Public Hearing Scheduled For Rezoning Of East Main Street

Controversial Issue Will Be Voted On By Council
March 4: Ordinance Enacted Stopping
College Ave. Parking

Newark city council has set April 1 as the date for a public hearing regarding the question of whether or not East Main Street between the Pennsylvania tracks and Tyne Avenue shall be rezoned from residential to commercial.

The controversial issue was the subject of a stormy public hearing this past summer and due to the strenuous objections on the part of people living in Tyne Avenue, the matter was tabled.

Tuesday night, residents of East Main Street again appeared before Council to request that the area be rezoned. Since the ordinance cannot be passed for the first time before March 4, it is necessary to advertise a public hearing for fifteen days, then the earliest council meeting at which the public can appear to discuss the matter will be April 1.

In other action Tuesday night City Council referred two additional rezoning requests to the Planning Commission for recommendation.

The first was from J. A. Correll who requested that the lot between his residence and the Chrysler Tank Plant be rezoned to commercial. Another from the John K. Waters Real Estate Company requested that the property adjacent to the Pennsylvania railroad tracks at the South College Avenue overpass be rezoned to permit that company to construct a rowing development.

According to the letter the company plans to build a series of masonry dwellings, six houses to a row. The houses will contain two and three bedrooms, living room, kitchen, bath, and garage.

City Council also enacted an ordinance prohibiting parking on either side of South College Avenue between the Pennsylvania tracks and Chestnut Hill Road. This action was motivated because of the fact numerous cars had been regularly parked along the street in the vicinity of the Chrysler Tank Plant. Hugh Gallagher, Jr., appeared before Council to protest the ordinance on behalf of Silverbrook Development, Inc., but Council passed the ordinance unanimously.

City Council announced Tuesday night that all candidates in the coming election for the office of city councilman or mayor must file the necessary papers no later than March 8.

Newark's Assistance Bought In Support Of Service Lounge

Members of Community Hear
Wilmington's Request For Funds, Hostesses

Representatives of the various local and civic organizations met at the New Century Club in Newark Monday evening to hear Fred Smith, representative of the Wilmington Mayor's Civilian and Military Committee, issue an appeal for Newark's aid in helping to maintain the Service Men and Women's Lounge recently established in Wilmington's 1st Ward.

Mr. Trembath pointed out that in addition to financial assistance which would be welcomed, it is hoped that some of the Newark women's organizations might like to supply hostesses who are badly needed.

The lounge has been in operation shortly after the Knifing incident involving servicemen and students of Vocational High School which brought the fact that visiting members of the armed forces had no place to gather to the attention of minded Wilmingtonians. Since December more than 10,000 servicemen and women have used the lounge facilities.

The point that was brought out in the talk that followed Mr. Trembath's was that although $65,000 for the recent Red Feather Drive was sent to the U.S.O., there are no funds spent in the area. It was pointed out that officials of the organization feel that no such facilities are available in Wilmington or Delaware.

Attending representatives agreed to the information back to their respective organizations to see what they could do to assist in this valuable project.

22 Local Graduates On Delaware Honor Roll Last Semester

Virginia Wells Tops Group
With Perfect Mark

Reports released this week by officials of the University of Delaware show that of the 69 graduates of Newark High School who are now attending the university, 22 of them, representing 32%, attained the honor roll during the past semester.

On a breakdown of classes on the Dean's list, the records show the following: class of '53, 25%; class of '54, 17%; class of '55, 50%; class of '56, 33%.

The 69 students were enrolled in a total of 450 courses. Of the marks earned in the 450 courses, 21.3% were A's; 37% were B's; 24.4% were C's; 7.3% were D's; 6% were E's; and 4.4% were F's.

Another way of looking at the situation, 53.3% of all the marks were B or better; 80.7% of all the marks were C or better.

Virginia Wells, class of '53, who is enrolled in the physical education course, was the top student of the group with a perfect A average.

Dollar Days To Provide Local Buyers With $-Saving Bargains

Hard-pressed budgets of the average housewives of Newark and vicinity will get a badly needed shot in the arm this weekend when most of the local merchants will take part in the Chamber of Commerce sponsored semi-annual "Dollar Days" today, tomorrow, and Saturday.

Special leaflets have been printed for the occasion, all windows are appropriately decorated announcing the galaxy of money-saving bargains, and stores are completing preparations for the expected business rush.

Held twice a year in February and August the semi-annual program has proven highly successful in the past both to merchants and to Newark residents. Chamber of Commerce officials stated this week that all indications are that this will prove to be one of the finest of all previous bargain-days programs.

At a recent meeting of the board of directors of the Newark Chamber of Commerce the following officers were elected to head the various committees and sections of the day:

William J. Warwick, executive secretary; Alfred MacLary, chairman, merchandise section; Ralph Brosius, chairman, industrial section; Samuel Handloff, chairman, business and professional section.

Citizens Invited To Discuss Reviving Of Welfare Committee

Plan To Coordinate Efforts
Of Various Groups Doing
Welfare Work

Letters have been sent this week by Mrs. Allan P. Colburn, chairman of the Newark New Century Club Welfare Committee, to various local organizations and interested individuals inviting them to meet Thursday evening, February 28 at 8 o'clock in the New Castle County Health Office, 132 West Main Street, to discuss the proposal to revive the Mayor's Central Welfare Committee.

The necessity for a coordinated welfare program in Newark has been apparent for several years in order to avoid duplication of effort such as has occurred lately in some cases needing assistance; and in order to provide help throughout the entire year as well as at the holiday season.

In 1949 a similar effort at coordination was made. As a result the Mayor's Community Christmas Committee was formed under the direction of Mrs. J. Harvey Dickey. It has worked most efficiently for the last two years.

The Central Welfare Committee was organized to meet the needs during the depression of the 1930's. It has been inactive since then. Dr. J. R. Downes, a member of the original group, has agreed to act as temporary chairman of the reactivated committee. This new committee would in no way take over the functions of existing welfare offices in local organizations, but as stated, would act as coordinator and clearing agency for all welfare work in the city.

The meeting will be open to the public. Any member of the community interested in civic welfare work is invited to attend.

Local Citizens To Discuss Politics At Wednesday Meeting

Public Invited To Take Part in Forum on Local,
State Affairs

In an effort to interest and educate local citizens in the ways and means of local and state politics a non-partisan political meeting will be held at the Newark High School on Wednesday evening, February 27, at 8 p.m.

Purpose of the meeting will be to interest more qualified citizens of the community in local and state politics and to familiarize them with the makeup of both political parties from the local hundred through the state level.

It is hoped by those arranging the meeting that a greater number of qualified persons will see fit to take part in local and state political activities.

Avery Goddin of Newark is serving as chairman for the meeting, while J. C. Stewart of New Castle will act as moderator in the discussions.

Mayor Wallace Johnson will speak on the subject "Local Government: Its Makeup and Function." John G. Leach, vice-president of Golden Gate College and former Republican State Chairman, will discuss "Individual Participation in Politics."

All interested persons of the community are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

Newark Ambulance Drivers Warned Of Ignoring Red Lights

Wilmington Doctors Claim
Need for Speedy Runs
Is Very Rare

In view of the series of serious accidents which have occurred recently in the Wilmington area, the Newark Ambulance Committee announced this week that all local ambulance drivers have been instructed to use extreme caution in negotiating traffic light signals.

Specific instruction has been given the drivers, a copy of which has been posted on the ambulance dash board, to never go through a red traffic light, until it is apparent that all traffic moving with the light has stopped. Even after it has been seen that opposite traffic has stopped, the driver should proceed through the red light at no more than 15 miles per hour.

In connection with this reckless driving on the part of certain ambulance drivers, several members of the Wilmington medical profession pointed out this week that "there is practically no such thing as an emergency call. The patient seldom needs it and in certain cases the injury may be aggravated by the speed and excitement that is part of occasional ambulance runs."

"A speeding ambulance," these men stated, "is rarely necessary, and that there is no reason for rushing when the patient is in a coma, since people rarely die of convulsions and that an asthmatic is not an emergency case unless he has not been taking care of himself."

Three conditions were listed in which an emergency may be said to exist. 1—When a patient has been in contact with a high tension line. 2—One who is suffering from immersion. 3—When it is a case of gas poisoning.

Election Board Officials Warn That All Voters Must Register

Only 225 Register On First Registration Day Last
Saturday: Two Other Opportunities Remain
Prior To April Vote

Robert Strahorn, president of the newly created Newark Election Board, revealed this week that only 225 persons registered last Saturday on the first of three registration days which have been designated by the city for those who will take part in future special and general elections here.

Although there are two registration days remaining prior to the general election, scheduled for April 8, city officials are concerned over the fact that so few people were on hand to register last week. The two remaining registration dates are Saturday, February 23, and Saturday, March 15. Citizens will be able to register on these two remaining days at the Old Academy Building between the hours of 7:30 a.m. and 7:00 p.m.

Election officials emphasize the fact that all previous registration lists have been voided and it will be necessary that every person who wishes to take part in the general election to be held on April 8 register on one of the two remaining days.

On April 8 the voters of Newark will go to the polls to elect a mayor and three city councilmen. Mayor Johnson's term of office will expire at that time along with those of Councilmen Frank Durnell, of the middle district; Carl Rankin, in the western district; and William Coverdale, in the eastern district.

Under the provisions of the new Newark city charter adopted last summer, voting requirements of Newark citizens are as follows: "To be eligible to vote in any municipal or special election in the city of Newark a person shall be a citizen of the United States, shall have been domiciled in the State of Delaware for at least one year, and in the city of Newark for at least three months next preceding the day of said election, and shall be a resident of the District at the time of registration."

Preliminary Plans For Capitol Trail School Approved

School Officials Hope Bids Can Be Solicited By Late Summer

Preliminary plans for the new Capitol Trail Elementary School have been approved by the State Board of Education, according to a statement this week by Wilmer E. Shue, superintendent of the Newark district. According to Mr. Shue the next development in the project will be the making of the final plans by the school architect after which they will be submitted once more to the State Board of Education for final approval by that body and then to the School Building Program Board.

It is hoped by school officials that all of this can be accomplished so that bids on the work can be solicited no later than the latter part of the summer.

Only one feature of the new building was not approved by the state group as shown on the preliminary plans. Whereas the plans called for individual toilets in all of the rooms, the Board of Education felt that these were necessary in only the rooms housing grades one and two. Toilet facilities for the other classes will be the conventional gang-type toilets now in use in the local school buildings.

The entire length of the Susquehanna river and its branches is about 400 miles.

Blue Cross Official Denies Rate Increase In Delaware Area

Office Flooded With Calls After Rate Increase In Phila.

"Delaware Blue Cross rates have not been changed." That statement was made by Robert C. Denzler, Assistant Managing Director of the Group Hospital Service, Incorporated after that agency was deluged with inquiries which were prompted by an announcement of an increase in Blue Cross rates in Philadelphia.

The Philadelphia Blue Cross organization is a separate agency called the Associated Hospital Service of Philadelphia and its change in rates does not affect Delaware where the Blue Cross rates were increased a year ago. Furthermore, stated Mr. Denzler, the Delaware Blue Cross is not even thinking about increasing rates. "On the contrary," he added, "we are trying to find ways of increasing benefits without changing the rates." Then he pointed out that the Delaware Blue Cross Plan recently announced that until further notice the Delaware Blue Cross will pay for ACTH and Cortisone as well as other drugs used in "New and Non-Official Remedies" for cases in the hospital. He also said that Blue Cross is preparing an announcement of other increased benefits for Delaware Blue Cross members.

Pointing out that the Philadelphia Plan has discontinued payment on all out-patient care, Mr. Denzler said this type of care involves proportionately higher administrative cost per dollar of out-patient services concerned are benefits than other hospital care. The principally hospital services provided in emergency wards for speedy treatment after accidents. Bills are generally small and the administrative cost is frequently as much as the bill itself. The Delaware Plan will continue to pay up to $6 for emergency accident treatment.

Delaware Quintet Wins Overtime Tilt Over Leopard Five

Capt. Utt Scores In Final Seconds To Give Hens 12th Win

Playing before a large audience of returning alumni on campus for the mid-winter alumni banquet, the University of Delaware basketball team brought a fine Lafayette basketball team's winning streak to a halt Saturday as they defeated the stubborn Leopards in an overtime tilt, 68 to 67.

It marked the seventh successive winning effort for Coach Emmerson's men on the home court and the twelfth victory of the season for the Hens against six losses.

Capt. Billy Utt scored on a layup shot with only seconds remaining to clinch the win, Utt was leading scorer with six goals and five fouls for a total of 17 points.

Big Jim Krusinski, who left the game on fouls in the latter stages, set the early pace for the Hen offensive and was runnerup in the scoring for the winners with six goals and five fouls for a total of 17 points.

Pete Carril, diminutive Leopard captain, was high scorer for the evening as he paced the Lafayette attack with ten field goals and eight fouls for a total of 28 points.

In the preliminary contest, Delaware Jayvees swamped the Dover Playtex five, 83 to 63, Craumer, Delaware guard, led the winners in the scoring department with nine goals and three fouls for a total of 21 points.

A word that athletes hear more often than any other word, with the possible exception of "win" is teamwork. This word is stressed because coaches know the benefits that can result from cooperation among team members.

There is much advice given to athletes by coaches on this subject. They say a boy must learn to work with his teammates; to know his own limitations and his mates' assets; to cooperate with them, so that the whole team may get the most out of the particular ability of each player.

They profess that a boy should get satisfaction out of seeing one of his fellow players, with his help, play a more outstanding game than he. They try to impress him with the fact that he should take pride in the accomplishments of his teammates, knowing that he has played a part in these accomplishments. Is this enough for his ego?

The desire to excel is always present in athletics. A striving for individual brilliance can cause a squad's morale to break down, so coaches often try to hold this striving in check by stressing teamwork. It would be interesting to know how many potentially brilliant performers have been held in this manner. They stress teamwork as if it were the means to an end, victory. Granted, victory is a desired end. But I believe that teamwork is also a desired end and not a means.

I feel that teamwork is an end, or resultant, a thing produced by each individual player striving to play his individual best at every moment; "best" defined physically and mentally. If he uses his head when he should, he will find it more advisable at times to use a teammate's ability and presence, than to try and do it by himself.

I wonder if some of the potentially superior players with fire, drive and ability to produce when teamwork is not enough have not been held back by feelings of guilt from too much talk about the "must" of teamwork.

It has confused and destroyed the potential of many great performers whose ability was above their teammates' ability. Too often, coaches are guilty of trying to cut these great men down to the level of the squad, by holding the holy principle of teamwork up to their conscience instead of trying to raise the rest of the squad up to their level of inspired performance. It is an effective way to equalize ability for morale's sake but it is also cruel to the boy who must hold back for fear of being branded an "individual star."

Blaney And Hurm Run Wild As Newark Trounces Mt. Pleasant

Yellowjackets Reach Century Mark For First Time This Season In Hanging Up One-Sided 109-51 Victory

Newark's rampaging Yellowjackets scored enough points in the first half of Tuesday night's contest with Mt. Pleasant High to win most games, but continued to roll up the points in the second half to reach the century mark in scoring for the first time this season in defeating the Mounts 109 to 51.

Bunny Blaney and Dave Hurm, with 49 and 34 points, respectively, led Newark's previous high for the year was a 44 point effort against William Penn earlier in the season. Blaney's total for the season to date is 443 points, more than a hundred better than his nearest competitor, Jimmy Patton, of Wilmington High.

It was the 12th Newark victory in 14 games and the second of the season over Mt. Pleasant. In scoring 109 points, the Yellowjackets became the second team in the state to reach the century mark this season. Smyrna High holds the state scoring mark for the year with 119 points against Harrington.

In the preliminary contest Mt. Pleasant's junior varsity quintet defeated the Newark Jayvees, 43-37.

Delaware Football Games To Be Played In Newark This Fall

President Announces Revised Plans Permit Immediate Start of Stadium

Dr. John A. Perkins, president of the University of Delaware, announced this week that he is planning to build a new stadium on campus so as to take advantage of materials immediately available. The university hopes to have the new stadium available for the first 1952 football game with Gettysburg College on Saturday, September 27.

In the event it is not possible to have the new stadium ready by this date, university officials state they will pick up their home football schedule on the first Saturday possible.

Original plans called for a steel and brick-faced plant with a seating capacity of from 12,000 to 14,000 fans and costing approximately $250,000. The modified plans call for steel supported wood stands seating about 6,000, set in concrete bases and will cost an estimated $185,000. These funds are on hand at the present time.

There have been no changes regarding the location of the new plant which will be located on the Newark-Glasgow road north of the new agriculture building.

In his announcement of the change in plans, Dr. Perkins stated, "We are planning an adequate but modest stadium. The return of intercollegiate sports to the university campus is important to the spirit of the game as we propose to play it. Our new stadium in its collegiate setting will invite increased interest in our games. The kind of competition in which Delaware engages requires such a facility. I am delighted that we find it possible to proceed as we are planning and I am confident that our alumni and many friends share our enthusiasm."

National Production Authority approval, the lack of which stopped the prior plans, will not be required in the new plans. This because the present plans will make use of prefabricated bleachers which are readily available from several concerns.

One of the changes from prior schedules necessitated by the erection of the new stadium will be the elimination of all night games. This is because of the fact that copper is not available for use in installing the lighting equipment plus the fact that many alumni and friends of the university have voiced disapproval of the night games for several reasons.

Delaware Students Pay Painting Bill

$462.50 Paid For Decorating Lafayette Campus

Members of the Student Government Association at the University of Delaware agreed this week to pay a $462.50 bill submitted to the university from Lafayette College at Easton, Pa.

The bill was submitted to Delaware officials at the request of Dr. John A. Perkins after it was decided by an investigation at Lafayette that Delaware students were guilty of smearing the Easton campus with paint prior to the Delaware-Lafayette football game.

The bill included $262.50 for time and material consumed by painters in removing paint at various parts of the Lafayette campus, and $200 for sandblasting stone monument foundations where paint penetrated the stone.

Local Teachers To Survey School Area

Newark Public School officials announced this week that on February 26 some eighty members of the school faculty will visit various industrial and historical places of interest in the Newark area in order to gain first-hand experience in just what makes up the school district.

The plan is to have the teachers visit various places of interest in the area in teams of four. After the visits have been completed the members taking part in the survey will assemble in the school cafeteria for dinner and planning that will present to the group the information which they have gathered.

It is the opinion of the school officials that the information gathered in this project will be invaluable in such phases of school activity as curriculum building and community resource studies. It is also believed that this will be an added help in enabling the teachers to recognize and acquaint themselves with some of the outside influences on students of the local schools.
