Increase In Class Size Poses Problems For School District

Survey Conducted By Schools Reveals Steady Increase In Class Size With New Students; Board Of Education Schedules April 10 Vote For $4,480,000 Construction

A survey just concluded by schools of the Newark district discloses that class sizes are steadily increasing due to the unprecedented number of new students coming to Newark. Some elementary classes have as high as 34 students.

According to Superintendent of Schools Wilmer E. Shue "There is just no more room in our present buildings for students. We have money to hire more teachers, and we can get more teachers. But where would we put them?"

Shue said that every classroom in the Newark school district is filled, and that in some schools it has been necessary to convert conference rooms, bus courts, and in one case—a library—for classroom use.

In one school, classrooms have been constructed in the basement to relieve the space problem.

School Board Opinion

The Newark Board of Education has expressed dissatisfaction with large size elementary classes.

To alleviate this crowded condition, the school board has asked the public to approve $4,480,000 for construction of 28 new elementary classrooms and a new junior high school, with an April 10 referendum.

"Without these new 28 elementary classrooms and the junior high school, the size of classes can go only one way—and that is up," Shue said.

"If classes continue to increase beyond workable size, then the Newark special school district will have no choice but resort to extremely unpopular double sessions," Shue concluded.

Adelle F. Robertson Named Extension Class Supervisor

Advisor For 6,000 At AFB In Dover Appointed At UD To Direct Evening Courses

Mrs. Adelle F. Robertson, education advisor for some 6,000 military personnel at Dover Air Force Base since 1960, will join the University of Delaware extension division next Monday as supervisor of academic programs to coordinate some 450 evening credit courses the university offers.

Nearly 3,500 students were enrolled in extension courses for degree credit last semester.

Mrs. Robertson will fill a vacancy created when Miss E. Jefferson, former assistant director of extension, was named director of the university's proposed Wilmington Community College.

For the past four and one-half years, Mrs. Robertson has been responsible for Air Base educational programs encompassing elementary, secondary, undergraduate, and graduate instruction. Her responsibilities included working with the University of Delaware, Delaware State College, and Wesley College in arranging courses for Air Base personnel.

A native of Milford and a graduate of Milford High School, she received a master of education degree from the University of Delaware in 1963, and a bachelor's degree in sociology from Syracuse University in 1947.

She and her husband Craig G. Robertson have three children—Robin, 13; Susan, 11; and Craig, 10. The family has moved to 54 West Delaware Avenue in Newark.

Before assuming her Dover Air Force Base position, Mrs. Robertson spent 4½ years at Ramstein Air Base in Germany where her husband was stationed, and organized and administered educational programs for the University of Maryland.

The staff appointment was announced by John A. Murray, director of university extension.

UD Alumni Ass'n Fund Drive Headed By Mrs. Patnovic

Teaching materials, support of cultural activities, and continuation of a long-standing scholarship program are major objectives of the University of Delaware Alumni Association's 1965 Alumni Fund.

Mrs. Joseph P. Patnovic, association president, has announced the opening of the annual Delaware fund campaign, which will continue through June 30.

Eight major scholarships and a number of lesser awards are supported annually by Alumni Association gift funds.

Last year, 4,752 Delaware alumni gave $63,050, an all-time high for annual giving at the university.

With its 34.4 per cent participation record, Delaware ranked among the top 10 major public universities in the nation.

A goal of $75,000 has been set in this year's campaign.

Marine Officer Selection Interviews Offered At UD

A Marine Corps officer selection representative is interviewing men and women students at the University of Delaware today.

A Marine officer will return to the campus on March 25-26 to conduct interviews at the Student Union.

All Marine officer training is conducted at Quantico, Va., and upon graduation and completion of a nine-week training course, candidates will be commissioned.

Durnall, Massado Appointed To NHA As New Members

Avery H. Goddin Re-elected Newark Housing Authority Chief At Annual Meeting

Two new members have been appointed as commissioners on the Newark Housing Authority. One appointment was made by Gov. Elbert N. Carvel at the end of his term, the other by Acting-Mayor William M. Coverdale.

Frederick Massado was sworn in as commissioner at the NHA January meeting. He was appointed by the governor to replace Mrs. Naomi McCann who requested that she not be reappointed due to heavy business commitments.

Massado, who has been a resident of Newark for nearly nine years, works for the Delaware State Board of Health. He served on the City Committee on Housing and on the Newark Charter Committee, is a past-president of the NAACP, and past-director commander, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

President of the Newark Civic Association, he is a member of the Newark Better Government Association.

Former Mayor Frank M. Durnall became a commissioner at the Authority's annual meeting on Feb. 17. He was appointed by Coverdale to finish out the term of Frank Minner who has moved from Newark.

Durnall, a life-long resident of the city, served three terms as councilman and as mayor, and as city treasurer as an interim appointee. He was mayor at the time that the Newark Housing Authority was created and was instrumental in its formation.

A member of the Penjerdel Mayor's Committee and of the Regional Conference of Elected Officials, Durnall was vice-president of the Delaware Association of Mayors for two terms.

An auditor he is manager and treasurer of the Westbrae Spring Water Co.

Avery H. Goddin was re-elected chairman of the Newark Housing Authority and Mrs. Samuel Handloff was re-elected vice-chairman.

Re-elected officers stated that the Authority will proceed with increased vigor in development of the program which it feels obligated to complete.

The Rev. Robert Andrews and the Rev. Hall are the other members of the Newark Housing Authority.

Library Director Honored

Dr. John M. Dawson

Director of libraries at the University of Delaware, Dr. John M. Dawson has been elected to the governing body of the 260-member American Library Association.

The ALA, oldest and largest group of its type in the world, includes 13 divisions; 52 state, regional, and territorial chapters; and 11 affiliated organizations. The board of directors includes the four officers and eight members from the council.

Dawson has served on the council since 1958, and is president of the Delaware Library Association.

He joined the Delaware staff in 1958, and directs operations at the year-old Hugh M. Morris Library, and three smaller campus libraries in the schools of agriculture and education, and the department of chemistry.

Radio Drama Student Rehearsal

Newark High School Senior Carol Scheweers rehearses for her role of Mrs. Stevenson in Lucille Fletcher's mystery drama "Borrowed Number," which will be broadcast this Sunday on "Newark Schools on Parade" at 12:30 p.m. on Radio Station WNRK. This first radio drama for "Newark Schools on Parade" is directed by Faye Ellen Brown of Newark High School.

The cast includes Betsy Dollins, Hugh Guilford, Jay Mahanna, Barry Brader, Gary Kuscher, Allison Keeney, Louise Dolan, Sue Hilton, and Sherry Austin.

Radio Program Newark Schools on Parade Wins George Washington Medal of Honor

The Newark special school district and Radio Station WNRK were honored by the Freedom Foundation at Valley Forge last Monday as recipients of the George Washington Medal for the program "Newark Schools on Parade."

H. Nelson Freidly, host of the Sunday program on WNRK, said at 12:30: Philip A. Toman, producer-director of the series; William S. Cook, vice-president and general manager of WNRK; and Program Director Don F. Dunwell were cited for outstanding achievement in helping to achieve a better understanding of the American way of life.

The three programs which brought this award to Newark Schools on Parade were broadcast Oct. 4, 11, and 19, 1964, as part of the series "Preparation of Students for the American Way of Life."

On this series, guest teachers from local elementary, junior, and senior high schools discussed how Newark schools work to enable students to take their place in a 20th Century democracy.

Music on these three programs was of a patriotic nature designed to show how the music department helps in teaching appreciation for the American heritage.

"Newark Schools on Parade" was in competition with programs throughout the United States for this George Washington Honor Medal.

Friedly and Toman, who prepared the weekly shows, are not professional radio men. They are teachers and assistants to the superintendent for information services.

It is their responsibility each week to present to the radio audience, information about Newark schools.

Programs vary in content from student drama to be aired this Sunday with "Sorry, Wrong Number," through explanations of the roles of staff specialists; to analysis of the curricula—the three programs in the series which brought the George Washington Honor Medal to Newark special school district and to Station WNRK.

As a station which has been on the air less than a year, WNRK is one of the "youngest" radio stations ever to receive the George Washington Honor Medal from the Freedom Foundation.

Toman, who produces and directs the series, said: "It is impossible for Newark Schools on Parade" to be honored without honoring all those teachers and administrators who gave so freely of their time to make the program possible. In particular, I would like to cite the teachers who worked on this series with us—Mrs. Emily M. McGilchey of Medill Elementary School; Mrs. Jeannette R. Woodhouse of West Park Place Elementary School; Mrs. Ann MacLary and George P. Nickle of Central Junior High; Mrs. Hazel J. Painter of Ogletown Junior High School; Myron L. Lazarus and James B. Owen of Christiana, and Miss L. Jane Cooper and Harley S. Hastings of Newark High School.

The two men, however, to whom all of us on Newark Schools on Parade owe the greatest debt of gratitude are Superintendent of Schools Wilmer E. Shue and William S. Cook, executive vice-president of WNRK. Both offered freely of their experience."

The local program was selected for the honor by a jury of more than 30 state supreme court justices, and national executive officers of service clubs and veterans organizations.

The award will be the third made to a student of the area.

In 1964, the winner was G. Timothy Suratt.

The winner will be a 1965 senior boy or girl with a major interest in science or engineering who has demonstrated good character and citizenship. School officials will choose the recipient.

Edward H. Richardson, company president, announced renewal of the annual award this week after completing arrangements with Wilmer E. Shue, superintendent of the Newark special school district.

Richardson said that a similar scholarship will be offered to a 1965 graduate of the Dover special school district, and Worcester County high schools in Maryland.

The Richardson firm has offices in Dover and Snow Hill, Md.

Academic Failures In Past Semester Total 275 At U. D.

Vice-President Shirley Reports Drop-Outs Lower Than In Preceding Years

Academic failures at the University of Delaware during the fall semester were lower than in recent years.

Dr. John W. Shirley, vice-president of academic affairs, reports the loss of 84 per cent of the undergraduate student body compared with last year's 7.5 per cent failure rate—lower than in any year for which statistics are available.

Dean's list students—105 per cent of the undergraduates—achieved the required 3.25 index, a total of 461 students with better-than-B average.

Of the 275 students dropped for poor scholarship, only two were seniors. Those ineligible for the spring semester comprised 3.4 per cent of the junior class, 8 per cent sophomores; and 9 per cent freshmen.

Thirty-two juniors, 93 sophomores and 148 freshmen were dropped in addition to the two seniors.

The freshman class loss, while slightly higher than in the last several years, is the result of new academic procedures designed to enable students to improve their academic standing on a reduced credit-hour load through enrollment in the university's extension division, Shirley said.

"Overall improvement in undergraduate performance also reflects better admissions and counseling practices," Shirley concluded.

YWCA Pool Drive Enters 3rd Week For $160,000 Goal

Nearly three weeks have gone by since the Newark YWCA launched its fund drive with a goal of $160,000 for an indoor swimming pool.

The last campaign, in 1962-63, provided renovations at the Newark and Brandywine YWCA Centers.

The Newark YWCA Center pool is intended to not only provide recreation and opportunity for instruction and for therapy, but added revenue to expand the local YWCA program.

"Response of people in the Newark area has been gratifying," Director Mary Dabolin said today.

"We plan to offer basic opportunities for women and their families to enrich their lives with recreation and healthful activity."

"We hope we can achieve our goal through public contributions or pledges payable over two years," Miss Dabolin concluded.

Lieut. Wm. G. Batt Jr. Wins Expert Infantryman Badge

Lieut. William G. Batt Jr., recently received the U. S. Army Expert Infantryman Badge as a rifle platoon leader on the Korean front.

Assigned with U. S. Air Force recruiting service for the Wilmington-Newark area is T/Sgt. George G. Del Santo.

A native of Poughkeepsie, N.Y., Sgt. Del Santo is a graduate of the Poughkeepsie High School Class of 1947.

A veteran of 14 years service with the Air Force, including eight years of foreign duty in Europe, Africa and England, he is a graduate of six service schools.

Del Santo is married to the former Joan Ingham of Rochelle, Lancashire, England and they reside at 14 South Kingston Road, Brookside, with their three daughters—Karen, five; Daryl, four; and Paula, two.

Dogs Following Little Friends To School Present Problem For Local Playgrounds

The picture of a dog following his little master to school may be nice on the cover of a magazine, but the faithful dog is becoming a serious problem at Newark schools.

Attention was called to the problem this week by Dr. John W. Shirley, principal of West Park Place Elementary School.

"Dogs continue to be a problem at West Park Place," Auletto said. "Frequently these pets are loose on the playground while several hundred children are playing. And often, little children will run after and frighten these animals, with the danger that these dogs will bite."

Recently, Dr. Auletto reported, the problem got so out of hand that it was his unpleasant duty to call the dog catcher to remove animals from the playground, and a summons before a local magistrate resulted for one pet-owner.

Dr. Auletto said that the school holds nothing against pets nor the ownership of pets. Auletto added, "However we feel that our first obligation is the safety of our children."

The principal called on parents to help stress safety in all aspects to their children. . . yet more than 80 per cent of today's drivers won't wear their seat belts.

Defense In NHA Suit Blocked; City To Convey Tract Of Land

Plan To Consult Outside Attorney For Defense Of City In NHA Suit For Public Housing Property, Deadlocked In 3-3 Vote; Council Approves Signing Of Deed By 5-0

Councilman Olan R. Thomas' proposal that Acting-Mayor William M. Coverdale contact an attorney concerning defense of the city in the lawsuit instituted by the Newark Housing Authority to obtain a tract of land on East Cleveland Avenue, was defeated in a 3-3 vote at the regular meeting of Newark City Council last Monday night. And Councilman Albert P. Chittenden's motion for conveyance of such property to the NHA with signing of the deed, was approved 5-0 with Coverdale declining to vote.

Coverdale stated that he owned property in the area "and on the basis of good taste, I am abstaining from voting."

Solicitor Kenneth W. Lewis said that while the city charter states that all members of council must vote, there may be reason for a council member to abstain from voting in case of conflicting interests. "Do you think this is in violation of the charter?" Councilman Henry R. Folsom, Jr. asked Lewis. And the solicitor, deferring decision and presentation of an official opinion until the next regular meeting of council, said "For sake of council getting of this deed house, I think council can vote on it."

Honoring Contract Folsom said that when he became a councilman, the Newark Housing Authority "was already in existence," and that he did not oppose housing but "joined others in honoring what I have been told to be a legal and binding contract."

After the 5-0 vote for conveyance of city property to the NHA for a token $5 as agreed upon by a previous council in 1963, Coverdale said "I thank everybody for getting us out of the quagmire that has been strictly for the birds in my book."

And to Folsom's request of the solicitor for an opinion on charter requirements for voting, Coverdale added his request for a ruling from Roberts' rules of parliamentary procedure on the same matter.

Councilman Chittenden, David H. Doehert, and Folsom blocked Thomas' motion to consult an attorney other than the city solicitor for defense in the NHA suit.

Coverdale said that he had sent a registered letter on Feb. 10 to the judge of the Court of Chancery, explaining the city's position in which his solicitor had requested to be relieved of case defense, and in a Feb. 16 letter of reply, the chancellor had urged "that you engage the services of a lawyer."

Councilman LeRoy C. Hill, Jr., asked Lewis if he would interpret the chancellor's letter as "a directive to get a lawyer" and Lewis replied in the negative.

"Sign The Deed" "My opinion is that the city should sign the deed," the solicitor said, citing this previously expressed opinion as reason for disqualifying himself from representing the city in the court case.

"Our solicitor has given this adequate thought," Folsom added, citing Lewis' active investigation of housing since last October.

"I feel his decision as I had it explained to me, is a good opinion. I feel we have spent enough of the taxpayers' money to get this opinion. . . with no additional evidence, I feel we should not pursue this further," Folsom concluded.

Atty. Gen. Drops Case Against Best As City Alderman

No action is to be taken by the attorney-general's office against Magistrate Horace H. Best, Jr., Newark City Council's complaint that Best failed to keep proper records.

Replaced last June as Newark alderman, council filed a complaint with the attorney-general's office contending Best had not kept his docket up to date and had permitted a state constable to collect fees instead of using the city constable.

Deputy Atty. Gen. Edward J. Sobolewski said this constable aspect could not be construed as a charge against Best.

In a report to council last Monday night, Atty. Gen. David P. Buckson said, "Based upon evidence presently before us, this office anticipates no further action in this matter."

Buckson said, "Please be advised that in such matters and investigations, it is the policy of the attorney-general's office not to make status reports."

"We feel that such investigations reveal certain information to this office and that such information should be confined to this office in order that we may properly carry out our duties . . ."

Walter MacKenzie Wins Equitable Life 25-Yr. Pin

Walter T. MacKenzie of the Newark office, Equitable Life Insurance Co., celebrated his 25th anniversary with the company on Feb. 14.

Regional Manager J. Harold Gatwood presented MacKenzie with his 25-year service pin and a gold watch.

For the last 25 years, MacKenzie has provided service for his friends in the Newark and Elton areas, and has been a staff manager with Equitable for the past 16 years.

He conducts his business at 775 East Main Street, Newark, and resides with his wife, Marjorie, at Newport.

MacKenzie was born in Newark, N.J., and graduated from Newark High School in 1921.

He worked for the Newark Public Works Department for 10 years, and then for the Newark Housing Authority for 15 years.

MacKenzie was elected to the Newark City Council in 1958, and served as alderman for the 11th ward.

Over the CLOVER

By Dean Belt
4-H Club Agent

I'd like to announce the starting of two more clubs to the New Castle 4-H family.

First, we have the club in Nottingham Green called "The I's of Nottingham." You will remember two of the girls who helped greatly to start this club—Lynn and Ann Morgan.

And Mrs. Moran and Mrs. Walpole are fine leaders for the group. Another new club has been started in the Randleman Acres area. They have no name as yet, but I'm sure you will be hearing from this active group.

Mrs. Edward Taylor is the club's leader and she comes to us from Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Taylor is looking for members interested in horses and dogs.

We welcome both of these new clubs into our group.

This Friday at 7:30 p.m. in Agricultural Hall Auditorium, the annual 4-H talent contest will be held. It is always an enjoyable and entertaining event. We welcome anyone interested to come and join us.

MacMillan, Paisley Attend Ford Marketing Institute

John H. MacMillan and Walter B. Paisley of George Miller Ford, Inc., Newark, graduated recently from the service management course conducted by the New York Ford Marketing Institute.

The three-day course is designed to help service department personnel provide improved customer relations and owner service.

Since the Institute was inaugurated in 1959, more than 50,000 persons have attended these courses.

Seubert Discusses Control Of Damage By Blackbirds
The search for an effective way of controlling blackbird damage to Delaware field crops, is a continuing battle with no easy solution, according to J. L. Seubert, chief of the animal depredation section, U. S. Department of Interior.

Speaking at a wildlands ecology session at University of Delaware Farm and Home Week, Seubert said that in studying blackbird behavior, research disclosed that the estimated 225-million blackbirds in the United States roost is only 173 well-defined areas.

"When 20 million birds roost on 10 acres, opportunities for control are increased," he said.

Illinois Farmer Bests Delaware Champ With 73.5-Bu. Per Acre Soybean Harvest

What does it take to be the national soybean champion? Illinois farmer, John Reiser, Jr., has won the unofficial title with a yield of 73.5 bu. per acre on 5.3 acres, besting the Delaware champion by about 33 bu. per acre.

Weather was an important factor, but it's not the whole answer. Delaware growers have never produced more than about 60 bu. per acre under the most ideal conditions.

Dr. William Mitchell, extension agronomist at the University of Delaware, says that since Delaware soybean producers are competing with Midwest producers, they need to match Midwest technological advances. And he says that while Illinois growing conditions are enough difficult to cause some changes in production practices, there are some lessons to be learned from the Illinois champion.

Here is Reiser's story with Mitchell's comments where practices differ between the states. Reiser produces high yields on all of his land. His contest entry was a hand-nursed crop. He averaged 60 bu. on the 14-acre field that contained the contest plot. Corn on the same type of soil, a good quality silt loam, averaged 150 bu. per acre.

He has been in alfalfa for two years prior to soybeans. He used 32-in. rows; 334 pounds of 4-10-10 fertilizer; Ambien plus one cultivation to control weeds, and 1/4-bu. seeds per acre.

Reiser used Harosoy 63 seed, but Mitchell believes Delaware growers would be better off with Bethel or Delmar at 40 pounds per acre, or Kent at 50 pounds. These varieties were developed for Delaware conditions and have given consistently higher yields. Also, he suggests using certified, treated seed.

Reiser fall-plows to a depth of 10-12 in. and uses a field cultivator in the spring as soon as weeds start growing on the back side of clods. If the soil has crusted before planting time he uses the field cultivator again, or he may mount a cultivator just ahead of the planter.

Since Delaware soil is lighter Mitchell says better use can be made of available moisture and still prevent wind erosion by plowing in early March.

"Deep plowing at a depth of 10-12 in. is a must for high yields," Mitchell said.

Scouts Plan Good Turn Day On April 3, For Goodwill

John Martin, vice-president of Hercules Powder Company, was named as general chairman of Good Turn Day, the annual clothing drive conducted by Boy Scouts for Goodwill Industries.

This year's drive is scheduled for Saturday, April 3, and J. Carlyle Simons, executive director of Goodwill Industries, disclosed that Martin will be coordinating activities of over 8,000 volunteers, mostly Boy Scouts.

Last year Good Turn Day netted 26,500 filled bags of clothing which was repaired, pressed, priced and sold in Goodwill stores in Newark and vicinity.

All this work is performed by handicapped people, and the sale of the finished product in Goodwill stores, largely underwrites wages paid to the handicapped, and other costs involved.

Air Force Album Planned For Residents Of County

The U. S. Air Force recruiting office in Wilmington is assembling an album of all New Castle County residents serving on active duty with the Regular Air Force.

Anyone wishing to contribute to this album may send a photo to the USAF recruiting office, 6th & King Streets, Wilmington.

Include with photo, the person's name, rank, home address in New Castle County, base, and duty assignment.

Spray In Dormant Season Provides Insect Control

Miscible oil sprays, when applied to trees and shrubs during the dormant season, offer effective protection against certain insect pests, points out Dave Tatnall, assistant agent in ornamental horticulture.

Spray should be applied on a mild day when the temperature is above 40, and early enough to allow the material to thoroughly dry before evening.

A repeat application should not be given during the same season. Oil sprays should not be used on certain maples, several nut-bearing trees, and a number of evergreens.

Salute to: National Engineers' Week—Feb. 21-27

AN OPPORTUNITY WE WOULDN'T MISS

National Engineers' Week gives us a special opportunity to join the many engineers of our company and of the Bell System in saluting all engineers throughout the state.

We owe the great majority of our technological achievements to the gifted, dedicated men of the engineering profession. Here at The Diamond State Telephone Company we are proud of their contribution to human needs afforded by this challenging and rewarding career.

New officers of the Hockessin Fire Company Auxiliary were installed last Monday by Mrs. Catherine Jenkins, past county president.

Mrs. Betty Gregg, the new president, named her committees for this year as follows: Mrs. Mae Cox and Mrs. Myrtle Cota, sick and sunshine; Mrs. Elizabeth Fulton, Mrs. Alexander Jarrell and Mrs. Cox, Ways and Means; Mrs. Helen Lloyd, Mrs. Mary Sauer, and Mrs. Catharine Creedon, card parties; Mrs. Marie Taylor and Mrs. Nancy Marney, membership; Mrs. Eva Watson, publicity; Mrs. Margaret Malin and Mrs. Elizabeth McGroarty, auditors.

Delegates to county and state sessions are Mrs. Ella Harrison and Elizabeth Dillon. Alternates are Roxey Malin and Mrs. Sauer.

The Waverly Club heard Mrs. W. Steel Atwell's talk on "Guide on Antiques" at the home of Mrs. L. F. Troxell.

Mrs. Atwell stated nothing is unique until 100 years old. She gave a recipe from the year 1671 and displayed a bedspread made of Anderson gingham, a tulip pattern quilt, and homespun sheets.

Family samplers made in 1801 and 1867 were shown by Mrs. Joseph Mitchell.

Mrs. Paul Mitchell had an article on the history and showed pictures of Lowestoft china at the Ridgely House in Dover. She exhibited a crazy quilt belonging to the Hoopes, her father's family.

The hostess had bedspreads made in 1843 and 1849, and other antique pieces—china, milk glass, and a 1778 blanket chest.

Mrs. C. W. Gass reviewed the book "Take My Hands".

Old birthday and Christmas cards were requested by Mrs. Samuel Campbell.

The March 3 meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. H. Ellis Piers and not with Mrs. Ralph Klair as previously scheduled.

Harmony Grange will sponsor a benefit card party on March 16 to raise funds for the New Castle County Pomona Grange migrant minister project.

Two Future Farmers of America students from Newark High School, with Teacher William H. Kent, were

Williamson School Scholarships Open For 80 Young Men

The Williamson Trade School, Media, Pa., will offer opportunities to approximately 80 young men to participate in the September, 1965 scholarship program.

Applications for these scholarships valued at $2,000 per year, should be received at the school by March 8, 1965.

The deed of trust, under which Williamson School was established in 1888, provides full three-year scholarships which include board, lodging and instruction in trade and technical courses.

The Williamson School is one of the older and better vocational-technical schools in the country.

It offers training in machine shop, carpentry, painting and decorating, bricklaying, and power plant operation, with opportunity for students to prepare for positions in areas where there is a shortage of skilled craftsmen.

In addition, opportunities for more advanced training on the technology level are available to successful candidates who have earned grades of C or better in high school mathematics, English and science courses.

guests at Harmony last Monday night as a part of the celebration of FFA week.

George Moore gave his public speaking contest talk on "Agriculture is More Than Farming."

Dale McCall told of the new curriculum which includes animal science, landscaping, agriculture mechanics, and plant science.

Mr. Kent spoke of the program as training young men for leadership in the community.

The Hill and Dale 4-H Club gave a skit "Coming Around the Mountain" with Carolle Fisher, guitarist, Susan Steen, Aline, Robert and Donald Pierce, Mary Gorton, Nancy Nicholson, Sally Cafader, and Peggy McDowell.

The grange home economics committee headed by Mrs. Walter Marshall, outlined the state program for 1965 which includes contributions to care for water pumps for South America and to fireproof the family by training.

A gift of $15 was voted sent to the national grange youth leadership program.

Mrs. Nelson Goff gave sewing hints known as the designer's touch at the February meeting of the Wm. Odus Home Economics Club at the home of Mrs. Dale Seymour.

A dessert card party was planned for March 19 at the home of Mrs. Warren Gregg.

Mrs. Sarah Crossan and Mrs. Thomas Churn were named to attend the annual banquet of the Consumers' Forum in April.

A nominating committee comprising Mrs. Seymour, Mrs. Gregg, and Mrs. Allen Lindsay was named to prepare a slate of officers.

Mrs. Carl Miller will have charge of the annual donation to the Florence Crittenton Home. Mrs. Miller read President Johnson's message on civil defense.

The club remembered a patient at the Delaware State Hospital for her birthday. Mrs. Elmer Taylor has charge of this project.

Mrs. Joseph C. Eastburn, family life chairman, had an article on diabetes; Mrs. Thomas Watson, safety chairman, traffic accidents; and Mrs. Seymour, health chairman, care of heart to prevent an attack.

Mrs. Laurence Ulmer will be the March 17, hostess instead of Mrs. Goff.

St. Philips Lutheran Church on Kirkwood Highway dedicated a new educational wing last Sunday afternoon.

The Rev. J. Frank Fife, president of the Maryland Lutheran synod; the Rev. Russell Zimmerman, dean of Delaware district; and the two pastors—the Rev. Robert Grochan and Rev. Ralph Welsh participated.

The new wing provides classroom space for nursery through fifth grade; the senior high department; a fire-place room for teen-agers; and a small office for the church school.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Woodward of Limestone Road have returned from a trip to Florida, as have Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Parker of Cedars.

The Rev. B. Franklin Ferguson, pastor of Antioch Presbyterian Church, Red Springs, N. C. was an overnight guest of Mrs. L. H. Pennington at the Mermaid last Wednesday. He also visited his brother Henry, and sister-in-law, Mrs. Paul Ferguson and family at their new home in Clair Estates.

Ebenezer Methodist Church Ash Wednesday communion service will be held in this church next week at 8 p.m.

$16-Million Economy Gain Cited With Hatching Eggs

The economy of the Delaware peninsula could gain some $16-million a year if the hatching eggs in Delmarva's broiler industry were produced on the peninsula, a Delaware poultryman told producers at University Farm and Home Week.

Alden E. Loberg, general manager of Cobb, Inc., Seaford, pointed out that Delmarva, "the granddaddy of all broiler areas, is the only major broiler area that is not producing most or all of the hatching eggs it uses in broiler production."

Because of these services, the Ebenezer Fellowship has shifted its meeting to March 11 at the fellowship hall. Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Major will be hosts for the covered dish supper at 6:30 p.m. which precedes the meeting.

The Senior MYF will have the theme "The Bible—Let's Use It" at the meeting this Sunday.

Paul Nelson has returned home after surgery in a Wilmington hospital.

Union Grange will conduct its spring newspaper drive on May 1.

A patriotic program was given by the members honoring famous persons whose birthdays are celebrated this month—Abraham Lincoln, George Washington, Henry W. Longfellow, Thomas Edison, and Susan Blackwell.

Members will hear Elaine Gibson tell of her trip to Australia at the March 17, program.

Mrs. William H. Narvel, a member of the Capt. William McKenna chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was installed librarian of the Delaware State Society at its 57th annual conference last Saturday at the Hotel DuPont. Mrs. Narvel will serve three years.

Red Clay Creek Presbyterian Church Members and other friends attended services last Sunday and the family.

Delaware Rifles Set 30-9 Record In Team Shooting

A little-known but very successful intercollegiate team is the Delaware Rifles.

While not part of the university's regular varsity athletic program, the rifle team has been competing on a formal intercollegiate basis under supervision of the military department since 1961-62.

The rifle team has compiled an admirable 30-9 record over that period.

Standouts on this year's Delaware team are seniors Steve Dexter and John McCloud, captain.

Dexter, a three-year letterman, holds the Delaware record of 291 set against Temple last year.

Seniors John McThenia, Edward Western and George Borderieux and Soph Tom Borderieux make up the rest of the team's regulars.

The Senior MYF will have the theme "The Bible—Let's Use It" at the meeting this Sunday.

Paul Nelson has returned home after surgery in a Wilmington hospital.

Union Grange will conduct its spring newspaper drive on May 1.

State Soybean Drop, Corn Crop Increase Predicted By McAllister For Year Ahead

Delaware's $9.5 million dollar soybean industry will take a downward turn in 1965, according to University of Delaware Agricultural Economist W. T. McAllister, and the number of acres planted to corn is expected to increase.

In spite of $3 per bushel prices, soybean growers will make a gradual shift to corn to get away from the low yield problems of soybeans, according to McAllister. Even in good growing years, soybean producers have been unable to get consistently high yields, and the state average for the past seven years is only 22 bu. per acre. In 1964, it dipped to 12½ bu.

On the other hand, corn yields have been averaging nearly 60 bu. per acre, and even with extremely dry conditions of 1964, the state average was 55 bu.

This shift in crop emphasis may tax local drying and storage facilities for corn. McAllister believes a substantial shift could cause serious handling problems.

Dairy farmers can expect a better year than any of the past three or four. The economist believes that milk prices won't increase much above present levels, but costs of producing it will decline as a result of increased production per cow, lower roughage costs, and more total sales per man, per cow, and per acre.

Boys Prepare "Pit" As Local Activity For Teen-Agers

There is an example of teen-age activity in Newark that will never make headlines in the way that too many headlines are made by young people.

Bob Vance, Kip Mortenson, Jim Spangler and Wayne Bonner are working on "The Pit," a cafe for the teen-agers of the Newark area—a basement night-spot where people between 15 and 19 can listen to live folk entertainment, drink coffee and cakes, and be with friends.

"The Pit" which is scheduled to open March 12, is in the basement of the YWCA on the corner of West Park Place and South College Avenue.

Virginia Butters Chosen As Queen At Explorer Dance

Last Saturday night, Capitol Trail District Explorers held their annual Queen Selection Dance at Newark Methodist Church, and Virginia Butters, escorted by William Colman of Post 362 was selected as the Queen for 1965 by a panel of three judges.

Ginger lives at 8 Curry Lane and is a senior at Christiana High School. She will represent the Capitol Trail District at the Del-Mar-Va Council Explorer Ball on March 20.

In the Queen's court were Mary Joe Robinson, escorted by Rick Stearns of Post 17; Erica Wilson, escorted by Horace Bomar of Post 256; Mary Jane Davis, escorted by Stanley Gibeson of Post 255, and Janet Gilbert escorted by Bill Rylander of Post 352.

Judges were Mrs. Frances Andrews, news director of WKAR; Mrs. Sue Tatrall, director of home economics extension with the University of Delaware; and Maj. Wilbur Farrow, professor of military science at the university.

William Upthoff was advisor for the dance, and the committee included Paul Parsons, Carl Jacobson, Bill Rylander, Larry Stevens, Steve Roberts, Carl Zeisberg and Parker Anderson.

Troop 685 Plans Weekend Girl Scout Cookie Sales

Girl Scouts of Troop 685 will sell Girl Scout cookies this Friday and Saturday at three locations—the Park 'n' Shop on Elkton Road, the Newark Shopping Center, and at Howard Johnson's on the Glasgow Road.

Those who would like to order cookies at any time may call Mrs. John Ferron.

LONGWOOD GARDENS

"Making Weather Work For You" will be the topic of a lecture by Dr. Charles L. Hoelzer of Pennsylvania State University in the Longwood Gardens ballroom next Wednesday at 8:30 p.m.

The conservatory will be open at 7:30 and for an hour following the lecture. On March 10, Morgan Evans, in charge of horticulture at Disneyland, will talk on "Painting Scenes With Plants."

CHARLES WHITE CONCERT

Charles White, American pianist, will present a concert at Delaware State College next Tuesday at 10 a.m. in Delaware Hall. The public is invited and admission is free.

MARINE OCS CLASS

An officer candidate class will be offered by the U.S. Marine Corps next month. Capt. W. L. Shearer has announced, providing immediate opportunity for employment. Contact the local U.S. Marine Corps recruiter.

Keith. Wardenburg $500 Scholarships Offered By AAUW

Two scholarships, each worth $500 for one year, are being offered by the Wilmington chapter of the American Association of University Women. Applications are due March 5.

They are the Keith Memorial and Wardenburg scholarships, both designed for graduate study for women in the 1965-66 academic year.

The Keith scholarship is open to all women who will have a baccalaureate degree by June, but requires that graduate studies be taken at the University of Delaware.

The Wardenburg scholarship is restricted to Delaware women, but the recipient can study at any approved college.

request to purchase three lots from the city in the area of Courtnay and Haines streets, Solicitor Lewis said "I think the city would be open to criticism with direct sale to individuals just because they asked for it." He said that the city may be accused of preferential treatment.

City Manager J. Francis Neide answered Coverdale's query regarding city need for the property, with "I see no need for it whatever. We've already sold some of it."

Will pointed out that proposed construction of a fraternity house for 40 men on the property would present parking problems, and replying to Folsom's question as to the land's potential as a playground site, said that the Greater Newark Recreation Association had made such use of the tract several years ago.

Folsom's proposal that the municipal parks and playground committee report on possible use of the property, was approved.

Harold M. Grant, president of the Newark Election Board, reported that two voting machines had been ordered for April use in the third district, and three machines for fifth district voters.

"With all that has to be decided," Grant said, referring to the municipal election and referendum on the city charter and public housing program, "there still will be people lined up."

Folsom's proposal to include $25,000 in the 1965 municipal budget for design and improvement of the College Park playground was approved after a five-minute recess called by Coverdale to obtain the solicitor's opinion on restrictions for parkland expenditures. Lewis reported that such funds included parkland improvements as well as acquisition.

To Folsom's observation that all original papers be retained in the city offices, with only copies to be released, Neide stated that proposed microfilming would solve the problem of borrowed files. The city manager is to present a report on plans for microfilm records.

Speaking for the bi-racial committee, Acting-Chairman William Allman endorsed Report No. 6 of the city committee on housing.

Families are being forced to move from Newark because of the enforcement of the minimum housing code," Allman stated, citing the report as "a good plan to take care of this emergency problem. We urge that this plan be implemented quickly by city council as a supplement to and not as a substitute for the Newark federal housing program which we support."

Concerning University of Delaware plans to acquire by condemnation a lane from South Chapel Street to the Manor Realty property north of the former Avon building, Hill urged that city and university planning officials "work together" and that the university be informed of beltway plans. Council adopted the city manager's recommendation that this lane not be closed for university use.

Neide was authorized to purchase three 34.5 kilovolt power fuse hold-the-genda.

ers for the East Main Street Substation at a cost of $747, and the contract for the Possum Park Road water main extension was awarded to William B. Cullin of Newark for the low bid of $35,225.

Council accepted the solicitor's opinion that the city has control over McKee's Lane, and this approval cleared objections to the plat presented for construction of the Colonial Gardens Apartments in the area.

Concerning responsibility for speed control on Capitol Trail within the city limits, Coverdale referred to a 1952 agreement for city control of the area, and said that the dispute with the State Highway Department 35 mph limit was a "real joke with traffic barreling by."

He said "the thing can get mighty sticky" with the city having no control over Main Street traffic and parking meters on the basis that the street may be the responsibility of the state.

Lewis said that he was consulting with the highway department in effort to reach an agreement on speed control.

Meanwhile, the 35 mph speed limit is in force.

An hourly pay rate of $2 was proposed for the buffet, and working for machine vote on the federal housing issue in April was requested of the city solicitor.

A decision on this wording is to be rendered by March 8 after council discussion.

Last Monday's meeting was adjourned at 10:09 with completion of the agenda.

Rowan Perkins Suffers Final Period Pin As Yellowjackets Lose Lead, Dual Meet Leading 12-4 with a bare eight seconds left in the final period, Newark's Rowan Perkins was pinned last Saturday for five Brandywine points in the next-to-last event of the afternoon, and the Bulldogs defeated Coach Andy Marcano's Yellowjackets 22-17 at the Newark High School gym.

Perkins had his opponent on his back three times during the match for near pins.

The loss to Brandywine—eighth place team in the conference with a 2-4-1 mark—concluded a 3-6 season for Newark with a seventh place finish.

In Saturday's matches, John Dolan lost 9-0 in the 95-lb. event; Mark Bill, 163, wrestled to a 3-3 draw.

But an additional chapter was provided this week with arrival of the official report from the U. S. Department of the Interior Fish and Wildlife Service concerning a beautiful green, gray, white, red-brown, and blue mallard drake that was shot while hunting last November 30 with Bob Beck on the Thousand Acre Marsh between Delaware City and Port Penn.

The green, silver-headed speedster had an aluminum band on an orange leg, and officials at the Migratory Bird Populations Station at Laurel, Md., report that the unfortunate duck was banded Feb. 22, 1964 at the Blackwater Refuge near Cambridge on Maryland's Eastern Shore.

There's no telling how many air miles this drake traveled before his rendezvous with trail's end at Port Penn.

He may have made the spring flight to Canada and back to Delaware, or he may have remained in the Delaware Bay area from February to November.

Fish and Wildlife Service banding reveals that most birds live less than two years.

However, a Caspian tern was recovered 26 years after banding; a ring-billed gull and an osprey lived 21 years after banding; a purple martin, 14; and mallards and pintails have survived for more than 20 years.

A pintail banded in Canada, was taken 18 days later in England after flying across the Atlantic Ocean.

Over 11 million birds have been banded, and a half-million more are added annually, the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service reports.

And this particular mallard did not die in vain, although he might debate that point.

We will long remember him roaring over the decoys in the cold wind and gray light of early morning; the roasted duck on the dinner plate—and his stuffed skin with all of its gorgeous plumage is hanging on the den wall at home.

Christiana Paced By Tom Chidester Scoring 15 And 23

Tom Chidester led Coach Bill Fessenden's Christiana eagles with 15 points against DeLaWarr and 23 points against Dickinson in a pair of home stands last Tuesday and Friday, as Christiana suffered a pair of losses.

DeLaWarr defeated the Vikings 108-41, and Dickinson won 70-54. Winless Christiana faces William Penn at New Castle this Friday, and entertains Newark on the Viking floor next Tuesday.

Christiana concludes the Blue Hen Conference basketball schedule on Friday, March 5, at Wilmington High School, with 6:30 jayvees games preceding the varsity tests.

Behind 24-12 at the end of the first quarter against DeLaWarr's Lions on Tuesday, the Vikings never threatened, trailing 46-20 at half-time.

Getting off to a slow start against Dickinson to trail 48-19 at the half, Christiana rallied to outscore their visitors 21-10 in the final period.

BOWLING WITH THE STARS

by Bill Bunetta AMF Staff of Champions

Curve Ball and Hook Ball

Just as star bowlers recommend that bowlers use the hook ball, they equally stress against use of a curve ball.

I always advise bowlers to cut down on their curve as much as possible, since it is quite hard to be consistent or accurate with this type of ball.

Stop and think for a moment. If you throw a curve ball, it travels far across the lane and then back to the pins. This leaves more margin for error, and this margin is amplified with the less experienced bowlers. A curve ball takes a great deal of wrist action and strength. Achieving the exact amount of wrist action on every ball is extremely difficult.

The hook ball is the one I recommend for the bowler who has some accuracy with the straight ball and who has attained some proficiency in his game. The hook ball travels down the lane in a relatively straight line until it approaches the pins and then breaks sharply into the pocket. Since the hook ball breaks only a few inches after its departure from the seeming straight line, it is very effective when it hits the pins. It has driving power as well as the deflection action that makes for a good pin scattering ball.

For these reasons the hook ball is the most popular type ball used by the stars.

Coach Ken Klimek's Vikings Lose Finale To DeLaWarr To Conclude 4-4-1 Season

Powerful DeLaWarr with an 8-1 season record, and second to the undefeated William Penn champions, defeated Coach Ken Klimek's visiting varsity Vikings 30-11 last Saturday as Christiana concluded a 4-4-1 season with a sixth place finish.

David Cross won a 7-0 decision for the Vikings in the 95-lb. event, and Kenny Reed lost 5-1 at 103.

Christiana's Was Wolf was pinned by Leary in 5:45 of the 112-lb. event. Co-Capt. Eddie Lee won a 5-0 decision over Long at 120-lbs., and Christiana's George Moore lost a 4-0 decision to Bill Campbell at 127.

Glenn Hall won a 3-2 decision over Gildersleeve at 133-lbs., and Bob Hall lost a 7-1 call at 138.

Dick Morris was defeated by Griffin in a 7-4 decision at 145-lbs., and Dick Baecht lost a tough 2-1 decision to Jeandell at 154.

Harold Boyer wrestled DeLaWarr's Smith to a 1-1 draw at 165, and in the 180-lb. event, Joe Trotto was defeated 7-1.

Heavyweight Paty Roby was pinned by Bowden in 3:45 of the final match.

Coach Ken Klimek's Viking Jayvees lost 34-15 to the junior Lions in the season's final dual meet at DeLaWarr last Saturday.

Monte Baldwin drew at 95-lbs., and Jim Merrick won a 2-0 decision at 103.

Gary Huggler lost a 3-1 decision at 112; there were no matches in the next two classes; and Dick Rhodes was defeated 3-1 at 133.

Bob Halstead, 145, won a 5-1 decision, and Dean Nelson was stopped 3-1 at 154.

Roy Parker lost a 4-2 decision at 180, and there was no match in the heavyweight division.

Forfeitures Cost Yellowjacket JV's Loss To Bulldogs

A pair of forfeitures in the first three matches cost Coach Andy Marcano's Yellowjacket junior varsity wrestlers 12 points and a 27-15 loss to the Brandywine jayvees last Saturday afternoon in the season's dual meet finale at the Newark High School gym.

The Junior Jackets are 4-3 for the season, with wins over Mt. Pleasant, Conrad, Christiana, P. S. du Pont, and losses to William Penn, DeLaWarr, and the Bulldogs.

Newark forfeited the 95 and 112-lb. events because of weight problems, and John Boyer lost a 4-0 decision at 103-lbs.

Bill Thorp wrestled to a 2-2 draw in an exhibition match at 112, and Billy Wexman won the first three points of the afternoon for the Newark jayvees with a 5-2 decision at 120.

Mike Harris at 127 lost a 4-0 decision, and Don Jones won 4-0 at 133 for Newark.

Christian Reddow at 138 and Frank Higley at 145 put the Yellowjacket jayvees back in contention with 4-2 and 3-0 decisions as Newark moved to within six points in the 18-12 count.

Bob Taylor was defeated 5-0 at 154, and Steve Nelson lost a 4-0 decision at 165-lbs.

John Ingold won a 1-0 decision at 180, and Heavyweight Bill Need lost a 4-2 decision.

Delaware Upsets Rutgers; Suffers Loss To Engineers

After upsetting Rutgers 81-78 last Saturday night in Carpenter Field House Delaware ran into trouble with the Engineers last Tuesday night as Lehigh won 64-49 at Bethlehem, Pa.

Coach Irv Wisniewski's Blue Hens were within range of the lead twice but each time the Engineers drew away for their seventh win in 18 games, breaking a six-game losing streak.

Leading 14-13 in the first half, Dick Benfield, who led Lehigh with 18 points, and Dick Ardern combined for eight straight points to run up a 22-13 margin, and the half ended 30-19, Lehigh.

Capt. John Himes tallied the Blue Hens' first eight points in the second half and it looked as if Delaware was on its way back. With Herb Messick scoring 15 of his 21 points in this half, the Hens cut the deficit to 37-33 with 11:50 to go.

The Engineers regained their poise and increased their lead to 17 points with 1:50 remaining.

The defeat leaves Delaware with a 3-16 record and one game remaining—next Tuesday at Bucknell.

Coach Dave Sysko's Blue Hens frosh snapped a five-game losing streak, defeating Lehigh 76-69 with Pete Wells scoring 30 points. It was the Blue Hens' last game of the season for a 4-9 mark.

Temperate Herbs, Tropic Spice Provide Gourmet Dishes For Wintertime Menus

Despite wide selection of fresh produce and frozen foods in supermarkets to provide summertime variety for meals all year long, mid-winter menus can seem a bit boring. One simple cure for this is to do some experimenting with herbs and spices, says Janet Coblentz, extension food and nutrition specialist at the University of Delaware.

While gourmet meals often are associated with expensive restaurants, gourmet dishes aren't necessarily expensive — they are just prepared with a bit more thought and ingenuity than an ordinary meal. And gourmet dishes aren't limited to restaurants. In fact Miss Coblentz says, they are easily prepared by any homemaker, and usually are the mark of a good cook.

"If we interpret gourmet dishes as those that will pass the test of your sensitive taste, and do something different to your daily meal plan and a different flavor to a familiar food. The use of herbs and spices may well give you a reputation as a gourmet cook," Miss Coblentz says.

In addition, herbs and spices can replace butter or cream sauce and salt for those on low-fat and low-salt diets, she points out.

She explains that herbs are leaves of plants which grow in temperate zones, while spices come from bark, dried leaves, seeds, and other parts of plants which grow in the tropics. Start out on your first few ventures with herbs and spices by following recipes which have been well tested, Miss Coblentz recommends.

When experimenting, a good rule of thumb is to start with one-quarter teaspoon of a spice or herb. It is easier to add another small amount than to be faced with the problem of over-seasoning.

Thyme, savory, marjoram, basil or bay leaf can be used to vary stuffings. Basil, with its delicate flavoring, is often favored for egg dishes, but there is no reason why you couldn't try it in soups, with lemon on fish, or crumbled and sprinkled on tomato slices.

Herbs can be blended with butter for a new spread when French bread, heated with garlic and butter, has lost its novelty.

When buying a packaged spice or herb, look for strength and color. A fresh, rich color and pungent aroma that rises to meet you mark highest quality, Miss Coblentz notes. Since these seasonings gradually lose color and flavor, you get no bargain when you buy a large quantity in a bag. Smaller, tightly sealed containers are best for the average homemaker. Frequent replenishment assures you of best quality for cooking.

Spices and herbs should be stored in a cool, dry place and never near the range. Once containers are opened, herb flavor begins to wane. Herbs tend to lose flavor a little faster than most spices, but they are used in greater amounts. If you buy them in leaf form and crush them as you use them, they will keep their flavor longer.

Ground spices should be replaced within six months, while whole spices keep their flavor almost indefinitely.

Some women who grow plants on kitchen window sills keep a few pots planted with rosemary, thyme, basil, marjoram, sage and parsley. This way, they can have fresh herbs whenever they wish.

Miss Coblentz points out that whole spices are especially useful in dishes which cook a long time, such as stews. They should be added at the beginning of the cooking period to extract their full flavor and aroma. Add ground spices and herbs about 15 min. before serving.

In uncooked dishes, such as salad dressings, fruit juices or cottage cheese, the spice or herb mixture should be left standing for several hours to develop maximum flavor.

One of the earliest and most successful ventures of the Alumni Association was the support of scholarships for undergraduates," according to Elbert Chance, director of alumni and public relations. "Although the university has grown and changed in many respects since the scholarship program was initiated, the caliber of the recipients has remained uniformly high.

"Originally, the object of Alumni Association scholarships was to attract resident students who otherwise might be attracted to out-of-state institutions," Chance said. "Scholarship and loan funds for in-state students have grown substantially, and the attention of the association has shifted to attracting and supporting highly qualified non-resident students."

The eight major scholarships, renewable for four years, are worth up to $500 per year. When less than the full amount of these scholarships is required, the balance is distributed among other undergraduates.

Experts In 59 Fields Plan Career Day Talks At NHS

Career Day at Newark High School will bring representatives of 59 fields as consultants to advise students on Wednesday, March 10, from 8:20 to 10:45 a.m.

The program is sponsored jointly by the Alumni Association and the Student Council. William McLain is alumni chairman.

The keynote assembly introducing school-wide sessions, will feature Ross E. Anderson, Jr., executive vice-president of the Delaware State Chamber of Commerce since 1960.

Each student will be scheduled with two 30-minute sessions in careers of their choice — including advertising, dentistry, medicine, forestry, secretarial work, and beauty culture.

Dr. W. L. Gulick To Speak At Smyth Center Luncheon

Dr. W. Lawrence Gulick, professor and chairman of the psychology department at the University of Delaware, will speak on "Eye of a Frog" at next Wednesday's luncheon program at the Alice P. Smyth Center Newark YCA.

A graduate of Hamilton College, Gulick received his MA at the University of Delaware and his PhD at Princeton. During World War II he served as a paratrooper in the U. S. Army.

He has had 40 articles published in psychological and medical journals on the psychology of vision and hearing, and was recently elected to the New York Academy of Sciences and Psychonomic Society.

These luncheons are open to the public, and a nursery is available on request. Bring a sandwich or buy one at the Center where coffee and tea are offered.

Foretaste Of Spring Cited With Indoor Blooming

Homeowners tiring of winter's drabness can create a colorful preview of spring in their own homes, says Dave Tatnall, assistant agent in ornamental horticulture.

Spring-blooming trees and shrubs can be easily forced into bloom by bringing cut branches indoors at this time.

Branches should be cut, preferably on a mild day — submerged for an hour or two in a container of lukewarm water — and then arranged in attractive bouquets.

They will flower best if placed in a room that is well-lighted and moderately cool.

1st Graders Face 6th Day At School In Reading Study

Some 50 Delaware first graders will have six days of school next week—but they'll spend that extra day at the University of Delaware.

Seaford youngsters, along with their teachers, will demonstrate different methods of beginning reading instruction for several hundred educators from Delaware and surrounding states.

The March 5-6 conference sponsored by the Reading-Study Center of the university school of education, is designed to acquaint teachers with research underway on beginning reading instruction.

Dr. Russell B. Stauffer, director of the Reading-Study Center, and holder of a grant from the U. S. Office of Education for research in the teaching of reading, expects educators from Maryland, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, and Washington, D. C. to join Delaware teachers at the conference. Some inquiries also have come from Massachusetts, he said.

Major talks in addition to one scheduled by Dr. Stauffer on Saturday morning, will be delivered by Dr. Helen Murphy, professor of education at Boston University; Dr. Albert Mazurkiewicz, director of the Initial Teaching Alphabet Studies Center at Lehigh University; and Park H. Lutz, a member of the Pennsylvania State Board of Education.

Stauffer is working with 10 first grade classes in Seaford, where reading instruction is based on an "experience or language arts" approach. This method uses pupils' communication skills as the basis for beginning reading, building vocabularies, and developing phonetic skills.

Five first grade teachers from Seaford will demonstrate techniques with their classes in Allison Hall.

Change In Name For YWCA Slated In Monday Voting

The 70th annual luncheon meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association of Wilmington will be held next Monday in the new multi-purpose room of the YWCA Brandywine Center on Millers Road, in Ardentown, with Mrs. Helen Southward, family life education specialist on the national YWCA staff, speaking "Sex Morality in Our Times."

A business session will be held at 10:30 a.m. to vote on a change in name to the "Young Women's Christian Association of New Castle County, Delaware."

Each of three centers—Brandywine, Newark and Wilmington—will have exhibits, and Mrs. Harry Deppe of Newark will supply background music.

Catered luncheon will be served; tickets are for sale at any of the three centers, and Friday is the deadline for reservations.

Michael Brelick Attains Missouri Valley Honors

Michael Brelick is among the 13 per cent of students at Missouri Valley College named to the dean's honor roll for the past semester.

An academic average of 3.3 is the minimum requirement for honor roll rank. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Brelick of 316 Harbour Drive, Newark.

Bids Due March 11 For Construction Of UD Dormitory

Bids for construction of a dormitory complex to house 796 students are due at the University of Delaware purchasing agent's office by 4 p.m. on March 11.

The complex will consist of six residence halls—three each for men and women—and a separate dining hall for 1,300 students.

The project is expected to cost about $5 million, of which $4 million will be raised through sale of self-liquidating bonds.

The remainder is included in the university's total capital outlay request to the General Assembly.

600,000th Buick Produced At Plant In Wilmington

At the Wilmington General Motors plant, the 600,000th Buick rolled off the plant's final assembly line yesterday at 11:11 a.m.

Ground for the GM plant in Wilmington was broken Aug. 29, 1949, and the first shipment of cars went out Oct. 7, 1947.

As supplement to production at Flint, the 600,000 cars built in Wilmington represent a substantial amount of total Buick volume.

'GIMME'

Something dangerous has happened to this country — spread of the cowardly idea that the world owes you and me a living just because we're here.

Socialists love to mouth the Declaration "Life, Liberty and Happiness," but they omit the most important word — "Pursuit."

Pursuit takes energy and intestinal fortitude which beatniks and rabble rousers and their rabble haven't got and haven't the courage to acquire.

"Automation took my job of carriage driver (or ice-man or whatever) so you owe me relief." Get out and drive yourself, and if you haven't got a skill, be the best floor sweeper or day laborer in town—and you'll get along.

If you dropped out of school or won't go to night school because it's too hard, whose fault is it but yours that you haven't got a job or a salable skill?

This once-great nation was built on self-respect, not self-pity. "Gimme" can wreck it.

Buick. Made in Wilmington and proud of it.

Buick is a car you'll be proud to have in your garage.

And not just because it's made here in Wilmington.

Drive one. You'll see. Find out first hand how the Buick

Le Sabre won the Los Angeles to New York Mobil

Economy Run in the Class "C", full-size eight competitors.

(Pretty good car-builders, your neighbors.)

Aside from economy, you get plenty of good looks, as you can plainly see in the picture up there. Go see your Buick dealer and test drive a Wilmington Buick.
