NUMBER 42

NEW PARCEL POST LAW--ITS WORKING

Congress enacted the parcel post law it provided that the system should be in operation by January 1, next year, and appropriated $750,000 with which to start the system upon a business basis. In view of the stupendous amount involved it is agreed by those who have studied the proposition that the amount is wholly inadequate and must necessarily cripple the project from the very beginning.

How small the appropriation is in proportion to what will be required of the $750,000 it is pointed out that there must be on January 1 in every large city in the country enough rural mail wagons, city mail wagons, express cars and employees to handle the parcel post business, to say nothing of the 100,000 special scales which must be bought. In most sections of the country rural mail carriers, with only letters and papers to handle, use two-wheel motor cycles and these, of course, will not be adequate for the great parcel post business that will develop. In the cities the regular mail carriers will not be able to handle the parcel business and additional men and vehicles will be required.

In making its appropriation, Congress authorized the payment of salaries for drivers only, making no provision for the handling of parcels, to care for the horses or to care for the parcels in transit. Some way, it is agreed, will have to be provided to pay those salaries. Extra railway cars will have to be provided for the new business.

A new issue of parcels post stamps will have to be printed, changing in denomination from one cent to one dollar. Handbills and boxes for collecting parcels must be provided, and it is probable that depots for the collection of that class of mail will have to be opened in the business sections.

A complete system of maps, showing the distance zones within which the different rates apply, must be engraved and printed and supplied to the different postmasters. Upwards of 300,000 of these maps must be made.

Postmaster Jester of Wilmington recently discussing the measure, said: "Like all new departures it will take some time for the people to become accustomed to the parcels post innovation and while they are learning the value of the system we will be given an opportunity to get our bearings and smooth out the irregularities of the system."

In some cities the big and small department stores and the mail order houses are preparing to work the parcels post system to a far-sighted, according to reports, but thus far there is no evidence to indicate that the merchants here are planning to abandon their individual delivery systems for the as yet untried service to be provided by the Government.

On small packages, perhaps, the merchants might save something by using the mails, but as the government prescribes that packages shall not weigh more than 11 pounds and must not be larger than a certain size it would be necessary for the merchants to maintain delivery wagons for larger packages and it is argued that very little if anything would be gained by using the parcels post system.

RATES OF POSTAGE.

While method of computing charges for carrying parcels is somewhat intricate and, it is understood, has not yet been fully worked out by the committee which has this branch of the service in charge, rates in the zone in which Wilmington is located will be five cents for the first pound and 1 cent a pound for each additional pound up to 11 pounds which is the limit in weight.

This will make an 11-pound package cost 15 cents for transportation to any part of the city or to any point in the zone, or block, in which the Wilmington postoffice is located. For long distances the charge will be proportionately greater, the computation being made under a system similar in many respects to that used by the big express companies now operating in this country.

In addition the parcels to be carried are divided into several classes which will enable the farmer to ship small lots of his produce direct to customers in the city without the necessity of selling through a middleman. This will accomplish one of two things—either the farmer will pocket the profit that would have accrued to the middleman or he will give the customers the benefit of this profit. Ask the farmer.

Postmaster General Hitchcock is strong for the parcels post. He expects it to be self-supporting. Recently he gave the following illustration to show how the system will work out:

"Rural telephones practically have spread over all the entire country," he said, "and they will be used in conjunction with the parcels post to the advantage of both farmer and country merchant. The housewife, for example, finds that she is out of sugar. She steps to her phone and orders it sent by parcels post. If the farmer breaks a harrow or a part of some farm equipment, it will not be necessary for him to hitch up and drive to town; he will merely step to his phone and order the new part sent by 'P. P.' This time saved will more than compensate him for his outlay of stamps. I expect to see the country merchants advertising free delivery in their local papers just as his city brothers do. They will use the parcels post as their delivery wagons."

Like all new departures it will take some time for the people to become accustomed to the parcels post innovation and while they are learning the value of the system we will be given an opportunity to get our bearings and smooth out the irregularities of the system.

Automobile Accident in Kemblesville

Dr. Frederick West of Kemblesville, who is well known here, had his collar bone broken and sustained numerous bruises in an automobile accident late Saturday night. William Bromall who was riding in the car with Dr. West at the time was also slightly injured.

Under all the circumstances the two men were fortunate to have escaped fatal injury. The accident was caused by the car colliding with a large dog while going at a high rate of speed. The machine was a five passenger Ford, and turned turtle and was practically wrecked. Fortunately Dr. West and Mr. Bromall fell clear of the car. The accident occurred in Kemblesville.

Delaware Faculty Entertains

Invitations have been issued for an annual faculty reception to the students, which will be given on Friday, November 22nd, from 8.15 to 10 o'clock, in the college gymnasium. An interesting program is being arranged.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Harry Chambers and daughter leave Thursday for Delaware after spending a month with their parents in Newark.

Definite Progress on Women's College Plans

At a meeting of the State Board of Education held in Dover last Friday plans for the affiliated college for Delaware women occupied the attention of the body. The special committee has decided upon Newark and Delaware College as the location of the same.

Three courses, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, and Master of Pedagogy were decided upon, and the assembly will be asked to legislate accordingly.

The special charter committee of the State Board has arrived at a satisfactory settlement with the Delaware College trustees relative to a new charter for the college, which will make the transfer of the college property and equipment easy.

New Signals being Installed

Work, installing the automatic signals on the main line P. R. R. near Pencader Station, is now thoroughly under way. Over 150 men are engaged laying conduits and a larger force is expected in a few days. The interlocking plant at this point is reported as the largest on this division. The operator in the tower will control signals on the main line and the switching system of Delaware City Road and Center division.

No information has been given out just where the transfer station Pencader will be erected. The old station was destroyed in one of the heavy wind storms last summer. It is thought, however, that the new station may be erected near the railroad crossing instead of at the Center Junction. The old depot was very inconvenient to patrons of early morning traffic because there was no road leading to the station. By placing the new depot at the crossing, the necessity for tracks trespassing will be avoided.

New Site for Creamery

The Newark Creamery operated by the Delfinger Dairies of Philadelphia will move its operations from the Dean plant at Deandale to the B. and O. siding. Mr. Delfinger was in town yesterday and signed agreements with Henry Steele for the purchase of about 1/2 an acre of land on Elkton Road and adjoining the B. and O. property. The change will probably be made early in the spring. A building will be erected and up-to-date machinery installed. The new plant will be so located that the milk can be loaded direct to the train from platform of building, saving expense of long haul.

Returned from South America

Paul F. Russell, Delaware College, Class of 1907, returned to his home in Wilmington last Tuesday after an eighteen month's tour of South America for the DuPont Co. An interesting account of his experiences in these foreign parts was published in the Sunday Star of November 10th.

Mr. Russell visited Bolivia shortly after the death of Joseph H. Frazer of Newark, of whose engineering ability and personal character he heard many words of praise. He met a number of Delaware College men, also a number of Wilmingtonians whose royal welcomes were among the most pleasant features of his trip.

WEDDINGS

METTEN-MACSORLEY.

Cards have been issued announcing the marriage of Miss Meta T. MacSorley and Wm. F. Metten of Wilmington, at the home of the bride's parents, 703 W. 20th street, last Friday evening. Following the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. F. C. MacSorley, in the presence of the immediate family, Mr. and Mrs. Metten left for a trip to Atlantic City and New York. They will reside at 501 W. 21st street, Wilmington.

Miss MacSorley for the past two years has been principal of the Townsend public school. For three years previous she was a popular assistant principal at Newark.

Mr. Metten is a well-known newspaper man of Wilmington.

Newark Grange will meet in College Hall next Monday evening. A full attendance is requested.

H. A. Gilbert Closes Canning Season

Fifteen thousand cases of 24 cans each of tomatoes is the record of the Gilbert Cannery for this season. Harry A. Gilbert, owner, is now very busy making the final shipments for the year. Within the next few days six carloads of canned tomatoes will be sent to New York where practically all of the local output has been sold.

The quality of the pack this year is reported fair but the crop was very short. A contract for 300 acres had been signed with expectations of average yield of 5 to 8 tons per acre. Owing to the severe rain storms during the blossoming season, the crop was cut down to an average yield of only 2 1/2 tons per acre. Several farmers in this community have grown as much as 11 to 12 tons per acre. Mr. Gilbert will enter the next season fully equipped, the local plant being one of the most up-to-date on the peninsula. Modern methods of sanitary canning have made this new industry here something of which the rural community speaks with pride and interest. The management will begin to contract for next season's crop early in February.

New Century Club News

The New Century Club met on Monday afternoon with a very large attendance. A happy speech of welcome was made by the president, after which reports of the different committees were called for, the reading of which took up the greater part of the afternoon.

An invitation from the Dover Century Club was read, to meet with the Legislative Committee on November 13, and Mrs. Lee Cooch consented to represent the Newark Club at Dover.

Another invitation from the Middletown Century Club was read, to send an entertaining committee to them on Tuesday next.

It was decided to change the hour of meeting from 3 p. m. to 2.30 p. m., and to have all business come after the regular program.

A very pleasant hour was then spent with Mrs. Charles B. Evans, who took her hearers mentally through England, Brittany, and Normandy, in a delightful description of her trip abroad this summer. This was followed by the song, "Home Again," rendered by Mrs. J. Pearce Cann and accompanied by Mrs. Joseph H. Hossinger.

This program was so much enjoyed that it was voted to ask the ladies taking part to repeat it before the Middletown Club as our part of their entertainment.

Cantata at Presbyterian Church

The choir of Newark Presbyterian church gave the scripture oratorio-cantata "Zion," before a large congregation last Sunday evening. The cantata was beautifully rendered and thoroughly appreciated by the townspeople.

Those who took part were: Mrs. J. Pearce Cann, 1st soprano; Miss Martha R. Strahorn, 2nd soprano; Miss M. Jennie Raub, alto; Mr. Harvey Steele, tenor; Professor H. Hayward, 1st bass; Rev. W. J. Rowan, 2nd bass; Miss Nellie Wilson, organist.

Death of G. A. R. Veteran

WILLIAM T. FULTON.

William T. Fulton, 77 years of age, was found dead at his desk, in his home, Oxford, Pa., last Saturday. Major Fulton has been a life-long citizen of the neighborhood and was one of the prominent citizens of the borough. Death was due to apoplexy.

As a young man he began the study of law under Thaddeus Stevens of Lancaster, completing his course under Judge Fultney of West Chester. After his admission to the bar the Civil War broke out and Mr. Fulton enlisted. He was made captain and soon after Major of his regiment as a reward for gallant conduct at Harpers Ferry and Antietam. In 1863 he was taken ill and honorably discharged, but later volunteered to help in combating Lee's invasion of Pennsylvania.

Funeral services were held in Oxford Presbyterian church on Tuesday.

STATE HOSPITAL FOR COLORED CITIZENS

Announcement was made yesterday that the Delaware State Tuberculosis Commission has bought the old mansion at the corner of Franklin and Cedar streets, Wilmington.

The commission was allowed $10,000 by the State for housing and equipment for sufferers from tuberculosis. Some of this money, of course, went toward the housing at Hope Farm, but half of it was set apart by the commission to provide a hospital for the colored citizens of the state. Long search in the country around Wilmington revealed the fact that no farm land was for sale except at a price far too large for the commission to pay. In the country also a complete sewerage system would have to be installed, as has been done so thoroughly at Hope Farm.

For these insurmountable reasons, the commission decided to take up the plan that is being tried in many cities with success—that of a hospital in the city itself. A number of modern tuberculosis hospitals have been built in the city limits; in New York, it is so, in Philadelphia Phipps Institute is in the most crowded neighborhood, probably, of the city, at Seventh and Lombard streets, and Washington Hospital is also in the midst of the city. Many experts urge that in future the hospitals shall be in the midst of the city, as they teach the neighborhood sanitary living, and are object lessons in dealing with this widespread disease.

For all these reasons, and for the great reason that it was within their means, the commission has acquired the house at Franklin and Cedar streets. It is close to a sewer, with which connection will at once be made before proceeding to fit up the place. It stands very high and is isolated, and yet the Cedar street trolley line passes it and the Maryland avenue trolley runs within a few squares.

The commission realizes that there will probably be objection from people in the neighborhood, just as there was to the establishment of Hope Farm. Some persons owning land about Hope Farm complained that land values would be ruined by it. Three years' experience has proved that land values around Hope Farm have actually advanced, and that the hospital's presence there has not affected the question at all. This has been uniformly the experience of all tuberculosis hospitals, so much so that a pamphlet of statistics has been issued on the subject, proving that in no case has the value of real estate been lowered by the hospital. The commission holds that sanitary conditions are bettered by all tuberculosis work, and its object is always to exalt sanitation and hygiene, and to be an example in all its methods.

Newark People Enjoy Philadelphia Orchestra

The first program of the eighth season of the Philadelphia Orchestra in Wilmington was given in the Grand Opera House last Monday night. The concert introduced the new conductor, Mr. Leopold Stokowski, in a program of varied and attractive numbers which opened with Schumann's famous Symphony No. 4 in D Minor. The soloist was Alma Weishaar, soprano. Among the Newark folk who were present were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Curtis, Mrs. A. T. Neale, Miss Lindsay, Mrs. R. C. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Evans.

Delaware Alumnus elected on Progressive Ticket

G. N. Davis, of Portland, Oregon, has been elected a Circuit Court judge. Mr. Davis was opposed by the Democrat and Republican candidates, and out of a vote of 38,000 had a plurality of 300 on the Progressive ticket.

Mr. Davis was for many years a lawyer in the office of the late Walter H. Hayes, Wilmington. He is a graduate of Delaware College and expects to visit his Delaware home early in December.

GREAT YIELD FROM NATION'S FARMS

A corn crop of 3,169,137,000 bushels, compared with 2,927,416,000 bushels last year, is the feature of the country's most remarkable agricultural year in history, according to the November crop report of the United States department of Agriculture issued today. The report completed the government's preliminary estimates of the nation's principal farm crops. This great crop of corn was worth on November 1st at fair prices $1,850,776,000.

The continuous sum of $4,171,134,000 represented the farm value on November 1st of the United States crops of corn, wheat, oats, potatoes, barley, flaxseed, soybeans and buckwheat. With the value of the growing cotton crop and the crops of tobacco, rice and apples, the aggregate value of these principal farm products would well exceed $5,000,000,000.

Upon the preliminary estimates of production announced to-day, the value of the crops figure out as follows:

Corn, $1,850,776,000.
Wheat, $854,015,000.
Oats, $103,639,000.
Potatoes, $188,501,000.
Barley, $120,845,000.
Flaxseed, $39,083,000.
Rye, $24,370,000.
Buckwheat, $12,526,000.

There was an increase in the total value of each of these crops, excepting buckwheat, potatoes, barley and rye.

The increase netted $515,057,000 over the value of last year's crops.

Details of the report follow:
Corn—Total production, preliminarily estimated, 3,169,137,000 bushels, compared with 2,927,416,000 bushels last year and the record of 2,927,416,000 bushels in 1906. Yield per acre, 21.3 bushels, compared with 20.9 bushels last year and 20.7 bushels, the ten-year average. Average farm price, 58.4 cents per bushel, compared with 64.7 cents last year. Quality, 101.1 per cent, compared with the ten-year average. Corn of 1911 crop remaining on farms November 1 was 64,764,000 bushels, compared with 123,824,000 bushels of the 1910 crop remaining on farms November 1, last year. The farm value of the corn crop December 1, last year, was $1,565,258,000.

Quality, 100.5 per cent of the ten-year average.

Wheat—Total production, preliminarily estimated, 729,333,000 bushels, compared with 621,338,000 bushels last year and the record crop of 748,000,000 bushels in 1901. Yield per acre, 16.0 bushels, compared with 12.5 bushels last year and 14.0 bushels, the ten-year average. Average farm price, 83.8 cents per bushel, compared with 91.5 cents last year. Weight per measured bushel, 58.3 pounds compared with 57.8 pounds last year and 57.7 pounds, the ten-year average. The farm value of the wheat crop on December 1 last year was $543,063,000.

Oats—Total production, preliminarily estimated, 1,417,172,000 bushels, compared with 922,298,000 bushels last year and the record crop of 1,186,341,000 bushels in 1910. Yield per acre, 37.4 bushels, compared with 24.4 bushels last year and 29.5 bushels, the ten-year average. Average farm price, 33.6 cents per bushel, compared with 43.8 cents last year.

Weight per measured bushel, 33 pounds, compared with 31.1 pounds last year and 31.3 pounds, the ten-year average. The farm value of the oats crop on December 1 last year was $414,063,000.

His Honor Without Stain

Old Philadelphians cherish many anecdotes of the noted men in the Quaker city in colonial days. One of these has a significance that is worthy of consideration.

There was a famous grammar school in Philadelphia to which the boys of well-to-do parents were sent to be trained in "the humanities." The examinations were severe, and the lads who failed felt themselves somewhat disgraced in was long Secretary of Congress.

Charles Thompson was never, perhaps, first in his class at school; but among the good and noble men who helped to form the republic, he stood in the foremost rank as a man whose honor was stainless. He the eyes of the whole town. Many of the pupils secretly used translations, or were helped by scholarly friends in their studies.

There is a tradition that one boy, Charles Thompson, refused to avail himself of any help or dishonest trick. He was slow to learn, and timid. His classmates insisted that he appeared at an unjust advantage for these reasons at examinations, and urged him to use "ponies" and cribs. "No," he said. "It is a pity if I do not learn Greek; but it is worse if I learn to lie."

He failed, and was sent down to a lower class for the next term.

The secret of culture is to learn, that a few points steadily reappear, alike in the poverty of the obscurest farm, and in the miscellany of metropolitan life, and that these few are alone to be regarded,—the escape from all false ties; courage to be what we are, and love of what is simple and beautiful; independence, and cheerful relation, these are the essentials,—these and the wish to serve,—to add somewhat to the well-being of men.—Emerson.

"For every heart our own makes smile We'll reap a richer after while."
"Ask why God made the gem so small,
And why so huge the granite?
Because God meant mankind should set
That higher value on it."

Want Ads for Farmers

Only a comparatively few readers of newspapers realize the benefit of the Want Ad Department. It is a cheap form of advertising odds and ends. For the farmer it is always a paying proposition. Suppose you have a cow, few pigs that you would be willing to sell. Put it in the Want Column and rest assured you will get the customers. Then again, a farmer often sees where he could handle a heifer or colt during the winter. With a little extra forage, he has on hand, he can by feeding it make a dollar or so without any extra work. But he has not the time to hunt them up. Run in an Ad something like this:—

WANTED—Calves. Would buy 3 or 4 calves, if price is right.—

You will get an answer. There isn't a farmer in this community but what could have an Ad in our Want Department at a profit to him.

LEGISLATIVE POSSIBILITIES

Aside from actions strictly politically partisan, the next session of the General Assembly should be interesting and productive of much legislation of real worth.

Of course, the early days of the session will be taken up with the caucus troubles of electing a successor to U. S. Senator Harry Richardson. At first glance, this question would seem to be already settled by satisfying the ambitions of Willard Saulsbury, but rumors from Kent and Sussex and expressions of "pay him back" from rural New Castle preclude safe predictions, this long before the session. Our old fellow townsman, Mr. Handy, has many friends and those lectures delivered in every little village throughout the State have brought him a considerable following. And many Delawareans there are who would rather risk their State and its reputation in the halls of the Senate to the genial and silver-tongued orator than to leave its honor to that "Angel of Light" (quoting the devoted Delaware Ledger) heretofore known as Willard Saulsbury.

But after the Democrats decide who can best, or who shall, represent Delaware in the United States Senate, there are many non-partisan measures that will merit their serious attention.

Questions of education, school laws, taxation, Wilmington legislation, good roads and many others will make the session one full of possibilities to the State. Although the Democrats lost the Governorship, they will find in the Republican Governor, a man who will enter heartily in co-operation with any measure tending toward the general good. Though a strong and staunch Republican, Governor-elect Miller is no rabid partisan. He has that peculiar power and ability to rise above pure politics and join those of the opposing party in furthering the State's welfare. As State Senator, he displayed this inclination and won the support and respect of his Democratic colleagues by his open and fair dealing. He is acquainted and in thorough sympathy with the needs of the State. Not only is this true with regards to the needs of Wilmington but the rural sections as well.

The lower counties, especially, have noted this fact and are his loyal supporters. This sympathy and inclination associated with a large practical business experience fits him well for the office of Governor.

The majority party of the General Assembly will do well in entering into the spirit of strong business legislation and in Governor Miller they will find loyal support.

New Quarters for Livery Stable

Thomas H. Harlan, well-known liveryman of Elkton, has removed his livery from near the Elkton Garage to the Gilpin property, E. Main street, formerly occupied by Edward W. Taylor. The new livery is fully equipped to carry on light livery and heavy hauling.

The ladies of the Presbyterian Church realized $250 from the supper given in the Opera House building last Thursday evening.

Postorials

Politically, Peneader means Republican Success. Look to your Laurels, White Clay.

The Delaware Ledger speaks of Willard Saulsbury as an "Angel of Light." Then may we never live to see a real "Imp of Darkness."

Locally, it is difficult to find a Democrat that is jubilant over their control of the next Legislature. Now they have a majority, they have forebodings of the outcome.

Senator Z. T. Harris has the honor of being that 9th man in the Senate.

Speaking of the loss of the Governorship, the Peneader delegate to the Democratic convention, can now say, "Yes, White Clay, I did it with my little vote."

Harvey Hoffecker is now admitted to be a citizen of Newark. "Never heard of him" to Hoffecker elected as representative is "going some."

Mr. Handy may not be an "Angel of Light" but he has those lectures. "Did He die and Live Again?" and "Immortality of the Soul" to his credit long before there was a U. S. Senator to be elected.

Some one said Ad Thomas to Hoffecker makes 12.

Yes, that's about Wright.

Oh Shaw! Cut that out, Smith. Although Webber's Armstrong, Thompson Brooks defeat.

"Wilson, that's all," yells Christine.

Let her go Gallagher! Bob's it.

Here comes the Marble man.

Friends Entertained

One of the greatest successes of the season was participated in, last Saturday night, when over a hundred persons gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Heavell of near White Clay Creek Church. There were guests present from Philadelphia, Wilmington, Virginia, New York City, Coches Bridge, Landenburg, Glasgow, New Castle, Stanton, Newport, Newark, and from miles of the surrounding country.

The costumes were characteristic beautiful, and grotesque, and without a doubt formed one of the most beautiful sights that could be witnessed at this time of the year.

At 10 o'clock the guests were requested to remove their masks, this being followed by considerable merriment over the numerous cases of mistaken identity.

The evening was spent in dancing and playing games to the accompaniment of violin music rendered by Mr. Charles Norris.

The house was tastefully decorated in keeping with the occasion.

While refreshments were served in the dining room, a delightful entertainment of music was rendered consisting of soprano solos of "Old Plantation Songs," sung by Miss Beatrice F. Thompson, of Wilmington, with violin accompaniment.

Popular airs were sung by J. Harold Mitchell, and Elmer Narrel, both of Stanton, and duet, Silver Threads among the Gold, by Miss May T. Little, soprano, and Miss Beatrice F. Thompson, contralto.

The house, which is an immense old stone structure, was a riot of gay colors, a real den of mirth, and the wee sma' hours saw many of the guests on their homeward journey.

Those present were: Misses Sadie A. Mote, Mary Paterson, Margaret Davett, Gertrude Edmondson, Vera Currier, Harriet Dean, Emma M. Reeves, Clara Duling, Mary T. Little, Beatrice F. Y. M. C. A. Handbooks Issued

The Y. M. C. A. handbooks have been distributed among the students this week. They contain much useful information concerning the various organizations of the college.

The Y. M. C. A. will give their annual reception to the students next Monday evening.

As soon as a stranger is introduced into any company, one of the first questions which all wish to have answered, is, How does that man get his living? And with reason. He is no whole man until he knows how to earn a blameless livelihood. Society is barbarous, until every industrious man can get his living without dishonest customs.

Every man is a consumer, and ought to be a producer. He fails to make his place good in the world, unless he not only pays his debt, but also adds something to the common wealth.—Emerson.

APPEAL OF PRESIDENT TAFT AND THE INTERNATIONAL RELIEF BOARD

To the Editors:

It is difficult to bring home to the public in this country the appalling suffering involved in a winter war in the Balkans. Communication is difficult, the cold is intense, and even rudimentary transportation is a matter of extreme difficulty. Moreover, the fighting in this particular war is likely to be of an especially bitter and severe character, while on the other hand the medical organization available is quite inadequate to cope with the large numbers of wounded.

Reports have been received both from our diplomatic representatives in Turkey, the Balkan States and Greece, and from the Red Cross Societies, of the desperate conditions of the thousands of sick and wounded and the inadequate medical service. With these reports have come urgent appeals to the American Red Cross for aid.

The British Red Cross and those of Continental Europe are sending out medical detachments of doctors and nurses and hospital supplies in order to mitigate in some measure the terrible suffering entailed by such a winter campaign.

Because of the distance, the American Red Cross will not send expeditions of trained personnel, but it earnestly appeals to the generosity of our people to aid the sick and wounded soldiers of all the countries involved.

Though an armistice may be declared, the great number of sick and wounded must be cared for during a number of weeks and the troops must remain under arms in the field for months during the severe winter weather, with all the suffering and sickness this will entail.

The services of the American Red Cross will be rendered impartially to all the combatants concerned, but it is, of course, open to any subscriber to designate a donation for the special assistance of one or the other of the belligerent parties, and instructions to that effect will be strictly observed.

Contributions should be sent to the American Red Cross, Washington, D. C., to Mr. Jacob H. Schiff, Red Cross Office, United Charities Building, New York City, or any other local Red Cross treasurer.

What is an "Ad"?

What's an ad? This question is puzzling government officials, as "What's Whiskey?" did several years ago. In the new postoffice bill there is a provision that all articles published in newspapers for which the newspaper receives "valuable consideration" must be marked "advertisement." The designation "ad" which is printed at the end of many reading-matter articles, will not do; the word "advertisement" must be spelled out.

In other words, if a book is sent free to a newspaper for review, under the strict interpretation of the new law, the review would have to be marked "advertisement." But if the publisher pays for the book the designation can be eliminated. It is claimed that the book in itself sent free for review constitutes "valuable consideration." There are some who are claiming under this law that a theatrical criticism, when tickets for the show are sent to the critic or newspaper free of cost, will also have to be designated as "advertisement." Postmaster General Hitchcock is out of the city and he has not yet passed upon the question of what is an "ad."

Strict enforcement of the law may hit the country editor hard. Many times a farmer subscriber of a country newspaper raises a crop of apples or produce of which he is proud. He wants his neighbors to know about it. So he marches into the country editor's office half a peck of apples, a couple of heads of cabbage and a peck of potatoes, and asks the editor to write something about them. The editor always does so, but hereafter if the apples, cabbage, peaches and potatoes are accepted they may be held as constituting a "valuable consideration" and the articles would have to be designated as an advertisement.

Ventilated Freight Equipment Installed by "Pennsy"

To provide the highest class of ventilated equipment for perishable freight, the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad has just ordered the construction of 800 box cars. In addition to these 50 gondola cars will be built.

The New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad is a natural route to the North for the perishable vegetables and fruit grown in such abundance in Virginia, the Carolinas and other Southern States. In addition, the Delaware-Maryland-Virginia Peninsula, through 100 miles of which the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad runs, is one of the greatest truck raising sections in the country. It is to provide equipment for any increase in this traffic that the company is ordering new cars.

The box cars will be equipped with end ventilators, making them suitable for handling potatoes and other produce shipments. These 850 will cost approximately $1,000,000. The contracts for the cars were awarded to-day as follows: American Car and Foundry Company, 500 box cars, Ralston Steel Car Company, 50 gondola cars.

Rays of Sunshine

Keep your face always toward the sunshine and the shadows will fall behind you.

Do not pray for easy lives.

Pray to be stronger men.

Do not pray for tasks equal to your powers.

Pray for powers equal to your tasks.

Then the doing of your work shall be no miracle.

But you shall be a miracle.

Every day you shall wonder at yourself, at the richness of the life which has come to you by the grace of God.

Do all the good you can.

By all the means you can.

In all the ways you can.

In all the places you can.

At all the times you can.

To all the people you can.

As long as ever you can.

It costs so little I wonder why

We give so little thought?

A smile, kind words, a glance, a touch,

What magic with them is wrought.

The law of worthy life is fundamentally the law of strife. It is only through labor and painful effort, by grim energy and resolute courage, that we move on to better things.

Suffering becomes beautiful when anyone bears great calamities with cheerfulness, not through insensibility, but through greatness of mind.

YALE Is Only Another Way
Of Spelling SECURITY

It is without doubt the Final Word in Locks. To have a Yale Lock means you can rest contented.

The world is not quite good enough to leave every thing unlocked. And when you turn the key at night why not have a lock that is really secure?

That Means A Yale.

If you just want a padlock, any kind of a padlock will do.

If you want security, then look for the name Yale on the padlock you buy.

For 40 years the name Yale on a padlock has meant greatest security, best design for each purpose, most value for what you pay.

What do you want to lock up? We have the right Yale Padlock for it.

I have a full line of these Yale Locks. Any thing from a padlock for the Corn-Crib or Chicken House to the heavy design for the Dwelling.

Of course there are Cheaper Locks but no thoughtful man will stint on a lock.

"Please close that door."

Ever say that? You won't have to do it again if you use Blount or Yale Door Checks.

They close doors silently and firmly.

All you hear is the click of the latch.

Better drop in and see one work.

CECIL COUNTY LETTER

Among visitors to the Farmers' National Congress in session at New Orleans were J. Wayne Reynolds, of Rising Sun, Elwood Balderston, of Colona, R. K. Rawlings and C. S. Abrahams of Woodlawn, John H. Kimble of Port Deposit, Joseph F. Grove, of Calvert, John Abel, of Cherry Hill, Eugene Mackey, of Fair Hill, John Fassitt, of Zion, Charles K. Reckfus, J. J. Buck, and C. C. Tome of Port Deposit.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Mr. Charles Rohr, of Philadelphia, and Miss Ella M. Woodhall, of Elkton, in St. Bonaventure Church, in that city, on October 30th.

Miss Ella Todd of Newark has been visiting Mrs. Henry Vinsinger of Elkton.

It is reported to be likely that Henry L. Constable of Elkton, a graduate of Delaware College, will succeed his brother, Albert Constable, as State Attorney for Cecil county, the latter having been elected Chief Judge of the Second Circuit on November 5th.

Dr. Daniel Bratton, the popular young dentist of Elkton, who was quite ill for a time, is recovering and is again able to attend to his practice.

The contract for the home of the Elkton Banking and Trust Company, on North street, has been given to the J. L. Robinson Construction Company of Baltimore. Work on the structure was to have started on Monday.

The William Irwin property at Colona has been purchased by Joseph Divine of Philadelphia, for a summer residence.

The ladies of Rising Sun M. E. Church cleared $85 from their recently held Chrysanthemum Tea.

The Cecil County High School and St. Aloysius High School of Wilmington, football teams met at Elkton Ball Park on Saturday.

The latter won by a score of 8 to 0. Peterson, fullback and captain of the former team was badly hurt in the first two minutes of play, and was taken to Union Hospital for treatment.

Tome School and the Army-Navy Preparatory eleven met on the former's gridiron at Port Deposit on Saturday, the latter being beaten by a score of 45 to 6. Tome's back field made effective rushes, and the visitors did not score till the fourth quarter when Tome had used all her scrub players.

Democrats of the county are talking of holding a torchlight parade in honor of the Wilson-Marshall victory, and a meeting was called for Monday evening in O. D. Crother's office in Elkton, to discuss the needed arrangements. The Cleveland victory of 1884 was celebrated with a like parade held in Chesapeake City.

The funeral of Robert H. Lookhard, an aged resident of the Leslie section, was held on Thursday from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lewis Whirlow, where he died on November 4th. He was 74 years old and is survived by four sons and four daughters, two brothers and six sisters.

A. E. Brown and Son, of Smyrna, Delaware, have established a yard in Chesapeake City for repairing boats, sawing wood and grinding feed.

The funeral of Mrs. Savannah H. McKenney, widow of former Sheriff George E. McKenney, of North East, was held on Friday with interment in Elkton Cemetery. Mrs. McKenney, who was 65 years of age, died at the home of her son-in-law, Dr. J. G. Murfin, in Philadelphia, on November 4th, after a brief attack of pneumonia. Five daughters and four sons survive her.

North East is to have moving pictures shown two nights each week by W. C. Popp, of Wilmington, who has leased the G. A. R. Hall in the town at $300 per year.

The results of the election in Maryland, and Cecil county were pleasing to Democrats, if they were not consoling to Republicans and Progressives. Taft got a total of 1446; Wilson 2388, and Roosevelt 618. The total vote reported was 4452 and the total registered 6111, leaving a shortage of 1659. Wilson had a majority of 324 and a plurality of 942 in the county. Covington, for Congress, got a total of 17,814 in the district and 2303 in the county. Grier, his Bull Moose opponent, got 2555 in the district and 436 in Cecil, his largest county poll. Constable, for Chief Judge, had no opposition and got a total of 2685 votes in Cecil. Chaffin got 44. El-dredge, for Congress, 65, and the Socialist ticket 27 votes in the county.

The remains of Miss Emma C. Lodge, a daughter of Richard H. Lodge, a farmer of the Elkton section, were interred in Elkton Cemetery on Monday. Miss Lodge died on Thursday in a Wilmington hospital, where she had undergone several operations for relief of a tumorous growth that followed after she had been injured while bathing at Rehoboth Beach. Miss Lodge was about 34 years of age and was highly esteemed. Her father and several brothers and sisters survive her.

The friends of Mrs. Arthur W. Rounds, who has recently been a patient at the Delaware Hospital, will be glad to learn that the treatment has been entirely successful and that she is rapidly gaining strength, and has been able to go to Felton, Delaware, to visit relatives.

Mrs. Rounds has been an invalid for many years, at all times most patient; and, though so closely confined has maintained a wonderful interest in all that has been going on in the world, and with a sweet philosophy contends that she has gained a great deal through the enforced quiet of the past years.

What Did She Want?

The Christian County Republican says that a young woman entered a store a short time ago and asked the clerk whether he had "any of those elastic bands, capable of being elongated and adjusted at pleasure, and used by the feminine portion of mankind for putting around the lower extremities of the locomotive members to keep in the proper position and altitude habiliments of their tibias."

About the only people who have time to think twice before they think are those who stutter.

PROGRESSING TOWARD AN IDEAL

In the 12th issue of the Post, April 13th, 1910 there appeared the following editorial giving an expression of what we hoped to do. The Post was then a little 4 page sheet. Today we are printing 8 pages—all of local interest, no boiler-plate patent inside. We have a model shop, machinery up-to-date, the best that money can buy.

Among some of our customers we are being classed as Quality Folks. The men in the Shops are making this approach toward the Ideal because they consider

PRINTING AN ART AND NOT A JOB

QUALITY FOLKS

The old Southern darkies recognized those who were above them by the name—quality folks. To us quality folks are those who do better work, who render better service than the ordinary run of folks. Heinz qualifies for that with his 57 varieties; the Studebaker Wagon Co., the Oliver Plow Co., John Wanamaker—all these and others in their class are quality folks. But one doesn't have to be of national importance to be reckoned in this class. One can be "quality folks" in a small community. All you have to do is to do a certain kind of work a little better than the best. That is the open sesame to that society.

Jones out in Wisconsin is making better sausage than any one else, while Mary Elizabeth makes those who like good candy bend the knee to Syracuse. Out there in Pittsfield, Mass., is the Caxton Society. These lovers of good printing are publishing a series of brochures which are fitted with the best in literature. Thomas Mosher, of Portland, makes the best books in the country. One can caress a Mosher book, and always be sure that within the covers one can find something high grade. The Roycrofters came into existence because Elbert Hubbard stumbled into William Morris and caught the germ. Out in Los Angeles James Griffith has set up the Golden Press among the orange trees and roses. He sends out his beautiful little magazine "Everyman" to try to bring folks to see that the Golden Rule is really greater than the majority think, and that a laugh is worth ten frowns in any market. An ideal we have is that some day there will be a little shop in Newark that will do good things in printing. It is a dream—not of a country job office, but of a little art shop.

A dream perhaps—but that the NEWARK POST some day will be considered and loved as a little weekly paper at Newark, Delaware, that is good, that is doing good, that is different, and that we may be classed among the QUALITY FOLKS because we are doing good work, a little better than the other fellow can.

The Reason We Get Business

Economy—Our machinery is up-to-date with all the latest improvement devices, making it possible to compete with the big city plants. The higher speed of our presses gives us the advantage of the ordinary Country Plant. This is a City Plant located in a Country Town.

The Reason We Get Business

Satisfaction—With this improved machinery and artistic workmen, we turn out work a little better than the other fellow can. The men in the Shop here are not just good country printers but Artists with a reputation of doing work that has the stamp of Quality on it.
