Redd retains mayoralty

Hutchinson downs Miller in Third District race

Newark Mayor William Redd, a participant in the American assault on Okinawa during World War II, survived another difficult battle by defeating challenger Hugh Ferguson in Tuesday's municipal election.

Redd won handily, capturing 1,615 votes to 1,093 for Ferguson and carrying five of the city's six councilmanic districts.

Victory was not so easy for another incumbent, Third District City Councilman Betty L. Hutchinson. Hutchinson defeated challenger Ed Miller by a scant four votes, 277 to 273, and Miller said Tuesday night that he will consider petitioning city election officials for a recount.

"We should have some sort of a recount," Miller said, shortly before meeting with election officials to discuss the matter. "This election was too close for a mandate of any sort."

Unopposed in Tuesday's election were Fifth District incumbent Ronald Gardner and Sixth District incumbent Olan Thomas.

As elections results were reported to the Newark Municipal Building, it became apparent Redd was on the verge of winning another term as mayor, a position he has held since 1973. "It feels great," he said. "I'm glad it's over and I'm glad I won."

Redd has been extremely concerned throughout the contest because of the active involvement of Fraternal Order of Police Lodge 4, which represents Newark officers, in Ferguson's campaign. He contended the FOP involvement constituted a breach of the city's charter form of government, which was instituted in 1965 and which does not allow for employee organizations to become active in city politics.

Redd said Tuesday night he believes "a serious attack on our form of government has been repelled. That may sound corny but I really feel that way. This was the first time an organized group of city employees has tried to influence an election."

Asked by an onlooker if he will be hard on the police because they supported Ferguson, Redd said, "Let's hope not. I will do the best I can to be as even-handed as I can."

Ferguson could not be reached for comment by deadline.

Redd carried the First District 574 votes to 345 for Ferguson, the Third District 293 to 260, the Fourth District 193 to 128, the Fifth District 324 to 115 and the Sixth District 114 to 82.

Ferguson carried the Second District 163 to 117. Things were not so clear cut in the Third District, where Hutchinson nipped Miller by just four votes.

"I'm kind of astounded," said Hutchinson. "It was a very close vote, the closest I've been in and the closest I've ever heard of."

She said a close vote was anticipated because Miller "worked very hard" and because Arbour Park residents are upset about plans to construct an industrial park near the development. Miller lives in Arbour Park.

Miller said he was "disappointed and bewildered" by the outcome. He plans to look into a possible recount.

"If nothing else," he said, "we got things a little stirred up in Newark."

Richard G. Soehlke

Texaco names Newark man 'manager of the year'

Richard G. Soehlke of Newark, manager of Texaco's Delaware City refinery, has a favorite line he likes to drop on friends from his home state of Kansas.

"I get a kick out of telling them that I drive all the way across the state to work each morning," he said, pointing out that the jaunt from Covered Bridge Farms to the Delaware riverfront is about 580 miles less than a comparable commute across the Jayhawk State.

Soehlke spent his entire life in heartland America before moving to the East Coast in 1983. He was born in Illinois, spent much of his life in Kansas and earned degrees from the Missouri School of Mines and St. Louis University.

He began working in the oil industry in El Dorado, Kansas, for a company which was eventually acquired by Getty. Getty, of course, was in turn acquired by Texaco. "I always thought I had stayed with the same company for more than 20 years, but now I've worked for three different companies," Soehlke said, laughing.

It was Texaco which named Soehlke manager of its Delaware City plant and brought him east. The move has taken some adjustment. "There are a lot more people here than there were in Kansas," he said, adding, "But of all the locations on the East Coast, this area seems to be the nicest."

Certainly, Soehlke and the Delaware City plant have made a good match. Texaco recently named the plant its top facility for 1985, and honored Soehlke as its best plant manager for the same year.

The plant, at which about 1,000 employees of Texaco and a separate maintenance firm work each day, was cited by Texaco USA President Roland M.

Routhier for its overall performance. The award was based on an evaluation of operating procedures, maintenance, environmental considerations, planning, fire and safety programs and contributions to the company's profitability.

"I knew we were having a good year, but I didn't realize it was that good," Soehlke said.

Just how good struck home during a Texaco conference in Baton Rouge, La. when the awards were formally presented. Soehlke walked out of the room with an armful of prizes — a plaque, a framed manager of the year citation and a pennant which will fly over the Delaware City plant this year.

Soehlke said much of the credit for the awards goes to the other managers and workers at the refinery. He said his job is primarily one of coordinating the various operations.

His job also includes a great deal of public relations work. Texaco is involved in many local organizations, committees and charities and so, necessarily, is Soehlke.

The position also requires that he entertain visiting clients or Texaco officials several nights a week.

"I came home one Friday night and told my children I wanted to relax," Soehlke said, laughing. "They couldn't understand why I didn't want to do something on a Friday."

After the year Soehlke has had, certainly it was a well-deserved rest.

Kershaw tract plans hit

Possum Park residents suggest changes in proposed development

by John McWhorter

Possum Park residents packed the City/County Building in Wilmington last Tuesday night in an effort to postpone the rezoning of a 115-acre northeast Newark property.

About 75 residents, all members of Citizen Advocacy Possum Park Area, asked the county to temporarily delay the rezoning of the Kershaw tract until a proposed area micro plan can be designed.

This micro plan's goal, according to Linda Sanders, CAPPA's public relations chairman is to examine the Possum Park area as a whole, "because property lines don't necessarily dictate the best possible division of the land."

"We want to let the land dictate the development," Sanders said, "rather than using artificial property lines."

David G. Onn, CAPPA's operations president, said the organization doesn't oppose development but instead seeks to have the land developed in a sensible manner which will be most suitable for all parties involved.

"This land is only going to be developed once in our lifetime," Onn said. "We just want it to be done in an orderly fashion."

According to Sanders, there are too many questions raised and not enough answers provided concerning development of the Kershaw tract. The questions center around the issues of traffic, sewer service and water service.

The tract, which lies just outside Newark's city limit east of Paper Mill Road, north of White Clay creek and west of Possum Park Road, has only two possible entrances.

One entrance is from St. Regis Drive in Chapel Hill and the other is through Old Paper Mill Road. CAPPA argued that the Chapel Hill access would endanger neighborhood children who walk along St. Regis Drive and from Maclary Elementary School.

Also, Old Paper Mill Road is in need of improvements before it is able to handle the heavy traffic associated with home construction, CAPPA argued.

One owner of the property, Vernon E. Kershaw, has no reservations about helping fix the road. "If improvements are needed," Kershaw said, "we will contribute to have the road improved."

According to Kershaw, who plans to erect the homes over an eight year period, the road needed work years ago. New Castle County once appropriated funding, but it has since been withdrawn, he said.

The second concern expressed by CAPPA is the inadequate sewer service now being provided to the area. Current service, according to CAPPA spokesman Peter Rees, would be able to handle only 25 percent of the 285 homes being proposed.

Rees also said the City of Newark, which would provide water service to the homes, would have to increase its pump capacity to meet demand and that, as of Tuesday, April 1, there was no commitment made by the city.

"Since this development will set the tone for developing the rest of the area," Rees said, "we must integrate this land with the rest of the area."

The area includes other undeveloped farm land and in total, adds up to about 700 acres, according to William J. Cohen, a planning consultant hired by CAPPA.

Onn expressed optimism at reaching a fair solution and said CAPPA will do all it can to negotiate a settlement. "We are very willing to sit down and talk," Onn said, "we know he has invested a lot of money and that he is a good developer."

Kershaw also said he had no reservations about talking with CAPPA, but would like to begin building as soon as possible.

8th Senatorial balloting Saturday

Residents of northeastern Newark who have been besieged by literature and campaign volunteers the past several weekends will go to the polls Saturday, April 12 to choose a new 8th District state senator.

The candidates are Republican Margo Ewing Bane and Democrat

Joseph E. Reardon, one of whom will replace the seat left vacant by the resignation of John H. Arnold.

Arnold, of the Polly Drummond Hill area, left office in the wake of a redistricting controversy.

Bane, 36, is the New Castle County prothonotary and a part-time communications consultant.

Her literature carries the endorsement of civic leaders in the Newark area communities of Meeting House Hill and the Village of Polly Drummond.

Reardon, 48, is a Du Pont Co. research chemist and former president of the Red Clay School District. His literature has promoted his long history of civic involvement.

The 8th District has about 17,900 registered voters and includes the heart of the booming Pike Creek area as well as several Newark area developments along Polly Drummond Hill Road.

Speakers to consider whether newspapers are messengers or meddlers

Ben Bagdikian

"The Free Press in a Democracy: Messenger or Meddler?" will be the subject of a free public forum scheduled from 9 a.m.-3:30 p.m., Saturday, April 12, in the Loudis Recital Hall, located at Orchard Road and Amstel Avenue on the University of Delaware's Newark campus.

Sponsored by the Delaware Press Women and the Journalism Program in the University's Department of English, the forum will feature a keynote address by award-winning journalist and author Ben H. Bagdikian. The author of "The Media Monopoly," Bagdikian chairs the journalism department at the University of California at Los Angeles.

The forum is designed to provide the public, the press and newsmakers with an opportunity to define and understand their roles and interests through the thoughtful exchange of ideas.

Other speakers will include Frank L. Rizzo, former mayor of Philadelphia; James B. Steele, Pulitzer Prize-winning investigative reporter with the Philadelphia Inquirer; David Hoffman, White House reporter with the Washington Post; Randy Covington, Emmy Award-winning news director at KYW-TV in Philadelphia; Bonnie Behrend, news director at WHY-TV in Wilmington and Harry Thernal, associate editor and ombudsman at the News Journal Papers in Wilmington.

Also, Chuck Stone, senior editor and columnist at the Philadelphia Daily News and professor of English at the University; Dr. James R. Soles, professor of political science at the University; Rodney K. Smith of the Delaware Law School of Widener University; Dr. David W. Haslett, associate professor of philosophy at the University; Dr. Edward A. Nickerson, director of the University's Journalism program; and Sally Hawkins, president and general manager of WILM Radio in Wilmington.

Lunch will be available for $9 at the Blue and Gold Club on the campus, and reservations should be made in advance by calling 451-6820.

The program is funded in part by grants from the Delaware Humanities Forum, a state program of the National Endowment for the Humanities, and by the National Press Foundation in Washington, D.C.

For additional information, contact Rita K. Farrell in the University's Department of Business Administration, telephone 451-6820.

Carper

Town meeting

U.S. Rep. Thomas R. Carper will hold a town meeting in Newark on Saturday, April 12. The meeting will be held at 10:30 a.m. in Newark High School on Delaware Avenue. Carper will seek residents' views on environmental, foreign policy and pocketbook issues.

Leaves

City collection

The City of Newark's Public Works Department will hold its spring leaf collection from Monday, April 14 through Friday, April 25. The Department will follow the fall schedule, and residents with questions concerning that schedule should call the Department at 366-7045.

Plants

City sale

The fourth annual City of Newark plant sale will be held Thursday, April 24 and Friday, April 25 at the Newark Municipal Building parking lot, 220 Elkton Rd.

Sale hours will be 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Thursday and 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Friday. In case of rain Thursday, the Friday hours will be extended to 5:30 p.m.

Ornamental grasses including fountain grass, reed grass, sea oats, ribbon grass and miscanthus will be available. Perennials such as day lilies, hosta, hibiscus, plumbago, rudbeckia and sedum will also be offered for sale.

Small quantities of other plants will also be available.

Divisions of plants will be freshly dug but they will not be in pots so consumers are urged to bring their own boxes and containers.

Proceeds of the sale will be used to help defray the cost of maintaining the traffic islands. If anyone has any questions or desires additional information, call City Horticulturalist Rick Colbert at 366-7060.

A list of plants that will be offered follows. These plants possess many desirable characteristics. They are easy to maintain and they have very few insect or disease problems. The plants are also quite drought tolerant and the home owner should be able to grow these plants with relative ease.

- Lilyturf.
- Creeping lilyturf.
- Plumbago or leadwort.
- Dwarf fountain grass.
- Fountain grass.
- White false spirea.

School bill fails

Measure would have helped Christina cope with growth

by Neil Thomas

The failure of a bill which would have provided local school boards limited powers to raise taxes will put a crimp in the Christina School District's attempts to cope with overcrowding.

William A. Oberle Jr. of Newark, majority leader in the Delaware House of Representatives, had introduced House Bill 459 specifically to assist Christina with its growing pains.

The bill would have enabled local school boards to raise property taxes by 1 cent per $100 of assessed value without putting the increase to a referendum. It would have provided Christina nearly $300,000 for the purchase of mobile classroom units, units which are needed to cope with a student population which will jump 1,000 by 1990.

"This certainly limits our options," said Carole A. Boyd, Christina school board president, of the defeat of H.B. 459.

A Space Utilization committee studying Christina's space problems had hoped to ease crowded conditions by purchasing 10 mobile units while also reopening West Park Elementary School. Through redistricting, it was believed the school system could find enough space in buildings currently available to house the additional students.

The failure of H.B. 459 may mean that Christina will have to undertake more extensive redistricting than the committee had planned. An option which would have meant extensive redistricting was roundly criticized during a hearing in January.

Boyd said Christina was not completely taken aback by the failure of the bill. "All along we've had to have contingency plans in case it didn't pass," she said.

The school board will be asking for alternatives from the Space Utilization Committee. It hopes to hold a public hearing on the alternative sometime next week, Boyd said.

"Time is of the essence," she said. "We need to come up with some kind of solution as soon as possible."

Boyd added that the long-term solution to the problem is a new school, perhaps in the booming U.S. 40 corridor.

Sandy Brae

To be discussed

Residents of the Anvil Park and Arbour Park areas are planning to meet with state highway department officials to voice concern over the proposed entrance to Sandy Brae Industrial Park on Friday, according to Joseph P. Valla, vice president of the Anvil Park Civic Association.

Valla said the meeting will focus on delaying development of the park until alternative plans can be examined because the entrance doesn't meet recommendations made by the American Association of State Highway and Transportation Officials. AASHTO recommends having no more than a 3 percent grade on an entrance. Valla estimates the proposed entrance would have a grade of 5 percent.

Valla also said the builder, Newark Developers, sent the civic association a letter expressing their willingness to help in the placement of tenants so that the more industrialized and so less appealing tenants will be farthest from local residences.

Elkton Rd.

Plans on hold

An April 1 hearing concerning the rezoning of the Mayer property, located at the intersection of Christina Parkway and Elkton Road, has been postponed until further notice.

The hearing, to have been held before the New Castle County Planning Board, was postponed upon request by Bellevue Holding Co. in order for them to better address concerns voiced at a Newark public hearing and to respond to a facilities support report, according to Larry Gehrke of the holding company.

Gehrke said the report, which details the availability of sewer and water service and traffic impacts, wasn't received by him until March 20, a date which didn't allow him enough time for proper review.

State Senator James Neal of Newark said the concerns raised at a local hearing centered upon the proposal for a shopping center, which residents feel is unnecessary. Also proposed for the site is an office park.

Castle

Management Fellows

Gov. Michael N. Castle has announced the establishment of a Delaware Management Fellows Program, designed to improve the management of state government by developing a cadre of state employees with exceptional management potential.

The program was recommended by the state Compensation and Productivity Commission.

City sets classes

Horseback riding, dance among offerings

A variety of classes from horseback riding to ballet are being offered by the Newark Department of Parks and Recreation this month.

Local residents interested in registering can do so at the Department office in the Newark Municipal Building, 220 Elkton Rd. For information, call 366-7060.

Some of the classes being offered are:

Horseback riding — Open to students age 10 to adult, the class will provide riding instruction at the beginner and intermediate levels. Students will also learn braiding, mane-pulling, show preparation, basic feeding and care of tack parts.

Two six-session classes will be held, one from 4:30-5:30 p.m. Wednesdays, April 16 to May 21, and the other 9:30-10:30 a.m. Saturdays, April 19 to May 24. The fee is $60 for city residents and $65 for non-residents. Call 366-7060 for directions to the class site.

Also, private lessons and instruction for the handicapped will be available for $16 per hour. Call 366-7060.

Woodcarving and whittling — Beginners will carve many small items and advanced students will work on an individual basis on projects such as painted decoys. Class will include discussions and illustrations of types of carving, wood, tools and available books and magazines.

The five-session class will meet 7-9:30 p.m. Thursdays, April 10 to May 8 at the Newark Senior Center, East Main Street.

The fee is $17 for city residents and $19 for non-residents.

Intermediate pottery plus — The class is designed for pottery students who have some experience with ceramics. Students will concentrate on throwing large and varied forms on the wheels and exploring the possibilities of different clays and glazes.

Sessions will be held 7:30-9:30 p.m. Thursdays, April 10 to May 29 at the George Wilson Community Center on New London Road.

The fee is $40 for city residents and $42 for non-residents.

Youth ballet — Students age 5-8 will learn the five fundamental foot and arm positions while also strengthening muscles and learning balance and grace.

Two classes will be offered Saturdays, April 12 to May 31, one from 10:45-11:45 a.m. and the other from noon to 1 p.m. Classes will be held in the George Wilson Community Center on New London Road.

The fee is $12 for city residents and $14 for non-residents.

Wobegon

Home Companion

An evening of foolishness and fellowship based on Garrison Keillor's popular radio show "A Prairie Home Companion" and life in fabled Lake Wobegon, Minn., will be held at 5:30 p.m. Saturday, April 26, at Newark United Methodist Church, 69 E. Main St.

Activities will include live music, "commercials," group singing, door prizes, games, Keillor stories, and a dinner of traditional Wobegonian cuisine.

Tickets at $6 per person are available only in advance by calling 368-2273. No tickets will be available at the door. Deadline for paid reservations is April 18.

Proceeds will benefit the Reach mission program of the church, but the primary purpose of the party is to bring people together for some low-key fun.

Shipman

Comet creator

If you want to see a comet "created," plan to attend a Delaware Museum of Natural History program at 2 p.m. Sunday, April 20.

Dr. Harry Shipman, a Newarker and University of Delaware professor, will create a comet using his own special recipe as part of an illustrated talk geared to the entire family.

The program is one of several special programs planned during the museum's "Halley's Remembered" exhibit, which will be on display until April 27.

The Delaware Museum of Natural History is located on Del. 52 in Greenville. It is open 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday. Admission is $2.50 for adults and $1.75 for senior citizens, students and children six and older. Children under six are admitted free.

For details, call 658-9111.

Puppies

Obedience classes

A nine-week puppy and dog obedience program will be offered Tuesdays by the Newark Department of Parks and Recreation at West Park Center beginning April 15.

Classes for puppies and small breed dogs will meet at 7:15 p.m. and classes for older dogs, five months and older, will meet at 8:15 p.m.

Cost is $40 and includes collar, leash, and printed instructions. Class size is limited and advance registration is required. To register call 366-7060.

A similar program will be offered Thursday evenings by the New Castle County Department of Parks and Recreation beginning April 17. To register call 995-7625.

Coin Club

Maclary meeting

The Newark Coin Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday, April 14 at the Maclary Elementary School in Chapel Hill.

Jules Riever, Delaware's most famous "large cent" authority, will be the guest speaker. There will also be a hobby update.

Admission and refreshments are free. For information, call Carl Riethe at 322-2822.

Membership

Friends of Library

The Friends of the Newark Free Library will hold its annual membership drive from April 7-19.

The Friends, hailed by the Delaware State Division of Libraries as a "well-established and enthusiastic" organization when it cited Newark Free Library as one of the best in the state, will make membership forms available at the library.

Also, they will have a display window at the library entrance.

Newark Free Library is located at 750 Library Avenue, across from College Square shopping center.

Aetna

Chicken dinner

The Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Co. Ladies Auxiliary will sponsor a chicken, ham and dumpling dinner on Sunday, April 20.

The dinner will be held noon to 4 p.m. in the Aetna Fire Hall on Ogletown Road. Cost is $6.50 for adults and $3 for children 3-12. Children under three will be admitted free.

Open house

Western YMCA

The Western Branch YMCA, 2800 Kirkwood Highway, will hold a summer camps festival open house from 10 a.m. to noon Saturday, April 12.

Area families are invited to visit the Y, make use of the facility at no cost and enjoy some entertainment. There will be camp shows and displays, a children's activity center, camp registration, t-shirts, tours, prizes, special guests and more.

For details, call 453-1482.

Foxes and hounds

Winterthur exhibit details history of the fox hunt in America

The excitement of "the chase" is the focus of a special exhibition this spring at Winterthur Museum and Gardens.

"A Gentleman's Pursuit: Our Foxhunting Forefathers," on view now through June 1, highlights the history and tradition surrounding foxhunting in America. The mixed-media exhibition will be presented in the museum's Two Centuries tour reception area as part of the spring general admission tour.

Foxhunting came from Britain to America in the early 18th century with the "landed gentry," whose love of nature, horses and sport led them to find great pleasure in the hunt. As early as 1759, George Washington maintained and hunted his own pack of hounds.

Many of the traditions and customs surrounding the hunt, including costume, terminology and etiquette, have remained virtually unchanged since that time.

Three vignettes, each created with furniture, sculpture, paintings, prints, textiles, glass, ceramics, metalworks and other decorative objects, focus on the lifestyle surrounding the hunt. A dining room scene features a hunt board laden with export punch bowls, gold etched goblets and porcelain plates. Paintings of various packs of hounds, hunting scene also highlight the display.

A library vignette focuses on fox and hound and includes bronze sculpture, paintings, desk accessories and even a needlework backgammon board with a hunting scene. A gentleman's dressing room highlights "tools of the trade" with a trunk and dressing table accented with spurs, flasks, buttons, cigar and cigarette cases, a hand warmer and a sandwich case.

Objects from Winterthur Museum and Gardens and other public and private collections will be on view. Among the pieces loaned to the exhibition will be two portraits of Mr. Jeffords' Andrews Bridge Hounds sculpted in bronze by American 20th-century artist Clayton Bright and an oil painting of a lady riding sidesaddle by Frank Voss. Also in the exhibition are six paintings on wood of the Meadowbrook Hounds of Long Island by 19th-century painter G. Muss Arnold, painted in the 1880s and now owned by the National Sporting Library in Middleburg, Virginia.

"A Gentleman's Pursuit: Our Foxhunting Forefathers" is presented in conjunction with Winterthur's annual Point-to-Point races, to be held on Sunday, May 4.

As a complement to the exhibition, Winterthur will present the annual Penn MaryDel Hound Show on the museum grounds at 1 p.m. Saturday, May 3. Seven packs of American hounds will be represented, including the Radnor Hunt of Malvern, Pa., and the Rose Tree Foxhunting Club of Felton, Pa., the earliest recognized pack still operating in America.

The spring general admission tour includes the special exhibition; the 16-room Two Centuries tour; a tour of 16 rooms normally seen by reservation only; and a self-guided walking tour of the gardens. A motorized garden tram tour is available for an additional $1.50.

Tour hours are: Tuesday-Saturday, 10 a.m. - 4 p.m., and Sunday, noon - 4 p.m.. Admission is $8 for adults; $6.50 for students, 12-16, and senior citizens; free to Winterthur Guild members and children under 12.

For more information, contact the Winterthur Information and Ticket Office at 654-1548.

Ageism

Unitarian Fellowship

'Ageism: Its Myths and Stereotypes' will be the subject of a free public lecture being presented by Vivian Carlin from 1-3 p.m. Sunday, April 13 at the Unitarian Universalist Fellowship of Newark, 420 Willa Rd.

Carlin is sponsored by the Unitarian Universalist Service Committee in Boston. She is retired from the New Jersey Department of Community Affairs, Division of Aging, and has more than 16 years experience as a gerontologist.

Carlin will examine the many manifestations of ageism: ageism in society and the media; facts and fiction about aging; and major federal programs for elders are but several of the many topics to be addressed.

How ageism can be challenged in a way that reaffirms the universal interdependence of people of all ages will also be an important concern.

Carlin's lecture will be based upon her own broad experience as a gerontologist but she will also draw upon a new publication, 'The Older We Get: An Action Guide to Social Change' published by the Unitarian Universalist Service Committee.

The Fellowship

Special service

The Fellowship of Newark will hold a special evening service at 6:30 p.m. Sunday, April 27 in the Newark Center YWCA at Park Place and South College Avenue.

The service will feature the music ministry of Kindred Spirit, a group of eight talented students from Messiah College in Grantham, Pa.

Kindred Spirit will perform a variety of contemporary Christian songs by such popular artists as Amy Grant, David Meece and Andre Crouch. They will also present personal testimonies. Light refreshments will follow the service. The public is invited. For details, call 738-5829 or 737-2503.

St. Thomas

Talents auction

St. Thomas Episcopal Church, 276 S. College Ave., will hold a talents auction at 7 p.m. Saturday, April 12.

The public is invited to bid on a variety of special items and services, including a day of sailing, a custom-knit sweater, and a rose garden, to name a few.

Proceeds will be split evenly between a stained glass window project at the church and the Emmaus House for the homeless.

Babysitting and dessert will be provided. For details, call 368-4644.

Diocese

Family workshops

The Family Life Bureau of the Catholic Diocese of Wilmington will offer two programs dealing with enhancing stepparenting skills on April 28 and May 5.

They will be held in the library of St. John the Beloved School, 901 Milltown Road, Sherwood Park, from 7:30-9:30 p.m.

Approximately 16,000,000 children now live in stepfamilies and that number is increasing by approximately 500,000 each year. The adjustments to this new family structure and its multiple new kinds of relationships presents challenges, complications and concerns for both the adults and children involved.

These programs will help by sharing useful information on stepparenting. The seminars are open to all.

Persons wishing additional information or a brochure on the subject may call or write the Family Life Bureau, 1300 N. Broom Street, Wilmington, Delaware, 19806. For details, call 573-3140.

Representatives of Holy Family parish in Ogletown and St. John's - Holy Angels parish in Newark are helping the Diocese of Wilmington raise $1,040,000 for services and programs in Delaware and the Eastern Shore of Maryland.

Kirkwood

Turkey dinner

Kirkwood United Methodist Church, located on Del. 71 south of Newark, will hold a turkey dinner from 3-7 p.m. Saturday, April 12.

The family-style dinner will cost $5.50 for adults and $2 for children 4-11. Take outs will be available.

There will be a limited number of tickets available at the door. For details or reservations, call 834-4378 or 834-9257 or write: Kirkwood United Methodist Church, P.O. Box 85, Kirkwood, Del. 19708.

Newport

Victoryville Day

The Victory Christian Fellowship of Newport will hold a special Victoryville Day celebration at 2 p.m. Saturday, April 19 at the old Krebs school building, 236 N. James St., Newport.

There will be clowns, puppets and prizes. Kim Tracy, a song writer and puppeteer, will perform.

For details, call 998-0400.

University announces schedule for special festival

Lectures, pop music, children's films, gospel music and the Miss Black Students Union Pageant are all part of the 1986 Black Arts Festival, scheduled April 15-26 on the University of Delaware campus in Newark.

Opening the festivities will be a talk by poet and writer Nikki Giovanni, at 7 p.m., Tuesday, April 15, in the Rodney Room of the Perkins Student Center. Her books include "My House," "The Women and the Men," "Cotton on a Rainy Day" and "Those Who Ride the Night Winds."

On Wednesday, April 16, a rap session will be held at 6:30 p.m. in the Minority Center, 192 South College Ave.

The annual variety show is scheduled at 7:15 p.m., Friday, April 18, in the Loudis Recital Hall of the Army E. du Pont Music Building, with a dance scheduled afterward. Admission is $2 for the show and $2 for the dance, with a combined admission to both available for $3.

On Saturday, April 19, a concert with Starpoint and special guest artist flautist Keith Marks will be held at 8 p.m. in the Carpenter Sports Building. Tickets, on sale at the Perkins Student Center and B&B Tickettown in Wilmington, are $8 for the general public and $6 for those with a University Identification.

Starpoint has recorded seven albums with several hit singles including "I Just Wanna Dance With You," "Keep on It," "Don't Be So Serious," "It's So Delicious" and "It's All Yours."

On Sunday, April 20, two events are scheduled in the Perkins Student Center. A selection of children's films will be screened at 1 p.m. in the Ewing Room, and the annual Gospelrama, featuring the University of Delaware Gospel Ensemble and other area groups, will begin at 6 p.m. in the Rodney Room.

On Tuesday, April 22, cultural films on South African issues will be screened at 7 p.m. in Room 100 of the Kirkbride Lecture Hall.

A concert with Tim Carrington, performing original classical and jazz compositions on trumpet, will be held at 8 p.m., Wednesday, April 23, in the Loudis Recital Hall.

At 7 p.m., Friday, April 25, the Miss Black Students Union Pageant will be held in Bacchus at the Student Center. Admission is $1. A coronation dance is scheduled at 10 p.m. in the Rodney Room, and admission is $1.50. A combined admission to both the pageant and the dance is available for $2.

Sponsors of Black Arts Festival events include the University's Minority Center, the Minority Student Programming Advisory Board, the Black Students Union and the Student Program Association.

For additional information, contact Teresa Bruce in the University's Minority Center, telephone 451-2991.

UNIVERSITY FILE

Re-Visions

Women in history

The University of Delaware's Re-Visions lecture series will conclude Tuesday, April 15 with a lecture by Dr. Kathryn Kish Sklar on "Writing Women Back into History: How Are We Doing?"

The lecture will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Collins Room of Perkins Student Center on Academy Street. It is free and open to the public.

Sklar is a professor of history at the University of California at Los Angeles.

She has written a biography of Catharine Beecher, edited a modern edition of Beecher's 1841 book, "A Treatise on Domestic Economy," and edited the autobiography of Florence Kelley and some of the works of Harriet Beecher Stowe. She is currently working on an interpretive history of American women and political power from 1600 to the present.

A member of the advisory board for the Southern California Institute for Historical Research and Services, Sklar also has served as a member of National Research Council's Committee on Basic Research in the Behavioral and Social Sciences and the California Council on the Humanities.

Sklar received her bachelor's degree from Radcliffe College and her doctorate from the University of Michigan. She has received numerous fellowships including the Guggenheim fellowship, the Woodrow Wilson International Center fellowship and the Rockefeller Foundation Humanities fellowship.

The Re-Visions lecture series, now in its third year, spotlights the changes in the various liberal arts disciplines under the impact of feminist scholarship.

Sun Bear

'Path of Power'

Sun Bear, a native American teacher and lecturer, will discuss "The Path of Power" at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, April 9 at the University of Delaware.

The lecture will be held in the Ewing Room of the Perkins Student Center on Academy Street.

Sun Bear will speak about his experiences in teaching people from all walks of life how to find and follow their own paths of power.

According to Sun Bear, "Your path of power is your reason for being alive upon the earth at this time. When you find this path, your life becomes clearer, and many of the little problems that bother you now recede in importance."

Born on the White Earth Reservation in Minnesota, Sun Bear received his early training from his uncles who were medicine men. Since then, he has studied with Native and non-Native teachers across the country. Most of his knowledge comes from the visions that he has had during his lifetime.

Sun Bear has taught at the University of California at Davis through the Tecumseh Indian Studies Program, and he worked for 10 years in Hollywood as a technical consultant for television shows. He also did acting and stunt work for many movies and television shows.

In 1961, he founded Many Smokes, an internationally distributed earth awareness magazine. He is the author of several books.

India

Focus of programs

Familiar and unfamiliar aspects of India will be featured in the first of several public programs presented by the University of Delaware's Division of Continuing Education in cooperation with the Indian Students Association at the University.

The programs are in conjunction with the exhibition "The Message of Mahatma Gandhi" on display through May 14 in Clayton Hall on the University's north campus in Newark.

On Sunday, April 13, a BBC/Time-Life color film on "Hinduism: 330 Million Gods" will be screened from 2:30-3:30 p.m. in Clayton Hall. After the film, a discussion — led by faculty and a spokesperson from the Indian community — will examine the relationship among Gandhian-Hindu thought, Judeo-Christian tradition and contemporary India.

The free program will present the religious experience of the majority of Indians today in two contrasting locations: the city of Banaras, now called Varanasi, and a remote village visited only by priests and storytellers. The program will conclude with a reception and refreshments.

"The Message of Gandhi," an exhibition of photographs and memorabilia of the life and ideas of the great Hindu nationalist and spiritual leader, was assembled by the Indian Council of Cultural Relations in New Delhi and made available in this country by the Gandhi Memorial Foundation in Washington, D.C.

Clayton Hall is open from 8 a.m.-8:30 p.m., Mondays through Thursdays; and from 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m., Fridays. For weekend hours, call Clayton Hall's front desk, telephone 451-1259.

For more information, contact Patricia Kent in the University's Division of Continuing Education, telephone 451-8841.

Fussell

'Writing in Wartime'

A talk on "Writing in Wartime: The Uses of Innocence" will be delivered by Paul Fussell, literary critic and cultural historian, at 4 p.m. Thursday, April 10 in Room 110 of Memorial Hall on the University of Delaware campus in Newark.

Fussell currently is Donald T. Regan Professor of English at the University of Pennsylvania and also is a contributing editor for The New Republic.

He is the author of "Abroad: British Literary Traveling Between the Wars," "Class: A Guide through the American Status System" and "The Great War and Modern Memory," which won the National Book Award, and award from the National Book Critics Circle and the Ralph Waldo Emerson Award of Phi Beta Kappa.

Fussell gained some of his knowledge of war as an infantry officer during World War II where he received the Bronze Star and twice had been wounded in combat.

Alumni's

House tour

Colonial, Victorian and contemporary homes in the Newark, Middletown and New Castle area will be the focus of the University of Delaware Human Resources Alumni Association House Tour scheduled from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Saturday, April 19.

Proceeds from the tour, which includes 17 homes and five places of interest, will be used to support the HRAA Scholarship Program.

Tour tickets are $10 in advance and are available at B&B Tickettown, 322 West Ninth St., Wilmington; the Newark Department Store in the Newark Shopping Center; and The Treasure Chest, 26 West Main St., Middletown.

A luncheon, served by HRAA members at the Newark Senior Center, will be available for $3.50, but luncheon tickets must be purchased in advance at the locations.

On the day of the tour, tickets will be $12 and will be on sale at the Newark Department Store, The Treasure Chest, Alumni Hall and the Blue and Gold Club on the University campus.

The tour is restricted to adults, and participants must provide their own transportation.

Among the tour's attractions are the home of University President and Mrs. E.A. Trabant; Alumni Hall; an 18th century farmhouse; a tri-level home in Skyline Ridge, four Victorian homes, Old St. Anne's Church and the Everett Theater in Middletown; and a brick home on The Strand in New Castle.

For additional information, contact Doris Hoeflinger in the University's College of Human Resources, telephone 451-2302.

Biologist

Receives grant

Dr. Robin Morgan, molecular biologist at the University of Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station, has received a grant from the University of Delaware Research Foundation.

She will attempt to clone the genomes of two serotypes of Marek's Disease virus. The disease causes annual losses of millions of dollars among commercial broiler operations on the Delmarva peninsula.

Morgan will use recombinant DNA techniques to identify key genes and gene products of the virus strains. Such clones should supply tools for constructing recombinant vaccine strains for use in the control of Marek's Disease — the ultimate goal of this research.

Morgan, an assistant professor in the department of animal science and agricultural biochemistry, already has a university/industry partnership grant in support of her efforts to develop a genetically engineered Marek's Disease vaccine.

She says genetically engineered vaccines, as opposed to other types, can be constructed to contain specific genes of interest to researchers.

Conference

Museum studies

The seventh museum studies conference, "Museum Leadership: Styles and Structures for the Future," cosponsored by the University of Delaware Museum Studies Program and Museum Studies Association, will be held on Saturday, April 12, at Clayton Hall on the University's north campus in Newark.

The conference will feature Raymond F. Pisney, executive director of the Missouri Historical Society, as keynote speaker. Commentary on Pisney's remarks will be offered by Daniel R. Porter III, director of the New York State Historical Society; John R. Kinard, director of the Anacostia Neighborhood Museum of the Smithsonian Institution; and Susan Stitt, director of the Museums at Stony Brook.

The morning session will examine the variety of leadership styles currently in use in museums and how these styles can be adapted to the future demand of museum administration.

The afternoon session will examine museum leadership from the perspective of staff members and trustees. Afternoon speakers include Howard P. Brokaw, a trustee for the Academy of Natural Sciences of Philadelphia; Judy Herman, codirector of Education of the Please Touch Museum; Stephen T. Bruni, director of the Delaware Art Museum; and James R. Blackaby, curator of the Mercer Museum of the Bucks County Historical Society.

The conference is open to the public. Registration fee is $25 and $15 for students and includes lunch and a wine and cheese reception.

This conference was planned by the students and faculty of the Museum Studies Program.

For more information, contact Sherrie L. Hoyt, at the University's Museum Studies Program, 451-1251.

THE ARTS

by Phil Toman

Leonard Slatkin is one of the very few American born and trained music directors of a major American orchestra, the St. Louis Symphony. These two views of him at work were taken in their new home, Powell Symphony Hall. Slatkin and the orchestra will be at the Grand Opera House for one performance, Tuesday, April 15. Their concerts and RCA Red Seal recordings have made them a world-class group.

The St. Louis Symphony under the baton of its music director Leonard Slatkin is paying a return visit to Delaware's Center for the Performing Arts next Tuesday at 8 p.m. Everyone who enjoys symphonic music superbly performed is happy about the event.

The Grand Opera House has been able to book Maestro Slatkin and this world-class orchestra for the past several seasons and it always has been a sell out. If you have ever had the opportunity to hear them at the Grand, you know why. If you haven't, here is your chance to discover the answer for yourself.

As some of my readers may know, I do 11 broadcasts a week on WNRK. The programs heard daily at 9:30 a.m. and 5:20 p.m. have the same name as my column. On one of those broadcasts I reviewed a new St. Louis Symphony recording on the RCA Red Seal label. I was delighted with the performance Slatkin and the orchestra gave of Prokofiev's Symphony No. 5. I liked it so much I even played some of it on my Sunday program, "Descant."

How pleased I was to learn that the recording won the first Grammy for the St. Louis group. It was like the icing on the cake, a cake which has included worldwide tours and critical acclaim wherever they make music.

The St. Louis Symphony is in its 106th year. It hasn't always been easy for the men and women from St. Louis. This international attention is not something which has followed them from their first steps in a distant 1880 on the banks of our country's greatest river. The fame began to grow after the appointment of Vladimir Golschmann in 1931 as the music director. He was to remain that until 1958. During that period the world's great performers began making regular stops at their home, the Kiel Opera House.

As a child I first became familiar with the group thanks to 78 rpm records from RCA Victor. Their recordings were played on local radio stations and must have been quite popular judging from the frequency of the plays.

Leonard Slatkin is the first American music director in the orchestra's history. It has been during his tenure that the greatest reputation has been built. There has been unprecedented growth in the orchestra's artistic stature and international prestige.

According to Scott Hoerl of the Grand Opera House, there are a few tickets still available for the single performance next Tuesday. The prices are $19, $22 and $27. Scott advises a quick call to the box office to avoid disappointment.

While at the Grand, Slatkin and the St. Louis will perform works by Berstein, Schwantner and Shostakovich.

I hate to be considered too provincial, but I must admit it really pleases me when an American orchestra under an American conductor can scale the heights. Through their concert schedule and RCA Red Seal recordings St. Louis is doing just that. Try not to miss them on Tuesday.

Players to stage 'Majority of One'

Lori Murray (left), Eleanor Geagan and Ed Abramson sip Japanese sake in a scene from the Chapel Street Players' production of Leonard Spigelgass' "A Majority of One."

The next production of Newark's Chapel Street Players will be Leonard Spigelgass' comedy, "A Majority of One."

There will be seven performances, (April 18, 19, 25 and 26 and May 1, 2 and 3), all starting at 8:15 p.m. in the Players' theater, 27 N. Chapel St., Newark.

The story concerns the budding friendship between a Jewish widow whose only son was killed by the Japanese in World War II and an important Japanese industrialist. Although its underlying theme is that intolerance is a folly stemming from a lack of understanding, the play is more heartwarming hilarity than message as the couple discover each other's traditions.

The Chapel Street cast, under the direction of Bob Withers, includes Eleanor Geagan as the widow, Ed Abramson as the Japanese gentleman, and Carlton Bostic, Gary Caufield, Kathleen LaMonica, Bruce Lee, Alice Megonigal, Lori Murray, Lucy Osteimer, Tracy Parker and Art Sennett.

Tickets, at $6 for adults and $4 for youths under 18, may be ordered by telephoning 368-2248.

Concert

New Ark Chorale

The New Ark Chorale will present a spring concert at Newark United Methodist Church at 8 p.m. Sunday, April 20.

The Chorale's spring program will include Joseph Haydn's "Missa Brevis," (the "Missa Brevis Sancti Joannis de Deo," called "Small Organ Mass") and Johannes Brahms "Liebeslieder Walzer" (Opus 52). There will also be some pleasantries from the pen of Hoagy Carmichael arranged for choir.

Newark United Methodist Church is located on 69 E. Main St. with plenty of parking available in city lots. No admission will be charged, but free will donations will be received.

The 20-voice New Ark Chorale is in its ninth year as a recognized, quality choral ensemble in Delaware under the leadership this year of Music Director Susie Johnson. It has appeared throughout the Delaware Valley presenting a variety of classical choral literature. Johnson is a graduate in music from East Carolina University.

Soiree

Chamber music

A chamber music soiree has been scheduled at 8 p.m. Saturday, April 19 in Loudis Recital Hall of the Amy E. du Pont Music Building on the corner of Amstel Avenue and Orchard Road in Newark.

With direction by Francis Orval, French horn soloist and recording artist, the event is sponsored by the University of Delaware's Department of Music and offered to the public at no charge.

Selections for the evening are: "L'Oiseau des bois Idylle" by Franz Doppler, "Petite Symphonie" by Charles Gounod; and "Serenade in d minor Opus 44," by Antonin Dvorak, which is performed following intermission and comprises the second half of the program.

University music faculty members performing in the soiree include Eileen Grycky, flute; Francis Orval, horn; Timothy McGovern, bassoon and Douglas McNamee, cello. Other performers are horn players Anna Axelsson, Ruby Miller, and Erik Rapp; oboists Sara McGovern and Leslie Michelic; clarinetists Luciano Leone and Evan Wernberg; bassoonists Vanessa Pringle, Loe Lee and Janice Hayes; and Victoria Wells, flute.

Director of the concert, Orval is assistant professor of music at the University of Delaware and has had 20 years of experience as principal horn with major orchestras in Belgium and Luxembourg.

Concert

Performing Arts Society

Donald Rittenhouse of Newark will be the guest conductor when the Performing Arts Society of Delaware Chorus and Orchestra performs in concert at 8 p.m. Friday, April 18 at the Cathedral Church of St. John at Concord Avenue and Market Street in Wilmington.

The program will include Handel's "Dettingen Te Deum," Britten's "Rejoice in the Lamb," and Telemann's "Suite in A Minor" featuring Joan Marsh Sparks on flute.

Soloists will be Nancy Froyland Hoerl, Joan Goodfellow, James Longacre, Cal Brackin, John Dossett and David Hearn.

Admission is $5 and $3. For tickets, call 478-0937.

Photos

Lancaster life

"In Plain Sight," an exhibition of photographs by Lancaster County photographers Chris Welch, Bob Lowing, Stephanie Knopp and Dennis Witmer, will be on display April 11-24 at the University of Delaware's Janvier Gallery, 56 West Delaware Ave., Newark.

A free public reception for the photographers will be held 7-9 p.m. Friday, April 11 at Janvier Gallery.

The Janvier Gallery is open from 7-9 p.m., Mondays and Thursdays, and by appointment. To make an appointment, call (215) 593-2782.

Redden

Photos on display

Photographs by Joe Redden will be on display March 31-April 19 at the Newark Free Library, 750 Library Ave.

Local actors 'go in style'

Trio cast in CBT's 'Arsenic'

In the movie "Going In Style," actors Art Carney, George Burns and Lee Strasberg play three senior citizens bored with life. To add some excitement to their days they decide to rob a bank.

Three local senior citizens have found a much more law abiding way to spend their retirement time by adopting the off-screen roles of Carney, Burns and Strasberg as actors.

Franklin Sykes, 69, Dr. Lester Eisenberg, 75, and Bob Cornelius, who describes himself as "not the oldest since Lester came along," all have roles in the Covered Bridge Theatre's upcoming production of "Arsenic and Old Lace," to be staged in Elkton, Md.

All come from diverse backgrounds, but share a basic love of theater and have common memories. As they sat together for this interview a lively discussion ensued over the exact name of the first motion picture with sound and exactly who was the most famous classic violinist of the 1930's.

Franklin Sykes, who portrays Dr. Harper in the show, has appeared in previous CBT productions including "Cole," "Spoon River Anthology," and the children's show "Alice in Wonderland" where he was Humpty Dumpty, the king of Hearts, the voice of the Cheshire cat, and a harmonica player.

He is a former math teacher at Christiana High School, and believes much of his acting ability comes straight from the classroom.

"I have over 20 years teaching experience," he said, "and every teacher is an actor. He writes his own acts and applauds himself." Sykes is originally from Youngstown, Ohio, and spent 14 years in the Army. He first appeared on stage in 1967 in a production of the "Merry Widow." In addition to acting, he is an accomplished singer and dancer.

"I got involved in theater originally from watching plays," he said. "I have a tremendous curiosity and I always wondered how actors did what they did. I wondered what was real, if that was the way the actors looked or if they were wearing make-up. I was just curious about everything."

Bob Cornelius is easily the veteran of the trio, having worked in community theater for the past 58 years. He's portrayed more characters than he can remember although he jokes that "until now I always played someone older than myself."

He is originally from Ohio and attended Oberlin College. He served in the armed forces and was stationed in Washington, D.C. He originally came to this area looking for work.

He found employment as an industrial engineer for the DuPont Co., although at one point he tried commercial theater work in New York. His voice could be heard on many radio theater programs, with his most memorable role being that of Little Eva's father.

Eventually Cornelius went back to work for DuPont and became active in the Wilmington Drama League. He was also a founding member of the University Drama Group at the University of Delaware, which is now known as the Chapel Street Players. His name was also frequently associated with shows produced by the Arden Players Guild and the Arden Singers.

Cornelius said he prefers directing to acting and is most proud of a production of "Death of a Salesman," which he once directed at the University of Delaware.

In "Arsenic and Old Lace" he appears as Mr. Witherspoon.

Lester Eisenberg, a retired osteopathic physician, is the group's newcomer. Although he has enjoyed watching theater from the audience for years, he makes his stage debut in "Arsenic and Old Lace."

A widower, Eisenberg happily complains "all my children try so hard to keep me busy and I end up being busier than they could ever keep me!"

In "Arsenic and Old Lace," Eisenberg portrays Mr. Gibbs, whom he describes as "a transit, bitter soul who passes through as perhaps a threat to these McBethian women."

The CBT production is scheduled for April 11, 12, 18 and 19 at 8 p.m. and April 13 at 3 p.m. Admission is $4 for evening performances and $3 for the matinee.

For more information, contact Della Lied at the theater, (301) 392-3780.

Our improvements will make a noticeable improvement in the way you mow

Starting as low as $1095<sup>00</sup>

John Deere Riding Mowers now carry a new 30-inch mower and 6 1/2-bushel rear bagger option.

The mower deck is 10 percent heavier than last year. And its lip is rolled under for 38 percent more airflow to improve cutting and bagging. Optional gauge wheels provide smoother mowing. The bagger has a sealing lip which reduces grass blowout plus a screen to keep the chute centered. Plus a hopper top, injection-molded for durability.

ATA

Dreamcoat

The joint production by Artists Theatre Association and Wilmington Drama League of "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat" will continue April 11, 12, 13, 18 and 19 at the Drama League on Lea Boulevard in Wilmington.

The musical, conceived by the authors of "Cats" and "Jesus Christ Superstar," was originally a 25 minute cantata written for a boys high school in England. Once a full scale musical, it fared well in London and on Broadway and enjoyed success as a national touring production with Andy Gibb featured as Joseph.

The delightful comedy, based on the biblical tale of Joseph and his 11 brothers, combines music from vaudeville, country western, calypso, and 60's rock and roll. The Wilmington production will feature Marcel Forestieri, who played "Little El" nationally for 10 years, to help revive the music of the '60's.

Another highlight in this production will be the dreamcoat itself, designed by local artist Mitch Poulouin. As the title suggests, it will sport a rainbow of colors and fabrics and literally light up the stage. Volunteers from the Wilmington Senior Center are doing the actual handiwork.

Curtain is at 8:15 p.m. (7:45 p.m. on Sunday, April 13). Tickets are available by calling Barbara Reynolds at 655-4982.

DSO

U.D. performers

Winners of the third annual University of Delaware Student Concerto Competition will perform as soloists with the Delaware Symphony, conducted by Stephen Gunzenhauser, at 8 p.m. Wednesday, April 16 in Loudis Recital Hall, Amstel Avenue and Orchard Road, Newark.

Clarinetist Evan Wennerberg, a junior from Sussex, N.J. will perform a movement from Jean-Xavier Lefevre's "Concerto No. 4 for Clarinet and Orchestra in B-flat." Steven Combs, a baritone and sophomore student from Manassquan, M.J., will sing "Der Vogelfanger Bin Ich Ja" by W.A. Mozart and "Revenge, Timotheus Cries" by G.F. Handel.

Helen Carnevale, marimbist and senior percussion major from Wilmington, will perform "Fantasy on Japanese Woodprints, Opus 211," by Alan Hovhaness. Mezzo-soprano Jennifer Wohl has chosen "Mon Coeur S'Ouvre a ta Voix" from "Samson et Dalila" by Saint-Saens, and two selections from Handel's "Messiah." Wohl is a senior from Landenberg, Pa.

Junior student Victor Ann Wells, flute, will perform Cecile Chaminade's "Concertino for Flute and Orchestra, Opus 107." Wells resides in New Castle. Pianist Carmelina D'Arro, a freshman performance major from Wilmington, will play one movement from "Concerto No. 1 in C, Opus 15, for Piano and Orchestra by L. van Beethoven.

Sponsored by the University's Office of the President and the Department of Music, the event is free and open to the public.

Delos

Concerts Thursday

The Delos String Quartet will hold a pair of concerts — one formal and one informal — in Newark on Thursday, April 10.

The informal concert will be held at noon Thursday in Gallery 20, 20 Orchard Rd. The program is free and lunch will be available for $3.

A formal concert will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday in Loudis Recital Hall, Amstel Avenue and Orchard Road. The program will include Haydn's "Quartet in D Major, Opus 20, No. 4," Shostakovich's "Quartet No. 7" and Beethoven's "Quartet in F Major, Opus 59, No. 1."

Concert

Fred Small

Fred Small, one of America's best new folksingers and songwriters, will be performing for the Green Willow Folk Club on Saturday, April 12.

Small, a former attorney, left his position with the Conservation

Law Foundation of New England in 1980 in order to pursue a full-time career in folk music.

His songs of social conditions and everyday people tell stories that get audiences thinking, laughing, and singing along. His songs have been sung by Pete Seeger, Priscilla Herdman, Charlie King, and Lui Collins, among others, and his lyrics have been praised by Seeger and Ralph Nader.

In addition to touring and performing in folk clubs and coffeehouses, Small also performs for many social organizations at conferences and protests. This will be his first appearance in Delaware. His three albums have been highly praised by critics, audiences, and other folk musicians.

The concert will be held at Emmanuel Episcopal Church, 17 Street and Riverview Avenue, Wilmington, starting at 8 p.m. Tickets are $6 in advance and $7 at the door. All children under 12 are admitted free.

For reservations and other information, call the Green Willow at 994-0495.

Concert

First State Symphonic

The First State Symphonic Band, a community organization of 65 members directed by Lloyd H. Ross of Newark, will present a concert at 3 p.m. Sunday, April 20 in the auditorium of Dickinson High School on Milltown Road.

Special guest soloist will be Thomas Hazelton of Concord, Cal. Hazelton will play the "Finale" from Symphony Number 3 (The Organ Symphony) by Saint-Saens. He will also play a special organ solo with the band in the "Stars and Stripes Forever" by John Philip Sousa.

Other selections to be performed by the band include "West Side Story," "George Washington Bridge" by Schumann, "Commando March" by Barber, and Arnold's Four Scottish Dances.

Tickets for the Sunday afternoon concert are available from band members or at the door. Admission is $5 for adults and $3 for students and senior citizens. For details call 454-2325.

COVER STORY

Nick DiIorio tries to untangle his line, which has become snared in creek-front brush.

FISH/from 1a

year and although it gets more crowded each year, you still catch some fish. That's what is all about, something for dinner tonight."

But the crowds proved to be too much for some people. As lines grew tangled and a hook or two flew dangerously close, tempers flared.

"It's insanity," said Earl Wesselman of Newark. "You've got at least 100 people vying for the same spot and half of them don't know what they're doing. You've got more cut lines and people cussing, and if they're enjoying themselves I don't see how."

Wesselman and companion Bruce Chalmers, also of Newark, had just caught the maximum six fish apiece in less than one and one-half hours and were on their way home for a breakfast of fish and eggs.

"There was a guy who was fishing through us," continued Wesselman, with a laugh. "It was double decker fishing out there. It's nuts, but that's where the fish are and they're a lot bigger this year."

One of the reasons for the large fish was the Delaware Trout Association, which stocked various creeks in New Castle County. The stock included 30 trophy size fish.

The Association also set up several coffee tents along the more populated fishing holes to warm up chilled anglers.

"There is really nothing you can do to relieve opening day pressure," said Association member Ron Foster, who was stationed at the Thompson Bridge coffee tent. "The places that are closest to the road are the most heavily fished and the state puts the most fish there because they want the fish to be caught. It's a give and take proposition. The fish don't hold over well and if they're not caught they will die."

Foster, added that more than 50 percent of the opening day human population will leave Saturday afternoon and not return to fish again until next season, while most of the fish will remain in the waters for several weeks.

"There will be a lot of fish left tomorrow," said Foster. "After the first half hour the fish have had so much bait and stuff thrown at them that they just kind of settle and don't bite that well."

Foster said that at 7:30 a.m. Saturday, when the fishing season first began and lines were officially dropped, there ensued a wild free for all between hungry fish and eager anglers.

"During the first 15 minutes the fish just come flying out," said Foster with a smile.

"Everybody's pulling in a fish. Lines are tangled and going in every direction and it's really a zoo. But if you ask any of these guys they would say that they would be back in a minute to do it again."

Although the veteran anglers were the rule and not the exception, there were many first time fishermen out testing the waters. One small hopeful was showing a grand flare for casting and trolling the murky waters despite coming up empty.

"Daddy, daddy, I think I got a fish!" shouted five-year-old T. Mike Ferguson as his line got caught on the bottom of White Clay Creek. As his father walked over to loosen the line both were disappointed they had only reeled in the same little corn niblet. Seconds later the little niblet was once again entering the waters in search of a potential suppertime feast.

"This is the first day that I've fished," said T. Mike shyly. "It's fun because you catch fish," he added, turning his head back to the duties at hand.

His father, Mike Ferguson, looked on proudly, although he seemed somewhat out of place without the typical fishing wardrobe of waders and tackle. "I'm not a fisherman," he said with a laugh. "I'm out here with my wife and T. Mike. We're having a great time and I guess this is one of the 'in' things I'm going to have to learn how to do."

Along with son T. Mike, this was Ferguson's first introduction to the modern situation a bit of a carnival. "I'm surprised" he said. "Not being involved in this I was surprised that so many people would get up so early in the morning to do this type of thing."

Moments later, T. Mike and his mother Carol untangled lines, while across the brook little Nick DiIorio was battling a two foot bush with all his might and the bush was getting the better of it. Carol just smiled as she looked around at the pastoral scene.

"It's kind of like a fever," she said. "You can catch it very easily and have a lot of fun."

OPINION

POSTSCRIPT

by Neil Thomas

Now before any of our avid outdoorsmen get too angry about what I am about to say, let me make it clear that I enjoy fishing as much as the next guy.

There is little in life more peaceful than standing on the cool sand of a deserted beach, the sun setting at your back, and waiting for a big blue to bite. Or taking your skiff out to a lonely stretch of water and sitting in the jun, the boat bobbing gently in the wavelets.

I will admit to one tiny idiosyncrasy — I don't like to catch anything. Usually I don't even bait the hook. First off, I never liked the idea of jabbing a sharp object through the fish's jaw because it's not something I ever wanted anyone to do to me.

Secondly, I don't like the taste of fresh fish. Give me Gorton's any day.

But I do like the idea of spending time outside, alone with my thoughts on the earth's cool waters.

And that, I suppose, is why I have trouble understanding what fun anyone gets out of the annual opening day of Delaware's trout season on the White Clay Creek.

It's bank-to-bank people, with nearly as many fishermen as fish. Looking over photographs of the scene, I was thinking of sending our material to Field and Crowd magazine.

How any of those trout manage to run the gauntlet is beyond me, with anglers lined up on both sides of the main channel yard after yard after yard. It is amazing that there have been no serious injuries, what with all the hooks sailing through the cramped air space.

It is also a tribute to etiquette of the local fishermen that they can maintain any sort of order doing the business of the day.

Sure, even this cynic will admit opening day is a fine way to renew friendships, introduce the kids to fishing and continue age-old traditions. But it would seem there would have to be a more sane way to manage things.

Perhaps bank space could be "rented," much in the manner the City of Newark will be apportioning sidewalk space to downtown street merchants. That way there would be less congestion and everyone would still have a fair chance at the trout of his or her dreams. And the proceeds could be used to help protect the fragile White Clay basin.

CAPITOL COMMENT

by Rep. Tom Carper

It's never too early to draw attention to the critical importance of firefighting, fire safety and fire prevention.

Likewise, we can never say enough about the First State's volunteer and career firefighters, all 9,000-plus of them. Just look at the outstanding job they have done in controlling the recent outbreak of marsh and brush fires throughout our state.

The Delaware Volunteer Firemen's Association can boast a model record, training program and membership, as we will be reminded during its September annual convention. Most states aren't so lucky.

Firefighting is a family and community affair, with everyone from your friends and neighbors literally risking their lives to protect others, to the thousands from the Ladies' Auxiliary raising money, driving cars, cooking meals and providing moral support.

There is an individual commitment that we owe to these citizens, I'm trying to do my part, in a small way, through public service announcements that will be aired in Delaware later this spring and summer. These messages caution all of us against careless smoking, haphazard use of fuels and cleaning chemicals, and reckless handling of flammable liquids. We serve ourselves and our neighborhoods well to begin exercising care right now.

Equally important, I believe there is an appropriate federal role in the firefighting partnership. Unfortunately, recent years have seen constant efforts to dissolve this partnership. This is bad news to a fellow Delawarean, James Monihan of Lewes, chairman of the National Volunteer Fire Council and its 1.5 million members.

In recent discussions with me and in his March 12 testimony before a Congressional subcommittee, Monihan was justifiably smoldering over efforts to end federal funding for the U.S. Fire Administration and the National Fire Academy, as well as elimination of a modest stipend program that makes it possible for thousands of volunteers to obtain training at the National Fire Academy.

"This means that the progress made and products developed by the U.S. Fire Administration and the scientific strides made and research underway at the Center for Fire Research will be lost," Monihan said in his testimony.

"These programs will be discarded by a nation that maintains the highest fire incidence in the civilized world, that annually sees 6,000 of its citizens die from fire, and witnesses tens of thousands more burned and hideously disfigured for life."

I intend once again to fight for reauthorization of these vital programs.

Spartans eye state title

by Bruce Johnson

Graduating only three members from last year's team which reached the state tournament semi-finals, the St. Mark's High School softball squad is a leading candidate for the coveted state championship crown.

Yet Spartan head coach Tom Parkins is more concerned with other goals and views the state championship as a secondary aspiration. "Things like learning responsibility, dedication, commitment, teamwork and leadership are the things I'd like to see the team accomplish," said Parkins of his team, which has a record of 2-1 so far this season. "If we get to the state tournament, which I think we can, it will be a by-product of all that other stuff."

Unlike some coaches who emphasize the winning percentage, Parkins believes that the priority in any high school sport is to have fun. "I really don't want to see so much emphasis put on the state championship tournament," he said. "I'd rather see the kids go out and play and enjoy the season. After all, it's just a game. It's not a career or a job, it's something to be enjoyed."

However, while the Spartan softballers are having fun and learning about the responsibilities of teamwork and dedication, they could very well find themselves in the state tournament at the end of the year. Although the Spartans graduated two first team All-State players in centerfielder Colleen Reed and pitcher Linda Donahue, the girls boast a well-balanced, talented team that has tournament experience.

Filling in the vacancy at pitching will be Terre Alessandrini, who has already hurled a no-hitter in an opening day 12-0 victory over Caesar Rodney. Also seeing action on the mound will be control pitcher Jill Kelly.

Backing up the pitching staff is a sure handed group of athletes. "Defensively we're pretty sound," said Parkins. "As long as we don't give up any walks we're not going to hurt ourselves defensively. There are a few inexperienced people out there, but they're learning fast."

Offensively, the Spartans look solid as well. In three games they are averaging more than eight runs a game despite Parkins claim that they haven't reached their offensive potential. "There are a few question marks in people who expected to hit the ball better but haven't so far," he said. "Hopefully they're just in an early season slump and will get out of it."

The Spartans are led by a pair of seniors, catcher Kelly Boyce and first baseman Lois Bukowski. The rest of the infield starts Vicky Werkheiser at second base, hard-hitting Lisa Mendez at shortstop, and sophomore Patty Conomon and freshman Marla Brumbaugh at third base. Christine Schiavoni will patrol leftfield, Jackie Conomon will play center and Judy Conomon and Carla Jones will share rightfield.

"The key to this season is going to be teamwork," said Parkins. "If we can stick together as a team and help each other out then we'll be okay because there's a lot of talent on this team."

A passed ball leads to another St. Mark's score in win over Newark.

Spartan bats explode

Offense carries defending champs past Newark, William Penn

by Bruce Johnson

Prior to last week's game, the St. Mark's High School baseball team was 1-1 and averaging only 3.5 runs a game. But according to Spartan skipper Tom Lemon, that was B.H. — Before Hitting.

After Hitting, the Spartans exploded for 21 runs in two games, defeating William Penn 10-4 on Friday and Newark 12-3 on Saturday to boost their record to 3-1.

"I kept telling them that if we're not a good hitting team then I'm crazy, because we are," said Lemon. "It just finally came around."

The Spartans proved the sanity of their coach with three big inning performances over the weekend, combining for 18 of the 22 runs in those innings.

Against the Colonials, the Spartans sent 12 batters to the plate in the third inning, scoring six times on four walks, five singles, a wild pitch and a passed ball to take a 7-1 lead.

From there, senior pitcher Rich McFarland closed the door, scattering 11 hits to gain his second victory of the season against no losses. He has an impressive 2.50 earned run average.

On Saturday against Newark, the Spartan offensive juggernaut erupted in the second and third innings, scoring eight and four runs respectively with a combination of solid hitting, aggressive base running and four Newark errors. Leftfielder John Mangan led the Spartans with a triple, single one run batted in Number eight batter Joe DeGregory stroked a double and a single which accounted for three RBI's.

"We've got great hitters all the way through the order," said Lemon of the Spartan offense.

"You can go right down the order to DeGregory and (Ralph) Cicconi (number nine batter) and I tell you right now they're not outs. We try to put a line-up on the field of nine hitters and no outs. We're very offensive minded and we want to get as many hitters as we can up there."

Senior lefthander John Giordano picked up the victory, his first of the year against one loss. He also sports a 2.50 ERA.

For Lemon, Spartan pitching has been a pleasant surprise so far this season, with McFarland and

Newark softball rebuilding

Often the success of a high school sports team is an easy thing to predict. For example, one look at the Newark High School softball roster, which has 13 underclassmen filling the vacancies left by seven graduating starters, reveals problems.

But rosters don't show the character of a team and Newark's head coach Lynea Mosteller will be the first to tell you that what the 'Jackets lose in talent, they make up for in determination.

"They are a very personable bunch of kids," said Mosteller of the 'Jackets who have suffered two early season setbacks to North East, Md. and Elkton, Md. "They are willing to work and they get along very well with each other. They're just a good group to work with."

But Mosteller realizes that character alone does not build championship teams. With seven sophomores, five juniors and one freshman, she is hoping to build a team for the future.

"Since we're not going to win all our games, I'm hoping to give each kid a chance to play in the games we know we aren't going to win," said Mosteller. "Since I know how we are going to do this year I see no sense in letting the kids sit on the bench and not play. This way I can see what they can do and they can gain experience."

As for this year, well, Mosteller and the girls are going to keep busy.

"We've got an awful lot to learn," she said. "We're weak on hitting and pitching, but hitting is where we really suffer."

Although the line-ups will change, look for freshman Pam Wisniewski behind the plate and juniors Lisa Roberson and Jackie West to share the pitching and first base duties.

Senior Amy Schaeffer will start at second base, sophomore Tameka Wright will play shortstop, and sophomores Wendy Miller and Claire Ellis will share the duties at third. Sophomores Jessica Crook, Kim Stretawski, Jessica Geiger and Pam Saun will spend time in the outfield while juniors Stephanie Miller and Lou Ann Hargrove, and senior Amy Cairo will be used in various places defensively.

Sophomore Kim Langston and senior Tina Ruiz will fill out the pitching rotation.

Scotty Duncan

Blue Hen golf coach boasts superb record

by Elbert Chance

Talented Blue Hen baseball coach Bob Hannah has garnered more than 500 victories. Dynamic Tubby Raymond has one of the best records in 1-AA football. But the top coach among the University of Delaware's stable of winners is soft-spoken Raymond B. "Scotty" Duncan, who has never had a losing season.

Entering his 23rd year as varsity golf coach, Duncan boasts an impressive 287-78 dual meet record, a handsome 78.6 percent on the winning side of the ledger. His teams have won conference championships in 1969, 1970, 1976, 1977, and 1985 and the Eastern Intercollegiate Golf Association regional title in 1977. Already off to a winning start in 1986, his team again appears a strong contender for championship honors.

Duncan's path to Newark was a circuitous one. His parents emigrated from Scotland to New England. They had four sons.

"We didn't want for anything, but we didn't have an abundance of money, either," Duncan recalls. "Yet my parents saw to it that all of us got a college education."

Duncan's brother Charles, a construction engineer, graduated from MIT; brother Norman, an orthodontist, is an alumnus of Northwestern; brother Don, a high school principal in East Hartford, graduated from Trinity; and Scotty himself attended Wilby High School and was graduated from Connecticut's Cheshire Academy before enrolling at Washington College in nearby Chestertown, Md.

The advent of World War II altered his educational plans and he transferred to Delaware in 1942 as a physical training instructor in the Army Special Training Reserve Program, remaining as a student when that program ended in 1943. He earned his bachelor's degree in 1948 and added a master's degree in education administration in 1962.

An all-around athlete, Duncan participated in football, baseball, basketball and track in prep school and played baseball and basketball for three seasons at Delaware. After earning a letter in varsity football on Coach William D. Murray's legendary 1946 team, a knee injury eliminated him from further gridiron action.

After graduation, Duncan was hired as teacher and coach at Dover High School, where he became head coach of basketball and track and football backfield coach. Among his players were Russ McNeal, who gained fame as blocking back for Dick Kazmaier at Princeton, and Howie Wright, who starred for VPI.

Pivotal to Duncan's athletic career was the bidding for his services that matched former Newark School Superintendent Wilmer E. Shue and Maryland's popular varsity football coach Jim Tatum. Shue wanted Duncan to move from Dover to Newark High School; Tatum wanted him as backfield coach for the Terrapins.

"When my wife and I sat down and talked about it," Duncan recalls, "we looked at the history of the Newark community. I concluded that Newark had always had great talent but, more important, it has always had great families. Community support has made the difference in the quality of athletics at Newark. You've got to be a pretty poor coach to lose."

Duncan admits that he also was

Christiana golfers form dawn patrol

It was just minutes before eight o'clock on Friday morning and Christiana High School golf coach Bill Perdew was rubbing the sleep out of his eyes. While most of his peers were enjoying the slumber time offered by the school district's spring vacation, Perdew had spent the entire week in and out of the fairways of the DuPont Country Club with his Viking golf team.

"If it was up to me, I'd be playing at nine o'clock but they (team) want to play at eight," said Perdew with a chuckle. "I don't know why. I guess they want to enjoy their holiday and get into whatever mischief teenagers get into."

But there he was at eight on a chilly cloudy April morning, waiting for the rest of the team to show up to play their 18 holes. The team had spent the entire week practicing for the upcoming season, which started Monday, April 7, against Dickinson.

The Vikings hope the hard work will bring them the same success they enjoyed last season, when they finished 11th in the state tournament and tied Newark for first place in the Blue Hen Conference. "We'll do alright," said Perdew. "I don't know if we have enough good players to win the conference, but we'll be in the top half. We'll be very competitive against everybody."

The Vikings return four starters from last year's squad. Gone are number two man Bobby Hable and Steve White, who alternated at fifth and sixth position.

Back for his senior season is number one player Frank Hackett, who finished eighth in last year's state tournament. Playing in the number two spot will be Ron Rainey (son of former Blue Hen basketball coach Ron Rainey). Steve Sywy will fill the number three spot and senior Pat Evancho will play fourth.

The fifth and sixth positions will most likely be shared by junior Joe Beaudette, sophomore Joe Young and senior Todd Eckerts. Filling out the remainder of the team are freshman Stuart White, Ken Snyder, Bob Ziegler and Aaron Winchell.

According to Perdew, the play of the Vikings fifth and sixth positions could prove pivotal to success this season. "Our first four can play with anybody," said Perdew. "But our fifth and sixth positions will be the key to our season."

However, the senior Hackett views it from a different perspective. "For us to do pretty well I think our first two men are going to have to play pretty well," said the left handed Californian. "I think we'll have a pretty good season, but we'll have to see how it goes."

One element that should prove beneficial for the Vikings is the difficulty of the course they practice on. Arguably one of the more difficult courses in Delaware, the DuPont Country Clubs narrow fairways and hilly terrain can exasperate even the most patient of golfers.

"If you can play this course, you can play any course," said Perdew. "It's narrow, hilly and tough. It insures accuracy. If you don't hit it straight, you're going to be in the woods."

Concerning the Vikings chances at the annual state tournament, Perdew said it all depends on the level of play that the team has at tournament time. "We have to have our kids playing well at the end of the year," said Perdew. "Golf goes in cycles. You'll play well for a couple of weeks and then you'll level off or slump. The team that usually wins the tournament is the team that's playing well at the end of the year."

Racers 'chill out'

Diamond State Relays weather tests area tracksters

by Bruce Johnson

Saturday's Diamond State Relays, held over spring vacation and falling on a chilly overcast afternoon, were not ideal running conditions for local high school track teams. Yet, when the final race was completed, area coaches were pleased with their teams' performances.

"I thought we did a good job, considering that a lot of the kids were away for the Easter vacation," said Newark boys coach Frank Smith, whose team came away with two first place medals.

For Christiana High School coach Paul Ramseur, it was an opportunity to see how the younger kids would fare against the out-of-state competition. "It's just a bad time with the holidays and families going away, but for me it was a chance to run some of the younger kids who don't usually get the opportunity and see what they could do," he said.

Besides the vacationing athletes, the weather proved to be an equally formidable obstacle. Runners often had long delays between races and the struggle to keep loose was never ending.

"It's hard to keep loose between races," said Newark's Tawana Williams, who placed first in the triple jump. "It's hard because you have to warm up before each race. I'm freezing."

But Newark girls track coach Pat Walker felt that with the proper mental adjustment, the weather could be used as an advantage. "You have to be mentally prepared to run your events in any type of conditions," said Walker. "If you can maintain a positive attitude, then you'll win regardless of the weather conditions."

Scholastic teams from 82 schools and four states competed in the seven hour track meet held at Baynard Stadium in Wilmington. Events were divided into categories with athletes competing against teams with comparable times. The fastest teams competed in the championship section, in which some very excellent talent was showcased.

Of area teams, only the St. Mark's boys two mile relay team fared well in the championship section, gaining a third place medal with a time of 8:25.4.

"I'm really pleased with the efforts of our two mile relay team," said St. Mark's head coach Joe O'Neill of Martin Brans, Jim Fletcher, Bryan Lennon and Ernie Amoss. "The qualification time for the Penn Relays is an 8:15 for the two mile relay and I'm hopeful that we'll reach it."

O'Neill also cited Mike Benefield, who recorded a fifth place finish in the shot put, Eric Shearon who placed fourth in the high jump and the running of Jim Lazarski, Brian Hitch and Brian Neumann.

Newark also fared well, gaining a first place finish in their section with the one mile relay team of Lauren Barton, Robert Haman, Peter Lord and Harvist Ceaser, and the two mile relay team of Brain Leferve, Bennett Ih, Haman and Ceaser.

Christiana recorded a third place finish with the medley relay team of Bill Netta, Terry Rogers, Ben Martin and Craig Hable, and a fourth place finish with the 4 x 100 team of Ed Hammonds, Glenn Joyner, Mike Medley and Martin.

Glasgow's Vincent Cortlesso also performed well, throwing the discus 128 feet.

In girls competition, the Newark track team proved to be the most competitive of local schools. The girls finished the afternoon with three first place medals, one second place medal and two thirds. However, coach Walker believes the team has not reached its potential.

"This was a morale builder," said Walker. "I thought we did some nice things and had a nice showing, but we're still building. By the second or third week in April we should be coming into our own and we'll be able to see how good we'll really be. Delcastle could be the turning point in the season."

Newark's Tawana Williams picked up a first place medal in the triple jump with Jackie Crawford and Carol Burton gaining third and fourth place respectively. Crawford also picked up a first place medal in the long jump and Lisa Mayer recorded a second place finish in the discus.

However, Walker was more impressed with the efforts of his distance group of Lauren Hill, Jennifer Taggart, Jennifer Suchanec, Dale Reed, Shelly Duch and Gillian Haskell, who continue to improve.

"I'm really pleased with the distance group this year," said Walker. "All of those girls are really hard workers and are putting forth good practices day after day. They're very eager to learn and we're just pleased to be able to work with them."

The 'Jacket medley relay team of Reed, Hill, Haskell and Duch gained a first place medal during Saturday's competition.

The St. Mark's girls team track team also fared well, gaining three third place finishes. Gaining medals were Angel Valentine, Chris Miller, Helen DeShields and Julie Dombroski in the 880 yard relay, Michelle Hertzfield, Valentine, Miller and DeShields in the 440 yard relay, and the team of Valentine, Miller, Dombroski and Carissa White in the one mile relay.

"We ran better at the Christiana Relays but it was a lot warmer then and the muscles weren't as tight," said head coach Hilda Kraiss. "I'm proud of the girls and pleased with the times even though they weren't outstanding."

Glasgow's Tina Walley had a big day, gaining a first place medal in the high jump by clearing 4'10". The Christiana girls did not participate.

CAA

Baseball registration

Newark's Community Athletic Association will hold registration for its summer t-ball and baseball leagues on Saturday and Sunday, April 19 and 20 at Glasgow High School.

Registration both days will last from 1-3:30 p.m.

The leagues are open to boys and girls ages 6-11. They are instructional in nature and all team members play. There are no cuts.

T-ball is open to children born between August 1, 1977 and July 31, 1980. Baseball, which uses a pitching machine, is open to children born between August 1, 1977 and July 31, 1978 who have at least one year of t-ball experience, and to children born between August 1, 1974 and July 31, 1977.

The registration fee is $16 and includes a shirt and hat. Games will be played May 19 through July 3 on weekday evenings and some weekends.

For details, call Valerie Smith at 731-7758.

Bicycling

White Clay Club

The White Clay Bicycle Club has scheduled the following events this weekend:

• North East, Md. will be the destination of a 33-mile ride on Saturday, April 12. The event will begin at Barksdale Park in Newark at 9 a.m. Call 738-0458 for details.

• Get Acquainted, an eight-mile ride with Virginia Maier, will be held Saturday afternoon, April 12. The event will begin at 2 p.m. at Barksdale Park. Call (215) 485-6829 for details.

• Smyrna Smoker, a fast-paced 50-60 mile ride, will be held Saturday, April 12. Riders will leave from Lum's Pond parking lot No. 2 at 9:30 a.m. Call 834-4814 for details.

• Delaware XX preview, a 28-mile ride from Augustine Beach, will be held Sunday, April 13. Riders will meet at 10 a.m. Call 478-5217 for details.

• Spring Thaw, a 30-40 mile ride at moderate pace, will be held Sunday, April 13. Riders will meet at 11 a.m. at Barksdale Park in Newark. Call 368-8433 for details.

Meetings

Pushmobile Derby

Meetings to prepare for the 1986 Delaware Association of Police

Pushmobile Derby have begun and the organizational committee reports that volunteers are needed.

Anyone interested in helping is asked to call 652-9665. Planning meetings will be held in the DAP Hall, 2201 Lancaster Ave., Wilmington, at 8 p.m. Monday nights May 5, June 2, July 7, July 14, July 21, July 28, Aug. 4 and Aug. 11.

This year's Pushmobile Derby will be held Saturday, Aug. 23 at the Milford Crossroads track on Paper Mill Road in Newark. Time trials will be held at the track Aug. 2 and 9.

Officials hope to attract 120 entrants and are in search of old cars. If you have information on the whereabouts of any old cars, call Fuzzy Carlson at 994-4893 or 658-1416.

Officials have reminded anyone building a new car that it must have a three-inch clearance. Cars which do not meet the standard will not be accepted in the 1986 Pushmobile Derby.

Baseball

Youth leagues

Registration for the youth baseball and softball leagues sponsored by the Newark Department of Parks and Recreation is now being accepted.

The city has four leagues: t-ball, for youths age 6-7; Colt League baseball for youths 8-9; Pony League baseball for youths 10-12; and Ponytail League softball for girls 9-12.

Practice will begin in April, with league play starting in early May.

Registration will be held 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., including the noon hour, in Department offices in the Newark Municipal Building, 220 Elkton Rd.

The fee is $14 for city residents and $16 for non-residents. It includes shirts and excess insurance.

For details, call 366-7060.

Liberty, Life runs

Newark road racing season offers full slate

Newark area runners will have plenty to keep them busy in the next few weeks, with events planned Sunday, April 20 and Saturday, May 3.

Scheduled April 20 are two races, both of which will benefit the Statue of Liberty restoration project. There will be a 10-kilometer run and a biathlon.

Both the run and the biathlon will begin at 1 p.m. on Newark's Main Street. Both will also end on Main Street.

The run will wind south of the start-finish area along relatively flat city streets.

The biathlon, which will begin with a 25-kilometer bicycle leg, will head from Main Street west on Del. 273 into the rolling hills of Maryland. Riders will turn around at Fair Hill, Md. then head back to the transition area at Carpenter Fieldhouse in Newark and begin a 10-kilometer run.

Both the run and the biathlon are being organized by Ed Taylor, a local triathlete. Entry fees are $7 for the 10-kilometer run and $15 for the biathlon. For information, call the Down Under Restaurant at 366-1812 or Ed Taylor at 656-5261.

Following the Liberty events will be the 11th annual Newark Run for Your Life 10-kilometer race on Saturday, May 3.

The Run for Your Life, sponsored by the Newark Department of Parks and Recreation and Pepsi Cola Bottling Co. of Wilmington, will be run on the city's Barksdale Park course. The course is certified by The Athletics Congress.

The race will begin at 10:30 a.m. with five age divisions for women and six for men. Each of the first 200 entrants will receive singlets.

Entry fees are $6 by Thursday, May 1 or $8 on race day. Registration will be held 9:30 a.m. to 10:15 a.m. on race day.

For registration information, call the Department at 366-7060.

• Cherry Blossom Run five-miler on Sunday, April 13. The event will begin at 10 a.m. at Baynard Stadium in Wilmington. Preregistration is $6 through April 8. Race-day registration will be held 9:30 a.m. to 10:45 a.m. at Baynard Stadium, and will cost $8. The run is held in conjunction with the Wilmington Cherry Blossom Festival in the Josephine Garden area of Brandywine Park.

Race-day registration will be held 8:30 a.m. to 9:45 a.m., and will cost $7. For details, call the Mayor's Office at 571-4100.

• Broadmeadow School 10-kilometer run on Saturday, April 19 in Middletown. The race will begin at 10 a.m. at the school. For details, call the school at 378-9859, 653-6095 or 834-4251.

• Hagley Museum 5-kilometer run on Sunday, May 11. The women's race will begin at 9 a.m. and the men's race will begin at 9:35 a.m. at the main entrance of Hagley near Del. 141 and Del. 100. Preregistration is $7 and race-day registration is $9. Proceeds benefit Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Delaware.

Delaware Park sets 'simulcasts'

The Triple Crown races top a program of nine major horse racing events that will be "simulcast" at Delaware park during the 100-day meet which will open Saturday, April 12.

The simulcasts, highlighted by the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont stakes, will be presented as part of special 10-race programs.

The first simulcast will be the $250,000 Wood Memorial from Aqueduct on April 19. One of the traditional prep races for the Kentucky Derby, the Wood Memorial was won by Pleasant Colony (1980) and used as a stepping stone by Seattle Slew (1977) on his way to a sweep of the Triple Crown.

The first jewel of the Triple Crown, the $350,000 Kentucky Derby, is set for May 3. It will be followed by the $350,000 Preakness stakes on May 17 and the $350,000 Belmont Stakes on June 7.

"Our fans will be able to watch and wager on The Triple Crown races and other simulcasts," said Delaware Park General Manager John E. Mooney. "We also plan a special promotion for our fans on Kentucky Derby Day."

The highest handle of the meet last year of $1,061,275 was produced in conjunction with The Kentucky Derby simulcast.

The other scheduled simulcasts include the $250,000 Suburban on July 4; the $250,000 Whitney and $100,000 Jim Dandy on Aug. 2 and 3 respectively; the $250,000 Travers Stakes on Aug. 16, and the $300,000 Woodward on Aug. 30.

Asks Well-Owners:

ARE YOU PUMPING IRON—

AND DON'T KNOW IT?

Pumping Iron May Be Great for Your Body—But Not for Your Home's Water System!

Many well-owners in this area are unknowingly pumping water with a high-concentration of iron, right into their homes. This mineral is washed into the water system by rainwater, which filters down through the soil. Although iron water is not harmful to your health—it can inconvenience your lifestyle, and be very costly as well! Iron water causes reddish-brown stains that discolor everything it comes in contact with. As it runs through your pipes it builds up layers of sediment, which can eventually clog your pipes and drastically cut your water pressure. This iron sediment also accumulates in your water heater or boiler, increasing your operating costs as well as decreasing the unit's service life!

SYMPTOMS OF IRON WATER:

John Diordano fires one home.

SPARTANS/ from 1b

Giordano going the distance in the four games played. "I'm really happy with our pitching," said Lemon. "In preseason it was a question mark, but Rich and John have really come on and we've got other guys we haven't even used yet. So I think we're going to be alright." If the weekend games are any indication of the Spartan potential, the chances of the Spartans doing "alright" could be the understatement of the year. "They have a good ball club," said Newark coach Francis Fulgham. "All the way up and down the line-up they have good hitters." But the Spartans proved that they are much more than an offensive team. Blessed with an experienced group of veterans, the Spartans made the plays defensively and on the base paths, taking advantage of Newark miscues. "We try to fill in every aspect of the game," said Giordano, who also recorded a two run single against the 'Jackets. "You just can't have defense and no bats and vice versa. Everybody's got to contribute, from the bench to the starting line-up." "We work hard on playing good, fundamental baseball," said Lemon. "We spend a lot of time on base-running and knowing situations. We just try to be a complete team." As for the 'Jackets, the inexperience of the starting line-up was displayed on Saturday in terms of fielding errors, missed cut-off men and base running mistakes. Yet, Fulgham remains optimistic. "We've got a lot of holes in our line-up and our defense isn't all that great but we'll improve as the year goes on," said Fulgham, who was pleased with the play of catcher Mike Clarke. Clarke smacked a two-run homer and singled.

Saturday's game between Newark and St. Mark's was highlighted by the presence of major league scouts from the Padres, Pirates, Mets, Dodgers and the Cardinals to study the talents of the 'Jackets' Derrick May.

motivated to make the change because of the opportunity to coach the state's first integrated football team. In his second season, the Yellowjackets permitted only three touchdowns in posting the best defensive record in the state. His expectations of community support and talent also were fulfilled. Among his players were Kenny Hall, Arthur Money, Ron Hayman, John Miller, Ray Hiddleston, Ray Klapinsky and Mark Hurm. Miller subsequently played for Army. Hiddleston was an end at Georgia, and Klapinsky and Hurm starred at Delaware. Hall, a 9.9 sprinter, was one of six players who made the All-State team.

Asked to name athletic personalities who influenced his thinking through the years, Duncan had interesting memories to share. One of his neighbors was former Yale star Albie Booth. "He was a little guy like me, and he kept stressing the importance of going to college and earning a degree. I listened to him." Eddie Hart, a former Washington Senators baseball player, was his prep school baseball coach. "He made us realize there was no shortcut to excellence," Duncan said. "Bill Murray also influenced me. He told us to do what you know you can do well, and avoid what you can't. I've tried to remember that." What Duncan has done superbly well is coach Blue Hen golf teams for more than two decades. While establishing his enviable record of 22 seasons without a loser, he has had no financial aid for his team members, and says he doesn't need it. "I tell each of my varsity players that his responsibility includes recruiting. They tell me about kids they know who have the academic ability and golfing skills to play for Delaware and I take it from there." Asked how he can continue to win against teams with greater financial resources, Duncan says simply, "I've always had quality players from quality families, just as I did at Dover and Newark. It's been my good fortune as a coach never to have mediocre talent."

While he has many positive golfing memories, Duncan admits that the highlight came in 1977 when his team was bidding for the Eastern Intercollegiate title. The battle for first place came down to the last foursome and Delaware's Shaun Prendergast, later a state champion, needed a 12-foot putt to preserve the Blue Hens' one-stroke margin over Navy. The pressure was enormous, because the 18th green was surrounded by spectators and Prendergast had asked his teammates whether he needed the putt. After careful study, he stroked it smoothly into the hole for a Delaware victory. As cheers erupted from the gallery, a relieved Coach Duncan permitted himself a modest smile and quietly exclaimed, "Draino!"

LIFESTYLE

In the past months there has been a lot written about quotients — intelligence and common sense quotients to be precise. While my younger brother thinks that both are valid indicators of qualities that may be useful under special circumstances, he maintains that the most important quotient of all, except for the quotient of money going out over money coming in, is the Frustration Quotient.

To humor my brother, who is bigger than I am and who has been able to beat me up for 32 years, I have devised a Frustration Quotient.

But before I go any farther, I want to make it perfectly clear that my brother was not able to overpower me on any kind of a regular basis. Being female or older, I was generally able to either avoid situations which might have led to violence or to talk my way out of such situations when danger did loom. Only occasionally did I slip. In reality my brother was fortunate to have a sister like me.

Today, in a moment of candor, he said that without me he wouldn't be the man he is. Without me he would have gotten into more trouble than he did because I appointed myself his conscience and guide. It was I who suggested that he not brush the dog's teeth with Dad's toothbrush. When he was all set to dye his Little League team in to dye Easter eggs, by use of dramatic and graphic examples of what Mother might do when she saw the resultant mess, I was able to steer him into a more productive and appropriate activity.

With this brief background, it is time to forge into the Frustration Quotient itself. It is important to understand what the number represents. A low Frustration Quotient means that little things cause great turmoil.

If it is 1.4 (on a scale of 1-10) then not being able to start the car on the first try is a serious problem. On the other hand, a Frustration Quotient of 8.7 shows that putting together a model airplane and gluing your fingers together is merely a matter for a giggle.

As might be expected, the Frustration Quotient is not fixed for each person for life. It varies with circumstances, age, amount of sleep, stage of maturity (not necessarily related to age) and degree of hunger. There are other factors like mosquito bites, post nasal drip, and hangovers which also affect it; hopefully, they are not regular contributors to the quotient.

As any parent can tell you, teens and two-year-olds, even on their best days, never have a Frustration Quotient above 2.03; therefore, parents of teens and two-year-olds also have a low Frustration Quotient. In the best of all possible worlds, which it would be if I were in charge, those responsible for teens and two-year-olds would be blessed with an average Frustration Quotient of 7.8, the lower limit set at 6.3.

In terms of practical applications, I suggest that a person never try to assemble a doll buggy or tricycle with a Frustration Quotient of less than 5. I can guarantee that no one, not even Santa Claus, has one that high after 11 p.m. on Christmas Eve.

First off, you are faced with directions translated from the Japanese: "Please to insert screw A in nut B." Second, you know as well as I do that a crucial part will be missing, and it's hard to convince your child that a three-wheeled baby buggy is the latest thing for a Cabbage Patch preemie.

I almost lost my husband to an "easy to assemble" grill I gave him for his birthday. To this day, he harbors a secret suspicion

by Dorothy Hall

that I hate him. It was a textbook case of a Frustration Quotient starting out high and slipping slowly, until it went into a precipitous decline. In the end he was reduced to muttering, "place to please Nut B in Screw A."

As I sit here, typing this column, I can't come up with an ending, and I feel my Frustration Quotient sliding into the low numbers, so before I throw the keyboard across the room, I will stop.

Walking

Clinic May 7

Rob Sweetgall of Newark, author and one of the nation's foremost authorities on walking for fitness, will be featured during a free walking clinic to be held at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 7 by The Back Clinic.

The program will be held at the Anne P. Mote School at Edwards Avenue and Kirkwood Highway.

Sweetgall will present a film entitled "A Walk Across America," which chronicles his 11,208-mile journey through all 50 states.

Sweetgall and members of The Back Clinic staff will answer questions about the benefits of walking, and how to begin a fitness walking program.

For details, visit The Back Clinic at 5550 Kirkwood Highway or call 996-2100.

Dining out

Right choices can make it a healthful experience

Today's recommendations for a healthy diet call for eating a variety of foods, avoiding too much fat and cholesterol, eating foods high in complex carbohydrates and fiber, and avoiding too much sugar and salt.

"Studies show that Americans eat one meal out each day," says Dina Carabin, student dietitian with the University of Delaware's Coordinated Undergraduate Program in Dietetics (CUPD). "Eating out can be nutritious if you make the right choices."

Carabin says nibbling on bread before the main course arrives is a good idea. Bread is relatively low in calories and is a good source of complex carbohydrates. But avoid high-calorie croissants, sweet rolls and cheese breads, and skip the butter.

Raw vegetables, fresh fruit and steamed seafood make nutritious appetizers and are better for you than salty soups, nachos and fried mozzarella sticks.

"A salad bar is a good source of fiber, vitamins and minerals," says Carabin. "But avoid extra fixings such as cheese, eggs, meat, bacon, croutons, mayonnaise and high-calorie dressings which add fat and sodium."

For the main course, choose low-fat meats such as turkey, chicken, lean beef and fish, she says. Pasta dishes with vegetables and low-calorie sauces are also good choices. Due to its high cholesterol content, shellfish such as lobster and shrimp should be limited to one serving per week.

Food preparation is an important consideration when eating out. Avoid fried entrees and those prepared with heavy, creamy sauces. Don't be afraid to ask how an item is prepared.

"Vegetables and starchy side dishes provide complex carbohydrates and fiber," says Carabin. "Order your potato baked rather than fried or au gratin, and skip the sour cream and butter. Other vegetables are more healthful when boiled, baked or steamed. Avoid those prepared with butter or heavy sauces."

Desserts often provide few nutrients but considerable calories, fat and cholesterol. Avoid rich desserts such as cheesecake, and those made with custard and whipped cream. Fresh fruits, gelatins, sherberts, yogurts, and fruit ices are better choices.

If alcohol is part of your meal, drink in moderation. Alcohol is high in calories and supplies very few nutrients. The best bet is to order drinks mixed with water, seltzer or fruit juice.

Carabin cites other tips from the American Heart Association for eating out nutritionally:

- Use margarine instead of butter.

- Use skim milk.
- Trim all visible fat and skin from meat.

- Ask to have your dish served without butter, gravy or sauce.
- Ask that your food be prepared without salt or MSG.
- Order small portions, or share your dish with a companion.

"When eating out, don't hesitate to ask for exactly what you want," says Carabin. "A restaurant is there to serve you, and many establishments cater to people's desires to dine lightly and healthfully. Finding restaurants that offer nutritious, delicious food is easy when you know how to make the right choices."

Seminar

Freedom from smoking

A "Freedom From Smoking Forever" seminar will be held April 22 and 29 at Newark High School by the Delaware Lung Association.

The program is designed for individuals who desire continued support and encouragement in their efforts to remain non-smokers.

The sessions will include information on stress reduction, diet and exercise.

For information, call 655-7258.

Plants

'Garden Check'

Are you satisfied with your gardening skills? Do you need help controlling plant pests, planting petunias or preserving produce? Maybe "Garden Check" can help.

This gardening newsletter, published twice a month from March until August, averages six to eight pages in length and is packed with useful information on a variety of home garden topics.

Individuals interested in receiving the fact-filled newsletter can subscribe by sending a check for $5 (payable to the University of Delaware) to: Office of Agricultural Communications, Townsend Hall, Newark, DE 19717-1303.

Gildea's

Lawns & landscaping

Several lawn care and landscaping seminars for homeowners have been scheduled by Gildea's Nursery and Landscaping, 2825 Ogletown Rd., Newark.

They are as follows:

- Lawn and landscape drainage problems, 10 a.m. Saturday, April 12.

- Dogwood planting and care, 10 a.m. Saturday, April 19.

- Landscape project planning, 10 a.m. Saturday, April 26.

All seminars will be held in the View Room at Gildea's, and will focus on the needs of the residential homeowner. To register to attend any of the seminars, call Gildea's at 737-6535.

SUPER DEALS

In honor of the 13th anniversary of Carman Lincoln-Mercury, Inc. in Wilmington and the 4th anniversary of Castle Ford, Inc. in New Castle, a three week celebration is set to run from April 1st through April 21st. During the celebration, both dealerships will be offering "SWEET DEALS". You can count on three weeks of EXTRA-LOW PRICES, special interest rates on selected models and high trade-in allowances. Both dealerships have received additional inventory for maximum availability of selection. Of course, no anniversary would be complete without something sweet. So, both dealerships will be displaying a chocolate covered car. Chichi (KEE-KEE) Cheesecake Company of Bran-Mar Plaza will use real milk chocolate to cover a 1986 Taurus and a 1986 Sable. The chocolate-covered cars will be on display in their respective showrooms from April 1st through April 21st. From 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. Tuesday, April 1st the public is invited to stop at both showrooms and watch master chocolate makers from Chichi Cheesecakes chocolate to put finishing touches on the cars. There will be a press-party simultaneously, with delectable treats and samples from the Chichi dessert specialists.

STEER THIS WAY
By: John Mascher

SHEEHY
Folks have been driving longer than we realize. The first patent for a Motor Wagon was issued to Carl Benz in January 1886! The original car is in a German museum today.

SHEEHY
Collision avoidance light - a brake light mounted at eye level at the center back of your car - may reduce the risk of being rear-ended by 53 percent. The light is on all 96 cars, but you can buy and install one now for your current car.

Best "insurance" against cooling-system trouble, having systems flushed and checked regularly; replace any hoses or belts that seem questionable.

SHEEHY
MacPherson strut combines shock absorber, upper control arm of the suspension and sometimes the chassis spring, all in one unit. It usually lasts longer than ordinary shock absorber.

Miller's to enlarge Newark showroom

Miller's Furniture, a regional retail furniture chain, has leased an additional 4,250 square feet in the University Plaza Shopping Center adjacent to its existing store, bringing the total square footage to 33,000.

Miller's, an original tenant in the Center since 1971, will use the additional space for a gallery of contemporary living room and occasional furniture according to its president, Andrew L. Miller.

"Our business has continued to grow steadily in the greater Newark and Ogletown areas, and I feel that the expansion of our display of modern furniture - in addition to our strong current display of traditional furniture - will be well received by our customers," he said.

The lease, negotiated with Commonwealth Management for an undisclosed amount, has long term options until the year 2011.

Miller's operates retail units on the Concord Pike, Basin Road, Seaford, Rehoboth Beach and Pennsville, N.J. in addition to the University Plaza site.

BUSINESS FILE

Mall

Auto show

Christiana Mall will host the Mitsubishi Motors Mall Tour '86 Thursday through Sunday, April 10-13.

The tour features the full line of 1986 Mitsubishi cars and trucks, the Epson/Mitsubishi vehicle-selecting Computer Center, phones, and the latest Kawasaki motorcycles, jet Skis watercraft and ATV's.

What's more, shoppers will be able to participate in the 1986 Mitsubishi Motors Create Something Great national sweepstakes. The grand prize is a brand new top-of-the-line Starion ES-R with exciting runner-up prizes from Epson and Kawasaki.

In addition to viewing the new Mitsubishi cars and trucks, prospective buyers and the computer-curious will have the opportunity to create their own Mitsubishi using the Epson Computer Center from Epson. After seeing the 1986 models and options, mall shoppers will be invited to "log on" an Epson Equity I personal computer and create their own personalized Mitsubishi car or truck. The computer will then deliver a printout complete with equipment options, pricing and financing information.

As a bonus, "logging on" will automatically enter the person in the 1986 Mitsubishi Motors Create Something Great national sweepstakes. Manually-oriented persons can also enter the old-fashioned way - with an entry card available at the Mitsubishi Motors Pavilion.

The sweepstakes is open to all licensed drivers, 18 years old and up. Sweepstakes rules are available at the Mitsubishi Motors Pavilion.

For the recreation-minded, the tour features Kawasaki motorcycles, Jet Ski watercraft and ATV's.

Miller's

Awards banquet

Employees of the Miller's Furniture chain were feted at an awards banquet and dinner dance in the Hotel duPont Gold Ballroom on Saturday, April 5, in commemoration of the firm's 85th anniversary.

According to third generation president Andrew L. Miller, the company expressed its gratitude to its employees for their loyalty and dedication which contributed to the growth of the firm.

Miller's Furniture was established at the turn of the century by the late Nathan Miller who, with horse and buggy, began by peddling his wares at 2nd & Jefferson streets in Wilmington.

Miller's today operates six retail units located at Concord Pike in Wilmington, Basin Road in New Castle, University Plaza in Newark, Seaford, Rehoboth Beach and Pennsville, N.J.
