PRICE SEVEN CENTS

Free Food For Older Citizens Offered By State Department

Director Of Commission For Aging, Dr. Hector LeMaire Alerts Senior Citizens With Reduced Income On Chance For Free Food To Be Distributed Here Next Thursday

"Older people living on reduced income, should be alerted to the fact that they may be able to receive free, surplus foods," Dr. Hector J. LeMaire, executive director for the Delaware Commission for the Aging, said today, with free, surplus foods to be distributed next Thursday from 2 to 3 p.m. at the Greater Newark Recreation Association office on Delaware Circle, Newark Read Village.

Free food includes butter, rice, flour, corn meal, oats, beans, dried milk, peanut butter and meat products.

To be eligible for these free, surplus foods, total monthly income for one person may not exceed $100; for two, $140; three, $180; four, $215; five, $250; six, $285; seven, $310, with $20 monthly for each additional person in the home.

Home Ownership

Home ownership is no barrier to eligibility, but savings are not to exceed $420 for one person, and in varying amounts up to $980 for a family of seven.

Applications for surplus, free foods for persons not receiving public assistance, should be made to a representative of the State Department of Public Welfare at the time and place of food distribution.

Further information may be obtained by writing to Dr. Hector J. LeMaire, P.O. Box 57, North DuPont Parkway, Smyrna.

Richard Finger Receives Army Wings From Father

Richard A. Finger, 21, son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Karl E. Finger, 712 Bent Lane, Newark, received the silver wings of an Army aviator and was appointed a warrant officer on Dec. 19, upon graduation from the Army Aviation School at Ft. Rucker, Ala.

His father conducted the swearing-in ceremony for his son.

During the 16-week course, Karl was taught fire techniques and tactical maneuvers for helicopters supporting ground troops in combat, and received instruction in helicopter maintenance and survival techniques.

Local Witnesses To Aid Assembly With Volunteers

Charles Hopkins, presiding minister of the Newark congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, announced that many from the local congregation have been assigned positions of responsibility and are expected to be held Jan. 12-14 at the University of Pennsylvania's Irving Hall, 34th & Spruce Streets, Philadelphia.

Conventions of Jehovah's Witnesses are unique in this respect. All conventions are organized into departments and each department is staffed with volunteer workers from the Witnesses. All volunteer workers serve without pay.

Local Witnesses will be among several hundred volunteers staffing the 20 departments serving as ushers, cooks, sound and stage technicians, refreshment help, cleaning and dismantling workers, painters, plumbers, and electricians.

This three-day assembly will be the first in a series of assemblies to be held in the Delaware Valley in 1968. Some 1,000 ministers are expected to attend, and all meetings are free and open to the public.

The assembly will be climaxed with the 3 p.m. talk "Will God Intervene in Man's Affairs?" by J. W. Wilson, Watchtower Bible & Tract Society district representative.

Horse, Auto Collide Christmas Night On Elkton Road

A horse owned by Eric Mayer of 1600 Gravenor Lane, had to be destroyed Christmas night after a collision with a pickup truck near 760 Elkton Road in Newark.

Police said the truck was driven by Cornelius Shanahan, Jr., 20, of Wilmington. Shanahan, unhurt, estimated $1,000 damage to his vehicle.

The animal, valued at $175, had left Mayer's property through a broken fence.

Newark police said another of Mayer's horses left the property and was killed under similar circumstances in November.

Year-End Holiday Hazards Cited For Driver Safety

The year-end holidays are among the most dangerous periods of the year on Delaware highways, according to Thomas H. Williams, extension agricultural engineer at the University of Delaware.

While many of the reasons are obvious—more hours of darkness, poor visibility and slippery going due to bad weather, holiday rush and activity—too many drivers fail to adjust their driving habits.

To avoid these holiday hazards, Williams advises that drivers adopt defensive driving tactics.

"Keep the holiday spirit in your driving and extend pedestrians and other drivers the courtesies and goodwill of the season," he urges.

Snellings To Open Personnel Service Office At Newark

Lou Vale To Manage New Snelling & Snelling Unit At 102 East Main Street

The Newark office of Snelling and Snelling, nationwide personnel service company, will open at 102 East Main Street next Tuesday.

Lou Vale, manager of the new office, has had four years experience as manager of the executive division of the Wilmington office of Snelling and Snelling. Prior to that he was administrative assistant to the president of Delaware Hardware Co., and a member of the accounting firm of Edwin K. Williams.

A native of Delaware and a resident of New Castle, Vale served with the U.S. Infantry during World War II, spending two years in Europe during the war and another two years with occupation forces. He is married and has one son.

The female division will be headed by Mrs. Penny Page. A graduate of Wilmington High School, Mrs. Page was with Hercules, Inc. for 10 years. She is the mother of two sons; and belongs to the Wilmington Opera Society and Brandywine.

Snelling and Snelling in Newark will handle placements in the administrative, clerical, executive, industrial, sales, and technical fields.

The office will be open from 9 to 1 daily, from nine to noon Saturdays, and weekday evenings, by appointment.

Cyrus L. Day Addresses Lions On Library Friends

Dr. Cyrus L. Day, a member of the Newark special school district library commission, addressed the Newark Lions Club at a recent meeting in the Newark Country Club.

Day, a retired University of Delaware English professor, spoke on the program and achievements of Friends of the Newark Free Library.

A founder and former board member of that organization, Day is a member of the governor's committee on inter-library cooperation.

China Missionary Mabel S. Jones Dies At Age Of 85

Services for Mabel Steel Jones were conducted last Sunday afternoon at the home of Robert T. Jones and Son Funeral Home, with interment in Head of Christiana Cemetery.

Miss Jones, 85, died Dec. 6, at Bryn Mawr Hospital, Philadelphia. She had suffered a heart attack.

Born just north of Newark, Miss Jones worked as a stenographer and old to live with her grandmother in Newark. She graduated from Newark High School and from Strayer's Business College in Baltimore, where she taught for two years after graduation.

She then worked at Electric Storage Battery Co. in Philadelphia, leaving to go to China as a missionary for the Presbyterian Board of Missions.

Miss Jones worked in China for 33 years. She was in charge of a hospital there when the Japanese took it over, and put her and a Chinese companion in a concentration camp for a year.

After she returned to this country, she lived in the Shenandoah Memorial Home in Philadelphia and worked part-time at the Philadelphia Museum of Art.

Her only immediate survivor is a brother, Robert T. Jones, of Newark.

Jaycees Seeking Man Of The Year For Newark Area

The Newark Jaycees have formed a committee to seek nominations for Newark's outstanding young man of the year, according to President John Matz.

The committee headed by Ronald P. Mayer is canvassing churches, business, clubs and other organizations to determine which young man 21 through 35, has contributed most to the community during the year.

Nomination blanks will be available from any local Jaycee.

The Distinguished Service Award winner from Newark will be entered in the Delaware Jaycee contest.

State winners will enter national competition for America's 10 outstanding young men.

10 Of Ag College To Offer Papers On Weed Control

Ten staff members from the University of Delaware college of agricultural sciences will present papers at the Northeastern Weed Control Conference in New York, Jan. 3-5.

They will report on results of their research in weed control methods in corn, potatoes, soybeans and pepper and tomato transplants; on mulch combinations for weed control in boxwood plantings; and effectiveness of long lasting herbicides.

Post Pressman Bill Durham Gives Bikes As Usual At Christmas - Despite Fire

William H. Durham gave away 18 Christmas bicycles to children in foster homes this holiday season, and provided another dozen bikes during the year for youngsters with out prospects for owning their own bikes—and all of this despite the loss of bicycles and other Christmas toys stored in his barn that was destroyed by fire last Sept. 28.

Bill Durham, the Newark Post's veteran pressman, has long been one of Santa's top aides in this area, and this year proved to be no exception, fire or no.

The fire attributed to an unaccounted arsonist, completely destroyed the barn and its contents close by the Durham home on Jackson Hall School Road near Newark, and a lot of hard work and expense in reconditioning bicycles for gifts to children at Christmastime, went up in smoke.

"I'm glad that it happened a couple of months ahead of Christmas," Bill Durham said philosophically—and few philosophers would rally so well.

More than a quarter-century, William H. Durham—"Uncle Bill"—to his legion of younger friends—has given away hundreds of Christmas bikes that he has collected, rebuilt, and refinished over the years at his own time and expense.

And Christmas, 1967, was brightened for 18 young people with surprise bicycles from Newark's Good Samaritan.

Ann Lomax and Robert Morse were the scribes.

Thomas H. Arnold of Heritage Farms was appointed last Thursday to the Stanton board of school trustees, succeeding Richard K. Baird who resigned to move to Tennessee.

Miss Joan Watson of Hyde Park and Miss Elaine Hutchinson of Phoenixville, Pa., left New York last Saturday for Miami where they took the Dutch Line ship Regina for a Caribbean cruise. They are visiting Curacao, Trinidad, Barbados, Martinique, St. Vincent, and Ala Guairu returning to the states this Saturday.

Both are teachers in the Phoenixville public schools.

Harmony Grange were entertained last Monday by members of the Junior Grange. There were over 100 present.

Vivian Goodley, junior lecturer, announced the program.

Robert T. Jones and Son played a piano solo and Hunter Reed recited "Little Jack Horner." Julia Williams played her flute and the Jarrell girls, Carolyn and Joann sang and played the piano.

Christmas ABC's were enacted by the juniors. The Spirit of the Junior Grange was given by Ned Williams, reader; Sean Tweedy, the spirit; Cheryl Davis, Georgie Compton, Kim Cherris, Tommy Carr, Gregg Ball, Melissa Gant, Sharon Crossan, P. Harter, and MaryAnn Crossan. Tommy Carr had a Christmas reading.

The juniors gave the adult unit a piano lamp, tea towels and pot holders for the kitchen. Their Christmas tree was donated to a needy family.

Santa arrived and gave each child a gift.

Red Clay Creek Presbyterian Church

There will be a communion service for servicemen, college and senior high students this Sunday at 6 p.m.

The Senior High Fellowship is selling firewood this Saturday. They will also pickup discarded Christmas trees for a small fee at any home in the congregation.

The next Cherub and Junior Choir rehearsal will be Jan. 8.

Members of this church have been requested to assist the Greth family in patterning exercises for their brain-damaged child, Nadine. At least 150 persons are urgently needed for this project. Mrs. Charles Taylor may be called, or the church offices.

A request also has come from the Meadowood School for volunteers to help with supervision of the elementary school swimming program at the Western Branch YMCA on Kirkwood Highway. The time is Paul Nelson read the Scriptures. A group of first graders sang and a brass quartet of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Scarfe, Susan and Jonathan Wood played.

Student Recognition Day will be observed this Sunday at the 9 and 11 a.m. worship. Darrel Neidigh III, a student at the University of Delaware, will be the speaker.

Other college students who will participate include Stephen Nelson, Peggy Lynch, Mrs. Arlene Richards, Diane Lynch, and Nancy Lumb.

Members of Hill 'n' Dale 4-H Club held their annual Christmas party last Thursday at the home of Aline Pierce.

Trish Williams reported 40 Muscular Dystrophy banks placed in business places in the Kirkwood Highway area.

Sallie Evans, leader, announced the officers' training session scheduled for this evening at Ag Hall.

Chrysler Resumes Local Production After 3 Walkouts

Employees Report Tuesday For Normal Work Schedule At Newark Assembly Plant

Production employees reported on schedule for the first shift at the Chrysler assembly plant in Newark last Tuesday morning after a series of work stoppages by members of United Auto Workers Union Local 1183 halted production at the plant three times in 24 hours last week.

The first stoppage occurred Wednesday night.

The second walkout was sparked by workers in the trim department on the first shift Friday, and the third also began in the trim department during Friday's second shift.

Chrysler shut down the plant Friday afternoon after the third walkout.

No work was scheduled at the plant Saturday, Sunday or Christmas Day.

A spokesman for the local said workers objected to a delay in receipt of retroactive pay expected by Christmas.

The union spokesman said the company announced it won't pay retroactive money until a contract covering local conditions is agreed upon.

Native Of Holland Jeanne Dortwegt Dresses Yule Dolls

Mrs. Jeanne Dortwegt, seamstress, made the dresses for 20 Christmas dolls given to children in foster homes this last weekend by Bill Durham, veteran pressman for the Newark Post.

Mrs. Dortwegt, a native of Holland, has helped provide a happy Christmas for youngsters of her adopted country, by making doll dresses for several Christmas past.

"And again, this year, her skilled needlework provided classic clothing for the dolls given to anxious little girls for Christmas Day."

Hand-made doll clothes by Jeanne Dortwegt are a special Christmas bonus gift from the Lady from Holland.

Thanks Expressed By Postal Staff For Yule Mailing

Thanks from Acting Postmaster Charles S. Hopkins and employees of the Newark Post Office were expressed to the public today. "We couldn't have done the job alone," Hopkins said.

"Everyone cooperated beautifully and we were able to deliver all holiday mail reaching the Newark Post Office in time for the last delivery and postal employees were able to spend Christmas with their families," Hopkins continued.

"If people had waited until the last minutes to mail their gifts and greetings, we would have been working throughout the holiday," Hopkins added.

Tuesday, Dec. 19, was the busiest day of the Christmas rush. An estimated 324,119 pieces of mail were handled by local postal employees; a total of 4,263 people visited the post offices, and 325,000 Christmas stamps were sold that day.

Six-Month-Old Boy Richard A. Maree Pneumonia Victim

Richard Allen Maree, six-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Maree, of 41 Chaucer Drive, Brookside, died last Thursday in Delaware Division with pneumonia.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by three sisters, Patricia, Phyllis and Alice; and a brother, Ronald—all at home; his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Florence Fillingame; and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Alice Maree, both of Chesapeake City, Md.

Services were conducted Saturday morning at the Daniels and Hutchinson Funeral Home, Mid-dletown, with interment in Hickory Grove Cemetery near St. Georges.

Lt. Dean Kilpatrick Trains With Special Forces Unit

Second Lt. Dean J. Kilpatrick, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin D. Kilpatrick, 900 Baylor Drive, Newark, completed a Special Forces officer course on Dec. 15, at the Army Special Warfare School, Ft. Bragg, N.C.

During the 12-week course, he was provided with working knowledge in the doctrine and techniques of guerrilla warfare and Special Forces operations.

Major emphasis was placed on organization and development of guerrilla forces, their training, control and combat employment.

Lt. Kilpatrick received his BA in 1966 from Dickinson College, where he was a member of Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity.

John Ball In Navy School As Construction Mechanic

Construction Apprentice John A. Ball, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Ball of 723 Brook Drive, Newark, is attending the construction mechanic automotive school at Port Hueneme, Calif.

During the course, Ball will receive instruction in theory, construction, operation and maintenance of gas turbine powered automotive equipment.

Welfare Committee Provides 173 Christmas Food Baskets

Clarence A. Bader Directs Annual Project Conducted By Late Mrs. J. Harvey Dickey; Municipal Employees In City Trucks Aid In Distribution To Needy In Area

A record 173 Christmas baskets were distributed last Thursday and Friday by the Newark Area Welfare Committee to homes of needy persons in the local area, with Clarence A. Bader heading the Christmas basket project that was directed for more than a quarter-century by the late Mrs. J. Harvey Dickey. Bader, who is retiring Dec. 31, as building inspector for the City of Newark, was assisted by F. Allyn

Cochran, Jr., recently retired Newark postmaster, along with other individuals and groups, in perpetuating this perennial project of the Newark Area Welfare Committee at Christmastime.

Municipal employees in city trucks, along with other volunteers, delivered the baskets of food, with toys for homes with children, and the Christmas baskets were packed for distribution at the Alice P. Smyth YWCA Center, where food and toys were collected.

Boy Scouts of the Capital Trail District, directed by Max Thomas and Ben Raney, canvassed the Newark area for contributions of canned goods on Saturday, Dec. 16.

A record 166 baskets were distributed last year under the direction of Mrs. Mary Lejeune, substituting for Mrs. Dickey, who was ill. Mrs. Dickey died last Jan. 8, and the Edna C. Dickey Park off Elkton Road in Newark has been named in her honor.

Dr. E. L. Symington To Head Delaware Meat Inspections

State Veterinarian, Newark Resident, Named To Direct New Meat Inspection Plan

State Veterinarian Dr. Ernest L. Symington, of 112 Manns Avenue, Newark, will head Delaware's new meat inspection program.

Symington's appointment was announced last Friday by M. Martin Isaacs, director of the State Board of Agriculture, who said the decision was made at a state board meeting Thursday.

The new state meat inspection plan would not go into effect until July 1, but $52,000 has been appropriated to set up the program.

Isaacs said this money would be used to purchase equipment; draw up regulations; and hire three additional veterinarians, four inspectors, a chemist and a laboratory technician.

Current plans call for Symington to be paid $12,000 a year.

Symington, who has been with the department since Aug. 19, 1966, is paid $10,000 a year. Isaacs said.

Symington, 58, received his veterinary degree from the University of Toronto and was a large-animal practitioner for 20 years before being named to the state post.

Prior to working for the state department, Symington conducted private veterinary practice in Newark.

Ernest J. Breton Heads Industrial Workshop Series

A Wednesday evening series of workshops in ideas and industrial innovations will augment a Saturday morning series at the University of Delaware.

Offered by the university division of technical services, the evening series will meet from 8 to 10:30, Jan. 10, 17, and 31.

The Saturday morning series, from 9 o'clock until noon, is scheduled Jan. 6, 20, and Feb. 3.

Moderator-instructor for both workshop programs will be Dr. Ernest J. Breton, research fellow with DuPont's exploratory research group of the development department.

Each series will probe three basic stages in the process of industrial innovation—recognition and analysis of need, idea generation, and idea evaluation.

Registrations may be arranged by calling the university extension division.

Improving Eating Habits Advised With New Year

Taking a fresh look at yourself and making a fresh start, is traditional as each New Year begins. And there's probably something you'd like to change—about yourself, your family or your home—that's why so many people make New Year's resolutions.

Resolve to change your family's eating habits for the better, advises Marguerite Krackhardt, extension foods and nutrition specialist at the University of Delaware. Plan your menus for the next two or three days ahead so you can be sure your family has the right foods for good health.

Besides, by planning ahead you can usually save money. Then when you shop, bring the foods directly home and store them properly for best quality.

FROM TWO VIRGINIANS — FOR ALL AMERICANS

As a powerful, inspirational message for all Americans for the new year, a Newark Lady from Virginia, offers a Christmas card excerpt from fellow Virginian Thomas Jefferson's first inaugural address.

"Equal and exact justice to all men, of whatever state or persuasion, religious or political; peace, commerce, and honest friendship with all nations — entangling alliances with none; the support of the state governments in all their rights, as the most competent administrations for our domestic concerns, and the surest bulwarks against anti-republican tendencies; freedom of religion; freedom of the press; freedom of person under the protection of habeas corpus; and trial by juries impartially selected, these principles form the bright constellation which has gone before us, and guided our steps through an age of revolution and reformation."

And Mr. Jefferson's observations were never more pertinent than for this new year 1968.

Crackpot demonstrators should be compelled to memorize them.

Edythe Whiteside Dies At Age Of 30

Mrs. Edythe F. Whiteside, 80, was stricken Dec. 13, at her home, 19 Myers Road, Robbott Manor, and pronounced dead on arrival at Wilmington General Division.

She had been ill for some time, her family said.

A native of South Hampton, Pa., she had lived in Philadelphia most of her life. For two years, she had made her home with a son in Robbott Manor.

Mrs. Whiteside retired 15 years ago as a clerk for the Curtis Publishing Co. in Philadelphia.

Surviving her are two sons, John K., with whom she lived, and Barry F. of Philadelphia; two grandchildren; and a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Beardsley of Norristown, Pa.

Kitchen in Glasgow. Readings were given by Mrs. Charles Moore, Mrs. Roger Woodlyha, Mrs. Florence Ford, and Mrs. Dollie Sweetnam; carols were sung, and gifts exchanged. The January meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Walter Crewe, Red Lion.

Mr. and Mrs. William Moore entertained Mrs. Frances Moore on Christmas Day.

Mrs. Sara Dayett entertained her family on Christmas Day, with Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Ogden, Michael and Richard Ogden; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ogden and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Jordan and Cynthia Jordan; Mr. and Mrs. James Mulvena and son, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dayett, III and family as guests.

Pender Presbyterian Church members are invited to attend services this Sunday to make New Year resolutions. Communion will be conducted on the first Sunday in January.

State Police Sgt. James L. Ford, Jr., has completed a two-week seminar on demonstrations, counter-protests, and riots. According to Col. Charles C. Lamb, superintendent of Delaware State Police, the seminar which ended Friday at the Southern Police Institute in Louisville, Ky., was attended by police officers from all over the country.

Winter flounder are biting at Cape May, and anglers are rounded off that they can enjoy excellent fishing, and at the same time vie for fishing tackle prizes in the annual Cape May County Winter Flounder Tournament which opened Dec. 1, and continues through April 30.

Freeholder Anthony T. Catano, who directs the Cape May County Department of Public Affairs and the county's fishing tournaments, said that prizes will be awarded in three divisions. There will be fishing tackle prizes in men's and women's winter flounder divisions, and trophies in the junior division for youngsters up to 14.

No entry fee or pre-registration is required. Fish may be weighed in with any of the Jersey Cape May more than 80 official weighmasters listed in the county's free fishing information brochure.

Winter flounder fishing may be enjoyed from the banks and inland waterway piers and bulkheads, as well as from the county's free fishing piers at Scotch Bonnet, Stone Harbor Blvd. near Stone Harbor.

Small boat fishing for winter flounder is enjoyable, and several Cape May County party boats are available.

Bloodworms are the best bait for winter flounder, but clams also produce.

For a free Cape May County fishing information brochure, write Department of Public Affairs, Box 365, Cape May Court House, N.J. 08210.

Cod fishing on the Jersey Cape is starting to pick up, as good catches are reported all along the Cape May County Coast. Fishermen are opening good schools of cod on the open bottom with fish ranging in size from five to 30 pounds.

A large fender cod have been reported, the largest being a 62-lb. 5-oz. monster boated by Peter Koryow, Chester, Pa., while fishing aboard the Big Jim, party boat out of Cape May.

The fish was caught on the Big Jim wreck off the Cape May County coast.

Major winter fishing centers are located at Wildwood Crest, Cape May and Sea Isle City, where boats are available for cod fishing trips. Charter boats also are available for groups wishing to engage a vessel for a club outing.

Cod fishing requires stamina and fortitude with cold weather. Thermal clothing, as well as wet weather gear and warm footwear are recommended. Boats are equipped with warm shelter areas for the cod fisherman's comfort.

"By cod, it's tough fishing!" former Plymouth doryman and professional Al Priestley concurs.

Harry Rawstrom Worries At Break In Swim Schedule

Delaware's swimming team is living up to Coach Harry Rawstrom's pre-season expectations.

The 3-1 Blue Hens are enjoying a three-week holiday break, and that has the veteran coach worried.

"I would say the team is just about where we thought it would be at this point in the season," Rawstrom notes, "but we have the roughest part of our schedule coming up immediately after the start of classes next year."

The Hens must face away meets with Lehigh (Jan. 6), Temple (Jan. 10) and Lafayette (Jan. 13) when they return for the new year.

"Lehigh, Temple and Lafayette are three of the best teams we will swim against all year," Rawstrom notes, "and having to swim them all on the road after a three-week layoff is a tough assignment."

Rawstrom who has a record of 124-66-4 in his 22nd year as Delaware swimming coach, has been particularly pleased with the performance of Capt. Bob Locke in the Hens' first four meets.

Locke, the only senior on the team has been the Hens top free-style swimmer for the past two years.

"Bob is further along than he was last year at this time," Rawstrom notes, "He has continued to develop and could wind up as one of the top swimmers we have ever had."

Despite the tough schedule and inexperience of his team, Rawstrom is optimistic about the remainder of the season.

"We have had some illness that has hindered development of some of our boys," Rawstrom says, "but I am encouraged. If the team continues to work hard, I feel we will be much stronger at the end of the year."

Delaware may have only one more meet in antiquated Taylor Pool. The Hens host Johns Hopkins in Taylor Pool on Jan. 16 before taking a 4-day break for examinations.

The team hopes to be in its new pool at Carpenter Sports Building when it resumes its schedule in the second semester with a meet against Drexel on Feb. 9.

Delaware Park Provides $97,794 Hospital Grant

A grant of $97,794 to the Wilmington Medical Center and the state's six other hospitals was announced yesterday by trustees of Delaware Park, Inc.

President William S. Potter, disclosed that the grant has been apportioned according to patient capacity.

A breakdown of the charitable gift allows $54 per bed to hospitals in each of the state's three counties.

Champs Of Our Redeemer Lead In GNRA Volleyball

Greater Newark Recreation Association Men's Volleyball League play is underway, and after four weeks last year's champs of Our Redeemer remain undefeated.

The tough schedule and inexperience of his team, Rawstrom is optimistic about the remainder of the season.

In recent action, Our Redeemer thumped the Cherokee Woods Indians; Kingswood edged the Newark Blues, and St. Anthony's defeated the Independents.

Joe Aneda To Coordinate Golf Professional School

Joe Aneda, veteran golf professional for the Newark Country Club will coordinate a five-day school for assistant golf professionals during the first week of March at the Sheraton Hotel in Philadelphia.

The Philadelphia section of the PGA will conduct the school.

The program will be open to the first 100 applicants who have served the required five years as assistant professionals.

Don Harnum Optimistic For Blue Chicks With 3-2 Log; Mark Brown, Top Prospect

Delaware freshman basketball Coach Don Harnum is not too pleased with his team's 3-2 record, but he is optimistic about the future.

The Blue Chicks have defeated freshman teams from Lafayette, Lehigh and PMU, while losing to the Penn and Rutgers frosh.

"We have not played as well as I had hoped we would," Harnum notes, "but I think that our shoot-

Marine Air Corps Training Planned By Jack Hassman

Former Yellowjacket athlete Jack Hassman, a 1965 Newark High School graduate, and a junior physical education major at the University of North Dakota, has been accepted in the Marine Air Corps PLC program.

The program includes six-weeks of training next summer at Quantico, Va., and following college graduation, pilot training at Pensacola, Fla., for commissioning as a second lieutenant.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Hassman of 8 Andries Road, Newark, Jack has won varsity letters in football and track at North Dakota.

He was a football and baseball letterman at Newark High School, and played as a Yellowjacket guard on the Gold team in the 1965 Delaware All-Star High School Football Game for the Benefit of the Delaware Foundation for Retarded Children.

A member of two Newark Babe Ruth League state championship teams, Hassman has played semipro baseball in Wilmington for several summers.

Record Fieldhouse Crowd Sees Harlem Globetrotters

The Harlem Globetrotters attracted a record crowd on Dec. 18, in Delaware Fieldhouse.

A crowd of 3,007 saw the Globetrotters defeat the Washington Generals 95-86 in the basketball exhibition.

During the course, Felix was trained to inspect, test and repair electrical accounting machine equipment.

Janet Reed Offers Advice On Holiday Accessories

Accessories for the holiday season are glittering and gleaming this year reports Janet Reed, extension clothing and textiles specialist at the University of Delaware.

Hats are in a minority again this year—accessories and gleaming White House wedding few hats were worn. However, if you do want to wear a hat, try a small one in a frivolous fabric with—naturally—glittering trim, Miss Reed advises.

Small fabric bags, often the clutch type, are used in the evening. Elegant bags, made of crepe, velvet or satin, may be beaded or embroidered.

The '67 look in shoes calls for shorter, squared heels in either pumps or sandals, says Miss Reed. They may be decorative and open—matched to your dress, if possible.

Peterson's Hens In Pocono Classic For Title Defense

Coach Dan Peterson's once-beaten Delaware basketball team is playing in defense of its title in the Pocono Classic Basketball Tournament opening today at East Stroudsburg, Pa., and following the tourney that continues thru Saturday, Peterson's passers return to league competition at Lehigh on Saturday, Jan. 6.

Delaware, West Chester State, C. W. Post, Muhlenberg, Kings College, Lafayette, Cortland State and host East Stroudsburg will compete in the Pocono Classic.

The Blue Hens face West Chester in the opening game at 1:30 this afternoon.

"I look at West Chester, C. W. Post and Lafayette as the teams to beat," Peterson said.

Help Among Top Trainers For Jan. 2 Pimlico Start

New faces and old, they'll all be at Pimlico when the history-laden Baltimore track opens the day after New Year's for a 35-day winter meeting.

One of the most interesting trainer races in years is expected to develop among such powerful stables as those conditioned by Grover G. "Buddy" Delp, Howard Jacobson, Charlie Robbins and A. H. Warner. The battle will be truly international, for each of the quartet is a kinsman in his own bailiwick.

Delp, Maryland's leading trainer for the past four years, already has posted more than 100 wins for the season and will be the strong local contender for the training title.

George Cavanaugh, Lee Swayze, Captains As Lone Lettermen With Mann's Vikings

Captains George Cavanaugh and Lee Swayze are the only two lettermen with Coach Al Mann's Christiana High School basketball squad, as the Vikings work out for a game with their alumni in the Christiana gym this Saturday at 7:30 p.m., and their Blue Hen Conference opener at Wilmington High School on Friday, Jan. 5.

Swayze averaged 15.7 points with Mann's 10-4 Vikings last season, and is "a great rebounder and a tough defensive man," Coach Mann adds.

Cavanaugh at 5-9, and Swayze, 6-2, are seniors, and "senior boys lacking varsity experience" are the nucleus for Al Mann's current crop of Vikings.

Other leading candidates for Viking varsity cage posts are the Deal twins—Don and Duane, who are instructed to wear different color shirts for Mann's identification—Jerry McCarns, and Verne Orndorff—all seniors; Ed Vernon, a junior; and Sophomore Bobby Hubbard.

Shan Haddaway, Bruce Reysner, Mike Larkin, Jack Snyder, and Glen Thompson round out Al Mann's Viking basketball squad.
