Record 2,750 Undergraduates Enrolled On Delaware Campus

Dr. John A. Perkins Addresses Convocation Exercises Monday, Emphasizing "Need For Intellectual Talents;" Record Class Of 993 Freshmen Report For 1960-61 Term

A record registration of 2,750 undergraduate students was reported with the beginning of the 1960-61 academic year at the University of Delaware last Monday, and more were expected before the close of the late registration period on Saturday, Oct. 1.

A record-breaking class of freshmen with 993 students is responsible for much of this growth, according to Robert Shubert, assistant director of admissions and records. Late registrants are expected to make the total of 1964 the first in the history of the university to top 1,000.

A total of 1,542 students have enrolled in extension courses, with 230 expected to sign up within the next two weeks. Graduate enrollment is ahead of last year with 1,037 registrations, and a total of 1,060 advanced degree candidates anticipated.

Convocation Address

In addressing the convocation attended by students, faculty, family, and other friends on the central campus green last Monday morning, Dr. John A. Perkins, president of the University of Delaware, said he was entering upon a new year of university work, you are helping to meet your country's need for intellectual talents.

The overriding consideration before all of us is whether, through intellectual freedom, the United States can meet the manpower needs of a scientific age as satisfactorily as the Russians," Perkins declared.

"First of all," he said, "you must understand that there is one fundamental reason for attending this university. It is to gain intellectual substance. This can be done by total absorption in your studies and through the stimulation of the mind which the university provides through such special programs as lectures, exhibits, sports and visiting scholars."

Emphasizing that students in other lands are more industrious than those in America, Perkins said he understood that the only real frontier on this planet is the limitless frontier of the mind.

He urged students to open further this frontier as much hard work, sacrifice, and self-discipline as you have expended in settling the

Bryan Forecasts Continued Growth For Farm Markets

Southern States Official Addresses Annual Meeting At Harmony Grange Hall

"The future of farming as a business is tied tightly to the growth of this country, and farm markets will grow rather than shrink," said Robert Bryan, Southern States Cooperative representative, at the recent annual Southern States membership meeting in Harmony Grange Hall.

By 1975, Bryan said, this country will have 230,000,000 people who will need 35 per cent more poultry, 63 per cent more red meats, 38 per cent more milk, and 57 per cent more fruits and vegetables.

"As a result," Bryan pointed out, "Southern States Cooperative must concern itself more and more in the years ahead to increasing farmers' bargaining power through helping them control more of the phases of 'agribusiness'."

A step in this direction, he said, was the recent reorganization program that Southern States Cooperative put into effect on July 1. Under this system the five-state operating territory of the organization was divided into 10 regions. Each region has its own regional headquarters and staff headed by a regional manager. The old system had 40 operating districts with a district manager in charge of each.

"Stockholder members have an obligation, too, to make their cooperative more effective," Mr. Bryan continued. "This is largely dependent upon how completely they use the services of the organization and whether they do so on a constant and voluntary basis."

Elected to the local Southern States board are Walter Henderson, Elkton; and Carl Stafford, Newark.

Elected to the local farm home advisory committee are Mrs. Chandler Irwin and Mrs. Joseph Laws of Newark.

Christian Zeitler of Newark was named delegate for the district election meeting in Baltimore, with John W. Richards of Newark, second alternate.

Donald R. Hummel, Jr., manager of Southern States Newark Co-op, reported that last year had been one of the best business years in Newark history, and expressed the hope that the patrons would continue to support their local cooperative.

More attractive than the old babushka . . . !

All the physical sciences have made great strides in recent years. The science of dietetics is among them. Old and erroneous beliefs about foods and diet have been dissipated. An important example has to do with meat. There used to be a question about meat's digestibility. For this reason a good many people were convinced that meat's outstanding palatability, it should be consumed sparingly. But now it is known that meat is almost entirely digested. That is true of all meats—pork, beef, lamb, veal and chicken. It is also true of all the various cuts—an inexpensive cut is just as digestible as the most costly. A U.S. Department of Agriculture bulletin tells the story briefly: "In 44 experiments the average digestibility of both the proteins and fat of beef, veal, mutton, and pork, cooked in various ways and eaten as part of a simple, mixed diet, was 98 per cent. The results obtained were practically the same regardless of the kind of meat. . . ."

BUDGET OUT OF BALANCE?

If you're spending everything you earn and saving nothing—you're in trouble! Here's some advice to help you get on the right side of the ledger:

Next payday, pay yourself first! It doesn't matter so much how much you save so long as you do save something every payday. Pay yourself first and put those savings where they'll earn more, and that's at FIRST FEDERAL Savings and Loan in Wilmington!

First Federal savings earn higher dividends paid twice each year and are INSURED safe by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation! Save in person or SAVE BY MAIL—but start now at Delaware's most progressive Savings and Loan Association. . .

Letters To The Editor

Sept. 19, 1960

Dear Sir:

In the report on the Sept. 6, council meeting a remark was attributed to "Mrs. Jerry A. Nelson, of the League of Women Voters." I would like to make a correction. The remark was made by Mrs. Clyde Richards who was speaking as a private citizen not as a league member. Mrs. Nelson was not present at this meeting.

The League of Women Voters urges its members to take an interest in civic matters and encourages them to take an active part in city affairs as private citizens as well as League members.

When the league takes an official stand on a subject which it has studied, the president or some other person designated by the board, states our position, always prefacing her remarks by saying that she is speaking for the League of Women Voters.

We believe, after having made a careful study, that reapportionment of Newark's voting districts is essential for fair representation in council for all its citizens.

The League of Women Voters urges reapportionment of the municipal election districts on easily defined physical lines and with as equitable distribution of population as possible based on the most recent census figures.

Sincerely,
Margaret M. Perkins
President
League of Women
Voters of Newark

Sept. 20, 1960

TO THE EDITOR:

I note that council is about to appoint a chief of police and that instead of promoting one of the sergeants who have 14 and 23 years respectively in the department (both under 50 years of age) is going to bring in an outsider.

Rumor has it that it will be a retired state policeman who will be drawing a fair size pension from the state and a nice size salary from the city. In that event, the city will be pretty well staffed with pensioners as our fire marshal is a retired Wilmington fireman.

In this connection, Councilwoman McClelland is purported to have said that the public has lost confidence in the police. This, I understand, was duly reported in the press, and I imagine made choice reading for the wives and children of the police. She, however, was not speaking for me and a number of others I could name when she made this trite remark.

What incentive have our present city employees to spur them on to their best efforts if council pursues these policies? No wonder they are short six men which council has authorized.

C. P. Hearn

Farmers Advised On Corn Storage At Harvest Time

With prospects for a record harvest of corn in Delaware and a dim outlook for the price of corn at harvest time, farmers in this area should consider adding storage space on their farms to store their corn until the price rise which usually comes after the first of the year.

If the farmer needs money before the price of corn increases, a loan at $1.17 per bushel for ear corn may be made on corn testing 21 per cent or below in moisture content. Moisture content for shelled corn must be 14 per cent or below to be eligible for loan.

CCC loans for bins or cribs may be approved in amounts up to 90 per cent of the purchase price, excluding labor and cost of foundation, on moveable structures. Loans are payable in four installments over a five year period with interest at four per cent on the unpaid balance. Dryer loans may be made for up to 75 per cent of the delivered and assembled cost, excluding labor.

Applications for both types of loans may be filed at the New Castle County ASC office, Courtney & Academy Streets, Newark.

Speaking of Money...

"Eighteen months to independence"

by: JOHN BUCHANAN

Speaking for the Wilmington Savings Fund Society

I wish every pair of young newlyweds could understand and believe just this one thing—that the fastest way to a life of financial independence is in eighteen months of patience. The difference is the shoe-string couple who reach their fifth anniversary without debt, and the couple which arrives there with a pile of payments due and a history of nerve-scratching to meet deadlines, is told in the first eighteen months of their marriages. The debt-free couple just didn't care how much nicer the Joneses' car was than theirs, or how much nicer the Joneses' furniture or apartment or clothing.

Why eighteen months? Because the average financial man is paid for in that period. Now, it's good to borrow, but not to the burden point. Every young couple which habitually buys on time is systematically pushing financial independence eighteen months away, burying it under tons of cash-eating interest payments of $300 to $500 a year.

To spend freely is a temptation for working couples. These days the girl usually works for awhile after marriage. With that double income it's tempting to keep up with the Joneses but here's how to pass the Joneses up in five years...

An extra-ordinary year is planned for Boy Scouts of Troop 255 and their parents, with a box supper, Christmas party, and police dogs demonstration in addition to nine hikes for the year.

Conservation, civil engineering, and fire department speakers are on the agenda to help the Scouts.

"Boy Scouting is a father and son togetherness, missed by too many boys and their fathers," Glenn Frazier stresses. "Visit with the boys on Tuesdays at 7:15 p.m. in the Newark Methodist Church. It will be an eye-opener to family fun in the future," the Scout official concluded.

In order to assure sufficient patronage to warrant this extension of season, many resort area hotels and motels will put "off-season" rates in effect in mid-September.

The "season" for camping in the state-owned "Delaware Dunes" along Route 14 also has been extended through September.

Marine fishermen may also look forward to an extended fishing season in Delaware waters, the State Development Department advises, with bluefish, porgies, sea bass, trout, flounder, croakers, kingfish and drum in greater evidence.

Delaware Extends Vacation Season At Shore Resorts

The 1960 "season" not only promises to be one of the best ever experienced by Delaware's coastal resorts, but also the longest, advises the Delaware State Development Department.

For many years, the "season," as far as Delaware resorts were concerned, ended on Labor Day, and early September brought a peace and quiet that went uninterrupted until the return of summer and vacationists.

According to the state information agency, this pattern has changed in recent years, with the season being gradually extended, enabling vacationists to enjoy the warm water, bright sunshine, and cool, pleasant

Face Fly Control Measures Offered By Dale F. Bray

The face fly is a relatively new pest to livestock producers in the United States and until now chemicals were developed the flies have had their own way. Three materials will help take care of face flies, according to Dr. Dale F. Bray, chairman of the University of Delaware department of entomology.

The three treatments include pyrethrins with MGK repellent; pyrethrins with tabax; and DDVP bait. Application should be made as directed on the label of the material used, Bray said.

The flies are black and slightly larger than houseflies. They cluster on the faces, around the eyes, nose and lips of cattle.

When large numbers of face flies attack cattle they can cause a serious drop in milk production with dairy cows, or weight losses in beef cattle.
