NEWARK, DELAWARE, THURSDAY, JANUARY 10, 1929

NUMBER 50

K. JOHNSTON TO DIRECT SAFETY COUNCIL DRIVE

Will Raise $25,000 As Operating Fund; To Expand Activities Regarding Traffic Problems; First Appeal In Three Years

79 DEATHS IN 1928

John K. Johnston, of Newark, has been named as director of a campaign to raise $25,000 for the Delaware Safety Council. The campaign will begin on January 21, and the funds collected will be used for operating expenses of the Council. Assisting Mr. Johnston, as a main committee for the drive, will be Harry H. Craig, George Huber, Clarence Fraim, J. H. Elliott, I. B. Finkelnstein and Mrs. M. Barsham.

This will be the first time in three years that the Council has appealed to the public for funds, and a major portion of the money will be used to expand the activities of the Council in regard to highway and city traffic problems.

In commenting upon the campaign, Mayor L. A. Drexler, president of the Council, said: "This money is necessary for the work of the Safety Council if the people of Delaware are to be protected from the enormous loss of life and property through motor vehicle accidents on our streets and highways. In 1928 the death toll was 79 of our people, seven more than the number of the previous year. In addition, more than 800 persons were seriously injured in motor vehicle accidents."

That these accidents may be prevented is a theory proved time after time where organized effort has been made. In Delaware we have achieved phenomenal success in lowering our accident rate among our road members of the Industrial Board and Industrial Council. We have credited the safety council with this achievement.

Lack of funds has prevented as active campaign in the traffic field as the situation demands. It is, however, certain that our traffic deaths and injuries would have been even fewer than they have been had not the council functioned to some extent in this field."

The opening dinner meeting of the campaign will be held on the evening of January 21 in the du Pont-Biltmore Hotel. Those present will be the members of the Council, and they will be interested in the welfare of the Delaware Safety Council.

It is believed by officials of the organization that the high quality of service that has been consistently rendered by the organization has been immediately recognized by the people of Delaware and that they will give this warrants a generous response to the appeal being made. Previous to the dinner which will inaugurate the drive, a meeting of officials of the Delaware Safety Council, will be held in the offices at which time the plans for the drive will be organized and plans completed.

Last Sunday, Mr. Rose's 77th birthday, a game had been arranged, but the day was too cold and blustery for them to tee off.

$10,000 Organ For New Handloff Theatre

Louis Handloff has just purchased a $10,000 Müller Organ, which will be installed in the new theatre which he is now constructing on Main street.

This is a similar organ to that which the Stanley Company placed in its new Villa Theatre in Philadelphia, and is the most modern instrument on the market. Its installation here will give the Handloff Theatre the finest mechanical musical equipment in the State. This organ will reproduce the musical effects of a full orchestra. Mr. Handloff says he will engage the best organist available to play this fine machine.

FIRE SCARE IN OLD SCHOOL

Wainscoting In Main Street Building Catches Fire From Chimney But Blaze Is Extinguished With Slight Loss

Fire on the first floor of the old school building on Main street, where the fourth and fifth primary grades are housed, caused a scare and some excitement for a short time Tuesday morning, but the teachers, with the aid of Ira S. Brinser, superintendent of the local schools, were able to get the fire out without the aid of the firemen.

The chimney in this old building, which was built in 1884, goes up in the middle of the building in a room where Miss May Strough is the teacher. On account of the cold weather it was necessary to have an unusually hot fire and the wainscoting in Miss Strough's room caught fire. The children were all gotten out of the room with little trouble and Miss Strough and others then kept down the flames by throwing water on the burning part of the wainscoting. Mr. Brinser arrived in a short time and using a fire extinguisher put out the fire. The damage was slight.

The school authorities, to prevent any such happening in the future, will take off all the wainscoting and put asbestos around the chimney before replacing the wainscoting.

The local fire company was called to extinguish a blaze. Little damage was done to the property.

NEW GOVERNOR TO TAKE OFFICE NEXT TUESDAY

Legislative Committee Makes Plans For Inauguration Of C. Douglass Buck; Ceremonies To Be Held In Dover Opera House

TO HAVE INAUGURAL BALL

Except for some minor details plans have been completed by the special committee of members of the Legislature for the inauguration of Governor-elect C. Douglass Buck at Dover next Tuesday. On the same day J. Henry Hazel, of Dover, elected Lieutenant Governor, will take office and will be sworn in in the Senate chamber over which he will preside.

The ceremonies in connection with the inauguration of the new governor at his request are to be made as simple as possible. The customary parade, which is always a feature of the inauguration ceremonies is to be almost entirely omitted, although a battery of the national guard will escort the new governor to the Dover Opera House, where the ceremonies will be held.

The two houses of the Legislature will meet in joint session in the house chamber and will adjourn from there to the Opera House to attend the inaugural. Chief Justice James Pennewill will administer the oath of office to Governor-elect Buck.

After the inauguration the 198th Coast Artillery band will give a concert at the State House during the afternoon. The new Governor will hold a reception during the early evening and at night the usual inaugural ball will be held in the Dover Armory.

Governor-elect Buck has already announced that he will reappoint Charles H. Grantland secretary of state, and Mr. Grantland will take the oath of office under his chief that day.

BIENNIAL BUDGET BILL SUBMITTED BY GOVERNOR

Commends Various State Departments In Final Message To Legislature At Dover Yesterday; Recommends State House Addition

SCHOOLS WANT $6,000,000

Governor Robert P. Robinson submitted his final message to the Legislature at noon yesterday, the Senate and the House meeting in joint session to hear the message. The term of Governor Robinson will end next Tuesday, when Governor-elect C. Douglass Buck will be inaugurated.

Governor Robinson, in his message, pointed out that the surpluses in the various funds of the state is now about $7,000,000, but explains all of this is not in the general fund and warns against too heavy inroads being made on the general fund, as there would be danger of depleting it should appropriations continue to greatly increase.

With his message Governor Robinson also submitted to the General Assembly the biennial budget bill carrying appropriations to run the various state departments, institutions and other state agencies for the next two fiscal years. The total appropriations in the budget bill which has been introduced in the House is $1,845,764.17, the fiscal year beginning July 1, this year, and $1,899,631 for the fiscal year beginning July 1 of next year. These amounts may be increased or decreased as a result of the budget hearings to be started by the budget committee soon, but it is unlikely that many changes will be made over the recommendations of the governor.

This bill, however, does not carry the biennial appropriations for the public schools. This will come in a separate bill and the Governor not only points out that the State Board of Education will ask for $3,000,000 for each year to operate the public schools, but says that amount seems to be necessary to properly carry on the public school work under modern methods. The school appropriation the past two years has been $2,500,000 each year, but in some instances additional money had to be used.

With the budget or general appropriation bill and the school appropriation bill totalling nearly $10,000,000, this Legislature will probably be called on to appropriate nearly $11,000,000, as there will be numerous additional appropriations for building operations and other purposes.

Governor Robinson, in his message, recommends an appropriation for building another addition to the State House, explaining that the automobile license department and the general offices of the Secretary of State are now much congested.

He recalls the fact that February 12, of this year, will mark the one hundredth anniversary of the establishment of the free public school system in the state.

The Governor commends the efficient work during the two years of various state departments, especially the State Board of Health for its fine work in aiding to reduce the death rate from certain diseases.

He also commends the State Highway Department and recommends that the law be changed to make the Governor a member of the highway commission to get the advantage of the wide experience of Governor-elect Buck in road building.

At least the Legion members attempted to distribute one to each home. Anyone who did not receive one, may get a calendar by applying at Sheaffer's Paint Shop.

The calendar which was conceived and executed by the local post, is an advertising medium. There are single day leaves on the calendar, each carrying a social calendar for the day, and flanked by advertisements of Newark and Wilmington business establishments.

DEL. SWIMMERS DEFEAT LEHIGH

Open Season With 33-25 Victory In Gruelling Meet

The University of Delaware swimming team opened its season Saturday night by defeating Lehigh University in the new Delaware tank, 33 to 25. The contest was closer than the score indicates, and the Blue and Gold was hard pushed to eke out a victory. Delaware took first place in four of the seven events, although one of these, the 150 backstroke, came through a disqualification of Cushman, of Lehigh, when he failed to touch in one of his turns. He beat Bill Brown by a few inches, but the race was awarded to Brown.

Delaware opened the meet by taking the relay. Reybold, who was number one man for Delaware, gave the team a good lead which they maintained to take the race.

Davis, of Lehigh, was declared winner of the fancy diving contest, with Harold Sortman, Delaware freshman, second.

In the fifty-yard dash two Delaware men staged almost a dead heat for the first two places. The judges decided that Reese had taken first from Reybold. Hertzler, of Lehigh, was third.

Captain Taylor, of Delaware, ran away from the field in the 440, but Greene and Weld, of Lehigh, took second and third, respectively.

Pelizzani, of Lehigh, showing perfect form, had little trouble winning the 200-yard breast stroke. Miller and Smith, of Delaware, placed second and third.

The 100-yard free-style brought about a gruelling duel between Cushman, Lehigh's star, and Reybold. A bad turn by Reybold gave Cushman the edge, and he just nosed Reybold out of first place.

NEWARK CONTINUES WINNING STREAK

The Newark basketball team continued its winning streak by nosing out Phi Kappa Tau Monday night, in the College Gym, by the score of 17 to 14, and trouncing the Fraim's Dairy team 54 to 21 Tuesday.

The Phi Kappa Tau game was one of the best of the season and was not decided until late in the game, when Bland's field goal beat the referee's whistle by a hair. Patchell and Bland were the stars for Newark and Flynn performed well for the frat boys.

In the Tuesday game Newark showed its power by toying with the Milk boys to win without a struggle. Bland again proved his worth by scoring twenty-three points, enough to beat the Dairy boys himself. Incidentally Bland, by his wild scoring, took the lead for honors on the Newark team.

Co GAS WARNING

"It may not be amiss at this time to call attention of motorists to a menace that annually takes many lives—carbon monoxide gas fumes, states Charles E. Grubb, Director of the Delaware Automobile Association, 11th and West streets, Wilmington. Despite all that has been said and written on the subject, motorists still take a chance on running their motors in closed garages. Carbon monoxide fumes are among the most dangerous known to science. Any motorist who works on his car in a closed garage is inviting death unless he turns off the engine.

"Another winter danger that is not thoroughly appreciated by drivers is the stalling of cars on grade crossings or intersections, because they have not been properly warmed up before the beginning of a trip. There are numerous instances of fatal accidents due to this cause.

"Skidding accidents continue to take a fearful toll of human life. Many motorists do not seem to understand that speeding over wet or icy roads is fraught with menace, particularly if they are called upon to make a sudden

JANUARY 10, 1929

The Safety Council Drive

The Delaware Safety Council is about to ask the people of the State for $25,000. This will be its first appeal for money in three years. The money will be used as an operating fund, and it will allow the Council to expand its work on traffic problems and highway safety measures.

We all should have a very selfish interest in the success of this campaign, for the work of the Council is to eliminate the constant and varied hazards of city and highway travel. We are most of us exposed, daily, to these hazards.

John K. Johnston, of this town, has been chosen to direct the drive for funds. Mr. Johnston is a very able salesman, and in the Delaware Safety Council he has a real proposition to sell. We hope Newark will do its part in putting this campaign over the top.

GENEVA SCHOOL HAS LEAGUE OF MANY NATIONS' CHILDREN

Not far from the University of Geneva one can see near the door of one of the dignified old houses on the Rue Genebrier a small brass plate bearing the words "Ecole Internationale" (International School). One hundred and ten boys and girls of seventeen different nationalities make up the student body of the unique educational experiment that has its headquarters here and is sponsored in part by members of the Secretariat of the League of Nations.

When the League of Nations was first organized in 1920, some of the representatives of the different countries found, when they arrived in Geneva with their families, that the educational question was as hard a nut to crack as any of the more weighty matters of state they were called upon to solve. In a majority of cases their children knew no French. Tutors were not practicable. Not many cared to send their children back to their native lands for their early training, while the obvious solution of sending them to Swiss schools presented serious drawbacks. For though there were many excellent institutions in Geneva and other towns of Switzerland, the heavy emphasis placed on local and cantonal history did not make them a particularly suitable background for children who would later spend most of their lives in China, America, or even in countries as close by as Western Europe.

Finally, some of the parents among the officials of the League of Nations and other international organizations with offices in Geneva decided to start a school of their own where Czech and Chinese, Latin and Lithuanian alike would receive their fundamental training with a strict impartiality as to the national history and literature of all. The outcome was the International School, established in 1924.

The most active agents among these pioneers in instigating juvenile international good-will were Arthur Sweetser, assistant director of the information section of the League of Nations; Mrs. Sweetser, Dr. Louis Rajchman, director of the health section; Mrs. Rajchman, L. Maurette, director of the research division of the international labor office, and Mrs. Maurette.

Their project has apparently met a real need, for it has grown from a small day school of twenty-four pupils to an establishment with both day and boarding departments, the latter housed in a charming old country villa at Onex, a few miles outside the city, which also serves as a centre for sports and gymnasium work for the whole school. At the beginning of the current school year, new quarters were opened for the girl boarders in town. School buses carry loads of English-speaking youngsters learning French, French-speaking children learning English, and Slavs, Orientals, Latins and Teutons learning both, back and forth between the town and country bases.

English and French are the official languages of the curriculum, which takes in work from kindergarten to preparation for university matriculation. The pupils that do not know either have special classes arranged for them until they are able to go on with the others. Usually children pick up enough French to follow class work in about six months, but French-speaking children take longer to acquire similar facility in English because they hear it only in school.

Paul Meyhoffer, headmaster of the day school, formerly a teacher in the Jean Jacques Rousseau Institute at Geneva, is working out by way of experiment a course in beginning Latin in which French and English speaking children can be instructed at the same time.

The school has no formal connection with the League of Nations but arose simply from the needs of parents connected with that and other international organizations with headquarters in Geneva, such as the International Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., and the International Labor Office.—N. Y. Times.

BOARD OF EDUCATION IN REGULAR SESSION

The regular meeting of the Board of Education was held in the Public School Office, last evening. Mr. Harrison Gray, president of the Board, Mr. Robert Gallaher, vice-president, Mr. Edward L. Richards, Superintendent of Schools, Ira S. Brinsler were present.

The general school report showed an average of 92 per cent in attendance for the month of December. Newark being especially fortunate in that the in-road of illness were not so severe as the other parts of the state. Percentage of punctuality of the school showed an average of 99 per cent. Three teachers were ill during the month for several days and could not attend school duties.

The survey of the results of instruction showed considerable improvement over the results of the same type of survey test one year ago. Especial progress has been noticed in reading, reasoning, arithmetic and language work.

In order to prevent any possible recurrence of fire in the main street building, the Board authorized the placing of asbestos between the chimney which goes up through the center of the building and the wainscoting.

The coal bids were opened and upon examination were authorized to be awarded to C. E. Ewing on the basis of lowest bid. It is the policy this year to ask for bids on coal based on the guaranteed analysis of coal.

The Board of Education devoted considerable time to the examination of the finances of the school, which included expenditures to date and estimated need expenditures to June 30, 1929.

The problems discussed included the proposed legislation as recommended by the State Board of Education and the building program of the Newark School. With the increasing enrollment and the increasing need for more class rooms, as well as teachers, makes problems of concern, not only to the Board of Education, but to every parent, citizen and child in the Newark community. The problem which is intimately connected with the completion of the Newark School building and which was discussed at the meeting, included the probable planning for Manual Arts for boys of Junior-Senior High School age and Home Economics for girls of Junior High School age, as well as Commercial Education.

INFLUENZA

What Can Be Done to Check It? The Community Can Do Something

It can discourage the crowding together in ill ventilated places of persons who have not the disease, and those who are either coming down with it or recovering.

It can increase its efforts at bringing about better sanitation of restaurants and eating houses where dishes, improperly scalded after use, serve to transmit the disease.

It can help to provide assistance for those who, when ill, cannot look after themselves.

It can exercise judgment concerning such measures as closing schools. There are occasions when this may be necessary, but it is better for the children to be under proper supervision in school than to have no supervision outside.

What Can the Individual Do?

If he has not yet contracted the disease, he can exercise caution in exposing himself to the danger of catching it from others.

He can avoid crowds in which almost surely there are cases.

He can use all the means which a careful personal hygiene provides for lessening the danger of contracting it, washing his hands thoroughly before eating, keeping himself fit by a careful attention to his habits, avoiding excessive fatigue, getting proper exercise, dressing rationally and guarding against excesses.

If he has contracted it, he can go to bed, placing himself under treatment and remaining under treatment till convalescent. He thus lessens the danger of transmitting the disease to others and follows the right course from the point of view of prompt recovery.

It is unwise to fight the "flu," since it can fight back. The severe cases are those which keep going until some dangerous complication has arisen.

Prepared by order of the State Board of Health.

STILL BORN BABY FOUND IN SEWER

As the result of a still born baby being found at the new sewer pumping station at the south end of Chapel street, near the Pennsylvania railroad, several days ago, an investigation is being made by both the police authorities and the Coroner's office, to which office the matter has been referred.

This pumping station which takes care of much of the sewage from the new section of town taken in under the extension act passed by the legislature, was only completed a few months ago. Sewage that goes through this unit of the sewer pumped to the disposal plant.

Several days ago one of the employees of the town in connection with his work of looking after the pumping station found the still born baby where it had been caught by a screen near the station, which is used to prevent large objects from passing through and being pumped to the disposal plant.

This employee notified the health officials of his find and they immediately notified the officers and the Coroner's office. A town official in discussing the matter today said that an investigation is being made and that it would not be surprising should an arrest be made shortly.

OLIVER KOELIG TAKES FIVE CORN SHOW PRIZES

A number of local exhibitors, including several Newark High School students, came home with awards from the 22nd annual State Corn Show, held in Dover last week. Oliver Koelig, a student in agriculture in the local high school, won the State Grange Cup for the championship ten ears of corn in the boys class; took first place in both white and yellow corn in boys' and girls' class; took first place for single ear white in the open class, and placed third in single ear yellow.

In the boys' and girls' class yellow corn, Newark High School students took three of the six places. Oliver Koelig placed first; Vincent Mayer, third; Thomas Milliken, fourth; and Frank Mayer, sixth. Vincent Mayer also won third award for his wheat in the class of small grains.

F. A. Trimble, of Hoekessin won two second awards, in the interstate class white corn, and ten honorary ears, white.

The judging team of the Newark High School, on Friday, competed for the State Bankers' Cup, on which it now has two legs toward permanent possession. The decision on the contest will probably not be announced for another week, but if Newark won the cup goes to them for keeps.

Christian Science Churches

"God" was the subject of the lesson- sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 6. Golden text: "The Lord is the true God. He is the living God, and an everlasting king." (Jeremiah 10:10.) Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God is one Lord: And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might." (Deuteronomy 6:4,5.) The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God. The great I Am; the all-knowing; all-seeing; all-acting; all-wise; all-loving and eternal; Principle; Mind; Soul; Spirit; Life; Truth; Love; all-substance; intelligence."

NEWARK BOY MAKING GOOD

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Russell have received another interesting letter from their son, Raymond, in charge of a section of the Firestone Plantations Company rubber development in Liberia.

In this, he states, "I am getting along fine. The weather is very warm. Most of our hard work is over, here. We have all of our farm planted to rubber; now, all we have to do is have each boy clean all the weeds out around each rubber tree. The trees, now, about a foot high, should be about 4-6 feet in height in a year."

MISSION CIRCLE MEETING

NEWS OF THE NEIGHBORING TOWNS

An account of the illness of the Rev. Samuel L. Irvine, there were no services in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday, and due to his continued illness no services will be held the coming Sunday, January 13. Rev. Mr. Irvine has been confined to his home suffering from a heavy cold.

A "Candle-Light" service was held in the Christiana M. E. Church on Sunday evening, when the members of the Christiana Improvement Association attended in a body, accepting the invitation extended by the pastor, Rev. Preston W. Spence, Jr. The service was assisted in the exercises by Mr. R. Earle Dickey, president of the Improvement Association, and Mrs. Frank Morrison, Jr., presided at the organ. Rev. Mr. Spence took as his subject, "What Meaneth This Candle" with "Hope" as his special topic. There was special organ music by Mrs. Morrison, a solo by Mrs. Levey Hawthorne, and duets by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis of Cooch's Bridge. During the whole service candles furnished all the light, and during the hymn each person present held a lighted candle, making a most fitting and impressive climax.

There will be a stereopticon entertainment in the Methodist Church on Thursday evening of this week. All are invited to attend. It has been announced that there will be no admission charge.

The Girl Reserves, under the leadership of Mrs. Spence, held their regular meeting Monday evening at the school-house. There was, however, only a small attendance and no business of importance was transacted.

There was plenty of entertainment at the annual Christmas party given by the Christiana Improvement Association in the school house on Tuesday evening of this week. There was a Christmas treat and an "Old Kris" who distributed gifts to everyone present. Eleanor Howell gave a recitation, Mollie Cleaves and Elsie Ware sang, and Joseph Delcotto an instrumental solo; after which games were played and refreshments served. Mrs. W. Spence, Jr., Mrs. William Howell and Mrs. Homer Vincent composed the committee in charge.

At last the work on the Haves Corner Road has been entirely completed; the contractors have gathered up their equipment and gone away; no longer are there mixers, ditch-diggers and heaps of sand and stone for the traveler to run around. The new road is certainly a wonderful improvement and is bound to send little Old Christine another notch higher on the social and economic scale.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Maclary and children, Harry, Alfred and Ella Mae, are guests on Sunday of Mrs. Oliver Githell, at her home near Harmony.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Vernon Lynam and children, Paul and Lelia, of Stanton, were week-end visitors at the home of Mrs. Lynam's mother, Mrs. James Appleby.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Appleby and family, of Red Lion, visited Mr. and Mrs. William Howell on Sunday. Mrs. Howell also paid a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Howell, of Strickersville, on the same day.

Mr. and Mrs. George McCarns and family, and Mrs. Charles Beatty, of Wilmington, and Mr. Jesse Dever, Jr., of Newport, were entertained on Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Louth at their home on the Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. William Jones, who for some time have been making their home near Altoona, in Western Pennsylvania, are visiting Mrs. Jones' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Denn.

Mr. George Ward recently motored to Charlestown, Md., to visit his mother and sister-in-law. Mr. and Mrs. John Ward.

The friends of Mr. Walter Sheldon, who has been critically ill with pneumonia, will be glad to know that he has been pronounced out of danger, and is on the road to recovery, though he is still confined to his bed, and very weak.

Mrs. Sarah Appleby, who makes her home with Mrs. James Appleby, was quite ill for a short while last week, but has entirely recovered, and is able to be about, as usual.

Mrs. Frank Morrison, Jr., was among those reported on the list of gripe victims last week, but is much improved.

Mrs. A. B. Currinder has been suffering from a severe cold and sore throat.

Mr. James Marshall, who has been ill for some time, is still confined to his home.

Miss Frances Louth, who has been helping in the care of her aunt, Mrs. Laura Dever, of Newport, has returned home; and Mrs. Louth has gone to be with her sister. Mrs. Dever has been seriously ill with pneumonia, following an attack of gripe. She is improving now, but is by no means out of danger.

Mrs. John Levey has recovered from an attack of gripe which kept her housed for a few days.

Mrs. Sara Kilvington, who has been suffering from a heavy cold, is still reported on the sick list.

Mrs. Harry Stafford, matron of the Masonic Home, near Wilmington, died on New Year's Day, after an illness of more than a year. Funeral services were held the following Friday. Mrs. Stafford, formerly Miss Anna Bolton, was born near Christiana, but had not lived in this vicinity for many years. She is survived by her husband and one son by a former marriage, Mr. Lewis Harvey, now living in New York City.

Mr. Andrew Moore, aged father of Mr. John W. Moore of this place, died on Friday, January 4, at his home at Hillcrest. He had been in failing health for some time. Years ago he lived for some time here in Christiana, where he made many friends and was known by everyone in the village. Funeral services were held from his late home on Monday afternoon. He leaves, besides his wife, a large family of children and a number of grandchildren. Mr. Moore was a veteran of the Civil War, having been one of the youngest who volunteered for service at the outbreak of the war.

Glasgow

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dayett, Sr., entertained at New Year's dinner in honor of Mr. Dayett's 69th birthday anniversary. Those present were: Mrs. Marie Deibert and daughter, Chloida, of Elkton; Mr. and Mrs. J. Leslie Ford and daughter; Florence, of Cooch's Bridge; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dayett, Jr., and family, Dr. Walter E. Cann, Mr. Frank Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Julius C. Barr. Mr. Dayett received quite a number of birthday gifts. His family and friends wish him many more happy birthdays.

Mrs. Harvey Steele, of Newark, visited her aunt, Miss Annie Alrich, on Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz Jester, of near Wilmington, spent Monday with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Barr.

Mrs. Anna M. Stafford, wife of Henry Stafford, and daughter of the late James L. and Martha J. Bolton (nee Laws), was buried from the Masonic Home of Delaware, where she was matron, on Friday afternoon, January 4. Interment at Riverview Cemetery. She is survived by her husband and one son, Lewis Harvey, by a former marriage. Mrs. Stafford was well known in this neighborhood, living here when she was young. She had many relatives in the neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dayett, Jr., entertained Mr. and Mrs. Julius C. Barr at dinner on Sunday.

Schools reopened on Wednesday morning, after the Christmas holidays, both teachers being able to come back, after having the gripe. Some few pupils were absent on account of sickness.

Mrs. Emma Mahan and Mr. Wm.

Mahan are confined to their beds with the gripe.

Mrs. John McCool died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Barr, on the Glasgow-Elkton road, on Saturday morning.

There was no Sunday School or Church services on Sunday on account of the weather and quite a number of the congregation suffering with the gripe.

Strickersville

Mrs. H. I. Garrett visited Mrs. Frank Beggs, of Wilmington, Del. recently.

The chimney in Mr. David Boulden's home caught fire Saturday night. The members of the family were awakened by the smell of the smoke. They succeeded in extinguishing the fire before much damage was done.

Miss Janetta Jones spent the past week-end with relatives in Germantown, Pa.

The families of Messrs. James Patterson and LaRue Vansant are confined to their homes with the grip.

Dr. and Mrs. Houchin entertained at dinner Sunday in honor of the former's birthday. The guests were Mrs. A. W. Houchin, Misses Muriel Houchin, Dorothy Houchin, Edith Jensen, Messrs. Remember that some of the brightest drops in the chalice of life may still remain for us in old age. The last draught which a kind Providence gives us to drink, though near the bottom of the cup, may, as is said of the draught of the Roman of old, have at the very bottom, instead of dregs, most costly pearls.—W. A. Newman.

A man who knows the world will not only make the most of everything he does know, but of many things that he does not know; and will gain more credit by his admission of hiding his ignorance than the pedant by his awkward attempt to exhibit his erudition.—Colton.

ANNOUNCEMENT AND INVITATION

Roofing And Improvement Company's New Show Room A Revelation Of Home Comfort And Beauty Effects

The Roofing and Improvement Company represents the results of a growth of an organization which started under the name of the Delaware Asphalt Roofing Company at 1015 Lincoln street, under the management of Mr. Joseph E. Workman, the company has grown rapidly, and while re-roofing was its first principal operation, it was found necessary to enlarge the activities of the company, and the name was changed to The Roofing and Improvement Company to better describe the various new activities.

These activities are so varied that you can hardly realize what this company has to offer, for instance, a radiator cabinet, a readiest fireplace, or to the extreme in size of improvements, a new roof or a metal constructed garage, and so on until you can, if you want it, have any size portable steel building for a service garage, road stand or even to a factory building.

The company has outgrown the old quarters at 1015 Lincoln street and has just completed the erection of a new display and demonstration building at 1316 Union street. The picture shows the front of the building, but does not show the warehouses to the rear. The company has expanded its business, not only in the city of Wilmington, but until it has customers all over Del-Mar-Va.

With the new display building and warehouses, this organization is ready to render a more efficient service than heretofore. Elsewhere on this page will be found the list of products for which they are distributors and applicators for Del-Mar-Va.

Most home owners have in mind some improvements they have long wanted to make to their properties, but the lack of a convenient and dependable way of accomplishing their desires has prevented their fulfillment.

This company has developed a corps of men and formed an applying organization to intelligently handle home modernizing improvements. Some one member of this organization has been especially trained to apply these new products, and the company is in a position to give expert advice regarding them.

The display room is not what one would just call a room of samples, because all the products on display are featured so that they show up exactly how they will look in use, and the application is demonstrated right before your eyes.

For instance, the walls show the latest in all kinds and colors of tile. Beauty and color is the welcomed improver of homes. A visit to this display room will agreeably surprise you as to how simple it is to secure the comfort and beauty of the modernizing home improvements.

The newest note in color effects, walls, floors, etc., the soft shades of blue, gray, tan, green, lavender, and old ivory, you will find just what you want to suit your own individual taste.

To show these new modern home improvements to you in reality was the reason of the erection of this large and beautiful display building.

Besides the many home interior improvements, you will also see the exterior improvements. Color effects in outside finishes, color in roofing materials of all kinds, just the thing you want to see before you make those changes or alterations.

The display room shows built-in fixtures, the kind the women want, beauty with efficiency.

You are always welcome, come in

THE WELL NOURISHED CHILD

By Kate Henley Daugherty, County Home Demonstration Agent

Characteristics of Normal Child Glowing, alert facial expression. Dry, clear eyes. No dark circles underneath.

Smooth, glossy hair. Soft, smooth skin—no eruptions. Healthy color.

Lobes of ear and membranes in eyelids and mouth reddish pink. Mouth kept closed—breathing only through nose.

Even, clean, sound teeth; upper and lower ones meeting.

Flesh firm with moderate amount of fat; muscles not flabby.

Posture erect, shoulders not sagging; shoulder blades not winged; abdomen held in, not protruding beyond chest wall.

Step elastic and firm; arches in good condition.

Hearing clear (can hear whispered voice at six feet).

Disposition good. Full of high spirits, not irritable or restless.

Mind alert and active.

Weight good for age and height. (7 per cent underweight or 20 per cent overweight is considered serious.)

The child that measures up to these characteristics has a splendid chance to meet life with vigor and enthusiasm, to become a fine father or mother and a leader in the community.

But there are many children in our communities today who have characteristics quite the opposite of these normal ones. It is for these children whether our own or our neighbors, that we must work and improve conditions. Investigations have shown us many definite reasons for the serious underweight and undernutrition which burdens almost 30 per cent of our children in this country. If we study

READY TO SERVE YOUR TILE REQUIREMENTS

HOME OF THE ARTIFICIAL TILE AND STONE CO.

The attractive home of the Artificial Tile and Stone Company at 2500 West Fourth street, Wilmington, of which Mr. Arthur Pavoni is proprietor. Offices of the concern are at 1906 W. Ninth street. Cast stone products of all sorts are made here by a force of nine men. In addition to doing cast stone work, the Artificial Stone and Tile Company does terrazzo and tile work, and has been awarded the contract for this work on the new Seaford High School. Tile will be used in all the toilet rooms and terrazzo in the corridors and vestibules. Mr. Pavoni's men are now doing all the tile work in twenty-eight baths for the Boulevard apartments at Fourteenth and Washington streets and are finishing up on five baths and a washroom in the new home for Daniel Cauffel, at Bellevue. Mr. Pavoni has several Westover Hills and Wawaset Park contracts. Another large job, which he just finished, was the tile work on the new apartment building for Peter J. Ford, at Tenth and Madison streets.

these causes, we find that we have the power to help remove them. Let us note what they are.

Causes of Undernutrition

Lack of home control.—The badly directed and badly controlled home, both among rich and poor. Here the members are little trained in self-discipline. Life imposes discipline in whatever walks we find ourselves, and it will make it easier for our children if they receive some home discipline from the first.

Lack of knowledge on the part of parents and children.—We must know what good food selection is before we can practice it. We must be able to recognize lack of weight and physical defects before we can correct them.

Poverty. Bad food habits: Poor selection.—Wrong kinds of food are supplied. Drink tea or coffee. Insufficient amount because of the lack of appetite common to the undernourished child or bad training. Too much sweets may contribute to this. Do not drink enough water.

Fast eating; too little chewing. Meals at irregular hours. Constipation. Windows closed at night. Lack of exercise. Scalp and body not kept clean. Bad health habits: Insufficient sleep. Late hours and no rest during day. Overactivity.—Too heavy home duties; too many activities outside of school.

Physical defects: Adenoids present, causing mouth breathing and disturbances in nutrition. Tonsils infected or too large. Teeth decayed, crooked or not clean. Posture poor. Vision defective, eye glasses needed. Circulation poor, heart in bad condition.

Preventive Measures

Cultivate good food habits. Learn to take the right amount and right kind of food. Control manner and time of eating. Make a game of this and the health habits.

Reports from a series of Sheppard-Towner child clinics held say: The defects found show that malnutrition, the third in the number of defects found in all children examined, is the most consistent through all ages. This only confirms the need for constant emphasis on the correct feeding of children.

Observe the good health habits. Have shoes well fitted with low heels; clothes comfortable and hygienic.

Correct physical defects. As the child gets older, there is less chance of correction. Have a medical examination early in life and take steps to remove any defects found. If left, they impair nutrition and growth, reduce resistance to disease, lessen mental ability and make of the individual a citizen who is below par physically and socially.

active member. To all members of the Delaware Automobile Association he extends free battery rentals.

In addition to his battery work, he has had years of experience in the finding and adjusting of ignition systems on all makes of cars. His experience counts here and he can locate the trouble quickly and of course, as always, such work is done on a time plus parts basis.

"Ted" is progressive, is growing and keeping up to the times; he is now installing a radio repair department at the urgent request of his customers.

Here's luck and health to "Ted" on his eighth business anniversary.

CRANSTON HEIGHTS GARAGE

The location of the Cranston Heights Garage is very convenient to Newark motorists, and a good many have formed the habit of stopping there for gas and oil on their trips to Wilmington.

The Cranston Heights Garage are representatives of the Chrysler cars, and their sales are close to the large agency in Wilmington. This car is extremely popular throughout that entire section.

Regardless of what you want in the automobile field from a nut to a new or a used car—batteries, new or old—radios and accessories, they can all be found in stock at Cranston Heights Garage. This firm has grown largely on account of their ability to serve with a large and complete stock of all kinds. You will make no mistake to form a habit of trying this garage.

COFFEE DRINKING

As the old homesteader said, "Thank God for the guy that invented coffee." Perhaps you may not be as expressive, but the majority of people are coffee drinkers. An investigation reveals the fact that 95 per cent of all Americans are drinkers of coffee.

It has been discussed pro and con as to the harmful possibilities of coffee drinking, but as they say, the proof of the pudding is in the eating, and the answer is very nearly 100 per cent all right.

Most doctors claim there are no harmful effects from coffee, but it is possible the same principle applies to coffee as to any other food or beverage; it should be prepared the proper way. According to Mr. Mausley, of the Heroy Tea Store at 721 Market street, Wilmington, the one and most important thing is to have fresh-ground coffee. Of course, you perhaps may like a light or a heavy, dark coffee, but regardless of this, if you secure a good quality of coffee beans, freshly roasted, and freshly ground, to start with, there is no excuse for the family not to have the pleasure of a real honest-to-goodness cup of coffee. Mr. Mausley will be glad to have anyone visit the store and he will talk to them about the kind of coffee that will suit their taste.

155 YEARS OF SERVICE TO NEWARKERS

There are few concerns who can lay claim to having rendered service to Newarkers for 155 years, yet such is the service that has been rendered by the Bush Line.

In these days of hustle and rapid transportation we take so much for granted, we never stop to realize that the old pioneers built the foundation on which this rapid age moves.

The Bush Line gives daily service from all nearby points; nightly bus trips from Philadelphia, and regular daily truck service right to your own door.

The rates are very low. In fact you are surprised how, for instance, a hundred pounds can be delivered from Philadelphia for 50 cents or less.
