

SEWER WORK PLANS ARE BEGUN FOR SOUTHSIDE

Engineers Now
Drafting Plans
For Costly New
Disposal Lines

The first concrete step towards launching the long planned southside sewer project was taken by the Town Council at its July session last Wednesday.

The lawmakers authorized Whitcomb, Reapard and Associates, Consulting Engineers, of Baltimore, to prepare specifications for the preliminary work, which will include the installation of a pumping station to cost between $15,000 and $20,000 in what is the Gordy development and also the main and sewer lines on Ritter Lane, Townsend and Orchard Roads as part of Manns Avenue. Once the engineering plans are completed and approved by Council, bids will be made on the work.

The project, which is a follow-up to the recently completed northside sewer, will eventually bring a wide area in the southwestern portion of the town into the sanitary system for the first time. It will be built piecemeal, as the construction of new homes in the area creates a need for sewer service.

A short stretch of sewer line omitted from the northside project as a result of oversight will be laid as a part of the southside project.

The Council also authorized Town Engineer Arthur Hauber to draw up specifications on a broad scale street program. This will cost somewhat less than $20,000, it was said, and include resurfacing of all streets in the village, the town parking lot, portions of Benny, Annabelle, Main Streets, Hillside and Forrest and other thoroughfares. Curb and gutter work is also planned on a number of streets.

Work of other outlying streets, which was scheduled to be included in the project, was ruled out when it was found that sewer and water lines had been laid first.

Motorists Warned
On Speeding Here

Motorists are warned of numerous violations of the town's 25-mile speed limit caused by motorists yesterday to issue a warning to motorists to cooperate in obeying traffic regulations here.

Officials also promised a stepped-up campaign against violators, with complaints regarding speeding and reckless driving have been received from almost every section of town, it was said. Protests have come from motorists on East Park Place, Kells Avenue, East Cleveland Avenue, West Main Street, and South College Avenue. Officials claim that on the last thoroughfare residents are complaining many of the speeding violations to employees of the Chrysler plant, rushing to and from work.

Speeding motorists are not only violating the law, officials stressed, but are endangering the lives of pedestrians, especially children, in these residential areas.

First Request For Zoning Law Change

Council To Hold Special Meeting To Hear Sheaffer's Appeal

The first request for a change in the newly adopted zoning ordinance has been received by town authorities.

Harold Sheaffer has entered a formal plea that his property on East Main Street, adjacent to the Pomeroy Railroad branch, be reclassified from residential to a business area.

Since the switch would require a change in the ordinance itself, the request will not go before the Board of Adjustments, which is set up under the ordinance to settle issues that arise within the scope of the law. Questions of rezoning must go before a special session of the Town Council.

The latter has agreed to hold a session at 8 p. m. next Tuesday night to decide on Mr. Sheaffer's request. All interested parties are advised to be present.

28 Companies March In Firemen Parade As Rains Hold Off

Event Draws Thousands Of Spectators; Oxford Unit Wins Top Prize

Although the skies gloomed all last Thursday afternoon, the rains held off, and the firemen, disappointed in their first attempt the previous Tuesday, managed to pull off their parade here that night with typical dash and color.

Twenty-eight companies strong, many with bands and auxiliaries, the visiting volunteers moved through the central portions of town, taking almost an hour to pass a single point. The turnout of companies, though not as large as was scheduled to march here the first time, was considerable, considering that many had to make two trips.

The event drew thousands of townspeople and residents from the surrounding area, as well as contingents of rooters from the visiting firemen's home town. When the last units passed the judges' stand over Powell's Restaurant, the crowd, in many places 3-ranks deep on Main Street, descended on masses on the carnival, which boomed for the remainder of the evening. The town was full of visitors until almost midnight and even the soda shops and lunch counters did a land office business.

Top prize in the parade went to Oxford as the company with the best appearance. The Pennsylvanians were headed by a girl color guard in cadet uniforms of blue and silver. They made a spectacular appearance as they swept down Main Street, taking up almost the entire width and pushing back the crowd as they approached. The Oxfordians, who received $75 for their efforts, also would have taken the award for (Please Turn to Page 2)

Rotarians Tour Railroad Switch Control Tower Here

Following their dinner meeting on Monday night at the Chimes Restaurant, the members of the Newark Rotary Club toured the switch control tower on the Pennsylvania Railroad main stem just south of Chapel Street.

Known to railroaders as the Davis Interlocking Tower, the nerve center controls switches and signal lights over a 26-mile stretch of track between Wilmington and Charlestown. Charles Kershaw, the operator, explained the workings of the complicated switches to the visiting businessmen.

Guest of the club for the evening was Harry Garrison, Salem, N. J.

Following next week's meeting, the Rotarians will play host to New Castle Rotary in a softball game on the Continental Field, starting at 7:15 p. m.

New Education Dean Appointed At U. of D.

Arkansas U. Man Named To Post Resigned By Armstrong

Dr. William S. Carlson, president of the University of Arkansas, yesterday announced the appointment of Dr. William O. Penrose to deanship of the university's School of Education.

Dr. Penrose, now a member of the College of Education faculty at the University of Arkansas, will come here later this summer, succeeding Dr. W. Earl Armstrong, who resigned as Dean of Education to become Teaching Educational Specialist for the U. S. Office of Education.

Dr. Penrose holds degrees from the University of Arkansas and Harvard University, with teaching experience in public schools, personnel work in various public agencies, four years Army service, and educational instruction at Arkansas.

Lot Owners Urged To Lay Sidewalks

Lot owners who have not yet laid sidewalks along their property were requested by town authorities this week to do so as soon as possible.

Cement sidewalks should be laid wherever streets have been constructed and curbs and gutters installed, even though no home has been erected on the property as yet. Many streets in sparsely settled areas of town still have no sidewalks, a fact which detracts from the appearance of the district and inconveniences those citizens who do own homes in the area.

The town will install sidewalks upon request, but the expense must be borne by the property owner.

Prizes Awarded At Jones Appliance Show

About four hundred people, filling the store and overflowing on the sidewalk, were present for the awarding of prizes, which climaxed the appliance show at Theo. S. Jones last Friday night.

Curious shoppers filed through the store all day to share free refreshments and view the appliance demonstrations by factory representatives.

The main prize, a Gibson Home Freezer, went to Mrs. Alex Richards. Ten dollar certificates, which may be used toward the purchase of any item in the store, were given to Mrs. Addie D. Claringbold, Mrs. Regina B. Fisher, Mrs. John Ernest, F. A. Wheelless and Clyde Robinson. Five dollar certificates were awarded to Jean Havins, Katherine Savage, Ruth E. Jolls, Mrs. J. E. Plotts, Jr., and Mrs. Henry C. Beebe.

Auto Damaged By Flames Saturday

The only fire alarm sounded here the past week came when an automobile caught fire on Saturday on the Glasgow Road. The flames caused about $100 in damages. The owner of the vehicle, an Elkton resident, was unidentified.

U. OF D. GETS SCHOLARSHIP FUND GRANT

Most Of $75,000 Conover Estate To Aid Students

The Elisha Conover, Jr., Scholarships, for the benefit of native Delaware young men and women striving to attend the University of Delaware, will be established at the university soon through the bequest of the late Professor Conover's widow.

Mrs. Fannie L. Conover, of Newark, who died May 30, left an estate estimated at more than $75,000, most of which goes to the university, where Professor Conover taught Latin and Greek for 43 years. After listing several personal and charitable bequests, including $1,000 each to St. Thomas' P. E. Church, Newark, and St. Paul's P. E. Church, Georgetown, Mrs. Conover's will specifies that the residue of the estate is to be used by the university for scholarships. This fund is to be invested, and its proceeds used for student aid. At the university, it was estimated that there would be a few Conover scholarships available each year, probably beginning with the fall of 1950.

Those eligible must be native Delawareans—preferably from Sussex County—who are students at the university, or who are to enter. The recipients must be promising students with better-than-average academic records in high school or college, and who need the money to carry on their education at the university. The same person may continue to receive scholarship aid throughout his four years of college, but the scholarship may be withdrawn at any time if he fails to maintain the proper academic standing. The amount of the scholarships and the required academic standing, will be determined by the faculty's scholarship committee, which also will select the individual recipients.

The university also received Mrs. Conover's library.

The Conover residence at 247 West Main Street, Newark, is to be sold at auction, under the directions of Mrs. Conover's will, for which Earl F. Dawson, of Newark, is the executor.

Professor Conover, a native of New Jersey and a Dickinson College graduate, joined the Delaware College faculty in 1895, and continued as the professor of ancient languages until his retirement in 1938. He died Dec. 13, 1944.

Vote Here Tuesday On Cash Bonus For Delaware Veterans

Except For One Change, Polling Sites Same In White Clay

Local voters will go to the polls next Tuesday to ballot in the referendum on whether or not to grant the veterans of the recent war a state bonus.

The special ballot will state: "Do you favor the immediate payment of a cash bonus to veterans of World War II by the State of Delaware?" There will be boxes provided for affirmative and negative answers.

Except for one change, the polling places in White Clay Creek Hundred will be the same as for national and state elections. The change is in the fifth district where Mackenzie and Strickland's garage will replace Richard's Dairy as a voting site. The others will be: Fader Motor Company, 42 West Main Street; Dennison Motor Company, 23 Haines Street; Christiana Fire Company, Christiana; and Newark High School, Academy Street.

The special referendum is in accordance with the bill passed at the last session of the state legislature, calling for a vote on the subject, after which Gov. Elbert N. Carvel has indicated that, should the vote be favorable, he will call a special session of the General Assembly to consider the subject of payment.

Legion Carnival To Open July 22

Festive Spirit To Continue In High Here As Vets Follow Firemen

The carnival mood will continue here with only a brief let-up. While the firemen are clearing the last of their equipment away from the Academy Grounds and counting their receipts, the local Legionnaires are preparing to move in to continue festivities.

The Legion's carnival, which will offer cash awards every night, will open July 22 and continue through July 30. Military band concerts are being planned several nights to be staged by visiting army and navy outfits. In addition to the usual concessions, the carnival will offer kiddie rides on the 40 and 8 train and also pony rides.

Five silver dollars will be awarded every half hour each night between 8 and 10 p. m. A jackpot prize of 10 silver dollars will be given away each night at 11 p. m.

Big Increase Here In Business Firms, Census Head Claims

Urges Cooperation From Concerns That Have Failed To Furnish Census Data

Business firms and industries have "increased considerably" in Newark since the 1939 business census, according to Arno Loessner, state director, U. S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census.

Mr. Loessner, who is a Newark resident, is now striving to complete the 1948 business census of the State. He said this week, he could not give specific figures yet on Newark but claimed the number of new firms established here in the last decade is sizeable.

He disclosed this in connection with a plea this week for cooperation from Delaware business firms, which have not yet submitted data for the 1948 census of business. He urged such concerns to mail in the necessary forms at once to his Wilmington headquarters. He said about 30 per cent of the business firms in the state still have not submitted their census information. He called on all civic clubs and Chamber of Commerce units in Delaware to urge their members to cooperate in the program.

He stressed the fact that the census bureau will be put to considerable expense if it is forced to notify delinquent firms a second time by phone or mail. He pointed out that census enumerators have already called on every business establishment in the State and left government forms. These should be mailed in at once.

Mr. Loessner added that rapid completion of the census is of value to industry and business, since it offers a convenient listing of all retail, wholesale and service firms in every community.

Mr. Loessner also said he is aiming for rapid completion of the census with a view to having Delaware selected as a "test state" for the 1950 population census. This would mean that Delaware would be chosen as the area for testing experimental forms to determine which would prove most effective and efficient in the country at large.

NHS PLANS EXTENSIVE REPAIRS TO 3 BUILDINGS

State Funds For Project Are Cut; Haines - Lovett Sidewalk Is Out

As soon as the state appropriation is cleared, the Newark High School will launch a delayed repair program expected to cost around $19,000, Supt. Wilmer E. Shue said yesterday.

The work, covering projects held up since the war due to shortages in funds and materials, was originally expected to cost around $20,000, but the state funds were shaved at the last moments.

One important item dropped from the program when the school was unable to get the necessary appropriation was the laying of the long needed sidewalk on Haines Street and Lovett Avenue. School authorities had hoped to be able to include this in the program but were told by state authorities Tuesday that it would not be possible.

The work, as now planned, will cover considerable interior painting, including classrooms, in all buildings of the district, plus extensive plumbing reconditioning. Bids on the work will be sought as soon as funds are approved by state channels.

Meantime, the local school is going ahead with its annual summer maintenance work, reconditioning and cleaning all buildings in the district in preparation for the fall term. When the students return to their desks, they will find the "ole school house" has been given a complete face lifting.

The maintenance work includes the thorough cleaning of every classroom, scouring of woodwork and desks. In some cases, floors are being machine scraped, refinished and waxed.

Most of this work has already been completed by Clifton Knotts and his maintenance crew. The next step will be the painting of concrete corridors and the refinishing of desks not treated last summer. Construction of additional bleachers for the athletic field is also planned, and, when time permits, the present "Astral" push-out windows in the high school building will be replaced with standard double hung windows. It is not certain when this will be done.

Plans are also underway for relocating the science classrooms now on the first and second floors of the main building. The chemistry laboratory is regarded as obsolete, and the aim is to install a new laboratory and to situate all science classrooms in the same area with communicating doors.

It was hoped originally to complete this project this summer, but it now appears likely that it will not be accomplished until next year.

Propose Change In Assessment Method

Revision In System Of Evaluating Buildings Recommended

A report from the town's assessment methods committee, which for the past year has been studying means for revising and modernizing the real estate evaluation procedure here, was heard by the Town Council last week.

The report contained no new recommendations for evaluating land but did suggest two possible changes in the method of assessing buildings, both of which it indicated were superior to the procedure now in use here. The first is the cubic foot method currently used by New Castle County, and the second is the more elaborate cubic foot method advised by Dow Service, Inc., a firm of real estate experts.

The report, submitted in written form, was read by E. H. Elliott, who represented the committee's chairman, Leighton Jackson. The remaining member of the 3-man group is D. D. Lanning.

Council accepted the report with thanks and requested the committee to be present at its next session to answer questions. Meantime, the Councilmen plan to study the report with a view towards possible action.

Council Still Opposed To More Liquor Permits Here

The Town Council's traditional stand against the issuance of further liquor licenses in Newark was reaffirmed last week.

The lawmakers discussed a report that a local resident is planning to apply to the State Liquor Commission for a license to sell spirits here.

The members passed a resolution referring the commission to Council's letter of 1933, requesting the commission not to grant anymore liquor licenses in Newark. While the commission has the authority to approve such requests for permits when the conditions of the law are met, it usually respects the wishes of local governing bodies, it was said.

The motion to notify the commission that Council's position is unchanged was passed on the votes of Councilmen Battersby, Wheelless and Lewis. Councilmen Durnall and Diehl did not vote. Councilman Hopkins was absent.

Carnival Prizes

The top prize, awarded at the closing of the Aetna fire carnival here last Saturday night, a brand new Pontiac, went to Thomas Neff, of Delaware City.

Other prizes that night were awarded as follows: electric washer to E. O. Otley, Newark; electric refrigerator to Dave Lewis, Newark; garden tractor to Howard F. Pyle, Wilmington.

VETS URGE SUPPORT IN BONUS VOTE

A statement regarding the referendum Tuesday on the question of granting a cash bonus to Delaware veterans of World War II was issued this week by a joint committee representing the State American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

In a joint statement, the committee said: "Both of our organizations have been seeking a state bonus for veterans of World War II ever since the war ended. We feel that this is the opportunity for the people of Delaware to show their appreciation to the men who made many sacrifices during the war years while others more fortunate remained at home to work in war plants and industry."

"We feel that this can be done at this time without placing any further burden on the taxpayers of the state, because of unusual sources of revenue and legitimate windfalls which come to the state's general fund from time to time in sufficient quantities, not already earmarked, which could be applied to a bonus payment."

"The question has been asked, and rightly so, what would be the payments should the referendum be voted in favor of the veterans? Some reports state erroneously that this would provide a 'blank check.' That is not the case."

"The Joint Veterans Committee submitted a proposal to the Legislature for its consideration, which we believe is a modern amount which the men deserve. This calls for a payment of $15 a month for stateside service and $20 a month for foreign service. However, there would be ceiling payments of $225 and $300 respectively regardless of length of service. Those serving less time would receive proportionately less money."

"Delaware had 33,000 veterans in World War II, so an average figure can easily be struck, and we believe that this would represent not more than $1.66 a year per capita for each taxpayer, should a bond issue be floated over a 20 year period. However, we reiterate that we do not believe such a step would be necessary. The story that veterans would pay the bonus money from their own pockets in taxes is absurd."

"We also point out, that naturally, some veterans say they do not want the bonus payment. There is nothing mandatory about applying for it. Should it be acted upon favorably, the veteran who does not need or want the payment can easily help cut costs by not applying for it. However, these men should not stand in the way of other comrades-in-arms of the late war who may need assistance."

Firemen's Parade

the company with the most uniformed men in line but for the rule limiting a company to only one prize. The latter award went to Elkton, which received $50.

The best band was adjudged to be the polished, high stepping North East outfit, which earned $75. The newly organized Aetna Band made its first marching appearance here, heading off the long columns and drawing applause all along the line of march. Other units that brought bands or drum and bugle corps were: Five Points, Claymont, Holloway Terrace and Oxford.

Although it did not receive a cash award, the Havre de Grace contingent drew plenty of attention from the on-lookers for what was officially regarded as the most novel entry in the parade. This was a series of floral wreaths held aloft at either end by marching firemen. Companies displaying brand new engines, which proved the envy of competing firemen, were: Claymont and North East.

The remaining prizes were awarded as follows:

Second best appearing company, $50—Claymont; company with most men in line not in uniform, $35—Hockessin; company coming longest distance, $25—Clayton.

Best appearing auxiliary, $50—Mill Creek; second best appearing auxiliary, $25—Five Points.

Second best band, $50—Elkton; best drum and bugle corps, $75—Diamond State VFW Post; second best drum and bugle corps, $50—Tri-Community Corps of Newtown Square, Pa., which headed the Oxford company; best drum majorette—Adrienne Ziebler, of Elkton.

Parade judges were: William J. Lutz, Harry Hasson, William Kirk, Mrs. Bayard Perry, Mrs. O. A. Pickett, Walter Powell, Col. Ephraim Jolls, William Frazer, Ernest Wilder, and Frederick B. Kutz.

The head judge, Chief Lutz, who is a retired member of the Wilmington Fire Bureau, was presented with a cigarette lighter following the festivities, as a token of appreciation from the Aetna Company, with which he has always been highly cooperative.

The list of companies in the parade, excluding the prize winners, follows: Wilmington Manor, Christiana, Elsmere, Middletown, Townsend, New Castle, Smyrna, Holloway Terrace, Newport, Cranston Heights, Tallyville, Avondale, Chesapeake City Aberdeen, Rising Sun, Perryville, Port Deposit, Cecilton.

To Survey Outlook For State Broiler Industry

The Department of Agricultural Economics of the University of Delaware under the direction of S. T. Rice and Dr. R. O. Bausman is undertaking a research study to determine what affect interregional competition in the production and marketing of broilers is going to have on the Delaware broiler industry.

During the past one-half century, competition from other regions has brought about marked changes in the types of crops and livestock produced in Delaware. For example, Delaware was once an important producer of beef cattle and hogs. When the Midwest came into production with its cheap feed, Delaware was forced to adjust her farming and change towards the production of perishable products such as fluid milk and vegetables. With this type of product the competition from the Midwest and other areas distant from eastern markets is much less.

As considerably more than one-half of the farm income in Delaware is from the sale of broilers, the future of the broiler industry is of first importance to the agricultural interests of the state. In fact to the entire economy of the lower half of the state. This study is particularly pertinent in that in 1948 as compared with 1941, broiler production in the United States slightly more than doubled whereas in Delaware it increased only 11 per cent. In 1941, Delaware produced 28 per cent of the U. S. broiler production, whereas as compared to only 13 per cent in 1948.

The Navy's wartime "C" rations are being replaced with more palatable and varied rations, "C-4."

Just what you need FOR FASTER, EASIER HAY MAKING

● Every farmer likes to get his hay in while the weather is right... here is the mower to help you do it. This mower can be attached to the Ford Tractor in eight minutes and a lot of hay mowed by dinner time. Can be detached just as quickly for switching to other equipment.

The speed of the new Ford Tractor and the improved, short-turning brakes, make a big moving job nothing to worry about. And this mower is built to stand the gaff... has a steel pitman and roller bearings.

With Ford Hydraulic Touch Control the cutter bar is easily lifted over stumps, stones or other obstructions... no pulling on mower levers or ropes. If an obstruction is hit, the bar swings backward and the sickle stops automatically, preventing damage... Backing slightly and then going forward resets the bar for use. Ask us for a demonstration.

Veterans' Forum

Q—I am a World War II veteran. In event of acute non-service-connected illness, am I entitled to hospitalization even though I have never filed a claim of any kind with VA?

A—You may be entitled if you meet eligibility requirements, and file an affidavit swearing you are unable to pay hospital charges. Admission will depend on the availability of a bed.

Q—I am a World War II veteran and divorced. I have been receiving compensation for a service-connected disability. Will my child, now living with my brother, be paid in the event of my death?

A—Payments may be made to the person who has custody of your child if otherwise entitled thereto.

Q—Are a widower and children of a woman veteran entitled to pension at her death?

A—Under present laws, a widower is not entitled, but surviving children may be entitled to pension.

Q—May the minor child of a female veteran be considered her dependent for the purpose of subsistence allowance even though the father, also a veteran, is in receipt of subsistence allowance based on the wife and child?

A—Yes. The mother may claim the child as a dependent for the purpose of subsistence allowance.

Famed Flag To Wave At Marine Conclave

Two Jima Stars And Stripes To Be Raised At Phila. Convention

Two Jima's famed Stars and Stripes will wave in Philadelphia during the Fifth Marine Division Convention on 5, 6 and 7 August, 1949.

Five former members of the Division, ranging from a buck sergeant to a lieutenant colonel, met at Quantico, Va., recently to obtain the flag from its museum display case and turn it over to Lieutenant General Keller E. Rockey, USMC, leader of the Fifth at Two Jima, who will send the emblem on to Philadelphia.

Lieutenant General Rockey, presently Commanding General, Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, with headquarters at Norfolk, Va., make a special trip to Quantico to get the battle-torn standard. On hand to meet him were five Marines stationed at the Marine Corps Schools at Quantico, who served with the General on the "Rock."

Two of the group had a particular interest in the flag. One, Captain Victor A. Kleber, USMC, of 5661 North Neva Avenue, Chicago, Ill., a member of the wartime 28th Marine Regiment which seized Mount Surabachi, was only 150 yards from the scene of the flag raising when it was "captured" by the camera of Joe Rosenthal of the Associated Press.

The other, Sergeant Ralph W. Grissom, USMC, of Gastonia, N. C., formerly a member of the 3rd Battalion, 28th Marines, was about 500 yards from the peak of the volcano, and also in plain view of the flag as it went up. Both Captain Kleber and Sergeant Grissom said they were "flushing snipers" at the time.

Taking the guess work out of cooking, A new meat thermometer which accurately tells when meat is done has a stainless steel sheath to prevent the glass tube from breaking while in the meat.

Changes Announced In Wheat Support Prices

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced that wheat support prices at terminal markets will be 2 cents a bushel higher than the rates stated in its preliminary announcement of June 30, 1949, according to a statement received by Ernest R. Mattford, acting chairman of the Delaware State Production and Marketing Administration.

The final rates range from $2.16 to $2.38 a bushel for 1949 crop No. 1 wheat stored in eligible warehouses at specified terminal markets. The preliminary calculations announced June 30 put the range at $2.14 to $2.36 a bushel.

The final rate for terminal markets in Philadelphia, Baltimore and Norfolk is $2.37 per bushel for U. S. No. 1 wheat rather than $2.35 7/8 announced last week. The change is due to the increases in freight rates and handling charges. No change was made in the previously announced farm storage rate of $2.16 per bushel for U. S. No. 1 wheat stored on Delaware farms.

Farmers Offered Data On Irish Potato Support Plan

NEW LIGHTS INSTALLED IN VILLAGE

Maintenance Work By Town Crews Listed

Details on special projects and routine maintenance carried out by the town's water, light and street departments during June were contained in Town Engineer Arthur Hauber's report released this week.

Street Department

Repairs and miscellaneous patching were carried out on portions of West Main Street, South College Avenue, South Chapel Street, East Main Street, various streets in Read Village as well as a number of other thoroughfares.

Water Department

A report from bacteriologist E. S. Biddle was received on the condition of the water at the sewer outfall on Wilbur Street and Cleveland Avenue, as well as for the free flowing water in the ditch on McKee's Lane near the sewage disposal plant. Mr. Biddle said the water at both places was free of contamination and safe at the time the samples were taken. However, he suggested posting adequate warnings, since it is possible for sewage to make its way into the sources of these outflows.

Seven new water services were installed and five others were renewed. The buildings and equipment at the Water Pumping Station, Sewage Disposal Plant and Town Garage were painted. A water main was repaired on Hillside Road.

Light and Power Department

A new lighting system was installed and placed in service in Read Village. Poles were renewed along with primary and secondary circuits on West Delaware Avenue. Thirty-two meters were tested and replaced.

The report also recommended placing of an 8-inch sewer line for houses on North College Avenue with the outflow into Ray Run sewer interceptor. The plan was approved by Council last week and will be done as a part of the forthcoming southside sewer project.

Mr. Hauber also said he had completed surveys for water and sewer lines to the property of W. J. Barnard, which Council has agreed to furnish in return for rights of way to the recently completed northside sewer. Mr. Hauber estimates the project at between $3,000 and $4,000 instead of the original $500 estimated made some time ago.

Mary B. Baus Interred At West Nottingham Sat.

Services for Mrs. Mary B. Baus, who died last Wednesday at her home in Cowtown, Md., were held Saturday at the Jones Funeral Home here. The Rev. James L. Getz, Jr., pastor of the Head of Christiana Church, officiated. Interment was in West Nottingham Cemetery.

Mrs. Baus, whose husband died several years ago, was active in her community and a past president of the Appleton Homemakers' Club. Her only immediate survivor is her mother, Elizabeth Krauss, 91, with whom she lived.

Military Rites Saturday For Returned War Veteran

The body of Seth Rigby, an Air Forces veteran who was shot down over Tokyo on April 16, 1945, will be interred with military honors here on Saturday.

The service will be from the Jones Funeral Home at 2 p. m., and the interment will be in the Newark Cemetery. Dr. A. J. Jackson will officiate.

The body of the deceased, who was 19 at the time of his death, was brought back recently from a military cemetery in the Pacific Theatre. He was serving as a tail gunner on a B29, when he was shot down during the closing months of the war. He entered the Army in December, 1943. He was a graduate of the Middletown High School, and, just prior to his entry into war service, he was employed at the Continental-Diamond Fibre Company here.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Townsend Rigby, of Bear, a brother, Elwood Rigby, of Bear, and a sister, Mrs. Roy Campbell, near Newark.

State Health Unit Warns On Imitation Ice Cream Products

Widespread substitution of imitation ice cream for ice cream is a problem of concern to the State Board of Health. Dr. F. I. Hudson, M. D., Executive Secretary of the State Board of Health, has announced: It has been necessary to call the attention of the dairy industry and the general public to the use of imitation ice cream in the preparation of "thick" milk shakes and similar semi-solid drinks.

A very active business seems to be developing in this field. In many instances known to the department, persons who have asked for a milk shake with ice cream have been served a milk shake with imitation ice cream instead.

This is the definition of imitation ice cream which is not allowed to be sold in this state according to the Frozen Desserts Regulations of the State Board of Health:

"Imitation ice cream or ice cream substitutes are defined as (1) any frozen, sweetened product regardless of the name under which it is manufactured, sold or offered for sale, which is made in imitation or semblance of or is manufactured in a manner similar to the process used in manufacturing, but is not ice cream, custard ice cream, French ice cream, frozen custard, sherbet, ice, fruit ice, frozen ice confection, or frozen sherbet confection as defined in this act, (2) any frozen sweetened product labeled as a product herein defined which does not comply with such defined standards."

Inspectors of the State Board of Health will enforce these rulings. Members of the public can assist this enforcement and also assure themselves of full value for their money if they will insist upon receiving real ice cream in the milk shakes instead of one of these substitute products.

New Law To Cut Village Speed Limit

Ordinance Setting 15 - Mile Rule Given First Two Readings

An ordinance proposing to limit the speed limit in Read Village to 15-miles per hour was given its first and second reading by the Town Council at its July session last week. Final action on the measure will probably be taken at the August meeting.

During discussion on the ordinance, Town Solicitor John Sinclair pointed out that the traffic law now on the Council's books sets a 15-mile limit for the entire town.

This conflicts with the present practice of the police force, which has been directed to enforce a 25-mile limit. Council indicated it may revise the law to conform with the current practice.

The Council also appointed a traffic study committee, comprising interested citizens, which will survey the town's traffic control needs, especially on Main Street, and report its recommendation to Council. The group is headed by J. E. Dougherty and includes John R. Fader, Eugene Stultz and Police Chief William Cunningham.
