Health Centre Opens in Elliott Building Today

Town Physicians Volunteer their Services

School Children Found Physically Defective Now Under Examination

With the opening of permanent headquarters today in the Elliott Building, the final step toward establishing a health centre in Newark will have been taken. It had been hoped to open the centre some time ago but the equipment was slow in arriving and it was thought unwise to delay longer. The work, however, has been going forward with conspicuous success through the public schools where Miss Grace Stephens the County Nurse has been conducting physical examinations, conferring with parents regarding follow-up work and visiting homes of children in need of immediate attention. The work of examination was completed on Monday. Children physically defective will be examined by the local doctors to confirm or disagree with the diagnoses.

The local committee in charge of the health centre work comprises Mrs. George L. Townsend, Jr., chairman, Mrs. H. E. Tiffany, Mrs. Wilmer Hill, Mrs. C. O. Houghton, Mrs. Robert Campbell, Mrs. E. B. Burnley, Mrs. C. C. Hubert, Mrs. Clement Cannon, Miss Mary Huffer and Miss Agnes Snyder. This committee conferred with the doctors of the town last fall relative to cooperation in the work and found them enthusiastic and willing to lend aid in any way possible.

Dr. G. Burton Pearson was at the centre this morning. Dr. Walt H. Steel was there this afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock. Attention will be directed for the present school children and later to children of preschool age.

Mothers of such are cordially invited and urged to seek the advice of the physicians and nurses concerning children whose health is questionable. The cases will be diagnosed and then referred for follow-up work to the family physician. No charge of course will be made for the diagnosis. The doctors of the town will in turn give their services at the health centre which will be open every Wednesday from 9:00 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

The sole object of this work is to give the "kiddies," a fair show to become strong, healthy men and women.

High School Play Promises To Be A Success

The progress made by the cast of "Miss Fearless and Co.," which with a fine musical program will be given February 9 by the High School Dramatic Club for the benefit of the Athletic Association, is very satisfactory. In the opinion of those who have witnessed rehearsals, both of the play and of the Mandolin and Glee Clubs, a treat is in store for those who will be present when the finished production is put on.

St. Thomas' Guild To Have Distinguished Guest

Next Monday evening the regular monthly meeting of St. Thomas' Guild will be held. Mrs. Frederick Brighurst of Wilmington an active worker in the State Auxiliary will be the guest of honor on that occasion.

Speaks At Dinner Given By New York Sons Of Delaware

Dr. Samuel C. Mitchell was one of the speakers at the luncheon given by the Sons of Delaware of New York City Friday. Col. Clarence Hodgson formerly of Delaware is governor of this society. He has always taken a great interest in Delaware College and maintains there a scholarship of $250 a year. This scholarship is now held by Howard B. Yost of Wilmington.

DISCUSS GREAT SPANISH WRITER AT CENTURY CLUB

Prof. George E. Dutton Summarizes Life and Works of Ibanez

A brief summary of the life and influence of Ibanez the great Spanish writer was given yesterday afternoon before the New Century Club by Prof. George E. Dutton. Ibanez, he said, is to be compared with no modern writer except perhaps Hugo and Tolstoi. He told the story of four of his great works the English version of whose titles are "Blood and Sand," "The Fruit Divine," "Our Ser" and "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse." The latter contains the best description yet written of the battle of the Marne. An interesting feature brought out in connection with the translation of these stories is the fact that Elizabeth Jordan the translator lived at one time in Newark—at Linden Hall, at Belmont and at the present Jack Armstrong residence.

Next week, Mrs. John Pilling will discuss Elizabeth Fry, and the following week "Home Economics Day" will be observed under the direction of Mrs. C. A. Short, chairman assisted by Miss Clark of the Practise House.

Academy Trustees Hold Special Meeting

At a special meeting of the trustees of "The Academy of Newark" held last night at S. M. Donnell's office, J. Pearce Cann was elected a trustee to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Joseph Hossinger. Another vacancy still exists which will be filled at the annual meeting in June.

Mrs. Joseph Hossinger was elected secretary-treasurer.

Local Teachers Institute Thursday Week

A meeting of the association recently formed by the local teachers will be held on Thursday evening Feb. 5 in the High School building. A varied program in charge of Misses Anna Gallaher and Harriet Wilson, will be given. The speaker of the evening will be State Club Leader T. T. Martin.

Primary Tots Make Enviably Record

Four pupils in the beginner's room at the primary school have made an enviable record during the term just past. The following little folks have never been absent nor tardy since school opened in September:

Elinor Townsend, Elizabeth Dean, Hazel Brown and Wilbur McMullen.

Four new pupils have entered the Primary Grade for the second semester. They are Jessie Morris, Frieda Handloff, Paul Griffith and Olive Heiser.

Local Teachers' Speak At Institute

The first of the local teachers' institutes was held at School No. 1, Wilmington on Saturday with a comparatively large attendance, considering the difficulty of travel and the fact that only the northern half of the county were supposed to attend.

Miss Alva Lockhart, primary critic teacher for the Newark Schools was one of the speakers. She gave a practical talk on seat work for primary children and illustrated it with exhibition work suitable for Valentine Day, Washington's Birth Day and Lincoln's Birthday. She showed that the only materials necessary are those which are easily obtainable with little or no expense or are already a part of the equipment.

Miss Ruth Jones, county attendance officer showed charts and gave illuminating facts concerning the school attendance.

Miss Ruby Miller and Miss Warburton, County Supervisors spoke of their work. Miss Florence Hubbard of the Women's College told how to correlate art subjects with others in the school curriculum and Prof. W. A. Wilkinson gave an able address.

POPULATION OF THE TOWN FALLS SHORT OF 2200 MARK

Limits of Newark Have Not Kept Pace With Normal Growth

Miss Martha Wilson, census enumerator for the town, completed her field work last week and will have the results tabulated ready to submit to Mr. Welch tomorrow. Some surprising facts are shown by the returns. The total population of the town barely reaches the 2100 mark. The industrial growth of the town would seem to indicate that there should be a greater increase in population. According to the opinion of an old resident the apparent discrepancy is due to the fact that the town limits have not been extended to keep pace with the increased population. Lack of housing facilities has made it necessary for many of the industrial workers to commute.

Depot Road south of Mrs. Stella Vogt's residence, Amstel and Gillespie avenues, Evansville, Deandale the extensions on Main and Chapel Streets, and other sections apparently a part of the town are counted in the adjoining rural hundreds.

The weather has been particularly unpleasant for the task of census taking but Miss Wilson has not been deterred by that fact. The largest family in Newark according to the records comprises 15 persons—the parents and 13 children.

Chinese Student Talks At Women's College

Cy Tang, a Chinese student working for his doctor's degree in international law at Columbia University gave a very interesting talk on Wednesday 21 in chapel at Women's College. Mr. Tang spoke on "Conditions and Problems in Modern China." The speaker is a cousin of Chindon Yiu, a student at the Women's College.

Package Party At Parish House Last Night

Last night at the Parish House a "package party" was given by the members of St. Thomas' Guild. A great many members and friends of the Guild were present and enjoyed this variation of buying "a pig in a bag." Sandwiches, cake, coffee, candy and crullers were also on sale. To lively music furnished by Messrs. Creswell and Poole the young folks danced. Liveliest among these "young" folks was "Grandma" Dobson who with State Representative W. D. Dean gave a spirited exhibition of the old favorite "Pop Goes the Weasel." Mrs. Dobson is 73 years old.

The proceeds of this affair will go toward the purchase of an electric stove for the Parish House.

Popularity Contest to be a Feature of the Y. M. C. A. Carnival

Directors Forward Plans at Recent Meeting

Attractive and Seasonable Features Will be Carried Out by Various Committees

A meeting of the Carnival Committee was held Monday night at the Armory and each chairman reported excellent progress and the support that is being given by the people of the town is very gratifying.

It has been decided to hold a contest during the Carnival week at which votes will be received for the most popular young lady and the most popular young gentleman of the community, the winners of the contest to receive handsome prizes. This idea was introduced by Mr. George Carter chairman of the House Committee and it was decided that Mr. Carter and Mr. W. E. Hayes be elected as chairmen of the contest. In connection with the parcel post booth of which Mrs. Peore Cann is chairman it has been decided to establish a Post Office from which Valentines addressed to persons of the town will be distributed. The Carnival will cover Valentine Day and this innovation will be very popular.

POPULAR SUBSCRIPTIONS TO FINANCE G. O. P. CAMPAIGN

To Stimulate Party Pride, Rank and File Will Contribute

To stimulate individual pride in the Republican party and to arouse a greater interest in party affairs, a meeting of Republican editors of the State was called Monday afternoon at the Hotel duPont. The newspaper representatives were entertained at luncheon by Henry P. Scott and Col. Edmund Mitchell who have been designated by the Republican National Committee to supervise the soliciting of popular subscriptions throughout the State.

Those present at the conference besides Mr. Scott and Mr. Mitchell were Colonel Theodore Townsend, of the Milford Chronicle; Secretary of State Everett C. Johnson, of the Newark Post; James F. Allee, Jr., of the State Sentinel, Dover; Edwin G. Totten, Delaware Leader, Laurel; E. M. Davis, Ledger, Newark; Albert W. Cummings and Charles E. Gray, The Morning News; George Carter and C. B. Hallam, Evening Journal.

Chairman Scott and Colonel Mitchell outlined the plans of National Chairman Hayes to interest in party welfare all classes of Republicans. It is his desire that no large subscriptions be made, but that a great many small contributions be secured from the rank and file of the party.

Mr. Scott explained that it was the purpose of the party organization to make this a patriotic campaign. The feeling of the national officers, he said, was that more real work could be expected and party loyalty obtained if the voters felt they were having a hand and a measure of responsibility in party affairs and their money was being used to help carry out their ideals.

The popular subscriptions are to be devoted entirely to the purposes of the National Committee, and in no way have anything to do with the State campaign.

The Federal law does not fix a limit to contributions, but it has been decided that subscriptions of more than $1000 will not be solicited. As low as $1 and up to and including $1000 will be taken. As a matter of fact, the representatives of the party would rather have one thousand $1 subscriptions than a $1000 contribution.

A bulletin recently received from national headquarters, the salient points of which are mentioned above was read at the luncheon.

Anonymous contributions cannot be received. Full name and address of contributors must be given, preferably on cards supplied by the treasurer, which may be (Continued on Page 4)

SLIPPERY STREETS KEEP MANY INDOORS

Travel Has Been Reduced to Minimum Essentials Recently

Until yesterday's thaw came quite unexpectedly and contrary to the opinions of the weather wise, Newark has been ice bound. With few exceptions only those who were required by urgent business to be out-of-doors, attempted to go abroad. The sidewalks were like glass and were taboo except where the charitably disposed had spread ashes. Sawdust proved a delusion and a snare which led astray many a confident pedestrian. That in front of the Post Office was set for the fall of many. So many indeed, that on Monday afternoon, the "tumbler" received scant notice and no sympathy. The injunction of the plantation song "Keep in de middle ob' de road!" was obeyed strictly by careful pedestrians who even then were obliged to watch their step, for the middle of the road was unsafe at certain times and in certain places. Those who were required to be on the streets before traffic had roughened them somewhat were "out o' luck" and had to take many a tumble. All sorts of rough shod and never slip devices were resorted to. Gunny sacks tied over the shoes, old stockings spike heels, rope harness and other ingenious trappings were much in evidence. Employees of the American Vulcanized Fibre Co. found the approach to the plant extremely perilous but they managed to "make it" with the friendly assistance of a wire fence which shows the effect, in spots, of a heavy strain.

Many of the younger generation of workers and most of the school children skated to their respective (Continued on Page 4)

Board of Education to Confer with School Auxiliary

Mass Meeting of Taxpayers to be Held Soon

Expression of Opinion with Regard to Bonding the Town will be sought

A meeting of the local Board of Education was called last night for the purpose of discussing matters relative to the proposed new school building. Superintendent Morris reported the result of a conference with Dr. Joseph H. Odell, president of the School Auxiliary Association relative to the method of procedure on the part of a district desiring the cooperation of that body in its building program. Much earnest discussion by members of the Board concerning the type of school desired, the cost of building and maintenance, the provision for out-of-town students, probable consolidation and other factors entering into the project, led finally to the conclusion that in a matter so grave, expert advice should be sought. Superintendent Morris was instructed to arrange for an interview with members of the School Auxiliary at the earliest possible date.

With reference to bonding the town, it was deemed advisable to call a public meeting of taxpayers some time in the near future in order that an opportunity may be given for expressions of opinion with regard to so vital a matter and for thorough understanding of what is contemplated. This referendum method, it was stated, was resorted to at Dover, which recently took steps providing for an adequate building program and secured $225,000 of the Pierre S. duPont building fund.

Due notice of the meeting will be given to all taxpayers at the earliest possible moment after the date is definitely fixed.

This morning Superintendent Morris arranged for a conference with the School Auxiliary to be held Monday.

State Senator John F. Richards has been attending the sessions of the "Little Legislature" of which he is a member, at Dover during the past week.

Pastor Of Presbyterian Church In Demand As Lecturer

Dr. William J. Rowan is in Dover today where he will deliver an illustrated bird lecture given under the auspices of the New Century Club in the Opera House.

Dr. Rowan has also received an invitation from the Franklin Fire Co. of Chester, Pa. to deliver a memorial address on Tuesday, February 17. This fire company holds annually a memorial service on this date for a number of its members who lost their lives in fire fighting at the old Porter mansion, Chester, Feb. 17, 1882. The residence had been transformed into a fireworks factory and on the above date while the Franklin Company was on the ground, a terrific explosion took place which killed several of the members and killed and injured a great many bystanders.

Dr. Rowan, although a small boy at the time, has a vivid recollection of the disastrous event and was an eye witness to the tragedy.

A Winter Song

Morton Wild in N. Y. Evening Post

Sing me a song of snowflakes fast
Aslant of the wintry gale,
Of vagrant leaflets sweeping past,
And caught by the sleet and hail;
Of rabbit hole and the snowbirds' perch
On the icicled chestnut tree,
Of snowdrift art on the country church—
Oh, sing that song to me.

Sing me a song of mirrored lake,
Of rustic bridge weighed down
With a bas-relief that the elfins make
Of a mass of heaven's down;
Sing of the bracing wintry air,
And the brook that tries to free
Its course, in a sad and vain despair—
Oh, sing that song to me.

Sing me that song, but sing it low,
Lest the kid awake and bawl,
For if he did, why I'd have to go
To his room way down the hall.
It's so nice and warm and cozy here
That I'd hate to get up—and gee!
I feel a draft! Just close the door,
And sing the song to me.

For The Homemaker's Eye

To Make Good Gravy

Once, in the long, long ago, a woman who had so little to spend on her table that today it would seem slow starvation, gave a lesson in how to make a gravy that made mashed potatoes, corn bread, rice and grits taste as good as ambrosia, which after all, is only coconut and oranges with sugar, you know.

A big spoonful of bacon grease, strained from the skillet where fat bacon had been fried, was put into a hot skillet with two spoonfuls of sifted flour; an onion, finely minced, added and the whole stirred until brown enough to almost scorch; the skillet was lifted a little to the side and two cups of freshly boiling water slowly poured into it with one hand while vigorously stirring with the other. A hot gravy bowl filled with this, a pan of corn bread, a dish of greens and one of potatoes when the kitchen garden, and the man of the house with his babies were sumptuously fed and healthy. Of course, a tiny shred of red pepper pod was an improvement and salt if needed.

Mint Sauce

Wash well a bunch of fresh mint and dry with clean cheesecloth. Pick off the leaves and chop fine. Put in a bowl and cover with 1/4 cupful of boiling water and 2 table spoonfuls of sugar. Cover and steam for 30 minutes. When cooled add the strained juice of a lemon and 1/4 teaspoonful each of salt and pepper. Serve hot or cold as preferred.

Maryland Chicken

Cut up two chickens into convenient pieces for serving. Sprinkle with salt and pepper; dip in flour, then in egg, and then into sifted bread or cracker crumbs. Place in a well-greased baking pan and bake in a hot oven for 30 or 40 minutes, basting from time to time with melted fat. Serve immediately on a hot platter with a thick cream sauce poured over the top and garnish with sprigs of parsley.

Bran Cookies

2 cups bran, 1 cup (scent) flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon soda, 1/2 teaspoon allspice, 1/2 teaspoon mace, 1/2 cup syrup, 3/4 cup water, 1 teaspoon shortening and any preferred fat. Mix dry materials, add syrup and water. When thoroughly mixed add shortening melted. Drop on to a buttered sheet, rounding teaspoons of the mixture, two inches apart.

A Palatable Luchon Dish

Cook a half cupful of rice until tender. Brown in a tablespoonful of butter one thinly sliced onion; when cooked add a cupful of uncooked meat and stir until well mixed with the onion. Put a layer of rice into a well greased baking dish, add a layer of the seasoned meat, salt and pepper, and pour over enough tomatoes to moisten well. Bake in a moderate oven until the tomatoes are well absorbed.

Scalloped Veal

Put layers of minced veal and fresh bread-crumbs in an earthen dish, pouring over them enough milk, with an egg beaten in it, to moisten the mixture well. Add pepper, salt and butter to each layer of veal and a little grated nutmeg. Bake half an hour in quite hot oven.

Much interest is shown in blouses just now, and never were there more varied and delectable models displayed than those now on view.

Probably this is partly due to the advent of the chemise blouse, Russian blouse, smock, whatever one chooses to call the blouse falling outside the skirt.

These garments to be worn outside the skirt seem to have reacted upon the regulation models, to be tucked embroidery or metallic cloth.

This model is of blue velvet. The sleeves are short and cut in one with the body of the blouse. There is a deep girdle of Japanese embroidery, into which the short bodice is drawn, and the girdle is trimmed with buttons on either side.

Another charming blouse pictured is a long model of black Salome velvet, opening over a blue and silver waistcoat. The neck is high and fastens with several buttons to the upper part of the opening. There is a girdle of line. A hip extender is placed at the sides of the neplum where the silk is joined to a deep band of silver lace which encircles the lower part of the blouse.

Silver lace also forms the short sleeves and fills in the V at back and front.

Some Charming Designs

Equally charming is a blouse of pale, pink silk, seen recently. The silk formed the bodice and short sleeves which are cut in one. To the lower part of the bodice are attached two flounces of silver lace—falling in form with a skirt of contrasting color and different material.

Novelties For Evening Wear

An odd appearing evening frock of French origin had a girdle which terminated in large loops and long sash ends at the front.

A novel idea approved by Paris for evening wear is a narrow flesh velvet ribbon encircling the throat and tied in small loops at the back, the long ends falling far below the waist line at the back—Brooklyn Eagle.

Must Live As Well As

Teach Americanism

It is well enough to preach Americanism, and we ought. It is more important to practice it, and we must. In truth, my countrymen, we need practical Americanism in politics. It is superb to lead in commerce and excel in industry—and no nation ever filled a brilliant page in history until it reached industrial and commercial eminence—but the distinction is too costly if wrought in the neglected qualities of citizenship and attending unrest and ultimate revolution.

It is well enough to be concerned about the quantity and quality of our wares, but it is better to be sure of the spirit of the workers who make them. We must be thinking of men as well as materials, and the conditions of making as well as marketing. The enhancement of conditions in twenty years is tribute to awakened American conscience, but the neglect of education is the warning of American heedlessness.

There must be concern about devotion and duty, as well as dividends. There must be a thought of the eventful morrow as well as the golden day. It is of no avail merely to preach contentment. Content never lighted a furnace, nor turned a wheel in all creation. It doesn't exist in the human being who is really worth while. Mere subsistence does not make a citizen, and generous compensation without thrift blasts every hope of acquirement.—Warren G. Harding.

O'Hara stood surveying the body of his friend, lying in state. Then he began to smile.

"What is there funny about it?" demanded an outraged friend.

"'Twas only last week as Clancy was sayin' to me how there ain't no heaven an' no purgatory. An' here he lies now, poor divil, all dressed up an' no place to go."

To the trade:

The propaganda spreading throughout the country such as the fair price committee has started, is a natural resentment against excessive profits. It will not retard sales, but rather stimulate, if merchandise is priced by manufacturer and retailer on the basis of a volume business with a fair margin of profit on cost and capital invested.

The comparative pricing of our line this Spring discloses a decided advantage to the distributors of Society Brand Clothes. We urge our dealers to pass along our close mark-up and in representing this sentiment review the matter of mark-up in their own business to coincide with the spirit of the times. The consumer appreciates the greatly increased cost of making anything today and high prices are not disturbing his peace of mind so much as paying a price which carries excessive profit.

We adjusted our basis of mark-up to not only compare with costs but to coincide with increased volume because of higher prices. Our line was accordingly most inviting when compared, even though manufacturing conditions compelled increased wholesale prices over this past Fall.

It is not a long headed business policy to ever get all the traffic will bear and never should be practiced by anyone who seeks the confidence of those served.

Stimulate volume and confidence in your store by looking into your mark-up and merchandising policy to see if your basis cannot be figured closer. When combined with the cooperation we have rendered in this regard it will impressively elevate you above all competitors.

Yours very truly,

DELAWARE COLLEGE LIBRARY RECEIVES VALUABLE ACCESSIONS

Successful Philadelphian Donor of Many Fine Volumes

Mr. Walter T. Bradley of Philadelphia a former Smyrna man, who has made good as a business man in the Quaker City is a generous friend to the Delaware College Library. Recently he transferred to that institution a whole library formerly maintained for the people of his particular section of the city. This is kept in a separate room and has received accessions from him from time to time.

In addition, however, to his own gifts, Mr. Bradley has interested himself in securing the cooperation of other friends to give funds for the purchase of books needed by the faculty and students. A generous friend, through Mr. Bradley, has just enabled Dr. W. O. Sypherd, the Librarian, to order about one hundred important new books.

Dr. Sypherd, has been the organizing mind for the Library of Delaware College. When he took hold of this interest many years ago there were few books and little access to them. By dint of perseverance and unselfishness on the part of Dr. Sypherd, the Library of Delaware College now numbers 27,000 admirably selected books. There is no padding of the shelves of the Library. It is a collection of working books. In addition to the bound volumes there is a wide list of papers and periodicals bearing on science, agriculture, engineering, economics, history, literature, and religion. The Library is diligently used by the students and faculty. The Women's College likewise draws upon all the resources of the Library of Delaware College, as the books upon request are sent daily for the use of the students in the Women's College. The pupils in the public schools of Newark likewise make free use of the books in the Library of Delaware College. In this way it will be seen that the Library is a dynamic reinforcing every department of both Colleges and helping at the same time the schools of the community of Newark.

At present the Library is housed in the old building formerly occupied by the Newark Post. It is well cared for by Miss Mary G. Kerr, Mrs. Ernest Armstrong, and Miss Ethel M. Robinson. Plans for a new Library Building have been drawn and an excellent site at the southern end of the Green has been selected for this Memorial Library. It has been so placed that the new Library Building will be equally available for the students of the Women's College and Delaware College, as it is located just between the two institutions. In the Memorial Library it is proposed that there shall be bronze tablets to the students of Delaware College who made the supreme sacrifice for humanity in the world war, while the names of all students and alumni who served in that struggle for freedom will be perpetuated in some enduring form. At the same time it is hoped that the names of every citizen of Delaware who served in the army and navy shall be recorded on suitable tablets according to counties or military organizations.

The Library will be the most conspicuous building on the new Green. It is a building with pillars somewhat like Old College Hall. As the Library is winning friends in many quarters, it is hoped at no distant date that the new building can be erected through the generosity of some far-sighted lover of youth and friend of education.

Georgetown Hearings Friday

Attorney General Reinhardt has announced that 2 o'clock Friday, January 30, has been fixed as the time for a hearing of the several Georgetown citizens who are charged with taking part in the demonstration there on Tuesday night, January 13, against Chester H. Wells, State health commissioner. The cases will be tried before Magistrate Stewart at Georgetown.

FARMERS COMPLAIN OF POOR SEED

Department of Agriculture Asked to Act in the Matter

Senator Josiah Walcott will be asked to present a bill providing for Federal supervision of seed distribution.

This action will be taken because farmers of Delaware and Maryland have suffered losses aggregating millions of dollars through the innocent purchase by them of impure seeds, obtained in the main from mail order houses. Complaints have been made to the Department of Agriculture, and it is likely the attention of the Attorney-General will be called to the matter.

It is contended that during the war, when the farmers were urged to put 100 per cent effort into the business of producing food for the armies in the field, certain vendors of seeds advertised bargain rates. Instead of raising large crops of edibles, many of the agriculturists at harvest time found themselves encumbered with great fields of noxious weeds.

An analysis of some of the seeds supplied by some mail order houses discloses that 500 noxious weed seeds found a place among the supplies distributed to the farmers. Whether this was done by design or through ignorance is not known. It is planned, however, to run the matter to earth and if anybody has been guilty of a deliberate fraud on the farmers, that person is likely to be brought to justice.

C. P. Smith, seed inspection officer of Maryland, complains that the mail order houses failed to give an accurate account of the percentage of weed seed in the supplies sent to farmers by parcel post. It is inevitable, Mr. Smith points out, that some weed seeds would be in all supplies, but the Delaware and Maryland farmers have raised such vast quantities of weeds from the seeds they have bought from distant houses as to arouse the suspicion that they were deliberately imposed upon.

"Certain mail order houses have taken advantage of the recent condition and have organized a huge business which has reaped the enormous profits at the expense of thousands of American farmers," Mr. Smith said in his letter to the Department of Agriculture. Mr. Smith said Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, New York, Michigan and Ohio were the chief sufferers from the noxious weed evil and he thinks the Federal government should institute an immediate inquiry.

"The economic loss in the aggregate is simply appalling," said Mr. Smith. "I understand that some State estimate their losses from this avoidable evil at about seventy million dollars annually."

It is understood a bill will be introduced in the Senate for a Federal Seed Supervising Bureau. This bureau would be charged with the responsibility of fixing standards and would co-operate with the Postmaster-General in curbing the pernicious activities of seed distributors who are trying to "get rich quick" at the expense of the farmers of the nation.

No Need For Alarm On Account Of "Flu" Says Surgeon General

The War Department through the Army Recruiting Officers, has started a school contest throughout the United States for the best essay on the subject "What are the benefits of an enlistment in the U. S. Army."

Surgeon-General Rupert Blue of the U. S. Public Health Service on Saturday advised the country not to become alarmed at the prevalence of influenza. Nowhere, he said, is there any indication that the disease is beyond the ability of the local authorities to combat it successfully. While reports from some of the cities indicate a large number of cases yet opinion is divided as to the character of the disease, many doctors declaring it to be nothing more than grip or severe cold. Only eight cases are reported in Wilmington. While the local doctors are busy they report no genuine "flu" cases.

destinations. Some of those on the outskirts of the town and beyond the town limits came on sleds hooked on behind an accommodating sleigh or machine. Some thoughtful patrons of the public schools who brought their children in sleighs or machines conveyed the teachers also.

Conditions were fine for coasting and were especially conducive to speed. Even on Sunday many youngsters took advantage of the conditions and made the most of the opportunity. A sheet of clear ice on the lawn at "The Knoll" tempted many a reckless coaster to risk the chance of shooting in front of an automobile on Depot Road, counting it worth the risk to speed across the road, steer skilfully through a narrow "pass" and into the field beyond.

McLaughlin's Hill was a favorite coasting ground on Monday night and some of the boys and girls of "larger growth" enjoyed the speedy descent which frequently was accomplished at the dizzy rate of 35 to 40 miles an hour. The ascent though not so speedy was borne cheerfully if the right combination shared the burden and the joy of the descent was in contemplation. This hill and that at Nantuxum heights were alive with coasters on Monday night when a bit of moon lent just enough light for the steers.

Automobiling was a perilous undertaking and many a staid old "Lizzie" took a dizzy whirl on the glassy roadway. Her sedan sister "Lisette" cut many an unladylike, giddy caper when obliged to pass another vehicle on the road, and pedestrians gave both a wide berth, for too often the chains failed to hold and while many had the proverbial confidence in the harmlessness of "Lizette" under ordinary circumstances, they felt that these were not ordinary circumstances and there was no telling what the "Old Girl" would do. Yesterday's thaw turned many a stronger ejaculation into a disgusted, "Oh Slush!" when machines keeping strictly to the beaten path cast a derisive lump of slush at you instead of flirtatiously skidding over to your side of the road.

covers the possibility of an early demise. It is a wise and essential provision against death's untimely interference with your undelivered plans. But you must die to win.

Have you adequately covered the possibility of a long life? Have you put in action definite plans for the steady accumulation of a wisely invested, independent estate? What does not want to become independent of the engrossing cares of business as his years ripen?

Under the "Equitable Trust Plan" you can create gradually and with certainty an estate with benefits available while you live. The plan also provides for the safe transmission of the estate at your death and its continued integrity thereafter. Indeed, your life insurance can augment it.

This plan is the crystallization of years of experience and observation. We have incorporated in it what we believe to be a practical method for creating an estate and a safe one for conserving throughout the years.

A suggestion that a distinctive button be worn by each contributor to show that he is part of the G. O. P. organization will be taken up with National Chairman Hays. All contributions will be forwarded to Mr. Scott and Col. Mitchell and transferred by them to the National Committee. The plans were fully discussed and details will be worked out so that collections may begin in March.

Praises Prohibition

Commissioner

Last week's issue of the Delaware State News, contains the following editorial comment on the appointment of W. Truxton Boyce of this hundred as Prohibition Commissioner.

"No mistake was made by Internal Revenue Commissioner Roper when he appointed ex-Representative W. Truxton Boyce, of Stanton, to be prohibition commissioner for the State of Delaware. With Mr. Boyce in charge of this district, the National Prohibition laws will be strictly enforced, of that there isn't the slightest doubt. While in the Legislature, Mr. Boyce fought consistently and earnestly for prohibition legislation, but in such an open, straight-forward way—so different from many of the prohibition fanatics—that he won the respect and good will of his opponents on the 'wet' side. Mr. Boyce will enforce the law in a sensible and efficient manner, and while we are not champions of the Prohibition Amendment, believing as we do that it does not represent the sentiments of the people of this nation, yet we take great pleasure in this appointment and tender our sincere congratulations to the new prohibition commissioner."

GIVE BIRTHDAY SURPRISE FOR SONS

Parents Entertain for Youths Whose Anniversaries Fall On Consecutive Days

A delightful surprise party was given on Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. George Carter in honor of their sons Bayard and Gray whose birthday anniversaries fall on consecutive days. Bayard attained his majority on Tuesday and Gray was 19 on Wednesday. They were both out of town with the basketball team until the latter date and the celebration was deferred until Thursday.

The genial hospitality of the Carter home made the party a joyous affair. As early as seven o'clock the guests began to arrive.

Classmates of the two young men at Delaware College, members of the Omega Alpha fraternity of which they are members, the football, baseball and basketball teams, the Blue Hen Board, Athletic and Student Councils, Review Staff and every organization of which these two popular students are members dropped in during the evening and stayed as long as the circumstances would permit. Many had "exams" on for the following day and felt the necessity of "boning." A number of Newark young people not connected with the college and a number of local friends of the Carter family were also present. Because some of the young men could remain only a short time, refreshments were served early. These consisted of ice cream, cake, fruit and nuts.

Music, dancing and the settling of vital questions through the revelations of the Ouija board, were enjoyed by the guests. The music was furnished by James Tilghman, Johnson Rowan, Misses Mildred Carter and Ruth Guyer.

Those present were Dr. and Mrs. S. C. Mitchell, Dean Winifred J. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. H. Warner McNeal, Mr. and Mrs. Levi K. Bowen, Mrs. Stella Campbell, Mrs. Margaret D. Cann, Miss Rosalie Pie, C. JUNIOR "PROM" TO BE NOTEWORTHY EVENT THIS YEAR

Special Features Planned for Affair to be Held at Hotel duPont

Everything possible is being done by the Junior Class at Delaware College to make this year's "prom" which will be held next Friday night a noteworthy event in the social life of the college. That it will be held at the Hotel duPont is a distinctive feature for never before has this event been held outside of Newark.

The holding of the dance in Wilmington this year meets with the approval of the college authorities. The mid-year "exams" will be about over by that time, and the college faculty has made a change in the schedule so that there will be no college work on Saturday, the day following the dance.

The "prom" this year is restricted entirely to students and alumni of the college. It has been growing considerable in size each year of late, and with an extra large enrollment this year it was realized that there was no floor in Newark sufficiently large to comfortably take care of the 200 couples who are expected to attend. It was for this reason that the Hotel duPont was selected as the scene for the dance. In addition to the ballroom at the hotel, the DuBarry room, the restroom and the parlor adjoining the ballroom will be given over to the dancers.

George Madden, a member of the class and himself a musician of note, is chairman of the committee on music, which assures a unique program in that line. It is understood that arrangements have been made for White's Orchestra, and some special features are being planned.

Another special feature of the evening will be the awarding of letters to the varsity football squad. This will probably be done during the intermission, and the "D's" will be awarded by Dean E. Laurence Smith, president of the athletic council. There are about 15 in the squad who won their letter on the gridiron last fall, and the "prom" will naturally be a double attraction to them.

E. George Tonkin, as president of the Junior class, is in charge of the arrangements for the dance, and is being ably assisted by other members of the class through committees. President Tonkin states that alumni members desiring tickets for the dance should make application before next Wednesday, as the sale will be closed then and no tickets will be disposed of at the door the night of the dance.

Committee chairmen have been appointed as follows:

Executive: E. George Tonkin; program, Joseph Fairbanks; invitations, James Albert Harty; music, George Madden; refreshments, Thomas Mulrooney; decorations, Arthur S. Spaid; floor, Albert Hemphill.

The officers of the class are: E. George Tonkin, president; Thomas Mulrooney, vice-president; James Albert Harty, secretary, and Marion P. Boulden, treasurer.

The patronesses will be: Mrs. Samuel Charles Mitchell, Dean Winifred J. Robinson, Mrs. E. Laurence Smith, Mrs. Allan R. Cullimore, Mrs. John Pilling and Mrs. H. Rodney Sharp.

There Will be a Megary February Sale

Many of our friends contemplating the purchase of home furnishings and knowing the opportunities for savings offered by the February sale have asked us—"Will you have your February Sale?"

They regard the February Sale almost as an institution—one sale of the year to be waited for.

And so, continuing our custom of the past years, the February Sale will start Monday, February the second.

There is a scarcity of fine furniture but a trip through our various floors would almost belie it—our stocks are practically as complete and varied as ever.

The merchandise offered in this sale is, of course, our regular stock, of Megary quality;—the reductions are, of course, substantial and genuine.

It is the only way we know of holding a February Sale.

The February prices will appear Thursday, January 29, and selections may be made then. Sales and deliveries will date, however, from February 2.

Purchases may also be made during February and we will hold a limited time for future delivery.

There is one very important point to bear in mind.

The scarcity of furniture will prevent the quick replacement of our present stock. The first customers will, of course, have the best selection and it is most advisable to make your selection early.

Mail orders will receive prompt attention.

Squirrel Has Rainy Day Always In Mind

The squirrel is a thrifty soul and always seems to have the rainy day we are admonished to save up for in mind. Our squirrel came out of his warm nest where we supposed him to be hibernating one cold, snowy day last week and, thinking he looked hungry, we flung out on the hard crust of snow an English walnut. Mr. Squirrel pounced upon it and, after examining its soundness thoroughly, made off with it and buried it, just as he does in the autumn. We flung out another, and another, varied by a soft-shelled almond or two, all of which were laid away for that rainy day.

As he still looked hungry to our benevolent eyes, we cracked a couple of English walnuts and again flung them forth. And he was hungry! He ate them all and sniffed around the shells for more. He looked up at us beseechingly with his skinny little paw on his stomach, as much as to say, "My, that went right to the spot." So we gave him some more, but all the time we had a feeling that he was carrying the saving habit too far and that in his case Anthony Hope's definition of economy fitted—doing without something you want now in order that some day you may have something you probably won't want.—Ohio State Journal.

Asks For Appropriation to Benefit Farmers

Representative Caleb R. Layton today caused the bill which he introduced a few days ago in the House asking for an appropriation for the benefit of a number of farmers in New Castle county, for land condemned and taken over by the government in connection with the Port Penn Loading Plant, referred to the Committee on Claims instead of the Committee on Public Lands.

Mr. Layton took this action in order to avoid unnecessary delay in the matter, as he regards this a matter of great importance to the farmers.

STORES FOR EMPLOYEES SUPPLY GOODS AT COST

Groceries, Meats, Medicine and Clothing Sold at a Saving of 15%

In order that the men and women working in its plants may be aided in reducing the present cost of living, the Ford Motor Company has established three stores from which groceries and other necessities are sold at cost. One store is located at the Ford Blast Furnace where 15,000 are employed, one at the Fordson Tractor Plant where approximately 5,000 work and one at the parent plant in which 55,000 are now engaged.

In the main store in the Ford factory, the stock consists of a line of staple groceries, medical supplies, work-men's clothing, and meats. The stores are organized along the cash-and-carry plan and the customers bring baskets to save the expense of wrapping the articles. Expense is held to a minimum. Customers enter the one door, pass along the counter, choose their articles, pay for them and leave through another door. While the saving varies, it averages easily from eight to twenty per cent. The stores were created especially to reduce the present cost of necessities to Ford employees but no customers who are not Ford workers have yet been turned away.

Carload quantities of foodstuff are often secured at great savings, and then special sales are held. The first pig sale ever held in the Ford factory resulted in a sale of more than 35,000 pounds of pork in one day. Many workers bought halves and quite a few bought whole pigs at a saving of about fifteen per cent of the market price. Special sales of beef, chickens, bacon, ham, apples and other commodities are handled in like manner. Each Thursday during the past ten weeks, carloads of fresh ocean fish have been received from the Atlantic coast by express and sold at ten cents a pound. From forty to eighty thousand pounds are disposed of at each sale.

The Ford stores are yet in an experimental stage and to just what point they will progress is not known at this time. However, Ford officials say that they were established to reduce the cost of necessities to Ford workmen and that it is intended to do as much as possible to accomplish that purpose.

Baraca Class Supper An Enjoyable Event

The supper given by the Baraca Class of the Presbyterian church last Friday evening was a very enjoyable affair. A fine menu had been prepared and an excellent program of music, recitation and song was enjoyed by those present. Attractive little place cards and favors were prepared for those who were unable to attend as well as for those who were present.

At the service next Sunday morning Mrs. Wm. E. Hagans of Kennett Square will be the soloist.

Delaware May Lead In Sale Of Christmas Seals

Through the efforts of its workers under the direction of Mrs. Joseph Bancroft, who was chairman of the Christmas seal committee of the Delaware Red Cross, Miss Emily Bissell and others, the State is likely to lead the nation in returns from the Christmas seal campaign.

At the present time efforts are being made to obtain belated returns from sections that have not finally reported on the campaign. With some additional money the leaders hope that Delaware may be in the van when all accounts are in.

At a meeting of tuberculosis workers at Chicago a few days ago, New Hampshire was then in the lead with Delaware and Tennessee trailing closely. At that time Delaware's returns amounted to ten cents per capita. Since then additional receipts have boosted this to more than 13 cents per resident.

All places outside of Wilmington have made returns with the exception of Georgetown, and the workers there have been appealed to to present a final report of their seal activities. The amount obtained from Kent and Sussex and rural New Castle—everywhere outside of Wilmington, was $3,096.05.

PALL MALL CLUB GIVES SUCCESSFUL DANCE

Young Men of Newark Hold Formal Affair at "Y" Headquarters

The first formal dance given by Pall Mall Club, composed of young men of the town, was held at Y. M. C. A. hall on Saturday evening and was a very enjoyable affair. About 60 couples from Newark and the surrounding country were present. Music was furnished by Madden and White's orchestra of 8 pieces.

The hall was attractively decorated in the club colors red and white and were suggestive of Valentine's Day. The same color scheme was carried out at the Newark Inn and Restaurant where refreshments were served after the dance. The private dining room reserved for the patronesses was also beautifully decorated.

Mrs. M. E. McGovern proprietress of the restaurant had prepared delicious refreshments and was tendered a vote of thanks for this service and for assisting with the decorations.

Delaware Man Honored In The West

Spokane, Ore., papers have printed the news that former Delaware boy, who made a mark for himself as a prominent preacher in the Wilmington Methodist conference before he went to the western country a few years ago, has again been honored by being chosen as secretary for the Methodist temperance and moral work in the United States. The Spokane Chronicle says:

"Dr. Francis Burgette Short, former pastor of the Central Methodist Church, of Spokane, and now pastor of the Wilbur Methodist Church, at Portland, Ore., has been elected extension temperance secretary by the national Methodist board. Dr. Short has not yet decided to accept the post, according to Portland papers."

A report of Dr. Clarence True Wilson, general secretary of the board, states that Dr. Short has been elected extension secretary of temperance, prohibition and public morals. The post is considered a distinct honor. Should he accept, Dr. Short will have his headquarters at Washington. Dr. Short will probably accept the post, and expects to be in Delaware in a few weeks.

Dr. Short is a native of Sussex county and a brother of I. Dolphus Short, president pro tempore of the Delaware Senate. He did good work in Wilmington as pastor of Harrison Street and Epworth Churches, and served other Wilmington Conference charges equally well. His wife was before her marriage, Miss Hart of Wilmington.

State Militia To Be Reorganized

Former officers of the 59th Pioneer Infantry, which includes those who were commissioned at the time of the organization in July, 1917, or who received their commissions since that time will be invited to attend an informal dinner at the Hotel duPont as the guests of Governor Townsend, on the night of January 30.

The purpose of this dinner will be to discuss tentative plans for the organization of Delaware's quota of Federalized National Guard, as has been provided for by the National Guard law. Under this law, Delaware will be apportioned four companies of infantry, of 100 men each, and two companies of Coast Artillery. The infantry will probably be trained in the manner which the late war has brought out. The coast artillery militia, in all probability, will receive instruction and training at Fort duPont.

Delaware has never before had State companies of Coast Artillery. At present there is but one company of State troops here.

Will Join Federal Highway Council

County Engineer Charles E. Grubb has accepted an invitation of the Federal Highway Council, of Washington, D. C., to become a member of the organization. Mr. Grubb was asked to join the council upon recommendation of the local Chamber of Commerce, before whom Mr. Grubb gave an excellent report of road work in this county recently.

General T. Coleman duPont is one of the vice-presidents of the council, which is composed of progressive engineers of all parts of the country.

Churches To Merge

After nearly a century and a half of separation First Presbyterian and Central are preparing to merge. The proposal for this action was made Tuesday at the meeting of the New Castle Co. Presbyterian. This merger will take place early in March.

The quiet-looking boy at the foot of the class had not had a question. The teacher looked at him severely, and asked:

"In what condition was the patriarch Job at the end of his life?"

"Dead," was the reply.
