Recreation Ass'n Launches $100,000 Drive For Funds

Plans Made for Construction of Million Gallon, 800,000 Swimming Pool at Silverbrook Park Site; Water To Be Supplied by Christiana River Flow

The Newark Recreation Association launched a $100,000 drive last Saturday to obtain the necessary money for construction of a 800,000 swimming pool to serve residents of the Newark and surrounding areas and to secure $10,000 for recreational operating expenses of a program under the supervision of a full-time, paid recreation director.

The proposed swimming pool, to be constructed just off the Christiana River on the Silverbrook Park site, will be the largest of its kind in the Delaware area.

The pool will cover an area of approximately 100,000 sq. ft. and will be supplied with water from the Christiana River. The pool will be a concrete structure with a depth of 10 feet. School Gets "Go Ahead" On New Building Program

The Newark Special School District has received a Certificate of Necessity from the State Board of Education to proceed with plans for construction of the West Park Place and Brookside Elementary schools, and for the construction of a new high school building.

A total appropriation of $2,000,000 has been approved by the legislature as a building fund, of which the State will supply $1,236,000. The $764,000 balance is expected to be raised by local bond issue, must be deposited in advance of the school's account, in advance of the State's matching funds.

Newark Methodists Plan To Purchase Delaware Ave. Lot

Last Wednesday, July 29, at a combined quarterly conference and congregational meeting at the Newark Methodist Church, unanimous approval was given for the purchase of the property at 68 East Delaware Avenue, which adjoins the church.

Dr. John N. Link, superintendent of the Wilmington district, president of the church, and John H. Hildreth, chairman of the board of trustees, presented information concerning the purchase for review by Dr. John J. Bunting, Jr., minister of the church.

The property, which includes a two and one-half story house, is 40 by 102 feet in size. It will provide a traffic outlet for the church on Delaware Avenue, and also allows future building expansion.

After the meeting, a party was held in honor of Miss Laura Oakley Hunter, director of Christian Education at the church for the past four years. Miss Hunter has accepted a position in Johnson City, Tenn., for next year. Her successor will be announced in September.

Newark Area Folk Honored At Harrington Fair Exhibits

Despite multi-million dollar shopping centers, industrial and office expansion, and the growing pains attendant with transition from town to city, residents of Newark still have their feet on the ground, and along with the rural neighbors, are in close touch with the down-to-earth, solid things in life.

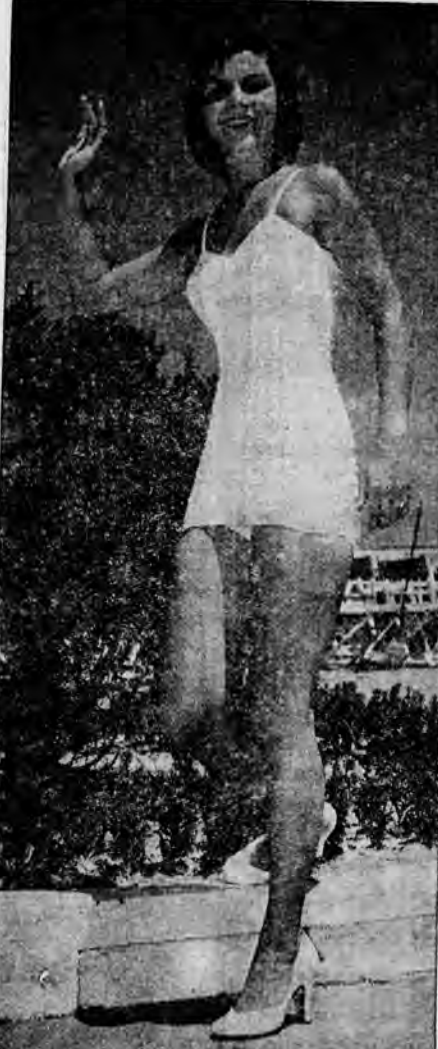

This was aptly demonstrated at the 29th annual Kent-Sussex Fair at Harrington last week, where Newarkers were well in the Fair exhibits and prize awards.

Among the Newark prize winners at the Harrington Fair were Charles Walther, with his New Hampshire poultry in the Junior show, and Anna M. Barczewski, who won first prize with a small sampler, second prizes with a woven rush-work foot stool, and an example of tapestry, and first prize with a copper exhibit.

In the 4-H baking exhibit, Dolores Lloyd, Judy Lane, and Kathryn Leasure received awards for their samples of muffins, biscuits, and cupcakes, while in the Home Improvement division, Marie Warner, Raymond Johnson, and James Hughes were awarded prizes for their handiwork.

Dolores Lloyd, Kathryn and Sandra Leasure, and Janet Campbell won prizes with their samples of home-canned vegetables, while in the Junior Clothing class, Joan Brown, Jo Ann Gove, Faith Beaver, Doris Jarnon, Kathy Lane, and Dorothy Zimmer received awards. Newark contestants took prizes in 17 classes of the intermediate clothing section. First prize winners were Mrs. Samuel B. Smith, Marie

State Blood Drive To End August 31 As Result of Truce

17,022 Pints Collected During 2-Yr. Operation; Polio Supply Unaffected

Delaware's blood collection program, which netted 17,022 pints in its two years of operation, will end August 31, but this will not affect the gamma globulin supply for the state's polio victims.

According to a directive from the Office of Defense Mobilization, the Red Cross is closing 15 regional blood collection centers. One of these is at Baltimore where Delaware's contributions are included.

The end of the Korean fighting and smaller requirements from the Armed Forces in general were the reasons given by the ODM to the Red Cross for curtailment of the collection program.

John J. DeLuca, Delaware Red Cross chapter vice chairman, announced the end of the program after receiving the information from the manager of the eastern area, National Red Cross.

The blood collections—used for the Armed Forces, defense stocks and the production of the blood derivative, gamma globulin—will continue in 45 regional collection centers. These were in operation before the 15 others were opened to meet the emergency Korean needs.

A Baltimore official stressed today that processing of blood for gamma globulin, a material derived from whole blood and used to combat paralysis in polio, would not be affected by the program's limitations.

All of the blood collected in Delaware went to the defense program, and there was no supplying of civilian hospital blood banks from this source.

Mr. DeLuca reported the local blood donor office at 911 Delaware Avenue would not close at once because chapter officials wish to thank each individual who aided the state effort since it began in the fall of 1951.

Civil Engineering Chairman Selected At Univ. of Del.

Dr. Paul J. Brennan Accepts Delaware Post After Yale Assignment

Dr. Paul Joseph Brennan has been appointed chairman of the Department of Civil Engineering at the University of Delaware, effective August 1.

Dr. Brennan is a native of Auburn, N.Y. and received the degree of Bachelor of Architectural Engineering from the University of Detroit in 1943. He received his master's degree in Civil Engineering from Yale University in 1944 and the degree of doctorate in Civil Engineering from that same school in 1951. Dr. Brennan has been a member of the civil engineering faculty at Yale from 1948 until he came to the University of Delaware.

The new department chairman has had extensive business and professional experience. In 1942-43, he was associated with the Michigan Steel Casting Company, Plant Engineering Department in Detroit, Michigan. His naval service through 1944-46 included an assignment with the U.S. Navy Bureau of Ships as ship superintendent at the Naval Shipyard in Boston, in charge of construction and repair work on various types of naval vessels. This assignment involved the selection of work to be performed, the methods to be used and the issuance of specifications.

Dr. and Mrs. Brennan have one daughter. They reside at 11 New Street, in Newark.

Dollar Day Mixed Success Local Merchants Report

The semi-annual Newark Dollar Day, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, brought out many shoppers on July 30, 31, and August 1. The public, at least, benefited by the sale-receiving gifts from merchants and many one dollar values—only the furniture dealers seemed to feel that Dollar Day, as a whole, was successful.

Many small items, and quite a little furniture moved, but vacations were evidently more tempting than summer merchandise.

There's another Newark Dollar Day coming up next February.

Wheat Referendum Slated August 14 For Market Quota

Newark PMA Offices To Be One of Three NCC Polling Places

The wheat marketing quota referendum to be held August 14 will be conducted at various voting places in New Castle County, advises Chairman John A. Redding, Sr., of the County Production and Marketing Administration Committee. Polling places will be open from 9 to 5, Standard Time, and each will be in charge of a local referendum committee of wheat growers appointed by the County PMA Committee.

Chairman Redding urges every eligible wheat grower to vote, since the outcome of the referendum will materially affect the price farmers receive for their 1954 wheat. He points out that if two-thirds or more of those voting favor marketing quotas, wheat loans at 90 percent of parity will be available to those who plant within their wheat acreage allotments.

If marketing quotas are rejected by the growers, wheat will not be in effect and the support rate in 1954 wheat will drop to 50 percent of parity for cooperators.

The officially designated polling place for the August 14 wheat referendum for Brandwine, Christiana, Mill Creek, White Clay, Pencader, New Castle, and Red Lion Hundreds will be the New Castle County PMA Office at Newark.

City Pension Plan Ordinance Amended at Final Meeting

Fund to be Administered by Corporate Trustee To Facilitate Insurance Arrangements; Extension Of Utilities To Be Governed By Rate of Return

The ordinance for establishment of a pension plan for employees of the City of Newark, presented for second and final reading at Tuesday night's City Council meeting, was withheld pending incorporation of an amendment to cover administration of such a fund by a paid, corporate trustee.

Councilman Carl Rankin suggested amending the original plan for administration by a pension fund committee, to facilitate any arrangements to be made with a covering insurance company, whose preference is to deal with a corporate trustee rather than with a municipality subject to change.

It was agreed to submit drafts of the original ordinance to three trust firms in the area for consideration as possible additional sources of city water, as discussed and as yet no agreement has been reached with the Continental Distilling Corp. in regard to the purchase of a well-drilling site.

Councilman Darnall suggested the straightening of West Park Place to meet with East Park Place, with a view to obtaining a well at a known source of water, with a pump to be installed on the area reclaimed by removal of the dogleg paving.

The City Engineer is to make a study of this plan and submit recommendations to Council.

Two requests for extensions of city water lines were received and Councilman Rankin advocated establishment of a definite city plan for water and sewer lines, for the avoidance of all newcomers to the area.

The City Charter permits installation of utilities only in cases where the return to the city is justified, and in one of the two cases presented, the expense for such extension was not warranted in view of the anticipated return.

The City Building Inspector will be instructed to advise those applying for building permits that extension of water lines depends upon Council approval.

A letter from the president of Local 1183, UAW-CIO, at the Chrysler Delaware Tank Plant was read, requesting the assignment of two policemen to direct traffic coming out of the parking lot onto the Newark-Glasgow highway between 4 and 4:30 p.m.

Councilman Darnall will consult with Chrysler management in an effort to obtain cooperation in the solution of this problem.

Recreation Ass'n Playgrounds Draw 1,000 Registrants

Program Ending July 31 Attracts Children With Supervised Activities

The playground program of the Newark Recreation Association ended last July, and increased participation in all activities, with more than 1,000 children registered, was gratifying to all concerned.

Boys and girls, under the direction of Ted Davis at the high school playground, participated in golf, ping-pong, and horseshoe tournaments. Ping-pong and golf honors went to Freddie Borchert, while horseshoe tournament winners were Alan Ely and Fletcher Truitt.

Jane Walton gave a final day party for her "small fry" at the Village playground.

Eugene Kelechava's arts and crafts classes were disappointed to see their last days arrive but should be busy on projects begun under his direction. Working on gimp bracelets, lanyards, clay modeling, painting, the weaving of reed table mats and baskets, and the making of wooden boats were all a part of this program.

Mr. Kelechava's Wednesday, "roaming, lunch-pail, easel-toting" crowd was still in action yesterday. They prevailed on "Kelly" to work with them one more day.

Mothers and fathers packed the viewing stand at the University Pool to note the swimming progress of their children. Most impressed were the mothers of the water (with soap-fearing set, who saw their little ones calmly dive or jump and swim the width of the pool).

Advanced swimmers and lifeguards developed skills and were awarded certificates for their accomplishments.

The New London playground ended its season with a beauty contest and swim meet at Bell's Pool under the direction of Olive Ryland. Beauty contest winners were Frances Bryan, Cheryl Ryland, Juanita Hayman and Francis James. Swim meet winners were Ernest Congo, Robert Miller, Eric Davis, Julius Ryland, Clyde Bishop.

Walter Matt, director of the Youth Center, announces that the Drop-In will continue through August 21 at the Main Street School, and the Saturday Night Dances will be a year 'round feature.

Directors of the Recreation Association express their thanks to all volunteers who helped make this summer program a success—volunteer team managers, umpires, chaperones, and other donors of time and materials.

LOOK IN THE WINDOW

George May is an experienced newspaper correspondent who has spent more than three years in Communist Hungary. The July issue of Harper's Magazine carries an article by him, entitled "Close-Up of a 'Workers' Paradise'".

One part of it deals with retail stores and the prices charged for goods—the Hungarian stores, of course, are an instrument of the red government, like every other business. The goods, Mr. May says, are both scarce and incredibly shoddy by Western standards. And here are some of the prices the Hungarian workers, whose average wage is about $70 a month, must pay: Woman's full-length topcoat, $150; woman's cotton dress, $35; man's woolen suit, $150; butter, $3 per pound; pork $2 per pound; lard, $1.80 per pound.

Other writers have made similar surveys of conditions in other Iron Curtain countries, including the USSR itself. In each case, the situation is about the same. The prices of goods at retail are unbelievably high, in the light of worker income. The result is that the bulk of the people live miserably, at a bare subsistence level.

For contrast, look in the windows of a typical American retail store. There you will see goods of every kind in lavish abundance, offered at prices which are within the means of virtually all. The retail store truly reflects the enormous superiority of free enterprise over socialism and communism.

Letter To Editor

Mr. Jackson submitted the following letter received from Louis P. Shannon concerning Little League baseball and its effect on the Newark community. Because Mr. Shannon has so well covered the local Little League story which may not be entirely familiar to all readers, his letter is reproduced in its entirety. The Editor.

Mr. Arlington G. Jackson, Chairman Public Business Affairs, Kiwanis Club of Newark

Dear Arlie:

May I take this occasion to congratulate the Kiwanis Club of Newark on their outstanding community service in the matter of bringing the Little League to our community. The tremendous reception which the program received is overwhelming evidence of the need for supervised and organized baseball on a competitive basis.

A short while ago one of the published objectives of Kiwanis was: "Expand services to all youth and seek to eliminate the causes of juvenile delinquency." What finer translation of these words to deeds could exist than your newly created Little League Park made from a fallow field with your sweat, blisters and backaches.

I have heard many old-timers say: "This is the finest thing that ever happened to Newark." Personally, I cannot conceive of anything else which would have had the unifying effect on the community that the Little League has had. For example, I would invite those who wall about a "color problem" to visit a few Little League games. All Little League players, parents, staff and partisans are strictly color-blind. Little League seems to have completely washed out the dubious ability to distinguish color. In fact, the basis of distinction is ability. Rabble rousers would get little comfort from seeing this complete washing out that Newark Little League has done of all lines of distinction—color, social, economic and religious.

Not only is credit due to the Kiwanis Club of Newark for sponsoring the movement, but also to the sponsors, coaches, managers and officials who have given so unstintingly of their time. All of them have got Little League off to a tremendously fine start.

It would perhaps only be fair to voice a note of caution here. Friends in other areas where Little League has been longer established point out several very real dangers that can develop. However, these dangers will never arise if the leadership, sponsorship, coaching, and officiating can be maintained on the same high level that we have had this season. If emphasis can be kept on clean, competitive sportsmanship and team play, then we have little to fear.

Again, congratulations and many thanks.

Sincerely yours,

Louis P. Shannon

Nelson Invites 47 Gridders To Hen's Opening Practice

Delaware To Begin Football Practice Sept. 1 With Squad of 47 Receiving Invitations For Opening Session; 20 Lettermen Expected Back

Delaware gridders have some three weeks of comparative leisure remaining, but as a reminder of things to come, 47 Hen football players have received invitations for opening practice on September 1.

Two drills will be held daily for the first two weeks before school opens, and Coach David M. Nelson has asked the players to report at school on the night of August 31, with physical exams, room and equipment assignments scheduled for the following morning.

Among those issued invitations was Tommy Fannon, veteran quarterback from Chester, Pa. Last spring, Fannon decided to quit football in order to devote more time to other university activities and, as a result, did not participate in spring practice.

Fannon was used primarily on defense last year, but his return will unquestionably bolster the Blue Hen forces.

His most serious competition for the second-string quarterbacking post will come from Bob Hooper, play-director, punter and passer of last year's freshman eleven.

A newcomer to the Hen squad will be Dick McMullen, an end, McMullen, a returning serviceman, played for Delaware under Bill Murray and is expected to be a leading candidate for a wing berth. He will compete Capt. Johnny Borresen and Hooper for the punting assignment.

Including McMullen, 20 lettermen are expected to be on hand for the opening drill. They are:

Ends—Frank Serpico, Blairstown, N.J.; Marty Apostolico, Wilmington, and Tom Redfield, Doylestown, Pa.

Tackles—Borresen, Lyndhurst, N.J.; Steve Butcher, Landsford, Pa.; Tom Oves, Wilmington, and Bill Dugan, St. Albans, N.Y.

Guards—Bob Trivitt, Stanton; Jimmy Cooper, Lewis; Gordon Murray, Summit, N.J.; and Howard Graham, Philadelphia.

Center—Frank Geylan, Trenton, N.J.

Backs—Miller, Prospect Park, Pa.; Fannon, Johnny Allen, Mt. Holly, N.J.; Tony Candelora, Claymont; Rocco Carzo, Woodlyn, Pa.; Jimmy Flynn, Pittsburgh, and Dan Ford, Pottsville, Pa.

Promising operatives up from the freshmen include Vince Grande of Waterford, N.Y.; End Warren Allen of Port Morris, N.J.; Guard Frank Baile of Baltimore, Md.; Pete Brant of Catonsville, Md.; Tackle Dave Hoy of Sharon Hill, Pa.; Tackle Joe Rizzi of Swedesboro, N.J.; Center Lenny Williams of Wilmington, and no less than five backs in Jimmy Zaiser of Salem, N. J.; Jack Schonberger of Allentown, Pa.; Andy Wagner of Baltimore, Md.; and Hooper.

Other players extended invitations are: Tackle Bob Bieringer of Wilmington; Tackle Roger Brown of New Village, N.J.; Guard Frank D'Auni of Dover; End Joe Evan of Linden, N.J.; Center Jimmy Johnson of Milford, Halfback Bill Jones of Pottstown, Pa.; Back Joe Lanette of Philadelphia; Tackle Nick Mergo of Philadelphia; End John Mulach of Haworth, N.J.; Back Andy Pecora of Philadelphia; Guard Bob Peoples of Wilmington; Center John Regan of Wilmington; Back Ralph Snowberger of Milford; and Guard John Williams of Roseto, Pa.

"School teachers and school administrators have done a magnificent job," Charles R. Sligh, Jr., president of NAM.

Dusting 'Em Off

By E. A. RAUGHLEY

The Phils are in a dog fight with the Braves for possession of second place and the only winner seems to be Brooklyn. The Phillies headed West and ran into trouble in Cincy, but with Roberts and Simmons pitching, overpowered the Braves. At St. Louis they ran into a different ball club than they played on their last home stand.

On the eastern swing the Cards lost Red Schoendienst in New York, just before coming into Philadelphia, but now he is back in the lineup and the team is back in the fight for the flag.

The Phils have had pitching trouble but seem to have things straightened out and should win more games than they lose on this trip. But if they are going to get anywhere they will have to do it on the road. The schedule does not favor them from here on in and they will have to do it the hard way.

Ailing A's

The A's are about to close the hospital but as fast as they get one patient back in playing condition another takes his place. Last week young Ed Monahan reported ready for work and came off the disabled list. However, Carl Scheib took his place, so all we gain is a new face.

The team came home from a western trip with a log of 6 wins and 4 losses, kept the pace up against the Browns, but when the Indians from Cleveland came to town and that was a different story.

If the White Sox could reverse the 10 down and 5 up standing in their series with the A's they would be on top of the league right now. But the Philadelphia Chapter of White Sox Alumni seem to get great delight in turning back their former team mates. And from here it looks like they have just about kept the Sox out of the flag and given it to the Yanks.

Williams Returns

Ted Williams is back. That is not good news to the pitchers, but the whole league will benefit for he still is a great driving card. And with his return a lot of those who are now in the service should rejoin their clubs by the time another training season rolls around.

The Brooks would like big Newcombe back for the stretch drive and the Giants could use the bat of Willie Mays. These boys are about the only regulars that are in service but all clubs will be allowed to carry the men back from service for one year without being over the player limit.

One humiliating thing about science is that it is filling our homes with gadgets smarter than we are. —Mirror, Monroe, La.

NHS Yellowjackets To Start Pre-Camp Practice, Aug. 24

Duncan Announces Grid Encampment at Tockwogh For Week Before School

Newark High School's new football coach, R. B. "Scotty" Duncan has announced that Yellowjacket grid practice will begin Monday, August 24, on the high school field.

"I wish to remind and urge you," Duncan addressed squad members in a letter issued this week, "to return in top physical condition so that you will be able to compete for a position without undue danger of injury. I wish also to emphasize the great importance of our getting together for a week at Camp Tockwogh. In order to be a great club you must not only play well but should enjoy the fellowship of your coaches and teammates."

On Saturday, Sept. 1, the squad will leave for a week's training at Camp Tockwogh, and a $5 deposit is requested from each candidate by August 15.

The Phils have had pitching trouble but seem to have things straightened out and should win more games than they lose on this trip. But if they are going to get anywhere they will have to do it on the road. The schedule does not favor them from here on in and they will have to do it the hard way.

The Chrysler Little League Tigers

Ed Van Leeuwen informs us that Howard and Eddie Wallace are twins. Howie may be Ed in our identification listing.

Last week's vacation passed more swiftly than a beginner at bridge. Another was as perfect as a hole-in-one; and although the varied insectivora were more enthusiastic about biting than were the surf and inlet fish, the fishing was good enough at that. So good that the family got good and tired of eating fish and regarded subsequent catches with something less than enthusiasm.

Among the highlights of a week spent at Ocean City, Md., were bluefish in the O.C. Inlet, big croakers in the surf off the Coin Road beach, a 400-lb blue marlin taken off the Jack Spot by an offshore trawler, Indian River Inlet sharks that were shearing off the chins of night-cruising rockfish hooked by the owl shield of determined equidiers, and a personal rescue by the FBI.

From the beach at the north end of Ocean City we took a fair kinkling on a piece of peeler crab after dark of the first evening and when this initial bit of surf fishing activity degenerated into a series of long waiting periods interspersed with an occasional, slim toothless sand shark, the game was called a number of things but not on account of darkness. A full moon hung over a silver-black ocean, tumbling into hissing, phosphorescent, brilliance on the sand.

On Monday, snapper bluefish were slicing through solid masses of spearing at the mouth of the Ocean City Inlet on a flooding tide, and clouds of terns wheeled, chattered, and played over the rafted bait that were having a bad go of it from above and below.

Much of this activity was taking place safely out of casting range from the jetties, but there were enough bluefish in the tide rips beside the rockpile to make it interesting.

Tuesday morning, with another flood tide, few birds and fewer bluefish were in evidence. But sunrise over the ocean compensated for the drenching received from a stand on the rock jetty where a heavy surf was supercharged with the wash from an interminable parade of fishing cruisers on their way out to the offshore marlin.

With a small silver colored spoon we took one of the smallest bluefish on record, along with a fair flounder.

Back at the same inlet that evening for another flood tide, a couple of hundred casts with the heavy Calcutta pole produced one star-gazer, a weird specimen somewhat on the order of a striped toadfish, and a backache. With Little Bill we made a fast trip up into Delaware for a sunset glow with the Indian River Inlet hickory shad.

It would be interesting but untrue to say that the first cast resulted in a shad, but the second one did. Far out in the swirling boll of the incoming tide a shad speedster hit the spoon and rocketed out, high over the rushing flood in a brilliant flash of spangled silver.

And for the next half hour, until darkness set in, the shad put on a real show.

Joe Craig, a next door vacation neighbor, and a fresh water man from Washington, D.C., revised his recently formed opinion of salt water fishing. At the sight of the silver hickory shad, the ex-Arkansas Razorback, a G-Man with the Federal Bureau of Investigation, no less, added authority to next morning's shad safari to the Delaware inlet.

And the FBI knocked off those shad with what developed into almost monotony. Not quite. Those shad look and fight like baby tarpon. And if you don't mind straining bones through your tonsils, they're wonderful eating, too.

Because of an endless series of bars—sand, that is—surf fishing off much of the Maryland beach frontier was discouraging. Just a good cast offshore, the sand bars produced hopelessly shallow water at low tide and a turbulent puzzle at high water. It is difficult to get your pyramid to hold in the wash, to cast over the outer bar is practically impossible, and the likely sloughs between the beach and the first line of surf proved to be unproductive of all but calico crabs.

The Delaware surf, while in no way teeming with fish, was more satisfactory.

On Thursday we took five big, husky hardheads from the Old Inlet Road beachfront, and one willing to donate a near pint of gamma globulin to a horde of man-eating beach flies.

With the FBI the next day, we came up with a mixed bag of tautog, black sea bass, spot, and croaker from the same area—and while croakers have been a surf fishing exception for a number of years, spot, bass, and spot are even more unusual.

Mack McCarty, at Dewey Beach, was host to a nighty catch of from two to six big striper hanging in his ice house, and he reported the loss of giant rockfish, snapped off clean behind the gills by prowling sharks.

Rescue by the FBI occurred on the next to last day of vacation when Joe Craig provided transportation to Salisbury in quest of a crucial part for a tired automobile. A push rod was finally located in a discarded engine block, repaired amid a tangle of briars and weeds in a weebegone junk yard, and by guess and by Joe we replaced the broken rod and made it back home in time to congratulate newly-wed Bill Durham on Monday morning.

All Stars to Play Wilmington Park Little League Test

Newark Squad to Engage Optimist Little League Stars Next Wednesday

The Newark Little League All-Stars will meet the Optimist-sponsored All-Star Little Leaguers of Wilmington on Wednesday, August 12, at 6:30 p.m. in the Wilmington Ball Park.

James P. Ward, manager of Wilmington Park, has offered the facilities of the former Blue Rocks playgrounds to the Little Leagues of Newark and Wilmington for a one-night stand, and Ralph Colbert, president of the local Little League has completed arrangements for the inter-city test.

The Newark All-Stars, selected by the six team managers, will be the same team that recently played the New Jersey All-Stars at Pennsville. The Newark Little Leaguers dropped a close decision across the river.

Representing the Newark Little League at Wilmington will be J. Hitchens, D. Buchanan, and J. Saunders, of the Optimist Browns; F. Parker and F. Bercherdt, Avon Yankees; D. Stout, J. Hummel, and J. Cairns, Jackson's Cubs; R. Fields, and D. Stimmel of the VFW Phils; H. Coursey, and K. Laws, Chrysler Tigers; and J. Cox and M. Conkey, of the Fire House Pirates.

New London Girls Win Junior Softball Title

In the Junior Girls Softball League, the New London Lassies topped top honors in the circuit after defeating the Independents in a stretch drive.

Girls who played on the championship squad were Margaret James, Frances Bryan, Brenda Gaston, Elaine Hall, Janet Wright, Dorothy Watson, Loretta Boyles, Cynthia Boyles, Peggy Thompson, Dolores Hackett, Cheryl Ryland, Doris Ray, Leila Woolford, Catherine Perkins, Catherine Hall and Roslyn Hackett.

TRAINING

No less than 13 different owners whose horses were trained by Frank A. Bonsal, shared in purse winnings during Delaware Park's 1953 meeting. Nine of the Glyndon, Md., conditioner's patrons won one or more races, while the other four shared in purses. Bonsal's 12 wins topped the trainers' standing at the recent meeting. In 1952 he and Oscar White tied for first.

There may be more thankless jobs than that of an umpire, but off-hand we can't recall one. No matter which way you call a close one, half of the people involved won't like it.

But Ed Johnson (left) and Howard Cade volunteered for Little League umpiring duty—have done a great job—and went all the way in outfitting themselves with professional garb.

It seems as though the peace makers have little more to show for their efforts than the one-piece makers.

Dollins Defeats Anderson For 3rd Straight NCC Title

Defending Champion Fires 66 Over First 18 Holes To Turn Back Former Title-Holder, 7 and 6 Over 36 Hole Route; George Horn Cops Senior Tourney

In the 36 hole finals for the Newark Country Club championship last Sunday, defending champion Al Dollins defeated former champion George Anderson 7 and 6 to win the title for the third consecutive year.

Dollins, who fired a 66 over the first 18 holes, as against Anderson's 72, birdied the 28th hole to go 7 up and with a bogey on the 29th and 30th, capped the championship.

Dollins won the club title in 1951, 1952 and 1953. Anderson was runner-up in 1951 and 1952, and lost to Dollins in the 36 hole final in 1952.

Anderson capped the championship by winning the Senior Tourney on Sunday. He defeated George Horn 7 and 6 in the 36 hole final.

THREE OF A KIND

It may not be unique for three sisters to select careers of public service. But it's noteworthy when all three choose to serve their communities as telephone operators.

And that is the case with the three Sammons sisters. All are telephone operators in Delaware. Ruth (now Mrs. Knapp) is in Dover, Esther (now Mrs. Scaggs) in Wilmington, Dorothy in Georgetown. Together these three sisters have devoted a total of 20 years to providing good telephone service for their neighbors.

It would be difficult to compute the vast number of telephone calls the Sammons girls have handled in these busy years—pleasant social conversations, business contacts, urgent defense messages, emergency calls of many kinds. But the spirit of their work, like that of so many other telephone men and women, can be counted as a real example of community service.

THE DIAMOND STATE TELEPHONE COMPANY.
