COL. MILLER LAUDS WORK OF THE GOVERNMENT ON REHABILITATION PLAN

Alien Property Custodian Guest of Local Officials at Rehab Commencement Friday Last—Reception Held in His Honor Later

HENRY S. FRETZ WINS MILLNER PRIZE CUP

Col. Thomas W. Miller, Alien Property Custodian of the United States, was the speaker at the February Commencement exercises of the Rehabilitation Division of the University at Wolf Hall last Friday afternoon.

The theme of Col. Miller's speech was in the form of an outline of what the government's debt to the boys who fought and were incapacitated in the Great War should be, and what they have received in the matter of rehabilitation and education at the expense of the Government.

He lauded the spirit of the overseas veterans, who, though in many cases badly crippled or weakened for the rest of their lives, have worked hard through the channels of rehabilitation to prepare themselves to start all over again in the battle of life.

He outlined some of the phases of the fight in Washington to persuade Congress to pass an adequate Rehabilitation Bill; called attention to the great work now being done all over the country in this respect.

Views On Bonus

While he did not dwell at length on the Soldiers' Bonus as a direct issue confronting the nation, Col. Miller did state the "ex-service men have never asked for the bonus; it has not been their doing whatever."

Col. Miller recited several instances where the failure of a means to protect the disabled veterans would have resulted in untold hardships and misery throughout the nation. He believes the nation is doing a great work and that the members of the graduating class here have come to realize that they have now the preparation to make good in the life which was so blasted by the war.

In closing, he called attention to the fact that they should remember little Delaware, and that the State feels proud of them and they should feel a bit proud of their adopted State, too.

Miller Cup Awarded

The Edward A. Miller cup, awarded in memory of a late member of the Unit here was awarded by Prof. Albert Schaffle to Henry S. Fretz, of Easton, Pa., a member of next year's graduating class. The cup signifies that the holder is the best all-round judge of poultry, both fancy and utility, in the school. Mr. Fretz was loudly applauded as he went forward to accept the cup.

The cup was held during the past year by E. S. Brant, a member of the current graduating class.

National Speaker At Local Dinner

F. D. E. Babcock Addressed Business Men Thursday—Novel Entertainment Pleases

ELECT OFFICERS TONIGHT

The first 1924 dinner of the Newark Chamber of Commerce was held in Old College, last Thursday evening, with about 80 members and guests present. It was one of the most lively and successful affairs of its kind held here since the inception of the business men's organization.

F. D. E. Babcock, eastern representative of the National Chamber of Commerce was the speaker of the evening, and gave a most interesting and convincing talk on the ideals, aims and real results which can be gained in any town with the help of an unbiased, hardworking Chamber of Commerce. He congratulated the Newark Chamber on the turnout at the banquet, and added that he had never seen so many attending an affair in a town this size.

The speaker emphasized, by illustration, what has been done in other towns and held out the hope that Newark would continue doing things in a big and useful way, with the business men working hand in hand behind the good movement.

In speaking of the trend of the new type of Chambers, the speaker emphasized that it was not to bring in new industries, but that it was their prime objectives to better the civic life of the community.

In all there are 1300 Chambers in the country. They are represented in Washington by the national body, for which a new $2,000,000 building is being erected. (Continued on Page 8.)

FORM ROTARY CLUB

Elkton Organization Inaugurated Last Night

The Rotary Club of Elkton was formed at a meeting in that town last evening. The Baltimore District Rotary president was on hand, about 12 members of the Havre de Grace Club. Irvin T. Kepler was elected the first president of Rotary in Elkton, and William C. Feehly, secretary-treasurer. Nineteen members are on the roster.

CALL IN PEACE BALLOTS

Local Bok Plan Committee Met Monday Night; Results to Date

The referendum on the Bok Peace Plan closed for Newark Monday last, and that evening the members of the Mayor's Committee met in the office of Prof. G. H. Ryden. All ballot boxes which were placed about town were called in and the work of counting the Newark vote will be finished within a few days.

Radio fans listening in at the presentation ceremonies in Philadelphia, Monday night, report that a total of 401,183 votes had been turned in from all parts of the country to the central office up to Sunday night.

Of this number 351,256 of 88 per cent voted in favor of the plan and 49,927, or 12 per cent, against it.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Miss Harriet Wilson, a member of the Newark schools teaching staff, was taken to the Homeopathic Hospital in Wilmington yesterday and was operated on today for appendicitis.

Miss Wilson had been undergoing treatment to avoid an operation for several days, but her condition prompted her physician to take this step.

COMMUNITY DANCE PLNS

Invitations have been issued to several hundred Newark residents to attend a dance to be given Friday evening the 15th in the New Century Club House. Madden's Orchestra will furnish the music for the occasion. It is the aim of the committee in charge to make the affair one to be enjoyed by the community.

PUBLIC MEETING ON PEACE PLANS

The Delaware Peace Award Committee has made final arrangements for a public meeting on the Peace Plan, to be held in the Playhouse, on Sunday, February 10th, at three o'clock p. m. Judge Gray will preside. The speakers will be Mr. Henry Ridgely, Mr. Pierre duPont and Dr. Joseph H. Odell.

The citizens of Newark and friends are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

MODERN TREND OF EDUCATION SHOWN BY PROF. WILKINSON IN ADDRESS

P-T. Meeting Last Night Well Attended—Sixth Grade Pupils Present Original Playlet

The February meeting of the Newark Parent-Teacher Association was held last evening in the High School, the number in the audience indicating a growing interest in the meetings.

Pupils of the sixth grade, directed by Miss Martin, presented a playlet written by one of their number, Margaret Merrill. A mock session of school was also given, the pupils delighting the audience with their recitations and singing lesson.

The address of the evening was made by Prof. W. A. Wilkinson, whose subject was "Present-Day Tendencies in Education." Prof. Wilkinson showed how methods in teaching were changing as in other professions. The school of a generation or so ago was shown to have insisted too much on the learning of things that really did not add to the enrichment of the life of the child nor to his value as a citizen. Today, in the best schools the health of the child and his sanitary environment are of first importance. The tendencies characterizing modern instruction in schools is to make learning a pleasure and to provide a curriculum that will enrich the life of the pupil, giving him an appreciation of the beautiful, training him in citizenship as well as in the practical courses that will help him in his life's work. These changes were shown to have developed from experiment and their value to have been scientifically tested.

An interesting discussion followed Prof. Wilkinson's talk.

Among the visitors at last evening's meeting were Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Whiteman, of Delaware City.

SUSPEND CLASSES IN MEMORY OF WILSON

University Closed at 3.30 This Afternoon During Funeral

All classes at the University were suspended at 3.30 o'clock this afternoon in memory of the late Woodrow Wilson, War President of the United States, whose funeral was held this afternoon in Washington.

Arrangements were also made to toll the Episcopal Church bell here for ten minutes during the funeral services.

READY FOR JUNIOR PROM

College Students Hold Big Affair Friday Night at Hotel

The annual Junior Prom of the University, the biggest social event of the collegiate year, will be held in the gold ballroom of the Hotel duPont, in Wilmington, on Friday evening next. Alumni and upper classmen have been provided with tickets to the affair. As has been the case in former years, tickets will not be issued to Freshmen unless some are left over at the last minute.

The music will be furnished by George Madden's Orchestra, and refreshments will be served in the duBarry room.

John G. Leach, of New Castle, president of the Junior Class at the Men's College, is in charge of the dance, aided by several committees of his classmates. It is believed over 350 people will attend the affair.

TAKING OUT TREES

Town workmen have about completed the removal of several trees along East Main Street. The trees have long been considered menaces to pedestrians and motorists, in some cases extending out beyond the curbstone.

At Council meeting Monday night, Mayor Frazer reported that several townspeople had requested removal of trees from their sidewalks. It is likely that the work will continue.

STARVED BY MAD BROTHER

Tragedy Uncovered in Vicinity of Oxford, Pa., By Police, Monday

Locked in a room with two mongrel dogs, and suffering with poisoning in her arm, Miss Mary Mooney, of West Nottingham Township, near Oxford, Pa., was found dead from starvation and gangrene, Monday of this week, by police of Oxford.

Her brother, Isaac Mooney, is a raving maniac, and now is confined in the Chester County Hospital for the Insane at Embreeville. It has been learned that Miss Mooney had burned herself at the kitchen stove, and that her brother refused to get a doctor. Instead, he suddenly lost his mind, and locking her up in the room with the dogs, he stood off several neighbors attracted by the cries with a shotgun. He was overpowered by police.

Council Reduces College Light Bill

25% Added Charge for Buildings Outside Town Taken Off—Routine Business Transacted

PAY OFF $10,000 NOTE

Town Council at their regular monthly meeting, Monday evening, revoked the 25 per cent additional charges for town light and water for the University of Delaware for use in buildings outside the town limits. Due to the fact that the college uses such large amounts of both current and water, such action was taken.

Council had little business to dispose of at the meeting. Considerable discussion hinged, however, about the sewer rate for the new school building on Academy Street. There has been no specific charge agreed upon, and it appeared to be the consensus of opinion among the councilmen that the school authorities be charged at a rate which will cover the cost of the construction of the sewer. The actual cost was not known to the Council, and the matter was referred to the Mayor to look up.

A balance on hand of about $12,000 was announced by the secretary, Mrs. Hossinger. It was moved and carried that Council pay off a note of $10,000 advanced from a local bank for street construction during 1923.

May Paint Fire Plugs

Several fire plugs within town limits were reported out of line by Councilmen. Some project out into the street and are in danger of being broken by heavy trucks, and others are too far into the sidewalks. Mr. Wilson was appointed to make a survey of needed improvements in this line. It was also suggested that the plugs be painted.

Mayor Frazer requested that the papers publish a warning to Main Street merchants to refrain from sweeping nails and rubbish into the street after unpacking cases. This action was decided upon in order to save Council the trouble of sending letters to each individual storekeeper. After some other minor matters had been disposed of, Council adjourned to meet at the call of the president.

STILL HUNTING FOR ALLEGED MURDERER

Delaware Authorities On Trail of Clues Following Death of Leach

Delaware police are working on clues this week which they hope will lead to the early arrest of the person or persons who are believed to have murdered Richard Leach, of near Pleasant Hill in Cecil County Friday night last. Leach was found burned to a crisp in the doorway of the ruins of a home he had just bought near the village.

It is believed that clues will lead the officers to the dead man's former home near Grubb's Landing along the Delaware River above Wilmington. It is thought that robbery was the motive for the crime. No arrests have been made. Two Negro suspects were held for grilling early this week, but were given their freedom when they proved alibis.

LEAVING FOR FLORIDA

Dr. G. Burton Pearson will leave Friday afternoon on a trip South. He will visit his sisters, Mrs. L. L. A. Almond, of Elberton, Georgia, and Mrs. John Greenlee, of Lakeland, Fla., and other points of interest. He will return about March 1st.

MEEK AND LOWLY FORD GETS OVERDOSE OF ALCOHOL--GOES ON RAMPAGE HERE

Residents of the central portion of the Main Street section of town were greatly stirred one day last week by the frantic attempt of Newton Sheaffer's Ford truck to demolish the front of R. G. Buckingham's store, across the street. Passersby, unable to account for the vicious attacks of the Ford, decided to scatter, and come back later, when the dust had settled.

Upon later investigation, it was learned that "Henry" had been given an overdose of alcohol, which went to his head (or, perhaps, his transmission), and caused him to forget his dignity and humility for the moment. Considerably moved and visibly affected by the strange actions of his faithful chariot, Mr. Sheaffer confessed to authorities, after much questioning, that he was responsible for the deed.

When arraigned upon the charge, Mr. Sheaffer stated that for the past several weeks, he had been carefully draining the water from his Ford every night before retiring, and then in the mornings would spend many fretful minutes in trying to coax the warmth of action into its cold body. As a general rule, the Ford would not respond to cranking treatment until Mr. Sheaffer's temper was nearly exhausted.

So on this particular cold and dreary morning, when no one is in the best of humor, the Ford refused absolutely to go out and earn its daily gasoline.

Disgusted with the contraption, asserts Mr. Sheaffer, he ordered alcohol in copious quantities from a garage. Then he filled the Ford clear to the deed.

According to information which Elkton authorities were able to gather Saturday, Leach held a little party at his new home at Pleasant Hill for a few friends. Guests were present from his former home at Grubb's Landing.

Nothing was heard of the man after the guests departed until late that night, when neighbors saw flames shooting from the stone house. The blaze quickly consumed the building and volunteer firemen, who rushed to the scene, were powerless to render any aid.

After the ruins had cooled, Leach's body was found in the doorway of his home. It was burned to a crisp. The coroner, M. F. Magraw, of Elkton, was at once notified and took charge of the body. It was brought to the Elkton jail shortly before noon, and States Attorney Clayton ordered an autopsy made and an inquest held. The inquest was held in the jail during the afternoon.

Suffered Crushed Skull

The autopsy performed by Dr. William Morrison, of Elkton, clearly showed that Leach had been attacked and that death was due to a crushed skull, and not by burns received.

The man's skull was split for a distance of six inches, and the doctor testified that he had received a terrific blow from some blunt instrument.

The coroner's jury examined the body and the skull, and later rendered a verdict of death by causes as yet undetermined. They recommended that Mr. Clayton instigate a vigorous investigation and that if murder was believed to have been committed to at once start prosecution.

The aid of the Delaware police has been sought and efforts to locate the members of the group who were at Leach's party are being made. It is believed that from interviews from the dead man's friends, it can be learned whether or not Leach had any particular enemy.

Showed Large Roll of Money

Leach's first appearance in Elkton occurred a few weeks ago, when he came down to start negotiations for the purchase of the Rogers place, near Pleasant Hill. The deal was consummated through Frank H. Thompson, of Elkton.

Both before and during the negotiations, Leach appeared well supplied with money, continually showing a large bank roll whenever making a purchase.

Leach had occupied the premises about four hours, it is said, before flames destroyed it. While helping him arrange his effects, Mr. Rogers found an old pair of trousers containing $111 in cash, it is reported, and gave the money to Leach.

The dead man was well known throughout the community near Holly Oak, Del., and was a brother of a former clerk of the Board of Assessments in Wilmington.

Clues are very scarce, according to the Maryland police. A neighbor by the name of Moore is said to have reported seeing a car parked in front of the Leach house shortly before the fire, and that he saw two men leave the house, get into the car and drive off. Moore could not give an accurate description of the men.

Funeral Held Yesterday

Funeral services for the murdered man were held from the Chandler funeral parlors in Wilmington, where the body was taken from Elkton.

Interment was made later in Chester, Bethel Cemetery.

Woodrow Wilson

Student, teacher, author, publicist, a thinker and authority on Government, president of a great University—Woodrow Wilson was read and quoted wherever State Craft was studied and discussed. He was, and was recognized as one of America's Scholars. From the study of History and Theory of Politics, he stepped from the life of the Seminary and Campus, to the Governorship of his State. Without previous association and contact with so-called practical politics, he became, in a few months, a dominant National figure. Championed by Bryan, he fought to defeat the Tammany influence and was made President. Events following in quick succession and the Great War made him a World Figure. The Armistice and Peace Conference brought him to an eminence unsurpassed in our History. His return and his battling appeal for approval for his acts, broke him down. For his ideals, he gave his all and fell facing those who opposed.

This simple recital recalls the steps of his career. It can well be termed the Romance of the Scholar. Surely it is as dramatic as any rise to power in History.

With the inheritance, training, polish and life of a gentleman student and philosopher, he was a strong dominating personality. He asked nor gave quarter. By profession a recluse of the library, in action he had force. His idea of Right was his civic creed and dared interference. He was a leader to the verge of an autocrat as all strong leaders are. He lived and served in a time when Civilization stood at bay. He faced World problems and gave in solution his life's study and blood. He faced opposition, created antagonism, honest, personal and political.

Today, the personal, the honest and political opposition stand uncovered—He gave his life for his country. That is as he should. But the nobility of his life and the grandeur of his death was that he gave it so valiantly. No soldier gave more. He was an American—a great American. His life and death show his interpretation of America—to give all for Country and Ideals. As such, he enters on the Great Adventure of The New Freedom.

Philosophy of Coolidge

I agree that the measure of success is not merchandise but character. But I do criticize those sentiments, held in all too respectable quarters, that our economic system is fundamentally wrong, that commerce is only selfishness, and that our citizens holding the hope of all that America means, are living in industrial slavery. I appeal to Amherst men to reiterate and sustain the Amherst doctrine that the man who builds a factory builds a temple, that the man who works there worships there and to each is due, not scorn and blame, but reverence and praise. —From an Address before Amherst College Alumni Association, 1916.

IN DEFENSE OF THE DEAD

The following able editorial appeared in the "Every Evening" on Saturday last, and calls to mind both the fairness and the unfairness of the American Press during these days of national stress and strain.

"UNCALLED FOR THRUST AT MR. HARDING."

"The late President Harding came into office under the auspices of the Old Guard, with whom he long had been allied when he was a member of the Senate. But, nevertheless, Mr. Harding was a man of unquestioned honesty who possessed an abiding wish to help his friends whenever he could do so with what he believed was propriety. His geniality, his warmth of heart and his desire to please his friends, were the main things, for which he might have been criticized as an executive. Events of the past three years have proved only too eloquently that Mr. Harding misplaced his trust more than once; that he believed in friends who were not to be trusted. For such misjudgments, his memory is more to be pitied than condemned.

"It is with a deep sense of distress, therefore, which borders onto disgust that we read in the editorial columns of the Philadelphia Record, a Democratic newspaper, the following unworthy paragraph:

Before this storm is over some damage is likely to be done to a shrine in Marion, O.

"We must confess that these words, and the unwholesome suggestion they carry, are hard to understand, coming from a newspaper which is accustomed to appealing in its columns for fair-play. Mr. Harding is dead. His lips have been sealed. The mausoleum in which his body rests is more than a mere tomb. It contains the dust of a man who held the highest office in the gift of his fellow countrymen. His memory is tender and abiding to his relatives and to a large number of friends throughout the country. If he made mistakes while in office; if he erred in judgment; if he misplaced his trust in men who were members of his official family, his mistakes were mistakes of the heart, and not wilful misdoings of a deliberate mind.

"Surely Death should protect such a man of clean character from the attacks of persons, who some how, stray from the paths of decency itself in giving vent to their bias and partisanship."

"Good Roads, Flowers, Parks, Better Schools, Trees, Pure Water, Fresh Air, Sunshine and Work for Everybody."

OPERA HOUSE FILLED TO HEAR BAND CONCERT

Sunday Afternoon Affair Draws Much Praise To Local Musicians

About 400 people attended the first Sunday afternoon band concert, given by the Continental Band, of this place, in the Newark Opera House this week. The first event of this nature to be held here, it was a most pronounced success, and all who were present enjoyed an afternoon of real music.

The program rendered by the Newark musicians, under the capable leadership of Prof. Charles Edwards, of Wilmington, was well balanced and brought out each part of the band in a manner which showed that they had put in many hours of hard and faithful practice.

The solo work by Mr. Wilmer S. Boddy, of Philadelphia, a baritone, and Charles L. Edwards, violinist, of Wilmington, was greatly appreciated by the audience. Mr. Boddy sang a group of four solos and displayed a resonant baritone of real merit.

Young Edwards, son of the director of the Continental Band, is himself an accomplished violinist, and proved it beyond the shadow of a doubt to his Newark hearers.

Following a similar concert in the Queen Theatre, of Wilmington, in a few days, it is the plan of Manager Perry, of the band, to stage another Sunday concert in Newark in the course of about six weeks.

An iron ore deposit estimated at 10,000,000 tons has been discovered in the Straits Settlements, with signs of coal in the same vicinity.

BE SURE TO COME TO ST. GEORGES ON SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 9th An Invitation

There will be one of the finest meetings at St. Georges on this Saturday that officers and members of our Parent-Teacher Associations have yet had the opportunity to attend. The morning session, opening promptly at 10.30 a. m., will be devoted to a typical P-T. A. program, conducted according to the plan out-lined by the State Program Committee of the Parent-Teacher Association. All officers of the associations of New Castle County, all teachers of the county, and everyone else who feels interested in the work of the P-T. A. for the betterment of the schools, is cordially invited to be present.

One of the features of the meeting will be a Demonstration History Lesson under the direction of Miss Agnes Snyder, of Johns Hopkins University, who will have as her class pupils of the sixth grade at the Middletown School. The class will be illustrative of the present-day method of teaching, with a supervised study period. The subject taken up by Miss Snyder will be the life and deeds of Commodore Thomas MacDonough, a native of St. Georges, and one of Delaware's sons of whom she is justly proud. The lesson will be carried on as a demonstration of school work, such as is suitable to use as part of an ideal P-T. A. program, to give the parents an opportunity to observe regular school work in a modern graded school.

The subject of the history lesson was chosen in honor of the naval hero, whose name has been adopted for the new consolidated school at St. Georges. The dedication of this new school, just completed, and ready to be occupied on Monday, the 11th, will be the program for the afternoon.

This ceremony for the dedication of one of the finest schools that has yet been built for Delaware, will be most impressive. The presentation of the Deed and of the keys of the building will be part of the program, and addresses will be made by the men who have made such a splendid consolidated school possible.

It will be well worth your while to give the entire day to the exercises at St. Georges.

For the convenience of those who come by train, the new school busses will meet all North and South Bound trains at Kirkwood. Those who come for the morning session and wish to stay through the afternoon as well, may have a lunch which the St. Georges P-T. A. will serve to all the delegates.

Let us see representatives from every Parent-Teacher Association in New Castle County among those at St. Georges. Remember, it is this Saturday, February the ninth.

SOCIAL WHIRL

Preceding the concert, Mrs. E. T. Taylor, of 3630 North Eighteenth Street, Tioga, Philadelphia, will entertain them at dinner and on Saturday evening they will be entertained at dinner by Mrs. W. L. Ruffman, Thompson Road, Elkins Park.

TO INSPECT GUARD

Adjutant-General and Staff
Here On 14th

Adjutant-General J. Austin Ellison and staff will be in Newark on the evening of February 14th next to inspect the members and quarters of Battery E, Anti-Aircraft, National Guard of Delaware.

The fact that so many of the enlistments of the members of the local Guard have run their course, and that those affected have resigned has caused a severe reduction in the roster. Captain Mote, however, is still optimistic and is superintending the preparation of the Battery for the coming inspection.

Healthy Employees

Protect the health of your employees! It pays! Old-fashioned wornout equipment in toilet and wash rooms is a constant threat against health.

Office workers are even more likely to contract disease, than people who work out doors. For this reason, the plumbing fixtures in office buildings should be modern and properly installed. It is economical foresight, on the part of the owner of the building, to install modern fixtures. They are practically trouble and damage proof.

Let us help you plan for improvements that will increase the property value and at the same time reduce expense for repairs.

TO PLACE FOOTBALL ON SOUND BASIS HERE

Manager Jester Plans For Next Season's Campaign On Gridiron

Howard Jester, manager of the Newark football team of 1923, has outlined a plan whereby the team may be kept on a sound and permanent basis for several years.

With the amount now lying in the treasury, and the formation of a Newark Football Association, with small annual dues levied upon the members, it is expected that the resultant income will be enough to keep a good team on the field each fall.

Manager Jester stated recently that he had two chances to book games with Philadelphia semi-pro teams offering large guarantees for the Newark team to go to the city for the game.

With the wealth of talent on hand, it appears that Newark will become a real football town next year.

New Descriptive Map Folder of Pennsylvania Railroad

The Passenger Department of the Pennsylvania Railroad system has just issued a specially attractive and educational piece of literature in the form of a descriptive map folder which is attracting considerable favorable comment.

The folder is an artistic piece of printing in four colors and contains newly engraved maps of New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Chicago and St. Louis, and a large map of the United States in colors, showing the location of all National Parks and Monuments, together with a mass of instructive data of exceptional interest.

This folder will be mailed free upon request to D. N. Bell, Passenger Traffic Manager, Pennsylvania Railroad, Broad Street Station, Philadelphia.

Republican Delegates

To Be Chosen April 22

The nine delegates to represent this State at the Republican National Convention will be elected at the Republican State convention, which in all probability will be held at Dover on April 22nd. It is understood that a call will be issued shortly for a meeting of the State Committee in the Hotel Richardson, Dover, on Tuesday, February 12th, or Thursday, February 14th. A date will be set at that time for the party primaries to elect delegates to the State convention. The primaries probably will be held on Saturday, April 19th, with the convention the following Tuesday.

In addition to electing national convention delegates, the State convention will elect members of the Republican State Committee to succeed the present committee.

WARNING TO MOTORISTS

Going to Maryland? Bolt On Your License Tag

According to returned Delaware motorists, who have "Learned by experience," all automobiles in Maryland must have the license tags securely bolted to the chassis of the car; and if this is not done the car is stopped, the driver arrested and arraigned before a magistrate and fined. It was reported recently, by one man who had borrowed a friend's car to go to Maryland, and there had gone through this ordeal, that more than twenty motor car drivers, most of them from neighboring states were given the same treatment.

In Delaware, if the license plates are firmly strapped to the car and are in a conspicuous place the drivers are not molested, but the Maryland authorities insist they be bolted to the machine.

The regular meeting of the Cooch's Bridge Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution was held at the home of Mrs. A. L. Beales, on East Main Street, on Saturday afternoon last.

GEORGE W. RHODES
 NEWARK, DELAWARE

A Story of Success

How Studebaker Cars became leaders

145,000 people last year paid $200,000,000 for them

THE most talked-about cars among fine cars are the Studebaker Sixes—at $975 and up.

Sales have almost trebled in the past three years. The demand for these cars, growing by leaps and bounds, has been Motordom's chief sensation.

Over $200,000,000 was last year spent for Studebaker models.

Now we wish to explain, to all who are interested, the reasons for that success.

Studebaker has always led

For 72 years the name of Studebaker has stood for quality and class.

Studebaker equipages, in the carriage days, held premier place. The White House owned them in the days of Grant and Harrison.

Now we make motor cars only. But the Studebaker name, in this modern field, simply had to maintain its prestige.

We had the money, we had the incentive—we who now control. And our one ambition has been to maintain the Studebaker place.

$90,000,000 assets behind us

Studebaker assets are $90,000,000. We have $50,000,000 in modern plants and equipment.

Not old plants re-adapted. We have spent $32,000,000 in new plants in five years. We have equipped them with 12,500 up-to-date machines.

Over $8,000,000 was spent on drop forge plants alone. Another $10,000,000 on body plants, to maintain our prestige in coach building.

We believe that no other plant in the country is so well equipped to build quality cars as Studebaker.

Engineering—$500,000 yearly

We created an engineering department which costs $500,000 yearly.

There are 125 skilled men there who devote their time to studying betterments in cars. They make 500,000 tests yearly.

There is a department of Methods and Standards. They decide and fix every standard in these cars.

Learn why 145,162 bought Studebakers in 1923

Studebakers hold the top place in the fine car field today.

In 1919, the public paid over $80,000,000 for 39,356 Studebaker cars.

In 1920, the public paid over $100,000,000 for 51,474 Studebaker cars, an increase of 31% over 1919.

In 1921, the public paid over $120,000,000 for 66,643 Studebaker cars, an increase of 29% over 1920.

In 1922, the public paid over $155,000,000 for 110,259 Studebaker cars, an increase of 66% over 1921.

In 1923, the public paid over $201,000,000 for 145,162 Studebaker cars, an increase of 32% over 1922.

In 1924, business has opened with Studebaker as never before.

Learn why all these buyers preferred Studebakers.

Our factories employ 1,200 inspectors, to make 30,000 inspections on all Studebakers cars. Few flaws, few mistakes can escape them. That, we believe, is the finest organization ever devoted to motor car building.

The price of quality

On some steel alloys for vital parts we pay 15% extra to get them exact.

We spend $600,000 yearly to machine all surfaces of crank shafts, just as in Liberty Airplane Motors. That is the reason for that perfect balance, that absence of vibration.

Every Studebaker car is Timken-equipped. The Special-Six and the Big-Six have more Timken bearings than any car selling under $5,600 in America. The Light-Six more than any competitive car within $1,000 of its price.

Open cars have real leather upholstery. They cost $25 more per car than imitation leather.

Our closed cars have Chase Mohair upholstery. This is made from the soft fleece of Angora goats. And a Sedan requires from 15 to 18 yards.

Velour for this upholstery would save us up to $100 per car.

Note the finish of every detail. Mark the infinite care. They add 25% to labor cost on luxurious closed bodies.

Note the completeness of our larger closed cars. The nickel-plated bumpers, the extra disc wheels and cord tires, the steel trunk, the courtesy light, etc. Think what they would cost you, bought as extras.

Thus we have made the Studebaker the leader of quality cars. We have built a demand exceeding 145,000 cars per year.

Learn the results of these efforts, in fairness to yourself. Don't buy a car at $1,000 or over without knowing what we offer.

Compare the parts and details. Mark the advantages we offer—scores on scores. Our experience is that 95% of those who do that buy a Studebaker car.

Let Me Do Your Interior Painting and Varnishing Now

I can give it closer personal attention and save you money

NEXT Spring I'll be up to my ears in inside work. So will every other Master Painter. This is my slack season—now and for the next three months. There's no good reason why it should be. If people would have their interior painting and varnishing done in the winter, they'd get best class work done by the best men in the business—normal at rock work or Spring prices. It's a good proposition from my standpoint, too. I wouldn't have to lay off my good men. I could cut down my overhead. I could spread my work over a whole year, instead of crowding it into seven or eight months. This would save me money and it would save you money, too. I can take on your inside work now and give it close personal attention. I don't forget that. Give me a ring today.

HIGH SCHOOL WINS TWO Boys Overwhelm Elktion; Girls Nose Out Friends School

Two more victories for Newark High were chalked up last night in the Armory here, when both the girls' and boys' teams won their games. A large crowd turned out to see the contests.

Elktion High proved no match for the local boys, losing the verdict, 45-13. Chalmers, Jaquette and Hopkins starred for the winners. At no time was Elktion dangerous, although they played a hard game throughout.

The girls' team won a hardfought victory from Friends School girls of Wilmington in the preliminary, 42-33. The score was tied several times, and only a last-minute spurt saved the game for Newark. Misses Robinson, Frazer and Shaw were strong on both offense and defense for Newark. The Friends School team played splendid basketball. Miss Ashebrook stood out particularly during the first half by her floorwork. Her absence in the final half was greatly felt by her team. Miss Bailey was also a clever player for Friends.

The speaker left immediately after his speech for Washington. He had not been gone many minutes, however, before the Newark organization voted unanimously to become a member of the national body.

Directors Elected

The report of the Nominating Committee was read by Dr. Heim. The eleven members of the ticket for Board of Directors was approved. W. H. Evans declined his nomination, and his place on the Board was taken by Frank Collins. With this change, made by the committee, the Chamber voted the ticket and elected the Board.

Special Speakers

Among the speakers during the after-dinner program were Dr. Walter Hüllihen, George L. Medill, M. O. Pence and Prof. W. A. Wilkinson.

All gave interesting talks, those of Mr. Pence and Prof. Wilkinson being particularly well prepared and filled with facts which held the attention of every hearer.

The meeting marked the last active affair under the old administration. The last official act of President Hastings was to call for the vote on the proposed connection with the National Chamber of Commerce.

Novel entertainment, in the form of an impromptu Minstrel followed the speaking. With chairs arranged in a circle at the end of the dining room, and occupied by a group of singers, a half hour of clever singing, dancing and sketches was enjoyed hugely by the diners. Charles Green and William Hill, students at the University, appeared as blackface comedians and caused plenty of merriment. The dancing of Hill, and the singing and monologues of Green were very good. Then followed a solo by R. W. Usher and several songs by the minstrel "ring." Mervyn LaFerty accompanied at the piano.

Seated at the speakers table during the dinner were Rev. H. Everett Hallman, Rev. R. B. Mathews, Dr. Walter Hüllihen, Mayor Frazer, Mr. Babcock, J. C. Hastings and Frank Collins.

The dinner was considered a pronounced success and was very well attended considering the short time allotted for the sale of tickets.

Ford was gone.

Shortly later, he heard cries, and found them to be coming from Mr. Buckingham and his associates in the store across the street, calling frantically for some one to come take that infernal thing away from his store before it ruined him.

It was sometime before Mr. Sheaffer could quiet his intoxicated wagon, and steer it away from the store porch. But finally it lapsed into a sort of stupor and meekly rolled up the street.

Several times during the day, the Ford showed signs of assault and battery brewing, but Mr. Sheaffer always managed to be on hand to quiet his steed before further damage was done. After hearing the straightforward tale printed above, the jury absolved Mr. Sheaffer from all blame for the ungentlemanly actions of his track.

McINTYRE-GUY FEUD AGAIN BOBS UP HERE

Alleged Theft of Wheat Seven Months Ago Gets to Court
Last Friday

The long-standing feud between Thomas McIntyre, a farmer of Pencader Hundred, and Alfred Guy, a Negro neighbor, which started when Guy had McIntyre arrested for shooting the former's horse last July, again bobbed up in local police circles recently. The latest disturbance was caused by McIntyre suddenly remembering that Guy had stolen a load of wheat from his field during harvest season last summer. He just happened to think of it last week, and had a warrant sworn out Thursday. The hearing came up in Magistrate Thompson's court Friday evening.

After much wrangling between witnesses for both sides, in which nothing was proven for either principal, the Magistrate dismissed the case.

From all accounts of the relations between the two principals, McIntyre and the Negro have been frantically trying to get each other arrested for some time. When the former asked for a warrant on Thursday, he was advised that he would be better off to remain peaceable. But nothing would do, he "just had to go to court about that load of wheat."

Neighbors of the two men are confidently expecting that one of them will hatch another scheme before another six months has passed.

Country Correspondence

Valuable News Feature

An occasional city newspaper man pokes fun at the country publisher because of the contributions made by country correspondents. The facts are borne out by observation and experience that the country publisher who is fortified with a good, live bunch of correspondents from every important center in the county has a valuable asset. While some of the items sent in are apparently trivial they are no worse than a lot of society stuff that finds its way into the columns of the average city daily. To our way of thinking there is no more interesting department in a live country weekly than the correspondence sent in from far and near, touching the everyday activities of the rural population. It is a good plan to make these correspondents realize the importance of their work.—Milford Chronicle.

RAISING OF TOMATOES SUBJECT OF TALKS

Farmers Urged To Raise
Early and Late Varieties to Avoid Glut

Among the important details of the farmers institute lectures being conducted throughout Delaware under the auspices of the State Board of Agriculture, is the advice being given about the raising of tomatoes. Every year, because the farmers raise but one variety, there is usually a glut of the vegetable and the bottom drops out of the crop. It makes it extremely difficult for canners to arrange for and always brings threats by the grower never to raise tomatoes again.

What the institute lecturers are urging is that the farmer shall raise an early, middle and late variety of tomato. Then there would be no glut, the canners contend, if the plan is followed out. Some farmers have agreed to try it out, but others who are eager to get at other crops have refused, and they will have the same old embarrassment when the ripening season comes.

PROPOSE NATION-WIDE ORATORICAL CONTEST IN SCHOOLS TO INCREASE INTEREST IN CONSTITUTION

Prominent Committee to Handle the Work in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware—Winner
Will Be Awarded Four-Year Scholarship to Any University

Complete plans for the holding of a national Oratorical Contest, open to any High School student in the country, have been announced for the district comprising the states of Pennsylvania, Southern New Jersey and Delaware, the subject of which must be along the line of the value of the Constitution of the United States, were announced yesterday. A resume of the plan follows:

Combining their efforts into a nation-wide movement, committees of representative citizens in all parts of the United States have been organized and are now at work conducting a series of oratorical contests in the high schools of the nation. The subjects to be discussed will have a direct bearing on the Constitution of the United States and the men whose names are closely associated with the writing, interpretation and preservation of the document.

The object to be attained is threefold:

First:—To stimulate study of and respect for the Constitution among the students.

Second:—To make more popular school contests of an academic nature, contrasted with those which are purely athletic.

Third:—To awaken a general interest upon the part of parents and others in the organic law of the land.

The country has been divided into seven major regions. In each of these a regional committee has been formed which will co-operate with the school authorities and assume the detail work incident to the successful operation of the plan. The committee which is sponsoring the contest in Pennsylvania, southern New Jersey and Delaware is composed of:

The Committee

Hon. George Wharton Pepper, chairman; Hon. J. Hay Brown; Hon. Hampton L. Carson; Richard E. Cochran, Esq.; Dr. Russell H. Conwell; Theodore F. Jenkins, Esq.; Hon. Frank S. Katzenbach, Jr.; Mrs. J. Willis Martin; Hon. David A. Reed; Walter George Smith, Esq.; Hon. Edwin S. Stuart; Hon. Victor B. Woolley; Burton L. Smith, executive secretary.

This committee will be assisted by school authorities, educational organizations, newspapers, and citizens generally who are interested in the promotion of the study of the Constitution to the end that the immortal document will be more highly respected and its fundamental principles more fully understood.

At no time during any of the contests will there be a request for entrance fees or any other expense money. There are no books, blank forms or other commodities offered for sale, nor is there any attempt at personal or commercial gain or advancement involved. The only requirement is a careful and scholarly presentation of argument in favor of our scheme of government and the document that made the nation possible. When it is necessary for a contestant to appear at a place other than his home town or city the committee will provide funds for his expenses and entertainment. The final contest to be held in Washington will be open to the winners in regional contests and will be free of any expense.

The orations, which must be original and not require more than twelve minutes for delivery, can be on any one of the following subjects:

"The Constitution," "George Washington and the Constitution," "James Madison and the Constitution," "Thomas Jefferson and the Constitution," "Alexander Hamilton and the Constitution," "John Marshall and the Constitution," "Daniel Webster and the Constitution," "Abraham Lincoln and the Constitution."

In all there will be forty-nine local contests, the winners of which will be divided into groups of seven for the semi-final event. The winners of these seven semi-final contests will compete in the final regional contest at Philadelphia. The winner of this event will receive a four-year scholarship in any university he may choose, (the total cost of which is not to exceed $1200) and will be eligible to compete in the final contest at Washington. The winners of the local, district and regional contests will be presented with steel engraved, hand engrossed certificates of merit which will be presented in duplicate, one copy for the successful contestant and the other for his school.

President Coolidge has promised to be present at the final contest in Washington and take an appropriate part. The contest will be attended and judged by the foremost educators, jurists and statesmen of the country. The winner of this grand final contest will receive a cash prize of $3,500, the second best will receive $1,000 and the third $500. It is intended that this money shall aid in furthering the education of the successful contestants.

The exact dates of contest will be announced as soon as possible. Additional information will be furnished upon request by the Executive Secretary of the Philadelphia Regional Committee, Burton L. Smith, at the office of the Committee, 324 Bulletin Building, Philadelphia, Telephone Spruce 1917.

INTER-STATE MILK ASSOCIATION LAYS DOWN GOOD RULES

Shippers From Philadelphia
Milk Shed Must Use
Every Precaution

William G. Little, of near Newark, and himself a dairy and milk shipper, has called the attention of The Post to the recent rulings concerning the sanitation of milk laid down by the Inter-State Milk Producers' Association at their annual meeting last December.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Little, we herewith reprint some of the salient points in the set of rules. All shippers of milk from the "Philadelphia Milk Shed" must abide by the Association's regulations.

Some of the rules are:

Permit

A. Each dairy farm before delivering or shipping any milk or cream in the Philadelphia Milk Shed must apply to the Philadelphia Inter-State Dairy Council for a permit, stating the products to be handled and consignee. No producer may ship such milk or cream until his application for permit has been approved by the Dairy Council. However, the Dairy Council may waive the requirement for dairy farm permit in exceptional cases when they are satisfied that the proper sanitary conditions of production and handling are met or when as in an emergency the public interest demands such waiver. Permit may be revoked by Dairy Council for cause.

B. Milk permit must be hung in a protected place in the dairy house and be available at all times for inspection.

Conditions Affecting Milk at Sources
The water supply on premises where milk is produced must be adequate, protected from contamination and free from pollution.

Utensils

All machinery, utensils, etc., which come in contact with the milk shall be thoroughly scrubbed and washed and rinsed with boiling water or otherwise cleaned by an approved method within three hours after use.

Cans

All cans and lids must be in good condition. Cans will be especially condemned when as follows:

1. When inside tin coating is worn off to any considerable extent.
2. When badly rusted in interior.
3. When badly dented or with pockets about neck.

Cans should be used which have a sloping shoulder easy to be cleaned, with wide neck and over-hanging lid. No new cans of other types will be allowed.

Mr. Little paid particular emphasis in the items in reference to pure water supply for the dairy and that concerning the application for permit to ship milk to Philadelphia.

Hen Lays Extra Size Eggs

At the poultry farm of A. V. McCormack, near Milford, is a white leg-horn hen that is of ordinary size and in all respects resembles the general utility hens kept for egg production. Yet this hen has the peculiar habit of laying every other day a very large egg, that varies but a trifle as to size or appearance. The eggs from this hen weigh on an average, four ounces each. The circumference around the center measures exactly six and one-quarter inches, while around the length of the egg it measures seven and three-quarters inches. The shell is almost a clear white and there is only one yolk in the eggs. If eggs were sold by weight—as they should be sold, this hen would be a winner of money for the owner.—Milford Chronicle.

FRESHMAN FOIL RIVALS

Annual Banquet of First Year Men
Held Monday Night in Wilmington

Although menaced several times during the evening by a crowd of jeering Sophomores, the annual Freshman Banquet of University students was successfully staged in the Hotel duPont, Monday evening of this week.

Following the dinner, the class marched in a body to the Playhouse to see the show. Eighty-seven members of the class attended. Sophomores occupied front rows in the balcony and endeavored to break up the "meeting," but to no avail. The Freshmen went right on and enjoyed themselves hugely.

Several policemen and plain clothes men were on hand to see that the two rival classes did not come together during the evening. Great amusement was given the Playhouse audience at the antics of the students during the performance.

Section 8. Whenever there shall be a vacancy in either House of the Delaware Juvenile Legislature, by reason of death, resignation or otherwise, the Nominating Committee of the High School in which such vacancy occurs shall have sole power to fill such vacancy; and the person chosen to fill such vacancy shall hold office for the residue of that term which shall end on June 30th next following the filling of such vacancy.

Section 9. The Delaware Juvenile Legislature shall meet annually in Dover, the capital of the State, during the week following Easter Sunday.

Section 10. The Senate at each session shall choose one of its members president pro tempore. The Senate shall also choose its other officers and in the absence of its president pro tempore may, from time to time, as occasion may require, appoint one of its members to preside. Section 12. Each House may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish any of its members for disorderly conduct, and shall have all other powers necessary for a branch of the State Legislature.

Section 13. Each House shall keep a journal of its proceedings. No bill or joint resolution, except in relation to adjournment, shall pass either House unless the final vote shall have been taken by yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting for and against the same shall be entered on the journal; nor without the concurrence of a majority of all the members elected to each House.

Section 14. Any procedure not covered by this constitution of the Delaware Juvenile Legislature shall be governed by the rules adopted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the last General Assembly of the State of Delaware.

Section 15. The members of the Delaware Juvenile Legislature shall receive no compensation for their services. All the expenses incurred by any member in coming to and going from any session, and also all other reasonable expenses incurred by or for him during his attendance upon that session shall be borne equally by his parents or guardian and his own High School.

Section 16. The measures enacted by the Delaware Juvenile Legislature and the resolutions passed by either or both of the Houses of that Body shall, while not having the force of law, represent to the citizens of the State the most advanced thought of its youth in matters of government and policy.

Section 17. All measures to come before the Delaware Juvenile Legislature shall be studied, discussed, debated, worked over, and formulated into bills by the students of the several High Schools involved before the Delaware Juvenile Legislature shall convene in any session. No new measure shall be presented before this Body after the first day of any session. Herein lies the chief value in creating and carrying out such an organization.

Section 18. This constitution may be amended at any session of the Delaware Juvenile Legislature provided that such amendment has been submitted in writing to the Principal of each High School in the State at least thirty days before such session, and provided that an amendment to be passed must receive the vote of three-fourths of all the members elected to both Houses.

Governor William D. Denney, of Delaware, has manifested and expressed a keen interest in the proposed Delaware Juvenile Legislature. As proof of his sincerity in this matter, the Governor has volunteered the following encouragement:

1. The privilege of the use of the Senate Chamber and the House of Representatives Room in the State House at Dover is offered without charge to this organization in which to hold its session.

2. The Governor will sign or veto the bills passed by the Delaware Juvenile Legislature setting forth the needs of the State and recommending appropriate legislation.

4. The Governor will use his influence in persuading the clerks of the two Houses of the last General Assembly to sit with and assist corresponding clerks chosen by the Houses of the Delaware Juvenile Legislature.

"Scaramouche"

The art of taking snuff, once so common an accomplishment and now sunken into decadence, has been revived in "Scaramouche," now playing at the Playhouse, Wilmington, Rex Ingram's newest production for Metro. Lewis Tone, who plays the role of Marquis de la Tour d'Azyr, spent hours in practice in order that before the camera he might perform the feat with the appearance of utter "sang froid."

"Al. G. Field's Minstrels"

The Al. G. Field Minstrels is celebrating its thirty-seventh consecutive season this year.

All previous productions of this famous organization are eclipsed and outdone by the current offering, which is easily the best and foremost of its kind on the American stage today. Last year's production was conceded by press and public to be the best of the thirty-six that had been staged to that time. This year shows even more marked improvement and progress.

Jack Richards and Billy Church are again the vocalist headliners of the production and they have a following that makes them the acknowledged leaders in their particular line.

Nick Hufford, a favorite with Al. G. Field audiences, is the premier comedian. His comedy is of that bright and snappy type which is concededly the piece de resistance of negro minstrelsy. As a monologist he has no peer.

Other members of the company include the following: Singers—Ola Elwood, Ed. Jones, Harry Frillman, Dolt Kaster, Leslie Berry, Lloyd Gilbert, Price Jenkins and Bert Hoover. Comedians—John Healy, Roddy Jordan, Pete Detzel, Billy Doran and others.

The Company will be at the Playhouse, Wilmington, all next week.

more Ford cars and trucks were produced last year than the previous year, an increase of over 50 per cent.

In spite of this tremendous increase in production, it was impossible to meet delivery requirements during the spring and summer months when orders for 350,000 Ford Cars and Trucks could not be filled.

This year winter buying for immediate delivery has been more active than ever before—and in addition 200,000 orders have already been booked through the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan for spring delivery.

These facts clearly indicate that the demand during this spring and summer will be far greater than ever, and that orders should be placed immediately with Ford Dealers as a means of protection against delay in securing your Ford Car or Truck or Fordson Tractor.

PARENT-TEACHER NEWS HAPPENINGS

Delaware City Parent-Teacher Association enjoyed hearing Mrs. John B. Cleaver, State P.T. A. President, speak at their meeting on Monday evening, January 14th. She told them what a Parent-Teacher Association means to a community, and her talk was well received. The subject for the month, "The Whitman Farm-Life School, in Virginia," was then discussed, both by Mrs. Cleaver and Mrs. W. B. Jester. As a part of the program, an eight-hand piano selection was delightfully given by Mary, James, Kathryn and Helen Brannon. Then Miss Eva Crossland sang a solo, and four boys of the second grade gave "The Little Fiddler." At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served by the girls of the Home Economics Department.

At a recent meeting held by the Walnut Green Parent-Teacher Association, the following officers were elected to carry on the work of the coming year: President, Mrs. John O'Neal; vice-president, Mr. LeRoy Edler; secretary, Miss Sara Frederick; and treasurer, Mrs. Harry Frederick. The membership has reached fifty-one, with several more who have not yet enrolled, although they are showing interest in the association and its work. The Walnut Green P.T. A. was organized in October, among the many new ones that were added to the number of associations in the State. The total number is now 322 in the three counties.

At the January meeting of Green Spring Colored Parent-Teacher Association, Professor Lawson addressed the members of the association. Among the things accomplished by the members of the P.T. A. for the school, are the purchase of a Dodge ball for the playground; some singing books for the school; and they are planning to serve a hot lunch at the school during the rest of the winter months.

Kirkwood Colored Parent-Teacher association held their regular monthly meeting on Wednesday evening, January 30th. A "Weather Prophet" was given to the school by the association. As a part of the program given by the pupils of the school, there was a demonstration lesson in geography, which was well enjoyed by all the large number present.

Lee's Chapel Colored Parent-Teacher association also had a meeting on the same evening. They are very proud, and justly so, of the attendance record of the pupils of the school. Twenty-five children had perfect attendance; and fifteen, good, or 90 per cent attendance, out of an enrollment of 43. The teacher hopes to have an even better showing in February; she urges all to come every day, rain or shine.

HIGHWAYS NOT BUILT BY RULE OF THUMB

Technically Trained Men in Demand for Roads

In the early days of road building, any contractor who could spread stone and roll it was good enough to "engineer" the road to be built. Today all organizations engaged in road building are looking for the trained road engineer, and when there are not enough to go round, sending their own men to college for better training in highway building.

In 1919 the University of Michigan, which has departments of Highway Engineering and Highway Transport (Professor Arthur H. Blanchard) offered graduate short period courses in highway engineering and highway transport, leading to the degree of Master of Science or Master of Science in Engineering, arranged especially for men engaged in the practice of highway engineering and highway transport.

In 1919-20 the attendance was 29; while in 1922-23, 110 men attended these courses, the average age of the men being 27 years, ranging from 23 to 56 years. These men came from the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, state, county, and municipal highway departments, contractors' organizations, companies manufacturing motor trucks, highway machinery, and materials, universities, and from the field of highway transport. During 1923-24, 18 graduate short period courses will be offered, 10 in the field of highway engineering and 8 in highway transport. These courses will be given by a staff of 8 professor and 10 non-resident lecturers.

The road building world is looking to the engineer, the trained man, the technician, for light on how to build better, less expensive, more permanent highways. It is generally recognized now that the day of the rule-of-thumb builder is gone, and that only the engineer, proficient in the art and familiar with the best practice, is the economical spender of the taxpayer's money!

P. O. Department To Speed Up Newspaper Mailing

Post-Master General New Issues Sweeping Orders—Papers on Par With First-Class Mail

As a result of several months of investigation and study by experts of the Post Office Department, Postmaster General New has issued the first definite, concise and complete program that has ever been put out by the Department for the mailing, transmission and delivery of newspapers.

This order is most important. It is far reaching. It gives the same expedition to newspapers as is accorded to first class mail.

The order is the result of painstaking effort on the part of the Post Office inspectors, under the direction of First Assistant Postmaster General Bartlett. Carefully worded and minute instructions have been issued to all employees engaged in handling the mails, so that there will be no possibility of misunderstanding the importance of getting newspapers to the reader with a minimum of delay.

The essence of the order is that newspapers shall not be mixed with parcels post at any point in their dispatch from the publisher's offices until their delivery to the addressees. Papers shall be handled by themselves, and kept in constant transit, not being sent to railway terminals to be reworked. In other words, they are to be handled in the same manner as first class mail.

An important feature of the order is that no publication shall be given any less efficient or less expeditious treatment than at present. That means that publications other than newspapers will not suffer one iota from this progressive innovation, made by the Post Office Department.

Another striking feature of the order is the elimination of sacks of mail which are known to the business world as "mixed mail." Sacks of mixed mail sometimes contain letters, papers, and parcels post, and often times the entire contents were treated as parcels post. This order will prevent a recurrence of that condition.

Another important feature of the order is that postmasters are required to notify publishers in each instance when they do not hit the dispatch which they advertise to hit; also to notify publishers when they are sending to wrong addresses and to the addresses of deceased persons. Publishers will also be notified when they are putting up their mail in an incorrect manner.

Under the new system, newspapers will be made up in separate sacks plainly labeled with the word, "Newspapers." If there are only a few copies of newspapers at the point of dispatch, they will be placed in pouches with first class mail or in separate sacks, even though the sacks are only partially filled.

This order means much to the American public. It is one of the most important and far reaching steps in post office history. It is for the benefit of those who desire to have their newspapers placed before them at as early a moment as possible. This should keep both the city and rural population in closer and quicker touch with their several fields of activities.

LOWER DEATH RATE SHOWN IN DELAWARE

Delaware is making long strides towards lowering the tuberculosis death rate, but at the same time cancer, so far from getting under control, is becoming a greater menace.

Concerted efforts of local, State and Federal authorities have driven the mortality curve down in the great white plague, year by year, until the death rate is radically under what it was four years ago, but the toll taken by cancer is larger than it was then.

In the year 1922, 273 persons, or 119.9 of every 100,000 residents of Delaware, died of tuberculosis. In the same year cancer and related malignant tumors accounted for 211 deaths, or 92.4 for every 100,000 population.

Four years ago, in 1919, the fatality rate from tuberculosis in Delaware was 163.6 per 100,000 population, and from cancer only 86.1 per 100,000. The rates in the intervening years were: 1920, tuberculosis, 146; cancer, 88.4; 1921, tuberculosis, 140.5; cancer, 79.1.

Delaware illustrates the general trend throughout the United States of these two great scourges. Figures announced by the Department of Commerce from compilations made by the bureau of the census show that 99,433 deaths were due to tuberculosis and 80,928 to cancer in the year 1922 in the entire death registration area of the United States. Cancer is gaining, and consumption is falling before the attacks of medical science.

RUNNING ON REPUTATION

A young wife was holding forth with great enthusiasm about her husband's mechanical knowledge and skill.

"There's no use in talking," she declared, "Louis is simply wonderful. I don't believe there's another man in the world who can drive a motor car the way he can."

"What happened?" asked a friend. "Why, we took a ride yesterday and went along beautifully in spite of the fact that he had forgotten some of the machinery."

"You don't mean to say that you were running without the machinery?"

"We surely were. We had done at least 15 miles before Louis discovered that his engine was missing."—Harper's Magazine.
