Firemen's Carnival Starts Full Blast On Friday Night

Newark Smoke-eaters Promise Biggest Carnival, More Prizes, Surprises and Entertainment Than Ever Before Presented; Prizes Include Hup 8 Sedan, Three Suits of Furniture, Radio

TWO BIG PARADES

The eighteenth annual Carnival of the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company will open Friday night at 7 o'clock with the blare of bands, the whirr of wheels, the click of balls, the murmur of crowds, and all the other noises and color of a regulation midway. It will differ from the average carnival and fair in one respect: its prizes and surprises will all be of solid value and everyone attending will find a full measure for every penny spent. This year's carnival has as its theme the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company, a number of new and entirely original features. The affair will continue every night except Sunday, until Saturday, August 4, closing night, at which time the drawings for the big prizes will take place.

There will be a merry-go-round; about twenty booths and a bandstand, many of which have already been erected by the firemen. Many valuable and useful prizes have been purchased, beginning with a Hupmobile straight 8 sedan, and going on down to three suits of fine furniture, a rug, lamps, and other household necessities and luxuries. An electric radio set will be loaned off for the benefit of the Ambulance Fund.

There will be band or orchestral music every night, and dancing in the Armory on the evenings of July 28 and 30 and August 2 and 4.

There will be two special nights this year and two parades. Tuesday, July 31, will be Firemen's Night, and will feature a huge parade in which the visiting companies will compete for numerous cups and prizes. Fourteen companies have already accepted invitations to attend and more acceptances are expected. There will be at least six bands in the line of march. Thursday, August 2, will be American Legion Night, and a part of the proceeds of the evening will go to the local Legion Post. The Newark Post is planning a big parade, and all points in this part of the country have been invited to participate. The parade will start at 7:30, Standard Time.

Extension Exhibits At Kent-Sussex Fair

Three County Agents Combine On Projects For Cheaper Wheat, Alfalfa, Milk; Spray Service And Seed Treatment

County Agricultural Agents of New Castle, Kent and Sussex counties are featuring a combined Extension Exhibit at the Kent-Sussex Fair which is being held this week at Harrington. The three agents are: New Castle, Ed. Willim, Jr., located at Newark; Kent, Russell E. Wilson, Dover; and C. R. Snyder, Sussex, Georgetown.

Five of the chief extension projects in the state are being given visual presentation to the public at this fair. These projects are as follows: More economic wheat production, cheaper protein from alfalfa, more economic milk production, spray service for fruit growers and the seed treatment of corn and wheat for certain diseases in the Boys' and Girls' Club Building at the Fair grounds.

At the top of the three-space booth the county agent exhibit carries this sign: "Your County Agent can help you obtain" and then under this caption comes the three smaller signs which read: "Cheaper economic wheat production," "Cheaper protein from alfalfa," and "More economic milk production." The wheat exhibit will feature the variety tests which have been conducted at Cool Spring, Middletown and Newark during the past three years. It is the aim of this work to help the wheat grower secure a higher yielding wheat than the one he now grows. This should bring a greater return at the same cost of production.

Farmers' Day Program Nearing Completion

To Be Held At College Farm Aug. 7; Information Booth Will Answer Questions On Every Farm Problem

Dean C. A. McCue and his staff are rapidly shaping up plans for Farmers' Day on August 7th, at the Experimental Station Farm. Committees have been appointed to take charge of various features of the day. An innovation will be the information booth.

At this booth every department in the Experiment Station will be represented. Visitors may bring their questions to the booth and receive suggestions as to their solution. This service will include such questions as spraying for insects and diseases; seed treatment for various crops; seed inoculation; feeding rations for dairy cattle, hogs, and poultry; problems of orchard practice; problems in marketing eggs; questions on farm management; rotation of crop; fertilizers, lime, etc.

An additional feature will be that specimens of plant diseases and injurious insects will be identified upon the spot and suggestions given for control.

Farmers may bring in samples of soil for testing for lime. Such samples will be tested at once and suggestions made as the probable lime requirement.

The experimental plots are looking their best, in corn, soybeans and orchard crop.

The poultry plant will be a center of interest to many visitors. Experiments in feeding and in keeping layers in confinement; in breeding of high producing birds are under way.

Dean McCue states that he is looking forward to a large attendance.

CARPENTER NETS LARGE HAUL OF FAST DRIVERS

Makes 9 Arrests On Glasgow Road; John Moore Injured When Truck Hits Wagon

State Highway Officer Carpenter has kept a hot bike under him for the last few days catching out-of-state drivers, who have been taking the Glasgow road for an open and unrestricted speedway. He halted four on Saturday, who were doing 50 or better. He brought in three Monday who had an idea that 35 miles per hour was mere loafing, and he had two yesterday who exceeded the legal limit for well over a quarter of a mile. They were all assessed $25 and costs.

On Saturday Eddie arrested Walter M. Johnson and Robert W. Corzine, both of Washington, who were staging a race. They were doing 54 when overtaken. Magistrate Thompson made the assessments. A little later, Carpenter caught James Clifford, of Baltimore, who was doing 56. Magistrate Thompson gave him the bad news. Carpenter's fourth culprit (Continued on page 5.)

Battery "E" To Enjoy Model Camp This Year

New Natl. Guard Camp At Bethany Beach Modern In Every Respect; Annual Encampment August 4-18

When Battery "E" goes to the annual Delaware National Guard encampment, from August 4 to 18, it will enjoy greater comforts and conveniences than it ever has before. The new camping grounds of the guard at Bethany Beach have now been completed and hereafter the members of the organization will have their meals in permanent mess halls, will have shower baths, the advantages of salt water bathing, good water supply, board floors in their tents and numerous advantages that camping life never before offered the members of the organization.

The guard's new, modern and permanent camp site is located at Bethany Beach, twelve miles below Rehoboth and 107 miles below Wilmington, with a concrete road running direct to the ground. The reservation, which consists of more than two hundred acres, is owned by the State and the buildings were erected and other improvements made by the government.

One official of the War Department, who visited the grounds recently was so impressed that he intimated that there is strong likelihood that the site will be used next summer by National Guard units of other states, as well as by the regular army.

Besides the usual provisions for a camping ground, there is a landing field for airplanes, with two runways 200 feet wide and 1500 feet long.

The camp for this summer has not been named as yet. The new grounds for the guard face the ocean and are about three city squares from the water.

Watchman Badly Hurt When Struck By Car

T. J. Brennan, B. & O. Watchman, Suffers Severe Injury To Back When Run Over By Geo. Henry; Henry Held In $1,000 Bond

Thomas J. Brennan, aged about 50 years, watchman at the Main street crossing of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, was seriously injured Monday afternoon when he was struck and dragged by an automobile, driven by George Henry, colored. Henry is being held in $1000 bond awaiting the outcome of Mr. Brennan's injuries.

At the time of the accident there was a train stopped at the station and Mr. Brennan was at his post between the signal standards. Henry coming down New London avenue said that he thought that Mr. Brennan signaled for him to cross the tracks. He crossed with his eyes on the train, and struck Mr. Brennan dragging him 40 feet and then running over him.

Mr. Brennan was picked up by bystanders and Dr. G. Burton Pearson was called. Dr. Pearson gave him first aid and then had him removed to his home, 129 1/2 Cleveland avenue, in the Newark ambulance. The ambulance, manned by Eugene Stiltz and Bert Crow made a rapid response to the call. Mr. Brennan suffered two long cuts on the head and face, and a severe injury to his back as well as minor cuts and bruises. He is still unable to move in bed unaided, and it is expected that he will be confined for a long period.

Chief of Police Keeley, who was at the corner when the accident happened, placed Henry under arrest, and Magistrate Thompson held him in bond. Henry's car, a Ford roadster, was also damaged by the accident. The radiator was pushed back six inches and one front tire was torn off.

Poultry School And Farmers' Day In Aug.

Local Poultrymen Have Opportunity To See Latest Methods. Egg Club Report

The report of the Delaware Farm Egg Record Club, issued from the office of Ed Willim, Jr., New Castle County Agent, and prepared by H. S. Palmer, extension poultryman, mentions two events important to poultrymen in this section. One is the Poultry School for judging for egg production and the selection of breeders, which will be held in Newark, at Wolf Hall, August 9 and 10, and the other is Farmers' Day, to be held at the Experimental Farm, August 7.

One hundred and forty farms reported egg records for the month of June. The averages were: pullets, 15.6 eggs per bird; hens, 14.5 eggs; mixed flocks, 15.6 eggs. The averages for the same month last year were: pullets, 16; hens, 15.9; mixed flocks, 15.2. The best averages in June were: 23.8 eggs per bird made by a flock of hens; 22.5 eggs made by a mixed flock; and 22.3 made by a flock of pullets.

There will be six Poultry Schools conducted this year through the state. The subjects will be taught by illustrated lectures, practice culling and trapped hens. The schools are conducted by the Extension Department of the University of Delaware, the Delaware State Poultry Association and the State Board of Agriculture, cooperating.

Farmers' Day

All Poultrymen should plan to spend Tuesday, August 7th, at the Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station. The bi-annual Farmers' Day will be held on that date and will afford the Poultrymen of the State an excellent opportunity to get together to discuss their problems and to inspect the University Poultry Plant. The various experiments underway will be inspected by the Poultrymen and explained by men of the Station Staff.

The experiment dealing with the utilization of soybeans for baby chicks will be of interest to many (Continued on page 8.)

ALFALFA CAMPAIGN

More alfalfa planted on the farm of New Castle County this year is the plan of County Agent Ed Willim, Jr., who is starting a campaign this week to increase the acreage of this legume in the county. Similar campaigns will be carried on in the two counties by Kent County Agent Russell E. Wilson and C. R. Snyder, Sussex County Agent.

"Alfalfa for roughage should be grown and fed on every farm in the county where cows are kept," says Mr. Willim. "Surveys have been made in this county which show that the farmer who feeds alfalfa hay as a roughage cuts down the amount of purchased feed by 20-40%. The ultimate reduction in the cost of producing milk is the primary aim then of this alfalfa campaign."

Conducted on the modified campaign plan the method of reaching every farmer in the county will be by letter or letters from the county agents office. These letters will go to every man on the mailing list. If any person does not receive this information by letter in the next ten to fifteen days he should either call or send a letter to Mr. Willim at Newark for it.

Plantings of alfalfa during the past two or three years have increased tremendously on account of the interest shown by farmers in previous campaigns of this kind. According to reliable figures the total alfalfa acreage in 1910 in this state was only 205 acres. This increased to 1878 total acres in 1920. These amounts represent the entire acreage in the state on these dates. In 1926 the first year of an active campaign by the county agents to plant more alfalfa, 1371 acres were planted, while last year 2679 acres were planted. The last two acreages mentioned refers only to the amount planted during those years, and does not include the total acres which would probably mean at least 100% more than the acreage mentioned.

VIGNETTES FOR A LOCAL ALBUM

III. SAD ROBERT
Sad Robert, he is called
By some.
Well, it is sad, this business
Of attending empty ships
That only yesterday caught
With their sails
The full breeze
Of Life.

A derelict had passed.
Bob gave him an Honest burial.
A few came,
Believing, as silly mortals do,
That weeping at a bier
Is conscience food for Past snubs administered.

Into the street, finally,
Came a Voice—
"Friends wishing to view—"
"Eternity in that Voice!"
Ghosts in that Voice!
Even the leaves
Ceased their twitching.

Mrs. Nubride—Do you believe in clubs for married men?

Mrs. Ownway—Most assuredly if kind words fail.

Churches of Christ, Scientist
"Truth" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, July 22.

The Golden Text was from John 8:31,32, "If ye continue in my word then are ye my disciples indeed, and ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

Among the citations from the lesson sermon was the following from the Bible: "He is the Rock, his work is perfect; for all his ways are judgment, iniquity, just and right is he." (Deut.
32:4.)

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "In Science truth is divine, and the infinite
God can have no likeness.
Did God Truth, create error? No!
'Doth a fountain send forth at the same place sweet waters and bitter?'
God being everywhere and all-inclusive, how can He be absent or suggest the absence of omnipresence and omnipotence? How can there be more than all?"

Suspicion which may be unjust need not be stated.—Lincoln.

Perhaps it may be only a small nut of a certain shape or size, but the chances are good that you will be directed to a car of your model and from which you can secure just what you want. It is not necessary to dwell on the saying to be made as this fact is well known all over the State.

You can get a tire, that will give you miles of service, or perhaps you only want a tube. No matter what you want if it is a replacement of an old or broken automobile part try Ploener's.

HAMMOND INCREASES OLDSMOBILE SALES

In spite of the fact that the Oldsmobile factories are producing twice as many cars as ever before, the Hammond Motor Company of Wilmington is having difficulty in getting cars to supply the demand—certainly a tribute to the fine qualities of the Fine Car of Low Price.

The new outdoor used car market on the corner of Thirty-sixth and Market streets is being kept open until 9:30 each evening for the convenience of those whose work during the day does not permit a daylight visit. The market is illuminated by four large flood lights, which brings the brightness of midday to the lot.

BATTERY SERVICE

Mr. Harry L. Solomon says that considerable damage to batteries is caused in this extreme hot weather by neglect. The water should be watched carefully, the hot weather causes the use of more water. When a battery goes dry or very nearly dry it causes the plates to burn and decreases the life of your battery. Mr. Solomon's shop is right on the way into Wilmington, and he will be only too glad to give your battery attention. It would be well to let Mr. Solomon give your battery a weekly test and show you how to make it last and give dependable service. Mr. Solomon has batteries and battery parts for all cars. All the work and all batteries are sold on a guaranteed basis. Drive up to Solomon's and know the condition of your battery.

A NEWARK INSTITUTION

The Flower Hospital, located on upper West Main street, is an institution that is serving the needs of Newark.

This institution deserves the backing of the community, as it is serving the community to its fullest extent. As the institution prospers and grows the greater service it can render. It is located in a quiet part of the town, and is especially equipped to care for cases of incurables. The institution has successfully demonstrated its work of this kind and whenever you hear of a case, you cannot make a mistake in recommending to them that they investigate the services and accommodations that this local institution has to offer.

DRAGON BATTERIES ARE WELL CONSTRUCTED

Dragon Batteries, sold by H. L. Solomon, 102 N. Union street, Wilmington, are the embodiment of all the latest and improved features of battery construction.

One of the greatest points in its favor says Mr. Solomon, is the fact that in Dragon Batteries both positive and negative plates recharge in the same proportion. In the older style batteries on the other hand, the negative is fully charged much before

CROSLEY RADIO

This week all radio fans are listening to the fight. Perhaps you are one of the unlucky ones who had bad reception or do not have a radio. Mr. Henry Mote in his Main street store is selling and servicing the Crosley Radio. Stop in and hear the latest in radio reception.

The positive and in order to charge the positive plates to full strength it is necessary to overcharge the negative plates, which is a great factor in battery deterioration. Mr. Solomon invites the public to his shop for a further explanation of Dragon's excellencies.

BRANDYWINE HUNDRED FIREMEN EXTEND CARNIVAL

The Brandywine Hundred Firemen have extended the time of their carnival, the re-opening was on Tuesday night and the closing will be this Saturday night.

Harry Mundorf, the well-known bottler of soft drinks, is caring for all the thirsty who are attending the carnival. Each night a free prize is given away. On Saturday night a Pontiac Coach will be given to some lucky person.

This carnival is expected to help considerable in the promotion of fire fences, tenant houses, etc. For Robert H. Richards, of 2103 Parkway, Wilmington, Mr. Hutchison is making alterations and an addition to the Richards residence. The local ice station of the Diamond Ice and Coal Company on Main street is fully equipped and the way trucks and automobiles line up there some times, it is to be wondered why the need of this station was not discovered at an earlier date.

preventive measures, recognizing the preliminary symptoms as a warning of some yet undeveloped disorder. After you have determined what is the matter with your eyes, be sure to have your glasses made by a reliable Optician.

Mr. J. W. Parrish, who is well known, due to his long residence here, is experienced and skilled and fully capable of making and fitting your glasses in accordance with instructions.

OUNCE OF PREVENTION WORTH A POUND OF CURE

The poets say that "The eyes are the windows of the soul." They are right, but did it ever occur to you, the little attention that one gives to their eyes till the matter has become of a serious nature.

It is the duty of everyone, a duty that we really owe to ourselves and our dependents, that is to give our eyes attention.

You may have a slight headache that might be caused by a strain on your eyes without your realizing just what is the trouble. You should take

The Carnival

For fifty-two weeks in the year, the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company protects Newark and the surrounding community from the menace of fire. This is a serious business which Aetna disposes of in a quiet and effective way that has come to be taken for granted. If there is another fire company in a community the size of Newark that can boast of a better fire fighting record than that of Aetna, we have yet to hear the boast.

One week in the year Aetna provides Newark with another form of service that has come to be as much a matter of pride to the town as Aetna's service as a fire fighting organization. The annual Aetna Carnival has become an institution, known the length and breadth of the State, as a model for all carnivals. Aetna's first carnival was held eighteen years ago, and while it was modest, its features were unique and original. Since then the Aetna Carnival, which has grown so large and wide in reputation as to be known as the "Newark Carnival" has drawn crowds from many distant towns to enjoy its splendid entertainment.

The "Newark Carnival" is the exceedingly pleasant way that the Aetna Company takes to obtain operating funds. It has had an unequalled success because it gives a full and rich measure of value for all it receives. It is expected that this, the eighteenth annual Aetna Carnival, will break all records for proceeds cleared and pleasure dispensed. The committee promises more in the way of entertainment and prizes than it ever has before, and the committee has a reputation of being conservative in its promises.

Real Service to Rural Life

One of the most widely-known organizations in the United States is the Grange, with the distinction of being the only farm fraternity in the world, and which today numbers more than 800,000 paid members, grouped together in nearly 8,000 local branches, in thirty-three states. Its service to agriculture and its program of rural education and betterment, carried out through legislative lines and otherwise, is more or less common knowledge, and the Grange is everywhere recognized today as one of the constructive factors in national life, its influence always exerted on the side of good homes, good government and good citizenship and many prominent Delawareans, including Governor Robinson, belong to it.

Not so well known, however, is the program of community ministry which Granges everywhere carry out, nor is there any realization of the amount of genuine relief work done every year by hundreds of Granges, but all so quietly that few outside the immediate family locality know anything about it. Case after case has come to light the present season where Grange kindness has been expressed in practical ways:

A farmer in Pennsylvania, ill all winter and unable to tackle his spring plowing, was astounded one day to see twenty fellow-Grangers, with a dozen teams of horses and all sorts of farm implements, take possession of his fields, fit them for the season's planting, repair his fences and put his spring's work wholly up to date; the Grange women coming too, and cooking and serving a hearty dinner for the kindly toilers.

In New York, after a farmer's barn had been destroyed by fire, fifty fellow members turned out and gave him a lift towards building a new barn in record time, to shelter his shivering stock from the winter winds and storms fast drawing nigh.

In another rural town an aged widow lost her home by fire, with its entire contents. The Grange took up her case at once, provided her temporary board and care in an adjoining town, and then, wholly unknown to her, those sturdy farmers cut, hauled and sawed lumber, and built complete a four-room house on the site of the old one; generous housewives gave pieces of their own furniture; a tiny woodshed was stocked with fuel, the cellar with vegetables, and the pantry with food—then the widow was brought back and introduced to her new home—all a total surprise and all the work of the Grange in one small country town. Similar kindly Grange enterprises could be enumerated almost without number.

Other Granges furnish hot school lunches and a supervising housewife to prepare them; others collect toys and games to distribute among the poor children at Christmas; some send candy, fruits and other dainties to shut-ins, hospital inmates and other unfortunates; papers and magazines are frequently supplied to life-saving stations, homes for children and aged, poor and unfortunates; and the Grange hall often made the rallying point for such community endeavors; gifts of pianos, victrolas and radios are often the Grange contributions to local institutions and homes; flowers, boxes of fruit, etc., are universal remembrances to sick and aged members, and birthdays are frequently recalled by timely gifts. Destruction of homes by fire is often followed by Grange collections of clothing, furniture, fuel, etc., and not infrequently farming implements and even livestock are included in such Grange generosity.

Thousands of dollars have been raised in Granges for the Red Cross, Near East Relief and Salvation Army, while hundreds of Granges make annual money contributions to the local hospital, Y. M. C. A., Children's Homes, etc.

At its annual session a few years ago the National Grange made a liberal cash appropriation for the Near East Relief and the recipients invested it in an American tractor, shipped it to Armenia, where it is still hard at work, bearing upon its side a bronze plate which reads, "The gift of the American Grange for the restoration of agriculture in Armenia."

Following the lead of the parent organization, several State Granges and many subordinates have "adopted" Near East children at the orphanage on the Island of Syria, in the Grecian Archipelago, whose 1600 refugee boys and girls have been tenderly supervised the last two years by two prominent American Grange members, a man and his wife from Massachusetts, who left home and family to take up a great humanitarian task. One hundred dollars proving sufficient to care for one of these refugee children a single year, many Granges have appropriated that amount and thus have assumed the care of a child as their own.

In connection with this interesting side of Grange activity, carried out in a nation-wide sense, it is highly significant that the first really national project ever undertaken by the Grange organization was back in 1874, when the new farm fraternity, learning of the great devastation in the Northwest wrought by a mighty invasion of grasshoppers, undertook to send food supplies to those stricken people. The National Grange took $20,000 in cash from its own treasury and sent out appeals to its membership everywhere, which resulted in whole trainloads of breadstuffs, provisions and planting seed being sent into the Northwest, where they proved a godsend indeed. So important seemed this Grange project at the time that railroads and boats carried all these supplies free of freight charges, and a widespread distribution was made in the states of Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Kansas, the Dakotas, Colorado and Missouri. Thus the Grange of today, in its widespread humanitarian work, is ringing true to the early ideals of that fraternity.

With such a record for achievement, it is surprising that there are not more granges than at present on the Delmarva Peninsula.—Wilmington Evening Journal.

William T. Dantz Dead

Many friends in Newark were saddened to hear on Saturday of the death of William T. Dantz, aged 66, at the home of his brother-in-law, Arthur T. Cameron, of Lincoln University. Mr. Dantz was one of the most prominent residents of Chester County, Pa., and had won wide recognition as a writer, rancher and business man. He was the father of T. R. Dantz, associated with Everett C. Johnson for four years on The Newark Post, and is now advertising manager of the du Pont Rayon Company, with offices in New York City.

As a young man William T. Dantz went into the far northwest, and financed by his uncle, William N. Thompson, of Chicago, established the Middle Butte Quarter Circle Diamond Ranch in the bad lands of North Dakota. He was a near neighbor and close friend of the late President Theodore Roosevelt. Later, returning to Chester County, he was associated with Marvel Brothers, who operated a chain of creameries in the lower part of the county. Subsequently, he purchased the West Grove Independent, successfully conducting it for many years, during which time he served as postmaster of the borough under appointment by President Roosevelt. Mr. Dantz did considerable newspaper writing and also contributed much of value to the permanent records of both the Roosevelt Memorial Association and the North Dakota Historical Society. His family is one of the oldest in the lower part of Chester County, dating back to pre-Revolutionary days.

He is survived by two sons, Thomas Marvel Dantz, of Detroit, Mich., and Theodore Roosevelt Dantz. Four sisters also remain. They are: Mrs. Arthur Phillips, of Philadelphia; Mrs. William S. Caldwell and Mrs. Harvey M. Cook, both of Avondale, Pa., and Mrs. Arthur T. Cameron, of Lincoln University.

Funeral services were held yesterday at 2 o'clock at the home of Arthur T. Cameron, at Lincoln University. The services were conducted by the Reverend Hollock Johnson, of Lincoln University, the Reverend W. Rankin, of New London, and J. D. E. Turner, of Lincoln University. Interment was in the New London Cemetery. Among Newark friends who attended the funeral services were Mayor Eben B. Frazer and J. Earl Dougherty.

SHAKESPEAREAN PLAY PLEASES LARGE CROWD

Arden Players Give Fine Performance of "Midsummer Night's Dream"; Mrs. Code in Cast

The last affair of the University of Delaware Summer School, which closes Friday, took place Monday night when the Arden Players gave a competent and beautiful performance of Shakespeare's "Midsummer-Night's Dream" to a large and appreciative audience of students and townspeople. The play was given in front of Wolf Hall in as near a Shakespearean setting as it was possible to arrange, and was in costume. The 500 seats provided were filled and there were several hundred people standing.

Newark people were interested to see Mrs. Grant Code and her young son in the cast of the production. Mrs. Code played the part of Hippolyta, queen of the Amazons, and gave a finished performance. Frank Stevens, founder of the colony of Arden, gave an excellent portrayal of Quince, one of the comic characters. The part of Bottom was also remarkably well presented.

Incidental music to the production was furnished by a string quartette from the Curtis Music Institute, of Philadelphia. Its efforts were rewarded with considerable applause.

AETNA WINS CUP

The Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company was awarded the silver cup for having the best equipped company in line in the annual parade held in connection with the carnival of the Cranston Heights Fire Company. The parade was held last Thursday evening, and nine companies competed for the five cups offered. The Aetna Company was accompanied by the Continental Band of 45 pieces.

MISS OSBORNE RESIGNS

The Newark School authority have with regret accepted the resignation of Miss Anne Osborne, of Danville, Indiana, for the past two years teacher of English in the Newark High School. It is understood that her resignation is a result of ill health. Prior to coming to Newark, Miss Osborne taught in the Lewes public schools. Her work here was of a very constructive nature, and she took on many school duties outside of her courses.

Mr. Claire Melloy, of Huntington, Pa., has been selected to fill the vacancy created by Miss Osborne's resignation. Mr. Melloy holds an A. B. from Juniata College, and an M. A. from Harvard University. He majored in English at both institutions. He has three years' successful experience in teaching English and public school journalism. Mr. Melloy won his varsity letter at Juniata in baseball, basketball and football.

CRANE BREAKS BRIDGE

Last Thursday afternoon, a large crane, owned by McCormick Brothers, Inc., Wilmington, went through a bridge over the B. & O. tracks on the Limestone road, a half mile from Stanton. The crane and truck on which it is mounted weighed ten tons. Traffic on the southbound tracks was halted several hours until a wrecking crew could raise the crane. The crane was prevented from plunging to the tracks by a steel girder in the bridge. When the crane went through the bridge, the driver ran down the track to the signal tower and had all trains flagged, as the crane was hanging just low enough to obstruct traffic. This is the crane that was used to haul the automobile out of the Brandywine race, which contained the bodies of four young people who were drowned when the machine plunged into the water from the road.

Yesterday, Carpenter arrested William B. Hilton, of Bangersville, Md., for reckless driving. He was lightened of the usual $25 and, by Magistrate Thompson, late last evening he brought in Harry H. Heckroft, of Philadelphia, who had been driving 62. Magistrate Thompson fined him $25 and costs.

Beetles Attacking Beans Not Japanese

Mexican Bean Beetles Discovered In Wide Area; State Board Preparing To Combat Them

Mr. Ralph C. Wilson, Secretary of the Delaware State Board of Agriculture, wishes to correct the impression that has been reported of the Japanese Beetle being established in Sussex County and affecting the bean crop.

The situation that does exist is concerned with the first appearance of the "Bean Lady Bird Beetle" or "Mexican Bean Beetle." This beetle in no way resembles the Japanese Beetle, and its food plants consist of string beans, lima beans, cow peas, soy beans, vetch, alfalfa, clover, and such leguminous plants.

The presence of this pest in Delaware was first discovered on July 11, in a field of string beans near Cool Springs, Sussex County. The grub, or larva, stage of the beetle only was found, so that steps were immediately taken to eliminate the plants upon which these insects were working. In this way, one could prevent the development of the first brood of beetles. Inspection of all fields in the Bridgeville, Seaford, Georgetown, and Lewes sections has shown the presence of this pest. The canners are having every field inspected and are removing plants which show the presence of the pest. These are destroyed, and it is hoped that the work will materially check the development for the rest of the season. About eight or ten plants per acre have been found infested, which indicates the first evidence of infestation for these sections.

This insect is closely related to the Lady Bird Beetle that attacks cucumbers, cantaloupes, squashes, and watermelons. It differs, in the beetle stage, by having 16 black spots compared with 12 black spots for the Squash Beetle. The grub, or larva, feed on the under surface of the leaves, skeletonizing them, so that they can be easily recognized in the field. It is planned to carry on a thorough inspection, in cooperation with the canners, so as to determine its probable spread on to lima beans, which crop will be maturing in about two weeks. It is hoped, through this means, to materially check the development and spread for this season.

Maryland and the more southern sections have reported the beetle in disturbing numbers, and there would appear to be some evidence that this pest is spreading northward. It is urged that all people with home plantings of beans who might discover this pest will take immediate steps to destroy all the yellow grubs or beetles that they find on the plantings.

Dr. James F. Adams, plant pathologist at the University of Delaware, has made an investigation in Sussex and Kent, and reports the Mexican Beetles scattered over too large an area to make a quarantine practical. No investigation has as yet been made in New Castle County, but it is likely that the beetles are in evidence here. The State Board of Agriculture will probably advise proper sprays and dusts for combating the matured beetle.

AMBULANCE CALLS

In addition to the two accident cases, Monday, the Newark ambulance was summoned twice during the past week. On Monday, Joseph Schore was taken to the Homeopathic Hospital for an operation for acute appendicitis. Eugene Stiltz and Bert Crow made the trip. Yesterday Mrs. Jessie Wardel, of South Chapel street, was taken to the Physicians and Surgeons by Edwin Shakespeare and Bert Crow.

LONG WHILE LEARNING

The world was a long while learning the way to play the game together, but the great mass of humanity had little property, little leisure and hardly any liberty until the method of co-operation was adopted. There is a lot of injustice and wrong left in the world still, but that exists merely where the ideals of the system have not been observed.—Detroit News.

I've always found—I don't mean at the moment, but afterwards—that whenever life's hit me over the head, it's been for my ultimate good.—Coningsby Dawson.

The couple were married by the Rev. C. M. Cope, known as the "marrying parson." The bill states that the marriage has not been consummated, and that the plaintiff repudiated the same, before leaving Elkton, the day the ceremony was performed; that she continues to refuse to consummate the marriage, and does not ever intend to consummate it, and that the repudiation of the union on her part, has not been rescinded or withdrawn. The bill states that the plaintiff, Margaret R. Sutton, is under 17 years of age, and resides in Pleasantville, N. J., and that the defendant resides in Absecon, N. J.

The girls said the man had carried them so far before he let them get out that they decided to walk to Philadelphia. They were detained at the jail over night, and Friday their parents came for them. Both girls were pretty and well dressed.

The Elkton Fire Company was sent out and soon extinguished the flames. Two valuable horses belonging to George C. McDaniel, standing in an open field on his farm between Elkton and Glasgow, were struck and killed.

JEREMIAH BAKER CHAPTER ON OUTING

On July 18 the Captain Jeremiah Baker Chapter, D. A. R., of Elkton, journeyed to Valley Forge and were received by the Rev. Dr. Burk, who held a patriotic service in their honor. The Maryland colors were used, and "Maryland, My Maryland" was chanted by the large bell given by the thirteen original colonies. Mrs. Wilmer Jackson, one of the Perryville members, played the Chapel organ for the service. The trip was made by bus, "Lady Newark," under the efficient management of Mr. William Stiltz, of Newark, and was thoroughly enjoyed by all. The party was made up of twenty-three persons, including the following members and friends: Mrs. Elva G. Denney, Regent; Mrs. Harry T. Alexander, Vice-Regent; Mrs. Irvin T. LIGHTNING STARTS $6000 BARN FIRE

An intense electric storm caused damage amounting to $6000 Friday night when a bolt of lightning struck the double decker barn on the farm of H. T. Carrio, near Zion, and destroyed the barn and contents. The fire companies of Elkton and North East responded to the alarm, and were able to save an adjoining granary and several outbuildings, but were unable to extinguish the fire in the barn before several thousand dollars worth of farming implements and hay were burned up. There was no livestock in the barn.

The lightning struck the barn shortly after 9:30, the dry hay stored in the building catching fire and burning rapidly, emitting dense black smoke. The flames were visible for several miles, and there was a crowd filling more than 150 automobiles crowded around the farm watching the blaze.

ELKTON ELIMINATED FROM LEGION RACE

Hyattsville and Baltimore were victorious in the semi-final games of the American Legion State baseball elimination tournament at Oriole Park, Baltimore, Friday afternoon.

The former defeated Elkton, 10 to 88, after a torrid 11-inning clash, while Baltimore took the measure of Cumberland, 10 to 4, in a game that was mercifully called in the first half of the eighth.

Facing a five-run handicap in the first inning the Hyattsville tossers whittled away at the Elkton lead and went ahead in the sixth. They were knotted at 8-all in the last frame and two extra periods were necessary.

AUTO SMASH-UP

Early Wednesday morning a Ford car, driven by Frank Guns, who resides just below Elkton, and a Willys-Knight car bearing a New Jersey license, collided at the corner of High and Bridge streets, in Elkton, overturning both cars, badly damaging them, and injuring two occupants, one of whom was removed to Union Hospital for treatment.

Mr. Guns was on his way to work and the Jersey car was proceeding toward Baltimore, and neither driver claims to have seen the other approaching the street intersection and ran together with such force that both cars were overturned.

Man Escapes As Auto Is Caught In R. R. Gates

Baltimore Man Tried to Back Off Red Mill Crossing But Car Stalled

A Baltimorean, who left without giving his name or address, had a narrow escape from death or serious injury Friday night, when his automobile, a Dodge coupe, stalled on the Red Mill crossing of the Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington Railroad on the outskirts of Elkton, after it had been caught within the safety gates. The machine was hit by a northbound train after the man had jumped to safety.

The automobilist was traveling, it is said, at a rather fast clip as he approached the crossing, notoriously known as a death trap. He ignored the movements of the gates that were being lowered by the Negro watchman, although he brought the car to a stop. When he attempted to back the car off the crossing in the face of the approaching train, he found it had stalled. He lost little time then in jumping out of the car.

The train hit the machine in the middle section, and practically wrecked it. The wreckage was towed to Jones' garage in Charlestown, where the man left it, saying he would call for it later. He then disappeared.

It was at this crossing that three persons were killed about a year ago.

Christiana

On Tuesday evening, of last week this community was shocked to hear of the suicide of Michael Ganczynski, a highly respected Polish resident. For some time the man had been unfortunate. Last fall his house and practically all it contained were burned; later he suffered for several weeks with a sore hand, which compelled him to give up his regular occupation, that of a cabinet-maker; and during all this time his wife was in very poor health. All day Tuesday he had walked the streets of Philadelphia, looking for work, but with no success, and he returned home at night completely discouraged and disheartened. After sending his wife on some trumped-up errand, he shot himself, and died soon after being admitted to the Delaware Hospital.

Besides his wife, he left two small children, one eight years old and one six.

The Christiana Improvement Association held their annual picnic at Deemer Beach last Saturday afternoon and evening. There was a large attendance of members, their families and friends, and everybody reports a most enjoyable time. Before supper was served, a program of varied and

Extend Regular Army Schools To Reserves

Reserve Officers May Take Three Months' Schooling In Any Of Regular Schools

Extension of Army Reserve training to give Reserve officers of New York State, New Jersey, and Delaware opportunity of attendance at the principal Regular Army service schools throughout the United States was authorized last Friday by Major-General Hanson E. Ely, commanding general at Governors Island.

He allotted to Reserve organizations of the Corps Area quotas totaling eighteen second lieutenants who may be enrolled at Government expense in Army courses ranging to three months in duration. Normally Reserve officer training is limited to two weeks in any one year and is restricted to activities within the Corps Area.

Nine Army service schools were designated by General Ely for attendance. They were the Infantry School at Fort Benning, Georgia; the Cavalry School at Fort Riley, Kansas; the Tank School at Fort Leonard Wood, Maryland; the Coast Artillery School at Fortress Monroe, Virginia; the Field Artillery School at Fort Sill, Oklahoma; the Air Corps Technical School at Chanute Field, Illinois; the Ordnance Specialists School at Metuchen, New Jersey; the Signal School at Fort Monmouth, New Jersey, and the Engineer School at Fort Humphreys, Virginia.

One might include a camera, a flash light and, if possible, some old fashioned garment or costume that might be worn at a masquerade party. These last are not necessary but merely suggestive.

The camp staff besides Miss Martha Good, the director, includes instructors in swimming, recreation, dramatics, handicraft, a nurse and a dietitian so that there will be a regular program of interesting things to do for those who do not wish to rest all of the time. In case one wants to make a little purse, a handkerchief, etc., in the handicraft work a small charge will be made for the materials used.

Women's Fair Exhibits

Some of the most interesting sights at the Kent-Sussex Fair are the Health Exhibits erected by the Home Demonstration Clubs, under the leadership of Mrs. Helen V. McKinley, State Home Demonstration Agent of the University of Delaware.

For the past six months these clubs have been making a study of food in relation to health and the exhibits, which are along this line, are both instructive and interesting.

This exhibit may be seen in the 4-H Club Building of the Fair Grounds, clubs exhibiting and the titles of their exhibits are as follows: Middletown Club—Health Fairies; Oak Grove—The House of Good Health and House of Poor Health; Millwood Club—The Stairway of Health.

Cool Spring-Harbeson Club—A Trip through Healthland.

Reliance Club—The Road to Health.

Mrs. McKinley has an exhibit of white rats which have been fed special diets to show how "Food Makes a Difference." The rats were all the same litter, but due to feeding there is quite a comparison in the sizes, the rats which were given no milk or vegetables, being very much smaller.

Another feature of the State Exhibit is the making of furniture from orange crates. This includes a very attractive dressing table, chairs for children and cupboards of various kinds.

Mrs. McKinley will be in this building during the entire week and will welcome any questions regarding the exhibits or the extension work in the state.

poultrymen. A pen of chicks which have received ground soybeans in place of meat scraps and dried milk since the date of hatch will be seen. The growth of the chicks in this pen will be compared with the growth of a pen of chicks fed a ration in which meat scraps and dried buttermilk have been used as protein supplements.

Another experiment to be inspected deals with the utilization of ground soybeans for laying pullets. Three pens of Single Combed White Leghorn pullets have been on this experiment since November 1, 1927. Records of production on the three pens will be compared.

A pen of pullets fed on an all-mash ration since November 1, 1927, will be on display. The production records in this pen are of interest to every practical poultryman. The production of a pen of pullets fed on a mash and scratch ration can be compared with the pen fed by the all-mash method.

The pen of pullets with their concrete "sun porch" will not be overlooked. These birds have been in confinement since last fall and have at no time received succulent green food in the ration.

That grand old hen No. 528 will be on display with her daughters and granddaughters. This hen was hatched in 1922 and is still laying heavily. No. 528 is one of the birds being used in the breeding experiments.

An inspection of the laying houses and equipment will give some valuable ideas to those who plan to build new houses.

is another of the State-wide projects on which the County Agents have been working for several years. The increase in acreage from 1910 to 1927 is shown in the exhibit by signs and bunches of alfalfa. In 1910 there were 205 acres in Delaware, this increased to 1878 acres in 1920. With the active campaign waged in the state, by the extension force, this acreage was increased considerably. Last year 2679 acres were planted in the state. This does not include, of course, the total amount in the state for 1927 which would be a much larger acreage. According to the increased acreage as shown on the charts the farmer's feed bill should be reduced about $160,000 from the use of this alfalfa hay to supplement the concentrated feeds.

To increase the average milk production per cow is to lower the cost of milk production per unit. This is the theme of the third extension project as shown by the exhibit. Dairy farmers in the Cool Spring-Nassau, Sussex county communities have an average milk production per cow of around 6200 pounds of milk. This is about twice as high as the state average which is around 3,000 pounds per cow.

Spray service to the fruit growers of the state is featured on the end wall space of this exhibit, while the treatment of corn for root rot diseases and wheat for smut is shown on a small table in the front of the space. A model seed treating machine is on show also as part of this project exhibit.
