More Tomatoes To the Acre

Big Farmers' Meeting Tomorrow In Center Hall

A real farmers' meeting is scheduled for tomorrow, (Thursday) evening, in Central Hall, Newark. The meeting has been arranged by the P. J. Ritter Conserve Co., in the interest of the farmers of the community. Invitations have been mailed to all last year's growers of tomatoes. A general invitation is extended, however, to all who are interested.

Mr. Ritter is personally interested in the farmer's as well as the canner's end of the tomato crop. Since the company located here early last spring he has made every possible effort to inform himself as to soil conditions, etc., and the possibility of increasing the quality and quantity of the tomato crop in this section. Mr. Ritter has great faith in this locality, which he chose after carefully considering several other neighborhoods, as the site for a branch canning factory. He has taken an active part in the agricultural interests of the community, and deserves the co-operation of our farmer citizens.

The meeting tomorrow evening is for the purpose of discussing such problems as seed, fertilizer, etc., such necessary considerations in the growing of a good crop. Mr. Landreth, of the Landreth Seed Company, who has done special work with tomatoes on the company's large seed farm, near Philadelphia, will be one of the speakers. Professor McCue, who has experimented for a number of years with the crop at the College Farm, will also speak.

The slogan of the meeting will be "More and better tomatoes for this community." The evening is planned as a means of co-operating to attain results more satisfactory to everyone concerned, and is in no wise an attempt to secure new business. Mr. Ritter has his contracts about closed.

Monetary Value Of School Work

The monetary value of one day spent in the public schools is estimated at $10 according to statistics compiled by the county superintendents of the state and just made public.

The figures on which the value of each day spent in school is estimated are as follows:

1. The average educated man earns $1,000 per year, in 40 years he would earn $40,000. The average uneducated man earns $450 per year, in 40 years he would earn $18,000. 2. The value of the first man's education is the difference between $40,000 and $18,000, or $22,000. 3. The time required to secure an education is 12 years of 180 days each, or 2,160 days, $22,000 divided by 2,160 equals $10.19. 4. Therefore each day spent in school is worth $10.19.

School In New Quarters

The Eighth Grammar Grade, under the direction of Miss McKee, moved to the more commodious room on the second floor on Monday. The room has been fitted with new single desks, and presents a very attractive appearance.

Sussex Tax Books Destroyed

Fire early on Wednesday morning destroyed the dwelling of Elwood Westcott at Nassau, Sussex county, with the tax books of the Tenth district and $700 in taxes which Mr. Westcott had intended to hand over to the County Treasurer at Georgetown during the day. He made a narrow escape from the flames.

Special Speaker At Temperance Meeting

The local W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Miss Sallie Cornog next Friday afternoon at two o'clock. Miss Rose A. Davidson of Ohio will be present and make an address. A cordial invitation is extended to all interested to be present.

Educators To Meet In Conference

Dr. P. P. Claxton, U. S. Commissioner of Education, accompanied by several members of his staff, will meet with citizens from all parts of Delaware, representing the various interests of the State, in conference, next Saturday morning, at ten o'clock, in the president's office, Delaware College. There will be at the meeting representatives of the educational, agricultural and public health interests of the State. The aim of the meeting is to establish certain forms of co-operation between the Bureau of Education and the progressive forces at work in Delaware.

Improvements At "Penny" Station

Improvements have been made during the last week at the P. B. & W. main station at Newark. The track of the Delaware City branch has been moved over next to the main tracks and the shed moved to the former location of the Delaware City track. The shed will be partly enclosed.

College Women To Meet

The Delaware Association of College Women will hold their regular meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Horace Thayer 1200 Rodney, street, on Tuesday afternoon, March 30, at 3.30 o'clock.

It had been at first decided to hold the meeting on March 26, but owing to some conflicting meetings on that date the time has been fixed for March 30. The program will be in charge of the music committee, and the work for the year will be outlined by Miss Mary H. Askew-Mather. A large attendance is desired.

Chicken Thieves Caught

Samuel Cosdon, colored, and his daughter, Mary Cosdon, aged 17 years, had a hearing before Magistrate Lovett, yesterday, on the charge of stealing chickens from the farm of Charles Jarmon, in Pencader hundred. Each was held in a $100 peace bond, the prosecuting witness not desiring to press the larceny charge.

Mr. Jarmon has been missing chickens from his farm for some time and some of their neighbors also, but until Saturday night was unable to get a trace of the thief. Then the prints of a woman's shoe in the soft ground were tracked from the hen house to the Cosdon house, a quarter of a mile away.

Peace Meeting On Wednesday

Mrs. Anna Sturgis Duryea, chairman of the Woman's Committee of the Church Peace Foundation, will speak on the subject of peace in the Presbyterian church, Newark, this evening at eight o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone.

Escapes Serious Injury

Thomas F. Claringbold had a narrow escape from serious injury last week, when two horses he was driving, attached to three road scoops, ran away on Main street. Two of the scoops broke loose and were damaged. The horses ran for half a mile before being brought to a stop. Mr. Claringbold, beyond scratches, was uninjured.

Chapel Talks

During the past week several interesting addresses have been given at the Delaware College chapel exercises. Mr. Pailthorpe, instructor in horticulture, spoke on Delaware as an agricultural state and also suggested the formation of several new student organizations. Mr. Hills, instructor in animal husbandry, explained the working of several student organizations at the Massachusetts Agricultural College, and showed how the students of Delaware College would profit by having similar organizations.

Oyster Dredging Season Closed

The oyster dredging season closed in Maryland last Tuesday but tonging will continue until April 25.

U. S. COMMISSIONER OF EDUCATION IN NEWARK

PREDICTS GREAT FUTURE FOR NEWARK

The students of Delaware College were honored last Saturday by a visit from Hon. P. P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education. Dr. Claxton in addressing the students of both colleges in chapel, declared he wanted to talk to them about the biggest thing he could think of just then—the future of Delaware State College. He poked much fun at his audience over the size of Delaware, giving among other figures its area of 2,000 square miles declaring he wasn't quite sure whether that was when the tide was in or out.

The speaker in a most convincing way, gave his reasons for believing in the brightness of the future of Delaware College. The institution, he declared, possesses an opportunity that exists nowhere else in the Union; the State forms for this institution one great unified constituency. In Iowa alone, with a population of 2,000,000 people, there are 26 colleges. In Kansas, Washington, Wisconsin, etc., through a list too long to mention, there are proportionate numbers of universities and colleges. At the University of Kansas alone there are 3,200 students. If Delaware had enrolled in her one State institution in proportion to the enrollment in the mentioned institutions she would have today from 1200 to 2000 students.

There are about 200,000 people in the State of Delaware; about 3-5 of these people live within thirty minutes of the college. It takes me thirty-five minutes in Washington," the speaker said, "to get to my office and the average business man in New York City, perhaps fifty-five minutes."

Advisory Board Meets At Women's College

The Advisory Board of Women of the Women's College of Delaware, met in the college building last Saturday, to discuss the affairs of the college previous to a joint meeting of the Women's College Committee of the Board of Trustees next Saturday. Additional equipment of Residence Hall for the Summer Session opening in June was discussed, also plans for the establishment of a loan fund to be at the service of girls working their way through college. The conclusions of the Advisory Board will be given as recommendations at the meeting next Saturday.

One Act Farce Next Tuesday

The one act farce to be given by the Young Ladies' Mission Circle in the lecture room of the Presbyterian church next Tuesday evening, promises to measure up to the standard set by former occasions. Rehearsals under the direction of Miss E. E. Wilson are being held daily. The cast follows:

Mrs. Bennett, principal of the Kata Korners Seminary, Miss Nellie Wilson; Pupils in the Seminary: Rose Trenton, Miss Agnes Medill; Mildred Laws, Miss Alice Kerr; Molly Cambells, Miss Edna Chalmers; Gertrude Ross, Miss Lydia Fader Mrs. Charles Parsons, the minister's wife, Miss Katherine Steel.

Real Estate Sales Reported

Among recent sales of real estate reported are those of the James Tibbitt farm of 100 acres near Ogletown, to S. Hollis Morris for $10,000; the Herman E. Swain farm of 77 acres, near St. Georges, to Robert M. Morrison, for $6,700; the William H. Armstrong farm of 130 acres, near Glasgow, for $5,750; 37 acres of the J. C. Alston farm, near Middletown, to John C. Blizzard, for $8,000; the Doolittle farm of 32 acres, near Armstrong's Corners, to Samuel McVey of Chester, Pa., for $3,000, and Mrs. Elizabeth Chamberlain's dwelling in Middletown, to Jay C. Davis for $3,500.

History Courses In The Summer School

As heretofore, history and civics will be given due emphasis in the summer school course of study. Two standard courses have been outlined by Professor E. V. Vaughn which aim to meet the needs of the teachers and prospective teachers of Delaware. (1) A course in the History of the United States is offered. A feature of this course will be a somewhat intensive study of the American Revolution. Also, methods of study and of presentation will be given special prominence this summer. (2) A course in Civics, furnishing a general outline of our government and explaining the various practical problems under discussion today. It might be called a course in citizenship.

If it can be arranged, an entirely new course will be offered, dealing with the recent development of the European nations. It will be called "Europe Since 1815", and will aim to explain present day conditions and problems. The Summer School Committee believes that there is a real demand for such advanced work as this course is designed to furnish. Announcements of courses offered in the Summer School by other departments will be made through the press as soon as possible.

Town Election Near

Town election will be held on Tuesday, April 14. The Mayor, Joseph H. Hossinger, E. C. Wilson, of the Western district, W. H. Barton of the Middle district, and Jonathan Johnson of the Eastern district are the retiring members. Friends are urging all of the members for re-election.

Gypsy Camp At Ogletown

Because of a rumored "gypsy wedding," last Sunday afternoon several hundred persons from Newark and the surrounding country visited the gypsy camp near Ogletown. The camp has been there for over a week, and is one of the largest ever seen in this locality. There are twenty tents in the camp.

Notwithstanding the law passed by the recent Legislature and signed by the governor, making it unlawful and punishable by a fine of $500, for bands of gypsies to ply their trade in the State, these nomads are evidently paying no attention to the new law and as far as is known have not been disturbed by any officers.

College Play Progressing

Rehearsals of "The Jonah," the three act comedy which is to be staged in Newark Opera House, Friday, April 16, by Mrs. Herman Tyson, under the auspices of the Agricultural Club of Delaware College, are progressing with business-like regularity. The temporary place of rehearsal is in Science Hall, Women's College, in a room especially equipped with the full stage furnishings. The plan followed so far is to give two entire evenings to the practice of one act and, then, to cover the acts in succession. In addition to the regular rehearsals, Mrs. Tyson is giving nearly all her time to coaching the various characters in private conferences. After this week, rehearsals will be held nearly every evening.

If time, thought, and study spent upon a play are any indication of its merit as an entertainment "The Jonah" will indeed be a high class production.

Mr. Aydon Has Narrow Escape

Jonathan W. Aydon, aged 64 years, the well-known publicity agent of the P. B. & W. R. R., was stricken with paralysis last Tuesday at his boarding house, 628 West Sixth street, Wilmington and had a narrow escape from suffocation when his fall a hose of a small gas stove was loosened. Fumes filled the room but luckily his landlady, Mrs. John R. Hobbs, came to his rescue in time. He was removed to Delaware Hospital where later he was reported as somewhat improved.

Fire at the Newark Garage

One Car Completely Burned and Others Damaged

About eleven thirty o'clock this morning the alarm of fire was sounded by the Newark Garage, A. F. Fader, proprietor. Workmen had been repairing a Ford truck, the property of G. W. Griffin. When the car was cranked the engine backfired, igniting some oil. The Griffin truck was completely burned, and two other new Ford cars, on the same floor, were badly blistered. About fifteen cars were in the Garage when the fire broke out. All on the main floor of the building were gotten out before the water or smoke had damaged them. A number of tires and electrical supplies were damaged.

Aetna men with the hand hose cart arrived promptly. The hose was attached to the fire plug, and a good stream put on the building. The loss, partly covered by insurance, is probably a thousand dollars.

BARN COMPLETELY DESTROYED BY FIRE

Blaze Discovered Tuesday Evening

Fire was discovered in the barn adjoining the residence of William S. Armstrong, south of town, about nine o'clock last evening. Mr. Armstrong was in Newark and Mrs. Armstrong, who had retired with the children, discovered the flames under the eaves. Clad only in night clothing, she rushed to the barn and succeeded in getting the horses out before their stalls burst into flames. Neighbors were summoned and a call for assistance from Newark given. The main firefighting apparatus failed to reach the scene of the fire owing to a breakdown. The chemical apparatus proved of little avail, the house being saved by the bucket brigade made up of neighbors who fought valiantly. The wind blew the flames directly toward the house which was on fire several times, but was finally saved. All the panes of glass were broken by the intense heat from the barn. The origin of the fire has not been discovered. The loss on the building owned by H. K. Watson of Wilmington is partially covered by insurance. The contents, valued at several hundred dollars, the property of Mr. Armstrong, were not insured.

Article By Dr. Sypherd

In the March, 1915, issue of Modern Language Notes, published by the Johns Hopkins Press, of Baltimore, is an article by Dr. W. O. Sypherd, head of the English department of Delaware College, on "The Completeness of Chaucer's 'Hous of Fame.'" The article is an answer to the contention of Professor Manly, of the University of Chicago, that the poem entitled "The Hous of Fame" was intended by Chaucer to be the prologue to a group of stories in some respects like the Canterbury tales. Dr. Sypherd maintains that the poem is a unified artistic unit, and not merely the introduction to a series of poems. He insists that we must take the poem at its face value, and not attempt to read between the lines. Dr. Sypherd supports his opinion by quotations from the poem in question and also from other poems by Chaucer.

Last Lecture Of Historical Series

Professor E. V. Vaughn announces that Miss Janet Richards, of Washington, D. C., has been secured for the final lecture in the Historical Series at Delaware College. The lecture will be given Tuesday evening, April 22, at 8 o'clock. Miss Richards will give a survey of "The World's Current Events." This lecture should be of unusual interest. A Wilmington paper recently spoke of Miss Richards as one of the ablest and most interesting women on the lecture platform today. Everyone is cordially invited to hear her.

HOLY WEEK--ITS MESSAGE OF DIVINE LOVE

BY REV. W. P. HAUPT

Love is the law of life, and the highest expression of this law is exhibited in the Cross of Jesus Christ. "God so loved that He gave His only Begotten Son," and the Son so loved that "having loved His own, who were in the world, He loved them unto the end."

And so universal has His love ever been and ever will be, that any soul and every soul can say of Him as St. Paul said of Him, "Who loved me and gave Himself for me." Love is God's only appeal to the Conscience. He has set up the Cross of His Son upon the highways of life, that through its infinite power of love. He may draw His children unto Himself. The appeal of Lent is the appeal of the whole Passion of Jesus Christ to the conscience of men. To look up to the Cross is to feel the degradation and cruelty of sin, and to realize how impotent we are to free ourselves from its powers. The world had no adequate knowledge of sin, until it witnessed its own extreme guilt, after having finished its work of nailing the very Innocence and Love of God to the "accursed tree."

There is no hope for one who can feel no sense of shame before the Cross of The Christ. You may not feel this shame now, or next year, or years to come, but it is only in the light of The Cross that you can ever confess the sin of your soul and feel the guilt of it blotted out. The authority of Lent over the Conscience can only be exercised when the power of the Cross breaks the silence of the Conscience into penitent confession of sin. Upon the publican's confession "God, be merciful to me, a sinner," he went to his home justified.

Two men died, the one on the right, and the other on the left, of the Crucified Christ. The white heat of the love of the Cross burned through the dross of sin, which encased the soul of one of these men, and, with awakening consciousness of a new world dawning upon him, he exclaimed, "Lord, remember me, when Thou comest into Thy Kingdom." The other man turned from the heat of the Cross, and his soul passed away into the "outer darkness." "God forbid that I should glory, save in the Cross of our Lord, Jesus Christ." These are the words with which St. Paul sums up the whole history of his religious life. The authority of Lent over the Conscience, I repeat, is God's appeal to man from the Cross of His Son.

Worldly amusements during the commemoration of such an exhibition of divine love are unbecoming and indecent. If you enter into the Season of Lent, remember that you are coming into the presence of the sorrow and tragedy of heaven and earth. I exhort you, therefore, not to bring the thought of the world into the sacred feelings and emotions of this Blessed Season.

But, alas! how many there are who are indifferent and careless and thoughtless! They are self-satisfied in God's House on the Lord's Day; they neglect the Lord's altar; they think not of the heavenly home and their unfitness to dwell there; they have excuses, whose number is legion. And yet, were there a dance, or a party, a supper or a sociable, these apparent obstacles would, in some way or other be cleared away. It is plain what are considered the treasures of life, for there the heart is also.

But Lent is yet here with its Message of Divine Love, to tell you that these pleasures are fleeting; that your days are passing as a shadow; and that soon you must face the great question, "What have I done to inherit eternal life?"

May your soul, during this last portion of Lent,—Holy Week,—be quickened by the flame of God's love to deeper earnestness in your spiritual life, to more ardent zeal for your Divine Master's work, and to greater enthusiasm for all that is uplifting and inspiring.

Your Friend and Rector,
The Rev. W. G. Haupt.

The Potato Market

Truck growers who annually plant a considerable acreage of potatoes are warned by the United States Department of Agriculture that there was, on January 1, 1915, a very much larger supply of northern-grown potatoes in the hands of growers and dealers than was the case January 1, 1914. Experience has demonstrated that a large hold-over crop of northern grown potatoes which is in good condition and selling at a reasonable price when the early truck-crop potatoes reach the market means low prices,—sometimes so low that the shipment of such crops nets a loss to the grower. Under such conditions a small acreage means a smaller loss than a large acreage.

With 43,000,000 more bushels of potatoes in sight January 1, 1915, than were available at the same time last year and with a 1915 price of 43.2 cents as compared with 66.2 cents a year ago, a price which under the then existing conditions did not improve before the truck crop began to move, there is little hope that the conditions will be better this year. The price now is just about 33 per cent less than it was a year ago. The distribution of the crop is much better than last season, so there is little likelihood that the price of hold over stock will reach last year's mark even by the end of the storage period.

Sudden Death Of Julian Cochran

Julian Cochran, a son of the late Governor John P. Cochran, died suddenly of heart disease about 10 o'clock on Thursday night in Middletown, aged 66 years. He had spent the day on his farm and the evening with friends about the town. He started for his home on South Broad street with his brother, C. M. Cochran, and his nephew, C. M. Cochran, and a few yards from the door complained of a pain in his heart. He sat down on the curb to rest but died almost instantly. He had spent his life in the neighborhood and was well-known. His wife, who was Miss Elizabeth Cochran, and two married daughters, Mrs. Carl Harrington, of Baltimore, and Mrs. Julian Foard of Middletown, survive him.

Delawarean Dies In Colorado Springs

Boyd Cleaver, formerly of Delaware City, died on Friday at Colorado Springs, after an illness of six months. He went to Colorado Springs about six years ago and became a contractor. He married Miss Lillian Harmer of Port Penn. His body was forwarded from Colorado Springs to Delaware City on Monday for interment in Hickory Grove Cemetery.

Crushed To Death By Roller

Hiram C. Fisher, a farmer of the Lewes section, was killed on Thursday afternoon and his helper a hand named Niblett, was severely injured when both were thrown under a heavy farm roller. They were riding on the roller when their team of mules, frightened by an automobile, ran away. Both were thrown under the roller which crushed Fisher fatally and injured Niblett severely, but it is thought not seriously.

County Salaries Paid

County Treasurer Lippincott stated on Thursday that all the county officials had received payment on their salaries which had been withheld owing to scarcity of funds at the end of February. It was said also that checks had been mailed to the Trustees of the Poor.

Trial For Misuse Of Mails

The trial of Frank W. and Clair W. Anthony, Ronald F. Brennan and Harry S. Woodcock in the United States Court in Wilmington closed last Tuesday when the case against Woodcock was nolle prossed and the others entered pleas of guilty on two counts of the indictment charging misuse of the mails in connection with alleged insurance frauds. The trial of Richard R. Kenney and Daniel M. Ridgely of Dover, on like charges, was set for April 20. Frank W. Anthony, aged 54, a broker of Brooklyn, who was confined in the Workhouse, died there about 2 a. m. on Friday of leakage of the heart.

two years; the enrollment in these schools has more than doubled itself; there are now 1,500,000 high school students in the country. America is busy working out great world problems,—a leadership toward another kind of civilization. She is busy doing away with the antagonism of races, of denominations, and of languages. Have you ever thought how hatreds die in the United States? We have enough German people here to make a great army. There are scattered through the cities and villages that lie between the great dual oceans, enough Englishmen, Frenchmen, and Russians, to make a second great opposing army.

"But they don't want to fight. No one is trying to impose any certain nationality upon the other. They speak one language and are gradually conforming to the same ideals. It is for the young men and young women of the coming generation to work out the great problems of democracy."

"The task of Delaware is the great task of developing democratic institutions. The college must have its roots deep in the soil of the community; it must not be a cloister on a hill, with an 'I'm better than thou' attitude toward the rest of the world, but an institution out in the glare of the workingman's day. It must be the heart of the State, from which there is pumped life-blood to every part of the Commonwealth."

"I believe," Dr. Claxton said, "that Delaware has the opportunity of becoming the greatest cultural state in the Union. It is small, you say, young men? Did you ever hear of Athens? Wilmington is as large as Athens, with many, many times more free men in its population. There are no slaves today in Delaware, yet every man has at his service ten slaves, in the form of steam and electricity."

In closing the speaker referred to a conversation with Dr. Mitchell perhaps nine months ago, when the latter had asked his advice concerning the presidency of Delaware College. Dr. Mitchell had at the same time under consideration, positions perhaps more flattering, with larger colleges. "Accept the presidency of Delaware College," I advised him. "I know of no greater opportunity for developing an ideal condition than exists in the State of Delaware."

As a final word the speaker declared "Upon my next visit, young women and young men, I hope to greet fifteen hundred students in a new auditorium which the beneficence of a state and its people will supply when the students create the demand for it."

Following Dr. Claxton's talk, Miss Lyford, a representative of the domestic science branch of the agricultural department, Washington, spoke briefly, urging the young men as well as the young women to develop an enthusiasm for the work of the home; to keep fresh in their minds the points of contact between the science learned in the college and the simple daily duties in the home.

Dr. Robin Occupies Historic Mansion

Dr. Albert Robin, well-known physician of Wilmington, moved on Monday into the historic Hart Mansion at the corner of Seventh and Rodney streets, Wilmington. The large stone structure purchased by Dr. Robin several months ago, has been extensively remodelled. Not the least of the interesting history which centers about the property is the fact that it came within one vote of being the location for the White House in Wilmington, which was then to be the capital of these United States. Congress selected Washington by a margin of one vote. Ever since the property has been known as "Capitol Hill."

Farewell Dinner To Major Holcomb

Major Chauncey P. Holcomb, who was recently appointed by President Wilson United States district attorney at Shanghai, China, was given a farewell reception by his friends at Ainscow's cafe, Wilmington, Saturday night. There were 27 guests present.

Charles F. Curley was toastmaster and speeches were made by United States Senator Willard Saulsbury, Thomas F. Bayard, Frank J. Williams, Harry T. Graham, Major Edward G. Bradford, Jr., and J. H. Brown, Senator Saulsbury's secretary.

All the speakers wished Major Holcomb unlimited success in his new field of duties, and the guest of honor responded in an appropriate manner.

Major Holcomb and Mrs. Holcomb will leave the latter part of the week for his new post. They will proceed to San Francisco, where they will visit the Exposition, after which they will visit Honolulu and the Philippines before going to China.

Farmer Seriously Injured

Frank Dolson, a well-known farmer of Rose Hill, near New Castle, was badly hurt on Friday afternoon when a fodder cutter weighing about 600 lbs. which he was hauling from George W. Burris' home, fell upon him. He was bruised and cut about the head and legs and was injured internally.

Catholic Churches Pray For Peace

In accordance with a decree issued by Pope Benedict XV, the Catholic churches throughout the country observed special devotions and prayer for those who have died upon the European battlefields, also for the fighting soldiers and for peace. During the services was used the special prayer composed by Hias Holiness to obtain the blessing of peace.

"Dismayed by the horrors of a war which is bringing ruin to peoples and nations, we turn, Jesus, to Thy most loving Heart as to our last hope. O God of Mercy, with tears we invoke Thee to end this fearful scourge. O King of Peace, we humbly implore the peace for which we long. From Thy Sacred Heart Thou didst shed forth over the world divine Charity, so that discord might end and love alone might reign among men. During Thy life on earth Thy Heart beat with tender compassion for the sorrow of men; in this hour made terrible with burning hate, with bloodshed and with slaughter, once more may the divine Heart be moved to pity. Pity the countless mothers in anguish for the fate of their sons; pity the numberless families now bereaved of their fathers; pity Europe over which brood such havoc and disaster. Do Thou inspire rulers and peoples with counsels of meekness, do Thou heal the discords that tear the nations asunder; Thou who didst shed Thy Precious Blood that they might live as brothers, bring men together once more in loving harmony. And as once before to the cry of the Apostle Peter: 'Save us, Lord, we perish,' Thou didst answer with words of mercy that didst still the raging waves, so now deign to hear our trustful prayer, and give back to the world peace and tranquillity.

"And to Thou, O most holy Virgin, as in other times of sore distress, be now our help, our protection and our safeguard. Amen."

The Continental Fibre Co. will have a strong independent team in the field again and will play their home games on the Saturdays the Newark Club is away on the Delaware avenue grounds.

Schedule Of D. M. League

At a meeting of the managers of the Delaware-Maryland Baseball League, held Saturday afternoon, the following schedule of games for the coming season was presented by the schedule committee and adopted:

The first competition is open to both women and children, with only professional bakers barred. Special information will be given in the 1915 premium list now in the course of preparation.

New Century Club News

By invitation of Dean Robinson The Century Club held its meeting at the Women's College on Monday afternoon. It was a delightful meeting made particularly so by the attractive environments and the courtesy of instructors and pupils.

The meeting was in charge of Miss Robinson, who spoke on "The College as Regards Its Curriculum, Its Social Activities and Its Influence in the Community." A number of Club members took part and the discussion was well worth while. Following this, the members were invited by Miss Robinson to remain for a social hour and chocolate, tea, and wafers were served. Before the close of the meeting Mrs. Evans made announcements of two meetings—one, the Parent-Teachers' meeting in the Oratory on the evening of Thursday, the 25th at 8 o'clock. Dr. W. C. Robinson of Philadelphia will be the speaker and there will be special music. The public is cordially invited to attend. The other announcement was of a meeting in the Presbyterian church on the evening of the 24th at which Mrs. Anna Sturgis Duryea will speak on Peace.

Good Roads In Maryland

What is said to be the longest concrete road in the world is now nearly completed, there being only 1900 feet to be constructed. The road runs in Maryland from Salisbury, in Wicomico county, to Ocean City, in Worcester, a distance of thirty miles. This makes now a modern road from Baltimore to Ocean City with the exception of a half mile being built through Chesapeake City, and a shorter distance through the town of Preston in Caroline county. All these short stretches will be finished within sixty days after the opening of spring.

Trees And Shrubs Adapted To Delaware

What kind of tree shall we plant to beautify our grounds? What shrubs would be suited to our school yards? are questions which are frequently asked the United States Department of Agriculture. Soil and climatic conditions differ so greatly in the different sections of the United States that in answering such questions special consideration has to be given each section.

The department's specialists have prepared a list of trees and shrubs suited for general use on private grounds, streets, private parks and school yards for Delaware and Maryland. These lists are merely suggestive, but they include such trees and shrubs as seem well adapted to the particular locality and they may be of assistance to those who are interested in the beautification of towns and cities.

Deciduous trees—Tulip, sycamore, pin oak, white oak, black oak, live oak, red oak, white ash, bald cypress, Norway maple, silver maple, red elm, American white elm, Kentucky coffee, American linden, catalpa, liquid amber, Carolina poplar, hackberry, sour gum.

Evergreen trees—White pine, long leaf pine, magnolia, live oak, cedar of Lebanon.

Shrubs—Golden bell, hydrangea, lilac, Elocagnus longipes, lonicera, hibiscus, hardy rose, Japan ulmeq, caryocarpus, smoke tree.

The beauty of a shade tree depends upon its normal and symmetrical growth. To insure this, before planting cut off the ends of all broken or mutilated roots; remove all side branches save upon evergreens, so that a straight whip-like stalk alone remains.

Dig holes at least 2 feet in diameter and 1 foot deep in good soil, and make them 4 feet across in poor soil. The sides of holes should be perpendicular and the bottom flat. Break up soil in the bottom of the hole to the depth of the length of a spade blade. Place 2 or 3 inches of fine top soil free from sods or other decomposing organic matter, in the bottom of the hole. On top of this place the roots of the tree, spread them as evenly as possible over the bottom of the hole, and cover with 2 or three inches of fine top soil as before. Tramp firmly with the feet and fill the hole with good earth, leaving the surface loose and a little higher than the surface of the surrounding soil. When the work of planting is completed the tree should stand about 2 inches deeper than it stood in the nursery.

To insure symmetry of growth, trees must be allowed unrestricted area for development. At least 40 feet should be allowed between trees intended to occupy the ground permanently. Quick-growing temporary trees may be planted between the long-lived ones to produce immediate results, but these should be moved as soon as they interfere with the development of the permanent plantations.

Basketball Season Closes With Victory

Delaware College basketball team closed its season last Friday night with a decisive victory over the Washington College five. The college quintet led throughout and outplayed its heavier opponents at all stages of the game, winning by the score of 29 to 16.

Washington showed a decided tendency toward "roughing it." They got away with that style of game at Chestertown, but on Friday Referee Speer had the game well in hand at all times and his alertness in detecting fouls eliminated much of the roughness. As it was, twenty-three fouls were called on Washington and twenty-six on Delaware.

Friday's game makes five victories out of twelve games for the Delaware five.

A summary of the season's scores is as follows:

Delaware, 9; Temple University, 30.
Delaware, 29; Balto. Polytech., 6.
Delaware, 17; Swarthmore, 40.
Delaware, 17; St. John's College, 19.
Delaware, 33; N. Y. U. Law School, 14.
Delaware, 21; Drexel Institute, 35.
Delaware, 15; Crescent Club, 29.
Delaware, 18; City College of N. Y., 33.
Delaware, 32; Drexel Institute, 18.
Delaware, 27; Susquehanna, 24.
Delaware, 17; Washington College, 24.
Delaware, 29; Washington College, 16.
Total, Delaware, 274; opponents, 288.
Delaware's prospects of a successful team for next season are very bright. Coach McAvoy will have Weimer, H. Horsey, Wills, Doherty, and D. Horsey of the 'varsity' squad, and Downing, Thomas, E. Wilson, Holland, and Bowen of the scrubs as the nucleus of a winning team for the next year.

Much of the team's late success has been due to the untiring efforts of Coach McAvoy. The team got a bad start and in an endeavor to correct the faults, the coach has instituted a system of practice which has improved both the passing and shooting and which should insure a fair degree of success for future teams.

Summary Of School Reports

The following summaries from the report of the three county school superintendents have been made to the State Board of Education, through State Commissioner of Education Charles A. Wagner:

Superintendent Hardesty of Sussex county has made 19 visits to schools, the conditions in 18 of which were satisfactory and in one unsatisfactory. He attended three local institutes, six community meetings, and one general educational meeting in the county; eight cases of illegal absences from school were reported, all of which were returned to school by notice from the county superintendent.

Superintendent Carroll of Kent county reported 42 visits to schools, in four of which conditions were unsatisfactory. He held five local institutes, 10 community meetings and attended two general educational meetings; 36 cases were reported, 21 of which were returned to school by notice from the superintendent, 15 cases are still being considered.

Superintendent Cross of New Castle county made 36 visits, of which conditions were unsatisfactory in two. He attended three local institutes and four community meetings; 40 cases of illegal absence from school were reported and two cases were proceeded against by law and fines imposed. The other 38 cases were returned to school by notice from the county superintendent.

The State Commissioner of Education who has been temporarily lodged in the Dover Armory back of the State House, will move back to the State House in the downstairs committee rooms.

The State Board of Education has recommended to the State Auditor that he should count Roxana School district, in Sussex county, as having fulfilled the requirements of the school law as to the number of days taught, notwithstanding the Roxana school could not continue its sessions because the schoolhouse was destroyed by fire. No suitable place could be found where the school could be continued, and as both books and furniture were destroyed, it was impossible to continue the sessions of the school.

The State Board has recommended that the teachers be paid their full salary, as it was no fault of theirs that the building was destroyed and they could not follow their usual vocation. About 112 scholars were thrown out of school as a result of the destroyed schoolhouse.

The State Commissioner of Education has reported to the State Board that a proposition has been made by United States Commissioner of Education P. B. Claxton, that certain experiments in education will be attempted to be worked out in Delaware by the co-operation of the State educational institutions. The State Board will consider the proposition at the next meeting.

Cornelius P. Comegys

"Cornelius P. Comegys, who was Governor of Delaware from 1837 to 1841, was the son of Cornelius Comegys, who actively participated in the Revolutionary war, and whose ancestors settled on the Chester River in Maryland about the middle of the seventeenth century. Cornelius P. Comegys was first married to Ann, the daughter of Benjamin Blackiston, of Duck Creek Hundred, who lived but a short time. He afterwards married Ruhamat, the daughter of John Marim, who lived near Dover, and in 1804 they moved to the family seat of the Marims, and lived for many years on a farm in that locality, a few miles from the town of Dover. Before he became Governor, Mr. Comegys was a Major, Lieutenant-Colonel, and Adjutant-General in the War of 1812, and after the termination of that conflict with Great Britain he was employed mainly in the business of farming. He held many positions of honor and trust in the State besides that of Governor. He was more than once unanimously elected Speaker of the House of Representatives, and had the honor to be a member of the committee that was appointed by the Legislature to present a testimonial to Captain Jacob Jones, and also of the committee to carry into effect the resolution of the Legislature passed in honor of Delaware's naval hero, Commodore MacDonough's, after his victory over the British on Lake Champlain.

"Mr. Comegys died at Dover, January 27, 1851, leaving several children. Among the number were the Hon. Joseph P. Comegys, who arose to eminence at the bar and distinction upon the bench, and was Chief Justice of the State; Benjamin B. Comegys, who has attained to positions of great honor and responsibility and acquired an enviable reputation in Philadelphia; Cornelius G. Comegys, who has made a splendid name and record in the field of medicine and education in Cincinnati, and Dr. John M. Comegys, a highly respected citizen of the town of Dover.

sically, and which has made a splendid and lasting impression upon the history of Delaware." (From "Delaware Governors," published in 1898.)

Its the Steady, Consistent, Day-in-and-day-out Performance of the

that makes it the unquestioned "big value but low priced" car of the world.

We do not ask you to buy a Studebaker because of the record a specially constructed car may have made in this, that or the other race, when driven by an expert racing driver. No—but we do ask you to investigate the performance of the Studebaker in every-day use, under every day conditions, and in the hands of thousands of average drivers. It is the use to which you will put a car that should determine its value to you. Let us show you what the Studebaker has done and will do in the service to which you expect to put it. If you ask why Studebakers are better—why they give and always have given thorough satisfaction—consider the aims, ideals and honesty of purpose behind them; the quality of Studebaker materials; the vast extent and intensiveness of Studebaker manufacturing methods; the excellence of their engineering design; and the fact that in each and every important or vital particular these cars welcome comparison with the highest priced.

You will find them competing with cars that sell at prices $500 higher; and you will also find them showing higher quality throughout.

Studebaker prices are lower because these cars are completely manufactured in Studebaker plants, carry but one profit, and impose no middleman's tax on the buyer.

Phone us now for a Studebaker demonstration.

TYSON LEADS ON GRAND CIRCUIT

Stoeckle Stable Comes Here

Harry J. Stoeckle of Wilmington announced on Saturday that Herman Tyson of Newark will handle his entire stable of racers this season.

The Delmarvia Star in speaking of Mr. Stoeckle's judgment in the selection of a trainer says:

Mr. Stoeckle has good reason to believe in the soundness of his judgment when he definitely decided to place his string under the attention of Trainer Tyson. Without a doubt the Newark trainer is one of the most popular drivers in the business and his record in winning races speaks for itself. He leads the drivers of winning races in 1914 over the Grand Circuit. He won 46 races and during last season brought out Charley Mitchell, 2.04 1-4; Esther W., 2.06 1-4; Harry J. S., 2.08 1-4; Dago, 2.09, and Joseph K. S., 2.12 1-4.

In addition to the above Tyson has successfully campaigned with a number of other fast steppers that graduated into the big stables of the Grand Circuit to win fame for themselves and their drivers there. Tyson is seldom seen in the big circuit, but drives on the half mile tracks in the southeast where he has won 199 races in the last five years. He drove 11 horses in 91 races last season and won a part of the purse in 83 of them. In 71 races his horses were either first or second. The table follows:

Invitation From Kennard's

The many residents of this town and vicinity who are accustomed to shopping at Kennard & Co's store in Wilmington, will be interested to know that this well-known firm has made unusual preparations for the Spring trade, and that every department is now ready to supply the needs of its patrons.

For many years the Kennard store has enjoyed the confidence of not only the people of Wilmington, but a steadily growing number of patrons from the country roundabout. The store is in a class by itself in many respects. It handles only goods of recognized worth and its service is in some respects unique in this particular. The women readers of this paper who are for any reason accustomed to buying away from home will find Kennard & Company's a most comfortable and satisfactory store in which to shop.
