REC'D: NOV 28 1949

Dear Dannie:

I told you last week about a confidential letter which I had from Edmund Stinnes in which he gave me some information concerning the background of Bramuglia leaving the Foreign Ministry in Buenos Aires. I am sending you herewith a copy of the letter. Stinnes has very intimate and useful contacts in the Argentine which he naturally wishes to conserve. You will note that in the postscript to his letter he asks me to destroy it, which I have now done after sending you this copy. I would appreciate your destroying this copy of the Stinnes letter which I am sending you.

I am also sending you a clipping from a Buenos Aires newspaper commenting on the Bramuglia resignation. You may wish to read this clipping, and in any event I will appreciate your returning the clipping to me.

We miss you very much, as we enjoyed every minute of the visit which you and Yvonne made us. I hope you found Hettie better, and do give her our love. I think it is today that May and the baby are leaving, and I am sure that you all will miss them very much.

Things continue to develop satisfactorily here. We must make every effort to stop Summerscales from forming a committee. I wrote Binder a long letter yesterday, of which I sent you a copy last evening, and I wrote him another note on the same matter this morning, of which I will send you a copy today. I think Binder can stop it. Whether Summerscales is acting for himself or for others, it is equally important that the whole business be stopped.

Tomorrow is Thanksgiving but no holiday here, but we are asking our most intimate friends in for a quiet Thanksgiving dinner. We are asking the Randalls, the Wooduls, the Roses and the Katzes, and of course Jimmy and June. With love and good wishes to you all from us both,

Cordially and faithfully yours,

George S. Messersmith
