Newark Postmaster F Allyn Cooch, Jr., announced today that his 1961 "Mail Early For Christmas" sampaign is now in high gear, but he expressed concern because mailing of Christmas gift packages seems to be lagging and "too many people do not realize the need for careful packing and wrapping of their christmas gifts.

cherished Christmas gifts.

"It's hard to understand why people will be so careless gifts into the mails in filmsy boxes and loosely wrapped packages." Postmaster Cooch said. "Many of these poorly wrapped gifts simply cannot stand the necessary handling, and thus cause much delay and disappointment all around.

pointment all around. "I cannot emphasize too strongly the importance of careful Christmas mailing procedures. For example, it's best to print the recipient's full name, street address, city, zone number and state on each mailing label, making sure to include an extra label inside your pit packages," he said. #### William H. Brady Heads State USDA Board Of Defense

william H. Brady, executive director of the USDA Agricultural Stabilization and C on servation Service state office, was recently named by the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture as chairman of the Delsaware USDA State Defense Board. This committee of USDA officials, is responsible for developing a presence of the authority — food management, rural fire control, information and education, and emergency organization and plans for wartime responsibilities delegated to USDA by executive order or other authority — food management, rural fire control, information and education, and emergency for the state defense board are Dr. S. M. Gwinn, deputy chairman, William R. Ratledge, Dr. W. M. Reynolds, Howard M. Bailey, Frank J. Paradise, and James P. Engle.

Upon declaration of a national emergency by the President, Brady will control major food supplies which may be needed by the military or by state or local governments for distribution through retail outlets or mass feeding of evavuees.

"Development of adequate pre-mergancy plans will require the Army in 1959 and completed basic training at Fortmergancy plans will require the feature of the Afficiency of the Agriculture as Charles's Church, with choirs of St. Andrew's Church, with church, Church, Kingwood, and Our Redeemer Church, ments for distribution through retail outlets or mass feeding of evavuees.

"Development of adequate preemergency plans will require the cooperation of federal, state and local governments as well as the food industry, farmers and other citizens," Brady said.

Capt. Robert N. Downes of Newark, state civil defense director, who will cooperate with Brady concerning related responsibilities, says "careful conservation and management of food resources in times of emergency is essential to survival and recovery. It is important that state and county civil defense directors and other officials be prepared to coordinate their responsibilities with those of the USDA defense boards."

The Department of Agriculture recently issued informational bulletins concerning family food stockpiles and defense against radiological fallout on the farm. Copies of these bulletins may be obtained from the local county agent of the Cooperative Extension Service.
