Elected Head of State Jr. O. U. A. M. at Convention Yesterday—Hoffecker Re-elected

Many Delegates

The thirtieth annual State Convention of the Junior Order, United American Mechanics was held on Monday and Tuesday of this week in Laurel.

More than three hundred delegates from all over the State poured into the town during the week-end and there was something doing every minute of the two-day session.

Charles W. Colmery of this place was elected State Councillor of the Order at the elections held late yesterday afternoon. Mr. Colmery is an active worker in the local lodge and is a member of Town Council. His choice proved a popular one with the delegates. He succeeds George E. Kimmey, of Camden, Del.

Another local man, Harvey Hoffecker, was re-elected State Treasurer for another term. Mr. Hoffecker has proven himself an able man in this capacity and his report read before the convention was clear and concise and accurate.

Among the Newark delegates who travelled to Laurel for the Convention were: Charles W. Colmery, Raymond McMullin, Wesley Keith, Henry Mote and Harvey Hoffecker.

The total assets of the State Order were placed by the Treasurer at $96,510.99.

Other officials elected are: Vice Councillor, William B. Derrickson; State Secretary, Frank Siegrist; Conductor, J. J. Anderson; Warden, W. F. Hall; Inside Sentinel, Marion Bradley, and National Representative J. Milton Lank.

SCHOOL CHILDREN IN VISIT TO PLANTS

Six Grades Visit Local Industries Last Week. See Modern Methods

TEACHERS GO, TOO

Pupils of the Newark Public Schools from the first to the sixth grades, went on a tour last Wednesday of several of the leading industries of the town and a very instructive afternoon was spent.

They were shown that not only the professions but actual making of useful things used in all forms are of supreme importance in the scheme of life.

A flashlight picture of one of the groups was taken at the Delaware Ledger printing plant. A great deal of interest on the part of the children centered in this visit. Printing, the art preservative of all art was explained, this being the object of the visit.

Thus the children of Newark saw the latest and best of everything in connection with handcraft as practiced in Newark.

REV. L. E. BLACK SPEAKS AT SPECIAL SERVICE

Will Occupy Presbyterian Pulpit Next Sunday Evening. A Pioneer S. S. Worker

At the regular Sunday evening services in the Presbyterian Church next week, Rev. L. E. Black, of Parkersburg, W. Va., will occupy the pulpit. Rev. Black has had years of experience in Sunday School and other work connected with the development of the boys and girls of the mountain country in Tennessee and Kentucky. He speaks with authority on the problems confronting the young men and women of those districts, and will also tell of experiences among the mountaineers.

The pastor, Rev. H. Everett Hallman will be in charge of the morning service at the church and will introduce Rev. Black at the evening service.

PLENTY OF ICE

The recent cold snap has made the ice harvest stock jump several points during the week. Fears were expressed earlier in the season that the mild winter would greatly hinder a good harvest.

It was reported yesterday that nine inch ice is the rule on several ponds and streams. The Curtis Paper Mill pond has been the mecca for skaters for several days and they report the going fine.

Providing the weather is favorable, the ice harvested this year should fill all available houses and leave plenty left over.

C. W. HOLLOWAY DEAD FORMERLY LIVED HERE

92-Year-Old Minister Used to Teach in Newark Academy

After a serious illness, terminating in pneumonia, the Rev. Charles H. Holloway passed away recently in his 92nd year.

After graduating, about 1855, from Delaware College, and later from a theological seminary, he entered the ministry of the Presbyterian Church, which he served until impaired hearing compelled him to abandon the work and seek other fields for occupation.

He, with his family, moved to Newark in the early eighties, and for a time was an instructor in Newark Academy, and later was employed as bookkeeper with the Dean Woolen Company. In the latter eighties or early nineties he took up his residence in Philadelphia, and for twenty years engaged commonwealth work from which, because of ill health, he was obliged to resign a few years back.

He leaves a son, E. S. Holloway, of the J. B. Lippincott Publishing Company, and three daughters, Misses Augusta E., M. Estella and Grace C.; a grandson and a great grandson.

The deceased enjoyed the distinction of having a host of friends in this vicinity and his death, marked the passing of an esteemed citizen and former resident of old Newark.

Speakers Of Wide Prominence Will Address Social Workers Here On Tuesday

Plans Rapidly Assuming Shape For Two-Day Session—Social Workers from All Agencies in State to be in Session

Continue Convention in Wilmington on 28th

An interesting group of speakers have been obtained for the National Conference of Social Work, which will begin in Newark on February 27th. Mr. Carl Kelsey, Professor of Sociology of the University of Pennsylvania, will open the meeting with an address on the subject, "A New Field in Social Work." Professor Kelsey is particularly fitted to discuss the whole social field, as he had ten years experience as Director at the Summer School at the New York School of Philanthropy. It is hoped that as many Newark people as possible will come to this morning meeting and stay throughout the day, joining members of the Conference at the luncheon which will take place at 12.30. At this luncheon Mr. Owen R. Lovejoy, General Secretary of the National Children's Labor Committee of New York City will discuss "Child Labor and Minimum Industrial Standards." Mr. Lovejoy has probably done more than any other one man to bring about better standards in Child Labor.

At 2.00 P. M. the subject of "Children" will be discussed with Merle E. MacMahon, Director of the Children's Bureau of Delaware, presiding. The subject will be, "The Obligation That rests on Public and Private Children's Agencies to Observe Good Standards of Care for Children." The speaker will be Mr. J. Prentice Murphy, Executive Secretary of the Children's Bureau of Philadelphia. Mr. Murphy is in demand all over the United States and other countries because of his wide knowledge and great sympathy concerning the dependent and neglected children of our country, and is an inspiration to all who hear him. The last meeting to be held in Newark will be at 3.00 P. M. on the subject of "Foreign Work." Miss Grace Hartsorn, of the Americanization Bureau and now in Settlement Work in New York City, will talk on "The Faith of An Americanizer."

The Professional Social Workers' Club, under whose auspices this conference is being held, wishes to extend a cordial invitation to everyone in Newark to attend these meetings, and also the meetings which will be held on the evening of the 27th and all day of the 28th at the Hotel duPont, in Wilmington.

The meetings will be held in Wolf Hall in the morning and afternoon. Luncheon will be served in Old College Hall at 12.30 on Tuesday to delegates and friends who wish to hear Dr. Lovejoy.

THIEVES LAST NIGHT ATTEMPT CAR THEFT

O. W. Widdoes Finds Sedan Backed Out of Garage and Abandoned; Scared Away

HAVE GOOD CLUE

When Ott W. Widdoes, the well-known train-meeter of Newark, strolled down to his garage behind the Daniel Thompson home this morning he was amazed to find one of the "stalls" open and his sedan standing out in the cold, surrounded with several tools and with the hood off.

It appears that thieves broke into the building, where Mr. Widdoes keeps his busses and the sedan, last night and tried to get away with the small car. The car evidently refused to move for the intruders and they were either frightened away by daylight or gave up the attempt to start it as a bad job.

Gasoline was drained out of another car in an effort to prime the sedan and tools were transferred just for good measure. Everything about the car seemed intact.

When seen this morning Mr. Widdoes stated that he has a very good clue as to the identity of the person or persons who attempted the theft and will bring charges against them when he has sufficient evidence.

FARM BUREAU MOVIES IS LATEST PROJECT

Series of Shows Planned for March. Romance Given Plenty of Room

The Farm Bureau has gone in for the movie. Frank F. Yearsley of Marshallton, President of the New Castle County Farm Bureau, believes that the series of moving picture shows that will be held through the county during March is going to be a novel and educational movement of much importance.

County Agent R. O. Bausman has arranged for the use of a motion picture projector and a set of attractive reels. It requires two hours to run off the set.

The first reel, "Milk and Honey," is a dairy romance. A farmer goes in for improved methods of agriculture. His profits increase, his son falls in love with a reputable neighbor's daughter and everybody is happy.

The "Farm Bureau Comes to Pleasantview" is a motion picture portraying the farmers of the community getting in touch with the Extension Agencies of the county. Farming becomes more profitable, a wholesome

JOHN RENSHAW DROPS DEAD AT STANTON

Lived in Newark for Many Years. Active in Red Men Shock to His Many Friends

John Renshaw, aged 64 years, dropped dead Saturday last in his home near Stanton station. The news of his sudden demise was a shock to a host of friends and relatives both in that place and in Newark.

He had gone to the pump for a glass of water and was in a very cheerful mood. He came in the house and started to make a joking remark when he pitched forward to the floor. Death came almost instantaneously. No cause other than a paralysis of the heart was given for the attack. He was exceedingly active and strong for his years and had been enjoying good health all winter.

The funeral was held this afternoon from St. James Church in Newport, and was attended by a great number of people.

Mr. Renshaw had been for many years in the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad and had lived in Newark for a portion of that time. He was among other things, actively interested in the order of Red Men.

The deceased leaves a widow and four children, Mrs. Reed, of Stanton; Mrs. Campbell, of Wilmington; James Renshaw, of Newport, and John Renshaw, of Palmyra, N. J. He is survived in addition by several grand children. A brother, William E. Renshaw, lives in Newark.

ARTIST SERIES AGAIN VISITS TOWNSPEOPLE

Last Musical Number of the Season Next Saturday Evening in Wolf Hall

MISS ROSA TUCK

The last musical number of the Artist Series at the University of Delaware will be given Saturday evening, February 24th, when Miss Rosa Tuck, of St. Thomas, Ontario, and Mr. Chester Wittell appear in a joint recital. This concert will probably be the finest of the series and is looked forward to by music lovers of Newark and the University.

Miss Tuck makes her second appearance at the College, having sung in Newark during the summer as one of the artists of the summer school program. She will be warmly greeted by the host of friends she has made at Newark and whose many requests for return engagements puts her on this program as one of the most attractive numbers. Miss Tuck possesses a most remarkable contralto voice which, added to a charming personality, wins her audience from the first note and holds it, a willing captive, to the end.

Mr. Chester Wittell is one of America's great pianists, having appeared as soloist with the symphonies as well as in recitals at nearly every large city in the Middle Atlantic States and New England. Mr. Wittell is also a composer of note. He will include some of his own compositions in his part of the program Saturday evening.

C. A. McCUE NAMED DEAN OF UNIVERSITY PENDING DEPARTMENT REORGANIZATION

Recommendation of Committee on Instruction Refused By Board. To Build Up Arts and Science Department

LIBRARY PLANS ARE FORMALLY APPROVED

The Board of Trustees of the University of Delaware met in regular session last Saturday morning.

Great interest centered upon the meeting as it was believed that a new Dean of the University would be elected in place of the late E. Laurence Smith.

Prof. Charles A. McCue, head of Agriculture, was named temporary Dean for the present, until a reorganization of the whole Arts and Science Department was effected.

At the request of Dean McCue, President Hullihen asked the Committee of Instruction to relieve him of these duties because of the stress of other work under his supervision, stating the fact that Prof. McCue is director of the Experiment Station, Dean of Agriculture, Professor of Horticulture, Superintendent of State Farm and State Director of Agricultural Extension. In view of this burden of work and the President's recommendation the Committee of Instruction relieved him of this duty and recommended that the President request Dr. Ryden to assist the situation by accepting temporarily the supervision of this work, he being the man, in their judgment, who could best do it without serious inconvenience to his classroom duties. The Board, however, refused to accept this

Elliott's Garage Burned To Ground

Blaze Sunday Morning Destroyed Two Machines and Other Articles—Two Machines Seen

No Arrests Made

The Lincoln Highway garage, owned by Robert Elliott, situated a few steps from the St. James Church, corner between Newark and Marshallton, was destroyed about two o'clock Sunday morning last. It is believed by all those who have investigated the ruins that the building was purposely fired after having been robbed. Two new cars were lost, together with valuable rubber goods, accessories and tools. The loss is estimated by Mr. Elliott at $7500.

May Be Work of Thieves

The fire was discovered by Oliver Foote, an operator at the Stanton tower of the B. and O. R. R. Foote was on his way to work when he saw two machines in front of the Elliott building. He thought them to be getting repairs and never thought of investigating. When he reached his post in the tower a few minutes later, he was amazed to see a burst of flame and smoke arise from the garage. He ran over and aroused the neighborhood, but the oil soaked building was in ruins before aid from Newark or Stanton could be called.

To substantiate the burglar story, it is alleged that new ties and accessories were scattered on the ground near the building. Several of these articles were found by onlookers.

It is understood that more stock will be available for farmers this year.

DON'T FORGET

Other Business

The Library Committee was given authority to go ahead with the plans for the erection of the building in the Spring.

An appropriation of $12,000 from the Service Citizens as working capital has been received by the Trustees.

STUDENT VOLUNTEER CONFERENCE IN ANNUAL SESSION HERE OVER WEEKEND

Miss Kite, of Women's College, Elected Secretary For Another Term. Town Swarms With Young People From Several Colleges

NOTED MISSIONARIES SPEAK TO MEMBERS

The annual session of the Student Volunteer Conference, an organization composed of students from colleges and Universities of Delaware, Maryland and the District of Columbia was held at the University last Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Over 125 visitors were in Newark during the three days of the conference and, although the hospitality of the town was taxed to its capacity, each one of the delegates met a hearty welcome from the hosts and hostesses. Private homes were thrown open to the guests, fraternity houses and the dorms of both colleges held their full share. The visiting students were delighted with the reception here and were loud in their praise of our little town.

To Interest In Missions

The purpose of the Student Volunteer conference is to interest college men and women in mission work in foreign countries. Throughout the year the members read and study and listen to lectures on various phases of the work and carry their regular studies in addition. Once a year they meet in conference at some place in the territory covered by the body, there to discuss the work of bringing Christianity and education to the natives in other parts of the world. Most of the young people are planning to take up the work upon graduation from college and this means is taken to give them first hand impressions and information which will help them in their foreign work.

Officials of the Women's College were instrumental in bringing the conference to Newark and the arrangements whereby the affair was successfully managed reflects great credit to them.

The Student Volunteer movement was organized in 1886 by Robert R. Wilder. The members thereof pledge themselves that unless something unforeseen happens they will devote some years to missionary work upon finishing college.

Representatives from the Women's College at the Conference were: Miss Estella Kite, Miss Marian Niede, Miss Grace Reed, Miss Maciejewski and Miss Miriam Null, a member of the Faculty.

Program for Session

The meetings started on Friday morning with a lecture on "My Work In China," delivered by Dr. Rowe of Princeton.

On Saturday meetings were held in the West Wing of Old College both morning and afternoon.

At four in the afternoon, tea was served at the Women's College. At 7.00 in the evening a dinner was prepared for the guests in Old College, followed by two lectures in Wolf Hall.

Sunday was devoted to religious devotion for the majority of the day. At two o'clock in the afternoon, Dr. Wilder, founder of the movement and at present General secretary of the Conference, spoke to the delegates and guests in Wolf Hall. Many townspeople attended the evening sessions.

On Sunday evening the delegates began moving out to their respective colleges and homes after a very well managed and instructive session. Many people in Newark knew nothing of the purposes of the movement but when they saw the evident interest and the great number of people pouring in to attend the meetings they were agreeably surprised. The Student Volunteer movement is spreading yearly and is becoming one of the largest missionary conferences so far established.

Miss Estella Kite of the Women's College was re-elected secretary of the Conference for the year.

P. E. PLEASANTON WON PRIZE BULL CALF

Mt. Pleasant Farmer Captured Prize in Auto Tour Judging Contest

P. E. Pleasanton of Mt. Pleasant won the son of King of the Ormsbys, a beautiful bull calf awarded by Winterthur Farms to the person showing the highest score in the dairy cattle judging contest, an interesting feature of the automobile dairy tour held last Wednesday. The tour was under the auspices of the New Castle County Farm Bureau. One hundred twenty farmers were on the tour, including a large delegation of down-State farmers. The committee in charge was: H. C. Milliken, Newark; Wilson Pierson, Hockessin, and J. D. Reynolds, Middletown.

Harry Armstrong, a club boy and a member of the vocational class of Middletown, won the cattle judging contest at the University Farm which was conducted by Prof. T. A. Baker of the University of Delaware. The ladies of the Newark Century Club served a bountiful lunch. A short program was held following the lunch, at which County Agent R. O. Bauman presided. Dr. C. C. Palmer of the University made the main address. Short addresses were also made by R. C. Handy of the Farm Bureau Exchange of Dover, M. C. Vaughn of Georgetown, J. D. Reynolds of Middletown, and R. E. Wilson of Dover.

Special Mating Necessary In Poultry Herding

It has been proved over and over again that if improvement is to be realized each year in succeeding generations, it only can be brought about through making selective matings which means that the poultry keeper must, previous to the hatching season, go through his available females and pick out a certain number of superior birds, place them in a pen or pens by themselves and mate to them superior selected males. By continually breeding from the superior individuals in his flock, he is able each year to gradually step up in succeeding generations the quality and productiveness of his bird. As against this correct method of mating, we have the old and too commonly practice method of letting all females and males run promiscuously, producing fertile eggs from the entire flock and then simply saving the eggs from the entire group of birds whether they be good, bad or indifferent breeders. The one thing which impresses the student of modern poultry conditions is the rapidity with which the small special mating has become a very definite part in the development of large commercial poultry farms today.

Farms was the most novel held in years. Ninety farms entered the contest. After a difficult bit of judging, Mr. Pleasanton carried off the honors.

ARLINGTON RADIO STATION TO BROADCAST MARKET NEWS

Beginning February 15, agricultural market reports will be broadcast daily from the new Arlington radio-telephone broadcasting station, NAA, it is announced. The report will be sent out hourly on a wave length of 710 meters and will cover the markets for live stock, fruits, vegetables, hay, feeds, and dairy products.

The assured range of the Arlington station is approximately 300 miles in all directions from Washington, bounded by Boston and Albany on the north, Columbus and Cincinnati on the west, and Atlanta, Georgia, on the south. The States included within this area are Massachusetts, southern New York, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, most of Ohio, West Virginia, Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina. Under favorable conditions the station may be heard at greater distances.

The reports will be prepared in the Market News Division of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, United States Department of Agriculture, special efforts being made to meet particular market news needs of the agricultural communities to be served.

Broadcasting will be done directly from the office of the Radio Market News Service in the Department of Agriculture by what is known as "remote control," through the Arlington broadcasting station. A telephone line in the department connects directly with the transmitting equipment at Arlington so that the voice of the reader in the Radio Market News office will be heard throughout the area covered by the broadcasting station.

The new arrangement supersedes the broadcasting of market news by Post Office Department Air Mail Station WXX at Washington, D. C., at the direction of the Interdepartment Advisory Committee on Radio Telephone Broadcasting. All Government broadcasting of market news is to be handled hereafter by the Arlington Station at Washington. Outside Washington, the highpowered radio telegraphic service for Government broadcasting is to be handled by Navy stations and market report broadcasting programs of Post Office Department stations at Omaha and North Platte, Nebr., Rock Springs, Wyo., and Elko and Reno, Nev., will therefore be discontinued March 1st, it is also announced.

Over Elkton Way

Last Wednesday afternoon the Elkton Fire Co. was called to Brown's (formerly the old Dunbar place) Belle Hill, to conquer a chimney fire. Owing to the high wind the fire may have proved a very serious one had it not been gotten under control at once.

Friday night an army truck train consisting of about 40 or 50 trucks, enroute from Baltimore to Boston, stopped at the armory over night. Saturday morning from 7 to 12 North street was in an uproar for apparently only about one fourth of the engines could be started and these few ran back and forth towing the others until their engines would go. Finally about noon the last one left town and rumor has it that a scrub bucket and two brushes were missing from the armory.

Local ice dealers in the upper section of Cecil County are harvesting six and seven inch ice in their ice houses.

Senator Joseph I. France, who will be succeeded in the upper branch of Congress on March 4 by Hon. William C. Bruce, has announced that he will enter business in New York, but will maintain his legal residence at Port Deposit, Cecil county.

COAL SHORTAGE HITS ELKTON AGAIN

Dealers Have Only Soft Coal and Coke for Shivering Patrons

The coal situation in Elkton is again becoming of more than passing interest.

The recent cold snap coming as it did just when folks were preparing for an early spring found many cellars lacking in the precious fuel.

The scarcity of hard coal for furnaces and heaters is again being felt. Dealers manage to keep on hand enough coke and soft coal for a few days ahead, but the anthracite variety is conspicuous by its absence.

Many people of the town are burning coke, while others believe soft coal with sufficient attention will keep the house warm.

Everybody, however, is pretty nearly ready for spring according to reports floating across the line.

DELAWARE CITY

Sergeant John H. Anspach and Miss Sarah E. Ballor, of Washington, D. C., were married last Saturday evening by Rev. L. W. Layfield, in the Methodist parsonage.

Sergeant Anspach was formerly stationed at Fort duPont for several years preceding the war and is now stationed at a post near Washington, D. C. He is a brother of Mrs. W. H. Mason of Fourth and Clinton streets with whom the bridal couple are spending a few weeks' furlough.

The baseball meeting which was to have been held Monday night for the purpose of organizing for the coming season, was postponed until a later date on account of the cold condition of the town hall which interfered with the attendance. The meeting was called to order by Frank K. Irons. It was decided to rent the baseball field again for another year. The meeting was then adjourned.

The annual town election will take place on the first Tuesday in April at which time there will be elected a mayor and one city councilman. Mayor G. N. Bright and Councilman P. L. Cofer are the present officeholders whose terms expire. It is rumored that neither will be a candidate for re-election.

Alexander P. Corbit

In the death of Alexander Corbit, Delaware loses a substantial citizen. Interested in everything worth while for the advancement of the State, his position in life made it possible for him to give much of himself to public affairs. Sane quiet judgment, honest to a point of honor, he was never swept away by the issues of the hour. Training and environment made him a conservative, sometimes of the old school, yet he was a citizen who gave gladly to every one the right to his own opinion. Modest to a fault, he served well his day. So often spoken of as a "Substantial Citizen of safe and sound judgement" is the way we shall remember him.

Washington's Best Policy

Of all the words of wisdom, diplomacy, statesmanship and warning against foreign alliances, the greatest policy of individual and national conduct was formulated by George Washington when he said:

"I never say anything of a man that I have the smallest scruple of saying to him."

With the adoption and successful following of such a slogan, the world would be safe for Democracy. Creeds, sects, parties, theories and practices would work in perfect harmony. There would then indeed be Friendship of Nations—The Brotherhood of Man.

Take the deceptions out of our daily lives and the issues of the hour would be settled with undreamed results. The differences of men become acute because of the energy expended in hiding them. Out with the Truth as one sees the Truth is the need of the hour.

"Speak what you think in hard words today," said Emerson, "and tomorrow, if need be, speak again, if you contradict every word you said today"—and say nothing that you would not dare put in type for all the world to read.

Boys and Girls—The Issue

The chance in life of every Delaware boy and girl rests just now in the hands of the members of the General Assembly. A serious responsibility, for some boy or girl in some rural district is going to win or lose by the verdict pronounced by these men. The men who formulated the platforms are now conspicuously silent yet they pledged their party to certain action. For instance Senator-Elect Bayard was loud in criticism of our Educational System and its expense. Why so silent now? Here in Newark, he was especially bitter. He had much to do with the personnel elected to the General Assembly. They need him now.

Prophetic Vision of Washington Seen in Parts of His Farewell Address

These extracts are from Washington's address to the people of the United States on his approaching retirement from the Presidency, counselling the maintenance of the Union, confinement of the general government to its constitutional limitations, and avoidance of entanglements with foreign political affairs.

Interwoven as is the love of liberty with every ligament of your hearts, no recommendation of mine is necessary to fortify or confirm the attachment.

The unity of government which constitutes you one people, is also now dear to you. It is justly so; for it is a main pillar in the choice of your real independence—the support of your tranquillity at home, your peace abroad, of your safety, of your prosperity, of that very liberty which you so highly prize. But as it is easy to foresee that, from different causes and from different quarters, much pains will be taken, many artifices employed, to weaken in your minds the conviction of this truth; as this is the point in your political fortress against which the batteries of internal and external enemies will be most constantly and actively (though often covertly and insidiously) directed—it is of infinite moment that you should properly estimate the immense value of your national union to your collective and individual happiness; that you should cherish a cordial, habitual and immovable attachment to it; accustoming yourselves to think and speak of it as of the palladium of your political safety and prosperity; watching for its preservation with jealous anxiety; discountenancing whatever may suggest even a suspicion that it can in any event be abandoned; and indignantly frowning upon the first dawning of every attempt to alienate any portion of our country from the rest, or to enfeeble the sacred ties which now link together the various parts.

It is important, likewise, that the habit of thinking in a free Country should inspire caution in those entrusted with its administration to confine themselves within their respective constitutional spheres, avoiding, in the exercise of the powers of one department to encroach upon another. The spirit of encroachment tends to consolidate the powers of all departments in one, and thus to create, whatever the form of government, a real despotism. A just estimate of that love of power, and proneness to abuse it which predominates in the human heart, is sufficient to satisfy us of the truth of this position. The necessity of reciprocal checks in the exercise of political power, by dividing and distributing it into different depositories, and constituting each the guardian of the public weal, against invasions by the others, has been evinced by experiments, ancient and modern; some of them in our country and under our own eyes. To preserve them must be as necessary as to institute them. If, in the opinion of the people, the distribution or modification of the constitutional powers be, in any particular, wrong, let it be corrected by an amendment in the way which the Constitution designates. But let there be no change by usurpation; for though this, in one instance, may be the instrument of good, it is the customary weapon by which free governments are destroyed. The precedent must always greatly overbalance, in permanent evil, any partial or transient benefit which the use can, at any time, yield.

Against the insidious wiles of foreign influence, I conjure you to believe me, fellow-citizens, the jealousy of a free people ought to be constantly awake; since history and experience prove that foreign influence is one of the most baneful foes of republican government. But that jealousy to be useful, must be impartial; else it becomes the instrument of the very influence to be avoided, instead of a defence against it. Excessive partiality for one foreign nation, and excessive dislike of another, cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil, and even second, the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots, who may resist the intrigues of the favorite, are liable to become suspected and odious, while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people, to surrender their interests.

Europe has a set of primary interests which to us have none, or a very remote relation. Hence she must be engaged in frequent controversies, the causes of which are essentially foreign to our concerns. Hence, therefore, it must be unwise in us to implicate ourselves by artificial ties, in the ordinary vicissitudes of her politics, or the ordinary combinations and collisions of her friendships or enmities.

'Tis our true policy to steer clear of permanent alliances with any portion of the foreign world; so far, I mean, as we are now at liberty to do it; for let me not be understood as capable of patronizing infidelity to existing engagements. I hold the maxim no less applicable to public than to private affairs, that honesty is always the best policy. I repeat it, therefore, let those engagements be observed in their genuine sense. But, in my opinion, it is unnecessary and would be unwise to extend them.

In offering to you, my countrymen, these counsels of an old and affectionate friend, I dare not hope that they will make the strong and lasting impression I could wish; that they will control the usual current of the passions, or prevent our nation from running the course which hitherto has marked the destiny of nations; but if I may even flatter myself that they may be productive of some partial benefit, some occasional good; that they may now and then recur to moderate the fury of party spirit, to warn against the mischiefs of foreign intrigues, to guard against the impostures of pretended patriotism, this hope will be full recompense for the solicitude for your welfare by which they have been dictated.

GEORGE WASHINGTON.

United States, September 17, 1796.

WEDDINGS

Schaen—Beck

On Saturday evening last, at seven o'clock, Miss Nora Beck and Mr. George Schaen, both of Newark, were quietly united in marriage at the parsonage of the local Methodist Episcopal Church. Rev. Frank Herson, pastor of the church, officiated at the ceremony.

The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. William T. Strickland.

Layfield—Lafferty

Miss Grace Evelyn Layfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Layfield, of "Meadowsweet Farm," near Newark, and Mr. Merwin L. Lafferty, of Wilmington, were married Saturday afternoon, at 4.30 o'clock, in St. Thomas' Episcopal Church.

The ceremony was entirely informal and no invitations were issued. However, over fifty close friends of the bride and groom thronged the little church during the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. There was no music, and a few ferns around the altar of the church was the only form of decoration. The entire affair was carried out with the utmost simplicity.

Rev. Edgar Jones, rector of St. Thomas, conducted the ceremony.

Friends and relatives of the couple were on hand at the door of the church and a shower of confetti greeted the bride and groom as they walked to the Layfield car parked along the curb. They intended leaving on the 5.19 express, but the train was very late and the party stayed in the car until almost half-past five, before they got away on their honeymoon.

The crowd of well-wishers stuck out to the end, however, and as the train pulled in and the newlyweds mounted the steps, they were followed by more rice and confetti.

Miss Layfield is one of the most popular young women in this vicinity. She entertains frequently at the spacious Layfield home and is right in the middle of everything. She was tendered a number of showers before her marriage at which occasions she received many valuable gifts from her friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Lafferty returned to Newark last night, their honeymoon in New York being necessarily so short, as Mr. and Mrs. Layfield left today for an extended trip to California. They expect to be gone for three months and the bride and groom will be at home at "Meadowsweet" until their return. Later on it is understood that Mr. and Mrs. Lafferty will make their home in Wilmington where the groom has a position.

REPORT OF COUNTY AGENT FOR NEW CASTLE COUNTY MONTH OF JAN.

Holstein-Friesian Consignment Sale
 After holding three meetings and encountering some puzzling problems the committee in charge of the fourth annual Holstein-Friesian consignment sale is ready to announce that the sale will be held at the State Fair Grounds March 22, and that forty head of quality animals will be sold. The committee has limited the number of bulls and heifers in the sale feeling that mature cows would draw a better aggregation of bidders. Holding the sale at the State Fair grounds makes it easily accessible to points in New Jersey and Pennsylvania as well as the Peninsula. Three thousand catalogues have been ordered and will be mailed to Holstein breeders Delaware, Maryland, Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Cow Testing Association
 Mr. Harold L. Hansen, in charge of the Delmarvia Cow Testing Association, reports that the Association is now well under way and that he has every reason to feel that at the end of the year the group of farmers making up the Association will have complete and valuable herd records.

Annual Auto Dairy Tour
 The annual automobile dairy tour was held Wednesday, February 14. The committee in charge extended an invitation to the down-state farmers to be the guests of the New Castle County Farm Bureau on this tour. The down-state farmers were met at Middletown. The committee had evolved some "novel stunts" which were both interesting and educational. At the Winterthur Farms a dairy cattle judging contest on the basis of production was held. Winterthur Farms added impetus to this contest and the entire tour by offering to award a son of King of the Ormsbys to the person having the highest score in this contest.

Poultry Culling Demonstration
 A poultry culling demonstration was held on the farm of Mr. Frank Dennison near Hockessin. Even though both the weather and roads were unfavorable, thirty-five farmers turned out. Mr. Carroll Mumford conducted the demonstration. Mr. Mumford pointed out that nature has endowed the fowl with features which, if observed and studied by the tender, can with considerable accuracy determine the productive birds.

Community Meetings
 The County Agent has arranged with the Delco Light Co. for the use of a Delco outfit and a moving picture machine in the holding of a series of community meetings. With this equipment it will be possible to hold a moving picture show in rooms which are not equipped with electric lights. The County Agent is delayed somewhat in securing suitable reels, but they are expected at an early date. Holding a moving picture show at a community meeting is something novel. It is felt that it will be an impetus in stimulating attendance.

Japan Clover Demonstrations
 Japan Clover is a pasture clover which gives promise of being of economic value in this county. It is an annual but produces enough seed to reseed itself even though it may be cropped very closely. Used in a mixture it produces good pasture in the late season when the average mixture is short. Demonstrations will be held during the season on the farms of John C. Mitchell, Hockessin, Dr. Bayard Murray, Newark, J. D. Reynolds, Middletown, George C. Burge, Middletown, and C. W. Maclary, Newport.

Growing Soy Beans for Seed Demonstrations
 The growing of soy beans for hay in this county is an established practice. Due to the success in growing the crop for seed in other parts of the State, a few demonstrations will be arranged in this county to show the value of the crop for seed under local conditions. The County Agent has arranged with Mr. J. D. Reynolds of Middletown for one demonstration. This demonstration will comprise ten acres. During the next few weeks demonstrations will be arranged in other points of the county. The crop is cut and threshed similar to wheat.

Certified Seed Potato Demonstrations
 The certified seed potato demonstrations will be continued through the coming season. The Michigan and the New York Potato Producers' Associations have each agreed to provide us with the seed gratis. It is of course incumbent upon us to defray the shipping cost. Tests will be conducted on the following varieties: Green Mountain, Rural Russet, Sir Walter Raleigh, Norcross and Irish Cobbler. In addition to these variety tests we will determine the relative value of certified seed and the first crop grown from certified seed.

HANNER MAY TWIRL FOR NEWARK CLUB

Former Elton Star Understood to Favor Local Team. No Negotiations Opened, But Rumor Persists

It is understood from a reliable source that Bill Shanner, the big right under who starred on the mound for Elton last year would like to pitch for the new Newark club to be formed this year.

There has been no meeting between club officials and Shanner and it may be that nothing in the way of communications have been received or written. Definite action on the matter is still quite a ways off, and the matter of signing players will have to wait until the finances of the proposed club are built up.

But it is not complicating matters in the least to know that Shanner would like to come here for the season. He has a pitching record covering several seasons which is an enviable one. With the Elton League team he won his games with methodical regularity and was far and away the best pitcher in the circuit.

Other valuable players have signified their desire to play with Newark this season, showing that it may be a big year for baseball in this community providing everything is managed and pushed along in a frank open business manner.

Blue and Gold Lose to Swarthmore in Listless Game and Trim Haverford. Five Games in Eight Days Hard on Players. Should Have Beaten "Littel Quakers"

WILLIAMS CONTINUES SCORING STREAK

The University of Delaware's basketball team played two of their oldest and most delightful enemies during the latter part of last week. On Friday night the Blue and Gold was defeated by Swarthmore on the latter's floor, 24-21. Then the locals met around Saturday evening and defeated Haverford, 37-23. And then on Sunday and a much needed rest the part of the Blue Hens Chicks. From the report of eyewitnesses present at the Swarthmore game, Avoy's proteges had the game severely gripped and then in the second half stood around while the Quakers ran methodically to cut down a 17 lead.

That they cut down that lead is of course to their credit, but Delaware is very few if any alibis for the loss of the game. In the first half, the boys from Newark took an early lead and kept it until they even had the Swarthmore rooters acknowledging defeat.

Lack of teamwork, failure to pass and general all-round listlessness played a big part in the defeat. Be said, however, with all seriousness unless a team is trained to the point, five games in eight days is a little too big a strain. That's the only excuse which seems to hold water.

Williams led the scoring with four buckets, with Jackson scoring five and a field goal. Dotterer was in a big confusion for Swarthmore with Asplundth, the big footballer, coming in for a share of the glory. The score:

WILLIAMS COLLEGE TO TRAIN HERE IN SPRING

Frazier Field to be Site of New Englanders' Early Work-outs. Athletic Council Plans Banquet

Williams College baseball team will use Frazier Field at the University of Delaware for their Spring training. The Northerners will arrive about the first week in April for probably a two weeks' stay.

The Delaware baseball schedule is approved by the Athletic Council in their meeting last week. Eighteen contests make up the list. Thirty games were scheduled last spring. Charles W. Howard is manager of the team and Charles A. Nutter is captain. Anybody who can pitch fair to middling baseball is thought to be of purest gold serene at the University this year. No pitcher of Varsity experience is in college, although Lund and Magaw saw service with the squad. The rest of the team is in pretty fair shape, but the pitching problem is the big bugaboo just now. Plans for an Athletic Council banquet to be held in the near future in Old College at which time letters and trophies for the past season will be awarded.

BOXING IN DELAWARE

It looks very much as though the sportsmen of the State have in their possession a nice big hot potato. Said potato being the Boxing Bill recently introduced in the Legislature.

Ran across a wild-eyed sponsor of the bill the other day in Wilmington. Found him burning up the wires trying to get publicity in the afternoon papers. Some gave it to him; others fought a little shy. The wild-eyed one roared and bellowed and pawed the ground, but no sir; they wouldn't give him an inch.

He had not the slightest patience with anyone who offered an argument against the Bill; in fact he called down the condemnation of all the gods, heathen included, upon the heads of the backsliders, the reporters, the hold-backs. Never did I see one so immersed in his subject as this Wilmingtonian.

The idea, of course, is to legalize professional and amateur boxing in the State. Perhaps put it all in the hands of a Commission. Very good. But somehow, the Commission form of control does not seem to satisfy the average citizen. New Jersey has a Commission; so does New York, and they're both down in the muck of despair ninety per cent of the time. The greatest sport in those states is not seen in the ring; it is witnessed in luxurious offices behind mahogany desks, where the promoters, the managers and the members of the Commission fight their battles with the weapons usually in the form of high-power currency. To put one over on the Commission is the ambition of all concerned.

Now they want it in Delaware. Wilmington, all will admit, will support a boxing club, maybe two of them. The town is the type needed. But down in Kent and Sussex counties, there don't seem to be many torchlight parades and speech making to boom the spirit.

The Churches are almost solidly against the bill; the women of the State are standing shoulder to shoulder. The Boxing Bill will pass only when an able sponsor with a position of prominence in State affairs will take the helm and fight tooth and nail for its passage.

As it stands now—There are a lot of bills that feel their chances of passage are increased when the Boxing Bill is defeated.

Speaking of the manly art: One of our very prominent business men, who glories in the possession of Mike as a front name, got all dressed up in his spotless clothes, closed his business and went all the way over to Elton to see a boxing show last week. But it seems that some one had been teasing Mike. There was no show. So Mike has instructed his representative to stuff the ballot box, if necessary, to kill the Boxing Bill.

COMING ATTRACTION

The Base Ball Carnival coming the first week in April is hope to be the starting point for a successful baseball season for this town.

As everyone knows, but which a lot of them forget, a baseball team is one of the most expensive little ventures you can imagine. Money, Money, Money, and then some more. Not extravagance, not mishandling of funds; just a steady drain on resources is the price paid for a team in a small town, EXCEPT—

When the town backs up its team, comes to the games, and supports the cause.

Here comes a carnival, three nights of enjoyment and pleasure. With the money thus raised, Newark hopes to land some kind of a pennant. Will the fans who bought a half dozen paddles instead of one at the wheel come out Saturday afternoons and deposit the necessary price of admission, or will he hand over the fence and cast bright remarks to the home players on the field?

George Dobson and Billy Marrs have been persuaded to don their aprons and take charge of the Hot Dog (might as well call a spade a shovel) and Coffee Table. This announcement wakes fond memories in the minds of the regular patrons of carnivals. Milly and George stand alone in their respective arts.

'It's all in knowing how,' they say. To which we all ravelly nod our heads and have another one.

"MAY ELECT CAPTAIN OF DELAWARE FIVE"

—Headline.

Hooray and likewise Hurrah.

Now that the Blue and Gold has only two more games to play, it might be possible to name a leader without making bad friends.

One man's vote, or rather his failure to vote, caused the unfortunate spectacle of a University team going through the entire season without an authorized captain.

Now the astonishing announcement is made that they may have a captain after all.

We must say that people in the State are not so blind but that they can see an inconsistency somewhere.

It is to be deplored.

last week-end and it was then that he formally announced his decision. It was believed that he would accept if he could arrange his business affairs at his farm near Farmington, Del.

"Pat" Keyes, a former hurdler and track authority was graduated from Delaware several years ago. While here he specialized in Agriculture and immediately settled at his present home in Farmington.

Previous to his period at the University, Keyes attended Lehigh University where he won fame on the cinder track as a hurdler.

While in Delaware he was instrumental in developing Davey Crockett, the best hurdler ever produced here.

Mr. Keyes expects to come to Newark and take active charge of the candidates about March 20th. Together with Captain Pitman he will go over the prospects and familiarize himself with existing conditions at the University.

It is felt by all those closely associated with the University that the selection of Keyes has been a wise one.

Feb. 21, 1923.

Dear Jane:

It was so good to hear from you again and I do hope you can have some Y. W. C. A. work in your town. Oh it has meant so much to me and we often say we don't know how we ever got along without it. The last thing we have done is to have a "Bake." Besides the District Budget we have our own budget and in it we include the cost of sending two girls to a summer conference like the conference at Camp Nepalwin. At these conferences there are girls from loads of different places and new friends are made and ideas exchanged and most of all, new enthusiasm is gotten. Then other things are included in the budget—some money for Y. W. C. A. work in foreign countries, etc. We made $25 on Saturday—wasn't that great and we certainly do thank the women who helped us.

The next important thing to happen was the second meeting of the gym class.—Well, I laughed until I cried and got so excited in some of the games that my head ached from yelling. The first meeting was on an awful night and there were only four of us there. We had gym all right that night! And for two days I could hardly walk but I could hardly wait to get back again and wasn't one bit stiff after the second lesson. There were sixteen at the second lesson and we surely did have fun. I've been talking to several of the girls and women and they say they were not stiff. I guess we had too much of a chance that first night. Miss Parkhurst is just great and I'm so glad we can have it at the Women's College. Some of us took a trip through Science Hall after the gym class and Miss Taylor showed us some of the things the girls had done in Art so far this year. It was just fascinating and I'd love to be able to have that course. I hope I can go to college here when I finish High School. Why don't you decide to come here, too?

Good night and love from MARY.

A. P. CORBIT BURIED THIS AFTERNOON

Prominent Citizen of Odessa Died Sunday Last. On Governor's Staff

EXPERT FARMER

The State at large mourned the death of Brigadier General Alexander P. Corbit, of Odessa, which occurred last Sunday. General Corbit was stricken with a heavy cold early last week and the ailment developed into pneumonia a few days later. He was 62 years of age.

The funeral services were held this afternoon from his late residence near Odessa. Bishop Philip Cook of the Diocese of Delaware officiated at the ceremonies. In attendance were many men prominent in State farming, bank and legislature circles. Interment was made in the family cemetery in Odessa.

Well Known in State

General Corbit was born in Odessa in February 1861, the son of John Cowgill and Emily Peterson Corbit. At an early age he went away to school, receiving preparatory training at Lawrenceville and later attending Haverford College.

He immediately returned to Odessa and engaged in farming. He was one of the early pioneers of scientific farming in the State and his efforts along these lines were of great value in raising the standards of agriculture.

His great popularity in his district and his well known ability in everything he touched led him into politics and he served several terms in the State Legislature, both as Senator and Assemblyman. He was speaker of the House from 1919 to 1921, and on the Governor's staff for many years.

He was a staunch Republican in politics. Of late years he has devoted most of his time to his farm in Odessa.
