditorium and community meeting center, is virtually assured.

Following the talks here, state officials were high in their praise of Newark's "forward-looking" board of education. They said that they believe no other district in the state has made such a thorough analysis of its future needs.

At the conference, Mr. Shue displayed a map drafted as a result of the spring census and pin-pointing pupil population centers. The map was used by the educators in their discussion of a possible location for the proposed new elementary building.

Now taking part in the conference here were: Joseph McVey, president, and W. Franklin Wilson, member of the Newark board; Dr. George R. Miller, Jr., state superintendent; Dr. John Shilling, assistant state superintendent in charge of high schools; and Dr. Robert C. Stewart, state director of research and publications.

For the past fifteen years, Mr. Gilbert has been doing lecture tours, and during this time has also appeared in numerous Broadway shows. This summer he is making a limited number of appearances in colleges and universities all over the country.

During his program, Mr. Gilbert will sketch an overall picture of the Gilbert and Sullivan operas, in addition to discussing separately the lyrics of Gilbert and the music of Sullivan. Interspersed among the high points of his lecture will be numerous selections from the operas themselves, including songs from "Trial By Jury," "Iolanthe," "The Mikado," "The Pirates of Penzance," "H. M. S. Pinafore," and "The Gondoliers." Mrs. Jane Cornwall of Littlewood, a local Wilmingtonian, will accompany Mr. Gilbert.

This program was arranged by J. Robert King, director of recreation, at the university.

Barn Razed On Monday Nite; No Calls In Town

No fires were reported in town the past week, the sixth alarm-free week in a row.

The siren sounded only once. The call came around 11:30 p.m. Monday, when a barn caught fire on a farm tenanted by Walter Jordan a mile and a half north of Glasgow.

The flames were out of control when the Aetnans arrived, and the barn was completely destroyed, along with a large quantity of baled hay and straw, a pick-up truck and a hog. The loss was estimated at $1050. Six other companies, which arrived after the Aetnans, also had to stand by helplessly while the flames devoured the building. Cause of the blaze is unknown.

The volunteers brought their total parade winnings for the season to $385, when the band took first prize for the best appearance at a march in Oxford on Monday night.

Arthur C. Cronin Dies In New York

Arthur C. Cronin of 14 East Eighth Street, New York City, and Charleston, Md., special assistant to the president of Rutgers University, died last Wednesday of a heart ailment at St. Vincent's Hospital, New York.

Born in Boston and graduated from Harvard in 1907, he was in the real estate business in New York for many years. He was an official of William A. White & Co., and also served as president of the Hobbs, Cronin & Higgins Company, which at one time was active in opening parts of Park Avenue to commercial ventures.

During the second World War Mr. Cronin was with the University Training Program, Second Service Command, as a civilian employee of the War Department.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Margaret Elder Cronin; two daughters, Mrs. Stephen Jensen, Londonderry, Vt., and Mrs. Eugene Pinkus of Washington; a brother, Harold D. Cronin, of Pasadena, Calif.; a sister, Miss Laura Cronin of Boston, and a grandson, Eric Eugene Pinkus.

Pall bearers were Mr. C. Johnson, Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N.J.; Col. John W. Davis, New Brunswick, N.J.; Mr. Charles E. Grubb, Newark; Mr. Dewey Patterson, Elkton; Major Ray W. Baldwin, Elkton; and Mr. John H. Minster, Elkton.

Services were held on the lawn of his Charlestown home. Interment was in the Charlestown Cemetery with Rev. Randall of Rising Sun, Md., officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. George Shrader attended the wedding of Miss Pauline L. Shrader of Cecilton, Maryland, to Mr. Marvin E. Atkinson, of Newark, August 12, in Newark. Miss Shrader is Mr. Shrader's niece. We understand that the reception held in Cecilton, Maryland, after the wedding was a most enjoyable occasion.

A party of local folk attended "An Inspector Calls" at the Robin Hood Theater in Arden recently. The James Sanfords, the George Kalbs, the Bill Nichols, and the Dick Cramers voted the play very rewarding.

J. Clyde Mackey of New London has recovered from his bout with pneumonia in the Lancaster Hospital, and is back on the job in the store again.

The dances at Landenberg Hall are getting so popular that there is now available enough money from the proceeds, (donations of fifty cents per person are accepted), to paint the interior and purchase a new stage curtain.

Bill Mackey, New London, is touring the west for a month, and was last heard from in Iowa.

Reverend George Gardiner of the New London Presbyterian Church is leaving for a two weeks vacation, which he expects to spend in Lewistown, Pa., at his parents' home.

Marianna Alcock tells us that next week will bring most welcome guests to the Alcock home. Marianna's sister and husband, the A. W. Kreamers of Indianapolis, Indiana, are stopping by Warren, Ohio, to pick up Mrs. E. J. Collins, and all will proceed on here for a vacation visit.

The Bob Upson family from Deerpark, near Wilmington, called on the Ness family recently.

Young Gary Worth, Kemblesville, is doing quite nicely at the Memorial Hospital in Wilmington, where he has been undergoing treatment for spinal meningitis for the past week.

The building program of the New London Presbyterian Church, now under way, is scheduled to be completed late this fall.

Two babies were baptized at the New London Presbyterian Church last Sunday. Little Linda Ann McDowell, born June 9, whose grandfather, Thomas McDowell, is an elder in the church, represented the feminine side of the question, and Thomas Kirk Swan, son of Richard T. and Ann Kirk Swan, took care of the masculine side. Linda Ann claims Eugene and Betty McDowell as her fond parents, incidentally. An interesting thing to note is that Thomas Kirk Swan's great-grandfather, Harvey C. Lisle, assisted in the baptismal ceremony in his capacity as clerk of session.

Mrs. Melville T. Hutchison attended a card party at the home of Mrs. Anna Eves Monday afternoon when Mrs. Eves had as her guests, the New London Card Club.

Have you ever listened dreamily to one of these programs (while you wend your busy way) which has a policy of interviewing guests who are dining at some place or other? If you have, we'll bet you've sort of wished you could meet certain people, or win certain prizes. Well, in a sense, this vicinity was in on something of that nature the other day. The George Joneses and their sister-in-law, Mrs. Neva Cook, who has been their house guest this summer, plus Jean Hayden, Clifford Owen and Agnes Sanford were in West Chester on business August 4, and decided on the special treat of lunch at the "Mansion House." To their surprise, they became part of a radio program, and as a result of Agnes prodding Clifford's good memory with suggestions and ideas, they were able to answer the question of the hour, "When was Philadelphia the Capitol of the Nation?" (1790-1800—I wouldn't leave you in suspense!) Cliff profited a key chain, Agnes one half gallon of ice cream, and a set of eight crystal salt cellars and little serving spoons to match. Agnes tells me it really affords one a big kick. Rather like Christmas in the middle of summer.

One of the largest barns in this section was destroyed by fire Sunday with a loss estimated at $35,000. The barn was owned by Eugene duPont of Owl's Nest. Robert McCall, son of Irwin McCall, manager of Mr. duPont's farms here, occupied the property. The blaze was discovered by Mrs. McCall about 12 o'clock noon. Mill Creek and Hockessin Fire Companies responded but were unable to save the building. It is thought the fire was caused by spontaneous combustion. The barn was filled with hay and straw. A cow was burned to death. This is the third barn to be burned on these foundations. As this property was owned by Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Pennington, they had two barns destroyed by fire there. The present barn was built by the Penningtons. The property is located along Pike Creek.

Mt. Pleasant rural school No. 34 has officially been closed. About half of the district will go to Marshallton School and the remainder will attend Alexis I. duPont. The dividing line is Old Wilmington Road.

Members of the White Oak 4-H Club with their leader, Mrs. Herbert W. Pierson had a grand outing to Hershey, Pa. last week. They visited the museum, the chocolate factory and the park. They took their box lunches and ate supper at Miller's enroute home. In the group were: Goldine Blackburn, Jimmy Blackburn, Jan Klair, Johnny Williams, Bernice Dobrick, Emilie Pennington, Joe Mitchell, Doris Woodward, Ruth Pierson, Dorothy Pierson, Jean Wallace, Mrs. Norman Klair, Mrs. Charles Woodward, Miss Helen Carlin, Sandra Ewing, Donnie McVaugh, Lotta Geck, Louise Samendinger, Herman Samendinger, Joanne Vansant, Stephen Vansant, Raymond Lamborn, Esther Klair, Jimmy Derickson, Mary Lou Derickson, Barbara Whiteman, Jane Walton, Charlotte Klair, and Franklin Klair.

Ebenezer Methodist Church

Harvest Home Sunday will be celebrated at Ebenezer this Sunday with two special services at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. The guest speakers will be the Rev. Dr. Montgomery J. Schroyer, professor of New Testament at Westminster Theological Seminary and the Rev. Dr. Park W. Huntington, pastor of St. Stephen's Lutheran Church, Wilmington. The choir will have special numbers for each service directed by Mrs. W. Floyd Jackson. Those attending the services will bring picnic lunches. Dr. Schroyer will be the morning speaker. It is interesting to recall the beginning of Harvest Home Day at Ebenezer. This yearly, all-day program was held usually the first or second Thursday in August. At the beginning it was planned as a temperance rally and was held in Whiteman's Grove as early as 1887. Later, it was changed to Little's Grove. There were booths containing many articles for sale. In the years, the programs were varied, outstanding speakers, fine musical talent, pageants, and motion pictures, all of which attracted several hundred people. With World War II and the rationing of gasoline and food, the celebration was changed to Sunday and is now a time of fellowship and spiritual uplift. The contributions of money go to the work of the church.

The MYF held a scavenger hunt last Sunday. On Sept. 10, the group will have a covered dish supper at the home of Gene Dempsey.

Red Clay Creek Presbyterian Church

The pastor, the Rev. George Teaz Jamieson and family are on vacation. The pulpit will be supplied by Fred A. Trimble, Jr., a local student at Princeton Theological Seminary, this Sunday, and Aug. 27 by the Rev. D. Linton Doherty, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church, Wilmington.

Last Sunday there was a display of Bibles from Mr. Jamieson's collection. There were 27 different versions and translations, including Greek, Hebrew, Latin, German, Japanese, Chinese and Korean. The exhibition was placed there in connection with the new curriculum of the youth department.

Mermaid

Mary Ann Springer has returned home from visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Springer at 112 Stroud Street, Wilmington.

Harmony Grange will hold a meeting next Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hahn are now occupying the home of the late W. P. Naudain on Paper Mill Road. The Hahns recently returned from London, England, where Mr. Hahn was associated with the Hercules Company.

The family of Frank G. Dennison gathered at his home on Limestone Road Sunday evening to celebrate his 70th birthday anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Naudain and son, Jackie, are spending this week at Ocean City, N. J.

Mrs. Louise Ball, of Washington, D. C., a house guest of Mrs. Harvey Ball, was a luncheon guest last week of Mrs. L. H. Pennington.

The spider doesn't have to drag his dinner into his web. Just one willing step inside and the unthinking fly is hopelessly trapped, a stradd at a time. That's how a nation gets trapped into a socialistic form of government. Not all at once—but a stradd at a time until liberty is lost.

Here's how it happens. The government of such a country—in the guise of the people's welfare—begins to assume more and more control over that nation's industries and services with no thought of ever relinquishing them. Little by little, the people are forced to turn their responsibilities over to their government—and, eventually, their liberties as well.

This can happen here! There are in America, people who want to replace efficient private ownership and operation, with government control, inherently uneconomical and wasteful.

During a national emergency such as we are facing today, we are all willing to submit to many of the controls that seem necessary at the time. However, we must remember that many of these measures are part and parcel of the peacetime aims of the so-called "social planners," and realize that we are always in danger of permanently losing some of the very freedoms for which we fight. Let's face the immediate future with a readiness to make every sacrifice necessary to protect and preserve our country, but let us also be eternally watchful to see that we don't lose the very things for which we're fighting.

Remember the fly and the spider web. If we want a free America, we must be alert and guard our freedoms every step of the way.

NEWARK TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

From the Issue of August 19, 1925

New Development

An entirely new residential section of Newark is on the road to development, following definite steps taken to clear the Misses Wilson property on West Main Street.

Thirty-five 60-foot building lots sit on both sides of Wilson Lane extending north into the property of Frank Collins are being laid out, paved, and tapped by sewer and water mains.

Mr. Collins, a party to the development, stated yesterday that there would be no public auction. After the improvements are made, he said, they will be offered at private sale, with proper conditions made clear.

Building Notes

The large brick residence being built on Walter A. Layfield on Nottingham Road, just west of the town limits, is progressing rapidly. The walls are up and the roof partly laid. The house is set well back from the road to allow for a roomy lawn.

Herman Wollaston is having a house built on Kells Avenue on the tract formerly owned by his father, Charles P. Wollaston.

Another new and attractive home is being built on Kells Avenue recently completed for Jay Robinson on Park Road.

A public auction of lots laid out on the farm of Samuel Little, along the Lincoln Highway was held Saturday with good prices ruling, it was reported.

A delightful surprise party was given by Little at his home on Elkton Avenue on Saturday evening by the Young People's Choir of Ebenezer Church of which Mr. Little is director.

The evening soon passed with games and singing and at a late hour refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Vinsinger, accompanied by Miss Anne Gallaher, left a few days ago for a motor trip through eastern Canada. They will stop at several cities and points of interest.

State boys and girls club leader, A. D. Cobb, and family have departed for a vacation trip through the middle west, their destination being Aurora, Indiana.

Miss Isabel Hutchison, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Hutchison of this town was numbered among the eight girls awarded the "Y" for general excellence at the YWCA camp near Sandy Landing last week. The eight girls were chosen on their records from among 57 campers.

Master William Holloway has returned from a visit with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William MacAllen, Snow Hill, Md.

Miss Dorothy Aiken spent part of last week visiting in Elsmere.

Cite Violations Of Wage And Hour Law

Acting Regional Director William A. Hargadine, Jr. disclosed today that the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions of the U. S. Department of Labor had uncovered basic violations of the Fair Labor Standards Act in this region during the first six months of this year in over 600 establishments. The region includes Delaware, Maryland, and West Virginia, as well as Pennsylvania.

He reported that his office had directed 1066 investigations among firms covered by the Act, as well as 97 firms engaged in filling public contracts for various governmental agencies. Mr. Hargadine added that his office had received a total of 642 complaints from individuals in this region charging violations of the Wage-Hour Law.

The majority of the violations involved failure of employers to pay the statutory 75-cents an hour wage or failure to pay time and one-half for overtime in excess of 40 hours a week. Twenty-four firms were found to be employing under-age minors in manufacturing, processing, and distribution plants in violation of the child-labor provisions of the Act. The Divisions have arranged that restitution in back wages amounting to $120,409.37 to be paid to 1960 employees during this period.

At the same time, Ernest N. Votaw, Regional Attorney for the Labor Department, reported that 10 firms in this area had been prosecuted in Federal courts for deliberate violations of the Act. Fourteen additional concerns have been subject to civil court action to assure compliance while seven firms signed consent decrees before Federal judges after investigations disclosed wage-hour violations in their plants. A consent decree has the force of an injunction against future noncompliance with the Act.

Meet Newark's School Teachers

(Twenty-first in a Series)

H. Lewis Miller was born in Pine Grove, Penna. and raised on a farm. During the years when he was 8 and 9 years of age, he had an infected hip as a result of an accident. The family doctor was very doubtful whether he would be able to walk again without the aid of crutches. The doctor gave instructions to his parents that his activity should be limited, especially as far as athletics were concerned; however, the doctor never gave any instructions concerning farm work, so his father put him to work on the farm.

He attended a grammar school about three-fourths of a mile from home until he passed eighth grade. In order to attend high school, one had to pass a county examination. After being admitted to Pine Grove High School, he had a very stern instructor, who was also principal of the high school, in Junior Business Training. This instructor was William Kutz, brother of Frederick B. Kutz, principal of Newark High School.

After he was graduated from Pine Grove High School, he attended State Teachers College, West Chester, Penna. for four years, receiving a major in General Science and a minor in History. While at college, he was Chemistry Laboratory Assistant for three years and today thinks that this experience was very beneficial. He received a B. S. degree.

He entered the military services in June 1942, receiving his basic training at Fort Bragg, N.C. Being shipped overseas in March 1943, he arrived at Algiers, North Africa, from where he went to Italy in June 1944. On August 7, 1945, he returned to the U. S. and was separated from military service October 5 as a Staff Sergeant.

Prior to looking for a job, he decided to visit his college Alma Mater, where Mr. Kutz, after receiving Mr. Miller's description in the dean's office, met him on the campus. After a visit to Newark High, a few formalities and being shown around, Mr. Shue hired him as a teacher of General Science.

H. Lewis Miller

This was Mr. Miller's first teaching position. In September 1947 he began teaching Chemistry, Physics and Biology which he is still teaching today. During his summer vacation he is taking work in Chemistry towards his M.A. degree at the University of Kansas City, Missouri.

In December 1946 he was married to Miss Estelle Kintigh at Broadway Methodist Church, Kansas City, Mo. and now lives in Robert Wollaston's apartment 5 Kells Avenue.

In addition to teaching, he is leader of the Newark Hi-Y Club, sponsor of the Projectionist Club, member of the Curriculum Committee, Athletic Council, Assembly Committee, Audio-Visual Aids Committee, P-TA Executive Teachers Association, Chairman of the Faculty Steering Committee, and Chairman of the Science Department.

Sun's Heat Darkens Stains On Clothing

Though sunshine is one of the best and safest bleaches for white clothes after laundering, and though it often fades colors, it may have just the opposite effect on some common stains, cautions Miss Ruth E. Pearce, Extension Clothing Specialist of the University of Delaware.

The heat of strong summer sun may set and darken stains containing tanning, such as those from cherries, peaches, pears, plums, soft drinks, or mustard, she warns. Play clothes, sun-suits, house dresses, or aprons, even bathing suits worn at beach picnics, may be permanently marked by leaving these stains exposed to the sun.

"Give such stains first aid immediately by sponging with cold water while they are fresh and moist," Miss Pearce advises. "If any trace of stain remains, they may be treated by rubbing glycerine or soapless shampoo into the stain, then sponging with cold water. Sometimes it helps to apply a few drops of vinegar to the stain after the glycerine or shampoo treatment, rinsing thoroughly afterward with cool water. Never use soap or heat until the stain has disappeared.

"Sunning may make other stains more difficult to remove. Grease may penetrate fabric more deeply if heated in the sun. Egg, milk, and meat stains may be 'cooked' into fabric by hot sun," she adds.

Parking Meters

leisurely buying, which was one of the major advantages of Newark over competing retail centers. The latter group, though, seemed to feel that the meters, even though not particularly beneficial, had worked no delectable hardship on the businessmen as yet.

Chamber of Commerce officials, who originally opposed the installation of the meters, still withheld judgment. Don Savitch, president of the group, said it was still "too early" to give a definite opinion. He pointed out that summer is always a slack period here, in which the parking problem is not particularly acute. He said he believed it would require another two or three months, carrying into fall when activity picks up, before the effect of the meters on business could be accurately gauged. W. S. Hamilton, the chamber's secretary, said he had "no comment" as yet.

Town authorities claim the reaction they get from the public has been encouraging. At a recent Council meeting, Mayor Wallace Johnson said he had received many favorable reports from motorist-shoppers, especially out-of-towners. Councilman Frank Durnall said he believed "75 percent of the businessmen now favor the meters."

Woman Stores Up

To Foil Hoarders

The woman just ahead already had a lengthy list of packaged staples and then she came to the canned goods counter.

"I'll take a case of tomatoes, a case of corn, a case of—she attempted to continue until the clerk interrupted: "What in the world are you buying so many cases for?"

"I want to get my canned goods in before the hoarders start," she explained.

Work Planning Pays For Homemakers

Rewards are great when you take time to make time. When you study your work habits, you will find many things you can do to make a day's work more effective. Adequate storage at the mixing center in your kitchen increases your efficiency, says Miss M. Katharine Jones, Home Demonstration Agent, New Castle County.

Consider your basic needs at the mixing center. Eliminate the utensils and supplies that are seldom used, then plan where each of the constantly used articles may be stored to the best advantage, advises Miss Jones.

Put spices, seasonings and flavorings where it's easy to read their labels. Arrange the containers so you can remove them without disturbing the others. Suggested places for keeping these items are: in racks on the inside of cupboard doors; on a light movable rack; or on narrow shelves around the three sides of a cupboard.

Providence Scouts At Camp Rodney

Twenty scouts from Troop 125 of Providence spent last week at Camp Rodney under the leadership of Scoutmaster Joe Cucerno, assisted by Explorer Scout Ronald E. Cheadle. Scouts attending were: Robert T. Grant, David Calvert, Roland Calvert, Wm. Campbell, Norman Dever, Eugene Ewing, Wm. H. Gilbert, Robert Logan, Harold Null, Eli Scott, David E. Scott, Willard Speace, Daniel Speace, Eric Stetson, Mauritz Stetson, Philip Machie and Franklin Zebley.

The troop camped on the Windy Point Site and enjoyed an excellent week of scouting. Thirty-nine second class and one first class tests were passed by the five tenderfoot scouts in the group, with the balance of the troop passing seventy-one first class tests and fifteen merit badges.

The merit badges passed included: Life saving by Daniel Speace, swimming by David Calvert, Mauritz Stetson, Norman Dever, Eric Stetson, and Willard Speace. Wood carving by Franklin Zebley, Eric Stetson, Robert Grant, Norman Dever, Daniel Speace, Willard Speace and David Calvert. Leathercraft by Eugene Ewing and Mauritz Stetson. The All Rodney award was won by Daniel Speace and the Aquatics award by Norman Dever.

Scouts Eli Scott and Willard Speace were highly commended by their leaders on the excellent manner in which they handled their patrols, while Scouts Harold Null and Roland Calvert were praised for their excellent scout spirit and helpfulness.

GI Bill Deadline On Starting Course Of Study, July 1951

The deadline for starting GI Bill courses of education and training for most veterans is exactly a year away—July 25, 1951—Veterans Administration reminded veterans today.

That date, established by law, should be kept in mind. V-A added, when World War II veterans make future plans for schooling or training at Government expense.

This coming fall school term, for example, will be the final fall term when most veterans may enter or re-enter GI Bill training. They still may begin their studies later, so long as it's before the 1951 date.

Most veterans actually must be in training by the deadline if they want to continue afterwards. V-A will consider a veteran to be in training, even though he has temporarily interrupted his course for summer training or other reasons beyond his control.

Once he completes or discontinues his program of training after the 1951 date, he may not start another course. Also, he must meet these requirements:

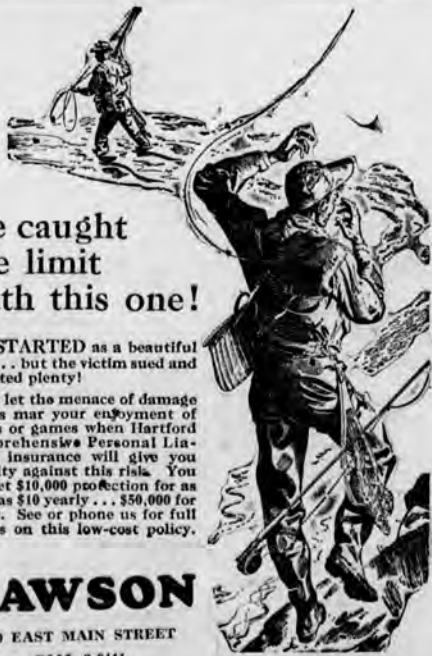

He will be expected to pursue his training "continuously until completion, except for conditions which normally would cause interruption by a student."

He may change his educational objective "only while in training and then for reasons satisfactory to the Administrator."

The July 25, 1951, cut-off date does not apply to veterans discharged after July 25, 1947. They have four years from the date of discharge in which to begin GI Bill training. They must, however, finish training by July 25, 1956.

Those who enlisted or re-enlisted under the Armed Forces Voluntary Recruitment Act (between October 6, 1945, and October 5, 1946) have four years from the end of their enlistment or re-enlistment period in which to start training, and nine years from that time in which to complete it.

A new law, permitting a veteran to change for the first time from one general field of GI Bill study to another merely by applying for it, will not be in effect after the cut-off date, V-A emphasized.

Spiders Snatch Softball Loop Play-Off Crown From Indians

Underdog Club Sweeps Two Straight From League Leaders In Finals After Touncing Blue Jays In Semi-Final Matches

The once lowly Spiders, who trailed the field in the first round of the community softball league and wound up fourth in the final standings to barely earn a spot in the play-offs, upset the dopesters by sweeping their final two games with the high-flying Indians to annex the play-off title.

The Spiders, whose fortunes began to change when they were reinforced some weeks ago by five players from the disbanded All Stars, took two out of three from the Blue Hens in the semi-finals, then went on to brush aside the favored Indians two straight in the finals by scores of 10-1 and 2-0.

In the latter contest, the supercharged Spiders slipped across the two victory producing runs in the second stanza. Shortstop Wollaston paced the attack with two hits, while Widdoes, Pierce and Phillips connected for one.

In the other match, the Spiders started their spree with three runs in the second, adding three more in the third and fourth and winding up with a single counter in the sixth. The subdued Indians collected their single run in the fifth.

Davis, who hurled both games for the victors, turned in an outstanding performance, holding the Indians to a total of six hits for the two contests.

The close of the play-offs marked the windup of the six weeks' summer recreation program here under Fred Spasato. The program was curtailed following the apathetic response to a fund drive conducted by the Newark Recreation Association here last spring.

Plans For Forming Bird Club Are Underway Here:

Organizational Meet Set
Plans for organizing a Newark Bird Club were announced this week.

An organizational meeting will be held Tuesday, Sept. 12, at the home of Mrs. Alex D. Cobb, West Main Street. Heading the temporary committee is Miss Sara Potts, East Main Street, assisted by Mrs. Cobb, Miss Mary Campbell and Miss Irma Jaquette.

If formed, the club will be the first such unit in Delaware. Practical advice on the organization and operation of the club is being offered by Mrs. William Prendergast, of Embreeville, Pa., a member of the West Chester Bird Club. Mrs. Prendergast is a personal friend of Miss Potts.

Anyone interested in joining the group is urged to notify any member of the committee or attend the September meeting. Membership will not be limited solely to the Newark area.

Newark Rotary Nips New Castle Club, 7-6, In Softball Contest

Coming from behind with four runs in the fourth inning, the Newark Rotary Club defeated the New Castle Club by a score of 7-6 in their annual softball contest. The game, which came after New Castle Rotarians dined as guests of the Newark Club, was played Monday night on the Continental Field.

Si Petit started things off for the local team in the first inning when he bunted safely. Two other base hits in that stanza brought the first inning score to 4 to 3, favoring the visiting team. All of the other Newark runs came in the fifth. Newark's line-up was: Petit, catcher; Cox, pitcher; Axinn, first base; J. Handloff, second base; Martin, shortstop; Mayer, third base; Hamilton, short field; Savage, left field; Gullidge, center field; Smith, right field.

Newark AA To Meet Oxford In Crucial Game Here On Sunday

Clubs Boast Equal Records; Victory Will Give Either
For Second With Kennett; Newark Drops
Protest Game To Hickory

The Newark AA dropped a 7-3 decision to Hickory Hill last Sunday. Penn-Mar League game played under protest from the third inning.

The disputed, lodged by Manager Leroy Hill, was over a misinterpretation of the ground rules on fly balls. A Newark fly was caught beyond what rules listed as the two-base line in the outfield. The umpire ruled the fly an "out," which drew the Newark protest. The issue will be passed to league officials for a final decision.

Despite the loss, Billy Woodward, who went the distance for Newark, allowed only five hits.

Old Jap Handcuffs Are Still Top Secret

Seven policemen couldn't get a set of Japanese handcuffs off 14-year-old Craig Keefer's wrist in Washington, D.C., recently.

They were placed there by a 5-year-old black male whose father brought them back from the last war.

The police were taking Craig to a locksmith when the playmate's father showed up with the key.

Single Penny Saves Man From Jail

Theodore Gordon, safely on the outside of jail, clutched his lucky penny recently.

Gordon denied a loitering charge when brought before Recorder's Judge Charles W. Jones, in Detroit.

"If you haven't got a penny in your pocket, you're loitering," Jones said. Gordon dug deep and came up with a penny.

"Case dismissed," said the judge.

A ration line in fibre is most economical for broiler production.

Hickory went into the lead in the first inning on two walks and a hit, latter scoring two runs. Woodward's wildness and faulty fielding by teammates enabled Hickory to add two more runs in the second. The eight, again as a result of the fielding.

The local club produced all its runs in the fourth, when the batsmen batted around.

This Sunday Newark meets on the Continental Field in what is expected to be an all-out game for place. Both clubs will enter the test with the same records, Newark against five defeats. A loss for Newark will drop them to fifth in the bunched standings, while a victory gives either club a tie with the Bridge for second.

Barney Benson will be on the mound for Newark, with George K. Stockley, rated as the Delaware League, will hurl for Oxford.

In the only other meeting of teams this season, Newark edged one-run decision.

Nation's Food Stocks Seen Continuing At Current High Level

Production Expected To Total
Same As 1949, Demand
Is On Rise

Supplies of food available for civilians are expected to continue at about the same high level as in the past two years according to a report by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, U.S.D.A., Washington, says Miss M. Katharine Jones, Home Demonstration Agent.

The production of food this year is expected to total about the same as in 1949, 38 per cent more than the 1935-39 average and 20 per cent above 1941. Stocks of most foods which can be stored are fairly substantial. Furthermore, exports of food have been and are expected to continue smaller than during the past several years.

The demand for food has strengthened this spring and summer along with the general rise in economic activity. This increased consumer demand is likely to continue for the next six months as incomes rise with the needs of the defense program.

The BAE reports there has apparently been some speculative buying causing food prices to increase in recent weeks, substantially similar to those occurring in 1939 which receded as soon as consumers realized that food supplies were adequate. The current food supply situation is again such that speculative buying and price increases are not warranted.

Wilmington Symphonette At Mitchell Hall Tonight

On Thursday evening, August 17, at 8:15 o'clock, the Wilmington Symphonette will be making its second appearance of the summer on the University of Delaware campus, when the group will present a concert of light symphonic music in Mitchell Hall. The Symphonette is composed of 25 professional musicians and is under the direction of J. Robert King.

The program outlined for Thursday night will consist of five numbers, two of which will include Handel's "Water Music" and two Slavonic dances by Dvorak, Opus 45, Nos. 7 and 8. A third selection will be Grieg's "Holberg Suite"—a composition made up of short pieces patterned after the eighteenth century style of suite and notable for its fine line of balance between romantic and classic. Also included on the program will be the Bizet Symphony in C Major, which has become increasingly popular since its discovery fifteen years ago, and the composition, "On Hearing the First Cuckoo in the Spring," by the English impressionist, Delius.

The concert will be open to the public without charge and is under the joint sponsorship of the University and the American Federation of Musicians, Local 311. Arranged by the director of recreation, J. Robert King, it is the fourth program in the current lecture and concert series.

U. of D. Appoints New Assistant Farm Ed

Miss Joanne Ouwenel, of Fort Atkinson, Wisconsin, has been appointed Assistant Editor of the University of Delaware Agricultural Extension Service, according to George M. Worrlow, Director. Replacing Miss Virginia Kirkpatrick, who left Delaware on May 30 to be married, Miss Ouwenel will do all types of public information work.

Born and reared on a southern Wisconsin dairy farm, Miss Ouwenel received both her B.S. and M.S. degrees from the University of Wisconsin. Recently, she has been engaged in research in agricultural journalism at Wisconsin.

At the University of Delaware, Miss Ouwenel, who took up her duties on August first, will help in the preparation of news releases to daily and weekly newspapers; the daily radio program, Delaware Farm and Home Hour (WDEL, 12:30 p.m.); and the Extension Service television show, Home and Garden Highlights (WDEL-TV, Thursdays at 6:45 p.m.). She'll also help prepare exhibits, publication, photographs and slides.

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING TOWN

ORDINANCE NO. 99 ENTITLED

ZONING ORDINANCE

BE IT ENACTED BY THE MAYOR AND COUNCIL OF THE TOWN OF NEWARK:

1. Town Ordinance No. 99 entitled Zoning Ordinance passed June 6, 1949 be and the same is hereby amended by striking out all of Section 1001 and by inserting in lieu thereof a new Section 1001 as follows:

"Section 1001. It shall be his duty to examine all applications for building or occupancy permits for compliance with this ordinance; to issue and record building or occupancy permits; to make inspections; to record and file all applications and accompanying plans. After a permit is issued the application and accompanying plans shall be a public record."

2. Town Ordinance No. 99 entitled Zoning Ordinance passed June 6, 1949 be and the same is hereby amended by adding a new Section 1001 (a) as follows:

"Section 1001 (a). The Secretary of the Town of Newark or other person designated by the Mayor to enforce the provisions of this ordinance shall have the power to issue building permits for the alteration of main buildings and/or the erection or construction of accessory buildings in the area known as George Read Village, notwithstanding non-compliance with 'Area Regulations', provided the application is accompanied by the consent in writing of the registered owners of the properties abutting in the rear and the next five properties adjoining on each side of the property concerning which the application has been filed; provided, however, that he shall not issue said building permit if, prior to issuance, objection in writing to such issuance is filed by any registered owner of property in the said area known as George Read Village. In the event of such objection, he shall transmit all papers in connection with said application to the Board of Adjustment."

3. Town Ordinance No. 99 entitled Zoning Ordinance passed June 6, 1949 be and the same is hereby amended by adding a new Section 1106 (d), as follows:

"To authorize such variance from the terms of this ordinance as will not be contrary to the public interest upon receipt of papers transmitted by the Secretary of the Town of Newark pursuant to Section 1001 (a) without the formality of an appeal, provided however, that notice to all parties in interest shall be given in the same manner as upon the hearing of an appeal."

HOW TO BE THE "SALT OF THE EARTH" on Party-Line Telephones

When you treat your party-line neighbors with courtesy and consideration, you soon win an A-1 reputation as a good party-line neighbor. What's more, you'll find that your courtesies are returned... and this means good service for everyone on the line!

Two Brief Suggestions: On finding the line in use, hang up gently and give the other person a few minutes to finish his call. And when, while talking, you realize that your neighbor is waiting to make a call, hang up in a few minutes and free the line. Party-line courtesy is easy. And it pays big dividends!

Newark Youth Takes Lead Role In Drama At Williamsburg, Va.

Layton P. Zimmer, Jr. In Outdoor, Patriotic Play "The Common Glory"

Layton P. Zimmer, Jr., 219 W. Main Street, Newark, took over one of the leading roles last week in "The Common Glory," outdoor drama of the birth of American independence presented every evening except Monday at Lake Matoaka Amphitheatre at Williamsburg, Va.

Zimmer replaced Richard Dix, who has been called to active duty in the Air Force, as Robert Gordon, Tory planter and political leader who opposes Thomas Jefferson, the central character of "The Common Glory." Dix also appeared as George Washington, a brief non-speaking role which Zimmer will also play.

An honor student in the sophomore class at nearby College of William and Mary, Zimmer himself may be called to duty later. He is a corporal in the Delaware National Guard.

Zimmer is an all-around participant in campus activities, a track man and high school football star who has won theatrical honors in both high school and college. He was seen in Williamsburg last season in "Dr. Last and His Chariot," produced by the Restoration of Colonial Williamsburg, and has also worked for the Restoration as Town Crier in the streets of the Colonial capital.

Before assuming his new roles, Zimmer was a bit-player and understudy in "The Common Glory."

Despite his aptitude for the theatre, Zimmer's ambition is to be a priest in the Episcopal Church. If military service does not interfere, he plans to enter the Virginia Theological Seminary at Alexandria following the close of "The Common Glory" on September 16.

"The Common Glory" is a symphonic drama by Pulitzer Prize Playwright Paul Green, who authored "The Lost Colony" in North Carolina and "Faith of Our Fathers" in Washington, two similar productions.

Award High School Roof Repairs Contract

A $3,970 contract for repairs to the roof of the Newark High School building has been awarded to James Cullen & Company of Wilmington, the lowest bidder.

The work calls for refashing, patching and reconditioning the parapet walls.

A proposed project to overhaul the entire electrical system of the main building, which is now gravely overloaded, had to be held up this week due to lack of funds.

The lowest bid on the work was $18,634, three times the amount anticipated. The project will simply have to mark time until the funds become available, according to Supt. Wilmer E. Shue.

Artificial Breeders Now Have Four Proven Sires

The Delaware Artificial Breeders' Cooperative has presented preliminary proof on a Holstein bull to the national Holstein-Friesian Association.

When this proof is accepted, the cooperative will have four proven sires out of the ten now in use. The bull is H-14, Live Gerban Colan Hark Star.

Plant Ills Seen As Serious Treat To State's Truck Crop

Late Blight Is Found On Tomatoes In Newark Area, Horticulturist Says

Diseases on tomatoes, cantaloupes, and lima beans are a serious threat to Delaware crops. This was announced by the plant pathology and horticulture departments of the University of Delaware after a survey of crops early in August. J. W. Heuberger, R. S. Cox, R. A. Hyre of plant pathology, and R. F. Stevens, extension horticulturist, made the survey.

The late blight disease on tomatoes was found in Newark, Smyrna, Middletown, Dover, Camden, Wyoming Bridgeville, and Laurel areas. All tomato growers are urged to spray or dust their crops from now until harvest. Recommended sprays are Dithane and Bordeaux mixture. A fixed copper dust or Dithane in dust form are advised by the university specialists. Applications should be made every seven days in wet, cool weather, and every ten days in dry weather.

Both downy mildew and macrosporium leaf spot have been found on cantaloupes. If wet, cool weather occurs downy mildew can completely destroy a field within ten days, says Dr. Heuberger. He advises Dithane, Zerlate, or a fixed copper for sprays or dusts. The downy mildew disease is also serious on lima beans. So far it has been found in the Milford, Slaughter Neck, Rehoboth and Bridgeville areas. Growers are advised to be ready just as soon as the disease is found. A ground duster is recommended.

The heavy rains of Aug. 2 and 3 aggravated the situation. Further rains and cool nights will bring about more disease damage, unless growers protect their fields with fungicides until harvest is over.

Single DDT Treatment Cures Termites 5 Years

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced that a single treatment of DDT gives complete protection against termite attack for at least five years, says L. A. Sterns, head of the department of entomology at the University of Delaware.

This announcement was based on tests started in 1943. The USDA recommendation is to apply 5% DDT in No. 2 fuel oil to the soil around wooden structures at the rate of 1 quart per cubic foot of soil.
