PROF. KIRKBRIDE REPORTS ON FOREIGN STUDY GROUP

Optimistic In Outlook

Dr. Hullihen a short time ago received a very encouraging letter from Professor Kirkbride concerning the present Foreign Study Group now in France. The group studying abroad under the direction of the University of Delaware is by far the largest that has so far been sent over. The students spend usually their Junior year of college in France in intensive study of such a character that will enable them to teach French upon graduation from their alma mater in this country. The letter to Dr. Hullihen follows:

"Paris, France,
September 27th.

"Dr. Walter Hullihen, President
University of Delaware.

"My dear Dr. Hullihen,

"You, of course, already know through my cable to Mr. Wilkinson and through my note of the other day that the 1925-1926 Foreign Study students arrived safely and that they are now hard at work at Nancy. In order to give you a complete report of the start of the year's work, I shall try to sum up herewith the program that has been carried out from the arrival of the group down to the present time.

"I met the party down at Bordeaux on Wednesday, July 15, the boat docking at about 2 p. m. Everybody reported a wonderful crossing. Dean Robinson and Miss Sharp spoke very highly of the dignified behavior of the members of the group and all the students were loud in their praise of Dean

LEON DABO SPEAKS AT COLLEGE HOUR

Famous Artist Makes Stirring Address

Leon Dabo, the famous American artist, spoke Wednesday at college hour. Mr. Dabo has traveled extensively and is one of the seven Americans to have a painting hung in the Luxembourg in Paris.

The subject of the speech concerned the definitions of and purpose of Art. To quote Mr. Dabo, "Art, in essence, is the soul of man attempting to render to humanity his ideas and ideals. Art is the rythm of material objects. If we but apply the laws of mathematics and logic we might all be artists. The artist liberates the mind and the spirit and makes life worth living. Art is spiritual procreation. The artist reproduces himself in his own work and the resultant art is the reflection of the artist's soul."

Mr. Dabo went on the say that religion is the great impetus behind Art, explaining that this is the reason we have so few real master-pieces today. Mr. Dabo stated that France leads in the capitalization of Art, for the French combine usefulness with beauty. The speaker received quite an enviable ovation at the end of his talk.

Frosh Basketball Team To Be Started

From the present outlook, the Freshman basketball team, which will be shortly organized, should have a very successful season. Among the many Freshmen who have participated in the sport during their high school days is DiJosephs of Jenkintown High School. Last year he starred on the Jenkintown five and was selected forward on the All-Suburban Philadelphia team.

The Freshmen will show a good brand of basketball in the interclass series and will attempt to wrest the honors from last year's successful Freshman team. Beacoms, Goldeys, Wilmington High School and others will probably be played when the season opens.

Conditions Will Be Out Next Week

Some day next week, unsatisfactory grades will be posted on the Bulletin Board of Recitation Hall, and letters will be sent to the parents of conditioned students.

The fact that certain students obtain mid-term conditions does not necessarily mean that they have "flunked." It is merely a warning to these students to bring their marks up to a passing grade. Letters are sent to their parents for the purpose of bringing pressure from home upon these students.

DELAWARE MATCHES JUNIATA TOMORROW

Visitors Have Well Drilled Eleven for Game

Delaware meets a powerful foe in the strong Juniata eleven tomorrow. The Huntington boys have a much heavier line than the blue team and their offense is much diversified as seen in the Susquehanna game when they were six times turned back from the one-yard line by the Sellingsgrove eleven. Junita nearly trimmed Ursinus but the breaks were against them and the Bears tucked away a 19-6 victory.

Juniata held Penn State to a 6-0 score last year and under the same coach has developed an offensive team using to fine advantage a trick forward passing system.

The real dope on Juniata is somewhat in the dark as the little school has been playing the big college teams in Northern Pennsylvania, but from what scouts saw against Ursinus, Delaware will face a better drilled team than either St. John's or Upsala.

At this point we can say that St. John's of Annapolis trimmed Gallaudet last Saturday to the tune of 33-7, while Dickinson walked over Albright in a sea of mud to two touchdowns. Dickinson remains undefeated thus far and faces Gettysburg tomorrow and the undefeated P. M. C. eleven the following Saturday.

Down Homers' Dance To Take Place in Dover

The Down-Homers' meeting, which was held last Friday noon, for the election of officers, had the largest representation of "down-homers" in the history of the organization. The officers elected were: H. Murphy, '26, President, and R. R. Atkins, '26, Vice-President.

Plans were made for the annual Thanksgiving dance, which will be held in the Dover armory on the Saturday evening following Thanksgiving; if hall and music can be secured. The committee are: B. K. Tremaine, '27, hall; and J. Maloney, '28, programs and music. Further details will be announced later.

Sigma Nu House Party

The Sigma Nu Fraternity will hold a house party November 14, after the Haverford game. This Sunday the Fraternity will attend the Presbyterian Church of Newark in a body. Week-end guests at the Fraternity were: C. W. Murphy, John Lynch, Campbell, McCoy and Professor C. A. Short. Plans are being made for the annual Formal Dance of the Fraternity to be held in Old College on December 18.

Freshman Meeting

The regular meeting of the Freshman class was held at noon on Monday of this week. Nothing of very great importance was done and no action could be taken on the matter of the Delaware History book from which pages were torn.

EMINENT LECTURERS AT COLLEGE HOUR

Program for Year Is Extremely Varied

Dr. Ryden has been fortunate in securing the services of a number of excellent lecturers for Senior College Hour at Wolf Hall for the Wednesdays of the coming school year. Among these speakers are:

Dec. 9 — Colonel Raymond Robins, of Chicago.

Jan. 13—Mrs. Forbes Robertson-Hale, of New York and England.

Jan. 26—Mr. William W. Ellsworth, of Hartford, Conn.

Feb. 24—Dr. Louis K. Anspacher, of New York.

Mar. 9—Mr. Frank Speaight, of England.

April 28—Mr. Edward Devine, of New York.

Colonel Raymond Robinson, of Chicago, who has spoken on many topics dealing with social and political conditions, is an orator of known eloquence. He has been a lawyer, a miner in the Klondyke, a civic worker, an industrial expert, an American Red Cross Commissioner, and a member of the Republican National Committee.

Mrs. Forbes Robertson-Hale, of New York and England, made her debut on the stage at the age of seventeen under Sir Henry Irving in his revival of "Robespierre"; she came to the United States with Ellen Terry in 1907, and returned to England during 1908-1909 under the direction of Charles Frohman; and she was with the New Theatre Co., New York, during its first season in 1910. Since 1910 she has devoted her entire attention to lecturing on the drama and the woman's movement.

William W. Ellsworth, of Hartfort, Conn., former president of the Century Co., is a

SWIMMING AND SOCCER MAY BE STARTED HERE

Will Be Classed As Minor Sports

At the last meeting of the Athletic Council, the discussion of the possibilities for a swimming team at Delaware was brought up. Although no definite action has been taken, it is generally understood that a short schedule will be arranged to take place during the winter months. Delaware has several recruits from the Wilmington High Swimming Team and all men who have ability along that line are requested to come out and try for a position.

Due to the fact that the tank at Delaware is of insufficient size in which to hold a meet, Mr. Palmer, president of the Wilmington Swimming Association, which is connected with the Y. M. C. A., offered the use of the pool at the Y. M. C. A. Building. If the team proves to be a success, meets will be scheduled with such colleges as Haverford and Swarthmore.

Action on the question of a soccer team was also discussed at the meeting, and it was decided that if enough interest is shown on th part of the Student Body, Delaware will come forth with a soccer team.

Both swimming and soccer will be considered as minor sports.

Debating Council Is Making Much Progress

The members of the Debating Council are shortly to begin intensive work in preparation for the coming debates which the Executive Committee has under consideration. Every member of the Council wil be assigned work to prepare, and be given an opportunity to demonstrate his forensic ability. Coach Mathews is well pleased with the interest being shown by the Student Body, and he is hopeful of turning out a Varsity Debating Team which will compare favorably with that of any other college or university in the east.

UPSALA VANQUISHED BY DELAWARE ELEVEN

Local Team's Defensive Exceptionally Strong

Coach Forstburg's Blue and Gold football machine ran rough shod over Upsala College last Saturday by a 24-7 score. At no time did the visitors seriously threaten, althongh they did manage to squeeze a counter over in the last period.

Several changes were made in the line and backfield, nearly every man on the squad receiving a chance to play during the game. The Blue and Gold line showed fine defensive ability, having little trouble holding the Blue and Gray team from East Orange. Offensively Delaware was rather eratic, being held for downs several times and making long gains at other times. A run of forty yards by Dave Loveland, recalled because of Delaware being off sides, was the prettiest bit of field work of the afternoon.

Fritz Creamer accounted for six of Delaware's points with the aid of his educated toe. Two of the touchdowns were the direct results of blocked kicks, Coppock recovering the first one for a score, while Bill Lohman recovered the other. In all, Delaware blocked six punts, "Huck" Kramer being the most important factor. In the last quarter, Upsala uncovered a series of forward passes which finally ended in a touchdown.

JR. VARSITY "PLAYS" SALESIANUM TEAM

Neither Eleven Scores In Practice Match

On Monday afternoon the University of Delaware Junior Varsity football team traveled to Wilmington where they engaged in a practice tilt with Salesianum Catholic High at Rockford Tower. It was a rainy day and the ball was difficult to handle.

The Blue and Gold "Jay Vees," with Flem Swezey in charge, made this trip expecting to play a real game but on arriving found that the "Sallies" wanted only a friendly scrimmage. There were no periods and the Salesianum coach acted as combined referee, umpire, and head linesman, also calling the plays for his team part of the time. After about fifteen minutes of haphazard football during which time Delaware was continually the aggressor, our boys took the ball to the ten-yard line. At this point the "Sallie" coach decided that his team had had enough practice and activities were declared to be at an end for the afternoon.

Although neither eleven was able to score, Delaware had decidedly the better of the brief play, making substantial gains through the line and throwing the opposition for losses repeatedly. The "Jay Vees" were vulnerable in only their aerial game.

Playhouse Offers Prizes For "Peerade"

Manager Finney of the Playhouse announces through the Student Council that he has offered six box seats at two and a half dollars each, for a prize in the Freshman Parade next Friday night. The seats will be for the world's premiere of Catharine Chrisholm Cushing's "The Master of the Inn," with Crane Wilbur, late star of "The Monster," in the leading role. This attraction opens in Wilmington for a two nights' engagement commencing November 16. "The Half-Caste," a play of the Tropics bordering on the play of passion, "White Cargo," is at the Wilmington theatre next week and will be followed by "What Price Glory," "Is Zat So," "No, No, Nannette," "The Song of the Flame" and "The Student Prince." It may be recalled that Miss Cushing was the author of the ill-fated "Edgar Allan Poe."

Bus Will Carry Rooters To Dickinson Game

Mannix, the President of the Student Council, looked into the manner of transportation to the Dickinson game. He found that a special train, with 300 occupants, would cost $6.50 apiece. The college voted on this and most of the people did not want to pay such a price. Some of the more loyal rooters are going in Stiltz's bus which will cost about $3.50 apiece. This is much cheaper and will be more comfortable than the train.

PURDEW OF SWARTHMORE ADDRESSES LOCAL Y. M. C. A.

Freshman Cabinet Elections

On Thursday, October 29, the Y. M. C. A. of the College listened to an unusually clear and forceful address by Mr. Purdew of Swarthmore. At the business meeting following a Freshman Cabinet was elected by the new members for the purpose of carrying on Y. M. C. A. work in the Freshman Class. Those elected were French, President; Olandt, Vice-President; Challenger, Secretary; Committee Chairmen elected were, Williams, Campus Activities; Elliott, Meetings; Newham, Membership.

President Pippin announces that there will be an Open Forum meeting under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. next Monday for discussion of U. S. entrance to the World Court. The Literary Digest is planning to take a straw vote of the Universities on the question and has asked the Y. M. C. A. all over the country to co-operate with them in focusing the opinion of the student bodies.

Echoes From Eaglesmere

To the shaking of tambourines and uttering lusty shrieks, a brilliant galaxy of gypsies dashied into the dining-room at the Women's College, last Wednesday evening during dinner. This company announced itself as "Echoes from the Y. W. C. A. Conference at Eaglesmere last summer. Through the gypsie make-up, we recognized the delegates who attended this conference. They had chosen this unique manner of presenting it to the college.

Several new songs were presented to the college. These were accepted most favorably.

The delegates to the Eaglesmere Conference were Georgia Wiggin, Virginia Clupman, Ruth Ewing, Marion Sharpless, Jean Middleton, Margaret Nunn, Jean Loback, Kitty Horton, and Marjorie Johnson.

Tug o' War Postponed Until Monday Afternoon

The Student Council postponed the "Tug o' War" from last Monday until next Monday. Because of the rain and because neither team are yet as well organized as they would like to be, both teams agreed to the postponement.

Flowers were procured by the Student Council for the funeral of Dr. Penney. The flowers which were given to Julia Arthur were purchased by the Student Council.

The next big doing around college is the "Freshmen Peerade." Every Freshman will get a chance to show what he can do in the way of entertainment at this affair. Prizes of real value will be given. The large Civic Clubs of Wilmington are planning to give prizes to the best performers.

The Thanksgiving Recess will begin on Wednesday, November 25th, at noon, and end Monday, November 30th, at 1:10 p. m.

The Christmas Recess begins December 23rd at 12:00 M., and ends January 4th, at 1:10 p. m.

SOPHOMORES ENTERTAIN ON FOUNDER'S DAY

Sophomores Entertain on — — Immediately following the Founders' Day Ceremonies at Wolf Mall last Saturday, the Sophomore class of the Women's College held a reception and tea in Residence Hall.

At this affair, a very delightful program was given by members of the faculty and college. This inciuded a solo dance, by Angela Thesneski, 27; a vocal solo, by Rita Tatman, '28; and a reading, by Elizabeth Beatty, '29. Music for the occasion was furnished by Miss McKinney, Miss Hartshorn, Frances Malcolin, '28, Dorothy Interlied, '28, and Lillian Steel, '29.

Those in the receiving line were Dean C. Mildred Thompson, of Vassar College, Mrs. A. D. Warner, Sr., Ex-Chancellor Curtis, Dean Robinson, Miss Parker, Miss Keely, Anne Passmore, '26, and Eleanor Kane, '28.

Tea was poured by Marjorie Johnson and Evelyn Bell. Other members of the class of '28 served.

Dean Thompson Speaks On Investiture of Knowledge

The program for Founder's Day opened by the assembling of the classes on the campus between Residence and Science at 2.00 p. m. Saturday, October 31. The classes then marched across the campus, which was exceedingly wet and disagreeable, to the place where the tree was to be planted. This was in back of Practice House. At this time the traditional tree ceremonies were carried forth. Marjorie

FOOTLIGHTS REHEARSES "MR. PIM PASSES BY"

Leahy and Yanowitz To Perform at "Peerade"

It behooves the student body of Delaware College to take Walter Camp's daily dozen seriously, for it will soon have need of brawny sidewalls in the region of the solar plexis. In other words, Paul Leahy and Yanowitz, "the inimitable," representatives of the Footlights Club, are going to stage a "Mock College Hour" before the Haverford Smoker. These two worthies will be the whole show, literally and figuratively. During this awaited performance the two Delaware actors will give impersonations of every faculty member of note from the Arts and Science department to the Agriculture School. Faculty members are requested to be absent from this skit, since the performers ardently hope to live long enough to be graduated.

Rehearsals have begun for "Mr. Pim Passes By," the play by A. A. Milne that has been selected by the Footlights Club for the post-Thanksgiving entertainment. This rip-roaring, laugh-provoking, side-splitting comedy affair, with no less celebrities at its head than Miss Angela Wisneski, the brilliant "Anne" of last year's "Dover Road," and Yanowitz, the brilliant all around star of the college theatricals.

The Footlights Club has already had many invitations for road engagements for the coming season. We hope that this play shall equal and surpass the success of the "Smax and Crax."

Pan-Hellenic Dance

The annual Pan-Hellenic dance will be held Saturday, November 7, from 8 until 12 p. m., in the Armory. George Madden will furnish the music. Refreshments will be served.

The committee in charge of the dance consists of, Gum chairman; Cherpak, music and hall; Owens, refreshments; Pryor, programs; Barkley, finance.

The patronesses are: Mrs. W. D. Hullihen, Mrs. G. E. Dutton, Mrs. E. C. Johnson, Mrs. G. L. Townsend, Miss A. Parker.

UNIVERSITY OF DELAWARE REVIEW
NEWARK DELAWARE

The University of Delaware Review is a newspaper, published on Fridays during the College year by the students of the University of Delaware, in which is presented the campus news.

Whereas, the University of Delaware Review is not a literary publication, nevertheless occasional attempts at literature will appear in its columns.

The editorial policy will change a trifle each year, as a new editor takes charge of the paper, but the basis of each editor's policy must always be to present the truth and to aid in the cultural expansion of the University.

Subscription $2.00 per year. - Single Copies 10 cents.

MANY THANKS

The delightful theatre party at which we were Mr. du Pont's guests a few evenings ago is another evidence of his interest in Delaware. Hardly a moment passes in which he is not planning orcarrying out something for the welfare of the University and the people connected with it. He has been a prominent leader in the betterment and development of the institution, and has given abundantly of his time and means to its service.

These yearly parties, which Mr. du Pont's generosity make possible, mean a great deal to the members of the Student Body. They are the subject of discussion long before and long after their occurrence. Once a year we are bundled off to Wilmington like a big family to see a good play, and then return to college to talk about it for a month or so. We are proud and happy to have this treat; few colleges can boast of anything like it.

Thank you, Mr. du Pont!

JUST A WORD

Just a few words to those misguided individuals who go to College Hour with a "street-corner" attitude and persist in "whispering" so loudly that they annoy both the speaker and the rest of the audience. The fact that they may not be interested in the speaker's subject should not prevent them from showing him the utmost attention and respect, if only for the sake of that quality usually attributed to college students—COURTESY.

We are very fortunate in the selection of able College Hour speakers through the efforts of Dr. Ryden, who has prepared a very fine and varied program. These people who come to speak to us, come with mesages which we can hardly afford to disregard. Remember that the thoughtless conduct of a very few at chapel can give a speaker an altogether wrong impression about the Student Body. It is just a trifle, but let's not forget it.

Letter To Editor

To the Editor of The Review,

Dear Editor: With your indulgence, and that of the Mediator, I shall try to keep every element of personal feeling out of this letter.

I am sure that neither Critical Observer nor myself will set the world afire with our eloquence, nor is it likely that either of us will be impelled to physical violence. It would seem, therefore, that the Mediator has somewhat overestimated the importance of assuming a "civilized attitude toward the controversy." Certainly no single phase of a discussion is more important than the condition that provoked the discussion.

I make no apologies for my previous letter. I am well aware of the fact that it was not a scientific discussion. It was not intended as such. It was merely my personal opinion of one who, while attending and deriving benefits from an institution, condemns an essential part of that institution as "a prize bunch of morons and campus cut-ups." The statement that a lack of interest in the Arts and Sciences does not imply a moron is one of minor importance in the letter, but it is one that I believe I can prove. Here I quite agree with the Mediator that nothing can be proved by "intolerant personal attacks." It is clear that the elimination of personal feeling is eessential to a true scientific discussion of the subject.

To accomplish this end, the Mediator has submitted a plan which I believe to be a "little absurd." Allow me to explain myself. He has directed me to compile a column of the "sound, sane, important sayings and doings of the student body in the course of its everyday existence" to be compared with a similar column made up by Critical Observer. Let us assume that these columns are not identical. If he admits that I am capable of selecting the "sountd, etc." he must admit that my conclusions are based on perfectly sound material. If he denies my ability to pick out the important things, of what value would my column be to the scientist who drew the final conclusions. In either case the two columns would consist largely of personal opinion.

This letter is not meant to ridicule the Mediator, but merely to point out the impracticability of his schemes in the hope that he will devise another and a sounder system for the solution of the problem.

(Signed) A Student.

Review of "St. Joan"

Bernard Shaw's portrait is like an old fox. His plays are like two old foxes. He is, in fact, like many other things—Anatole France, an instance, or Andrew Lang, for all three have taken as the subject of their texts the girl from Lorainne. The brilliant playwright, as is seen in this case, can pull the trick over on his brother-essayist or scholar everytime, and, at the same time, embellish his account at the bank to quite a considerable figure. Ergo, also, and forewith, it can be argued that the drama is a popular vendor for one's ideas. But such reasoning leads the unthinking fellow on to the rocks. As soon as the playwright begins to preach, as soon as he flaunts a lecture on religion, morals, and the great economic questions to his audience, he has made a fradulent misrepresentation; and, therefore, his play is not a play, but merely a thesis that any aspiring college graduate could undertake for his coveted doctor's degree.

And, in the final analysis, last Tuesday evening's performance at the Playhouse was nothing more than the interesting display of all the Slavian ideas of Joan that have been brewing in the head of Shaw. The sharp shaft of Shaw's wit, whittled to a point which easily penetrated the legendary armor of the Maid of Orleans, was of the same genre as that which makes his Caesar and Cleopatra such a rare and wise example of his artistic integrity. Yet in "Saint Joan" Shaw has grown much older; that is, he has grown more sympathetic; and, as a result, the witty Irishman who all these years has been concocting plays to make Piccadilly audiences squirm and squirt venom, has finally succumbed to that dreadful and much feared malady which is striking down every serious writer today: a flight into the fourth dimension. The Epilogue is a typical example of just this sort of thing.

But what of the rest of the play? Does one have to swallow the picture of Julia Arthur dressed in the red, white, and blue peasant's dress which on first thought makes one think that she was decorated with a French flag, in the part of the robust, healthy, even beautiful, girl of the soil? What can one say concerning the vulgar egg-laying contest in the first act?

After all, Shaw has given, what might be called, a searching portrayal of Saint Joan. It was an interesting spectacle. Everyone who witnessed the performance last Tuesday evening was more than pleased. It was, at least, the first time that the entire Student Body had every collected together to witness the work of a contemporary. Their reaction showed some degree of intelligence. Shakespeare first, followed by Sheridan, were fine preambles for their judgment of Shaw. If Mr. Shaw is writing a new play, it is rumored about the campus, he had better submit it first to the students of this University of he wants some real, honest-to-goodness criticism of his work. Sanctus Simplissimus.

Druid Smoker Well Attended

Cigars, cigarettes, and all other absolute necessities which are always present at college functions, were supplied in abundance at the Druid Smoker held last night in honor of the Freshmen. The Druids give a smoker each year to the first year men in order that they may learn to know them better, and thus, to judge intelligently what members of their "inferiors" should be selected to carry on their work of promoting good fellowship. Nearly sixty Freshmen attended.

student and lecturer of American History and literary topics. He is the author of "A Golden Age of Arthurs." He will have for his subject, "The English Bible."

Many students wil remember Dr. Louis K. Anspacher, who lectured on "The Drama As a Social Force in Democracy" last year. Dr. Anspacher is the author of the famous poetical drama, "Tristam and Isolde," and the plays, "The Woman of Impulses," the "Glass House," "The Unchastened Woman," and many others too numerable to mention. He will speak on the topic "The Mob and the Movies."

Mr. Frank Speaight, of England, is also scheduled for a return engagement. He will again give one of his inimitable Dickens characterizations, which was so much enjoyed by the student body last year.

Dr. Edward T. Devine, famous social worker, author and lecturer on topics of social work, industrial problems, foreign relations, and current interest, has been engaged to speak to the students of the University of Delaware. He has been General Secretary of the Charity Organization Society of New York from 1897 to 1912; he has been Editor of the Survey, 1897-1912; professor of social economy at Columbia, 1905-1919; director of New York School of Philanthropy from 1904 to 1907, and from 1912 to 1917; President of the National Conference of Charities and Corrections, 1906; special representative American Red Cross in charge of relief at San Francisco, 1906; special representative of American Red Cross, in charge of storm and flood relief in Dayton, Ohio, 1913, and special agent to the American Embassy at Petrograd in 1916. He is also a well-known author. He has written and published "The Practice of Charity," "The Principles of Relief," "Efficiency and Relief," "Misery and Its Causes," "Social Forces," "The Normal Life," and many other widely-read books.

Newark High Beats Junior Varsity, 14-7

The Junior Varsity dropped a thrilling game to the undefeated Newark High on Tuesday by a 14-7 score. Chalmers was the whole show for the town boys and without him Newark would have fallen under an avalanche of touchdowns. Chalmers is a comer and Delaware will be in luck if he matriculates here. This lad has practically won every game for the high school boys and although somewhat halted by the heavy line of the "Jay Vees" he managed to get through for enough long gains to shove over a winning touchdown. Coach Coronway, dean of the small high school coaches and now at du Pont High, claims that "Chalmers is the best all-around athlete in the state." Hill, former Lafayette Frosh player, and Reardon, from Notre Dame, played well with the locals. Reardon, with a little more weight this summer, should hold down one of the ends next season. The "Jay Vees" meet the strong Williamson Trade School on November 21.

Prof. Kirkbride Reports On Foregin Study Group

Robinson and Miss Sharp as chaperons.

"The arriving of the boat being too late to make conections for Paris, the party spent its first night in France at Bordeaux. After clearing the baggage through customs and getting settled in our hotel quarters, we took advantage of the remaining time to drive around the city.

"The following day, the 16th, we spent enroute on train to Paris, reaching the Gare d' Orsay at about 6 p. m. Dr. Patterson and Miss Richardson were on hand to meet us. In the face of threatening weather we did not attemp any 'sortie,' but spent the evening dining quietly 'a la française."

"Saturday, July 18th, we went on to Nancy, so as to be ready for actual work on Monday. We were greeted at the station by Director Bruneau and several of his colleagues, and were conducted to the salons of the Hotel Thiers where a charming reception was offered in our honor.

"After the reception the business in hand was to get the members of the group located in thir various homes. This was naturally a rather long and tedious process, but was accomplished without incident and everyone was installed by dinner. The next day the preliminary festivities were brought to a close with a delightful tea at the Hotel Thiers, offered to the group by Miss Sharp.

"On Monday, July 20th, the group got down to work at the University of Nancy. The first class was a sight translation exercise, English to French, and the initial efforts of our students were very promising.

"Dean Robinson was with us continually until the opening of the term and was thus able to get a good idea of our Foreign Study organization. On Sunday the 19th, I took her around on an inspection tour of the homes where the students were quartered so she could see personally the living conditions here.

"I want to say right here how much I appreciate the way you and Mr. Wilkinson, Professor Brinton, and the Committee got this new group together and started them off on the long journey and the way in which Dean Robinson and Miss Sharp took care of them on the trip. What is just as important the students arrived with a fine morale, ready for serious effort, and this also is due to the way in which you all helped to prepare the group. The situation is very optimistic and I am looking forward to a banner year.

"Since the opening of the term we have been following closely the schedule outlined in the Foreign Study bulletin; three classes and one private lesson per day. The Nancy teachers are well satisfied with the work and with the attitude of the students.

"As to the 'outside activities,' we have made several interesting excursions to points of interest, including Metz, Verdun, Pont-a-Mousson, Gerardmer, and Strasbourg. We also organized two 'thé-dansants' at which a large number of French young people were present, and we are planning another. I have found in these 'thé-dansants' a very good way to bring the students into contact with the French and therefore is extremely valuable.

"I think the foregoing will give you the main points of what has been done so far. Dean Robinson will be able to give you additional details and sidelights on any questions which I may have overlooked.

"Very sincerely yours,
R. W. KIRKBRIDE."

Word From Abroad

It will be of great interest to the majority of students here at the University to know that Major A. R. Underwood recently received a post card from John Frie. It will be remembered that Frie is a native of Switzerland and that he pursued a special course at Delaware last year.

The post card is as follows:

"Chur, Grisons
September 12th, 1925.
J. R. S. 111/6
Mountain Inf. Service.

"Dear Major Underwood:

"One of your Delaware students who is a sincere friend of the United States of America sends you his best greetings from Chur, where he fulfills his duty as a soldier. The service here up in ice and snow with 80 pounds of ammunition and provision on the shoulder, a heavy gun on the arm and heavily nailed boots on the feet is extremely hard. I hope to become an officer next year—an honor in our country—not a profession. In my civil career I want to become electrical engineer, for which I study at Swooch (in fall).

Hoping you are as well as I am here, I am very truly yours:
(Signed) John Frie.

Frie has been called to service for a period of two years as is customary for every man of twenty-one years of age in Switzerland.

Results of Psychology Test Not Known Yet

The results of the Freshman Psychology test given last week are not known yet. These tests are gotten up by the National Education Commission at Washington. The test takes two hours to do, and is divided into eight separate parts. The purpose of the tests is to give information as to whether or not a man is fitted to enter college and after a course has been completed, whether a man has profitted by his college education. It will take four years to get results on any one class. An attempt is being made to standardize these psychology tests. Last year the Freshmen of the University of Delaware stood in the middle in the ranking of all colleges, on the basis of these tests.

When you have to concentrate on a heavy theme

TAKE this tip from Prince Albert: Pack your pipe with P. A. and make fire with a match! That's the formula. Nothing complicated. And it works, it works! Yes, sir! Every jimmy-pipe bowl is a well of inspiration when it's packed with cool, fragrant, soothing Prince Albert.

You'll cerebrate . . . and celebrate the discovery. Prince Albert is sure the right kind of pal to tie to. No matter how stiff the grade, P. A. will go right along with you. Can't bite your tongue or parch your throat, because the Prince Albert process won't let it.

Let Prince Albert cheer you with your work. Let it sweep away the mental cobwebs as nothing else can. In all the world of fine tobaccos, there's nothing like friendly P. A. Slip into top-speed now and head for the nearest store where they hand out jimmy-pipe joy in tidy red tins, marked "Prince Albert."

PRINCE ALBERT
—no other tobacco is like it!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

Look at the U. S. revenue stamp—there are TWO full ounces in every tin.

In an isolated region, almost inaccessible in winter, this 6500 h.p. hydro-electric plant located on the Deerfield River in New England, starts, protects, and stops itself.

A Self-Starting Power Plant

Dawn—the slumbering city awakens and calls for electric current. Many miles away the call is answered. A penstock opens automatically, releasing impounded waters; a water turbine goes to work, driving a generator; and electric current is soon flowing through wires over the many miles to the city. This plant starts and runs itself.

Power plants with automatic control are now installed on isolated mountain streams. Starting and stopping, generating to a set capacity, shutting down for hot bearings and windings, gauging available water supply, they run themselves with uncanny precision.

Thus another milestone has been reached in the generation of electric power. And with present-day achievements in power transmission, electricity generated anywhere may be applied everywhere.

The non-technical graduate need not know where electricity comes from—nor even how it works. But he should know what electricity can do for him no matter what vocation he selects.

The General Electric Company has developed generating and transmitting equipment step by step with the demand for electric power. Already electricity at 220,000 volts is transmitted over a distance of 270 miles. And G-E engineers, ever looking forward, are now experimenting with voltages exceeding a million.

A new series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for booklet GEK-1.

Line-Up On Haverford

Haverford vs. Delaware: Oh, Boy, what a game this year! From Main Line sources comes the lively bit of information that Haverford will send the big blue team to defeat this year. Tomorrow the charges of Coach Harman meet the Penn Varsity team which last week succumbed to "Red" Grange and his Illinois company to the tune of 24-2. Tomorrow Haverford should hold the Franklin Field eleven to four touchdowns although sport writers' estimate a 14-0 score for Penn.

Last year it was seen that Haverford had the best drilled team on Frazer Field and it was only after Weggenman's sensational line plunging that we drove the Haverford boys back. This Fall the Main Liners have th same team with Lamberti, Middleton, Garrett and Webster in the backfield. Webster is the forward passer while Middleton is the line plunger; Lamberti is the backfield interference bulwark; Garrett the quarter does the punting.

Swarthmore took a drubbing from Franklin and Marshall, 14-0 while the latter had a terrible time downing Haverford as a 7-6 score indicates. Thus, Haverford is stronger than Swarthmore unless Penn showers too many touchdowns on them.

Delaware is heavier than Haverford both on the line and in the backfield yet the former lacks the great offensive of the Main Liners.

There will be a great battle next Saturday and every single student and Alumnus should turn out. Come on Student Council we need some pep next Friday night! Let's have that old "peerade" ringing with "Beat Haverford!"

Johnson, president of the Sophomore class, presented the spade to the Freshmen. This was accepted by Katherine Townsend, Captain of the Freshmen. Edith Nunn received the Fresnman class colors from Jean Middleton, president of the Junior class. An attractive feature of this ceremony was a solo by Rita Tatman, who sang "Trees," by Joyce Kilmer. She was accompanied by Dorothy Inderlied. The classes then marched to the site of the new dormitory and dining hall. Here Mr. James Hastings presented the bill granting the money for the building to Dean Robinson. Then Mr. Scott was asked to present the silver trowel to Governor Robinson for the laying of the cornerstone. After the Governor had done this, President Hullihen announced the official opening of the building of the new dormitory and dining hall. The classes then went to Wolf Hall.

The Women's College was particularly honored by having on Founder's Day as its guest and chief speaker Dean C. Mildred Thompson, of Vassar College. Dean Thompson was the speaker at the exercises which took place at Wolf Hall. The title of her talk was the "Investiture of Knowledge."

The title was suggested to her, Miss Thompson explained, by the ceremony of the investiture of the cap and gown on the Seniors. Being interested in history, Miss Thompson spoke most interestingly on the time when investiture was considered a very necessary and essential thing, lending dignity to the one invested. However, the scepter and the ring which were given at the time of investiture were merely symbolic of the power and strength behind them. Likewise, the cap and gown are symbols of learning. The ceremony which the Seniors go through is symbolic of the knowledge which they should have. Miss Thompson spoke of the privileges which accompany the cap and gown, the honor which one may feel in wearing them.

The speech was most interesting and was very well delivered. Dean Thompson gave several interesting remarks pertaining to the subject of history. She commented on the fact that both the Women's College and Vassar were founded at times when a new era was opening to women. The Women's College opened during the beginning of the World War, Vassar during the Civil War. However, Miss Thompson did not over-estimate the importance of history, but merely touched on it. The result of her well-chosen topic was to give the Women's College one of the best and pleasantest addresses which it has had the good fortune to hear.

Dramatic Club Presents Its First Play of the Year

Tonight the Dramatic Club of the Women's College will present three one-act plays in Wolf Hall and everyone is invited to attend. The plays are most delightful and fascinating and the casts have been working diligenty to portray them successfully. The eplays and casts are as follows:

"Hearts," by Alice Gerstenberg.
Jessica—Dorothy Bond.
Cyntha—Frances Eckbert.
Nell—Ann Whaley.
Mrs. Jay Thorne — Agnes Thoms.
Coach—Beulah Thompson.

"A Merry Death," by Nicholas Eareinov.
Pierrot—Jean Lobach.
Columbine—Angela Wisneski.
Harliquin—Jean Middleton.
Coach—Grace Ellison.

"For Distinguished Service," by Florence Clay Knox.
Mrs. Jim Harding — Louise Brooks.
Katharine Burton — Nancy Jones.
Maid—Ann Thompson.
Coach—Lillian Loose.

Seniors Don Cap and Gown At Services In Chapel

Caps and gowns which were gotten out for Founder's Day will not be returned to moth balls and camphor for the winter. The Seniors of the class of '26 voted to make it a custom to wear cap and gown to chapel. On Monday's and Fridays, flying to chapel at 12 o'clock, the campus is cluttered with wouldbe professors, hats awry, gowns dragging. Although the picture does not sound exactly as dignified as cap and gown should be, it is astonishing what a touch of dignity this custom lends to the service. For one thing, it is a distinguishing feature for the Seniors, since the costume makes it possible for the classes to realize that there is such a thing as the oldest class. For another thing, chapel has always been a very hectic affair held in the basement which is freezing in winter, suffocating in summer and very leaky in rainy weather; the basement has always needed a stabilizing influence and the cap and gown give it that. The greatest proof that this custom will probably continue is the fact that not one under classman was afflicted with guffaws, chortles or even smothered giggles when the Senior class stalked into chapel.

Press Club Holds Election

At a meeting of the Press Club on Monday, the folowing girls were elected to membership: Louise Turner, '27; Lynda Bassett, '27; Marian Steele, '28; Lillian Benson, '28; Mary Cameron, '28. Majorie Johnson, '28, was elected secretary and treasurer. The Press Club is a small honorary organization of those interested in journalism. The Senior members are Beulah Thompson, president; Grace Ellison, vice-president; Marjorie Johnson, secretary and treasurer; Merrel Pyle, Mary Frances, Mary Louise Marvel, Margaret Nunn, Miss Nora Keeley, faculty adviser.

Happenings

Miss Angela Weiss, a former member of the Spanish department of hte Women's College, who studied last year in Paris, was a guest over the week-end.

Guests here during the week-end were: Edna Cranston, Mary Giveson, Mildred Holliday, Nellie Cranston, Mrs. W. Cranston, Eleanor Rush, Marjorie Burns, Ruth Anne Russell, Helen Murphy, Mrs. Rodney, Louise Myer, Mrs. Smithers, Minnie Smithers, Charlotte Dayett, Sara Hurlock, Miss Ada Willim, Alice Bierman, Marjorie Macadam, Dorothy Nunn, Marjorie Brosius, Mabel Conaway, Mary Baker, Mary Rollin, Viola Bruce, Anna Walker, Louise Beck, Marjorie Arnold, Bertha Staats and Helen Baylis.

The following girls spent Sunday out of town: Helen Martin, Elelyn Long, Marie Hill, Leone Davis, in Laurel; Mary Beauchamp, in Delmar; Tacy Hurst, in Philadelphia; and Savina Skewis as the guest of Elizabeth Hutt, at Richardson Park.

Athletic Council Selects Hockey Teams

At a meeting of the Athletic Council Wednesday evening, Hockey Teams from the various classes were chosen. A lot of good material is evident this year, and the games thus promise to be more exciting than usual. It is absolutely necessary that those trying out for teams now or in the future realize the seriousness of keeping in training. Several of the school's best players were disqualified on this ground, and we feel that, by breaking this rule, they are not being fair to their classmates or to their college.

The composition of the teams is as follows:

Subs.—Booker, Elliot, Edge, Nunn, and Wheelis.

Subs. — Murray, Reynolds, Warner, E. Brady, and Williams.

Juniors—Jefferson, Ady, Brooks, Bassett, Hutt, Butler, Coleman, Keithley, Wilson, Hurst, and Jones.

The Hockey Schedule for the season of 1925:

Sophomores vs. Freshmen—Thursday, November 5.

Juniors vs. Seniors—Monday, November 9.

Winners of November 5 and November 9—Wednesday, November 11.

Losers of November 5 and November 9—Tuesday, November 17.

Faculty vs. Honor Team—Friday, November 20.

The annual Senior - Faculty football game will not take place until after the Thanksgiving Recess.
