Milton L. Draper Elected Head Of University Graduates

Local Man Chosen At Session Held Saturday; Awards Presented

ALUMNI HEAD

Milton L. Draper

Milton L. Draper, of Newark, was elected president of the University of Delaware Alumni Association at its annual reunion held on Saturday.

Dr. Hullahen speaker... In addressing the group at the banquet held in Old College, Dr. Walter Hullahen stated that a 300-page report on a special survey of the University of Delaware...

More than 250 persons, including the members of the senior class and the baseball team, attended the banquet which was presided over by J. F. Pool, class of 1921.

A George A. Harter scholarship was voted by the association for two students, one from the junior class and one from the senior class.

John McDowell, newly appointed executive secretary, spoke on plans of the association and said that hereafter each class would be organized as an alumni group before graduation.

Other speakers were Gerald P. Doherty, graduate manager of athletics; Col. Donald M. Ashbridge, head of the business division...

Commissions Awarded... The reunion program started with classroom visitations in the morning, followed by a luncheon at noon.

Some diversion could be made from wheat, Mr. Worriwoll stated, "even though the acreage sown last fall is above normal."

An acreage of wheat equal to that to be diverted could be plowed under for green manure. Soybeans could be sown for hay, seed or green manure on that land.

Diverting land from corn or other tilled crops will be more feasible for some farmers in the opinion of Mr. Worriwoll. Soybeans or cowpeas may be planted for hay, seed or green manure, the same as in the case of wheat.

Another plan suggested, is to allow the land to remain unplowed until June, then plow and harrow it occasionally until August, when alfalfa or a hay mixture may be seeded. That method may be used also in establishing a permanent pasture on land that should be diverted.

WORRIWOLL ADVISES

County Agent Issues Statement To Farmers

There are numerous ways in which soil-conserving crops may be substituted profitably for soil-depleting crops by farmers who find it necessary to divert a small acreage this year in order to benefit under the agricultural conservation program, according to G. M. Worriwoll, county agricultural agent.

VOTERS TO REGISTER IN TOWN

Non-Property Owners Have Chance To Vote

In order that non-property owners in Newark may be eligible to vote, it is necessary that the personal per capita tax be paid and names registered on the official balloting list.

The Council of Newark has established four dates for the payment of the per capita tax and the registering of names. Starting today, registrations will continue to be accepted in the Council office, 26 Academy Street, on Friday, Saturday, and Tuesday, May 26, 27, 28, and 31. The office will be open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., D. S. T.

Number Limited... Despite wide-spread warnings issued by the Council last year, less than 50 non-property owners registered for the 1938 town election. When a contest developed for a Council seat in the Middle District between Councilman Herman Wolaston and Robert M. Thompson, numerous people denoted surprise when they discovered that they were ineligible to vote.

Property owners pay their per capita tax with the regular real estate levy and are automatically registered on the voting lists. Only in cases where separate bills for the per capita tax are sent to joint owners of property do both the husband and wife, or other joint owners, become eligible to vote without registering.

When only one per capita bill is paid by a husband or wife, it becomes necessary for the husband or wife not paying the tax to make a remittance in order to be eligible to vote.

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson for May 29 MAINTAINING PERSONAL EFFICIENCY

LESSON TEXT—Dan. 1:8-16, 19, 20; I Cor. 9:24-27. GOLDEN TEXT—Every man that strive for the mastery is temperate in all things. I Cor. 9:25.

Personal efficiency is a subject which is receiving much attention in our day. There has never been so much accurate and usable information as we now have regarding diet, exercise, and medical care.

Having done all these things for the good of the people, we then largely destroy their value by permitting the use and sale of intoxicants which destroy personal efficiency and dull moral perception.

I. A Sound Mind in a Sound Body (Dan. 1:8-16, 19, 20).

Daniel and his three Hebrew companions had been brought to Babylon as captives, and were there chosen to enter the royal school for future service at the court.

The experience of Daniel and his brethren is not just an incident eagerly grasped at by "blue-nosed reformers" to prevent their neighbors from "enjoying" intoxicating liquor.

Such information as the above is available in publications of temperance organizations, books by various writers, and even in publications by state liquor commissions.

II. Success in Life Calls for Self-Control (I Cor. 9:24-27).

Paul delighted in illustrations taken from the athletic field. He talked of running a race, of fighting a good fight. He knew the athlete's need of keeping his body under.

Paul rightly points out that all these sacrifices are made by men for what is but a transient earthly crown. How much more should we do for the sake of our souls.

DISPLAY A FLAG—RESPECT IT

Mayor Collins' Memorial Day Committee and the Chamber of Commerce are asking that all business houses and private residences, especially those on the route of the annual parade, be appropriately decorated with American Flags on Monday.

The appeal is reasonable and should be met with hearty response by everyone. For the benefit of merchants, business people, and residents who may not be at their accustomed locations on Monday, the Mayor's committee has arranged to accept flags at a central point, place them for the day, and remove them at night. This is a step that should eliminate every possible excuse for not having a building or home decorated as it should be on Memorial Day.

Proper respect for the Flag is being advanced by the J. Allison O'Daniel Post of the American Legion, following observations of several years, during which period it has been noted that numerous people in Newark show shameful disregard for our Country's banner.

When the American Flag passes in a parade, or in a review, all persons present should face the Flag, stand at attention and salute. When not in uniform, men should REMOVE THEIR HEADADDRESS with the right hand and hold it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart.

Women should salute by placing the right hand over the heart. The salute to the Flag in a moving column should be rendered at the moment the Flag passes.

Don't be ashamed if your throat chokes and the tears come when YOUR FLAG passes in review. You will never have a worthier emotion. Reverence YOUR FLAG as you would reverence the signature of the YOUTH.

And proper respect for YOUR FLAG on Memorial Day is little enough by way of showing appreciation for the thousands who have sacrificed their lives that YOUR COUNTRY, YOUR FLAG—that YOU—might live and prosper.

LOCAL SAFETY BECOMES A RACKET . . . ALMOST

Bearing endorsements from several officials in Dover and Milford, two pseudo "safety promoters" arrived in Newark some ten days ago prepared to make local motorists and pedestrians, in kind, aware of the fact that caution in going from place to place, whether by foot or in a car, is essential at all times.

Journeying in modern cars bedecked with microphones, loud speakers, and numerous explanatory signs, the "safety promoters" offered a "good story" and were promptly granted the privilege of touring local streets and parking at intersections with the idea of warning motorists and pedestrians of traffic violations and acts of carelessness via the loud speakers.

After the first day, complaints were registered by motorists that remarks directed at them could be termed little short of "fresh," while several pedestrians of feminine gender insisted that remarks blared at them through the loud speakers were unusually "fresh," and did not always pertain to the topic of safety.

Just when local police were pondering a means of squashing the practice that was becoming a nuisance—with official consent—the "safety promoters" opened their own exit, unconsciously, of course, by springing a neat form of racket on local merchants and business men.

Tacked on the end of a high-powered "safety sales talk," the touring brethren of Al Capone, petty and modified, to be sure, presented a plea for five dollars from every local establishment in order that their good work (?) could continue. Sad as it seems, some people here—conscientious and sincere in their regard for honest safety measures—"fell" for the story.

The two nattily uniformed and fast-talking tourists, who boasted of having operated in every State in the nation, called at one too many stores, however. Encountering Councilman C. Emerson Johnson in his place of business, the visitors' activities met with stern rebuke at the outset, and their presence in Newark was made to feel anything but welcome. The Councilman not only suggested that they get out of town, but he saw to it that they left. They did.

It is unfortunate that some business men "fell" for a scheme known commonly as a "shake down." It is far more unfortunate, however, that an important and necessary movement such as safety is used by unscrupulous people to obtain money the "easy way."

SAFETY IS IMPORTANT. SAFETY IS NECESSARY. Business men and the public at large SHOULD SUPPORT SAFETY. In this State, however, it is not necessary that support be given to unknown organizations or individuals, nor to "special movements" that too often prove of questionable value.

The Delaware Safety Council, the oldest and one of the most outstanding organizations of its kind in the country, merits the support of every citizen in the State. The established Council has long since proven its ability to handle the situation in Delaware. It can do the job and it can do an even better job with the cooperation and support of the people of the State.

SAFETY should be promoted and advanced, but movements in this State that do not bear the stamp of approval of the Delaware Safety Council should be looked into and investigated thoroughly lest well-intended support be wasted.

The sleep of the laboring man is sweet whether he eat little or much.—Ecc. 5:12.

WASHINGTON NEWS

FROM OUR CONGRESSMAN WILLIAM F. ALLEN

RECOVERY MEASURE—The Administration's recovery bill passed the House with only two days of debate. An amendment to permit farmers in actual need, but not those on relief rolls, to receive equal status with other applicants for relief, was the only change made in the bill after being reported from Committee.

NAVY EXPANSION BILL—Construction of a large number of war vessels is authorized in the billion dollar naval expansion bill. Three new battleships are provided for and the President is given power to build 45,000 tons ships if other nations build larger vessels; otherwise the 35,000 ton limit stands.

HOUSING—Chairman Fahey, of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board has advocated legislation to liberalize the Board's powers. His proposal would allow the Board to cooperate in building small apartment houses in small cities; would increase by 250 million dollars the HOLC amount to invest in discounting mortgage paper; and would raise the maximum maturity of eligible mortgages to 25 years. This was advocated before the Senate Banking and Currency Committee.

FLOOD CONTROL—A five-year program of $375,000,000 ending June 30, 1944 has been favorably reported by the House Committee on Flood Control to build reservoirs, flood walls, and levees in drainage basins in all parts of the country.

HELIUM—President Roosevelt's decision that he is powerless to authorize the export sale of helium to Germany as long as the members of the National Munitions Control Board are unable to agree as to what amount of gas should be sold, has blocked the efforts of Germany to secure helium for her new trans-Atlantic Zeppelin.

EMBARGO—The resolution by Senator Nye to lift the embargo on arms to Spain has been shelved by a vote of 17 to 1 of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. This was partly due to a recommendation by Secretary of State Hull, who says that "real possibilities of complication might result in if a proposal contemplating a reversal of our policy of non-interference were to be administered."

C. C. C.—The President's signature has entered the Civilian Conservation Corps into its sixth year, $50,000,000 for another term has been appropriated by Congress. In its five years the CCC has done a great deal of good. It has pruned the pocket-books of millions of young men and their needy dependents at home. Since most of the enrollees are from families, eligible for, or on relief, the contribution sent to the folks at home has been a boon to harassed relief officials.

YOUR FRIEND

If you should have a trusted friend, You've known and loved for years.

And then Dame Rumor starts the tongues to wag.

And Idle Gossip seeks to drag Him down to depths depised by men—

Don't listen to it. He's your friend.

But—if you're forced by circumstance

To listen, (lest folks look askance

At you) when all your efforts fail, To contradict the sordid tale

That's added to, and told again:— Then don't believe it. He's your friend.

But—when the evidence is such

You must believe, and can't help much:

Next time you meet him, grip his hand;

You needn't talk. He'll understand. It's you on whom he must depend; Just keep your mouth shut. He's your friend.

Mrs. W. J. Clavor of London divorced her husband, later remarried him, and then divorced him again.

WOMEN'S COLLEGE

By SYLVIA PHELPS

Final Examinations

A strange, unnatural hush lies over the Women's College Campus this week. None of the customary frivolous laughter and chatter is to be heard in the halls. Upon investigation, missing girls are found in the library absorbed in thick, business-like books. When groups of students gather they try to anticipate examination questions, or sobriety exchange favorite methods of review. In short, examination time has caught up with us.

On Tuesday, most of the girls were undecided whether to be happy or depressed. For in spite of the awe-inspiring tests which are coming closer, beyond them lies almost four months of vacation. Tuesday, the last day of classes, was followed by a holiday—or, to be more exact, a study-day. Final examinations start on Thursday, May 26, and will be given until the following Thursday. After that date come the more enjoyable end-of-the-year activities—Alumnae Day, Class Day, and final Commencement itself on Monday, June 6.

W.C.D. Class Election

Before the atmosphere which might be called "examination gloom" fell upon W.C.D., more elections took place. Officers of next year's Senior class are: Sue Wootton, president; Catherine Park, vice-president; Virginia Whitlock, secretary; and Grace Kwick, treasurer. Mins Press is president of the new Sophomore class, while Rita O'Hara is vice-president.

Other organizations have elected leaders. In the regular order of president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, the new Math Club officers are Grace Kwick, Mary Arnold, Dorothy Mitchell, and Dorothy Hodgson. Those of the Science Club are Ruth Kohlbrecher, Janet Grubb, Mary Henry, and Ellen Viehe.

In several ways students have been displaying the work accomplished this semester in some of the more practical courses. On Saturday, Sunday, and Monday afternoons, a student exhibit was shown in the art gallery of the library. On Tuesday the Freshman and Sophomore sewing classes gave fashion shows in which they modelled their new dresses.

verted from cultivation because it is steep or stony or unsuitable for tillage because of other conditions. Another method suggested includes the sowing of land to Sudan grass to supplement pasture during mid-summer.

Where noxious weeds are a problem in areas of fields to be planted to depleting crops, these areas may be plowed late and sown to crops such as soybeans to smother out the weeds. A weed eradication program by chemicals may be followed on this land during the summer and fall, thus diverting it from depleting crops.

Mr. Worriwog stated that he will gladly assist any farmers in planning for their diverted acres.

London Cracks Down On Vice-Profitting Owners

Scotland Yard has launched a vigorous campaign against "flat farmers"—the English name for landlords of apartments who are growing wealthy on the profits of West End vice.

The "flat farmers" have a neat system for circumventing the police. Many of them never visit their flats, but employ agents who ask no questions, require no references. This leaves the owners clear to disclaim all knowledge of tenants' morals.

No rent book is issued, no documents are available, in the event of a raid, to link the landlord with the premises. And although the women often know who their landlord is, they steadfastly refuse to name him.

George IV liked to mimic the solemn, long-faced politicians of his day.

BOOK SHELF

Two years of intensive research and study have borne fruit in the completion of A POSTAL HISTORY OF DELAWARE, by HARVEY COCHRAN BOUNDS, a novel publication which treats of a subject long-neglected by Delaware authors.

After following a hobby for several years of collecting old postmarks, Mr. Bounds, who resides at 224 West Main Street, realized that his data would prove of real interest, not only to stamp enthusiasts and postal associates, but to many history-loving students in the state.

Facts Authentic

The author has left no stone unturned in an effort to establish authentic dates of existence and the locations of old postoffices in Delaware. His account goes as far back as 726 B. C. for which period the Bible was used as a reference, and covers from the settlement of Delaware by the Swedes to the present-day system.

In investigating obsolete post-offices, Mr. Bounds has succeeded in uncovering interesting historical information which otherwise might have been lost.

Contains Seven Chapters

The seven chapters in the book cover: Early postal systems; development of the American post office in the period 1683-1789; post office expansion from 1789 to 1853; the railroads and Delaware post-offices; other Delaware postoffices, 1855 to 1928 and developments in the national postal system.

Tables included in the edition are: Delaware postoffices, arranged alphabetically, with data taken from official post office records; Delaware postoffices, arranged according to date of establishment and lists of postoffices in Delaware in the years 1683, 1775, 1789, 1825, 1860 1898 and 1938.

Mr. Bounds seems to have scored with his first attempt at being an author and his book, which will be on sale at $1.00 per copy in June, should find a place on every family's bookshelf.

MEDITATION Here I sit in contemplation, In a state of agitation, Pondering the allegation, "We must help the poor." All I hear is advocacy For the need of legislation, Boosting the appropriation: Then I'll be taxed, more. But complete alleviation, Of the miseries of the nation, Is a costly obligation I cannot endure. Soaring prices and taxation, Far exceed my compensation; Soon, I'll join the delegation At the almshouse door. Then, with calm anticipation I'll await the daily ration; But—who'll feed a pauper nation? Tell me—I implore. ADAM N. REITER, West Chester, Pa. An explosion of gas in his kitchen blew H. R.
