CARNEGIE TECH. PRESIDENT TO DELIVER COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

Dr. Thomas S. Baker, Widely Known Educator and Research Worker, Procured by Committee—Rev. H. F. Randolph to Preach Baccalaureate Sermon

Dr. Thomas S. Baker, president of Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh, Pa., will be the commencement orator at the University of Delaware on Monday, June 9th. The statement was given out by Dr. Walter Hüllihen yesterday.

The baccalaureate sermon in Wolf Hall on Sunday morning, the 8th, will be delivered by the Rev. Herbert F. Randolph, pastor of the Calvary M. E. Church in Philadelphia.

With the two important speakers procured for the exercises, plans are rapidly approaching completion. Forty-four men, including graduate students will get their diplomas from the University this year. Approximately twenty young women will have finished their courses at the Women's College.

Dr. Baker is a graduate of Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore and received his Ph.D. from the same institution. Shortly afterward he was called to the head of Tome School at Port Deposit, Md. From Tome Dr. Baker went to Carnegie Tech., where he was director of the Institute of Research for several years. A few years ago he was appointed president of the college. He is widely known in the fields of science and education and his writings are very important contributions to those departments.

Rev. Randolph is well known to Delaware people, having been for several years pastor of Grace M. E. Church in Wilmington. He is a native of New Jersey and first came into prominence as pastor of the Pleasantville M. E. Church in that state.

Following his charge in Wilmington, Rev. Randolph was transferred to Washington, D. C., as pastor of the Foundry Church there. This church has one of the largest congregations in the country. Recently he was called to the pastorate of Calvary M. E. Church in Philadelphia, probably the largest Methodist Church in the city. Rev. Randolph left Wilmington about five years ago. He was extremely popular there, being particularly beloved by the young men of the city.

UNIDENTIFIED MAN FOUND DEAD IN BARN

Passerby Finds Body in Straw Stack on Cook Farm Near Newark

The body of a white man, aged about 70 years, was found in a straw stack near the barn on the Cook farm, near White Clay Creek Church, Sunday last, by one of the workmen on the farm.

Undertaker Jones was immediately notified and took charge of the body. No letters or cards leading in any way towards the identity of the dead man could be found in his clothes. Mr. Jones said that the man had been dead for over a month. His body was lying in such a peculiar position in the old stack that it could not be seen from the buildings or road. The unfortunate victim was fairly well pressed. A few pennies and a box of matches were found in his coat.

The body was taken to Farnhurst and buried in the county cemetery on Monday.

The Cook farm was formerly tenanted by Harry Gross.

"H. M. S. Pinafore" Is Coming To Anchor Here

Famous Comic Opera to be Given in Opera House on June 2nd and 3rd

"H. M. S. Pinafore," Gilbert and Sullivan's sprightly and tuneful comic opera, will be given at the Opera House on the evenings of June 2nd and 3rd, with a local cast. The action of this classic among comic operas takes place entirely on the quarter-deck of "H. M. S. Pinafore." That it is given under the auspices of the Dramatic Association of the Newark Century Club is ample assurance that it will be splendidly mounted and well sung. To those who are familiar with the opera, an opportunity to renew acquaintance with Little Buttercup and Dick Deadeye, and the merry crew of the Pinafore is an opportunity not to be slighted. To those who have never seen it, a real delight is in store. The cast is as follows:

The Right Hon. Sir Joseph Porter, K. C. B.—Mr. G. E. Hancock.
Capt. Corcoran—Mr. George H. Ryden.
Ralph Rackstraw—Mr. R. W. Usher, Jr.
Dick Deadeye—Mr. T. R. Dantz.
Bill Bobstay, Boatswain—Mr. A. D. Cobb.
Tom Tucker, Midshipman—Mr. William Hill.
Josephine, the captain's daughter, Mrs. T. A. Baker.
Little Buttercup—Mrs. H. R. Tyson.
Hebe—Miss Anne Ritz.
Auntie—Miss Marion Taylor.
Mrs. Merwyn Lafferty will alternate with Mrs. Baker in the role of Josephine.

A large chorus of thirty-seven sailors, cousins, aunts and visitors will be a feature of the performance.

COUNTY C. E. INSTITUTE MEETS HERE FRIDAY

Two Sessions To Be Held In Presbyterian Church; Leaders Will Speak

A meeting of the New Castle County Christian Endeavor Institute will be held in the Presbyterian Church here on Friday next. Over 100 members of the Institute have already signified their intention of attending and many more are expected to swell the crowd.

Two sessions will be held, starting at 2.30 p. m. and 7.30 p. m. The afternoon session will be devoted to a business conference.

The speakers in the evening session will be Carroll Wright, field secretary of the Delaware-Maryland district, and C. E. Hetzler, general and field secretary of the Pennsylvania district. Special music is being prepared by the church choir members for the evening meeting.

Supper will be served to the visiting delegates in the church by the local congregation. Workers from all parts of the county will be in Newark attending the meetings.

Auto Rams Store Front Following Collision

Lovett's Furniture House Damaged in Accident Friday Afternoon—Autoists Agree to Settle

Two display window frames were smashed to bits and the foundations of the building were badly shaken when a Buick touring car swerved from the beaten path of East Main Street, Friday afternoon, and crashed into the front of the Lovett Furniture Store here. The assaulting car was also badly damaged about the front fenders and radiator. No one was hurt.

The Buick was driven by William S. Daugherty, a plumbing and heating contractor of Philadelphia, and was proceeding east on Main Street, when another car driven by Joseph W. Hartis, of Newport, suddenly swerved into the path of the Philadelphia machine. To avoid a certain smashup, Mr. Daugherty turned his car onto the pavement, but too late to escape a sideswipe by the Hartis auto. The slight collision threw the Buick out of control and it crashed headlong into the Lovett display window at the Choate Street corner. A little son of Mr. Daugherty, riding on the front seat suffered a slightly bruised nose when he was thrown against the windshield.

Both drivers alighted and went into conference with Mr. Lovett. The matter of damages was settled amicably between all parties concerned. The accident attracted a large crowd of Friday shoppers to the scene, and workmen were required to jack up the front part of the Lovett building in order that reinforcements be put under the battered foundations.

Newark Immersed in New Time Argument

Three Mills Vote To Go On Daylight Saving; Schools May Follow

A surprise has been sprung in town affairs during the past few days which bids fair to change the whole business, school and home system.

A wave of popular sentiment in favor of Daylight Saving reached a climax yesterday when it was announced that the three largest mills in town had gone on record as favoring the new time system. A poll among the workers of the Continental Fibre Co. shows 195 for and 75 against Daylight Saving. The National Vulcanized Fibre mill is practically unanimous for the proposal and Curtis and Bro. announced that a majority of their employees wanted it.

As a result, according to Dr. Walt H. Steel, president of the Board of Education, the Newark Schools will no doubt follow the trend of feeling and go on new time.

Dr. Walter Hüllihen, when questioned on the situation, is reported to have stated that the University will be forced to stick to Standard time. Banks and railroads remains the same, and many of the business houses will keep on the old time.

Opposition to Plan
A hurried inquiry in various parts of the town revealed no little opposition to the proposed change in time. Farmers are solid against it; many residents believe it is a direct violation of a State law, and indirectly, a violation of the Charter of the Town.

President Rhodes of the Chamber of Commerce stated today that he was absolutely against the proposal, and that the Chamber had several weeks ago voted it down. He said he did not speak for the organization, but felt that many other members were of the same opinion.

The matter is expected to form the basis for a spirited debate in Council meeting this evening. The spectacle of part of Newark observing Daylight Saving and part observing standard time will afford a most unusual situation.

Senator Bayard to Nominate Presidential Candidate in New York—Newark District Involved in Tangle

The enthusiastic endorsement of Hon. Willard Saulsbury for the Presidency; selection of Andrew C. Gray of Wilmington as National Committeeman; the awarding of one full vote each to Senator T. F. Bayard and Representative W. H. Boyce as national delegates, and the incorporation of a law enforcement clause into the platform of the party, were the high lights of the Democratic State Convention, which met yesterday in Dover.

Eight other delegates to New York received half vote privileges, two of whom are from New Castle County. The full list follows:

Wilmington—United States Senator Thomas F. Bayard (one full vote); alternate, Mrs. Mary Morris.

New Castle County—Josiah Marvel and Miss Marie T. Lockwood (each one-half vote); alternates, F. deH. Janvier and Mrs. Richard T. Cann.

Kent County—Congressman William H. Boyce (one full vote); James R. Clements and Mrs. Martha Baker (each one-half vote); alternates, Charles W. Hardesty (for Congressman Boyce), Charles D. Murphy, for James R. Clements, and Mrs. James H. Hughes, for Mrs. Martha Baker.

Sussex County—Isaac G. Giles; E. Frank LeCates, Mrs. Sallie H. Fooks and Mrs. Inga Tubbs, each with one-half vote; alternates, Benjamin Ableman, William J. P. White, Mrs. Etta Gray Jones and Mrs. Margaret P. Waples.

Mrs. John R. Eskridge, of Seaford, was chosen woman member of the National Committee after a hot contest with Mrs. Henry D. Boyer, Smyrna, and Mrs. W. Harmon Reynolds of Townsend.

The following rural New Castle people were chosen for the State Committee:

Brandywine and half of Christiana hundreds, Robert R. Hanby and Mrs. Harry Hanby; Mill Creek and remaining portion of Christiana hundred, Frank F. Yearsley and Miss Nora Stuart; Red Lion, New Castle and White Clay Creek hundreds, Eben B. Frazer and Miss Reba Holcomb; St. Georges and Peneader hundreds, W. S. Leatherbury and Miss Mary Brown; Appoquinimink and Blackbird hundreds, W. A. Scott and Mrs. Theodore Ferguson; members-at-large, Harry McIntire, Mrs. Mary C. Poole, Francis deH. Janvier and Mrs. Grace B. Ross.

A wealth of discussion occurred during the course of the caucus when it was found that one of Newark district's delegates, Warren A. Singles, was not present. After some delay the rest of the delegation authorized William E. Hayes to act as alternate. In the meantime, David C. Rose appeared on the scene with Mr. Singles' proxy. The discussion as to whether to seat Mr. Rose over Mr. Hayes' previous election then occupied several minutes. The vote was being taken on national delegate from New Castle County at the time, and the balloting was close. It was finally decided to allow Mr. Hayes to keep his seat.

Later inquiries discovered that Mr. Singles had trouble with his car near Smyrna and was outside during the latter part of the discussion but was too late to be in his seat at roll call.

TOMATO ACREAGE GROWS

Farmer-Stockholders in United Canneries Hold Meeting Here Last Night

About 185 acres of tomatoes were contracted for by the farmers of the vicinity at a meeting held last night in the factory here. Seventy-five stockholders were present.

According to H. R. Cole, manager of the factory, the corn acreage is up to the limit and about 150 more acres of corn are required from the farmers to insure a sufficient crop. It is confidently expected by the officials to have this acreage signed up before the end of the week.

HARRIGAN RECOVERING FROM INJURIES

Newark Man Resting Easily In Wilmington Hospital Today, Is Report

The condition of Arthur W. Harrigan, of Newark, was reported as being very favorable, upon inquiry at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Delaware Hospital in Wilmington. Harrigan was seriously injured in an auto smashup near Leak's garage here Sunday evening, when cars driven by Harvey Crew and George Miller, both of this place, came together on the Lincoln Highway.

Harrigan, who was riding with Crew, was thrown out and his head struck the fender of the Miller car. He was picked up in an unconscious condition and rushed to the hospital. It was reported that he had a fractured skull, but this could not be confirmed today. Nurses at the hospital say his chances for an early recovery are assured.

According to reports of the accident, the Miller car was turning into the highway from the old road near Leak's garage, and the Crew machine was proceeding east on Main Street. A mixup of signals caused the crash, it is said. Crew's car was overturned and badly damaged. As far as could be learned no other people were hurt.

Harrigan is a member of the National Guard Company here and is well known. He is about 21 years old. He is employed at the Continental Fibre Company.

RESIDENTS AROUSED OVER GAS STATION

Hearn Oil Co.'s Proposed Buildings Here Center of Discussion

A meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and all other residents interested in the matter will be held this evening at 6.45 on East Main Street at the property recently purchased from John Richards by the Hearn Oil Co., of Wilmington, to decide what attitude to take in the face of the objections raised by residents of that district over the proposed placing of oil tanks on the property.

Engineers and officials of the oil company have been making preparations this week to start work on the erection of a large wholesale and retail oil and gas distributing center in Newark on the site mentioned. It is reported that ten storage tanks will be erected.

News of the proposed operation spread over the east end of town and it appears that public opinion is strongly against the new station. Fire risk is given as the main objection.

However, the Hearn Company owns the lot and the matter is now in a delicate state.

President Rhodes, in announcing the meeting, told THE POST that all citizens interested in the decision will be allowed a part in the discussion. A representative of the Hearn Oil Co. will be down to explain the matter thoroughly.

Brown and Whiteside, Wilmington architects, have designed a retail filling station to go on the property, and it is said to be of great beauty.

MUSIC SOCIETY CONCERT SOLOISTS ARE ANNOUNCED

Proceeds from the concert will be turned over to the High School music fund. The school chorus is composed of 112 voices and is being trained for their own concert later in the Spring. This will be their first appearance.

With the array of talent present to entertain, it is expected that Wolf Hall will be crowded on the evening of the concert. Tickets will be placed on sale this week.

Those who will take part are: Mrs. William Holton, Mrs. George Dutton, Miss Elenora Duffy, Mrs. Herman Tyson, Mr. R. W. Usher, Jr., Mrs. Armand Durant, Mrs. E. Lasher, Miss Mary Houston, Newark High School Chorus, Mrs. J. P. Cann, Miss Katharine Graybill, Mr. O. W. Mosher, Jr., Jane Poole Dutton, Miss Anne Lois Ritz, Mrs. Roy Sparks, Mr. George H. Ryden, Miss Nellie Wilson, Miss Dora Wilcox.

National Music Week, May 4-10.

BEAGLE PUPPIES APPEAR HAPPY WITH 2 MOTHERS

A spectacle which is puzzling dog fanciers, is the scene daily enacted at the rear of Walter Powell's restaurant here, in which nine beautiful beagle puppies are sharing the affections of two mothers. "Bess," the real mother is being pestered to death by a sleek young female pointer belonging to Mr. Powell. The latter insists in nursing "Bess's" family, and a continual state of war exists. Mr. Powell is kept busy keeping the two ladies from doing each other bodily harm. The two dogs were the best of friends prior to the advent of the puppies. The new arrivals are extremely unconcerned over the situation, and have to date shown no preference for either matron.

One lover of dogs here said yesterday that in all his long experience with raising puppies, he had never seen such a strange sight.

DELAWARE IN LITERATURE

By George B. Hynson
(From Every Evening.)

Recently I received a letter from a student in the Women's College of the University of Delaware, asking for some data that would enable her to write a brief essay on the early history of her home town. Her request for assistance had been passed along from one person to another, but nobody seemed to be in a position to give the facts required.

I understand that this was to be one of a number of papers to be written describing the several Delaware towns; and it would be interesting to make a digest of these sketches in order to see how much local historical data is available.

My own impression is that the material was found to be very meagre and that these young students, not being able to place their hands on source material, had to rely largely upon their imaginations.

In a recent address before the Sons of Delaware in Philadelphia, Bishop Cook called attention to the fact that, while Delaware had played an important role in our country's history, yet her contributions to literature had been modest. It may be complimentary to assert that we have made history but have left it to others to write it. Possibly our people have been so busy with the problems of living that they have not found time to interpret and record; still the fact remains that generations are coming and going without leaving behind them an adequate literature—a record preserving the character of our people, the atmosphere in which they have lived and the ideals which inspired them.

George Morgan, of the Philadelphia Record, a former Delawarean and himself a writer of note, in a recent article in his paper takes issue with the bishop. His feeling of loyalty to the old home state sent him searching for a list of names of Delawareans who have contributed to her literature. The effort was praiseworthy, but the list he prepared was not altogether convincing.

There have been several attempts to write the history of Delaware, and no doubt the principal facts that go to make up our annals have been accurately set down; but not one of these histories rises to a plane of more than local significance. In other words, we have chronicles, but no one has yet written a history of Delaware that reaches the distinction of literature such as has an appeal beyond our own borders.

The history of a people can never be written by one man. A Hume or a Gibbon might write the story of Delaware and leave many a gap to be filled in. There must be many little histories for the background; and a real interest in the story of their own annals on the part of the people is the fundamental requirement.

The fact is that we have been indifferent to the life behind us, with the result that the picture of our beginnings is faded by the time each generation passes.

Compare the literature of Delaware with that of New England. In our early settlements there was almost as much material for romance as New England could offer. Yet our children in their school books continually dwell in a New England atmosphere. They can all recite Paul Revere's Ride; but nobody of Delaware ever heard of the equally important ride of Caesar Rodney.

It may be argued that Delaware is relatively small and is lacking in wealth and that her history, in the nature of things, must be merely "the short and simple annals of the poor." But think of the books that are pouring from the press every year describing the little villages of Cape Cod. They are eagerly read, not so much because of their setting, as because there are those who can see the pictures and have the inclination to portray them.

In some respects, Delawareans have been very poor advertisers. If William Penn had landed on the shores of Massachusetts, that event would have been prescribed in our histories, and would have been set forth with embroideries in historical novels and pure romances. Had the Dutch made their first landing at Plymouth instead of at the Hoorakill, every school boy from Maine to California would have been made familiar with the fact. Had a New England state been the first to ratify the Constitution, the "Atlantic Monthly" would have been giving us the details in a romantic setting periodically through all the years.

We Delawareans have played an important part in history. We have preserved as much of the atmosphere of the Colonial period in our habits, customs and speech as any other people. We are noted for our hospitality and the homely virtues. We have contributed an amazing number of leaders in statecraft and in the professions. But we are not a literary people and we lend scant encouragement to literary effort.

There isn't a literary publication in the state. There are no Delaware contributors to publications other than the newspapers. And who can name a novel with a Delaware setting? "The Entailed Hat" may come to mind, but that was the story of a newspaper man and never made a ripple outside of our own state.

It is a well-known fact that the local newspaper is often the medium through which young writers break into print; it constitutes a sort of training school for those who feel the urge to write. In many of the newspapers of the South and West, there are printed whole columns of the efforts of young writers with the literary impulse—poetry, essays, romance

Webb Gets 14 Years For Murder

Mrs. Dora Vaughn and John Kassing to be Tried in September—Conviction Ends Long Delay

Judges Wickes and Keating in the Kent County, Md., court at Chester, last Friday afternoon found John W. Webb, of near Barksdale, Cecil County, guilty of second degree murder and sentenced him to four years in the State penitentiary. Webb shot and killed Joseph Doranco a year ago last April at the home of John Smilyks, near Barksdale, while he was alone in the home attending to the Smilyks children.

Mrs. Dora Vaughn and John Kassing were indicted by the Grand Jury of Cecil County some months ago for alleged complicity in the crime. Their cases, however, were held over by the Kent County jurists until next September. It is alleged that the shooting came about over an argument over a sum of money owed Doranco by Mrs. Vaughn. The trials of the three prisoners had been delayed two or three times, an all three accused the others of the crime during their confinement in jail.

When the case was opened last week, neither side spent much time in presenting their testimony. The judges reserved their decision until Friday and then announced the verdict and sentence.

State's Attorney Clayton and former State's Attorney Warburton and S. Scott Beck prosecuted the case, and Messrs. E. Kirk Brown, Omar D. Crothers and H. W. Vickers defended Webb.

Doranco was left in charge of Smilyks' children while their father was on a trip to Wilmington. After putting the children to bed, Doranco, in walking through the diningroom, was shot, the murderers firing the contents of a gun through the window. The wounded man crawled up stairs and fell dead at the children's door. His body barred the door, thus keeping the little ones prisoners, without food or water, for two days, when their father returned home.

The four small children testified they saw Webb and Kassing leave the farm and heard the shot.

Five cases of smallpox, developing from that of a colored quarry hand, which was discovered on April 17th, were reported to the Public Health Department from the vicinity of Port Deposit, last week. Two cases had also been discovered in Havre de Grace, it was stated. The Port Deposit cases included a woman, two infants, one three and the other two and one-half weeks old, and two men whom local physicians are treating. Dr. J. P. Franklin, a Deputy State Health Officer, is in charge of the situation. Supplies of vaccine points have been sent to the town and also to Havre de Grace.—Exchange.

Impressive and simple ceremonies marked the presentation, yesterday afternoon, of a bronze tablet in memory of the late Dr. H. Arthur Mitchell to Union Hospital, Elkton.

Dr. Vernon X. McKnight, president of the Cecil County Medical Association, made the introductory address, and eulogized the splendid work done by the beloved Dr. Mitchell. Dr. Clifton Laws, of Chesapeake City, made the presentation address and State Senator H. A. Cantwell, of North East, the memorial address. A number of friends of the hospital were present to witness the exercises.

APPOINT COMMISSION

Sure Now That Elkton Unit Will Be Up To Strength and Building Saved

Three new directors of the Elkton Armory, officially designated as a commission were appointed a few days ago. They are Lieut. Russell George, commander of Company E; Delancey Scott, of the Scott Fertilizer Co.; and John H. Terrell, County Treasurer.

Following a period of uncertainty last summer and fall, the prospects of Elkton's National Guard Company remaining intact are at present very bright, according to reports. Aggressive and intensive recruiting work by the officers of the unit have resulted in gathering several young men into the fold, and it is almost certain that the Armory will be saved for the town.

NEW CITIZENS GRAD- UATE FROM AMERI- CANIZATION CLASSES

Former Resident of Delaware City Makes Address In Wilmington

Several hundred pupils of the Wilmington Americanization School were graduated with honors at the annual Commencement exercises held in the High School auditorium, last Saturday evening. The pupils, all of whom are of foreign birth and parentage, thrilled the large audience with their songs, stories and addresses.

The address of the evening was delivered by Michael Pupin, called "Delaware's Most Famous Immigrant," now a nationally known scientist and inventor. Shortly after landing in this country, Mr. Pupin went to Delaware City, where he obtained work on a farm. His rise to fame was almost meteoric. Many residents of Delaware City and surrounding community remember the shy, unlearned immigrant who came to live there several years ago.

Among the Newark people who attended the exercise Saturday evening was Prof. George A. Koerber, head of the Electrical Engineering Department at the University.

NO WORD ON POST OFFICE

Post this afternoon that he had not decided upon what date he will take charge of the office here. The Senate confirmed his appointment on Saturday, April 26th.

He said the situation remains unchanged and nothing new has occurred in the past few days.

HOME ECONOMICS IS SUBJECT OF MEETING

Newark Parent-Teacher Association Hear Principles Explained by Students

The May meeting of the Newark Parent-Teacher Association was held in the High School last evening.

Miss Bruckner, director of the Home Economics Department of our school, introduced two Sophomores, Miss Annie Simmons and Miss Helen Vansant, who explained how Home Economics is being taught in Newark schools.

Miss Simmons explained that Home Economics is not merely sewing and cooking, but a study of clothing and of food. The course brings out the nutritive value of foods, the different kinds of meals to prepare for persons doing different kinds of work, invalid and child cookery, and attractiveness and economy in the preparation of all foods. In sewing, the pupils are taught not only how to make seams and garments, but to know materials, their wearing qualities and becoming-ness to different types. In art work, designs are made by the pupils, applied to materials and embroidered.

Even the refinishing of furniture is practically demonstrated in classroom work. A practical project that is being carried on by the Home Economic girls all over the State is the making of garments for the girls at the Delaware Colony at Stockley, Delaware.

Miss Vansant told most entertainingly of the work among those children in the grades whom they found to be underweight. The children were told of the value of milk and different kinds of foods, of fresh air, exercise, sleep and cleanliness. These children were weighed regularly and so encouraged and directed that twenty-five out of thirty-four gained in weight, while those who did not had been absent from school for various reasons.

Mrs. W. A. Wilkinson, Mr. John Shaw, and Mrs. Houghton reported the Parent-Teacher Convention at Dover as one of the most enthusiastic and inspiring meetings they had ever attended. The fact was brought out that during the administration of Mrs. Cleaver as State President, a term of four years, the number of parent-teacher organizations in the State had increased from 7 to 227, and that the members enrolled are 12,026. The Newark membership numbers 87.

A large percentage of teachers were present at last evening's meeting and it was pointed out that if parents would respond to the call as do the teachers there would be a satisfactory attendance at all meetings.

There will be no more meetings of the Association until after the opening of school next fall.

Newark Man Officer of Colonial Wars Society

Charles B. Evans, of Newark, was elected deputy governor of the Society of Colonial Wars in the State of Delaware, at a meeting of the organization in the Hotel duPont, Monday evening. Mr. Evans has long been a member of the Society. Lieut.
Gov. J. Danforth Bush was elected governor, and former Mayor LeRoy

COMMUNITY MAY GIVE TO MEMORIAL TABLET

A meeting of the Memorial Day Committee will be held tonight, at which final plans for the exercises at the "boulder" on the University campus, May 30th, will be made.

The matter of a memorial tablet to the boys from rural New Castle, who were inducted into the service on the site of the boulder will also be decided.

The chairman of the sub-committee on the tablet stated today that every citizen and organization in the community will be given an opportunity to contribute towards the memorial fund. Solicitation will not be made; the contributions will be purely voluntary and may take the form of floral offerings or money for the bronze tablet, or both, as the individual or firm may wish.

He further stated that the cost of the erection of the tablet has already been underwritten, but the community as a whole, from whose ranks the boys went to war, should be the first to have the chance to give.

It is believed a decision will be made public.

OGLETOWN SCHOOL CHILDREN PERFORM

The pupils of the Ogletown School, near Newark, gave a very interesting entertainment of music, dialogue and recitations on Wednesday, April 30th.
Arbor Day was celebrated and the children brought in large collections of spring flowers and shrubbery for exhibition. Rodney Eastburn brought in 13 different specimens. A splendid time was had by the pupils and friends. Miss Jennie Smith is teacher at the Ogletown School.

Harvey, lieutenant-governor.

Most of the members of the association were present. Dr. Hiram R.
Burton, of Lewes, a lenial descendant of Caesar Rodney, gave an interesting account of Rodney's ride as told to him by his grandmother. He refuted the report that Caesar Rodney was courting a Tory maiden before his memorable ride, but rather that he was working for the cause of liberty in Delaware when he was informed that his vote was needed.

OVERLAND BLUE BIRD IS LOWEST PRICED CAR WITH BALLOON TIRES

With public interest in balloon tires at its height Willys-Overland announces its newest model, the Overland Blue Bird, the lowest-priced motor car with genuine balloon tires furnished as standard equipment.

Those who have seen the car at its preliminary showings at the factory agree that the Blue Bird is the most striking design that has ever been produced by this organization.

The combination of a long, roomy body done in rich Peacock Blue, set off by black fenders and running gear, smartened by nicked radiator, windshield stanchions and outside door handles; with upholstery of a bluish shade to match the body, and a top of similar hue, creates an appearance of spirit and sparkle that is entirely in keeping with its happy choice of trade name.

GREETINGS FROM NICE

Foreign Study Group Spend Easter in Famous Italian Resort

The News Editor of The Post is in receipt of a post card from Prof. Raymond Kirkbride, leader of Delaware's Foreign Study Group in France this year, mailed from Nice, where the Delaware boys spent the Easter season.

No mention was made of the grades they received in their courses at Monte Carlo, close by.

Before her return home Mrs. Smith visited her daughter, Mrs. Sharpless, at West Chester Hospital.

The following school pupils had perfect attendance records during April:

Room No. 1—Dorothy Roser, Doris Wirt, Esther Roser, Helen Hannum, Beatrice Roser, Eugene VanSant, William Deery, Arthur Crossan, Arthur Bonsall, Harry Wirt, Earl Thompson, Francis Deery, Stewart McVaugh, Pierre VanSant and Donald Woodward.

Room No. 2—Mary Hannum, Elizabeth Taylor, Helen Roser, Jeannette Corrie, Robert McVaugh, John McVaugh, Francis Lamborn, Richard McVaugh, and Matthew Sullivan.

DELAWARE*IN LITERATURE

(Continued from Page 2.) and philosophy. But when a correspondent writes for a Delaware newspaper, he confines his remarks to politics. The impression is that, outside of the news of the day, there is just one topic that is worth a moment's notice—politics.

There is such a thing as a people becoming too centered on the mere material side of life. We must not forget beauty and romance. An individual and a whole people may lead a drab existence; but living is not merely a matter of three meals a day with a possible chance to go to the Legislature as our goal.

We have our corn-growing clubs and hog-judging contests for the boys in the schools, and the girls are taught how to conduct a home and to cook decent meals. All of which is fine, practical and not to be altered.

But there is a deeper, finer strain in our boys and girls. Why not give it a chance to blossom and fruit? Why not encourage them to sketch, to write, to develop the talents that they possess? Why not local history contests? Why not poetry contests?

The proudest boast of most of us is that we are a practical people, and we hold up to our youth the single ideal of getting along in the world; but any great people gives evidence of its greatness in its literature, its art and its philosophy. And the talents of the few blossom most abundantly when the atmosphere around them is encouraging and there is general

His Weakness

The street cleaners were discussing a comrade who had died the day before.

"Bill certainly was a good sweeper," said one.

"Y-e-s," conceded the other thoughtfully. "But don't you thing he was a bit weak around the lamp-posts?"

recognition and support.

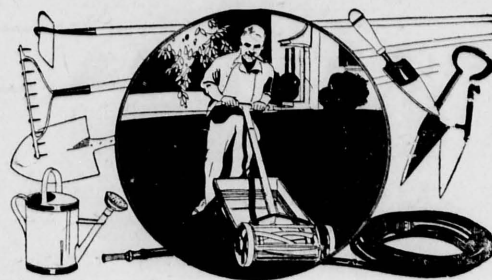

And why should Delaware not have a place in literature? Spoon River can have its laureate. The drab prairies of Indiana have their interpreters. The heroine of many a story hails from Maryland or Virginia. But who would imagine that she could be the pride of Wilmington or Dover?

There is hope that, in the atmosphere of Delaware University, there will develop a love for the arts that will be broadcast through the state, and that the coming generation will strengthen that link in which we are weakest and in time create a literature worthy of our people and of our history.

Quantity Purchase of QUALITY FEEDS

Quality comes first, but economy follows close after, as prime factors in the Eastern States 1924 Feed Pool now in progress.

Quality in the four feeds offered has been proven by the past experience of over 11,000 farmer-users; the maintenance of that quality is assured by continued adherence to the original open formulae under which they are manufactured and distributed; the efficiency of that quality is guaranteed by constant attention to digestibility as the true measure of feeding-value.

Experience, too, has shown the real economy in consistent Pool-buying of feeds, year after year. Moreover, certain new features in the 1924 Pool plan make it the most effective means yet devised for the quantity purchase of quality feeds.

This Pool ends May 31st. To be sure of placing your feed order in time, send to Springfield headquarters for details, or communicate at once with Roland C. Handy, Delaware representative, at the branch Eastern States office, Capitol Hotel Bldg., Dover, Delaware.

THE LAST OF THE SPRING BREAKERS

Persons who have any particular sentiment regarding the stretch of road between Kembleville and the Delaware State Line, would do well to pay their respects to it immediately, for within a few months this historic highway, with a record of having broken the most springs and generated more profanity than any thoroughfare in the world, will have passed out of existence. The machinery for building the stretch in concrete arrived at Kelton last week, together with several loads of material. The work is to be pushed through with all expedition and long before fall one will be able to reach Newark without going round by way of Richmond, Virginia. — Oxford News.

"Blossom Time" at Playhouse

"Blossom Time" which comes to the Playhouse, Wilmington, next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, is that wholly different thing in the way of musical comedy or operetta which music lovers have long hoped for. As everyone knows now, its story is not only based on the character and romance of the greatest song composer of all time, but in his own person, Franz Schubert is the chief character of the action. Moreover, some of his finest music, and many of the loveliest songs are utilized in the score, and the Messrs. Schubert are sending here an organization of splendid singers to render the Schubert music, as adapted by Sigmund Romberg, which involves bits of the "Unfinished Symphony," then there is of course, "The Serenade," "The Brook," "Why," "Up, Up the Lark," strains from the Rosemund overture, motifs from A Quintette for Strings, and many of the memorable songs familiar to music lovers of all generations. Comedy abounds and the love story is wholly entrancing, making "Blossom Time" an attraction everyone will enjoy.

The cast is headed by Greek Evans, famous baritone well known through the South, through his having been the baritone with the Scotti and Creature Grand Opera Companies. In the company are Margaret Merle, Robert Lee Allen, Fenita de Soria, Alma Keller, Bee Brady, Isabel Vernon, Verna Schaff, Cliff Whitcomb, Edward Orchard, Gregory Ratoff, Jack Hamilton, Oliver T. McCormick, and many others, not forgetting the "Blossom Time" chorus.

THE COW-TESTERS' OWN COLUMN

Review of Work in Delmarvia Association - List of Ten Highest Producers - Several Farmers Getting Good Results

The April report of this Association brings out one very important point—a little foresight is worth a great deal of hindsight. Isn't it the truth? Fred Ginns down near Churchtown is making milk at a cost of 88.8 cents for each 100 pounds and butterfat at 24.8 cents. He believes in feeding grain, too, but mixes his own, using plenty of protein with his home grown corn and good sense, or perhaps good judgment would be a better way of expressing it. Last fall he exercised some of this good judgment and sowed a field of rye early, pastured it in the late fall and made some milk, pastured it in early spring and made more milk, then he switched to wheat for a couple of weeks while the ground was firm, then back again on the rye and a lot of cheap milk. He is still feeding grain, a little fodder, but he hasn't got a silo and his hay crop was short, yet his cows made more milk during April individually than they made in March.

Fred Jackson, over on Wirt Willis' farm near Glasgow, is still nursing along his favorite cow, Coweview Beauty, in the high ten. He sowed rye last fall especially for her but as it grew so good he turned in her stable mates to help keep it young and tender, so he is making not only cheap milk, but plenty of it. In fact, he holds the record this month for average production of milk—789 pounds per cow with 14 cows milking and one dry. When his dry cow freshens we will have to set down four figures for his average.

Eugene Feucht and son have a cow in their herd that we would like to own. She is never satisfied to just give 50 pounds of fat and then drop out of the way, but instead is pushing up all the time. Only one other cow has exceeded her in fat for April and she holds the record for milk on two times schedule over all cows. In fact, she is milking heavier now than she has this year and being ambitious she evidently will continue upwards until she hits the top of the list all around. When a cow wants to milk, give her a chance, don't starve her. Carl Feucht is so enthusiastic over Holsteins in general and Lilly in particular that he sometimes overlooks those few Guernseys that are keeping his test high. Beauty is right on the job with a 56 per cent test on 960 pounds of milk and standing number four on the list of high ten this month. This is her second month among the honored few. Every cow has her place in the herd except the boarder and we try to get rid of them.

Three hundred seventy-one cows in Association with 308 in milk during April. Of this number 17 made better than 40 pounds fat for the month.

High herd average for milk, J. Wirt Willis—789 pounds. 15 cow herd, one dry.

High butterfat average, R. M. Fontaine, Holly Hall Farm, 28.5 lbs., 18 cow herd, one dry.

The cheapest milk was produced by F. A. Ginns, Chesapeake City, Md., on wheat and ry pasture at a feed cost of 88.8 cents per 100 lbs. He also produced butterfat most cheaply at a cost for feed of 24.8 cents per lb. J. W. Willis' herd at Glasgow was next for milk with the same pasturage conditions and some additional grain feed at $1.12 per 100 lbs. The herd of H. B. Crowgey, Elkton Farm, is second lowest in cost of butterfat at 28.7 cents per lb., made on pasture with but a small additional expense for grain. Mr. Ginns is feeding a small quantity of grain to produce his cheap milk made up with some of his own feed and purchased concentrates.—Fred B. Martenis, Tester.

SCOUT NEWS

Scoutmaster Shaw was not present at our meeting last Thursday, having been called away on a business trip. Assistant Scoutmaster Houghton and the Patrol Leaders made us "toe the mark," though. Signalling contests were arranged for the evening. Each team lined up (team consisted of one sender and one receiver, with an assistant for each). The contest was against time counted from the signal to start until message was turned over to the judge by the receiver. Messages were without abbreviations. Mistakes in the message were taken off for. The team that won managed to turn out in a minute a message of 28 words, with no mistakes, and not counting intervals. It may not sound brilliant, but—try it for yourself once. While this signalling was taking place, Senior Patrol Leader Grothenn had under his tutelage another bunch, trying to instill the knowledge of knot tying into them. Having finished all this in due time (somewhat as Caesar would put it), several games of "Capture-the-Flag" (sides under Johnny and Ches), were rather recreating. Johnny's side won decisively; three games to one. We adjourned with the Scout Oath.—Scribe.

Moved to Elkton

Rev. Ernest E. Weaver, Lancaster, moved this week to Elkton. Eight years ago he moved from Maryland to Lancaster. He has a record as a marrying parson and it is said, has married 2000 couples since last September. He was the minister in Camp Dix for whom citizens of Lancaster raised money to buy a car.—Exchange.

DELAWARE DOWNS SWARTHMORE 7-1

Quakers Surprised by Blue and Gold Hitters; Pryor Holds Visitors Safe

With Bartlett, their star pitcher, taking a terrible lacing at the hands of Delaware bats, and the entire confidence of the team badly shaken after the second inning, Swarthmore College went down to a disastrous defeat at the hands of McAvoy's men last Saturday on Frazer Field, 7-1.

All the Delaware runs came in the first and second innings and were the result of hard, consistent hitting. Mike Underwood, captain of the team, drove in two runs in the first frame with a long double to left center. In the second, hits by Gibson, Pryor, Mannix and Williams accounted for three of the five runs scored at that time. The bombardment was too much for Bartlett and to avoid further humiliation he was yanked in favor of Carr, the burly first baseman. Carr was equal to the task and he silenced the Delaware attack for the rest of the game.

In the meantime, Pryor, the Sophomore pitcher, was holding the Quakers very safe indeed. His curve and fast ball were under control and the enemy seemed very tame at the bat.

Jimmy Mannix out in center made two beautiful catches during the game, both being one-handed stabs made after long runs. The infielding of Hunt and Gibson were also features of a brilliantly played game.

Inning after inning went by without a score and as early as the fifth it was very evident that Swarthmore was through for the day. In the ninth inning, however, they took advantage of a lapse of control by Pryor and pushed their lone run across, spoiling the little Delawarean's shutout prospects.

A large crowd witnessed the game, and the weather was ideal for baseball.

Hoch, Underwood and Williams featured at the bat for the Blue and Gold. The score:

KREBS GOES TO TOP OF COUNTY LEAGUE

Diamond State played its first home game Saturday and gave Five Points a setback to the tune of 10 to 9. Hayward was sent to the showers in the fifth inning after being nicked for seven runs and seven hits. He was relieved by Goebner, the star twirler from Philadelphia, who was hit freely in the eighth, Diamond State collecting three runs, which sewed up the game.

STUDENTS VISIT CAPITAL

American Government Class of University See Washington

Under the leadership of Prof. George H. Ryden, twelve members of the American Government class of the Men's College arrived home yesterday after three days spent in Washington, D. C., viewing the sights of the nation's capital. Among the chief features of the trip were visits to the House and Senate in session and some time spent in the various Senate inquiries now going on.

The group was received by President Coolidge during the visit. They were accompanied to the White House by Senator Ball, of Delaware.

Yorklyn Humbles Local Ball Club Saturday 8-5

Newark's Punch Lacking With Men on Bases—Rain Interrupts Pastime For a While

Inability to whale the old ball for solid safeties with their mates patiently waiting on the base paths proved to be the contributing cause to Newark's downfall before Yorklyn Saturday in a County League game. With the exception of Bill Bland's homer in the first inning, the Newark bats could drive but short singles through the infield and short liners to the outer gardens. Four safeties was the total gathered from the deceptive shoots of George. And four hits rarely win ball games these days. The Newark team played clever baseball on the defense, however, and looked much better than they did in their first home appearance the previous Saturday.

This fellow George was poison to Newark hitters, and his team fielded well behind him at all critical moments. Bland's homer started the game off right but the Yorklyn boys soon over-hauled that one run lead and kept pecking away at Watkins and later at Gardener until the game was safely stowed away.

Watkins was very liberal with passes, giving nine men free trips to first, and yielding 8 hits. He also made four wild pitches. Yorklyn had 11 men left on bases, thereby saving Newark the humiliation of several more potential runs.

A fairly good crowd turned out to see the game and supported their favorites throughout the fracas. A sudden shower called a halt on the pastime about the middle of the game, but after a twenty-minute delay, the umpire called the teams back into action and the game was finished. The score:

Newark High Piles Up Big Score On Middletown

Punishment Stopped in Sixth Inning of Game Here Last Friday—Errors Pave The Way

Newark High had little trouble in disposing of Middletown High School in a D. I. A. A. game here Friday afternoon, score 13-5. The down-state boys managed to hang close to the locals for the first two innings, going into the third with a one run lead. Newark bats, and Middletown errors then swung into action and Elder's boys slipped away, never to be headed. The game was called in the sixth inning with Newark still in a run-making mood, to allow the visitors to get home for supper.

A strange part of the game was the fact that Middletown outthrew Newark 7-6, but could do little with the pitching of Harkness or Johnson when hits were needed. Six bases on ball off Vansant coupled with Middletown errors and Newark hits were responsible for all the local runs. Hopkins featured at the bat for Newark, getting two long doubles. Rose also hit for a double and single.

The work of Voshell and Lee, visiting outfielders, cut off several more runs. They made seven putouts between them in the short game.

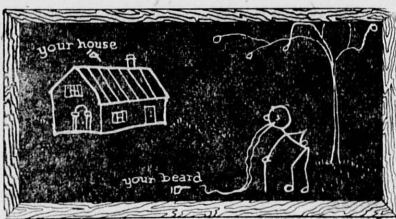

Newark's slate in the D. I. A. A. remains unsullied by defeat, and the team is going stronger than ever. The score:

ELKTON LOSES FIRST LEAGUE GAME

Foster Hard to Fathom In Pinches; Score Was 3-2

Elkton's champion ball club traveled over to Elk Mills last Saturday fully expecting an easy victory over the cliff dwellers from that town in a Susquehanna League game. When the smoke of battle had cleared away and the last man was safely out, however, the county seaters were forced to admit defeat by a 3-2 score. It was quite a setback for Elkton, and greatly pleased the large crowd of Elk Mills rooters. Both teams played snappy baseball, and started the season in a fitting manner.

Foster, former Rising Sun ace, was on the mound for Elk Mills and pitched another one of his splendid games. He held the heavy hitting Elkton club in check all the way through the nine innings. He has been real "Poison" to the league champs in the past and appears to have kept the same spell going. He was ably supported by his teammates.

Elk Mills fought an uphill battle, as Elkton pushed their two runs across in the second inning. In the fifth, the home team got to Clay for one run and followed in the sixth and seventh with two more and the game.

A strong wind blew across the field during the fracas and hampered the fielders on fly balls. "Jerry" Dunbar on one occasion could have stepped back twenty feet and snared a fly which had all the earmarks of a long drive to left field. As it happened the ball fell between Marcus and Dunbar for a safety. The pitchers were in good form all afternoon and the much vaunted bats of both teams' heavy hitters were impotent in the face of such hurling. The score:
