P. T. Council To Hold Convention In Newark

Plans Made for Affair at Board Meeting in Dover Yesterday

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the State Parent-Teacher Association, held at the home of Mrs. Robert E. Lewis, Dover, yesterday, resolutions were adopted endorsing the Child Labor Bill, now before the Legislature and the Educational Program of the State Board of Education. At the request of the State President, Mrs. John D. Cleaver, of Middletown, Dr. H. V. Holloway, Superintendent of Public Education, visited the meeting and replied to a number of questions advanced by the Committee, in regard to the bills affecting the school law, to come before the present Legislature. "The Educational situation in Delaware," Dr. Holloway declared, "is, I believe, critical. Living within our present budget, it is necessary to engage many poor teachers. The State Board of Education has gone on record as recommending a cut of $200,000 on the budget as filed by the Secretary of the Board; there is a danger that the appropriation Committee of the Legislature will recommend an additional cut. Should these recommendations be carried out, it would mean one thing: Delaware schools will depend upon poor teachers. Already the minimum salary paid in Delaware is $150.00 per year less than in the State of Maryland and the maximum salary is as much as $750 less than in Wilmington and the State of Pennsylvania and New Jersey. Four hundred thousand dollars of the budget now filed with the Legislature is for increase in teachers' salaries.

"If the reductions recommended are carried out, as already implied, it means that the present salary schedule which recognizes teaching ability must go and Delaware will be condemned to the very poorest teachers."

Middle Atlantic Council Hold Convention at Newark

Plans for the entertainment of the Middle Atlantic Council of the National Parent-Teacher Association to meet at the University of Delaware on the 14th and 15th of March were discussed, and the President was authorized to appoint five delegates from the Delaware Association to attend this convention. Mrs. Cleaver announced this morning the following to represent Delaware: Mrs. Garrett S. Harrington, of Harrington; Mrs. E. D. Boyer, of Smyrna; Mr. George S. Williams, of Millsboro; Mrs. Wm. B. Jester, of Delaware City; Mrs. Edward A. Pool, of Middletown. Miss Etta Wilson, Executive Secretary of the Association, will also be present.

The Middle Atlantic Council of the National Parent-Teacher Association includes the President of the State Parent-Teacher Associations from New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland and District of Columbia.

Mrs. George L. Townsend, President of the local Association, is arranging for the entertainment of the delegates while in Newark. The first meeting will be held on the 14th and will probably be a popular meeting, to which all those interested in school affairs and the relationship of the school to the home will be invited. The final session will be on Friday, the 15th.

Next Annual Meeting

At the meeting yesterday, Harrington was selected as the place for the next annual convention of the State Association to be held on April 7th next.

Luncheon was served by Mrs. Robert E. Lewis. Those present were: Mrs. Harrington, Mrs. Boyer, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Jester, Mrs. Pool, and the Misses Longfield and Wilson.

Local Order Jr. O. U. A. M. Host to Many Guests At Meeting Monday

OVER 70 PRESENT

The American Flag Council No. 28, Jr. Order United American Mechanics held their twenty-sixth anniversary meeting in their lodge rooms Monday evening and a splendid evening was enjoyed by more than seventy members and their guests from all parts of the State.

Most of the evening was spent in a series of most interesting speeches and prepared talks from out-of-town brothers. Charles Colmery presided and introduced the speakers with short remarks.

Those who delivered talks on prepared topics and their subjects were as follows:

Bro. Kinney, of Camden Council, "The Birth of the Order"; Bro. Caulk, "The History of the Order"; Bro. Joseph E. Lank of Milton Council, "A Lonely Man"; and Bro. Hanson, "The Crooked Path."

Following these talks, the balance of the meeting was taken over by impromptu remarks by the guests and local member. Among those who spoke at this time were Bros. Hope, of Delaware City, Brooks, Allen, Carter, and Lewis of Caesar Rodney, F. Mote, Walker, David, and H. Mote.

Later in the evening the gathering was treated to an ample supply of oyster sandwiches, pickles, coffee, ice cream, cake and cigars, and while thus enjoying a splendid "feed" got together and talked over the Order and of its plans and purposes. Many of the visitors expressed their pleasure at the activity and strength of the local Council. It is considered one of the best in the State.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S LEAGUE IN MEMORIAL SERVICE

Many Present as Short Eulogies of Late Dean are Given. Regular Program Also

The Young People's League of the St. Thomas Episcopal Church held another one of its very interesting meetings in the church last Sunday evening. The affair was one of a series to be given each week throughout the winter and is in charge of George Carter and John S. Shaw.

Part of the evening Sunday was given over to a memorial service for the late E. Laurence Smith. Short talks of five minutes duration were delivered by Dr. Walter Hulihan, Dr. George A. Harter, Prof. George E. Dutton and Edwin A. Hoey. This service came at the end of the regular program and was effective throughout.

One of the features of the program was an address by Miss Sara Pyle, founder and head of the Peoples' Settlement in Wilmington. Paul Conrad, president of the League, presided over these services, and William P. White, of Wilmington, led the choral singing. Old hymns that everyone knew were sung, including "Abide With Me," "Nearer My God to Thee," "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," and "Lead Kindly Light." Harry J. Harkins, manager of the Hotel duPont, and Wilmington Rotary Club tenor, sang "The Holy City." Little Miss Jennie Slack sang a soprano solo.

COMMITTEE TO URGE ELKTON POSTOFFICE

Chamber of Commerce Has Two Plans in Mind. Census and Industrial Committees Appointed

MAY USE BANK

The meeting of the Elkton Chamber of Commerce held last Monday night in Council Hall was well attended and a number of important matters were settled.

The all-important subject of a new Postoffice is still the first big objective of the new body and they are pushing the project strongly. Thomas W. Perkins, receiver of the Second National Bank, appeared before the meeting and brought with him a plan. It was stated that he had been in touch with the Postoffice department in Washington regarding the remodeling of the Second National Bank building on North street for use as a possible site. Architects from the Department would in all probability be sent to Elkton for that purpose.

It was decided to table the suggestion pending the trip of a special committee to Washington in the near future relative to a new building. In case officials in Washington will not grant their request, then the bank building will be used. On the second floor it is planned to arrange offices.

Other Committees

C. A. McCUE APPOINTED ACTING DEAN

Selection of Permanent Officer To Be Made at Trustee Meeting February 17

SEVERAL MEN ELIGIBLE

Prof. Charles A. McCue, at present Dean of the School of Agriculture at the University of Delaware and Director of the State Experiment Station here, was named by President Hulihan as Acting Dean of Delaware College the latter part of last week. This appointment was made pending the action of the Board of Trustees in the matter at the next meeting on February 17th.

A meeting of the Committee on Instruction of the Board was called for this morning at the Hotel duPont but owing to the illness of some of the members, the meeting was postponed. The committee will consider recommendations from President Hulihan and in turn make recommendations to the Board on the 17th.

Dean Smith had many duties which will be difficult to fill. He was head of the Romance Languages Department, secretary of the Faculty, Dean of the Arts and Science Department, and vice-president of the University in the absence or illness of the president. Any one of these positions represent a man's full time and only by long association with the affairs of the institution and an almost superhuman driving energy was Dean Smith able to fill with the greatest success all these positions. Considerable discussion will no doubt be held in the Board on the matter of the new Dean. Few men there are that could fill more than one of these positions in addition to his present work. It is rumored that the work of the Dean will probably be divided.

DELAWARE DEFEATS PENN JUNIOR TEAM

Cole and Gibson Star in Fast Game on Home Court

The Junior Varsity of the University of Pennsylvania took a trouncing at the hands of the Delaware outfit last night in the University Gym to the tune of 23-18.

The game was hard fought and fast throughout. Most of the Delaware scoring was accomplished in the first half. Jackson was steady at the foul line and added several points which kept the Blue and Gold in front. In the second half the game speeded up perceptibly, with Penn trying hard to overcome the lead. Two long shots by Jones and Rohrer brought them within five points of the Blue and Gold but they could not break through the defense of Williams, France and Gibson for the needed points before the whistle.

Cole, Gibson and France played exceptionally well for Delaware. For Penn the work of Jones and Magraw stood out. The latter is a former Wilmington boy and was well known to some of the Delaware students.

TWO MORE POSTMASTERS RECOMMENDED

Senator Ball Sends Names To Senate This Week

Senator J. Heister Ball has recommended to the United States Senate the name of Frederick Gebhart to be confirmed as postmaster at Hockessin, Delaware.

Frederick Dodson was also recommended by the Senator for a similar position at Smyrna. The latter appointment will be sent to the Senate along with the name of Leroy Hickman, Wilmington's new official, on the same day and confirmation is expected within a day or two. The illness of President Harding has caused the delay in the case of Hickman.

CAPTURE BIGAMIST

Jean Lagrange, wanted by the State of Maryland for two years on a charge of bigamy, was captured in New York yesterday. He was brought to Elkton, where the alleged bigamous marriage was performed, this morning, in charge of officers. He waived a hearing, and gave $3000 bond for appearance at the March term of the Cecil County Court.

The final capture of Lagrange has brought to a close a two-year man hunt throughout the country. He was

Defer Action On Bus Line Controversy

Stiltz Line Fighting Request of Maryland Company for Terminal in Wilmington

Action by the Street and Sewer Department of the City of Wilmington upon the appeal of the Interstate Bus Line for permission to open a terminal in that city was held up yesterday afternoon. Nothing in the way of a decision will be handed down until some time next week is the report.

The proposed Interstate Line would run from Chesapeake City through Elkton and to Wilmington, connecting its Maryland terminus with the Chestertown and Eastern Shore lines. Naturally it would include Newark, Marshallton and Elsmere in its route.

A. C. Stiltz raised a strong protest before the officials of Wilmington in this matter, claiming that the Stiltz Line ably handles traffic between Newark and Wilmington, especially the territory about Marshallton. The Elkton-Chesapeake City Bus Line also protested before the committee.

A joint banquet in the hotel will also be attended by members and guests of both Associations. Governor Ritchie of Maryland, and possibly Senator Bayard of Delaware, will be the chief speakers.

MEETING POSTPONED

On account of so much sickness in the community, the meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the local M. E. Church have postponed their meeting scheduled for Friday of this week until Friday, February 9th.

WHY TEACH AGRICULTURE?

The reason why a special effort is being made to further the cause of agriculture in the secondary schools is that, in the past, the schools have ignored the technical knowledge pertaining to the vocation. Unless the farmer, at some time in his life, through some agency, learns the essentials of agricultural science, there is little likelihood of his being more than a routine tiller. It takes something more than routine work to manage and pay for a farm these days. The rural high school occupies a place of vantage as an agency for agricultural teaching. The farm boys who come to its classes are young and impressionable; they have time and opportunity for study. The essential knowledge is at hand in abundant forms. The school is accessible to boys from the country, and that is where agriculture is. A well trained teacher with the right sympathies and perspective can make the high school course in agriculture a highly respected instrument of service in his community.

Certain of One Detail

The detective getting a description of an absconding bank cashier of his employer asked: "Now give me some particulars of this man—size, color of hair, kind of clothes, and so on. How tall was he?"

The banker hesitated a moment, rubbed his chin rather doubtfully, and then answered: "I can't exactly tell you how tall he was, but I can tell you to within a dollar or two just how short he was."—Judge.

NEWS OF THE NEIGHBORHOOD

AS TOLD BY CORRESPONDENTS AND EXCHANGE

ELKTON

Cecil County farmers are certainly to be congratulated upon their excellent showing in the recent Interstate Corn Show held in Frederick, Md.

Out of the twenty-nine prizes offered at the show, eleven were captured by entries from this county. All the exhibits were of a high order and the show itself was considered one of the finest displays of corn ever shown in Maryland.

Frederick is in the heart of the wheat and corn belt of Maryland. The Frederick Valley is considered an ideal farming country, well drained, rich and with available markets close by. Those who have taken the trip by motor will remember vividly the scene as they pass through Ridgeville, mount the last rise and see before them that wonderful valley, dotted with farms and villages and further in the distance the first glimpse of the Blue Ridge mountains barring the way to the south.

And Cecil county farmers came down into that splendid country and carried away a big percentage of the prizes. They say, do these complacent Frederick farmers, that this county is made up of barrens, marshes and backwaters from the Chesapeake Bay.

But we can grow corn.

Another old land mark and institution of Cecil county passed with the sale last week of the business of E. E. Buffington and Son at Rising Sun. For many years this firm has been well established and is known throughout the county. At one time its fame spread through all of northern Maryland. The business has by no means become worthless.

Two Rising Sun business men purchased the business, Thomas Robertson and William M. Pogue. They have appointed Lester Shear of Wilmington to manage the store.

Rev. Alward Chamberlain, rector of the Episcopal parish of Denton, Hillsboro, and Preston, recently received a call from the congregation of one of the large Episcopal churches in Los Angeles, Cal. Rev. Chamberlain declined the invitation, preferring the Eastern Shore to any other charge. His flock thereupon were so pleased that they presented him with a fine new automobile in appreciation of his decision.

FORMER ELKTON BOY HOME FOR SHORT VISIT

Robert Long, Now Stationed in Texas, Home For First Time in Three Years

Robert Long, well known among the young people of Elkton and vicinity, who for the past three or four years has been living in San Antonio, Texas, spent the latter part of last week at his home here and renewed old acquaintances again.

Long is connected with the Texas Company, one of the largest firms now engaged in the development of the Texas oil fields. In his opinion the climate of that section is entirely different from the general belief. While there are flowers blooming there now, and it has been necessary to drain an automobile radiator but twice during the winter, there is no excessive heat during the summer months. The air remains hot but dry and no ill effects are felt.

During the early part of his stay in Texas, Long was stricken with a form of sleeping sickness. He was sound asleep for almost two weeks and upon waking felt very weak but quite sound. No reason for the attack was found by his physicians.

He left Elkton Sunday for his post at San Antonio.

Americanism—Theory, Practice and Fact

A North Carolina Judge has given a year's jail term to a man who came at night, hooded, to a farmer's house, burst in and ordered him to leave the community.

The farmer, instead of cringing, drove a horse pistol against the visitor's nightgown and made him take it off, then had him arrested.

Here is a striking example of America in action—an official who has caught truly the spirit of American Institutions of Liberty under Law, and a private citizen who knows the rights given him under the Constitution. Both by their action, showed real citizenship.

The scene appeals to us. The farmer knew that his Home was his Castle and that only the Law had a right to enter unquestioned; the Judge recognized that America as conceived and created could be maintained only by defending that right. It represents America as dreamed of by the Colonists in '75. It is the America that Jefferson portrayed in the Declaration, the America that Washington fought for, the America written into the Constitution, the America interpreted by Hamilton and Marshall. It is the America of Lincoln. It is the America of our fathers. It is the America of today—the hope of the world. It is the only America that can live—whose dominating idea and theme is Liberty under Law. It is the America that is drenched with the blood of our fathers.

Yesterday inspires us and Tomorrow calls. It is the America that is ours to enjoy, to live for—to die for.

The Shoe Fits Us, Too

The following from Governor Pinchot's Inaugural could well apply to Delaware. Officials of State, County and Town—and private citizens, too, can well read this with profit.

The increasing breakdown of law enforcement is a serious charge against the fitness of our people for genuine self government. Unless a sincere respect be given of the law of the land, then America, as conceived has failed.

"Power and responsibility for enforcing the Volstead Law rest in the Nation and also in the State. Under the Eighteenth Amendment the two have concurrent jurisdiction. Both are at fault for the intolerable situation which confronts us.

"A general conviction exists throughout this Commonwealth not only that the Volstead act is not enforced but that no vigorous effort has ever been made to enforce it.

"Our people have seen men known to be opposed to the enforcement of the law selected to compel obedience to it on the part of others. They are told that appointments to the position of enforcement agent are treated as political spoils, and that politicians opposed to all that the law stands for are permitted to name such agents.

"They believe that persons high in official place are constantly and openly violating the spirit if not the letter of the law, and winking at its violation by others. They understand that liquor is sold almost as freely and openly as it was before the passage of the eighteenth Amendment.

"With such beliefs in mind, the people are necessarily led to conclude that the law is systematically disregarded by those whose peculiar duty it is to respect or enforce it, and in consequence the general disregard for all law grows steadily worse.

Administration to be Dry

"Pennsylvania must either control the criminals who are openly breaking the law or be controlled by them. With all good citizens, I believe that this Commonwealth is greater and more powerful than any band of law-breakers whatsoever, and I intend to act on that belief.

"This Administration will be dry. The Executive Mansion will be dry, and the personal practice of the Governor and his family will continue to be dry, in conformity with the spirit and letter of the Eighteenth Amendment.

Law Is Law and Oaths Sacred

"The law is the law. It is the foundation of order, safety and prosperity, and of the Commonwealth itself. Every State official takes oath, and is in honor bound to obey it. I shall expect and demand from every public servant appointed by me, or subject to removal by me, from the highest to the lowest, entire and ungrudging obedience to the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead law. They are part of the law of the land.

People Also to Blame

"The breakdown of law enforcement is proof enough, if other proof were lacking, that Pennsylvania needs a new birth of political righteousness. The responsibility lies not alone at the door of the politicians. It lies also at the door of the people, who for years have tolerated in their public servants standards of conduct known to be indefensible, and under which no private business could survive. The people have suffered the Commonwealth to be badly served. This is the essential evil, and here must be the fundamental change.

The Narcissus—A Spring Flower

An Appreciation

The House was closed. A quarantine poster was on the door. To prevent any possible spread of the disease the Law excluded every one except the physician—Even friends were barred. There was no serious danger but every precaution must be used. The cheer and laughter of children friends were not there. And it's lonely in a shut up house—especially for youth. Then there came a man up the walk, carrying a potted plant—a Narcissus, the flower of spring, the flower which Legend says grew first over the grave of loneliness. Up the steps he went. Did he not see the Warning? We stopped and watched. Yes. All right.

He placed the flower tenderly in front of the door, rang the bell and left. A moment more, and the door was opened and the plant was taken in. Then it was we wondered. Inside, "some one has remembered and smiled at us. Such a pleasing, sunny smile, too."—And they were happy.

We wondered again. The man—what was he thinking? "Just for a little girl, a smile—a remembrance and a memory." Every little girl was both to him. So it was just natural. He lived that way, always. And me thinks he went home and said, "Well,

I am glad we did that. It may help just a little. So lonely to be shut in—and for Youth too. They like to laugh and play—and Outdoors calls so confidently."

So this is the story of a little scene, just a pastel depicting the lives of a man and his always girl wife. It is just a crude sketch by a rough artist but the theme perchance will be caught. The title, we would have "Planting flowers wherever flowers would grow."

The subjects are Laurence and Deborah Smith. Laurence was the man carrying a flower to Frances Hulihan a few Sundays ago when she was confined to her home with diphtheria. A little thing, but to us so expressive, so reflecting of the lives and character of this happy couple. Drinking deep to the bitter dregs from the cup that Life passed to them, they smiled and gave flowers and cheer to this community. By their lives, ours may be made more worth while.

Thus they lived and thus we think of them, along with flowers and smiles.

It was a Narcissus—the Spring flower.

The Budget Hearings

Contrary to the views expressed by many observers, we approve of the Budget Hearings now being conducted by the General Assembly. It is an unusual and new procedure but it is in conformity with the intent of the law creating the Budget. But our approval is not based alone because of the conformity to the law. During the campaign there was much criticism of the wild expenditure of money by the Republican administration. Campaign orators, led by Senator Bayard criticised severely the Boards and Commissions now existing and the burdens imposed on the taxpayer. They guaranteed to give the same efficiency at a lower cost. Republicans failed to contradict this in the minds of the voter and a Democratic majority was the result.

The Democrats organized before the session and laid their plans for a sweeping reform. According to their publicity, we expected to see an array of bills presented that would carry out their campaign promises.

What has been the result?

The investigations of the Budget Committee have shown the Democrats in session and the public at large that it costs money to give the service that citizens of Delaware now enjoy. Our Democratic friends talked before finding the facts. It is absurd to talk of economy by reducing the salaries of our Court officials. It is equally absurd to prate of reducing salaries of the Industrial Accident Board. The Highway Program cannot be continued at its present standards of construction and efficiency at any material decrease of expenditure. The State cannot go forward or even maintain present rating in schools unless we give in salaries and equipment equal to the present expenditures. The office of Secretary of State is operated with an efficiency unsurpassed anywhere and at a clerical expense that is shamefully low, instead of high. These are just illustrative of some of the things that the FACTS have brought out. The University here cannot keep pace with the state demands at any less expense. The Women's College is handicapped and crowded in a way that would seriously concern every member of the Assembly if he knew the true facts existing. Senator Bayard himself would not criticize if he knew the facts. Certainly not if his audience did.

We have no fear of any honest investigation. Rather do we encourage it. For then our Departments of State and Institutions would be provided with the financial support needed to best serve. In the meantime, the public is learning, too, that campaign criticism is not always based on facts. Let the hearings proceed.

People's Column

Editor of The Post:

It is generally conceded that W. S. Armstrong was the dominating factor of the Democrat party at the last election in White Clay Hundred.

Everybody thought he would receive a nice plum in recognition of this. Why is it? You, as a Republican, should look after this, for he is a strong man in getting votes.

A Reader.

Far be it from us to interfere. It's neither our party nor funeral. Our judgment is that Armstrong isn't after anything. Or again, the real tree hasn't been shaken yet. For real information, ask the Democratic Committee—not us certainly, as the Post does not happen to be in their confidence.—Ed.

STATE SCHOOL SYSTEM CLEARLY DISCUSSED BY QUESTIONNAIRE OF FACTS AND FIGURES

Interesting facts and figures are embraced in a summary of school conditions in the rural sections of the State and in Wilmington which has been assembled by the Delaware State Education Association, which is the teachers' organization of Delaware, comprising 1,100 instructors in the State schools. The facts and data have been put in the form of a questionnaire for simplified and quick reading. It deals with how the school moneys are raised, how the funds are spent, why there is need for improving the school system and where and some unpleasant details regarding unsanitary, fire trap school buildings. The questionnaire follows:

Who created the State Board of Education?
It was created by an act of the Legislature of 1921.
What are its duties?
To maintain an efficient system of public schools throughout the State so far as is possible within the budget allowance.
Has the State Board of Education exceeded this allowance?
NO. This is impossible under the "auditor's law" passed by the same Legislature.
How are the funds raised for school purposes?
(a) By a uniform tax of 2½ mills per dollar on all real and personal property in the State.
(b) A graduated tax of from 1 per cent to 3 per cent on incomes.
(c) A tax on corporations and a corporation franchise tax of 2½ mills per dollar.
(d) An invested capital tax of 2½ mills.
(e) A filing fee of $3 in connection with the individual income tax report, which the courts have declared tantamount to a capitation tax.

How many children are registered in Delaware schools?
39,142 in public schools and 3,900 in private schools.
How many teachers are employed?
1,309 of whom 248 are high school teachers.
How many school buildings are there?
420 not including rented rooms.
What is the length of the school term?
180.2 days in 1922.
What has been the growth in High School enrollment in Wilmington?
3,045 students in 1920, and 4,637 in 1921-22 an increase of 52.3% increase.
Do the children attend school better than they did a few years ago?
Yes; in 1918-19 the average attendance was 90 days; in 1922 the average attendance was 137.6. Outside of Wilmington 134.5.
How many children have been given medical examinations?
15,098 outside of Wilmington. There were but 1,164 without defects.
Who does this work?
Doctors and nurses provided by Welfare Commission.
How many children have been given dental examinations?
2,023 pupils examined, but 135 having perfect mouths.

COSTS

What was the total cost of text books, teachers' salaries and running expenses of the schools?
The total cost was $2,496,490.75 of which $2,123,828.13 came from the State treasury.
What is the average teacher's salary outside of Wilmington?
White elementary teachers, $875.58; average high school teachers, $1,440.96.
What does it cost the State to educate the average child?
$63.78 per annum or 35 cents a day. $38.00 per annum in the elementary grades and $130 in high schools outside of Wilmington.
What is the cost per pupil of material of instruction?
87 cents.
What is the cost of text books per pupil outside of Wilmington?
2.01 cents.
How many children were transported at the expense of the State?
2,300 children at an average cost of $63.60 or 23 cents per day per child.

SALARIES OF TEACHERS

What is the basis of elementary teachers' salaries?
Teachers' salaries are determined by considering three factors; preparation, experience and teaching efficiency. The lowest salary paid is $500 for the third grade provisional certificate. Teachers with regular certificates of the third grade begin at $600 and may reach $900 a year. With the first grade certificates they begin with $850 and may reach $1,150. Colored teachers are paid $100 less.
How much are high school teachers paid?
They begin at $1,200 and may reach $1,600.
Why are the supervisors of rural schools needed?
To take the place of the county superintendents and to do what the county superintendent for lack of time never did do, namely, to teach the teachers how to teach, to unify the work, to stimulate endeavor and to measure the results of instruction.
What does this work cost?
$24,886.92 was paid out in 1921-22, of which sum $3,513.47 was given by the Delaware School Auxiliary and $1,200 by the Jeanes fund for colored supervisors.
What is the purpose of visiting teachers?
To help school attendance and to bring about a better understanding between the school and the home.
What does this work cost?
Through the generosity of the Delaware School Auxiliary, $10,000 was appropriated in 1921-22; four visiting teachers were employed at a total expense of $8,249.12.
How does the department of public instruction measure the results obtained by the various teachers?
By giving standard tests to their pupils in reading, writing, spelling, arithmetic, language, etc., and comparing the same with standards which investigation has determined as a result of the examination of thousands of children in the schools of other States.

BUILDING PROGRAM

How many children in the State outside of Wilmington are housed in school buildings that are a menace to their health?
4,500.
How many new rooms should be provided immediately or within the next five years?
700.
What is the building program?
The State Board of Education asks that it be authorized to issue bonds to the extent of $3,000,000 from time to time to build school houses wherever needed in the State including Wilmington.
What is to become of the new projects now under way at Smyrna, Dover, Claymont and Newark?
The interest and sinking fund of their bonds are to be included in the State Budget.
If this program should fail what would become of the debts that the State has now assumed including Caesar Rodney, Harrington, Greenwood, Bridgeville and many smaller debts?
What would become of the debts that the State has now assumed including Caesar Rodney, Harrington, Greenwood, Bridgeville and many smaller debts?

They would have to be reassumed by the local districts.

Why?

It is not fair for the State to pay for a debt contracted for a building in one locality unless it is willing to assume such debts in all localities.

How will these debts be met by the local districts should they revert back to these districts?

Their only source of revenue is a tax on real estate in the district.

Does the failure of the building program mean an increased tax on real estate?

That would seem unavoidable.

Does the State Board plan for buildings contemplate an increased tax on real estate?

It does not.

RURAL SCHOOLS

How many rural schools be improved?
First, by better teaching; second, by consolidation and transportation of pupils.

Why should children be transported to school?

It is better to have a child in a good school four miles from home than have him in a poor school next door to his home. The one-teacher all grade organization is as impossible as a shoe factory in which each workman makes all of every shoe. Rural children should not be penalized nor their parents put to extra expense because they live a long distance from a good school. Education is a public and not an individual concern.

What are the so-called fads of the elementary schools?

They teach only reading, writing, arithmetic, English, spelling, geography, history, drawing, health, community life, a little music and physical training.

What has been the growth of the summer school for teachers at the University of Delaware?

There were 165 teachers in 1917; 329 in 1922. The General Assembly appropriated $15,000 to defray board and transportation expenses, also an appropriation of $3,500 in 1921 and $4,500 in 1922 to the University.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION

What has vocational education accomplished in Delaware since 1918?
(a) Agricultural Education: More than 1,700 boys have received instruction in our high schools. It has kept them at home and in school and has reduced the lure of the city. It has enabled these boys in the last four years to earn more than $80,000 and demonstrated the value of farming.

(b) Home Economics Education: In home economics more than 1,900 girls have received instruction. It has provided definite and practical training in all the essential activities centered in the home.

(c) Trade and Industrial Education: In industrial lines more than 5,000 students have received instruction. It has provided definite and practical training for large numbers who would not otherwise have been reached through the public schools.

How much money will Delaware get in 1923 from the Federal government for vocational education?

$30,000.

How much Federal money will Delaware lose if vocational work is discontinued?

$30,000.

How much money was appropriated for vocational education by Delaware in 1921 and 1922?

$9,100 per year.

How much money is requested for 1923?

$35,500, which is $3,600 less than was appropriated by the 1921 Legislature.

Reports Splendid Exhibit At Auto Show

Mr. A. F. Fader, local Ford dealer who has just returned home from New York City where he attended the Automobile Show, is most enthusiastic over the Lincoln and Ford car exhibit at the big exposition.

"The Lincoln car exhibit of the Ford Motor Company is most imposing and cannot help but attract the attention of everyone interested in quality cars," he said. "They show remarkable advances in the construction of fine motor car body work. All are distinguished by superior finish. In the general chassis and motor construction certain recent improvements in design and construction are revealed, including a new conception in finish of the operating parts of the motor itself. All developments in the Lincoln tend toward the ultimate perfection in automobile design and construction."

"In the Ford exhibit the open body types, touring cars and runabouts present the new sloping windshield which is creating so much favorable comment. In the two-door sedan the new upholstery material is most pleasing and give the car the appearance of high quality usually associated with higher priced cars."

"The new four-door sedan attracts much attention. It is a real creation in body building with full, easy lines. The front seat extends the full width of the body and is unusually huge. The four doors are wide and strong and the window lowering devices are of the same general type as those used in the more expensive car models."

"The outlook for increased sales of Ford cars in this territory never was brighter," said Mr. Fader, local Ford dealer, today. "The present month is starting out wonderfully."

$200,000 PAID TO DATE FOR LIBRARY

Many Subscribers Paying in Full at One Time. Plan To Break Ground in Spring

CONFER ON DETAILS

To date the sum of nearly $200,000 has been paid in by subscribers to the State War Memorial Library at the offices of the Treasurer in Wilmington and Newark. The evident response to the pledges taken have convinced authorities that in all probability it is safe to predict that ground for the splendid new building will be broken in the Spring.

Many of the subscribers, it is learned, have paid their entire pledge in full. Those who made heavy gifts have paid them in and all is in readiness for active work to commence.

The general plans of the building which at first were presented and published will no doubt be altered. The original drawing was merely a suggestion on the part of the architects, Messrs. Day and Klauder, and was not intended to arbitrarily represent the building as it will look when completed. It is understood that other plans are in the process of completion but as yet no inkling of their nature, or general appearance has been given to the public. Dr. Walter Hüllihen, president of the University, and H. Rodney Sharp, Chairman of the Grounds and Buildings Committee of the Board of Trustees, were in conference last week with the architects and definite action on the plans is expected soon.

LAWYERS OF STATE TO ORGANIZE TOMORROW

State Bar Association May Come Out of Dover Meeting. Officers Will Be Selected

BANQUET NEXT MONTH

Josiah Marvel, Leonard E. Wales, and Thomas Davis of the New Castle County Bar; Henry Ridgley, James H. Hughes and William H. Boyce of the Kent County Bar, and three representatives of the Sussex County Bar, who have not yet been appointed, will meet in Dover next Thursday, at noon, to nominate officers and arrange other details for the organization of a State Bar Association.

Organization of the State Association will be effected at a dinner to be given in February. Whether the banquet will be held in Wilmington or down the State is not yet known. John W. Davis of New York, president of the American Bar Association, will be invited to attend the dinner and make an address. Mr. Davis is a former Representative in Congress from West Virginia, a former Solicitor-General and a former Ambassador to Great Britain and in 1920 he was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for President.

HOCKESSIN HOME BURNS TO GROUND

Family Imperilled When Early Morning Fire Breaks Out On Reynolds Farm

FAMILY LOSES ALL

A disastrous fire early Friday morning last completely destroyed the fine old house on the James Reynolds farm near Hockessin. The loss is estimated at $10,000.

Firemen from Five Points arrived upon the scene just in time, for a volunteer bucket brigade had almost lost hope of saving the barn and other buildings from embers cast by a high wind from the burning house. Lived in the house, they having recently sold a farm near Milford to take over the Reynolds place for the summer. The entire money from the sale of the farm down State together with all their furniture and clothing was lost by the Stubbs family.

Light reflected into the sky from the flames could be seen plainly from Newark, but the local fire company did not receive a call to the scene.

Many escapes from injury and death were witnessed by spectators as neighbors crawled over ice covered roofs in their efforts to extinguish innumerable slight blazes on outbuildings.

His Excuse Reasonable

The teacher was angry when Thomas appeared ten minutes late for school.

"Why are you late, Tommy?" he said sharply.

"Please, sir," replied the sinner, "it was late when I started from home."

"Then why didn't you start from home earlier?"

"Please, sir, it was too late to start early."—Youth's Companion.

HOCKESSIN MAN IS CHAMPION CORN EXHIBITOR OF DELAWARE

Fred Trimble, Retiring Head of Corn Growers' Association, Grew Most of His Prize Ears From One Acre of Land

WINS THIRD PLACE IN INTERSTATE SHOW

Fred Trimble of Hockessin, Delaware, retiring President of the Delaware Corn Growers' Association, is without question the champion corn exhibitor of Delaware, if not of the Delmarvia Peninsula. Last week at the Maryland State Corn Show held at Frederick in the open competitions of the inter-state class Mr. Trimble won third place competing with a large number of corn growers from Maryland, Virginia and other states. Previous to this show Mr. Trimble won the highest honors of any exhibitor at the Delaware State Corn Show held at Dover by winning first, championship and sweepstakes prizes for the best ten ears of white corn in the entire show; first and championship on ten ears of yellow corn, first and championship on twenty ears of yellow corn, and first and championship on twenty ears of white corn. In the mixed corn class Mr. Trimble also won first prize and he too third place on his single ear entry. Not before in the sixteen years experience of the Corn Growers' Association has one exhibitor won as many prizes, championships and sweepstakes in as many different classes and with the three colors of corn shown as did Mr. Trimble at the 1923 show.

These winnings of Mr. Trimble are not the result of accident but are based on several years of breeding and selection of improved seed corn combined with a record of exhibiting at every local, district and state show for the past several years. To Mr. Trimble a fine sample of corn well selected, as was his ten ear sample of corn at Dover, is a thing of beauty as well as utility. Among the remarkable facts in connection with Mr. Trimble's success to be considered is the small acreage from which he secures his show ears. His prize winning sample of yellow corn was produced from only one acre of corn. Ordinarily an exhibitor requires from ten to fifty acres from which to select as high a class an exhibit as Mr. Trimble showed.

Two of the three medals offered by the Delaware State Bankers' Association as sweepstakes prizes to the winners at the Delaware State Corn Show in the ten, twenty, and fifty ear classes were won by Mr. Trimble. He was awarded a gold medal for the best ten ears of corn in the show, any variety or color, and a silver medal for the best 20 ears of corn in the show.

The Hockessin Grange, of which Mr. Trimble is a member, has won the State Grange Challenge Trophy Cup for the third time in succession which, according to the rules of the contest, entitles them to its permanent possession. In the Grange exhibits it is required that three ten ear exhibits grown by three different farmers be shown. The members of the Hockessin Grange who made up the Grange prize winning exhibit were Fred Trimble, H. C. Townsend and Wilson Pierson.

Funeral Of Dean Smith Held Amid Deep Mourning

Church Packed and Cars Line Street for Blocks as All Walks of Life Pay Homage to Departed Official

Many Floral Offerings

The body of Edward Laurence Smith, late Dean of the University of Delaware and one of Newark's best loved men, was borne to its last resting place Friday afternoon last by members of the student body which he so loved. In the warm sunlight of a perfect afternoon, with the slopes of the old cemetery at the Head of the Christiana banked with people come to pay their last respects, the simple interment service was read and the casket gently lowered to the grave. Then the crowd turned away and slowly and silently passed up the little hill to the roadway. Thus had passed forever a truly great man.

From ten in the morning until one in the afternoon, the body lay in state before the pulpit in the First Presbyterian Church, and was viewed by scores of townspeople, students, officials, alumni and all those who had known and loved Dean Smith. During that period and all through the subsequent services, the members of the Kappa Alpha Fraternity, of which the Dean was an active member, never left the casket.

The Church Services

Promptly at two o'clock, Rev. John MacMurray, pastor of the Head of Christiana Church, opened the services with a prayer. At that time the spacious church was packed and many were not able to enter the vestibule. Representatives from all departments of the University, from the Board of Trustees down, acted as honorary pallbearers and sat on the right of the pulpit. At the left were the members of the bereaved family and close friends. The balance of the pews were filled with the host of friends of the late Dean and the open space at the extreme rear was crowded four deep.

Surrounding the casket and completely covering the whole front of the church were the floral offerings. Many present stated that never had they seen such a host of flowers at a funeral in Newark. Two trucks were needed to convey the flowers to the grave after the church services.

Rev. Joel Gilfillan, of Wilmington, had charge of the services and it could be seen that the old friend and adviser of the late Dean was under a terrific strain. His sermon laid emphasis upon the spiritual life of the deceased and revealed the fact that his life was one of love and kindness throughout. Rev. Gilfillan laid especial emphasis upon the love and affection bestowed by the deceased upon his wife and children and of the deep religious feeling that existed in the home at all times.

At the close of the services the casket was closed and borne by the active pall bearers to the hearse, and the procession to the cemetery began. Following the body from the church came the immediate family and close friends, then the honorary pall bearers and representatives from the various organizations in the University. A more impressively simple service could hardly be imagined than that which was held over the body of Dean Smith. In its very simplicity it reflected that quality which was a great element in the character of the deceased.

The active pallbearers were members of the Kappa Alpha Fraternity of which the deceased was a member, as follows: H. R. Cole, O. W. Goffigon, G. B. McManus, E. A. Hoey, C. A. Nutter, W. W. Boyce, C. W. Howard and J. G. Elliott.

The honorary pallbearers were representatives from the faculty, the different classes of the two colleges, various student organizations, resident trustees and some alumni members as follows:

Trustees, Dr. H. C. M. Kollock, Mayor E. B. Frazer, Charles B. Evans, Samuel J. Wright and Everett C. Johnson; faculty members, President Walter Hüllihen, Dr. George A. Harter, Dean Charles A. McCue and acting Dean M. V. Smith; Rehabilitation Division Faculty, Raymond M. Upton; Alumni—Judge Hugh Morris, Judge Richard S. Rodney, Harris Samonisky, George Lockwood, and the Rev. C. W. Clash of Wilmington and Carl Harrington and George Morgan of Philadelphia; Resident members of the Kappa Alpha Fraternity, Dr. Walt H. Steel, Norris N. Wright, John S. Shaw; Representatives of the four classes of Delaware College, Seniors, Edwin P. Pitman and John M. Lynch; Juniors, Isaac S. Elliott and J. H. Schaefer; Sophomores, Elmer C. McCormick and John G. Leach, and Freshmen, J. M. Cherpak and L. H. Kramer; Rehabilitation student, Arthur Christian; fraternity representatives, Sigma Phi Epsilon, J. F. Challenger; Sigma Nu, J. E. Murphy; Omega Alpha, Earl D. Brandt, and Gamma Delta Rho, Frank Else; Athletic Council, Dr. W. Owen Sypherd; Blue Hen Board, C. T. Wise; Druids, R. P. Hunt; Varsity Club, Merwyn Akin; Student Council, J. D. Williams; Derelicts, J. M. Wells; Engineers' Society, H. F. Crawford, Jr.; Agricultural Club, J. C. Gilbert.

Representatives of the Women's College were: Faculty, Dean Winifred J. Robinson, Professor L. V. Clark, Professor Q. C. Drake, Mrs. Emma Wilson and Miss Sarah Churchman; Students, Senior class, Mary Handy and Florence Phillips; Juniors, Mildred Wolfenden and Louise Betts; Sophomores, Kathryn Ladd and Dorothy Nunn, and Freshmen, Lillian Loose and Irene Wilkinson.

E. LAURENCE SMITH
My friend has vanished to the shores of eternity, a place which no finite creature has ever discovered—eternity or space no man can comprehend. His spirit has departed, but his memory remains in our mental vision, never to be effaced while mortal. Sincerity and honesty of purpose were two of his strongest convictions or characteristics. He did not pose in life as a particularly good religious man, from a pharisaical viewpoint, but rather reposed hypocrisical profession. With the standard of morality as his guide, he lived as clean a life as was possible for man to live. He was the champion of the down trodden; he knew no caste. He lived and loved his world of science and knowledge; was an honor to his profession. One beautiful summer day last year, while resting on the bosom of the waters of the Chesapeake, whence we had vied to divert and rest our minds from the burdens of the day, I could foresee my friend had not the vitality to withstand much longer the onerous duties he was assuming, his body growing weaker and his brain power increasing in intensity; and feeling he would soon collapse under strain through disease or exhaustion, I delicately presented his condition to him and suggested he relax in some degree, and asked him if the goal for which he was seeking was really worth the effort at the expense of nature. He could not see it from my view point, neither could he vary from his appointed way, and thus verified the expression of one of old,—"I know that the way of man is not in his self: it is not in man that walketh to direct his steps."—"For what is your life? It is even a vapor, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away." Many trials and vicissitudes of life were his portion, particularly in his last days, and I believe he endured them with Christian fortitude. He is now free from earthly labors, pain and sorrow. Thus he lived his life he loved, which was set and appointed for him, and died in the fulfillment of his mission on earth. May he rest in hope of life eternal which is beyond the grave. He was my friend.

—John B. Miller.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DISCUSSES NEWARK HOUSING PROBLEMS. AT LENGTH

Committees Appointed to Investigate Possibilities for Erection of Two Types of Homes.
Many Inquiries Come In for Real Estate

TOWN BOOKLET ALSO ADVOCATED

At a regular meeting of the Newark Chamber of Commerce held last Thursday night in the Fire House, the problem of adequate housing was again brought up for lengthy discussion.

It was stated at the meeting that the demand for homes greatly exceeds the supply; not a day goes by without inquiries directed to the two banks and to business men making plain the fact that Newark is quite in the limelight as a suitable place for a home.

Face to face with this problem it was deemed advisable for the Chamber of Commerce to take upon itself the work of investigating the conditions at the present time and to determine the possibilities of more houses. For this purpose two committees were appointed, one to look into the matter regarding two types of houses—the suburban home and the less expensive type of two-family and block homes.

The committees named were as follows:

Smaller type houses—Messrs. J. C. Hastings, J. E. Dougherty and W. H. Evans.

Large type houses—Messrs. George L. Medill, George W. Griffin and J. S. Shaw.

Lengthy Discussion

The meeting was taken up for the most part in the lengthy discussion of the housing condition in Newark. Many suggestions were offered by the few business men present but nothing further will be undertaken pending the reports submitted by the two committees. President Griffin, himself a builder, held that the erection of a house to rent at $20 would be a hard matter in these days of expensive materials and labor in order to gain a profit to take care of the unavoidable depreciation and taxes. On the other hand it was argued that small cellarless homes built in groups or blocks in the manner of the many "War Villages" would serve the purpose well and provide a comfortable home for workmen and their families. These were the two angles from which most of the discussion emanated. The possibility of forming a company of local business men for the purpose of erecting a string of houses was also suggested.

Other Business

In regard to the recent New Year's parade, the chamber expressed its intention of taking a more active part in subsequent like celebrations. It was held that, as the only official organ of the business men, the body should have something to say about the next affair, and should take a leading part in it.

The question of a town booklet was also brought up again. Several months ago the same question was discussed and a committee appointed. At this meeting it was again urged that such a booklet be at once procured to contain an adequate description and a strong boost for the town and its advantages.

Small Attendance

Many remarks both during and after the meeting Thursday night made it plain that it was next to futile to take definite action on large questions with such small attendances as have been the rule at recent meetings of the Chamber. Not more than a dozen members were present last week.

JURORS DRAWN FOR CECIL COUNTY COURT

Judge Wickes of the Cecil County Court drew the following jurors last week for the March term of the court for Cecil County. The men drawn and the districts they represent are as follows:

Cecilton District—Jesse Wolleyhan, Herbert R. Price, James A. Brown, Stanley A. McCubbin, Daniel Busfelt, Wayne Stradley.

Chesapeake City—Joseph A. Sullivan, Thomas M. Price, S. Howard Buckworth, George B. McKeown, Charles C. Banks, Nathan R. McCoy, Elkton—Joseph H. Sloan, William H. Marcus, William T. Simpers, W. Sterling Evans, John K. Burkley, Isaac W. Strahorn, J. Alfred Taylor.

Fair Hill—John R. Moore, Jarret Mackey, George T. Peterson, Lawrence Burns, William Creswell.

North East—Robert L. Barnes, Thomas Crouch, James F. Mearns, Charles A. Stewart, William F. Cox, Edward E. Simpers.

Rising Sun—Samuel W. Rowland, Walter Cathers, Harry L. Glackin, Harvey Townsend, Clarence Gifford.

Port Deposit—Samuel W. Fitzgerald, Robert B. Russell, Frank L. Rowland, W. Harvey Tome, John Stump, John C. Dougherty, Frank Kirwin.

Conowingo—George W. Garvine, Ivan W. Richards, Newton A. Nickle, Calvert—John B. Fassett, John C. Stewart, R. Harry Logan.

BLACKBIRD AFTER NEW SCHOOL HOUSE

A meeting of voters of Blackbird Public School District, No. 69, will be held in the school building on Thursday evening next. There will be a discussion of the proposed school legislation now pending in the General Assembly. It is expected that a new school building in Blackbird will be asked for by local residents—a building large enough for several additional grades and to discontinue the school buses now used to convey children of advanced grades in this vicinity to Smyrna, Townsend and Middletown.

Something Burning

At a summer camp two girls shared an upstairs sleeping porch. One, never having been very far from the comforts of home, knew very little about the "wonders" of nature. Waking one night, she became aware of a most unusual odor. Sitting up, she called out: "Mildred, Mildred, I smell something burning! I am going downstairs to see about it."

Experienced Mildred drawled: "Lie down, Betty, and go to sleep. That's nothing but a skunk."—Ex.

FORTY PURE BRED HOLSTEINS TO BE SOLD

Consignment Sale Committee Lays Plans for Important Event

An event which is of growing interest to the farmers of Delaware is the annual Holstein-Friesian consignment sale which will be held this year probably at the State Fair grounds about March 8. This is according to a decision reached by the committee which met at the Capitol Hotel in Dover last Friday. This is a joint committee representing the Delaware County Farm Bureau and the Delaware Holstein-Friesian Association. The members of the committee follow: H. B. Clark, Kenton; J. D. Reynolds, Middletown; J. R. Danks, Wintertown; P. E. Pleasanton, Mt. Pleasant; J. L. Dayett, Cooch; L. C. Hoffecker, Bear; J. C. Mitchell, Hockessin, and R. O. Bausman, Newark.

Between forty and fifty pure bred Holstein cattle will be accepted for consignment. A committee of which J. L. Dayett of Cooch is chairman will inspect entries and accept those which qualify. Only animals from herds under federal supervision will be accepted. This is to be a sale of quality animals in every respect. An effort is being made to secure the services of Col. George Baxter of Elmira, N. Y., for auctioneer.

Kindhearted

Joe Plaine was the new hostler at the village hotel, and he was being put through his initiation in the care of horses.

The head groom made a tour of inspection to see that all his instructions had been obeyed.

"Joe," he demanded, "have you groomed all your horses?"

"Yes, sir," answered Joe promptly.

"Have you cleaned out their hoofs?"

"No, sir; I can't do that yet awhile," explained the novice.

"They've been standing on them all day, but I've been watching and waiting for them to lie down."—San Francisco Chronicle.

NEWARK HIGH LOSES TO FREDERICA

Top Game After 10 Point Lead at Half Time. Chalmers Off in Foul Shooting. Score 23-18

FOUR FLOOR HAMPERS

The basketball artists from Newark High School took their boat down the banks of the Frederica River last Friday night and the boys from down State didn't do a thing but sink it completely and effectively, score 23-18.

What makes it more peculiar is the fact that Newark led at half time by good ten points, having held their opponents to two measly field goals.

When the teams switched baskets, however, things began to break bad for the locals. In the first place, according to reports, the Newark basket was so arranged that the player had to swim up the wall and drop it in carefully, else the weird angle at which it was placed spoiled any shot.

In several instances, Newark forwards stood flatfooted directly under the basket and took aim, only to have perfect shot roll off the rim. The established in the first section of the battle, however, would have won the game had Chalmers been up to

from the fifteen foot mark. As was he aged but two out of nine attempts.

The guarding of the Newark aggression was beyond reproach. However, however, did most of the damage for Frederica and kept his in a containing position by caging five goals from the field. Chalmers high man for Newark with 8 shots. A large crowd witnessed the fracas, and the space for spectators was so full that many stood around the playing floor, hampering both teams in their action.

THE SPORTING TICKER

A Column Devoted to Clean Athletics and Sportsmanship, written by one who loves the Game.

SIGNS OF AN EARLY SPRING

Seventeen well known sporting writers came to the important conclusion last week that the Athletics will finish well up in the 1923 pennant race.

The horseshoe pitchers are working their way on a barnstorming trip northward from the wilds of Florida. They report a successful season and no casualties.

The populace of Philadelphia are undecided whether to undertake a Sesqui Centennial celebration in 1926 or put on a Heavyweight Championship bout in 1923. They both cost the Dear Old Public the same, you know.

The American Jockey Club Stewards turned down the request of Chicago for racing next season in that metropolis. "Beastly brazen favor to ask!" was the general opinion, according to reports. It seems that the Alleghannies still form the western boundary of the United States.

Between dying gasps, the Eastern basketball league let it be known last week that they would be ready for further punishment next winter. Is it not a blessing to be so patient.

High salaries and loose management have wrecked more than one venture. The only reason why the Eastern League gets so much publicity is due to the fact that everybody sees the inner workings. The other ventures strewn along the Road of Failure managed to keep in the shadows.

Persistent rumors of a Jack Dempsey-Strangler Lewis mixed bout with nothing barred except revolvers and bricks bob up. Personally we would rather watch a good old fashioned dog fight.

Winter doesn't mean a thing to Herman Tyson. It's only a few months between seasons of pounding dust on a race track. He has his string out on the road daily now.

What has become of the old time possum hunt? One man recently explained that you can go to the movies and have a lot more fun than tramping over the country at night and perhaps catching a bad cold.

Modern America seems to be growing stale.

Elkton got all het up over boxing a month or two ago, but the temperature is gradually receding and no damage done—certainly not in the ring during the only show. Bill McGowan was earnest enough but apparently bit off a little more than was good for him.

SHALL NEWARK HAVE A TEAM?
They had a baseball meeting the other night in the Armory to "feel out" the sentiment of local baseball enthusiasts concerning a team to represent Newark on the diamond next spring. Nothing in the way of definite action was taken, but the matter was discussed at length by about a dozen faithful ones who were present.

The same question comes up year after year in any town, and particularly in Newark, as to whether a small town pocketbook can support a big town ball team. And in most cases, it can't be done.

A successful baseball team is as much of a business proposition as running a store or a garage; it is a venture wherein good money is invested with the hope that at least a part of it will be returned to the investor in some way or other. To get through two thirds of a season before striking a winning combination, and then after showing the populace how the game really should be played—and then to run out of money is somewhat of a shock, to say the least. And that's just what happened in Newark last summer.

By all means Newark should have a team—and a good one—next season. They should enter the New Castle County League and should make good. BUT—to do this they must start right now and put the organization upon a firm financial basis before the first robin sings or they will never have a double header on the Fourth of July. In other words, the building up of a successful team does not start in April, it starts in November.

Money and Management. If these two things could be impressed upon every local follower of the great national pastime, disgruntled players, empty treasuries, and poor crowds would not be known in Newark. The day of the "all for glory" ball club is passing. In some towns, the money for a team is given outright by one or two individuals; in others it is raised by wide and varied means; it appears that in Newark, the latter course must be taken. And that means work, and plenty of it.

We have tried to point out that the organization and financing of a ball team is a serious, hard-headed business matter and there is no other alternative. We have not, however, thrown cold water on the idea by any means.

Why not stage a carnival, or a show, or an entertainment of some kind in February or March? Let the people of the town in on the deal. The majority of them know nothing about it until some one comes around and taps them for five or ten dollars to support a team they never knew existed.

There are all manner of legitimate and popular ways of raising money and the patrons may have a good time in the bargain. If then, after a series of affairs, the sum of $400 or $500 is cleared, Newark can rest assured that she will be ably represented on the diamond next summer. With less than that amount, it will be a struggle all the way.

Would that we could return to the old days when rip-snoring ball games were put on Saturday afternoons, when ticket takers were unheard of and the players brought their own bats under their arms and kids sat on the fences and threw peanut hulls down the backs of the town fathers. They played good baseball just to see their names in the paper those days. But we opine that we'll never see the spectacle again.

SADDLE HORSES
They are about as rare in this part of Uncle Sam's cosmopolitan estate as White Ribbons in Havana. This is a University town; there are many men and women who still gaze enviously at the astounding sight of an honest to goodness saddle horse prancing up Main street, and who would gladly put "a leg up"—but who's to pay for the feed and bedding?

Which brings up the century old problem of meeting the demand with a supply. The day was not long ago when Newark was a noted horse town; everybody had their saddler and their driver, some had both.

Now we may be entirely wrong but we hazard a breathless guess that in spite of the ravages made upon the popularity of King Horse by Henry Ford and his buddies who force us to inhale gasoline and speak in terms of coupe and sedan, the lure of the saddle is still strong in the hearts of all our young people. Give them a horse and they will ride him gladly, all gas buggies to the contrary notwithstanding.

If a string of four or five respectable saddle horses were available for use by those interested we believe it would be profitable to the owner and a darned sight more fun for the youngsters.

The United States Postoffice at Hockessin was robbed early Monday morning, the safe blown with nitro glycerine and the contents ransacked. The thieves escaped clean and took with them the sum of $850 in currency, Bonds and stamps. No trace of them has been found as yet.

The office is situated in the store of Joseph A. Gormely on the Lancaster pike. Mr. Gormely stated that he heard no explosion, and no other resident could be found who had felt the jar when the safe door was blown off. The entrance to the building was effected by forcing a window in the second story, from where the yeggmen went down into the store.
